A salute to France

By MELISSA MARSHALL

NEWARK POST CONTRIBUTING WRITER

Those who drive on Old Baltimore Pike and Route 72 seldom reflect upon the 20 American soldiers buried in a field only steps away from the busy highways.

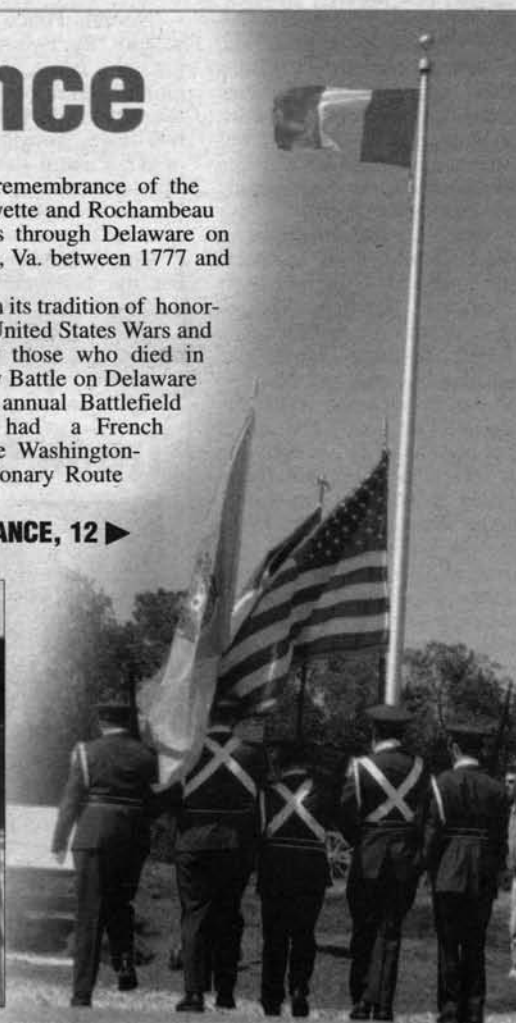

Last Saturday, however, the Pencader Heritage Area Association (PHAA) not only paid respect to the fallen American Revolutionary War heroes, but to lesser-celebrated veterans of the war — the French.

Pierre Vimont, the French Ambassador to the U.S., placed a wreath at the Battle of Cooch's Bridge Memorial in remembrance of the French Generals Lafayette and Rochambeau who led their soldiers through Delaware on their way to Yorktown, Va. between 1777 and 1781.

Changing a bit from its tradition of honoring veterans from all United States Wars and conflicts—particularly those who died in the lone Revolutionary Battle on Delaware soil—this year's third annual Battlefield Memorial Ceremony had a French focus in honor of the Washington-Rochambeau Revolutionary Route (W3R).

Domestic spat proves dangerous

Over the weekend, Newark Police responded to a domestic argument at 233 E. Main Street, the location of Farmer's Automotive.

Owner Dave Farmer told officers that his girlfriend

Tammy Stratton, 39, of Elkton, Md., had left the scene after she tried to hit him with their 1995 Ford Windstar minivan. Farmer told police that the couple, with their two children, were at the shop when they got into a heated argument.

Stratton put the children into the minivan and shifted into reverse, ramming into a Cadillac parked at the business. She then took her vehicle out of reverse and rammed the car several more times.

At this point, Farmer reported that Stratton saw him standing near a cinder block wall, put the car into drive, and crashed into the wall at a high speed. Farmer ducked behind the wall avoid being hit.

Film Fest gives indie flicks a shot

By KATY CIAMAICONE

Life can be tough for local film buffs who like to see independent movies on the big screen.

"You have three choices: you can either go to one of the Ritz theaters in Philly and hope I-95 is not a mess; or you hope you're home the weekend they show (the movie you want to see) at Theater N, (an art-house theater) in Wilmington. Or you can wait until it comes out on Netflix, which could take years for some of these independent films," said Barry Schlecker, a longtime film aficionado who lives and works in Wilmington.

Schlecker said weekends of his youth were spent watching double features at Wilmington theaters.

"My parents would drop me off; I think for them it was a form of cheap babysitting," he said. He grew to admire works by Woody Allen, Mel Brooks, the Cohen Brothers, Michael Moore; and others with a unusual edge to their films - "anything different," he said.

About five years ago, a friend of Schlecker's made a movie, and rented out Cinema Center 3, the theater on Newark's Main Street, to screen it. It gave Schlecker an idea: he decided to see what it would take to get some independent films of his choice shown to a local audience.

He would call it the Newark Film Festival.

He talked to the Cinema Center 3 owner, who told him September would be the most convenient time to host such

Suspect linked to two bank robberies

Delaware State Police are investigating a late morning robbery Friday at a PNC bank branch at 5325-A Limestone Rd., east of Newark.

The suspect, wearing a construction/traffic vest, entered the bank and displayed a black handgun. He then ordered numerous bank employees and patrons onto the floor at gunpoint. The suspect then demanded cash from several of the bank tellers who complied.

The bandit obtained an undisclosed amount of money and fled the bank on foot. He was last observed entering a wooded area south of the bank.

Detectives from the Troop 2 Robbery Squad now believe the same man held up a PNC branch on Kennett Pike, Greenville, on June 4th.

Anyone who may recognize this suspect is asked to contact the Delaware State Police Troop 2 Robbery Squad at 302-834-2630 ext. 6 or Crime Stoppers at 1-800-TIP-33.

$18,500 taken from boutique

Newark Police are investigating a robbery from the NV Boutique at 211 Louviers Drive that occurred last Friday morning. An investigation revealed that an unknown suspect used a hammer-like object to break a front window and pry back the pane to allow entry into the store.

A motion sensor alarm was triggered when the suspect fled the scene. An inventory of the business revealed that over 100 pairs of designer jeans from a table display and a number of dresses from two display racks were stolen. The total value of the merchandise is approximately $18,500.

Owners of the boutique stated that the cash register was untouched. Several dresses and pairs of jeans were found near the rear exit, suggesting that the suspect escaped out the back. Video footage from the scene shows a single suspect walking in front of the store at 2:19 am on Friday.

The individual is wearing dark pants, black and white shoes, and a large jacket with hood with a light colored, bird-like emblem, possibly an eagle on the back. The footage shows the suspect using the hammer-like device to enter the store. A witness at the Anytime Gym, located in the same shopping center, noticed a Volkswagen Beetle and a Honda sedan in the parking lot at the time. The witness stated that no cars are usually parked there in the early morning.

Suspect gets tasered when resisting arrest

A disturbing the peace call brought officers to the Christina Mill Apartments. Officers found that Benjamin Rubin, 21, of Monmouth Junction, NJ was attempting to force his way into an apartment by head-butting and kicking the door.

Rubin was bleeding from his chest, stomach, arms, and back, and appeared to be extremely intoxicated. Rubin was ordered to go down a flight of stairs to discuss the matter, but instead squared his body up close to one of the officers, repeatedly stating "Let's go." The officer grabbed Rubin by his right arm to affect an arrest, but Rubin pulled away. He was tasered in the abdomen and went to the ground, pinning his right arm. One of the officers repeated orders for Rubin to give up his right arm, but he refused. After he was tasered for a second time, this time in the back, Rubin complied with officers. An interview showed that Rubin had a blood alcohol content of .247 and that he had been trying to enter the wrong apartment. He was charged with Criminal Mischief and Resisting Arrest.

Counterfeiters strike at Grotto's

Newark Police are on the lookout for two white males passing fake $50 bills at Grotto's Pizza on Main Street. Witnesses told police that the two males bought four slices of pizza and a shot of tequila. They tried to pay with a $50, but the bartender went back to confront the pair.

They paid with another $50, but the bartender found out that it was also fake. The pair left the bar before they could be detained by employees. A video tape shows the pair eating their meal and then leaving the restaurant. Suspect #1 is described as thin, 25-30 years old, 5'09, sporting spiky hair and a thin mustache, wearing a white t-shirt with stripes on the sleeves. Employees think that his name is Randy and that he drives either a black or silver Nissan 3Z or an Infiniti. Suspect #2 is also thin, 27-30 years old, 6' to 6'01 tall, sporting a strap beard, and wearing a white t-shirt with an emblem on the front. Employees think that his ID stated that he was born in 1982.

Man linked to string ## of robberies

A New Castle man, arrested by Delaware State Police detectives, has been linked to a string of robberies. The State Police Burglary Squad located and arrested Leo Pierce in connection to the burglary of the Valero Station on Old Baltimore Pike on August 24th.

Harvest festival scheduled for Sunday

A harvest festival is slated for Sunday, Sept. 13th at the Co-op Farmers Market, sponsored by area farmers and the Newark Natural Foods Co-op. This family and pet friendly, rain-or-shine outdoor event runs from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. at the Newark Natural Foods on Main Street.

In addition to a variety of fresh local foods, organic breads and pastries, plants, and crafts available at the Co-op Farmers Market, the festival will include live music from local artists, children's activities, health counseling, and raffles with great prizes. Highlights to this year's event include a local dish prepared by HomeGrown Café with produce donated by local farmers and a delicious sampling of the Farmer Market vendors' jams, jellies, relishes, salsas, breads, fruits, vegetables, ethnic dishes, and many more.

Festival highlights include:

LIVE MUSIC

The Fall Harvest Festival will have music to match everyone's tastes featuring Bluegrass band Chain Reaction, kicking off the morning at 10 a.m., Gang of Two, a classic rock & roll and r&b band at 11 a.m.; guitar player Zach Ladin will entertain at 12:15 with classic rock music and nature tunes. Melissa Cox kicks off the final set at 1:15 p.m.

CRAFT PROJECTS

Children can participate in craft projects and face painting. The Newark Arts Alliance will offer its Art-to-Go project ($3). A Co-op member will teach children how to make their own corn husk dolls in the Native American Indian tradition. Artist Mr. Brady, the Face Painter, will create a personalized work of art for kids and adults ($3 - $5). Gypsy Juggling Acts will also be tossing around the festival entertaining the crowds.

SLOW FOOD POTLUCK

To promote the Slow Food Time for Lunch Campaign, the Newark Natural Foods Co-op and Harvest Market Natural Foods are co-hosting a potluck from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. during the festival. To participate, bring a dish to share with a list of ingredients and take some time to meet with concerned parents and community members and learn how you can help get real foods in schools. See www.slowfoodusa.org for more information.

FOOD FILM

At 1 p.m., Food, Inc., will be shown during the Newark Film Festival at the Newark Cinema Center. (Regular ticket prices apply.)

an event, because mainstream-movie attendance is slow in a month with kids returning to school and summer blockbusters having run their course. Schlecker also got business advice by talking to people at the offices of Roger Ebert, who founded his own film festival in Champagne, Ill. and Robert DeNiro, who co-founded Tribeca Film Festival in 2002.

He said the first Newark Film Festival, in 2005, drew about 1,000 attendees. The second drew 2,000 and the third, 4,000.

"Then last year, we ran into Hurricane Hanna, so we didn't get quite as many, but we retained our attendance from the previous year," he said.

The week-long event has turned into quite the draw, and now includes wine tastings and guest speakers, along with dozens of films. Schlecker said people come from Cecil County, Baltimore, Kennett Square and even further away, to take part in the festival.

He said he starts thinking about potential films in January, by researching what other film festivals are showing. He starts making his selections based on what is available and which films have gained a good reception from world audiences. He always includes films that have some connection to Delaware.

Schlecker said one year, a woman was leaving a showing of the documentary "Paper Clips," about a group of school kids who collect millions of paper clips to represent the victims of the Holocaust, and she turned to him and said, "You show movies that matter." He decided to make "Movies that Matter" the tagline for the annual event.

This year's 25 selections include documentaries about subjects as wide-ranging as the Afghan version of "American Idol" ("Afghan Star"); Delaware Holocaust survivors ("Liberation"); the grueling world of dachshund competitions ("Weiner Takes All"); a father's quest to help his autistic son by taking him to Mongolia ("Horse Boy"); the quest of Michael Berg, the West Chester father of Nick Berg, who was beheaded by terrorists in Iraq, to run for Congress; closet homosexuals who lobby for anti-gay legislation ("Outrage"); Baltimore stay-at-home dads ("Happy SAHD"); the fashion designer Valentino ("Valentino, the Last Emperor"); and Mike Tyson ("Tyson").

The festival will also feature the foreign films "Summer Hours," about French siblings dividing up their sick mother's art collection, and "Gomorra," a series of vignettes about violence that floods the streets of Naples, Italy.

Other treats include "Cheri," starring Michelle Pfeiffer as an upper-class French woman who becomes deeply involved with a much younger man; "Sugar," which follows a baseball pitcher from the Dominican Republic who aches to play for the American major leagues, and "Every Little Step," about the revival of the Broadway show "A Chorus Line."

Get a complete schedule and descriptions of each movie at www.newarkfilm.com.

Tickets are available at the Cinema Center 3 box office and are $9 per film for adults, and $7 for students, seniors and children. Those who want to see several movies can consider purchase a Full Festival Pass, which grants access to all showings, for $125.

The Film Festival got under way on Thursday.

Local gridiron teams kick-off season on weekend

By JON BUZBY

JONBUZBY@HOTMAIL.COM

The 2009 football season begins this weekend with all six local teams in action on Friday night or Saturday. Just like the players, the coaches are ready for the long preseason to end and the real action to begin.

Caravel Academy at Sussex Central, Friday 7:30 p.m.

Caravel coach Mike Araunno: "We are very excited to play Sussex Central. When you play great programs, your players have to step up to the challenge. We will get a lot of miles out of the 'David vs. Goliath' speech this year."

Christiana at Laurel, Friday 7 p.m.

Christiana coach Darwin Manges: "We are excited with the challenge of going to Laurel to take on last year's Division II runner-up. The atmosphere will be a great experience for our kids and it will be important for us to minimize mistakes during the game. Our kids have worked hard during this preseason and are anxious to kick-off the regular season."

Glasgow vs. Pencader Charter, Friday 7 p.m.

Glasgow coach Shannon Riley: "Coach Matthews has developed a solid program and his team will be a solid contender for the Flight B and Division II championship. We have to play aggressively on defense and mistake-free on offense to win this game."

Pencader Charter coach Rahsaan Matthews: "It's always challenging to play a Division I team, but even more so the first week of the season. Glasgow has been a good team in Flight A the past few years and we are excited as a team to have the opportunity to compete and prove we belong playing the upper echelon teams. We know they have a good running back and a good young quarterback that we need to contain. We will try to maximize our strengths which are our three returning starters at wide receiver, our returning running back, and our four returning offensive linemen."

Hodgson vs. Salesianum, Saturday 10:30 a.m.

Hodgson coach Frank Moffett Jr.: "Offensively we are looking at controlling the tempo of the game through ball control and clock management. Defensively we need to stop Sallies' running attack, and limit their big play ability with their play action passes. If we can do all these things, we put ourselves in good position to win the football game."

Salesianum coach Bill Dinardo: "We will find out a lot about our team with an opponent like Hodgson. In order to win we have to control Jamaal Jackson, who might be the most talented back in the state, by keeping him out of open spaces and pursuing. We are also concerned about their QB Jamie Treml and his receivers. Treml is a 3-year starter who has the ability to get the ball downfield. From our standpoint we have to make the plays on defense and execute and control the line of scrimmage on offense."

Buzby

Newark vs. Concord, Friday 7 p.m.

Newark coach Butch

Simpson: "Nothing has changed for me in 33 years. The first game is always the great unknown. How the special teams will perform leads to some sleepless nights. Also in our case, a significant number of guys will be playing in a varsity game for the first time. Concord seems to be in a similar situation. However, Coach Kosanovich and his staff always have their team prepared. It just seems it might be which inexperienced team gets comfortable early and makes the fewest mistakes."

Concord coach George Kosanovich: "Coach Simpson and I have been playing against each other for over 30 years and I know what to expect: a well disciplined and aggressive team, just the way the game is supposed to be played."

St. Mark's vs. Milford, Saturday 1 p.m.

St. Mark's coach John Wilson: "With scrimmages against Concord, Archmere, and Middletown, I was very pleased with our preseason. With each scrimmage I saw improvement. It will be exciting to finally get the season underway after a long preseason. Our first test will come in the way of defending Division II champion, Milford, who brings back several talented players. Defensively, our goal will be to eliminate the big play, which is something that Milford running back Brandon LeGrand is capable of doing every time he touches the ball."

Milford coach Mike Tkach: "It's a fresh start to a new season and a new division for us. It will be a huge test for us, right from the start. St. Marks is a quality program and should be one of the contenders for a playoff spot this season."

Spartans look to continue tradition on soccer field

The St. Mark's boys soccer team heads into the season needing to fill a void from the graduation of first team All-State players Matt Munyan (three times) and Ross Withrow, who led the Spartans to a 12-5-2 record and an appearance in the state tournament quarterfinals.

However, as has become the tradition at St. Mark's under head coach Tom DeMatteis, who is Delaware's all-time winningest soccer coach, the Spartans will enter the 2009 campaign with one single goal in mind: To win the state championship.

St. Mark's does return several key members from last year's team, including third team All-State players Kyle Ward and T.J. DeMatteis; Jeff Heller and Josh Hynson, each first team All-Conference players; and Brooks Mirabella, selected to the second team All-Conference team.

"If we can fill in for last year's losses through graduation we hope to have another successful season," DeMatteis said.

After stopping for a few minutes, Stratton drove the car from the lot. An investigation showed that the wall had been hit and needed repairs.

No major damage to the wall was reported.

Skid marks, indicating a vehicle traveling at a high speed from a dead stop, were also present.

Witnesses nearby verified that Stratton had rammed the wall and hit the Cadillac.

Police visited Stratton at her residence in Elkton, where she told police that the two children were dropped off at her mother's house in anticipation that she would be contacted by police.

She was charged with Reckless Endangerment First

Degree, Aggravated Assault, two counts of Endangering the Welfare of a Child, two counts of Criminal Mischief Over $1,000, Leaving the Scene of an Accident, and Driving with a Suspended License.

Extradition proceedings are pending.

No Vicktory for Michael

By MARVIN HUMMEL

NEWARK POST COLUMNIST

Editor's note: Hummel is a long-time columnist for the Newark Post.

When Michael Vick's dog-fights first came to public attention, numerous NFL players defended him by saying that dogfights-to-the-death were part of their culture too, a manly and even noble part of a great Southern tradition. (Did they play for the University of Georgia Fighting Bulldogs or the University of South Carolina Fighting Gamecocks?)

Like many of you, I disagreed with Vick's and their practices. But I didn't say anything. How could I without being a hypocrite?

After all, the official state bird of Delaware is the blue hen, a famous fighting bird since the Revolutionary War days. In addition, I have taught at and earned a graduate degree from a school whose football teams are known as the Fighting Blue Hens!

Then I thought of Mr. Perdue whose farms kill millions of chickens, yet he is admired and rich. Why? Because his killings feed people! It's not sport — it's food! Ah, there's the difference! Blue hens and Vick's dogs died as miserable, useless losers who deserved to be thrown away. And were.

But what about the millions of humans who go hungry every day? Would they not have welcomed a dog on their plate? And, in some Eastern nations a dog is the canine equivalent of caviar — the grateful recipients would have thought they were living high on the dog! But Vick and his NFL buddies did nothing about their plight. And he ended up in prison.

What if Vick and the other

Southern NFL gentlemen had taken their canine killings, frozen and packaged them, then flown the boxes in one of their private jet planes and had them distributed to the hungry and dying? Talk about good P.R. for the NFL! Wow! Instead of disgrace and jail time, it would have been a Vicktory! Michael could have worn the mantle of Humanitarian over his shoulder pads!

Instead, he is paying penance through his press agent and official spokesman. Reportedly, he has renounced DOG and turned toward GOD! If errant politicians can do it, why can't a recanting quarterback? Whether it will work is like Vick's farmyard — "remains" to be seen!

As for me, I remain sensitive to the Blue Hens in my life. Since moving to Delaware, I have NEVER eaten chicken! Not once. (Just haven't had the stomach for it.) And Vick has caused me to order frankfurters instead of hot dogs. It's just a minor adjustment.

Delmarva praised for storm response

To: Editor
From: John Kowalko,
State Rep. 25th District
Newark

Too often we don't take the time to adequately express our appreciation for what might seem routine or expected. I would like to convey my neighbors and my appreciation for those determined and hard-working men and women of Delmarva Power and Light.

After recent severe thunderstorms struck Delaware, I called the Delmarva emergency number. The path of destruction involved a large tree and a power line pole that had broken in half and crashed down in a neighbor's yard with wires strewn everywhere. In less than an hour, Glenn Moore (Vice President, Delmarva Power Region) was at the site, surveying and assessing the scene.

He reassured the residents that help was imminent and worked the phones to ensure that the situation was safely stabilized. That night and all through the next day, Delmarva repair crews worked feverishly and tirelessly to secure the site, replace the sheared pole and restore power.

I spoke with these workers who had reported for duty from as far away as Salisbury and thanked them personally for their efforts, but I would be remiss if I didn't publicly thank and acknowledge their bravery and work ethic under the most demanding conditions. As the temperature soared into the 90's, their focus was on those elderly and confined persons who had no air-conditioning and they kept to the task under brutal conditions until they had power restored.

On behalf of my neighbors and me, thank you Mr. Moore and a special thanks to all of those unnamed workers who are so willing to serve Delmarva's customers.

POLICE BLOTTER

► BLOTTER, from 2

Newark

Also, detectives learned that Pierce also was in possession of a stolen 2007 Hyundai Sonata on August 24th. During the commission of these burglaries, Pierce targeted everything from money to cigarettes to televisions.

Pierce was picked up on Route 13 and Bacon Avenue, in New Castle, at approximately 11:30 p.m. When spotted, Pierce fled in a stolen 2007 Hyundai Sonata into the development of Leedom Estates. He ultimately bailed out of the car and was apprehended walking out of Chelsea Estates onto Route 141.

Pierce was transported back to Troop 2 where after being linked to the burglaries was charged with the following 52 offenses: Attempted Burglary (felony), 15 counts of Burglary (felony), 16 counts of Criminal Mischief (misdemeanor), 10 counts of Theft (felony), 4 counts of Theft (misdemeanor), Attempted Theft (misdemeanor), Receiving Stolen Property (felony), Resisting Arrest (felony), Registered Sex Offender Failure to Verify Address (felony), Conspiracy (felony) and Wearing a Disguise during the Commission of a Felony (felony).

Pierce was taken to the Howard Young Correctional Institute in lieu of an $83,189 bail.

Busy burglary suspect arrested

Delaware State Police have arrested a man suspected in burglaries at three businesses south of Newark. The suspect is identified as Ronald Mainville, 30, whose last known address was the New Castle area.

On Sunday, troopers were called to Horizon Helicopters on Sunset Lake Road for the report of a theft. An employee at the business was inside the shop when the audible alarm was activated. He walked outside and found a male, later identified as Ronald Mainville, lurking about. Mainville immediately fled the area and the Horizon employee called 911.

When officers arrived on the scene, it was determined that [Mainville] had tried to break into the business by damaging an exterior window. This investigation also revealed the suspect had stolen a camera, belonging to the employee, from a truck outside.

Around this same time, Troopers were called for burglary reports at two other businesses on Sunset Lake Road- Christiana Excavating and Schlosser and Associates.

In the Christiana Excavating case, the suspect had entered the business by forcing open the front door. Once inside, he stole a security camera.

At Schlosser and Associates, it was determined the suspect had pried open a window and entered the business. He then took a computer, a radio and blank checks. The suspect proceeded to smash through several interior doors and was able to locate a set of keys that started a 1997 Ford pickup parked out front. With the keys in hand, the suspect loaded a company snow blower into the back of the pickup truck. He then fled from the fenced-in yard by driving through the locked gate.

An area canvass was conducted and troopers located the stolen truck on the shoulder of Route 72. The suspect was outside of the vehicle and was apprehended without incident. All of the stolen property was recovered. The Ford sustained significant damage.

He was formally charged with the following offenses: two counts of Burglary (felony), Theft (felony), two counts of Theft (misdemeanor), two counts of Criminal Mischief (misdemeanor), Criminal Mischief (felony) and Attempted Burglary (felony). He was committed to the Howard Young Correctional Institute in lieu of $7,000 secured bail.

Coffeehouse event coming Sept. 18th

(For other live entertainment, check out newarkpostonline.com)

On Sept. 18th from 7-9 p.m., Friends of Newark will bring coffeehouse entertainment to the Newark community. Friends of Newark, a community organization dedicated to promoting culture and building community, on Main Street is again offering live music and the spoken word at Patrick Metic's Adria Café in the Newark Shopping Center.

To start off the evening, there will be readings by two local poets. First, Albert Geiser, a native of New York state, who is now living in Claymont, Delaware, cites the influence of his parents and sister as instrumental in shaping his interest in writing from an early age. Albert has attended numerous writer's workshops and has participated in many open-mic readings over his long literary career. Next, there is a reading by Kathryn Larrivee, who was born and raised in Dover. Having begun writing poetry at an early age, she continued her love of poems and writing them throughout her undergraduate and graduate studies. Currently working as a museum director for a local museum, Kathryn writes whenever she is moved to write, working in free forms and basing her poems on the experiences and feelings of the moment.

The evening's second performer is Aric Pringle, singer, guitarist and songwriter. Aric, who is originally from Sioux Falls, SD and who graduated from Cape Henlopen High School, is devoted not only to songwriting but also to photography and writing haiku. He names as influences that have inspired him musically: The Beatles, Elliott Smith, Radiohead, KISS and Sonic Youth.

The last act of the evening is Scapple Creek Runners, an Americana/blue grass band made up of J.C. Bell- Mandolin, Tenor Banjo/Vocal Harmonies; Paddy Corcoran- Vocals/Guitar; Mike Chevalier- Fiddle/ Vocal Harmonies; Jim Poulicci- Five String Banjo; and Dave Atherton-Bass. Scapple Creek Runners combines the traditional melodies of American oldtime music with bluegrass music.

Also, at September's Mocha, Music & More, Friends of Newark, in order to further its commitment to promoting culture on Main Street, will continue to offer to those attending door prizes from shops on Main Street. This September the business people contributing prizes are: Richard Handloff of the National 5 & 10, a family owned and operated business for over 77 years that combines a classic 5 & 10 variety of items with University of Delaware clothing and souvenirs as well as Al Romagnoli of Newark Camera, offering custom printing and enlarging in all media since 1963.

Mocha, Music & More, offers opportunities for artists to perform original or non-copy-right material live in an intimate and friendly setting. If interested in performing, contact Scheduling Coordinator, Lori Bencoter at (302) 834-3385 or at Bencoter2@aol.com. Mocha, Music & More is free and open to the public.

Soft contact lenses that fit too tightly leave no room for tears to flow beneath the lenses to refresh the cornea. Instead, tears tend to pool under the lens and breed bacteria, which produce toxins that create cloudy patches in the cornea and cause infections. Moreover, a tight-fitting soft lens starves the cornea of oxygen, making it more susceptible to swelling and the growth of new blood vessels within the cornea. Warning signs of tight-fitting lenses include foggy vision, fluctuating vision (better or worse vision after blinking), dryness, irritation, and redness. This problem doesn't necessarily mean the lens fitter is at fault since contact lenses can tighten on their own with a few hours' wear, especially if eyes are dry.

Soft contact lenses can give you a glasses-free look. Because contacts are worn directly on the eye, it is important to follow specific handling, cleaning, and disinfecting instructions. At KNEISLEY EYE CARE, we feature soft, hard, and bi-focal contacts as well as cleaning supplies. To ensure you enjoy healthy eyes and clear vision, we provide instructions on how to care for your lenses and regular check-up visits. Please call us at 302-224-3000 to schedule a convenient eye health exam. We are located at 45 East Main St., on the 2nd floor of the Main Street Galleria. Office hours are Monday and Tuesday 11-8 and Wednesday through Friday 8-5.

P.S. It is important to have new contact lenses in for a few hours prior to a follow-up visit so that the fit of the lenses can be accurately assessed.

Brigid Boylan, 95 died Monday, August 31, at Millcroft Health Care Center, attended by her family.

Born Brigid Lanigan on April 24, 1914, in Ballinahow, near Thurles, Co. Tipperary, Ireland, she was the daughter of John Lanigan and Anne (Tyman) Lanigan. She was educated at the Presentation Convent in Thurles and went to work in the offices of the Great Southern Railway, for which her father worked as a signal inspector. Boylan worked as a day-care provider, a caterer at Chicago State Teachers' College (now Northeastern Illinois University), and in the office at Mangini & Company. She moved to Newark, DE, in 1997 to be close to her family.

She is survived by her children: John of Hollywood, FL, Anne of Newark, DE, Mary of Chicago, IL, Jim of Schweinfurt, Germany; and Bridget of San Francisco, CA; by her sons-in-law, Peter Kolchin and Dennis Spearman; her daughter-in-law, Doris Boylan; grandchildren, Lillianne, Robin, Michael, and David; and by her two granddaughters-in-law, Ann Fornof and Mayra Boylan. She was predeceased by her much-loved husband, John Boylan, her parents, and her seven siblings: Martin, Timothy (Tim), Mary (Mai), James (Jim), Patrick (Pakie), John, and Thomas (Tom).

In accordance with her wishes, the only funeral service was a Mass of Christian Burial offered at the Cathedral of the Assumption, Thurles, followed by interment at St. Patrick's Cemetery, Thurles, on a date to be announced.

Friends who wish to honor her memory may send donations to the Millcroft Employee Appreciation Fund, c/o Bill Wool, 255 Possum Park Road, Newark, DE 19711 U.S.A.

James A. Butcofsky

Mr. James A. Butcofsky ("Jim"), 53, of Newark, DE, died suddenly on Saturday, August 29.

Butcofsky was born in Bristol, PA, on February 27, 1956, son of the late Donald Butcofsky and Winifred Simmons Butcofsky. He was a machinist by profession and was employed with DuHadaway Tool and Die Shop in Newark.

He is survived by his wife of seven years, Tamera Butcofsky; children, Jesse A. Butcofsky of Newark, DE; Cassie L. Butcofsky of Elkton, MD; Jeremy A. Butcofsky, Jason A. Butcofsky, and Jimmy A. Butcofsky, all of Bear, DE; and Brett T. Butcofsky of Newark, DE; stepson, James Jordan of Newark, DE; sister, Pamela Rossini of Wilmington, DE; and grandchildren, Ariana, Elijah, Jeremiah, and Evelyn.

A funeral service was held at 7 pm, on Wednesday, September 2, at the Spicer-Mullikin Funeral Home, 121 West Park Place, Newark, DE. A committal service was held at 12 noon, on Friday, September 4, at Gracelawn Memorial Park, 2220 N. DuPont Parkway, New Castle, DE.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the American Diabetes Association, 100 W. 10th St., Ste. 1002, Wilmington, DE 19801.

James Ewing

James A. "Jimmy" Ewing, beloved husband, father and brother, died suddenly at home on Sunday, August 30.

With his passing, Jimmy leaves behind his wife Renee (Dodds); his sons, Derek Michael, Kyle Lucas, and Mark Bratten; his father, John; his sister, Carol Fretz; his brother, Doug; his wonderful in-law family, the Dodds', and several aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins. He was predeceased by his loving mother, Lorene (Thornton), his brother and mentor, Mark, and brother-in-law, Bob Fretz.

Family received visitors at Beeson Funeral Home of Newark, 2053 Pulaski Highway, Newark, on Thursday, September 3, from 6-9 pm and Friday at 9 am. Burial followed immediately at White Clay Creek Presbyterian Cemetery.

Main Street site of prank

Friday morning proved to be an interesting one for visitors to Main Street. Employees from The Fun Factory staged an improvisational event, called the Great Freeze-Out, starting the everyday citizens of Newark. Using e-mails, Twitter and messages on Facebook, organizer Nat Measley invited people to join him at the Cinema 3 movie theater parking lot before the event.

Touting it as "Delaware's first urban prank", Measley and his cohorts brought together a large crowd and had them stage themselves on both sides of Main Street, in the vicinity of Kildare's and National 5 & 10. The fun began at about 11:05 am.

The participants froze into a position and stayed motionless for several minutes, before resuming their everyday activities. A few people celebrated the moment by wearing special hats and pieces of clothing, while others took a more mundane approach.

Reactions to the event were varied. People unaware of the happening stopped and stared, while others just kept on walking.

After the prank, participants and organizers rejoined in the cinema parking lot to laugh and rejoice in their mischievousness. Due to the number of participants, Newark may see another event in the near future.

Are you ready for some football?

University of Delaware fans and students joined together, last Friday, to usher in the 2009 football season. The UD Marching Band, as always, paraded outside the stadium to the rousing of cheers.

Families and friends came out to support the Blue Hens in traditional UD style, by throwing a tailgate party. Partygoers brought out their finest and kids threw footballs around to celebrate the new season. But it wasn't much of a party for the Hens opening game opponent, West Chester University, as UD beat them 35-0.

Honoring those who served

▶ FRANCE, from 1

The event was one of many being held around the country in celebration of the anniversary of the W3R. At nearly 680 miles long, the W3R details the encampments and roads used by Continental Army troops under George Washington and French troops under Jean-Baptiste de Rochambeau. The route runs from Newport, R.I. to Yorktown, Va., passing along Old Baltimore Pike.

Notable speakers included W3R organization leader Dr. Ralph Nelson, who delivered a brief history of the significant contribution of the French to the Revolutionary War and Wallingford, Conn. resident Dave Holloway, who in 2006 marched the entirety of the W3R garbed in a traditional French uniform. Keeping with solidarity, both countries' colors were posted and the Glasgow High Marching Band played the French and American national anthems.

Other participating organizations included the Delaware National Guard, Fifes and Drums of the Delaware Militia, The Newark VFW, Scout Troop 1777, Sons of the American Revolution, William Penn High School ROTC Color Guard, Delaware Military Academy, Alliance Francaise de Wilmington and the American Revolutionary War Horse Dragons.

French Ambassador Pierre Vimont [center] traveled to Delaware during the weekend for the commemoration of the Battle of Cooch's Bridge during the Revolutionary War and to recognize the long history of friendship and cooperation between the U.S. and France. The September 1777 battle was the Revolution's only major battle on Delaware soil. During the event, Vimont and other local dignitaries laid a wreath at the Cooch's Bridge Battle Memorial. Joining Vimont at a reception following the commemoration were [from left] State Rep. John Kowalko, D-Newark, Sen. Bethany Hall-Long, D-Middletown, and County Councilman David Tackett.

Brain health focus of conference

The Delaware Mental Fitness Coalition with the support of AstraZeneca will be hosting "Brain Health Day 2009" on Thursday, September 17. The focus of the event is to promote the various ways that the 50+ population can maintain a healthy mind and body. Many of these activities can be found at the Delaware Mental Fitness Coalition agencies which include the Academy of Lifelong Learning, Division of Aging and Adults with Physical Disabilities, the Newark Senior Center, R.S.V.P. and the Wilmington Senior Center, in addition to many other local agencies serving the older adult population. The day will end with keynote speaker Dr. Ina Li from Family, Community & Geriatric Medicine at Christiana Care who will present on "Aging Gracefully". The keynote event will take place at the Newark Senior Center at 7:00pm.

Day two of this event, Friday, September 18th, will take place at the Newark Senior Center where they will once again be hosting their annual

Life Options Conference from 9am to 2:30pm. The Life Options Conference is designed to introduce the 50+ community to choices that will make the next 10, 20 or 30 years of life an adventure. This year's theme is "Living on a Shoestring". There are a variety of workshops that will be offered focusing on how to thrive despite these challenging economic times. Dick Goldberg, Director of Coming of Age, will be presenting the keynote at 9:15am; his topic is "Meaning Isn't Tied to Money". There will be two workshop sessions following the keynote as well as a healthy lunch of tilapia with fresh melon salsa, rice pilaf and broccoli spears available in the NSC cafeteria. There will also be a variety of local businesses and organizations represented at the conference offering a wide array of information and opportunities. A schedule of this event can be found below as well. # Food volunteer program launched

By MARIA PIPPIDIS

NEWARK POST CONTRIBUTING WRITER

University of Delaware Cooperative Extension is developing a new program entitled the Master Foods Educator Training Program. This program provides training in foods, nutrition and food safety to those who are interested in volunteering in the community. Modeled after the very successful Master Gardener program, this course provides participants with 30+ hours of training and in return, program participants volunteer hours toward Cooperative Extension outreach efforts in the community.

Training topics will cover the areas of foods, diet, health, food safety, food selection and preparation, and will give participants the background they need to provide information or educational workshops/events in the community. Individuals who wish to volunteer for ongoing Cooperative Extension initiatives will have the opportunity for continued training, support, and curriculum resources. It is an excellent refresher course or basic program for staff who need background information as they work with youth or adults. We will also be providing participants with the opportunity to practice giving presentations with curriculum we make available to them.

The Master Foods Educator Program training will be held Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. starting October 5 through November 4, 2009. The location will be the New Castle County Extension Office, 461 Wyoming Road, in Newark.

The course is free to individuals who volunteer with Cooperative Extension initiatives and who are committed to provide 40 hours of volunteer hours.

Cooperative Extension also recognizes that there are individuals currently working with other who need resources and training. Professionals working in the field who are interested in taking the class for professional development purposes can pay the $125 registration fee to attend, but still need to apply.

Individuals who are interested in nutrition, diet and health issues, want to learn, would enjoy working with and helping others, and want to be affiliated with a professional organization are perfect candidates for this program. If you, or someone you know, is interested in becoming part of the Cooperative Extension MFE team, please fill in the form and return it to Sandy Peralta by September 25th.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at 831-1239. Copies of the brochure and application can be found at: <http://ag.udel.edu/extension/ncc/nccindex.php>.

OUT OF THE ATTIC

This week's Out of the Attic features an E. C. Krupp Co. postcard showing part of Main Street in the early 20th century. The card was postmarked on August 11, 1914 at Elkton, Maryland. Can you add information about the scene such as exact location, identity of specific buildings, or sharing related anecdotes?

The picture is on loan to the Newark Post from the Newark Historical Society collection (courtesy of Dr. Kenneth M. Weinig). The Society is seeking pictures and other artifacts of places, activities, and life styles in the Greater Newark Area.

Contact the Newark Historical Society by voice mail at 302-224-2408, by postal mail to P.O. Box 711, Newark, DE 19715, or by email to newarkdehistoricalsociety@yahoo.com.
