My Dear Sister
I received your letter this evening and was very glad to hear from you and to hear that you received the money I am Certain tis Safe with you I have nothing of importance to tell you news are Scarce here we expect to move to morrow Annie you will hear of a Battle Before this reaches you you must not Be uneasey for I will write if I am hurt or get Some one to Do It for me there fore you need not Be allarmed I am glad that the army is going to move for the war will never Be over if we lay Still And Do nothing we have great Confidence in our Commander you might have hear of his fighting

I received a letter from you on last Friday night. I had no time to answer it. I being on duty so I thought you would be uneasy if you did not get an answer from me. I got [Fhennard??] Allisson to write for me hoping you will pardon me if I done wrong. I received a letter from Mother yesterday. She was well, Annie. I don't think you approve of me getting married as you said nothing in regard to it. Well, never mind, Annie. [Underline] That [end underline] was all in fun for I tell you there will be a Blue Snow when this lark is married. I will now bid you an affectionate adieu.

I remain your brother,

David Lilley
