DUSC votes to fund $77,000 for activities

By VAL ECKLER and GARY CAHALL

The 1980-1981 student activities budget was approved by a narrow vote at Tuesday's Delaware Undergraduate Student Council (DUSC) meeting, falling almost $100,000 short of the requested amount.

The budget of $77,503 was divided among 72 student organizations.

DUSC Budget Board Chairman Bob Ashman explained that the board had made a preliminary budget that "met nearly all expectations," but later turned out to be about $20,000 over. The board cut each group's allocation by approximately 20 percent.

The 10 organizations receiving the largest allocations are: Student Program Association ($32,255); WXDR ($8,064); Minority Student Programming Advisory Board ($4,032); DUSC ($3,617); Black Student Union ($3,384); Ice Hockey Club ($1,774); Outing Club ($1,613); Cosmopolitan Club ($1,472); Inter-fraternity Council ($1,278); and Gay Student Union ($1,098).

Opposition to the reduced allocation list came mainly from representatives of the undergraduate college councils and Student Program Association (SPA). In the 1979-1980 budget four of the seven college councils received over $400 for academic and social activities, while this year only one did.

SPA officers claimed that their allocation, combined with a $5,000 loan from the DUSC to be payed next year, will severely limit their campus programming. "Traditionally," SPA Vice-President Mark Fendrick said, "we've received almost 50 percent of the budget." Bob Harris, an administrative appointee to the board, said "Traditionally, you've mismanaged it in the past." Last month, SPA's Warren Zevon concert at the Fieldhouse lost about $10,000 and the group acquired a loan to avoid bankruptcy.

DUSC President Bob Lucas turned over the chair to argue against the budget, saying that he "couldn't live with it." Lucas said that the DUSC should not approve the budget merely as a convenience, but use its defeat to show to the Board of Trustees the need for the proposed student activities fee.

The DUSC finally approved the budget 14-4-1, just over the necessary 2/3 margin, with a recommendation that "strong displeasure" with the funding be shown to the Dean of Students office and the trustees.

In other business, the results of last week's DUSC elections were unanimously approved, and new DUSC Presidnt Ken Beach took over the meeting.

The first order of business for the new officers was a revamped Student Government Handbook proposal from DUSC Treasurer Cindy Wells. The new motion asked that "the DUSC accept the following individuals as the financially responsible editor of the Student Government Handbook." and listed Wells, Deborah Ann Disbrow, DUSC Constitutions Committee Chariman John Abel and Faculty Senator Mike Cochran.

It was once again argued that the DUSC had not yet approved the printing of the handbook. Wells said that her new proposal would not involve any financial responsibility by the DUSC. The proposed staff would investigate "outside-of-student government sources of money" and possibly solicit ads.

When asked approximately how long it would take before enough funds were collected, Wells gave no definite answers.

A reworded version of the measure, stating that DUSC will endorse the production of the handbook without any financial obligation, passed 10-2-2. Ashman, who voted against the proposal, said, "it's been too disorganized. I think the wages are outrageous."

UD woos Coast Guard for $10 million complex

By RICHARD WILLIAMSON

University administrators, Gov. Pete du Pont, and Rep. Tom Evans (R-Del.) have united lobbying efforts to attract a $10 million Coast Guard research center to the Marine Studies Center in Lewes. The research center would study estuaries and the ocean along the continental shelf.

The university has proposed to the Commandant of the Coast Guard to build the research complex on the 387-acre site owned by the university at Lewes. The complex would be leased to the Coast Guard for 25 years with two additional 25 year renewable options.

The location of a Coast Guard Center at Lewes will mutually benefit both organizations, according to Dr. William Gaither, college dean. "The university is heavily involved in the total concept of oceanopgraphy,' he said, "and the Coast Guard has the same area of interest."

If the center were to locate on Lewes, it would attract over 160 people with a $7 million annual budget.

The Coast Guard currently leases research facilities from the University of Connecticut for its current research center at Avery Point, 15 miles from the Coast Guard Academy. Its search for a new center location began when the University of Connecticut announced its intention not to renew the lease when it expires in the spring of 1982.

In a cover letter advocating Delaware as a better site du-Pont wrote: "the research and development mission of the Coast Guard can best be served by locating your

West Bank: Israelis defend right to occupy biblical land

By DAN HORGAN

Editor's Note: This is the conclusion of a two part article on the views of Palestinian and Israeli students regarding Palestinian autonomy.

Almost seven years ago David Tatarsky was praying at the local synagogue in Haifa, Israel on the holiest day of the Jewish calendar. At the same moment, Egypt, Syria and Jordan declared war on Israel, and Tatarsky was called out of the synagogue by the local military commander to fight in the 1973 Yom Kippur War.

This incident is and example of the side by side relationship of religion and patriotism in Israel, an integral part of Israeli culture. This tie, going back to biblical times, is one reason for the Israeli government's unyielding stance on the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip lands.

"These lands are in the heart, the origin of biblical Israel," said Tatarsky.

Tatarsky, a chemistry research assistant, is one of five Israeli students at the university. He came to the university last summer to conduct research and is a staunch supporter of the Israeli occupation and settlement of the Palestinian West Bank of the Jordan and the Gaza Strip.

Tatarsky, who grew up in Haifa in northern Israel, agrees that Palestinians "have a right, like anyone, to a home and a decent existence." He said, however, the Palestinians' demand for a totally autonomous West Bank state cannot be met under present conditions.

"The Israeli government wants to give the Palestinians autonomy, but an independent state would be Palestinian Liberation Organization (PLO) controlled, and would endanger Israel."

The Palestinians' lack of a national home is partly due to their own actions, according to Tatarsky and other Israelis. He pointed out that Arab leaders completely rejected a fifty-fifty split of the territory of Palestine with Jews, offered to them in the U.N.'s partition plan of 1947.

Itzo Groman (AG82), another Israeli student from Haifa, rejected the Palestinian claim that the British government displaced native Palestinians with vast numbers of Jewish immigrants under the British Mandate of Palestine.

"The British actually opposed the migration of Jews...even expelled them from the area" before 1948, he said. "Arabs migrated into Palestine too," he added.

Contrary to Palestine Arab claims, Tatarsky said, the vast number of Palestinians who lost their homes during the 1948 war were "forced out because there was a war going on, not because of any Israeli policy."

Tatarsky explained that Arab leaders throughout the Middle East called on Arabs living in Palestine and Israel to leave their homes there to avoid being caught in the fighting of the 1948 war.

"It was the Arabs' own

decision to abandon their land," said Groman.

Any land that Israel gained outside of its original 1948 territory was taken "while Israel was fighting for its life," he said. Palestinian Arabs made "unilateral demands for the return of Palestine ... demands that all Jewish inhabitants leave the land" that had been gained by Israel, said Groman.

Palestinians have claimed that Israeli troops destroyed native Arab farm villages and uprooted their inhabitants during the 1948 and ensuing wars. This occurred "only because the villages harbored terrorists," said Groman. "Many of these 'villages' are training grounds for the PLO."

"The use of extra force (by Israelis) was necessary because of Palestinian fifth column guerilla tactics. The Palestinians said 'we will drive Jews in the sea.' How else could we respond?" he said.

Tatarsky and Groman claim that Palestinians have drawn a false picture of Israeli troops marching into Palestine and casting out the native Arabs. "Arabs forget that over a million Jews were expelled from Arab countries when the '48 war started.

Palestinians often claim they've suffered many hardships, but Jewish immigrants that came to Israel after 1948 "were victims of the horrible suffering of the Holocaust," said Tatarsky. His own parents came to Israel after fleeing Poland after Hitler's invasion, he added. "My father spent time in the concentration camp of Trablinka (Poland)" Groman added.

Israelis recognize that "there is a Palestinian refugee problem." Tatarsky and Groman maintain, however, that a homeland for refugees is not in Israel or in Israeli occupied lands but in Jordan. A large part of the territory that was Palestine became part of Jordan after 1948, they said, adding that "there are about 2 million Palestinians living in Jordan and two-thirds of the Jordanian Parliment are of Palestinian descent."

Tatatrsky said that it's necessary to "view the whole picture ... to get the right perspective" on the Israeli government's position on giving up lands. "There are 21 sovereign Arab states ... and one tiny state of Israel in the Middle East."

The Israeli government will help the Palestinian refugees "if Arabs will only sit down and negotiate with us," said Tatarsky. Yoram Cohen, a doctoral student originally from Israel, claims said that "you have to recognize us as persons before you can even sit down to talk," referring to the PLO's non-recognition of Israel.

This non-recognition of Israel and the PLO's covenant vowing the destruction of the state of Israel "are the chief obstacles" to a solution for the Palestinian problem, said Cohen.

"The core of the problem is not Palestinian self-determination, but the PLO's non-recognition of Israel," said Groman.

The DUSC also approved the registration of three student organizations: The Psychology Club, open to all majors and non-majors interested in Psychology; the Disabled Students Association, formed to help physically disabled students gain a sense of community, and make the campus community more aware of their presence.

The most controversial of the three, the Bhakti Yoga Club, was passed with six abstentions. The club, which will focus on classical Indian culture, deals with the Hare Krishna religion.

"because of security reasons ... to protect our borders," said Tatarsky. The continued Israeli military administraion of the West Bank and Gaza Strip is also necessary for Israel's security "as long as the PLO vow to destroy Israel," he said.

Tatarsky rejected Arab claims that the United States is one-sided in its support of Israel. "The U.S. pressures Israel for concessions to the Arabs." There is Jewish influence in this country, Tatarsky conceded, but he pointed to a "Stronger Arab oil lobby" at work as well.

"The PLO has the backing of the Arab world and the U.S.S.R. also," claimed Tatarsky.

Tatarsky and Groman, who plan to return to Israel after they finish their studies at the university, both said that an independent Palestinian state has not been ruled out by the Israeli government, but "only after Palestinians have proved they are friends, and not committed to the destruction of Israel,"

The current Egyptian-Israeli peace negotiations "are a real step for a future settlement" of the Palestinian question, according to Tatarsky and the other Israelis.

Tatarsky added a note of hope to the current stalemate of the peace talks. He recently made friends with Sharif Demerdash, an Egyptian exchange student at the university. They fought against each other in the 1973 war.

Research and Development Center next to a high quality graduate research and educational institution concerned with the continental shelf and estaurine studies." Du Pont first offered the site to the Coast Guard in 1975 when he served in the U.S. Congress.

Evans serves on the Coast Guard subcommittee of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, the authorizing agent for the Coast Guard budget. The Coast Guard has expressed interest in the Delaware proposal, but the Merchant Marine Committee has taken no formal action, according to Evans' office.

It is unclear when a decision will be made on the proposal an Evans spokesman said. The Coast Guard has approximately a year before they must make a budget proposal to the Congress for the 1982 fiscal year.

University President E.A. Trabant is planning a trip scheduled in early June to the Coast Guard facility in Connecticut to see the facilities in Connecticut to see the facilities there and to ensure that it is compatible with the work of the university.

Stations fined for overpricing gas

Twenty-nine Delaware gas stations were fined this week by the U.S. Department of Energy for overcharging their customers, the Evening Journal reported.

The agency conducted an investigation of 125 Delaware gas stations after it received complaints from the stations' customers.

The Department of Energy has not revealed the names of the 29.

Three robbers get rich at Resorts

Resorts International Casino Hotel was robbed of over $21,000 when three men held up the desk clerk, this week reported the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Although police set up road blocks and questioned area residents no suspects were apprehended.

The gaming table area of Resorts was not a target of the robbers, said the Inquirer, and no definite changes in the security policy have been made since the robbery.

New DUSC pres. 'gets involved'

Beach: Watergate was no deterrent

KEN BEACH

By MICHELLE ROBBINS

Watergate has become such a dirty word that it's unusual to find someone who says it had a positive effect on him. But according to Ken Beach, new Delaware Undergraduate Student Congress (DUSC) president, it did.

"I really had no desire to get involved in anything until the Watergate hearings," he said. "One person testifying urged the youth of America to stay out of politics. It had an adverse affect on me."

And although, in Beach's words, politics is still a dirty word right now, he has gotten involved.

Aside from being the former DUSC vice president, and a resident assistant in Sypherd Hall, Beach, a junior law school hopeful, is a recent Mortar Board inductee and a member of Pi Sigma Alpha, the political science honor society. He is also active in intramurals.

Unfortunately, Beach's enthusiasm for politics does not seem to be shared by other students. Only 15.2 percent of the student body voted last week making Beach the winner in the lowest voter turnout in five years.

He admitted that that low turnout bothered him.

"The decrease from 33 percent to 15 percent in four years is something that concerns and shocks me," Beach said. He hopes to work with the election committee next year to improve voter turnout by making polling stations more visible, perhaps by banners, and by increasing the number of people at each station.

People forget it's election day, he explained, and don't take time out to vote when they're in a hurry and see the polling stations are crowded.

All four members of the Open Campus Party ticket were elected, demonstrating, in Beach's words, that students like coherency. He cited a lack of communication in a previous year when the DUSC officers came from different party tickets.

profile

New Vice President John Ewers said he was a "little concerned" about the coming year, but cited Beach's enthusiasm and dedication as positive assets.

"He has an almost unusual concern," Ewers said of Beach. "He's pretty easy-going, but at the same time pleasantly gets across the point that things have to get done."

Patricia McHugh, outgoing DUSC secretary, credits Beach with getting her involved in DUSC, and claims she "plans to stay involved."

"One of the best things is he's open to new ideas," she said. "He has a way of finding something for everyone to do."

The housing shortage is one problem Beach hopes to work on, but pointed out that extended housing is really an issue that the Resident Student Association (RSA) has dealt with more.

"I think DUSC should go to the administration and state that the trends used three years ago in deciding not to build are not holding true," said Beach. He also advocates Housing's suggestion of building modular houses on university-owned land, but he plans to move off-campus himself.

"They have to deal with the fact that Delaware's population and reputation has increased," Beach continued. "Having cramped living conditions takes away from the atmosphere of the university. There are enough problems in college without living conditions."

Regarding "free week," Beach said, "I plan to have our faculty senators once again bring up the matter at the first meeting in the fall." He is also planning to personally speak to the Faculty Senate president to express students displeasure.

Beach completely backs the alcohol policy crackdown. "The university has become a haven where state laws didn't apply. The problem shouldn't have had to happen," he said.

Incoming students "learn a routine," according to Beach, and the crackdown has been a strick change. "It's like the underage drinkers are saying you're denying me something I once had before," he explained.

"The incoming class will be aware of the policy and it'll become an accepted fact. Newark has to realize it's no different from any other city or town in Delaware."

However, with the alcohol policy, students face an activity void and with the present money situation and high cost of living, the Student Program Association (SPA) can't put on all the programs the students want, he added.

"By having the student activity fee, students buy into activities on campus." This awareness, Beach feels, will have positive effects.

And the university definitely needs positive effects and positive solutions. Hopefully, under Ken Beach's leadership, DUSC can suggest some.

FOR THOSE TAKING THE SERIES AS A COURSE

Persons interested in all four presentations, willing to read prepared materials and who complete the examinations given by the University faculty may enroll in U 167 (1 credit-Pass/Fail). Those who attend each of the complete Wednesday morning programs (8:30-12:00), complete all readings and pass all examinations will earn one University credit. For those wishing to take the one credit course, descriptive materials and procedures are available through the Office of Continuing Education. For additional information, please complete the bottom tear off and return to John Clayton Hall, Newark,DE 19711, or call the Division of Continuing Education (738-2741) or the Parallel Program Office, Delaware Technical & Community College, Georgetown, DE (856-5270). Those taking the course (14-96-167-79) for credit will be charged a tuition fee of $39. Registration may take place at the time of registration for Second Summer Session.

FOR THE PUBLIC

Persons interested just in the guest lectures may begin attendance at 10:00 A.M. for the visitor's presentation each Wednesday in August. Seats are limited and admission will require a ticket. Tickets can be obtained, free of charge, at the offices of Continuing Education, the Henlopen Hotel in Rehoboth, or at the Rehoboth Chamber of Commerce. Public attendance at the 8:30 A.M. background presentation made by the University faculty is also welcome, but not required in order to attend the visitor's lecture. You may attend any or all parts of the series. No registration is needed, but seating is reserved by tickets. Those enrolled in the course will be given priority for admission to the lectures.

Black students look to own groups for social activities, involvement

By JUDY RIBEIRO

Editor's Note: This is the last of three articles dealing with the social and academic aspects of black student life at the university.

Black students comprised only about 3 percent of the student body during the 1978-79 school year and many consequently felt socially isolated from the larger university community.

"Because there are so few minorities in the university, to have any kind of significant social life a lot of black students have had to look outside the university for much of their social interaction," according to Raymond Eddy, dean of students.

Several institutions and programs, like the minority center and the Black Student Union, are attempts to improve black social life at the university.

However, blacks "have a problem being recognized as students," according the Eric Sharpe (AS82), a member of the Minority Student Programming Advisory Board. Activities at the university, he said, are generally geared to whites, often ignoring the tastes, preferences and interests of black students.

One of the oldest minority organizations on campus is the Black Student Union, which has been in operation since 1967, according to President Miles Jones (BE80). The organization "promotes student activities and events to stimulate black culture," he said.

Despite claims that the university is "insensitive," the administration has attempted to improve the university environment for minorities.

The creation of the Minority Center and the Minority Affairs Board, according to Eddy, are examples of the university's attempts to respond to the needs of black students.

The Minority Center, according to Lewis Randolph, director since August, was conceived in 1969 when a concerned group of black students presented a list of demands to administrators.

The Center, according to Randolph, provides an opportunity for black students to grow and display their talents.

It has also assumed full leadership of minority programming on campus since its origin, Randolph added.

The center serves three purposes, he said. The first is academic development, including tutorial workshops and study sessions. The second, cultural development, comes from programs "organized to create ethnic awareness for minority students" and to involve the community and white students with minorities. Finally, the center provides and "opportunity for interaction among faculty, professionals and staff." he said.

Despite the activities provided by the Minority center, some black students have turned to more traditional campus social institutions – fraternities and sororities.

Kappa Alpha Psi, a national fraternity, is one of the larger black fraternities on campus, according to member Donald Logan (AS80). The fraternity, on campus since 1975, lacks the funds necessary to have its own house, Logan said, but is activite nonetheless. Pledges must work with community organizations and the fraternity's guidelight program, designed to help black high school and college students with personal and academic problems.

The Pamoja, the black student newspaper, is "necessary because the Review refuses to print any of our activities from a black perspective" according to Allegra Mases (AS82) Editor. She cited its purpose as a "vehicle for sharing the concerns, complaints and praises of black students."

The newspaper, supposed to be issued monthly, has only been printed twice this year because of lack of funds, she said.

The Minority Affairs Board closely connected to the Minority Center, advises the provost on many aspects of minority affairs, including learning and research for students, faculty and staff.

Successfully functioning for about three years, the board "had to be formed because the SPA (Student Programming Association) doesn't do an adequate job for minorities" said Teresa Drummond (AS 80) chairwoman.

"The students begin to believe in themselves, obtain personal satisfaction" from their activities, Randolph said.

The Fupped Ducks return in the spring

While to most people the university is recognized as a place of advancement, growth and change, it is also a home in which traditions are born.

Fittingly, we would like at this time to reintroduce a Review tradition lacking for the past year...the1980 Fupped Duck Awards.

These notifications of merit or disapproval will cover the high, and mostly low, points of the spring of 1980, will have little or no effect on the course of university affairs, will be ignored by the people they're directed to, and will, at the very least, give us the chance to blow off some much-needed steam.

Enough maudlinism. We are here to give awards. For the spring semester of 1980, the winners are:

The Lord DeLaWarr Hotel Management Award — Given almost annually to the office of Housing and Residence Life for finding new and unique ways to crowd students in dorms. Those four lucky stiffs who will live in "walled-up" Rodney lounges won't even get the water fountain in their "room." Rumor has it that several Housing workers were in charge of crowd control at Cincinnati's Who concert.

The Thom McAn Shoehorn Award — Given to the administrative honchos who suggested building the new Bookstore between the Student Center and Thompson Hall. Not only will traffic paths be rerouted to who-knows-where, not only will the East side of the Student Center be without sunlight, but they might have to tear down that lovely fountain.

The Franz Kafka Memorial Award — Given to the many student groups ourselves included, who are supporting the student activities fee in spite of administrative indifference. If we'd come out against the darn thing it would have been passed in a week, at most. Here we are, asking them to charge us another $18 a year, and they won't!

The Fool's Gold Mine Award — Given again to Housing, specifically the Dickinson Complex staff, who tried to draw more upperclassment to their less-than-spacious rooms with a special "lottery." It was not unlike giving a man in the Sahara a jar of peanut butter.

The "We Didn't Think You Meant It" Award — Given to the Faculty Senate, who, after months of polls, petitions, and speeches showing that students are against "free week," passed the measure anyway. The Senate said a stronger show of opinion is needed. Anyone for demolishing the Faculty Dining Room?

The Urination Up a Drainpipe Award — Given to the Resident Student Association for its Alternative Drinking Pub in Daugherty Hall. After the first moderately successful concert, attendence plummeted like the price of silver. Do you think it's the name, the building, or the whole idea that the under-20 crowd doesn't really want alcohol?

The "Oh, Really?" Award — To the conductors of an administrative survey who found that students "drink alcohol mainly to celebrate, release tension, and gain self-confidence." What a revelation! Any liquor store owner or bartender could have told them the same thing.

The "Who's on First?" Award — Given to the Delaware Undergraduate Student Congress, whose officers did not know whether or not "Free week" had been vetoed by the Faculty Senate, and who thought they were one up on Senate Secretary Barbara Maring.

The George Orwell Memorial Award — Given to university President E.A. Trabant, who wants the Faculty Senate to consider banning all X-rated movies from the campus. Surely the ink on the First Ammendment, under Freedom of Speech, isn't that faded.

The Sound of Silence Award — Given to the Student Program Association who, despite having the largest budget of any student group, has not yet given us relief from abonimable Fieldhouse accoustics and a movie theater that has more static than a $1.98 Japanese radio.

The "Don't Think We're Concerned" Award — Given to the facilities office for not responding to the pleas of garment workers to boycott cap and gown manuafcturer Cotrell and Leonard but, when faced with having to find a new supplier, making sure everyone knows it is not because of the activities. We could but hope.

The "Well, They Don't Look Like Us" Award — Given to State Rep. Gerard Cain, who tried to keep the open-minded attitude of the 1950s alive with his bill to deport all Iranian students in Delaware. Whatever the Iranians' situation is , we should not reduce ourselves to their level.

The "Don't Confuse Me with Facts" Award — Given to Mary Celene Biggons, who gave us a lengthy letter speaking against the student activities fee. The trouble was, her "data" was at least five years old and no longer applied.

And finally, everyone's favorite, The E.A.Trabant Size 10 Hoof-in-Mouth Award — Given, for the third year in a row, to a person other than its namesake. This year's winner is Dennis Williams, who was, on paper, the University Commuter Association vice president from May 1979 to January 1980. When asked before his forced resignation in January why he hadn't been at a single meeting or visited the UCA office, Williams replied, "I had completely forgotten about it."

One Moment — by Ken Mammarella

After the 'paper chase,' the 'job chase'

Like any good student who has been well molded by too many years of American education, I carefully sought the advice of my elders on how to get a job.

Go into engineering, said the least helpful, because that's where they need people. Do what you like to do, said another. Do what you want to do. Do what you're best at. Go into liberal arts, said one, because college is supposed to produce well-rounded individuals. (What these Renaissance men would do in today's complex, technical society was left unsaid.) Learn a marketable skill. Learn a second language. Double major. Get a minor. Go to grad school. Get practical experience while in college. Get a career-related summer job. Study hard.

After mulling over this confusion, I selected journalism.

Earlier this year I again sought advice for my job search, and I was depressed by what I was told.

I already knew positions were scarce and poor-paying, but my counselors seemed to think I would have little chance at getting anything. I went to the library and read a few out-of-date, unhelpful books on the subject, but my greatest disappointment was at Career Planning & Placement.

Let me say first that the office does a great job with professional graduates. The engineers, the accountants, the chemists are paraded through like prize livestock for the large corporations with so many slots to fill. But for that service all you need is an administrator and a well-trained clerical staff.

But for us liberal arts students the news is dismal. One thin placement book is offered for all liberal arts students, and many of the jobs are in sales. I saw a videotape of a mock interview in communication with a former Career Planning employee. They couldn't remember her name, but they did recall she didn't get a job. In other discussions all I got were vague generalities from people less familiar with my field than I am. Only one on-campus interview I saw was for a job remotely related to my field. And the workshops were generally lit-

...after the 'paper chase'

So I looked elsewhere for help and found it from a professor who really shouldn't have to devote so much time to one student's problems. (Not everyone can count on finding such valuable assistance.) After being set in the right direction I was on my own.

Alone.

I wrote over 50 letters to names and addresses I found in various directories and in the classified ads of a half-dozen media. My cover letter slowly evolved as my typing improved with each version. I was desparately selling myself, and no one was buying.

"It's "looking out for #1:" if I'm not going to do it, no one else will. And the real world I'm entering looks to be a lot tougher than the cozy university life, although I feel more prepared for it by being forced to fend so hard for myself.

Over this semester, as the results stayed damnably negative, depression was becoming more firmly entrenched. Anguish is a prerequesite to getting a liberal arts job, while despair and sinking confidence are its unwelcome companions. Think about that for one moment, before you turn the page, because you're not going to get much more help than this.

On a final, happy note, to show you everything is not dark: I accepted a job Wednesday, and I'm ready to tell the rest of the world to stuff it.

In the May 6 and 13 issues of The Review, Engineering College Council presidential candidate Terry Duplap, the eventual winner, was omitted and his opponent incorrectly labeled the winner. These were reporting errors.

Papermaking

WOOD PULP is prepared in large vats at the Curtis Paper Co. in Newark by adding color, various chemicals and water from nearby White Clay Creek.

By PAT MINARD

Steam rises in great puffs from the roll of gold paper being dried on huge black cylinders the size of train wheels. The rhythmic chug, chug, chug of machinery seems to keep time with the passage of paper from cylinder to cylinder.

Occasionally the rhythm is punctuated by the piercing sound of metal grinding against metal.

At one end of the line is a bubbling solution resembling sudsy dishwater. At the other are reels of paper stacked on the floor like spools from a giant's sewing box.

Changing the bubbling solution to a reel of paper is a process that takes 1 or 2 minutes.

The Curtis Paper Co. has been performing this process for about 200 years. They provided paper for items ranging from the peace treaties ending World War II, to the album cover of Neil Diamond's album "Moods."

Although it is not certain when the first mill was established on the property, one of the earliest extant deeds to the property itself is dated 1684. The Curtis family acquired the mill in 1848 and it remained in their hands for three generations until 1926. The mill has been publicly owned since 1977, when it was purchased by the James River Co.

The buildings which comprise the Curtis Paper Co. are a mishmash of periods, but the assemblage is more of a curiosity than an eyesore. Stone blends into brick, which blends into newer brick, which is ultimately crowned with plexiglass.

According to Robert Winchell, director of marketing, there has been "no particular effort made to preserve antiquity" and yet, nothing is destroyed simply because of its age. All modifications in building structure and machinery have come about to insure the quality of the operation and the safety of the workers, said Winchell.

In the early days of paper making, rags were the only available base material. Mrs. Delaware Clark, the daughter of one of the last Curtis men to operate the mill, said in a history of the mill by Patricia Martha Brown,

"I remember as a girl going in the rag room to see the women employed there cut off the buttons and perhaps hooks-and-eyes. These were thrown out a second story window. The pile soon reached from the ground up to this window. Women and children were allowed to search this pile for pretty buttons, and as some of the rags came from other countries we found many queer things -- sometimes coins."

Rags, however, are no longer used to produce the fine rag paper noted for its strength and clean appearance, said Winchell.

This change is due to the advent of cotton/synthetic blends in clothing. Synthetic fibers do not react chemically or mechanically to make paper, he said.

The production of fine rag paper is not the only hallmark of Curtis.

It was the first mill to commercially produce granite papers – light-colored papers with darker visible fibers. According to Winchell, this paper has an "aesthetic advantage" but no practical advantage.

Curtis is also the last mill in the country to produce custom-made paper, said Winchell. "We are in an industry becoming so mechanized. The tendency is that the faster things go, the more the quality deteriorates.

"Because of our small size, we have always been able to accommodate someone's needs."

Curtis also recognizes the needs of its 56 employees. Out behind the hodgepodge of buildings is a field which is plowed every spring for garden patches. Any employee may claim a plot.

Although the employees may be few and the pace of the mill may not compete with that of larger companies, "'custom' typifies the attitude everybody takes," said Winchell.

Curtis paper is among the most expensive made. This is because they use "ancient machines and the old-fashioned way," Winchell said.

The two Fourdrinier paper making machines the mill uses were purchased in 1887 and 1896. When parts for these machines need to be replaced, they are custom-made at the mill if they can't be purchased outside.

Curtis produces 25 tons of paper in their 24-hour day. The mill operates six days a week. Five percent of the paper is exported and the remaining 95 percent is shipped everywhere in the nation.

Presently, the mill specializes in fine quality paper for album covers, annual reports, limited edition books and prints, speciality stationery and greeting cards, said Winchell.

These contracts are certainly not the same as those received by the mill 200 years ago. But the reputation for quality established by Curtis has remained unchanged throughout its long history of operation.

REELS OF PAPER emerge at one end of a Fourdrinier papermaking machine. Two minutes before, this paper was a solution composed of 98 percent water.

BE ON THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS AT 22.

Think of a ship as a corporation, and it's not farfetched at all. A destroyer may have fifteen officers, other ships even fewer. Even the most junior officer gets to share in running the show.

You become part of the management team when you get your commission as an ensign after just 16 weeks of leadership training at Officer Candidate School.

Choose to be a Navy officer and you are responsible for people and equipment almost immediately.

Many officers go on for further advanced schooling. The Navy has literally dozens of fields for its officers—everything from nuclear propulsion to systems analysis, oceanography to inventory management. In graduate school, this training would cost you thousands, but in the Navy, we pay you.

Ask your Navy representative about officer opportunities, or mail this coupon for more information. Or call toll-free 800-841-8000 (in GA call toll-free 800-342-5855). There's no obligation, and you'll learn about an excellent way to start a career in management. As a college graduate you can get management experience in any industry. But you'll get it sooner—and more of it—in the Navy.

SPITFIRES, Thanks for a great season, it was a lot of fun! Love, Wendy

To the women of STLN: thanks for making my last year so much fun (when I wasn't living in the library). We have to have one last bash late some night to celebrate my graduation and (lack of a) job. After all, Leslie bore is still here! Love, Lambda.

Dear Tom, Yes, your very own personal, I wasn't joking. I wasn't joking in the letter either—I won't let you slip out of my life after graduation. A friendship (sorry, lack of a better word) like ours just won't die overnight. Even though I haven't known you very long, I feel closer to you than anyone else, and a mere 5 hours can't separate us. And I mean that. So all I have to say is good luck with the job and I'll see ya this summer. Love, Linda. P.S. Do you really look great in the shower and do you think we could ... sometime?!

Hey third floor DHF — WE CONFESS!! Carolyn, Kathy, Sandy, Susan, Theresa

Dear Neckie Weitzman, and Lang Bart THANKS for being the best of friends. I love you both! Have you passed any microfilm lately? Watch out for the KGB. Lov ya, Elijah Lantz.

Ken — Thanks for bringing something truely special into my life. DOWA! Jen

Buzz of Bauer fame — Quite a semester don't you think? And it all started with "Hurt me"! Many memories and a lot of growth and sharing for which I'm thankful. Be prepared with a desk for a nice tree! "Arruhh-rruhh"! Love Stewart Of Wilson Wen fame.

Col. Qzod, It's been great! P.I.S.T. Space Crew, The Fog, The Show, Semi-formal Should I go to Economics? You charmer! Let's Get Cubby! What a Prep! Love, Space Cadette

Jill — Four years and we'll still be around this summer; from the pits to Sigma Nu, can you believe it?! Remember everthing, but especially; our first day at Delaware, getting our Harrington Room, Pencader, changing majors, letters (phone call) to Austria, AOII, phone bills, Amaretto, our bottle collection, move the bed, satin sheets, and your first all nighter. Good luck with everything to come in your future. I'm sure it will all turn out WELL. Remember, am I ever wrong? From your fellow motorboater, roommate Kim.

Kim, Jill & Diane — This may be the end of our being "roomies" but it is only the beginning of a bright future!! Love Always, Louise

To my little sis Michelle. Congrats on becoming a sister. Good Luck in all your years here at Delaware. Love, Kim Cyn, from 2nd floor B to commencement it's been great! What else can I say Love and Kisses, Me!

To all those I have known at U of D-Shelly, Kevin, my ASA sisters and the 139 Madison roomies. A fond farewell, Good luck to the graduates and I hope the rest of your survive till they let you out. Sue Barretulo

Mrs. Weekend — Thanks for a special semester. I loved every minute of your company and I'm looking forward to even better times in the future. Love ya Mr. Weekend.

Amy Baude Sweaters, Bill Saluga, Lee Baldwin, Single Rooms, Racquetball, D. H. C's, Frunps, and dinnerization of 79-80 are to be continued in 80-81. Towerization onward. Really, really, really, really, love you. F.S.T.

Kathy — We made it through all the sarcasm studying and lack thereof, late night/early morning talks and thought control. We'll do great next year. Have no fear. Who else?

Sandy Maybe we'll see more of you next year, maybe you'll be able to stay overnight! (Pssst...we'll have our own phone) Love Getchy

Lori, I finally got down here and straightened these guys out. They admitted they kept forgetting to put this in. Well here it is... Love Chubb

Hey Della; Your special friends are many, varied, and scattered. Enjoy the summer.

To all Sypherdians, Brown and Sypherd R.A.'s and Joda-Thank you all for your love and friendship during the past year. Good Luck in the future. GOD BLESS YOU. A "Foreign" Friend

To all the girls on 3rd floor Warner who have made our last year at Delaware so terrific – Thanks. Love, Donna & Gail

M.M–You have made my life so much better. I will love you forever. Even if we can't be together as much as we wanted this summer, remember that you will always be on my mind. I couldn't be happier than I am with you. Thank you for always being my best friend. I love you. A.H.

To all involved — Thanks for an interesting four years. I say goodbye and wish you all happiness and horiness always. Fondly, (H.H.) Cyn

Donna, the chief instructor for the Donna Moore School of Driving - Finally a personal just for you! You're a very special girl and you'll be a fantastic teacher! Thanks for your friendship. Love always, Dan

Terry - When you decided to come to the U of D too I was happy but I never realized how much until now – and n ow, I have to leave. You were always there when I needed you and even when I didn't. The largest space pn my heart is yours. You are a fantastic person and the best sister. I love you. Marcy P.S.- You know where I'll be next fall.

To DAVE, MARE, John, Renee, Matt, Lori, Denyse, Tom, Lisa, Mary, Randy C., Howard F., John C., Bruce, and Bob C.: I want to tell all of you how much I appreciate having you for friends for the time I have known you. Pretty soon I'll be leaving here for good. I have mixed feelings about that. Part of me is ready to go on to something else but part of me wants to stay here with all of you. When I leave the memories of times we have had together will go with me also. I'll be back to visit all of you next year but they will only be visits. I want pictures of each of you and so you can expect me to come around within the next week to take care of that so be ready! Thanks for everything I'm going to miss you! Uncle DAVE Horray! Horray! Horray!

Jess, Though I have known you since September, it seems like only yesterday when we first met. So many times your actions and ideas seem so familiar like they were a part of myself. With you I found the happiness which I lost somewhere sometime ago. When I leave for good on Friday I'm going to miss this place and all my friends but I'm going to miss you most of all. With love, the boy next door

BIG RED – Two years has seemed like a lot. But thanks especially for '77-78. My "humor" will be out of your life, so try to smile more next year! HA!! Best of Luck always kid. Love, The "18 WARNER LEGEND" FRIEND (who always slept in the library!)

Marian, It was a great 2 years and seven months. We've come a long way since Whiskey and Tequilla. See you at the Beach bucko. Love Robin

WHAT'S UP, CHUCK!THE OFFICIAL MAGAZINE OF THE INTERNATIONAL CHUCK LANGENHOP FAN CLUBMAY 16, 1980...Well, Chuckies, the year is coming to a close and our man is doing quite well. He may go to class through the window but he's every inch a student. Look for Chuck to stay in town this Summer, in his own CAR! Summer meetings will be announced via mail, plus a Swim*Dance in July! THAT's REALLY FUNNY: HA, HA, HA!

To Estee Lauder: "KusK" starts it, MY Times, trips and shared weekends, leatha jacket, backgammon, jazz vs punk, Motown, Morrison, & Green. On the left side. Thank you for my best US semester. Fall isn't far away. Love always, The sarcastic wiseguy.

Mark and Dave! I did have some fun working with you! Have a good summer – same time, same place next year? Andrea

Big S— Have a good one(littlest S— (the Boss)

M.S. Slim – I'm talking to you and I'm talking LOUD! Have a good summer cuties, Love ya, A.

Pete - Congrats! Best wishes for success and happiness in the future to a person who really deserves it. Thanks for always being there - keep in touch! Love, Jessie

To the most married athletic guy in ATO– I want "some more" tennis (now I know why you always win!) Mr. B., Silver Streak, hippie wedding reception, playing drums, you were wonderful!, nice neck, memories forever... Thank you for the most SUPER weekend ever, not to mention 19 special months of college. I can't believe my best friend is graduating without me. I'm going to miss you Bob, but wherever you are I promise I'll always love you. Kris.

FOUND: One very special person who has made my stay at Delaware the best time of my life. Thanks for your friendship, companionship, and love. Please remember I'll always love you and wait for you. Love always, Mr. Ling.

In the beginning there was Gilbert C, Thurston, Conoler, and DCB. The next year we went co-ed, did bingos man, hired Criteria and despised Sahl. The third year brought Kim, Bats Out of Hell, Mr. B's, Parties, and this was all after the Cadillac. Finally we had Dune – Dune, Kim came back, Ft Lauderdale, and senioritis. We've done it all here at Camp Delaware. I thank God for all these things. But most of all for Don and Pete. I'll be immature for life. Jeff.

Keith, It's finally that time! From powder fights in my freshman year, w/pillow fights, mattress fights, fights fights, fumbles, Sams, "Only You," The "Walk Back" from Sig Ep's. First party, "the passion pit," Slave sales, visiting "Friends" from home, pranks that never worked, closet matches, Feb. 14th, Surprise visits to ozzies in the summer, to the next year; More Sams, Broomball, Toga parties, Shartreuse, Roll Over Beethoven, Strobe lights, Nursing formal, Bunny ears, Ams parties, underwear on Xmas trees, Bain Backgammon, knock-knock – Log are you in there? Chug-a-lug, Elf practice, Mitch Miller, another summer, flunking out and Sig Nu, another year... Halloween, Christiana, green pants, Christmas, New Yrs Eve, Bolling Brook Inn, Bat Bongs, L-A-G-A-N... etc. and finally graduation. There's been great times, and Lord knows, bad times, But I'll never forget them! I'll miss you. Good luck and Stay forever young. Love, Helen.

Patti P-Werd, You finally made it! You're a very special lady! Congratulations, Gracie.

REP, RGR, ROWE, MONE, BLOCKS... Ode to That's Cute, Mooreen, Yapyap, Variety, Secret & to Mom. Pete being GI Joe, getting off, playing mood games, Roger munching anything, banging pans & pretty vacant. Kurt and Dick Vermeil his buddy, the Rock & Coke, Mike sweet talking the babes, cooling out and being mystic. Paul studying, never changing and getting newspapers at 8 a.m. Ted playing Dad, punked out and being City, Hit me with your rythm stick Park with the guys, Rog getting it in S.C. and Mike not, Back door man, Margie's at New Year's, That's what she said. Rep talking big and never delivering the bacon, Mike and his wenches, Ridley Park in World's capital, Paul attending Indiana "big deal" and Ted's PWed spring.

To my resident hyper individual and foot surgeon! Having spent a not inconsiderable amount of time with you, I must say that anyone who likes romantic stories with horses in them, (not to mention many OTHER things!) is a great friend to have. I don't think it was pure luck that brought us together, Cin, and it will take more than bad luck to force us apart. Thanx for being you, crazy as that can be. (How could I live with you otherwise?) And besides, I really don't mind sheep brains in my fridge. Your resident roommate.

...And that's all y'all. I'd like to thank all of you who contributed to the personals this issue, not only for causing my left arm to come down with a massive case of tendonitis but also for paying half of my June rent. Have a good summer....

And a special thank you from me, The Review Managing Editor, who has to proofread every single one of these. It's now 6 a.m. Does anybody appreciate me?

Debbie, You're the best! You made me laugh many times when I needed it. I'm really going to miss you at Heights and especially here at school. I hope Chico realizes how lucky they are - they're inheriting a treasure more precious than gold. Good luck! Love, Dan Martha, See you in September. Enjoy your summer. Love, Dan.

Hick, Lose any underwear lately? Florida was great! I'm glad I got to know you. Congratulations and Good Luck, Dan

Setti, Playing War until 3:00 a.m., tennis, O.C.N.F., D.H. Parties, long talks in front of Morris, Florida, S.C.D.H., Homecoming, tail-gates — you know I could go on forever. These past two years have been better than I could have hoped for. You've been my fellow worker, my Friend, my brother. Thanks for everything! You're really going to be missed next year. You're one "nice guy" I'm sure won't finish last. Congratulations and Good Luck! Dan

To the Dups and their sidekicks, We love you all, thanks for a great year. Saralyn and Susan Sar - Thanks for two great years ... I'll never forget you or the great times. Lov, your Roomie. Dickinson D——s forever!

Eileen, Em, Sylvia, Debbie - Thanks for being there to share the good times - special people make the year worthwhile! Take care! Love, Jessie

There once was a talented musician Who took a girl sailing - not fishing They stayed out all night While the stars were so bright Good luck now to him she is wishin'

MISSY, Since the Review's only so long, I'll just give you 1,000 thanks! You've been a super roomie. What will I do without you next year? By the way, Calif, is free for an hour if you know Laurie! jaDICK, SUES, LIZARD, LITTLE GIRL, LOUSY, LAY, TEBINA, TRES, WARGE, SLIGHTLY FAMILIAR FACE (Lynne) - You've been the best neighbors I could ever ask for! LIN, JANE, CINDY, KON, BARB, - you are 5 super girls, I'm glad I got to be friends with all of you this year. JANE good luck in Neb. LORI & ELAINE - Help! How will I ever survive CS without you?? ANN BENTON. I'll miss going home with you all the time, and will just plain miss you! RICH PEOPLES, I owe you 2! DAN YOUNG, you've been a true friend for a long time and will always have a special place in my heart. STUDENT CENTER DH WORKERS, you're the Greatest!! And to all my other friends from this year (RHB PENTHOUSE), last year (2nd floor DKC), and everyone else, I'll remember you all with lots of fond (and mischevious memories! P.S. Now you all have a good reason to go to California...a free room!! Lots of love and luck to all, DEB PPS Before Friday, I thought this ad said all I should, BUT I was wrong! MISSY and everyone else involved in the big surprise, believe me, it truly was! I had a super fantastic B-day! Thanks so much!

Ron - The end of this year is finally here. No matter what happens, it was worth it and we will make it. I'm looking forward to the best summer ever. Thanks for joining me at the U of D. All my Love Forever, Katie

Kath - The year is almost over. After all the complaining I'm not really happy about it anymore. UCONN? Most importantly - be happy!! Although we will be miles apart, we will still be very close at heart. 2 years - Apt. in NYC? See you then. I'll miss you and ILU. Katie

Kitty - Surprise - a personal from me! Thank you for tutoring me in the finer arts of smoking a cigarette - remember discussing smoke rings outside Leslie and Gail's room? And all the cigarette breaks? No, really, thank you so much for the company so many times. Luck for the summer - may it be lively. Lori

Wimpy, If my ESP is working, I'm going to miss you TREMENDOUSLY and if yours is working you'll know I LOVE YOU (not this much, but this much). You are very special to me and I'll always be proud of you. I guess I have just "come to my senses." Always remember Winstons, Nurse Moore, the semi-formal (our bar), dinners, walks, walking to 10:00 class, how calm I always am, "Do you have a chill" and all the good times we've had together. I love you and I'll miss you. Love, 42D

Betty-Jo and Sue-B, What does B.G. mean? We have had great times together and I know we will have great times in the future. Congrats on the engagement and GOOD LUCK in Philly! Love, Stef.

Cindy (The Little "L"), Remember going to Harvard Square incognito! I've never been this wild before! Work hard so that I can be your paralegal in 4 years. What am I going to do without you next year? I promise to stay away from Jack Daniels from now on. Take care, Love, Stefanie

To all you wally watchers of the Cobbhouse, thanks for making my first semester at the U of D an excellent one. Have a great summer and hope to see you all next semester. Love, NOT DOT

To 1st floor GHE: We would like to take this opportunity to apologize for all the stupid and destructive antics we have done this year on your floor and we hope you were at least slightly amused by some of the afore mentioned activities. (Remember the lights?!). It was great for us...AND to Kelly, Joan Sue, Trish, Linda, and Sue: thanks for all the very late nights, the use of your bathrooms, tolerating our general immaturity and agreeing to pay at least 50% of the cost of this personal!!!. It was great for us... Have a great summer and see you next year! (Look for the scarves) Bill & Joe, Joe & Bill, P.S. Jan: Sorry about your shells, but we must confess... it was great for us!!!

Dan F. (2114-74) Still remember my name from Sat. night? See you at the Balloon.

Hello! this is Rich speaking with his voice. We're all very happy to be able to talk to you like this on this little bit of paper. This ad greets you after a really great year for us...and it was all because of you: Merry Krimble to you Geary Mimble to you Gaery Babel Dear Christmas Happy Birthday me too!

Dear Lynn: Saimin breaka, tuna riceballs, sweaty feet while singing, springsteen, docksiders w/no socks, pub, etc. Thanks for making it a great experience but most of all for being a great roommate & "best friend!" Love, Karen

SHAWN: Every place I go I'll think of you. Every song I sing, I'll sing for you. But when you come back, will I wear your wedding ring??....." When you move away, things will be tough," but if we want it to work and not just hope it works, then we have nothing to worry about cause it will work"... "and the songbirds are singing like they know the score"...Please don't leave me...yet. I'm so happy...The only definite fact I can give you: I love you...I'll miss you so much, Shadow...A long road's ahead but we're off to a good start...I love you, Babe...–Your Honey ATTENTION: We will trade half a Paper Mill double for a Pencader double. Call Chris at 366-9173 or Tish at 366-9170 as soon as possible.

Di, Thank you so much for making my last year so much fun! We are great roomies-how else could we have won the "Roommate Game" in Smyth? I love you like a sister and I'll remember you always! Lou

Craig-Thanks for being there to talk to. Love, Nance

Hall Director Wiffer, Wishing you all the luck and happiness in the world! Don't forget all your friends and great times at Delaware! Look out Vermont-here comes the Wiffer!! Love always, your "roomies," future U of D R.A.'s Bether and Katrina

To my music buddies: Greg (Father Fletcher), Dianne (Mom), (sister) Carol, (Brothers) Mark and Andrew, Lee, and (brother-el/chico) Steve—have a good summer and PLEASE stay in touch. Love ya'll MUCHO! (chica) Linda P.S. May the spirit of Dr. Wang live on!!!

NLK-hope this is your first because this is my first, but if it isn't...don't (doesn't, proper English) matter. Thanks for putting up with me over the years. I know sometimes it's hard. Look out Boston, here comes the mad Armenian.

Dan-Thanks for all the excellent times we had together this semester – I'll never forget them. Love, Nance

BEWARE! Michele Halasnik, Maureen Burke, and Eileen Campbell are victims of massive hangovers today.
To my "Management Group"-Bob, Lee, Steve, Thanks much for all the good times. I'll really miss you guys. Best of luck to you always! Love, Leslie

Steve –Too bad we didn't get to talk, but you see time's run out. Best of luck in life. A member of the Management Group

Hey Loons — Here's to all nighters, chain smoking, nights on duty, mediations, hot dogs at 5 a.m., USE JOBS, our clean bathrooms, and most of all, what a friend you've been to me..."Ya alright?" Here's to "our" future with Bill. Love, "JERKIN"

MANDY, It's been an interesting semester. Just think, next year we'll be sophomores. Jenny and the gang, (A.B., L.N., D.F., E.N., and C.? Cindy I don't know your last initial!) Thanks for all the great times. It's been great. God help the dorm if you and I live there next semester Jen. I'll be....cosmic. Diane & Steph-Never forget Wednesdays 10-12, Mondays & Tuesdays, and all those inverted pyramids. Kathy, Here's to "FAMILY CLOSENESS!" Love, ME! (as if you didn't know)

Sandy, Happy 20th Monday. Have a great summer, keep in touch. See you next fall. Donnie

Pam-Well, what can I say It's another day A little sadder, I know Cause we have to go Now don't go and cry Cause this isn't goodbye It's thank you, You're welcome, I had a great time And as far as roommates and friends go, I'm glad you are mine Graduation is only the beginning! Marcy.

ATTENTION Tres and company (KDH, parties!), Pencader crew (daiquiris, dancing!), HATAC and other theatre people, WTV, and many many other friends old and fairly new - Thanks for four years of good memories (even "abuse") that I won't forget. Despite all the extranious caca that comes with college (studying, exams), it's been a blast! So, to all of those, past and present, who have been a part of my life here at Delaware — THANK YOU and, hopefully, this place will not be seeing the last of me! Love y'all, Donna V. P.S. ABONDANZA!!

VW - Well after 3 years I finally wrote you a personal. Thank you for all the great times. I would have never made it without you - Love, MW RANDI - It's hard to believe it's only been 3 yrs. since 3rd floor RHB. Remember all the crazy times...Dorm Parties, Wintersession, "Babe," Ice Skating?!, Dinner with Rinunite, Balloon, Rosalita, "Let's do shots," No, Randi, you can't have a drink!"...and "your" party! Just because you've seen the last of Delaware doesn't mean you've seen the last of US...Good luck! Love, M.K.S.

Hey Charlie Gordon, To list all of our special times would be ridiculous because ALL of our times are special. I believe that I know you better than a book (at least better than any of my textbooks!), and I like (love) you more all the time. I don't think you'll ever really know how special you are to me and how very much I value our friendship. Or, what it means to me just for you to be there. Words just can't express. I love ya, Your own, "Flicked"

2:45 a.m. I have to get into Lane but I don't know the combination. Oh, would YOU let me in? Well, don't tell anyone but P's been arrested. Do you think we should go get him? It's 3:48 in the morning! How can I do this — I don't even KNOW you?! No wonder you're cold, it's only 41 degrees out here! We'll go get the donuts (but I'm not even hungry?). Cleveland Ave. sure looked great at sunrise or was it just because I was with you? Sure, I'd LOVE to go to dinner with you but - Good, I'll pick you up at 6:00. I wish you didn't have to leave.. I was so excited and I still am and I hope I always will be. You're so special.

Hey Gang, Let's Do It! "Wimmer" parties, "Grease," Dancing in the aisles," This is your FINAL warning!" Pitchers of water at Mr. P's, DU's Jungle Party. Doelper was doing it in his loin cloth! Toilet Paper Heads, First to the library "Mary, do you want to go to dinner with us?!" - then off to Main St. Donut Happy Hour. "20?" Can they do it?! Friendly's anyone? How many half-fallons tonight?! Mint Chocolate Chip or Butter Crunch? Let's get both! Jello slurping Contest. What am I now? A bloody zit! We knew YOU could do it, Pete! Lum's Pond. "Who gets the paddle boats now?! Kent's Semi-Formal. "Hey Greg, is that your UNDERWEAR?! Compliments of Kent Dining Hall - Pumpkin Pie and Whipped! - But weren't we supposed to EAT the whipped cream? Study Break at 10:00! Another all-nighter in Kent's basement? Hey Bob, wake me up in a half-hour! Happy Surprise Birthday Cheryl! Through thick and thin... "We'll always be together ... and that's the way it should be, Wa-ooh-Yeah!"

Nance Romance: Never forget our wild parties, wasted times beach cruisin, Halloween, "Beans!," "Hey Crate, Alfalfa Weeds, The WWH's, hiding in closets, & guilt feelings at floor meetings. Good luck at Levit town! Love, Crateless Roommateless Sharweek

Lori and Leigh, Thanks for being Good Neighbors. Horalips

Little boy, Thanks for making this year special. I'm looking forward to a fantastic summer with you... okay!?! Love, the little girl who's "pudding in your hands."

To the new sisters of GAMMA SIGMA SIGMA: Janice, Lori, Linda, Diane, Donna, Carol, Sue, Joanne & Ada — Congrats and thanks for everything this semester. Your "sweetheart" & the rest of the ALPHA PHI OMEGA brothers.

Lushia, Mildred: Thanks for this year. I love you both, but Lucia, you sure picked a fine time to leave us!

DAVE AND KITE: ONLY ONE WORD SAYS IT ALL...THANKS. DOC

HEY TERRIBLE TRIO, JOANN, LISA AND SUE: I HOPE YOU'LL ALWAYS REMEMBER THOSE WILD LUNCHES AT BARR'S BAR AND GRILL. MUNCHIN OUT ON CHICKEN CACCIATORE AND TUNA CASSAROLE AND GETTING BUZZED ON OLD MILWAUKEE AND RIUNITE. GOOD LUCK IN THE FUTURE AND I HOPE YOU ALL GRADUATE BEFORE 1990.

Jerry, Donaldson, & Rosie: It's been great knowing you guys these few weeks. Good Luck Guys! "The Maid"

3rd Floor Pencader J: It's been a fun semester. See ya next year. Mimi

Tom, here's the personal you wanted. You're SUCH a "stud."

KUHRT — I knew you'd make it. It's been a great semester, and I'm glad I met you. Good luck making your first million. Remember me in California & Harrisburg. I LUV YA!! Mimi

Howie and Cary: It's been a real experience knowing you two. Good luck - Mimi

Val, Thank you. Mark

Gail (did I spell your name right?) finally got a personal.

Diane, Cindy, Jackie, Gail, Jill, Karen, Abbi, Elinn, & Jodi - Thanks for everything. Hang in there & keep in touch. I'll miss ya! Love, Leslie

Dear Beth: It's been real! Go for the Gusto - Best of Luck to you! I'll miss ys, so keep in touch. Love, Leslie

Now, if we could only find the Lambert Plate...L

Lunars — Here's to the best semester! More road trips and wild times to come - let's not stop now. Your shadow, Leck

JODA - We never quite saw each other every day, but weren't we close? Ha! Best of Luck to a dynamite person. (& to you, too, Joda!) We'll miss you. Love, Les & Jen

Bo Robin, the Pinner - Congratulations on pinning me! I can't wait till summer - we'll have a blast. Lots of Love, Marion - alias Sasquatch, Bubble Butt and etc.

Siobhan: If you'd like something to wear tonight, we suggest you go shopping in Lane. We won!! Love, Adele and Cindy

Jan, we made it! What a year! I couldn't have done it without you. Never forget meeting Tom under the tree, hitting the poles, meeting Oz before our "game," imitating certain smiles, losing something under Sal's window, avoiding "the leaches," lying and spying, and especially our all night intense talks. I love ya!

Jean, HAPPY BIRTHDAY! I'm so glad I met you. They'll be many good times in the future, but for now save 5/22 for a night out.

JODA - We never quite saw each other every day, but weren't we close? Best of luck to a dynamite person (& to you, too, JODA!) Well miss you, Love Les & Jen

To my munchkin, I love you and will miss you. Come see me. Maura

Dear Nance, Four years is a long time. We've been through a lot together. I'm really going to miss you - Love you, D.

TO THE PHI TAU THAT CURED MY BLUES, YOU'RE GREAT! AN A DIG

Kathy & Pam, You guys are great! You've been great friends. Love ya, MLP

Attention members of Thompson's MEB Club! I can't tell you guys how great it's been this semester. True Friends are the best possessions. Hope we can all get together this summer.

Mary Liz Panuto—Do you remember Girls' State? And when your CYO group included Marianne Sarapulki did Godspell? I'm glad you ended up at the U. of D. Maybe I'll see you around next year. Have a good summer.

Jerry, "Who is the best Student Manager in the whole wide world? - J-E-R-R-Y"- even better than Mary! Thanks for making the S.C.D.H. what it is today - 90% female! You're great and I'm very much aware of how lucky I've been to be your friend (Well. at least your acquaintance). Thanks for 2 great years. Congratulations and Good Luck! Dan

There's a K, I thought I had 3 more years but I miss calculated so here's your U of D personal now. Treasure it always! You can take it out and look at it when your waiting in line for your food stamps...don't worry, they will probably but better food than this anyway. Your would-be roomie

Dear Trigger, Time for one last shot, looks like we're in for at least one more interesting summer, hopefully more, many more. Love ya madly, G.T.

Sandy Lee, who can forget, - your paper farm all over our floor last year (especially the corn), a certain Easter Egg message (what a rhyme), animal calls in the courtyard, and toothpaste in my bed! Payback is a Bitch! Good Luck with MH, and the future, DJM

Congratulations to the graduating seniors of Alpha Chi Omega. Thank you for all the good times and help you have given us. We will miss you very much. Best wishes for the future. All our love, The sisters of Alpha Chi Omega

Joe, Despite water balloon fights, Italian and Gamma-Gamma jokes, & tossing shoes out the window, have a nice summer. Don't forget the B-day car or you'll get one hell of a revenge on St. Patty's day. Carol

DEAR CAM - I know what you had for breakfast! Going to miss you a lot this summer.I hope that you will misss me, too. I'll always remember my "shutout ballgame" and your live spong. Love always, Mr. Unbelievable

Judy, we'll miss the last charter member of the Circle K Club (when's the first alumni meeting?). Good Luck in the world outside of CK and the U of D, and hope to see you in Harrington... Fuzzy Duck and Company

Burnout - Thanks for making my single a little less lonely, especially at night. "Every once in a while you turn to me...

143 - 56 - 9532, The past year and a half has been fantastic! Good Luck next year! All my love, Smiles

All my friends who live in DKA/B: I don't known if words have the ability to express how thankful and greateful I am for all your hospitality, helpfulness and friendship. I really couldn't have gotten through this year in a lot of areas without you. You were my home when I had none, my peace when everything else was chaotic. Thanks - and I love you. I really do. The Mascot

I can't believe
all this time has passed so quickly all the things we've learned so new all the care you've shown, my friends, only hope I've done the same for you.
Don't need to say remember all the laughs, the times we're spent you all know who you are
...and I can't begin to say all you've meant.
With all my love and thanks, Kemmy

M — Remember me with a smile on my face and I'll remember you for your best attribute, NOT that... your laugh!! I'll miss you!. Always, - K

Turtle Tits: Thank God we'll be out of here soon. It's been a great four years with ya. Love, Moonpies Lunati, Fairfiels, Rehoboth Feb. 23, in the sand, Newark, March 1, in the snow, Sangria, 747, rum, and everything. The sign, Royal Exchange, the Rock. "99," Dan F., and "Longer." The papers and our friends. Nova, Horace and Tilly. The future: Apt., East Hampton, June 1981. Love, Lunatu.

Hoover, Enjoyed the "glutonous" weekend with you. But I wouldn't want to meet you in a dark alley with an ax. Hooverette

Dear Ellyn, Happy late birthday! Sorry it came at such a busy time, but the thought is still what counts: WE LOVE YOU! Knock 'em dead in Law School next year. (Would you rather have had M&M's?). Love, Roomies

To my "little big sister" - I love you! Always - your "big little sister"

Dan, Thanks for being a great friend and a great big brother. Your little brother Mike

CHRISTINA LEONE THANK YOU FOR SAVING ME FROM CERTAIN STARVATION. NOW IF YOU COULD JUST SUPPLY ME WITH A NEW SET OF ARMS, SHOULDERS, ETC...

Cindy & Carol - Hope you have a great time next year. Please come visit & WRITE! Love Always, Robidob. P.S. Thanks for the banana suckies!

Yo BF - thank God for a fellow Delawarian to save me from insanity in North Jersey. Here's to bars, beaches, and a great summer. Love, Sally Much thanks to everyone who made my 1st semester at U of D so great: My roomie and 4th floor DKF, all the Gamma-sig-type women, Janice because she's a hyper pear-face (food, Janice!), Lori and her new sneaks (yea!), Di... Did you get a perm?, Mike cause he chops trees and "pretends," Ada and her strange Lusts, Dan for breaking my rear (thanks, pal), Eric the good-looking prude, all the APO's for taking us to ASATEKE, anyone I forgot, and special thanks to semicuz Jim, for helping me through the "dumb freshman" stage. Lots of love, Linda (u.c. Prep). P.S.... Di?

2nd Floor Gilbert F: Could you please: have Abbie explain what "modified" is, tell Julie who Springsteen is, check Kel's bed for Sunday evening suprises, point P.P. in the direction of Muscle Beach, have P.G. "Go Tell Somebody else," give an OOO-RAH! for Wild O's, and the U.S. Joan, drink to Cherry's and my toast, tell me when to ask Lisa my usual question at the right time, describe what a classroom looks like to Nan (you know what!?), don't let Beth L.'s voice get too high, make sure my daughter Karyn gets to bed on time, wish Barb a Happy (belated) Birthday (is it #1 or 2 this week?) ask Beth and Maria if I could borrow the vacuum, congratulate our RA for putting up with us, and also thank everyone on the floor (including Z and Dave) for such a good year. Have a great summer! Love y'all! Robin

DAN WAGNER, A birthday wish on your twenty-first,
Boatloads of alcohol to quench your thirst!
I wish you good health for the rest of your years,
Including good hearing in BOTH of your ears.

To the girl who lent me her racquetball racket: Call me (Paul) at 453-0742 so I can return it.

QT., Thanks for a great 6 months, even though I never did get a personal. I love you, Rodg.

Pumpkins, We've had our good times and bad this semester and I think we've both hurt each other without meaning to. I just want you to know that I love you. I hope we can work things out and learn from what has happened. I'm willing to try if you are. Love, Beaner

Kate-
Without a doubt this has been an incredibly special time, "Never lose patience." I consider it a blessing I can call you friend.
MYSELF
P.S. "You make my pants wanna get up and dance."

Fert: We made it! N.C. is going to be lonely without you. You are the best roommate. Good luck in Philly: Neon

IT'S BARB DUKES' PERSONAL: Any mature student who plays with water pistols and caps (and likes Thumper) deserves one. Remember - she isn't, she just dresses like one. GB

Happy Birthday to our outstanding CE students - Patty Taylor, Congratulations! Best of luck, the Moore, O'Boule, Meier Foundation

To our man Jack - we've been scoping you out all year and we're really glad we've gotten to know you ((Good thing we DON't like you or you'd probably say, "Take a hike, a.–H—!"). Love, the alligator triplets. P.S. 7/3/80 - Rehoboth Beach - see ya!

Ronnie: I'll miss you next year!! Congratulations and best wishes always. Love, Leslie

My Man, I'm in love with you. YEA YOU, only you. Thanks for all the good times. Love, your woman

NEED A CONVENIENT, INEXPENSIVE PLACE TO LIVE THIS SUMMER? Call the Women's Co-op at 368-1181. On-campus, furnished. 192 Orchard Rd.

Bud: Well its almost over and through it all, we've been able to keep what was placed higher than anything else, our friendship. We have laughed, cried, shouted, talked, shared and even fought, but of all we have loved and no one can take that away. A friendship like ours is everlasting. God Bless you. Love always, your bud

Nancy: Have a great summer in O.C. - don't drop any dishes! I'll try to come visit you. Take care. Love, Linda

I must confess
This year's been the best,
From the "girls down the hall"
To "best friends of them all"
The fun times we've shared...
The calories we spared...
To Sally - my silly and wonderful roommate
Whose kindness and friendship I truly appreciate
To Ceci - my creative and much cherished friend
Whose reflecting personality we'd always depend
We'll miss you severely - and lest not forget
Our dear little Hilda - I only regret
Not meeting you several years before
On the sandy Ocean City Shore
We've been true friends - thoughtful and sharing
Perhaps that's why I'm happy and caring
Thanks for the memories of our silly ways
For enabling me to say I've loved these days
Looking forward to future times spent together
You guys are the greatest - I'll Love you forever. Beth

"Tommy Van Skoys," "oooh Baby!," Road trips. PENCADER!!! Love, the gooles. P.S. "Your goolie is your best friend."

M - We have shared some great times and some good cries. I do not think I could of made it without you. Thank you for being my friend and putting up with my "growing up" not to mention my "mess". Love, B.

Hey Roommate, What can I say it has been a great three years - who would have ever thought we would be such good friends. I couldn't have asked for a more PERFECT friend and roommate. As I leave this great University I take with me many happy memories. I will really miss your constant sarcasm, but I'll try my best to survive. We have many more good times ahead this summer and even in Sept., but this is the last review so I have to get it in now. Thanks for putting up with me. Your roommate.

Mar, We sure have had our bad times, but we always work it out. Thanks for being my buddy. I hope life gives you the best of everything. Enjoy! Sept is closer than ever and we're going to have a great time! Take Care, Love, Sarah

TO LINDA ZVERINA - Happy 20th Birthday! Sorry we can't celebrate it on the 19th best if you can hold out til the 24th, I'll guarantee we'll make up for it! I'll even drive! We'll put Hrycak's wheelbarrow on the trunk and "dump" you off about 5 a.m. OK? I wish you a wonderful year and many more to come! Love, your fellow "Klondiker" and future roommate - L.A.D.

Georgie, Last week with you was great, but this week is gonna even better because I decided to let myself go only if that's alright with you? RSVD

Hey Bryan and Dave: It's been real! Good luck in your futures. Slash you later, Chesty!

JoJo: This semester has been something else. What would I have done without you - gone crazy or stayed sane? Thanks for all the great times... Have fun in O.C. I'll miss you. Love and ROSES, Linda

BG, Next year will be wild - wherever we live! Get Psyched! Love, Sue

Judy Baby, it's not often that time is an enemy, but at least it always passes. Enjoy your next year, I'll be quite special, and with a little luck, time & space can be compressed and the central Corrupter can smile again. Love, C.C.

C.L., Thank you for being my friend and helping me get through 4 yrs of school. You don't know how much you have meant to me. I'm going to miss you and the good times. Take care and hopefully our paths will cross again and we can make it more than just friendship. C.A.

Drew Jone, ATO, Friend thinks you're cute, wants to meet you. She's cute, nice figure, personable. If interested in meeting her at party Friday night, call us at 738-5714, 2:30 - 4:30

Yo Dave! My favorite Buddy.

R.A., I've had a good time with you this semester I think the feeling's mutual. If you give me a chance we'll have an even better one next fall. Practice your backgammon, yu'll need all the help you can get next semester. Skyscraper

Dave, Thanks for rooming with me for two years, its been intense. We've had many an adventure together: the laundry beast, Florida, and birthday parties, for starts, and who could forget D & D all-nighters, not to mention my alarm clock. Take it easy. - Kite

Socks, And you thought I wouldn't give you a personal! It's been an interesting year, kid. We've laughed, fought, tickled and tussled; and it's been fun. I'll never forget New York, romantic dinners, late night walks, and the night we both had cardiacs. Have a good summer in O.C.; don't forget our bet or the card game we never had. P.S. Happy Birthday at bit late. Stripper Jonnson, Johnson, and French - You're three of the nicest guys I know, I'll miss you. Love, your dishroom buddy on Tuesdays.

Sisters of AXO - I'll miss you all. Thanks for the memories. Gins H.

L.C. (alias Secret Squirrel), Second semester is finally through, and it's been the best! From Bermuda (where we were "hoteled, moteled and Holiday Inned" to death) to Virginia Beach (no curfew for us) and back to the U of D. Remember the ride to OCNJ with Riunite Bianca, plastic cups, getting pulled over and the M&M's going wild. Trying to get home after those Circle K parties was "PRETTY" tough! This summer promises to be even better, just remember that — Dancing on the tables went out with the 70's, Dance on WET CEMENT in the 80's. Morocco Mole

C.L., my pride and joy, you're the first, the last, my everything. You're my special angel. I have found my treasure in you, my beloved sweetheart. From your friend, Bill "Grateful Dead"

Nanc- It's been 4 years I'll NEVER forget. Thanks for being there ALL the times I needed you, and thanks for helping make all those "remember when's" and memories roooooommate!!! Boy, am I gonna miss you!! Luv, Karen

Gail - I blame Comm. 356 for it all... The molsons, trolls, feathers on the rug, & all the TALKING! Good luck to the "graduating sophomore." HA! you'll miss me ... (If I keep telling you that, it may come true!) love always, 206 F

A. I don't know where to begin. I have to admit that we've had many good times together but there have also been times when I've wanted to beat the S out of you and I'm sure you've wanted to do the same to me. Don't forget me if you get the urge for a RT, I'll still be here. Make sure you practice this year for the second annual "Zonk Tournament," otherwise there will be another CH sweep. So good luck, Take Care and Be Good. Love, L.

Dear Beth, Thanks for a fantastic year roomie!! I treasure our friendship and am gonna miss you in the fall, but will still have fun RAing!! Get psyched! Love always, Kathy

"WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE?"

Psalms 2:1 and Acts 4:25

The great Protestant denominations were founded and developed by men who believed in The God of The Bible, that the Scriptures of The Old and New Testaments are the Infallible Word of God, the Supreme Authority for Faith and Practice. Or, in other words, "The Law and The Testimony."

The Law and The Testimony, were also the basis of the 17th century Revival and Reformation, sometimes called the Puritan Reformation. The Law and The Testimony were words frequently on the lips of John Wesley, and were the great Foundation Stones of the 18th Century Revival led by Wesley, and which Revival saved England from experiences similar to those of France at the time of her Revolution when the streets of Paris ran with blood, and which Revolution was greatly contributed to by Voltaire and his cohorts as they mocked, despised, and rejected The Law and The Testimony!

Not only did the Wesleyan Revival greatly bless England, but its fire leaped across The Atlantic Ocean and kindled itself in North America by the hands of such men as Whitfield, Asbury, Coke, Jonathan Edwards, and others, and spread rapidly over our country, producing such men in political and civil life as George Washington, Patrick Henry, etc.

Through the blessings of God which have come from our rich and godly heritage we have freedom and liberty, which we have turned into "license!"

The great and inspired men of God mentioned above were all in one accord in one respect: "They believed in The God of The Bible." Not only that "it contained The Word of God," but it "was The Word of God." They accepted at face value the first recorded words spoken by Christ after His baptism by John, and The Holy Spirit visibly descending upon Him from heaven in the form of a dove: "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by 'EVERY WORD' that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." Matthew and Luke 4:4.

As a result of the Puritan Revival and the Wesleyan Revival in the American colonies, and later the states, many of God's laws were written on our statute books and still there, though scorned and mocked at by many today as "blue laws," outmoded and out of date, etc. These laws were put there without serious objection by a population that was about 75% or more non-professing Christians. Today the picture is just about reversed, with about 75%, or a little less, professing to be Christian, we see the laws of God being taken off our statute books, or compromised, or watered down to where they mean almost nothing to the morality of our times!

In the Second Psalm God says: "Ask of Me, and I shall give Thee the heathen for Thine inheritance." This was addressed to "His King He set up," but surely it is appropriate and pleasing to God for us to make this same prayer in Christ's Name, for His sake!

Of all the coaches and players I've interviewed, three individuals stand out as class people. First is former Hen firstbaseman Mickey DeMatteis, an excellent ballplayer, an even better interview and one who spent his entire Delaware career trying to control his Italian temper. Second is Hen baseball coach Bob Hannah. I love a person who can come up with as many cliches as Hannah and he is one of the few men who is lucky enough to have a wife whose a good cook and as big a baseball fan as he is. And third is Hen lacrosse coach Bob Shillinglaw. He's young, energetic and ready to lead the Hen stickers to national prominence. Like DeMatteis and Hannah, Shillinglaw is an excellent interview and loves to talk lacrosse.

With deep regrets, I recall the most tragic happening in sports over recent years, that being the death of Yankee captain Thurman Munson. Since Joe Pepitone hung up the cleates, he was my favorite ballplayer and the epitome of Yankee class and tradition.

A hats off is in order to Ben Sherman, the most overworked and underpaid man at the university. Thanks for all the hard work and for making my job easier.

I'd like to pay tribute to some of my favorite "flakes" here at Delaware. First is Gordy Johnston, former hockey defenseman, who shaved off the left half of his beard before the 1978 championships. Second is hockey goalie Duane Brozek who eats spaghetti and other foods to make his stomach upset so he'll concentrate during games. That's strange.

And finally, I promise Ron Rainey that my first born son will come to Delaware and play basketball. Hopefully, he'll be taller than 6-7 and will get higher than a 500 on his SATs.

DuFlon named women's top athlete

Renee Du Flon was awarded the Outstanding Senior Athlete Award by the Delaware Alumni Association on Wednesday night at Clayton Hall. Du Flon led the Hen volleyball team to the Division II national tournament by leading the team in five of seven statistical categories and setting four school records.

Du Flon had a phenomenal 492 kills last season as well as serving 108 aces and leading the team in spiking average at a .393 mark. Du Flon was also named the outstanding volleyball player by her teammates.

Sandy Klein was named the outstanding field hockey player. Klein, the Hen's center back, led the Hens to a 10-4-2 overall record. Coach Mary Ann Campbell's stickers highlight of the season was a 4-1 first time ever victory over West Chester State College at Franklin Field in front of 4,200 spectators.

Coach Barbara Viera led her spikers to a 35-18 season and a berth in the Division II national tournament in Orlando, Florida. The spikers had a year of "third places" in tournament competition and were the "highest Division II finisher in all of their tournaments."

Delaware's tennis team had a 7-5 record against a strong schedule. Senior Mary Ellen LaHoda was awarded the outstanding tennis award.

In basketball, Lori Howard was awarded the most valuable player award for the second consecutive year. Howard led the Hens in almost every statistical category, averaging 21.8 points per game and 11.7 rebounds per game. Howard scored a record 435 points on the season. Coach Joyce Emory's basketballers were 7-13.

Edgar Johnson led his swimmers to a record 13-1 season. The swimmers broke four of five relay records in their record breaking season. Their 200 and 400 meter relay teams were nationally ranked by the AIAW. Mary Pat Johnson was named the outstanding swimmer. She led her team in points and was named an All-American.

First year coach Audie Kujala's softball team had a "wet season" and an "up and down" season as the Hens finished with a 6-9 record. Sophomore third baseman Karen Stout was awarded the outstanding softball player.

The women's lacrosse team, finished the season with a 9-6 mark. Coach Janet Smith's Hens participated in the USWLA national tournament and won the consolation bracket. Senior Carol Spratt won the outstanding lacrosse player award.

Coach Mary Schull awarded the athletes in both Indoor and Outdoor Track. Both programs flourished in their first years of intercollegiate competition. Miler Mary Shilly, ranked 21 nationally in the mile, was named the outstanding indoor track athlete.

Sandy Gibney, also ranked nationally in the three mile, was awarded the most valuable runner in outdoor track. Gibney, only a freshman, led the Hens to a 7-1 overall record.

Dr. Barbara Kelly ended the banquet by saying that "women's athletes have come farther in five years than men have come in forty and they still have a long way to go."

Hens tournament bound

The Delaware baseball team dropped a 6-4 decision to George Mason Wednesday night. Taking the loss was freshman Dave Freeth, who was one of six pitchers used by Coach Bob Hannah in the game.

The Hens will play George Mason in a doubleheader at home tomorrow starting at 1 p.m. After that it's on to the NCAA eastern regional tournament in either Florida or South Carolina beginning May 23.

named as the most valuable player on this year's squad.

In track, "Fast" Eddie McCreary from Wilmington received the W. Fred Harmer Award. McCreary's time during the outdoor season in the 100 and 200 meter races qualified him for the NCAA and AAU championships.

In Wrestling, senior captain Mike Morris from Selbysvelle, Del. was given the W.S. Red Tawes Memorial Trophy as the team's most outstanding performer. Morris put together an overall career record fo 57-38-2 wrestling at the 168 pound class.

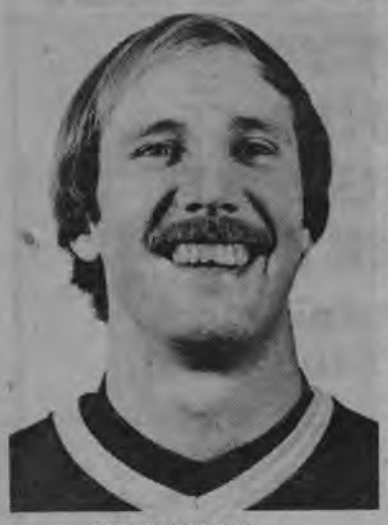
Waibel heads list of Delaware athletes honored this spring



SCOTT WAIBEL

When Scott Waibel graduates he will leave behind a completely revised baseball record book, but he will also leave with the distinction of being Delaware's Senior Athlete of the Year.

Waibel won the award with his outstanding performance on the baseball diamond. The tri-captain second baseman of the 29-11 and NCAA bound Hens has an incredible .446 average this season and leads the team in RBIs (58), hits (70) and triples with five.

His four year career stats are even more impressive. He holds the mark for most career hits (298), extra base hits (105), total bases (467) and RBIs (227).

But the modest native of West Chester, Pa. plays down his accomplishments and records.

"I've been just doing my job. I came here to get a education and play ball and I'm glad that I've done well in both and I had fun doing both" he said.

"There are a lot of super athletes here. I'm very fortunate that they picked me," he added.

Besides Waibel eight more Hen athletes were recognized for their outstanding performances in their respective sports.

In basketball, sophomore Ken Luck was named the winner of the Col. C.B. Shaffer Award as the team's most valuable player this past season. Luck finished the season with a 13.2 average.

In golf, junior Oscar Mestre was given the John J. DeLuca Award as the team's most outstanding performer this spring. Mestre, a business major from Bryn Mawr, Pa., will be competing in the NCAA Division I golf championships.

In lacrosse, senior Mark Strohman received the Alumni Association Award as the most valuable player.

In soccer, Scott Thompson from Media, Pa., was given the team's most valuable player award. The senior striker set a Delaware scoring mark with 17 goals and three assists for 20 points.

In swimming, senior Mark Lauriello of Lancaster, Pa. was awarded the Jack and Hugh Dougherty Memorial Award for the most improved swimmer on the team.

In tennis, sophomore Ken Dill, a two sport athelete, was

Lundquist named football captain

By TOM CHOMAN

He is a marketing major, the acting president of Sigma Phi Epsilon and the new captain of the 1980 Delaware football team. He is Bob Lundquist, better known to his teammates as "Lundy."

The 6 foot, 195 pound strong safety from Butler, N.J. found out about his appointment to the position occupied by last year's safety Jim Brandimarte, on Tuesday of this week.

"On Saturday before the Blue and White game the seniors who were in the running for the position were posted in the lockeroom and we all voted on them," Lundquist said. "I didn't know about being named the captain until I talked with Coach Raymond and he told me."

Lundquist will be joining junior Mark Howard, freshman George Schmidt, the freshman Bill Maley in the Hens' defensive backfield next season.

Lundquist views his role on the team as one of a motivator and leader who wants to make sure the Hens don't have a let down season after winning a national championship.

"We'll have to beat Division 1AA schools next season," Lundquist said. "We'll be expected to beat all the Division II schools and that will put more pressure on us." The 1980 captain also said that beating Temple would be the highlight of the Hens' fall campaign. "We have some things to settle with them," he said after the Owls inflicted the only loss on the Hens last year. "It would be tremendous for us to beat them at the Vet."

As for highlights in the past, Lundquist recalled last season's game against Villanova with fond memories.

"I didn't start against them, but I came in during the second half and made some good plays which helped us win the game," he related. Then came the game against Youngston for the Division II national championship. "I'd have to rate that as the best because the entire team was involved in something that was just great for our school and great for our program."

One thing that Lundquist hopes to accomplish is staying clear of the injury jinx that has bedeviled every captain since Dave Bachkosky in 1977.

THE NEW CAPTAIN, Bob Lundquist shown here will be guiding the Blue Hen football team into their first season as a Division IAA team.

Jock itch — by Kevin Tresolini

Trading in the Cruex

It has been 39 months since this column and its catchy little name first dotted The Review's pages. I am bold to say that it has become a legend in its own time, if not in my own mind.

But this is the last Jock Itch, this is the ball game. I've traded in my Cruex for a cap and gown.

And that is kind of sad. I have always been a person who thrived on sentiments and emotions, the essence of sports. I've tried, too, to make them the hallmark of my sportswriting.

Sure, I once called New Castle Hall a nunnery and would do it again in a minute. But pomp and circumstance calls for reflections, and there are plenty of those. The mental pictures will never fade.

The sight of Herb Beck and Vince Hyland crying in the locker room after last fall's 21-20 comeback win at Villanova. The pain in coach Ron Rainey's eyes as he maintained his unmatched sense of humor while the failures of his basketball team tore at his insides; the respect between the Youngstown and Delaware football teams, both in Ohio and Albuquerque. Both games, both teams, are unforgettable.

I have interviewed Tubby Raymond in the Uni-Sex barber shop and I have interviewed him in the raw. Like every other coach at Delaware, he bursts with class. And it has rubbed off on his assistants, and is synonomous with the football program's success.

Take a program like Penn State's or Oklahoma's, proportionate it to size, and you have Delaware. The tradition has swallowed me up, colored the feathers of a guy born and raised in Lehigh country blue and gold.

Ironically though, the game I treasure most came in 1977, not in the 10-4 or 13-1 '78-79 autumns. Those Hens were 6-3-1, went to no play-offs, claimed no Lambert Cup, had the second worst record by a Raymond team but in the season finale on a brisk November Saturday in Delaware Stadium, the Hens downed Colgate 21-3. The Red Raiders had been 10-0 and a week before ranked 20th nationally in Division I.

"This is it," said Tubby afterwards, "the process of building a football team. To Colgate, this is the equivalent of being lynched."

I have never seen him gleam so after a win.

But there are pieces that must be added to the mosaic. Scott Brunner and Jeff Komlo passing; Steve Taylor pitching; Herb Orensky hitting; Gregg Larson pinning; Jim

Benson's hedges — by Rick Benson

Parting — sweet sorrow?

Here it is sports fans!! The last Benson's hedges. As my esteemed colleague, Keven Tresolini, and I retire for greener pastures, I hereby offer my last pearls of collegiate journalistic effort and pay tribute (or bury!) some of the famed accomplishments of my four years tenure.

As Al Mascitti used to say, winners of the following awards can come down and claim their prize (a free copy of The Review).

The Robert E. Lee strategy award goes to intramurals director William Breslin for cancelling floor hockey my freshman year. So what if it was the most popular IM sport, there was too much rough play. Stricter penalties? Not too much logical.

The "I shall return (but not for long)" award to Billy Martin, baseball manager, Lite beer drinker and puncher of marshmallow salesmen.

The Richard M. Nixon "Trust Me" award goes to the Atlanta Braves publicity department. On their 1979 season ticket brochure, they said, "Oh my gosh, what excitement! How can we lose a single game." Just ask Phil Niekro, he lost 20.

The Marv Throneberry clutch performance award goes to the 1978 Boston Red Sox who managed to blow a 14½ game lead and drop the one game playoff to the New York Yankees. Thank you, Bucky Dent!

I don't have a name for this next award but I must salute Jay Johnstone who uttered those two famous pearls of wisdom: "I went to Cleveland the other day but it was closed." and "Which do I prefer, grass of astroturf? I don't know, I never smoked astroturf."

The Robert E. Lee strategy award Volume II goes to former Mets boss M. Donald Grant (contrary to popular opinion, the M didn't stand for moron) after trading Dave Kingman for Bobby Valentine and Paul Siebert. That certainly is enough to make Ron Swoboda drink Schaefer Beer.

The "Its about time" award to the Hen football program for finally moving up to Division 1-AA. Hopefully someday we'll drop Maine and West Chester from our schedule but not the Merchant Marines because my good friend Joe Mills likes their warmup jackets.

Congratulations to both Scott Brunner and Bo Dennis for getting a crack at the NFL. Two super class guys and maybe we'll see Bo tap MAC for a little cash, just like Bill Bergey.
