UNIVERSITY RELEASES TWO HONOR LISTS; PHI KAPPA PHI, WCD HONOR 72 STUDENTS

Phi Kappa Phi Elects 10

At a meeting of the local chapter of Phi Kappa Phi held on Friday, April 27, eight members of the student body of WCD and two members from the Men's College were elected to membership. At the same meeting two members of the faculty were also elected to the honorary society. Those elected were: Lois Mae Tomhave, Newark, Delaware; Winifred Elizabeth Park, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania; Helen Virginia Blake, North East, Maryland; Melissa Baker, Newark, Delaware; Jean Bennett McCormack, Delmar, Delaware; Thelma Pauline Masticola, Wilmington, Delaware; Eleanor Weston Yarnall, Media, Pennsylvania; Merrilees Frances Barth, Reading, Pennsylvania; Charles Robert Bickling, Wilmington, Delaware; Francis William Kirsch, Wilmington, Delaware; Dr. James C. Kakavas of the Bacteriology Department; and Dr. Arthur R. Dunlap of the English Department.

The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi owes its origin to the suggestion of ten members of the class of 1897 at the University of Maine that some recognition should be made of scholarly attainments. Acting on this proposal, President Harris of the University of Maine, President Dabney of the University of Tennessee, and President Atherton of Pennsylvania State College formed the three local chapters which were to become charter chapters and serve as a nucleus for the national organization. At present there are 51 chapters located throughout the United States. The founders chose as a name for the society the initial letters of the Greek words, "Philosophia Krateri Photon," which by a somewhat free translation may be taken to mean, "The love of learning rules the world." The purpose of the society is to promote scholarship among American college students. The society seeks to foster learning in competition with the numerous extra-curricular activities which effect the modern everyday life of undergraduate students.

Phi Kappa Phi has sought to overcome one decentralizing factor found in other honorary societies. While other societies have been formed specifically for one school or field of endeavor, Phi Kappa Phi membership is awarded to outstanding students in all schools, as liberal arts, agriculture, engineering, law, home economics, etc. Membership in the society is open to the upper ten percent of the senior class, subject to election by the active members of the chapter.

The University of Delaware Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi was duly installed on January 13, 1905. The present officers are Professor H. K. Preston, president; Dr. C. C. Lynch, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. R. W. Jones, journal correspondent. The chapter intends to hold the initiation of the newly-elected members some time in the near future as part of the other activities of the chapter.

NEWMAN CLUB PLANS PICNIC

Plans for a picnic of the Newman Club to be held on Saturday, May 12, were disclosed this week by Mary Tierney, chairman of the Planning Committee for the organization. A dance at Brown Hall for members and their guests will comprise the evening portion of the all-day social event, the first of its kind on the campus this spring.

The picnic, which will be for members only, will take place at White Clay Creek. Those attending will meet in front of the library at 2:00 p.m. and return about 6:00. Dancing to recordings will begin at 7:30 in the recreation room of the men's dormitory and continue until midnight.

A purchasing committee has been appointed to take charge of procuring refreshments and making other necessary arrangements. This committee, of which Bill O'Connell is chairman, consists of Helena Clark, Ann Scannell, Jack Henry, and Tom Walsh.

Bob Doordan and O'Connell have also been named as team captains for a mixed softball game, one of the main features of the afternoon. Members desiring to go to the picnic are asked to contact a member of the committee as soon as possible.

On Thursday, May 3, the Rev. Eugene J. Kraemer, chaplain of the group, will speak at the next meeting of the Newman Club at 7:30 p.m. in the Commuters' Room of Robinson Hall.

PAINTINGS TO BE ON DISPLAY IN BROWN HALL

Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, May 5 and 6, there will be a group of paintings on exhibit in Brown Hall for any college students or faculty interested in seeing them. These paintings were left here by Fern I. Coppedge, landscape artist, when she and her husband visited Mrs. Victor M. Patterson in Brown Hall several week-ends ago.

McNeal, Park Make 4.0 Average

During the past term which ended March 29, 62 students of the Women's College, or 26% of the students enrolled, attained a scholastic index of 3.00 or an average of B, which places them on the honor roll for the second term.

Two students have A averages, or a scholastic index of 4.00: Mary Caroline McNeal, of Newark, and Winifred E. Park, of Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, both enrolled in the School of Arts and Science. Nineteen other girls had very high indices, 3.50 or better. Sixteen of these students were in the School of Arts and Science; two in the School of Home Economics; one in the School of Education.

The students on the honor roll came from the following high schools and preparatory schools: Wilmington, 10; Pierre S. du Pont, 6; Newark, 5; Bridgeville, 2; Henry C. Conrad, 2; Dover, 2; Seaford, 2; Ursuline Academy, 2; Claymont, 1; Alexis I. du Pont, 1; Friends School, 1; Georgetown, 1; William Penn, 1; Caesar Rodney, 1; out-of-state, 25. Of these 62 students, 43 were enrolled in the School of Arts and Science; 11 in the School of Home Economics; 8 in the School of Education. They were classified as follows: Seniors, 27; Juniors, 6; Sophomores, 17; Freshmen, 12.

PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE

For the large attendance of faculty and students and for their otherwise encouraging support at the Student Variety Program on Monday, April 23, THE REVIEW is truly grateful. We also wish to thank the entertainers and the Student Committee on Assemblies for their initiative in attempting a task which had not been done successfully for many years.

A more thoroughly welcomed and better remembered College Hour is beyond the memory of any undergraduate on the campus. That covers a period of three years—and even longer in some cases.

The continuous dose of highly—and often boringly — intellectual programs that have graced or disgraced the stage of Mitchell Hall has built up a wall of prejudice and suspicion not easily broken down.

Most students generally regard a College Hour from one of several viewpoints: something they want to avoid, an event they are forced to attend, a chance to sleep and get credit for it, or a time to learn something. And here, the last is least. Few College Hours are recalled with pleasure and these are overbalanced by many others.

We do not propose, of course, that every College Hour follow this pattern. We do, however, believe that an occasional light program mixed with an intelligent selection of more serious fare would be vastly more successful than the past procedure has been.

What some of the Faculty Committee on Assemblies have failed to recognize is the difference between enjoyable and dull educational programs.

Despite all of these good intentions to enlighten the academic community, the students absorb only as much of the material as they desire. It is better, then, to sacrifice reconditeness in some degree for general appreciation. In other words, one good College Hour is more desirable than several below par.

It is true, too, that many college departments have set up barriers to the success of the College Hour by scheduling classes at that time and by deliberately maintaining them despite requests to the contrary. Among the men students, this is an appreciable drawback and represents a neglect of these departments' duty to cooperate with the rest of the University. But it must be remembered that on the whole this is a comparatively minor obstacle and does not account for the extremely poor attendance.

THE REVIEW has long advocated a change in policy by the Faculty Committee on Assemblies. We have begged for student participation, for light entertainment, and for better serious assemblies—combined under one integrated plan. We stated that the students could produce a successful program if given a free hand. Two of the conditions as well as our statement have now been fulfilled. We anxiously await a revision in the policy of the Committee and a long span of educational and entertaining College Hours.

EIGHTY-THREE ONE MARKET STREET

WILMINGTON, DELAWARE

FOR MEN ONLY

Here we are again with the latest dirt from the north end of the campus.

Marshall "Nitro" Carpenter is at present searching for a market for his latest explosive invention. The "Triumph Kid" vows and declares that the most minute quantity of the compound which combines the safety of TNT with the power of nitroglycerine, can make Brown Hall (that Taj Mahal of the east) look like Unt Der Linden, in Berlin.

The bespectacled genius will deny that he is doing explosive work, but this is due to the veil of secrecy surrounding the experiments, which is maintained by the War Department. As a matter of fact, and this is off the record, that is the reason the ASTRP contingent is stationed here.

We strongly feared that the Newark gendarmes were going to get their second case of a certain infamous crime within a year last Thursday afternoon when Gordon E. (for Errol) Brewer and "Jack the Ripper" Ott were seen chasing Blax Cummins up the campus with some deadly weapon (possibly a bucket of water).

However, the mermaid has carried out her threat of black magic by use of a handsome effigy of Brewer. However, the spirits would never recognize the dummy—too intelligent looking for the Orange Kid.

The battery on the civilian softball club is worthy of some mention here. Of course we mean Dick Kiddoo and the hairy ape, Tommy "Slick" Riggin. Aside from the fact that Kiddoo can't pitch and Riggin can't catch, the boys, who, by the way, are nth cousins (though it must be forced out of either of them), have a great future in pro ball—volleyball.

Speaking of the softball league, hats off to Ray "Kenesaw Mountain Landis" Duncan for the terrific job he did in organizing the loop. Incidentally, the boys play every Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings after supper on Frazer Field—and they appreciate an audience.

Crusade of the Week: Be it resolved that the REVIEW for once print something which would please its arch-critic, Dr. Leo Blumberg, of the Mech. Eng. Department.

By the way, Doc seems to get great pleasure out of that Psychology class that meets in Evans Hall in the morning. We guess it brings back memories of the days when Blax and Frances Pettyjohn took drawing up there in that "gallery of the campus."

We understand that the May Day chase is on, so we'll be running along now!!!

Two Raised in Rank

Ralph N. Donofrio, '42, was promoted to the rank of flight officer and awarded his wings upon graduation from the AAF Navigation School at Honds Army Air Field, Texas. Harry Hillyard, '44, who is in Germany, was promoted to First Lieutenant on March 1.

Lt. Morton Schulman, '44, was wounded in Germany when a piece of a German 88 shell hit him in the back. Pfc. Bob Krapf, '45, was wounded on February 9, in Germany. He is now hospitalized in England with a broken rib, a broken arm, and shrapnel wounds in his right side.

Pfc. Gerald Doherty, '44, had a narrow escape on Pwo Jima when a Jap shell hit near him and stunned him for several hours. He is now in California on his way home for an extended furlough. Jim Walters, S1/c, is now in the South Pacific with a geological survey group charting the islands out there. Lt. John E. Daly, Jr., '42, USNR, returned from the Philippines in March on a thirty day leave.

Benjamin Simon Killed in Action

Cpl. Benjamin Simon, '43, was killed in Germany on April 7, 1945. He had been overseas since October, 1944.

Sgt. Francis E. Duffy, '45, is in Belgium. He was in the same outfit with Lt. Al Newcomb. Pvt. Bob Cavanaugh, '44, is now somewhere in Germany. He writes that things are not exactly pleasant but they could be worse.

Lt. Dick Jones, '43, has been in India since December 1, 1944, carrying supplies into China over the Hump. He has over 300 flying hours to his credit. Lt. Colonel James D. Caulk, Jr., who has been overseas since December, 1943, has been awarded the Bronze Star.

Before being wounded in Germany on January 29, Sgt. Jack Judge, '45, was in the 78th Lightening Division with Joe Perrone, '46. Harry McKenry, '44, is in Bridgeport, Connecticut, working for the General Electric Company.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Editor
THE REVIEW
University of Delaware
Dear Madam:

This is a letter to the Editor. Entitled as you may plainly see: "Credit where credit is due."

All through the Soccer and Basketball season sports fans have seen one red-headed athlete to stand out above all the rest. In every soccer game he booted the ball a mile, in every basketball game he agitated the cords to the tune of 30-40 points. Yet when the interested fans searched this "Undergraduate weekly" for his name they were always disappointed; the name of this wonder just seemed to shun print. Finally the reason has come to light: this carrot-topped wonder was the sports editor of the REVIEW and a very modest sports editor at that.

Now that his name has been learned we hope only that Richard C. Kiddoo will not collapse under the praises that will be heaped upon him.

Very truly yours,
R. Neeson

EL YARNALL MARRIES

Miss Eleanor W. Yarnall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Yarnall of Media, Pennsylvania, and Lieutenant Arnold E. Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wells of Newark, Delaware, were married in the Second Baptist Church in Wilmington at noon on Saturday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Baker, pastor of the church.

The bride had for her maid of honor her roommate, Miss La Rue Gordy. Mr. John Wells, brother of the groom, was best man.

A small reception at the groom's parents' home followed the ceremony. Immediately afterward Lt. and Mrs. Wells left for California where the bride will remain with her husband until he is sent overseas.

The bride is a graduate of Media High School and is a senior at Women's College, University of Delaware. Lt. Wells was graduated from Newark High School and was a junior at Delaware College before he entered the army. He received his commission at Fort Knox, Kentucky, in August, 1944, and up to the present time was an instructor there.

BASKETBALL MONOGRAMS AWARDED BY COUNCIL

In a meeting last week, the Athletic Council of the University of Delaware voted to award varsity letters for basketball in the 1944-45 season to the following: I. Newell Duncan, William Monaghan, Louis Keil, Richard Kiddoo, Earl E. Ewing, Jr., John D. Henry, Howard Handelman, Albert H. Price, and Lawrence Schorr, Mgr.

Newell Duncan was elected honorary captain at the close of the season. Of the nine monogram winners, three have already left for service with the armed forces. Newell Duncan is in the army while Lou Keil and Dick Ewing are serving with the navy.

The council also announced that a statewide interscholastic track and field meet will be sponsored by the University and held on Frazer Field on Saturday, May 19. Invitations have been forwarded to high schools throughout the state.

DR. A. W. BASTRESS ILLUSTRATES TALK

Kodachrome slides illustrated the talk, "A Journey Through Bolivia, Peru, and Ecuador," given by a member of the chemistry department, Dr. A. W. Bastress, in the auditorium of the chemistry building during the University Hour on Monday. This was the initiating program of the Latin-American Institute being presented by the University from Monday, April 30, to Monday, May 19.

Dr. Bastress, who traveled in South America in the interests of his work, founding quinine laboratories, placed the emphasis of his talk on Ecuador. Although Ecuador is a producer of sugar, the speaker said, this product has to be imported into the country. This was illustrated by a scene showing a line of men waiting to get into a store which exhibited a sign, "Azucar" (Spanish for Sugar). The reason why the men, instead of women, came to buy the sugar, Dr. Bastress said later, was probably because they could elbow their way better.

Soft drinks in Bolivia, the speaker mentioned, are taxed for the support of a skiing club. Also, in Bolivia the women wear derby hats. In explanation for this phenomenon, Dr. Bastress cited the story of the importers who brought the hats to Bolivia to sell. The men didn't like them; consequently, the women took them.

HOME ECS VISIT PENN STATE

Last Thursday Merrilee Barth, president of the Home Economics Club, and Berniece Jones, secretary, attended the College Workshop at Penn State, State College, Penna. The College Workshop was a conference for college clubs of the American Home Economics Association which met to formulate plans for better club programs and community projects for the coming year. 42 girls, representing 20 colleges in West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, and New York were present.

Berniece Jones took part in a discussion panel on "H.E. College Students in Community Projects" and "Developing International Understanding." Merrilee Barth presided at a luncheon Friday at noon and took part in panel discussions on "Postwar Problems of Personal Relationships" and "Planning Better Programs."

On Wednesday, May 2, there will be a meeting of the Home Economics Club in the Home Management House at which Berniece and Merrilee will report to the club members on the plans and discussions of the conference.

STUDIO GROUP HAS ART EXHIBIT IN LIBRARY

—by John Horty—

In the Art Gallery of the Memorial Library there is a new show of oils and watercolors presented by the Studio Group of Wilmington.

One of the outstanding pictures in the exhibit is Ellen DuPont Wheelwright's watercolor, "Portrait." It is the portrait of a man, a sort of sand-papered Abe Lincoln, against a deep red background. The work has a warmth and solidity seldom found in watercolors. Incidentally, the subject is the artist's husband.

Among the oil paintings, "Still Life With Pewter" and "Arranging Callas" are particularly good. Both are the work of Jeanne Sala, whose canvases show smooth, workmanlike technique and excellent composition. "Lusters" by Anne Benethum is another impressive picture. "Eleanor" by the same artist is a colorful, gaudy portrait of a negress.

Prices of the paintings will be given on request. If you have about $300 to spare, you might buy a couple.

THE MEN MAY RANT AND RAVE BUT IT'S ALWAYS THE WOMEN WHO HAVE

THE LAST WORD

Words from the Warner Whirlpool

Whirlpool is just the word for Warner after El really surprised us and flew off to California with Arnold . . . We're still nervous wrecks . . . and Rue is still biting her fingernails and trying to get used to that big empty room . . . But that's what we have to expect from this accelerated program . . . Poor Rue has had to give eyewitness accounts of the gala occasion so many times that her voice is failing . . . Gee, but there were so many people in Warner this weekend—7 in all! What's the matter kids, don't you like the old homestead? . . . The real reasons for the lull in activity were the Home Ec. excursion to New York (to the cleanest, best hotel in the town) and the Bridge Party at Harkie's . . . hear that Sis took the honors! . . . Been hearing rumors that we may organize another amateur show, and this time we just can't leave out Es' interpretations of the Fascinating Witch . . . and Brum's achievements such as eating oranges with dignity! . . . Don't forget to watch for them . . . First Anniversaries are beginning to come up now . . . Jeanie Mae leads the parade . . .

News from Notorious New Castle

One of our girls really took a "licking" the other night. Football practice in April is a little out of season; but the situation was well in hand—and the casualty was quickly taken care of. Other teams nearby had their schedules interrupted temporarily, but not for long.

Sunday night tea is proving useful for the third floor, or rather fractions thereof. Don't tell us you didn't have enough orangeade Saturday night, girls.

It used to be now or later, now it's now or never.

Syllables from Sussex Celebrities

From the latest reports from Sussex phone booth we find that Newell Duncan does, have a slight cold but otherwise is well and happy.

It's a shame more of us don't have secret admirers like Ann Scannell. Wouldn't it be nice to have so many corsages you have to wear them to bed to get any use out of them?

When asked if Mr. Munroe were going to meet his classes on Saturday morning, Miss Snyder, still overwhelmed by the news of Elly "Yarnall," exclaimed—"Don't tell me he's run off, too!! I can't keep up with this place."

The Open House last week-end proved quite profitable—especially to a certain few dames in the third floor.
