BATTERY E GRATEFUL FOR XMAS PACKAGES

Sixty Letters Of Thanks Received By Committee

Any idea that members of Battery E, stationed at Camp Upton, didn't get a kick out of the Christmas packages sent them by the local Mayor's Committee and other civic organizations promptly and thoroughly dispelled this week when more than sixty letters of gratitude were received from the men of Battery E.

Typical of the correspondence was the following letter received from 1st Lt. W. B. Derrickson:

Every man of Battery E wishes to express his sincere appreciation for the many Christmas stockings, candies and numerous gifts he received at the battery's Christmas Party on Thursday evening.

As a unit also wish to thank each and every contributor to this committee for the splendid Christmas spirit made possible by them for the members of Battery E and we wish them a very Merry Christmas.

The Christmas party was a big success. We had turkey and all the fixings. Entertainment and music was under the capable supervision of our "Big Chief" Master of Ceremonies, Jim McMillan. Officers attending the party were Lt. Col. John W. Davis, commanding battalion, 198th C. A., Major Herman W. Cook, executive officer, 1st Battalion, Capt. David Harrington, commanding "H" Battery, Capt. Richard E. Ramsey, commanding our own "I" Battery, 1st Lt. Harry C. Powell, 1st Lt. Wm. B. Derrickson (Santa Claus), 1st Lt. John E. Healy and 1st Lt. George Kelly.

We are enclosing herewith personal letters of appreciation from members of the battery who wish to express their thanks to all contributors and wish a Merry Christmas.

Thirty individual letters of thanks are enclosed in Lt. Derrickson's letter to the Mayor's Committee expressing the gratitude of men from Delaware, New Jersey, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania.

CHRISTMAS BICYCLES REGISTERED

Twenty-Seven Listed To Bring Total To 290

No accurate estimate of how many children were made happy by new bicycles, on Christmas morning, have been attempted but definite proof that Santa brought a large number of bikes is established by the fact that twenty-seven new vehicles have been registered by Police Chief William Cunningham during the holidays, to bring the present registration to 290 which is only ten short of the original goal of 300 set when the Newark Bicycle Club was formed several weeks ago.

Children are encouraged to ride their bikes but are requested to obey all traffic rules for their own safety and that of others. Particularly is night riding dangerous and officials stressed the importance of all bicycles be equipped with lights, for night riding, in compliance with highway regulations which require a light visible for 300 feet.

LIGHTING CONTEST WINNERS ANNOUNCED

More Than Two Hundred Homes Display Exterior Lights

Judges in the Newark Garden Club Christmas Decoration Contest selected winners last Thursday night with considerable difficulty due to the large number of residences attractively lighted and decorated for the occasion.

Never before has the residential section of Newark been so well lighted and so thoroughly decorated. The large number of contestants is evidence of the popularity of such a contest and insures the event becoming an annual affair.

Touring the town for more than two hours, viewing, grading and reviewing, the judges finally selected winners in the four classes, and also chose two homes in each class for honorable mention.

Third-Term Election Highlights Busy Year

DR. DAM TO LECTURE ON VITAMIN K KNOWLEDGE

First Annual Biochemical Research Lecture Here January 8

Dr. Hendrik Dam, of the University of Copenhagen, will deliver the annual Biochemical Research Foundation Lecture in Mitchell Hall, Wednesday, January 8, at 8:15 p. m. The subject of the lecture will be "The Present State of Knowledge of Vitamin K."

Dr. Dam, who is Associate Professor of Biochemistry of the University of Copenhagen, discovered vitamin K some years ago. This vitamin plays an important role in the human body in preventing hemorrhages by aiding in the clotting of the blood. Although adults seldom suffer from a deficiency of this vitamin, there are certain conditions, such as obstructive jaundice, sprue, and ulcerative colitis, in which the administration of vitamin K may be necessary. This vitamin is found mainly in green leaves, such as spinach, and also in hog liver. It has recently been produced synthetically.

New-born infants sometimes suffer from a lack of this vitamin and consequently hemorrhages often occur during the first week in life. Physicians at the University of Virginia have administered vitamin K to all the patients in the maternity clinic at the Virginia Hospital, with excellent results in preventing hemorrhages of the newborn children.

COMMITTEE SEEKING PROMINENT SPEAKER

Palmer, Waples And Dougherty Nominated For Directors

A real treat is in store for the more than seventy-five members of the Chamber of Commerce, and their guests, expected to attend the annual organization dinner of that body at the Newark Country Club Thursday evening, January 16.

A speaker of national prominence will likely be on hand to deliver a talk on national conditions. Arrangements are under way to secure the services of a really outstanding speaker for the occasion, it was reported yesterday by the committee on arrangements which consists of Weldon Waples, chairman, Cyrus E. Rittenhouse and Carleton E. Douglas.

Election of directors and officers will follow the annual dinner. The nominating committee, headed by W. S. Hamilton, chairman, assisted by Horace Palmer, Meyer Plineck, Robert J. Boyd and Geo. F. Jackson have nominated J. E. Dougherty and Weldon Waples to succeed themselves on the board and Horace Palmer to succeed George Danby. Other nominations may be made from the floor.

The committee on arrangements would not disclose the identity of the speaker they seek for they have not yet received definite confirmation that he will be available. It was intimated, however, that he is a man of the Will Rogers type who mixes his philosophy and ready wit and generous humor. A definite announcement on this subject will be made next week.

Every member of the Chamber will receive two tickets to the dinner and is expected to bring a prospective member as his guest. Caterers for the occasion will be Powell's Restaurant.

School Bell Ends Christmas Holidays

Schools bells rang again this morning for students of Newark's public schools following a ten-day Christmas vacation.

While many were no doubt reluctant to attend early morning classes, no increase in percentage of tardiness or absence was noted by school authorities.

University of Delaware students fared better than those of the public schools as they will not resume classes until Monday, January 6.

Service Clubs Resume Meetings

Newark's service clubs will resume their regular weekly dinner meetings next week after having dispensed with them during the holiday period.

CHRONOLGY REVIEWS WEEKLY EVENTS

Progress Shown As Building Continues; Census Reveals Increase

Franklin D. Roosevelt's third-term election; a Democratic sweep of the state ticket that was survived by a lone Republican, Wilmington's Mayor Walter W. Bacon, candidate for governor; reelection of the Town Council; passage of the first peace-time conscription act; formation of the Community Concert Association; and the selection of Dr. George W. Rhodes as speaker of the House of Representatives were the chief items of interest to occupy residents of Newark and vicinity during 1940.

People here ran the gamut of emotions, enjoyed the fruits of well-expended labors, suffered the pangs of sudden tragedy, and saw business conditions fluctuate, much in keeping with the average American community.

Death entered the ranks of local businessmen on numerous occasions. Among those who expired were: Ira S. Brinser, former superintendent of Newark schools; James H. Hutchison, contractor and builder; Sam Bell, tailor; Thomas A. Potts, pioneer hardware merchant; Arthur C. Huston, National Fibre Co. official, and Mrs. Alice Truitt, an employee of the Newark Postoffice for 30 years.

Continuing the trend started in recent years, Newark building progressed an assessments increased more than $100,000 according to a report by Robert B. Motherall. Local population was set at 4,496 by the national census which was directed in this state by a local man, F. Allyn Coeh, Jr. Rapid growth was seen in local real estate developments while the building program was featured by the completion of University Hall at the University of Delaware and the branch of the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia.

Continuing its practice of efficient and economic administration of local affairs, the Town Council slashed electric rates, effecting an aggregate savings to the residents of between $2,500 and $3,000.

Noted for their generous responses to numerous pleas, residents once again supported the Newark Playground and Recreation Center, contributed $523.71 to the Flower Hospital, entertained 20 Fresh Air children from crowded sections of New York, and collected almost $1,000 to the Finnish Relief Fund, in addition to the $1,200 turned in by Finnish families near Newark and Northeast, Md.

In general, business conditions were judged "better" and businessmen are looking forward to increased prosperity in the new year.

Following is a weekly chronology of outstanding events in 1940 as recorded in THE NEWARK POST.

NEW YEAR'S DAY

January 1, marking the beginning of the year, has been observed as a public holiday for many centuries, certainly in Rome since the reformation of the calendar by Julius Caesar in the century before Christ.

Owing to the confusion in dates which has resulted from the imperfections of various calendars, which caused skipping of dates, at various times, New Year's Day may be said to be merely an arbitrary designation. As late as 1752 the adoption of the Gregorian calendar by England and the American colonies caused a skip of 11 days.

However, regardless of the day designated as New Year's at various times and in various countries, it has been generally observed as a holiday.

The Romans celebrated it with processions, abandonment of litigation and strife, exchanging of visits and of gifts, feasting and merry-making. Early fathers of the Christian church did not approve of these festivities, but recommended that the day be devoted to meditation, scripture reading and works of charity.

But about the fourth century, when December 25 had been agreed upon for the observance of Christ's nativity, New Year's Day, falling one week later, began to assume a sacred character as the anniversary of the circumcision, and as such it still figures in the calendars of certain branches of the church.

Other religious faiths, such as the Mohammedan and Jewish, have their own calendars, with distinctive holidays and festivals, in which their New Year's Day has a corresponding significance to that of Christendom.

PREVENT "FLU"

The Health Department in Washington has initiated safeguards to check influenza which has already entered parts of Virginia and spread to an extent that prompted Governor Price of that State to call upon Virginia health officers to stamp out the disease.

The United States Public Health Service joined in an effort to confine the flu epidemic to California and Western States. Although there were thousands of cases on the West Coast early in December they were fortunately of a mild type. Health officers recall that 1,452 cases broke out in a single Army Camp in twenty days when the epidemic was spreading in 1918.

An Agricultural Department bulletin says grapefruit and oranges "are valued most highly in the diet." Vitamin C, found in citrus fruits, is regarded as a strong resistant to the flu germ. The Florida Citrus Commission specified grapefruit to be "especially rich in Vitamin C, and it also supplies the precious minerals that help alkalize your system in nature's own way."

Nutrition experts in a Government Department have issued a bulletin which advises that the general well being of the body at all ages depends upon "a balanced diet—one that includes foods that will supply sufficient proteins, minerals, vitamins, and energy to meet the needs of the body." Several foods are specified in the bulletin, among which are dairy products, fruits and vegetables. These are designated as "protective" foods, on account of certain minerals and vitamins which they contain.

Many physicians prescribe diets consisting almost entirely of citrus fruits after the flu has struck. That seems to coincide with the plans of nature, supported in a current issue of a Government document reporting that "record supplies of grapefruit and oranges are expected this winter." The Florida Citrus Commission leads us to believe that two big glasses of fresh squeezed oranges and grapefruit a day will help to keep the doctor away.

FAMILIES SHRINKING

In 1890 the average American family numbered 4.9 persons; in 1900, 4.7; in 1910, 4.5; in 1920, 4.3; in 1930, 4.1 persons. The Bureau of the Census places the average of the country in 1940 at 3.8 persons per family.

The number of families in the U. S. increased by 16.3% during the past ten years. "It is evident therefore, that an increase in the number of families may occur without an increase in population," observes the Census Bureau. Or, as your family doctor would explain in plainer language: Fewer babies are born to married couples nowadays than ever before in the history of the United States.

Co-eds at the University of South Carolina have two football teams, and recently got out a nifty program for their game, on which was printed the name and telephone number of each player, according to the Associated Press.

Ignace Jan Paderewski, 80, who in his prime was ranked as the world's greatest pianist, has returned to the United States to stay. He was the first premier of ill-fated Poland, when that republic was organized after the first World War. He tells us that we must "help Britain save the world."

REVIVAL OF FARM SHOP DESIRABLE

Well Equipped Shop Means Economy

Once the most important buildings on many a farm, the farm shop has decreased in popularity during the last 10 years.

R. M. Ramp, instructor of agricultural mechanics at the University of Delaware, says that the present trend toward a highly-mechanized agriculture makes revival of the farm shop desirable. Overhauling and repairing of farm machinery is an expensive operation and is hard to justify unless the farmer and his help can perform most of the work. So many farmers depend on machine shops to take care of special jobs. Most farmers, though, can realize a sizeable saving in costs of machinery repair if they know how to select and use a few of the more important tools. A well-equipped farm shop can be established rapidly when a conscientious effort is made in the selection of proper tools and other items of equipment.

Selection of a good building is the first step in the establishment of a farm shop. In most cases, a building with a door at least nine feet wide is desirable. This odd width for the farm shop door is desired so a binder can be pulled into the shop.

Farmers who make frequent use of their farm shops say that a small shop is easier to keep in order and to heat. Several windows in the farm shop building allow for better and speedier work. And farmers having electricity can supplement daylight with both permanent and portable electric lights. Ramp claims that it pays to purchase farm shop tools of good quality. Poor-quality tools are hard to keep sharp and a lot of unnecessary work is required to keep them in the proper condition. Delaware farmers may obtain a complete list of tools that are needed for the average farm shop by addressing requests to the Department of Agricultural Mechanics, University of Delaware, Newark, Delaware.

Six Newark Post Newark, Delaware, Thursday, January 2, 1941

Flashes By Bill Fletcher

TO MANY FOLLOWERS OF LOCAL sports, the brilliant comeback staged by the University of Delaware football team which ran up its most impressive streak of victories in recent years, was more than enough to compensate for the numerous disappointments which cropped up throughout the past year.

The excellent records compiled by both the Hens and Bill Gillespie's Newark High School team will, in most cases, overshadow the failures which were very much in evidence early in 1940, but although the last impression of the past year was a favorable one, local sports suffered during the past twelve months.

Out of this mess, we have pulled a few honorary titles which we present with our compliments:

Biggest Flop: Marathon race, promoted by Walter White, which received no local response whatsoever.

Worst Nosedive: Newark team which quit with spot at New Castle County Baseball League championship in view.

Biggest Surprise: Don Tammany and A. E. Benton in finals of Newark Country Club championship.

Worst Defeat: Tammany's 8 and 7 setback at hands of Benton.

Tightest Race: Stretch drives staged by Ernie Spence, Bob Walls, Charles (Spike) Daly, and Frank Porter in 1939-40 Class B billiard tournament.

Most Gratifying: University of Delaware on the gridiron.

Worst Fold-up: Newark Table Tennis League.

Best Beagle: Connell's Tipster (So sez Bob Connell).

Most Impressive Comeback: Blue and Gold on gridiron. (Five straight after three setbacks.)

Biggest Hero: Bill Murray, Delaware grid coach.

Most Satisfied: Bill Murray.

Happiest: Flucie Stewart. (Might wear the pants in his own family at Tampa U.)

Most Disappointed: George F. Anderson. (First-round victim in quest for fourth consecutive championship title at Newark Country Club.)

Most Determined: William K. Gillespie. (To take over any man, woman, or child in a table tennis match.)

Most Frustrated: William K. Gillespie.

Biggest Slavedriver: Richard T. Ware.

Biggest Heels: Players responsible for fold-up of Newark baseball team in New Castle County League.

Best Scorekeeper: Morris Adams. (To roll a 300 game two straight years, you have to be a good scorekeeper.)

Biggest Clip Joint: Delaware Park.

Sweetest Disposition: Our wife. (Gotta do something to stop that steady stream of pots and pans aimed in the general direction of our cranium.)

Most Superior: Jack Bridgewater. (On a ping pong table.)

Best Beagle: Oakwood Annie. (Sez Raymond Vansant Buckingham.)

Most Surprised Athlete: Con Sawowski after dropping eight long-range field goals against Philadelphia Textile.

Proudest Co-Captains: Wilmer (Lunk) Apley and Bill Wendel.

Best Beagle: Connell's Pat (So sez John I. Moffit).

Most Deflated Champion: Miss Mary Lou Gaffney. (After elimination in the second round of the women's tennis tournament.)

Biggest Disappointment: Gallahadon. (With two of our hard-earned shekels on his nose.)

Most Energetic: Members of the Newark Outing Club.

Least Energetic: Gallahadon.

FOOTBALL PERFORMANCES TOP OTHERWISE DISMAL SPORT PICTURE IN 1940

Five-Game Win Streak By Blue And Gold Under New Mentor And Surprise Showing By Local High School Highlight Drab Year

Local sportsmen were forced to suffer through a dismal year of athletics during 1940, although a few incidents, capped by the grid revival at the University of Delaware and the fine showing of the Newark High School football team, provided enough bright spots to almost force the disappointments back into the shadows.

With the appointment of Bill Murray as athletic director and football coach of the Blue and Gold, the Hens proceeded to account for their finest season in recent years, a performance that was all the more impressive because of the five-game winning streak which followed three defeats.

Drexel, Washington College, Pennsylvania Military College, Lebanon Valley, and Johns Hopkins fell before the Murraymen during their triumphant surge, while Hampden-Sydney, Dickinson, and Ursinus took the locals' measure at the start of the campaign.

Developing a coordinating and potent eleven from an inexperienced squad, Coach Bill Gillespie turned out a Newark combination that rolled up five wins and tasted defeat only twice. Brown Vocational, Wilmington, North Coventry, Alexis I. duPont, and Conrad were numbered among the victims, while conquests were scored on by P. S. duPont and Newton (Pa.) High School, a new-comer to the local schedule.

Off to a bad start as the Blue and Gold cagers finished their season with only four victories in sixteen trips to the wire and the jacket passers were cut down in eight of their twelve engagements, the year 1940 can look back on only a few performances with pride.

Newark's entry in the Junior New Castle County baseball league played bang-up ball throughout its schedule and finally knocked off Bear in the final three-game series, while Glasgow gained similar honors in the Interstate League. The Delaware nine fell below its standard set during the past two years, but still came out on top with 10 wins against 7 setbacks, while Coach Ralph (Irish) O'Connell's high school charges registered six victories in nine trips to the wire.

George F. Anderson, seeking his fourth consecutive championship at the Newark Country Club, fell before an old rival, B. F. (Sank) Richards, in the opening round. A. E. Benton topped Don Tammany, 8 and 7, in the finale, to take over the links title.

Mrs. George L. Hyde, a newcomer to local net circles, upset Defending Champion Mary Lou Gaffney in the quarter-finals and then moved on to down Mary Bradford in the wind-up in the women's tennis tournament.

Charles (Spike) Daly turned in a brilliant cue performance, moving through the Class B billiard tournament with the loss of only one match to take over the crown lifted from the head of Curtis (Huck) Morrison.

From that point on, however, failures were in evidence. After being staged for four straight years, the men's local tennis tournament hit the skids due to a lack of interest, and the Newark Table Tennis League, after a rousing reception during the latter part of 1939 and early in 1940, failed to strike a receptive ear when re-organization was attempted this fall.

Newark's entry in the New Castle County Baseball League, high in the standing and assured of a berth in the play-offs, suddenly dropped out of the picture, even after financial support, the reason given for its fold-up, had been pledged, and to top it off, all efforts by Walter C. White to stage a marathon race flopped like Ma's cake during an earthquake.

In some respects, fans were more than pleased, but generally speaking sports in this vicinity took a decided turn for the worse during the past year.

Perhaps 1941 will be different? Following is a weekly sports chronology as published in THE NEWARK POST:

January
4-Hopkins Brothers, led by J. Hopkins, cap top honors in Tuesday Night Bowling League at Legion Alleys. Quality Hill Terrors replace Tigers in Newark Table Tennis League.

LIVESTOCK DAY SET FOR FARM JANUARY 30

Dean Schuster Will Deliver Address Of Welcome

Interest of Delaware livestock producers will be centered on the University of Delaware and the University Farm of the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station in late January, A. E. Tomhave, acting head of the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station's department of animal industry, has announced that his department will sponsor Livestock Day on Thursday, January 30, at the University of Delaware in Newark.

After a welcome by George L. Schuster, director of the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station and the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, Claude E. Phillips of the Station's agronomy department will talk on the seeding, fertilization and management of Delaware pastures and their relation to economical milk production.

Tomhave is scheduled to discuss the feeding of dairy calves and heifers, always an important part of the successful operation of any dairy farm.

One of the day's outstanding features will be inspection of the 20-year-old University Farm herd of purebred Holstein cows. Two cows in the herd are more than 14 years old and have passed the 100,000-pound mark in milk production.

"Practical Herd Improvement for Delaware Dairyman" is the topic of the talk to be presented by Dr. T. A. Baker, professor of animal husbandry in the University of Delaware's School of Agriculture.

Final talk on the Livestock Day program will be given by George M. Worflow, the New Castle county agricultural agent. Worflow will discuss "Artificial Insemination as a Step in Herd Improvement." Provision has been made for discussion periods after each of the day's talks so visiting dairymen will have plenty of opportunity to ask questions.

DILL BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE

Stanton, Jan. 1—The Rev. David W. Baker, pastor of the Stanton Methodist Church, and Miss Florence Hottel, of Allentown, Pa., were married on Saturday evening at Federalsburg, Md. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank A. Baker, father of the groom. Members of the Stanton congregation attended the ceremony and reception. Rev. Baker and his bride will reside at Stanton upon return from their wedding trip.

On Tuesday evening, Dec. 31, there was a watch night service in the Stanton Methodist Church. The young people of the church were in charge, due to the absence of the Rev. Baker.

The Young Women's Class of the Stanton Methodist Church school will hold its monthly business meeting and social on Monday evening, Jan. 6 at the home of Mrs. William Vanamon.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the large barn on the Amos Dill farm near Stanton last Monday evening. The farm is tenanted by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Copper, who discovered the fire upon their return from the Christmas entertainment of the Stanton Methodist Church. A passing motorist assisted Mr. Copper in removing the stock of 20 head of cows and 2 horses from the burning building. Suburban fire companies battled the fire, but to no avail, as the fire had made such headway before it was discovered. The building was completely destroyed, as well as 35 tons of hay, and all farm machinery, including tractor, etc., which had just been stored in the barn for the winter. The barn and home were just recently remodeled by the owner. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Raines and Mr. Raymond Williams left Saturday morning for Irvington, Illinois for their holiday vacation.
