DONATIONS TO VISITING NURSE UNIT ARE SOUGHT

Demand For Services Of Local Nurse On Increase

Cash subscriptions are again being sought for the local Visiting Nurse Association, one of Newark's most worthy causes. Donations in any amount will secure membership in the group and may be sent to C. C. Hubert, treasurer, Delaware Avenue.

The services of the visiting nurse are available to anyone needing care. Those who can afford to do so pay for the treatments, while needy cases are supported by the funds collected through the subscription drive.

Some idea of the extent and demand for the work can be gained from the fact that Miss Alice Leak, visiting nurse here, averages around 200 visits a month for cases ranging from maternities, the most common, to cancer and diabetes.

Since the scarcity of private nurses acute, the scope of Miss Leak's work has been growing constantly. During January, for instance, she reports 222 visits, including 169 nursing and 53 instructive calls.

The types of cases and number of visits were as follows: maternity, 1; cancer, 2; visits, 26; apoplexy, 1; visits, 34; paralysis, 3; visits, 23; pneumonia, 1; visits, 3; diabetes, 2; visits, 8; mental diseases, 9; visits, 21; jaundice, 1; visits, 5; arthritis, 2; visits, 1; heart disease, 5; visits, 16; kidney disease, 6; visits, 19; fractured ankle, 3; visits, 3; miscellaneous, 13, visits, 49.

HOUSES ON SCHOOL SITE TO BE RAZED

Ground Breaking Ceremonies May Be Abandoned

Newark will soon be treated to a unique spectacle in these days of acute housing shortages, when two dwellings on Academy Street will be torn down to make way for the new elementary school building.

Officials claim they have exhausted every possibility of selling the homes, the high cost of moving them to another location scared off most buyers, and the dwellings will be given away for scrap. Supt. Wilmer E. Shue said last week.

Meanwhile the ground breaking exercises, postponed Monday due to bad weather, will probably be dropped altogether in favor of formal dedication ceremonies when the 26-room structure is completed, Mr. Shue said.

Albert N. Carvel and Dr. George Miller, Jr., state superintendent of schools, were scheduled to speak at the exercises here Monday.

Although the formalities had to be postponed, construction of the new building will get underway as soon as construction permit, according to officials of the Newark Construction Company.

In Delaware, Mr. Hufnal had lived on his farm near Ebenezersville about six years ago. He was survived by his wife, Mrs. G. Hufnal, three daughters, Mrs. Stradley, Middletown, Mrs. Culver, Georgetown, and Mrs. Wegman, Elkton, Md., and a son, Jr., of Newark. Nine grandchildren also survive.

Rev. A. J. Jackson officiated at the services, interment was at White Creek Cemetery.

Of Handicapped Assisted At Rotary

Noted Newsman In Public Talk, Feb. 16

Louis P. Lochner

Foreign Correspondent Louis P. Lochner, a Pulitzer Prize-winner in 1939 for his outstanding work as an American newsman in Berlin, will address a University Hour assembly at the University of Delaware on the evening of Wednesday, Feb. 16.

Translator of the private diary of Joseph Paul Goebbels, Mr. Lochner will speak on "The Amazing Goebbels Diaries" at 8:15 p. m. in Mitchell Hall. His talk will be open to the public without charge.

Political adviser to Herbert Hoover on his recent economic survey of Europe, Mr. Lochner now is a correspondent for the North American Newspaper Alliance.

During the turmoil of the Hindenburg and Hitler regimes, he was the AP's bureau chief in the Reich capital. His interviews and contacts with Nazi officials were numerous, and he had an intimate knowledge of all classes of the German people.

Mr. Lochner witnessed the growth of Hitler's storm troopers, and followed the conquering Nazis into every land they seized. In 1942, however, after America entered the war, he was interned with other U. S. correspondents at Bad Nauheim, and held there for five months. His books include "What About Germany?" which was published that same year.

Of his assignment to translate Goebbels' private diary, Mr. Lochner comments that "it was a voluminous account covering 7,000 pages of typescript, giving Dr. Goebbels' daily reactions to the unfolding story of Nazi power. There were some surprises, as for instance, finding his notation that he did not trust me."

PARTIAL DIME MARCH TOTAL

Incomplete Returns Given

Incomplete returns on the March of Dimes, which closed here Monday totaled $1,700, according to Samuel Handloff, general chairman.

Proceeds from the coin boxes stationed in stores throughout the town have not been tallied as yet, he said, adding that the final drive figure will probably equal or better last year's mark of $1,825.

About $900 was raised through the door to door canvass and rural contributions, with the remaining $800 coming from the movie collections, and organizational donations.

Although the official deadline is past, donations may still be made, Mr. Handloff stressed. They should be sent to Silas Pettit of the Newark Trust Company, who was treasurer for the drive.

Mrs. Charles P. Steele Died Here On Sunday
Services were held yesterday for Mrs. Lula Boyd Steele, wife of Charles P. Steele, who died suddenly Sunday at her home, 12 West Delaware Avenue, The Rev. H. Everett Hallman, officiated at the services which were held at the Shellender Funeral Home.

Besides her husband, an employe of the Continental-Diamond Fibre Company, Mrs. Steele is survived by two sons, Vernon, Newark's Town Secretary-Treasurer, and Ira, of Wilmington, and one daughter, Miss Sarah Steele, a teacher in the Newark schools and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Steele was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

LIONS BUSINESS MEET
The regular business meeting of the Newark Lions Club was held Tuesday with President Ford H. McBerty presiding. The members welcomed back 30b Davis.
The club voted to provide a foot brace for a local youngster.

2 TROOPS TO OBSERVE BOY SCOUT WEEK HERE

Service Sunday At St. John's; Annual Dinner On February 16

Members of Scout Troops 55 and 56 will join with over two million scouts throughout America in observing Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6-12, marking the 39th anniversary of the founding of the organization.

The local celebration will open this Sunday, when the members of Troop 56 will attend a service at St. John's R. C. Church at 11:30 a. m.

Wednesday, Feb. 16, the annual Blue and Gold Dinner combined with a Court of Honor will be held at the First Presbyterian Church at 6:15 p. m. Presentations of awards and achievements will be made at this time.

The speaker will be Lt. Col. L. A. Zimmer, of the Military Department, University of Delaware, who is a resident of Newark and interested in scout activities.

The dinner is being arranged by a committee selected from both troops, consisting of F. L. Stueger, chairman, R. H. Dann, A. Oram and C. S. Rankin.

The theme of this year's observance is "Adventure—That's Scouting!" which is already a reality for hundreds of Boy Scouts. The programs of scouting, leaders say, prepare scouts to face the future, helping to build a new world with constructive not destructive attitudes. Scouting in the 42 nations recognized by the Boy Scout International Bureau has an enrollment of 4,409,780 scouts and leaders.

ZONING SET FOR PASSAGE MONDAY NITE

Slated For Final Reading At Feb. Council Meet

The town zoning ordinance is scheduled for its third and final reading at the February meeting of the Town Council next Monday night.

If no further delays occur and the reading is carried off successfully, the measure will become law, marking the culmination of a long, debate filled career for the ordinance, first proposed here around three years ago.

The original draft was brought to a public hearing two years ago and drew such criticism that it was tabled for a year. Revived early in 1948, the local zoning commission rewrote it, then passed it along to Council, which held a second public hearing not long ago.

Selection of an auditor to go over town records in the annual check-up is also scheduled for Monday night's session. Bids from several firms will be opened.

Another issue that may get some discussion is the street extension program, long under consideration here.

"DONKEY OLYMPICS" HERE
A "Donkey Olympics" will be held here February 24 in the high school auditorium. The show will be sponsored by the Newark Recreation Association.

Ned McCully, president, promises more details later.

Schools May Hold Overflow Classes In Church In Sept.

In the face of steadily climbing enrollment and cramped conditions in the public schools here, officials are considering holding overflow classes next term in the basement of the Methodist Church.

The plan has been approved by the Board of Trustees of the church, according to Wilmer E. Shue, school superintendent, and will be carried through if the state grants sufficient funds. About $5,000 will be needed, exclusive of additional teachers salaries.

Some such step will be vitally necessary, Mr. Shue said, predicting an enrollment of around 1540 next term and a first grade class of about 150. The present enrollment is 1521, of which 1449 are white students.
Citing figures to show the serious overcrowding now faced by the schools, Mr. Shue said about 1200 students are studying in the main high school building, originally designed for about 750.

Bond Limit, Voting Rules Changed Again In Charter

Tax Ceiling Now $75,000; Multiple Votes Allowed For Property; Draft Ready For Legislature

The Town Council carried out some major surgery on the proposed new charter at a special meeting Monday night, working in wholesale changes on voting regulations, the tax limit and the bond ceiling.

When the dust cleared, the charter draft was stripped of many of the revisions inserted into it the past year by a special town committee, and the residue closely resembled the original version withdrawn from the General Assembly about two years ago due to local protests. Predictions were freely made at the meeting that the latest draft would once again fail to get approval at Dover. Nevertheless, Council authorized that it be submitted to the legislature by State Senator George W. Rhodes.

As a safeguard, in case the draft should fail to pass at Dover, Council also agreed to submit two bills as amendments to the existing charter to provide needed reforms. The first calls for raising the limit on tax revenue from the present $20,000 to $75,000 and the second asks power to borrow up to $50,000 for current expenses. These were regarded as top priority reforms in the town's effort to meet its financial obligations.

These two provisions were also worked into the new charter draft, which before Monday night had called for a $100,000 tax limit. Three other bills asking for changes in voting regulations, bonded indebtedness and assessment procedures were tabled.

New provisions on these three points, however, were inserted into the charter draft. The limit on bonding the town, which the new charter had set at 10 per cent of the total assessment with anything above 3 per cent subject to a referendum, was changed to a fixed ceiling of $450,000, regardless of what the assessment might be, with a referendum required on all bond issues. Voting on a referendum, according to this latest change grant multiple votes to property owners on the basis of one vote per person, partnership or corporation for every dollar paid in town taxes, with a limit of 100 votes regardless of the taxes paid. Non-property owners would receive one vote each. Before the change, the new charter permitted all qualified voters one vote.

This change, proposed by Councilman John A. Hopkins, brought protests from city solicitor Samuel Handloff, a member of the charter committee the past year, who claimed it threw the balance of power in town affairs heavily in favor of property owners. However, the majority of spectators, about a dozen, seemed to favor the measure, as did the majority of Council.

Voting regulations were also drastically revised again to fit more closely with existing procedures. Council threw out the entire section on voting qualifications in the new charter and, Please turn to Page—6

Dos Santos' Latin Dance Troupe, Modern Dancers, Thespians To Stage P.T.A. Show

Something unusual in local entertainment is promised for February 17 when a number of talented the Newark High School students will stage a colorful program of dance routines in South American and modern interpretive styles, plus a one-act play.

The three groups, the South American Dance Club, the Modern Dance Club and the newly formed Thespian Society will combine to present the program, which is being sponsored by the Newark Parent-Teacher Association.

Tickets will be sold by the elementary students. The proceeds will go for P. T. A. administrative expenses and the balance for the high school bleacher fund.

The play will be "The Wonder Hat," the first offering of the Thespians, who plan initiation ceremonies on Monday. The Modern Dance Group, under Mrs. Grace Gibb, will offer some new routines. The interpretive dancers are well-known in schools in this area for their excellent work.

The "South American Way" will be the theme for a series of Latin numbers by a polished troupe of dancers, trained since last September by Jair dos Santos, Brazilian student at the school. The group staged a highly successful rumba and tango program in December and now has invitations to appear at other schools.

Jair, who brings his troupe together for a half-hour intensive workout every morning before classes, says he has injected genuine Latin approach to the tango and rumba numbers. This time he also promises an exhibition of the Samba, native dance of his own country, which he refrained from introducing on the local stage the last time lest it put the Aetna volunteers to unnecessary trouble.

The original stage setting for the dances as well as the costumes were designed by the students.

The one-act play to be offered by the Thespians will be the "Wonder Hat."

To Direct Methodist Choir, February 25

James P. Crone

The annual concert of the Newark Methodist Church Adult Choir to be held Friday evening, February 25, at 8 p. m., will be in charge of its music director, James P. Crone from the Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N. J.

Mr. Crone has been a student of music all his life. He has been a member of glee clubs and choruses including that of the Westminster Choir College. Also, he has served as tenor soloist in several churches including First Methodist Church, Ithaca, N. Y. He has been a student of Eric Dudley, late head of the Voice Department of Cornell University, and of Alice Price, of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music and student of Herbert Witherspoon. He is now studying advanced voice and choral conducting in the Westminster School.

During the war Mr. Crone was a Sgt. Major in the Chaplains Section, 14th Headquarters, Special Troops 4th Army, U. S. A. For approximately two years of this period he was stationed at Leesville, Louisiana, where in addition to his other duties he was highly successful in directing one of the nearby church choirs.

The Newark Methodist Church Choir Concert Program on February 25 will include sacred works from 14th, 15th, and 16th centuries up to our time; also, it will include a group of secular arrangements and Negro spirituals.

Comedy To Get 3-Day Run Here Next Week

The 3-act comedy "Skylark," which starred Gertrude Lawrence about 10 years ago, will be offered by the University of Delaware Drama Group here on February 10, 11 and 12. The curtain will be at 8:15 each evening.

Jane Sinclair and E. C. Mahanna will take the leads, with the following in supporting roles: Mina Pross Brown, Mildred Shields, Frederick R. Claffer, Chris Gantawme, Henry Wertz, Joseph Shields and Erwin Miller.

Thomas P. Pegg is directing the production.

WEINBERG IS ELECTED BY BOARD TO HEAD C. OF C.

Four Speakers Sketch Outlook For Newark At Dinner Meeting

Jerry Weinberg, manager of the Newark, Department Store, was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce, succeeding Theo. S. Jones, at a board of directors meeting yesterday.

George Wiggins, proprietor of the Newark Electric Company, was named vice-president, and W. S. Hamilton, Newark Printing Company, was appointed secretary-treasurer. New directors are Theo. S. Jones, E. J. Hollingsworth and Henry Mote.

Prominent local business men and educators discussed the outlook for Newark in talks at the annual dinner meeting of the group last Thursday at the Country Club.

State Senator E. Paul Burkeholder was the genial toastmaster, sprinkling the program with colorful anecdotes and witticisms. About 100 members and guests attended.

Mayor Ford McBerty headed the speakers' list and said the town's two major aims for the immediate future, were the street extension program and a start on the large-scale southside sewer project. He sketched the town's precarious financial condition and stressed the importance of securing a new charter.

Wilmer E. Shue, superintendent of schools, gave a picture of the plight the schools face the next few years in a search for more space. The new school, construction of which is about to start, will merely meet current needs, and the district will again face overcrowding. Major requirement, he said, was more gymnasium space. He urged that the question of allotting state and local funds for the district be settled along specific lines, and implied he favored a school tax increase.

Dean Francis Squire represented the University of Delaware and outlined educational, scientific research, and building plans now under way there. Dr. William Mosher spoke for the Biochemical Research Foundation, sketching its background, general aims and value to the community.

The program was arranged by Jerry Weinberg, President Theodore S. Jones, who presided, made a few introductory remarks, covering the accomplishments of the chamber the past year.

STATE PLAY FESTIVAL TO DRAW MANY

The deadline for entries from Delaware high schools and private schools is Feb. 1, with the elimination tournaments which will decide entries in the finals to be completed by March 5. All other entries should be submitted by March 1.

As usual, a silver loving cup and plaques will be presented for the best plays, and there also will be prizes in the finals for the best individual male and female acting, best directing, best character makeup, and best costuming.

Mrs. Bohn has frequently taken students to sessions of the United Nations. She will discuss the purpose of her work in high schools.

Paul M. Hodgson, director of the extension division, said that 43 of the approximately 75 courses which will be given in the second term will be available in Wilmington. Other courses will be taught at Newark, Dover, Harrington, Georgetown, and Laurel.

All courses carry credit toward either a graduate degree or an undergraduate degree, or, in some cases, toward both.

Salminen To Receive Yale Degree Saturday

Olli Salminen, R. D. 1, Newark, will be one of three students from Delaware among the 500 to receive degrees Saturday at Yale University's mid-year graduation. The exercises, which will be held in Woolsey Hall, will be for the last of Yale's war-time classes to finish at midyear.

Mr. Salminen will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree.

The degree candidates are drawn from 39 states and 7 foreign countries. Connecticut, with 141 candidates, leads the list, followed by New York with 120, and Massachusetts, with 45.

Of the foreign countries, candidates come from Argentina, China, Colombia, England, Iran, Italy, and Puerto Rico. President Charles Seymour will confer the degrees upon successful candidates, present the diplomas and deliver the address. Immediately following the graduation exercises, President and Mrs. Seymour will receive the degree recipients and their families in the Round Room of Woolsey Hall.

Local Girl Graduated Monday At Penn State

Jane E. Fouracre, 21 Townsend Road, was among 785 men and women who received bachelor and advanced degrees at the mid-year commencement exercises of the Pennsylvania State College on Monday. The degrees were conferred by James Milholland, acting president of the college. Miss Fouracre received a B. A. in arts and letters.

Among the candidates for bachelor degrees are 571 men and 110 women while 86 men and 18 women will receive advanced degrees. More than 225 veterans are among the graduates.

Maj. Gen. William H. Harrison, who served as director of Signal Corps Procurement and Distribution during World War II, and now is president of International Telephone and Telegraph Co., addressed the graduates.

Psychiatrists Pass Tests By Testing

The Illinois Civil Service Commission made a radical change in its usual testing technique when it examined 32 candidates for psychiatrist positions.

Instead of being interviewed to determine their training and experience, the applicants examined actual patients at the Illinois neuropsychiatric institute.

Fourteen nationally known psychiatrists rated the candidates on their ability to diagnose cases and suggest effective treatment.

LITTLE THINGS about the Stars

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Holding up on the radio networks this season better than most any other type show are the homesy man-and-wife domestic comedies. Latest to join the ranks with a new sponsor (and new time—Friday nights, CBS, rather than Saturdays now) is "My Favorite Husband," starring the metonymically married couple, "Liz" and "George Cooper."

Lucille Ball... dizzy enough... one of those ever-loving wives... dumpy enough, yet definitely not as dumb as she seems to be. "George," portrayed by Richard Denning, is fifth vice-president of the local bank and, of course, the life the stars are mates of bandman Desi Arnez and film player Evelyn Ankers.

MAN FROM THE SOUTH

Seeing Phil Harris' full-faced picture and hearing that booming voice on the radio always has given me the impression of a bulking fellow—about 220 pounds. Actually, this transplanted, six-foot "Northerner" is a trim 168 pounds. The bandsman-comic, who with wife Alice continues Sunday nights on NBC, was born "up" in Linton, Ind., then moved to Nashville, Tenn., where he was reared since childhood. He headed a band, "The Dixie Syncopators," at 15. He traveled the Southern carnival routes as a drummer, later passed several years leading a honky-tonk band in Honolulu and Melbourne, Australia. In song "That's What I Like About the South" is no gag. Harris loves it, will sing it to anyone at the drop of a hat.

Phil Harris... no bulk... "On the ordinary principle that superstition and fear are based on ignorance of facts has been founded one of the most extraordinary radio programs. The Sunday afternoon Mutual network "House of Mystery" is a mystery radio show. The difference between it and some 30-odd other radio thrillers is at the end of the program. All of the frightening chills and thrills of the show are carefully explained by narrator "Roger Elliot" (John Griggs) with easily understandable facts. Critical organizations, who hate to see children left dangling in suspense at the end of a program, have called "House of Mystery" the "best children's show on the air."

FEW FLAW FAVORITE

Like movie-goers, there are fans who like to detect radio boners—flaws and inaccuracies in script detail, etc. One of their favorite targets, but very tough to pin something on, is the 14-year-old (Mon. nights, NBC) "Cavalcade of America." This show, dramatizing the lives of great Americans and American developments, past and present, splatters its stories with relatively unknown and human incidents. The original script of a half-hour "Cavalcade" show runs two hours. Every scene, every phrase of a story's characters, life and times is first researched into the script. The "boil-down" leaves meaty roles attractive to stars—Paul Muni, Linda Darnell, Burt Lancaster, Basil Rathbone, Irene Dunne, among those responding often.

Linda Darnell... nice incidents... "Roger Elliot" ... years fudge... explained by narrator "Roger Elliot" (John Griggs) with easily understandable facts. Critical organizations, who hate to see children left dangling in suspense at the end of a program, have called "House of Mystery" the "best children's show on the air."

This is a diesel ... a modern locomotive that means better service to you.

Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed ... a "make work" grab that means less service to you.

Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste—a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for you!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You

Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol. Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employees—real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You

You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.

Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You

But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive. These demands are against YOUR interests—as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

Perhaps—though you did not know it at the time—you have already seen one or more of our four eagerly awaited new cars. Disguised and camouflaged, to keep the secret of their exciting new, well-bred beauty! The new Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto, and Chrysler cars have long been on the road to test them under the road and climate conditions you will actually meet. The whole country has been their testing ground.

They've gone to Bemidji, Minnesota for grueling cold weather performance tests! To Arkansas to check their protection against dust! To Ligonier, Pennsylvania to test their mountain climbing ability! To Arizona to prove how well they stand up in desert heat! Anywhere and everywhere to be matched against the toughest extremes of actual road conditions from coast to coast.

And what magnificent cars they've proved to be. Safe and comfortable in blizzard, damp, cold, heat, and dust! Sleek and sure and steady on roughest roads or steepest grade!

It did not surprise us. We knew what to expect.

The way we've built for 25 years—with common sense and imagination in engineering and research—there's a success story of many years behind every new car. Common sense guides every step we take. Engineering ingenuity challenges every new idea. Laboratory tests of the most punishing kind prove the ability of every part. Then and only then we go out for nation wide road tests, counting on magnificent performance . . . getting it, even beyond our expectations.

And how flawless our new cars have proved to be . . . down to the smallest detail! For it isn't only the major engineering developments—like Amola Steel, Oilite Fuel Filter, Ride Stabilizer, and other Chrysler Corporation engineering firsts—that get the attention of our greatest engineers. Even ash trays are designed like jewel boxes! Color harmonies are studied as if our entire reputation were based on our interiors and upholsteries.

Our production lines are now being filled with the finest cars we've ever created. Within a few weeks they'll be in the hands of dealers for public showing.

When you are selecting your next new car it'll pay you to see your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer.

Again you get the good things first

So be sure to get your copy of it.
And just see if you don't love it!

By Betty Menges.
The above poem written by Betty Menges is just one of the many ways employed by the publicity staff of the Yellow Jacket Buzz to sell their paper. Betty, this year's editor, is responsible for the poem. Betty, like most people who are interested in advertising, plays up the humorous side of journalism but does not fail to get her point across at the same time.

Though many are not aware of it, advertising is the main source of income for any paper or magazine. It is only through original and easy to read advertising like the above that many of our important newspapers today are made known and sold. This same principle works with our own school paper "Yellow Jacket Buzz."

Science Classes Visit Institute
On Friday, January 26, Mr. Miller's Chemistry and Physics classes visited the Franklin Institute.

Upon reaching the Institute, they visited the Fel's Planetarium and saw the stars, planets, and the sky as it looks from the top of the Franklin Institute. From there they went to the Dairy Dell, had lunch and looked at the many different displays. Then they went to the little theatre, which is located inside the Institute and saw a film strip entitled, "Atomic Energy." After this, until 3:45, they had the time to themselves to observe everything in the Institute before catching the bus to come back.

Place Water Pipes Below Frost Line

The best protection for freezing for outside water lines, reminds County Home Demonstration Agent, M. Katharine Jones, is to put them in the ground about 28-30" below the frost line.

Or, stop and waste cocks may be installed for draining the line when not in use. Allowing the pipe to remain open with water flowing through it continually may suffice if the temperatures do not go too low.

Inside water pipes may be protected with insulation, or with electric soil heating cable wrapped around the pipe or held with friction tape and controlled with a thermostat.

An investment in protecting the farm water lines pays off, Miss Jones says, in satisfaction from interrupted service, and the expense may be only a fraction of that which could result through neglect.

Site Of Ancient Society Found At Sulphur Springs

Evidence has been found to show that the Sulphur Springs Valley, near Bisbee, Ariz., was populated 20,000 years ago, according to Carl Trischka, geologist.

Trischka said ruins of ancient canals and irrigation ditches have been discovered in the valley, and along with these are articles or civilization far antedating the Indian tribes who occupied that section. This civilization is believed to be one of the earliest known, Trischka said.

Reserves In Soil Important As Food Reserves, Aide Says

Farmers Urged To Talk Over Conservation Problems With ACC Committee

With reserves of a number of crops piling up in bins and warehouses, it is time to speed up the building of reserves in the soil, says C. E. Scheltree, chairman of the Delaware State Production and Marketing Administration Committee.

War-time production and demand for the war have encouraged heavy cropping of some land that should be left back into a rotation of grass and legumes.

Although the record crop of 1948 indicates that the farmland of America is strong and that it has the productive capacity if properly handled, a check of individual farms and fields within the state shows a definite need for conservation. There is too much sheet erosion—washing away of the topsoil—too many little gullies starting and growing and breaking down of the soil structure.

Year after year of cropping—plowing, seeding and cultivating—has been depleting the humus in the soil. The humus of soil are breaking up so that wind and water can easily carry away soil particles, and it is the best part of the soil that is carried away.

It is not too early, Scheltree points out, for farmers to begin thinking of adjustments to avoid unbalanced production—too much of one crop and not enough of another. Fortunately adjustments fit into a program of soil and water conservation. With full use of windbreaks and windbreaks, less land will be needed to produce these crops and more land can be devoted to production of pasture and hay. These crops restore humus and improve soil, which in turn is effective in controlling erosion.

Scheltree suggests that farmers talk over their production-conservation problems and plans for 1949 with their county Agricultural Conservation Committee during the winter months. Lists of practices to meet local need have been drawn up for the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program and are available to farmers.

Delaware Accepts National 4-H Leadership Contest

Delaware 4-H Club members now have an opportunity to take part in the National 4-H Leadership Contest, announces Miss Jean Lee, state 4-H specialist.

This activity provides county, state and national recognition of those 4-H girls and boys who have by their leadership achievements attained prominence in 4-H Club work in their respective communities and counties.

Miss Lee states that the objectives of this contest are to gain an understanding of what it takes to be a leader, to learn ways by which 4-H Club work is helping club members develop leadership qualities, to realize the importance of able leadership to prosperous and happy rural life, become acquainted with the work of former club members who have become adult leaders in the community, and to appreciate the enduring values of sound leadership in a democratic society.

Although leadership cannot be carried as a 4-H Club project in Delaware each county may select one boy and one girl who have shown through active participation in club and community affairs, the qualities of sound leadership. Requirements of the contest state that the club member must be between the ages of 14 and 21, as of January 1, 1949, and must have completed at least three years of club work by the end of this year.

Awards for the contest, sponsored by Wilson and Company, Chicago, are two county awards of gold medals, for the outstanding boy and girl; two gold wrist watches as state awards for the outstanding boy and girl; two sectional awards of educational trips to the National Club Congress in Chicago; and two national awards of $300 college scholarships for the highest ranking boy and girl and $150 scholarships for the second highest boy and girl. In addition, the top winners will be presented silver trophies, to be held during the year, and awarded by the International Training School.

NEWARK TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Tin Lizzie Goes On Binge, Attacks Buckingham's Store; Owner And Police Finally Sober It Up

From Issue of February 6, 1924

Intoxicated Model T
Newton Sheaffer's Ford went on a bender last week, attempting to demolish the front of R. G. Buckingham's store. Passersby scattered from the path of the rampaging machine.

Later, under police grilling, Mr. Sheaffer admitted he had given the Model T an overdose of alcohol which had apparently gone to its transmission. He said he was unable to get it started in the cold dawn and had primed it to the brim with anti-freeze. Going into his house for his paint equipment, he came out to mount the driver's seat only to find the enraged vehicle off on a spree.

With the help of police and town officials, Mr. Sheaffer later succeeded in quieting the intoxicated wagon. It was irritable—and had a bad hang-over the rest of the day, but Mr. Sheaffer managed to keep it under control.

Teacher Ill
Miss Harriet Wilson, a member of the Newark schools teaching staff, was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital in Wilmington yesterday and operated on for appendicitis.

Leaves for Florida
Dr. G. Burton Pearson will leave Friday to visit his sisters, Mrs. L. L. Almond, Elberton, Georgia and Mrs. John Greenlee, Lakeland, Fla. He will return about March 1.

Cagers Win
Two more victories were chalked up last night by Newark High in the Armory here, when both the girls' and boys' teams won their games. Elton proved no match for the local boys, the latter winning 45-13. Chalmers, Jaquette and Hopkins starred for Newark.

The girls' won a hard-fought victory over Friends School girls of Wilmington by a 42-33 score.

Misses Robinson, Frazer and Shaw were strong on both offense and defense for Newark.

Veterans' Forum

Q—While living in Canada, I converted my National Service Life Insurance to a permanent plan. Now I learn that because of Canadian currency controls, I cannot send enough money out of the country to cover my premiums. What can I do about this?

A—There have been a number of similar cases. You should contact the currency control office of the country in which you now reside, and if you cannot make a satisfactory arrangement, you should go to the nearest U. S. consulate and explain your problem.

Q—I am a World War II veteran and would like to know if my wife is entitled to VA hospitalization?

A—If she is an ex-service woman she will be entitled to hospitalization in her own right, but being the wife of a veteran will not of itself make her eligible for VA hospitalization.

Q—After my discharge from World War II, I surrendered my $10,000 National Service Life Insurance converted policy for the cash value. I have existed and want insurance again. Am I eligible?

A—Yes. Application for a new NSLI policy may be made while you are in active service.

Q—I have a service-connected disability rated at 20 per cent. Am I entitled to an increase because of dependents?

A—No. Your disability must be rated 80 per cent or more before additional compensation for dependents is payable.

Q—Who chooses the institution or establishment in which a veteran trains?

A—For vocational rehabilitation training under Public Law 18, VA selects the facility with concurrence of the trainee. Under Public Law 348 (GI Bill), the veteran chooses the training institution, but may have the guidance of VA if he desires it.

Q—Will Veteran Administration accept collect telephone calls from physicians who wish to ascertain whether they will be paid for emergency treatments given veterans?

A—Yes.
Q—Is VA pension, compensation, or retirement pay reduced during hospitalization for veterans who have dependents?

A—It is not provided the necessary proof of relationship has been established. Veterans should make certain that such proof is established promptly. Any additional allowance or increased compensation for aid and attendance, however, will be discontinued upon hospitalization.

Farm Specialist Lists Winter Driving Advice

"Winterize your driving," that's the advice from William A. Calvert, extension agricultural engineer, University of Delaware, for safe winter driving.

Longer hours of darkness, poor visibility caused by snow and ice, fog and frost on windshield, and slippery roads add serious hazards to normal highway traffic. Accident rates increase from 24 to 53 per cent during ice and snow months, according to the National Safety Council.

If you must use your car in severe winter weather, don't gamble against these odds. Be prepared. Good winter equipment, extra caution behind the wheel and slower speed will turn the odds in your favor.

Here are a few timely tips that will help you win the battle against winter traffic hazards:

1. "Get the feel" of the road surface when you start out.
2. Reduce speed when road surfaces are snowy or icy so you can stop in time. At 20 miles per hour, it takes four to twelve times more distance to stop on snow or ice than on dry concrete. Slow down well in advance of intersections or curves and avoid following other vehicles too closely.
3. Keep windshields and windows clear of snow and ice on the outside, fog and frost inside.
4. Use tire chains when snow or ice conditions prevail. They reduce braking distances from 40 to 70 per cent.
5. Drive with your lights on to combat poor visibility in stormy or foggy weather.
6. Signal intentions of turning or stopping.

1949 Freight Car Deliveries High

December deliveries of domestic freight cars totaled 9,967, third largest month of 1948, the American Railway Car Institute reported recently.

This compared with 9,283 in the preceding month. It brought total deliveries for the year to 112,634, highest since 1924 and compared with 68,322 in 1947.

Backlog of orders on Jan. 1, the institute said, was 103,896 against 119,786 a year earlier. Orders during 1948 totaled 97,184 compared with 121,308 in the preceding year. Deliveries during the year included 40,021 box cars, 13,587 gondolas, 41,113 hoppers, 8,049 refrigerators and 6,831 tank cars.

Eat Wisely In 1949 Nutrition Aide Urges

Along with all the usual New Year's resolutions we would do well to include six good nutrition resolutions for 1949, says Miss M. Katharine Jones, county home demonstration agent.

- Miss Jones suggest the following dairy food practices:
1. I will not overeat.
  2. I will drink my quota of milk each day (1 quart if under 21 years of age, 1 pint or more if adult).
  3. I will eat a serving of high-quality protein each day.
  4. I will eat a citrus fruit or tomatoes each day.
  5. I will eat at least one serving of a green leafy vegetable each day.
  6. I will eat slowly, enjoy good food, and be thankful for it.

FILLIN' IN

Waiting for a bus on a busy corner in Philadelphia recently, we became concerned over the plight of a plumb, packaged-laden woman near us. In addition to two huge bags, from which jutted a vast stockpile of consumer goods, smaller packages were clutched in her hands and one even dangled from her little finger. She looked as if she could have launched a Marshall Plan of her own single-handedly.

What worried us, though, was how she was going to get her bus fare. Her pocketbook was tucked high under one arm, totally inaccessible unless she wanted to risk being crushed under an avalanche of her own making. Adding to our concern was the fact that it was the rush hour, a time when passengers are expected to board buses with dispatch. A patron who has to fumble for his change becomes a dangerous bottleneck.

It was, therefore, virtually in the role of a public benefactor that we stepped to the woman's side and offered to undertake evacuation operations for her pocketbook or pay her fare from our own funds. She smiled at us merrily and told us not to worry. "I've got it all figured out," she said.

We retired baffled and confused. Ordinary mortals, ourselves for instance, can rarely board buses without rifling their pockets in panic for change. This extraordinary woman, who obviously had nothing in her hands except bundles, appeared about to work a minor miracle. We decided she must be either a retired sleight-of-hand artist or the possessor of an amazing secret process that bus riders throughout the world have long sought. Accordingly, we planted ourselves directly behind her and prepared to watch her every move. If we could wrest her secret from her and give it to mankind, we knew a brilliant future would open up for us.

Imagine our dismay, then, when the bus drew up, the woman briskly stepped aboard, paused before the driver and moved to a seat. Although we followed her closely, we never had a chance to see how she pulled it off.

We stood looking after her in utter disbelief until we were snapped back to reality by the driver, who, despite a sneer, seemed in quite a chatty mood. "Well, buddy," he said, loling back in his seat, "What'd ya think? Going to ride with us today? Perhaps you feel vehicle is a little too untidy at this time. Maybe you think we won't make you quite comfy enough. Let's face it, kid, you're dead right."

Our trigger mind instantly grasped the fact that we had completely forgotten our own fare. We began slapping at pockets like a man seized with cramps, until the driver finally suggested we step aside and let the world lurch on.

Later, when we had paid our money and had calmed down somewhat, we again sought out the miracle woman. We felt we had gone too far in this, suffered too much, to let her slip through our fingers now. Our duty, as we saw it, was to trail her even if it meant missing our stop. We squeezed as close as we could to her seat and bided our time.

As the blocks slipped by, we scrutinized her carefully. She appeared to be an ordinary housewife, possessing no unusual cargo capacity. It is true, but giving no hint of her extraordinary fare-paying powers. Eventually, it began to grow dark, and the bus thinned out considerably, but she gave no sign of getting off. We, of course, had long since passed our stop and were growing a little anxious, although we remained as grimly devoted to our cause as ever.

At length, the two of us were the only passengers left on the bus, and it seemed safe to accost her directly. But, just as we were trying to figure how to do this tactfully without causing her to view us with alarm, the bus drew to a halt, the driver looked back and said, "Well, buddy, you've seen about all there is to our fair city. This is the garage. Got your money's worth yet?" Then he turned to the woman. "The car is parked across the street, honey. I'll be with you as soon as I get rid of our wandering boy here and check in."

In one crestfallen instant, we knew we had been drawn into a fruitless crusade. We withdrew in dignified silence, ignoring the smirking driver. Trudging to the nearest bus stop, we toyed with the idea of reporting him for allowing his wife to ride for nothing.

Group Review Work Past Year; Lists Team Records

The directors of the Kenmore Athletic Association met in the Kenmore High School last Tuesday evening to organize the board and make plans for the current year. Joseph E. Plumstead was reelected president with George B. Underwood, Jr., vice-president. A. Clarke George, secretary and Cecil E. Ewing, treasurer, other directors are E. P. Mackenzie, Oran D. Spratt and Harvey M. Steele.

Reports of last year's activities showed that the group's baseball teams in both the Penn-Mar and Cecil County Leagues made excellent records, being in the thick of the fight in both circuits all season, winning their semi-final play-offs but losing out in the last game of the final play-offs in both leagues. The Gun Club also made an excellent record in its first year, winning six of the eight shoots held in the Penn-Mar Trapshooting League in competition with Elston, Rising Sun and Perryville. This league will open its new season on the Kenmore grounds on Saturday, Feb. 5th. The 1947-48 bowling season was also very successful with all three of our leagues staging a nip and tuck fight all season and winding up the season with a banquet with more than one hundred members in attendance. This year the bowling leagues got off to a slow start due to the changed conditions in the community but new bowlers have been starting each week until the leagues are back to normal again.

The association has assumed sponsorship of the Boy Scouts and a Senior Scout Unit is now being organized in order to have the entire organization with a Cub Scout Pack, Boy Scout Troop and Senior Scout Unit.

The association fenced and seeded the new athletic field at the Kenmore School and has also earmarked the sum of $200 for play-ground equipment at the school. This equipment has been selected by the principal and teachers of the school and is now on order. Various other activities such as dances, Christmas party, etc., have been sponsored and backed by the association, with a dance, card and bingo party scheduled for Tuesday evening, February 15th. More activities for the boys and girls and the teen-age group are being planned for the current year.

The Continental-Diamond bowling combine, which completes regularly in the Wilmington Major League, will enter the National Bowling Tournament at Atlantic City. The six-men local outfit will play in Convention Hall there on February 14 and 15.

Top-flight keglars from throughout the nation will compete in the 60-day tourney, which offers a first prize of $1,500, plus numerous secondary awards.

This will be the first taste of national competition for five of the Continental keglars. They are Kenny Whiteman, P. Whiteman, Jack Barrett, Robert Hopkins, and Paul Jaquette. Morris Adams, manager of the team, enters the tourney every year.

The Fibremen will play as a team, then split up for doubles and individual matches. Their schedule of opponents has not been drawn up as yet. All teams in the Wilmington Major League are entering the big contest, and it is possible Continental may draw one of these for the initial play. The Fibremen now rank seventh in the Wilmington loop. The fibre company is financing the trip for the boys, who will make their headquarters at the Hotel President.

Best Wheat To Win Trophy At Crop Show

DCIA Exhibits At Wolf Hall, February 8-11

The best wheat entered in the exhibits of the annual field crops show of the Delaware Crop Improvement Association, Feb. 8-11, in Wolf Hall, University of Delaware, will earn for the grower an engraved trophy and a cash award. This was disclosed recently by Claude E. Phillips, head of the University of Delaware's Agronomy Department and secretary of the Crop Improvement Association.

The second place winner in this state-wide competition will be awarded a certificate of achievement. These two special awards, given by the Committee on Phillip W. Pillsbury Awards for Agricultural Achievement, are made available each year in states where the wheat is judged in state-wide competition conducted by a college of agriculture or by a state crop improvement association.

In addition, a number of premiums and awards will be presented for the outstanding exhibits in each class of Delaware's grain and hay crops, announces Phillips, who stresses that the purpose of this annual farm crops show is to encourage the production of better crops in Delaware. Alvin O. Kuhn, head of the Agronomy Department, University of Maryland, will judge the exhibits.

The Crop Improvement Association will hold its annual meeting Feb. 8-11, in conjunction with the field crops exhibit, with a special luncheon meeting scheduled for Feb. 11.

Extension Aids Most U. S. Farm Families

Four out of five of the nation's six and a half million farm families used help in 1947 from the Cooperative Agricultural Extension Service. This help came in the form of learning and using better methods of farming, marketing, homemaking, in addition to meeting a variety of problems of rural life.

Extension Service officials in Washington report that in addition to farm people directly helped, more than two million non-farm families used educational help from the Extension Service in doing a better job in gardening, food preservation, clothing the family, and other fields of family living.

Rural people reached by Extension included more than 1,729,911 4-H Club boys and girls in better than 80,000 community clubs. These boys and girls raised 104,000 acres of garden demonstrated the growing of food crops on a half million acres produced 800,000 head of livestock, and raised about 8,000,000 chickens and other poultry.

Through work with farmers, rural women, and young people improved methods of crop and livestock production, marketing, and soil conservation were introduced to 3,830,000 farms, and better homemaking practices adopted in three million homes.

This educational program was conducted as a cooperative undertaking of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, State Land Grant Colleges, county and local governments, and local organizations. It was conducted in all states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. It was carried on by 11,500 agricultural and home economics workers, most of whom were county extension agents located in every county of agricultural importance. Nearly a million rural men, women, and older boys and girls served as unpaid volunteer local leaders in carrying on the work in their communities.

March 15 Deadline For U. of D. Sept. Entries

March 15 has been set as the deadline for applications from prospective freshmen who would enter the University of Delaware next September, Charles W. Bush, director of admissions, said recently.

Establishment of the final date for receipt of applications was necessary because the fourth consecutive year of enlarged enrollment now is in sight, Mr. Bush said. There now are twice as many applications on hand as there were at this time last year, he said, and it is expected that the freshmen entering next fall will number at least as many as were enrolled last September. The third largest freshman class—exceeded only by those of the two previous falls—entered the university in 1948, when 595 were registered.

All schools in the state of Delaware have been informed of the March 15 deadline, as have many out-of-state schools from which students frequently enroll at the University of Delaware.

The only exceptions to the deadline, according to Mr. Bush, will be the applications of men who still are in the armed forces. They will be able to apply until Aug. 1.

Non-service men who seek to apply after March 15 will be considered only if a satisfactory reason for their late application is presented.

Falls Major Factor In Home Accidents

The "job of the month" in improving home safety conditions is to fix up the stairways, says Miss Louise Whitcomb, extension home management specialist for the University of Delaware.

According to Miss Whitcomb, a state-wide farm and home safety survey in Delaware to determine accident causes has revealed that falls injured more farm people than any other type of accident in 1948. Falls on stairs and steps were among the most common accidents encountered.

Most of the falls were due to carelessness, says Miss Whitcomb. Many stairways were unprotected by firm hand rails, a real danger when there are very young or very old folks using the stairs. In some cases, falls were the result of loose or broken steps. Several bad falls were caused by articles left on the stairway. Five women were injured seriously when they fell because they were carrying too much in their arms and couldn't see where they were going. Another cause for falls was poor lighting for cellar stairways, and unlighted porch steps.

In an effort to combat the accident toll from falls, Miss Whitcomb announces that a monthly program on safety is now under way in all home demonstration and 4-H clubs in Delaware. Each month, safety letters and demonstrations will stress the "job of the month." They will be followed up by checks to see what inspections and repairs have been made by club members to remove hazards causing falls in their homes.

The number of applications for veterans' GI loans dropped to 24,602 during November, 1948—the smallest monthly total since January, 1946, Veterans Administration said.

November applications were about one per cent under the total received by VA during October.

Just simple arithmetic—that's all you need! If it costs 10c to drive your car from home to town—25c (or more) to park it all day—then 10c to drive home again—that's 45c. Now 45c is three times as much as 15c. Therefore, I conclude that it's cheaper to ride the bus. Looking further—my study shows that you save wear and tear on your car—you save time by not having to hunt parking space. ## NHS FACULTY HEARS STATE MENTAL AIDE

Colonel H. Edmund Bullis, executive director of the Delaware State Society for Mental Hygiene, and Miss Virginia Mason, an assistant, visited the Newark High School recently to inspect the work being done in the Human Relations program there, which is sponsored by the society. This was the first of a series of three visits.

In a brief talk to the homeroom teachers, Col. Bullis emphasized the important part being played by all teachers, especially those in special fields such as art, music, agriculture, in helping children who do not fit well in their particular groups. He spoke of the fine job being done by the 4-H Clubs. So far, according to Col. Bullis, no urban organization has been able to approximate the important job of teaching children to work, live and play together that the 4-H Clubs have done.

Col. Bullis' theory is that teachers need not be too disturbed by the moderately aggressive child. The shy, brilliant youngster is frequently the one who needs real help. "He needs an opportunity to express himself, to tell his troubles and to make and keep friends," said Col. Bullis.

Miss Mason and Col. Bullis held a brief question period after which they invited all the teachers to return for the coming two meetings.
