A sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) was appropriated out of the General Fund of the State Treasury, all or as much as necessary of which should be used to carry out the provisions of the act, all bills to be paid by the State Treasurer upon presentation of warrants signed by the Chairman and Secretary of the Commission. The Commission was to act for the entire year of 1932 and to continue for the period of one (1) year after the expiration of the Celebration.

As soon as was practicable,—on September 11th, 1930, the members of the Commission met and elected the former Governor of the State, Robert P. Robinson, as Chairman, and Secretary of State, Charles H. Grantland, as Secretary of the Commission.

ACTIVITIES DURING THE CELEBRATION

In May, 1931, a Black Walnut Tree was received from Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington, and was planted on Dover Green on May 7th, 1931, by a troop of Boy Scouts under the leadership of Mr. Woodhead.

Under date of February 16th, 1932, a grove of Chinese Elms was planted along the Dual Highway just north of Drawyer's Creek in commemoration of the Celebration. These trees were presented to the State and planted by Mr. Neal Gladish, Master of Diamond State Grange, of Stanton, Delaware, under the supervision of Mr. W. S. Taber, representing the Delaware State Forestry Commission. This grove is to be dedicated at some near future date and named "Washington Grove" or some other such appropriate name.

On February 17th, 1932, a Washington Birthday programme was presented by the Dover Century Club at Dover, Delaware.

On February 19th, 1932, the Smyrna Business Men's Club gave a dinner at which John W. Morris, Jr., Esq., was the speaker.

On February 21st, 1932, special services were held in the Churches of Delaware, both at the Worship and Sunday School Sessions. In connection with this, three hundred and sixty-nine (369) letters were mailed to ministers asking their cooperation. At Hanover Street Presbyterian Church a religious pageant was given at the Sunday School hour.

On February 22nd, 1932, many activities took place. In Wilmington, the Mayor held his annual Reception at the Wilmington City Hall, which was attended by a host of Delaware citizens. In the evening, the Delaware Society of the Sons of the American Revolution gave a banquet at the duPont-Biltmore Hotel, at which Robert H. Richards, Esq., of Wilmington, Delaware, and Major-General Lytle Brown of the United States Army were the speakers.

Special exercises were held in all the schools of Delaware in practically every school room. This was made possible through the interest of Dr. H. V. Holloway, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Dr. S. M. Stouffer, Superintendent of Wilmington Schools and the cooperation of all instructors. During the week of February 22nd, 1932, a series of motion pictures were shown in the schools of the five principal towns of Western Sussex County, namely, Seaford, Laurel, Delmar, Bridgeville, and Greenwood. The series consisted of the following pictures:

The Declaration of Independence.

Yorktown.

Alexander Hamilton.

These exhibitions were arranged by Mr. William Torbert, Principal of the Seaford High School.

Under date of February 23rd, 1932, a series of lectures on the life of George Washington were started under the auspices of the Independent Order of B'Nai B'Rith, with Special Deputy Attorney-General Charles Kline, of Pennsylvania, as the principal speaker.

On May 11th, 1932, a delegation of ten (10) members of the Delaware State Commission for the Celebration, went to Washington to attend the Dedication of the $5,000,000 Masonic Memorial to Washington erected on a hill in Alexandria, Virginia. This covered a three-day excursion, May 11th to 14th with the dedication service on May 12th, 1932.

On June 30th, 1932, a most picturesque Pageant, written and directed by Mrs. Edith Robertson Bohn, assisted by Miss Frances Robinson and many other prominently capable and patriotic Delawareans, in which all three counties of the State took part was staged on Dover Green. The weather was ideal and the Pageant was successful beyond expectation. Many and varied organizations volunteered their assistance. The music before and after the Pageant was furnished by the Fort duPont Band consisting of about 30 pieces. The members of the Band were conveyed to and from the Pageant in a large bus and were served with luncheon and dinner while in Dover. The Pageant was participated in by such organizations as the Boy Scouts of America, Women's College, University of Delaware, Wilmington High School, Soldiers of Fort duPont, Granges of the State, Battery G, 198th Artillery, Delaware National Guard, Daughters of the American Revolution, Howard High School and the Faculty of the University of Delaware. Colonel John M. Gibbs, United States Army, was the guest of the State Commission at the Pageant representing the National Commission under the direction of Mr. Sol Bloom, of Washington, D. C. Several exceptionally fine photographs of the pageant were reproduced in the picture section of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. The Pageant was the culmination of the year's activities in the State of Delaware and constituted a most effective and fitting conclusion to Delaware's contribution to the nation-wide Celebration of the 200th Anniversary of the Birth of George Washington.

Sincere credit and appreciation is hereby extended to Dr. George H. Ryden, whose masterful handling of the subject "George Washington and Delaware," compiled in pamphlet form, was distributed throughout the State and will be cherished by many Delaware citizens as a memento of the Celebration. The publicity for the Celebration was most ably and completely handled by Mr. Norman MacLeod, and the voluntary services of the Sons of the American Revolution,

Daughters of the American Revolution and the Music Committee of the American Legion Auxiliary together with the enthusiastic cooperation of several of our prominent attorneys, namely:

W. W. Knowles, Esq.,

Henry R. Isaacs, Esq.,

J. W. Morris, Jr., Esq.,

Robert H. Richards, Esq.,

who made appropriate addresses on numerous occasions in conjunction with the Celebration, was of unvalued assistance to the Commission in fulfilling the demands made upon them. During the Celebration, one hundred (100) badges were purchased and distributed appropriate to the occasion. Practically every Grange in the State held a tree planting ceremony some time during the year in commemoration of the Celebration.
