THE CHANGES OF A SUMMER IN THE CAMPUS OF DELAWARE COLLEGE

In the new developments of the campus of Delaware College there are three processes going on at once. Three of these, the grading of the land, the building of three new buildings and remodeling of three others, and the tearing down of several others. As to the last of these processes (grading), the work began in the spring, and although the laborers have worked steadily, the work is made possible through the skill of the land surveyors. The surveyor has been known as the early part of the season, and the work is now in progress. The surveyor has been kept busy throughout the summer and will be nearly completed by the end of the month. The work will then be turned over to the building committee for the construction of the new buildings.

The second element of progress in the new developments is the erection of new buildings. College authorities have been working on the site of the old buildings. The old structures have been removed, and the new ones are in the process of construction. The new buildings will be of a modern type, and the design has been carefully planned to harmonize with the existing buildings.

The third element of progress is the remodeling of the old buildings. This work has been going on throughout the summer, and the old buildings have been completely remodeled and modernized. The work will be completed in the fall.

Largest Increase Ever Made in Single Year

The addition of twelve new members to the faculty marks the largest increase the faculty ever received in a single year. This increase is a result of the energetic efforts of the administration to strengthen the faculty in order to meet the growing demands of the student body. The new faculty members are as follows:

Mr. L. A. Biling, assistant professor of mechanical engineering.
Mrs. E. H. Waring, assistant professor of English.
Mr. W. M. Gorry, assistant professor of history.
Mr. J. T. Grimes, assistant professor of botany.
Mr. W. H. Seguin, assistant professor of mathematics.
Mr. J. W. Haines, assistant professor of chemistry.

EXAMINATION FOR RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS

To be Held in October

The examination for the Rhodes Scholarships will be held under the supervision of Professors Robert B. Lincoln and Samuel B. Feltner. The successful candidate will receive a scholarship for four years, and will be sent to one of the University of Oxford. The examination will be held in the college on October 3. The successful candidate will receive a scholarship of $5,000 a year.

Candidates

Robert S. Sprague, of St. Louis, a native of Cecil county. The young man has been awarded a scholarship to the University of Michigan, and has declined it.

Western Pennsylvania

Alumni Hold Banquet

The Alumni Association of the University of Western Pennsylvania held a banquet at the Lord's Hotel, Pittsburgh, on October 1. The banquet was attended by many members of the class of 1916, and was a great success.

Candidates

Mr. L. A. Biling, assistant professor of mechanical engineering.
Mrs. E. H. Waring, assistant professor of English.
Mr. W. M. Gorry, assistant professor of history.
Mr. J. T. Grimes, assistant professor of botany.
Mr. W. H. Seguin, assistant professor of mathematics.
Mr. J. W. Haines, assistant professor of chemistry.
