Copenhagen,
Dec. 13th,

Dear George:

I am very happy to read the defenses which have been made against the bitter attack against you recorded in last Thursday's New York Herald. I was really instructions from the Department appear more vague than ever — I refer especially to the one telling us to make our reports as short as possible.

Guth is back but brought no news with him. I hope we will not have too badly in the appropriation bill.

By the way I wonder if something in the department is ready to present their side the more adequately when the question of reorganization of bureaus comes up. This reorganization cannot help but include in the Foreign Service.

I hope you and Virginia are in the best of health. The weather here has not been half as bad as I expected so far. It is sticking it out — everyone says it is unusually good winter for Minnesota.

Thank very glad the Captain brought word up satisfactorily for you. All best wishes to you.
wondering what the true fact were. Did your office receive instructions from the department to investigate Einstein's attitude on communistic subjects?

The whole incident was an example of the harm that can be done by our newspapers and their correspondents.

Everything seems to be going smoothly up here. Some of the recent micrographed
