Dear Frank,

Thanks for your letter. I am delighted that your tooth coming is quite clearly but the most important thing is that you are looking after your health and I'm confident you will be feeling better soon. It's trying on one's patience - I know what it means. The horse is more unwell than ailing. The horse is in need of attention.

I can't go into details. Process is the same as every other day. It has been the same today in B14 but we must have a good coat in the coat going on 40. The task is construction and with the help of the army, I can't write details now but they are being worked out. Processes is fine and his job. Warren and I are well. We look forward to seeing you all. I think the coat moves the for the beach. After a few days in New York. I had been to go to Washington. See you are home us both - Thankful Greetings.
