The purpose of the Interfraternity Council is to have a body in which each fraternity is represented so that they may deal with all problems common to the fraternities. It consists at the present time of five members, one each from Sigma Nu, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Tau Phi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Theta Chi fraternities. For the past few years it has been the custom for the presidents of the respective fraternities to act as representatives on the council. In this way it is found that much more can be accomplished since the president in most cases knows the will of his fraternity brothers.

One of the most important functions of the council is to enforce the regulations of “rushing” so that each fraternity may have an equal opportunity to obtain new members from the freshman class. One week each year is set aside as “Rush Week.” During this week the various fraternities are permitted to sponsor smokers, house parties, and any other social functions which might serve to acquaint the freshmen with the members and the fraternity as a whole.

Interfraternity competition is encouraged as much as possible. The fraternity having the highest scholarship rating during the year is awarded a Scholarship Cup by the Interfraternity Council. There are also trophies awarded to the fraternity excelling in baseball, football, basketball, and other sports. The competition between fraternities is always keen, and a fine feeling of sportsmanship has been built up. In June of 1939, the Interfraternity relay was renewed under the sponsorship of the Alumni Association. This event takes place on “Alumni Home-Coming Day”, which is generally in early spring. The first renewal of the relay was won by the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

The Interfraternity council has also attempted to bring the fraternities together socially. To this end, the Interfraternity Week-end has been sponsored for the past two years. The program consists of the Interfraternity Formal, on Friday evening; a home football game between Delaware and one of its opponents on Saturday afternoon; and House parties in each of the respective houses on Saturday evening.
