The Junior Class
The Women's College of Delaware

FOREWORD

TO preserve to posterity, in a manner worthy of our Alma Mater, her progress during the past college year; to put into these pages something of the spirit of our college; to keep alive the precious memories of intimate friendships and common joys; and above all, to reflect the spirit of service and enthusiasm which makes it possible for The Women's College of Delaware to adapt itself to the changing needs of community, state, and nation: We, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty One, present this book.

Winifred Josephine Robinson
