Action: Revise International Relations major concentrations
(Example: add major/minor/concentration, delete major/minor/concentration, revise major/minor/concentration, academic unit name change, request for permanent status, policy change, etc.)

Effective term 10F
(use format 04F, 05W)

Current degree BA
(Example: BA, BACH, BACJ, HBA, EDD, MA, MBA, etc.)

Proposed change leads to the degree of: __________________________
(Example: BA, BACH, BACJ, HBA, EDD, MA, MBA, etc.)

Proposed Name: __________________________
Proposed new name for revised or new major / minor / concentration / academic unit
(if applicable)

Revising or Deleting:
Undergraduate major / Concentration: International Relations-Concentrations Development, Diplomacy & World Order, International Political Economy, U.S. Foreign Policy, BAAS
(Example: Applied Music – Instrumental degree BMAS)

Undergraduate minor: __________________________
(Example: African Studies, Business Administration, English, Leadership, etc.)

Graduate Program Policy statement change: __________________________
(Must attach your Graduate Program Policy Statement)

Graduate Program of Study: __________________________
(Example: Animal Science: MS Animal Science: PhD Economics: MA Economics: PhD)

Graduate minor / concentration: __________________________

Note: all graduate studies proposals must include an electronic copy of the Graduate Program Policy Document, highlighting the changes made to the original policy document.
List new courses required for the new or revised curriculum. How do they support the overall program objectives of the major/minor/concentrations? (Be aware that approval of the curriculum is dependent upon these courses successfully passing through the Course Challenge list. If there are no new courses enter “None”)

None

Explain, when appropriate, how this new/revised curriculum supports the 10 goals of undergraduate education: http://www.ugs.udel.edu/gened/

The major will continue to support the 10 goals of undergraduate education.

Identify other units affected by the proposed changes: (Attach permission from the affected units. If no other unit is affected, enter “None”)

Once this course is deleted, all of our political science majors will have to meet their FYE requirement outside the department. Our Chair Gretchen Bauer has spoken with Avron Abraham from the Office of Undergraduate Studies about returning our majors to the general pool of freshmen to meet their FYE requirement. He welcomes their participation in the FYEs that the University is sponsoring. [See attached email from Avron Abraham.]

Describe the rationale for the proposed program change(s): (Explain your reasons for creating, revising, or deleting the curriculum or program)

Delete - POSC 241: Exploring International Relations
Major would be reduced by one credit to 51.

In fall 2005, the Department of Political Science and International Relations added a new one credit course requirement for its political science majors, POSC 241. This class satisfied the freshmen year experience (FYE) requirement for our majors. The course was run largely as a discussion section to POSC 240, Introduction to International Relations, and did not fulfill the goals of the FYE program. In the intervening years, the goals of the FYE program have become clearer and most of them are not fulfilled by our course, POSC 241. So, for example, our POSC 241 does not include sessions on alcohol awareness, safer sex, and conflict management. The classes are not interdisciplinary in terms of student majors and the classes do not make use of a common reader as happened this fall semester. Moreover, because the class is currently a required part of the major it must be taken for a grade whereas most FYE classes are pass/fail. Finally, the class is a drain on department resources as we have been assigning graduate students to teach the classes who could be serving as teaching assistants to our larger classes. (Alternatively, we would have to pay 2 “S” contracts to cover our six sections of POSC151 and POSC241.) Paradoxically, five of our faculty served as faculty for UNIV FYE classes this fall, though none of them were teaching any of our majors. For all of these reasons we would like to delete the POSC 241 requirement and have our students join the larger freshmen class in taking their FYE requirement outside their major.

Program Requirements:
(Show the new or revised curriculum as it should appear in the Course Catalog. If this is a revision, be sure to indicate the changes being made to the current curriculum and include a side-by-side comparison of the credit distribution before and after the proposed change)

International Relations is an interdisciplinary major in the College of Arts and Science with core (24 credits), concentration (18 credits), and regional specialization (9 credits) requirements. Students must choose one of four concentrations and one of five regional specializations, as detailed in the curriculum below. An honors degree option is available. All POSC courses taken for the IR major requires a minimum grade of C- or better. Students must also receive a C- or better in 30 of the 51 required credit hours and have a cumulative average of 2.0 in the 51 required hours.

Area Studies and the International Relations Major:
Students whose regional specialization is Africa, East Asia, or Latin America should give serious consideration to adding one of the university’s Area Studies programs: African Studies, East Asian Studies, European Studies, Islamic Studies and Latin American Studies. Course work in these area studies programs will allow students to develop much richer and deeper knowledge of these regions. Moreover, most of the courses approved for the Regional Specialization within the International Relations major are also approved as fulfilling the Area Studies requirements thereby facilitating a minor or double major with an area studies program.

Study Abroad, Internships, and Undergraduate Research:
International Relations majors are strongly encouraged to consider a study abroad experience as a part of their program. Students participating in study abroad programs not only enrich their education through exposure to foreign cultures, but often have the opportunity to take courses, internships, and undertake other educational experiences abroad not otherwise offered in University of Delaware course lists. In many instances, these courses may count towards IR Concentration and Regional Specialization requirements. Similarly, internships and undergraduate research experiences offered from the Newark campus may be applied to IR Concentration and Regional Specialization requirements. Students should check with the Director of Undergraduate Studies when enrolling in study abroad courses and programs, internships, and undergraduate research programs to determine if the specific course, program, or educational experience meets a particular IR major requirement. or, if some major requirement might be waived by means of study abroad, internships, or undergraduate research programs.

Transfer Students:
Students changing their major to international relations must have a minimum grade point average of 2.0. Students transferring to the major from outside the University of Delaware will have their transcripts evaluated by the director on a case-by-case basis. For information contact Professor Alice Ba, 461 Smith Hall (302) 831-1937 or by e-mail: aliceba@udel.edu.
INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

The International Relations major is a 51 credit interdepartmental major. Each IR major must complete a set of required "Foundations" courses (24 credits), usually by the end of the fifth semester. The student must also complete an International Relations Concentration (18 credits) and a Regional Specialization (9 credits). Three credit hours of either POSC464 or 468 may count once towards completion of either the Concentration or the Regional specialization depending on content and with the approval of the POSC Director for Undergraduate studies. All substitutions must be approved in advance of course registration. Courses used to meet one IR requirement cannot be used to fulfill other IR requirements.

A. Foundations. 24 credits to include:

- ECON 151: Introduction Microeconomics: Prices & Market
- ECON 152: Introduction Macroeconomics: The National Economy
- FLL 2-3-4xx: Course beyond intermediate level taught in language
- GEOG 120: World Regional Geography
- HIST: 1 course from:
  - HIST 102: Western Civilization: 1648 to Present
  - HIST 104: World History II
- POSC 240: Introduction to International Relations
- POSC 150: American Political System

B. IR Concentration (18 credits) and Regional Specialization (9 credits).
Courses—including required POSC and ECON courses—to be selected from approved IR Concentration courses and Regional Specialization course lists found on pages 6-10. Courses used to meet Concentration requirements cannot be used to fulfill Specialization requirements.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CONCENTRATIONS

You must choose one of four IR concentrations: (1) Development, (2) Diplomacy and World Order, (3) International Political Economy, or (4) U.S. Foreign Policy. Concentrations require 18 hours of course work. Each concentration has a required POSC course and ECON 340 (or ECON 311 for the Development Concentration).

Students must take at least three approved Political Science and International Relations courses. One 3 credit course from IR concentration course lists other than the student’s IR Concentration may be used to fulfill a student’s chosen concentration. The applicability of “Topics” courses will depend on content in the semester offered. At least three courses must be taken at the 400 level.

Hi Gretchen,

We are excited that your students in Political Science/International Relations are going to being part of the UNIV 101 Freshmen Seminar for the Fall 2010. As I mentioned this is a one credit pass/fail seminar led by a faculty instructor and supported by a peer mentor.

Let me if you have any questions and I look forward to working with you.

Thanks,

Avron

Hi Avron, I was thinking that it might be good for us to have an email from you stating that you have no problem if we get rid of our own fye, posc 151 and posc 241. Would you mind a line or two to that effect. Just in case questions come up when we try to drop those two 'courses.'

Thanks, Gretchen
