We wish to present this edition of the "BLUE HEN" to the students in Delaware College at the University of Delaware without comment on our part. It is for them to judge the merits of our efforts.

However, we cannot turn from our task without an expression of thanks to those persons, not on the board, for the valuable assistance they have given us.

To The Read-Taylor Company, our printers and engravers, we extend our sincere thanks for the manner in which they handled this edition of the "BLUE HEN" and for the many helpful suggestions they offered. The same thanks is extended to Mr. A. N. Sanborn, who did the larger portion of the photography for the book.

We are also indebted to Mr. Arthur F. Spaid '21, for the beautiful work he expended on the Alma Mater page.

To Professor Ralph Harris and to Dr. F. M. K. Foster, we are grateful for the valuable advice they have given.

Finally, we express our appreciation to the many advertisers whose help made this issue possible, financially. Their support merits the patronage of every son of Old Delaware.

—The Editors.

Bad Business---Good Business

All will agree it is exceedingly regrettable that only a comparatively small number of persons have made their Wills. This is BAD BUSINESS, because failure to make a proper disposition of one's earthly possessions will give those who come after unnecessary trouble and expense.

GOOD BUSINESS prompts each one to make his Will, name the persons to whom he wishes his possessions to go, describe the manner in which this disposition shall be made, and appoint an Executor.

We strongly urge this important matter of GOOD BUSINESS on all. We are ready at all times to render any assistance in our power.

The Famous Eight Day Race

Being a Contest Between "Monk" Downing and "Wins" Murray for An Upper-hand Among the Girls

FIRST DAY—

The principals started with determination. Before the start Monk protested to the judges (Dean Robinson and Dr. Harter) that Murray had made a last minute study of the volume "How to Live and Love" by "Dinty" Koeber.

At the end of the day Murray reported to the judges that he was considering calling a young lady on the phone.

SECOND DAY—

Supporters of Downing were temporarily elated in the early hours when their principal was seen talking with a woman. Later developments proved that he was arranging with a colored woman to have his wash done.

Murray reiterated his determination to call a young lady on the phone.

THIRD DAY—

Considerable agitation was heard to bar Murray following the report that he planned to get a cousin to pass as his lady friend. The contestant entered a vigorous denial and was allowed to continue.

Downing was seen to nod to a number of young ladies from the Women's College but as they had their backs turned each time the judges rules no score. Dean Robinson rebuked the down-state contestant for his methods.

Why Not Take Up DENTISTRY?

The profession of dentistry is now regarded as an important branch of medicine. The dentist is no longer looked upon as a mere "tooth fixer", but as a medical specialist.

Out of every ten persons who should go to the dentist, only one goes now. Yet every dentist in America has all the patients he can properly attend, and the continually increasing interest in dentistry, with greater appreciation of the value of dentistry in preserving health and preventing disease, is bringing people to the dentist's office in ever increasing numbers.

More dentists are needed. It will be many years before there can possibly be enough dentists to do the work the public wants.

We will gladly give you information regarding dental schools, courses, fees, etc.

FOURTH DAY—
Murray’s backers urged him on and criticized his lack of initiative. He assured them, in a terse but pointed announcement, that he had something up his sleeve.

Downing announced that a chum had promised to get him an introduction to a fellow in Newark who knew a girl who might be able to get him a date.

This being the end of the first half the judges issued a statement that the race was to date a scoreless tie. Dr. Harter stated that the contestants lacked pep and to a bystander expressed a wish that he were in the race.

FIFTH DAY—
It was discovered that a person signing himself “C. B. D.” had written to the love-editor in a morning paper for advices on how to get a girl. Murray announced that if Monk used unfair methods he (Murray) would withdraw.

Murray scored heavily on this day when he answered a phone call from 162 at the S. P. E. house. Although it was for “Tubby” Armstrong, Wins got several words in before he lost his nerve. The burden of the conversation was said to have been the weather. Murray’s backers were elated when their principal turned in the first score of the race.

SIXTH DAY—
Monk appeared all dressed up this morning and shortly disappeared down Depot road. His supporters claim he would shortly sew the affair up. The Murray Camp claimed he was running away.

Murray began to show the signs of wear. He stated that he called a girl by phone the evening before but she had not been in.

SEVENTH DAY—
Downing showed up again. He announced in a sworn statement that he had attended a burlesque show in Philadelphia and that a chorus girl had winked at him. Monk sent his card back to her but later lost his nerve and ran.

Murray had a long conference with Bill Boyce and left with a heart-breaker look in his eyes. His backers claimed this to be a good sign.

Monk led by 3.1416 points. Betting even.

EIGHTH DAY—
Murray walked from the morning train with the Dean’s secretary. En route he passed under an arch of triumph hurriedly erected by his backers. After he bid his companion a farewell he was carried through the town on the shoulders of his supporters.

Monk fainted.

Verdict: The judges announced that Murray had won by a walk.
We Pass This Way
But Once---

How many people put off having things they want because it takes a little more effort to get those things? How many people go dreaming through life thinking that in a few years they will be able to do this or that? The time always arrives but some obstacle is always in the way. The capacity for enjoyment has been greatly decreased.

We pass this way but once. Our aim is to make the most of life while we have it.

If by buying a new comfortable chair we are going to make ourselves happier and perhaps our family happier, in consequence, isn't the price of the chair worth while? Or if we love music but the possibility of paying for the Phonograph we want is out of the question, isn't it better to have that Phonograph, and pay for it while we are enjoying it, than to wait until we have enough money?

Remember, we pass this way but once. We enjoy things to the greatest extent only once. Sometimes when we have the money we haven't the desire.

Our purpose in business is to make it possible for every one to enjoy his home to the fullest extent NOW, when things count. Our liberal credit terms together with the quality of our furniture make this possible.

We can help make your home what you want it to be in a way to suit your purse.

In days of yore, in time before
Bootleggers held their sway,
A youth quite gay had stowed away
Enough beneath the floor
To hold him right and keep him tight
Forever and a day.
But agents came and spoiled his game
And now he drinks—oh, 'tis a shame,
Even as you and I.

When mid-years hit our balmy lay,
And sorrow fills our quiet dell,
I chuck my minor thoughts away,
And concentrate like H C I
Through these sad moments of my life
All flitting fancies from me go.
I hurl myself into the strife
And drink, oh horrors, H-2-O.

Frost-Proof Garage Hydrant

This hydrant makes it possible to obtain running water in the unheated garage at all seasons of the year. In cold weather it is safest to drain the water out of the automobile radiator to prevent freezing when storing the car in garage where the artificial heat is uncertain and this hydrant offers a means of replenishing the radiator with fresh water. In moderate weather it furnishes water for washing the car.

Simple in construction as a hydrant can be made, and has but one valve packing. In durability it should last as long as the garage.

Made in lengths 3 ft., 4 ft., and 5 ft.

A little chicken through the yard
Was strolling slow one day,
When on an orange lying there
Its small eyes chanced to stray.

Then running swiftly to its dad,
This brief request it made:
“O come back through the yard with me,
And see the orange marm-o-lade.”

Blessings on thee, little dame—
Barebacked girl, with knees the same,
With thy rolled down silken hose
And thy red lips, reddened more,
Smeared with lipstick from the store;
With thy make-up on thy face,
And thy bobbed hair’s jaunty grace,
From my heart I give thee joy—
Glad that I was born a boy.

"Pad my other lip."

They had quarreled. He grabbed her in his arms.
"Look up, dear," he said pleadingly.
"If I do you'll kiss me," she countered.
"Truly I won't."
"Then, what's the use?"

Co-Eddy talking of his night's experience with a co-Edna: "She tried to play that innocent stuff and when I tried to kiss her she slapped my face. I pushed her off my lap and came home."
HOME OF

The Spring Brook Bess Burke 2d Family
(Unequaled for its Combined Weekly and Yearly Milk and Butter Records)

Our herd sires represent lines of breeding that are noted for type, size, and short and long-time milk and butter production. Their daughters are making excellent A. R. O. records in both the 7 and 365-day divisions.

We always have for sale from 10 to 30 bull calves that possess inherited individuality and size. These well-bred calves are priced at figures that will enable YOU to own one of them.

Heifers and milch cows with creditable A. R. O. records, are also for sale. These make good foundation stock for beginners.

Our herd is under Government supervision and is regularly tuberculin tested. When purchasing cattle, a careful buyer looks for this guarantee against tuberculosis.

We respectfully invite you and your friends to come and see our herd of Holsteins (325 females).
