add more room pronto... with a Farmers TIMEPLAN LOAN

Raising a "tribe" of your own? If small fry war-dances play havoc with the peace and quiet of your home, or if the furniture and walls have just made their "last stand"—then you need more room... a place to play for young, energetic braves. How about an extra room or a converted garage, or a playroom in the basement? Any extra room could have a number of uses: storage, sleeping, or just a place to get away from it all. See your building contractor for estimates. But be sure to have him finance through a Farmers TIMEPLAN Loan. TIMEPLAN pays all costs at once and repayments are at low bank rates, once a month, with years to pay! See Farmers today, or call Mr. Potts, OLYMPIA 5-9686 for information.

...except electricity

Anything you can buy today at the price of ten years ago is a good value. Take electricity, for example. Today our average residential customer uses almost 150% more electricity than ten years ago... but the average electric bill has increased only 92%. No matter how you look at it—when you consider how much more electricity does for you today... for so little... it's a mighty big bargain.

ELECTRIFYING FACTS

Despite rising costs — wages, materials, taxes, etc.—increased efficiency in our operations and your greater use of electricity in the home has reduced the average unit cost by more than 22%.

Races At Fair Hill On Two Saturdays To Begin Sept. 12

Cattle And Horse Shows Scheduled For Mornings With Races In Afternoon

The annual Fair Hill race meet will be held on Saturdays, Sept. 12 and 19, according to an announcement from William duPont, Jr., over whose estate the programs are run.

As in the past, there will be six races on each of the two Saturdays, but post time has been advanced to 3 p.m.

Proceeds from the races go to benefit the Union Hospital, Elkton, Md. Once again pari-mutuel betting will prevail, and veteran Delaware Park mutuels manager Jim Langford will be in charge of the machines. The daily double will be on the first two races.

Other Delaware Park personnel collaborating with Mr. DuPont are Bryan Field, general manager; Helen Stairwalt, and Clark Pardee.

Mildred E. M. Pike, secretary of the Cecil County Breeders' Fair, under whose general auspices the two days of sport are conducted, has available both box and seat reservations at 101 Delaware Trust Building, Wilmington.

In addition to horse races in the afternoons, there will be a cattle show on the morning of the 12th, and a horse show on the morning of the 19th.

From Rehoboth's Dinner Bell Inn, Newark's Carroll W. Mumford writes: "One tuna and 148 bonito were caught on a recent trip about 30 miles out from the Indian River Inlet with Robert Galbusern of Boothwyn, Pa., owner of the 22-ft. cruiser Betty Ann."

"With us was Frank Corey of University Park, Md., and believe it or not, we got tired of pulling in fish."

We believe you, Mr. Mumford! Any member of that tuna family is a tough customer on the end of a rod, reel, and line, and bonito in the three-pound range—or at any weight—are exceeded only by their cousins of greater heft when it comes to pulling power. And 148 of 'em! That's work—but pleasant work.

With Hardy Herman Klahr, the Miami Kingfish of last winter, we encountered no such pleasant and strenuous chore at Prime Hook Creek over the past weekend.

Good Beginning
Things started out well enough, with a good pickerel hitting a big red and white spoon in a swirl beside the boat on the first cast late last Saturday afternoon. But the Delaware "pike" missed connections with the triple hooks—hooks that subsequently became entangled with practically everything in a large assortment of gear aboard Mr. Klahr's small skiff—and departed to warn his fellows. That pickerel had a nose for news, and was most adept at spreading the word. We didn't receive another strike during the next hour.

Hooking a nice pickerel in a smashing strike from deep within a dark, watery pocket along the shoreline, we lost the fish in a jump beside the boat, and shortly afterward, Herman had a healthy hit from a bass that lunged at a surface plug while its owner was puzzling over a backlash. Didn't catch that fish, either.

A big bluegill and a great, blue-silver spangled crappie came aboard after some casting with a red and white, flyrod spoon, and then the mosquitoes moved in with dusk and began biting with all the ferocity of piranha—in marked contrast with the Prime Hook main residents.

Moonlight and No Bass
A great yellow moon climbed over the Sussex County woodlands as a floodlight for some strenuous surface casting, but other than the hooting of a great horned owl, the whine of the needle-nosed dive bombers, and the imprecations muttered by the two human occupants of the boat, there were few signs of life at Prime Hook Creek.

Many, many casts later, with the moon riding high in the heavens, and after trying everything short of dynamite or a net—we had neither at our disposal—it was agreed that this was not the night for night fishing. This decision had been reached some two hours ago, but it was after midnight before we became tired enough to abandon the cool breeze on the water and its modicum of relief from the man-eating mosquitoes, to risk a landing and attempt to sleep in the stillness of the woods.

The Answer
But Herman Klahr had the answer to that one. Without waste of time, he installed mosquito netting at two opened windows of his car—we exterminated a hundred or so of the singing snappers that had come into the car with us—and then Herman was shaking us awake with "It's morning. Time to fish!"

Things were a bit better with the dawn—the fishing couldn't have been worse than under the near full moon—but it wasn't much better at that.

Mr. Klahr was wrongfully accused of knocking a big pickerel off his companion's hook as netting operations were underway beside the boat; he missed a strike from a bass blasting at a surface plug; and returning refreshed from a trip to civilization with morning mass at Milford, we were informed by the Kingfish shimmering in the sun, that he hadn't had a strike since our departure.

A thermos of Milford-brewed coffee bucked Hardy Herman up to a point where we set forth once again in a last chance try.

We managed to catch one yellow perch sandwiched in between a white perch and a pickerel picked up by Herman Klahr in a hot, humid trip down the narrow creek flowing from the lake, between the walls of a Sussex jungle.

A rough one, but a good trip, too, in reminiscence.

Brandywine Faces Concordville Club In Polo Contests

Brandywine Polo Club's varsity will initiate a three-game series with Concordville this Sunday at 3 p.m. on the outdoor field. The local varsity was edged 3-1 and 5-4 in a similar series last June.

In their bid to avenge the previous series defeat, Brandywine will field Harley Williams of Newark, Dr. J. A. Torello, George A. Weymouth and Col. Howard Fair.

Concordville will counter with Don Ross, Jr., Fred Fortugno, Norm Taylor and E. B. Stewart.

Next Wednesday's arena polo doubleheader will be sponsored by the Kennett Parents Association for the benefit of the Exchange Student Fund.

Last Sunday, Brandywine tallied a 2-0 lead in the second chucker and never headed by the Oxford Royals team that was defeated 9-5, as George Weymouth paced the win with four goals.

Brandywine's seasonal record is 10 wins against as many losses.

Pony League A's Win In Championship Opener

The first of the three-game NRA Pony League final championship series was played last Monday night at the Medill diamond with the Athletics defeating the Chiefs 24-4.

The Athletics' Allen Peoples and Jim Sage kept the losers in check by giving up but two hits.

Hitting stars for the Athletics were Guy Hoffecker, who had a perfect night at the plate with four doubles and a home run, and Keith Handing, who also registered a perfect night at bat with a triple, double, single and a walk.

The Chiefs' Larry Tucker chipped in with a two bagger and a walk, and teammate Don Peters had a double.

4 All-Star Games For Pony Leagues Played Last Week

Four All Star Recreation Pony League ball games were played last week.

At the Kells Avenue diamond, the Eastern League beat the Major League All-Stars by 15-9.

The National League squeaked out an 11-10 victory over the Eastern League.

Hitting stars for the National Leaguers were Mark Hill, Burnham, Graden, Boon and Vincent.

Fletcher and Getty did the hurling for the winners, and Correll and Turnbull were their battery mates.

The International League won over the American League in another close game, 8-7, as both teams displayed fine hitting and fielding.

Late additions to the International squad—Catcher, Larry Tucker and Pitcher Ron Surry—provided the extra spark the team needed, as Tucker chipped in with some timely hits and fielding, and Surry pulled the game out of the fire with his relief hurling.

The National swamped the International League All-Stars, 16-0.

Hitting stars for the winners were Neaves, Vincent, Graden, Burnham and Correll.

The pitching chores were handled by Getty, Lovejoy and Fletcher, with Perkins and Turnbull doing the receiving.

Two Teams In Tie
For Intermediate League Leadership

Intermediate Recreation Softball League competition ended in a tie for first place between the Buzzards and Brookside, with these two teams participating in a best three out of five game playoff.

Chestnut Hills was third in final standings, one game ahead of the last place Falcons.

The first game of the playoffs was won by Brookside, 13-11, as Glen Alphin pitched and batted his team into the playoff lead.

"Bear" Marin was the losing pitcher, but helped his own cause by batting three for five.

The second game was won by the Buzzards, 8-7, as Bill Pollari's single in the bottom half of the seventh brought across the winning runs.

Pitcher Jack Hummel received credit for the win.

The third game also was taken by the Buzzards, 9-7, with Hummel again the winning pitcher, backed up by some lusty hitting from third baseman Dave Saylor and center-fielder Don Frank, both batting four for five.

Qualifying Rounds
For Jr. Tourney
To Begin Monday

Qualifying play for the Newark Country Club Junior Golf Tournament will begin next Monday, and the annual junior golf luncheon will be held next Thursday at 1 p.m., at the local clubhouse. Chairman Ruth Waggaman announced this morning.

In last week's junior golf events, low gross scores for 9-11-year-olds were turned in by Bob Wescott, 49; Ronald Mitchell, 52; Parker Anderson, 56; and John Dollins, 57 for the six-hole route.

Low net of 13 was carded by Mike Perry, with Woody Pollard, Mary Lou Perry and Betsy Dollins scoring 16's.

Sandy Scott won the nine-hole event with a low net of 30.

Delaware Duck Season Sliced By 20 Days Along With All Atlantic Flyway States

Delaware's duck hunting season, along with all states on the Atlantic Flyway, has been reduced from 60 to 40 days. In the Diamond State, the legal lid will be lifted for 1959 waterfowl scatter-gunning at noon on Tuesday, Nov. 17, to continue through Dec. 26 at sunset, excepting Sundays. The Maryland and New Jersey seasons have not been announced, but they share in the 20 day slice.

Bag limits remain the same—slim—with four ducks, including but one canvasback, one redhead, and one ruddy duck. Two wood ducks may be taken—an increase of one over last year.

The State Board of Game and Fish Commissioners decides the season for Delaware within dates set by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and for the time set by the service.

Norman G. Wilder, Delaware director of conservation, said the opening was set to avoid confusion with the opening of the upland game and two-day deer seasons.

The shotgun season for deer in Delaware is Nov. 13 and 14. The upland game season for rabbits, cock pheasants and quail opens Nov. 20 and runs to Jan. 2.

"August is the month when the body in the office tries to get both week ends meet."—Earl

Canada geese are expected as numerous as last fall. The season on geese remains at 60 days—daily bag limit of two birds.

Delaware could, under the new rules, have 50 days of duck hunting, but the limit would be reduced to three ducks per bag.

The brant season is the same as the goose season and the bag possession limit of brant is also the same.

After opening day shooting is done, the shooting hours were set for one hour before sunrise to sunset.

The length of seasons are determined by waterfowl breeding conditions in Canada, Alaska, and upper tier of Middle Atlantic Western states.

The reduction in the length of the duck season was made as a result of the drought conditions in the United States, the provinces of Canada, and in Alaska.

A congregational meeting will be held immediately following morning worship service in the Christiana Presbyterian Church this Sunday.

The annual Presbyterian Sunday School picnic has been scheduled for this Saturday at the Memorial Building at 2 p.m. The group will be supplying its own picnic. A program of games and entertainment has been planned, and a prize drawing will be held. The picnic will be held at the Christiana Presbyterian Church grounds. The date of the annual turkey dinner is set for Saturday, August 22.

Elder C. W. Cummings of Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church, former principal of Conrad High School, filled the Christiana pulpit last Sunday.

Vacation guest speaker this Sunday in the Christiana Methodist Church will be the Rev. William Owens, associate executive director of the Methodist Country House. The Christiana Methodist Social has scheduled a peach festival for Saturday, Aug. 29, on the church grounds. A ham and chicken salad platter also will be served.

Seventeen boys of Christiana Scout Troop 75, accompanied by Scoutmaster Don McLaughlin and family, spent last week at Camp Rodney. Taking advantage of fine weather, the boys engaged in swimming, boating and shooting. Awards and advancements were earned which will be made official at a court of honor next month.

A group of Scouts will attend the fourth Annual All-Star football game at Newark on Saturday, and an expedition to Fort Delaware is planned for the latter part of August.

Thursday, Sept. 10, will mark the official opening of the Christiana-Salem Elementary School, with all teachers from grades 1 to 6 returning to their former posts. Joseph Sokol, former social studies teacher at Christiana, will teach at Oglethorpe Junior High School, where seventh, eighth, and ninth graders of the Christiana-Salem area are enrolled.

New students at the Christiana school, both first graders and new residents in the district, should be registered at the school office before the opening of school on Sept. 10. No registrations will be taken on the first day, but the school office is open daily, 8-12 p.m. and 1-3 p.m. for advance registration, according to Principal Sidney McClain.

Vacation Notes

Stephens Speaks On World Future At Rotary Meeting

Thomas J. R. Stephens addressed the Newark Rotary Club last Monday night on the future of the world in the light of present scientific knowledge.

Stephens made these predictions:

1. Continued glacial cycles, first hotter and then colder, with a 100-foot rise in sea level likely from melting of polar ice before the next cooling-off period begins.
2. Exhaustion of the earth's natural resources.
3. A change in the human diet with meat de-emphasized as the population increases.
4. Necessity for limitation of population.
5. Survival of the adaptable—not of the fittest for existing conditions but of those who adjust best to changing conditions.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton
U. of D. Agricultural Extension Service

This is the season when vitamin-rich vegetables are abundant and quality good. The most plentiful are sweet corn, onions, cucumbers, radishes, peppers, cabbage, tomatoes and potatoes. Most of these vegetables are selling at the same price as last week, however, a few are wearing lower price tags.

Cucumbers are as cheap as five cents each for locally grown, and shipped-in, waxed cucumbers cost a few cents more. Now is the time to buy cucumbers in quantity to pickle. When buying in volume, the price is much cheaper, also.

Look for cucumbers that are firm, fresh-looking, well-shaped and of good color. When cucumbers are withered or shriveled they are tough and bitter. Over-maturity is indicated by a puffy appearance and dull or yellowish skin. And because of their rubbery flesh and hard seeds, they make very poor eating.

The only increase in fresh fruit prices this week came on California Valencia oranges—up two cents. Cantaloupes, lemons, Bartlett pears, green apples, and plums are all a penny or two cheaper.

Watermelon has dropped in price the most of any fruit. At many roadside stands, average-sized melons are selling as low as three for $1.

Peaches continue to be the best news at the fruit counter. The peach season is now at its peak with prices ranging from seven to 15 cents a pound. If you are going to can, freeze or pickle peaches, now is the time to do it.

Beef is a "big special" on many meat counters this week. Just about every cut is cheaper, even hamburger. Smoked ham, teen-age turkeys, Cornish hens, bacon, frankfurters and chickens are offered at lower prices this weekend.
