NEWARK MOTORISTS URGED TO 'DOUBLE-UP'

Plan To Aid Drivers Pool Cars Meets Little Response

Lagging response to the volunteer plan begun last week, seeking to aid Newark motorists working out of town in "double-up" or take on additional passengers caused those in charge to renew urging for such drivers to register. Persons without cars seeking transportation as passengers are also asked to register.

Local rationing officials, who suggested the plan, still feel there are many local car owners driving out of town to work daily and not yet doubling-up with others in conserving gas and tires in conformance with the rationing program.

The plan now organized calls for all motorists seeking to join groups whose members will alternate in the use of their cars to file their names at the office of The Newark Post, which has volunteered to act as the registration center.

Names of motorists will be accepted here, with the following information requested: name, address, phone number, number of passengers able to carry, place of work, days of work, time leave Newark, and time return.

When sufficient names are secured, plans can be worked out bringing together groups who can conveniently travel together. Place your name on file here and you may find several traveling your route and glad to alternate with you in the use of their cars. All motorists not yet "doubling-up" are urged to take advantage of the plan as soon as possible.

MISSIONARY RETURNING FROM CHINA

Mabel S. Jones Arriving On The Gripsholm

Mabel S. Jones, sister of Robert T. Jones, of W. Main St., is expected to arrive in this country soon aboard the Gripsholm as one of the Americans being repatriated in exchange for Japanese Diplomats and prisoners held in this country. Long a missionary in China, she was made a prisoner by the Japanese after Pearl Harbor.

In a letter to her brother received this week, Miss Jones stated that the Gripsholm had left a Portuguese East Africa port on July 23 and will arrive at an unspecified port here possibly this week.

Miss Jones' letter described her grim experiences in war-torn China following America's entrance in the conflict. Living in Showshien at the time, she was taken prisoner by the Japs on May 8, six months after Pearl Harbor, and was sent under custody to Peng-pa.

Now released, she is one of the group being exchanged for Japanese civilians held in this country. Her trip has been a circuitous one, the first leg being by Japanese steamer to Lorenzo Marques in Portuguese East Africa, where she was transferred to the Gripsholm for the final leg home.

Miss Jones was last in Newark about seven or eight years ago. Her recent letter was the first Mr. Jones had heard from her since last August, although he knew of her inclusion in the group of repatriates through the Mission Board.

HOUSING PROJECT

Framework on about 20 houses has been started at the Federal project on the Wilson tract, with six already enclosed and roofs completed except for shingling. Aim is to have about forty houses fully completed by Labor Day, say those in charge.

Only obstacle at present is the scarcity of carpenters. With 70 to 75 now employed, officials are looking for about 100 more union carpenters.

All material has arrived, and the sewerage is virtually completed with over 700 feet laid. Problems of water system installation have been cleared up, it was said.

Newark School Head

Supt. C. E. Douglass

SCHOOLS TO OPEN HERE WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 9

Early Registration Urged; Industrial Arts Post Likely To Remain Vacant

Newark Public schools will open Wednesday, September 9, with a full program of classes scheduled, announces Superintendent C. E. Douglass. A meeting of the entire faculty will be held the day preceding.

In urging early registration of pupils, officials announce the school office is open daily, where details of registration, choice of subjects, and matters incident to the school opening may be attended to at any time. Officials hope for cooperation on the part of parents to expedite the work of preparation for the fall term.

Little confusion or difficulty is expected on the first day of school, when a complete schedule of classes will get underway. Officials, working throughout the summer, have the school organization ready to function without holdups. Schedule cards have been prepared, giving each pupil an outline of his studies and rooms throughout the day.

The post of Industrial Arts instructor, still vacant on the Newark staff, is not expected to be filled this fall. Unable to secure an instructor, owing to the wartime teacher shortage, school officials find it impossible to carry out a complete Industrial Arts program.

One shop class, however, will be held daily in the sixth period, being open to boys of the upper grades who give some assurance they will make eventual use of their training in the war effort.

Other students who have registered for the Industrial Arts, will have had new assignments made for them.

Response Continues Slow In Siren Fund Drive With Only $658.36 Contributed

The Newark Siren Fund passed the one-quarter mark this week as contributions continued to dribble in. However, with $2,000 actually needed for this purpose approximately $1,500 still remains to be raised from residents, organizations and firms within the Newark Area.

Rural residents should cooperate at least to the extent of defraying the cost of sirens to be erected in their immediate neighborhood. With members of the Air Raid Warden units active as a result of a meeting held Sunday, it is hoped that the fund will soon assume larger proportions.

Readers are urged to make their contribution at once. All checks should be made payable to Paul D. Lovett, treasurer, and may be mailed to Postoffice Box 60, or Phone 4941 and a representative will call for it.

Following is a report of contributions received to date:

OVER 5000 ATTENDANCE FOR SEASON AT POOL

Eight Weeks Project Under Ralph O'Connell Ended On Friday

Showing attendance figures for the season well over the 5000 mark, the University of Delaware Swimming Pool, under direction of Ralph A. O'Connell, physical instructor at the high school, wound up its eight-week program Friday as a part of the Newark Recreation Project.

Special event of the closing activities was a swim meet held Wednesday night, when teams from the North and South side of town competed, the latter winning 33-27.

Figures released by director O'Connell showed 5136 turned out during the season, for a daily average of 129.

A breakdown shows 1076 turned out for the boys morning session, 1188 for the girls morning period, while 2421 attended the mixed afternoon periods and 451 the evening adult sessions.

Highest single day's attendance was over 200, breaking all previous records at the indoor tank. Friday marked the conclusion of the Recreation Project, the Playground having held its closing session the same day.

Guests at the pool on Friday were members of both teams competing in the swim meet, the boys being admitted on complimentary tickets.

VICTORY BULL GIVEN NEWARK HIGH BOY

The award, one of the 1000 Victory Bulls donated by members of the Cattle Club and being presented to worthy youths throughout the country in an effort to stimulate interest in the breed, was made to Connell as youth showing the most promise in dairy pursuits in Pennsylvania.

The campaign is being conducted in several states, prize bulls going to outstanding boys or girls. Winner in Delaware was H. Roy Collison, of Harrington, who also was awarded his bull at the Chambers Rock Farm yesterday.

Vernon Connell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Connell, of Landenberg, Pa., will be a senior this year at Newark High School, where he is an outstanding student in vocational agriculture under F. T. Warrington. The youth first gained recognition through an essay contest sponsored by the Pure Bred Cattle Assn., when his theme "Why My Dad Should Raise Pure Breds" took second prize.

In the spring, he entered the Victory Bull Campaign and was selected the winner for Pennsylvania on the basis of his general qualifications, past work, record as a student, plus the promise he shows in dairy pursuits.

TRAINING COURSE

Several vacancies have occurred in the machine tool operation and welding courses sponsored by the Newark Public Schools as part of the War Production Training Program with classes in Evans Hall, University of Delaware.

Coordinator M. James Parsons announced that new openings are available due to placement of men in defense industries on the basis of their training in the course.

Officials request persons interested to apply as soon as possible.

Applications for the course have been numerous, an extra class being established last April to take care of the overflow.

Persons interested should report first to the Delaware Employment Service, with offices in the Academy Building, Newark.

Dr. Cox, well-known local dentist, has been commissioned as a First Lieutenant in the Medical Corps of the U. S. Army. He will leave on Monday to report to the Air Force Replacement Bureau at Miami Beach, Florida.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT BY RATIONING BOARD

Workers Needed To Assist With OPA Work At Armory Office

Volunteer workers are being sought by the Newark Rationing and War Price Board, with headquarters in the Armory, to relieve the mounting burden on the regular staff. Ready employment will be found for anyone wishing to volunteer for this important work, say those in charge.

Present plans call for one morning and one afternoon shift or two volunteers each Monday through Friday, with a single shift on Saturday. Those wishing to volunteer should register with Mrs. F. Allyn Cooch of the local office of Civilian Defense.

In a recent radio address stressing the importance of such work, F. X. Gallagher, State Supervisor of Volunteer Personnel, said the following:

"Volunteers are essential to the success of the O.P.A. program because:

(1) The responsibility for securing the economic fabric of the nation, which is O.P.A.'s job, is a task of such proportions that the government of the United States could not possibly afford to pay all of the people who are required to assist in the work.

(2) The success of this program, which reaches into every home and touches the life of every individual, rests upon the complete understanding and wholehearted cooperation of the people themselves. In times like these, every American man and woman becomes, in practice, a civil servant.

(3) Only on the basis of "neighbor serving neighbor" can the complete resources of the nation be shared—quickly and equitably.

(4) If the O.P.A. is to achieve its aim and purpose its needs must operate in complete accord with the very essence of the democratic principle—free effort on the part of a free people.

(5) We must prove, to ourselves by ourselves, that democracy is right for us. This accomplished, no power on earth can destroy our heritage."

SCHOOLS ASK EARLY REGISTRATION OF PRIMARY STUDENTS

Newark Public School officials have appealed to parents of pupils who will enter Newark schools, for the first time, in September, to register such pupils without delay. Children previously registered for the fall term need not apply. Students from Christiansa, Glasgow, McClellandsville and Milford Cross Roads are not included in the request for early registration.

Registrations are accepted daily, until noon, at the office located in the high school building. Supt. C. E. Douglass has stated that birth certificates must be presented upon registration.

The cooperation of parents will greatly facilitate the organization of schools preparatory to the beginning of the September term and also prove to be of benefit to all concerned.

It is essential that registrations be completed as early as possible in order that students may be assigned to their respective grades and home-room groups.

FINANCIAL BACKING URGED FOR DEFENSE

Much Needed To Equip Town Properly, Says Defense Head

Strongly emphasizing the need for financial backing for the work of Civilian Defense in the Newark area, A. W. Perry, speaking at the Civilian Defense meeting Sunday in the high school auditorium, pointed out that at least $5000 is required to equip the community adequately for an emergency.

Much of the money is needed to defray the cost of seven sirens soon to be installed in this area, which, said the vice-chairman, are a vital Defense need in Newark.

The Bell Telephone Co., he said, is already engaged in work preparatory to setting up the warning devices, which are expected to arrive in the near future.

Other speakers at the meeting outline the work of the various defense services. Warden duties, traffic control, and the work of the auxiliary police came in for discussion. Newman Rose, blackout officer, recently returned from Shanghai, spoke on air raid shelters to be established in various sites about town. He also exhibited motion pictures which he took of the bombing of Shanghai.

C. Montgomery Palmer, liaison officer, speaking on organization and personnel gave a complete picture of the Civilian Defense set-up. Under the Council six groups are coordinated concerning which full details were given.

The police department with regular and about 130 auxiliary men heads the list. The warden division, under A. Reiff, consists of about 150 air and fire wardens, and includes the blackout division and the Emergency Food and Housing units, as well as the Red Cross canteens. The Emergency Medical Division embraces auxiliary stations, nurses aides units and the Red Cross motor corps. The Emergency Public Work division, under George Ramsey, consists of demolition and clearance squads and road repair crews.

The sixth group is the Emergency Utility Service, also under George Ramsey, which includes the air raid warning system, in charge of A. E. Tomhave with 200 volunteer workers and more needed.

ROTARIANS TO SPONSOR BOYS' TRIP

Winning Team In Playground Loop To See Wilm. Game

The winning team of the Playground baseball league will earn a trip to a Blue Rock game in Wilmington under the auspices of the Newark Rotary Club.

Plans for the trip were made at the weekly meeting in the College Inn, Monday evening, presided over by president Russell T. Silk.

Victors in the league have not been decided as yet, the play-off getting underway this week between the Darkhorses and Southside. The winner will make the excursion.

Announcement was also made to the members that, following the August 31 session, a directors meeting will be held. Each chairman will be called on for a report on proceedings of his committee for the coming year.

On Labor Day, September 7, the regular meeting will be dispensed with. It was announced.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Newark New Century Club, under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Haroldson, is conducting a series of Friday night dances, at the New Century Club, for the young people of Newark.

All young people of Newark are invited to these Friday night dances. The hours are from 8:30 until midnight with members of the New Century Club and other interested parents as chaperones.

GAS RATION BOOKS LOST DIFFICULT TO REPLACE

OPA Director Offers List Of "Do's And Don'ts"

Motorists who lose their gasoline ration books face a difficult procedure if they seek to replace them, and for this reason were cautioned recently by James L. Luke, Jr., State Director, Office of Price Administration, to take extreme care against loss or theft of their books. Mr. Luke issued a list of "Do's and Don'ts" for motorists regarding gasoline rationing. Some "Don'ts" are:

"Don't keep your ration book in the glove compartment of your car; don't under any consideration give or lend your ration book to anyone else to use; don't take stamps out of your book to use in loose form; for this makes them void; don't fail to sign your ration book; don't attempt to use No. 2 stamps until September 22. Until that date, only the No. 1 stamps are valid; don't succumb to the notion that you can get replacement of your book on the false claim that it has been lost. This has been unsuccessfully attempted; don't use gasoline obtained on B books for purposes other than those for which it was granted, because you cannot get an additional B book until after expiration of at least three months; don't use gasoline obtained on C books for purposes other than those for which it was granted, because you cannot get an additional C book until the date stated in your 'tailored' C book; don't buy a book offered to you as counterfeit or stolen, because when detected it will be valueless to you; don't use up all your No. 1 stamps on A book now, because your No. 2 stamps are not valid until September 22.

A list of "DO'S" stressed are: Do guard your ration book as you guard your money; do study the date on your book; do make a separate record of the number of your book and other data; do keep a record of the number of stamps used. This is required in the event that you apply for replacement of lost or stolen books; do always hand book to filling station attendant and see him remove stamps; do get the name and address of anyone who offers to sell you a book and send it (anonymously if you wish) to Rationing Division, OPA, Empire State Building, New York; do note name and address of any filling station which offers to sell you gasoline without taking stamps and send this in like manner to the OPA office; do drive slowly, park carefully and observe other simple rules for conserving gasoline and rubber; do share your car at every opportunity with neighbors and friends; do use public transportation systems wherever possible and reasonably convenient.

Mr. Luke said the importance of avoiding loss of books is emphasized in the complicated procedure required to get replacements. Applications for replacements must be made in writing, under oath or affirmation, and must set forth:

The name and address of the applicant—the class, date and place of issuance and expiration date of such book or coupons; a description of the motor vehicle, boat, equipment or process for which the book or coupons were issued; a statement of the number and type of unused coupons so lost, destroyed or mutilated; and a description of the manner and circumstances of the loss, destruction or mutilation. If the Board is satisfied that such book or coupons have been lost or destroyed, or so damaged or mutilated as to be rendered unfit for use, it may, in its discretion, issue a duplicate book or duplicate bulk coupons of the same class and in the same quantity as those sought to be replaced; it shall clearly note on the cover of any duplicate book issued the same expiration date, if any, that appeared on the original book.

No person receiving a duplicate book or coupons under the above conditions shall use, attempt to use, or permit the use of the original book or coupons, but shall surrender such original book or coupons, if damaged or mutilated, to the Board at the time of issuance of the duplicate book; in the event that a lost book or lost coupons are found after duplicates have been issued, such original book or coupons shall be surrendered to the Board forthwith.

No. 8 Sugar Stamp Worth 5 Lbs. In 10-Week Period

James L. Luke, Jr., State Director, OPA, announced Saturday that Stamp No. 8 will be valid for the purchase of 5 pounds of sugar any time in the ten-week period between August 23 and October 31. The period is thus terminated at the end of a calendar month, so that if found desirable future ration periods may be set to coincide with the calendar month.

The stamp value will permit the disposition of stocks of five, ten and twenty-five pound packages of sugar now in the hands of refiners, wholesalers and retailers. It will also eliminate temporarily the burden of repackaging into smaller units now assumed by retailers.

A rationing guide is being issued to instruct local boards how to issue war ration books to consumers whose excess sugar is used up during the period of validity of Stamp number 8.

COVER CROP PROTECTS SOIL THRU THE WINTER

Garden Letter Also Advises On Storage Of Vegetables

For those who will use the same area for their garden next year, a wise practice is to seed a cover crop that will protect the soil this coming winter and add to the garden's fertility. Gardeners are advised to seed a mixture of crimson clover and rye grass at the rate of 10 pounds of crimson clover and 15 pounds of rye grass per acre.

Those suggestions are contained in the fourth and last of a series of Home Food Production letters which have been prepared by Eugene P. Brasher, truck crop specialist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service. Other suggestions included in this fourth letter deal with the storage of vegetables. Now is the time, says Brasher, to begin thinking about storage of the vegetables to be produced in the fall garden. Vegetables to be stored should be harvested in the best eating stage, and should be free from disease, cuts, bruises, and insect damage. Their storage place should provide the optimum conditions and temperature, moisture and ventilation. If a regular permanent storage space is not available, he recommends that outdoor mounds or other facilities be constructed.

Illustrated in the garden letter is an outdoor storage mound with complete directions for its construction. In addition there are specific storage suggestions for each of the fall garden crops.

Persons who are not on the mailing lists of the County Extension Agents may receive a copy of this letter by writing to their County Agricultural Agent, or to the Extension Service, University of Delaware, Newark, Delaware.

FUEL CONSERVATION WEEK

Because the fuel situation is considered critical in the northeastern states and the Pacific northwest, where a large percentage of our war material is produced, the week of August 17-22 has been proclaimed the "War on Fuel Waste Week."

The cooperation of everyone concerned with the utilization, production, distribution and transportation of fuel is asked not only in conserving fuel oil but in conversion from oil to coal wherever possible.

The following pledge to conserve fuel in every possible way in the interest of uninterrupted war production is offered to remind the general public of the seriousness of the situation and the steps that may be taken to relieve it.

The Fuel User's Pledge

1. I agree to:
2. Order my fuel early
3. Keep my heating plant clean
4. Have my heating plant inspected
5. Have repairs made during August-September
6. Install storm windows, weather-stripping, insulation
7. Operate my heating system according to directions
8. Prevent smoke whenever possible
9. Keep room temperatures at 68-70
10. Avoid over-heating
11. CONSERVE HEAT AND FUEL AT ALL TIMES.

CONCERT SERIES TO BE GIVEN

Newark is one of about 200 communities in the United States served by the Community Concerts Incorporated, privileged to hear the best in music for the smallest possible price.

During our summer months many of the artists sponsored by this organization are singing in Central and South America. Formerly they all went to Europe. Others are coaching, teaching, or preparing the programs used by them during the winter seasons in United States and Canada.

Glancing over two musical publications—Musical America and The Musical Courier, we find that Zinka Milanov, Bruna Castagna, Frederick Jagel and Leonard Warren sang Aida in the Teatro Colon opera in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Bruna Castagna will be remembered as our outstanding artist of last season.

Rose Bampton, Rosa Pauly, Raoul Jobin and Norman Cordop are also singing in Argentina.

Other places where Community Concert sponsored musicians are heard are Haana; Lima, Peru; Caracas, Venezuela; Mexico City; and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

In these days when the countries of North and South America feel the need of closer friendship, music is a great force drawing us together. We enjoy the same artists, listen to the same musical compositions, react artistically in the same way.

Not only do our artists go to South America, many of them have been giving benefits and performing for army camps. Lawrence Tibbett, baritone, Joseph Szigeti, violinist, Rise Stevens mezzo-soprano, Helen Jepson, soprano, Yehudi Menuhin, violinist, and Gregor Piatigorsky, cellist are among this group. Robert and Gaby Cassadesus are teaching master classes this summer.

All the above artists are available to Community Concert Associations. Some cost much more than others. It is up to the Newark Association to secure so many memberships that anyone desired may be secured. The Newark campaign begins in late September. This is our opportunity.

CONVERSION OF OIL BURNERS TO COAL URGED

Oil Coordinator
H. L. Ickes Warns
Of Acute Fuel
Oil Scarcity

Easteners who heat their homes with oil were urged today by Petroleum Coordinator for War Harold L. Ickes to change to the use of coal wherever possible and to do so immediately because an adequate supply of heating oils cannot now be guaranteed for next winter.

The Coordinator's action was based on a report of the Committee on Petroleum Economics of the Petroleum Industry War Council, which recommended the conversion—"to the extent practicable before the coming winter."

Deliveries of crude oil and petroleum to the East Coast will be "entirely inadequate to take care of the sharply increased winter requirements."

Coordinator Ickes said: "These, then are the facts as the industry sees them."

"Obviously, there is no one today who can guarantee that there will not be a critical deficiency of fuel oil supplies in the coming winter."

"Our difficulties can be attributed, to what has happened to the tankers which normally furnished the East Coast States with nearly all their oil supply."

"Accordingly, it has been necessary to replace the tanker facilities with overland and safe-water facilities. It has not been possible, however, to develop such substitute facilities to meet the normal needs for oil the the East Coast area."

"Stocks of heating oils ordinarily reach their low point about the end of March and thereafter are built back steadily. This year, instead of the decline being checked by the end of March, heating oil stocks have been further decreased by about 3,000,000 barrels."

"There is no prospect now of our being able to build them up again to required levels."

"These facts, taken together, spell to me only one thing: that all householders using oil heat cannot expect to heat their homes with oil next winter."

"Fuel dealers and heating contractors should be prepared to survey installations and give estimates of cost and to convert heating plants. The cost should be nominal to the home owner who formerly fired with coal and preserved his grates when he converted to oil. In those cases where the grates have been lost or destroyed, replacements are and will be available. As a result of action by the War Production Board, they can be obtained without priority ratings."

"A survey of available needed materials, including not only grates but dampers and controls, is now under way. Already it is known that the supply must be greatly augmented. When this study is completed within the very near future, the facts will be given general publication."

"In the meantime, it is my hope that each consumer of fuel oil on the East Coast will realize that his individual heating comfort next winter is at stake and that he will act now before it is too late."

"SMASH THE 7TH COLUMN"

We have been aroused by the actions of Nazi spies and saboteurs captured in this country, yet we let the menace of the 7th Column go unnoticed and unattended to.

Carelessness is America's 7th Column. Carelessness is causing more waste of our human and material resources, more confusion and delay in our Victory Program, than all the rumors started by the 6th Column and the sabotage by the 5th Column.

This 7th Column must be smashed! Not by passing laws or increasing the force and efficiency of our Federal Bureau of Investigation. It will be smashed only when the people of this great nation realize that every accident, industrial, highway, or home is an aid to the Axis and prolongs this war.

The Delaware Safety Council believes that smashing the 7th Column is the greatest contribution that the people of a country at war can make to its government.

"Idle Hands Work For Hitler." Remember that slogan and learn a lesson from it. Whether a man is killed or injured during his working hours at the plant or office or whether the accident occurs during his off hours, the time has been wasted and cannot be replaced.

One-fourteenth of the accidents that hinder our efforts for "Victory" are occupational disabilities, accidents which occur at the plant while on the job. Thirteen-fourteenths of the accidents are non-occupational disabilities, accidents which occur off the job, on our way home from work, at home, or during your leisure hours. That is the 7th Column!

Let's smash the 7th Column and help bring Victory to this nation.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

A short time ago President Roosevelt appointed Elmer Davis as Chief of the Office of War Information and that journalist has done a swell job in opening the news channels in a way that has met the approval of the American press.

In view of the above there has been considerable feeling expressed in Washington and throughout the country over proceedings that have been instituted against the Chicago Tribune, New York Daily News and the Washington Times-Herald for having published news reports of the Battle of the Coral Sea. The Chicago Tribune had one of its best correspondents, Stanley Johnston, at the scene of the action, and he "scooped" the world with his story. The Chicago Tribune claims that it did not violate any military regulations or disclose any military secrets. That paper will defend what it calls the freedom of the press. The matter is very important and undoubtedly newspaper men throughout the country will watch any proceedings in the courts with great interest.

MINIMIZING DROP IN LIVING STANDARD

You, as a consumer, can do something about that ever-present bogey, the high cost of living, by taking advantage of the information that is being distributed by retail stores in all fields.

The chain systems pioneered this kind of work, and thousands of independent stores have joined in. In the food field, retailers are cooperating aggressively in the National Nutrition Campaign. Through advertising, handbills, posters, store displays, etc., they are showing the housewife how she may prepare nutritious, soundly-balanced and appetizing meals at minimum cost. As nutrition experts have long pointed out, a good diet need not be costly—and many costly diets are inadequate in the minerals and vitamins the body needs for health. Some of the least expensive foods are richest in vitamin content—and they may be prepared and served in a wide variety of forms to avoid monotony.

In other fields, stores are doing a similar good work. Shortages of metals, certain kinds of cloth, rubber and other items have made it necessary to produce and sell substitutes. The stores have cooperated with manufacturers and chemists in developing the best and the least expensive substitutes for scarce and costly commodities. As time goes on, more and more substitutes will appear—and retailers can advise you on their merits.

Retailers are doing a big job in minimizing the drop in our standard of living, to the benefit of both your health and your pocketbook.

WHAT WE WANT IS TIRES

The charge that oil companies have deliberately blocked the production of artificial rubber for mercenary reasons is an example of political buck-passing of the worst type.

One of the largest oil companies recently stated categorically that it "supports and will fight for just one program for the production of synthetic rubber. That is, whatever program the government adopts to give our nation the most rubber in the shortest time, from any raw material whatsoever, and with the least possible drain on vital construction materials." That is the policy of the industry generally.

What has delayed the synthetic rubber program is inexcusable political manhandling. Bureau after bureau has stuck its finger into the pie. The public has been fed one conflicting opinion after another. Only recently has any order come out of the chaos—and only recently has any real start toward solving the problem been made.

Whether synthetic rubber can best be made from petroleum, grain alcohol or anything else is a chemical problem, not a political problem. The oil industry, like the rest of the country, wants results. Its interest, like the interest of all of us, lies in getting tires in the shortest possible time, irrespective of the process used to manufacture them.

State's Tomato Crop Cut By Heavy Rains

The state's tomato crop has been cut more than 15 per cent already as a result of the heavy rains, according to estimates of agricultural experts.

George M. Worrlow, New Castle County agricultural agent, said that despite this cut he thought farmers would be able to fill quotas set for tomatoes early this spring. He pointed out that there was a large increase in the acreage for this crop. A continuation of the rain would cause damage to so much higher, he warned.

Soy beans, another crop farmers were asked to increase, require plenty of rain and are growing well, Mr. Worrlow said.

Peaches in New Castle County have been damaged by the rain but to what extent it is difficult to estimate. Lima beans are another crop damaged slightly by the rain but sweet corn is progressing well.

VARIED PROGRAM PLANNED FOR FAIR

Reading Fete To Offer Racing, Vaudeville And Circus Attractions

Grand circuit harness horse racing, motorized thrills and exhibitions of daredevilry, vaudeville, circus and hippodrome attractions, a spectacular musical revue, contests between farm groups and fireworks pageantry every night will be combined to give the Reading Victory Fair, Berks County's 28th annual harvest festival, the biggest variety program ever offered in the eastern fair zone when it opens for an eight day run on Sunday, September 13.

Modified restrictions on motor thrill shows from the stern edict originally issued by Joseph B. Eastman from the Office of Defense Transportation permits the famous Jimmy Lynch Death Dodgers to proceed with their contracts for neck risking feats. Racing of autos and exhibition driving are still under the ban but the motor mania this time will use jalopy cars that are relieved from the junk pile and tuned up for a final destructive orgy of smashing and crashing exhibitions.

The Jimmy Lynch Death Dodgers, under the personal direction of ingenious Irish Horan, will open the fair with the thrill program on Sunday afternoon, September 13. From Monday through Friday the grand circuit harness horse thoroughbreds will have the raceway. Four great futurities for two and three year old trotters and pacers are to be featured, together with free for all competitions and many class races. Over $22,000 will be paid in cash purses.

Each night on an open air stage, largest in the east, George A. Hamid will present in his 1942 Victory Parade, a musical revue involving more than 100 talented artists and Gae Foster's chorine beauties, The Roxyettes.

But the thrills, racing, entertainment and fireworks, despite their magnitude, will be just incidental to the mammoth agricultural exposition and livestock show which this year promises to exceed those of past years. It will be Pennsylvania's to America's call for more and better farm products to support the war effort, according to Secretary Charles W. Swoyer.

AVIATION COURSE PLANNED

New Course At Newark School To Stress Math

A course in aviation, laying stress principally on science and mathematics, will be offered upper grade students in the Newark High School, said Superintendent C. E. Douglass this week.

Purpose of the new course is not to produce aviators, emphasize those in charge, but to develop air mindedness. The program is being adopted by numerous schools attempting to keep a step ahead of the times, preparing the coming generation not only for changed conditions of wartime but for the increased emphasis certain to be placed on aviation and kindred subjects in the post war era.

The course will be elective and will conform with the recommendations of the national government and the Department of Education in their call for greater stress on science and mathematics in the high schools of the country.

Demand of war industries for men with some technical training has caused educational authorities to intensify their instructions in such subjects.

Embarrassing Moment For One-Eyed Recruit

The sign over a door in the medical department of the induction center was highly efficient until a recruit, blind in one eye, approached it from his sightless side.

Clad in his birthday suit he popped through the door into a room full of stenographers, and hurried right out again.

Then he discovered the sign: "Do not enter this door if undressed."

FOR MOST OF US, A VACATION is a serious business which we approach with the stern determination to have a good time if it kills us.

As a result, we are in the habit of storming about the country on heated missions to the seashore or mountains, trailing candy wrappers and empty sun lotion bottles. The trip is a success if on returning we can boast to neighbors that we reached Lake Whatamallit in half the time it took last year, without a flat, and that if we hadn't been held up by traffic on the return trip we'd have reached home even sooner.

However, this year, the war has interrupted things somewhat, and the fact that Europe's fields are being littered with tanks and wrecked planes prevents us from littering the home forests with chewing gum wrappers and half consumed sandwiches.

MANY, OF COURSE, HAVE ALREADY undergone their first wartime vacation, but there are a few still faced with the prospect of a whole week (some unfortunately with two) in which they will have absolutely nothing to do but stay home.

Before them looms even horrible days in which they will be solely their own masters.

Sensing the gravity of the thing, newspapers and magazines have sought to allay the crisis by filling their feature pages with solicitous hints on how to keep from stewing daisies and singing tra-la by the third day.

Picnic in the back yard, they urge. Tear off the garage roof and build a new one, dig holes and fill them up, play lawn games. See your psychologist regularly and you'll pull through.

BUT DESPITE THE CONCERN OF the press, most of us face a vacation at home planless and demoralized. We'll just grit the teeth and carry on.

Cost what it may, the best plan would be to lie in bed until noon, hiding as long as possible from a whole day completely on your own resources. After breakfast, you can neatly elude the spectre of liberty by dashing to the hammock and killing the afternoon. The evenings will be less of a strain. You can always knock them for a loop at the movies.

A week of this and you'll return to work disgustingly healthy, bounding with energy, and eager to get back to sanity and slavery.

It's a hard life, but then, you know, this is war.

FOOTBALL DROPPED BY 52 COLLEGES

War Cause Of Most Changes, Survey Reveals

New York University, Gonzaga, Centenary, and the Ramblers of St. Mary's in Texas were among the fifty-two colleges which have given up football since last season, a recent survey disclosed.

The war was regarded as the major reason in the changes. Some 61 other colleges, it was revealed, have hired new grid mentors during the year.

Many coaches have undertaken physical education work in the armed services, among them being big-timers such as Bernie Bierman of Minnesota, Jim Crowley of Fordham, Sam Barry of Southern California and Ray Wolf of North Carolina all now in the Navy's toughening-up program.

A majority of the schools putting the uniforms in mothballs for the duration were institutions away from densely populated areas and relying for profit on spectators who lived at a distance. Tire and gas rationing threatened to cut into the gate receipts while added equipment and transportation costs would have slashed into the profits.

Undermanned Kansas Ball Club Signs The Bat Boy

Hutchison, Kan., has gone the limit in a search for enough talent to finish the Western Association baseball race—they signed the batboy.

The local club, its personnel riddled by war calls and player transfers to other teams in the Pittsburgh Pirate chain, pressed 20-year-old Bob Fields, batboy since 1937, into duty as the regular catcher when the draft took their only remaining receiver.

The bespectacled Fields, who has never had any experience in organized ball, had no errors—and no hits—in his first game.

Ciro To Head Air Force Trainee Boxing Program

The Army this week announced the appointment of Private Joseph Ciro, 35, of Kansas City, to develop the boxing program for the Army Air Forces Replacement Training Center.

Ciro, middle western bantamweight boxing champion from 1924 to 1927, enlisted June 8 and was assigned to Jefferson Barracks, Mo. He was coach and boxing instructor for the Kansas City Golden Gloves team for seven years and trained National A. A. U. champions Chester Ellis, Tony Novak, and Jack Haley.

CAMDEN PATRONS CHECKED

OPA Investigating Race Fans With Extra Gas Books

OPA authorities are investigating allegations that patrons of the Garden State Race Track, near Camden, have been riding to races in cars issued liberalized gas rationing books.

A list of cars seen at the track with "S" and "C" stickers has been drawn up by OPA agents, said Nathan L. Jacobs, New Jersey OPA attorney.

"We are attempting to learn whether those cars have been at the track repeatedly or merely on single occasions," Jacobs said, adding that action revoking the supplemental units could be taken for violations of the supplemental gas ration applications, granted customarily for occupational reasons.

"The same circumstances apply in the case of taxicabs," Jacobs said, adding that a bus checkup at the track also was under way to determine if any were violating regulations.

The state Public Utility Commission found last week that several buses of Glick and Bingeman, Inc., reserved for war workers, had halted for passengers at the Garden State Track in violation of the provisions of the firm's special permit.

Fiber from a common mallow plant that grows wild in the West Indies, Central and South America, is being substituted in large quantities for East Indian jute in making batting and cord.

Presbies won the second half in the deciding game Monday night, when Playground, leading 12-3 in the last inning, forfeited the game and what seemed certain victory.

The Presbie win produced a tie for the league lead, Playground having won the first half going through undefeated.

Time not permitting further play, there will be no series for the league championship, the season winding up in a tie between Presbies and Playground.

In Monday night's game Playground led all the way, opening the scoring in the first with two runs on three walks and two hits. They notched three more in the fourth and four in the sixth on five hits, one a triple by Slack.

Presbies were held scoreless until the fourth when hits by Balling, Hancock, and McKenry drove in their only three runs.

Playground pounded out 10 hits, while the Presbies collected six. Topping the Playground batsmen was Baylis with three, Riley and Schaen getting two. Hancock and Balling led the Presbies with two hits, Sheaffer and McKenry getting one.

FIBREMEN FACE HOLLY OAK TONITE

To Meet In Shaughnessy Play-Off Tilt

Continental Fibre faces Holly Oak tonight on the home field in a preliminary series of the Shaughnessy playoff games being held in the Delaware Semi-Pro League.

Unable to get in the league playoff to decide the final standings due to weather conditions, officials announce that the final standings of the regular season is as follows: Pusey and Jones, first; Continental, second; Allied Kid, third; and Holly Oak, fourth.

Had the deciding league game been played, Continental might have regained first place, which it held most of the season.

On the basis of the final standings, Allied Kid and Pusey and Jones meet in a best-two-out-of-three game series, while Continental and Holly Oak hold a similar play off.

The final series between the winners of the preliminaries, will be a best-three-out-of-five series.

BROILER RESEARCH BEGINS AT SUBSTATION

A. E. Tomhave Directs Work As Study Program

Broiler production studies are being carried on at the new Delaware Agricultural Experiment Substation at Georgetown, reports A. E. Tomhave, head of the department of animal and poultry industry, of the University of Delaware. This research, which is under the direction of Tomhave, will be coordinated as far as possible with the poultry research program at the University of Delaware.

The new broiler house in which the work is being conducted was designed and planned by Tomhave and constructed under his supervision. It is a single-story building, 100 feet long and 40 feet wide, with a high ceiling and a large number of windows. It is equipped with a large number of broiler cages, and a large number of broiler chicks are being raised in it.

The research studies under way at the substation are being conducted by a group of poultry scientists from the University of Delaware and the University of Maryland. The studies are being conducted in order to determine the best methods of raising broiler chicks, and to determine the best methods of feeding them.

The research studies include (1) a study of the influence of number of chicks per cage on factors concerned with successful broiler production; (2) a study of the influence of sand, sawdust, ground corn cobs and shavings as litter for broiler chicks; (3) a study of the influence of a mineral material as an aid in keeping broiler pens clean; and (4) stirring of litter compared with non-stirring of litter as an aid in keeping broiler pens clean.

Broiler growers of the State are invited to visit the substation at any time and to acquaint themselves with the facilities and the work under way there.

$124,667 IN CREDIT LOANED DEL. FARMERS

The production credit system has advanced $124,667.80 to farmers in the three Delaware counties to help them produce their 1942 goals in the national "food for freedom" program of the United States Department of Agriculture. It was announced today by S. M. Harrington, secretary-treasurer of the Delaware Production Credit Association at Dover.

This is part of the $3,450,000 loaned to farmers throughout the states of Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Puerto Rico, which forms the second district of the Farm Credit Administration under which the production credit system operates.

Of the Delaware amount, $46,000 was loaned during the last six months of 1941 and $78,500 during the first six months of 1942.

Farmers used $41,500 of this amount to increase their daily production. Of this total, $29,000 was used to purchase animals, $11,500 for equipment and the balance for feed and other related items.

About $2,500 was used to increase the pork production in Delaware while the poultry industry used $79,500 of which $15,500 was for the purchase of chicks and $59,000 for the purchase of feed.

The production credit system is a program of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, which is authorized by the Federal Reserve Act to make loans to farmers for the purpose of increasing their production.

COME ON!
Let's Get It Over With!

FACTORY windows ablaze at night . . . long freights rolling by in the twilight . . . somewhere to the north, six bombers, motors idling, poised eastward on a runway in the gray dawn. The signs of American production.

O. K. Uncle Sam, we're with you.

Electricity, too, has rolled up its sleeves to "get this job over with." Turning the wheels of industry ever faster . . . helping produce greater quantities of better ships, shells, tanks and planes for our fighting forces.

For electricity is a vital part of all industries in this "all out" effort to end the war sooner—victoriously, to once again return to peaceful pursuits of helping to raise the American standard of living to still greater heights.

TIN DRIVE MEETS GOOD RESPONSE

Collections Successful Says Chairman

Opening collections of Newark's tin salvage drive held Monday and Tuesday met with good results, said K. W. Oberlin, Salvage Committee chairman yesterday. Although final tabulations are unavailable, a sizeable pile of tin cans and scrap has been collected at the disposal dump on E. Park Place.

Officials feel the response might have been greater since many residents with cans to give did not have them prepared when the truck arrived. Next month's collections are expected to bring greater returns.

Tin collections will be held regularly on Monday and Tuesday of the third week in each month for the duration.

With regard to the tin and metal campaign, officials wish to point out that many people are prejudiced against giving scrap because it goes to junk dealers.

The fact is, they stress, that waste dealers are the only agencies equipped to handle scrap. They cannot be bypassed and there is little necessity to since most are doing a fine, patriotic bit of work.

Those holding scrap material because of personal prejudice against junk dealers are merely aiding the enemy, say salvage heads. The government wants scrap now, and unless enough is secured war plants will have to shut down.

Salvage committees collecting waste sell the material to waste dealers, and the proceeds are used to defray expenses of Defense Councils or are donated to some worthy war effort group.

TAX TALK AT LIONS

Existing income tax exemptions will be greatly reduced, requiring single persons making $500 a year to file a return for the year 1942, Jesse S. Cooper, of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, told members of the Newark Lions Club at their weekly dinner meeting, Tuesday evening.

Bills currently before Congress will increase income tax payments by approximately 100 percent, Mr. Cooper stated, if passed. Exemptions for married persons will be cut from $1,500 to $1,250 with exemptions for dependents remaining at $400 each. Mr. Cooper said it is likely that a withholding law providing for payment of 1943 income tax will also be passed at this session of Congress.

Mr. Cooper was introduced by President Staats in the absence of Herbert Hollingsworth, program chairman for the evening. Frank Mayer was a guest at the meeting.

Preceding the program, President Staats awarded attendance pins to Wayne C. Brewer, for thirteen years consecutive attendance, and to Carroll W. Mumford, and Edward A. Curtis for perfect attendance during the past twelve months.

NEWARK BOY RATED AS METALSMITH

Chapman Marston Top Ranking Grad In Navy School

Chapman Marston, 26, of Pike Creek Road, Newark, recently graduated from the Aviation Metalsmith School as one of the top-ranking graduates in his class.

In recognition of his 87.60 average, he was promoted to the petty officer rating of Aviation Metalsmith, Third Class, and will probably be assigned to a Navy air unit for further duty.

Marston enlisted in the Navy, December 15, 1941, and was sent to Newport, R. I., for recruit training before his transfer to Jacksonville.

At the Navy's Service School, he went through an intensive course in aviation metal that included work in heat treating of metals, acetylene and arc welding, aviation alloys and cold steel forging.

"I am happy to be a part of the Navy, and I have nothing but praise for the Metalsmith school where I learned so much," Marston said in an interview.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Trowbridge Marston, the young Petty Officer attended Hotchkiss and Somerset Hills Schools.

SERVE CHEESE AND SERVE THE NATION

"During wartime when everything is becoming scarcer, it is a magnificent achievement and a tribute to dairy farmers and the cheese industry to have ample supplies, not only for use here at home, but also for our allies. It is a urge American consumers to eat more cheese. It is a rich source of food elements that are vital to good health."
