Curfew Lifted This Morning After Tuesday's Racial Riots

New Castle County Executive Wm. J. Conner Imposes
8 P.M. To 6 A.M. Curfew Following Tuesday Violence
In Wilmington; Newark Calm Thruout; Bans Removed

An 8 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew in effect for Newark since last Tuesday evening, was lifted this morning with the restoration of order after Tuesday's riots in nearby Wilmington. The only major incident in Newark, occurred Tuesday night when a Pennsylvania man set fire to gasoline-filled bottles at the Deer Park Hotel.

Public schools and the University of Delaware were closed Tuesday in observance of the death of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, assassinated last Thursday night in Memphis, Tenn., and production at the Chrysler automobile assembly plant in Newark was interrupted with absences on the Tuesday morning shift.

New Castle County Council Executive William J. Conner proclaimed a county-wide curfew on Tuesday, following the outbreak of violence with injuries, looting, and burning in the City of Wilmington.

Conner's curfew announced that "Whereas, a clear and present danger to health, life and safety of the people and property in New Castle County exists, and

"Whereas, it is deemed that the curfew and limitations hereafter set forth are necessary and proper in order to protect and preserve the health, life and safety of the people and property in New Castle County.

"Now, therefore, I, William J. Conner, county executive of New Castle County, Delaware, pursuant to my authority as chief of the government of New Castle County and pursuant to New Castle County Emergency Ordinance No. 68-8, do hereby proclaim that a state of emergency exists in New Castle County which demands the curfew and limitations hereafter provided:

"And I do hereby declare that all persons are prohibited from being on any street, road, park or public open space between the hours of 8 p.m. and 6 a.m., except those persons who are necessarily on such street or road by reason of their employment or a private emergency involving health, safety or protection of property.

"This limitation and curfew shall be in effect throughout New Castle County.

"This proclamation shall be effective at 4 p.m., April 9, 1968 and shall continue in effect until further proclamation by me."

"The curfew was lifted this morning.

Education Building Tours Scheduled Next Wednesday

New $2.9-Million Building
On Main Street To Be Open
Noon To 5 For Inspection

Next Wednesday, the offices, learning centers and classrooms of the $2.9-million college of education building on Main Street will be open for public inspection from noon to 5 p.m., with University of Delaware staff members on hand throughout the building to answer questions. Undergraduates familiar with the teaching center will serve as guides for afternoon tours.

Incorporated in the design to make this the most flexible academic facility on the campus, are science, language arts, reading, social studies and diagnostic centers.

The diagnostic center features two-way mirrors enabling students to observe techniques for testing children with special learning problems.

A specially designed teaching center provides for simultaneous observation of various teaching styles.

A specially equipped science room has individual electrical outlets for flexible manipulation of apparatus.

Also of interest to students and educators is the 907 lecture hall, acoustically designed to permit a normal speaking voice to be heard in all corners of the room.

A spokesman for the college said the open house has been planned instead of formal dedication because the faculty wanted opportunity to bring members of the local community into the building.

Refreshments will be served.

John W. Bengston Master Of Tanker For Getty Oil Co.

The S.S. Wilmington Getty, a 583-ft. oil tanker owned and operated by Getty Oil Co., successfully completed her sea trials off the coast of Virginia on April 3, with Capt. John W. Bengston of Newark at the helm.

Mayor John E. Babiarz of Wilmington, was a special guest of Getty officials during the ship's test run. Following sea trials, Mayor Babiarz presented Capt. Bengston with a plaque from the City of Wilmington. The plaque contains a replica of the city's official seal.

In making the presentation, Babiarz pointed out that the S.S. Wilmington Getty was the first oil tanker to be named after the City of Wilmington.

An unofficial check of marine records indicates that the 583-ft. vessel is probably the only major sea-going ship in active service with the name "Wilmington."

Both officers and crew will enjoy new conveniences on the modernized craft. New air conditioning has been installed in all living quarters.

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. officials who supervised modernization work on the vessel, praised the S.S. Wilmington Getty, and agreed with Capt. Bengston, that she is practically a new ship.

Following naval tradition, crew members hoisted a giant boom upon the ship's mast upon word from the U.S. Coast Guard that she had passed all tests during her seven-hour sea trial.

Seventeen Magazine Cites NHS Seniors For "Bee" At Football Homecoming Game

To spark student spirit for Newark High School's homecoming football game, two members of the senior class found a novel solution.

In the April issue of Seventeen Magazine, 18-year-old Tom Perkins, of 14 Vassar Drive, and 17-year-old Lynda Van Horn, of 11 Georgian Circle, explain how they turned Tom's Volkswagen "bug" into a "bee" (the school's symbol is a Yellow Jacket) and drove it onto the playing field during halftime.

The results? Cheers from the crowd and a successful "andidate to apathy."

Tom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Perkins, is a member of the German Club at Newark High School and spent the summer of 1967 in Germany on an American's Abroad Scholarship. A music enthusiast, Tom plans to attend Virginia Military Institute and major in mathematics or science. His long-range plan is to teach on the college level.

Lynda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Van Horn, is a member of the National Honor Society and is layout and art editor of the "Krewe" yearbook, and works behind the scenes on school and community dramatic productions in her spare time.

Lynda, who has traveled through Central America, plans to attend the University of Delaware and major in either home economics or art.

Landis, who has traveled through Central America, plans to attend the University of Delaware and major in either home economics or art.

78 Public Housing Units For Newark At Full Capacity

Mrs. Joseph R. Perkins,
NHA Directors, Reports
67 Names On Waiting List

The 78 public housing units in Newark are occupied, and there are 67 names on the waiting list, according to Mrs. Joseph R. Perkins, executive director of the Newark Housing Authority.

An analysis prepared by the NHA shows that of the 78 units at two locations, 40 are rented to elderly persons and 38 to non-elderly.

One apartment at each location is used by the authority for office maintenance and storage space.

The analysis discloses that none of the non-elderly housing occupants depends entirely on the Department of Public Welfare, although 14 of the families do get supplementary welfare aid.

Income among tenants ranges from $1,000 a year for a family of four, to $3,160 for a family of seven.

Family size among the non-elderly averages 4.33 persons, with 18 families being couples with children and 21 headed by widowed, divorced or separated women. There are nine white and 27 non-white families.

Thirty-eight of the 40 elderly residents have Social Security as their major income and two others rely mainly on veterans' benefits.

Only eight of the 38 have no other income supplementing Social Security.

Ten have pensions other than Social Security, nine receive veterans' benefits, five get supplementary aid from the Department of Public Welfare, and the others have miscellaneous income, such as earnings from baby-sitting and help from their children.

OUR HEALTH

By J. M. Amberson, M.D.

IS THERE ANY CURE FOR BURSTIS?

Acute burstis is probably one of the most excruciatingly painful conditions affecting man. Since it is so terribly painful, a patient does not wait long before he sees his physician asking for relief.

In over 90 percent of the cases, aspiration, i.e., withdrawing the viscous fluid content and soluble calcium, followed by an injection of hydrocortisone will bring rapid relief from the intense pain.

What causes burstis is this: Each of us has many bursae in our bodies, sac-like structures lying between muscles and joints.

These bursae are lined with cells which secrete small amounts of viscous fluid which permit ligaments, muscles and other structures to move freely and with a minimum amount of friction.

Burstis is an inflammation in which the bursa is increased or it may be an inflammation of the lining of the bursa. The condition is most commonly brought on by an injury or sudden strain and unaccustomed heavy work involving the area.

The most common sites for burstis are the shoulder region, elbow, hip, knee, and even near the big toe. Altogether, in the human body, 237 bursae have been identified and described.

Your physician can treat the condition with oral applications, aspiration, and injections that we mentioned before. X-ray treatment, physiotherapy, and, as a last resort, surgery.

LINCOLN HONORS KING

Lincoln University ended classes Friday, four days ahead of its regularly scheduled spring break, in respect to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., said "In this time of great shock and sorrow it has been decided to suspend further classes from this date until Wednesday morning, April 17, the previously announced time of resumption of classes following the spring recess."

Blomquist is a 1966 graduate of Newark High School.

Admission to the signal school is limited to men of outstanding promise. Classed as a technical institute, the school gives major training in the technologies of electronic equipment, from radio to "electronic brains."

WHAT WAS THE RECENT STATEMENT MADE ON X-RAYS TO AMERICA'S DENTISTS?

The American Dental Association has recently advised its members, virtually every practicing dentist in the U.S., not to X-ray a patient's mouth as a matter of routine. This is one more example of the growing awareness among the medical and dental profession that X-rays have great potential for harm as well as good and should be used carefully as a diagnostic aid.

WHAT CURE IS THERE FOR DRY SKIN? DOES THIS CONDITION GET WORSE AS ONE AGES?

There is no real and certain cure for dry skin (called xerosis) and the condition tends to worsen as you grow older.

Dermatologists, however, can treat the condition by bringing the patient relief from the intense discomfort, the itchy, tight feeling that is characteristic of skin dryness.

If you suffer from dryness of your skin, I think that the addition of a capful or two of a therapeutic bath oil to your daily bath would bring relief. One such bath oil widely recommended by dermatologists, is called Alpha-Keri.

Alpha-Keri adds an invisible film to your skin locking in moisture that relieves dryness. Of course, if these simple steps do not relieve the condition within a few days, since there are about a half dozen types of xerosis, one of which may become malignant, see your dermatologist for a personal consultation.

Child Labor Law Concerns Under-16 Youth On Farms

Under a new child labor law effective last January, youngsters under 16 cannot be hired for certain agricultural occupations declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor.

McAllister, extension farm management specialist at the University of Delaware.

McAllister urges farm owners and managers throughout Delaware to know and understand provisions of the law.

"After all, farmers are responsible for those working on the farm," he says.

Birds Of Prey Unprotected In Delaware With Failure To Change Old Prejudices

Delaware is one of only two states in the Northeast that has failed to enact laws protecting birds of prey, says Dr. Maurice Brown, lecturer and curator emeritus of the Hawk Mountain Sanctuary near Reading, Pa.

Addressing an overflow crowd of bird enthusiasts at a Farm and Home Week session, Brown pointed out that hawks, eagles and falcons were held in great esteem by early civilizations and were signs of nobility during the middle ages. In modern times, however, respect for these birds has dwindled and their numbers have declined throughout the world.

Over the years these birds have been slaughtered by hunters and farmers alike. In Europe, over 10,000 birds of prey are killed each year, and until recently, hawk shooting was a popular sport in the United States. So-called sportsmen killed more than 10,000 golden eagles in Texas between 1945 and 1952.

"This slaughter of birds is wholly unjustified," said Brown. "The only time we can justify killing birds of prey is when they interfere with a man's livelihood."

Birds of prey are not detrimental to either man or nature. In every case, they benefit the species on which they prey by weeding out the weak and preventing overpopulation.

Eight From NHS Attend Conference At Delaware State

Eight students from Newark High School attended the eighth annual student leaders conference at Delaware State College on March 22.

The theme of the conference sponsored by the inter-racial committee of the Delaware State Education Association, was "Student Power: Responsibilities or Revolution."

Those attending from Newark High School are Phyllis Tucker, Robert Powell, Gary Bolon, Bettina Watson, Asha Iyengar, Wayne Massado, Ana Montero, and Art Koppel, accompanied by Frank J. Osborne, Jr., social studies instructor, and John Guy of the high school faculty.

The students who attended the conference plan to give an overall view for senior classes in English and social studies.

How's Your Stock Of First-Aid Items?

Would an accident at home or on vacation find your family without adequate first aid supplies?

The American Medical Association points out that emergencies are unpredictable and you should assemble materials now, before you need them. At home, keep them in a special cabinet or box beyond the reach of small children. When traveling, keep your supplies in a moisture proof box.

The following items (labeled clearly and with instructions for use) should be included in your first aid kit:

- Individual package-type sterile dressings (2-inch by 2-inch and 4-inch by 4-inch) for open wounds or lacerations.
- Roller bandages for finger bandages (1-inch by 5 yards) and for holding dressings in place (2-inch by 5 yards).
- Roll of adhesive tape to hold dressings in place.
- Band towels and bed sheets which can be cut into areas necessary to cover wounds.
- Triangular bandage (37-inch by 37-inch) for a sling, for a dressing, or as a covering.
- Safety pins, blunt-tip scissors, tweezers, measuring spoons, eye dropper, and wooden tongue blades.
- Splint (1/4-inch thick, 3/4-inch wide, 12 to 14 inches long) for broken arm and legs.
- Tourniquet (wide strip of cloth, or flexible rubber tubing 20 inches long) to stop bleeding.
- Short stick to use with tourniquet.
- One bar of solid soap for cleaning wounds, scratches, and cuts. Antibacterials generally are not available.
- Paper drinking cups.
- Plastic bags—replace batteries periodically.
- Syrup of ipecac (1 ounce) to induce vomiting.
- Essential personal prescriptions.
- A first aid guidebook, such as the American Medical Association's First Aid Manual.

In severe injuries when no other method will control bleeding:

When traveling by auto include a blanket to keep an injured person warm or to make a stretcher, and warning flares to use if your car is stalled on the highway.

A word to the wives

If your husband is losing interest

... clue him in on Delaware Trust Certificates of Deposit. They earn a full 5% annually... and that's the highest commercial bank interest rate allowed on CDs. Delaware Trust Certificate offer unmatched flexibility, too. You can buy a CD in any odd or even amount from 1,000 up and keep it for any length of time from 90 days to one year. Buy one for Sally's first year tuition, for example, and when it matures you'll have enough in interest to buy books, skirts and a sweater or, two. Or buy one for next year's vacation and take an extra day on the interest you'll earn.

Like to put back that sparkle in hubby's eyes? Talk to him about CDs tonight... send him to Delaware Trust Company tomorrow.

FASHION POINTS:

NEW YORK (ED)—This Spring, you can put one and two together—or two and one—and make fashion sense every time.

The shirt and skirt is one combination. Another, is the skirt, shirt and vest, otherwise known as news in spring suits.

Next, take the shirtdress, but don't just leave it at that. Add a belt or sash, and loop a scarf in the neckline.

For parties, the short skirt, as pretty as girly, or lace can make it, often with a ruffled neckline or ruffled hem. It can also be a shirt joined to a full length skirt.

Starting with the soft look, much of the spring news within-news applies to the shirt and shirtwaist dress. The most classic shirt is clingy or bloused, has long, billowy sleeves, and is often in crepe or silk. It may have a flared front. The skirt that goes along is apt to be a dirndl, flare with soft side pleats, or wrap to the side.

The same softness is seen in suits. The vest or sleeveless jacket is tailored, and either open or double-breasted, but the shirt it shows has long, full sleeves. This is true even if the vest and skirt are in a sharp geometric print, bold checks, or plain, and the shirt in white or plain color.

The after-dark plunge that lots of spring necklines take is as noticeable in shirts and shirt-dresses as in other fashions. And nothing too restraining is worn underneath. . . If you own a wired bra, toss it out.

Spring hemlines remain short—as short, say, as eight inches above the knee for those who like the lankiest look talked about. High above, in many cases, the waistline is gently-

Easter Bunny Visits Ferry

A real live bunny in the person of Pat Jordan, North Cape May, will greet youngsters aboard the Cape May-Lewes Ferry this Saturday and Sunday, and have a gift for each youngster.

Pat is shown presenting nine-year-old Carrie Gordon with a token gift. Carrie is the daughter of Commander and Mrs. John A. Gordon, of Virginia Beach.

Ferry officials announce that families planning an Easter Sunday cruise to attend boardwalk promenade, will be able to secure a buffet dinner aboard the S.S. Delaware.

EASTER BONNET THEME FOR EBENEZER WSCS

With an Easter bonnet theme, the Women's Society of Christian Service of Ebenezer Methodist Church enjoyed its annual mother and daughter banquet last Tuesday at the social hall with 122 attendees.

Mothers and daughters arrived in hats of various styles and designs which they modeled after dinner.

Prizes were awarded Mrs. Alton F. Neal and Naomi Williams for the funniest, while Mrs. Henry Nelson and Jane Greenplate had the prettiest ones.

Judges were the banquet committee—Mrs. William Dryden, Mrs. James Ginn, Mrs. William Fraser, Bertha Kirk, and Mrs. Earl Lynch.

Mrs. Ferris Eastburn of Limestone Road, 80, received the prize for being the oldest mother present, and Bonnie Pennington, who was one-year-old April 19, won the prize for the youngest.

A trio of milliners—Mrs. Gilbert Unger, Mrs. Russell Brostoff, and Mrs. Robert Helms—sang Easter songs accompanied by Mrs. Norman Hitchens.

Mrs. Landay Greenplate and her three daughters, Debbie, Ruth, and Jane, also sang.

Mrs. Darrell Noldigh, president of the WSCS, welcomed the group, and her daughter Janice had the prayer.

Mrs. Louise H. Dempsey read the Scripture lesson, and Mrs. Helms offered grace.

LADD - INSLEY VOWS TAKEN MARCH 30

Miss Nancy Elizabeth Ladd and Michael David Insley were married Saturday, March 30, in the First Presbyterian Church, Newark.

The Rev. Wilbert Smith officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception in the church social hall.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Coleman Ladd of Windy Hills, Newark. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Insley of Newark.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of organza over silk tulle with Chantilly lace trim. A silk organza bow held her mantilla and she carried a crescent bouquet of miniature roses, carnations, gypsophila and an orchid.

Maid of honor for her sister was Miss Angela Sue Ladd. Bridesmaids were Miss Corven Coyne and Miss Candace Miller.

Best man was John Howard Insley, brother of the bridegroom.

Ushers were Glenn Benedict of Salisbury, Md., and George Gray of Syracuse, N.Y.

The bride and bridegroom graduated from Newark High School.

The bride attends the University of Delaware, and the bridegroom, a former DuPont employee, is in the Army at Fort Meade, Md.

Bertha Kirk, chairman of the banquet committee, presided.

BREATH OF SPRING?

Common measles virus will probably be one of the ingredients in the fresh spring air your child is breathing. The playmate with a runny nose, red and watery eyes, and a cough, may not have a cold as his mother thinks but the early signs of measles.

If that's the case, after 10 or 12 days, unless your child has had common measles or a measles vaccination he or she will probably "come down" with the disease.

In addition to last school days, a week or more in bed with a high fever, and general discomfort and inconvenience for both child and parent, there can be serious aftereffects from measles.

Mental retardation, pneumonia, hearing loss or deafness, bronchitis, and other serious medical complications can occur in as many as 1 of every 15 cases. Deaths from measles in the United States for many years averaged 400 to 500. In 1966 an all-time low of 250 measles deaths was recorded.

Although measles vaccines had been available for three years, vaccinations did not start until 1965 when a new one-shot vaccine became available. This live measles virus, the Schwarz strain, sharply reduced reactions with great safety and gave long-lasting protection.

Acceptance of earlier vaccines had been hampered by short-term immunity given by killed-virus vaccine (which also required multiple injections) and by high reaction rates, occasionally severe, to earlier live-virus vaccines. A simultaneous shot of gamma globulin was usually given with the older live vaccines to reduce reactions.

Availability of a truly one-shot vaccine triggered mass immunization programs in many parts of the U. S. Medical societies, health departments, civic groups, government agencies, and state legislatures all co-operated. Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles, and dozens of others conducted successful mass immunization drives. The six New England states in 1967 lowered their 1966 measles incidence by more than 62 per cent.

Still, until every child susceptible to common measles and every baby reaching its first birthday is vaccinated, common measles will continue to be a threat to the health of our children. Parents must realize the urgency and necessity of this good health measure before the efforts of their doctor to eradicate measles will be successful.

"Think Slim" Desserts . . . CRANBERRY GOES LOW CAL

"No dessert for me, thanks." "I'll have to bypass the refreshments." Do these sound all too familiar to you? Why not turn the tables on the "calorie counters" in your family and treat them to a low-calorie dessert that tastes as good as it looks. Recipes from Ocean Spray's Cranberry Kitchen.

Cranberry Fluff Dessert: Prepare 2 envelopes dietetic strawberry flavored gelatin using 2 cups low-calorie cranberry juice cocktail instead of water. Chill until very thick, then beat until light and fluffy. Fold in 1 cup frozen whipped topping; sprinkle with 1 cup sliced fresh strawberries. Serves 6.

Cranberry Jewel Dessert: Prepare Cranberry Fluff Dessert above; omit strawberries. Pile into sherbet glasses, alternating fluff mixture with 1 cup low-calorie cranberry sauce cut in 1/2-inch cubes. Serves 6.

Newark, Delaware, Thursday, April 11, 1968

PROOF POSITIVE

The reelection of Mayor Norma B. Handloff and Councilmen Arthur P. Mayer and Olan R. Thomas provides positive proof of their constituents' satisfaction with performance over the past two years.

Public appreciation demonstrated at the polls last Tuesday with majority votes for successive terms in local municipal office, provides some solid satisfaction for Mr. Handloff and for Councilmen Mayer and Thomas in their trying times as first line representatives for residents of Newark. This is the second time around for Mayor and Mayer — and the third term for Olan Thomas.

Congratulations to John Fassnacht for his victory in the third district, and welcome to the Newark council table.

She is survived by her husband, Norris Anderson, and three sisters and two brothers in Bellefonte, Pa. Services were conducted yesterday afternoon at the Robert T. Jones & Son, Funeral Home, with interment in Newark Cemetery.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Corner Ketch, RD-3
Here is a poem that my son sent home for his Dad, is in Vietnam. This wasn't written by him, but he cut it out of the "Stars and Stripes."

This is our son, Pfc. James D. Brown, Co. A, 34th Engr. Bn., APO 96289 San Francisco. He was a 1967 graduate from Newark High School.

Would you please lend this copy back to us as we treasure it, being sent to us by our son.

—Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Brown
Ed Note: Thank you Mr. and Mrs. Brown, for letting us see the stirring, patriotic verses, and congratulations, on your fine son May God speed his safe return home.

The Post does not print poetry because of space and mechanical limitations, and we regret the omission of Pfc. James D. Brown's poem which tells of his pride in serving as an American soldier, just as his father served before him — to defend and perpetuate the principles of freedom for which America stands.

Mobil Economy Run Ends Before Newark Approach

Indianapolis, Ind. — Three Chrysler Corp. cars, two from General Motors, a Ford and an American Motors entry were class winners in the 1968 Mobil Economy Run, as results were announced here Saturday.

The mileage classic, which started Tuesday at Disneyland and was scheduled to end Sunday at Times Square, was terminated here Friday night "in deference to President Johnson's proclamation designating Sunday as a day of mourning" for Dr. Martin Luther King.

The 1968 gasoline consumption test was marked by rugged weather, capped by a "Springtime in the Rockies" blizzard, icy slush-pocked roads, plus see-saw battles in every one of seven classes.

Total mileage per car was 2,272.25, and the fleet averaged 19.167 miles per gallon and a speed of 55.63 mph.

PTA Covered Dish Supper To Honor School Teachers

Chrysler Corp. produced 140,122 passenger cars in its U.S. assembly plants in March, 1968. The U.S. plant production total included 767 units built for sale in Canada. The company's Canadian assembly facility produced 8,751 passenger cars in March for sale in the United States.

Capt. William McHaffey Promoted In Air Force

William J. McHaffey, whose wife Joann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Tresham of Newark, has been promoted to captain in the U.S. Air Force as an avionics officer at Wright-Patterson AFB in Ohio.

He is a member of the Air Force logistics command which provides equipment and services to insure that all U.S. missiles and aircraft are constantly ready.

The captain, a 1960 graduate of Mt. Lebanon (Pa.) High School, received a BA degree in economics from Grove City (Pa.) College and was commissioned there in 1964 upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

Plant Engineering Conference Stated For Next Thursday

The second annual Delaware Plant Engineering and Maintenance Conference will be held in the University of Delaware Student Center next Thursday.

Initiated last year to enable maintenance engineers and foremen to perform their jobs more effectively, the conference attracted 120 participants.

The conference is sponsored by the Delaware chapter of the American Institute of Plant Engineers and the University of Delaware. Arrangements are being coordinated by the university extension division.

Keynote speaker will be Robert K. Moffett, editor-in-chief of "Mill & Factory Magazine," whose topic will be "Engineering and Maintenance Key to the Future."

Conference Chairman Fred C. Gore, area supervisor with the DuPont Experimental Station, said that the theme of this year's program will be "Maintenance Progress in the Space Age." Conference participants are invited to attend an evening dinner meeting at Howard Johnson's, Rt. 886.

Registrations may be made by calling Donald F. Bard, supervisor of conferences, at the extension division offices in Newark.

William A. Berg Pledges Purdue Phi Kappa Alpha

Berg is a pledge for Phi Kappa Alpha fraternity at the university in Lafayette, Ind.

Public Housing

Of the 40 apartments for elderly persons, 37 are occupied by white persons, and three by non-white.

The 40 contain 35 single women, two single men and three couples. Thirty-three of the 40 occupants have incomes below $2,000 a year. The other seven are in the $2,000-to-$3,400 range. Their residence in Newark ranges from one to 81 years, with the average 22 years.

Heads of non-elderly households work at a variety of jobs, including domestic, cook, laborer and truck driver. Like the elderly, the heads of the non-elderly households are mainly long-term residents of Newark. Their average residence within the city limits is 12 years.

Newark's public housing apartments for the elderly rent for $35 for a single person and $40 per couple.

Rent for the non-elderly apartments is $45 for a two-bedroom unit; $48 for three-bedroom units and $50 to $55 for the four-bedroom apartments.

Ask Dr. QUIZMEE

Dr. Quizmee, our information specialist, is happy to answer his readers' questions in his weekly column. All responses are verified by Funk & Wagnall's Standard Reference Encyclopedia.

David S. Asks about a proud tradition: "How did our Marine Corps get its start?"

The Corps goes back before the Revolutionary War. It evolved from two battalions authorized in 1775 by the Continental Congress.

Brian G. seems to be a little tongue-in-cheek when he writes: "Where do we get the expression 'chattering magpie'?"

Magpies are noisy birds belonging to the corvid family. Their rattling call sounds like "cack, cack," mixed with a gabble and some whistling notes. We call gaudy people "chattering magpies" because their speech is like the bird's irritating sound.

Monique Susan S. wonders: "How do they film ships in a storm, or cities being destroyed by volcanoes and earthquakes?"

Although producers occasionally use old newsreel clips of storms, tsunamis, they generally rely on aerial effects. Tsunami boats are blown around in a small tank by wind machines. Miniatures are also used to show towns being destroyed.

If you are too late to submit a question to Dr. Quizmee, in case of this newspaper, the editor of this column is the safe judge, you will receive the full 25 volume set of Funk & Wagnall's Standard Reference Encyclopedia.

It once took MONTHS to set type for an average-size book.

MODERN typographic plants can do the same job in a few days.

Some machines set up to 6,000 characters a second! But it still takes a skilled

Taylor Award

At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, he joined the Delaware volunteers and became captain of Co. M, 1st Regiment.

After the war he resumed his engineering studies at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, graduating in 1901 with a bachelor of science degree.

He joined a Wilmington company interested in the possibilities of sulphur deposits in Alaska, and upon his return to Wilmington, again went to work in the engineering division of the street and sewer department, and in 1916 he became city engineer.

Taylor joined the DuPont Co. in 1915 where his engineering and executive ability distinguished him. When Pierre S. du Pont and Joseph H. Odell were seeking a capable man to help administer the state-wide school building program, they selected him as vice-president and chief engineer of the Delaware School Auxiliary, later called the Delaware School Foundation.

In 1928, he became its president and continued his supervision of

"If there's one God, why are there so many religions?"

That's a question that has plagued thoughtful people for centuries. Religions often have seemed to divide men rather than join them—which could hardly be God's will. In our time, so full of wonders, we're witnessing what may be the greatest wonder of all: the growing force of inter-faith understanding. It seems to promise a fuller flowering of God's hopes for man. You and me. Great new things are happening in churches and synagogues these days. But find out for yourself. This week. Then take your strengthened faith out into the world—and put it to work.

James B. Webber Food Distributor Of Year For State

A Wilmington man was named Delaware's Food Distributor of the Year at the 11th annual Delaware Conference on Food Distribution at the University of Delaware.

James B. Webber, owner of Webber's Food Shop, received the award from Charles Neugebauer, vice-president of Hearn Brothers Super Food Markets and chairman of the University of Delaware Food Trade Advisory Committee.

Webber, who has been in the food business for 11 years, operates a 5,000-sq. ft. store with an annual volume of $1-million.

"We are basically a service-oriented store specializing in fresh meat," he explains. "In fact, over 60 per cent of our total volume is done in fresh meat and delicatessen items. Our goal is to fill the public's need for quality and service at a reasonable price."

Webber is a graduate of Wilmington High School. He and his wife Virginia have eight children.

Denouncing Youth Tired Blood Tonic 4-H Speaker Says

"All through history, denouncing youth has been a tonic for tired blood," says Beverly Wiebe of Wilmington, national 4-H spokesman.

Speaking at the Delaware Bankers Agriculture Forum at the University of Delaware, Miss Wiebe pointed out that youth find rough going in a society that considers them too mature for childhood, yet too irresponsible for adulthood.

"Kids are biologically mature at 12 or 13, yet can't legally work until they're 16. They're drafted at 18, but denied voting privileges until 21. Educationally they're mature at 21, but many must rely on mom and dad for financial help until they're 24 or 25."

"We're searching for a moral code by which to live in this chaotic society," she said. "We need to distinguish ourselves as individuals but we also need discipline and guidelines from worthy firm parents."

Miss Wiebe has traveled from Boston to Richmond, "speaking out" before leaders in business, government, agriculture and education.

Williams Advises Springtime Care For Lawn Mower

Spring has arrived, grass is green and growing, and now is the ideal time to get that power lawn mower in shape for the coming season if you neglected to do so last fall.

Thomas H. Williams, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware, suggests that you begin by washing the mower with kerosene or fuel oil to remove any dirt, grease, or clippings that may have accumulated during last season.

Drain the gas tank and carburetor and refill them with alcohol, soaking them long enough to dissolve any gum that may have formed over the winter.

Next, remove the air cleaner and clean it according to manufacturer's instructions. Drain dirty oil from the crankcase and replace it with fresh oil of the proper weight.

Remove and clean or replace the spark plug and pour a small amount of gasoline in the tank. Start the engine and let it run until the fuel is used. Now, lubricate wheel bearings and moving parts.

Finally, check the blade and sharpen or replace it if necessary. If you sharpen the blade, take care not to sharpen it out of balance, cautions Williams. Finish the job by lightly coating the blade with oil to prevent rust.

STEAM RAILROAD

The Wawa and Concordville Railroad, Delaware County's steam excursion railroad will open its second season on April 20. Operating weekends and holidays, it features two oil burning steam locomotives over a five-mile stretch of track between Concordville Station in Concord Township and the Wawa Station in Middletown Township. The track is leased from the Penn Central Railroad.

Ask Dr. QUIZMEE ????

Dr. Quizmee, our information specialist, is happy to answer his readers' questions in his weekly column. All responses are verified by Funk & Wagnall's Standard Reference Encyclopedia.

Dennis L. has been reading about the Arctic and wants to know: "How can an igloo made from snow keep someone warm?"

One of the best insulating materials against cold air is air itself! The blocks of snow used in igloos have lots of air trapped in them, which effectively insulates these snow homes against the minus 50 or 60 degrees reached in the Arctic!

"What is meant by the expression 'Trojan horse'?" Brenda R. asks.

Ancient stories say the Trojan horse was built by the Greeks 3,000 years ago to deceive their Trojan enemies. After 10 years of war, the Greeks built a huge wooden horse and offered it as a gift to the city of Troy. It was accepted, and dragged into the city. That night, Greek soldiers came out of the hollow horse and conquered Troy. Today "Trojan horse" means something deceitful.

"What causes breakers at the beach?" writes Peter D.

Wind and storms blowing over the ocean cause waves to form. These waves move forward uninterrupted for thousands of miles. When something like a sand bar blocks the wave, it curls over and "breaks"—as at the beach.

If you are the first to submit a question to Dr. Quizmee, in care of this newspaper, (the writer of this column to let side judge), you will receive free the full 25 volume set of Funk & Wagnall's Standard Reference Encyclopedia.

THE "OOPS" & DOWNS OF LAWN CARE

NEW YORK (ED)—Now that Spring is in the air, can the crabgrass be far behind? This is the paramount question that suburbanites are asking themselves these days as they peruse the seed catalogues, resolve to really landscape this year, and rev up their spirits to tackle the errant lawn.

The real sound of the season comes when the whirr of 26 million power lawn mowers is heard from coast to coast—and all too often—the accompanying "ouch" or "oops" that characterized careless use. The safety rules for using power mowers seem so self-evident, but the sad statistics show evidence to the contrary. Hundreds of injuries are chalked up to pure negligence and thoughtlessness.

Who would put their hand right into the heart of an activated machine? Hundreds of people! One of the primary causes of mowing accidents occurs when the operator reaches into the discharge chute to dislodge accumulated grass. This hazard would be eliminated if only those with mowers followed the common sense rule from the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute. Make sure the engine is off, the blade stopped and the spark plug wire disconnected from the plug.

With the average rotary blade clocking in at 2000 rpm, it stands to reason that a casually left tin can, a garden tool, or a child's toy in the path of the mower can be turned into a deadly missile. So follow the first rule of safe mowing: Be sure the work area is clear of objects which might be picked up and thrown by the machine's blades.

If your family has a lawn tractor, it's bound to be a fascination for the neighborhood kids. But the danger is that they'll think it's a fun vehicle to ride—rather than a tool to use. The essential rule to remember is: Never carry riders or passengers and keep the kids and pets at a safe distance. You wouldn't let them play in moving automobile traffic, so why put them in danger on the lawn?

Mowing the lawn used to be a chore but now with new power equipment, it's become a pleasant pastime. It's in your power to make it an accident-free activity. With care, the word "oops" should never be in your family's vocabulary!

Miss Elizabeth Dickinson and Paul Markland, Jr., were married Saturday at 1 p.m. in Red Lion Methodist Church by the Rev. Irvin Pusey. A reception was held in the Officers Club at the Greater Wilmington Airport.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dickinson of Fairwinds, Bear, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Markland of Brookside.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of lace with a chapel train, and her headpiece was a double crown of ivy leaves and pearls with a short, illusion veil. She carried a lace-covered prayer book with carnations and roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Phyllis McFarland; bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Clark and Mrs. James Lowell, and flower girl was Cathy Markland, sister of the groom.

Best man was Allan Dickinson, brother of the bride, and ushers were Allen Pierce and Robert Dickinson. Ring-bearer was Grey Markland.

The bride is a graduate of Wm. Penn High School, and the bridegroom, who attended Conrad High School, is employed by Kinney Shoes. They are honeymooning in Pennsylvania.

Miss Linda Jane Driscoll and Philip Arden Thayer were married at 2 p.m. Saturday in Ebenezer Methodist Church, Delaware City, by the Rev. David G. Paul.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. William E. Driscoll of Kirkwood, and the late Mr. Driscoll.

Mr. Thayer is the son of Mrs. Paul Wolsky of Delaware City, and Stephen C. Thayer of Wilmington.

Given in marriage by her brother William H. Driscoll, the bride wore a gown of silk organza with a high-waisted bodice of Alençon lace and a beaded, detachable train; a Spanish-style mantilla of lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses and yellow baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Miss Gale E. Driscoll, and Arland Ronald Thayer of Delaware City was best man.

Pencader Grange held its semi-monthly meeting on Monday evening, and Janet Reed displayed new fabrics, and Mrs. J. Leslie Ford presented a display of homemade articles and painting.

Grange members will serve a turkey dinner on Sunday, May 19. Mrs. C. C. Brooks and Mrs. J. Lewis McCormick attended a recent lecturer's conference at Rehoboth.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans Miller of State Road left today for a month's stay in Florida.

Miss Judy Moore, while on spring vacation from the University of Delaware, spent Thursday and Friday with her cousin, Miss Helen Moore of Pleasant Hills, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harter of Glasgow Trailer Court, Bear, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son in April 4, at Wilmington General Division.

Members of Pencader Presbyterian Church, Glasgow, extend their sympathy to the family of the Rev. Clarence Hoffman on the death of his wife, Mrs. Matilda Hoffman, 67. Mrs. Hoffman was the founder with her first husband, the late G. W. Blair, of the Blair Business College in Colorado Springs where she taught in Colorado.

She married Mr. Hoffman, now retired pastor of Elmore Presbyterian Church, in 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse A. A. Atoll of Bear entertained their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George N. Beyer of Chadds Ford, Pa., at the Swiss Inn on Saturday evening in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary, with 50 guests attending.

Christiana Seniors Win Play Contests For Three Classes

Recent competitive plays at Christiana High School resulted in another victory for the Class of 1968, but all three performances were so outstanding that each cast received at least one invitation to give a repeat performance.

The first group to go on tour was the junior cast of "The Ugly Duckling," a spoof on fairy tales, presented at Central Junior High School. The three judges had high praise for Cathy Cawley's performance of the title role.

The first place seniors have been asked to give "The Simple Truth" again, this time for the benefit of Salvation Army workers in Wilmington. Patrick Callinan of this cast received unanimous praise.

The sophomore play "Heat Lightning," is to be presented at the Newark High School for students interested in sound and lighting techniques.

Judges for the three plays were Mrs. Sharon Bayles, Mrs. Polly Bray, and Mrs. Lois Young.

Faculty directors were Mrs. Emma Bruner, Mrs. Barbara Craig, and William H. Fox.

On March 27, the Newark High School Thespian Troupe was welcomed at a Christiana High assembly. The visiting troupe under the direction of Mrs. Polly Bray, gave cuttings from their production of Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit."

Mrs. Patovio reports that Thespian Troupe 2437 of Christiana is very proud of three of their recent graduates who have continued theater activities in college.

Kevin McCann played an important role at short notice in a recent Lab Theater production at the University of Delaware.

In the recent E-52 production "Happy Haven," Lorry Dalton was cast as one of two leading women.

And at Salisbury State College, Suzanne Raser has just finished playing the ingenue role in "All My Sins."

John A. Wilkens Honored As Tau Beta Pi Member

John A. Wilkens, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilkens of 213 Syphard Drive, Newark, has been elected to membership in Tau Beta Pi national engineering honorary society at Cornell University.

John is a junior chemical engineering student at Cornell.

Hearty Main Dish for Four Costs One Dollar

Would you believe the cost of this hearty, nutritious, tasty skillet dinner for four costs only around one dollar to prepare? It's true—and like many home-makers you too can put change in your pocket these budget-minded days if you shop with an eye to seasonal values and use economical convenience foods as ingredients.

The Winter Skillet Supper combines hefty sized beef patties with cut green beans and cooked carrots. Over all is a luscious sauce, made can-opener quick with condensed golden mushroom soup. Check-full of tender young mushrooms, country butter and fine wine, double rich, double thick condensed golden mushroom soup is a perfect and economical cooking ingredient or sauce, too. Keep an assortment of condensed soup on hand to help your food budget maintain its proper proportions, while providing good eating for your family.

WINTER SKILLET SUPPER
1 pound ground beef
1 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 dash pepper
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed golden mushroom soup
1/4 cup water
1 cup cooked cut green beans
1 cup cooked carrots, cut in 2-inch pieces

Combine beef, onion, salt, and pepper; shape into 4 oblong patties. In skillet, brown patties (use shortening if necessary); pour off fat. Stir in soup and water. Cover; cook over low heat 20 minutes. Stir now and then. Add vegetables; heat. Makes 4 servings.

Bulletin Offers Advice On Lawn Care Problems

A new publication outlining common Delaware lawn problems has been released by the University of Delaware's Cooperative Extension Service.

Your lawn may not look right for any number of reasons, says David V. Tattall, ornamental horticulturist at the university. Wrong seed, poor soil, unfavorable weather, insects and disease all contribute to a poor lawn.

Copies of "What's Wrong With My Lawn?" are available from county agents in Newark, Dover and Georgetown and from the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark.
