Delaware College Needs for Two Years Told to Legislators

Members of General Assembly Greatly Pleased By Splendid Improvements Shown at Newark

Members of the Delaware General Assembly paid their biennial visit of inspection to Delaware College, Friday afternoon and as usual, the affair was greatly enjoyed by the Legislators, who were loud in their praise of Delaware's fine college. In addition to the members of the House and Senate, Governor Townsend, Lieutenant-Governor Eliason and former Governor Charles R. Miller were in the party. During the course of the day the needs of the college were explained to the Senators and Representatives, who will be asked to appropriate $195,935.48 for the maintenance and other needs of Delaware College and the Women's College for the next two years. Former Governor Miller, at the dinner served in Old College Hall, announced that the board of trustees of the college will ask the State to appropriate $112,890.87 for 1919 and $83,044.61 for 1920. The ex-Governor is chairman of the finance committee of board of trustees.

The amounts asked for maintenance are larger than those received in former years, yet the increase was pointed out by ex-Governor Miller to be due to the high cost of material, labor, etc. One large item for the year 1919 is $26,912.61, which is for "War Emergency Expense." It was explained how the high cost of coal, labor and many other articles used at the college the past years makes this extra fund necessary for this year. Another item on the list for 1919 that was not on the 1920 list, is $5,000 for a stock judging demonstration building at the college farm, something that has been needed for years.

The Legislators greatly enjoyed the dinner, which was served in Old College Hall, and Miss Stewart, was highly commended for the excellent dinner served. Governor Townsend presided, but because of an engagement in Wilmington, had to leave before ex-Governor Miller made his statement relative to the financial needs of the institution. Governor Townsend, however, before going, made a few remarks, in which he thanked the college officials and the people of Newark for the welcome extended. He also commended the work of the colleges.

In the course of his speech former Governor Miller said: "You are here for information. That is why the Board of Trustees and Faculty want you here. It is your duty to vote appropriations for the various state institutions and consequently you should have the right to know just how such monies are to be spent."

He then stated that he desired any member after he made his statement to ask any questions they desired and they would be answered by himself or other college officials. It was here that he told of the work of Mr. Wilkinson, the business administrator, and stated the college would be run on a modern business basis.

"What we want," said Mr. Miller, "is '$112,890.87 for 1919 and $83,044.61 for 1920.' He explained that some of the items are increases, but this is necessary because of conditions. The various amounts that are needed were read as follows:

Delaware College maintenance, $30,000 each year, which is an increase of $16,000 over the last two years.

Chair of history, $2,500 for each of the two years, no change.

Summer school, $4,000 for each year, an increase of $500 a year.

Agricultural department, maintenance, $10,000 each year, no change.

Appropriation to enable the college to accept funds from the Federal Government on the Smith-Lever act, $4,478.26 for 1919, and $5,544.51 for 1920.

War emergency expenses, $26,912.61 for 1919.

Stock machinery building, agricultural department, $5,000 for 1919.

Short winter agricultural course, $1,000 for 1920.

Women's College, maintenance, $30,000 each year, which is an increase of $2,500 over amount received during past two years.

New Course for Senior Electrical Engineers

Professor M. VanG. Smith at the request of the Senior Electrical Engineers has arranged a condensed course in Hydraulics. The Senior Civils are the only class required to take this subject; but the Electricals realized the value of the subject for hydro-electric work and made the request as mentioned. The course consists of lectures only, and deals with the essential theory of hydraulics, derivation of fundamental formulas, and problems. By giving the work as outlined, Professor Smith has shortened the course to about six weeks. The class is held in Mechanical Hall on Tuesday and Friday during the eighth period. At the suggestion of Professor Koerber, the men are also taking Steam Turbines, another subject not required of them. The men in this class are to be commended for the spirit they have manifested in taking this extra work.

Plans Made for Prom

Judging from the present indication, February 7, 1919 is to be one of the really big days in the annals of Old Delaware. In fact, one class prophet foretells that it will be remembered as the best of all days for on that date the class of 1920 will give its Junior Promenade.

Plans for the prom have been under way for some time. Many of the details have already been worked out and they are full of promise for the final result. The armory is to be decorated in a typical "Delaware" manner for the evening. The music will be of the very best for the committee has made arrangements for an orchestra of ten pieces and has secured Ralph L. Jacobs of Wilmington, as the leader. "Nuff said, for Jacobs is well known to Delaware men.

The class expects to have tickets on sale about the end of this week. The number of couples is limited to one hundred and fifty so that it is advisable for any student who wishes to go to secure his ticket as soon as possible. The tickets are $2.50 to undergraduates and $3.00 to alumni and visitors.

Following are the committees which are working out plans for the dance:

Music — Lattomus, chairman; Marvel, Pool, Whiteman.

Programs — Gordy, chairman; Carswell, Ritz, Kite, Nelson.

Invitations — Anderson, chairman; Bardarn, Smith, O'Neill, Thomas, McCarswell.

Refreshments — Carter, chairman; Graves, Jacobyan, McWhorter, Edwards.

Decoration — Loose, chairman; Colpitts, Arbuckle, Kennedy, Lindell, Russo, Hudson, Kennedy, Terrell, Marshall, Cullen, Ely, Fell, Jefferies.

Senior Fraternity Organized

A Senior Honorary Fraternity has been organized by some men in the class of 1919. The main purpose of the organization is to create good-fellowship among its members and to help do away with any fraternity cliques in college. It was established also with the idea of creating an organization to which an election would be an honor. The basis for membership is on: (1) what a man has done for the college and (2) what kind of a good fellow he is.

Mandolin Club Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of the Mandolin Club this year was held in the Chapel Room on Tuesday afternoon, January 21. At this meeting it was decided to hold regular practice on Wednesday afternoon from 5 o'clock to 6 o'clock. This time was found to be most convenient for those who commute and for those who have classes until 5 o'clock.

After the meeting was over a short practice was held. Some of the latest song hits were played over and will probably be used in future programs along with a few more classical pieces. In making up its programs the Club is aiming to please its audiences but to do this the desires of the music-loving people must be known. Any suggestions on the part of those interested will be greatly appreciated.

George Madden has returned to college and will play the piano for the Club. At First Mandolin will be Jay Robinson and Dr. Greenfield. The Second Mandolins will probably be Alvan Allen, Dan Barnard and Draper Smith. Loose, Martenis and Maroney will hold down the Third Mandolin. So far, McWhorter is the only banjo player in the Club. If there are any fellows in college who can play a banjo or a guitar they should see Jay Robinson as soon as possible. The Club is the proud owner of a Mando-Cello and is in great need of someone who can either play, or learn to play it. Mr. Willard Humphrey will be with us again this year and will endeavor to carry the tunes along with his famous flute. Taken all together the Club deserves the loyal aid and support of every Delaware College man. If this can be secured there is no limit to what can be accomplished by the Delaware College Mandolin Club.

Chess Club

The Delaware College Chess Club held its regular meeting last Wednesday afternoon in Purnell Hall. Due to the inter-class basketball the meeting was short and snappy, and the members then left to see the games.

Such interest is being manifested in the club that an effort is being made to secure a room where all the men interested in the game can assemble and play without interruption.

The Senior Class members have challenged a team from another class to a series of games for the class championship of the college. This matter was broached some time ago, and the challenge was promptly accepted by the Sophomore Class. At the last meeting the Junior Class also accepted the challenge, so the only one yet to hear from is the Freshmen. Anyone in college who thinks he can play chess is welcome to come out and try for the class teams. Come out and show your "pep"

Delaware Swamps Aberdeen In Practice Game

SCORE 53-19

Delaware had an easy time of it Friday evening when it triumphed over the 273 Aero Squadron from Aberdeen, Md., by a 53-19 score. Manager Cantwell was unable to arrange a game with a college team and as a last resort engaged the "flyers" from Aberdeen for a practice game. Coach Shipley thought it unwise to go through the week without any game at all, and the sort of basketball shown by the team on Friday evening clearly demonstrated the top notch form he has rounded the men into.

From the first minute of the game it became plainly evident that Delaware was meeting "soft pick-in's," the initial tap-off from the center resulting in a two-point score via McCaughan to Alexander to G. Carter. And the first half was a constant repetition of this process with merely changes in the order of handling the ball. The only way the soldiers could score was by way of free-throw route, and these occasions were few and far between. The passing and shooting of the home team were a joy to the hearts of Delaware fans and the form shown by the team in this game speaks well for its success in the coming contests. Time after time the tap-off was worked to perfection and the quintet worked together like a well-oiled machine. "Sank," Aleck, and "Little Carter" fairly rained shots through the basket and although they played but a little more than a half they succeeded between them in accumulating in 7 from the field. Aleck counted for 5, and his running mate gathered in a like number from the scrimmage beside a half dozen from the penalty mark.

Our opponents' basket was seldom threatened but big "Bess" Carter and "Husk" Lord were always on the job to prevent any depredation. Besides holding his own man scoreless Lord sneaked down the floor long enough to cage a pair himself. While "Bess" was not so fortunate on the offense, he proved a tower of strength on the defense and but for a little hard luck would himself have added a couple of points to the team's total. Dick Barnard got into the game in the second half and immediately "caught the disease" by scoring as a pretty shot after a swift pass for the length of the floor by B. Carter. Capt. Marston was unable to get into the game on account of sickness but it is thought he will be able to make the trip to Lehigh on Wednesday. After it was seen that the game was positively cinched and after the varsity quintet had worked off all their surplus energy acquired during the week, Coach Shipley sent his second string men into the fray, and after they had overcome their slight bewilderment gave a good account of themselves, Phil Marvil securing a brace of field goals and making good once on a foul.

While the result of Friday's game is not looked upon as a great accomplishment it gives a fair indication of what may be expected

Battalion Escorts Legislature

On last Friday, January 24, the legislature of the State of Delaware paid its biennial visit to our college. The battalion was turned out and acted as a guard of honor to the visitors. First call was sounded at 10.10 A. M. and assembly at 10.15. The men were then marched down to the Pennsylvania station to meet the 11.01 train. At the station, it was found that there had been a wreck on the road which held up the expected train over an hour. Governor Townsend, ex-Governor Miller, and several other notables had in the meantime arrived by automobile, and after the officers of the U. S. Army who have returned to college and the officers of the battalion had been presented to the Governor by President Mitchell, the battalion with the returned commissioned officers at the head, lead the way to the college farm. Upon entering the grounds, the battalion was drawn up on one side of and facing the road and stood at present arms while the Governor and his staff passed by. The men were then taken back to await the tardy train. It finally arrived, but so late that the legislature decided to go directly to the college without first visiting the farm. Then with the band playing the column headed up Depot Road. Just before the column reached Main Street the battalion was again drawn up on the right of the street and presented arms while the legislators of the State rode past. The men were then dismissed. Every member of the battalion is to be congratulated upon the military appearance and discipline of the companies and upon the cheerfulness with which they met the delays.

The Legislature's Visit

THE biennial visit of the members of the Delaware General Assembly to the college is an event of no little significance to the institution. Not only does it mean the presence of a distinguished body of state citizens and law-makers in this community, but it also permits the student body to realize that the citizens of the state are displaying interest in the welfare of the college through their representatives.

It is practically impossible for all the people in Delaware to personally make a visit to Newark and ascertain just what is being done at their foremost educational institution. It is also impractical for people to lay out their money in the form of taxes without having some knowledge of where it is going for educational purposes. The legislature therefore, performs this duty in their behalf, in order that it may judiciously make the necessary appropriations for the needs of the college.

It is an unfortunate fact that in the past, the state of Delaware has not stood among the leaders in education. It is an equally fortunate situation, at present, that efforts are being made to raise the standards of education and to place the state on a par with some of the more progressive ones. And when should the citizens of the state look for evidences of improvement and progress as a result of their efforts? To their state college, from which students emerge to take up the more serious duties of life.

It is most gratifying to know that the Legislature on its recent visit was greatly pleased with the college and its work, in spite of the temporary set-back on account of war conditions. All of its members were loud in their praise of Delaware's fine college.

The next regular visit of the Legislature will be in 1921. We should not, therefore, congratulate ourselves too much on the satisfaction displayed by the law-makers, but should immediately begin to give some consideration to their next visit. Will the progress which we intend to make during the coming two years, equal or overbalance that of the two years just past? People are willing to encourage and back any growing or progressive proposition, and we should feel obligated to meet their expectations. The fact that Delaware College has made rapid advances in the past few years is obvious. Are we going to aid in the great work, and assist the college in its era of growth and prosperity? The answer rests individually with each man.

DELAWARE RECEIVES CLASSIFICATION FOR PENN RELAYS

Plans Being Completed for Annual Carnival

The University of Pennsylvania's Twenty-fifth Annual Relay Carnival to be held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, April 25th and 26th promises to reach pre-war standards. Reports from all over the country point to a big revival of interest in college track and field athletics. Scores of star athletes who left college to go into the service have returned so that the standard of performance should reach or surpass the high mark attained prior to the war.

The Relay Carnival will be the first big intercollegiate meet of the year. Assurances have already been received from all the big colleges of the East and most of those from the Middle West that they will send teams. In addition, the University of Washington and the University of Southern California are seriously considering sending relay teams. Because of the uncertainty of the army and navy affairs, the service events will be eliminated from the program which will thus be limited to strictly intercollegiate events. The following American Intercollegiate Relay Championships will be held:

1. Sprint Medley Relay Championship of America.
2. Distance Medley Relay Championship of America.
3. One Mile Relay Championship of America.
4. Two Mile Relay Championship of America.
5. Four Mile Relay Championship of America.
6. One Mile Freshman Relay Championship of America.
7. Army and Navy Championship, Annapolis Naval Academy, West Point Military Academy.
8. One Mile Preparatory School Relay Championship of America.
9. One Mile High School Relay Championship of America.

The college Pentathlon for the all around intercollegiate championship which has always aroused so much interest will be given as usual. The following events open only to University or College undergraduates will be given: 100 yards dash, 120 yards hurdle, high jump, broad jump, shot put, discus, javelin, pole vault, 56 lb. weight, 440 yards hurdle, hop-step-jump. The last three events, the Pentathlon and the Medley Relay Championships will be held on the first day of the meet, the others on Saturday.

In addition there will be many relay races for district and class championships. The Middle Atlantic States Conference A. A. and the Southern Atlantic Intercollegiate A. A. will have their championship relays. Last year, in spite of the war, over three hundred teams competed. So far the Relay management has classified only the colleges. The classification of the high and preparatory schools will be ready shortly. The college classification follows:

LID OFF OF INTERCLASS BASKETBALL SERIES

Seniors and Sophs Win Initial Contests

The inter-class basketball games got going last Wednesday and from the fight put up by all four teams there is going to be some battle before the championship is decided.

The Freshies and Sophs opened up and in the first half both teams flashed forth a classy brand of floor work. The passes were short, fast and clean, but the guarding was close and neither side could forge ahead, the half ending with honors even. In the second period, however, the Sophs loosened up. Abe Barnard dropped in a couple of two-pointers from the middle of the floor and Slippery Jinx Pierson duplicated from under the basket. The Freshies put up a good article of passing especially in the last 5 minutes of play but they could not get by Attix and Wilson, both of whom put up a fast, hard game. For the 1st year men Keith and Wills deserve special mention. The score:

The Senior-Junior setto was a hair-raiser from the tap of the gong. The '19 men had a husky crew but the Juniors, tho light, put up a fast, snappy game and at the end of the first half led 9-6. Both teams showed lack of practice and condition but in the second half they put up as hard and clean game as has been seen in any inter-series battles. The weight of the Seniors coupled with a couple of heart-breaking shots soon put them in the lead. However, Captain Marvel kept his bunch in the running by his consistent foul shooting, eaging 14 out of 17 tries. It was not until the final few minutes of play that the victors were decided; Lew Plam came across with a couple of field-goals that put his team in the lead. For the Seniors, Downing and Plam starred, and for the Juniors, Marvel, Loose, and Gordy were the bright lights. The score:

ized the need during reconstruction and maintaining the standard of educational institutions. He said that in the past he had always found the members of the Delaware Legislature broad-minded in all educational matters and had no doubt but what the present members were equally broad-minded on the subject.

The need of a sidewalk along Depot road to avoid the dangers of students and others being run down was also pointed out. In this connection he said if the county would build the sidewalk the trustees of the college would give the necessary land on the east side of the road from Main street to below the Women's College but would probably have to go to the Legislature for authority to deed the county such land. He also referred to the fact that President Isaac C. Elliott and other members of the Levy Court were present and hoped they would consider the proposition. The members of the court went over the ground during the day and discussed the matter with some of the trustees.

Dr. Mitchell, in a few remarks also referred to the new system of bookkeeping and the budget system installed by Mr. Wilkinson and expressed the gratitude of the faculty for the attendance of the members of the Legislature and other officials.

Senator Asa Bennett of Sussex County, paid tribute to Delaware College declaring that it is held in high esteem by the people down the State and that they will learn to love it more as they get to know it better. "I have no doubt," he said, "but what Delaware College will get anything and everything she asks for."

In addition to State officials and members of the Legislature there were present many county officials and residents of Newark. Dean Winifred J. Robinson of the Women's College and Mrs. A. D. Warner, a member of the Advisory Board of that institution occupied places at the table with Governor Townsend, former Governor Miller and other officials. Following the luncheon the visitors were taken on an inspection trip which lasted more than an hour. They visited Old College Hall, Mechanics Hall, Recitation Hall, Purnell Hall, Library, Harter Hall and Wolf Hall and finally the Women's College. At the latter institution they were welcomed by Dean Robinson and members of her faculty.

of the team in the games that face them. They clash with Lehigh Wednesday night at Bethlehem, returning to give battle to Muhlenberg Friday evening. Both these teams represent pretty stiff opposition but there is no reason why we should not annex them both. Ursinus has defeated Muhlenberg and while comparison of scores is a very weak basis upon which to make predictions, we will be somewhat disappointed if we do not romp off victor in both these games. Delaware has too good a team this year to be content with losing out by one or two points and she should be satisfied with nothing less than victory.

Other games booked by Manager Cantwell are Harverford at Newark, February 8th, Bucknell and St. John's at Newark, February 14 and 15th respectively; Swarthmore at Swarthmore, February 21st, Georgetown, at Washington, March
