Trustees Name W. L. Wheatley To Board; Approve Sororities

President Of Clayton Food Firm Succeeds Gov. Terry For Six-Year Term As University Trustee; Sororities Sanctioned; Haughty Named H. Rodney Sharp Professor

The University of Delaware board of trustees last Saturday named W. L. Wheatley, president of the W. L. Wheatley, Inc., food processing firm of Clayton, to a six-year term on the board; approved social sororities under guidelines laid down 10 years ago for fraternities; and authorized negotiations with trustees of the proposed Delaware Institute of Technology concerning collegiate-level courses.

Delaware trustees accepted the annual report of President John A. Perkins for the 1965-66 academic year, and named Dr. George T. Haughty, chairman of the psychology department as H. Rodney Sharp professor of psychology.

Replaces Governor

Wheatley operates a farm and food processing plant which bears his name. He will occupy the seat vacant since the resignation of Gov. Charles L. Terry, Jr.

Half-owner of Clements Supply Co. of Clayton, Wheatley is a member of the State Highway Commission and a director of the Farmers Bank in Dover. Married and father of two children, Wheatley belongs to the Shriners' Nur Temple of Wilmington.

One of the key provisions of the 1956 policy on fraternities, which was reaffirmed by Saturday's action, is that organizations must have a plan to provide acceptable housing within four years after their charter is granted.

The trustees' committee on student personnel services and welfare recommended permission for chartering social sororities on campus, at the same time noting that "there is not a manifest desire for sororities on the part of a majority of women students at the University of Delaware."

The committee cited results of a survey conducted last spring in which 38 per cent of the women responded to a questionnaire and 49 per cent of these favored sororities.

Difficult Prohibition

The committee also noted there is a traditional prohibition against sororities, "but it is nevertheless difficult to continue that prohibition so long as men are permitted to establish and join fraternities."

There are 10 fraternities on campus. The 1956 policy statement gives trustees authority for final approval or disapproval of any petition for establishment of a new fraternity after unqualified endorsements from both the Interfraternity Council and vice-president for student affairs.

The policy's requirement that a group certify to the dean of students office that membership is not restricted on the basis of race or creed will apply to sororities.

Democratic Society

Trustees also received reports from the committee on student personnel services and welfare and the executive committee based on their consideration of a petition for the presence on campus of the organization called Students for a Democratic Society. No action was taken.

The local chapter of the American Association of University Professors requested a more liberal policy on outside speakers, and a committee was appointed to study the matter and report to the trustees.

Dr. Haughty joined the university in 1965, after service on the faculty of the University of Oklahoma school of medicine and college of arts and sciences.

He also was chief of the psychological laboratories of the Civil Aeronautics Research Institute in Oklahoma, and was research administrator with the U.S. Air Force School of Aerospace Medicine.

He resides in Newark with his wife and four children.

Newark Foursome Plays In Bermuda Golf Tournament

A pro-amateur foursome from the Newark Country Club traveled to Bermuda to compete Dec. 6-10 in a four-nation field of 90 teams in the 14th annual International Goodwill Golf Tournament.

Professional Joe Aneda and club members Robert Simeone, Carlton Straughn, and B. Frank Richards, will be competing with teams from the United States, England, Canada and the West Indies in a tournament which has grown to be the biggest event of its kind in the world.

In last year's Goodwill, a Newark foursome failed by only four strokes to qualify for the final round of this 72-hole, best-ball tournament.

On Dec. 8, when the amateurs have a day off, Aneda and the other professionals will meet in a separate, 18-hole, prize-money tournament—the Goodwill Professional Championship.

The Newark New Century Club will entertain Delaware State Federation Club presidents and other officers at the annual Christmas program next Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Joseph Huesti of the music department at the university will present the Chamber Singers in a program of traditional and modern seasonal music.

Mrs. Manlove D. McMullen and Mrs. Edward W. Gintner are hostesses, and Mrs. Melville G. Kershaw, club president, will welcome guests and preside at the meeting.

DACP President Retires

L. J. Earl Lynch

Retiring president of the Delaware Association of Chiefs of Police, Lt. J. Earl Lynch of the Newark Police Department, will honor last Monday night in Dover at the DACP banquet, with the award of the past-president's badge, lifetime membership in the association; and was made a director of Camp Barnes.

Delaware State Police Lt. Robert Stuart succeeds Lynch as DACP president.

"The Fantasticks" To Be Presented By E-52 Theatre

Mary Woodmansee Heads Musical Portion Of Show That Set New York Record

Last month "The Fantasticks" by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, became the longest-running musical-comedy in New York theatre history, and tonight, the University of Delaware E-52 Theatre will present its production of the popular and unusual show.

To be offered this Thursday and Friday at 8:15 p.m. and Saturday at 6 and 9:15 p.m. in Mitchell Hall, the cast has been rehearsing on a seven-day-a-week schedule under the direction of James H. Walton, newly-appointed director of theatre for the department of dramatic arts and speech.

Mary Woodmansee, 159 Haines Street, Newark, a junior in the music department, heads the musical direction and will accompany on piano with the additional instruments of harp, string bass, and percussion.

Assistant director is Irene Fredericks, sophomore, and Susan Siedschlag, Wilmington, freshman.

The appeal of "The Fantasticks" seems to be undimmed. At first just the "aware" theatre-goers were entranced by it; but during its record-breaking run, people of all ages and interests have been smitten by its sentiment and charm.

For young people, there is the always-popular boy-loves-girl (but with conflict) story. And parents delight in the song by the two fathers which tells in a new way what every parent knows—to get a child to do what you want him to, say "NO."

In the male lead of El Gallo is James F. Smith, Wilmington, senior, Virginia Hughes, New Castle, sophomore, and Andrew Brauman, Willow Grove (Pa.) sophomore, play Luisa and Matt.

Roles of the fathers will be handled by Donald Grimme, Westmont, N.J., and Donald Biehn, Hockessin, both juniors.

William Harlow Wilmington, junior, will play Henry, the old actor; David Barney, Wilmington, senior, will appear as the Indian Mortimer; and Thomas Tully, Wilmington, sophomore, will be the Mute.

With "Streetcar Named Desire," the opening E-52 production, both a theatrical and box-office success, the cast and crew are working to top that accomplishment with "The Fantasticks."

Instruction By Computer Offered In Junior High

Beginning last Monday, Central Junior High School is engaged in a two-week project using computer instruction with an IBM remote terminal connected to the IBM 1601 computer at the university.

Students take a 20-min lesson in English grammar taught by the computer, and an evaluation of instructional efficiency will be made.

The project is under auspices of the state-wide planning grant to study applications of technology in education.

Dr. G. Ernest Anderson, University of Delaware, is advisor to Martha J. Upton of the English department at Central Junior High School on this project.

Lehigh Economist Advises Halting Creek Dam Plans

Wait Until 1976 Speaker Says of White Clay Creek Project For Water Supply

Francis X. Splane, Lehigh University economist, suggested stopping activity on the proposed White Clay Creek Dam, and waiting until 1976 to see if private industry could undertake the project.

Addressing last week's Wednesday meeting of the White Clay Watershed Association, Splane said the dam won't be needed until 1994 at the earliest, and may never be needed. His talk was based on research at the University of Delaware for a master's thesis on New Castle County water supply last year.

Splane suggested in a telephone interview before the talk two elements that must be considered before more work is done on the project.

The first is a recent agreement between the City of Wilmington and Delaware Water Corp. to sell the utility firm water at 10 cents per 1,000 gallons when needed.

The second is development of a water supply source in the next 10 years, making the dam unnecessary.

The sale of water to the county sheds a different light on suggestions made in a 1961 report by consulting engineers, Whitman, Requaard and Co.

Splane said that this study assumed that Wilmington would not sell water.

White Clay Creek dam would not be needed if water available to Wilmington were uniformly distributed throughout the county as a public water supply, the report stated. Splane said the agreement signed last Sept. 16 provided an additional 40 million gallons a day to the county. This essentially is a public water supply.

The 40 million gallons a day Splane says has three sources. He said nine million gallons is available by using Hoopes Reservoir to augment low flow in both Brandywine and White Clay creeks.

Another 14 million gallons a day will be provided from dams to be constructed in the Brandywine basin in Pennsylvania.

And he said there are another 17 million gallons a day in the Brandywine—over and above the city's needs—that could be used.

King To Conduct Symphonic Band In Dec. 18 Concert

The Symphonic Band, a select group of 55 instrumentalists at the University of Delaware under the direction of J. Robert King, will present its first concert of the season on Sunday, Dec. 18, in the Dover Room of the Student Center.

The concert open to the public without charge, will begin at 7:30 p.m. King said the 7:30 starting time, a departure from the usual 8:15, will be standard for Sunday evening programs.

"Music for the Christmas Season" is the theme for the first program which will include works drawn from the field of popular music as well as from baroque, classic, romantic and contemporary periods.

Subsequent campus concerts in March and May will feature outstanding soloists.

Back Issues of Magazines Sought for Shue School

H. Nelson Freidly, principal-elect of the Wilmer E. Shue School, asks for help from area residents in preparing the new school for operation next September.

Freidly requests back issues of magazines for the library at the Shue School.

Money has been budgeted to subscribe to magazines and newspapers, but for research work, students need back issues, Freidly explained.

DELAWARE STATE CHOIR

The Delaware State College Choir will present a program of Christmas music this Sunday at 7 p.m. in Delaware Hall. The public is invited to attend, and admission is free.

Mosher was chairman of the society's Delaware section in 1953-54; has been an advisor at Franklin Institute since 1959, and consultant to the Army Chemical Center since 1956.

Coast Guardsman Josh Humphreys Aids Cuban Refugees From Communist Regime

Former Newark resident Josh Humphreys, recently promoted to radarman third with the U.S. Coast Guard aboard the cutter Ingham which is home-ported at Norfolk, Va., assisted recently with the rescue of Cuban refugees from the Castro Communist regime, in the Florida Straits.

Writing to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Humphreys, Josh reports that after liberty in Miami, the Ingham's crew were assigned to the Florida Straits Patrol.

"Things happened so fast and furious," Josh writes, "that I am a bit forgetful of the exact days. We no longer get there, than we were boarding boats and taking on Cubans."

"Each time we boarded a boat, I was required to go. I think I told you, I am the Ingham's interpreter."

"The boarding is exciting for we are required to carry pistols. Several Cubans told me that the Communist gunboats often fly the American flag when approaching the refugee boats, and when in range, simply open fire on the escaping Cubans. So you see, the refugees don't quite trust us."

"However, when I explain that we are the Costa Guard de los Estados Unidos" and that we will take them to Key West, they are the happiest people in the world. We have picked up more than 100 Cubans so far."

Josh Humphreys

Recently, the Ingham rescued 56 Cubans wearing white flags from a small island in the Caribbean.

"The Ingham stood in to the island and we went ashore in the small boat," Josh Humphreys writes, "ferreting them back to the ship. Then the fun started—trying to keep all the people in a family together, getting them examined by the ship's doctor; getting them washed and in clean clothes—and providing them with hot food."

"Some had not had a bite to eat for five days," Josh continues.

William A. Mosher Elected To Post As ACS Director

Professor William A. Mosher of the University of Delaware has been elected to the American Chemical Society board of directors.

Mosher, chairman of the department of chemistry at Delaware, will represent the society's fourth district.

A native of Salem, Ore., Mosher received his AB degree from Willamette University in 1935; his MS in 1936 from Oregon State University, and his PhD from Pennsylvania State University in 1940.

He joined Hercules in Wilmington in 1940, and served as assistant director of research from 1941 to 1945, when he took his present position at Delaware.

He was a Fulbright lecturer in Austria in 1952-53; was awarded an honorary DSc from Willamette in 1961; and received the Lindbeck Award in 1964.

Mosher was chairman of the society's Delaware section in 1953-54; has been an advisor at Franklin Institute since 1959, and consultant to the Army Chemical Center since 1956.

Dr. John Auletto Reports Program of PACE to Aid Learning for Maladjusted

The Newark school district is seeking to establish an office of creative educational services under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, commonly referred to as PACE (Projects to Advance Creativity in Education).

Dr. John A. Auletto, director of student services in the school district and acting coordinator for federal projects, said the project is being undertaken by the Newark district in cooperation with private and public agencies.

The proposed office for creative educational services would provide leadership and service in the development of new, imaginative, and exemplary programs in the public, private, non-profit elementary and secondary schools within the Newark district.

Two pilot studies would be conducted under auspices of Newark's office for creative educational services:

1. A program for the socially maladjusted, promulgated by the federal government, emphasizing integrated utilization of community agencies and resources.

2. Establishment of a facility and services for diagnosis and remedy of learning disabilities with emphasis at the elementary school level.

Auletto pointed out that Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act is designed to encourage school districts to develop imaginative solutions to educational problems and to more effectively utilize research findings. He explained that Title III money can be used to create, design, and make intelligent use of supplementary centers and services.

DuPont To Build Plant At Newark Industrial Park

Commercial Production Of Vespel Parts Slated At 10-Acre Pencader Park

The Du Pont Company will construct a plant at the Diamond State Industrial Park in Newark, for commercial production of Vespel precision parts and abrasive products made from its high-performance polyimide resins.

Construction will begin on the company's 10-acre site by year-end, with initial production scheduled for early 1968, and some 40 people will operate the plant.

It will be known as the Pencader Plant, after Pencader Hundred, a geographical subdivision in which the plant is located.

In announcing the 20,000-sq.-ft. facility, Harlan L. Graham, general manager of the plastics department, attributed pending commercial production of products based on DuPont's polyimide resins to a successful test marketing program started in 1962. He said the new facility will meet a demand that has been growing steadily and diversely for the last four years.

DuPont will not market the basic resins, but will sell finished products tailored to customer specifications.

Polyimide resins were discovered 10 years ago at DuPont's Experimental Station, and the company has been perfecting its production of high heat resistant plastic resins.

Vespel parts based on these resins provide the design engineer with a material with good service life under operating temperatures ranging from 400 degrees below zero to 500 degrees Fahrenheit, with full retention of properties.

The combination of temperature and radiation resistance, dimensional stability and wear resistance has led to the use of Vespel parts as seals, bearings, and valve seats in the aircraft industry; as compressor components in refrigerant systems, and as bushings in jet engines.

Home Economist Ruth Pearce Dies In Pennsylvania

Ruth E. Pearce, 48, of State College, Pa., a former University of Delaware faculty member, died Saturday at her home after a long illness.

Miss Pearce was clothing specialist on the home economics extension staff at the University of Delaware from 1950 to 1955 and taught for the college of home economics from 1955 to 1956.

She taught at Louisiana State University from 1956 to 1958, when she joined the staff of University of New Hampshire. She was an associate professor at New Hampshire when she became ill in August.

Miss Pearce was a graduate of Pennsylvania State University, and received her master's degree from Cornell. She had finished all her work except her dissertation for a Ph.D. from Penn State.

She was under contract to join the University of Delaware home economics faculty next February, according to Dr. Irma Ayers, dean of the college of home economics.

Services were conducted Tuesday at the Koch Funeral Home, State College. Interment was in Pine Hill Cemetery near there.

Keer Jr., Janet Anderson, McFarland Warren, Sharon Litchford, Delmas Peters, John, Chris, Dan and Pot Foster.

Mrs. Ella Harrison of Hockessin suffered a broken left arm recently. Thomas Jarrell of Limestone Road, is suffering from a broken back and several broken ribs when a crane boom fell on him at work last week.

He is in Wilmington General Division and all his many friends wish him a rapid recovery.

Peninsula Society Of Horticulturists To Meet Dec. 14-15

The program of the 80th annual meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society next Tuesday and Wednesday will feature reports on the latest research in production and marketing of fruits and vegetables, at Centenary Church, Laurel.

According to Robert Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware and secretary of the society, a marketing tour to Hunt's Point Wholesale Market, New York City, will follow the Dec. 14, morning meetings and continue through Dec. 15. Members taking the tour will meet with United Nations food and agricultural organization officials.

Edward Ralph, associate Sussex County agricultural agent, will lead a panel discussion of possibilities and pitfalls of subirrigation.

Dr. William Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware, and E. N. Scarborough, associate professor of agricultural engineering, will take part in the Dec. 13, morning session.

Society members, including farmers, processors, commercial company representatives and staff members of the University of Delaware, University of Maryland and Virginia Truck Experiment Station participate in the annual meetings, discussing current problems and possible solutions, according to Albert Ardis of Snow Hill, Md., president of the society.

Programs will be mailed to members and are available from Robert Stevens, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark.

Dessert And Demitasse For Holiday Dinner

Along with Santa Claus and New Year's Eve, the holiday season brings lots of festive dinners for family and friends. Most of us look forward to a traditional favorite for a hearty main course, but dessert is the time for an unusual surprise. Here's where this creamy, refreshing Marquis Royale, accompanied by cups of steaming coffee, should appear. Rich ricotta cheese, a hint of brandy flavoring and a dusting of granulated espresso coffee are the key ingredients. This Italian treat is elegant, delicious and simple to prepare.

For another bit of continental trimming, serve dark, rich Italian coffee. Authentic Italian espresso is made only in a special machine, but you can get an equally fine brew with a regular drip pot. Use one Approved Coffee Measure (equal to two level measuring tablespoons) of Italian or French-roast drip grind coffee to three ounces of water per serving. This is half the amount of water used for regular coffee. For excellent coffee — whether continental or American — start with a clean coffee-maker and freshly-drawn cold water. Pour immediately after brewing for full flavor and aroma.

Marquis Royale
1 lb. ricotta (Italian cottage cheese)
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup extra fine granulated sugar

3 tablespoons brandy or 1 teaspoon brandy extract
2 tablespoons instant espresso

Combine ricotta and milk in bowl and blend until creamy. Gradually add sugar and blend. Add brandy or extract and blend to custard consistency. Spoon into dessert glasses and chill. Before serving, dust with instant espresso. Makes 6 servings.

RCA Victor Color TV with Perma-Chrome

For 1967, RCA Victor has developed Perma-Chrome, which is standard in all their models. Perma-Chrome means that you get true color as soon as the picture comes on, no adjustments necessary after the first few minutes of color viewing.

DEMPEYS CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING DAY

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Dempsey of Corner Ketch Road, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Nov. 26 with a reception from 2 to 6 p.m. in Red Men's Hall at Corner Ketch. The affair was attended by over 125 guests.

The couple were married by the Rev. J. W. Gray at Ebenezer Church parsonage on Nov. 26, 1916.

Mrs. Dempsey was the former Catharine Mousley of Pleasant Hill, and a native of Mill Creek Hundred. Mr. Dempsey has lived in the hundred most of his life.

Mr. Dempsey is a poultryman since his retirement from the Artesian Water Co.

They are members of Ebenezer Methodist Church and former members of Wa Wa Tribe, IORM, and Leola Council, Degree of Pochontas, and Union Grange.

They have a son—Theodore of Llangollen Estates, and a daughter, Miss Catharine Dempsey, at home. There are four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

JOHANNA M. MILLER, JOHN BARBATTI TO WED

Mr. and Mrs. John Z. Miller of Newark announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Johanna Munson Miller to Mr. John J. Barbatti, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Barbatti of Albertson, Long Island, N.Y.

Miss Miller is a graduate of Newark High School and Ursinus College. She is a registered occupational therapist, earned her certificate in occupational therapy from the University of Pennsylvania and her master's degree at Columbia University.

Mr. Barbatti, a graduate of Mincola High School and the University of California at Los Angeles, served as a first lieutenant in the Air Force and at present is a partner in a foreign car sales agency. A January wedding is planned.

GLASGOW HOME CLUB PROJECTS AID NEEDED

The Glasgow Home Economics Club will meet next Tuesday at the Horseless Carriage for a Christmas party.

In the past year the club has participated in the March of Dimes, Cancer Drive, Needlework Guild, Stocking, and State Hospital programs.

Candy was sent to Thomas Carter, a chaplain stationed in Vietnam, to be distributed to the children there. Carter is the son of Mrs. William Carter, a member of the club.

Numerous items have been made and sent to the mentally handicapped and hospital patients for their comfort.

Mrs. William Hamilton, Civil Defense chairman, and five other members attended the Civil Defense meeting on Nov. 29, at Dover Air Force Base.

MRS. TRUITT TO HEAD WSCS YULE MEETING

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newark Methodist Church will hold its Christmas meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the church on Main Street.

The program will consist of a pageant "For This Little Time" plus special Christmas music by a choir. Mrs. Garland Truitt is program chairman, with Mrs. R. J. Hawes assisting.

Circles Four and Five will be hostesses.

Mr. Dempsey's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Canby Dempsey of Ann Arbor, Mich., attended the celebration, but another brother, Thomas, was unable to be present due to ill health.

Mrs. Dempsey's sister, Mrs. Sarah Thornbury of Corner Ketch, was present.

The couple were remembered with gifts of money, cut flowers, plants, crystal, china and linens.

CHRISTINE ALLCORN TO WED LEWIS NIX

A Dec. 16 wedding is planned by Miss Christine Sandra Allcorn and Pfc. Lewis Nix.

Miss Allcorn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Allcorn of 28 E. Stephen Drive, Newark, and Pfc. Nix is the son of H. A. Nix of 36 Kullen Drive, Newark, and Mrs. H. O. Moebus of Milpitas, Calif.

Both are graduates of Christiana High School. Miss Allcorn is employed by Wilmington Blue Print and her fiancé is serving in the Army, stationed at Fort Monmouth, N.J.

MRS. FRANCES SLOAN, HERBERT CLAVIER WED

Mrs. Frances Wilson Sloan of Sandy Shores, Millsboro—daughter of Mr. William Franklin Wilson and the late Mrs. Wilson of Newark—became the bride of Mr. Herbert Clavier of Coatesville, Pa., on Nov. 26.

Mr. Clavier is a former plant maintenance engineer of West Chester State College, Pa.

The wedding took place at All Saints Episcopal church, Rehoboth Beach, with the Rev. Richard S. Bailey officiating.

HARKINS-EPISCOPO ENGAGEMENT REPORTED

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Harkins of 24 Stevens Ave., Rambleton Acres, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sharon J. Harkins, to Christopher A. Episcopo.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Episcopo of 126 S. Dilwyn Road, Windy Hills, Newark.

Miss Harkins is a graduate of William Penn High School and is employed by Hercules, Inc.

Mr. Episcopo is a graduate of Salesianum School and is employed by Bernie R. Waski, Inc.

PERSONALS

Miss Kip Kelo Boden, debutante daughter of Mrs. Harry C. Boden of Newark, was a guest at the Baltimore Cotillion last Friday night.

Miss Boden and her mother were weekend guests in Baltimore of Mr. and Mrs. L. Wethered Barroll.

Preceding the ball the debutante attended a dinner at L'Hirondelle Club, given by Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Marbury in honor of Miss Anne Hall North, one of the young women presented at this year's cotillion.

Mrs. Boden attended a pre-ball dinner given by Mrs. Paul Thurston MacKie in Baltimore.

Cranberry Christmas Ring

Just right for holiday serving is this Cranberry Christmas Ring. It's home-baked from a brand new cranberry bread mix with berry bits right in the mix. Pair pecans with the cranberries' tang, and bake the bread in a mold for this handsome ring. How to serve it? In slices, dolloped with a flavor-matched topping—whipped cream cheese laced with cranberry-orange relish. When to serve it? Just about any time the doorbells ring to announce holiday callers.

Cranberry Christmas Ring
1 package cranberry bread mix
1/2 cup coarsely broken pecan pieces
Cranberry-Orange Fluff:
8 ounce package softened cream cheese
1/4 cup cranberry-orange relish

ONE RING MOLD
Prepare cranberry bread mix as directed on package adding pecan pieces with the dry mix. Turn into 1 1/2 quart ring mold which has been greased and floured on bottom only. Bake at 350° for 40 to 50 minutes until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan. Cool completely. Serve with Cranberry-Orange Fluff. Beat softened cream cheese until fluffy. Fold in cranberry-orange relish.

Bowling For Better Scores

By Evelyn Teal. 1964-65 All American Team

Position at the Foul Line Last of Seven Articles

In all sports, form plays a very important part and bowling is no exception. If you finish badly at the foul line, then you have improperly performed some basic part of the four-step delivery. If all the steps had been executed properly, you would finish with your sliding foot pointing directly toward the pins. Your shoulders will be parallel to the foul line. Your sliding knee would be bent slightly to insure a perfect slide and to maintain good balance.

Your pendulum arm swing, if executed properly, will bring the ball about four to six inches to the side of your sliding foot. Your bowling arm will continue smoothly up and down in making a "straight-follow through." Always strive for correct form to give your maximum scoring. If you find that you are finishing poorly at the foul line, examine your delivery and correct only the points that need it; don't think that everything is wrong.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

SOMETHING OLD, SOMETHING NEW, SOMETHING BORROWED, SOMETHING BLUE" is a phrase known to all brides-to-be. What could be more appropriate for this wonderful occasion than an exquisite prayer book cover to be cherished by any bride for a lifetime. What bride won't feel just a bit more confident walking down that almost "endless" aisle with a bible tucked under her bouquet?

BEAUTIFUL BIBLE COVER

The cover itself is easily fashioned of fine white fabric; a moire or satin would be most lovely. The binding strip and cross are delicately tatted in mercerized crocheted cotton using the traditional white, cream or ecru. For that "touch of blue," a bride might be so compelled as to use a pale robinette shade for the design. When the wedding is over and only pictures bring back those happy memories, this beautiful bible cover will remain as lovely as when it was first used. Put it on your night table or on a shelf in the living room for an extra touch of religious beauty.

GIVE AS A GIFT

What could be a better gift to give at Christmas time than a bible cover? Easy to make and beautiful enough to give, this religious book cover will be appreciated and welcomed by all. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PT 3760.

God Bless Us,—Everyone!

DANGER SIGNS

Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation recently said: "Is America as a nation being swept by an epidemic of spiritual malnutrition? I fervently hope not; but the danger signs are all too clear. I fear that the public may be coming to accept widespread lawlessness as an unavoidable adjunct to our way of life."

"What has happened to the civic pride, the righteous indignation, of otherwise respectable citizens who turn their backs on helpless victims of beatings, robberies and sex crimes? The incredibly indifferent attitude of these people is exacting a heavy toll. It has helped to turn the streets and parks of many cities into virtual jungles of fear—where, according to a recent survey, nearly one half of the residents are afraid to walk alone at night."

"Despite the continuing efforts of some self-professed 'experts' to minimize the crime problem, the undeniable fact remains that crime is increasing—in both number and intensity—at an alarming rate. It is growing six times as fast as our expanding population."

Hoover quotes President Johnson's declaration that "The control of crime is a major target of this administration." It should and must be. But that is not enough. It must be a major target of governments at all levels—and of law-abiding citizens everywhere.

March of Dimes Patient Cheats Death To Develop Into Pint-Sized Tarzan

"The hospital suggested that I sign the autopsy permit ahead of time because my son had practically no chance to live."

In these words, Rosalind Bessell, Natick, Mass., recalls the ordeal that she and her husband, Henry, lived through four years ago when their newborn, premature baby lay wasting away in an incubator with death coming ever closer.

Mrs. Bessell's story is borne out by the records at Boston City Hospital to which the infant was hurried soon after his birth with a severe intestinal obstruction. But an air of unreality surrounds her grim recital because, as this attractive young teacher recalls the days and nights when her baby hovered at death's door, she points out the window at home where this same boy—seemingly healthy as a young Tarzan—is now swinging from a low branch of a towering maple tree, grinning and yelling, "Look, Ma!"

"Today, as I think back," she says, "I often believe that none of this happened at all, that it was just a frightful nightmare, that I was never told my baby was dying, and that my brother, a rabbi, hadn't really raced down here from Utica to conduct the funeral service."

There is no air of unreality, however, about the records at Boston City Hospital where young Mark received treatment at the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center and to which he regularly returns for check-ups.

Mark, a second child, was premature by six weeks and weighed only 4 lbs., 10 ounces at birth. Doctors soon established that he had a gross obstruction between the small and large intestine. In the next four months, five operations were performed to remove the block and to repair a perforation in the small intestine. Most of this period the infant was fed intravenously. His weight dropped to 2½ pounds. The doctors feared he might die at any hour.

The suggestion was even made that Mrs. Bessell sign an autopsy permit in advance because it appeared the full force of the 1961 hurricane would soon slam into Boston making it impossible for the family to reach the hospital from their home 18 miles away.

"I wouldn't go along with the suggestion about the autopsy permit, although it was meant well under the circumstances. Also, I could not bring myself to fill in and return the birth certificate to the proper authorities although I had been warned that I was breaking the law in holding it back."

"The only way I can explain my hesitancy about signing the birth certificate and the autopsy permit," she continued, "is that, during much of those four months when I seemed to be living on a seesaw or on a pogo stick, up and down all the while, I could not convince myself that a 2½ lb. infant, lying inert in an incubator, was a real living baby. Also, I had been told so often not to expect him to live."

ONCE AT DEATH'S DOOR because of severe birth defect, Mark Bessell, Natick, Mass., survived five operations in his first four months of life to grow into the normal tree-climbing four-year-old shown here.

At the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center at Boston City Hospital, Dr. David Ingall, the medical director, says of Mark's recovery:

"You're simply compelled to regard this as a miracle—a medical miracle, a miracle of faith, a spiritual miracle."

Newark High Host To Student Council County Association

James Cox, president of the Newark High School Student Council, reports that the fall meeting of the New Castle Student Council Association which the local school hosted was an outstanding success, with some 100 students and advisors from county schools attending.

After registration, delegates met in general sessions where they were welcomed by President Cox and greeted by Principal Frederick B. Kutz.

In group meetings, consideration was given to a series of discussions concerning the authority which a student council should have over the student body; faculty-student council cooperation; the student council as an aid to producing school spirit in sports and social affairs; worthwhile projects for student council; and consideration of a student discipline board.

Advisors to the Newark High School Student Council are Mrs. Mary Baird and Robert O'Brien.

Clothing Contributed With Bundle Days

Cecil Pierce, Newark school district maintenance worker, receives the last bundle of the annual local Bundle Days drive from Chairman Thomas A. Cobley.

Generosity of Newark residents this year provided more than 4,000 lbs. of used but serviceable clothing for children of Appalachia.

Christmas Party At Central School Planned By GNRA

A Christmas Party will be sponsored by the Greater Newark Recreation Association, on Saturday, Dec. 17, at Central Elementary School on Academy Street from 1 to 3 p.m.

"Hanon the Great" will feature the program with his "manipulation magic" for which he has won a world-wide trophy.

Also featured will be the Little Theatre Group who will present "Christmas Inside" under the direction of Mrs. Miles Bart.

Refreshments will be served, and the event will be climaxed by the appearance of Santa with gifts for all.

Reservations must be made by Dec. 14, at the GNRA office, 315 Delaware Circle. A limit of 200 reservations will be taken.

A small fee per child will be charged to help to cover cost of gifts and refreshments.

Holiday Tables Featured By Nottingham Green Club

"Holiday Tables" was the theme for the Christmas program of the Nottingham Green Garden Club last Monday at the home of Mrs. Robert Whitman.

Christmas refreshments were served by the hostess and her committee, and club members worked in teams of six to decorate five original tables.

One table featured a lollipop tree for a child's party.

Red cardinals dominated another table to carry out the theme of an ancient Christmas Carol.

TATTOOING DOGS FOR PERMANENT IDENTIFICATION

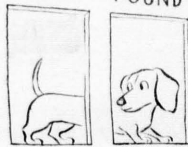

By Bob Bartos, Manager

Friskies Research Kennels

If your dog is lost or stolen and he slips his collar bearing his identification tag or the collar is deliberately removed, your chances of recovering your pet are slim. Now chances of recovery are much brighter, thanks to a method of permanent identification which entails having your dog tattooed in the right groin (inner right thigh) with your social security number.

After the tattooing, which is done painlessly and in a matter of minutes by your veterinarian or through the auspices of your local kennel club or animal welfare organization, you send your social security number, name, address and phone number along with a $3.00 registration fee to National Dog Registry, Box 55, Stanton, New Jersey, 08685. This registration is for two years and may be renewed every two years for a $2.00 renewal fee.

LOST FOUND

If at any time thereafter the National Dog Registry is advised that a dog bearing your social security number has been found, you will be promptly notified so you may take the necessary steps to recover your pet.

Founded by a Princeton University physician after attempting unsuccessfully to locate his own lost pet, the National Dog Registry is endorsed by the Humane Society of the United States and other animal welfare organizations who are anxious to thwart the dog-napping threat. To further assure the return of a dog, the registry has asked more than 1500 laboratories, medical schools and research centers to be notified if any dog bearing the social security tattoo shows up. The Attorney Generals of 48 states have likewise been alerted and asked to cooperate by calling this tattoo system to the attention of their law enforcement branches.

Feeding tip: Dogs often require more high-energy food in cold weather than they do in summer. One way to be sure your pet is getting his quota is to feed him a top quality prepared dog food such as Friskies.

Moon Exploration Probability Cited By DST Speaker

Human exploration of the moon may be the next chapter of science fiction to become fact, Walter L. Ritter of The Diamond State Telephone Co. recently told members of the Central Junior High School student body.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration's "Project Apollo," supported by the efforts of 200,000 people and the expenditure of an estimated $20-billion, is aimed at landing men on the moon before the end of this decade, Ritter said. Illustrating his talk with color slides, he described in detail the various stages of "Project Apollo" and the vital part played by Bell Telephone in history's challenging peacetime undertaking.

After outlining plans for rocketing preliminary unmanned Ranger and Surveyor satellite probes to the moon, Ritter described the Saturn rocket, taller than the Statue of Liberty, which will send the Apollo spacecraft into lunar orbit.

He also discussed the complex spacecraft itself, and techniques by which two of the three astronauts making the trip will be landed on the moon and then returned to earth.

115 BREEDS
TO SELECT FROM FOR CHRISTMAS

By Bob Bartos, Manager
Friskies Research Kennels

When it comes to shopping for that new Christmas puppy, it's almost as easy to find a breed that suits your way of life and fits into your home or budget, as it is to find a becoming hat or coat. Not only are there 115 recognized breeds from which to choose, but within certain of the popular breeds you also have a choice of size and/or coat.

The poodle, for example, is available in three different sizes, the beagle in two and the schnauzer in three.

The dachshund not only comes in two sizes but in smooth-haired, wire and long-haired versions.

The collie, another perennial favorite, is also available in two different covers... the familiar rough coat and the less frequently seen smooth coat.

And then there are breeds that closely resemble one another in everything but size. A small edition of the collie comes in the Shetland sheep-dog, a completely separate breed. The miniature pinscher has its counterpart in the king-size doberman, while the Welsh and Lakeland terriers are rugged little replicas of the shire.

Since temperament runs pretty true to breed, you can also consider the temperament that will best suit you as well as size, coat and looks before you go out and buy. Consulting a good authoritative dog book that covers breed traits as well as appearance in detail can be helpful.

Remember when you're buying a dog, you're investing in another member of the family who will be sharing bed and board with you for the next ten to twelve years. So select wisely.

Feeding tip: During the winter when dogs are indoors a great deal of the time, they may not get sufficient sunshine. A top quality prepared dog food such as Friskies contains an ample amount of sunshine Vitamin D.

Low-Cost, High-Flavor Rice Dish

It is quite possible to serve an attractive and delicious brunch, lunch or supper main dish that also is low in cost without being obvious about it. Such a dish is Rice O'Brien with Bacon. With one pound of bacon and 6 cups of cooked rice as the main ingredients, it makes 10 luscious servings with expensive taste.

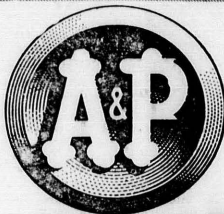

Rice O'Brien is gaily colored with pimiento and green pepper in quantity to supply a heap of flavor as well. The bacon is pan-fried crisp at the very start, and some of the drippings are then used to sauté the raw vegetables and the rice until the vegetables are tender and all the good flavor is blended in. The rice is then served topped with the crisp brown rashers; the result is so tempting to the eye and so good no one except the cook will realize how many pennies have been saved.

The family's favorite rice may be used in this recipe when cooking directions on the package are followed to the letter. Those directions assure the best flavor, tenderness, fluffiness and nutrition without one smidgen of unnecessary effort.

Rice O'Brien With Bacon

1 pound bacon, sliced 6 cups cooked rice
1 1/2 cups chopped onions 1/2 cup diced pimiento
1 cup chopped green pepper 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Pan-fry bacon until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Keep warm. Pour off all but three tablespoons of bacon drippings. Cook onions and green peppers until tender, but not brown. Add rice, pimiento and seasonings. Continue cooking until golden brown. Serve with the hot bacon.
Makes 10 servings.

Hoffman Gives Yellowjacket Champions Letters At Boosters Club Grid Banquet

Coach Bob Hoffman and his Newark High School champions of the Blue Hen Conference—9-0 for the 1966 season—were honored last night by the Yellowjacket Boosters Club at a banquet in the Aetna Fire Hall on Ogletown Road, and Carmen Lato, president of the Blue Hen Conference, presented the championship trophy.

Jimmy Flynn, backfield coach and former star halfback for the University of Delaware, was guest speaker; and H. Nelson Friedly of the school administrative staff, was toastmaster.

Hoffman presented varsity letters to 26 members of his second successive championship squad.

Juniors who won letters are Bob Russell, Tom McDonald, Tom Bratton, Gary McCormick, Larry Smith, Keith Walker, Tyrone Wood, Bill Fletcher, Dan Winteringer, and George Toulson.

Kelley, Strengari, and Larry Tucker were named to the All-State and Blue Hen Conference first teams as halfback, quarterback, and end.

"I have never had a group of boys who were more determined," Hoffman said of his "Golden Boys," who provided Newark with its first undefeated season since 1958, and Hoffman with his fifth conference crown in eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hayman of Bryn Mawr, Pa., parents of Coach Hoffman, presented their son with a gold plaque commemorating the 9-0 season; David L. Graybeal was awarded a trophy as the senior player attaining the highest scholastic average; and Fullback Jim McDonough received a trophy as the most progressive senior grinder.

Lou Strengari, Jr., a leader in the Yellowjacket Boosters Club, presented framed photographs of the Newark High School champions to the coaching staff, Robert A. Gary, Dick Musselman, and George Plimick, with a special enlarged color photo to Hoffman, and the co-captains presented gifts to the coaches from the team.

Charley Pinto, Carl Rice, and Joe Russell—former Yellowjacket athletes—were cited for their assistance as scouts during the past championship campaign.

Gene Smith, vice-president of the Yellowjacket Boosters Club, presided in the absence of President Jim Kelley who was called out of town with the death of his grandmother.

Lauding coaches and players for their championship season, Jimmy Flynn urged the boys to "live like champions," so that in later years no one could point the finger of scorn at "that man who was on the 9-0 team of 1966."

Flynn said that the University of Delaware was happy to share "a 15-3 record" with the Yellowjackets, "and I am proud to be a part of the community in which you fellows live," the Hen backfield coach concluded.

Sergeant Sam Tibbitt of the Newark Police Department, returned from a blind on the Tred Avon River near Oxford on Maryland's Eastern Shore last weekend with his limit of two Canada geese and a beautiful page of Richard Frear's photos in a copy of the Eastern Shore Democrat.

"A couple of hours," Sam said of the time required to collect his two geese from the thousands of flying high wide area hands over the Tred Avon shore blind.

And it wasn't two many years ago when Sgt. Tibbitt and his listener would have been happy to settle for two geese in a lifetime.

Since the advent of the mechanical corn-picker, Canada geese have flocked to Delaware and to the Eastern Shore of Maryland to reap what is left of the harvest—and there is much more corn left by machine than man for fattening fowl.

"The corn-picker is the best friend the wild goose—and the goose hunter—ever had," Charles "Bus" Humphreys says.

Some 10 years ago, after a lifetime of wildfowling that included the shooting of one lone goose who sailed out of nowhere over a stand of duck decoys on the Chester River, we first encountered legions of geese from the corn and winter wheat fields of Maryland, east of Chesapeake Bay.

The shooting from pits amid golden corn stalks and green wheat surpassed the best of which we had read in the national sporting magazines.

With Dick Ware, Hugh Gallagher, Bus Thompson, Rudy T. Part, George Leuke, and Doug Conolly, we thrilled to the sight and sound of thousands of Canadas in the air—milling masses of wild geese that appeared like clouds of smoke in the distance, in classic V's, and in varying strings—and the principal difficulty was to avoid shooting over the limit of two.

Geese, as the whitetail deer, have come back to the East to provide the sportsman in the mid-20th Century with shooting to top that of the pioneers except for the freedom phase of the hunting.

Present day guns and ammunition are far better; the hunting is a lot more comfortable—and the oldtimers had the best of it only with open range.

The mechanical corn-picker has improved goose shooting, but the dedicated conservationists of the U.S. Dept. of the Interior with its Fish & Wildlife Service and former U.S. Biological Survey, the state agencies, Ducks Unlimited, and the hunters' dollar spent for firearms, ammunition, and federal stamps have preserved our wildfowl and keep them coming.

Ciesinski Awards Varsity, JV Letters For Cross Country

Coach Ray Ciesinski has announced varsity letters and jayvee awards for his 1966 Yellowjacket cross country squad at Newark High School, led by Co-Captains Wolf Bauer and David Towley.

Special trophies for outstanding performance were presented to the co-captains, and to Richard Bauer (no relation to Wolf, an American Field Service exchange student from Germany).

Wolf Bauer placed second behind Towley in every meet but one, Ciesinski reports. "His determination; his sense of humor; his team spirit, helped our squad to a fine season."

The Yellowjacket varsity compiled a 7-3 record in Blue Hen Conference cross country competition.

Towley took nine firsts in dual meets, and recorded his best time of 11:45 over the 2.3-mile course in his first season as a cross country runner.

"Dick Bauer turned in a tremendous effort as a sophomore," Ciesinski continued. Bauer placed second or third in every meet.

Three other boys who turned in outstanding jobs are Bill Kremer, Robie Stearns, and Jeff Purcell. Coach Ciesinski added, "They provided back-up strength for our team, and gave that extra effort to win those close meets."

Varsity letter-winners are Co-Captains Bauer and Towley; Dick Bauer, Robie Stearns, Bill Kremer, Bruce Jones, John Searl, Jeff Purcell, Charles Staiger, Andy Geyer and Gary Carpenter.

"I would like to see cross country running in the junior high schools," Coach Ray Ciesinski concluded with "I will be happy to offer my services to help any group get started."

Rawstrom's Hens Cop 12th Straight Dual Swim Meet

Coach Harry Rawstrom's Delaware swimming team extended its winning streak to 12 straight dual meets and atoned for its only 1965-66 loss last Tuesday in defeating Lafayette 54-41 at Taylor Pool.

Fenton Carey paced the Blue Hens to their second triumph of the season, as he won the 200-yard backstroke and 200 individual medley.

Co-Captain Gary Henderson of Newark won the 200 freestyle and swam on the Hens' winning 400 freestyle relay team.

Bob Locke won the freestyle 100 and swam the 400 freestyle relay. Bill Simpson of Lafayette set a school record while winning the 200 butterfly.

Delaware froshed posted their second win of the season with a 60-35 triumph. The Blue Chicks set two relay records in the process.

The quartet of Barry Guerke, Bob Young, Rich Burich and Gregg Wilson lowered the school freshman 400 medley relay mark from 4:15 to 4:08.2.

Wilson, Guerke and Burich combined with Malaki Toyama to set a 400 freestyle mark of 3:38.3. The record was 3:43.8.

The Hens host Philadelphia Textile at 2 p.m. Saturday, and Bucknell at 7 p.m. next Tuesday.

Richard E. Burger, a Pennsylvania-Dutch emigrant from Allentown to Newark where there is a hard core of former Pennsylvanians led by Fred Kutz, Russ Stauffer, and Anne Himmelbarger Longenbach comprising the Grundsau Lodge (Groundhog Lodge) with rich backgrounds of shoofly pie, gedrickelt kelschonn, sourgrout, g'schtonda grundberrra, schmearcase, gael reeva, karsha bol, and ael beera—violated all Pennsylvania-Deutsch principles on Thanksgiving Day by having a feast of exotic chukkar partridge.

Dick, the Newark Post's genial linotype operator, raises chukkar, along with other various ornamental pheasants, peafowl (de-voiced, at that), doves, pigeons and Araucana chickens (the variety that lays blue and green eggs—honest!) as a hobby. Chukkar, great gamebirds from Asia, have been successfully introduced in our West—and unsuccessfully in the East—with the Burger backyard exception.

Delaware's split season for duck shooting reopens next Monday and continues through Jan. 7 with a complicated daily bag limit of three ducks with not more than two wood ducks or two canvasbacks, plus a bonus extra two scup or ringnecks "east of U.S. Routes 13 and 113 only."

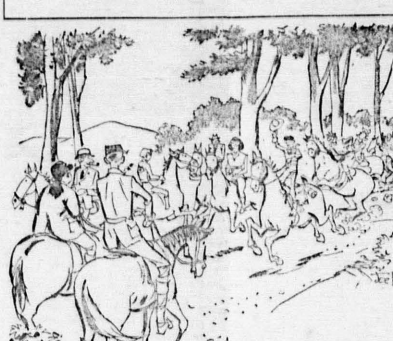

In some pre-dawn breakfast conversation at a local diner prior to a duck hunt, Scotty Duncan oversimplified the bag limits by remarking "you're allowed two of every kind"—and some 27 different species of wild ducks migrate into Delaware. Don't take Mr. Duncan's jesting advice.

Harold R. Boyer

Seaman Recruit Harold R. Boyer, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Pellechio of 401 Shue Drive, Newark, has graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

In making transition from civilian life to Naval service, the former Christiana High School athlete received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers—studied seamanship, survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day "Get a Horse!"

While it is still not putting any wrinkles in the brow of the automobile manufacturer, the old derisive cry of "Get a Horse!" is apparently being heeded by thousands of people the country over. Nor is everyone seeking another Buckle-up.

The $127,000,000 in purse money offered annually by the race tracks no doubt explains the record registration of a crop of more than 10,000 Thoroughbreds by The Jockey Club this year but this is not the only stimulus to the equine population explosion. The horse may be a victim of automation on the farm, and even on the cattle range, but he is gaining popularity as a pleasure animal. Enrollment of young people in 4-H Club horse projects jumped from 127,455 to 146,541 in one year according to the latest count.

The last U. S. Government nose count of horses made in 1959, showed a total of 2,955,256 on "turf, field and farm." No official horse census has been made since but the knowledge estimate of Dr. William Ryan, marketing director for Fort Dodge Laboratories, one of the leading developers of horse biologicals in the country, puts the figure at 6,000,000. Addressing the American Association of Equine Practitioners recently, Dr. Ryan predicted that this figure would double within the next ten years.

Former NHS Football Capt. Lee Hackney Among 34 Hen Champion Letter-Winners

Thirty-four members of Delaware's 1966 Middle Atlantic Conference championship football team, including Newark's Lee Hackney, former Yellowjacket fullback and team captain, have been awarded varsity letters.

Coach Tubby Raymond announced that 13 seniors, 12 juniors and nine sophomores qualified for the awards this year.

Six of the seniors—Ken Bills, Stu Green, Bill Neiger, Mike Purzycki, Capt. Ed Sand and Herb Slattery—are eligible for special awards as three-year lettermen.

The Blue Hens, 6-0 in MAC play this year, are losing six players who were named to the all-conference team. The senior Russ Bonadonna, offensive halfback Green, safety Jack Hoopes, spread end Purzycki, offensive guard Sand and offensive tackle-linebacker Slattery.

Slattery, the most nonpareil line-man in Delaware history, was first team all-conference, first team All-ECAC Division II, co-winner of most valuable player honors in the MAC, outstanding player among 24 ECAC Division II teams; first team Little All-American, and was voted Delaware's outstanding player by the Wilmington Touchdown Club.

"We are losing a very fine group of seniors," Raymond said. "They were the nucleus of this championship team."

Raymond also announced that the Hens would wait until after spring practice to select the 1967 captain. "We have been very successful the past two years in waiting until after spring drills to elect the captain," the Hen coach noted, "and we will wait again this year."

The senior lettermen are Ken Bills, Russ Bonadonna, Joe Godek, Stu Green, Jack Hoopes, Don Keister, John Kennedy, Buddy Lauby, Bill Neiger, Stan Ogden, Mike Parzycki, Ed Sand and Herb Slattery.

Junior lettermen are Lee Hackney, Jim Lacer, Frank Linzenbold, Jeff Lippincott, Ed Mason, John Miller, Jim Romberger, George Shimer, Art Smith, John Spangler, Harry Starrett and Brian Wright.

The nine sophomore letter-winners are John Baumann, Scott Campbell, Jim Crabb, Bill Laughlin, Chuck McCallion, Bob Novotny, Jim Seelba, Steve Schambach and Hank Vollendorf.

The VFW junior and senior champions of the Capitol Trail Junior Football League will play the junior and senior all-stars this Saturday at 12:30 p.m. on the Newark High School field.

The Junior All-Stars are Greg Dambach, Jim Logue, Richard Schuler, Lee Murray, Jim Leys, Mark Comegys, Richard Compello and Eric White of Stanton; Len Ebnatis, Dennis Eaton, Tim Mulkin, Ken Wallace, Clinton Lampe, Ricky McClain and Gary Stefanisko of the Green Raiders; Jack Ferro, Steve Miller, Tom Fitzpatrick, Tom Walker, Mark Carney and Steve Ford of the Crusaders; and Central's Paul Jones, Rick Barbour, Rusty Trout, Joseph Magnus and Brian Murphy.

The VFW senior division champions are Richard Arimoto, Jeff Brown, Dave Calvert, John Campbell, Ed Conkey, Jim Ford, Steve and Vic Hudson, Jim Jackson, Randy McDonald, Bill Records, Larry Stafford, Steve Tucker, Paul Urbanick, Dave and Gen Wegman, Clyde and Dave Webster and Phil Williamson.

The Senior All-Stars are Crusaders' Don Delphin, John McGirr, Bob Henry, Earl Rosado, Paul Watson, Bob Stroik, Jim King and Allen Guizetti; Central's Ray Bias, Elwood Roy, Dave McHenry, Jeff Angulo, Ken Pyle, Tony Rash and Skip Smith; Green Raiders' Ricky Selaviceo, Erik Sienna, Ricky Runkle, Steve Walters and Randy Spinks; and Stanton's Quenton Saniemi, Don Bennett, Bill Hackett, Randy White and Ricky Wilson.

McGlinchey Wins As Billy Matmen Cop Season Opener

Coach Paul Billy's Delaware wrestling team opened the season last night at Long Branch, N.J., defeating Monmouth College 18-15.

Newark's Mike McGlinchey defeated his 167-lb. opponent 13-0, and Pete Heuberger, another Newark grappler, dropped a 10-7 decision in the 145-lb. class.

Captain Dave Nicoll pinned Monmouth Heavyweight Jay Calabrese in 3:33.

Tony Colondonato, 177, and Skip Jones, 160, won decisions for Bear Billy's battlers.

Delaware entertains Lyeomich this Saturday with freshman matches beginning at 1:30 p.m., and the Hens wrestle at Glassboro State, N.J., next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Penn Sets Record With 106 Points In Defeating Hens

The University of Pennsylvania scored a record number of points for the Quakers in defeating Coach Dan Peterson's University of Delaware cagers 106-75 last night at Philadelphia's Palestra.

Delaware's Kenn Barnett with 25 points, and Charley Parnell with 23, were high scorers in the contest—but Penn had six men in the double column scoring.

After an impressive season opening win at home over Glassboro State, Peterson's Hens lost at Lafayette last Saturday night.

The 1-2 Hens entertain Navy—Peterson coached the Navy freshmen last season—this Saturday at 8 p.m.; Lehigh comes to town on Monday with the freshman game slated for 6:30, and Delaware plays at PMC next Thursday night with frosh and varsity games slated for 6:45 and 8:30.

Vets Edge Stanton For Junior Crown In Capitol Football

The VFW edged Stanton 13-12 last Sunday in a playoff game for the junior division title in the Capitol Trail Junior Football League.

Bill Coolidge ran five yards for a VFW touchdown, and Greg Dambach scored on a Stanton quarterback sneak to tie the score at 6-6 after two periods of play.

Dambach put Stanton out in front of the 12-6 count by running 35 yards for a TD in the second half, and then with but two minutes left in the final quarter, Scott Coolidge passed to Jim Bray for a 25-yard touchdown, and Coolidge ran for the winning extra point.

Dick Kelley, Lou Strengari, Larry Tucker Of NHS, Viking Al Peoples - All Staters

Yellowjacket co-captain, he was responsible for all 38 Newark points in the Thanksgiving Day finale against Christiana, running for three; passing for three more; and kicking two conversions.

Scoring 60 points, he placed third in the Blue Hen Conference scoring race. Lou hopes to attend Delaware or The Citadel.

Peoples, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Peoples of 4 Augusta Drive, is 6-1 and 170.

A leader in the Vikings' first successful season—4-1 after three winless campaigns—Peoples was honored for his hard hitting and stellar blocking. He hopes to attend the University of Delaware.

Newark dominated All-State selections with three players, and Salesianum was the only other school to win more than one All-State first team berth. The Sallies placed Mike Chadick and Stu Harrison at tackle and guard.

The other All-State first team players are End Spencer Knapp, St. Andrews; Tackle Dick Carmine, Laurel; Guard Jon Miller, Friends; Dino Medori, Wilmington, and Sonny Merkel, Middletown, backs.

This year's team has two quarterbacks—Strengari and Middletown's Merkel. The top four backs in the state are selected regardless of position.

All 11 All-Staters are seniors and there are no repeaters from last year's team. Merkel and Kelley were named to the 1965 third team. The All-State line averages 195 pounds per man while the average back weighs 174.

The team will be honored at the WSBA's annual banquet at the Hotel du Pont, on Wednesday, Jan. 18.
