LAY STONE OF NEW BUILDING AT CONVOCATION

University Is Officially Opened For New Term With Freshman Class Of 250; Changes In Faculty Are Announced By President Hullahen

SIX GET DEGREES

Laying of the cornerstone of Mitchell Hall, the new auditorium which is a gift from H. Rodney Sharp, trustee and alumnus, was a special feature of the convocation exercises which marked the opening of the University of Delaware for the new college year Monday afternoon. The building, equipped, will cost $350,000. The new auditorium is named after Dr. Samuel Chiles Mitchell, former president of the university, and now on the faculty of the University of Richmond. Because of illness, Dr. Mitchell was unable to attend the exercises on Monday. It is expected the building will be completed by March.

The laying of the cornerstone was in charge of the Grand Lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Delaware. J. Bayard Bearn, Grand Master. President Hullahen, during a few introductory remarks in speaking of the fine auditorium, made reference to Mr. Sharp as one of the best friends of the university. Mr. Sharp, who was present, was applauded but made no remarks.

Bishop Philip Cook, chaplain of the Grand Lodge, made a few remarks in which he commended Mr. Sharp for his generous gift and also made reference to the fine work of both Dr. Mitchell and Dr. Hullahen for the university.

The box placed in the cornerstone contained the following articles:

Among the articles in the box placed in the cornerstone were the following: coins of the issue of 1929; list of present freshman classes and list of the faculty members; current issues of The Newark Post and Delaware Ledger; program of the exercises; Masonic insignia and emblems; names of the workmen and contractors on the building and the by-laws of the Masons and Bricklayers Unions.

After the cornerstone laying exercises the academic procession was formed and marched to the State Theatre, where the convocation exercises were held. Music was furnished by Madden's orchestra.

President Hullahen presided and the scriptures were read by the Rev. W. E. Gunby.

Degrees were conferred on six seniors as follows: Bachelor of Arts (Arts and Science): John Burton Derickson, William Edgar Hayes, Jr., Jacob Minicker, Isadore Newman and George Brydges Rodney, Jr.; Bachelor of Science (Electrical Engineering): Daniel Parker Phillips.

The new freshman class that was welcomed to the university at the convocation exercises numbered 250, of which number 135 have enrolled at Delaware College and 115 at the Women's College. This will make the total enrollment of the two colleges over 700.

At the exercises President Hullahen made the following announcements:

20 EXHIBITORS AT DAHLIA SHOW

Hundreds Of Blooms On Display Turns New Century Clubhouse Into Flower Garden; H. L. Dozier And W. F. Wood Leading Prize Winners.

With about twenty exhibitors showing hundreds of blooms the fourth annual show of the Newark Dahlia Association, which opened in the New Century Club last night, was one which does great credit to the growers of these beautiful flowers of Newark and vicinity.

Dr. H. L. Dozier and W. F. Wood were the leading prize winners, although the competition was very keen. The exhibits were of an unusually high standard and visitors from Wilmington, who had seen the dahlia show in that city freely admitted the local show surpassed the one held in Wilmington.

The large meeting room of the clubhouse was well filled with the exhibits. The single blooms are being shown on a table in the center of the room and on tables on the west side while the basket displays are tastefully arranged on the east side and on and in front of the stage. Some of the basket displays are especially beautiful.

The judges of the show were H. E. Reed, of Richardson Park; Willard Speakman, of Marshalon; and Louis D. G. Smith, of Norwood, Pa.

Norman Swift, of Marshalon, who won first prize at the New York show last year with his bloom "Miss Delaware," is exhibiting one of the blooms which is attracting much attention.

Mrs. Arthur Rittenhouse is the first to exhibit roses, she having a basket of these beautiful flowers on exhibition. There are also several baskets of mixed flowers on exhibition.

The exhibitors at the show include Michael J. Harris, Frank Mayer, H. L. Dozier, Hannah Marney, Harry Hill, Elizabeth Hill, Elmer Ellison, Mrs. Arthur Rittenhouse, A. D. Cobb, Mrs. Daniel Krapf, L. E. Hill, F. S. Lagasse, W. F. Wood, W. B. Smith, Marjorie Ann Morrison, Winnie Fader, Mrs. G. F. Ferguson and Mrs. Wilmer Hill.

HORSE SHOW GREAT SUCCESS

Over 200 Attend Exhibit Held By J. K. Johnston And J. I. Dayett, At Tip Top Farm

The horse show, held Saturday afternoon at Tip Top Farm, two miles west of Newark, proved such a successful affair that it is likely the show will be made an annual affair for the future.

The show, which was arranged by J. K. Johnston and J. I. Dayett, attracted about 2000 men and women horse lovers from several states and there were about 75 entries in the various events. The purpose of this show is an effort on the part of Mr. Johnston and Mr. Dayett to increase interest in hunting horses and fox hunting and the results showed how successful they were.

Colonel S. J. Smith, U. S. A., retired, and Magistrate Daniel Thompson were the judges. During the afternoon the Continental Band of Newark provided music. Most of the classes were for hunting horses, and among the entries were some noted thoroughbreds. Mr. Johnston, in commenting on the success of the show said: "Both Mr. Dayett and myself have been rewarded for our efforts by the manner in which the show has been received and the hearty cooperation given us by horsemen in showing their mounts."

Norman P. Rood, of the Viceman Hunt Club, showed his two champion hunters, "Alchoh" and "Huntsman." Miss Deborah Rood rode in several of the events and received much applause. There were also entries from William du Pont's Foxcatcher Farms and those of Clarence Fraim, of Wilmington.

The only accident of the day was when Charles McMullen, of Kemblesville, Pa., had a bad fall from his big hunter, "Let." He was knocked unconscious by the fall, but was soon revived.

The first event of the day for horses in harness shown to cart or four wheel wagon, was won by two entries of Tip Top Farm.

RED-PACIFIST MENACE PLAYED

Link Between Communism And Pacifism Exposed At Meeting In Wilmington

Communism and its relation to national defense, was the topic of discussion at the monthly meeting of du Pont Chapter No. 78, National Sojourners, which was held in the State Armory at Wilmington, last week. The speaker was Lieutenant Daniel D. Coons, who pointed out the menace of communism to American ideals, and the result should it succeed in disarming the nation.

Lieutenant Victor E. Devereaux, of Fort du Pont, secretary of the organization, presented a paper, giving a brief resume of the Communist-Pacifist situation in the United States. Lieutenant Devereaux disclosed the connecting link between communism and pacifism, and explained the insidious influence exercised by communism in carrying out its purposes through the medium of pacifism.

This paper, U. S. Senator Borah was rapped in connection with his proposal for the recognition of Soviet Russia by the United States.

After commenting at some length upon the effect of communism in the churches and schools of the nation, Lieutenant Devereaux said that for twelve years "this sinister, sneaking, cruel, abhorrent power of atheism has operated in Russia. Twelve long years has it been building its outposts in all other countries. The skeptic need not travel to Moscow to see the godless, blasphemous organization of Communism at work. A single street car ticket will carry any citizen of Wilmington to meetings where God and Christ and religion are blasphemed with sneering speech and ribald song."

COMMENDS WORK OF LOCAL SCHOOL

State School Official Gives Talk At Assembly On Purpose Of Education And Present Loving Cup Won By Newark Junior Baseball Team

John Shilling, assistant state superintendent of education in charge of high schools, visited the local school yesterday and gave an interesting talk at assembly.

In the course of his talk Mr. Shilling complimented the school on the assembly and said the prime purpose of education is to create such conditions as will be favorable for the right and proper growth of boys and girls. He said, "If you are the same at the end of the year as you are now, then the year will have been spent in vain. We all expect that you shall be better. Growth in persons comes through experience. Experience must be earned by the individual. Your teachers, so called, are in reality your guides in helping you to grow and in helping you to help yourself."

Mr. Shilling presented the silver loving cup to the school on behalf of the Delaware Interscholastic Athletic Association as evidence of Newark having won the state championship in the Junior High School Baseball League. Superintendent Ira S. Brinser called on Coach McMenamin to accept the cup on behalf of the school and the team.

Mr. Shilling also expressed himself as being well pleased with the work of the local school in its organization, administration, instruction and discipline. He complimented the students on the fine spirit displayed.

Miss Breack visited the classes in home economics and expressed herself as being well pleased with the work of those classes which are being taught by Mrs. Josephine Hancock, who succeeded Mrs. Frances Cook. It is the desire of the Newark school authorities to have a three year program in home economics in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

FINE WOMAN FOR WINE SOLD

Accused Denied Sales; Witnesses Testify To Complaints Being Made

Entering a plea of guilty to the sale of wine containing a large percentage of alcohol, to prohibition agents after it had been stated to the court that sales had been made to University of Delaware and High School students, Mrs. Elizabeth George, of Newark, was sentenced by Judge Hugh M. Morris, in Federal Court, to pay a fine of $400 and costs. The fine was paid at the conclusion of the trial.

The woman, through her attorney, John F. Malloy, denied the sale of wine to the students and said his denial in his client's behalf, was based on an investigation he had conducted by questioning residents who lived near the small store she conducted.

The court was advised of the sale to the students by United States District Attorney Leonard E. Wales, who made a plea to the court that she be sent to jail. Mr. Wales said his office had been advised of this information through Dr. Harold Tiffany, of Newark, the government chemist. When Dr. Tiffany was placed upon the stand he said the information had come to him by visits of students to his home.

In arguing for a jail sentence, District Attorney Wales said the levying

ACCUSE SCHOOL BOYS OF THEFT HELD FOR COURT

Six Implicated In Recent Robberies Including Armstrong Store And University Gymnasium And Three Others Charged With Receiving Stolen Goods

WERE GOING WEST

In the arrest of six school boys from 12 to 15 years of age, who have been held for the Juvenile Court, local officers believe they have cleared up a number of robberies that have occurred during the past few weeks when articles valued at probably $500 were stolen.

The boys arrested and held for the Juvenile Court were Henry Cooper, aged 15; Oliver Henderson, 12; Raymond Robinson, 14; Bennett Todd, 14; Frank Butterworth, 14, and Lewis Everetts, 14. All of the boys were released in the charge of parents until they have a hearing in Juvenile Court. All of the boys are charged with larceny and Cooper and Todd are also charged with breaking and entering.

In addition to these boys three young men were also arrested charged with receiving stolen goods, it being alleged that they bought from the boys articles that had been stolen. These three young men are: Wilbur Butler, aged 23 years; James Jackson, 24, and Russell Thomas, 19. They, as well as the six boys, were given a preliminary hearing on Monday before Magistrate Thompson. The three young men on the charge of receiving stolen goods, were each held in $500 bail for County Court.

Town Officers Keeley and Cunningham and Constable Wideman have been working on the case for several days. The places robbed include the gymnasium at the University of Delaware, the store of Victor Armstrong, newsdealer, the High School and the garage of Louis Handloff.

The Armstrong store has been entered at least four times within the past couple of months and cigarettes, cigars, candy, some cash and other articles stolen.

The robbery at the university gymnasium occurred last week while candidates for the football team were practicing on Frazer Field. The thieves after getting into the gym went through the clothes of students they found in lockers, stealing two watches, some money and other articles.

At the High School the thieves did not get into the building but managed to steal a barometer valued at $25 that was fastened along side of a window. On Saturday some boys were seen about noon trying to force a door of the portable school in the rear of the armory, who are thought to have been some of the same group. At the Handloff garage a number of articles were stolen from his automobile.

HOLD THREE YOUTHS FOR ATTACKING DRIVER

Raymond Carmel, of Laurel, Del.; Ernest Lampher, and Neil Costello, of St. Louis, all between 18 and 20, are held in Elkton jail, awaiting a hearing in Judge Owens' court, at North East, charged with holding up, assaulting and robbing Ray Raine, 22, of North East, Md., along the Elkton and North East road, Monday afternoon.

Raine, who is employed by a Baltimore baking company, had been out on his route to Chesapeake City, and was returning to Baltimore. While passing over the Red Mill crossing, on the outskirts of Elkton, the three youths waved at Raine, for a "lift" and on being refused they made a running jump to the truck, stating they would ride down the road with him. Raine ordered them to get off the machine, when one of the trio struck him a blow on the head while another took the wheel of the machine. After being struck a couple of blows with a club and made semi-conscious, Raine was robbed of a small amount of money.

Traffic along the road at the time was heavy as many machines were passing to the Havre de Grace races. The robber who was driving the truck became frightened and stopped the truck in such a position as to block traffic, when the three jumped from the machine and fled into a woods.

H. C. Coslett, a motorist, became suspicious. Going to the truck he found Raine bleeding from his wounds. He was placed in Mr. Coslett's machine and rushed to Union Hospital at Elkton, and after he had gained consciousness, told what had happened, describing the three highwaymen.

In less than a half hour, State Motor Officers Klapproth and Stern captured the youths near Bacon Hill, and lodged them in Elkton jail, where they are held without bail for a hearing.

Raine, after his injuries were attended to at the hospital, was later in the afternoon permitted to return to his parents' home in North East. Raine is not sure what amount of money was stolen from him.

Jury In Hines Murder Trial At Elkton, After Deliberating Nine Hours, Disagrees

The jury in whose hands the fate of Lambert Hines, 25, of Earleville, who is being tried in the Cecil County Court for the murder of Calvin Cox, 37, of the same neighborhood, on the morning of July 21, heard the case argued Tuesday morning by Former State's Attorney Joshua Clayton and G. Reynolds Ash, counsel for the prisoner, who are asking for an acquittal.

State's Attorney Henry L. Constable is urging the jury to bring in a verdict of murder in the first degree. Franklin Reed, 14, whose parents are neighbors of Mr. Cox and who was at the Cox home the morning the crime was committed, was one of the State's strongest witnesses. The boy said it was about 2 in the morning when he was awakened from his slumbers by thumping on the door by Mr. Cox, who was demanding that he be admitted into the home of his estranged wife.

Hines was in bed in another part of the house he said. Mrs. Cox refused to go to the door, and he finally heard Cox call out that "if he (Hines) don't come out I will set his automobile on fire."

Hines' car was parked in front of Mrs. Cox's house at the time. The boy said he heard Mildred (Mrs. Cox) call to Hines that Calvin was setting his automobile on fire.

A second later Hines, clad only in his night clothes, ran to the kitchen picked up a baseball bat, hurried out of the house and struck Cox on the head with the bat.

"I did not see the blow struck," said the boy. "I saw Mr. Cox a little later lying on the ground, he seemed as if he was asleep," he added. "I saw several newspapers burning around Hines' car and helped to put it out," he testified.

Recalls Finding Victim

Ollie Bolton told of finding the unconscious man lying in a grass plot near Mrs. Cox's home, while he was on his way to church, and telling Cox's parents of their son's condition. The parents of the dead man, also his brothers, were other witnesses.

The first witness called by the defense was Mrs. Mildred Cox, widow of the slain man, who after relating her married life to the jury, said that she and her husband had been separated for some time, but that on Saturday prior to the crime, they had practically reached an agreement to live together again, on his promise to stop drinking, and that she was looking for a larger and better house.

About 1 a. m. on July 2, Lambert Hines stopped at her home, telling her he had been to the firemen's carnival at Perryville and that he was tired. He lay down on a couch and fell asleep, she said. About 3 a. m. that same morning, her husband came there, and from his boisterous manner, she believed him drunk and refused to let him in.

Mrs. Cox admitted that she did not love her husband. When asked by the State's Attorney why she permitted her husband to lie on the ground in front of her home for four hours, she replied that she thought he was drunk and did not know that he was seriously hurt until after she and Hines had returned home from spending the day with friends in Pennsylvania.

Dead Man Jealous, Claim

John Reed, a farmer of the same neighborhood, told the jury that Cox was very jealous of his wife. He declared that two years ago, he took Mildred to a dance, and while motoring up the road, Cox met them and fired a shot gun after his machine,

SMITH AGAIN INDICTED IN MURDER CASE

Edward F. Smith, 35 years old, of Philadelphia, who was indicted for the murder of his cousin, Edward Mahoney, 56 years old, and burning his home to cover up his crime, was indicted Tuesday evening by a Cecil County grand jury for the murder of his aunt, Mrs. Anna J. Mahoney, 83 years old, at Pleasant Hill, on the night of March 30, last.

Mrs. Howard Scarborough, a stenographer in a Philadelphia bank, alleged sweetheart of Smith, who was with him on the night he was arrested as they stepped from a Pennsylvania railroad train at Newark, and who has been before the grand jury on several occasions in connection with the case, was before the grand jury Monday and again Tuesday.

From the drift of her testimony it is believed she will be a strong witness for the state, as much of her testimony has led the prosecution to get on the track of new angles in the case.

Detective Joseph Dougherty, of Baltimore, who has been working on the case since early spring, was another witness called, in the hope that some evidence might be brought out that would lead to involving an accomplice with Smith in the crime, but at the present time, the grand jury has been unable to get sufficient evidence to make a presentment of a suspect, and it is more than likely that the State will have to be satisfied with Smith as being the only one implicated.

some of the shot striking him and the balance struck the car. Mrs. Cox at that time escaped being hit with the shot.

Reed said he did not go to the dance but that he and Mrs. Cox drove to Chesapeake City, where the late Dr. C. C. Laws extracted the shots from his arm and back. Cox later declared to him that he was sorry for his actions and the matter was dropped, Reed said.

Hines then took the stand in his own behalf, declaring that he did not strike Cox with a baseball bat, or any other blunt instrument.

He denied that he carried out the baseball bat when he left the house, and said he hit Cox with his fist, after he saw him trying to burn up his car and that Cox had a knife in his hand.

The prisoner denied that he was the cause of breaking up the Cox home.

Hines stated that he had no thought that the blow he struck with his fist was of sufficient force to cause fatal injury, and believed that Hines was lying in the plot of grass in front of Mrs. Cox's home, in a drunken stupor, as he had seen him on other occasions.

After deliberating nine hours, the jury disagreed and was discharged.

Astonishing—Alarming

Following this introduction is a letter from Lieutenant Victor E. Devereaux, a member of The National Sojourners. This letter contains authoritative and established facts concerning the Communist and allied parties in the United States, and the "slackerism" phase of their general program for the ultimate destruction of all national institutions and ideals.

The extent of this "slackerism" program, the agencies active in its promotion, and their brazen and open preaching of out-and-out treason is astonishing. If the facts were not here, few would believe that any such movement could gain the headway which this movement has gained.

These facts are no less astonishing than they are alarming and a need for direct and forceful action is vital. These treasonable influences need to be checked at once, definitely and permanently. The only feasible course of action is to remove their progenitors and promoters.

The ideas behind these movements came direct from Russia. There they should be returned, directly, along with all of those who give them voice.

Fort Du Pont, Delaware, September 22, 1929.

The Newark Post.

My dear Mr. Jacobs:

"For some time past, a dangerously subversive movement has been under way which is popularly and gleefully known among communist, near-red, and under-cover pacifist circles by the misnomer, 'American Arbitration Crusade.' This movement has been, and is now, exceedingly active among the schools, colleges, churches, and various social organizations throughout the United States. Its ultimate object is, of course, to poison the minds of our youth against constitutional government and adequate national defense in an effort to hasten the approach of 'The Day' when Bolshevism intends to turn the world into the bloody shambles that was Russia's during 1917-1922.

"It is enlightening to note the following communist and pacifist organizations which are working to put this 'Crusade of Slackerism' across:

- The Fellowship of Reconciliation,
- The Fellowship of Youth and Peace,
- Women's International League for Peace and Freedom,
- Peace Committee of Friends,
- War Resisters' League,
- World Alliance for International Friendship through the Churches,
- The Church Peace Union,
- Federal Council of Churches,
- Second Conference on the Cause and Cure of War,
- Association to Abolish War,
- National Council for the Prevention of War,
- The Women's Peace Society.

"Explanatory of some of the above, I find that in Kirby Page's official magazine of slackerism, 'The World Tomorrow,' appears an announcement of the Fellowship of Reconciliation conference which was held at Haverford College, Haverford, Pennsylvania, on September 12-15, 1929. The subject was, 'Is the United States in for a Class Struggle?' Apparently it is, for among the prize cluster of subversives who led the discussion were A. J. Muste, Dean of Brookwood Labor College, repudiated by organized labor as communist, Robert W. Dunn, Charles C. Webber, Roger Baldwin, Nevin Sayre, Amy Blanche Greene, and others.

"Robert W. Dunn is conceded to be a communist; the principal occupation of A. J. Muste is the teaching of class hatred; Roger Baldwin admits his sympathies to be wholly with communism. The others are all more or less noted for their active support of portions of the communist program.

"The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, and the War Resisters' League consistently spread unhealthy propaganda in the interest of slackerism, and are proclaimed as the leaders in this movement.

"The War Resisters' League, the American section of the War Resisters' International, is circulating slacker petitions reading as follows:

'Peace Letter to the President of the United States:

'Dear Mr. President:

'We, the undersigned, convinced that all disputes between nations are capable of settlement by peaceable means, hereby declare our deliberate intention to refuse to support war measures or to render war service, in case our government should resort to war.'

"Jessie Wallace Hughan, a prominent and active New York Socialist, a teacher in New York schools, is the secretary of this infamous un-American slacker group. What a wonderful influence to exert over the boys and girls attending the New York schools.

"The Women's Peace Union and the Women's Peace Society of New York, are other muddle-headed pacifist organizations, working against Americanism, whose requirements for membership are the slacker's oath, and who propose amendments to the Constitution of the United States declaring: 'That war for any purpose shall be illegal.' Mrs. Annie E. Gray, executive secretary of the Women's Peace Society, proclaimed recently in a 'soap-box' speech in New York, that: 'Our goal is nothing short of complete national disarmament.'

"The activities of the National Council for the Prevention of War, should be well known. Frederick J. Libby, termed 'a professional propagandist of Pacifism,' is at its head. Libby has said a number of times before Y. M. C. A. groups, and in other gatherings where he was allowed to speak, that: 'If this country called me to war, I'd go to jail.' Mr. Libby and his organization have long waged a battle against Patriotism, Americanism and the Constitution, and it would only be natural that he would join in promulgating a slacker's oath and in propagandizing the schools. No doubt Mr. Libby is a fine Christian gentleman of high ideals, but the District of Columbia refused to allow him to speak before its public schools.

"That the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America should be interested in a movement of this nature, is deplorable. However, there is a book published in Chicago, called 'Pastors, Politicians, Pacifists,' written by LeRoy F. Smith and E. B. Jones, both of whom are reputable and responsible gentlemen, in which the activities of the Federal Council of Churches are disclosed in no uncertain terms. Twelve charges are made against that body, based upon the joint authors' cumulative evidence of secular political activities. Only the first of these charges need be quoted here in order to understand the nature of this powerful organization with several millions at its disposal. This charge reads as follows:

'The Federal Council of Churches is attempting to control affairs of the civil government, and is continually adding to its program undertakings distinctly non-religious in nature and outside of the mission of the Church as most members see it. The writers believe that the Council's policy is undermining the American doctrine of the separation of Church and State.'

"The organizations listed above, and whose activities are of necessity so briefly covered in this letter, are but a handful in comparison with the numberless subversive bodies which comprise the clever, powerful organization of the anti-American forces.

"When will American citizens awaken to the danger that threatens the destruction of American ideals and institutions? When will American citizens take concerted action against these destructive forces of un-Americanism who refer to The Star Spangled Banner as a barbaric war whoop, and to the American Flag as an idol and a fetish?

"Every sincere American should personally indite a communication to the President of the United States, indicating his willingness to protect our nation in time of need and denouncing the spirit of un-Americanism evidenced by members and sympathizers of slacker-groups.

"Very sincerely yours,
Victor E. Devereaux, 2nd Lieut., Eng-Res.,
Secretary-Treasurer, Du Pont Chapter, No. 78,
National Sojourners."

A Fine Recognition

The new Engineering Building of the University of Delaware has already borne fruit in material recognition by the engineering world. It was announced at the Convocation exercises, Monday, that the Oxweld Company had donated to the Engineering Department equipment for a complete gas welding shop. The value of this equipment is, approximately, $5,000.

The Engineering Department of the University has long been rated with the leading engineering schools in this country. Several years ago, when the department was housed in make-shift quarters, and was badly handicapped for equipment, one of the largest engineering corporations in the world, ranked Delaware as one of the six best engineering schools. The new building, which is half completed, and the second half under construction, will provide the facilities and equipment to give Delaware an even higher ranking.

The Oxweld Company invested $5,000 in the University of Delaware, expecting the investment to pay interest in highly trained and valuable graduate engineers. Undoubtedly the Oxweld Company anticipates adding some of these graduates to its technical staff.

The University can not only be gratified by the gift, but proud that it has been selected as a promising field for such an investment.

boys admitted being implicated in the robberies and several of them said they had entered the Armstrong store about four times. Cooper and Robinson are said to have admitted taking the barometer from the high school. Some of them also admitted the police say that they stole the watches and other articles from the gymnasium.

The two watches and some of the other articles have been recovered by the police but some of the stolen property has not been recovered and was either used or sold, it is thought.

After being arrested the boys are alleged to have told the police that some of the stolen goods was sold to Butler, Jackson and Thomas. This led to the arrest of the three young men who, however, it is understood, deny they knew the articles they bought had been stolen.

Cooper and Todd especially are said to have talked freely of their escapades following their arrest. They are reported to have told the officers when arrested on Saturday that they had planned to rob one more store that night and then to skip out for the Rocky Mountains. One of them said the barometer was taken so they could take it to the Rocky Mountains with them, to tell about the weather.

Todd, the officers say, had a large caliber pistol with several split bullets in the chamber. When asked why the bullets were split he is said to have replied so he could hear them "buzz."

At a hearing before the Juvenile Court in Wilmington, yesterday, all six of the boys were paroled.

of fines does not inflict the necessary punishment on law violators. "It does not make any difference," said Mr. Wales, "whether the fine is one or five hundred dollars. In my opinion a jail sentence is the only remedy. From now on I will ask that all fines imposed be paid or the defendants will have to serve the equivalent in jail."

When the raid was made both the woman and her husband, Octavio George were arrested. The government retired the charge of possession against the husband.

According to the agents, they seized 108 gallons of wine and made several purchases from the woman. In pleading guilty, the woman had several persons appear in her behalf which included the Chief of Police of Newark. All declared her reputation in the community was good.

Mr. Wales called George A. Hill, prohibition director for Delaware, to the stand, and in response to questions he said he had received complaints covering a period of three years and these complaints were made orally and in writing from the Mayor of the town, a former Mayor now deceased, the postmaster and other persons.

lowing school hours will be observed: 8:30 o'clock doors open in all buildings; 8:45, classes begin and roll called; noon, dismissal—grades 1 and 2, 11:20 o'clock; grade 3, 11:30; grades 4, 5 and 6, 11:45; grades 7 to 12 inclusive, 11:55.

Afternoon session—doors open in all buildings at 12:55 o'clock; classes begin at 1 o'clock.

Dismissals—grade 1, 2:50 o'clock; grade 2, 3 o'clock; grade 3, 3:15 o'clock; grades 4 to 12, 3:15 o'clock.

The period between dismissal and 3:30 o'clock are office hours for teachers devoted to any special work which individual pupils may need. This makes it possible to give special attention to pupils and still dismiss them at a seasonable time.

Superintendent Brinser, in discussing the school work, says:

"Home work as well as other assigned work to be studied is unfinished business. It is that phase of school work which the pupil ought to be able to do along in order to encourage the development of self-control and power. The Newark school plans to help pupils plan their school work. The school day is too short to do all the work in school, hence some subjects are assigned for home study and work. This subject should be that study which the child can do best alone. The following schedule of time for home work seems conservative and meets with the policies in other schools:

"Grades 3 and 4, 30 minutes; grade

5, 40 minutes; grade 6, 50 minutes; grades 7 and 8, 60 minutes; and grades 9 to 12, 70 to 120 minutes.

"Efforts are now being made to provide each pupil and each parent with a pupil's daily class and study schedule together with a schedule for home study as will meet the conservative requirements of the home study schedule of the Newark school and also provide each pupil with that amount of work so necessary for developing the attitude of self-reliance and the ability to meet responsibility."

GILLESPIE BUILDS STRONG DEFENSE

Local High School Football Squad Working Hard To Battle For State Championship

With the varsity team on defense, Coach Gillespie put the Newark High School squad through a hard scrimmage yesterday afternoon. He is anxious to build up an exceptionally strong defensive team this season as Newark has strong hopes of capturing the state secondary high school championship and Gillespie feels that to do this he must have a strong defensive team. He is much pleased with the showing of the squad in practice to date.

Thirty-six candidates have reported for practice and this squad has been drilled almost daily for two weeks. The opening game of the season will be with West Nottingham, at Newark, on Saturday, October 5.

In practice, yesterday, Coach Gillespie drilled the candidates in tackling and in this respect a tackling "dummy" was used. Captain Frank Mayer, halfback, is out of the game temporarily with a bad knee and McCully, another backfield man of last year's varsity, is also out of the game with a dislocated elbow.

Coach Gillespie is now using as his varsity team a group that averages 163 on the line and 162 in the backfield, which is the heaviest combination that Newark High has had for some years. This combination includes Barrow at center 160; Suratt 178 and Schwartz 163; guards; McDowell 178 and Gallagher 174, tackles; Sommermeyer 130 and Rittenhouse 158, ends—average of line 163.

Backfield—Smith 163, Captain Mayer 166, Johnston 158 and Jackson 156—average 162.

Among other candidates for the team are: Vanny, Coverdale, Willis, Widdoes, Wallis, Ford, Dean, Collins, Johnston, M. Coverdale, D. Coverdale, Dobson, Campbell, West, Roberts, Biddle and Bidwell.

Coach Gillespie is drilling McDowell, Smith and Suratt in punting, and all three are making a good showing.

FIFTY OUT FOR ZEIGLER'S TEAM

Unusually Large Group Of Freshmen Report For Football Practice At U. of D.

Opening of college this week brought out a large number of candidates for Coach Zeigler's University of Delaware football team. By the middle of the week more than fifty candidates had reported for practice compared with 15 to 20 who were out for the preliminary training season last week.

Coach Zeigler is especially pleased with the fact that an unusually large number of freshmen have reported and also a number of last year's squad who had not been expected out, have also felt the call of the gridiron and are fighting for their old places.

"Joe" Rothrock, former football coach and still head of the physical education department of the college, is cooperating with Coach Zeigler in every way possible and this close cooperation speaks well for the possibilities of a fighting team at Delaware.

As Coach Zeigler has only about ten days to get a team in shape for the opening game of the season with Rutgers at New Brunswick, N. J., on Saturday, October 5, the candidates can expect exceptionally hard work from now until the latter part of next week.

Because of the fact that there have been no real scrimmages to date, it is hard to judge of the worth of most of the freshman candidates, although a number are showing exceptional promise.

"Ace" Taylor, the speedy back who will captain this year's team, is handicapped at present because of a siege of boils. Despite this handicap, he is keeping up his work and is out for practice every day.

Benson, tackle, and A. Hill, end, of last year's varsity are two men who have reported this week and settled down at once to the routine work of training.

With Loveland, Squillace and Warren in addition to a number of likely looking freshmen prospects the indications are that Zeigler will have a fast backfield.

Staats, at center, Benson and Kane at tackle, and Hill, at end, give him four of last year's varsity line to start with, though some of the scrubs and new material promise to make this bunch fight hard to hold their old jobs.

WM. E. TAYLOR BACK FROM TYPOTHETAE CONVENTION

Wm. E. Taylor, Sr., president of William E. Taylor, Inc., printers of Twelfth and Orange streets, Wilmington, returned last Thursday from Washington, where he attended the 43rd annual convention of the United Typothetae of America, Inc. Mr. Taylor, who was a delegate of the Wilmington Typothetae, together with Harry Bye, president of the Mercantile Printing Company, was accompanied by his wife. The convention headquarters were at the Mayflower Hotel.

The convention began with a tour of Washington last Sunday afternoon. The following afternoon, the women enjoyed a boat ride to Mt. Vernon. On Monday night, there was a concert and illustrated lecture, Tuesday morning, the women were received by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, following which they made a tour of the public buildings.

Delegates and their wives enjoyed a motor trip to Fort Meyer, Arlington National Cemetery and Potomac Park on Wednesday afternoon, and witnessed a polo game between the Army and Navy at the latter place. The closing function of the convention was the grand ball in the main ballroom of the Mayflower Hotel on Wednesday night. It proved to be a brilliant affair and one of the finest of its kind ever held.

In addition to its remarkable beauty, the Magic Chef range has several new acquisitions in the way of handiness. A model known as the "Patrician" is on display in the show window of the Wilmington Gas Company. Besides the baking oven, it is equipped with a broiler, utensil drawer and special arrangement whereby it can be readily cleaned.

The range was specially designed to add to the appearance of the kitchen. It has an Italian marble finish and looks more like a cabinet than anything else. When not in use it has a top which covers the holes, preventing any accumulation of dust or dirt, and which when opened acts as a splasher at the back. It has an oven control regulator, all the gas-cocks are of the latest ideas in safety being locked when the gas is shut off. The range is insulated with mineral wool, thus making the kitchen much cooler, and it is finished in porcelain.

TOWER BRAND GOODS INCREASE IN FAVOR

The low temperatures for the past week stimulated the sales of Tower Brand scrapie and sausage. Manufactured by the Wilmington Provision Company, from corn fed hogs of the Middle West, and with every animal doubly inspected, Tower Brand products are the safest and cleanest.

The volume of sales this fall shows a splendid increase over a year ago, with every indication that this will be the busiest winter the Wilmington company has ever enjoyed. Not only in Wilmington and on the Peninsula, but in many large cities of the East, Tower Brand goods are well known and generally used. Each week orders are received for shipments to distant points along the Atlantic seaboard.

None are more attractive than the dainty over night boxes and bags for the gentler sex. These boxes contain just the necessary articles to make a complete toilet and the arrangements in the cases are most appealing. For the man there are the big roomy bags that hold almost as much as a small trunk. Also other sizes to suit the taste and needs of the individual.

PRIMA WASHER HAS MANY NEW FEATURES

The Home Service Stores has opened a Wilmington branch at 813½ Shipley street, to exploit the sales of Prima Washers, of which there are two models. In speaking of the work of this modern machine Manager Reilly of the Wilmington branch said:

"The Prima is the most beautiful washer the world has ever seen. Its tub is finished in oyster white automobile lacquer. Each cast and steel part is finished in deep green baked enamel. A soft cloth keeps the surfaces glistening in all their original brightness.

"In the washing process large agitator blades force the water through the clothes giving a gentle but positive cleaning action. It takes just five minutes to remove all the dirt and there is no need to give wristbands and cuffs a hand rubbing. Prima does the whole wash in no more time than it does to do a few pieces by hand."

MUNDORFF'S GINGER ALE COMES IN QUARTS

The latest product of H. A. Mundorff and Son, bottlers of Orange Crush and many other soft drink flavors is Mundorff's pale dry ginger ale. It is put up in quart sizes, suitable for the family trade. Many calls for larger sizes than the pints led to Mr. Mundorff deciding to accommodate the public with the large quart size. It can be purchased at stores and also direct from the plant.

Another popular ginger ale is Canadian Club, which comes bottled in pints. Canadian Club has a big circle of friends, who would rather have it than any other.

McKEE OPTICAL CO. HAS VERY BUSY FALL

The S. L. McKee Optical Company has been unusually busy the past two weeks fitting glasses and making tests to determine whether new glasses are needed. Many of the patrons were school children who came to have their eyes tested while starting in school.

Interspersed with the local patrons were some out-of-town people who depend upon the tests made by the McKee Company. Tests of eyes are recommended every two years, particularly for the middle ages. If new glasses are not needed then there will be no change suggested, but if the glasses have become too weak then stronger lenses will be suggested.

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE FOREIGN STUDY GROUP ABOARD S. S. CARONIA

Courtesy The Cunard Steam Ship Company, Limited.

The picture represents the seventh group of students who sailed on the Caronia July 17th, to study one year in France, under the auspices of the University of Delaware Foreign Study Plan. This year's group is made up of 67 students from about 40 universities and colleges throughout the United States.

Under this plan students spend their Junior year in France. In order to be accepted it is necessary that the students be in the upper third of their class and recommended by their college. Upon arriving in France they spend the summer at the University of Nancy studying the French language. In October they go to Paris and take up the regular winter and spring terms at the Sorbonne, returning home in July of the following year. The plan was originated by the late Professor Raymond Kirkbride of the University of Delaware and has been made possible by Mr. Pierre S. du Pont, of Wilmington, who has contributed funds to provide a large part of the overhead expenses.

Mr. Arthur G. Wilkinson, Business Administrator of the University of Delaware, who traveled to France with this year's group to attend to financial matters at headquarters, stated upon his return that he was very much impressed with this year's group of students. He speaks highly of the treatment received from the Company's staff on the S. S. Caronia, who spared no efforts to make the party comfortable and happy.

Upon arriving at Paris, a dinner was given at the Trianon Palace Hotel, Versailles, at which a number of prominent people were present, included in which were members of the Faculty of the Sorbonne.

Buildings

"Mitchell Hall, the new Auditorium, the cornerstone of which we have just seen laid, will probably be finished by March.

"The new Engineering Building, Evans Hall, is now ready for use as far as the Mechanical, Electrical, and Civil Engineering shops and laboratories are concerned, but it will be four or five months before the second and third stories, over the front of the building, containing drafting rooms, class rooms, and offices will be finished. The contract for this work was assigned three months ago but the contractors have been unable to begin work because of delay in the shipment of materials necessary for the very beginning of the work.

"The new, or enlarged, heating and power plant will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. Bids for its construction will be opened on the 25th of this month.

"A gift of $30,000 from P. S. du Pont, the ever generous friend of the University, will make it possible for us to have a heating and power plant adequate for our rapidly growing college. The cost of the new plant is estimated at $75,000, of which amount the University's resources can only provide $45,000, the balance being made up by this fine gift from Mr. du Pont.

"A number of plans have been drawn for the new Women's College gymnasium, by Louis E. Jallade, of New York, an architect who has specialized in gymnasium design, who has been engaged to submit plans for this building. A design which seems satisfactory in every respect has at last been made but it will be necessary to omit the swimming pool and to reduce the size of the main gymnasium floor unless a fund of about $25,000 can be raised to be added to the appropriation made by the Legislature.

"Dean Spencer has just announced a fine gift to the laboratory equipment of the Engineering School from the Linde Air Products Company of New York City, a branch of the Union Carbide Company: 12 complete gas welding outfits for the welding of steel, cast iron, brass, bronze, aluminum, etc., the whole being valued at $2500 and making an addition of great value to our equipment which the funds available did not permit us to secure by purchase.

"Here it will not be out of place to make grateful acknowledgement of the generous interest and support of the alumni of Delaware College who have enabled the University to secure the services of A. B. Ziegler as member of the Department of Athletics and Physical Education. To Mr. Ziegler the Department has assigned the special supervision and control of football coaching.

"Announcement has been made by the American Association of University Women of the admission of the Women's College to its accredited list. This means that all graduates of the Women's College are eligible to membership in this Association.

"This action will be heard of with much pleasure. I am sure, by all alumni of the Women's College who have felt properly aggrieved at the long delay in securing favorable action by this Association in spite of the fact that for the past six years the diploma of the University has been accredited by the Association of American Universities and recognized and honored by every American and European University.

"At the June meeting of the Board of Trustees action was taken in regard to a number of things, apart from routine business, that are of interest to all of us:

"The new Engineering Building by action of the Board will be called Evans Hall in honor of the long, faithful, and generous service of George G. Evans, who for 48 years was a trustee of Delaware College and for 31 years its Treasurer. Nor did the Board overlook the fact that C. B. Evans, of the town, and son of the man for whom the building is being named, has since his father's death, held the position of Treasurer of the College and the University for a like number of years and will, we hope, continue in that office for many years to come.

"For 62 years father and son have held the position of Treasurer of this institution. Certainly it is highly appropriate that some building on our campus should bear their name.

"In the election of new members to fill the places made vacant during the past year by deaths the Board is to be congratulated upon their choice of three of the outstanding citizens of the State: Judge Hugo M. Morris, an alumnus of Delaware College; Mr. H. Fletcher Brown, vice-president of the du Pont de Nemours Company, and long the head of its smokless powder division, and J. Hall Anderson, late Lieutenant Governor of this State.

"The University is fortunate indeed in having such men as these willing to accept election to its governing Board to replace the serious loss it has sustained in recent years in the deaths of old and valued members.

"The Board appointed a Committee of its members to take under consideration the recommendation of the President of the University for the establishment here of an Engineering Experiment Station in accordance with, and to take advantage of, the provisions of Senate Bill 696 of the last session of Congress which it is believed by its friends will be passed at the next regular session, and under which each state already operating an Engineering Experiment Station will receive a large subsidy from Federal funds for maintenance and enlarging of the same.

"Such an Experiment Station would greatly strengthen the work of our Engineering School and would enormously increase our possibilities for service to the State and its industries. "Phi Kappa Phi Fraternity was approved by the Board. This fraternity is to be congratulated upon securing a beautiful home for their Delaware chapter.

"The following names of titles and promotions have been made: Professor M. M. Dougherty, Assistant Economist, to be Head of the Department of Agriculture Economics in the Experiment Station vice Dr. Benner, resigned.

Assistant Professor H. N. Clement, to be Associate Professor in Department of Modern Languages.

Assistant Professor C. E. Brinton to be Director of the Division of Foreign Study, vice R. W. Kirkbride, deceased.

G. L. Doherty, instructor in Department of Athletics and Physical Education, to be Assistant Professor in that Department.

F. C. Houghton from the rank of Assistant to that of Instructor in Biology.

Sidney Hoffman from the rank of Assistant to that of Instructor in Economics.

Miss Harriet Bailey to be resident acting-chairman Department of Fine Arts.

Associate Professor E. C. Byam to be acting-chairman Department of Modern Languages.

FRESHMEN ROUT UPPER CLASSMEN IN TOMATO FIGHT

The Freshmen class, the largest in the history of the University of Delaware, went on the war path here Monday night, and by bringing into play the use of about one-half ton of tomatoes that were no longer fit for human consumption, compelled members of the Sophomore class to retreat about one half mile. In addition to littering up the campus, the streets of the town and plastering the stores with the goods used to make catsup, they tied up traffic on Main street for about an hour.

Freshman Night

This was what is termed "Freshman Night," and is always marked by fights between members of the upper and lower classes. However, in years past, the upper classmen were the ones that usually had the tomatoes in their custody, but through the foresight of Charles Hartman, who led the freshmen in the "battle of tomatoes," all of the catsup material was gathered in advance and thereby fell into the hands of lower classmen.

The spectacle was witnessed by about 1000 persons who gathered from the town and surrounding sections. Following the tomato battle, the members of the two classes engaged in what is termed the "joust contest," which the sophomores won two to one.

In the tug-of-war, the freshmen came out victors when they placed their 250-pound mainstay, Morris Katz, of Wilmington, on the end of the rope. The sophomores won the "rush" contest which had 20 men on each side, but the freshmen carried off the honors in the "flour fight," by taking the bags of flour away from the sophomores and giving them a bath in it.

The freshmen outnumbered the upper classmen and it is the first time in years that they were able to carry away any of the annual honors which marks the battles on "freshman night" and they took advantage of the situation and made things lively for a time. A hurried cleanup after the scrimmages failed to list any injuries other than the feelings of the upper grade men who presented a sorry spectacle from being well smeared with the garden vegetable.

DEL-MAR-VA FLYERS AT AIR-PORT DEDICATION

The Del-Mar-Va Peninsula was ably represented at the dedication of the new Central Airport at Camden, N. J., Saturday, when four planes from the Del-Mar-Va Airport, at Hebron, carrying Peninsula representatives and the entire personnel of the Airport and Starlighters, Inc., flew to that point.

As guests of the Airport Company and representing the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula were Col. W. B. Tilghman, a vice-president of the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association, and Henry Hanna, of Salisbury. In addition, members of the flying personnel included Capt. Leo Barker, Fred C. Holl, Carl Elliott and Charles Rickards.

Four planes owned by the Del-Mar-Va Airport including the Fairchild four passenger cabin monoplane and three new Challengers made up the party. Captain Forest T. Wenyon was pilot of the monoplane while the following piloted the Challengers: Lt. E. K. Shilling, C. A. DeCosta and W. R. Gibbs.

Major Charles S. Bayer, Jr., President of the Airport Company, met the Del-Mar-Va guests at Philadelphia and continued with them to the new Camden field.

Each of the planes carried on both sides the insignia of the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula and were unquestionably one of the largest and most impressive representative groups from any section.

The dedication of the Central Airport at Camden marks a most important event in air circles. This port really becomes Philadelphia's main airport and its opening was marked with the arrival of the first mail plane at 2:30 p. m. Saturday night. Because of the importance of the event scores of army and navy planes with representatives from various private ports and airplane companies were present. One of the most thrilling air circuses programmed in the East was carried out. It included races, model contests, back concerts, exhibition flying, parachute jumping, maneuverability and accuracy tests in addition to the air mail lands. The Del-Mar-Va planes were active participants in each of these events.

Last week two of the Del-Mar-Va Challengers visited the opening of the port at Hazelton, Pa., where they participated in racing and stunt flying. They brought signal honor to the Peninsula in taking second prize in one of the leading racing events.
