Conferring of an honorary degree of doctor of laws by Dr. Walter Hullahen, president of the University of Delaware, on Dr. Winifred J. Robinson, dean emerita of the Women's College, will feature the "Founders' Day" program at W. C. D. on Saturday. An elaborate program has been arranged for the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the women's institution.

Retired Last Year
Dean Robinson, who retired last year, came to Newark in 1914 when Women's College consisted of nothing more than plans for Residence and Science Halls and some nineteen acres of land that extended from East Park Place to a point south of the present Practice House.

When the college formally opened its first semester and Dr. Robinson was installed as dean on October 10, 1914, thirty-four freshmen and twelve special students were registered. From its modest beginning, the institution now consists of ten modern buildings housing an enrollment of 300 girls who come here from throughout Delaware and a score of other states.

She pointed out that when you went to a store in the Reich, you could not tell them what you wanted, but you were told what you might have.

Miss Maier delivered a similar talk before an assembly at the Newark High School yesterday morning. The Rotary program was arranged by F. Allyn Couch, Jr. Allen Jones led the singing.

Outlines New Facilities

Dr. George H. Ryden, state archivist, author, and head of the history department of the University of Delaware, addressed the Lions Club at the Newark Country Club Tuesday evening on the new Hall of Records, opened in May of this year at Dover.

Dr. Ryden was the guest of Dr. George W. Rhodes, a member of the House of Representatives of the 107th General Assembly, who introduced him. Arthur E. Tomhave, vice-president of the Lions Club, officiated at the session.

Special tribute was paid to Newark members of the Legislature for the creation and furnishing of the Hall of Records. Dr. Ryden expressed his thanks to John R. Fader, superintendent of state police and a member of the local Lions Club, who was speaker of the House when the appropriation for the new building was voted two years ago.

Thanks Wright And Rhodes
Dr. Ryden also expressed thanks to Norris N. Wright, local industrialist and a member of the State Senate, 1933-37, who headed the Legislative committee which made the new building possible, and to Dr. Rhodes, who was chairman of the Legislative committee which equipped the model structure.

"The Public Archives Commission was created in Delaware 35 years ago," Dr. Ryden stated, "and is one of the oldest in the country. Since its founding in 1905, it has been non-partisan, or bi-partisan in the making-up of its membership."

"After being housed for some 34 years in very inadequate quarters, the Public Archives Commission of the State of Delaware has finally moved into a new home at the capital city of Dover, which, it is hoped, will answer the needs of the commission for many years to come," he added.

Baltimore Has Highest
The highest temperature was 100 degrees at Baltimore and LaPlata on the 8th, and the lowest was 31 degrees at Oakland on the 23rd. Average rainfall reported by 48 Maryland stations was 3.22 inches, or 0.68 inch above normal. The greatest amount for the month was 5.55 inches at Cheltenham and the least 1.28 inches at LaPlata. The first period of The Newark Post's circulation campaign came to a close on Wednesday of last week. The second period will close next Tuesday, October 17, and from that time on the workers will go into the third and last period under a greatly reduced schedule of credits. The few days between now and next Tuesday will be the last chance for big credits and the active workers should not lose one minute in their quest of subscriptions and renewals.

The list of candidates has now narrowed down to the real workers. It has been a case of the survival of the fittest, and from now on we will see some real action in the race for that wonderful prize of a new 1940 Chevrolet Master Town Sedan; purchased arranged for from the Wilmington Auto Sales Co., of Newark. The second prize of $200; the third of $100; and the fourth, fifth and sixth prizes, which will be based on a percentage and bonus basis, are all prizes worth the consideration, time, and effort put forth by the various workers in our campaign.

Rivalry Is Factor
The friendly rivalry that is being shown by the candidates and their supporters is going to be a big factor in the success of the winner. It will be the means of enriching that particular one to the extent of several hundreds of dollars, or at the rate of about $100 a week for the duration of the campaign.

The workers who are now listed in the campaign have shown their determination to stick to the finish and fully realize what a wonderful opportunity has been offered to them by The Newark Post.

Short Time Remaining
The old saying that "Time waits for no man" is very true and applies to the candidates in the subscription drive. In this case, however, it applies mostly to women, and those listed in our line-up have proven without a doubt that the men have no monopoly on the things that it takes to be successful in the business world. Those who are now listed have proven that they have the courage and determination to finish what they start; they have no fear of competition and their slogan is "Take my dust."

Extending Subscriptions
As was predicted a couple of weeks ago, the campaign is starting to warm up and is being talked about not only in the town of Newark, but in the surrounding sections as well. Subscribers who have taken a one year with their favorite are now talking about giving at least another year and in that way helping and doing their part to bring that first prize to their favorite in the race.

In a close race, the second period in these campaigns is often the deciding factor. If a worker can go (Please Turn To Page 8)

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE TEMPTATION OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—MATTHEW 4:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—For we have not an high priest which cannot be tempted with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.—Hebrews 4:15.

Temptation is the common lot of all mankind (1 Cor. 10:13). The strongest and most noble of men are subject to it; angels were tempted, and our scripture reveals that even Jesus was tempted. We recognize that Jesus was tempted as the Messiah (Isa. 53:10) and as one without sin (Heb. 4:15), but it is also true that He was tempted in all points as we are, apart from sin, and that we may learn from His temptation how we may meet and be the victors over temptation.

I. What Is Temptation?

"Temptation is seduction to evil, solicitation to wrong. It stands distinguished from trial those trial tests, seeks to discover the man's moral qualities or character; but temptation persuades to evil, deludes, that it may ruin. God tries; Satan tempts" (A. M. Fairbairn).

Temptation is not sin, but yielding to temptation is sin. Luther said, "We cannot keep the birds from flying over our heads, but we can keep them from building nests in our hair." Temptation comes from within, that is, from our own lusts (James 1:13, 14). Satan also tempts us (Eph. 6:11). God may permit temptation as a means of proving our faith (James 1:2, 3).

II. How Temptation Works.

It is significant that the temptations of Jesus were along the three-fold line of the temptations of Adam and Eve (Gen. 3:6) and the general threefold temptation of all men, namely, the lust of the flesh, the pride of life, and the lust of the eyes (1 John 2:16). These three temptations really exhaust Satan's bag of tricks, but he can dress up these three fundamental temptations with almost endless variety. He works

1. By appealing to the flesh (vv. 2, 3). He observes the normal appetites and desires of a man's body, excites them to a high degree, and then suggests an improper method of satisfying them. Hunger is normal and a sign of good health. Jesus had fasted forty days and Satan took advantage of that fast to suggest the use of His divine power to satisfy His hunger. This would involve a denial of His entire mission on earth, namely, the redemption of man by a divine person who had become a real man.

2. By appealing to pride (vv. 5, 6). Satan misapplied Scripture to tempt Jesus to presumption on the assumption that He was exercising faith. God had promised to keep Him "in all his ways" (Ps. 91:11). To cast himself down from the temple was not one of the ways in which Christ was called to walk. Satan comes to us with the same kind of temptation. If He cannot get us to forsake faith, He tempts us to become fanatic and to proudly substitute presumption for faith.

3. By appealing to the eyes (vv. 8, 9). By showing Christ the kingdoms of the world and offering them to Him by the short-cut of a brief act of worship rather than by the way of the cross, Satan tempted Him again. Here the devil showed his true desire that man should worship him rather than God.

III. How to Meet Temptation (vv. 4, 7, 10).

1. By the right use of Scripture. If Jesus needed that weapon, how can we do without it? How can we use Scripture if we do not study it and hide it in our hearts?

2. By dependence on God. Every Scripture used by Jesus honored God. We cannot fight Satan in our own strength. To attempt to do so is to fall utterly. The real victory for the Christian is to bring Satan back to the cross where Christ won a decisive victory over him.

3. By denouncing Satan. Jesus sent him on his way. We may do the same in Jesus' name. It is always a serious error to try to argue with Satan or to engage in any discussion with him. Let us meet him with Scripture and with a "Get thee hence."

IV. The Result.

Satan left and angels came to minister to Christ. The overcoming of temptation results in peace, victory, and blessing. This is ever so in the life of the believer. Temptation overcomes makes us stronger to meet the next temptation, and also enables us to help our weaker brethren.

Reception.

Judge Florence Allen, the guest speaker of Saturday night, will address her first Delaware audience.

She is indeed very fortunate to have such distinguished women speak to us. Judge Allen, who has had a brilliant career in her profession, was appointed to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in 1934, which office she still holds. This is the first office of its kind to be held by a woman in the United States. Judge Allen will speak on "Opportunities for the American Women."

Among the guests expected to be present at the dinner who are now away from the campus are: Dean Emeritus Winifred J. Robinson, former President Samuel Mitchell, and former members of the faculty including: Dr. K. R. Greenfield, Dr. George S. Counts, Professor Alfred Mosserop, Professor Myrtle V. Caudell, and others.

On the Air

The Review, undergraduate weekly paper of the University of Delaware, will present a radio program, "College Color," over station WDEL, every Friday evening at 7:45. Those who are interested in participating in the broadcast were graded for their voice qualities. The list of possible persons to broadcast is by no means closed or complete; but those from W.C.D. who have been signed up are: Ann Hamilton, Antoine Velleman, Peg Smith, Mina Press, Marjorie Sheets, Mildred Hank, Dorothy Thompson, and Jane Trent.

Further Elections

Isabel Howeth and Helen Osborne will head the Junior Class in the offices of secretary and treasurer respectively. Jeanne Harkins has been elected co-captain of the freshman class.

The Student Council has announced the following appointments for the current school year: chairman of libraries, Sara Simpson; chairman of dining room, June Groves; song leader, Jane Kenney; fire captain, Iona Peterson; chairman of bulletin board, Beth Southard; and freshman representative, Ginny Brittingham.

The Cauldron

Those girls who are helping Sylvia Phelps, editor of the Cauldron, are: Sara Baldwin, Winnie Taylor, Betty Whitenack, and Alice Ayrdjian. Dr. Cyrus L. Day and Miss Elizabeth Alden are faculty advisors.

Colds and related diseases are estimated to cost $3,000,000,000 in time and money in the United States each winter.

Now is the time for housewives and mothers to plan their meals with special attention to vitamin content. Insufficient quantities of some vitamins as well as poor general nutrition increase susceptibility to colds.

Vitamin A is necessary to keep the lining of the respiratory passages intact and thus to maintain the first line of defense against bacterial invasions. Many people wait until they already have a cold and then start to take cod liver oil or some other concentrated source of vitamin A. It is then too late, as there is no good evidence that once the bacteria are in the system, increased vitamin A is of any specific value against them.

The maintaining of the lining of the respiratory passages helps to prevent infection from starting. So it is in the prevention, not the cure of colds that vitamin A is effective.

Sources Of Vitamin

Good sources of vitamin A are cream, butter, whole milk, yellow cheese, egg yolk, green, yellow, or red vegetables, and cod liver oil. One pint of whole milk, three teaspoons of butter, and two servings of green, yellow, or red vegetables will supply a normal person with his daily requirement of vitamin A.

Some investigators think that vitamin C has a specific role, at least in resisting certain infections. The evidence suggests that there is an increased requirement for vitamin C in all diseases in which a fever occurs.

Good sources of vitamin C are tomatoes, oranges, grapefruit, and other fresh fruits and vegetables.

All the protective foods—milk and milk products, eggs, fruits, vegetables, and dark bread, or cereals are essential to a well-balanced diet.

Good diet will not cure a cold, but it will go a long way toward keeping the body in good condition to prevent one.

NEWPORT CURBING DISCUSSED

Commissioners In Regular Monthly Session

By Miss Emma E. Maclary

Newport, Oct. 11.—The Commissioners of Newport at their monthly business meeting on Friday evening, in the town offices, discussed details for the conduct of the curbing and guttering project which will be started about the middle of October. W. P. A. labor will be employed for this work. There are about ten blocks to be improved.

"Rally Day" was observed in the Newport M. E. Church on Sunday. Special services were conducted at the Sunday school session with D. J. Richey, principal of the Krebs School, addressing the group. At the morning preaching service, the Rev. J. C. McCoy, pastor, spoke on "Gong Forward." The speaker in the evening was the Rev. Paul McCoy, son of the pastor, who spoke on "The Three Essentials of the Christian Faith."

Annual Turkey Supper

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Newport M. E. Church will serve its annual turkey supper on Wednesday evening, Nov. 1 in the Sunday school assembly room.

The New Castle County Pomona Grange, at a special session held Thursday evening in the Krebs School, conferred the fifth degree on a large class of candidates.

On Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 31, Mrs. Otto Selby, chairman of American Homes of the Woman's Club of Newport, will have charge of a demonstration "The Modern Kitchen in Miniature" which will be presented by Mr. Ernest Peoples, of the Brosius Smedley Company.

Features of entertainment at the "Booster Night" program presented by Delaware Grange on Monday evening, included a brief talk by Worthy State Master, Clarence Jost.

Further Elections

Isabel Howeth and Helen Osborne will head the Junior Class in the offices of secretary and treasurer respectively. Jeanne Harkins has been elected co-captain of the freshman class.

The Student Council has announced the following appointments for the current school year: chairman of libraries, Sara Simpson; chairman of dining room, June Groves; song leader, Jane Kenney; fire captain, Iona Peterson; chairman of bulletin board, Beth Southard; and freshman representative, Ginny Brittingham.

The Cauldron

Those girls who are helping Sylvia Phelps, editor of the Cauldron, are: Sara Baldwin, Winnie Taylor, Betty Whitenack, and Alice Ayrdjian. Dr. Cyrus L. Day and Miss Elizabeth Alden are faculty advisors.

Colds and related diseases are estimated to cost $3,000,000,000 in time and money in the United States each winter.

Now is the time for housewives and mothers to plan their meals with special attention to vitamin content. Insufficient quantities of some vitamins as well as poor general nutrition increase susceptibility to colds.

Vitamin A is necessary to keep the lining of the respiratory passages intact and thus to maintain the first line of defense against bacterial invasions. Many people wait until they already have a cold and then start to take cod liver oil or some other concentrated source of vitamin A. It is then too late, as there is no good evidence that once the bacteria are in the system, increased vitamin A is of any specific value against them.

The maintaining of the lining of the respiratory passages helps to prevent infection from starting. So it is in the prevention, not the cure of colds that vitamin A is effective.

Sources Of Vitamin

Good sources of vitamin A are cream, butter, whole milk, yellow cheese, egg yolk, green, yellow, or red vegetables, and cod liver oil. One pint of whole milk, three teaspoons of butter, and two servings of green, yellow, or red vegetables will supply a normal person with his daily requirement of vitamin A.

Some investigators think that vitamin C has a specific role, at least in resisting certain infections. The evidence suggests that there is an increased requirement for vitamin C in all diseases in which a fever occurs.

Good sources of vitamin C are tomatoes, oranges, grapefruit, and other fresh fruits and vegetables.

All the protective foods—milk and milk products, eggs, fruits, vegetables, and dark bread, or cereals are essential to a well-balanced diet.

Good diet will not cure a cold, but it will go a long way toward keeping the body in good condition to prevent one.

EDUCATION—TECHNICAL AND CULTURAL

University of Delaware students, reviled for wearing "beer suits," slacks, and sweaters, and gobbling food "like a pack of hungry wolves," should take cognizance of the editorial which appeared last week in their undergraduate newspaper, The Review.

We are not of the opinion that clothes "make the man" or the woman—not the real one, that is—but the manner of dress, personal hygiene, and such details as the care of finger nails, politeness, and conduct count heavily.

Despite the spirit of levity with which the chiding composition was treated by a small portion of the daily press, we doff our hat in respect to its author. In the parlance of the campus, "He's got something there!"

The daily press doesn't live as close to the Delaware campus as those of us in the immediate neighborhood, hence can not fully appreciate the swinishness (so apparent in the Commons), slovenliness, and general lack of decorum which mark too great a portion of University of Delaware students in their daily pursuits.

The situation applies to those flat-heeled (and run-over) students of the Women's College in equal portion to the males on the upper campus.

German Kultur and its methods of application are frowned upon in Democracies, but some restraining influence should be driven home to Delaware students to govern their appearance and deportment when in public. As the Review warns, it would be to their "dollars and cents benefit" to "satisfy employers' requirements of proper eating and dressing."

Cultural attempts are made at Delaware, but we wonder if the types more prominently advanced aren't lost on the majority of the students? Steps of a more practical and every-day nature should be enforced as a means of benefiting and preparing undergraduates for a world that is lacking in politeness and refinement; yet recognizes and appreciates them immediately.

Though an institution fails to graduate good engineers, chemists, teachers, and agriculturists, it is doing a lot for its students if it succeeds in graduating ladies and gentlemen. Delaware's record as far as the technical end is concerned speaks readily for itself. Now, it is to be hoped that something is devised, promptly and emphatically, to "polish" the technicians.

Concerning People In Newark

Eighty-Fourth Birthday Being Celebrated By "Mr. Bob" Crow

Father Of Eleven "Gibraltar Of Democracy" Toasted At Quiet Family Gathering

Robert J. Crow

By Charles H. Rutledge
Robert J. ("Mr. Bob") Crow, one of Newark's most highly respected citizens, is celebrating his 84th birthday today. The venerable gentleman will be toasted by members of his family and closer friends at a quiet dinner to be given by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Davis, with whom he resides at 27 Center Street.

A pensioned employee of the Continental-Diamond Fibre Company, where he worked in the Dilco department from September 1, 1918, until his retirement early in 1938, Mr. Crow is well preserved. An unusually active man, he can easily pass as one fifteen to twenty years his junior.

"Gibraltar Of Democracy"
Born near Centerville, Md., on October 12, 1855, he started life as a farmer in the upper portion of Cecil County. He came to Newark as a mail carrier on a rural route, but gave it up in 1918 when local coverage was extended from 25 to 50 miles a day.

An ardent Democrat, Mr. Crow has long been associated with party activities in White Clay Creek Hundred. He is a perennial delegate to the Democratic state conventions. Popular with members of all parties, Mr. Crow jokingly but with no little pride refers to his place of birth as "The Fourth District of Cecil County—The Gibraltar of Democracy."

Father Of Eleven
Mr. Crow is the father of eleven children, all of whom are living. His wife died suddenly 44 years ago, when the youngest of the family, Irving and Ellen, twins, were less than a year old. He never remarried.

Members of the family are: William Crow, Darby, Pa.; Mrs. Mary Pierson, Slickersville, Pa.; John Crow, Annapolis, Md.; Mrs. Herbert (Sarah) Brown, Eastburn Heights; Robert H. Crow, E. Main St.; Mrs. Ledge (Anna) Phillips, Wilmington; Mrs. Robert J. (Martha) Davis, 27 Center St.; Hamilton Crow, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. John (Ellen) Fox, Ivyland, Pa.; and F. Irving Crow, Wilmington.

Mr. Crow has been visiting members of his family with his son, John, now a resident of Annapolis, Md., who is making his first trip east in 29 years.

25 YEARS AGO IN REVIEW

October 14, 1914

OBITUARY

S. Louis Cann

S. Louis Cann, aged 47 years, died at his home on Depot Road, Tuesday evening, October 13, at 10 o'clock.

Funeral services will be held at his late residence on Friday at 2 p. m. The Rev. W. J. Rowan, assisted by the Rev. W. F. Corkran, of Wilmington, will conduct the services. Interment, Head of Christiana Cemetery.

Henry Steele

This community was shocked last Saturday morning to hear of the sudden death of Henry Steele. Although Mr. Steele had been in failing health for some time, no one realized his condition was so serious. Mr. Steele had been confined to the house for about a week. Saturday morning about 8 o'clock he was seized by an attack of heart trouble and died in a few minutes.

Mr. Steele moved to Newark from Wilmington about 30 years ago and built up a big business. He turned this over to his son, Chas. P. Steele in 1900. He was one of the best known citizens especially in our immediate rural districts. His business relations with the farmers as well as his interest in all phases of rural life made him a host of friends.

The funeral, largely attended, was held from his late residence on Delaware Avenue on Tuesday afternoon, the Masonic Order officiating. Interment was made in Head of Christiana Cemetery. He leaves a wife and two children, Mrs. Franklin Welch of Washington, and Chas. P. Steele of this town.

Rhodes-Walker

The marriage of Miss Helen Walker of Newark, and Mr. G. W. Rhodes, popular druggist of the town, was solemnized this morning in St. John's R. C. Church at 10:30 o'clock. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, ferns, and yellow and white blossoms. Father Dougherty of Newark officiated, using the nuptial mass. The bride was beautifully attired in white crepe de chene, with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Alice Fennecy of Wilmington, wore yellow and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. James McKoon of Newark was best man. Joseph Walker, brother of the bride, and Mr. James Bradley of Riverton, N. J., acted as ushers. Mrs. Anna Armstrong of Summit Bridge played the wedding march and sang an Ave Marie at the close of the service. A wedding breakfast was served to about seventy-five guests at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Walker, Delaware avenue, immediately following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes left on the 2:30 train, refusing to allow their friends to share the secret of their destination. Upon their return they will go to their furnished home on Delaware avenue.

Among the out-of-town guests present were: Miss John Kennedy, Chester, Pa.; Misses Marie, Nellie and Dorothy Kennedy of Chester; Miss Reba Marron of Media; Mrs. Hester Walker, Mrs. Anna Walker, Philadelphia; Mrs. George Ott, Mrs. Charles Ott, Mrs. Dora Vandegrift, Miss Dora Ott, Miss Gertrude Keeley, Wilmington; Miss Mary Murphy, Philadelphia; Miss M. In this campaign the competition is small in numbers but we find that it is tremendous in spirit and determination. As the campaign progresses the workers are becoming more enthusiastic, better salespeople, and more sure of themselves. They are also finding that the direct contact they are having with the families in the local trading territory is both enjoyable and educational. Oftimes the experience and training gained in these campaigns leads to well paying positions in some other line of work.

Hall Of Records

"When the state legislature two years ago found it necessary to provide more room for the Corporation Division of the Secretary of State's office, it decided to acquire territory for a new building, which would be large enough to accommodate not only this division, but the Public Archives Commission as well.

"The building . . . was completed and turned over to the state last December, but as furniture and equipment could not be secured until the General Assembly of 1939 appropriated money therefor, the offices and records of the Public Archives Commission were not transferred to the new quarters until . . . May.

With Separate Entrance

"The Hall of Records building is situated just north of Legislative Hall, which was erected about six years ago as the first unit of a group of capital buildings to be erected just east of the historic Dover Green and the old State House. The western half of the first floor of the Hall of Records, with a separate entrance, and about two-thirds of the semi-basement floor, also with a separate entrance, will be occupied by the Public Archives Commission.

"Two large air-conditioned and fire-proof vaults have been built for the records. A beautiful room for research workers with a catalogue room connected, office and work rooms for the staff, and a lobby for exhibition purposes constitute the quarters.

Famous Deeds Preserved

"The equipment includes a beautiful safe, built into an alcove behind sliding doors in the lobby, where are preserved the famous Duke of York deeds of 1692 to William Penn for the land in Delaware, and the charter of 1683 from Charles II to the Duke of York relative to the same area. The work-room equipment includes a fumigation cabinet, photostatic machine, and dark-room and repair-room facilities.

"Although a state law for a few years past has made it mandatory upon custodians of records in all state, county, and municipal offices in Delaware to transfer each year to the state archives all records of historic interest that have attained the age of 75 years, it has not been possible heretofore for the Public

Archives Commission to receive records of a date later than the year 1865, due to the lack of filing facilities. The records for the years 1861 to 1864, inclusive, now have been transferred, and each year hereafter there will be annual secretions as the records become 75 years old.

Photostatic Deed Copies

"Being now for the first time in the possession of photostatic equipment, the Public Archives Commission can also take cognizance of another law which has heretofore not been enforced, namely the law which permits recorders of deeds to accept from the commission bound photostatic copies of their original deed records so that the latter, especially of the colonial period, may be preserved from further use by title searchers, the photostatic copies under the law having equal validity with the originals before the state courts.

"The staff of the Public Archives Commission, besides the state archivist, consists of Assistant State Archivist Leon deValinger, Jr., an office secretary, and a clerk. The commission of six members is bipartisan, and consists of one man and one woman from each of the three counties, appointed by the governor for a term of four years. The president of the commission, Mrs. Henry Ridgely, of Dover, has been a member of the commission ever since it was organized in 1905.

"The other members of the present commission are Mrs. Francis J. Edward Godes, of Baltimore, del. Janvier, of New Castle; Laura S. Richards, of Dover; Dr. Frank S. Hall, of Georgetown; Ernest Smith, of Wilmington; and J. Edward Godes, of Baltimore.
