The Newark Post

VOLUME XXI

NEWARK, DELAWARE, THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 1930

NUMBER 9

FIRST COUNT PUBLISHED NEXT THURSDAY WILL SHOW STANDING OF CANDIDATES

List of Entrants Shown Today; Workers Striving to Get as Many Subscriptions as Possible in Before Saturday Night So As to Make Good Showing in First Published Report; Sales Must Be Turned in Then for Credit on This Count.

OFFICE OPEN UNTIL LATE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Still Plenty of Time to Join As Start Has Been Delayed. A Live-Wire Could Start Now and Lead in First Count and a Candidate Already Entered Could Do the Same—Remember You Cannot Lose in Our Campaign.

Today it appears—the first list of nominations. Names of nominees received until yesterday, together with their nomination vote of 5,000 are printed today for candidates entered in The Newark Post's great every-candidate-wins-something, automobile and prize campaign.

This list published today MUST not be misunderstood. The names printed are only nominations. The list only serves to show who is entered. It does not indicate the active candidates.

The publication of the names of candidates in The Newark Post's Big Circulation Campaign appear in alphabetical order on this page.

If your nomination blank has been sent and does not appear in the list, kindly notify the campaign manager immediately. Nominations are not closed. In fact today there are more prizes than there are active candidates. Opportunity without a handicap is here today for new entries who will "carry on." And the same holds true for the candidates already entered.

Means Work To Win

Candidates who will not produce subscriptions cannot hope to win. The more subscriptions you produce the more votes you earn. The free coupons appearing in The Newark Post are valuable only in the degree in which you enhance your vote score by subscriptions. There is absolutely no hope in coupons alone. These are printed primarily to create interest. Of course they do have some value, but is questionable when one considers that one subscription alone offsets a whole bundle of coupons.

Simple nomination of a candidate does not mean anything. The nomination is but the first step, the starting point. Anyone content to rest after nomination cannot get far in this race. Active work, honest effort, constant attention to business in hand and that alone can get votes. And votes WIN. And subscriptions mean votes.

With so many candidates entered and so many of those not yet at least manifesting any life or activity, the opportunity is here for some live ones to enter and "carry on" to victory.

In fact the more candidates entered the less votes it will take to win. If two candidates are running for office they must have all the votes between them. The winner must have a majority—over half—of all the votes cast. But if five candidates seek the same office the winner only needs to have more votes than the next highest candidate.

Then, too, in this campaign every candidate wins something. There are the Chevrolet coach worth $658, purchased from Wilmington Auto Co., Newark, $200 in cash, $100 in cash, $75 in cash, $50 in cash, and $25 in cash. And remember, too, the cash commission of 20 per cent on new subscriptions paid to all active non-prize winning participants. In an election for office but one candidate wins. In The Newark Post election every candidate wins—YOU WIN. You who are in, get busy, work, carry on; you who are still "thinking about it" get in. Go after 'em you win.

Clip or tear out the nomination blank in today's Newark Post. Bring it or send it to The Newark Post campaign office. Then spend the next few weeks more profitably than any few weeks of your life were ever spent before. Go in and win.

Print Vote Total Thursday

The next issue of The Newark Post will contain the first credits score for those who have accepted The Newark Post $2,000 Free Gift Distribution Plan. The first period of the campaign ends April 12. These days could be the biggest vote making days of the campaign. The opportunity is here for candidates, who as a whole, are not taking advantage of this golden opportunity.

It behooves every candidate to get busy. No candidate can afford to allow his or her "ears to be knocked down." You cannot afford to make snap judgment. If there is anything you don't understand, make it your business to find out at the campaign office.

Those of you who are expecting to get busy, who intend to start going after subscriptions in a big way next week, will do well to advance your itinerary a few days. It will pay big. It means the difference between winning your choice of the prizes or being content with one of lesser value. It is up to you. It is you who must work out your own salvation. It is you who can enhance your voting strength, and you alone.

Are you going to let others walk away with gifts all for the lack of but a little effort right now?

Candidates must realize that work now will produce subscriptions which count more than when the campaign closes. This certainly should spur them to action.

Saturday is the next reporting day and every candidate is expected to report with at least one "club" of subscriptions, however, if you have only one subscription report it, please.

E. C. PRETTYMAN IS TRANSFERRED

Anti-Saloon League Head Goes To Connecticut On April First

The Rev. E. C. Prettyman, superintendent of the Peninsula District of the Maryland-Delaware Anti-Saloon League, has been appointed superintendent of the Connecticut district of the league with headquarters at New Haven, effective April 1. He will be succeeded here by the Rev. Roscoe W. Vining, now superintendent of the Connecticut district.

The Rev. Mr. Vining was in Wilmington last week and conferred with Anti-Saloon officials and workers. He announced he would move to Wilmington and take up his new work on April 1. The Rev. Mr. Prettyman will go to New Haven the latter part of this week, but his family will remain in Wilmington for the present.

The transfer has been under consideration by the National leaders of the Anti-Saloon League for several weeks. At a meeting in Baltimore a few days ago, attended by both men, the Rev. F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the National Anti-Saloon League, announced the transfer.

The Rev. Mr. Vining is well known in Anti-Saloon League work, not only in Connecticut, but also in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, where he has held posts.

The transfer of the Rev. Mr. Prettyman to the Connecticut district carries with it a very substantial increase in salary. He has been superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Delaware for the past fifteen years, and by his success in legislative work has won an enviable reputation among temperance workers. When he began the work here the open saloon was in operation. During his term in office all the prohibition laws have been enacted, including the Klieg law, which is Delaware's State enforcement law.

The Rev. Mr. Prettyman said the transfer had been made because it was the opinion of the leaders that more effective work can be done by new men in each of the districts.

DEL. ATHLETES HAVE BANQUET

Letters Were Awarded At Athletic Dinner On Monday Evening

More than 100 athletes and guests Monday night attended the tenth annual athletic banquet held under the auspices of the Athletic Council of the University of Delaware. This affair is given in honor of the letter men of the University in all sports and is always a pleasant occasion.

Owing to illness in his family Lieutenant E. P. Jolls, president of the Athletic Council, who was to preside, was unable to attend. Gerald P. Doherty, graduate manager of athletics, presided and A. G. Wilkinson, business administrator of the University, was toastmaster. The principal speaker was L. D. Grossman, vice-president of the Middle Atlantic States Athletic Association and graduate manager of athletics at Susquehanna College. Others who gave short talks were Dr. Walter Hullah, president of the University; Joseph J. Rothrock, athletic director, who recently resigned to return to Peelskill Military Academy next season; Major P. S. Prince, director of athletics for the State Board of Education, and A. B. "Gus" Zeigler, football coach last fall, who will probably again coach the Delaware team next fall.

Director Rothrock presented letters to those students who had won them in football, soccer, basketball, rifle and swimming. Medals were also presented to A. J. Taylor, William Brown, W. Lindstrand and Charles Hartman, of the swimming team for their achievements in the Eastern Collegiate meet at Lehigh. In this meet Taylor won the 440 free style, Brown the 1500 breaststroke, Hartman won third place in diving and Lindstrand won first in the 100 yard dash.

STATE HONORED FOR ROAD SAFETY

Delaware Given High Rank For Decrease In Motor Deaths

According to national figures comparing the number of fatal motor accidents on state highways during the past year, and made public this week by W. W. Mack, chief engineer of the State Highway Department, Delaware was one of five States out of thirty-seven that showed the highest decrease in motor accident fatalities last year as compared with the year previous. Figured from a national statistical standpoint in which the number of deaths due to collisions at railroad crossings are eliminated, the fatalities in Delaware last year show a decrease of twenty per cent.

In commenting on this condition, Mr. Mack believes that it was due largely to the efficiency of the State Highway Police.

At the beginning of last year, the State police force was very weak because of so much illness and its depleted numbers. Just as soon as the police force was augmented in July the number of accidents began to fall off and by the end of the year, conditions were greatly improved.

"I don't believe there is anything more helpful in keeping down accidents than the sight of a uniformed man," said Mr. Mack. "One of the big factors in the number of motor accidents, I believe, is speed. States that have abolished any speed limit regulation are now coming back to regulating the speed at which a car shall be driven."

"In one State that I know of, the number of motor fatalities increased forty per cent last year. This is a small state and it has no state highway police."

Mr. Mack said that the highway police of Delaware were going to carefully comb the highway for drivers without any licenses.

The State Highway Commission is considering the erection of signs bearing the name of Delaware for the convenience of foreign motorists. The only signs posted now indicating routes are Federal signs. But the members of the Commission believe that for the convenience of motorists from other states, certain routes through Delaware should be marked with state signs.

STREET REPAIRS

During the next ten days a force of men will be engaged in repairing the paved streets of Newark under the direction of the street committee of Town Council.

FILE CLAIMS FOR COMPENSATION WITHOUT DELAY

April 6, 1930, is the last day on which claims for compensation for injuries or illness resulting from service in the World War can be filed with the Veterans Bureau. Anyone who has any illness traceable to hardship due to service, or to injuries sustained while in service should file claim now. The illness may not be serious at this time, but the claim should be filed so that if it becomes more serious later, compensation can be secured. Blanks for making applications can be secured from A. E. Tomhave, Service Officer of the local American Legion Post.

DEL. TRACKMEN HAVE WORKOUT

Large Squad Drills At University Under Coach Wade

Candidates for the University of Delaware track team are working out daily on Frazer Field and despite the inclement weather conditions a fairly large squad has been out.

Track will be coached by H. A. Wade, a member of the faculty who is an instructor in chemistry. Mr. Wade, a graduate of Kenyon College, volunteered his services when he realized Delaware had no track coach. He is a track letter man at Kenyon and much interested in the sport. He has been working the candidates daily in the fundamentals of the sport and in getting them in physical shape for the season.

Ralph C. Wells, a hurdler and letter man for several years is captain of this year's team and Frank Swezey is manager. A special effort is being made to interest more students in track sports in view of the hard schedule.

The work so far has been largely that of getting the men out and starting routine practice. There are a number of freshmen out so far and more are expected to report in the next week. Not much is known as yet as to the ability of the new men but Coach Wade is anxious to get out as many candidates as possible.

Practically all of last year's squad still in college are out already or soon will be out.

For the dashes, Sportmen, Goldberg and Bender of last year's squad and Williams and Jacobs, two promising looking freshmen are out.

Coach Wade has not decided as yet who he will work out for the 440 and 880 but McVaughn of last year's team will be out again for both of these events.

McKelvey and Phillips are working out for the mile and Phillips, Deputy and Voysey, for the two mile. Captain Wells, Moore and Caulk are working on the hurdles.

In the field and weight events, Benson, Parkinson and Raskin are out so far for the shotput; Sloan, Ward and Jacobs, for the pole vault; Ruggiero, for the broad jump; Sloan, Beatty and Ruggiero, for the high jump; Parkinson, Sloan and Benson, for the discus and Parkinson, Benson and McClure, for the javelin.

MacFARLAND DENIES QUITTING LEVY COURT

Frank B. MacFarland, Levy Court Commissioner, last Saturday night denied emphatically he is considering resignation from the Levy Court. Mr. MacFarland is Levy Court Commissioner from the Fifth Levy Court district, comprising White Clay Creek, New Castle and Red Lion hundreds.

The reports were circling about among politicians of Wilmington that Mr. MacFarland would resign, but he denied that these rumors were true.

BANQUET CLOSES ADULT CLASSES

Interesting Program Presented At Dover Meeting On Tuesday Evening

The annual banquet of the adult education classes of rural New Castle and Kent counties held at Dover on Tuesday evening in the dining hall of People's Christian Church was attended by nearly 350 people and was a wonderful success. The program outlined by Mrs. H. Ridgely Harrington, president of the Student Advisory Council, and Miss Marguerite Burnett, State director of adult education work was carried out.

The community singing, directed by John W. McFadden, who has had charge of the singing classes throughout the State, was a pleasing feature, as was also the separate selections from the different centers. After the banquet, which was served by the members of the Lend-a-Hand Society of People's Church, Mrs. Harrington introduced as toastmaster, Chancellor Josiah O. Wolcott.

The first community center to report was Edge Moor, given by Mrs. J. Stretton; for New Castle, Mrs. P. Lancaster gave the report; Commodore MacDonough report in addition to the activities participated in the group gave a chorus, "The Heavens Resound," directed by Miss Edith Mosely, instructor.

At the conclusion of the reports, greetings were given from agencies participating in the public school program of adult education in Delaware including Dr. H. V. Holloway, State superintendent of public instruction, who recited a humorous poem, "Keep a Fishin'." The State Bureau of Vocational Education was represented by Professor R. W. Heim and the State Parent-Teacher Association by Miss Etta Wilson, in lieu of Howard T. Ennis, president of the State P-T-A, who was prevented from being present because of an operation for appendicitis. The Delaware Citizens Association was represented by J. Edward Goslee, president of that association.

After the singing of Our Delaware, the exercises closed with the benediction.

The exhibits of art and handicraft classes were on display in the community hall of the church.

EVANS HALL TO BE DEDICATED AT COMMENCEMENT

New Engineering Building At University Will Be Modern Structure

Dedication of Evans Hall, the new engineering building at the University of Delaware, will be one of the features of commencement week at "Delaware" this year.

Dean R. L. Spencer and other members of the engineering faculty are already making plans for this occasion which is of great importance to the engineering school.

The 1927 Legislature made an appropriation for an engineering building but greatly reduced the amount that was asked for with the result that only a portion of the building could be erected with that money. The last Legislature appropriated $110,000 more to finish the building. The building is now nearing completion and will be ready for dedication at commencement time.

This gives to the engineering school a modern building with modern equipment with which to carry on the work of training engineering students and will be of great value in this respect.

Dean Spencer, of the engineering school has just announced that he has secured as speakers on the occasion of the dedication H. T. Herr, vice-president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, and Dr. William S. Franklin, a leader in electrical engineering education in this country. There will be two other noted engineers on the program.

Mr. Herr is a graduate of the Sheffield Science School of Yale University. He began his professional career with the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad in 1899. In 1907, he became closely associated with the late George Westinghouse and became connected with the Westinghouse organizations. With the Westinghouse companies.

Mr. Herr is a prominent member in several engineering societies and fraternities, including the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the Society of Automotive Engineering, the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, the American

He visited Greenwood, Salisbury, Maryland, and many small towns and railroad stations, explaining the quarantine regulations before returning to Wilmington.

While on the tour he conferred with August Negendank, nursery inspector for the bureau, who is at present stationed in lower Kent County to supervise and conduct inspections of the various nurseries, farms and greenhouses.

Mr. Cranston said that by the end of this week he expects to have completed the missionary, or instruction work of the bureau in that vicinity. During the two days he covered over 350 miles visiting the various centers and explaining the quarantine to ac-

The teachers of the local public school, Mrs. Ethel M. Hill and Mrs. Margaret Thornton, are planning for another bingo and 500 party, to be held at the school next Wednesday evening, April 2.

The Thursday evening dances at the Firehouse appear to be even more popular than at the beginning of the season. Last Thursday evening the attendance was so large that there was hardly room on the floor for all who wished to dance. Music is furnished by the "Pumpkin Dusters," popular broadcasting musicians, connected with station WILM.

At the regular meeting of Harmony Grange, P. of H., No. 12, on Monday evening, March 24, the hall was well filled, there being nearly two hundred present, including about thirty members of Smyrna Grange, also visitors from Delaware Center Hockessin and Union Granges. During the business session, the order for fertilizer was made up. The Worthy Master reported that the Young People of Ebenezer Church who gave the play entitled "Wild Ginger" in the Sunday School room of the church recently, will give the same play in Harmony Grange Hall on April 5. The Worthy Master, Hon. Robert P. Robinson, on being asked to make a few remarks, told of the great pleasure in store for him, that of presenting one member of Harmony Grange with a bronze medal presented by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce through the National Grange as a prize to the State of Delaware for the second best essay on safety, in a competition last summer. The winner of this medal was Miss Amy P. Hicks and the title of her essay was "Safety on the Highways for Children and Adults." Then the Worthy Master of Harmony Grange, Paul W. Mitchell, presented her with a box of beautiful flowers from her own grange. A number of Masters and Past Masters of the different granges represented, including one Past State Master, made a few remarks. Notice was given of the meeting on Friday evening next at the home of George K. Ball of the Harmonica Band for a rehearsal. The business session closed with the Harmonica Band playing and members singing "Old Black Joe" and "The Grange is Marching On."

The Lecturer's hour was open to admit visitors and was in charge of the Lecturer of Smyrna Grange. The following program was presented: Singing, "Smiles"; Mr. Walter Massey entertained with his guitar, singing and stories; Miss Emily Spruance gave "Tony on the Telephone"; Mr. Mathew Ford gave "A Dissertation on

A Minister Speaks Out

In a recent sermon, Dr. Perry Silver, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Incarnation in New York City, declared that one of the dangers to America now is the threatened destruction of the ideals and the institutions of the makers of the country and a lack of reverence and patriotism which are stealing the sense of glory from the American nation.

Dr. Silver declared that "We have patriots who are patriots only on holidays. And there are some who are not even patriotic then," and he added that Christian ideals are being undermined by colleges originally formed to develop Christian ministry, but now housing "half-baked professors with atheistic ideas" who "hack away at the homebred ideals of young students."

Continuing he declared that "we have men without character writing biographies of men of great character, little men trying to belittle the great of the nation. Some of these authors should be writing the life of Jesse James rather than that of George Washington."

All of which contain a great deal of truth and is worth thinking over, America has changed just as the entire world has changed during the past generation, perhaps not so much as some of the other nations, but there is some which should cause us to think gravely concerning the future.

PROGRAM FOR ANNUAL HOME ECONOMICS MEETING

The program for the annual state meeting of the Home Economics Association promises to be a most interesting one. It is as follows:

1. A talk on "Children's Clothes," by Miss Clarissa Scott, of the U. S. Bureau of Home Economics, Washington, D. C. Miss Scott will bring with her an exhibit of about twenty-five models, including sun suits, play suits for winter, bibs, dresses for the little girl and suits for the small boy. All of these garments have been especially designed so that they are conducive to health and so that they teach the child to dress, undress and aid himself at an early age.

2. A talk on the various forms of recreation in the home and the value of recreation, by Miss Ella Gardner, recreation specialist of the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C. Miss Gardner is an expert in this line, and will demonstrate part of her talk by playing with the group.

This meeting is open to the general public, especially the home-makers. All are invited to attend the luncheon, which will be served promptly at 12:00 o'clock, noon, Saturday, April 5, at the Diamond State Tea House.

Reservations at $1.00 per plate must be made on or before April 2 with Miss Grace Smedley, Delaware City, Delaware. The meeting will close about 3:30 p. m.

BENEFIT PLAY

A play, "Wild Ginger," will be given by the Young People's Auxiliary of Ebenezer Church, Thursday evening, April 10, at eight o'clock, in the Newark New Century Club, for the benefit of the Pythian Sisters of Newark.

THE ORIENT DISCUSSED DURING COLLEGE HOUR

The speaker at the College Hour Tuesday was Josef Washington Hall, who is better known by his pen name, Upton Close. This interesting man, who is author, lecturer and explorer, is the author of several well-known books, among them: "Revolt of Asia," "An Outline of the History of China," "Moonland." He is the outstanding interpreter of both the political and cultural activities of the Orient of today.

Mr. Close took as his topic that in which he is most interested, "The Orient." In speaking of the yellow race, he said that it is gradually coming into its own, and that the problem which we have to face today is whether we are to lead or they, or whether it is to be a matter of co-operation and friendliness. He stressed the fact that America must take some part in the revolt in China.

In touching on the Indian situation, Mr. Close said that Britain is being driven out of India, and expressed the sentiment that such a state of affairs was a matter for rejoicing.

Delaware Athletes Have Banquet

strand swam on the relay team which got third place. Murray, another member of the relay team, is also entitled to a medal.

Other guests in addition to the speakers included, A. W. Cummins, editor of Wilmington Morning News; A. O. H. Grier, editor of Every Evening; Prof. Howard K. Preston and Dr. A. S. Eastman, former presidents of the Athletic Council; Dr. J. R. Downs, Dr. Wallace M. Johnson, Dr. P. K. Musselman, Dr. Thomas F. Manns, Dean R. L. Spencer, Dean Charles A. Brinser, Lieutenant Myers; Dr. Paul Wintrup, Harry G. Lawson, secretary of the Alumni Association, and George Stewart, of Wilmington.

The dinner was held in Old College and was served by student waiters while the music was provided by a student orchestra.

During the dinner, in appreciation of their services to the athletes during the year, gifts were presented to Dr. Johnson and Dr. Downes by the Athletic Council.

The address of Mr. Grossman was one of unusual interest in which he pointed out athletics develop sportsmanship and develop the student in many ways.

Dr. Hullihen congratulated the letter men on having earned their "D" in various sports. Coach Rothrock said the University had his best wishes for good sports for next year, although he will not be here. He thanked the students for the support they have given him since coming to Delaware as director of athletics.

"Gus" Zeigler, in a few remarks, urged the students regardless of who may be their football coach next fall to give him loyal support and all they have in football ability.

At the close of the dinner some moving pictures of football games played on Frazer Field last fall including the Senior-Faculty game and also some pictures of war scenes during the World War were shown by Dr. Musselman and Dr. Manns.

Those students receiving letters in various sports follow:

LIST OF NOMINATIONS IN THE NEWARK POST CIRCULATION CAMPAIGN

Below are listed the names of the candidates to date in the campaign now being organized by The Newark Post in its drive for greater circulation. Considering the value of the high rewards in this campaign, this is an absurdly small number of entrants. There is plenty of room for lots of live-wires who wish to make big money between now and May 3. Just think of it—more than $2,000 in prizes and cash commissions will be given to persons participating in this campaign, and you might as well get your share of that money in the next few weeks. Send in your name at once and get in line for a big prize.

Miss Anna Mae Beck, 14 Cleveland Ave., Newark..... 5,000

Opportunity is knocking at your door with both fists trying to make you take advantage of a clean-cut business proposition that can make you more in the next few weeks without investment or risk—except your spare time—than many people make in a whole year.

How can we make you see it? TODAY—now is the time to decide. Let your decision rest on what you see in store for you. If you have already accepted The Newark Post offer but have been slow getting your campaign underway, resolve to campaign and earn your choice of these extraordinary gifts. Just how well this campaign will pay you is up to you. Your reward will be in direct proportion to the enthusiasm and effort you offer. Candidates, can you realize the value of the next few weeks? Do you want an automobile? Can you use cash? Are you so well "fixed" that you can't use money? Compensation for your efforts is certain—the least any one can make is 20 per cent of his or her new subscription collections. The first period of the campaign ends April 12, then subscriptions take a decline in vote value—HELP YOUR FAVORITE CANDIDATE NOW. ## NEWARK M. E. CHURCH CLOSES SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Newark M. E. Church has just closed a very successful year. The pastor, Dr. Walter E. Gunby, is now attending conference, which is being held at Silverbrook M. E. Church, in Wilmington. All conference appointments have been met in full, with some increase over previous years. On Christmas Sunday over $1500 was given in cash towards the Church Building Fund.

All departments of the church and Sunday school seem to show progress for the year. The pastor and his wife have shown much interest in all branches of the church work and have been unanimously invited to return to Newark for another year. Mrs. Gunby has recently organized a Standard Bearers class of young women, which is a branch of the Foreign Missionary Society.

quaint people with the regulations. Farm products will go under the quarantine regulations on June 15. Nursery and ornamental stock, sand, dirt, soil, peat, compost and manure are under quarantine all year around.

Mr. Cranston said, in explaining the regulations, in regard to the lightly and heavily infested areas: "The same regulations apply when shipping from the lightly infested area to the non-infested area, as apply when shipping from the heavily infested area to the lightly infested area, with one exception and that is that farm products may be shipped from the lightly infested area to the free area without permits. For all other products, shipped from the heavily infested area to the lightly infested area to the free area, permits are necessary."

All of New Castle and Kent County are in the heavily infested area. In Sussex County, Cedar Creek hundred is in the generally or heavily infested area, and the hundreds of Broad Creek, Little Creek, Nanticoke, North West Fork and Seaford are all in the lightly infested area.

It is expected that before the farm products go under quarantine again the offices of the bureau and the headquarters will probably be moved from Wilmington to Dover.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI CARD PARTY

Tickets are being placed on sale for another of the popular card parties sponsored by the Alumni Association of Newark Schools. The date is Tuesday, April 22, 1930, and the place is the Auditorium of the Newark School Bridge and Five Hundred tables will be progressive and worthwhile prizes may be obtained by fortunate players. These parties have proven very popular to members of the Alumni Association and their many friends and the committee in charge of this one hope to present an evening of real pleasure. The Alumni Association has carried on two major projects during the past scholastic years, one has been of a social nature—their annual reunion and dinner, held during the month of June, which has served admirably to maintain the contact with friends and associates of past school days. The second has been the sponsoring of a scholarship at the University of Delaware, which has been awarded annually to the boy or girl who has maintained the highest grades during the high school course. Miss Dorothea Chalmers, of the class of 1929, is the present holder of the scholarship.

During the several years that this Alumni scholarship has been presented, various means of financing it have been chosen. The proceeds of this card party will be used to present the scholarship. From numerous gifts from Alumni and friends the nucleus of a permanent endowment has been formed. It is the earnest wish of all Alumni members that this fund might be increased until its income will be such that scholarship program may be enlarged.

To enable the sponsors of the Alumni scholarship to continue their worthwhile project the Alumni Association invite and request all their friends to reserve Tuesday, April 22, and be present at the card party.

TAKING CENSUS IS HARD TASK

Enumerators Will Have Work Sheet Two Feet Long; Questions Must Be Answered

When Uncle Sam sets out to "count noses" in his multitudinous family he finds himself with a real task on his hands.

Starting out on April 2, for they fear they wouldn't be taken seriously on "April Fool's Day," the enumerators will go from door to door, asking the score or more questions called for and jotting down the answers on the 24-by-16-inch worksheets or schedules.

But the census of population, while it is the nucleus, is not the whole of this national count. For there is also the decennial census of mines and quarries, the five-year farm census, the biennial census of manufacturers, and two new ones, a census of commercial distribution and an unemployment census.

Thorough as it aims to be, the census won't count everybody. The rules read, "Include every person living on April 1, 1930." Since it will require from two weeks to a month to take the census, there will be hundreds of births between April 1 and the date the enumerator arrives. And those infants will simply have to wait until the 1940 census to be counted, although their lusty young voices may leave no doubt in the census taker's mind as to their presence.

Also, like the makers of certain registration lists, the census takers will count many dead people, all, in fact who die between April 1 and the time the enumerator appears at the house.

Included in the population census schedule are five new questions. The answers to these will reveal whether or not the family owns a radio set; the value of the home, if owned by the residents, or the monthly rental if rented; the person's age at the time of first marriage; whether the home-maker is actually at work; and whether the person served in the World War or any other war.

The radio manufacturers, who asked the government to include the question, about their product, hope to find in the tabulated totals the exact size of America's radio audience, and a general picture of their market.

The worksheets, which have space for 100 names, list beside the five new questions, the following points:

Name of person.
Relationship to head of family.
Sex, color or race.
Age at last birthday.
Marital condition (single, married, widowed or divorced).

Whether attended school or college since September 1, 1929.
Ability to read and write.
Place of birth of person and his father and mother.

If foreign-born, language spoken in home before coming to United States.
Year of immigration to United States and naturalization data.

Whether able to speak English.
Occupation and type of industry.

Class of worker (employer, wage or salary worker, working on own account, unpaid worker).

Whether actually at work on last regular working day prior to enumerator's visit. (If not, the person is listed on unemployment schedule).

Whether a veteran of the United States military or naval forces and name of war or expedition.

The farm schedule, listing 233 items, will present to the census officials, when filled out, an accurate and detailed picture of every one of the nation's nearly 7,000,000 farms, with information on the ownership, financial condition, crop yield for 1929, livestock population and increase, machinery equipment, etc., of each.

These questionnaires will be taken care of by the population census enumerators, who will also fill out the detailed unemployment blanks, which will furnish valuable information regarding the causes and duration of unemployment in each case.

Every one must be counted, and every one who greets the enumerator at the door must answer all the questions. If he is too reticent, legal action must be taken. But the census takers, whose job is difficult at best, make it plain that the information they seek is confidential. No one not a sworn member of the bureau is permitted to see the filled out sheets.

BATTERY E

At the weekly drill of Battery "E," 198th C. A., Delaware National Guard, Captain Herman W. Cook announced the following promotions: Gaylord Tweed from Private First Class to Corporal, Floyd Baker, Russell E. Broomell, Joseph L. Hatfield, Richard T. Keeley, Clifton W. Kennedy from Private to Private First Class.

It was also announced that the National Guard membership cards supplied by Governor C. Douglass Buck would be issued to the members of the Battery at the drill next Tuesday night.

After drill the battery held the regular monthly feed and get-together meeting. It was decided to continue the athletic program this spring by organizing a battery baseball team.

The "Salvo Club," composed of the Non-Commissioned Officers of the Battery, is laying plans for a card party to be held in the near future.

Jeanne Smith Loses Fear of Flying Germs After Trip to Wilmington's Contagious Disease Hospital

Reports to parents of little patients that science is doing wonders for them

Out in the western part of Wilmington, at Chestnut and Rodney streets, stands an old-fashioned frame building—whose visitors are few, and where there lurks enemies most deadly. Deadly because they are invisible. It is called the contagious disease unit of the Wilmington General Hospital. And many and varied are the tales told of what goes on behind those white walls, tales so fantastic that it is hardly believable even a gullible public would swallow them. "Would you like to inspect our hospital?" asked Miss Connelly, the superintendent. "Of course I would," I answered. "Will you really let me go into it?" "You shall see it all," she answered. "You don't mean the patients?" I asked. "Wait and see," she answered. "What do I need to bring with me?" I wanted to know. I had some vision of a complete suit of asbestos and a gas mask, or something.

Behind the Times

"I hate to say it," she said, "but you are about twenty years behind the times. You don't need a thing. We'll take care of that." So out I went. Miss Heal, a special nurse, let me in. I told her I was Jeanne Smith from the Newspaper Office. "I'll take you on a special tour of inspection," she said. We moved up a wide stairway and through a hall which was open to the sun and air. A long hall divides the rooms. "This is the diphtheria ward," she said, and opened the door for me to enter. A few patients looked at me curiously as I passed. One curly headed little boy said "Hey!" with great gusto, another little girl was asleep. The nurses were moving about with tempting glasses of orange juice. To the left is the tuberculation room. This was quite interesting, and I am told that Miss Connelly is very skilled at using these tubes. They are used in severe cases of diphtheria where antitoxin has been used and the membrane is covering the larynx. The tubes are inserted, which allows the sufferer to breathe more freely. "But what worries me," I said, "is about going out after I've been in here. Won't all the little diphtheria and scarlet fever germs hop on my neck and get a free ride outside?" Miss Heal shook her head and laughed. "Not so long as you don't touch anything in the room, and I am here to keep you from doing that. It's an exploded theory that the scarlet fever and diphtheria germs go floating through the air, unless of course, a great number of people are crowded together in a small space and cough and sneeze into the air. Even fumigation has largely gone out of style. Plenty of fresh air and sunshine and light, a thorough scrubbing with plenty of soap and water is one of the best disease preventatives. So you see Miss Smith, this is really one of the safest places to be in the City of Wilmington." "Check and double check," I admitted. "If I ever get scared of catching any thing, I'll move right out here. Thus allay your fear of flying germs."

OBJECTS TO ADDED LICENSE ON TRACTOR

How to enforce the motor vehicle laws of the State in connection with farm tractors and engines is one of the difficult problems confronting Secretary of State Grantland.

Up to the passage of the last legislation enacted by the General Assembly last winter, the farmer owning a tractor or engine was accustomed to paying $5 license fee. But the last Legislature changed the law, and it now reads that the farmer shall pay for the tractor or engine license by weight. Here is where the difficulty arises because the farmer does not want to pay the added fee under the new motor vehicle code.

Several groups have appealed to Secretary Grantland, seeking to have him interpret the law that would enable them to get off with the payment of a $5 license fee. Mr. Grantland does not see the matter that way and is endeavoring to collect the right fee.

The owners of tractors and engines have now asked him to take the matter to court and obtain a ruling there. But again Mr. Grantland feels that if there is any appeal, it should be made by the farmers.

NEW MARSHAL ON A TRIP TO ATLANTA

U. S. Marshal Walter S. Money, Charles P. Hanratty, recently appointed U. S. Marshal to succeed Mr. Money, and William H. Money, of Townsend, have returned from a trip to Atlanta, Georgia, which they made to take four prisoners to the Federal Penitentiary. The trip gave Mr. Hanratty an idea of how prisoners are taken to Atlanta. The prisoners were: John Goff, Carl Linkhurst, who pleaded guilty last week to violation of the National Motor Theft Act; Paul Raymond Spence and Joseph S. McCorry, both colored, who pleaded guilty to similar offense. They were sentenced to a year and a day in the Penitentiary.

Letters to Jeanne

"Jeanne" answers all questions relating to problems of married life. Names and addresses should be added to letters, as a mark of good faith, but of course will not be published. Write "Jeanne," care of The Newark Post, Wilmington Office, 809 Tatnall Street, Wilmington.

We are so used to thinking of Mothers as a sublimated race of women, and associating the qualities of self-sacrifice, thoughtfulness, and love with the very word Mother, that we are shocked to hear there are women who have had children and who still retain some human faults. It seems unnatural somehow, and abnormal to say that any mother has been selfish. Yet this is a fault that is lasting with some women, whether married or unmarried. In the case of Mary B., whose letter is printed below, selfishness has caused untold misery to three people and the end is not yet. For it is proving a boomerang that returns to destroy the woman herself, and the home she hoped to have through the twilight years. Here is one problem that cannot be solved by advice. The whole answer lies in the character of the people concerned. They may be moved to pity this woman, who has no pity for others, even her own daughter.

Dear Jeanne: I am desperately worried. I am the mother of four children. My eldest daughter was madly in love with a man, he came to the house and I fell in love with him too. I was a widow at the time and tried to win him for myself. I am sure that many of my readers that bought produce here last year will be glad to hear this news. You can thoroughly depend on all merchandise from this market. Watch for the opening date of the roadside market. "Black Cat Tea Room," Dupont Boulevard.

Answer—Well, you don't deserve help. You are in a bad way, aren't you? Evidently the laws of compensation have started to work and you are being paid back for your unfair treatment to others. If you have forfeited the right to your children's love and protection, you have only yourself to blame. If you married your present husband for money and a home, he might as well know it now as later—You can't keep it from him. Your selfishness here and unfair actions are sure to betray you. If you are looking for sympathy, you've come to the wrong place. In the first place, I can't understand your viewpoint. In all your 50 odd years have you ever tried playing fair with yourself? I did not believe a mother existed who would deliberately set about to spoil her daughter's happiness and blacken her character. You have no right to ask your daughter to help you. I can't tell you what to do. I might suggest that you get down on your knees and pray for forgiveness, but you'd probably ask what for?

Jeanne Smith.

Dear Jeanne: I have goose pimples on my legs. How can I make the skin smooth and white again? They look rough and dirty.

Answer—Every night scrub the skin vigorously with warm water and soap, using a flesh brush. Rinse in cold water to be dry, massage with a little or toilet alcohol. If your skin is inclined to dry, massage with a little olive oil or cold cream two or three times a day. It will look smooth and clean after the first few treatments.

Jeanne Smith.

Dear Jeanne: Perhaps you will think my problem is a silly one, but to me it is serious. Although I have a good position with two lawyers, I am very much disgusted with my office. It is really a mess. I am so very much ashamed of it that I wouldn't dare have any one call for me there. My employers are men of considerable wealth and have beautiful homes, but not so with the office. Nearly every one remarks on its resemblance to a workshop. Can you imagine my feelings? I like my work and both men are very nice, but every time I look around me I feel like getting another position. Do you think there is any way I can speak to them about fixing it up a trifle without them feeling that I should mind my own business.

Answer—I can't for the life of me see any reason why they should resent being told about the slovenly appearance of the office if you just state the matter tactfully and tell them that it is not only on your account but for their clients as well. It is a reflection on their character to keep an office in a slovenly condition. If they don't pay any attention to you after a while, even if you offer your co-operation, then tell them that you are leaving, but don't suggest this unless you have another position in view that you are sure of.

Jeanne Smith.

SHOPPING WITH JEANNE

Dear Nell:

You will just simply have to forgive me for neglect if I skip over the fashions of the day, because you have no idea how much longer it takes to get around in a crowded shop, and the shops are full to overflowing now. Not that I mind it, my only wish is that you could be in on each tour I make. In the shops one sees the very smartest scarfs for Spring in all their bright spiffy coloring. Perhaps the most interesting item is the new costume jewelry that the best shops are showing this Spring. It is of the very antique type that is being taken up. It is very unusual, rather bizarre when worn, but rather good looking with the smart Spring styles. You will find the good shops in Wilmington are keeping well to the front with all the new and smart things for Spring. Berets are apparently worn with every smart thing for Spring, linens, fancy straws, jerseys, and fabrics. Tennis dresses will probably be about four inches below the knees. A tight hip line and a belt worn around a normal waist. Hope you get to the city real soon.

As ever, Jeanne.

VACATION hardly seems possible, does it? But now that Spring is here summer can't be far behind, so let's start now to prepare for that long looked for trip, and let's start first by going to the Industrial Trust Company, 10th and Shipley Sts., Wilmington, and start a vacation saving fund. Can't you just imagine how grand it will be to have this money all saved up? Then when your vacation time arrives, "pronto," just like that you will be all set as it were. All you will have to do is to stop at the Bank and have them explain this vacation fund, I'm sure you will be interested. 10th and Shipley Streets, Wilmington. This Bank is open every Tuesday and Saturday evening from 7 until 9 o'clock for your convenience.

Do you remember the roadside market at "The Black Cat" Tea Room on the Dupont Boulevard? Well here is the news. They are going to open again this year, so if you will just watch this paper during the next few weeks you will see the date. It is going to be much bigger and better this year. I am sure that many of my readers that bought produce here last year will be glad to hear this news. You can thoroughly depend on all merchandise from this market. Watch for the opening date of the roadside market. "Black Cat Tea Room," Dupont Boulevard.

KAHIL GILBRAN, in his faces says, "I know faces, because I look through the fabric my own eyes weave and behold the reality beneath." The casual observer is so apt to say, "How shallow her complexion" or, "How large her pores." So if one wishes to keep that school girl complexion one must work carefully and diligently in the care of one's face. The Capen Drug Store, Delaware Avenue and Dupont Street, Wilmington, have the best beauty aids one can buy. They carry a complete line of all cosmetics, including face powder, cream, lotion, astringent, shampoo and others. Delaware Avenue and Dupont Street, Wilmington.

BAKED STUFFED MUSHROOMS

Twelve medium-sized mushrooms; 1 pound of Hamburg steak, ground twice; 1 teaspoonful of salt; 1/4 teaspoonful of pepper; 1/2 cupful bread crumbs; 1 tablespoonful of butter.

Wash and remove stems from mushroom caps, divide meat into twelve equal portions, form into balls, place a meat ball into each mushroom, cover with crumbs that have been stirred in melted butter, place in roasting pan with just enough water to keep from sticking. Bake in a moderate oven one-half hour.

Jeanne.

IT seemed to me almost like a breath of a Smart Fifth Avenue Beauty Salon when I walked into the B. V. Carson Beauty Salon, in the Delaware Trust Building, 9th and King Streets, Wilmington. Really it is a most charming place, with its daffodil yellow and dainty orchid trimmings. Do you remember Kathryn Cullen and Helen Kenny? Well, they are the Priestesses of beauty that are there to serve you. And I am here to say, from personal experience, that you just can't beat their work. The smartest shops in New York are using the New Modernistic Silver and black decorations, and Miss Carson has carried out this idea to perfection in her waiting room. 9th and King Streets, Wilmington, Delaware Trust Building.

THE next time you are in Wilmington for lunch, I wish you would stop at "Kitty's," 1210 Washington Street. Here you will find a most peaceful, quiet atmosphere and plenty of tempting good food for your jaded appetite. Well, all around you will find the shop a most cheerful place and the hostess very willing to accommodate your every wish. Put this address in your shopping book, 1210 Washington Street, Wilmington.

BY the merest chance possible last week, I ran across this bit of gossip—Wilmington can now boast of a delightful Inn, The Loran Inn, 1000 Concord Avenue, Wilmington. Here one can not only get a most tempting collation served, but can also spend a most pleasant evening dancing. You know that hot jazz orchestra of Nardola? Well that is who is doing the entertaining. Hop in the old car and drive to Wilmington, you will be delighted with this attractive place, and even more so with the food. 1000 Concord Avenue, Wilmington.

BEAUTY HINT

Your wave will stay in longer if you pin the locks with the smallest size invisible hair pin at night. Fluffy hair is better confined by this method than by the use of a hair net, since the coiffeur should be smooth to be smart.

Jeanne Smith.

ALMOST every day is special day at the Junior League Shop, 312 West 9th Street, Wilmington. Just now they have the most delectable foods for sale. Really, I wonder sometimes where they ever found a cook that could make such tempting goodies. But if I tell you any more about the foods at this shop, I am sure you will want to come right to Wilmington and give the family a real treat. So here's hoping that you will jot the address down, 312 West 9th Street, Wilmington. I am sure you will just love the foods you buy at the Junior League.

ANTIQUES—Who of us does not love them? I can hardly think that there is a person that does not. So I decided I would find a shop last week. My steps turned towards the A. M. Willey Antique Shop, 517 Jefferson Street, Wilmington. I feel that nothing that I could write would even half explain the atmosphere of this lovely shop. But I do want to say that if you are interested in antiques, this is the place to go and buy them. You will find the prices just right. You will also find a rather good selection of the modern furniture, 517 Jefferson Street, Wilmington.

LAST week I scouted around again and visited The Thrift Shop. You know I told you about it last week, located at 701 Madison Street, Wilmington. You know this shop is sponsored by the Junior Board of the Delaware Hospital, and recall that they do very good work, and certainly I think need all our cooperation. Well, here is the story: They have some of the best looking clothes for sale just now, really they look just like new, and the prices are very reasonable. I also noticed shoes, a great number of them; also housefurnishings, that were in excellent condition. You know my space is limited and I cannot tell you more at this time about the Thrift Shop, so I do hope you will visit it at your first opportunity. I feel sure that you will thank "Jeanne" for passing the news on to you. 701 Madison Street, Wilmington.

REMEMBER my invitation a few weeks ago to my readers to visit the "Cobbeeb's Tea Room" at Centerville, Delaware? Well it surely did some good, because they have had more than a dozen persons from down Delaware during the past two weeks. And now that we are going to be looking forward for the real sunny days, why not make it a rule for at least once a week to drive up to Wilmington and go straight into the Kennett Pike and just about a half mile beyond Centerville, you will find this attractive schoolhouse, known to the best people as "Cobbeeb's Tea Room," for you are cheating yourself out of a real treat until you have followed my advice. They have something very special for Sunday dinner. So this is another invitation.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS

Here is a successful method of keeping mice from getting into the house! Make a paste of softened bread crumbs, mix a liberal amount of cayenne pepper into this paste, push this into all cracks or holes through which you think a mouse could possibly pass; and remember that they can get through an amazingly small opening.

Jeanne.

These columns are to be a weekly feature of this Newspaper, and I sincerely hope you will like them—and enjoy reading them. When you are in Wilmington be sure to visit the Shops I tell you about. I know you will be delighted if you just mention my name, "Jeanne." You may also write to me for any beauty suggestions, household helps, or menu hints. I will be glad to answer your letters. Write in and let me know if you enjoy my columns. Address mail, Jeanne, Wilmington Office, The Newark Post, 809 Tatnall Street, Wilmington.

SCHOOL HEALTH PROJECTS DONE

Special Work Finished On March 15; Lord Baltimore Leads

Great interest was manifest in the health project contest conducted by the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society among the school children of Delaware, which ended March 15. The children were invited to submit projects on either health habits in eating or care of the eyes. Many of the projects submitted were clever.

In Class A, Lord Baltimore School No. 28, in Sussex county, Sally H. Evans, teacher, won first place. Their project was concerning the eyes. Lincoln School No. 3, also in Sussex, Evelyn S. Morris, teacher, won honorable mention on a project on health habits in eating.

In Class B, Hanby School No. 4, in New Castle county, Lida P. Hanby, teacher, won first place with a project on eating. Honorable mention was given Cedar Grove School No. 117, Sussex county, Ella Belle Hughes, teacher, on a project on eating, and to Patterson School No. 71½ in New Castle county, Alice H. Ross, teacher, their project being the eyes.

In Class C, Trinity School No. 221, in Sussex county, J. H. Horner, teacher, won first prize with a project on eating. Honorable mention was given Ellendale School No. 195 in Sussex county, Nannie C. Goode, teacher, project on eating, and Milford School No. 219 in Sussex county, Bertie C. Helm, teacher, on a project on the eye. As practically all of these schools have won health scales, the winners will be accorded the choice of a first aid kit, paper towel cabinet, drinking cups and liquid soap.

The schools are now engaged in the last contest for this school year. This involves health projects in sanitation, safety and first aid. The project must be in the office of the Delaware Anti-

Tuberculosis Society by 5 p. m., on May 15. The projects must have been used in the classrooms for no less than four consecutive weeks and reports must be prepared showing how they were developed, the material used, and include illustrations of any work carried on by the pupils in connection with same. Teachers must state the number of pupils enrolled in the class submitting the project. The project will be judged for originality, neatness of material and actual benefits seemingly derived from their use.

OPPOSE SERVICE STATION ON NEW MILFORD ROAD

It is reported that the State Highway Department will start condemnation proceedings against the erection of an oil station in the triangle made by the intersection of the Milford cut-off and the Rehoboth boulevard on the south side of the new draw bridge. Where this cut-off meets the Milford-Rehoboth boulevard on the south side a point of land is left in the road. Scenting an advantageous place for a filling station an oil company secured a lease and started the erection of a building directly in the point. This point is also located at the entrance of the Cedar Neck road and will be a dangerous intersection for travel.

It is thought the State Highway Department has taken this view of the matter and will start proceedings to prevent the erection of the station, which would, to a certain extent, obstruct views of the diverging roads.

Work on this filling station has been suspended for several weeks and it is reported it will not be resumed until the position of the State Highway Commission is determined.

The construction work on this cut-off is making rapid progress and the "fill" in the Hopkins branch will soon be completed. Several hundred pounds of dynamite have been exploded in this "fill" blowing the muck and vegetable matter away so as to allow the earth to reach solid bottom.

The drawbridge across the Mispillion river is rapidly nearing completion. It is stated that it will be in operation next month.

PRAISE RIDGELY FOR DRY STAND

Camden Congressional Aspirant Receives Many Encouraging Messages Of Support

The recent announcement of former Senator Charles du Pont Ridgely, of Camden, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman, that he would make his campaign for the nomination as a dry candidate has created a large amount of interest throughout the State.

In the announcement Mr. Ridgely not only pointed out his strong sentiments for prohibition but also made it clear that he thought the dry laws could be enforced and if elected Congressman would favor measures towards that end.

Mr. Ridgely is opposed for the Congressional nomination by Congressman Robert G. Houston who is completing his third term in the lower House at Washington and has announced his candidacy for the fourth term.

The Camden Senator was a candidate for the Republican Congressional nomination during the campaign of 1928. When it was learned that some of the party leaders desired to see Congressman Houston have one more term at Washington, Mr. Ridgely withdrew in favor of Mr. Houston and made an address supporting the Congressman in the State convention.

At that time Mr. Ridgely announced that he would seek the nomination this year and reaffirmed his first announcement about a year ago. He has remained in the race ever since.

During the 1928 campaign Senator Ridgely had the support of practically the entire delegation from Kent County. Many of his supporters in his previous campaign have already signified their intention of supporting him this year.

REPAIRING FRATERNAL HALL.

The contract for remodeling the lodge room on the third floor of Fraternal Hall has been given out and it is expected that within a month or six weeks the room will be transformed into one of the finest lodge rooms in the State. The fire of several weeks ago put a stop to the sports activities of the various lodges meeting there, as the lodge room on the second floor, now being used by the organizations, is too small.

DIABETES IS FATAL DISEASE

Dr. Jost Comments On Present Conditions In This State

That the death rate from diabetes is constantly increasing in Delaware is pointed out by Dr. Arthur C. Jost, executive secretary of the State Board of Health. According to reports made to the State Board, not only are the number of cases increasing, but the fatalities as well. In commenting on the situation he said among other things:

"There were, in all, 348 deaths from the disease in the ten year period ending in 1928. Two hundred of these took place in the latter half of the period, only 148 occurring in the first five years. The cases seemed to be quite evenly distributed, in so far as sex is concerned, though there were a few more deaths of females than of males. In only three of the ten years did the male deaths outnumber the female deaths. There were only slightly more than the expected proportion of deaths of whites as compared with the deaths of the colored portion of the population. On the basis of population, one would expect about seven deaths of whites to one of the colored. Actually, the proportion was less than eight to one."

"A rigid diet, not far removed from that necessary for the preservation of life will do much for the prevention of disease among the general population. Thus, in Germany during the war and the food blockade, there was marked diminution of the number of cases of the disease. On the other hand, since the war, and in the remarkable era of prosperity which has been a feature of our American experience, the continuing prosperity has served to encourage the habitual use of food beyond that amount necessary to meet the actual body requirements, and diabetes is therefore seen to a degree greater than was before observed. Diabetes, therefore, may be considered as one of the casualties which we pay for the luxury of over-eating."

"When the treatment of the disease is being considered, one thinks instinctively of insulin, a preparation discovered a few years ago, and recognized as being of special value in this disease. The experience of a few years, however, has taught us that insulin can do little to cure the disease, though it has a very great value in controlling one of the peculiar symptoms. It must be used carefully and constantly, and under the most careful observation. The limitations of the preparations are now quite generally known, and one can, with relative ease, decide on whether or not any particular case is one who must habitually have the drug. Its most spectacular results are seen in certain cases of coma, a complication in the treatment of which the older methods were of no avail."
