CENTURY CLUB HEARS DELINQUENT DISCUSSION

Club Votes To Contribute To Visiting Nurse Association

Merton J. Trast, executive director of the State Board of Charities and Child Welfare was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Newark Century Club on Monday afternoon. His subject "The Delinquent Child in Delaware." His views on the subject were optimistic, and he stressed individual consideration and handling of cases. Miss Nell Wilson, chairman of legislation introduced the speaker.

Mrs. T. F. Manns discussed "The Caste System in India," as one of a series of talks sponsored by the International Relations Committee.

In the business meeting which preceded the program, Mrs. A. D. Cobb, club director, gave a report on the board meeting of the Delaware Federation held in Dover on January 20. It was stated that the "Bonds For Bombers" campaign has been extended until the end of February.

Mrs. Newman Rose, American Citizenship chairman, urged the club members when purchasing bonds to continue to turn in the receipts for those bonds to her.

It was voted to give $25 from the club treasury to the Newark Visiting Nurse Association. Tea was served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Rollo L. Taylor and her committee of hostesses, Mrs. John E. Fredericks, Mrs. Richard Snyder, Mrs. Barton H. Mackey, Mrs. J. D. Counahan and Mrs. Henry Wolf. Mrs. George A. Hyde and Mrs. Frank K. Wilmons presided at the tea table.

BOND SALES NOW TOTAL $313,175

69 Per Cent Of Quota Sold First 2 Weeks

Newark's second turn-in on the Fourth War Bond Drive has proved very gratifying to the general committee in charge of the campaign and it was stated by Wayne C. Brewer, general sales manager of the drive that all the credit is due to the hearty cooperation of the more than two hundred men and women who were working to put Newark "Over-The-Top."

Last week there was a total of $96,000 reported sold and the report given by Mr. Brewer yesterday showed that the past week's sales had run up to the very gratifying total of $217,175 for the past week which makes a total sales for both weeks of $313,175 or an average of 69 per cent of the quota sold in the first two weeks of the drive.

It is felt that with the continued support of the thirty-three team captains and their many workers that before the week is over Newark will have reached their goal of $450,000 but everyone is cautioned that there should be no letup when the quota is reached as every dollar received from the sale of these War Bonds is urgently needed to buy the necessary equipment for our fighting men.

When the folks at home stop and consider what our soldiers are sacrificing, we should feel very small if we do not do our part which in reality only means the putting of our money in a safe investment.

Concert Organist

Robert Elmore

MUSIC SOCIETY TO PRESENT CONCERT

Robert Elmore Will Appear At Mitchell Hall February 7

The fourth concert in the series presented by the Newark Music Society will be an organ recital by Robert Elmore; this concert will be held in Mitchell Hall on Monday, February 7, at 8:15 P. M.

Many of those who heard Mr. Elmore when he was here two years ago recall that evening as one of the most memorable music events in their experience. He is remembered not only for his virtuosity on the instrument of his choice but also for the wealth of real music which he draws from it.

Mr. Elmore is organist and musical director of Holy Trinity Church, Philadelphia, in which capacity he plays regular noon-hour recitals as well as directing the music at the Sunday services.

For his program Mr. Elmore has chosen music to suit a wide catholicity of taste. The vast organ literature of Bach is represented by three numbers: Prelude and Fugue in D Major, Adagio in A Minor; Prelude and Fugue in E Minor.

Mr. Elmore's talent as a composer will be heard in his "Rhumba," a brilliant "etude de concert"; and in his "Supplication," the latter being based on Arcadelt's "Ave Maria".

Also to be heard are "Hymns of Glory" by Pietro Yon; "Cantilene Pastorale" by Guilman; "Choral-Fantasia" by Read, and "Toccata" by Renzi.

RATION TOKENS TO SIMPLIFY SHOPPING

New Change Plan Going Into Effect In February

To simplify food rationing, a new plan will go into effect some time during the latter half of February.

In preparation for this change, Miss Pearl MacDonald, extension nutritionist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, has outlined the chief points involved in the change.

At the time the new plan goes into effect, all red and blue stamps in War Ration Book Four will have a value of 10 points, regardless of the number marked on the face of the stamps—that is, Number 8, 5, 2, or 1, on the face of the stamp, now used to indicate its point value, will have no significance.

In order to make change for these stamps, ration tokens will be used. Each token will have a value of one point, but will have no expiration date, so it can be used month after month. The tokens will be a little larger than nickels, smaller than quarters. They will be about as thick as a dime, made in three layers. The center layer will be yellow, the outer ones either red or blue. Blue tokens will be used as change for blue stamps, red tokens as change for red stamps.

The homemaker will not need a supply of tokens—storekeepers will give them, as change for stamps, and the homemaker can use accumulations of the tokens for further purchases.

Since the value of the stamps will be increased, the rationing period for which they serve will probably be longer. After the latter part of March, when Book Three stamps will be used up, only Book Four will be needed to shop for food, using red stamps for meat, fats, cheese, canned fish; blue for processed foods; and the sugar stamps for sugar.

The new plan is expected to simplify rationed shopping for the consumer.

High Winds Damage Fence At Wilmington Ball Park

A high wind, which the weather bureau at the New Castle Army Air Base reported reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour, blew down approximately 125 feet of the left field fence at Wilmington Park, Thirtieth Street and Governor Printz Boulevard Tuesday.

The damage was discovered by George Ward, night attendant. Park officials said the fence was torn out of concrete foundations from the left-field line to the second light tower toward center field. Although unable to give an estimate of the damage they said it would probably cost about $1,000 to replace.

RED CROSS WORKROOM SPEEDS UP PRODUCTION

12,000 Surgical Dressings Are Made During Past Month

The January report of Mrs. Walter Hullahen, Chairman of the Newark Branch of the Red Cross shows that the following committees have been active. Production (which includes sewing, knitting and surgicals), canteen, home service, home nursing classes, and public information.

Only 107 women and three men of the community participated this past month in the making of surgical dressings, indicating very inadequate support in relation to the population of the community. In the 620 hours given to the work 12,000 dressings were made and packed. The rooms are open Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., and Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9. Many more volunteers would be welcome.

Mrs. Geo. E. Dutton, chairman of knitting, has requested that any knitting outstanding be completed and turned in to her as soon as possible, at least by March 1st. There is no more wool available just at present. Last month 36 articles were sent in, representing an estimated 635 hours.

The chairman of sewing, Mrs. Frank Ridgway, reports that 17 women's blouses, 13 girl's blouses, 6 rompers, 27 baby kimono's, and 6 girl's slips were sent in to headquarters, and that many other garments were completed but not packed. Twelve women sewing on Tuesdays between 10 and 4 at the local Red Cross room devoted 113 hours to the work, and many new volunteers took out articles to be made or finished at home.

The Home Service Committee, of which Dr. J. R. Downes is Chairman, reported attending to 6 cases where his assistance was asked.

Mrs. Howard K. Preston, home nursing chairman, stated that there are 30 students in the two courses being given at present.

The Blood Donor Committee, headed by Mrs. R. L. Burnett, was not assigned a day in January by the Delaware Chapter, but the date in February when volunteers from the local area will be taken to Wilmington will be announced as soon as possible.

AIRPLANE SPOTTER ON JOB

Pilot Lands In Tree As Plane Crashes

Lieut. John Mitchell, Fourth Ferrying Group, Memphis, Tenn., parachuted to safety on Monday afternoon after his P-47 pursuit plane ignited while heading for the New Castle Army Air Base.

The plane crashed nine miles away from the air base on the Nichols Farm, near Landenberg, Pa. Lieut. Mitchell uninjured except for a few scratches, landed in a tree on an adjoining farm and was assisted by Hugo Poppy, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Swint, owners of the farm, from the tree. The pilot asked Poppy to get him a rope, which he tied to a tree limb and descended.

The Army said the plane was en route from Farmingdale, L. I., to the air base when the accident occurred.

Miss Jane Hopkins, one of the airplane spotters at the Possum Park Observation post was the first to see the plane in trouble and as the pilot bailed out and the plane burst into flames she rushed to the telephone and called Mrs. Edna Lamborn who lives next door to the observation post and Mrs. Lamborn sent in a Red Flash message to the Fighter Command who immediately dispatched scout planes to the vicinity to spot the wreck and an ambulance was rushed from the Air Base in case it was needed. Soldiers were also sent to the scene to guard the remains of the plane which were stated to be totally consumed by the flames.

While reviewing the Bio-Chemical Bowling League averages which appeared in an earlier issue of this paper I failed to mention the high single game bowled by Mrs. Anne H. Longenbach who was high with a score of 191.

This charming and proficient librarian at the Bio-Chem who I understand also talks a good game is ready at any time to bet on certain results. From all indications it points to her as being the POTENTIAL high scorer for the second half.

What is the matter with the Newark High basketball team? Last Saturday night they opposed the University of Delaware Jay Vees in the field house and showed a class of playing that had everyone setting up and taking notice. They swamped the Hen Jay Vees 31 to 5. Then on Tuesday night they went to Wilmington and allowed the Red Devils to pin their ears back by a score of 51 to 23.

Now folks, I ask you just how that could have happened. Was it because the local boys were so pepped up about licking the Delaware Jay Vees or to tell you the truth those young college boys just might have been real punk. It is not the coach that the local boys have because he has handled his team like a veteran. He has done a great job but it looks to me as if the Newark boys just lack a certain something. We will all admit that height is one thing that is lacking at the local school. That goes a long way with a good basketball team and is a lot of help but I have known some mighty fine basketball players who were short in stature but long on hitting the basket.

Last year I suggested that the baskets could be made larger or else have several baskets along side of each other so that the ball would be sure to go into at least one of them but this year my suggestion is that they have a ladder handy so that they can climb up the ladder and gently drop the ball in. They might miss it at that.

The University team has been playing some nice games. Against the Officers from the New Castle Army Air Base they played a mighty nice game but were only noised out because those fellows were old timers and had played in big time against some of the fastest teams in the country.

Jerry Bown, Bud O'Neal and Newell Duncan have each done a very fine job and have shown that they have the stuff that goes to make some good basketball players. The other members of the team have also played a swell game but have not been given the opportunity to show off like those three.

Sureshot received word this week that Ace Aiken had been promoted from Corporal to the rank of Sergeant. Now we are just so glad to hear that. Possibly the next letter will say that Ace has been put in command of the whole outfit. Ace, you should be here to see the Hi School team play on the basketball court. Then there is Fuzzy Morrow. He was in town this past week along with Don Huston who was another one of the Newark stars last year.

Cliff Lee another soldier and a former basketball star has been promoted. Admiral Joe Moore will sure be burnt up when he sees the score that the Jackets made against Wilmington Hi. Andy Walp and Wally Dunsmore, two more of last year's GREATS won't be too proud to show the Newark Post to their buddies and say that I played on that team last year.

The team will play Claymont this Friday night AWAY and we hope they read this before they leave and get real mad and beat the stuffings out of those fellows up north.

The real bouquet this week should go to two airplane spotters who regularly operate out of the Possum Park Post. (Doc Rees seems to get all the publicity). The other day when an airplane crashed near Landenberg, Miss Jane Hopkins was on the job and when she saw the pilot bail out and the plane begin to fall, she rushed to the telephone and called her partner, Mrs. Edna Lamborn who lives alongside the observation post and Mrs. Lamborn immediately called the Filter Center at Headquarters and sent in a Red Flash message giving all details and in just minutes the Army was on the job with planes swarming around the countryside looking for the wreck and an ambulance was speeded to the spot in case it was needed but from all reports a fire company ladder truck was the only thing necessary as the pilot had landed in the top of a high tree and his chute had gotten tangled up in the tree branches and he had quite a time getting down. The plane is said to have been destroyed. Well we can buy more planes but we are glad the pilot escaped. We can't buy LIVES.

Eugene Schaen Sets The Pace for Newark With Three Action Shots and One From The Foul Stripe for Seven Points; Bill Pie is Second High Scorer with Six Points

The Newark High School basketball team journey to Wilmington on Tuesday night and despite the hard playing on the part of the Jackets were overwhelmed by the fast Wilmington High School team by a score of 51 to 23.

Buddy Cataldi High With 17 Points

The Newark High School basketball team swamped the University of Delaware Jay Vees in the University field house on Saturday night by a one-sided score of 31 to 5.

The school boys were led in their scoring by flashy Bud Cataldi who sank eight action shots and one from the foul stripe for seventeen points.

The Yellowjackets opened up in the first frame with an action shot by Eugene Schaen and he was followed by Bill Pie sinking a two-pointer and before the quarter ended Buddy Cataldi accounted for another field goal while the Delaware Jay Vees were held scoreless.

Spiller and Brown each scored for Delaware in the second period while Bill Pie, Buddy Cataldi and Bill Ritchie came across for a two-pointer each to outscore the young Hens by two points for the frame and to make the score 12 to 4 at half time.

The Jackets held the Hens scoreless again in the third period while Cataldi accounted for two action shots and a foul. Pie scored one action shot and Harvey Gregg scored one from the foul stripe to give the school boys a 20 to 4 score at the end of the third period.

Not satisfied with the big lead the Yellowjackets came back in the final quarter and while limiting the Hens to one lone point when Kidder found the basket on a foul shot, the Jackets added eleven more points to their score with Cataldi netting four action shots, McKenry scoring a two-pointer and Harvey Gregg accounting for another foul shot.

If Spring Needs Are To Be Met

FERTILIZER MUST MOVE TO FARMS IN FEBRUARY

UNTIL this past season, fertilizer has always moved to the farm just before the time it was actually needed.

This year with transportation overloaded, serious labor shortages and restricted movement of fertilizer materials to plants—at least 45 per cent of the spring tonnage must move before March 1 if fertilizer is to be on farms when needed.

Getting your order in now with your local Southern States Cooperative Service Agency is the first step in solving the fertilizer situation. The next step is to take delivery as soon as you can get it. Southern States fertilizer plants, Service Agencies and farmer-members can overcome labor, transportation and storage shortages—if everyone does his part.

How About That!

By Ruth Safran

The following bit of intelligence was included in a letter to an 11-year-old friend of mine from a correspondent of the same age. A little remarkable, I think. He writes:

"I have been reading about the Prince Charlie Scotch revolutions, and as anybody who has any sense, I have immediately taken the side of the Scotch. I thought I was mostly English at that time and I thought if I was, it would be sort of betraying my country to go against it in the war with Scotland. So I asked mother where my ancestors came from."

"I was simply delighted when she told me I was more than half Scotch! So I found out more about my ancestors. I am mostly Scotch, a bit English, a bit Irish, a bit Welsh, and a bit Flemish. In your next letter tell me where you come from."

(I imagine it would be quite a challenge to answer that question!)

Freddie Dornblatt is still trying to analyze what makes chips fall. He tells us of three friends, all of whom were pretty good lawyers before the war. In the Army, the honors have been dealt out as follows: To one of the lawyers a commission of Colonel, military honors and a post representing the Judge Advocate General in India. To the other two—assignments as truck drivers.

One of the two is doing so well though that he may be promoted to driving a tank.

"War and Peace"

It took a five-day bout with some flu germs to give leisure enough to get really started on Tolstoy's "War and Peace." It is not something to be undertaken lightly—1370 pages of thought-provoking and therefore slow-reading material.

Tolstoy's novel was a Book-of-the-Month dividend some time ago, so it appears on a good many bookshelves. I venture to say it has remained on a good many, unread while others—"Human Comedy," "So Little Time," "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo" were unwrapped and devoured instantly.

Here's a plug then for "War and Peace"—for its vivid characterization, its analysis of timeless and therefore timely matters, the exciting parallels the reader can draw between the career of Napoleon and the French Army and that of Hitler and the German army.

A passage at random provides an almost uncanny reminder of the time the Germans helplessly complained that the Russians didn't fight in an orthodox manner. Tolstoy is writing about the campaign of 1812:

"The fencer who demanded a contest according to the rules of fencing was the French army; his opponent who threw away the rapier and snatched up the cudgel was the Russian people..."

"After the burning of Smolensk a war began which did not follow any previous traditions of war. The burning of towns and villages, the retreats after battles, the blow dealt at Borodino and the renewed retreat, the burning of Moscow, the capture of marauders, the seizure of transports and the guerilla war were all departments from the rules."

"Napoleon felt this, and from the time he took up the proper fencing attitude in Moscow... he did not cease to complain to Kutuzov and to the Emperor Alexander that the war was being carried on contrary to the rules as if there were many rules for killing people."

"In spite of the complaints of the French... in spite of the fact that to some highly placed Russians it seemed rather disgraceful to fight with a cudgel... the cudgel of the people's war was lifted with all its menacing and majestic strength, and without consulting anyone's tastes or rules and regardless of anything else, it rose and fell with stupid simplicity, but consistently, and belabored the French till the whole invasion had perished."
