

Canning Season At Height

Ritter Factory Kitchen Runs Full Speed

Operations continue at the P. J. Ritter Catsup Kitchen, south of town where the tomato crop of the community is being converted into high grade catsup. About seventy employees, fifty of whom are foreigners quartered on the premises, have been employed the last week. "The kitchen will be open to receive the fruit as long as there is a tomato on hand," the manager declared today, in response to our inquiry. The busy time will continue for probably two weeks. About 2000 cases of catsup, each containing 24 bottles, are being shipped daily. A part of the tomatoes received are being made into pulp to be converted into catsup after the rush of the busy season is past.

LOCAL LIGHT PLANT CLOSED FOR REPAIRS

Present Night Power From Wilmington

"Why are the lights so poor?" The question heard upon every side during the last week is accounted for by repairs under way at the local Light and Power plant. The boiler inspector on a recent visit found an imperfection in the process of separating the oil from steam. A new heater is to be installed and operations will be resumed within two or three days. In the meantime the town is being supplied with power from Wilmington.

CONDITIONS IN DELA- WARE HIGH SCHOOLS

Relative Number Of Non-Res- ident Pupils

Owing to the state's provision for payment of tuition in town high schools, for pupils in grades 7 to 11, inclusive, from rural districts, the high school enrollment becomes an interesting subject of study, as shown by advance reports of State Commissioner of Education Dr. Charles A. Wagner.

The proposition of rural pupils in town high schools has been a subject of frequent discussion. The actual figures are as follows:

Total enrollment in grades 7 to 11 in town schools—New Castle county, 640; Kent, 901; Sussex, 1174; total, 2715. Enrolled in grades 7 and 8, 1326. Enrolled in high school grades, 1389.

Number of pupils: resident—New Castle county, 471; Kent, 630; Sussex, 872; in grades 7 and 8, 1036; in high school grades, 937. Non-resident—New Castle county, 179; Kent, 271; Sussex, 291; in grades 7 and 8, 290; in high school grades, 452.

Enrolled in non-approved high schools, 45; non-resident pupils enrolled in Wilmington High School, 91; number of pupils receiving high school education, 937 resident, 588 non-resident.

The 452 non-resident pupils in town high schools are 32 per cent of the 1,389 enrolled in high school grades; thus one-third of the pupils in town high schools are non-resident or rural pupils.

For the State the computation shows 74 pupils enrolled in high schools for each 1,000 pupils in elementary schools. In 1911 the Russel Sage Foundation credited the state with 56 high school pupils for each 1000 in the elementary schools, ranking the state 27th. At that time Minnesota had 74 high school pupils for each 1000 in the elementary schools, and was ranked 20th of the 48 States. Actually, conditions are improved, whether Delaware's relative position is changed or not, for doubtless other states have improved conditions also. A slight correction for Delaware figures should be made by allowing for high school pupils who are attending business colleges, academies, normal schools, and other private schools, but the necessary figures are not available. Actually, high school patronage is improving.

PRIZES AWARDED FOR GARDEN WORK

John Clancy Represents Team At Springfield Conference

Following the final report of the work of the School and Home Garden Class as given in last week's issue of The Post, prizes have been awarded to the children doing the most commendable work during the year. In the Home Garden class they were awarded as follows: First prize, $1.00, William Rupp; second, $.75, Bayard Lindell; third, $.50, Frank Garatva; fourth, $.50, Cortland Houghton; fifth, $.50, Robert Major. In the School Gardens, first prize, $1.00, Howard Reed; second, $.75, George Schein; third, $.50, Charles Hopkins; fourth, $.50, Royal Sanborn; fifth, $.50, Lynn Reed.

Owing to a shortage of funds only one representative of the class will be sent to the Boys and Girls Club Conference to be held at Springfield on October 11th, instead of three as announced previously. The three eligible candidates—George Schein, Howard Reed, and John Clancy—were examined by County Agent Zimmerman of Kent, last week. John Clancy making the record which won for him the trip to the New England city. Boys and girls from all over the State who are to represent the various teams in Springfield, will meet at the Women's College on October 10th. They will be chaperoned on the trip by Mr. Stanley, a representative of the Federal government.

FALL MEETING OF PRESBYTERY

In Session At West Notting- ham

The ninety-third stated meeting of the New Castle Presbytery, embracing sixty churches on the Eastern shore of Maryland and Virginia convened at West Nottingham, Cecil county, in regular fall session this week. The moderator, the Rev. Mr. Eckard presided, with J. R. Milligan of St. Georges, Delaware, stated clerk, and Alfred D. McVey of Zion, Cecil county, and J. W. Lucy, of Pocomoke, Md., temporary clerks. Thirty-five ministers and elders answered the roll call. Among the number were Rev. A. Van Overen of Head of Christiana, and Dr. C. W. Dunlevy of the First Presbyterian, Newark.

At West Nottingham, where the session is being held, last Sunday eighty-five persons were admitted to membership and on the same day over 100 took communion at the church, which at present has a membership of 413, the largest in its history. The church dates back 190 years, and shows an increase of 182 during the pastorate of the present minister, Mr. Hoffman.

Republican Club To Be Formed At Delaware

A letter has been received by Dean E. L. Smith from Mr. Alfred E. Lunt, president of the National Republican College League, in regard to the formation of a Republican Club at Delaware. This club shall be a part of the National Republican College League. The object of the club is to open a channel for a legitimate expression of the political interest at Delaware in favor of the Republican ticket. The national league was formed because the issues of this campaign command the deepest attention of college men and women. Mr. Lunt urges that some influential and active Republican student form this club and conduct an active campaign.

Rehearsals Resumed For "Dandy Dick"

The Agricultural Club is again working on the play "Dandy Dick," which was postponed from last spring and which will be given shortly before Thanksgiving. "Dandy Dick" is one of A. W. Pinero's best comedies and is to be given under the direction of Mrs. Herman R. Tyson, whose previous plays have been so remarkably successful.

Toll Charges Changed At Susquehanna Bridge

Motorists of this section of the country are interested in the order handed down by the State Public Service Commissioner of Maryland which modifies the order previously issued bearing on the tolls to be charged by the Havre de Grace and Perryville Bridge company, for crossing the Susquehanna Bridge.

The changes include: foot passenger, 60 trips in calendar month, each $1; horses, mules or cattle, each (driver three cents extra each) 10 cents; automobile, occupied by or capacity to carry not more than seven persons, including delivery wagons and other commercial motor vehicles of not more than one ton carrying capacity, 50 cents; autovans, trucks and other commercial motor vehicles of more than one ton, but not more than two tons carrying capacity, $1; same, two or three tons carrying capacity, $1.50, $1.50 same, three to five tons carrying capacity, $2.

While the coupon books are abolished, the company may subject to approval, issue commutation notes. The company is also instructed to set aside annually dividends up to $2,500, to be used in making extraordinary repairs, structural changes or replacements of its bridge property, as required.

CLUB WOMEN PLAN PROGRAM

Take Up The Study Of Old Mexico

An interesting program for the coming club year which opens November first, has been prepared by the members of the New Century Club, Mrs. Ernest Wright, chairman. The club during the year will study Mexico. Many interesting lectures, covering every phase of life in the nation have been arranged, including a number on Art by the new professor, Miss Harriet Winslow, of the Women's College. The program is in the hands of the printer and will be distributed among the members within a few weeks.

Former Teacher Leaves

Miss Mary C. Anderson, long the efficient teacher in the commercial department of the High School, following her resignation here has accepted a similar position in the high school at Mt. Pleasant, Pa., near Pittsburgh, and left for that place on Saturday. Miss Anderson had previously accepted a call to teach in North Carolina, but later decided to remain north.

BUSY DAYS IN THE OLD TOWN

Building Operations Under Way On Practically Every Street

That Newark is on the boom is apparent to even the casual visitor. Practically every street in town is the scene of building operations, and contractors, builders, mechanics of every kind are driven to desperation for laborers to carry on the work. Aside from that part of the extensive college extension plan already begun, which represents an expenditure of over half a million dollars, houses are going up everywhere. On Delaware avenue, in addition to the New Century Club building and Wolf Hall, three sets of double houses are nearing completion under the supervision of J. Clifford Willis. The dwellings, owned by Miss Addie Wilson, are of pressed brick, solid and substantial looking, 30 x 40 feet, containing nine rooms and a bath. They are modern in every particular and will fit in splendidly with the town's need for just this type of residence.

On Amstel avenue, opposite the H. L. Bonham residence, work is progressing rapidly on the new home of Dr. Walt Steel. The residence will be entirely of Folcroft stone, finished throughout in hard wood. It will contain twenty rooms, including a suite of three rooms on the southwestern corner of the building, to be thoroughly equipped in modern office style by the doctor. B. B. Hough of Wilmington, is the architect and builder. He expects to have the

Hughes Not To Speak At Elkton

Owing to a change of route, Charles Evans Hughes, Republican candidate for president, will not speak at Elkton on Tuesday. It had been arranged for Mr. Hughes to stop at Elkton, en route to Baltimore and Cecil folk were enthusiastic over the prospect. According to Chairman Tait the candidate will enter Maryland via Harrisburg and will speak at the Hagerstown Fair, which opens on Tuesday. Leaving there he will speak in the evening at the big Maryland Rally in Baltimore.

New Director For College Band

By a recent action of the faculty, Mr. Harry E. Stausebach becomes director of the Delaware College band for the next collegiate year. Mr. Stausebach is a graduate of the Conservatory of Music of Philadelphia, and is one of the best known directors in Wilmington. Under his capable leadership the band should become one of the most active organizations of the college. Mr. Stausebach, whose term of service starts on Monday, will take a personal interest in all student activities that require the service of the band. He will also give music lessons on the trombone or violin, on Monday afternoons before or after drill, to such students as may desire instruction on those instruments.

EXAMINATIONS AT STATE BOARD OF HEALTH LABORATORY

Candidates For Certificates In Pharmacy

Between fifteen and twenty applicants for certificates to practice pharmacy within the state are being examined at the State Board of Health laboratory, Newark, today. A practical test was given this morning and a written one this afternoon. The board of examiners is composed of Mr. Keyes, of Clayton, president; Messrs. Hoffman and Bosley of Wilmington, secretaries; Mr. Kaufman of Sanford; Mr. Wise of Dover; and Mr. Cappeau of Wilmington.

Dr. Watt Visits M. E. Church

The Rev. Dr. Watt, District Superintendent in the Wilmington M. E. Conference, preached last Sunday evening in the Newark M. E. Church. Mr. James Hastings, president of the College Y. M. C. A., was in charge of the music during the service.

INVESTIGATING COMMIT- TEE VISITS DEANDALE

Citizens Instructed To Clean Up

Newark Board of Health during the last week has completed a thorough investigation of conditions in Deandale, where a number of cases of typhoid have developed within the last month. Although this district lies outside of the town limits it is within the province of the local Board of Health since their jurisdiction extends beyond the town one mile. The section has been pronounced by the committee in an unsanitary condition. Notices are being mailed to a number of residents today enclosing "clean-up" instructions. Chlorate of lime was used liberally today, and the Board believes conditions will be greatly improved in the course of two or three days.

College Alumnus To Enter Ministry

W. Hulburd Alderson, second son of Rev. G. T. Alderson, several years ago pastor of the Newark M. E. Church, left this week for Drew Seminary, Madison, N. J., where he will take the regular three course in preparation for the ministry.

Mr. Alderson was graduated from Delaware College in the class of 1915. He is popular with the young people of Harrison street Church, Wilmington, of which his father is now pastor, having been active with the Epworth League and other organizations. The league gave him a farewell party last Friday evening, and presented him with a handsome Bible.

MILK DEALERS' ASSOCIA- TION HOLDS MEETING

Milk Advanced To Five Cents

The Milk Producers' Association, an organization of the producers of Delaware, Maryland and the lower part of Pennsylvania, held a largely attended meeting at the Irish-American Club, 610 French street, Wilmington, on Saturday afternoon.

By unanimous vote the price of milk to the dealers was raised to five cents a quart, liquid measure. It was also hinted that there might be a still further increase before the end of October. The increase to five cents goes into effect at once. Steps were taken to notify all dealers of the boost.

The organization decided that if any retailers refuse to pay the increase they would dispose of the milk of the producers whose demand was thus curtailed. It was made plain that the increase would be insisted upon and that all members would stop the shipment of milk if they learned their dealers would not pay the increase.

The organization which was but recently formed, has welded together nearly 100 producers of the surrounding territory and the officers and those who fanned it have had every evidence that the members will stand together to enforce their demands.

A constitution was adopted at Saturday's meeting. Officers elected were: John F. O'Neill of Mt. Cuba, president; J. Atwood Wadsworth, Blue Ball, treasurer; John Frazer, Newark, secretary; Daniel Cauffiel and George L. Medill of Brandywine hundred, E. W. Dawson and Clinton Dunbar, of Elkton, Md., members of the board of directors.

Among those present were: Frank V. Whiteman, Newark; Albert W. Walker, Clifford Lynam, W. E. Collins, Hockessin; Elias Othosen, H. C. Stradley, Stanton; H. A. Balton, Macdonough; J. F. Kilvington, Christiana; C. A. Batton, Delaware City; J. B. Donovan, Middletown; Henry J. Catts, Carcroft; C. W. Maclary, W. D. Clugston, William Mark, Newport; F. R. Stafford, Montchanin; H. B. Bramble, W. A. Rothwell, Marshalltown; Robert Orr, Bellevue; Richard Crosson, Walter Ginn, St. Georges; Brinton J. Evans, Brandywine hundred; James Bramble, Kennett Square, Pa.; William H. Hicks, Jr., West Chester, Pa.; G. F. Marsh, Elkton, Md.

The next meeting of the association will be held at the Irish-American Club on Saturday, October 14.

Schools Get Down To Work

Class Officers Elected In High School

Conditions in the primary grade at the Newark Public School, which was overcrowded at the beginning of the term, are gradually being adjusted, according to recent report of Principal Friedel. Of the sixty-two who entered on the opening day, seven have been refused admission owing to the fact that they will not be six before the first of December, thus reducing the present enrollment to fifty-five.

The third and fourth grade overflow room has been transferred to a brighter and sunnier room in the primary building, making the seventh grade room to be occupied in the new building.

In the high school last week the various athletic associations reorganized and all the classes elected officers. The list follows: president Athletic Association, R. F. Friedel; secretary and treasurer, Ira Steele; captain basketball team, Raymond Failer; manager basketball, Oscar Ewing; captain base ball, Oscar Ewing; manager base ball, Tom Armstrong. President Senior class, Mr. Steele; secretary, Joseph Rhodes; second year, president, Johnson Rowan; secretary, Edna Green; third year, president, Warren Kennedy; secretary, Samuel McCallister.

Class Advisors Selected

At a recent meeting of the students of Delaware College the following professors were elected as faculty advisors to the classes: chairman of the committee, Dean E. L. Smith; Senior advisor, Professor G. A. Koerber; Junior class, Dr. K. R. Greenfield; Sophomore class, Professor H. K. Preston; Freshman, Professor G. E. Dutton.

RALLY DAY AT WHITE CLAY CREEK

Annual Supper On October Twelfth

The ladies of White Clay Creek church will hold their annual poultry supper on Thursday evening, October 12. If stormy, the following evening. Sunday, October 8th, will be observed at the church as Rally Day. The new pastor, Rev. David A. Reed, is arranging an interesting program.

NEWARK "BOYS" WIN SUCCESS

What A Trio Of Delaware Graduates Have Accom- plished

Two former Newark boys had a more or less prominent part in the national gathering of chemists in New York last week. Robert B. Wolf, son of the late Dr. Theodore R. Wolf, who is the general manager of the largest paper pulp company in the U. S. at Berlin, N. H., made an address on his favorite topic, "scientific efficiency." He also presided at a large meeting in Grand Central Palace devoted to the problems of the paper industry.

Another delegate to the convention was Frederick Curtis Clark, also a Delaware College graduate, who is chemist in charge of the paper making department of the U. S. Bureau of Standards at Washington.

Still another product of Newark and Delaware College to attain to recent prominence in the scientific world is Richard B. Chillas, Jr., of Cleveland, O. At the recent meeting of the Illuminating Engineering Society of America, held in Philadelphia, Mr. Chillas read a most interesting address on the economic importance and growth of the moving picture industry. Among the speakers at the same session with Mr. Chillas was Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, president of the society, one of the most distinguished scientists in the United States.

WINTER EGGS IN DELAWARE

A. M. Pollard gives the fourth of a series of practical articles on Eggs and How to Get Them on the ordinary farm under ordinary conditions. This article tells how to build up a strong foundation flock, with remarks on trap nesting and other interesting items.

I imagine some of my readers are by this time having the pleasure of gazing on a few pullets' eggs. This should be the case at least. They certainly look good at 50 per dozen, which is about the average price in N. Y. City.

Now you have these pullets laying, don't let up on your work for a moment. Don't let your dry mash run out, keep plenty of water before them, be liberal with your oyster shell. Remember these pullets are growing every day, and they need an extra amount of food for egg making material, so feed liberally, especially at this time. Watch out sharp for mites and lice. In your spare time this winter build a few trap nests. Start a pedigree foundation stock. Trap-nest a few birds during the months of November, December, and January, and if you are satisfied with the records they make, use them for builders in the spring. I can guarantee every farmer that if he will start trap-nesting just once, he will never give it up. It brings him into closer touch with his poultry. He will be very much surprised to find out how many really good hens he has and how many very poor ones he has. He also finds out how many badly deformed birds he has, not capable of laying a single egg. In trap-nesting the farmer not only finds out these things but many other secrets. Just try it and see.

Just one more word about breeders. Do not use these pullets for breeders for the season of 1917. If you have a few yearlings, or two-year-olds, they will make much better breeders. Nowadays, the wisdom of breeding from hens not younger than two seasons, is almost universally recognized. Immature stock will not breed sound, vigorous progeny. In my earlier writings, I have laid great stress upon the breeding of the male bird, equally with that of the hen. I have pointed out, time after time, that unless the male bird in the breeding pen was the son of a hen distinguished by high laying, the pullets would be, as a rule, poor layers, despite the fact that the hens bred from had done well. Then again, the fact was accentuated that improvement in size of eggs could only be effected through the male side, i. e., by using as a sire, a bird bred from a noted layer, the eggs from which were large. These two points have only attained practical importance in this country in the past few years, whereas in England these two points have been considered of great importance for the past 25 years. In selecting stock for breeding purposes, it will be found that the task is continuous, year after year. It may be taken as a fundamental axiom as relates to breeding that you cannot stand still; you must progress or recede. Even with stock in which the characteristics of large eggs and good laying are fixed, there are other important factors. Size, type, and constitution are important points, and need constant attention. Want of balance in breeding tends to production of vicious stock—chronic feather Tarn again there is the hereditary tendency to disease and lack of resistance. All these points may well occupy the mind of those who intend to make commercial breeding the success it should be. It is to your foundation stock, and the method you adopt that you must look for continued success as a breeder. The men who do the most profitable business in stud stock of all kinds are those who are successful at show, whose wool and wheat, etc., bring the highest prices, and whose general results prove them to be capable breeders and owners of desirable stock. You cannot tell at a glance which hens are the best layers. There are, of course, certain outward points which are helpful guides to the man who knows. If a dozen prominent breeders exhibited a dozen of their best pullets, it would be purely a matter of chance if judging from external, the prizes at a show were allotted to the pen which on subsequent and adequate trial, proved to be the best layers and most desirable stock.

ART EXHIBIT AT HOTEL DU PONT

Paintings Of Stanley And Arthurs Displayed

Art lovers from all parts of the state are attracted to the Hotel du Pont this week, where the paintings of Stanley M. Arthurs and Clifford W. Ashley are exhibited.

For about a year Ashley and Arthurs have worked together and traveled together considerably. Early in November of last year, they went to California, and there sketched and painted out of doors and this summer they have sketched and painted at Cuttyhunk and Fairhaven, with Mr. Ashley painting alone at New Bedford, and Mr. Arthurs at Rehoboth. None of the canvases shown at the exhibit has ever been shown here before, and they are all oils.

Mr. Arthurs has a number of subject pictures, a very fine 1812 subject—a naval officer taking leave of his sweetheart—and some of those homely intimate things for which his work is liked so much. His Old Swedes is of great interest hereabouts, and everybody born and bred in Wilmington singled it out of the show as of more than passing interest. During the last year Mr. Arthurs has acquired atmosphere in his work, and has put into it the great out-of-doors, as he never did before.

There are 79 pictures in the collection. Mr. Ashley's paintings are, with only a few exceptions, inspired by his love of the sea, and the life of the people whose blood is "half salt water." Some of them are from Californian shores, but the greater number are from Mr. Ashley's own happy hunting ground, the coast of New England. Here he is most happy and most at home.

In looking over the 43 pictures that Mr. Ashley shows, one is most impressed by the frankness and manly virility of his outlook on the world he paints. There is no over subtle self analysis, no brooding on the inner consciousness—here is the work of a young man who loves life in all its wholesome aspects, whose nostrils dilate at the sting of the salt air and whose heart leaps to the beauty of spread sails and swelling seas.

Mr. Arthurs' list of 36 paintings covers a wider variety of work than does Mr. Ashley's. Here are landscapes from California, paintings of the sea and shore from New England and Southern Delaware and, in addition, a number of those subject pictures which are usually associated with Mr. Arthurs' style.

Tomato Prices Fluctuate

The rivalry between catsup makers, the new firm just established at Dover, the Liberty Brand Canning Company factory at Greenwood, caused a sensational rise in the price of tomatoes Wednesday of last week at the Dover railroad station.

With the high price of 65 cents per basket paid on Tuesday the bidding started in Wednesday morning at 70 cents, and by 11 o'clock had reached 80 cents, but the price dropped back to 45 cents shortly before the day closed. Most of the canners had contracted for tomatoes at 17 cents per basket, and the Richardson and Robbins Cannery on Wednesday released their contractors, allowing them to sell wherever they could get the best prices.

Last Tuesday a bid of 65 cents per basket was placed on a wagonload of tomatoes. Prices ranged all days on Wednesday from 60 to 65 cents per basket, and one farmer, W. Reed, who had a load of 106 baskets, was given a check for $63.60 for the load. Not only was the bidding spirit at Dover but also in other parts of the state.

The new industry started some weeks ago by Italians from New York, in making a specially prepared sauce which heretofore has been made in Italy, is buying tomatoes heavily, they being among those who paid high prices. Prices at Milford have ranged from 30 to 60 cents.

Fined And Loses License

In the General Sessions Court last week Aaron Keil, who held a saloon license at 22 East Front street, Wilmington, by request of his counsel, Philip L. Garrett, was allowed to change his plea of not guilty to guilty of selling liquor in quantities in excess of those specified in his license. Judge Conrad imposed a fine of $100 and costs and declared his license forfeited. A jail sentence of from one to six months was suspended, and the state declined to prosecute two other charges against Keil.

Supposed Steel Plant Site

Franklin Brothers, engineers of Philadelphia, are reported having surveys made of the Merion and Buregard farms in the Claymont section supposedly for a site for a big steel plant which, it is said, the Worth Brothers of Coatesville propose to erect. They are said to have secured options on several farms traversed by Naaman's Creek.

Fined $100 For Assault

James E. Henry was found guilty of assault and battery upon Walter Cleaver on June 7 last, in Shellpot Park, in the General Sessions Court on Wednesday and was fined $100 on Friday with the alternative of three months imprisonment. The fine was paid.

Death Of Mrs. E. W. Lockwood

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Lockwood, widow of William K. Lockwood, died at her home in Middletown on Friday after an illness of several months, aged 86 years. She was a daughter of Robert Griffith, of Maryland, and was the last survivor of his large family. She leaves two sons, Richard and William G. Lockwood, and four daughters, Mrs. Agnes Shriver of Boothwyn, Pa., Mrs. Ida Lindley, Mrs. Mollie Gibbs, and Miss Elizabeth Lockwood. Her funeral was held on Monday from her home on Broad street with interment in St. Anne's Cemetery, Middletown.

$20,000,000 Charter Filed

The United Dyewoods Corporation of New York filed its charter at Dover last week with a capital of $20,000,000. Its purpose is to manufacture chemicals, colors and coloring matter dyestuffs, etc. Wilton C. Percy, William F. Cahill and Harrison Tweed, all of New York, are the incorporators.

Victims Of Gold

Every American back is carrying part of the European war burden. Every American table is taxed at a frightful rate because of that world disorder. Secretary Redfield admits that in the last year under a low tariff the cost of living has risen thirty-five per cent. Virtually every commodity from a nail to a locomotive and from a shoe to a ten-thousand-ton ship, has leaped skyward. In nearly every instance the basic reason for this wild advance in price is the fact that Europe needs these commodities and is willing to pay any price to get them. It follows that the American purchaser must meet the figures set by the foreign buyer. A concrete example is furnished by copper. England recently placed an order for American copper not only far greater than any previous order, but sufficient to keep all the American mines busy for a third of a year. Up goes copper and the American user of the metal suffers.

It is the same with all our staple products of the land, such as grains and leather, and it is particularly true of nearly all mineral products, including steel and oil. The warring countries buy our steel, explosives and chemicals, paying enormously high prices, and the domestic consumer, in order to get any, must meet the competitive buying of war-mad Europe. Even stocks are leaping upward in almost unprecedented fashion, for the reason that they are commodities which are affected by the commodities each represents. Never was the law of supply and demand more forcefully illustrated than it is by present conditions. So long as Europe is willing to send to the United States shipload after shipload of gold to pay for our supplies our supplies will continue to rise.

Our country is actually suffering from an inflation of gold. There has happened exactly what all students of finance knew must happen when any country becomes flooded with that metal. Prices must rise with the volume of gold, since all commodity prices are measured by a gold standard. As soon as the war ends this newly imported gold will tend to flow away from America, and then prices will begin to recede. It is hardly possible for values of commodities to fall in the United States so long as the rest of the world keeps on pouring gold upon us. We now have in this country about twenty-five dollars in real gold for very inhabitant, which is far more than any other people ever had at any time. And we are naturally paying on the average age higher prices for what we buy than anybody ever paid before with a standard money of the world.

A Wonderful Feed

NO MIXING NO BOTHER
Will positively produce more milk than any other ration either home mixed or purchased, and do it without giving your cows constipation or other trouble. Ready to use right out of the sack without any mixing or bother.

Larrod Feed

Absolutely free from adulterants and fillers, just like the feed you would mix for yourself. Is a special combination of choice outcrossed meal, dried sweet pulp, gluten feed, corn distillers' grains, wheat bran, wheat middlings and a little salt, that's all; each ingredient weighed by automatic scales and all thoroughly mixed in huge power-driven mixers, so that it is always absolutely uniform, and always good. An extra quart or two of milk daily from each cow may turn a loss into a profit. Try LARROD FEED for more profits. Sold in a box of "Larrod Feed" if you are not satisfied." EDW. L. NOT MAKING GOOD

When the present Democratic Administration went into power, it went in on a platform which promised the people a reduction in the "high cost of living." Here is the exact language of the plank in the platform:

"The high cost of living is a serious problem in every American home. The Republican Party, in its platform, attempts to escape from responsibility for present conditions by denying that they are due to a protective tariff. We take issue with them on this subject, and charge that excessive prices result in a large measure from the high tariff laws enacted and maintained by the Republican Party and from tariff laws enacted and maintained by the Republican Party and from trusts and commercial conspiracies fostered and encouraged by such laws, and we assert that no substantial relief can be secured for the people without import duties on the necessities of life are materially reduced and these criminal conspiracies broken up."

In other words our Democratic friends charged the high prices to the Republican tariff laws and asserted that the only relief was to be found in a material reduction of that tariff. Going into power in 1913, they proceeded to reduce the tariff, but has anybody seen any evidence of "relief" in the high cost of living? Have the prices on "the necessities of life" been reduced under the Democratic tariff? It is almost unkind to ask the question—to put this Democratic promise alongside of one's meat bills and grocery bills and bread bills and all the rest. We would not do it, were it not for the fact that our Democratic friends are always harping on this economic fallacy, and once in awhile fool the people into following them. They did in 1912, to a certain extent; and it is therefore in order to remind the folks, who believed that Democratic promise, that under Democratic free trade prices have risen to the highest point in American history.

The voters will hardly be fooled again by this old cry.

Cecil Whig.

DISHONEST CAMPAIGNING

Although the present national campaign has been unusually free from personal mud-slinging, it has been marked by methods of campaigning that are thoroughly dishonest. And the chief offenders in this line are the supporters of President Wilson in general and his principal newspaper advocate in New York in particular. The President himself may really believe that only by his re-election can the nation be saved from war, and that his own policies in dealing with our international relations are the only ones by which peace has been preserved. But who can believe that there is even the faintest pretense of sincerity in the repeated declarations that are being made in his behalf about "Mr. Hughes' sneers at peace," the assertions that it is the purpose of the Republicans to invade Mexico as soon as they gain control of the Federal Government, that the Republican party is opposed to shorter hours for labor and is antagonistic to the laborer, and that it is bent "on committing the country to foreign war and industrial conflict at home?"

Nothing more deliberately dishonest is to be found in the annals of American political controversy. Mr. Hughes' arraignment of the president is not and never has been because he has kept the peace. The counts of the indictment to do with the means, not the end, and none knows this better than those who are striving to cloud the issues and defame the Republican candidate and party. After the example given the country by President Cleveland of brave and disinterested methods in dealing with industrial disturbances at home and with complications with foreign nations, it is an insult to the American people to ask them to believe that only by "a supine submission to wrong and injustice and the subsequent loss of national self-respect" could a president of today have met emergencies no more serious!

In attempting to raise false issues as to the end aimed at by the President's policy, and in silence and evasion as to the means chosen to attain those ends, the Democratic defenders of the Administration openly confess the weakness of their own case before the American people. Respect for the good intentions of President Wilson is not by any means inconsistent with a vehement repudiation of his methods, and it is this repudiation that forms the basis of the appeal to the nation for a new steersman at the helm who will keep a straight course for the national goal—the safeguarding of its honor and greatness.

In Memoriam

John C. Stockly

John C. Stockly, whose funeral took place on September 30th deserves more than a passing notice. His father, Ayres Stockly, was long connected with the Smyrna Bank either as cashier or president. He came to Smyrna when a young man, from Accomac County, Virginia. He married Margaret Offley of a Quaker family long identified with Kent county.

Mrs. Ayres Stockly's father was a grandson of John Cook, who was the father of that John Cook who was a member of the "Committee of Safety" in the Revolution, an associate judge of the Superior Court of Delaware, and who succeeded John Dickinson as Governor of Delaware. Mrs. Ayres Stockly's mother was the daughter of Captain William Clark, father of Governor John Clark.

Great affection existed between the Governor and his niece—his death seriously affecting her health. Her first son received his name. Her other son, Ayres Holmes Stockly, named for his father, had "Holmes" inserted in honor of a Dr. Holmes, one of Mr. Stockly's early friends. Both John and "Holmes" Stockly had fine minds as exhibited at Delaware College—the latter being among the leaders of his classes—but John Stockly was understood to be nearer perfection in his recitation than any other student. This means much when it is remembered that the college had then such noted students as William D. Mackey, John G. McCullough, and Adam E. King.

As near as the writer, his college roommate, can remember after the lapse of over sixty years, John Stockly studied hard for conscience sake and the love of learning with no reference to mere ambition or student rivalry.

His course was made up of the subjects which he purposed to master, which being done, he left college after about three years' work. He was kindly, dignified, and polite; was greatly respected and his departure was accounted a loss. He took no part in social life, or even the few college sports of that day, nor in college politics—except that he was a devoted member and partisan of the Delta Phi Society. "Society" rivalry was very keen at that time.

His life was spent mostly in Smyrna. A former superintendent of the Smyrna School, Prof. Le Fevre, was an honorary pall bearer at the funeral. He told the writer that Mr. Stockly gave him most valued advice and assistance.

Mr. Stockly undoubtedly was student and scholar throughout his life. His mentality, his industry, his scholarly tastes and singular devotion to any purpose he had in view, would in one of the older countries, have resulted in his becoming a noted man. He was long a trustee of Delaware College and shared with the late Manlove Hayes the work that had to be done while beside them had either the time, the taste or the fitness for it, such as helping to decide upon the curriculum, the courses of study, the examinations, the credentials of applicants for professorship, and "Ways and Means." In the Board meetings he mostly led in the important discussions, and was always fully aware of all that was going on; and never hesitated to ask for fuller information or to object to what did not to him seem well. He was elected vice-president to succeed Mr. Hayes, but that day was late in his life; and failing strength compelled him to resign, what he considered a great honor, in about five years. Delaware College seems to have been one of the

CLEAN-UP DAY

"In every tent," commanded Moses, "let there be a paddle. And any man who has rubbish or garbage to throw out of the camp, let him take that paddle with him and bury it immediately. For the Lord thy God walketh in the midst of thy camp," said Moses, "to deliver thee: * * * therefore shall thy camp be holy: that he see no unclean thing in thee, and turn away from thee."

While we, with our Colleges, Clubs, Social Service Societies, hesitate to admit that Moses had anything on us, I imagine that if he were to locate in Newark in 1916, he would immediately break ground for a Paddle Industry. Knowing Moses as we do from our reading, we are convinced that he would be a progressive citizen and loyal supporter of The Post.

EPITAPHS

If you could write your own epitaph,—honestly, what would you say? Very like, your epitaph will flatter you. They usually do. But if you could leave instructions to carve your secret ambition on your tomb, what would it be?

Our one supreme ambition is something the world seldom hears. The longing of our heart's best is in most instances a quiet but well guarded secret. Once in awhile, a biographer will tell of an ambition of his subject, that the world never dreamed of. Great men, serving well, receiving deserved applause, go out into the Unknown and the world knows not the personal defeat that was theirs. The honor, most coveted, was not theirs. Sometimes, however, in revery by the fire with a comrade, friend, the woman of his heart, man will tell his most cherished desire. What man wishes said of him when he dies, is perhaps representative of the best in him as well as the frailty of human nature. For illustration, Lincoln gave, I believe, his best when he said: "I want to so live that when I die, those who knew me best, will say: He planted a rose and plucked a thorn, wherever he thought a rose would grow."

That, to me, best typifies Lincoln. I believe it was his secret desire. It escaped him, in some off-guard mood. Tender, full of sentiment, yet rugged in pioneer common sense. National and world character, that his life and work made him, I like to read that sentiment of his. It was his ambition. In Memory's Shaft that I have erected to History's Great, those are the words I carve as his most fitting epitaph.

Speaking of epitaphs, there are but few that are truly expressive. But here is one picked up the other day. Sir Christopher Wren, the great English architect, designed many of London's finest buildings. After devoting his life to the passion of "frozen music" he lies in the heart of the city he made so beautiful. Over his grave is a stone, upon which is engraved "If you would see his monument, look about you."

Epitaphs should be our ambition. What's the moral, say you? It is this,—have you, a citizen of Delaware, of Newark, an ambition such as Lincoln had? Will Newark read in memory of you, "If you would see his monument, look about you."

OPPORTUNITY FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Work To Be Taken In Connection With Delaware

The dairy development department of the De Laval Separator Company of Chicago has chosen Delaware as one of the ten states in which this company will spend $1,000 in the form of 40 $25 scholarships in the La Crosse County Agricultural College. This course of studies will be taken in conjunction with Delaware College.

These scholarships are to be awarded to cow testing clubs. Each community can organize a club. An eligible club is to consist of not less than five members under the leadership of the local school teacher, county agent, or other responsible person, and at least five members must complete the two months' work.

Each member of the club must keep detailed and accurate reports of feed, milk and butter fats for one or more cows for the period of two months. Forms of blanks suitable for the keeping of records will be furnished by the De Laval Company.

These scholarships will be awarded to boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18. Any girl or boy interested in these scholarships may enroll as a member of the club and obtain further information by writing F. A. Carroll, agent in dairying, Newark.

Boy Scouts Plan
Basket Ball Season

Newark Troop 2, Boy Scouts of America, resumed their meetings, after a short vacation, last Friday evening. The Troop practiced some new drills and hopes to develop a basket ball team in the near future.

VICTORY SONG

(To the tune of "Tipperary")
Down the field you see them marching.
Down the field our boys go.
Now our line is staunchly holding
In the face of the foe.
Onward, Old Delaware;
Charge on warriors bold!
Right over the line we are charging
Touchdown!—Blue and Gold!!
—Irving Reynolds.

MEETINGS RESUMED
AFTER VACATIONParents And Teachers Discuss
School Problems

The Parent-Teacher Association resumed its monthly meetings on Thursday last. Mrs. Houghton, the enthusiastic president and Mrs. Green, the newly-elected secretary, were in their places promptly at 3.30. After the reading of the minutes of the meeting of May 25, Mrs. Houghton called for a report of the playground committee. Mrs. Jones, chairman, reported that the apparatus had been installed and the committee had a small balance on hand.

Mrs. Houghton then gave an account of the manner in which the services of a vocal music teacher had been obtained for the public schools. Miss Shepherdson was introduced and gave a short explanation of her methods and an outline of the work planned for various grades.

After the transaction of some routine business, refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour followed. The members of the committee of which Mrs. Clark is chairman, received much praise for the toothsome dainties served.

The next meeting will be on the evening of October 26th, in the High School, when an address by a Wilmington well-wisher will be a part of the program. All parents and others interested in public schools are cordially invited to be present.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

"Woman's Hour"
Has Struck!"

The liquor forces have developed an organized opposition, (apparently supported by large funds) to woman suffrage. The secretary of one of the state liquor associations, recently remarked to a man whose word is as good as his bond, that they would not allow another state to be carried for woman suffrage within the next ten years, if they could prevent it.

That the woman suffrage law in Illinois has contributed to law enforcement more than any other one factor, is openly acknowledged. Since women have enjoyed the right to vote for local officials, there has been a remarkable improvement in the character of officials elected, to administer the government of the cities.

The organized traffic in girls, is being exposed in New York City by a series of astounding confessions. How girls so young that they were classed as children, were handled like cattle and even sold at auction, and how working girls are watched and corrupted, have been told by an admitted "white slaver," Yushe Botroin, to the New York District Attorney. Botroin boasted that the schools were the chief source of supply. (Think of it, you mothers of girls). He said that he employed well-groomed young men, plentifully supplied with money, who became acquainted with school-girls, (preferably those of foreign parentage). Gifts of books, flowers, and candy would be forthcoming until the cadets had established themselves favorably with the girls. When asked if he didn't know that he was doing wrong, Botroin replied, "I know I was making plenty of money—what should I care?" Botroin protests that the police officials not only know about the disorderly houses, they actually collect "graft" from them.

"How long will it be before the mothers of the country have something to say about such conditions? You mothers who sit in a comatose state, apparently in a deep sleep, whenever 'votes for women' is mentioned, won't you please awake? Don't be so sure that your own girls are safe. The outcast women come from all ranks of society. Because your husband's salary check shows three figures each week, don't fall back on that worn thread-bare saw, 'Environment is everything.' It isn't! Girls fresh from college swell the number of the lost. You mothers, your votes will help suppress (if it cannot crush) this menace. Can't you see it? Don't you know that if you voted, you'd vote against it? As the slang phrase goes, 'there are others,'—yes, hundreds of thousands of others,—who would cast their ballot against the 'White Slave Traffic'?"

Fifteen thousand voters in Washington, D. C., according to "The Suffragist," will get reduced rates home, to vote this fall, if the railroads accept plans that are being made by political clubs. An arrangement is being considered making it possible for a voter to make two trips, one for registration, and one for voting, at similarly reduced rates. It seems almost incredible that while everything possible is being done to make voting easier for men, no steps have been taken to extend this right to women.

Laura C. Pollard,
Chairman for Newark.

Lost Foot In Fodder Shredder

Minos C. Allen, a farmer living near Bridgeville is under treatment at the Salisbury Peninsula Hospital for treatment of injuries received while shredding fodder for a silo on his farm. Climbing on top of the machine to clear the feed pipe while it was in motion part of the platform gave way and fell upon the knives which before the engine could be stopped severed his right foot above the ankle. He was severely bruised also as he was thrown violently against the side of the machine. Dr. L. M. Cahall gave him needed treatment and had him taken to the hospital.

Work On du Pont Boulevard

Work was begun last week by Contractor Humphreys of New Jersey, on the section of the du Pont Boulevard extending from Georgetown to a point about a mile north of Ellendale. The work was started at the northern end of the section on grading and leveling. The bridges and culverts on the section were constructed some time ago and the large stumps on the line of the road through the Ellendale swamp were blown out. The grading and filling, it is expected will be completed by New Years. The road's right of way has been secured to Milford and the Kent county line save through two properties. The Maryland Roads Commission last week awarded the contract for an improved road from Berlin to the Delaware line where it will connect with the Boulevard

Trophy's Fatal Drop

George W. Chambers, President of the Central National Bank of Wilmington and senior member of George W. Chambers & Co., leather manufacturers, died early on Monday morning, September 25, at his home, 1300 Broome street, from the effects of an accident which happened about three weeks previous. A large ornamental moosehead fell upon him from a wall in the hall at his home, the antlers cutting a gash in his head. The wound later grew serious and proved fatal. He was 55 years of age. His wife and a son survive him.

Fled From Burning Dwelling

Fire early on Wednesday morning destroyed the tenant house of Joseph J. Ward, located along the du Pont Boulevard, near Georgetown, and occupied by Charles Mitchell, who lost all his household effects, $15 in money and all the family's clothing as they were forced to flee for their lives from the flames. The origin of the fire is thought to have been incendiary as a barn a couple of hundred feet distant was burning also when neighbors reached the scene. The loss is put at about $1500.

Lay Five Hours In Sewer

Losing his footing while crossing a narrow bridge over an open sewer at Railroad avenue and Liberty street, Wilmington, on the night of September 25, Patrick McConnell, aged 50 years, of 312 South Van Buren street, fell into water and sewage where he remained helpless for five hours. F. D. Hichman, night foreman at the

P. B. & W. R. R. power house heard his cries on his way from work, helped out of his trying situation and had him sent to the Delaware Hospital. One of his legs was broken and his head was cut and bruised.

The Soldier's Kiss

(Descriptive of an actual incident on the road to a battery position in Southern Flanders)

Only a dying horse! pull off the gear,
And slip the needless bit from the frothing jaws,
Drag it aside there, leave the road-way clear—
The battery thunders on with scarce a pause.

Prone by the shell-swept highway there it lies
With quivering limbs, as fast the life tide fails,
Dark films are closing o'er the faithful eyes
That mutely plead for aid where none avails.

Onward the battery rolls, but one there speeds,
Heedless of comrade's voice or bursting shell,
Back to a wounded friend who lonely bleeds
Beside the stony highway where it fell.

Only a dying horse! He swiftly kneels,
Lifts the limp head and hears the shivering sigh,
Kisses his friend while down his cheek there steals
Sweet Pity's tear; good-bye, old man, good-bye.

No honors wait him, medal, badge or star,
Though scarce could war a kinder deed unfold;
He bears within his breast, more precious far
Beyond the gift of Kings, a heart of gold.

Grass

Grass is the forgiveness of Nature, her constant benediction. Fields trampled with battle, saturated with blood, torn with the ruts of cannon, grow green again with grass, and carnage is forgotten. Forests decay, harvests perish, flowers vanish, but grass is immortal. Sown by the winds, by wandering birds, it softens the rude outlines of the world. It invades the solitudes of deserts, climbs the inaccessible slopes of mountains, modifies climates, and determines the history, the character and destiny of nations. It yields not fruit in earth or air and yet, should its harvest fail for a single year, famine would depopulate the earth.

—John J. Ingalls

Deming Camp Notes

Major William E. Lank, of Milford, during the review of the troops at Deming, N. M., held on the polo grounds by General Granger Adams on September 25, prior to his retirement, was thrown from his horse. But aside from bruises and shock escaped injury. The Delaware soldiers on Thursday enjoyed the distribution of 600 boxes of chocolates, 12,000 cartons of cigarettes, a package of smoking tobacco and a pack of playing cards for each man, donated by General T. Coleman du Pont, Adjutant General Wickersham, by direction of Governor Miller, started for Deming on Thursday to inspect the Delaware troops and conditions in their camp. Twenty recruits from Fort du Pont, in charge of Corporal E. G. Boland, reached the camp on September 25.

Death Of Alfred S. Elliott

Alfred S. Elliott, a well-known retired banker, died early on Saturday morning at his home, 1003 Jefferson street, Wilmington, after several weeks illness, aged 70 years. He married Miss Annie B. Lane of Wilmington in 1875, of their four children Mrs. George P. Bissell survives. Mr. Elliott was a member of the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, the Wilmington Country Club, and the Art Club of Philadelphia, and was for a number of years a vestryman of St. Andrew's church. His widow survives him. His funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon with interment in Wilmington and Brandywine Cemetery.

What Made The Country Great?

"In this campaign year, when the voters shall choose between two great political parties, it is pertinent to ask, What made this country great?"

"The Republican Party made this nation great. Republican principles, Republican policies, Republican Statesmanship, Republican legislation, and Republican management of national affairs made this country great—in its population, great in its wealth, great in its industries, great in its trade and commerce, great in its transportation and communication facilities, and great in its prestige and power and influence throughout the world," declared Representative Dick T. Morgan of Oklahoma, in a statement given out recently.

"To understand how the Republican Party made this country great, go back to its platform of 1860," continued. "There you will find the fundamental principles upon which the Republican Party was founded—upon which it won its first national victory and placed in the Presidential chair the first Republican president—Abraham Lincoln. That platform declared, first, for the preservation of the Union; second, for human liberty and human freedom; third, for the encouragement of foreign immigration; fourth, for a free homestead law; fifth, for governmental aid in the construction of a transcontinental railway; and sixth, for a protective tariff policy.

"Destruction of the Union would have forever precluded the building of a great nation on the American continent. We never could have built a great nation here with slavery as its chief cornerstone. Happily for our country, these two great questions have long since been settled. Everywhere our people are alike devoted to the Union, loyal to the flag, and stand for the highest ideals of human liberty.

"Nevertheless, it is an historical fact that the chief purpose in organizing the Republican Party was to prevent the extension of slavery and to preserve the Union.

"Through the encouragement of foreign immigration the Republican Party contributed immensely to the growth of the nation. Population is one element of greatness. In the fifty years immediately preceding the ascendancy of the Republican Party to power slightly over five millions of foreign-born people came to this country. During the fifty years immediately succeeding the ascendancy of the Republican Party to power, 27,000,000 immigrants from other countries came to our shores. Had it not been for this immigration the United States would have today less than fifty millions of inhabitants. The Republican Party championed the rights of foreign born citizens. It pursued economic policies which gave them employment at remunerative wages and offered them opportunities for success in every kind of business and in every line of human endeavor.

"The Republican Party passed the free homestead law. Lincoln's signature to this great act ranks second only to his signature to the Emancipation Proclamation. One made free men; the other made free homes. The free homestead act, conceived by Republican leaders, enacted into law by a Republican congress, and approved by a Republican President contributed to the rapid settlement and development of the country west of the Mississippi River, in which today dwell millions of our most intelligent, progressive, and patriotic citizens.

"Construction of the first transcontinental railway was an event of vast importance. The Republican platform of 1860 declared for the immediate building of such a railway and for governmental aid to secure its construction. The Party redeemed its pledge, the aid was given, the railroad was constructed. Its completion marked an epoch in our history. In this splendid achievement the Republican Party put this country forward in its progress a third of a century, strengthened the very fabric of the Republic, and gave the nation a vast impetus in its growth and development.

Courtesy Counts!

Telephone courtesy means more than mere politeness. It means consideration for the feelings and convenience of others.

This is just as important in business as in social intercourse. In a telephone conversation the party to whom you are talking forms his judgment of you entirely by what you say and how you say it.

Good manners and amiability never fail to make a favorable impression and greatly facilitate good telephone service.

FREE LIBRARIES FURNISHED BY THE STATE

Commission Invites Citizens To Use Their Books

Almost no man, woman or child is working at a job about which he or she could not learn much of value from some book. The lawyer and the doctor have always found it necessary to read constantly in order to do their work well. The teacher and the minister have always found books and periodicals necessary. We of this generation are discovering that it is also true that every farmer, mechanic and housewife can do his or her work better by reading.

Delaware is in the front rank of states which aim to place books within the reach of all their inhabitants, by means of traveling libraries, book-wagons and parcel post service. These books and this equipment belong to the people of the state and it is the purpose of the Delaware Commission to see that no person in the state, whether he lives in city, village or on a farm, is without the books which he needs, whether for inspiration and help in his work, or for recreation in his leisure moments.

The traveling libraries are collections of books which are sent out from Dover in stout, hinged boxes, circulating free of charge. They are made up from 35 to 50 of the best popular books both for grown-ups and children, in stories, history, travel, biography, science and literature. They are sent to schools, Sunday Schools, granges or any group of people willing to be responsible for their safe return. Application for a traveling library should be addressed to the State Library Commission, Court House, Dover, Delaware.

In order to serve those who cannot conveniently use the traveling libraries, the Commission sends book-wagons to visit farms, thus carrying books directly to the doors of those living at a distance from others. These wagons are in charge of women who become greatly interested in fitting the books to the needs of the farmer or his child, and delightful personal relations are often established between the "book-wagon lady" and the farm dwellers.

In New Castle County there are three book-wagon routes starting from Townsend. In Kent County there are six, three from Dover, one from Kenton, and two from Felton. Sussex county has five routes, —Delmar, Laurel, Lowe's Cross Roads, Millsboro, and Staytonville.

For further information apply to the State Library Commission, Court House, Dover, Delaware.

Books will also be sent by parcel post to any individual studying a special subject.

PRINCE, GEORGE'S CHURCH AT DAGSBORO, DEL. AWARE

Dear hoary church, long may you stand,
Firm as a rock, in ever shifting sand;
Shadowed by lofty oaks and whispering pines
In prayer before your humble, sacred shrine.
Stand a joy, an inspiration for future time,
And faithfully protect the ancient creeds.
Endure neglect! thou guardian of the dust
Of early fathers, who in faithful trust
Approached God's altar for that holy feast,
By faith partaking, their souls found rest;
Two centuries to sorrowing hearts you've been a trust.
Oh! spoil-hunters, for relics forbear, be just;
Tread softly, speak low, 'tis God's house, 'tis blessed.

College Men Elect Officers

The four Delaware College classes have elected officers for the college year just starting. These officers, under the new state of affairs at the college, will hold an important position in college activities, as the faculty looks to the class officers to assist in adjusting many matters in connection with the student body. The class officers for 1916-17 are as follows:

Seniors—President, Leroy B. Steele; vice-president, Lawrence L. Smart; treasurer, Robert H. Pepper; and secretary, James M. Heinel.

Juniors—President, Donald P. Horsey; vice-president, Paul D. Lovett; treasurer, George A. Hudson; secretary, John H. Alderson.

Sophomores—President, William S. Fitzpatrick; vice-president, Henry W. Marston; treasurer, James G. McMillan; secretary, William M. Pierson; historian, James P. Truss.

Freshmen—President, F. Bayard Carter; vice-president, H. C. Greene; treasurer, J. W. Olcott; secretary, J. W. Anderson, 3d.

The classes also have made selections for the Athletic Council as follows: Seniors, R. P. Pepper; juniors, Ernest E. Wilson; sophomores, William Stewart, Jr.

The Alumni Association at the meeting in June re-elected Dr. Walter H. Steel and Norris Wright members of the Athletic Council. In addition to these members, Physical Director William J. McAvoy is an ex-officio member of the Council and general manager, and the faculty also has two members on the Council. The faculty will elect members next Monday when Dean E. Laurence Smith and Professor Charles A. McCue may be re-elected.

The Athletic Council will probably meet on Thursday night to organize. There is considerable work for the council to do in the way of preparing details for the winter sports football, and basketball.

DELAWARE HARD AT FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Preparations For First Game On Saturday

Coach McAvoy is rapidly rounding the "Blue and Gold" football warriors into shape for the initial game of the 1916 season. This game will be played at Chester on had two years' experience and this will be a strong factor in their favor when Coach McAvoy picks his men for the first game.

The Freshman class has some very promising material in Ashenbach, Carter, McCorkindale, Hirshman, Clancy, Selby, and Roach. In addition to these men there are several others out for the squad who may prove to be "dark horses" later on.

During the signal practices held this week, Coach has been trying out Ashenbach at full, Carter and Hirshman at guard, and Clancy, Selby and Roach in the backfield on the Varsity. From the form displayed in these drills, all should have a very good chance to make the team. "Bill" Stewart has been taking care of the center position in these preliminary tryouts and seems to have first call over McCorkindale, a likely looking Freshman.

With Stewart center, Carter and Hirshman guards, Wilson and Weldin tackles, Marston and Meyers ends, Coach seems to have a pretty formidable line. On the secondary defense, Fidence at quarter, Selby and Clancy at halves and Ashenbach at full appears to form a light but fast backfield. This is the probable line-up of the Varsity in their first scrimmage.

Giles, Loose, Cantwell, M. Plam, L. Plam, Bernardo, Holton, Williams, Stevens, Mackey, Chambers, Marshall, Gordy, Goggin, H. Alexander and Marconetti are the remaining men who are striving to gain a berth on the squad. Any let-up by the members of the Varsity will mean that some of these men will jump right into their places.

The best time to have the town spring clean-up is the autumn before.

Wilson is not only "too proud to fight" but apparently too polite to express his views on suffrage.

If any one knows where Wilson stands on Suffrage the knowledge is solicited for our news columns.

Anti-suffragists will hold a meeting soon, we hear. The subject will be "How we retard the effect of the moon on tides and stop the suffragist movement."

Have you met the teacher of your boy or girl? Call on her, invite her to your home. She is teaching your child—surely her acquaintance might be an advantage in the success of that boy or girl.

Is it useless to suggest a Town and Gown Club? The men laugh at Women's Club, yet dare not start one themselves. Nearly every man admits such an organization would be fine but—"There would always be a fight," is the excuse. Then let's organize and have it according to set rules.

Farmer-made Brooms In Sussex

One of the leading occupations with several of the farmers of the county, especially in Cedar Creek district, is the manufacture of brooms which are disposed of to merchants throughout the country. The broom corn is grown during the summer and is broken off in the fall and allowed to dry thoroughly. In many sections of the county a few years ago, it was an unusual thing to see a broom made like those manufactured in the cities, but nowadays, in some localities, it is almost a rarity to see a broom that was manufactured elsewhere.
