SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF SCHOOL REFERENDUM

All Registered
Voters In District
Are Eligible To Vote On Proposal

Considerable interest in the forthcoming referendum to float a $60,000 bond issue to erect a new primary building in the Newark Special School District is being evidenced as a result of an announcement in this paper, last week, that such a vote would be taken here on Saturday, August 16.

With local school officials heartily in favor of such a proposal there is little doubt that the residents of the district will vote overwhelmingly for its passage. There is a very definite need for new housing facilities for the primary grades in this district as the building now being used has become greatly outmoded and outgrown.

It has been pointed out that all residents of the district will be eligible to vote in the referendum. The only requirement is that they be registered as eligible to vote in past general elections. Residents do not have to be property owners to vote in this election. Exact voting hours will be published in this newspaper next week. The referendum will be held at the high school building.

Present plans call for the erection of a new 12 to 16 room primary building, to be erected on present school property. The present primary building would be used with the new building put into use at the September, 1942, term.

RECORDINGS ARE HEARD

A new slate of officers, headed by Samuel E. Dameron, president, has taken over the local organization. Other officers are: Vice president, Russell Silk; secretary, William S. Hamilton, and treasurer, George F. Jackson. Directors are Al Deck, S. E. Dameron, G. F. Jackson, W. S. Hamilton, Russell Silk, and F. Allyn Cooch, Jr.

ANNUAL DOLLAR DAY PLANS PROGRESSING

Police Ask
Visitors To Comply With Traffic Laws

Elaborate plans for annual Newark Dollar Days are progressing rapidly, said George F. Jackson, chairman of the committee in charge, yesterday.

Printing of the placards and coupons has been completed and they will be distributed to participating merchants the early part of next week. Merchants are requested to display the placards prominently in their windows in order to give the event as much publicity as possible.

Coupons will be available at each merchant displaying the placards. These coupons will be given free with each cash payment of fifty-cents and each one of them is eligible to win one of the thirteen cash awards, totaling $40.00 to be presented on the front lawn of the Newark Academy building at seven o'clock Saturday evening, August 9.

Chief of Police Cunningham has announced that the local police officers will cooperate in an effort to alleviate traffic on those two days. He also issues an appeal to visitors to our town to comply with the traffic regulations and be guided by parking signs designating parking limits on Main Street, especially.

Visitors who plan to come to town and spend several hours are urged to park on Delaware Avenue or other less congested streets and walk through to Main Street to do their shopping. In this manner they will not violate the one-hour ordinance on the North side of Main Street and will also help to avoid confusion.

Merchants who have not already indicated their desire to participate in Dollar Days may still do so by telephoning 4941 and inserting their advertisement in the special edition of the Newark Post, to be distributed next week.

COLLINS PRAISES REACTION TO DRIVE

Campaign Nets
Truckload Of Aluminum For Defense Plan

Pleased with Newark's response in the national canvass for aluminum, Mayor Frank Collins announced yesterday that a full truckload of pots, pans, and other articles was sent to Wilmington as part of the town's contribution to the national defense program.

A second appeal has been issued by Mayor Collins who pointed out that the campaign will be continued throughout the rest of this week. Persons having aluminum to add to the collection are requested to leave it at the Town Council office during office hours or contact Chief of Police William Cunningham for night deliveries. The aluminum is stored in the town office.

Dean George L. Schuster, head of the University of Delaware's school of agriculture, represents Newark on the state committee. Assisting Mayor Collins in the local campaign are scouts under the direction of James W. Hicks, assistant scoutmaster; Ralph W. Hawthorne, Christiana scout master, and Julius Ryland, local colored scout master.

It was estimated that the gross weight of the load taken to Wilmington was more than 1,000 pounds.

DRAFTEES' RECORDS AVAILABLE

Confidential
Matter Only
Part Ordered

Non-confidential information concerning selective service registrants is a matter of public record and available to any person upon request during business hours of local boards, Brig.-Gen. William Berl, Jr., state director of selective service, declared this week. The public is not permitted to handle records, however, he said.

The only data to be withheld as confidential are the following: The record of the physical condition of a registrant; all answers on the questionnaire under the subject of dependency, except the names and addresses of claimed dependents; answers to questions on previous military service, and the registrant's court record.

Practically all pertinent information of a non-confidential nature, General Berl pointed out, is contained in Selective Service Form 100, available to the public during board business hours.

This record includes the registrant's name, order number, serial number, age and race. If he volunteered, the date of his volunteering is shown. If his record is transferred to another board for the purpose of classification, physical examination or induction, the date on which the record was transferred and returned is indicated.

The form also shows when the questionnaire was mailed and the date of its return. Dates of other actions taken by the board or the registrant are also noted.

"Form 100, therefore, is virtually a complete history of the registrant except as to specified confidential matters," General Berl said. "News agencies, newspapers, radio services, and the public generally can get any and all information except confidential matter, relating to a registrant from this record."

Furthermore, he said, if local boards or local board clerks refuse to give out the requested information without adequate cause for such refusal, the matter should be reported to the State Headquarters immediately.

PAVING PROJECT NOW WELL UNDERWAY

Town Engineer
Expecting To Complete Work
By August 15

The $16,000 street project, authorized by the Council of Newark recently, is now well underway and should be completed by the second week in August, Town Engineer George C. Price announced today.

Work is progressing on schedule and the bottom course of asphalt has been put down by the Julian T. Jones Co., which was awarded the contract. Streets included in the program are South College Avenue, East Park Place, Elkton Road, West Park Place, Haines Street, North College Avenue, and New Street.

Workmen will begin laying the top cover of asphalt on Monday and the work is not expected to require more than three weeks providing weather conditions remain favorable.

Mr. Price stated that with completion of the project, "most of Newark's streets will be in good condition." He pointed out that patch work has kept them in fairly good shape during recent years despite the fact that the surfaces on the main thoroughfares have seen service for more than ten years.

Areas covered by the project are as follows:

New, from North Chapel to Choate; Haines, from East Main to Delaware Avenue; East Park Place, from South College Avenue to 200 feet west of Manuel; West Park Place, from South College Avenue to town line; South College Avenue, from Delaware Avenue to Cannery Lane; Elkton Avenue, from West Main to B. and O. Railroad.

Curb renewals have been made on South College Avenue and New Street, and gutter renewals for Elkton Road. A surface of tar and pebbles was laid on Townsend, Sunset, Winslow and Dallow Roads, and Tyre Avenue.

RESIDENTS URGED TO REGISTER FOR WORK

Delaware Men
And Women
Needed For Job Shortage

A further appeal to all unemployed Delaware workers to register for jobs with the Delaware State Employment Service was issued today by Dr. Charles M. Wharton, executive director of the Unemployment Compensation Commission, of which the service is a division.

More and more orders are being received for intelligent, reliable workers who are capable of absorbing training on the job. Although skilled workers are still in demand, employers in many industries are now training workers for unit skills on production lines, minimizing the need for highly trained men, Dr. Wharton explained.

If local files can be developed sufficiently so as to show employers a substantial reservoir of capable workers, the hiring of out-of-State workers at the gate will be reduced, Dr. Wharton said. He urged all unemployed persons, no matter what their backgrounds, to register for work at the local employment offices in Wilmington, Dover and Georgetown.

Women are also urged to register for clerical and production jobs. In this connection, Dr. Wharton pointed out that several employers were returning to the practice of the World War of using women in light production work.

"Under-employed" workers, that is persons who are not working at jobs utilizing the highest degree of skill at their command, are offered consideration for better jobs, particularly in National Defense fields, Dr. Wharton said.

BOOKS FOR SOLDIERS

Mrs. Horace B. McKay, chairman of U. S. O. work for the Cooch's Bridge Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has announced that a second load of articles, including magazines and books, has been sent to Fort DuPont.

She reported that the officer in charge was very much pleased with the donations since they have been the only ones of this nature, thus far received. Magazines are distributed each morning in the hospital and guard house.

A shortage of card tables was revealed and anyone having old tables is requested to call Mrs. McKay or leave it at her home on East Main Street.

Soldiers' Preview

RESIDENTS REQUIRED TO FORD CREEK

Highway Dept. Urged To Build Temporary Bridge Over White Clay

Stanton, July 23 — Residents of the Stanton community, are being handicapped because no temporary bridge, or even a foot bridge has been erected while work on the new White Clay Creek bridge is in progress. Women living beyond Stanton who have daily errands here for their mail, provisions, etc., can be seen daily wading across the creek, and the water is knee-deep. Men and women living in Stanton who work at the Textile Mill just beyond the bridge, and they also are having to ford the creek daily to get to and from their work. Those who do not wade across the creek have a seven mile detour to make to reach their work. The bridge is not expected to be completed until December or January.

The State Highway Department has been urged to build a temporary bridge, but so far residents have been unsuccessful in their attempt to convince them that it is necessary. When school sessions are resumed in September, the bus drivers will have a seven mile detour to make.

On Sunday morning in the Stanton Methodist Church, a demonstration exercise was arranged for the Daily Vacation Bible School group, which has just closed a two week session.

Epworth League Services at the Stanton Methodist Church were held Sunday evening at 7:30, and at 8, the Rev. Frank O. Baynard, pastor, spoke on "Broken Covenants."

On Thursday, the Stanton Methodist Sunday School group will enjoy their annual picnic at White Crystal Beach. Transportation will be provided for those desiring to go, and busses will leave the church at 10 a. m.

OPPORTUNITY DAYS AHEAD

In announcing plans for Newark's annual Dollar Days on Friday and Saturday, August 8 and 9, the Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of this event have created an unparalleled opportunity for merchants and shoppers of this community and its environs.

Hearty merchant participation is assured with the announcement that the Chamber of Commerce is appropriating more than $150.00 towards advertising and promotion materials for these two days in an all-out effort to afford shoppers of the Newark area a really festive bargain occasion.

Not for years have cash awards been offered as bonuses for shoppers who will reap further benefits from local mercantile offerings during these days. Not for years have local stocks been so replete with seasonable items at low, pre-war prices. Not for years has so much enthusiasm and interest been manifested in an approaching sales event.

Local merchants will be wise to take full advantage of the unusual offer made possible by the Chamber of Commerce. Huge placards proclaiming the event will be supplied every participating merchant as well as coupons entitling each customer who makes a fifty-cent cash purchase or payment on account, to become eligible for the $40 in cash to be awarded on the Academy building front lawn at 7:30 P. M., Saturday, August 9.

In an effort to induce merchants to help make the 1941 Dollar Days a really epochal event, all this is offered free to members and non-members alike. There is absolutely NO participation fee. The only requirement being that each merchant advertise his Dollar Days merchandise in Newark's ONE Newspaper — at the regular price. More than three thousand extra copies of this edition will be circulated throughout the countryside to assure one hundred percent complete coverage of the Newark trade area.

A COMMUNITY SERVICE

Deeper than they appear on the surface are the social implications of the new checking account service recently announced to the men and women of this community by the Newark Trust Company.

The bank has just instituted a department for those desiring the convenience of a checking account without having to maintain any required balance, and without having to pay any monthly carrying charge for the privilege.

In this CheckMaster department, the so-called "checking account plan for all the people," any deposit — no matter how small — opens any account. The bank derives its entire compensation from a five cent charge for each check drawn and each item deposited. Checkbooks are free.

The CheckMaster idea is only six years old but it has taken root nationally in city after city, because it provides at extremely nominal cost the checking facilities so necessary in a modern world.

We welcome the innovation because we believe it is of important social significance. Too long have the banker and the "man in the street" gone their separate ways. Great masses of people had come to regard the banker as cold and aloof — a dweller in another world with which the average man and woman had but little contact.

Anything that will open the portals of a banking institution to larger numbers of our citizens is of cardinal value to the public.

Not only will it widen the circle of banking service and make available facilities that many were unable to afford despite the tremendous usefulness of a checking account, but it will obviously mean that the bank will touch more closely the life of the community.

This humanizing influence, we feel, is of incalculable worth all around. Better understanding, cooperation and good will are bound to follow. The layman will get to know the place of the bank in his community, and to appreciate it; and the banker will unquestionably get a keener realization of the problems of his fellow citizens.

Certainly, the dramatic CheckMaster idea is indicative of the trend of the times. "He serves best who serves most."

Lancaster, Pa., city officials have learned why their courthouse clock runs slow. Starlings, gathering about the steeple at dusk, hop on the minute hand and retard its upward movement.

DEFENSE BOND

Quiz

- Q. What happens if I suddenly need the money I put into a Defense Savings Bond?
- A. You can cash your Bond at any time, after 60 days, for the full amount paid, plus any interest due you.
- Q. Do many Bond owners cash their Bonds?
- A. No. People want to help arm America against all attacks. In many cases, people are putting every cent they can spare into Defense Bonds and Stamps. Some are doing this by asking employers or banks to withhold part of their salaries in order to buy these Bonds or Stamps for them.

Note.—To purchase Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write for information to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

Musical Notes

By Burton Morris

Under the leadership of Virgil Thompson, critic of the N. Y. Herald Tribune, the "Music Critics' Circle of New York" has become a reality. The avowed purpose of the Circle is to promote the cause of music by Americans. It will bestow awards upon various classes of American composition—chamber, chorus, orchestra, ballet, opera—heard in New York the coming and subsequent seasons. "American" is held to mean either a native-born or a full naturalized citizen. The first chairman of the Circle is Virgil Thompson and completing the executive committee are: Olin Downes, N. Y. Times; Donald S. Fuller, Modern Music; Miles Kastendieck, Brooklyn Eagle; Oscar Thompson of the N. Y. Sun. The Music Critics' Circle should be a tremendous aid for the American Composer, by acting as a united body in recognizing the worth of native music.

Lauritz Melchior gets away from it all. For six weeks the big tenor of the Metropolitan Opera will hunt and fish in the wilds of British Columbia and Alaska. Hunting is Melchior's favorite sport. For his role in the opera "Seigfried" he wears a deer skin—a trophy of a previous hunt. In Mrs. Melchior's wardrobe hangs a panther coat which is additional evidence of her husband's skill as a marksman.

A cold shoulder and an orchid! Benny Goodman, exponent of jazz, received them both recently from two pianist conductors. The cold shoulder came from Jose Iturbi, when he refused to share the podium with Goodman at Robin Hood Dell in Philadelphia. Reginald Stewart, regular conductor of the Toronto Philharmonic Orchestra, was guest conductor at Lewisohn Stadium on Monday with Benny Goodman as soloist and joint conductor. Said Mr. Stewart, "Jazz is a new art form for which America deserves full credit. I think Mr. Goodman one of the outstanding performers of jazz." Only the first half of the program in Lewisohn Stadium was devoted to serious music. After intermission Goodman and his own orchestra took over to please the jitterbugs. Your correspondent thinks that such a hybrid program pleases neither the swing fans nor the devotees of Beethoven, and Mr. Iturbi was right in implying they don't mix.

Joseph Battista, twenty-three year old pianist of Philadelphia, was recently announced the winner of the Guion Novas award. The winner will be presented in ten or more concerts in Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo and other Brazilian cities, including an appearance as soloist with the Rio de Janeiro Symphony Orchestra. The award was offered by Mme. Novas as her personal contribution toward cultural interchange among the Americas.

SPEED THE CALLS THAT SPEED DEFENSE!

The maintenance of fast, adequate telephone service to speed the calls of the army, the navy, the government and the defense industries is vital to the success of the defense program.

Here are some ways in which telephone users can contribute to the efficiency of telephone service. By following these suggestions, you will help to conserve essential telephone equipment and to speed the calls that speed defense.

1. Don't trust to memory or to old lists for telephone numbers. It's best to make sure by looking in the directory. Wrong numbers are wasteful—and an annoyance to both caller and called party.
2. Answer the telephone promptly.
3. When you make a call, give the called party enough time to answer before "hanging up."
4. Be sure to hang up after every call. Failure to do so means your line is "busy"—though it may be doing nothing!
5. Try to avoid unnecessarily long conversations, especially if you are on a party line.

Thank you!

TELEPHONES 581 2929 2941 WE DELIVER

Flashes
By Bill Fletcher

WE RETURN TO THE TYPEWRITER thoroughly licked and completely humiliated by one of Pennsylvania's numerous lakes which mercilessly snatched from our bait box no less than four plugs (Retail value $1 each), sixteen hooks, a fistful of sinkers and approximately 999 yards of line.

Our week in the mountains was not a "give and take" affair — it was all "give" and by the time seven days had rolled around, we found ourselves stripped of tackle. Apparently unhampered by the Golden Rule, this big, beautiful body of water seemed to swallow up everything tossed its way and during the entire week of ceaseless fishing, it yielded one solitary wall-eyed pike and a single calico bass (Gross weight 5 ounces soaking wet).

THE PIKE BROKE PRECEDENT about the middle of the week, just when gloom was beginning to force all thoughts of angling from our head but that pleasant interval was a brief one and the lake soon reverted back to its old habit of harboring all of its occupants close to its bosom.

We started our journey with a barrel full of plugs, expecting to replace the lures with fish, but we soon found out that casting was frowned upon and that trolling and still-fishing was quite the thing.

Our first afternoon of casting was our last. Old natives kind of peered down their noses, shaking their heads and frowning as if we were a fugitive from the booby hatch. Their stares so completely upset us that we tossed a plug into a thirty-foot tree and decided to take up the back-breaking job of trolling.

WHAT HAD ONCE BEEN A DELIGHTFUL form of recreation soon turned into one of the toughest jobs we've tackled since a summer of pitching wheat more than seven years ago. Dormant muscles, from the wrist up, inactive since our more youthful days, soon started creaking and their groans proved quite a bit louder than the oars which were kept moving... but slowly.

Lake Wallenpaupack, 18 miles long and with more than 50 miles of shoreline, soon had us whipped into submission. A vicious cross-chop every morning added to this angler's troubles and for the first few days we nursed aching shoulder and back muscles, not to mention the much-abused posterior (rowboats are not equipped with cushions).

ADDING TO THE FISHERMAN'S troubles on this man-made lake are the floating forests which we decided must reach out for dangling line bug spinners and other lures dragged too close to these tackle traps. It has long ago been established that a diver could collect enough material to keep a sale of fishing equipment going for several years.

These floating branches, trunks, and sometimes entire trees, however, provided us with some of the few thrills of the week. Time after time we saw our rod bend nearly double only to find on the other end this gigantic plant which Joyce Kilmer said man couldn't make... or destroy.

A TWELVE-YEAR-OLD GIRL PUT the finishing touch on the fishing farce when she marched into the lodge with a two-pound wall-eye, hooked not by the popular line bug spinner, not by a fancy plug—but by a common, ordinary angle worm.

But despite the bad turn of fishing luck (residents reported it a bad week for the sport), we salvaged enough from the week of events to make it one of the most pleasant trips in our short life. Congenial guests, good food, and beautiful weather helped us forget the numerous disappointments on Wallenpaupack.

The best endorsement we can give is to say—we're going back.

WE CAN'T LET THIS WEEK GO BY without offering our thanks to "Fletcher's Nemesis," author of the column which appeared in last Thursday's issue.

We'll have to admit that competition as far as we're concerned would be pretty stiff, but the poetry shouldn't worry Longfellow or Lord Byron much.

We're offering a slightly used rod and reel as a prize for anyone who can detect either rhyme scheme or meter in Bill Gillespie's masterpiece.

DELCOLLO HURLS MILLMEN
TO FIRST HALF TITLE IN PLAYGROUND SOFTBALL LOOP

Mates Pound Out 12-4 Triumph Over
Playground Representatives As Bill
Gillespie Is Hit Freely; Decision
Reversed In Start Of Second Half

Continental turned loose its heavy artillery Monday night to hammer Bill (The Kid) Gillespie for ten hits and turn in a 12-4 triumph over the Playground in the Playground Softball League's first half playoff contest.

Although touched for nine safeties, Joe Delcollo, who handled the hurling assignment for the Millmen, kept his opponents' bingles well scattered throughout the seven innings.

On the other hand, Continental went right to work in the opening frame to hang up four runs and boosted its total to nine in the third when five more tallies crossed the plate. They added two more in the fourth and another in the sixth to coast to an easy victory.

After being held scoreless for two innings, Playground finally broke the ice in the third with a two-run spurge and succeeded in pushing single counters across again in the fourth and seventh.

The victory gave Continental the first-half championship with a record of four wins against one defeat for an average of .800. Playground finished second with three conquests and two setbacks for a mark of .600, while C. Y. O., now out of the loop, won two and lost two for a percentage of .500 to take show honors.

The Presbyterian Ushers and Southside deadlocked for cellar honors, each with one victory in four starts for a mark of .250.

Proving that they mean business, however, the Playground representatives came back in their first tilt of the second half to hand the Continental outfit a 7-5 trouncing.

Gillespie was credited with the victory as he limited the Millmen to seven safeties while his mates were pounding out ten basehits off Delcollo.

Both teams accounted for counters in the opening frame and Continental took a brief lead in the second when another run crossed the plate.

The Playground outfit went to work at this point, however, and came through with a five-run barrage in the third to gain a lead which they kept from that point on. Both clubs tallied again in the fourth and Continental staged a mild rally in the sixth that was cut short at two runs.

Playground now shares the second-half lead with Southside, last year's champions, who last week turned in an overwhelming 16-2 conquest over the Presbyterian Ushers.

The revised second-half schedule has been announced as follows:

Thursday, July 24 — Southside vs. Continental; Monday, July 28 — Presbyterian Ushers vs. Playground; Tuesday, July 29 — Southside vs. Playground; Monday, August 2 — Presbyterian Ushers vs. Continental.

17TH WIN

Title Clinched,
Minquedale Is
Defeated, 6-0

Continental, with the New Castle County League pennant clinched, continued to punch out victories this week as they registered their seventeenth win, a 6-0 triumph over Minquedale.

Reggie Conway and Buck Ewing shared the hurling duties for the Fibreners, holding the Chicks to four scattered hits and shutting them out without a run during the seven-inning tussle. The hurlers also led the hitting assault as each collected three safeties in four trips to the plate.

Slow to start, the Millmen, after two scoreless frames, finally accounted for two runs in the third, added three more in the fifth, and clinched the scoring in the sixth.

New Castle dropped Elmhurst to third place in the loop by handing them a 4-1 defeat as Holly Oak won two forfeited games from Marshallton in the other games.

Continental, pace-setters throughout, now tops Holly Oak, the second-place outfit by 5 1/2 games. The second-place contingent is one-half game ahead of Elmhurst which leads the fourth team, Minquedale, by a full game.

The local team will entertain Elmhurst here tonight and will face Marshallton, away on Tuesday, to wind up the schedule.

Recently a New Hampshire motorist lifted himself painfully from the wreckage of a head-on collision, hastened to the other driver, shook his fist under the man's nose, and demanded angrily, "Where's my hat?"

Eight Cars Crash

Roy Hall, of Atlanta, Ga., drove off with the 200-mile international championship stock car race at Langhorne Speedway on Sunday, leaving eight wrecked automobiles in his wake. The accidents were scattered throughout the race, as a crowd of 41,965 received more than its money's worth in excitement.

Hall, only 22 years old, held the lead throughout after gaining it in the first mile. He made only two pit stops during the 200 miles for gasoline and water.

Driving a 1939 Ford coupe, the winner, who covered the distance in two hours, 55 minutes, 25.46 seconds, finished more than a mile ahead of Rodney Lummis, of Warren, Pa., who was piloting a Mercury sedan.

Pamphlet Gives
Information On
Care And Breeding
Of Game Bird

How the bobwhite quail, one of the most popular and widely distributed game birds in the country, can be successfully raised in captivity for restocking depleted covers is explained in detail in a new publication recently issued by the United States Department of the Interior.

One man can successfully handle 40 pairs of breeding birds and their offspring at the height of the season. From this number at least 1,600 chicks should be raised to maturity, the authors say. One usually can get $1.50 each for 10-week-old birds and $5 a pair for old birds sold as breeders.

Entitled "Bobwhite Quail Propagation," the publication is Number 10 in the Department's series of Conservation Bulletins. It was written by Ralph B. Nestler and Woodrow W. Bailey, Biologists of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, cooperating with the Division of Wildlife Research, of the Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior. The bulletin is available at 10 cents a copy from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.

"Foresighted citizens have come to realize that wildlife needs help," the authors write, "and with their awakened interest have stimulated an increasing number of farmers, 4-H Club members, and others to raise upland game birds in captivity."

A native bird of Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Nebraska, South Dakota, and all States east of these except Vermont and Maine, the bobwhite has been introduced in large areas of Washington, Oregon, Montana, Colorado, North Dakota, Vermont, and Maine. It has also been introduced in smaller areas in Idaho, Utah, Arizona, and California, and in a small area of southeastern Wyoming it is a native species.

Classed as a game bird throughout nearly all of its range, the bobwhite is designated as a song bird in Ohio and is protected throughout the year in this State. In Maine, Michigan, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin there are also no open seasons.

In 1938 there were at least 324 commercial breeders of bobwhites in the United States, it was shown in a Fish

With the two outstanding contenders idle over the week-end, George E. Dutton, Jr., another favorite, led the way into the quarter-final round of the Presidents' Cup golf tournament when he handed M. D. Darrell a 6 and 5 setback at the Newark Country Club.

Roland Wollaston, club champion, who is slated to meet J. M. Grant in the second round, and B. F. (Sank) Richards, who will tangle with Wallace Williams, were idle.

In other matches played, R. H. Morris handed Robert Stewart, Sr., a 2 and 1 defeat while Dr. J. A. Paradisi was stopping M. J. Fidance by the same count. T. S. Beck took the measure of DiSabatino, 5 and 4; H. B. McCauley trounced Joseph Julian, 6 and 4, and Robert Thoroughgood emerged victorious over P. DiSabatino, 4 and 3.

Pairings were announced as follows for the defeated sixteen tournament:

Harry B. Williamson, Jr., vs. Dr. Louis A. Stearns; Donald Tammany vs. R. Y. Taggart; Wayne C. Brewer vs. Charles Walters; George Anderson, bye; Ted Ingham vs. J. M. Rhodes; Doyle McSpadden vs. W. J. Bratton; Dr. W. O. Sypherd vs. Dr. Walter Hulthen, and J. Franklin Anderson, bye.

The outstanding hurling performance of the season thus far, however, was turned in Friday night by Dom Cataldi, Darkhorse twirler, who sent seven teen batsmen down via the strikeout route as he hurled his team to a 12-0 conquest over the twice-defeated Lumbrook outfit.

Still to taste defeat, Southside, spotting Lumbrook a run in the second, finally broke the scoring ice in the fourth with a three-run upsurge. The defeated combine succeeded in knotting the count in its half of the inning, but last year's champions scored again in the sixth and topped the evening with a three-run spurt in the final frame.

The Darkhorses, shutout by Southside in the opener last week, came back in slam-bang fashion to knock off hapless Lumbrook contingent.

While Cataldi was turning in a magnificent hurling performance, his mates were enjoying a field day from the start. They opened up with a three-run assault against Ben Schaefer, Lumbrook pitcher, in the first inning, came back for more in the third and then after breather in the fourth, returned to another tally in the fifth and the more in the sixth.

Only one stretch of wildness marred Cataldi's performance which yielded only three safeties. In the sixth inning, after striking out the first batter, he issued two straight passes, came through with another strikeout, and then walked his third man of the frame to load the stacks. Marshallton, went down swinging, however, to tame the threat.

By virtue of the victory, the Darkhorses moved into second position in the game and a half back of the loop leaders, Southside. The Glants have been defeated in their only start, while Lumbrook has suffered two straight setbacks.

No Get-Rich-Quick Business

Quail propagation is not a get-rich-quick business, the authors warn. The breeder must have good common sense and managerial ability. Persons engaging in this work for the first time are cautioned against investing heavily at the start. An initial trial with two or three breeding pairs will show what success may be expected.

The authors discuss the problems of quail propagation. The selection, housing, care, and feeding of the breeding birds are explained in detail. Other sections of the leaflet are devoted to commercial and small-scale operations of incubators; housing, care of young; feeds and diets; care to be taken during winter; and disposal of stock.

For those who wish to construct their own pens, detailed drawings are included with the text, and photographs illustrate the equipment described by the authors.

Before purchasing bobwhite quail for propagation, one should write his state game commission for regulations on game-bird propagation and information as to how stock may be legally disposed of.

DELAWARE POULTRYMEN TO TOUR

Plans Complete For Trip Through New Hampshire

Plans for the New England Poultry Tour are being completed by the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association and the University of Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, co-sponsors of the trip, scheduled for August 5, 6 and 7.

A specially-arranged journey to New Hampshire by rail will take Delaware poultrymen into the heart of New England's poultry industry where they will observe production methods and see poultry stock maintained on a score of prominent farms.

Start of the three-day tour will be made from Wilmington's Front Street station at 8:30 a. m., August 5. Besides the farm visits in New Hampshire, tour stops will include poultry establishments in Maine. The return rail trip will be made on August 8.

The poultry association's tour committee reports that cost estimates for the complete trip amount to about $25. Reservations for the tour will be received by A. E. Tomhave or H. L. Richardson at the University of Delaware between now and August 2.

Richardson reports—"Delaware buys large numbers of baby chicks and hatching eggs from New England yearly for its broiler industry. Our low-cost tour will allow Delaware poultry producers to see where the baby chicks and eggs come from and how they are produced."

A teacher suggests that every child should be taught a foreign language, English, for example.
