

BOY SCOUT MEETING LED INTO POLITICS

Moley, Dinner Speaker, Diverts Session; Many Are Honored

By Charles H. Rutledge
(An Honest Observation)

Harry L. Mencken once wrote that all candidates defeated for the presidency of the United States should be taken out and shot. In the opinion of presidential aspirants, a setback at the polls immediately becomes a menace and should be eradicated.

It should be with ex-members of the original Brain Trust, men who lack tact to the extent of discussing partisan political matters at a Boy Scout meeting such as Professor Raymond Moley did at the Hotel Du Pont, Wilmington, Tuesday night.

The ex-White House secretary, one of the first foul-ball hitters to be given the gate by the New Deal, Moley, all around the ornate duPont Room of the famous hostelry, in speech was without rhyme or reason at that particular time and place.

Spurred Introduction
Charles H. Gant, president of the Delaware Council, Boy Scouts of America, under whose auspices the dinner-meeting was held, introduced Professor Moley as an editor, scholar and an ex-White House secretary.

"But," added Mr. Gant, "our speaker of the evening is here as a Scout leader and as the father of two Boy Scouts."

The introduction and the fact that he was addressing a Scout group would have been a tipoff to the professor regarding a topic. But he adopted the Boy Scout slogan, "Be Prepared," and he wasn't to be diverted.

Following a series of well-uh, uh, and-uh, uh, and plain, uh, which marked his otherwise abrupt opening remarks, Professor Moley settled down to the job of reading his prepared speech about governmental interference with business.

Passed Way Over
Regardless of personal opinion concerning the subject and contents of the professor's trite discourse, delivered at the annual gathering to celebrate the accomplishments of Boy Scouts, it was as out of place as a sky Alabama cotton picker at a Kluge Klan meeting.

At the termination of the speech, the professor ejected a few constitutional remarks aimed at the Scouts and their sponsors. Few of the assemblage heard them, however. The greater portion of the audience, denoting interest in Boy Scouts by their very presence, surmised hope of hearing anything relating to a suitable topic soon after the professor swung into action.

His speech "went over" in a big way. It was not only broadcast, but was given plenty of space in Wilmington's morning and afternoon papers yesterday. With the immediate audience "went over," it right over the heads of the Scouts.

The Scouts and many of their sponsors couldn't figure what it was about, while a good portion of the remaining people at the dinner, through it all in bored silence, muted disappointment.

Youngster "Steals" Show
Things took a normal turn when Scout Charles G. Shoemaker, 11, delivered a well-phrased, ably stated report on the council's annual jamboree. Sustained applause greeted the youngster, which came as a pleasant relief after the Moley harangue.

Another bright feature of the evening was provided by Judge Charles A. Curtis who delivered a series of impressive speeches in awarding awards to Clarence S. Weber, Middleton, and Garfield Weber, Jr., scoutmaster of Troop 10, St. Andrew's Church, Wilmington, September, 1937.

Mr. Gant and William J. B. Reynolds, Jr., were presented with coveted beaver awards, the highest honor by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, for service to the organization through scouting. The presentations were made by A. D. Warren, Sr., a silver beaver award.

Student Leads Singing
Kreshool, University of Delaware student, did a talented job of leading the community singing, accompanied by Horace Huster, Philadelphia, on an electric organ.

Following an able Scout, Mr. Gant, at Camp Rodney, Delaware, was appointed summer campmaster near North East, Md.

Richard C. McMullen, elected chairman of the executive board and Mr. Gant was re-elected.

University Drama Group Rehearsing New Play

Tickets To Go On Sale Friday; Cast Selected

According to the announcement made by Dr. P. K. Musselman, business manager, tickets for "The Devil Passes," which will be presented in Mitchell Hall on Friday, February 4, by the University Drama Group, will go on sale tomorrow at Rhodes Drug Store.

Rehearsal for more than a week under the direction of Mrs. C. Robert Kase, this play, reported to be one of the most stirring comedy dramas ever written, was originally produced in New York in 1931. The cast included such well-known stage names as Arthur Byron, Diana Wynyard, Cecilia Loftus, Robert Lorraine and Basil Rathbone.

Cast Selected

Members of the local group who have been assigned parts are: Miss Betty McKelvey, Miss Katherine Ort, Almer Reiff, Richard Cooch, Dr. Cyrus L. Day, Mrs. Carl J. Rees, Curtis Potts and Mr. and Mrs. G. Tiggart Evans.

Committee chairman for the production are: Mrs. Evans, production manager; Miss Jane Newcomb, costumes; Lt. Col. Donald M. Ashbridge, scenery; Mrs. Musselman, properties; and Miss Esther Still, make-up.

The play deals with an unusual group of people in a country cottage who, through the mysterious intervention of a stranger learn a surprising amount about themselves and each other before the week-end is over.

Commenting on the play in the New York Herald-Tribune, Percy Hammond said: "The interesting persons and insinuating circumstances make sound entertainment and enroll it among the more solid diversions."

The University Drama Group scored a smash hit with its presentation of "The Dead Sister's Secret," last year.

Delaware Employment Above National Average

Unemployment in Delaware was 3.4 per cent, compared with 4.5 per cent for the country as a whole at the time of the unemployment census in November.

Iowa had the lowest percentage of unemployment, 2.4. Census Director John D. Biggers reported to President Roosevelt this week. In addition 9 of the 10 states were working for the WPA, CCC and other emergency agencies. The national figure was 1.5 per cent.

Other low states listed were: North Carolina and Vermont, 2.7 per cent, totally unemployed; Nevada, Arizona and Virginia, 3.1 per cent; Nebraska and Wyoming, 3.3 per cent; Kansas and Maryland, 3.5 per cent.

Drivers And Garage Workers Do Dangerous Things Around Work

According to the Delaware Safety Council, in spite of the great number of accidents which have resulted from gasoline explosions, drivers and garage workers continue to do things which endanger not only their own lives, but the lives and property of others. It seems needless to caution against the use of matches, cigars, cigarettes, and other open flames near gasoline, or near oil-soaked rags and clothing.

In drawing or pouring gasoline from one container to another, static electric sparks may be developed. It is advisable always to keep the two containers in contact with each other, or to attach a chain to the pouring container which will maintain the contact. This will lead off the electric charge and prevent sparking. Sparks often result from striking together two pieces of metal. It is best to use kerosene instead of gasoline when

FEES ARE REDUCED

Pennsylvania Drops Drivers' Licenses To $1

All Pennsylvania automobile operators' licenses for 1938 will cost $1 each, Secretary of Revenue J. Griffith Boardman declared this week in nailing a rumor that a special charge was to be made for paid operators.

"The Bureau of Motor Vehicles has received numerous inquiries from all over the state asking if a special operator's license at a higher fee is necessary for professional chauffeurs, truck drivers or persons driving cars registered in other than their own name," Boardman said.

Rumor Unfounded
"According to the rumor which is apparently receiving wide circulation, it is necessary to pay $5 for one of these special 1938 licenses. This rumor is absolutely without foundation. There is no such thing as a paid operator's license in Pennsylvania and there has not been for many years."

"The universal operator's license law became effective on March 1, 1924, with the license fee set at $1. Several years later the fee was increased to $2 where it remained until Governor Earle called for the present reduction to $1 which becomes effective for 1938."

Boardman stated that applications for 1938 operator's licenses would be mailed out by the Bureau late this month.

Mrs. J. R. Fader To Meet With Auxiliary Chairmen

Mrs. John R. Fader will represent the Department of Delaware under the activities of the American Legion Auxiliary for 1938 are adopted at a meeting of the national executive committee, which will be held at national headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind., January 22 and 23.

The session will be attended by committee members from every state, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, Alaska and the Panama Canal Zone. Mrs. Malcolm Douglas, of Seattle, Wash., national president, will have charge of the meeting.

Chimney Fire Extinguished By Local Firemen

The Actna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company extinguished a chimney fire on Monday at the home of Roy Reynolds, of Mechanicsville. The blaze, believed to have started near the kitchen ceiling, caused about $100 damage.

Fire Extinguishers

Every motor vehicle should carry a tetrachloride fire extinguisher. For garage use probably the best fire extinguisher is one of the foam type. Never use water on a gasoline or oil fire; it will spread the fire. A mixture of sawdust and soda (about 10 pounds of bicarbonate of soda to a bushel of sawdust) is a good solution to put out oil fires. Sand is also used effectively.

The drip pan, side pans and car in general should be kept clean and free from excessive oil. If present, excessive oil may be much to spread flames in case of fire.

Portable Electric Lights
If extension cords are used for portable electric lights, it is necessary to guard against electric shock and fires resulting from electric

Visiting Nurse Asso. To Send Bills This Week

With their resources almost drained, the annual appeal of the directors of the Newark Visiting Nurse Association is being made this week to regular subscribers of the organization.

As expenses mount each year due to the gradual increase in population and the growing popularity of the service rendered, only a small amount of money is in excess each year, not sufficient to meet the demand in case of emergencies.

Alice M. Leuk, registered nurse employed by the association since its organization, made a total of 3,322 visits during the year 1937, including 2,379 nursing and 943 instructive calls. This exceeds the 1936 number of 3,208 by 114 steps, and shows a remarkable increase over the 1927 number of 1,700.

Response "Splendid"

Mrs. C. O. Houghton, president of the organization, announced that the response from the people has been "splendid" but, although the cost of services rendered has never exceeded the income, there has not been an opportunity to keep an excess of funds on hand which could be used if absolutely necessary.

Membership in the association consists of local industrial organizations, fraternal groups, clubs and some individual patrons. Limited contributions are received from the State Board of Health, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and the Equitable Assurance Society.

Following a request by citizens in 1926, the late S. J. Wright, assisted by Dr. Wallace M. Johnson, was instrumental in forming the association. Officers, recently re-elected, are: Mrs. Houghton, president; Dr. G. W. Rhodes, vice-president; Mrs. E. L. Richards, secretary; and C. C. Hubert, treasurer. Other directors are: Dr. John B. Downes, Miss M. Elsie Wright, D. A. McClintock and Raymond E. Stone, recently appointed.

FIREMEN'S MEETING HELD HERE

Essay Contest Prizes To Be Awarded Feb. 10

According to the announcement made by William Kirk at the meeting of the New Castle County Volunteer Firemen's Association held here Thursday night, prizes in the New Castle County fire prevention essay contest will be awarded on February 10 at the Brandywine Hundred firehouse, Bellefonte.

A uniform set of signals for county companies was urged by Chief J. Earl Cunningham of Newport. Walter Hubert read a letter from Arthur M. Potter of the Red Cross, offering assistance in establishing first aid training.

According to Warren Pettyjohn, state secretary, the firemen's memorial at Dover is out of proportion. He suggested that some action be taken to make the statue a credit to firemen.

Fire Marshal Law

A state fire marshal law is needed, Fred Brown, of Minquadeau, said in reviewing occurrences at recent fires. He announced he hoped to have a measure introduced at the next session of the Legislature similar in provisions to the Wilmington ordinance.

E. S. Jones, oldest living charter member of the Middletown company, discussed the history of Delaware volunteer companies which he is now compiling.

A resolution was presented by Mr. Kirk on the death of Fire Marshal Edward A. Donohue, of Wilmington. A social hour was in charge of a committee from the Actna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company.

Sale Of Automobile Tags Show Gain Over Year Ago

Motor Vehicle Department officials in Dover stated this week there is a large increase in both the number of persons obtaining Delaware automobile tags and in the amount of money collected from the sale of license plates.

Officials said the figures are now being tabulated and as soon as reports have been received from the Wilmington office, where the largest sales are made over the counter, and are compiled with those from Georgetown and Dover, the report will be completed.

Figures will show, it was said, a substantial increase in the number of tags sold.

The club which now has a membership of 200, will take in new members in February.

E-52 Players To Present "Excursion" Feb. 24

The E-52 Players, dramatic organization at the University of Delaware, has just announced the selection of last year's Broadway success, "Excursion," for production on February 24.

Only recently released for amateur production, this play ran on the New York stage until the middle of last summer.

Tryouts for the cast of over 25 characters have been held almost daily for the last week in Mitchell Hall. The cast will be announced soon and rehearsals will begin the first of February, after the mid-year examinations. Dr. C. R. Kase will direct the production.

Kirk Takes Over Reins Of Junior Organization

"Past Counselor Rodger E. Dobson called the American Flag Council No. 28, Jr. O. U. A. M. to order, after which he relinquished the gavel to the newly-installed Councilor James E. Kirk," according to A. Neal Smythe, publicity chairman of that organization.

Officers of Old Glory Council of Delaware City will be installed to-night by members of the local lodge.

Guests from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky and Delaware have been invited to attend the celebration of the juniors' forty-first anniversary on Monday, January 31, in the Newark New Century Club. A banquet and dancing will be included in the evening's entertainment.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN ANNUAL GATHERING

Mayor Woodford Of Dover To Speak; Haney Is Chairman

More than 50 members, officers, directors and guests are expected to attend the annual dinner-meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce at Old College, University of Delaware, Monday night.

According to Vice President George M. Haney, chairman of the committee arranging the affair, it promises to be one of the most enthusiastic steps toward the advancement of the commerce chamber.

As a special feature of the program, J. Wallace Woodford, who was re-elected mayor of Dover this week for the fourteenth successive term, will deliver the principal speech. Musical entertainment will also feature the program.

George F. Jackson, president since the organization was revived in April last year, will officiate at the dinner. He will also present a resume of accomplishments during his term in office.

Johnston Toastmaster

John K. Johnston, vice president of the National Vulcanized Fibre Company, a member of the chamber's board of directors and one of the most entertaining after-dinner speakers in the state, will act as toastmaster.

Among the invited guests are Mayor Frank Collins and the entire Council of Newark. Other civic, business, industrial and fraternal leaders will also attend.

Three directors, J. E. Dougherty, treasurer; Weldon C. Waples and George Danby, whose terms expired December 31, have been nominated for re-election. Other directors have one and two more years to serve.

New officers will be chosen or the present ones renominated following the filling of vacancies on the board of directors. Under the by-laws of the organization, officers are elected by the directors from members of the board.

The dinner, which will be served at 6 o'clock, is free to members of the chamber.

Unemployment Commis'n To Hold Competitive Test

Competitive examinations have been announced by the Delaware Unemployment Compensation Commission to fill two posts. One of the openings is listed as an administrative assistant at $3,000 a year, and the other is an administrative aide at $1,980 annually.

Applications and information are obtainable from Dr. Charles M. Wharton, executive director, New Castle.

HOME EDUCATION

INFERIORITY LAURA GRAY

"Oh, those Fleming children are all so painfully slow to learn! Why the two older boys remained in one grade in school for two years, and this fall the little one, Bill, has just started!" Mrs. Todd was indulging in a talk across the fence with her neighbor, Mrs. Burt.
"Very likely he'll be just as stupid!" responded Mrs. Burt.
There was a sound on the path and Bill Fleming darted past.
"Hope he didn't hear!" whispered
Mrs. Todd.
"Good thing if he did! Make him work, perhaps."
But six-year-old Bill trotted on to school with a vague ache in his little heart. The Flemings couldn't learn—he himself was like the rest.
It was something sad that couldn't be helped.

"Hoodoo" Handicap

He'd heard similar remarks before and the "hoodoo" hung over him, making him shy, self-conscious, afraid. How different was Cyril Small, the bright boy, who always jumped to open the door for Teacher. He was always chosen to run errands, to go to the storeroom for a supply of pencils, or up to the principal's room with a note.

But today there was a new teacher, a substitute, in place of Miss Strong, one Bill had never seen before. She was a pretty girl with kindly eyes. She looked straight at the lad and said, "Will you work these examples on the board, so that the rest may correct theirs by your answers?"
Bill looked around in bewilderment—not that he was afraid of the task—number work was his hobby, although he seldom bothered to complete his exercises in school. He hesitated.

Bill Not Good

Cyril Small jumped to his feet.
"Please, Miss, Bill isn't very good at numbers. He always gets it!"
"I'd like Bill to try," she answered, looking confidently at the boy and smiling.

Bill walked up and quickly worked the whole set correctly. He hadn't done them in his book.
What's the use—when you're the prize stupid in the school?

Silent surprise spread through the room. Bill had been asked to do something and had done it well.
A vague sense of self-esteem was at that moment awakened in Bill's breast. The attitude of his fellows toward him was changed.

"Give a dog a bad name—might as well hang him," are words as true today as when they were first uttered. To have someone believe in us is a tremendous help. And this surely is the loving privilege of those at home. If our families have no faith in us, who will have?
Genuine praise, honestly given, is to a timid child as fresh coals to a dying fire. In fact the realization of one's own ability is the beginning of success in life.

Exaggerated Opinion

Of course there is the other extreme to guard against. We all know the mother's darling who is called to show off on every occasion. This child gets an exaggerated opinion of his importance. But honest praise for anything well

GLASGOW

By Mrs. J. Leslie Ford

Glasgow, Jan. 19—Mrs. Mary A.
Frazer returned to her home on Tuesday from Union Hospital, Elkton, Md., accompanied by Mrs. Alice Wilson.

Mrs. Chlotilda Dayett has been confined to her home for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Ford and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. David D. Ford, of Norwood, Pa.

Misses Mary and Florence Dayett spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs.
Gordon Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. William Highman of Middletown, and Mr. and Mrs.
Francis Crowe, of Newark moved to Glasgow this week.

The Ladies of Glasgow M. E.

Jan. 22.

P.T.A. Holds Session

The Welsh Tract P.T.A. held its monthly meeting last Thursday.
A program was given by the teacher, Miss Barbara Green, and her pupils.

Mrs. Myrna McElwee is again able to be out after a tonsil operation.
Miss Helen Thompson, of Wilmington, has been spending some time with her sister Mrs. L. W.
McElwee.

Mrs. Amanda Johnson announced the marriage of her daughter, Helen Amanda to Mr. Hazel Burrows, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Burrows, near Ogleton, on Saturday evening. They were attended by Miss Elizabeth Reed and Mr. George Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Howell of Philadelphia spent Sunday with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Amanda Johnson.

done, or even bravely attempted,
may be given unstintingly.

One mother whose little girl was doing well with her music tried to show her daughter that this gift should be used to serve others. So Mona was called upon to play at her party while her guests carried on a game. Here was a new idea—no one listening or admiring the girl at the piano, but the game and the pleasure of others depending upon her playing well. So she patiently kept on, with pauses between her selections, for a full half hour, though she would have liked to stop and join in the game herself.

Outstanding ability, even in small things, brings with it the joyous opportunity for service, and this thought should be planted very early in a child's mind. But the boy or girl who is made to feel inferior is hindered in self-expression.
In this way he is retarded in development and so prevented from making his best possible contribution to society.

Going UP UP UP UP UP!

In less than two years, since March,
1936, to be exact, the Post's circu-522%

and new readers are being added weekly!

When the present management and editorial staff took command of the Post less than twenty-three short months ago, the NET PAID circulation of the paper was 353. By January 1, 1937, the figure had increased to 1,700 subscribers PAID IN Concerted and continued efforts to improve the paper during the year just ended gave us a NET PAID circulation

There is nothing phenomenal connected with the story. Nothing astounding has taken place. The Post has merely been revived to the point where the majority of the people in Newark and vicinity read it, consider it a vital part of the community.

Friendliness, support of the paper, constructive criticism, honest complaints and other acts of interest by the public at large are responsible for our advancement. We, of the Post, appreciate the response to our efforts. We, in turn, pledge ourselves to work constantly to-

In 1938 WATCH TWO NEW FORD CARS

Go By

• Ford was the first to give you economy in an automobile.

Ford was also first in giving you V-8 performance at low cost.

For 1938, the Ford Motor Company gives you still greater value with two new Ford V-8 cars—each specially designed to meet a particular need.

The new De Luxe Ford V-8 lifts low-price motoring to new levels of luxury.
De Luxe in appearance and appointments.
De Luxe in performance, too, because of its 85-horsepower V-8 engine. The longer sedan bodies have more room and more luggage space.

The new Standard Ford V-8 is built on the same 112-inch wheelbase as the De Luxe Ford. Newly designed. Choice of two engine sizes—85 horsepower or 60 horsepower. More than 300,000 people have purchased the thrifty "60." Many owners reported 22 to 27 miles a gallon.

AN EDISON MONUMENT

A unique monument to the memory of Thomas A. Edison will be dedicated at Menlo Park, N. J., on February 11, the 91st anniversary of the great inventor's birth. It will be a tower surmounted by a powerful beacon in the form of an electric light bulb, its total height being 131 feet.

The "bulb" is constructed of 164 pieces of ground glass, each weighing 65 pounds, held in place by a steel framework, and inside will be 960 electric lights having a total power of 5,200 watts. The bulb is 14 feet high and weighs three tons.

In the tower at a height of 106 feet an organ and loud speakers will be installed, and the total cost of the completed monument will be approximately $100,000, donated by William S. Barstow, an eminent electrical engineer, whose association with Edison began in 1887.

The monument will stand over the exact site of the workshop where Edison developed many of his important inventions, including the incandescent electric light, the 50th anniversary of which was widely celebrated in 1929.

THE MACHINE AGE

Those who blame machines for causing unemployment may be right in certain specific instances, but only temporarily, because new inventions in the long run tend to create more employment and a better standard of living.

At the recent Congress of Industry in New York City the machine age was defended by three of the world's most eminent scientists—Dr. Edward R. Weidlein, president of the American Chemical Society; Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Dr. Robert A. Millikan, president of the California Institute of Technology.

All three agreed that scientific development and invention are necessary to industrial progress, and all rejected the idea that labor-saving devices destroy jobs. Dr. Compton expressed the general view of the scientists when he said:

"The automobile, communication, chemical, public utility, railroad and modern food industries stand out as examples of what science can do in creating employment. Research in pure science, followed by invention and engineering development, have produced these results."

SPYING ON HOUSEWIVES

Several newspapers have commented recently on the so-called Green River anti-peddling ordinance, which illustrates the extremes to which some authorities will go in the matter of regulating our daily lives. A provision of this ordinance, which has been proposed in a number of municipalities, is that no salesman may call at the home of a prospective customer without an invitation.

At first glance, this might appear to be a reasonable measure designed to keep objectionable persons from annoying housewives. But its terms are so broad as to affect everyone without exception.

It would make lawbreakers of a little girl selling her fudge, a boy with his magazines, a farmer with his produce, a subscription solicitor for a home town newspaper, a local widow taking orders for hosiery and the like, and many other persons engaged in a worthy pursuit.

In vetoing such an ordinance an Ohio mayor recently declared it would give any vengeful neighbor a pretext to spy on the housewives in the vicinity, and that its provisions could not be enforced with justice. He therefore properly refused to permit the city's statute books to be cluttered up with such rubbish.

FLIRTING WITH DEATH

It is an amazing fact that the appalling number of deaths and injuries which result from sheer carelessness make no greater impression upon the average person. This is especially true with respect to drivers of automobiles.

Persons who are ordinarily careful in protecting their health and property often throw discretion to the winds the moment they grasp the wheel of a motor car, and flirt with death through failing to observe the most elementary principles of safety.

They will take a chance at a grade crossing, speed while rounding a blind curve, pass other cars under dangerous conditions, and do other foolish things which menace life and limb—seemingly oblivious to the fact that one slight mistake of judgment may prove fatal to them or to those who happen to be passengers in their cars.

The jaywalker is equally reckless, taking the chance of being run down for the sake of saving a few steps or a moment's time. In fact, many pedestrians are even more careless than the average motorist.

Safety education has been the means of reducing accidents to some slight extent, but the lamentable fact remains that no amount of warning has any appreciable effect upon the majority of people.

The result is that 37,000 or more persons are killed and about a million are injured in automobile accidents in the United States every year, while at least 90 per cent. of these casualties might be averted by the use of ordinary common sense.

Sam James, 76, and Mrs. James, 19, residents of Wyomere, Neb., recently became the parents of a son.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT CHURCH

Dedication Of New Auditorium To Be Held

By Miss Emma S. Maclary
Newport, Jan. 19.—A week of special services are being held at the Newport M. E. Church this week preparatory to the dedication of the remodeled and enlarged church building.

Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, of Washington, D. C., will be in charge of the dedicatory service next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, and a cordial welcome is extended to all to attend this service. Dr. W. E. Gunby, district superintendent, will be the guest speaker at the morning service this Sunday. Speakers during the week have been Rev. M. W. Marine, pastor of Harrison Street M. E. Church, and Rev. O. A. Bartley, pastor of Brandywine M. E. Church, who has been keenly interested in the project since the work started.

Wednesday night was "Musical Night," and was in charge of the choir, which presented the history of old hymns, as well as musical selections, and Mrs. Marion Green, organist, entertained with an organ recital on the new pipe organ. Mrs. Bluma J. Tatman, of Wilmington, is director of the choir. Friday night will be "Every Member Night," and the Rev. Oliver J. Collins, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church, Wilmington, will be the speaker.

Children immunized treatments and tests were given at the Krebs School on Wednesday afternoon by Dr. J. R. Downes, state health doctor. Many of the children of this section had already been immunized, but an effort is being made to have all children treated as rapidly as possible.

Thursday night will be "Open School Night" at the school. The P. T. A. has arranged the open night as its monthly meeting. This feature was inaugurated last year, and was so interesting to the parents that it was decided to repeat the program on Thursday night. Teachers will conduct regular classes and pupils will attend this special session. It is thought that a visit to the school is interesting to parents, but many are prohibited from visiting during the day. Mrs. Walter Blank is the new president of the association, and at a brief business session, will outline the scheduled program of activities, as arranged by the executive board at a recent session. A membership campaign is now underway, with Mrs. C. O. Bratton, membership chairman, in charge.

The third grade pupils conducted a toy show at the school this week. The proud owners of new toys given them at Christmas exhibited them in the auditorium of the school. The electric trains and mechanical toys which held sway on the stage, and the doll department were special features. Children of other grades as well as faculty members, were invited to view the exhibit.

Week-end Campment
Newport Boy Scout Troop No. 73 at its meeting Friday evening, made definite plans for an encampment at Camp Rodney, this week-end. The boys will be accompanied by Scout Master Harvey Wilgus, as well as S. N. Tammany, and C. O. Bratton, members of the boy scout committee.

The Minquas Fire Company has completed repairs and painting of the first floor of the building which is a big improvement to the property.

The Altar Guild of the St. James P. Church, Newport, will meet on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. Thomas Berry, No. 12 Westmont Avenue, Silverside.

The Women's Bible Class of the Newport M. E. Sunday School, held its monthly business meeting and social Monday evening. It was decided to hold an oyster supper on February 24. A program of entertainment was presented by Mrs. Blanche Mahan, including musical selections and games.

Mrs. Robert Frist underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Delaware Hospital, Wilmington, on Tuesday. Her condition is favorable.

Editor's Mail Bag

We'll Need Help
(Mrs. Harry L. Bonham, 22 Amstel Avenue, contributes the following verse. The kind lady evidently senses our need for encouragement.—Ed.)

An editor at the pearly gate,
His face looked worn and old;
He asked the man of fate
For admission to the fold.
"What have you done," asked Peter,
"To seek admission here?"
"I used to run a paper
On earth for many a year."
The gate swung open sharply
As Peter touched the bell.
"Come in and take your harp,
my son.
You've had enough of Hell."

SINGING PILOT

Avis Chandler

Youthful "blues singer," who has been featured at the Green Lantern Inn for the last several weeks, Miss Chandler is an aviation enthusiast. A native of Boston, the 22-year-old vocal artist continues to study flying while on tour. She expects to qualify for a pilot's license this spring.

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
WILLIAM F. ALLEN

THIS WEEK I HAVE taken up with the Secretary of the Navy the matter of naming one of the new battleships "Delaware" in honor of our State. We are certainly entitled to this recognition from the Navy Department and I hope my request can be granted.

OBJECTIVES OF THE SESSION
—The President states his objectives for the new session. A wage and hour bill; authorization for government reorganization; crop control legislation; relief funds; curtailment of expenditures in a way that necessary government functions will not be endangered; national income must be raised to produce larger tax revenues and change in present taxes without causing losses.

ECONOMIES—The President is determined to cut government expenses at this time; he has recommended several curtailments to Congress among which are: Curtailment of several general public works programs such as river and harbor improvements and buildings because they do not provide as much employment as other types of work. Reclamation projects are to be stopped until those now under construction are nearly completed. Public building should be continued only on a small basis so that capital investment will be returned by savings in annual operating costs. Reduction of highway construction grants. Some of the expenditures will remain the same and a few will be boosted but in general, the program is economy.

FURTHER DROPS IN MEAT PRICES DUE—Consumers are not yet getting the full benefit of drops in prices of live meat animals, according to the AAA. Prices paid at stockyards for cattle, hogs, and lambs have been falling rapidly to levels below those received a year ago. While meat prices to consumers have declined for 4 consecutive months, and are approaching a more normal relationship to other retail food prices, they have still some distance to go before they reflect the sizeable drops which have occurred in prices paid to farmers.

POTATO SURPLUS BOUGHT FOR RELIEF USE—Nearly 3 million bushels of the 1937 potato and sweet potato crops had been purchased for relief distribution by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation. Purchases of Irish potatoes were 4.3 per cent. of the carlot shipments since June 17. Purchases from the 1937 crop started June 17. The FSCC had bought, through December 31, a total of 2,660,200 bushels of white (Irish) potatoes and 326,000 bushels of sweet potatoes.

Not To Be Outdone
"Down where I live," said the Texan, "we grew a pumpkin so big that when we cut it my wife used one half of it for a cradle."
"Well," smiled the man from Chicago, "that's nothing. A few days ago, right here, two full-grown policemen were found asleep on one beat."

WOMEN'S COLLEGE

By SYLVIA PHELPS

Necessary Evil!

Mid-year examinations, the evil of all necessary evils of school life, are here again. First semester classes ended on Tuesday and Wednesday is to be a day of rest before we plunge into the tests. From Thursday, January 20, until Thursday, January 27, three-hour examinations in all courses will be in progress.

The Women's College should be especially proud that it can use the Honor System in every test, including the semester examinations. Under this system, every girl is put on her honor not to give or receive any information during the examination. Many other colleges have tried this method without success. Its use at W. C. D. places a great responsibility upon each girl to be strictly honest, as Jessalyn Gordy, president of the Student Self Government Association reminded the student body in Chapel last Thursday.

W-C-D

Guest of School
Miss Elizabeth Osborne, a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, was the guest of the Women's College on Monday and Tuesday. An expert on proper pose, grooming and clothes, Miss Osborne talked to the college as a group twice during her stay, giving valuable information on making a pleasant impression on those around us. She also had individual conferences with Junior and Senior girls, in which she discussed their problems personally.

Eleven Sophomore Home Economics students will take a three-day trip to New York City after the examinations. With Miss Henrietta Fleck, Miss Amy Rextrew and Miss Emma Ehlers as chaperones, the group will go to New York on Thursday evening, January 27, and will return on Sunday evening. They will spend the time visiting places of interest in the metropolis, including Radio City, Riverside Church and the International House. They will also attend the broadcast of the Magic Key program on Sunday afternoon. The group's headquarters will be at Hotel Taft.

Garage Workers

causes. It is therefore advisable to use vapor-proof globe and further protected with a rigid cage to prevent breakage. It is also advisable to have armored cable instead of ordinary electric cord; this should be kept in good condition. When it is necessary to jack up the car and get underneath, be sure the car is held up securely. Be especially careful if any of the wheels have been removed. Block the other wheels to keep them from moving. If the support should give away, the car may fall and crush you. It is best to use a pit if possible. Never depend on jacks when it is necessary to get under the car. Horses are better supports than jacks, ordinary boxes, or blocks. Remember, the brakes are not operative when the rear wheels are jacked up off the ground.

When in the garage, the engine should not be run longer than necessary. Carbon monoxide is contained in the exhaust gases, and unless the garage is fairly well ventilated may cause headaches, other discomforts, and even death to the persons in the garage.

Careful of Crank

If you haven't a self-starter, be careful not to break your arm when cranking. Always pull the crank up, not down, and don't spin it unless absolutely necessary. When grasping the crank, place thumb on same side of handle with the fingers, then if there is a kick-back, handle will slip from hand. Keep the spark retarded until the engine has started.

Be careful when working around or using rags near rotating fan. Keep wrenches and other tools in good condition; if badly worn they should be discarded.

Enter and leave the garage slowly. Street car motorists, pedestrians, children, other drivers, and garage workers may not be looking.

Don't drive too close to the gasoline pump at garage or filling stations and always be sure to shut off the engine when the tank is being filled with gasoline.

VII—Amazing Results From Fresh Collar Treatment

DIAGNOSIS: Signs of deterioration and age evident at neckline. Collar has lost freshness and is losing contact with former connections, because of broken bastings. Warm water and soap and complete readjustment strongly recommended.
Prescription: 1 Fresh Collar; 1 Spool ballfast mercerized sewing thread to match Frock; 1 Needle No. 5 or No. 6.
Method of Treatment: Pin center back of collar to center back of neckline; then baste toward the ends of the collar from the pin. Fasten ends of thread with several back-stitches. Use thread to match the dress and stitches will not show if the collar is sheer or if a breeze blows it up so the basting is exposed.

Social Events Around Newark

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Price Mark Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Price

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Price, 158 Academy Street, were guests of honor at a reception held Saturday evening in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Price, who are enjoying the best of health, have made their home with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Slack, for the past few years.

For the reception, the home was beautifully decorated in gold and white and an orchestra, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Little, cornetist and pianist, respectively; Dr. Millard Brobst and Fred Strickland, violins, and Dr. Earl Gillilan, drums, played for the dance which followed. Mr. Little also rendered several selections on the accordion.

Many Guests Present

Among those present were: Ex-Senator and Mrs. Lewis Price, of Smyrna; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelly, Massey, Md.; Dr. and Mrs. J. Earl Gillilan and daughter, Dorothea; Price Stradley, Mrs. Emma Vassant and Miss Flossie Jones, of Glenora, Md.; Kenneth Price, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stradley, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Price and daughter, Anna Ray, and Mrs. Katharine Appleby, of Middletown; Mr. and Mrs. John Biddle, of Delaware City; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hyland, Mrs. Martha Crosswell, William Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Andrews and daughter, Emma; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ash and daughter, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dickson and daughters, Dorothy and Thelma; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Keen, Mr. and Mrs. Layton Mahoney, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Price and son, Tommy; Mrs. Harry Blackburn, Miss Irma Jaquet, of Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davidson, and John Wittig, of Chester, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dennison, of Hockessin; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Slack and children, John, Marie and Bobby; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Little, Mrs. David Major, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stickley and daughter Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Price and son, Billy; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belling, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Rittenhouse, Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lovett, Alec Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Slack and children, Naudain and Herbert, all of Newark.

Prior to taking up residence here, Mr. and Mrs. Price formerly lived near Glasgow.

Girl Born January 10 To Former Newark Residents

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sanborn, of Woodlyn, Pa., are being congratulated on the birth of a girl, Evelyn Ann, on Monday, January 10, in Crozier Hospital, Upland, Pa. At the time of birth, the infant weighed eight pounds, six ounces.

Mr. Sanborn is the son of the late E. D. Sanborn, former telegraph operator at the Newark branch of the B. & O. station, while Mrs. Sanborn will be remembered as Becky Pardee, companion to Mrs. Jones, wife of Dr. Edgar Jones, former rector of St. Thomas' P. E. Church.

Soil Conservation Pays Big Dividends, But

Federal officials recently made public a list showing that 32 farmers in the country received benefit payments of more than $10,000 each for participating in last year's soil conservation program. These were mere pikers, however, compared with several big shots who received around a million dollars each for not raising crops in 1935.

Miss Caroline Cobb To Wed Mr. Emil B. Powell Saturday

Presbyterian Church Is Scene Of Ceremony

BRIDE SATURDAY

Miss Caroline J. Cobb

The marriage of Miss Caroline Julia Cobb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex D. Cobb, Sr., 213 West Main Street, to Mr. Emil B. Powell, son of Mr. J. A. Powell and the late Mrs. Powell, of Pooler, Ga., will take place at four o'clock Saturday afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church of Newark. The Rev. H. Everett Hallman will perform the ceremony.

Members of the wedding party will be: Miss Louise Hutchison and Miss Margaret Waples, both of Newark, maids of honor; and the Misses Betty Manchester and Mary Alice LaMotte, of Wilmington, Miss Virginia Wilson, of Newark, and Mrs. Z. W. Meeks, of Washington, D. C., a sister of the groom, bridesmaids.

Theodore B. Powell, of Belton, S. C., the groom's brother, will be best man, while William Cobb, of Kenil, N. J.; Lawrence Pierce, of New York City; Roy Brewer and Henry Reeves, both of Wilmington; Z. W. Meeks, of Washington, D. C.; and Alex D. Cobb, Jr., a brother of the bride, will act as ushers.

Miss Nellie B. Wilson will play the wedding music.

Miss Ada Margaret Meeks, of Washington, D. C., will be flower girl and Dicky Cobb, brother of the bride, will be ring bearer.

Miss Cobb, who will be given in marriage by her father, is a graduate of the Newark High School and of the Women's College, University of Delaware. She served as town librarian and was also employed as secretary to Lt.-Col. Donald M. Ashbridge, head of the Business Guidance Bureau at the University of Delaware.

Mr. Powell, a graduate of the Georgia School of Technology, is a member of the Theta Chi Fraternity and is employed at the Birmingham, Alabama, branch of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Company.

Immediately following a reception for friends and relatives of the bride and groom, the couple will leave for Birmingham, where they will reside.

Electric Iron Useful But Needs Care

Fragile Elements On Inside Do Not Withstand Dropping and Rough Use

A good electric iron is a sturdy piece of equipment, strongly made of well-plated metal. But the connections to the heating element concealed inside of it may be jarred if the iron is dropped. Dropping may also cause the pointed end to roughen so that it snags delicate fabrics.

The sole plate will not give a smooth clean finish to garments if it becomes scratched or rusty.

The cord is a particularly vulnerable part of the iron, easily getting out of order and causing short circuits or complete failure to heat. The insulation is easily damaged if the cord is bent or rubbed continually in one spot.

Broken Ends Troublesome

If the user pulls on the cord to disconnect the iron instead of taking hold of the plug, the fine wires inside the insulating wrapping may break and the current will not flow through. If broken ends of these wires touch each other there may be a short circuit when the iron is connected to the socket.

Stand the iron on its heel while shifting the article being ironed, or rest the iron on a metal stand or asbestos strip on the broad end of the ironing board. Disconnect the cord if called away to the telephone or for any other reason. Irons left connected may overheat and that shortens the useful life of the heating element. They have also been responsible for many fires, especially when left flat on the board. They quickly scorch through the ironing board covers and may start fires.

22,655 Forest Fires In U. S. During 1936

Record Shows Increase Of More Than 5,500 Over Five-Year Average

The 22,655 forest fires classed as incendiary in the United States Forest Service records for 1936 showed an increase of more than 5,500 over the five-year average. Incendiaryism was the greatest single cause of fire, accounting for 26 per cent. of the fires on protected forests as compared with 24 per cent. caused by smokers. In damage to the forests, the incendiary fires ran far ahead of fires caused by smokers, 41 per cent. as compared with 10 per cent.

"Fires caused by cigarettes and matches which careless smokers toss into the tinder-dry forest are likely to be discovered by the lookout or by some cooperator," says the Forest Service.

Incendiary Criminals

"The incendiary, like other criminals, works in secret and usually selects a time and place which will permit the fire to make greatest headway before it is discovered."

On the protected forest areas the Forest Service classifies the causes of fires. In 1936 there were 141,432 fires on unprotected forest lands and only 84,853 on protected forest lands although the protected forest acreage is more than double the unprotected. The causes of fires on the protected area in 1936 were: Incendiary, 26 per cent.; smokers, 24 per cent.; debris burners, 14 per cent.; campers, 7 per cent.; railroads, 4 per cent.; lumbering, 2 per cent.; lightning, 7 per cent. Miscellaneous causes accounted for 9 per cent. and 7 per cent. of the fires were listed as of unknown cause.

That Man Next To You

Announcement that George Munger had been named head football coach at the University of Pennsylvania reminded this department of a spring day in 1936, the occasion being the annual intercollegiate track meet at Frazer Field.

Munger, quite a figure on the circuit in his undergraduate days, was present in the capacity of coach of the Episcopal Academy team. His charges were in a tight scrap with West Catholic High and several other schools for honors in the class A division.

Hughes Thomas, present assistant golf pro at the Newark Country Club and a lad who became quite a character as an aspiring (though not very successful) runner in his schoolboy days, was dishing out advice for anyone and everyone to hear.

Without knowing to whom he was speaking, Hughes finally directed some "expert" opinion at Munger. After listening to the monologue for a few moments, the latter, in apparent seriousness, finally stated: "Gee, chum, thanks. I'll tell Lawyer Robertson about you, maybe you can help him with the next Olympic team."

And Hughes has been looking forward to a trip to Japan in 1940 ever since!

RWR

Reversed Process

Thoughts of Munger bring to mind a column written by Red Smith for the Philadelphia Record last Sunday. The bit deals with the football situation at Penn. According to Smith, the famous Gates plan, which handicapped Harvey Harman as a coach, will also prove somewhat of a drawback for Munger.

Smith wrote: "The announcement of his (Munger's) appointment included a statement that the present athletic policy at the university would be perpetuated under him. Which, one can't help feeling, means there will be little, if any, improvement in the record of Penn football teams on the field."

"Which makes the whole hullabaloo about the coaching situation seem a trifle silly. What difference who does the coaching, if he's not going to have football players to coach? "Maybe, after all, Wisconsin had the right idea. When they had a bad season they kept the coach and fired the president." And that, dear reader, might be a timely idea for universities other than Penn and Wisconsin.

Flashes By Bill Fletcher

BLUE HEN SWIM FOLLOWERS were treated to a thrilling tank performance on Saturday night as their second victory in two starts. The capacity crowd that viewed the contest with Lehigh is indicative of the interest in this sport which, along with soccer, seems to be the only field in which the Blue and Gold representatives can make consistent indentations in the win column.

We point with a conservative amount of pride to the paragraph which appeared in this corner on January 7, 1937. Here goes: "Fly Through the Air with the Greatest of Ease" Swartz is also expected to give the diving record set by Harry Wilson some difficult moments in "Beau Brummell" equalled the mark last year, and so the highly-touted board banger should be cutting some fancy capers this season."

Swartz cracked Wilson's record of 19.6 seconds with a total of 106.6 points—We ain't braggin' or nuthin, understand, but that was our prediction.

The Hens' captain seems to have a lottuv the females' fluttering hearts sewn up if the whippers and giggles can be used as a barometer reading of their blood pressures.

Nice Goin', Heimie!

ADAMS, THE VISITING star, gave the aquatic fans an eye-ful by copping the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events, the latter in a record time of 54.4. The invader cracked Bill Spence's mark of 56.6 set in 1933 by the Rutgers star.

Incidentally, while we're on the subject of swimming, don't put any stock in the Delaware and pool records hanging on the wall of the gymnasium—they're just a trifle, antiquated. Methinks they haven't been altered since they were put up.

LYAL, WASHINGTON CLARK sees in the new University of Delaware practice field an opportunity to nudge in a little spring football training, including punting drills and work on grid fundamentals.

Not spring sessions conducted on a large scale, you understand, but with just a few of the candidates who show enough interest to attempt a little pre-season trimming.

Personal Stuff

A note from E. M. P. causes us to wonder. . . . It states: "A smart boy by the name of Robert Buckingham told me he saw a man pushing a wheelbarrow loaded with steam out to a dump. Did you ever hear of anybody wheeling steam?" To which we can merely reply that Wheeling is in West Virginia.

"Brother Crawford," the amiable gentleman with whom we share the second floor rear at 46 East Main Street (blondes preferred), has undergone many changes since he left "Pappy's" residence in Galax, Virginia. Among other things, he now wears "bought'n" hats and "store" clothes. But he still subscribes to the Post Herald, favorite "down home" paper. And the old Post Herald ain't to be sneezed at, b-o-o-o-o-y. Last week it turned up with something new in a headline that read: "Galax Youth Injured While Out Hunting." "Brother Crawford" reckons he can't explain what is a nut.

We Have Heard . . .

That Fritz Leuchner, poultry expert who leaves the University of Delaware February 1 for a post at Penn State, was an all-American lacrosse player while a student at the latter institution. Dr. P. K. Musselman, West Main Street molar mender, won a varsity letter in the same sport at Penn.

That Dr. Arthur A. Mencher, prominent medico of the local fraternity, was an outstanding intercollegiate ice hockey player at McGill University, and that H. A. Larson, 222 South College Avenue, made the grade in professional ranks in his native Canada.

That Bob Lawrence, of Elk Mills, entertained the boys at Charsha's Store Saturday night with a recital of his playing in a "dead pool" game with Arnold Pryor, the man who played Mosconi. . . . He was getting close at that.

Mosconi, who played at Martin's Saturday afternoon, is a high-strung Italian, who literally races around the table looking for shots. Chic Seaback, who appeared New Year's Day, and Jimmy Caras, who did his stuff last night, are deliberate and "dead panned" in action. We wonder if Caras would change his expression in front of a firing squad.

Avenue setup is removed in favor of an academic building—maybe not for some years to come.

WITH THE TIME between the opening of school and the first football contest, the Delaware candidates are sorely in need of a warm-up period during which time they can work on new plays and shifts.

Heretofore, this setup has been impossible due to the danger of getting a javelin in their backs or having a baseball bounced off their noggin as track and baseball candidates go about their business.

Players returning from the Swarthmore trip have been talking ever since about the field house at the Pennsylvania school which is, according to reports, tops for an institution of that size.

An indoor track, four basketball courts, vaulting pits, tennis court, practice football field and diamond and other ingredients go to make this an ideal setup.

THERE COMES A TIME in every man's life (never in a woman's) that words fail to assemble into sensible phrases which in turn fail to form coherent sentences which in turn refuse to band together into logical paragraphs.

So, in case you're not aware of the mess created when a guy gets down this far and can't finish what he's started out to accomplish, we'll tell you.

It's a terrible, terrible, terrible situation and one which the writers doesn't relish. We could talk about Lyal Clark's basketball team but we're trying to get through this paragraph banger on Monday, and since the Hens tackle Washington College on Tuesday, we can't say much about Delaware basketball.

It looks like the high school is in for a tough season, doesn't it? This isn't making much sense either, so so-long.

BLUE HENS MEET DEFEAT FOR FIFTH TIME

Bruce Lindsay Leads Blue And Gold Scoring With 10 Points; Kardash And Smith Star For Invaders; Training House Downs J. V's

By Bill Fletcher

A herd of Washington College cagemen turned what promised (in the first few minutes) to be a closely-fought contest into a complete rout as Coach Lyal Clark's quintet met defeat for the fifth time this season, 55-35.

Delaware Opens

Bruce Lindsay, the Hens' high scorer for the evening, broke the ice in the opening moments of play with the first of his five field goals. Smith followed up for the visitors immediately after, however, and Lew Carey dropped the next one through to give the Blue and Gold another short lead which was soon wiped out by Neubert and Zebrowski. McCord knotted the count at 6-6, and it was at this point following Kardash's toss from the field, that the invaders took a lead that was never again relinquished throughout the tilt.

Gradually, the Sho'men increased their margin to lead 15-8 at the end of the first quarter and at the climax of the initial half, the count had been exactly doubled with the visitors sporting a 30-16 margin.

Outclassed

Neubert opened up for Washington at the opening of the second half and Carey followed up with a toss from the charity stripe. Lindsay dropped one in for the Hens to bring the count up to 32-19, but three successive field tosses, two by Kardash and the other by Zebrowski, stopped the score up to 38-19. Sheats dropped in a foul toss, Gerow a field goal and Phil Reed, one of each for the Clarkmen and McMahon, Kardash and Sheats, nestled a shot each between the hoops from the field for the invaders to set the count at 44-25 at the end of the third quarter.

McMahon dropped in a field goal and Kardash a field and a charity toss before McCord broke the ice with a toss for the locals and Sheats followed up with a double-decker, to set the count at 48-28.

Smith and McCord racked up free throws for their respective teams. McMahon added another for the Sho'men and McCord again came through for the Hens with a beautiful toss from the court. With the count at 50-31, Gerow and Zebrowski tossed in foul tosses for both teams and Lindsay pushed through a field goal for the Clarkmen which was quickly countered by Horowitz who chalked up two.

Jack Kearns ran the Hens out at 35 with a foul toss and Lovesky climaxed the evening's scoring for the invaders, stretching their count to 55 with a field marker.

Lindsay was high-scoring for the locals while Kardash with 12 points and Smith with 11, were best for the visitors.

In a nip-and-tuck preliminary battle, the boys from the Training House sided with the junior varsity aggregation to the tune of 27-22. Heimie Swartz racked up five goals for the training house while Mitchell was high for Coach Carey's charges with nine points.

KOPP GETS COACHING CONTRACT

Northeastern Mentor Once Played Here

By "The Roamer"

Harold Kopp, former Tome School and Western Maryland College star, has been appointed assistant coach of basketball and baseball for the next two years at Northeastern University, Boston. He will continue to assist Coach Jimmy Dunn, another Western Maryland ace of former years, in football for the next two seasons. It was recently announced by Dean Carl S. Eli. He served as assistant grid mentor last fall.

Well known to Newark fans, Kopp performed for a local independent football team after his college career had ended; he jumped center for the Perryville Pandours in the Cecil County Basketball League three years ago, and was an ace catcher for both Havre de Grace and Perryville in the old Susquehanna and Bi-State baseball circuits, respectively.

A native of Perryville, Kopp was once considered as a football assistant for Lyal Clark at the University of Delaware.

Qualified As Mentor

Kopp is well qualified for his recent appointment from experience gained both on the playing field and as a coach. His athletic record is one that any performer could well regard with pride.

Entering Tome School upon completion of his early studies in grammar school, he immediately began to make a name for himself in athletics. As a freshman he made the varsity baseball team and won class numerals in frosh football, basketball and soccer.

During his next three years at Tome, the versatile "Indian" (he's actually of German descent) won no less than eleven varsity letters. Teaming with George Victor (Shorty) Chalmers, native son who made athletic history, Kopp aided in giving Tome two of the greatest grid outfits in the school's existence.

Won Dues Letters

In addition to the letter garnered on the diamond in his freshman year, he was awarded the amazing total of twelve letters for his athletic exploits.

He started as fullback on the grid team for three seasons and was a standout behind the plate on the baseball team his last three years, being rewarded with the captaincy in his senior year.

The other five letters were awarded for three years of basketball and two with the soccer array.

Upon completion of his course at Tome, Kopp matriculated at Western Maryland, where he continued to scintillate in athletics. After winning freshman numerals in football, basketball, baseball and lacrosse, he stepped into the spotlight as a sophomore when he made the varsity grid team as fullback.

On State Team

The fact that he was chosen all-State fullback at the end of the season is evidence enough that he was a tower of strength in the Terrers' backfield. Under the tutelage of Dick Harlow, present Harvard grid mentor, Kopp developed into an outstanding back.

In his junior year he played in the backfield with Jimmy Dunn, Northeastern's head football man, and teaming with Bill Sheppard, candidate for all-American honors and one of the ranking backs in the National Professional League as a member of the current Detroit Lions, they formed the most powerful backfield combine ever to represent Western Maryland.

SEEKING BADMINTON LAURELS

Shields To Enter Tournaments; Now State Champion

Already an outstanding figure in the state after only a little over a year of participation in the sport, Joseph A. Shields, physical education instructor at the University of Delaware and director of the intramural program, is seeking other worlds to conquer in the badminton field.

Taught the rudiments of the game by Edward C. Bardo, head of the physical department who was runner-up in the state championship two years ago, Shields soon became so adept at the game that he was able to polish off his instructor with little difficulty. His crowning feat last year was to cop the state championship at the annual Y. M. C. A. tournament.

Will Enter Tournaments

The first tournament which Mr. Shields will enter this year will be the District of Columbia Championships slated to be held in Washington the week of February 11. He will pair with Endley Fairman, Middle Atlantic champion in the doubles competition. Other laurels will be sought in the Philadelphia District on February 18; and the national championship in Philadelphia in March.

In April, he will defend his state championship at the Wilmington Y.M.C.A.

Although limited in badminton experience, Shields is no stranger to athletics. Following his freshman year at Springfield during which time he captained the frosh football team and was a member of the recruit basketball and track teams, Shields proceeded to earn eight letter awards for participation in varsity sports; football, swimming and track during his sophomore and junior years—and football and tennis in his senior year.

Serving as captain of the football team in his senior year, Shields earned All-American merit.

Quiet, unassuming, sincere and always willing to lend assistance to his associates, Shields is one of the most popular instructors at the local institution.

CARAS AND MOSCONI SHOW HERE

Former Champ And Italian In Exhibitions

Two of America's "boy wonders" of the pocket billiard realm demonstrated their skill at Jimmy Martin's State parlor during the week.

Willie Mosconi, brilliant Philadelphia, defeated Arnold Pryor, Chesapeake City, 125-35, before a packed house last Saturday afternoon. Another banner crowd witnessed ex-Champion Jimmy Caras, Wilmington, top Jack Fossett, local veteran, 125-32, in a special match last night.

Pryor, considered one of the best performers in this area, never had a chance against the business like Mosconi. Starting with runs of 13 and 23, the Philadelphia Italian followed with a run of 55 that gave him a big edge at the outset.

Sluggers At Finish

Dropping off from the hot pace in the early part of the match, the Quaker City star staggered across the finish by collecting short clusters. The match was played in 11 innings. In the fifth stanza Pryor had a run of 13 for his best showing of the afternoon.

After trailing in the opening innings, Caras finally found the going to his liking last night as he registered over Fossett. The loser held an 18-3 advantage in the fifth inning, but the former champion turned in runs of 17, 9, 30, 13 and 19 to forge far in front.

Caras finished with an uncompleted run of 33 in the thirteenth inning. Fossett's best run was 12 in the third.

Proelia Is Coming

The next star to show at Martin's on the National Billiard Program will be the popular veteran, Joe Proelia, of Gloversville, N. Y.

In the last four seasons, Proelia has traveled over 100,000 miles in exhibition tours. He has lost but 19 games out of a total of 1,134 played against the leading artists in the world during that time.

Versatile in every respect, Proelia specializes at pocket billiards, three cushions and snooker.

LANCASTER TO BATTLE MIRABELLA IN FEATURE

"Grudge Fight" On Slate In Four-Round Preliminary

By Karl Cloutier

Delaware's first professional fight bill to be offered in several years will bring Johnny Mirabella of New York and Jimmy Lancaster, Wilmington, together in the windup of the Wilmington A. C.'s show at the Auditorium tonight.

Mirabella, while still a youngster as ring careers go, has battled three former champions in his time. The Gotham fighter has traded punches with Kid Chocolate, Mike Bellosio and Lou Salta.

Lancaster and Mirabella have battled, paralleled flistic channels. Both of them have met Mickey Jerome, Bernie Friedman, Lou Peter and Young Jack Sharkey with the same amount of success.

Battled To Draw

They have battled one another meeting in New York's Madison Square Garden to six hot rounds to a draw. Tonight they are scheduled to go eight heats at the Auditorium in the first Wilmington A. C. show. Both are of the busy, club-fighter type.

Two six and three fouls are also on the card with Johnny Roach, Wilmington welter, meeting Dutch (K. O.) Hart, Haddonfield, N. J., in the semi-final.

It should be tough and go between Roach and Hart, too, with the Jerseyman regarded as a tough nut for the Gander Hill lad to crack.

Irish Versus Pole

A grudge, which developed in the gym weeks ago, is due for settlement in one of the four-round bouts in which Harry Ritchie, west side Irishman, meets Steve Baran, formerly of Baltimore, where he classed well in amateur circles.

The complete card follows:

WINDUP
JIMMY LANCASTER, Wilmington vs. JOHNNY MIRABELLA, New York, 8 rounds.
Semi-Windup
JOHNNY ROACH, Wilmington vs. DUTCH (K. O.) HART, Haddonfield, N. J., 6 rounds.
Preliminaries
HARRY MOORE, Boothwyn, Pa., vs. ERNIE TARTAGLIA, Camden, N. J., 8 rounds.
WILLIE ROACHE, Wilmington vs. POLLY JONES, Chester, 4 rounds.
JOHNNY GLOVER, Wilmington, vs. HARRY WAKEFIELD, Fort Du Pont, 4 rounds.
STEVE BARAN, Wilmington, vs. HARRY RITCHIE, Wilmington, 4 rounds.
First bout—8:30.

NEW RIFLE TEAM COPS MATCHES

U. S. Eberhardt, Freshman, Sets New Record

During the week ending January 15, the University of Delaware rifle team racked up a remarkable record by winning eight out of nine matches, setting a new record for the team. The team, coached by U. S. Eberhardt, a freshman from the University of Delaware, set a new record for the team by winning eight out of nine matches. The team's record was 8-1, with a total score of 1,000 points.

Freshman Team Wins

A freshman team, firing a three-point match against V. P. C. of the University of Delaware, won by a score of 100-90. The team's record was 8-1, with a total score of 1,000 points.

A new Delaware record for high school rifle was made by U. S. Eberhardt, a freshman from the University of Delaware, who compiled a total of 1,000 points in a three-point match.

In making the record, Eberhardt also set a mark for shooting the sitting position, dropping one point out of a possible three. His scores were as follows: 100, sitting; 99, kneeling; 92, standing.

The Delaware team has won eleven of the seventeen matches in the season. The team's record is 11-6, with a total score of 1,000 points.

Following the mid-year examination, a team will be entered in the William Randolph Hearst National Rifle Competition, to be held at the University of Delaware, 3,619; Rutgers University, 3,719; Utah State Agricultural College, 3,417; New York University, 3,516; University of Wyoming, 3,911; Clarkson College, 3,196; Gettysburg College, 3,196.

In a five-men, three position match, the team defeated Cornell University by the score of 1,375-1,350.

Individual scores made by the Blue and Gold riflemen were as follows:

Team	Score
Delaware	1,000
Cornell	1,350
Rutgers	3,719
Utah State	3,417
New York	3,516
Wyoming	3,911
Clarkson	3,196
Gettysburg	3,196

Kopp Coach

It is noted from the fact that he was chosen all-State guard for the season. Kopp was the first man in 10 years to be named to the all-State team as a back and line man.

At the close of his football career in Western Maryland, he was presented with a valuable wrist watch, bearing the inscription, "To my friend, Captain Harold Kopp."

The 185-pounder continued to shine in basketball and baseball. He was named to the all-State team in both sports.

On the diamond he was a fixture on the coaching end of Western Maryland's battery for three seasons and captained the team in his senior year.

In addition to his athletic feats, Kopp was captain of the R. O. T. C. military unit. He had the unusual distinction of heading the company which won the competitive drill in 1932 and was awarded the Presidential Cup. Kopp was personally awarded a letter for the year, a high honor at Western Maryland.

Attracted Scouts

While working for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, Kopp attracted the attention of Scout leaders. He was named to the all-State team in both sports.

During the 1933 season when he served as player-coach of the local independent eleven, the team only won one game. Fort DuPont registered a 3-0 win at Richards Field.

Senior Tommy Angus made a name for himself by booting a 55-yard drop kick through the uprights for the first time in his career. Even in that particular contest, Kopp personally gained more yardage than the other backs on the field.

In addition to his coaching duties at Fort DuPont, Kopp is studying for a degree that is scheduled to be awarded this fall.

Recent Recruit Bears Out Opinion Of Battery Head

Ogletown Boy, Serving First Enlistment In Regular Army, Appreciates "Guard" Training

"National guard training is valuable in many ways," states Captain H. Wallace Cook, commanding officer of Battery E, 18th Coast Artillery Corps, D. N. G., "but it is especially valuable to boys and young men who may find it necessary through war or economic circumstances to enter the regular army."

Long an advocate of strict training, rigid discipline and national guard activity as a peace-insurance plan, Captain Cook points to the case of Harvey S. Hofferker, Jr., a recent "graduate" of the local battery, as an example.

Young Hofferker, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hofferker, Sr., of Ogletown, has long had aspirations to become an airplane mechanic.

While serving an enlistment in Battery E, Hofferker decided to pursue his own ambition as a member of the regular army.

Sent To Illinois

Upon enlisting he was shipped to Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., for training.

Captain Cook presents two letters from Hofferker to bear out his enthusiasm for national guard activities. The first missive, written December 20 shortly after the boy arrived at the training base, tells an effective story.

Hofferker states: "Arrived here Wednesday night and passed the entrance requirements Thursday. On Friday I got my clothes, lockers and toilet articles."

"We wear trousers instead of breeches. I think this is a very nice place. All of the fellows here are high school graduates and seem to be a swell bunch of young men."

"We are on the edge of the town called Rantoul (population 1,600)."

"At the technical school they teach such courses as airplane mechanics (the one I want to take), radio, photography, observation work, airplane armor and several other courses in mostly ground work. They have a large field and all types of airplanes."

"The week after Christmas I will start my recruit training (will last about four weeks), and then we will start our courses. My national guard training should be useful to me in the recruit training."

"After we graduate from here, we are sent to the various Army flying fields all over the country. One may have his choice but not always get it. I want to go to March Field, Cal., or Mitchell Field, N. Y."

"I enjoyed my enlistment in the Delaware National Guard and wish the whole battery was here with me, but we're all in Uncle Sam's military forces."

Tell Fellows To Write

"If you don't mind, tell the fellows I was asking for them and to write back I still feel like one of their comrades, even if I am in another branch of the service."

500,000 Crows Killed

"In Oklahoma about 500,000 crows are killed each year by state men using dynamite. Illinois was a pioneer state in wholesale crow killing, starting off with miniature cannons trained on the roosts at night."

"Crows are the chief enemy of wildfowl, causing heavy losses of eggs and young on the breeding grounds. They also destroy many other game and insectivorous birds and small mammals. They raid crops at times and are carriers of hog cholera and other epidemics among domestic animals."

"The most effective method of control is by the use of dynamite, which is strung in the branches of trees where crows assemble, then touched off after the birds have settled down for the night. As many as 20,000 have been killed at one blast. Only trained experts should attempt crow dynamiting."

Twigs and Branches Can Aid Soil Conservation

Twigs and branches too small for fuel have their own value in the well managed farm woodland. Soil Conservation Service workers point out. They should be left to decay and help feed the coming crop of trees. To pile and burn them is as wasteful as burning the straw from a grain crop. Farmers who are double-cropping the wooded areas for timber and fuel and also for wild game may want to pile some of the small branches. Brush piles are favorite refuges for many birds and many varieties of small game. Other waste material, well scattered, will decay and return to the soil as a spongy humus that puts soil into the best condition to absorb rainfall, thus helping prevent erosion and providing needed raw material for thrifty forest growth.

Memorial Concerts For Stradivarius Are Held

The 20th anniversary of the death of Antonio Stradivarius, greatest of all violin makers, was observed by a number of concerts played during December on instruments made by the master. At one of the concerts in New York, 18 of his violins, violas and violoncellos, now valued at a million dollars, were used.

25 YEARS AGO IN REVIEW

January 22, 1913

Delaware Athletics

"Billy" Cann, Class of 1913, Delaware College was elected captain of the 1913 football team at an election held last Friday afternoon, thus breaking the deadlock which had been on since the football season closed.

The twelve players wearing the honorary "D" select the captain for the next season. In the several previous meetings held for this purpose the vote was always six for Cann and six for "Jimmy" Huston, quarterback and captain of the 1912 team. At the meeting on Friday Cann received five votes Huston four and E. Loomis three.

The new captain is a brother of J. Pierce Cann, an alumnus who was prominent in athletics during his college career. "Billy" made the varsity eleven his first year in college, playing end. Last season he played end, and later a backfield position.

The recent meeting of the sophomore and freshmen classes has attracted so much attention that Coach McAvoy has decided to hold another in the near future for the college championship in wrestling, boxing, shot put and high jump. A novel way of selecting the contestants has also been decided on as the entire body will vote on those to enter the different events.

Mrs. McKelvey Entertains

BRAKES AT FAULT IN MANY CASES

Safety Council Advises Severe Test Every Day

A great number of accidents occur everyday due to a defect in the mechanical equipment used. The Delaware Safety Council points out that a great number of automobile accidents happen due to defective brakes. The brakes should be tested each day. Before going half a block from the garage make a service test by throwing out the clutch and applying the brakes. If possible, select a dry spot for making this test. Under no circumstances should the car be taken further if the brakes are not operating properly; drive back to the garage and see that the fault is corrected before driving out again.

Wash in Kerosene

To keep the brakes in good condition:

a. Once in two months remove the rear wheels and wash the brake lining in kerosene. This removes all oil and grease which is present, takes the "bite" out of the brakes. Never oil brake lining.

b. Brakes squeal when they are glazed or when improperly adjusted. Squealing can often be stopped by removing wheels and roughening the brake lining with a stiff brush.

c. If the brake lining is worn down to the rivets, sink the rivets still further or have the brakes relined.

d. Wipe off and oil the brake mechanism every 500 miles or oftener.

e. Make regular systematic brake inspection a habit. The loss of a cotter pin might lead to a serious accident. When a lock washer is removed, don't put it back; use a new one.

Many cars skid, not only because of slippery streets, but also because of unequal division of braking power. Jack up rear wheels and apply brake far enough so that it is just possible to turn one wheel by hand. Adjust brake on the other wheel so the same amount of energy is required to turn that wheel by hand. Test for unequal braking power at least once a month.

STANTON

By Miss Emma S. Maclary

Stanton, Jan. 19.—The Stanton School 4-H Club held its first meeting of the season at the school Wednesday afternoon. Projects to be carried out this year were discussed. A preliminary meeting was held a few days ago with Miss Laura B. Rutherford, county club agent, and John Skinner, extension news agent, present, meeting with the president and publicity chairman of the Stanton and Marshallton Schools.

Miss Lora Little, principal of the Stanton School, is the general 4-H leader, with Mrs. Margaret Wier, a member of the faculty as project chairman.

The Stanton P-T-A. held its monthly session Thursday evening, with J. O. Hedlock, president, in charge.

An adult art class has been organized and sessions will be held on Wednesday evenings at 7:30.

The Young Women's Class of the Stanton Sunday School will serve a roast chicken supper on February 17, for the benefit of the church.

Officers of Friendship Lodge No. 4, Order Shepherds of Bethlehem of Stanton, were installed this week by Mrs. Marguerita Jackson, deputy from Evening Star No. 2 Lodge, of Wilmington.

Tree Seedlings Being Sold In Pennsylvania

Soil Conservation To Require 9,000,000 For Year In Keystone State

Although spring is still several months away, Deputy Secretary W. J. B. Winters, of the Pennsylvania State Department of Forests and Waters this week announced that over 60 per cent. of the 12,000,000 tree seedlings being prepared for shipment this year already have been ordered. All transplants except red pine also have been allotted on order, Winters said.

Seedling species which can still be ordered are hemlock, red pine, white pine, white spruce, Banks pine, Scotch pine, Jersey pine, black locust and red oak.

The Federal Soil Conservation Service will take more than nine million trees from the department's nurseries in 1938. These trees are not included in the 12 million previously mentioned, but are grown under a special agreement with the Soil Conservation Service. These trees are only available for use on Soil Conservation Projects and the Department does not exercise any authority in the distribution of these trees.

Seedlings are sold at $2.00 per thousand, f. o. b. the department's nurseries, while transplants are sold at $3.00 per thousand, f. o. b. the department's nurseries.

Naomi Grace Horay Succumbs At Wilmington General Hospital

Naomi Grace Horay, aged 19 years, reached "journey's end" at the Wilmington General Hospital Tuesday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock.

Death came to the suffering girl after a brilliant fight by medical science that prolonged her life against terrific odds for more than ten days.

Some of Wilmington's leading medical authorities assisted Dr. E. Earle Wegmann, local physician, in the losing battle against septicemia. Three transfusions were performed in an effort to overcome the disease known commonly as blood poisoning.

Jack Kearns, University of Delaware varsity basketball star; a hospital visitor who gave the vague name of "Mr. Quillen," and Anthony Sanborn, Jr., watchman at the Main Street crossing on the B. & O. Railroad here, were the volunteer donors of the red, life-bearing fluid.

The girl, a veritable waif for several years, was stricken on January 8. She broke a pimple inside her nose and in less than 24 hours her face had swollen almost beyond recognition.

According to Dr. Wegmann, the pimple became infected causing cavernous sinus thrombosis resulting in blood poisoning. Medical men held little hope for her recovery from the outset.

The girl is a daughter of Nellie Weaver Horay, of Wilmington. She made her home, however, with Mr. and Mrs. Herman T. Renshaw, Academy Apartments.

She will be buried Friday afternoon from the Chandler funeral home, 1011 Jefferson Street, Wilmington, with interment at River-view Cemetery.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sarah J. Steele

Mrs. Sarah J. Steele, 88, widow of William Henry Steele, died on Saturday, January 15 at the Flower Hospital of complications.

Funeral services were held at her late home on Delaware Avenue, on Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. H. Everett Hallman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark, in charge. Interment was in Head of Christiana Cemetery.

She is survived by a daughter, Laura B. Rutherford, county club agent, and John Skinner, extension news agent, present, meeting with the president and publicity chairman of the Stanton and Marshallton Schools.

Royalty and Friends In Feud Over Wally

Friends of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, who were twice snubbed recently by the failure of the Duke and Duchess of Kent to visit them as expected, are furious. They remind the world that the Duchess of Kent, although born a Greek princess, gave testimonials for cold cream and worked as a mannequin in Paris before the youngest British duke married her. So why should she high-hat Wally?

Impossible To Know Everything; Choose Topic

It is suggested by a noted educator that inasmuch as it is impossible for anyone to be informed about everything we should deliberately choose the subjects concerning which we are willing to remain in ignorance. For most of us these would make a lengthy list.

Expelled From Theatre; Man Sues; Wins Award

Tom Pilon of Chicago attended a sad movie, but laughed loudly while others wept, until he was finally ejected from the theatre. He sued the management and was awarded $300 by a judge who upheld his rights to laugh, regardless of the nature of the show.

Worm Turns When Man Tatoos "Punching" Frau

Illustrating the worm that turns, August Sybold of Moellin, Germany, took a beating from his wife every day for quite a while, but finally rebelled, tied her to a bedpost and ran away.

"Lifer" Gets Laugh When "Sentenced" For Driving

Arrested for a traffic violation, a Nebraska driver laughed at the policeman and later insulted the judge, who gave him 90 days. Then the culprit laughed some more and said: "I'm driving for the warden of the penitentiary and I'm in for life."

A housewife of Duxbury, Mass., refused to pay the 1-cent postage charge on a letter that was delivered to her. Later, when post-office officials opened it, a check for $450 dropped out of it.

BOSTON BROWN BREAD COMES BACK

No longer do cumbersome steaming kettles and that important element, time, need to stand between the family and delicious homemade Boston brown bread. The Thrift Cooker of the modern electric range is the ideal steaming unit. Being a permanent concealed unit of the electric range, this Cooker is always ready to "steam up" a few loaves of brown bread. Little water is used, little heat is required to keep the water constantly boiling. No attention is necessary—just mix up the batter, place it in cans or molds, and forget about it until done.

Snow-Plow Salesman In Wrong City; None Falls

An attempted bit of salesmanship that didn't take is reported by City Manager Robert Flack of San Diego, Calif., who received a letter from a manufacturer in Davenport, Iowa, who wanted to sell the city a snow-plow. Mr. Flack declares that San Diego has had only two light flurries of snow in 100 years.

BIRTH OF A SONG

HARRY ARMSTRONG is a Massachusetts boy, born in Somerville. His family moved to Cambridge, but still Harry wouldn't play the piano. Or when he did, he ragged the music, which hurt his other ear.

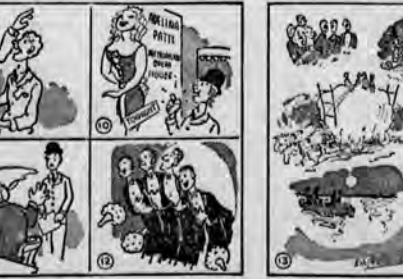

Down on the corner he formed part of a conspiracy to collect old shoes, tin cans, etc. For bait they used the old songs of the day.

Armstrong went to Boston and became a pugilist, perhaps in preparation for a wish-fulfillment campaign against the fellow who threw the No. 12 shoe.

Prizefighters were a dime a dozen in New York, so Harry went back to music, performing in beer gardens and music halls. But there was that song in the breast pocket of his heart and it had to come out.

He played his song for Charles Lawlor, author of "Sidewalks Of New York" and for Jimmie Walker, future Lord Mayor of those sidewalks, but no lyrics came. A poster of Adeline Patti gave inspiration and a new title, "Sweet Adeline", to the New England melody. Dick Gerard supplied the lyrics.

The song lay dormant until the Quaker City Quartette performed it. It became the close-harmony song of the world. While Armstrong toured in vaudeville, his songs were performed without payment, in hotels, cabarets, theatres and other places of public amusement.

Intimate Circus "Friends" Are Father and Daughter

Recently an 18-year-old girl cashier and a 45-year-old candy man, working in concessions with a circus, became very close friends. When the circus reached Cleveland the girl introduced the man to her mother who recognized him as a former husband. He was the girl's father.

Legally a woman is eligible for presidency of the U. S.

By his membership in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, Armstrong's melodies have been licensed to commercial users, and he derives payment for the performance of his works.
