PRICE FIVE CENTS

PROMINENT CHURCHMEN
TO ADDRESS
CONFERENCEServices To Be Held By Bible
Presbyterians
All Next Week

A number of prominent churchmen will speak here during the fall conference of the Bible Presbyterian Church, 16 to be held November 28 through December 5.

A full schedule of services was announced this week by the pastor, the Rev. Hays T. Henry. The conference will begin Sunday with services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. and will continue Monday through Saturday with services at 4 p. m. The series will end December 5 with program at 11 a. m.

In explaining the purpose of the conference, Mr. Henry this week issued the following statement:

For a number of years the Bible Presbyterian Church of Newark, Delaware, has held special meetings of an evangelistic nature. But this fall the special meetings are designed to set forth clearly before the people of Newark and vicinity the great doctrinal issues which confront the church today, and why there is a Bible Presbyterian Church in existence.

The Bible Presbyterian Church is a separatist church as was Lutherans and Calvinists in the days of the Protestant Reformation. It is not a regular Presbyterian Church with "Bible" prefixed as an added name, but a distinct and separate denomination. It is not a cult or "ism" based on mysticism or emotionalism but a true creedal church, founded on the Word of God, the Bible.

The Bible Presbyterian Church is separated from the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. ecclesiastically but continues in the stream of historic Christianity, holding steadily to the cardinal doctrines: the Inerrancy of the Bible, the Virgin Birth of Christ, the true Divinity of Christ, the Death of Christ as a substitutionary sacrifice for the sins of men, the Bodily Resurrection and Ascension of Christ. Which doctrines were once held and taught by every Protestant preacher and continue now in the formal creed of the church but today are neither believed nor taught by many of her leaders. Therefore it is the purpose of this conference to define historic Christianity and to show that this separating process

2 THEATRE
PROGRAMS
AT U. OF D.Laboratory Play
On Dec. 2; E-52
Playbill, Dec. 9

Two more theatre programs of the University of Delaware's E-52 Players, to be presented at Mitchell Hall, Newark, in December have been scheduled. The first was announced for the second program of the Laboratory Theatre, consisting of two plays, "Queens of France" and the first act of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest."

The Thornton Wilder play, to be directed by Verda Vane, a member of the Players, has a cast tentatively selected as follows: Ann Taborson, Carolyn Wolk and Helen McGary. For "The Importance of Being Earnest," with Margaret Guevener as director, the tentative cast includes: Louise Hickman, Adele Norbeck, William Hill, and Charles Bowers.

On Dec. 9, the Players will present their first playbill of the present season. The first will be the French comedy, "Friedrich," and a presentation by the Players in O'Neill's "In the Zone." "Friedrich" has just been translated from the French of Prosper Merimee by Frank and Jacqueline Brock, and the production will be directed by Mr. Brock, a member of the Players. This is believed to be the first American production of the famous French play. The cast includes tentatively: Jane Willey, William Wheelbee, Stanley Rosen, and Howard Hildner.

MINOR FIRE SUNDAY

A flooded oil burner caught fire Sunday in Robert Cook's grocery store on East Main Street.

Acting volunteers extinguished the flame before serious damage occurred. A few shots from an extinguisher was all that was needed to curb the flames.

To Speak Here

Carl Sandburg

Five public lectures in the University of Delaware's University Hour series—including talks by Carl Sandburg, Bosley Crowther, Louis Lochner, Michael Reilly, and David Cohn—are scheduled for intervals throughout the winter and spring.

Mr. Crowther, motion picture editor of the New York Times, will speak on "What You Don't Know About the Movies," at 1 p. m. on Thursday, Jan. 13. Like the other lectures, this will be held in Mitchell Hall on the Newark campus, and will be open to students, faculty and the public without charge.

On Wednesday, Feb. 16, at 8:15 p. m., Mr. Lochner will have as his topic "The Amazing Goebbels Diaries." A Pulitzer Prize winner in journalism, he represented The Associated Press in Berlin for many years, and on Herbert Hoover's recent trip to Europe, Mr. Lochner was his political adviser.

Mr. Sandburg will speak at the second evening University Hour program, at 8:15 p. m. on Tuesday, March 1. The title of the talk by the man described as "America's most truly native poet" will be "An Evening with Carl Sandburg."

Mr. Cohn, social historian, will have "Love in America" as his subject when he speaks at 1 p. m. on Thursday, March 24. This also was the title of one of his best-known books.

The Secret Service agent detailed to the White House during the war, Mr. Reilly, will talk on "Secrets of the Secret Service," at 1 p. m. on Thursday, April 21.

The University Hour series so far this year has included addresses by Max Eastman and Jesse Stuart.

AAUW UNIT
HEARS TALK
BY SOMMERGeneral
Meet Held
On Monday

Mrs. Francis Squire conducted the general meeting of the Newark Branch of the AAUW held Monday evening, in Warner Hall. Miss Vera Gould has been appointed membership chairman following the resignation of Mrs. C. M. Cooper. Members whose dues are not paid up by December 1 will be charged the customary reinstatement fee.

Mrs. J. C. Weinberg, fellowship chairman, announced that the proceeds of the card party held for the benefit of the fellowship fund on November 8 were sufficient to meet the quota of the Newark Branch for 1948. Mrs. John Lawrence was elected assistant treasurer.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Frank Sommer of the University of Delaware faculty, who discussed English university life.

The next general meeting of the Newark Branch will be on January 24, 1949. No meeting is scheduled for December.

Study groups will meet as follows during the coming week:

The arts and crafts group will meet on Tuesday, November 23 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. William H. Adams, Jr., No. 1 Briar Lane.

The international relations group will meet on Wednesday, December 1, at the home of Mrs. J. S. Gould, 21 Kentway. Mrs. Marcus Olson will report on the Herald-Tribune Forum.

The music group will meet on Wednesday, December 1, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. William Mosher, 46 East Delaware Avenue. Mrs. John Lawrence will discuss the Schumann First Symphony.

The next meeting of the social studies group will take place on Monday, December 6, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. W. H. Fisher, 69 East Delaware Avenue. Mrs. Louis Smith will discuss old age assistance in Delaware.

LAST PUBLIC HEARING ON ZONING LAW
TUES. NIGHTMeet Expected
To Mark Long
Step Towards
Final Passage

A major step toward adoption of a zoning ordinance for Newark is expected to be taken next Tuesday when the final public hearing on the current zoning draft will be held at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Details of the proposed ordinance, as recently revised, will be explained, and the public will get its last opportunity to ask questions and suggest changes. Mayor Ford McBerty will lead the discussion at the session, explaining the current draft and pointing out the revisions made to it since the first public hearing two years ago.

Town Solicitor Samuel Handoff will also be on hand to explain the legal procedure for adoption as required under Delaware law.

Following the explanatory talks, the meeting will be thrown open to questions from the floor.

Unless some serious and unforeseen obstacles develop, the draft, as it emerges from the meeting, will be virtually in final form for adoption. All the Town Council will have to do before passing it into law will be to work in such worthwhile changes as are suggested at the meeting.

The session will climax a long and turbulent career for the zoning draft, first drawn up by University of Pennsylvania experts well over two years ago. That original draft aroused a storm of opposition at the first meeting, and since then a local commission has worked on revising it.

ASSEMBLY
AT SCHOOLThanksgiving
Is Observed

The Rev. H. E. Hallman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, spoke yesterday morning at the annual high school program observing Thanksgiving.

Following a scripture reading by James Ford and the recitation of the Lord's Prayer by the entire student body, the program opened with a reading by Nancy Smith of the Presidential Proclamation on Thanksgiving. Richard Wollaston then read the Governor's Proclamation. A solo, "Prayer of Thanksgiving," was offered by Helen Morgan.

The program was in charge of the Student Council under President James Ford.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Della Cashel's third grade gave a Thanksgiving program for grades one to three. A play describing the first Thanksgiving featured the program. Yesterday afternoon Miss Mary Melvin's grade staged an elementary program on the theme "The Turkey."

NHS Industrial Arts Course Expanded;
New Melting Furnace Recently Installed

An insight into the complex processes that make our Machine Age tick is given students of the Newark High School in the Industrial Arts Course there.

The "shop course," as it is known, is usually thought of as useful only to those expecting to follow a trade, but Elsworth Hoffman, Newark's hard-working arts instructor, says it can be of value to everyone interested in gaining a concrete conception of what is behind the vast outpouring of goods and materials in our industrial society.

A simple utensil such as an aluminum pot, he says, takes on added meaning when the intricate processes behind its manufacture are made vivid to the student by duplicating them in miniature in the shop. The students learn such processes by actually making everyday articles themselves from conceiving the design to casting mould, ten metal in sand moulds, thus following on a small scale the same steps used in mass production.

One of the most interesting and profitable phases of the curriculum, the Industrial Arts course, recently expanded by Mr. Hoffman, is carried out on two floors of the old Main Street school building. It treats four basic phases of industrial processing: mechanical drawing or planning, wood-working, art metal work and foundry

WILL OFFER
FREE GIFTS
TO SHOPPERS"Treasure Hunt"
Will Mark Yule
Season; Prizes
Will Be Varied

Newark retailers sponsoring the "Newark Calling" program have decided to play Santa on a grand scale this Christmas.

The group will stage a "Treasure Hunt" beginning Monday and continuing until Friday, December 24.

Holiday shoppers, wise enough to do their Christmas buying at home, will be offered hundreds of free "Treasure Hunt" gifts in the cooperating stores. These will range in value from one to fifty dollars, and will go to the holders of winning "Treasure Hunt" cards.

The cards are now being mailed to over 10,000 persons within a fifty mile radius. Additional cards will be found in the stores participating in the project. The numbered tickets must be matched with the corresponding number on any of the gifts to be displayed in designated stores. If the ticket holder can match the number, he may take the article home as a free Christmas gift.

The event is a part of a long range program designed to build Newark into a major shopping center. The Newark merchants, who are participating in this promotional project, hope to pass along benefits to local shoppers through periodic price reductions. The "Treasure Hunt" is in line with their policy of introducing local shoppers to the wide range of values to be found in Newark.

TOWN LEAF
CRISIS EASESNo Action
Is Planned

Town authorities now intend to stand pat on the leaves-in-the-gutter situation.

As announced last week, property owners in several residential areas have swept their leaves into the streets in such quantities as to become a skidding hazard to cars and also a threat to the town drainage system.

Mayor Ford McBerty said this week that the situation has improved somewhat. In more critical areas where sewers are in danger of being clogged, town crews are being used to clear the gutters. In other sections, the problem will be left to the property owners.

As pointed out last week, leaves may be burned on one's property provided the owner secures a permit from the town fire marshal Elmer Ellison. In addition, Mr. McBerty said this week that no permit at all is needed if the leaves are burned in properly covered garbage incinerators.

Town Honor Roll
To Be Replaced

In a reversal of plans announced last week, town authorities now intend to replace the memorial Honor Roll, blown down in a wind gust almost two weeks ago.

Originally, officials planned to remove the board and store it in the town garage, but, following a request from the local Veterans of Foreign Wars, they agreed to salvage it if possible.

The supporting uprights were snapped in the blow, and the board may now be somewhat warped, but, if it can be repaired satisfactorily, it will again be erected in its former site.

At first, officials wanted to mark time before replacing it until the outcome of the current drive for a permanent memorial is determined, but they agreed to take immediate action when the veterans' group requested it.

INSURANCE
ON SCHOOLS
IS INCREASEDSchool Board
Discusses Future
Building Needs

Additional insurance coverage recently authorized by the Newark School Board brings the total protection for the district to $808,210. It was announced at the November meeting of the board on Monday night. The added insurance was secured at slightly reduced rates.

Future building needs of the district were also discussed by the members, who are preparing their annual request for repair funds from the state legislature.

An extension and addition to the present high school gym is badly needed, it was said, and alterations to the main building are also required.

Most important, however, is the need for additional classrooms for the proposed new elementary building, according to Supt. Wilmer E. Shue. Even when constructed, the 26-classroom unit will not meet the estimated needs of the district. The current school population is 762 pupils in the elementary and 687 in the high school. Next year's estimate is 800 for the elementary and 730 high school. For 1950-51 it will be around 840 elementary, 772 high school. These are merely estimated based on population trends and do not cover unusual town growth. If the figures are born out, the new school will not be adequate. However, the plans have been drawn to permit the adding of more rooms without disrupting the basic design.

H. L. Miller, high school science instructor, was authorized by the board to serve on an evaluation committee at Milford High School, February 15, 16 and 17.

JUNIOR RED
YULE BOXES

Mrs. Milton L. Draper, chairman for Junior Red Cross for Area I, reported an excellent response for the annual school membership drive. While a few schools in the district have not given complete reports, a 100 per cent enrollment is expected.

The Newark Special District filled seventy-five gift boxes for Christmas delivery abroad. This is a part of the educational and rehabilitation programs for schools in foreign countries. The boxes, which measure 9x4x3 inches, are marked "for a boy" or "for a girl," depending upon the contents. They may contain any of the following: marbles, color book, paint-box, doll, necktie, hair ornament, pencils, crayons, compass, protractor, blotter, toothbrush and toothpaste, buttons, thimble, thread, toilet soap, and needles.

Since the metric system is commonly used in European countries, the proper kind of ruler is inserted when the boxes are inspected in Wilmington before they are packed in cartons for shipment. Each individual gift box is valued at two dollars and the pupils may choose the things with which they wish to fill the boxes.

Book Review Will Feature Century Meet

Mrs. Paul Townner, well-known Philadelphia book reviewer, will discuss "Toward the Morning," by Hervey Allen before the New Century Club, of Newark at its next meeting on Monday, November 29. Mrs. J. Irvin Dayett will be hostess.

P-T. A. MEET
WILL DISCUSS
STATE PLANS
FOR SCHOOLSExplanation Of Laws Regulating
Schools In Del.
Will Be Offered

A discussion of the laws and regulations now governing education in Delaware as well as an explanation of the new legislative program proposed for education in the state will mark the December meeting of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association next Thursday at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Several speakers will be on hand to lead the talks in what promises to be a highly informative round-up of the entire educational picture as it relates to politics in the state.

The main address will be given by R. C. Barab, legal counsel for the Delaware Council of Education, who is expected to explain the present status of education in Delaware and also outline the legislative program proposed for introduction in the General Assembly.

A resume of the local situation will be given by J. M. McVey, president of the school board here, who will point out specific needs in the Newark district. A third talk will be given by J. P. Sinclair, who was recently re-elected to the state legislature from this district. Mr. Sinclair is chairman of the legislative committee of the P-T. A.

In a statement stressing the importance of the meeting, Fred L. Stiegler, publicity chairman, said this week: "Since our public school system is controlled by state laws, you as parents will be very much interested in this discussion of the kind of laws we should have to regulate the education of our children. Very few of us understand many of the regulations and will welcome the opportunity at this meeting to obtain more information about them. In view of this interesting and important program, you are urged to attend the meeting, assist in formulating the legislation you desire, become acquainted with our legislative committee chairman, and join the P-T. A."

After the business meeting, there will be a social period in the school cafeteria. Free refreshments will be served by the mothers of the pupils of the ninth grade under the chairmanship of Mrs. Clifton T. Knotts.

JAYCEE
CONTEST
PLANNEDTurkey Winners
Listed; Speaking
Contest Nov. 29

Winners in the turkey raffle sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce were announced this week as follows: Mrs. Doris Robinson, 17 Choate Street; John Kohler, Elkton; Leo Phillips, Hercules Experiment Station.

Judges for the student public speaking contest on November 29 will be Mrs. F. H. Bratton, member of the local AAUW, and W. Edward Fox, president of the Jaycees.

The contest, on the theme "I Speak For Democracy," is open to students in grades ten, eleven and twelve. Newark merchants have donated $15 for the first prize and $10 for the second. In addition the students will compete for state and national awards.

A recording of the Newark winner will be sent to state judges who will select the best state entry on December 6. This will go to the national judges, who will name four winners of $500 scholarships.

As soon as the materials for "Scotch-lighting" bicycles arrives here, the Jaycees expect to go ahead with their plan for offering the reflecting tape free to local bicycle owners.

St. Thomas Women
To Meet Wednesday

Mrs. E. Hill Bacon, superintendent of Sunnybrook Cottage for tubercular children will address group three of the Women of St. Thomas Episcopal Church at a meeting next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the parish house.

Members are urged to bring toys and knitting wool for their Christmas projects.

November Issue of "Buzz" Appears

The Thanksgiving issue of the new "Buzz" at Newark High School appeared this week. Carrying on the "new" idea of the October issue, the paper has added a few new touches here and there in this issue. On the first page there is a sketch of the proposed elementary school building. Inside the sketch is a new column known as Who's Who. This time the column includes five seniors, Nancy Conte and Arthur Mayer. Nancy has contributed a great deal of the art work now in "Buzz". She is responsible for the Thanksgiving issue appearing on the first page. The illustrations used for the columns Local Yoke, Miss T., Singers, Sports, and Editorials. There are a number of letters to the editor appearing in this issue also. These have been contributed by students from the ninth grade to the twelfth. The editor and staff of the paper are encouraging students to write articles or letters for the paper in order to make "Buzz" the students' paper.

Junior Journalists Publish Paper

The "Toddler's Toot" now in its second year at Newark will publish four issues this year, the first of which will appear November 23.

Members of the staff were chosen by vote of appointment, depending on the nature of the position and the ability of the applicant. Patsy Lyons was chosen editor and Dolores Lloyd associate editor. Other staff members include Art Editor: Marie Woerner and Richard Belyk; Sports Editor: Barbara Zeiler; Feature Editor: Janet Campbell; Business Manager: Ferris Lee; News Editor: Herbert Martin and Charlotte De Prisco; Make-up Editor: Virginia Thomas; Exchange Editor: Elmer Adams; Social Editor: Jane Walton; Reporters: James Heister, Albert Porach, and Mary Brown.

Mr. Boney is advisor of the "Toddler's Toot" and Mrs. Overbey supervises the typing.

Sixth Grade Visits New Castle and Longwood

The sixth grade, room 6-102 with Mrs. H. L. Miller as their teacher had an interesting trip to New Castle and Longwood Gardens on November 19. The class was accompanied by six of the mothers. In New Castle the students were shown through Amstel House, Old Dutch House, William Myers Home, and Immanuel Church. A walk around old New Castle proved very interesting and educational as well.

From New Castle, the group drove to the Pierre S. duPont Gardens at Longwood. There, they toured the Horticulture Building where they saw the tropical fruits and the fine orchid collection. After an extended walk through the grounds of the garden, the class returned to school. The sights and experiences encountered by the sixth grade students on this trip will provide much material for class discussions for many days.

High School Assembly

The interesting speaker of November 17, 1948, in the High School auditorium, was Mr. E. C. Ramsey, a world traveler. Mr. Ramsey, a veteran of two wars, made clear the subject "Understand and Be Understood." Mr. Ramsey has just returned from abroad and the last place he visited was England. Places mentioned in his talk were: Siam, Portugal, England, Turkey, Czechoslovakia, Russia, Germany, France, and China, and other places where a major issue is being faced.

Mr. Ramsey stressed the need of knowing how to use our weapons of peace over our weapons of war. "Face the Facts," we are told as students, by our speaker who has had experience and knowledge of other countries and the way in which their governments are operated.

"Truth that was deliberately kept out of the press will come to the people, now that elections are over," Mr. Ramsey said.

Other points touched were the Marshall Plan, and feelings and ideas of other countries toward our own. Mr. Ramsey's feeling toward China is, "China is 'gone' for the present."

He made the pupils realize that they and all others in America sit back and take too much for granted and are not as thankful as they should be.

Mr. Ramsey, a man well-qualified to speak on foreign affairs, gave the audience a fairly complete picture of the situation here and abroad.

At the end of Mr. Ramsey's talk, the seniors were told to remain and Mr. Ramsey took up where he left off in his talk and asked the boys and girls if they had any questions they wanted answered. The pupils were very responsive and found the speaker was able to answer their queries. The entire talk lasted over the first three periods of the morning.

You Are Invited To These Special Meetings Of The Bible Presbyterian Church, Newark

Pastor

The Rev. Hayes T. Henry

Ours is a day of great confusion, not of trivial things but concerning the fundamental concepts of our lives and the basic motives of our hearts.

Science with her Evolutionary theories demands that we join the ranks of the Skeptic or Atheist. Cults and "isms" clamor for our attention to their mystic powers and doctrines. The churches filled with worldly memories bid us listen to the pious platitudes of unbelieving preachers.

These and countless other voices press in upon us so that we wonder if there is such a thing as Truth. But over this Babel sound of man's confusion rises the strong, clear Word of the Living God, calling us back to repentance and faith, the Faith of the historic Christian Church.

"THE REMOVAL OF THE CANDLESTICK FROM THE MODERNIST CHURCH"

Speaker

The Rev. Newton C. Conant

Pastor of the Calvary Bible Protestant Church in Camden. Reared a Methodist and ordained a Methodist under the Eastern Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

Mr. Conant having concluded a study of the literature of the leaders who proposed the union of the great Methodist bodies was thoroughly convinced that to come into fellowship with the new union would mean to come into fellowship with apostasy. At the September, 1939 Session of the Eastern Conference he led a group of 30 churches to walk out of the Conference Sessions rather than enter Methodist Union. Mr. Conant was elected President of this group which is now called the Bible Protestant Church.

"THE TRAINING OF THE 20TH CENTURY REFORMATION PROPHETS"

Speaker

The Rev. Allan A. MacRae,
Th. B. Ph. D.

President of Faith Theological Seminary and Professor of Old Testament.

Dr. MacRae became famous to America as the mountain climbing Theologian who rescued the three soldiers from the Grand Canyon, but this versatile man has a far greater place in the Christian world as one who trains the Prophets.

Dr. MacRae received the degrees of A. B. and A. M. from Occidental College, Th. B. from Princeton Theological Seminary, A. M. from Princeton University, studied at the University of Berlin and the American School of Oriental Research, Jerusalem and received his degree of Ph. D. from the University of Pennsylvania.

Helping kindly old women to cross busy streets has always been held up to us as a chivalrous undertaking of the noblest type. Boy scouts, we understand, are instructed to be ever alert in this respect, and, according to the general belief, no man of spirit can aspire to a more gallant act.

We wish to expose this notion for what it is—a dangerous bit of romanticism that can get a man into a peek of trouble. We know this from bitter experience. Leave it to the boy scouts, we say, who presumably train long and ardently for it.

We learned our lesson recently after years of going along like other men always wanting to help old women across streets but never having just the right opportunity. Even as a youth we had a secret hankering to do this. We were attracted to the idea not merely from charitable motives but because we thought it might turn out to be an interesting adventure. Then, a couple of weeks ago, our big chance came.

We were standing on a mid-city corner with the light against us, when, suddenly, there appeared at our side an old woman of the ideal type for our purposes. One would have had to look long and hard for a more fitting specimen of aged fragility and benevolence. She was tiny, wispy and obviously had no conception of the dangers she was about to face.

We saw at a glance that fate had finally played into our hands. The thing to do was to seize this opportunity before some hovering boy scout beat us to it. Accordingly, we assumed our most debonair manner, stepped to her side and offered our services in fording the perilous traffic tides.

She looked up at us frostily and said: "Young man I've been crossing streets for the past 75 years by myself, and I haven't had any trouble yet. See that you get yourself across."

These, as events later proved, were words of boundless wisdom. Would that we had hearkened to them and retired in polite confusion. But, intoxicated as we were by our chivalrous mood, we brooked no rebellion from the old woman. Laughing confidently, we seized her arm in an iron grip and told her, gently but firmly, to move along. She winced and protested, but together we plunged from the curb.

We had not gone ten paces before we saw we were about to face one of life's supreme moments. The light had changed while the two of us had been arguing on the curb, and we had consumed much valuable time. Now, we suddenly became aware of lines of panting automobiles, poised menacingly on either side of us. The street, we saw with added misgivings, was an unusually wide one, and the opposite curb was a thin, hazy line of safety. What's more, the old woman's pace was tantalizingly slow, scarcely more than a totter.

Getting a bit panicky, we urged her to step it up. "Young man," she said, "I can't go any faster, and I don't intend to. What's the matter—scared? Get a grip on yourself. Why, those cars wouldn't dare hit me!"

This devil-may-care attitude brought a cold sweat to our brow. We saw we were with one of those nerveless creatures who know no fear. We won't say our chivalrous veneer was cracked, but it sagged badly. Nevertheless, we stuck gamely to our post.

About that time the light changed to caution. Motors on either side gunned threateningly; a policeman waved us on with frantic motions. The opposite curb was still a misty line in the distance. We felt the world reel about us, and all our past life flashed before us as in a dream.

Once again, we pleaded with the old woman to at least break into a shuffle. This time she balked altogether, and, panting slightly, began lecturing us on the ridiculous vanity of men who cling cravenly to old women under the pretense of helping them.

While she talked, the light turned. Cars began roaring about us, horns blaring, drivers snarling. It was a situation to try the staunchest, and this, we regret to say, does not include us. Panic seized us, and we started to bolt.

Fortunately, our companion caught our arm and prevented us from going completely berserk. "You fool!" she cried, "Want to kill yourself. Stick with me; I'll get you across."

From then on, she escorted us. She picked her way through the swirling confusion with ease and confidence, the result of years of experience in ambulating through roaring traffic.

Once, after an unusually close call, we faltered and could not go on. The old woman soothed us and summoned a policeman. Together, they dragged us to the curb, our unnerved form sagging between them.

Once on safe ground, we managed to stand unaided again. The old woman promptly thanked us for our assistance and cautioned us against taking on bigger jobs than we could handle. Then, nodding politely, she tottered off. We tottered to the nearest bar.

One Way To Keep 'Em On The Farm

Young people may be "persuaded" to stay on the farm, three University of Wisconsin teachers believe.

They advocate remodeling the farm house so it can compete with more comfortable and convenient housing in cities.

They suggest replacing the old-fashioned kitchen with a modern one. Other rebuilding would include a bathroom, garage and storage space.

Hens Bow To W. & L.; End Year With Five Wins; Three Defeats

Annual Grid Dinner Held Tuesday; Murray And Aides Congratulate Players

After five straight victories, the University of Delaware Blue Hens lost their last football game of the season at Wilmington Park Saturday afternoon, to a powerful and brilliantly versatile Washington and Lee eleven, by a score of 21 to 14.

But Coach Bill Murray's Delawareans can look back upon a successful season, as every team they met was definitely a worthy opponent. There was not a let-up throughout the season, with exception of the Hens' idle weekend, as every game called for top fighting tactics.

Pre-season predictions were so close that the Hens almost could have won all or lost all. But they had the punch to win, which took them to victories over West Chester, Bucknell, Muhlenberg, Gettysburg and Rollins after an unexpected loss to P. M. C. and a second to a powerful Maryland.

Billy Cole, the mighty mite from Wilmington, closed his college football career with the sensation of the afternoon against the Washington and Lee Generals, when he took a kickoff 76 yards for the Hens' second touchdown. He made midfield with the help of effective blocks by Bob Campbell and Jack Gallagher, then apparently was trapped by a trio of Generals. Twisting and battling his way through, after fans had given him up for lost, he had fine protection from there on.

The Generals came to Wilmington with the reputation as an aerial threat. They lived up to their reputation, but their queuing tactics were definitely on the ground.

The visitors took advantage of Delaware's ineffective defense during the first quarter to score twice for a victory margin. Covering a fumble on the Delaware 38, the Generals made ground gains for 20 yards, with halfback Charley Harrington and quarterback Mike Boyda carrying. Then Boyda, fifth ranking passer in the nation, tossed one to Jim Lukens, six-foot-four sixth ranking receiver in the nation, for 10 yards. Brian Bell, the Generals' backfield powerhouse, plunged it over.

Bell scored two more. Again in the first period, they started in midfield and marched to Delaware's 18 on ground plays. Then Boyda passed to Bell for the touchdown. The third one, in the second period, also was set up by long ground gains. The powerful Generals made line and end gains for 64 yards, then again Boyda passed to Bell from the 27-yard line.

Delaware's first score resulted from an 85-yard downfield drive with Marion Stalloni, Hen fullback, plunging most of the yardage through the line. On their third down and goal to go, at the W. and L. seven-yard line, quarterback Charlie Smith faked a pass to make the one-yard line, then Stalloni bulled it over. Delaware's second tally was Cole's sensational touchdown run in the third period.

Stan Bilski kicked both of Delaware's points, one from the 25-yard line after a holding penalty.

Delaware's football season came to an official close Tuesday night with President and Mrs. Carlson's annual football dinner, a brilliant affair in Old College Hall, at which Coach Bill Murray and his aides, Line Coach Joe Brunansky, Backfield Coach Shack Martin, Assistant Line Coach Tony Stalloni and Freshman Coach Marty Pierson were warmly congratulated upon completion of a successful season.

Coach Pierson's yearlings had only one touchdown scored against them this season, by an undefeated Navy Plebes' team, ending their season with victories over four scoreless opponents, while the Delaware Jayvees in their only game of the season defeated Lehigh J. V's.

The season's results:

Addition To Delaware Park Clubhouse

Delaware Park's clubhouse facilities are being greatly expanded with the building of the new addition, shown above. The rebuilding of the clubhouse will increase mutual facilities by 45 per cent, seating facilities by 65 per cent, dining room facilities by 10 per cent, and toilet facilities by 200 per cent. The rebuilding of the clubhouse is the start of a building program to consist chiefly of alterations for the comfort and benefit of the patrons.

Clippers Will Meet Wilmington Eagles In Title Clash Sat.

135-Pounders To Settle Area Championship In Game At Athletic Field

Interest is running high here in the grid clash between the Cleveland Avenue Clippers and the Elm Street Eagles, of Wilmington, scheduled for the high school field this Saturday at 2:15 p. m.

A colorful game is promised, with the teams battling for the sectional championship in the 135 pound class. The Eagles are tops in their city league, and the Clippers have taken over everything in sight in the local area.

While the visitors are heavier and taller than the Clippers, the latter hope to offset this with a fast, hard, deceptive attack, built around the T formation.

The Eagles will be wearing green and gold uniforms, while the Clippers will be clad in red and white.

The probable starting line-up for the Clippers: Andy Murphy, left end; Norman Tweed, left tackle; Jim Smith, left guard; Martin Murphy, center; Don Sharp, right guard; Ray Long, right tackle; Howard Keeley, right end; Raymond Knox, quarterback; Burton Schaefer, fullback; Ralph Foster, halfback; Merritt Buchanan, halfback.

Also likely to see action are: Bill Brielley, Gene Sharp, Dick Patchell, Jim Sydel, "Butch" Grundy, Dick Lawson and Sam Gray.

NEWARK HOCKEY TEAM WINS

On Thursday, November 18, the Newark girls hockey team paid a visit to Mt. Pleasant to play their last game of the season. In the last few minutes of the contest, "Dinny" Wells tallied for Newark, to make the final score 1-0 in favor of the Yellow Jackets. The result of the year's games is: two victories, one tie, and four defeats.

Hen Cross Country And Soccermen End Successful Seasons

Steers' Varsity Wins Three, Loses Two; Burnham's Kickers Take Three

Cross country runners and the soccer team of the University of Delaware last week completed their most successful seasons since the days of pre-war sports.

Coach Ken Steers' varsity runners closed their season with a 46 to 19 triumph over Albright College while the freshman runners defeated the Albright yearlings by 43 to 16. The varsity won three, lost two during the season and the frosh lost but two in six meets.

Three varsity runners led the pack against Albright before the first opponent crossed the line. They were Tom Clayton, completing the rain-soaked four and three-eighths mile course in 21 minutes and 55 seconds, followed by Bob Goodell and George Bradley. The victories were the Hen runners' first since pre-war meets.

Harry Hughes, 1947 P. S. duPont middle distance star, and Tom Fouracres led the freshman barriers. Hughes winning in 14 minutes 39 seconds over the two and seven-eighths course, with Fouracres a second behind him. Joe Rashit and Vito Pavia, Delaware yearlings, also finished ahead of the first Albright distance man.

Coach Whitney Burnham's kickers won three, lost six and tied one during the season, but the 1948 total was Delaware's best post-war record. The Delaware yearlings lost three, won none. Last year the varsity booters won two, and they took but one match in '46.

The Delawareans closed their season with a 7-2 loss to a closely coordinated Bucknell team Friday. The season results follow:

N.H.S. Jackets Keyed For Upset In Meet With Conrad Today

Record Breaking Crowd Expected To See Annual Grid Battle Here

One of the largest crowds ever to view a Newark High School game is expected to turn out for the annual Thanksgiving Day meeting between the Jackets and Conrad High School today on Frazer Field.

Although past records point to Conrad as the favorite, the Jackets, who have been staging a late season comeback with victories over P. S. and A. S. duPont, are keyed for an upset.

They will be spurred by plenty of moral backing. Students at the high school have been plugging for a victory over Conrad the past week. Corridors have been decked with posters, and "victory" talk is heard constantly.

Adding spirit to the game will be a special half-time program. A variety skit is planned, along with music being by the Conrad and Newark bands.

Seating arrangements have been completed for efficient handling of the fans. Guards will be stationed at strategic points, and no one will be admitted without a ticket, it was stressed. The precautions were decided on after the P. S. duPont game here, when many onlookers slipped into the field without paying.

Probable starting lineups:

ARMY WILL OPEN DIRECT COMMISSIONS

To Offer 2nd
Lieut. Ranks
To Civilians

During the next 18 months, the Army will commission 23,000 second lieutenants directly from civilian life. Applicants must qualify on 5 counts: (1) One year's active service in any of the Armed Forces of the United States between December 7, 1941 and June 30, 1947. (2) Separation from the service under honorable conditions. (3) Must have completed two years toward a degree at an accredited college. (4) Must be at least 19 years of age at the time of entry on active duty. (5) 19 to 31 years old, inclusive. The flow of volunteers and selective service inductees into the expanding Army has created a wide need for officers in all branches of the service. This new officer procurement program gets under way on or about December 1, 1948, with the first student officers arriving at schools the last week of November. Applicants can currently choose the branch of service they prefer from among cavalry, infantry, Field Artillery, Anti-Aircraft Artillery and Guided Missiles. Other branches are now in the planning stage and before long commissions in every branch will probably be available. Successful applicants will be commissioned in the Officers Reserve Corps prior to being ordered to active duty at the appropriate Army school for 12 weeks of training. After graduation they will remain on active duty to complete at least two years. Applications are now being received at all Recruiting Stations in Wilmington.

It is estimated that approximately 12 million bushels of asparagus is marketed annually in the United States.

Thanksgiving

Lord God, we give Thee thanks this day,
Humbly, in our simple way,
For all the gracious gifts which Thou
Hast deigned so richly to endow —
For life — for every passing minute —
For this, Thy world, and all things in it!

We give Thee thanks, dear Lord, for these —
The green beneficence of trees,
The kindness of rain, the birth
Of springtime from a barren earth —
The earth that bears the bread we break
In gratitude for Thy sweet sake.

We thank Thee, Lord, for healing song,
For courage, wise and tall and strong;
For all the laughter and the tears
That mold the pattern of our years;
For truth and trust and constancy,
For faith that lets us lean on Thee!

We give Thee thanks for ears to hear,
For feet to tread Thy pathways here,
For hands to touch, and lips to sing
Thy name in every lovely thing —
For friendship with our fellow men —
But mostly for Thy love.

AMEN

"The Public Appreciation Service"

ARTICLE BY NHS HEAD

An article by Frederick B. Kutz, principal of the Newark High School, appeared in a recent issue of "School Activities," a nationally circulated educational magazine.

Entitled "Planning the Activity Program," the article outlined the methods by which the successful and widely recognized activity program at the Newark High School is being carried out.

A school activity program includes such extra-curricular activities as the Student Council, newspaper, clubs and other groups. In his article, Mr. Kutz compared this program to the dessert of the educational diet, the most enjoyable part of the school program, the main course of which is the curriculum proper.

The object, he said, is to work a varied activity program into the curriculum itself in order to remove the objection that there is no time for anything beyond the regular curriculum.

Another important aspect is the need for democratic administration with participating by students and teachers, making use of pupil leadership wherever possible.

Services Yesterday For Amos S. Ewing

Final services for Amos S. Ewing, who died Sunday night after a stroke at his home, 373 South College Avenue, were held yesterday from the Jones Funeral Home. The Rev. L. C. Randall, pastor of Moore's Chapel at Blake, Cecil County, Md., and the Rev. F. A. Holland, a retired Methodist minister, officiated.

Interment was in St. John's Cemetery at Lewisville, Pa.

Mr. Ewing, who was 80, was a retired farmer. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Scarborough Ewing; a son, Cecil E. Ewing, Fair Hill, Md.; three daughters, Mrs. Leonard C. Schaefer, Delaware City, and Miss Helen A. Ewing, of Wilmington, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Irwin, of Wilmington.

Son of the late Elisha and Louisa R. Ewing, Mr. Ewing farmed at Blake, Md., where he was born, until his retirement about 10 years ago. He lived at Zion for a time and came to Newark about five years ago. He was a member of Moore's Chapel.

United Fund Drive At Schools Off To Slow Start

Early returns were slow on the United Fund Drive which opened Monday at the Newark Schools. The campaign, which will continue through December 1, aims at a contribution of fifty cents per pupil and covers all the individual funds appeals formerly made at the schools.

Contributions lagged this week, it was said, because many parents seemed reluctant to give to the campaign which they confused with the United Fund Drive recently held in town. There is no relation between the two, it was said. The school drive, introduced here two years ago, is intended merely to combine into one drive all the individual campaigns, such as the Red Cross and the March of Dimes.

School Board Members Entertained By Faculty

Members of the local school board and their wives were guests of the Newark school faculty at dinner recently in Hanna's Tearoom, Wilmington.

The entertainment program was highlighted by some diverting and realistic impersonations of animal calls by the Rev. Joseph Wootton, of New Castle. Vocal selections and dance numbers were also offered.

OFFICIAL AT ROTARY CLUB

Al Haddock, of Wilmington, district governor of Rotary, paid his first official visit to the Newark unit on Monday.

He first met with President Ken Steers and the directors, and later addressed the entire club at its regular dinner meeting. He discussed community service, international service, Rotary foundation and Fellowship.

The accomplishments of any club, he said, depend chiefly on vocational service. The district governor also installed two new club members here: Don Savitch and Kingdom Watts.

ARCHDEACON NEVE DIES

Word has been received of the death of the Rev. Frederick W. Neve, Archdeacon of Blue Ridge, Virginia, and for many years rector of St. Paul's P. E. Church at Ivy Depot.

Dr. Neve was born in Kent, England, December 8, 1855, and died at Ivy Depot, November 15. His wife, the former Helen A. Cooch, died several years ago. They are survived by a daughter, Helen Cooch Neve.

Industrial Arts

it often leads to the development of a creative hobby, so important in these days when one's job frequently no longer provides intrinsic satisfactions.

In addition to foundry practice, the students acquire fundamental skills in other phases of manufacturing. They learn to draw plans and use tools in woodmaking. In art metal, they fashion useful articles by hammering metals such as copper and German silver over stakes.

An indication of the interest in the course is the fact that 160 junior-senior high boys are enrolled. Only youths in the seventh and eighth grades are required to take it. Mr. Hauffman deplores the fact that no girls have entered as yet. He feels the course could prove as profitable for them in its avocational and educational aspects as for the boys.

Church Meets

THANKSGIVING

It seems, each year, there's more and more for us to be more thankful for. Prosperity, continued health, a nation-wise increase in wealth are just a few good reasons why we shouldn't let this day go by without an earnest thankful prayer for blessings we find everywhere.

You can't let any more time go by without having your kitchen "modernized." May we suggest a wonderful "first step"? It's a Frigidaire electric range—beautiful to look at and delightful to use. And your kitchen will stay clean longer for there is no flame, no soot, no smoke. Your every Frigidaire question will be intelligently and courteously answered at the
