TAX CUT NOT PROBABLE IN TOWN BUDGET

Council Considers Question But Defers Action Until June 22

APPEAL DAY IS NAMED

Municipal Improvements and Necessary Extensions Make Rate Cut Unlikely

While no decision concerning the new tax rate for Newark will be reached until after an appeal session of the Town Council on June 22, indications were evident that no reduction in the present rate can be expected this year. The matter came before the regular monthly meeting of the Council Monday night, and while the members were unanimous in a desire to reduce the rate again, municipal improvements now being made and several necessary extensions to town facilities will measurably reduce the chances for any decrease in the governing body's present income.

Routine affairs occupied the board which was presided over by Mayor Frank Collins. A full attendance was present at the session with the exception of Councilman John P. Richards, Western District.

New Equipment Added
Approval was given for the purchase of new summer uniforms for the Police Department. Light-weight shirts and trousers of dark blue will be donated by members of the force in about ten days.

The purchase of a new typewriter and desk for the Town office was approved by the body. Town Engineer George C. Price and Mayor Collins were granted permission to select new level for use by the Sewer, Light and Water Departments.

Bids were received from five local dealers—Dennison Motor Company, Rittenhouse Motor Company, Fader Motor Company, Wilmington Auto Sales Company (Newark Branch), and Henry Motte—for a 1½ ton truck needed by the Light Department.

Purchase of the truck was held up until Mayor Collins and members of the Light Department Committee, headed by Councilman George Ramsey, can investigate each bid.

Carnival Plans Approved

Plans for a carnival to be held by the Improved Order of Red Men in Newark met with the approval of the Council. The affair will be held on the Maxwell Lot, Academy street and Lovett avenue, from June 19 to 27, inclusive.

Chief of Police William Cunningham reported 11 arrests made during May. Fines collected amounted to $60.50, and $29.50 held pending additional collection.

The report of Treasurer Vernon Steele showed a balance of $15,166.93 in bank.

Appeal Day Set

Taxpayers will be given an opportunity to get a line on property values when the Town's assessment books will be displayed at Rhodes' Drug Store on Saturday, June 6. They will remain there until noon on June 22, when the Council will sit from 1 to 6 p. m., D. S. T., to hear appeals. A new tax rate or the continuance of (Continued on Page 4)

Pageant At Longwood Has 150 People Cast

Two acts and an epilogue from the presentation of "Ramona," the seventh Kennett Square Legion Pageant with footnotes, at Longwood Gardens on the evenings of June 18, 19 and 20. The cast numbers 150, including 22 speaking parts, with the title role played by Miss Bernice Wier, Kennett Consolidated School teacher.

The ever popular story by Helen Hunt Jackson will be dramatized by John T. Hall, director of the pageant. Vocal selections and Miss Virginia Crozier in a solo dance are also featured.

All musical accompaniment is arranged for string instruments. George Madden and Christian C. Sanderson conduct the orchestra.

Pageant headquarters are established in the Kennett Legion building and are open daily, evenings and Sunday afternoons. Address Legion Pageant, Box 491, Kennett Square, Pa., or telephone Kennett Square 50 for tickets and information.

Receives Promotion

G. Thomas Cartier

Former general traffic manager of the Diamond State Telephone Company, Mr. Cartier has been appointed vice president and general manager of the same company. He succeeds Herbert L. Badger, who has been appointed vice president in charge of general matters pertaining to the personnel of the telephone organization.

NAVAL NOTABLE VISITS NEWARK

Newark was visited on Tuesday for a few hours by an outstanding Naval figure, Dr. Joel T. Boone, nephew of Magistrate Daniel Thompson. Dr. Boone, whose exact title is unknown, since he has been promoted from a Lt. Commander, notored east from California due to the death of his father, and stopped at Newark with his wife and daughter, Suzanne.

White House Physician

Dr. Boone was formerly White House physician and served Presidents Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover. After leaving the White House, he was appointed surgeon on the Navy's largest hospital boat, "The Relief."

Dr. Boone has received numerous decorations including: the Congressional Medal of Honor, the highest decoration this Government confers; the Croix de Guerre with palm; and the Legion d'Honneur from France. Other military decorations include the Distinguished Service Cross, the Militaire du Guerre (Italian) and in addition, he has four citations on his Victorian Medal.

Most Decorated Officer

Dr. Boone has the distinction of being the most decorated officer in the United States Navy. He was twice wounded while treating troops under fire.

He is now on his way to California, after a two weeks' leave of absence due to his recent bereavement.

Iron Hill Resident Pensioned by P. R. R.

Among six employees pensioned by the Pennsylvania Railroad, effective June 1, is Harry E. Howell, track foreman in the Maintenance of Way Department who resides at Iron Hill, Md.

Mr. Howell, a native born Cecil Countian, entered the services of the railroad as a laborer on June 5, 1901. He was advanced to first-laborer on February 11, 1906 and became a foreman, August 16, 1909. His service extended over a period of 34 years and nine months.

Battery "E" To Hold Dance Tomorrow Night

Battery "E," D. N. G., will give another dance in the local armory tomorrow evening for the benefit of the baseball team. First Sgt. John L. Sullivan is chairman in charge and is assisted by Corp. Emory Sult and Private Arthur G. Husfelt.

On Saturday, members of the Non-Coms Club will go to Gettysburg, where they will be guests for the week-end of a similar organization of a Battery H in that city.

PAYMENTS ON LOCAL FARMS TO RUN HIGH

Soil-Conserving Awards In New Castle County To Be $13.50 Acre

STATE AVERAGE $11.73

Soil-conserving or Class 1 payments to be made to Delaware farmers who divert a portion of their acreage of the general soil-depleting crops to soil-conserving crops under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program will average $11.73 per acre for the three counties, according to word received from Washington by R. O. Stelzer, Extension Economist at the University of Delaware, who is in charge of the educational phases of the program in the State.

The Class 1 payments, however, will vary in the three counties as follows: New Castle county, $13.50 per acre; Kent county, $11.00 per acre; Sussex county, $10.70 per acre. The soil-conserving payments to be made throughout the entire United States will average $10.00 per acre or lower than the payments to be made in any of the three Delaware counties.

Productivity Average
The county average rate of these payments is based on the productivity of crop land in the county as indicated by the average yields of principal soil-depleting crops in relation to the United States average yields of the same crops.

The rate of payment on individual farms within the counties will vary somewhat from the county average according to the way the productivity of the crop land on the farm varies from the county average productivity.

"That is," Stelzer said, "if the land on the farm is more productive than the average in the county, as measured by the yields of the general soil-depleting crops, the rate of payment for diversion from the general soil-depleting base for that farm will be higher than the county average rate. Likewise, if the average productivity for the farm is lower than the county average, the rate will be lower than the county average."

Elk Mills Driver Freed By Coroner

Claude C. Jackson, 25, Elk Mills, driver of the automobile which struck and fatally wounded Ernest Harrigan, 50, Cherry Hill, on the Fair Hill-Nottingham road near here, Saturday, May 23, was absolved from blame by a coroner's jury at Wilmington last Friday night.

The jury summoned by Coroner George A. Pedrick exonerated Jackson when testimony indicated that Harrigan was in an advanced stage of inebriation and presumably walked into the path of the machine.

Jackson, given a hearing before Magistrate Daniel Thompson on Monday on a charge of assault and battery with an automobile, was found not guilty. He had been free on $2,000 bail.

PAYMENTS OF BONDS START HERE JUNE 15

Veterans Will Be Required To Furnish Identification or Certificates

COOPERATION NEEDED

Local postal and American Legion officials have been working diligently for the last week in an effort to have everything ready in Newark for the paying of adjusted service certificates to veterans in this area. The Treasury Department at Washington will start mailing the bonds on June 15 by registered letter.

Contrary to the plan of distributing the letters on the evening of June 15 which will be followed in Wilmington and various other cities, no special delivery of the type will be made in Newark, Postmaster C. E. Rittenhouse announced this week.

Personal Signature Necessary

In compliance with Congressional requirements, the bonds cannot be delivered to any other person than to the person to whom made payable. Any veteran not at his place of address at the time his bond is delivered will be required to call at the postoffice to receive the certificate.

Full identification will be necessary to the postmaster under the law. Identifications must be personal in every case.

Following delivery of the bonds, they may be presented for payment at the postoffice, where identification will again be necessary. Veterans will be required to sign their bonds in the presence of a certifying officer and an interim receipt will be issued for the bonds. Checks will then be issued by ordinary mail.

Use Exact Signature

Checks issued in payment of bonds positively will not be cashed by the postoffice. Veterans must sign the request for payment exactly as his name appears on the face of the bond and must write his address on each bond in the presence of the certifying officer.

Postmasters in Delaware outside of Wilmington will certify to bonds after (Continued on Page 8)

Carolyn Cobb Named New Librarian Here

Following the resignation of Miss Dorothy Hayes as custodian of the Newark Public Library this week, the board of directors announced Miss Carolyn Cobb as the new librarian. The change will take effect in about ten days.

Miss Cobb is a graduate of both Newark High School and the Women's College of the University of Delaware and is a popular member of the younger social group. She is especially noted for her dramatic attainments in amateur circles.

It is rumored that Miss Hayes will be married in the near future.

MASONIC RITES AT DEDICATION

To Greet Visitors

Dr. Walter Hullihen

President, University of Delaware
Dr. Hullihen will introduce the speakers at the laying of the cornerstone for the new $300,000 Chemistry Building here on Saturday. Delaware Masons will be in charge of the ceremony.

Newark Country Club Plans Two More Dances

Announcement was made this week of two more Newark Country Club dances which will be held on Saturday, June 13, and Friday, July 3. "Bud" Wilson and his orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing which will be held from 9 to 1.

The committee in charge of entertainment consists of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bonham, Mr. John R. Fader, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Northrup, Mrs. Franklin Anderson, Mr. Robert Levis, and Mrs. P. K. Musselman.

A series of three successful dances was concluded last Saturday, when many Newark and Wilmington guests were present.

Last Elkton Dance of Season Friday Night

With music furnished by Billy Isaac's Commanders of Baltimore, the annual Sport Dance, sponsored by the Company E Club, will be staged at the Elkton Armory Friday night. It is the final affair of the 1935-36 season and will mark the closing of the armory to social functions until September.

Isaac's band is well known to dance followers in this section, having been introduced in Elkton more than two years ago. It is the outfit's third appearance of the season. The band does a weekly radio feature over WCAO.

Dancing will be held from nine until one.

TO LAY STONE SATURDAY FOR NEW BUILDING

Many Articles To Be Placed Within Box; Trustees To Hold Annual Meeting

COMMENCEMENT MON.

Baccalaureate Services To Be Held Sunday; 120 To Receive Diplomas

Opening with the Board of Trustees' meeting on Saturday morning, the commencement program of the University of Delaware will continue through the week-end until the graduation exercises on Monday, when approximately 120 students from the university and the Women's College will receive diplomas in Mitchell Hall.

To Lay Cornerstone

A special feature of the program will be the laying of the cornerstone of the new chemistry building which will take place at 3.30 p. m., E.S.T. on Saturday.

The ceremony will be performed by the Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M. of Delaware which will meet at Hiram Lodge No. 25 in Newark from where they will proceed to the site of the building.

Plans of the building will be presented to the architect, Charles Z. Klauder after which Grand Master Harris L. Samoniski will present Dr. Walter Hullihen, who will in turn introduce the principal speaker, Dr. Charles L. Reese.

To Deposit Articles

Within the cornerstone box will be placed several articles representative of our time and which will be of interest to people in future years when and if the building is ever razed.

Among the articles will be: an envelope containing the name of the donor of the building; coins of 1936 up to 10 cents; the latest catalog of the university; copies of The Re- (Continued on Page 4)

N. H. S. Class Night To Be Held Wednesday Night

Originality will characterize the annual Class Night program to be presented next Wednesday night by the senior class of the Newark High School in the school auditorium. Plans have been completed for the program which will be suggestive of the class motto, "We Have Crossed the Bay, the Ocean Lies Before Us."

The stage will be decorated to represent a ship and the whole program will be conducted in a naval fashion.

Welcome By President

Robert T. Jones, Jr., president of the class will open the program with an address of welcome after which the class song, "Don't Give Up the Class," will be sung by the 64 members of the graduating class. Words for the selection were written by Vega Francois.

Following the class song, the Ship's Log, a history of the class of 1936, will be read by Betty Hudson. A solo will be played by Alice Battersby and Reid Stearn will recite the class poem which was composed by a committee headed by him.

"Port's Ahead" will be given by Guy Hancock, and the class prophecy will be presented by Christos Pappos. A dance to the tune of "Anchors Aweigh" by Ida Davis will follow the prophecy.

In conclusion, the Class Will, written in the form of the Ship's Papers will be read by Eleanor DelCollo, and the grand finale will be staged by the whole class with the singing of "The Home Port."

Opens Program

Class Night opens the annual graduation programs staged at the high school which includes the Baccalaureate Service at the Newark M. E. Church this Sunday, the Senior Prom next Thursday and the concluding Commencement exercises at the high school on Friday, June 12.

The Newark High School Alumni Association will hold its annual banquet and dance, Saturday night, June 13.

CEREMONY TO MARK LAYING OF CORNERSTONE

Architect's sketch of the new $300,000 Chemistry Building being erected on the University of Delaware campus by the R. C. Ballinger Construction Company of Philadelphia. Funds for the structure were given by an anonymous donor. The laying of the cornerstone will take place Saturday afternoon at 3.30 E. S. T., with municipal, university and state officials in attendance. Officers of the Grand Lodge, A. F. & A. M. of Delaware will conduct the ceremony. —Sketch by courtesy of The University News.

HOME EDUCATION

"The Child's First School is the Family"—Froebel

Issued by the National Kindergarten Association, 8 West 40th Street, New York City. These articles are appearing weekly in our columns.

THE CHILD'S PROBLEM

JULIA W. WOLFE

"You don't know what an annoyance that child is!" said a tired mother to her caller. "I punish and scold her until I am fairly ashamed of myself. Then her father takes her in hand, only to make matters worse. What can I do?"

So much for the mother's side. No doubt her child does at times present a problem that seems difficult to solve. Most parents have such experiences. But, what of the more difficult problems that the father and mother present to the child?

If we could put the child's own thoughts into our words, we should probably get something like this: "What a world of perplexity and contradiction! How can I ever learn anything helpful from Father or Mother? Last night they scolded me because I did not eat when I was not hungry; this morning they spanked me because I ate when I was hungry. They send me out to play when I am sleepy; they put me to bed when I want to stay up. Father often tells me to do something that Mother forbids, and neither of them is of the same mind for two successive days. I am at the mercy, in turn, of their love, their ignorance and their digestion. What can I do?"

Thus, to a child, with its eagerly active mind, groping everywhere and grasping at everything, in its efforts to learn the ways of life, the parents often offer problems that fill the young child with discouragement if not despair—problems that lead him to cultivate "a goodness that is the result of fear, and a badness that is the product of example."

If parents would honestly try once in a while to get the point of view of the child, how much more reasonably they would exercise their authority. And how it would simplify their own task to recognize that the child, too, faces big problems!

"If America is to awaken to her brightest opportunity for the creation of a desirable citizenship, she will not forget the part carried in that work by the kindergarten of the land,"—J. R. Overmiller, President, York College, Nebraska.

Is there a kindergarten, in the public school, for the children of your community? If not, write to the National Kindergarten Association, 8 West Fortieth street, New York City, for advice and literature on how to obtain one.

Beauty Dieters Urged To Consume More Bread

Released by Municipal Department of Health,
Albany, N. Y.

The natural ambition of every normal woman is to present an attractive appearance. Upon this ambition many great industries are founded—cosmetics, the industries of manufacturing women's clothing and accessories and many others. All of these aids to beauty can be a tremendous help, but without good health all that ingenuity can devise and money command are of little avail.

Good health, particularly in this modern, hurried, high tension age, is largely a matter of sound living habits, especially a sound planned diet; a diet that supplies all the elements required to keep the system functioning properly is the very foundation of beauty. Yet how many women lavish time, thought and money on artificial aids while neglecting this essential that is more important than all.

In no respect is the diet more frequently lacking than in the foods that supply sufficient "energy." Time and again the penalty is seen in the loss of vitality, sallow lifeless complexion and a general depressed outlook on life. What artificial aids to beauty can make up for these losses?

Adopt as the first "beauty commandment," the regular inclusion in the diet of the foods that provide the energy that the system needs. Bread is one of the most nourishing and particularly the most convenient and helpful carbohydrate to build up vitality and energy.

Strawberry Festival At White Clay Creek Church

The Young People's Society of the White Clay Church will hold a strawberry festival and chicken salad supper in the lecture room of the church next Tuesday evening, June 9.

There will also be sandwiches, coffee and ice cream for sale. A fancy table will be an added feature. The affair will start at five o'clock.

Temptation

By MARY L. ROBERTS

I know so well the urge to do
The things some people want us to!
But strength is gained by passing by
The things so many others try.

The world so often thinks it smart
To "down" the bars and call it art
To make a habit answer for
The worthwhile things seen o'er and o'er.

But while we calmly let our days
Be governed by some others' ways
Take heed to what this really means
Ill health and money out of jeans!

The Scotch in us should tell us nay
The smoking habit doesn't pay
In health, in money, or the view
The world may take in seeing you.

Song

By MARY L. ROBERTS

I hear a sound so sweet, so full
Of ecstasy, I wonder how one throat
So small, can hold it all
And send it forth, a moat
Between his soul and ours.

Could we, poor humans, find the time
To translate bird notes into words,
I wonder what a wren's would tell
In fact, the songs of many birds
What likeness theirs to ours?

Such joy our feathered folk can show,
When pouring forth a song of gold,
Their modest notes take every note
To mean pure joy a hundred fold
They're much the same as ours!

I like to hear a worker sing
About his daily tasks, I mean,
Seems everything is joy to do
When happiness sees fit and lean
To songs like most of ours!

So when we hear a bird or man
Just singing as he works away
Believe he's happy in his task
And finds contentment is the pay
That can be ours.

What the Politicians Should Know

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

One of the most interesting developments of recent weeks has been the sudden alarm of many men in public office over various political and economic theories which happened to originate elsewhere than in legislative halls.

Openly the politicians are expressing amazement at many of these new plans and projects, and wondering aloud just where and how they were inspired.

But the politicians should be the last of men to ask such questions.

For years many of them, in the quest of popular support, have been advocating projects not only startling and unusual, but frequently at odds with our American theories of government.

For years many of them have been preaching, for example, the exact opposite of Grover Cleveland's famous dictum that it is the business of the people to support the government—not of the government to support the people.

But whatever the temporary influence of such philosophies on scattered groups of citizens, they seem to be exercising little effect on the great productive body of American workers and earners.

Recognizing a responsibility to the handicapped and unfortunate, this predominant group, which represents the real strength and spirit of America, still believes with Theodore Roosevelt that America expects every citizen to be willing, so far as he is able, to pull his own weight.

And so long as that typically American spirit of courage and self-reliance prevails, neither the politicians nor the people need fear the wildest theories.

Officers Installed At Last Meeting of Club

At this week's meeting of the Newark New Century Club, Mrs. Robert T. Jones was installed as president for the next two years with Mrs. F. A. Wheelless, past president of the club, acting as the installing officer. The installation service was originated by Mrs. William H. Beacom, General Federation State Director, and is used by all state clubs. Mrs. R. H. Heim acted as marshal for the ceremonies which also installed: Mrs. Carleton E. Douglass, first vice president; Mrs. Wm. J. Barnard, second vice president; Mrs. Henry Clay Reed, recording secretary; Mrs. George L. Schuster, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. Irvin Dayett, treasurer; and Mrs. Louis A. Stearns, state director. All offices will be held for a two-year term.

Presented Award

On behalf of the club, Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson presented the retiring president, Mrs. L. A. Stearns, with an engraved card tray as a token of appreciation for service during her term of office. Mrs. Stearns expressed her appreciation of the gift, and of the cooperation accorded her by the club members.

Reports were given by Mrs. J. Pearce Cann, Corporation Board Treasurer, who spoke on fire adjustments and remodeling costs; Miss Nell Wilson, chairman of the Music Committee, who presented her annual music report and commented on the excellent cooperation given them by the Choral Club under the direction of Mrs. T. D. Mylrea.

Refreshments Served

Refreshments were served at the close of the final meeting of the year, by the Hospitality Committee, consisting of Mrs. F. A. Wheelless, chairman; Mrs. William R. Lynam, Mrs. George C. Haney, Mrs. Claude Hearn, Mrs. Millen Darrell, Mrs. Hugh Gallaher, Mrs. George D. Plummer, Mrs. Leonard Fossett, Mrs. Harvey Steele, Mrs. William J. Barnard, Mrs. William Hayes, and Mrs. Donald Armstrong.

Missionary Society Holds Party Monday

A pal party was held on Monday night by the Young Women's Home Missionary Society of the Newark Methodist Episcopal Church. The party was given at the home of Miss Edna Campbell on North College avenue.

Members of the society exchanged gifts, and a comedy sketch entitled, "One Born Every Minute" was presented by Mrs. Louise and Mrs. Ruth Jaquette.

Women's Society Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Newark M. E. Church will be held Monday evening, June 8, at eight o'clock at the home of Mrs. Meda Dean. Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Ruth Jaquette will be co-hostesses.

GENERAL ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

RESEARCH KEEPS GENERAL ELECTRIC YEARS AHEAD

IT'S NEW in Electric Refrigerators!

Only G-E Refrigerators have
FORCED-FEED
LUBRICATION
and OIL COOLING

These exclusive features of the General Electric sealed-in-steel THRIFT-UNIT mean quieter operation, longer life and lower operating cost.

You know how forced-feed lubrication gave better performance and longer life to the automobile—it does the same for a refrigerator.

It Costs Less to Own a G-E!

Each year more refrigerator users and more manufacturers recognize the superiority of the sealed-in-steel mechanism introduced by General Electric nearly nine years ago. Eventually all electric refrigerators will undoubtedly follow G-E's lead. Be sure the one you buy today has a sealed mechanism proved by experience.

G-E has manufactured more refrigerators with sealed mechanisms than all other manufacturers combined, and only the G-E THRIFT-UNIT has forced-feed lubrication and oil cooling.

For Better Living!

GENERAL ELECTRIC APPLIANCES

Every Minute of Every Day
Somebody buys a General Electric!

Nearly 2,000,000 homes—a great many of them with incomes of less than $2,000—have proved it costs less to own a G-E. We have a General Electric model and size to exactly meet the requirements of your kitchen and your budget.

A G-E MAY BE PURCHASED ON TERMS AS LOW AS
$1.10 PER WEEK

General Electric Refrigerators are not only leaders in performance but the beautiful General Electric all-steel cabinets are style leaders as well.

G-E THRIFT-UNIT AVAILABLE IN ALL MODELS. Requires no attention, not even oiling. Now gives "double the cold" and uses even less current than ever.

G-E Stainless Steel Super-Freezer cannot chip or tarnish. Freezes more ice faster.

G-E Sliding Shelves bring all food in plain sight and easy reach. Give more usable storage space.

Extension Service

By JOHN H. SKINNER
Extension Editor
University of Delaware

How does it feel to be a college co-ed?

This question and hundreds of others dealing with the problems of home-making will be answered for the Delaware women who attend the first annual Delaware Home-Makers Week at the University of Delaware in Newark, which begins Sunday, June 14 and continues through Wednesday morning, June 17.

Mrs. Helen McKinley, State Leader of Home Demonstration work has made plans for a full schedule of events ranging from talks on cookery and dress-making to swimming lessons for those attending this new feature of the Delaware Extension Program. Any rural woman in Delaware is eligible to attend the Home-Makers Week at the University but those registering will be expected to remain throughout the three-day session.

"The visiting women will live in Residence Hall, the girls' dormitory at the Women's College," Mrs. McKinley said. "Meals will be served in the dining hall at the Women's College and the laboratories, class-rooms, and gymnasium will be turned over to the visitors during their stay on the Campus."

Several talks by specialists in the various phases of home-making are scheduled for the Home-Makers Week program and a tour of Newark gardens has been arranged.

All women expecting to attend Home-Makers Week are asked to make reservations for rooms with Mrs. McKinley at the University of Delaware before June 13. A small registration fee will include all meals, rooms, and the equipment necessary for the week.

Delaware farm real estate values are on an upward trend according to information from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which recently published figures showing that Delaware farm real estate, in terms

Red Men To Parade At Elkton Next Week

Minnehaha Tribe, No. 23, I. O. R. M., has accepted an invitation to take part in the parade next Wednesday evening, June 10, at Elkton, which is being held as an attraction of the Odd Fellow's carnival in that town.

The Minnehaha Carnival Committee is busy completing arrangements for the carnival to be held on the Maxwell lot on Academy street below Lovett avenue, June 19 to 27, inclusive. On Thursday evening, June 25th, there will be a big parade, and many organizations have already sent word that they will be here to take part in the demonstration.

Jr. Mechanics To Pay Visit To Diligent Lodge

"The American Flag Council, No. 28, Jr. O. U. A. M., was presided over by Vice Councilor Tony Davis at the meeting held last Monday," said A. Neal Smythe, publicity chairman of the organization.

"Councilor Lewis, a busy man," he continued, "was unable to be present due to business activity. However," he added, "Brother Davis filled the gap in a creditable manner."

"A week from this Monday," Mr. Smythe said, "our meeting will be called at 7:30, after which we will pay a fraternal visit to Diligent Council, which has opened a new hall at 706 Delaware avenue, Wilmington. Cars will leave the hall at 8 p. m."

"After the business meeting, the 'kitty' committee served 24 quarts of home made strawberry ice cream and cake to the eighteen members present," said Mr. Smythe, looking very satisfied.

"We regret," he said, taking on a look of mock sorrow, "it caused two casualties, Brothers Colmery and McMullen who suffered from nightmares in the early morning, due to the fact that they over-did their official holding capacity."

"I warned them, but they wouldn't be reasonable," he concluded laughingly.

of pre-war average values per acre, had increased from 80 per cent in 1933 and 1934 to 84 per cent in 1935.

While still below the pre-war value, the increase is general for the entire United States, which is estimated to have a value of 82 per cent of the pre-war figure. The increase in values is attributed chiefly to increasing farm incomes, improving farm real estate credit conditions, and the maintenance of lower levels of farm real estate taxes.

Market agreement programs now in effect under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration involve 18 different commodities produced by approximately 80,000 growers in 13 states, according to figures compiled by the General Crops Section. This is exclusive of all milk agreements.

The estimated farm value of these 18 commodities exceeded $126,000,000 in 1935, as compared with $114,000,000 in 1934, and slightly over $92,000,000 in 1933. Commodities affected by marketing agreement programs include a wide range of fruits, vegetables, and nuts. Most of the programs now in effect have been in operation during the last 2 years.

Lions Club Election Held Tuesday Night

At the meeting of the Lions Club, held at the regular meeting place, the Deer Park Hotel, Tuesday night, Joseph M. McVey was elected president of the organization for the coming year. He succeeds Dr. G. W. Rhodes.

Other officers elected were: first vice president, John K. Speicher; second vice president, Dr. J. R. Downes; third vice president, Prof. T. A. Baker; treasurer, A. E. Tomhave; lion tamer, H. W. Mason; tail twister, Dr. L. A. Stearns; and directors for two years, Ralph Bower and Wayne C. Brewer.

50 School Children Play At Red Men's Home

Play Day was held on Monday at the Red Men's Home for 50 school children from the western part of New Castle County.

Games were played during the day, and refreshments served to children from the Hockessin, Christiana-Salem Consolidated, McClellandville, Welch Tract, Union, Harmony, Milford Cross Road, and Pleasant Valley schools.

Red Cross Training Stresses Under-Water Rescue Methods

Arthur M. Potter, executive secretary of the Delaware Chapter, American Red Cross, has announced the annual Newark Swimming Campaign for the week of June 8. Approximately 200 students have indicated a desire to participate in the swimming instruction class here.

Harold Bant, physical director of Newark High School, will be the instructor of the girls' classes to be held in the Women's College, U. of D., and Mr. Potter will be the instructor of boys' classes in the men's pool.

Instructions will be given for those who cannot swim, advanced swimming and lifesaving. Mrs. Walter Holliben is chairman of the Newark campaign.

Newark Student To Graduate At Indiana

A special dispatch from Bloomington, Indiana, states that Ernest Stevenson of Newark is included on a tentative list of more than 1,000 candidates for degrees from Indiana University.

Approximately 200 members of the class will not actually receive their diplomas until they have completed a few remaining credit hours for graduation between now and October, but will be eligible to take part in the commencement exercises.

List Christmas Club Supper For June 18

The Christmas Club of the Ladies Aid Society of the Newark M. E. Church will hold a lawn supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Leak, E. Main street, on Thursday evening, June 18, from 5:30 until 8:00, D. S. T. Tickets will include dessert.

English Class Visits Post and Press of Kells

The Freshman English Class from Newark High School visited the offices of the NEWARK POST and THE PRESS OF KELLS last Thursday afternoon on a tour of inspection.

Insight into the details of completing a newspaper and the intricate steps in the printing art were unfolded to the students who were in charge of Miss Mary Gross, English instructor.

ANOTHER "EX" FOR MAXIE

Max Baer, ex-butcher boy-play-boy-champion, now is an ex-grocer-boy. In Stockton, Cal., where he fought his first bout for $35 in 1929, he spent a recent Saturday afternoon waiting on customers and autographing his photographs. The advance billing said: "Children should be accompanied by adults."

The A B C of Crochet

Crochet is an art centuries old. Yet today it is one of the few creative arts which no machine can accurately reproduce. It affords you countless chances for individuality, for smartness, and for economy. Any reader wishing complete copies of these 12 articles can get them by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to this newspaper, or to its Crochet Bureau, 522 Fifth Avenue, N. Y. Specify "The A B C of Crochet."

II—Single Crochet

MAKE a foundation chain of chain stitches for 3 inches, then work back over the chain stitches just made, as follows: Insert hook in the second chain stitch from hook, under the two top threads, and draw through the working thread. There are now two loops on the hook. Pass the working thread over the hook, and draw it through the two loops on hook. This completes one single crochet. Proceed as for the first single crochet, making each new single crochet in the next chain stitch. Continue for the length of the chain. At the end, make two chain stitches, turn the work, and make a second row of single crochet inserting the hook under the two top threads of each single crochet of previous row. Continue making single crochets, row upon row, until you can make it perfectly.

In crochet often a group of stitches is repeated. To shorten directions, an asterisk is placed before this group of stitches. Whenever the asterisk appears, continue working until you are referred back to it by a statement, "repeat from *". This means that the directions following the first * are to be repeated the given number of times.

What to Crochet? Try a sports belt.

Use Knitting and Crochet Cotton and a steel crochet hook No. 2 or 3. Make a foundation chain of 21 chain stitches. 1st row: 1 single crochet (sc) in 2nd chain (ch) from hook, * ch 1, skip 1 ch of foundation ch, 1 sc in next ch, and repeat from * to end of foundation ch. Ch 2, turn work. 2nd row: 1 sc under the ch-1 of previous row (do not insert hook in the ch, but underneath it in the space between the 2 sc), * ch 1, 1 sc under next ch-1, repeat from * making last a c under the turning ch-2, ch 2, turn. Repeat 2nd row until belt is as long as desired. Then cut the thread and draw the free end through the loop and fasten off securely.

JUNE 4, 1936

The tense European war situation went from bad to worse recently, then from worse back to bad. Worst occurred when France refused to talk to Germany so long as troops occupied the Rhineland, Germany in return refused to recall a single soldier, and high French spokesmen then intimated that it might be wise for France to fight a "preventative war" now.

The progress back to bad was marked by a change in the French attitude, doubtless brought about by anxious English diplomacy. France seemed to soften, intimated she might talk terms with Germany yet, even if German troops are in long verboten Cologne.

So hope for peace soars anew. But all seem to believe it will be a transitory peace.

To Lay Stone Saturday For New Building

view, The University News, The Newark Post, Journal-Every Evening, and the Wilmington Morning News. There will also be placed within the box, names of the members of the Wolf Chemical Club, and a list of the names of the architect, designer, contractors, etc.

Programs of all commencement exercises will also be placed in the box as well as Masonic insignias and emblems.

Alumni To Meet

Saturday's program will also include the annual baseball game between the varsity and alumni teams in the afternoon, and the annual banquet and meeting of the Alumni Association which will be held Saturday evening in Old College.

On Sunday morning the baccalaureate exercises will be held in Mitchell Hall. Rev. B. M. Johns, pastor of Grace M. E. Church, Wilmington, will be the speaker.

Trustees To Elect

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees, the group will elect a chairman to succeed the late Henry B. Thompson, who died last winter. Approval of the list of graduating seniors will also be made at this time.

It is reported that Gov. E. Douglass Buck and E. William Martin, Wilmington architect and an alumnus of the university, will be recommended to the trustees for honorary degrees. Confirmation of this can not be obtained, however, until after the meeting of the board.

Discussion of a successor to Dr. Charles M. Wharton, who has been head of the University of Delaware Physical Education Department for several years, is also scheduled to take place, and it is highly probable that a committee will be appointed to study reorganization of the physical education department. Dr. Wharton's successor will not be appointed Saturday.

Building Program

It is also probable that a committee will be named to decide what will be the next building project at the university in carrying out the comprehensive building plan. Due to a lack of funds, however, it is not likely that more construction work will take place for several years. Three projects now on the program are, an addition to the Memorial Library, which would cost about $120,000; combined administrative and recreation building $250,000, and an administrative and recitation building at the Women's College, $200,000.

Tax Cut Not Probable In Town Budget

The present one will probably be approved that night.

Clean up days for June will fall on the 17th for District 1 and on the 18th for District 2. This is in compliance with the recent schedule of collecting rubbish on the third Wednesday and Thursday of every month.

Light Rainfall In May

The monthly report of the Water Department indicates a total of 2.56 inches of rain fell here during May for one of the "driest" periods on record. Clear weather was the rule throughout the month except on five scattered occasions when light rains were recorded.

INSECTS AND BUTTERFLIES

Entomologists say, "If we do not learn to combat the bugs they will destroy the human race in a few thousand years." Maybe so, but with the crime age median dropping to nineteen, the boys are likely to beat the bugs to it. Youth must be directed and redirected into new and wholesome interests if they are to serve the country creditably. It appears that some gains are being made in insect control.

Collecting and studying bugs and butterflies is a hobby closely related to our existence. Growing food is a constant fight with beetles, borers, and weevils. Keeping it is a contest with cockroaches, ants and flies. Termites will eat the house you live in and moths will literally "take the shirt off your back." "Travelers" will steal your sleep and fleas will hop from ankle to arm unless the never ending fight is carried on. Back in Napoleon's time it is said that control was unknown—that's why he kept his hand in his shirt.

The Black Widow spider is probably the most dangerous insect in America. Be on the lookout for the Black Widow with an orange spot on the lower side. Several people died last summer from the effects of the bite.

While most insects are predatory and dangerous not all insects are harmful. Don't forget about the industrious bee whose honey was the sugar of the ancient civilizations until the Chinese developed cane sugar, nor the hornet's nest watched by a Frenchman who later made the first paper from wood pulp.

Butterflies do a lot of pollinating and are the "Beau Brummels" of insect life. About the beginning of the century butterfly catching was a favorite pastime. A great variety of equipment was available for netting and mounting the captured specimens. It is an interesting fact that some butterflies migrate from arctic regions to the tropics in one season.

Down at Federalsburg, Mary Ann Clevenger is adding to her already large collection. A young student of biology at Elon College, N. C., started collecting specimens a few years ago. Today he has a big business supplying schools and colleges with bugs, beetles, and butterflies for study.

If you want to ride a hobby with a string in it take up insect mountings. It is a delicate art.

Taxidermy Contest Winner

It was difficult to choose the winner from the fine letters received on "Why I Want To Become a Taxidermist." The course offered by the Northwestern School of Taxidermy, Omaha, Nebraska, has been awarded to Thomas Murray, Trappe, Md.; second place to F. Garland Campbell, Lynchburg, Va. Another contest soon.

Auto Death Rate Unchanged In Delaware

STOP SAVING SECONDS AND LOSING LIVES

According to data released this week by the Delaware Safety Council, automobile fatalities during the first four months of 1936 in the 26 states in which statistics are available total 3,352 compared with 3,809 for the same period last year, a decrease of 12 per cent.

The Aetna Casualty & Surety

Company tabulated the figures which show that twelve deaths resulted from automobile mishaps in Delaware from January through April in both 1935 and 1936. Wyoming, with twenty-one deaths in the same time, is also in the same classification with Delaware. Of the 26 states listed in the report, Delaware is low for both years.

Spell Me A Riddle

While the Ghost goes West in the new talkie, in the person of Robert Donat, we go East, whence the ghost came, in quest of the answer to the riddle: "What's the difference between a kiss in the dark and a thistle in the heather?"

Guessing riddles is a very old form of popular amusement (and so is the deliberate effort not to guess them in expectation of paying a forfeit). A famous one was asked by the Sphinx: "What goes on four legs in the morning, on two at noon, and three at night?" Oedipus guessed right: "Man—in infancy he crawls, at his prime he walks, in age he leans on a staff." A modern English one is: "What goes up the chimney down or down the chimney up or down the chimney up?"—answer: "An umbrella."

North of Scotland, the Vikings spelled the earliest "English" riddles, long before Great Britain was invaded by Angles and Saxons. Sample: "What marvel is it which outdoors I saw before Dell's door? ('Delling's door' means 'dawn')?" Eight feet it has and four eyes, and its knees are above its belly. Answer: "It is the spider." (The forfeit for not guessing the right answer to some of these was death.)

A collection of old riddles forms part of a new Columbia University Press publication entitled "Old Norse Poems." Having faith in circumstantial evidence, we turned to the book in search of a clue to the answer for Robert Donat's riddle, without success. Instead we found answers to one of the oldest "riddles" in the world: "What were the customs and beliefs of our earliest Scandinavian ancestors before the advent of Christianity and before they launched themselves in the great and bloody 'migration of the nations' which ended with the settlement of northern Europe and the squeezing of Caesar's Roman Empire into the little boot that is now Italy."

Up to this time, those in quest of the answer have had to rely mostly upon the works of Icelandic historians. All the early traditions of Norway, Sweden and Denmark—whence came the Angles and Saxons to England—were preserved not in the fatherland which was in constant turmoil during the Middle Ages but in Iceland which was settled by Norwegian exiles and emigrants in the 9th century. Christianity introduced the art of writing to Iceland in the 11th century, and the early Scandinavian "literature," which had been entirely oral, was put in writing. But the historians "edited" their writings from the Christian—not the real pagan—viewpoint, and were inclined to follow the over-formalized style developed by centuries of oral recitation.

"Old Poems," however, is a collection of material that was untouched by the Icelandic historians and writers (skalds) and comparatively free of Christian influence. It is as genuine and uninhibited as the latest Icelandic novel "Salka Valka" by Hallgrímur Laxness, shortly to be published by Houghton, Mifflin Co., though there is an interval of a thousand years between their "publication dates." Hitherto the most important "Old Norse Poems" have been either unknown or available only in translations that have done slight justice to the originals.

The poems have been translated by Lee M. Hollander, Professor of Germanic Languages at the University of Texas. A graduate of Johns Hopkins University, from which he received a Ph. D. in 1905, Mr. Hollander has taught at the universities of Michigan and Wisconsin. He is the author of "Speeches and New Letters of Ibsen," "The Heroic Legends of Denmark," "Selections from Kierkegaard." His translation of "The Poetic Edda"—one of the chief skaldic, Christianized sources of Scandinavian traditions referred to above—was published in 1928. "Old Norse Poems" supplements the value of that work.

Young Conquerors of an Old World

The young men and young women who will graduate this year will go forth to explore an old world that will be as new as Eden to them.

They will have much to learn, but in the years to come they will teach many lessons to their elders. They will discover new facts in an old world—facts that have been hidden from all other eyes since Genesis.

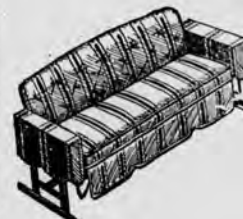

We welcome these young explorers and future conquerors. In practical business and financial matters we feel that we are in a position to give many of them sound guidance—and it will be a pleasure to do so at every opportunity.

Local Miss Wins Prize At State Theatre

The grand prize, $75, offered by the State Theatre last Thursday evening, was won by Virginia French, of Newark. The number was called, and before you could take another breath this little lady was on her way down to the stage to claim the prize. The $1 winners were Edgar Misak, Alfred Wilson, Fred Kingsinger, Sarah Dinmore and Miss Grundy, all of Newark.

State Theatre House Notes

Robert Donat, the handsome young English actor who rose to fame overnight last season when he was brought to Hollywood to play "The Count of Monte Cristo," makes his latest appearance in "The Ghost Goes West," a gay romantic comedy which plays this theatre Friday and Saturday. Jean Parker and Eugene Pallette head the supporting cast. The story follows the amazing and amusing adventures of a handsome and amiable "spook" who haunts an ancient Scottish castle. Buck Jones in "Dawn Trail" will be added to the bill on Saturday.

Remember Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray, the sweethearts who thrilled you in that comedy hit, "Hands Across the Table"? Well, they do more sweet-heating than ever in the new Paramount picture, "The Princess Comes Across." Again

Hollywood comes across with another great comedy film that will keep you amused throughout the entire evening. Supporting Miss Lombard and Mr. MacMurray are, Alison Skipworth, Douglas Dumbrille, William

Carole Lombard

Frawley and a host of other screen stars. The film plays here Monday and Tuesday.

Hollywood stars who are worried about the inroads the rising tide of juvenile talent is making on their prestige are faced with another threat in "Too Many Parents," in which five new boy players carry the leading roles. They are George Ernest, Douglas Scott, Buster Phelps, Sherwood Bailey and little Billy Lee. These young stars display their work before you at this theatre Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Avenue Theatre Music Adds Much to Enjoyment of Western Thriller

"A new balance has been attained in western pictures.

"Comedy and music have been added in equal importance to the old rule of pure action."

That is the illuminating comment made by Director Mack Wright in an interview on the set of "Comin' Round the Mountain," Republic's new Gene Autry romantic action picture at the Avenue Theatre, Thursday.

"This picture is the first western I have seen," he pointed out, "that is made up of just about one-third action, one-third music, and one-third comedy. The great popularity of Gene's cowboy singing has forced the inclusion of a constantly larger share of music, while all the boxoffice pictures of recent months have had a generous share of laughs. But the rip-roaring feature of the western has not suffered. In my opinion this addition of balance between the three elements has improved the action. Western pictures move with even more speed than before because there is less room to tell an involved story. In the past westerns generally have been burdened with too much plot, too many ramifications, whereas in the directness of such stories as 'Comin' Round the Mountain,' there is greater force and certainly sharper entertainment."

Hollywood's New Racket

How would you like to have your picture taken with Jean Harlow or Clark Gable? Or how would you like to send folks back home a photograph of yourself in intimate tete-a-tete with Claudette Colbert? Nine out of ten tourists visiting Hollywood would love it, and that is why the racket recently devised by an ingenious young man is proving a gold mine.

This is how he does it. He meets all trains at Pasadena, where most of the visitors to the movie capital alight, and shows them the town. He has pictures of all of the most important stars and by a photographer's trick is able to superimpose the likeness of anyone, man, woman or child, on the star's photograph. The college boy who has a yen for Jean falls like a ton of bricks for the chance of sending back to his fraternity brothers a picture of himself taken with La Harlow. "Here she is fellows," he writes. "Jean Harlow and the other is yours truly. How do you like it." On the other hand, the girl from the small town who worships at the shrine of Gable would adore to have the home folks think that she and Clark were like that. So when the opportunity comes to have her picture taken, can she resist it? Of course not! So back to the Middle West, the Sunny South or whatever part of this hemisphere she lives, goes the picture of Clark and herself.

If you don't think this is the truth,

Go West, and confirm P. T. Barnum's statement "there's one born every minute."

13-LETTER ATHLETE

Graduation will deprive McCallie High School of 140-pound Roger Frank, one of its greatest athletes. He played in 100 basketball games, establishing the school's individual scoring record with 746 points, and will have won 13 letters by the time he graduates.

Teht! Teht! Still Lying

Farmer—"And how's Lawyer Jones doing, doctor?"

HEY MOTORISTS!
LISTEN!
THE WEAVERS!
By THE LITTLE ENGINEER

LUCKY would American motorists be if they could eliminate the weavers. They cause a very high percentage of highway accidents.

A weaver is a careless, selfish driver, usually a smart aleck youth, who weaves in and out of traffic at high speed, especially on crowded two-way roads. Instead of holding his rightful place in the lines of cars. He is an irresponsible and murderous menace. Some people name the type "fools rushing nowhere."

Passing slower cars is a normal part of motoring but it must be done sensibly. The way to do this is to watch not only the car ahead but also the one ahead of that and when everything is clear step on the gas and get by with a minimum of delay and never on a hill or curve.

If one of the cars you are passing is driven by a person who thinks he is too important to be passed and speeds up as you get abreast of him, don't let him force you into danger. Drop back and await a more suitable moment.

A Habit And A Good One

While it is highly unlikely that the University of Delaware produces athletic teams, regardless of the sport, that compare with those developed at the University of Maryland, some measure of distinction has been earned for this state by the deeds of two Newark athletes at College Park.

Vic Willis for instance, was named the best first baseman in the entire Southern Conference and the State of Maryland, too, by all-star baseball selections released last week. He merited and received the same honor as a basketball center last winter, which duplicated his deeds as an outstanding end in football last fall.

Sort of a round robin for the big fellow and worthy of wider notice than we are able to supply.

RWR

He Started It

It so happens that Vic is treading rather handily in the footsteps of George (Shorty) Chalmers, who excelled as a football, basketball and baseball star at College Park a few years since. Shorty, too, was selected on all-star teams both for Maryland and the Southern Conference.

Incidentally, the group that now contains Maryland, Virginia, the Carolinas and Tennessee, included Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Kentucky, Mississippi and Louisiana in addition during Shorty's college days.

The latter sextet of states has since been divorced from the Southern Conference to form the Southeastern group.

All in all, the performances of Willis and Chalmers give not only Newark something over which to gloat, but also add a touch of respectability for an entire state that otherwise would be forced to constantly drop its head in shame over the rapidly increasing shortage of athletic accomplishments at the University of Delaware. Remaining in proper company suits an institution as well as an individual, but it's a helluva situation when one's company gets too fast without something being done about it.

Iron Man

Reggie Conway, noted usually for his hurling ability, demonstrated a variety of baseball talents while performing for Providence against Aberdeen in a Bi-State League double header on Memorial Day afternoon.

Sir Reginald hurled magnificently despite a 6-5 verdict charged against him in the first game that went 14 innings. He held the hard-hitting Cannons scoreless for nine straight innings before they were able to break a 5-5 deadlock with a run in the 14th session. Mike Peterson, Papermaker receiver, was injured near the end of the contest and, as Manager Spratt lacked another catcher that afternoon, it looked like the Providence clan was on the well-known spot.

Undaunted by the situation, the tireless Conway donned the receiver's equipment and handled Charlie Sprout's curves as Providence took a 3-2 victory in the finale.

The next afternoon against Newark at Providence, Conway filled an outfield berth. A real handy-andy, what?

The Answer is—NO

Contrary to the report that a riot occurred at Perryville on Memorial Day morning when Havre de Grace won an 8-6 decision, the rumor is unfounded. We talked to players of both teams, the umpire (Cloak) who handled the fracas, and spectators from both towns who denied that anything like a riot, a general gang-up on the umpire, or anything of that nature took place.

Cloak called a decision that was adverse to Perryville when Stan Lloyd hit a home run and failed to touch second base. Havre de Grace made the necessary play to record the out and Cloak abided by the rules.

LOCAL TOSSERS CAPTURE THREE VICTORIES OVER MEMORIAL DAY

Newark Pitching Stands Up Well In Test; Perryville Drops One—Wins Pair; Providence and Aberdeen In Long Battle; Bridgewater and Mike Peterson Injured

By "The Roamer"

Pounding out three straight victories last week-end to celebrate Memorial Day in appropriate fashion, the Newark Yellowjackets gained a full game on the league-leading Perryville team as the Pandours were knocked off in one of their three starts. The Bi-State standings now give the hard-hitting Marylanders a one-game lead.

Newark took Elkton into camp on Saturday by scores of 7-6 in ten innings, at Elkton in the morning, and returned to humble the Barristers at Continental Field in the afternoon clash, 11-2. Providence was beaten Sunday at duPont Field, 5-3, in a well played game.

An injury to Manager Jackie Bridgewater, when Harada's first pitch in the opener on Saturday struck him in the eye, rendered the local leaders de combat for the week-end. Jack Edmanson handled the Jackets in good style while Bridgewater nursed his injured optic. The scrappy little second sacker will be ready for action on Saturday when Havre de Grace provides the opposition at Continental Field.

Good Pitching Counts

Newark's pitching was outstanding over the week-end as the Jackets met one of the toughest portions of their schedule like champions. Rube Argo was the winning hurler in Saturday's opener; Paul Whiteman did the trick in the afternoon; and Johnny Craig was at his best in topping Providence on Sunday.

Losing a wild contest to Havre de Grace, 8-6, at Perryville on Saturday morning, Taylor Biles' Pandours bounded back in creditable fashion to defeat the Rivermen, 5-0, at Havre de Grace the same day, and Aberdeen was the victim of an 11-1 outburst at Oxford on Sunday.

Jebb Makes Comeback

Driven from the mound by the Havre de Grace sluggers Saturday morning, Lloyd (Toy) Jebb, leading chucker in the Bi-State loop, turned the tables on Sunday at Aberdeen's expense. He was never in trouble after the Cannons had registered their lone run in the first inning. Jebb's record is now six victories against no defeats.

Hen Jeffries registered his second victory and second shutout in whitewashing the 1935 champs, 5-0. He has been defeated in one game. Stan Bailey, who relieved Jebb on Saturday, pitched brilliant baseball for the greater portion of the battle but was touched for two runs in the ninth that cost him a victory.

Providence In Marathon

Instead of playing the double header on Saturday on a home-and-home basis, Providence and Aberdeen tangled in a pair of afternoon clashes at the Canning capital. The result was that fans there viewed the longest afternoon of baseball to be recorded this season.

An equal division of the spoils was made when Aberdeen took the opener, 6-5, in 14 innings and Providence came out on the long end of a 3-2 count in a seven-inning nightcap. The teams played for five hours.

Riddled for five runs in the first three frames, Reggie Conway settled down like a master to halt the Cannons without a score for nine straight innings before the winners counted the deciding tally in the 14th. Providence tied the score in the ninth but another run was not forthcoming.

Bully Mitchell and Freddie Baldwin worked for the Cannons, Mitchell disposing of one man in the 14th before giving way to Baldwin's relief.

Sprout Wins Second

Unabashed by his efforts in the first game, Conway took over the receiving duties in the nightcap when Mike Peterson turned up with an injury. Sprout bested Wilkinson in a great hurling duel for his second straight victory.

With Havre de Grace putting in an appearance at Continental Field on Saturday, other games that day call for Elkton at Aberdeen and Providence at Perryville.

Sunday's schedule takes the Jackets to Havre de Grace, Aberdeen to Elkton and Perryville to Providence.

A demonstration by some Perryville fans (such as might happen anywhere) was staged in protest, but there was no rough stuff as reported.

WORTH STEEL TEAM TAKES VACANCY IN NEW CASTLE LEAGUE

Difficulties in the New Castle County League brought about by the failure of the Wilmington A. A. to meet requirements and the dropping of that club from the loop, were ironed out during a special meeting at the Defiance A. C., Wilmington, last night. The Worth Steel team of Claymont, a member of the Wilmington Industrial League, was granted the vacant franchise.

Worth Steel will take Wilmington's second-place standing in the loop and will fill out the schedule for the balance of the season. The Steelmen lead the Industrial loop at present. As a result of action in the New Castle circuit last week-end, Cranston Heights took the lead, Glasgow trimmed Fort duPont in a pair of starts, 7-4 and 6-5, and Newark split with Hillcrest, 7-6 and 10-23.

Winning easily from the Vets, 7-2, last Friday and trouncing Battery E, 23-1, on Monday, the Cardinals retained their undefeated lead in the Newark Two-Light League.

In the only other game played, National Fibre chalked up a 14-10 triumph over the Vets to take undisputed possession of second place.

Continental Fibre held a 3-1 margin over the Junior Legion team last night when rain halted proceedings in the third frame. Manager Hill of the Legion outfit entered an informal protest before the game over the failure of the Continental team

MEYER PLANS TO CONTINUE
RACE CAREER

Indianapolis Winner To Open Eastern Campaign At Langhorne

SET 500-MILE RECORD

Langhorne, Pa., June 3—Determined to make a name for himself as one of the greatest automobile racing drivers of all time, Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Calif., three times winner for the 500-mile classic at Indianapolis, has decided to campaign in the east this year.

Immediately after his third triumph at Indianapolis, in which he established a new all time record of 109.69 miles per hour for the five-century grind, Meyer signed an entry for the 115 miles of motor madness Ralph A. Hankinson will offer on the fastest circular mile course in the world, Langhorne Speedway, Sunday, June 14.

Racing His Business

"I've no thoughts of retiring," Meyer told newspaper men as he petitioned in the past because the Pacific signed for Langhorne. "Auto racing is my business and I intend to continue at it until the turns get too narrow or the other boys get too fast for me. But until I retire, I intend to give it everything I have, and I think this is the year I have my chance to engrave my name in the Hall of Fame along with the notables of the past."

Meyer has passed up eastern coast racing for some time, but as the battle front has moved eastward, he'll fight it out with the speedsters along the Atlantic seaboard until next fall.

Other Westerners Follow

The Californian has been just as successful on the dirt as he has on the bricks, which indicates he'll give the railbirds something that will make them sit up and take notice June 14. Many other western stars are certain to follow Meyer east, and Hankinson will groom Langhorne for the highest speed in the track history.

Kelly Pettilo holds the present record of 65 minutes and 17 seconds for 100 miles, and Hankinson believes mark will tumble in this next classic.

GRID COACH GOLFER

Frank Thomas, the rotund Alabama football coach, is a better-than-average golfer. He toured the Tuscaloosa (Ala.) County Club course in 71, one under par. One of his treasured possessions is a medal he won in a tournament several years ago.

to report at the scheduled hour. His protest was based on the fact that Ellis Cullen, who manages the Fibren-men and who serves also as secretary-treasurer of the loop, insists that all other teams report at regular hours, but that the Continental array gets away with "murder."

McCULLY TO DEFEND

Entries Expected To Reach Thirty By Closing Date; Two Women File Blanks

By Doc Nichols
Staff Correspondent and Tennis Editor

Fifteen entries have signed up for the First Annual NEWARK POST Tennis Tournament which will get underway on Sunday, June 21. Many more are anticipated and it is expected that the list of racqueters will increase to twenty-five within the next week. The deadline for entries has been moved forward to June 14, to include those who have, as yet, neglected to sign up.

With the announcement made last week that the tourney would be open to women, two girls have grasped the opportunity to vie for tennis honors in the men's competition. The first woman entry was Mary Lou Gaffney, well known in Wilmington tennis circles. The second, a local aspirant, who is capable of giving many men a spirited battle, is Mary Hayes.

Grubb Grants Permit

Plans were completed the early part of this week, when permission for the use of the University of Delaware courts was received from Charles E. Grubb, Business Administrator of the school.

A statuette trophy and two gold medals have been ordered from Mervin S. Dale, local jeweler, and these awards will be placed on display as soon as they are received.

Those who have entered the tourney to date are: Ned McCully, defending champion, Marshall Manns, Dr. C. L. Day, a member of the U. of D. faculty, Jim Thompson, Robert W. Hancock, Thomas, Leo, Chris, and George Laskaris, Bob Hancock, Dave Cronhardt, Miss Gaffney, Miss Hayes, Len Fossett, and Fred Davies.

A number of Washington College faculty members, who have expressed interest in the tourney, have been invited to participate. With thirty entries anticipated, competition is expected to be keen for the awards.

Several teams have also entered the doubles tournament which will be held the same week. Teams consisting of: Hancock and Cronhardt, Chris and Tom Laskaris, Dr. Francis H. Squire and Prof. R. W. Jones, McCully and Thompson, and Dr. Day and Fred Davies have filed their intentions to compete.

A special request is made that all who are intending to participate in the tournament, send in their entry blanks as soon as possible, in order that the schedule of matches may be made and announced.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE
RACE AT HALFWAY
MARK; K. OF P. LEADS

This week marks the halfway point in the 1936 pennant chase in the Newark Softball League and finds the Knights of Pythias leading the champion Mainstreeters by a fraction part of a game.

The week of June 8 has been left open in the schedule for the playing of postponed games. Decisions between the Aetna team and the Golden Eagles and the Red Men and the K. of P. must be reached next week or the contests will be thrown out, despatches from league officials state.

Averages for the games so far show the Pythians leading with 20 runs per contest. The Presbyterians are next with 14 per game. Defensively the Mainstreeters are on top holding the opposition to five runs a game on an average. The Pythians are next in order with a mark of six opposing runs per battle.

FLASHES

By BILL FLETCHER

WE PASS OUT A FEW ROSES to the tennis enthusiasts of the town who have lent their support to the tennis tournament.

It is gratifying to note that the list of entries has reached fifteen, and with at least ten more expected, the tourney should be somewhat of a success.

"BILL" FLETCHER THE DEFENDING CHAMPION, Ned McCully, will experience plenty of trouble before he walks off with the trophy, and he's going to find the going plenty tough before winding up at the top of the heap. Ned, who plays a hard driving deep court game, will strive to protect his title against the cream of Newark's tennis crop.

A NEW STAR LOOMS in the person of Fred Davies, whose game is reputed to be plenty good. Fred is doing work on his master's degree at the University of Delaware and is a newcomer among Newark tennis circles, and he's just liable to walk off with the championship. Meeting glimpses of his play seem to bear out this statement.

AMONG THE CROP of entries appears Marshall Manns, who plays with all the vim and vitality suggested by his blazing red hair, and when he hits a tennis ball, Rome yells and the inhabitants at the foot of Mt. Vesuvius gather their belongings and head for safer surroundings.

The Laskaris boys have a fair chance of walking off with the laurels. Undoubtedly they are the most ardent tennis-loving family in the town and with Leo's and Chris' game vastly improved, the Laskaris family should be represented in the closing rounds.

ANOTHER ENTRY, Jack Sindan, who is well known in tennis circles, has also filed his entry. Jack, perfectly at ease on the court, plays a clever game, which is somewhat spotted with temperament and a trifle erratic at times. However, he's sure to give anybody plenty of trouble and, although not a sure-shot, it wouldn't be too risky if a few plunks were put on his head.

MANY FACULTY MEMBERS of the U. of D. have also made known their intentions to vie for honors in the forthcoming tourney. Dr. C. L. Day looms as a singles threat while the doubles team of Dr. F. H. Squire and Prof. R. W. Jones should make a good job of reaching out for the doubles medals. Prof. Jones, a former Delaware star, who has been coaching the Blue Hen racquet wielders for the past several years, is certainly no

SEVENTY-FIVE TO START ON 8 MILE RACE

Sixteen Local Lads Among List of Entries; Alto Club Sponsors Event

CUPS TO BE AWARDED

Twenty-five marathons will take place for the start of the eight-mile race, scheduled to take place at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. Of the twenty-five entries, sixteen local lads will attempt to grab the lion's share of the five cups and the same number of medals to be awarded to the first ten finishers. The prizes are now on display in the window of Cornog's grocery store.

In the role of starter will be Mayor Frank Collins, who will send the boys on their way from the Newark Armory. The race will finish at the starting point.

Veteran Enters

Among the starters will be Francis Stroman, of Elkton, Stroman, who has had no previous experience in the race of marathon running, is 48 years of age. He has trained and developed his all his life, and according to Phil Cornog, secretary of the Race Committee, he'll make the younger men step.

Racing enthusiasts will also watch with interest the progress of Charlie Deput, former University of Delaware track star, who has filed his intentions of participating in the race Saturday. Deput is a long distance runner, having run the one and two mile races for the Blue Hens in previous years.

Contestants, as announced by Mr. Cornog will be: Ott Seads, Marshall; Joe Cross, Yeatman, Pa.; Carl Cornell and Joe Kavaski, of Milford; Bill Davis, of Glasgow; Francis Stroman, Elkton, Md.; Charlie Deput, Wyoming; and Harry Chapman, Richardson Park.

Sixteen Local Entries

Sixteen Newark runners have signed up for the race including: Norval Robinson, Walter White, Del Reed, Phil Cornog, Arthur Husefelt, Oliver Henderson, Paul Harris, Elwood and the Zebley, John French, Charles Cope, Zeb Goodyear, Charles Thompson, Howard Porter, and Joe Bolte.

The run is being staged under the auspices of the Newark Athletic Club and will be officiated by Mayor Frank Collins, starter; Roy Deibert, University of Maryland, referee; Irvin Smith, U. of D., clerk of course; James Smith and David Coverdale, Newark judges; Jack Sharp and Frank Mayer, timers; and Dr. J. R. Dumes, physician.

dash at the court game, and an effort is being made to secure his entry for the singles tourney. Dr. Sprue is also a better than average player, and the combination of these two should make them a decided threat for the championship.

Efforts are also being made to secure the entries of Dr. Ned B. Allen, Dr. A. S. Eastman, Dr. J. S. Gould, and many others who have been active on the university courts.

THE ENTRIES OF L. W. Tarr and D. W. Hollingsworth are uncertain, due to the fact that business may call them away the week of the tourney. Both cracker jack players, these two entries would serve to tighten the race and make the outcome even more indefinite.

WE ARE ALSO PLEASED to announce the entry of two women players: Mary Lou Gaffney and Mary Hayes, and although we have not observed Miss Gaffney's game, we do know that Miss Hayes plays a plenty hard game—for a girl, and she should be up there in the running.

Rising stars in the person of Dave Cronhardt and Bob Hancock have lent their support to the tourney and Dave's chop-stroke game should put him past the first round—at least going to give somebody plenty of trouble.

Len Fossett, who is always ready to call himself "the grand old man" of tennis, is still, in spite of his advanced years, a threat, and he just might go some place.

IF YOU'RE READ this far, you've probably gathered the idea that every man and woman entered is a sure-fire winner. That's impossible, but we do know that there's going to be plenty of tight matches before the winner is declared. At least we shy from making a prediction because we think it's just as hard as trying to figure out the weather.

For proper identification, will issue an interim receipt, and forward the bonds to the postmaster at Wilmington where checks will be prepared and mailed by ordinary mail direct to the veteran.

Veteran Groups Aid

The various veteran organizations are preparing to identify their members and such other veterans as are known to the identifying members. If a veteran is unknown at his post-office it will be necessary for him to arrange to take another person with him who is known to the employees of the postoffice.

Veterans who are in absolute need have been requested to assist those veterans who are in need of funds by putting off for a few days the cashing of their bonds. Facilities will be sorely taxed for more than a week and it will be impossible to handle all of the bonds promptly if every veteran in the vicinity insists on payment during the first few days.

Ground Broken For New Friends School Building

Ground was officially broken for the $330,000 Wilmington Friends' School Wednesday morning, with more than 400 persons attending, including 250 students of the present school at Fourth and West streets.

The new school will be built off the Concord Pike, near Rock Manor.

Has Tonsils Removed

Jimmie Scotten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Scotten, Kells avenue, underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils at Flower Hospital yesterday morning. Dr. A. J. Strikol performed the operation.

LOCAL VETERAN UNITS CONDUCT
IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL SERVICES

Fraternal and civic organizations of Newark cooperated with the J. Allison O'Daniel American Legion Post and the local unit of Veterans of Foreign Wars, last Saturday and Sunday in the most successful observance of Memorial Day ever to be held in this town.

Ceremonies officially opened with the raising of the flag at 7 o'clock Saturday morning when a group of Sons of the American Legion, in charge of Lt. Frank H. Balling, Jr., consisting of Stephen Gilligan, Conrad Lewis, Jr., Edmund Lewis, and Billy Balling proceeded to the Newark High School where the colors were raised.

Largest Parade in History

More than 500 citizens of Newark formed the largest Memorial procession since the day has been observed here. In the parade were the University of Delaware R. O. T. C. Battalion, the Delaware National Guard, Battery "E" 198th C. A., Veterans of Foreign Wars, Ladies' Auxiliary, Sons of the Veterans, the American Legion, Ladies' Auxiliary and Sons of the Legion, the local unit of the Boy Scouts of America, the Continental and Newark High School Bands and the Girl Scouts of America. Many school children carrying flags marched as part of the procession. The group proceeded to the local cemeteries where veterans' graves were decorated with flags, wreaths and flowers.

An innovation and a special feature of the Memorial Day observances was the patriotic exhibit created by the American Legion on the university campus in front of Memorial Library. The display included a replica of the Unknown Soldier's Tomb in an impressive setting of rows of crosses, representing a veterans' cemetery.

Illuminated at night by floodlights, the scene was even more beautiful as shadows of the crosses were cast on the library steps.

Boys On Watch

Members of the local Boy Scout troop and Sons of the Legion patrolled in front of the tomb on Saturday and Sunday, in the watch that is customary at the grave in Washington. The tomb was built by members of the manual training class of the Newark High School. It was a scene worthy of commendation and provided a fitting setting for the Vesper Services, Sunday night.

Vesper Services

Vesper Services were held at that scene Sunday night under the auspices of the American Legion, with Mayor Frank Collins presiding. The Rev. Park W. Huntington, pastor of St. Stephen's Evangelical Church, chaplain of the Delaware Department of the American Legion and former national chaplain of the legion spoke on "The Unknown Soldier and the Soldier Dead." These services inaugurated a memorial ceremony to the Unknown Soldier and all deceased veterans of wars.

Local Churches Cooperate

Invocation was given by the Rev. Andrew W. Mayer, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church and the Rev. Leonard White, pastor of the M. E. Church read the scripture. Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. H. Everett Hallman, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

During the exercises junior members of the Post Auxiliary, escorted by Boy Scouts and Sons of the Legion, placed a wreath on the tablet in the Memorial Library erected in honor of the soldier dead. Taps were sounded by Orville Little and David Chalmers.

Civil War Veteran Guest

John Ward, the only Civil War veteran surviving in Newark was a guest of the service and had a place on the platform. Richard G. Buck-

COOCH'S BRIDGE

Among the week-end guests of P. R. Roberts of "Robdel Silver Star Farm," near Cooch's Bridge, were John B. Roberts and friend, Walter Buske of Succassunna, N. J., Mr. T. R. Hahn of Germantown, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Roberts, Jr., and baby.

John B. Roberts is planning to attend the commencement exercises of the University of Delaware on Monday, when his brother, David, will graduate.

Alma E. Rhoades of Summerset, Pa., is also planning to attend the commencement exercises. Miss Rhoades formerly lived at Stanton, Del. She is now in training at the Community Hospital in Summerset.

Ingham who lives a short distance from Newark, also a Civil War veteran, also expected to be present as a guest, was unable to attend.
