

Preliminary Town Planning Survey Ordered By Council

Engineering Study Aimed Chiefly At Planning For Future
Needs Of New Town Areas; Charter Referendum
Date May Be Set At Tuesday's Meet

A $500 preliminary town planning survey, aimed particularly at meeting the needs of the area to be annexed by the town if the proposed new charter is approved, was authorized by the Town Council at a special meeting Tuesday night.

The survey, which will be carried out by Whitman, Reardon and Associates, a Baltimore firm of consulting engineers, will be the first step in drawing up a long range master plan to provide new streets, light and water lines, and building and zoning restrictions for the new areas.

The engineers will work closely with a 6-man town committee, composed of councilmen and representative citizens in carrying out the survey. It was noted that the Council decided to go ahead with the study now, even though the proposed charter still faces a referendum hurdle, because the initial work involves no town planning, including zoning and building restrictions.

The proposed charter, passed by the Council last week and now awaiting the governor's signature, must be held in a referendum here no sooner than 30 days after the signing. Dates for the vote probably will be fixed by the Council at its first June meeting.

At the same time the lawmakers will set a special registration day. Details of the survey and the referendum will be announced later, the Council said.

A majority of those voting both within the present town boundaries and those in the areas to be annexed will be required to approve the charter. It was stressed that not only the proposed new boundaries but the entire charter will hinge on the outcome of the referendum. A majority of voters in both groups, not merely an overall majority will be required for approval. Thus the comparatively few voters in the proposed new areas can still make their voice heard.

Before registration days, a detailed map showing the exact location of the new town lines will be displayed in order that residents near the division line can determine whether they are eligible to take part in the referendum. The map probably will be put on view at the Council Offices, it was said.

It was also disclosed Tuesday night that the Council has formally requested the federal government to declare Newark a "defense area" in order that the town may benefit from any federal aid in the form of defense contracts to meet the financial problems created by sudden expansion.

Town Supervisor Francis Niede said regional representatives of the government visited him recently and advised the town to send representatives to Washington to back up the written request.

Mr. Niede also said the town now is eligible to borrow interest free funds from the government for town planning. These funds, which would have to be paid back in full but without interest, could be used to carry out the detailed planning for new streets and water lines, and new water works in the area which may be annexed by the town through the new charter. Mr. Niede said the cost of the utility extensions would be around $6,307,500. The planning alone for these projects would be around $20,350, he added. He was given these estimates, he said, by Whitman, Reardon Associates, the town's consulting engineers.

The smaller amount needed for the detailed planning could be borrowed from the government, he explained.

The Newark elementary school will hold its final assemblies and play day activities on June 4 and June 7.

Grades one to three will join in a reading assembly June 4 at 9 a.m. The program will include songs and skits drawn from assemblies given by the grades throughout the term. The entire activities will be followed by athletic events on the high school field.

On June 7 at 9 a.m., grades four to six will stage an assembly, followed by athletic events.

The two programs will be under the direction of Miss Esther Fenton, elementary music supervisor and Mrs. Thelma Thompson, health and recreation director. The two will be assisted by homeroom teachers.

Kiwanis Horse Show Feature

An unusual attraction at the Kiwanis Club Horse Show this year will be an exhibition of dressage by Miss Lillian Wittmack on her brown mare, Evening Star.

Miss Wittmack and her mount will perform intricate movements to music in the event, which will follow the routine she used in her appearance in the International Olympics.

The exhibition will be one of the many unusual features of the day-long show opening at 9 a.m. June 2 at Foxcatcher Farms, Fair Hill, Md.

Miss Wittmack, a native of Denmark, England and the Netherlands. She now trains her jumpers and dressage horses at her stables near York, Pa.

Her mount, Evening Star, a Danish born horse and champion show jumper, is the winner of many Olympic events.

To Survey Newarkers' Opinions On Expected Community Growth

Some 200 Newark families soon will be asked their opinions about the expected growth of the community in a survey being conducted by the University of Delaware's Institute of Human Relations.

The sampling will also seek the average Newarker's ideas about the problems the town is likely to meet as a result of a sudden population increase following the opening of the Chrysler heavy tank plant.

The survey is being directed by Dr. John Whitall, associate professor of education at the university.

Interviewers will call on 200 addresses randomly selected from several town blocks. Dr. Whitall said. The pollsters will ask an adult member of each family his or her ideas regarding Newark's anticipated growth and its effect on the community.

The questions, Dr. Whitall explained, will be of a "what-is-your-opinion" type. Examples are: "Do you think more buildings will have to be built? Why? Do you think prices will go up or down when Newark gets larger? Why?"

The results of the survey, Dr. Whitall declared, will be carefully analyzed. "It is hoped," he added, "that the findings can be used to help deal with a few of the problems that confront the town and people of Newark as a result of the expected increase in population."

Laymen Will Study Music Composition

A course in "Composition for the Layman" will be offered by the University of Delaware's Music Department in the first term for the coming summer session, beginning June 11.

To be under the direction of Henry N. Lee, the course will seek to provide persons who have wished to write music with an opportunity to learn some of the necessary techniques and elements. Compositions will be written by the students, both in and out of class, during the term.

The local delegation included: Charles Davies, James Martin, and W. R. Warpole.

Dr. Byrd, now on a tour of the university's extension schools in Europe, could not be present.

Byrd is a member of the six-man board of governors of Mooseheart, the order's home for orphaned children in Illinois. He succeeds Edward Unitas, of Baltimore, Md., as head of the association.

Goose Invades Women's Dream To Give Tip On $409 Contest

Living in a dream world sometimes can pay off in hard cash—at least it has for Mrs. Lanie Hostetter, 96 East Cleveland Avenue, who literally saw her dream come true when she won the "Goose Contest" here last Friday night.

Among the thousands of guests as to how many kernels of corn the contest goose could eat in a month, Mrs. Hostetter's entry, 25,586, was the closest.

And she claims the winning figure, only 12 less than the actual number of grains eaten by the goose, was told to her in a dream—by the goose!

Mrs. Hostetter entered only three guesses in the contest, two of them before the goose dream.

Now on the sales staff at Les' Family Store, Mrs. Hostetter lives with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Morrison, and their two young children. The latter are as thrilled as Mrs. Hostetter and hoped to share in the $409 in prizes and credit she won from the 30 merchants who sponsored the contest.

The second prize, $156 in credit and prizes, went to Alfina Smith, of Clarksboro, N.J. Third was Irene Carlisle, Newark, whose guess earned $75 in prizes and credit.

The goose went to the fourth place winner, Christopher Christmas, young son of M. M. Christmas, Indian Road.

Incidentally, 25 of the guesses submitted were within 100 of the correct number of grains, and 107 guesses came within a 1,000 of the exact figure.

79 Will Graduate June 12 In 58th Annual NHS Exercises

Dr. John A. Perkins, U. of D. President, And Dr. A. P. Colburn, University Provost, To Be Speakers;
Senior Class Smaller Than Last Year's

A class of 79 graduates will receive diplomas at the 58th annual commencement of the Newark High School on June 12 at 8:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. In addition, two ex-servicemen will be awarded high school equivalent diplomas for successfully passing general education tests.

The speaker will be Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the University of Delaware.

An innovation this year will be an address to the senior class by Dr. A. P. Colburn, university provost and father of one of the graduates.

The coveted diplomas will be presented to the seniors by Joseph McVey, president of the Board of Education. Prizes and awards will be announced by F. B. Kutz, high school principal.

The chief student address will be given by John Speilcher, president of the graduating class.

The invocation will be by Dr. John J. Bunting, Jr., pastor of the Newark Methodist Church, and the benediction by the Rev. Lee W. O'Neil, pastor of St. John's R.C. Church. Selections will be offered by the senior orator and the high school orchestra.

The current graduating class is somewhat smaller than last year's group of 86 seniors, which is the second largest in the history of the school. The class of 1947 with 99 graduates is the biggest on record.

Principal Kutz pointed out that the current group is the last of the "depression classes," those which entered the first grade during the economic decline of the 1930's. During that period, he said, entering classes throughout the nation fell off. According to his records, the Newark graduating classes will begin to increase in size next year.

Among this year's graduates, 18 completed the commercial course, 33 the general, 13 the scientific, 8 the vocational and 7 the academic.

School Merger Vote Scheduled Saturday Despite Court Suit

Legality Of The Newark-Glasgow Consolidation
Challenged

Despite a court suit begun Friday to block the consolidation of the Newark-Glasgow school districts, the referendum on the merger will go before the Newark voters as scheduled this Saturday, local school officials said yesterday. Hours will be from 2 to 5 p.m. at the polls in the high school building.

The suit, brought by Herman H. Leasure and Monroe Bramble, residents of the Glasgow area, challenges the legality of a referendum held Feb. 17 in which Glasgow residents voted 74-69 for merging the one-room school there with the Newark district.

The complaint, filed in the Court of Chancery, by Abraham Hoffman, attorney for plaintiffs states that 13 of the Glasgow votes were challenged—ten on the grounds that the voters did not live in the district. Despite this, the complaint states, the State Board of Education "arbitrarily and unlawfully" declared that the qualified voters of the Glasgow district had voted in favor of consolidation.

Named defendants in the suit are the State Board of Education, the Newark Board of Education and members of the Board of Trustees of the Glasgow School District.

Chancellor Collins J. Seitz has refused to halt the referendum here on Saturday, Wilmer E. Shue, Newark superintendent, said yesterday.

"The complaint points out that the 'Newark district has outstanding approximately $325,000 of bonded indebtedness.'"

"In the event of a lawful consolidation of the Glasgow district with the Newark district, the plaintiffs and other property owners and taxpayers of the Glasgow district will be legally bound to pay annually a school tax or assessment to meet the cost of interest and liquidation of this bonded indebtedness as well as the maintenance costs of the Newark schools."

The following eighth graders are the newly elected members of the Junior Honor Society: David Arnett, Mary Ann Boyle, Carolyn Chalmers, Donald Davis, Robert George, Robert Gore, Norma Gray, Gail Kaufman, Virginia Lanier, Lois LeD, Rose Marie LePera, Raymond McMillen, Dorothy Mayne, Grace Miller, Barbara Ness, Wright Poffenberger Howard Priestley, Sue Roberts, Turpin Rose, Louise Samedinger, John Slack, Harriet Wagner, Rebecca Wimmer.

The ninth grade honor society members, elected last year, are: Janet Barnett, Vladimir Bohdan, Janet Campbell, Diane Chalmers, Ben Day, Violet Gray, Joan Jackson, Stephanie Kish, Wilma Klemm, Jack McDowell, Agnes Stanley, Carol Sweetman, Nancy Trivitt, Jane Walton, Virginia Wimmer, Marie Woerner, and Edna Wood.

Pre-School Tests Are Slated June 5 And 6

Reading Readiness Exams
To Be Given

Reading readiness tests for children entering the first grade of the Newark schools in the fall will be held June 5 and 6 from 1 to 2 p.m. in the elementary school, Henry Brader, supervisor, announced this week.

In explaining the purpose of the tests, Mr. Brader pointed out that beginning students vary widely in their degree of mental, physical, emotional and social maturity. The tests, he said, will determine those children ready to begin a reading program on entering school and those who need instruction to help them attain a readiness for learning to read.

"All children registered for the fall term have appointments for the tests," Mr. Brader said. "Children who have not yet been registered," he added, "should apply at the schools immediately to secure an appointment."

Poultryman Can Help

Ease Meat Situation

More meat for defense is a common saying now.

J. Frank Gordy, extension poultryman at the University of Delaware, suggests a few days in which poultrymen can help the meat situation. These pointers are ways and means to more chickens, and better chickens, on the market at lower costs.

Says Gordy: Buy good quality chicks bred specifically for meat or egg production.

Buy nearby chicks when they are good quality.

Buy from hatcheries that are poultry clean.

Feed enough feed—all the poultry will eat all the time.

Choose the right rations for your flock. Feed starter mash, broiler mash, and breeder mash at the right times.

Use deep litter for disease and parasite control, and to save labor.

Vaccinate against Newcastle disease, laryngotracheitis, and fowl pox.

Market birds at preferred weights—broilers should reach market weight of 3 pounds in 10 weeks; turkeys should be sold at 22 to 26 weeks.

Call non-layers from your flocks every month.

Produce and sell clean, fresh eggs.

On Party-Line Telephones

WHEN YOU PLAY FAIR with your party-line neighbors... it pays dividends! They'll return your courtesies, and everybody on the line will get better service.

Here are two suggestions

On finding the line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call. And when, while talking, you realize that your neighbor is waiting to make a call, hang up in a few minutes and free the line.

Easy, isn't it? Yet these little courtesies mark you as a "good egg" on the party line... one who deserves fair treatment in return.

GI Insurance Rules Altered By New Law

The so-called "free GI insurance" bill became law recently with the signature of the President of the United States.

Known as the Servicemen's Indemnity and Insurance Act of 1951, the law is divided into two parts and both will be administered by the Veterans Administration. It has been designated Public Law 23, 82nd Congress.

With certain exceptions, the law ends the issuance of new insurance under United States Government Life Insurance (USGLI), which originated in World War I, and under National Service Life Insurance (NSLI), which originated just prior to the United States' entry into World War II.

Term policies under USGLI and NSLI that are in a state of lapse (as distinguished from expiration) may be reinstated on or before, but not after, their term period has expired. Also, permanent plan policies in a state of lapse may be reinstated at any time, provided the applicant can meet the reinstatement requirements.

The new law provides that on and after June 27, 1950, any person in active military or naval service, including cadets and midshipmen of the U. S. Military, Naval and Coast Guard Academies and commissioned officers of the Public Health Service and the Coast and Geodetic Survey, shall be automatically covered against death in active service for $10,000 less any NSLI or USGLI in force at time of death. The amount of any NSLI or USGLI payable at death, plus the indemnity, may not exceed $10,000.

The indemnity protection continues for 120 days after separation from service for those called to extended service for a period exceeding 30 days.

The insurance is payable only to surviving spouse, child or children, parent, brother, or sister; and the insured may name one or more beneficiaries within this permitted class.

The $10,000 indemnity is payable in 120 equal installments of $92.90 per month.

Dr. Dolan Publishes Volume On Delaware

A book on "Organization of State Administration in Delaware," by Dr. Paul Dolan, associate professor of political science at the University of Delaware, was published this week by the Johns Hopkins University Press.

The volume consists of a revised thesis which Dr. Dolan submitted in 1949 as one of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy which he received from Johns Hopkins. In addition to being published as a separate volume, it will be included in the series of Johns Hopkins University studies in Political Science and History. It contains 145 pages of text and 25 pages of index and tables.

Patenting has moved up from fourth to third place as the most dangerous way of making a living. About 55 of every 10,000 workers engaged in agriculture are killed accidentally every year. Only the construction industry, mining, and quarrying had higher occupational death rates.

Cutting prices, rationing, and subsidies are the 3-legged stool of an economy which endeavors to hold prices below the equilibrium level. A stool will not stand for any length of time on one or two legs, but needs all three.

Queries On Social Security Answered

Address all Queries to Social Security Administration, Customs House, 6th & King Sts., Wilmington, Delaware.

Q. How can I find out how much I have earned in salary up to the present time since Social Security has been in effect?

A. Any Social Security field office will furnish you, without charge, a post card Form OAD-7004. Fill it out and mail it to the address given on the card. The administration will furnish you with a statement showing the wages credited to your account from 1937 to the date of their most recent posting. We suggest that you obtain such a statement once each year.

Q. Is my employer notified when I reach age 65?

A. We do not notify your employer when you reach the age of 65. All information given by you to the Social Security Administration is held in the strictest confidence. If you are 65 or over, to protect your interest you should file your application even though you continue to work.

Q. In the event of my death, are there any old-age and survivors insurance benefits payable to my wife and two young children?

A. If you have been paid wages of $30 or more in employment covered by the Social Security Act in half of the calendar quarters since January 1, 1937 up to the quarter in which you die, (or been paid at least $50 a quarter for six out of the last thirteen quarters of your life,) monthly insurance payments will be made to your children under 18 years of age and to your widow while she has your children in her care. Your widow will receive these payments until the youngest child reaches 18.

Q. What types of employment are not covered by the Social Security Act?

A. Work not covered by the law are, in general, jobs in agriculture; domestic service in private homes; Federal, state, or local government service; and work in religious, charitable, and certain other nonprofit organizations. The self-employed also are not covered and there are others.

Q. If a widow is receiving monthly payments and she remarries, will her payments continue?

A. The widow's benefits will be terminated upon her marriage.

Q. Does everybody get the same amount in benefits?

A. No. Benefits are based primarily on the worker's average monthly wage. He is credited with all wages that he has received for work in covered employment up to $3,000 a year. The Social Security Administration keeps an account for every worker in covered employment, under the worker's name and social security number. This number is the same as that on the social security card that the worker takes out the first time he gets a job in private industry or commerce. When the worker or his family files a claim for benefits the workers social security account determines the size of the benefits.

Q. I was over 65 when social security started. Can I get any benefits?

A. Yes, if you have been paid wages of $50 or more in each of six calendar quarters since January 1, 1939. You must file a claim to get benefits.

Q. I am a widow receiving monthly insurance payments for myself and my two children. If I remarry will I lose these payments?

A. If you remarry, your payments will stop. However, you will continue to receive payments for your two children if they remain with you.

Q. I last worked two years ago and at that time secured a social security number. I expect to go to work again in several weeks. May I use the same number I obtained two years ago or must I get a new one as I probably will not work for the same employer?

A. You should use the social security account number you now have during your whole working life. It doesn't make any difference how many different employers you have or how long you work for any employer, you should always use the same number. If you lose your number, apply for a duplicate of that number and never for a new one.

Q. When are Old-Age and Survivors' Insurance benefits paid?

A. Retirement benefits are payable to the insured and his family when the worker retires at 65 or later. Survivors' benefits are payable to the insured wage earner's family when the worker dies, no matter at what age this occurs.

Q. I am 62 and expect to marry in a short time. Will my wife be able to collect a wife's insurance benefit when I retire?

A. Under amendments to the Social Security Act of August 10, 1946, a wife who files application for wife's benefits after January 1, 1947, will be entitled to those benefits provided she and the wage earner have been married for at least 36 months prior to the month in which she files her application.

LITTLE THINGS about the Stars

TELEVISION • RADIO • HOLLYWOOD

By GEORGE LILLEY

HOLLYWOOD—"Lassie," the dog, is in her third year as a radio star. In that time, some 150 other programs headed by Hollywood humans have folded up. "The Lassie Show" is heard up. Saturday mornings on NBC.

On the radio "Lassie" is limited to barks, whines, whimpers, growls and howls. But she gets across more emotional meaning with those five "words" than some actors do with a thousand. And she was the runt of a litter of five pups and such a disappointment to her first owner that he gave her away to a trainer of a dog school, Rust Wetherwax, for her board bill, $10. "Lassie" now makes $1000 a week. To keep her used to crowds, Wetherwax takes her shopping in Los Angeles. People pat her and say, "My, she looks just like 'Lassie,' the movie dog."

ANNOUNCER LYON "words" than some actors do with a thousand.

And she was the runt of a litter of five pups and such a disappointment to her first owner that he gave her away to a trainer of a dog school, Rust Wetherwax, for her board bill, $10. "Lassie" now makes $1000 a week. To keep her used to crowds, Wetherwax takes her shopping in Los Angeles. People pat her and say, "My, she looks just like 'Lassie,' the movie dog."

JACK OF THE MORNING Jack Berch sings away mornings on NBC.

He mixes with love songs, hymns, swing, hillbilly and June or December, an occasional Christmas carol. Ex-Segel, 111, farmboy, he spices the songs with homey philosophy. But his most potent touch is a frequent radio appeal to make someone happy. He calls it "Heart-to-Heart - Hook-up."

In December he urged his audience to mail a Christmas card to a youth ill in Cleveland, Ohio. David Fisher, 5, at recent count, had over 50,000 letters, and they still were coming. The season before Berch told listeners that in Colorado, Texas, a crippled boy wanted "a bushel of mail." He got over 100,000 letters, $1000 in cash. Crooners fade, but, in radio, singers like Berch may go on forever.

MOONSHINE & $700 DINNER Big names, for the sake of the name itself, no longer interest "We the People," the radio-TV program (NBC, Friday nights).

The trend is to human interest. Examples: Raymond Paret, Paris born chief chef of an exclusive N.Y. eatery. A party of six can have all they can eat at Raymond's joint for $700 — rattlesnake meat, buffalo meat, armadillo, wolf meat. The program's writers, seeking out Ray and found him next door, eating a hot dog, drinking a beer. Two: Uncle Scott Partin, Kentucky hills moonshiner. The show introduced him to Moe Smith, reeve-oses. Moe, with masquerade and various stunts, made 5000 arrests in the prohibition era. They refused to speak except on the program.

Private Tells General Who Is Really Boss

This trainee must have been a taxpayer in civilian life.

Told to stand guard at a road running by a busy rifle range—and to deny admittance to all vehicles—the rookie on Tuesday morning flagged down a khaki-colored car bearing the two-star plate of Maj. Gen. Laurence B. Keiser, Commanding General of the 5th Infantry Division here.

"Sir, you can't come through here," the road guard cried, planting mis-

G. I. brogans squarely in the car's path. "I got orders to let nobody through while they're firing."

The Commanding General's driver, M-Sgt. John Cook, leaned out the window and inquired patiently: "Soldier, do you know whose car this is?"

"Yesir," snapped the rookie. "I know whose car that is, sir. That car belongs to Uncle Sam."

Topics Varied For Homemaker Short Course, June 13 to 16

Civic, International Affairs, State Lore On Program

State institutions and state history will be on the Home Demonstration Short Course Program, June 13-16, according to Miss M. Gertrude Holloway, State Home Demonstration leader. The course is held annually at the University of Delaware.

This year's program includes Mr. Bernard Nobis, director of Ferris School for Boys, speaking on juvenile delinquency and the role the Ferris School plays in solving such problems.

Dr. Jerome Kay, clinical director at Governor Bacon Health Center, will talk to the women on "Growing Toward Maturity."

History will come into the picture when Mr. James T. Eliason, Jr., of the New Castle Tercentenary Commission, tells the women about early New Castle history and the background of the Tercentenary Celebration. On Saturday morning the homemakers will attend the celebration at New Castle.

International affairs will seem close to home when Dr. John Munroe, of the University of Delaware history department, gives the women a review of news today and its background.

Miss Marie Doerman, nutritionist, New Jersey Agricultural Extension Service, will show slides and tell about Germany as she saw it. Miss Doerman spent year in Germany with the ECA.

Summer Course Stated In Teacher-Pupil Relations

School teachers' relations with pupils and their parents will be examined in two courses to be offered during the coming summer session at the University of Delaware. The courses, "Group Dynamics in the Classroom," and "Teacher Cooperation with Parents," will be taught by Dr. John Witthall, associate professor of education, during the session's second term, starting July 23.

"Both courses will attempt to identify and assess some of the human relations factors in face-to-face situations," according to Dr. Witthall. "Considerable study has been done in the last decade or so in the area of human relations and the dynamics of face-to-face interaction. Today we are just beginning to try to put to work some of the principles, concepts, and just plain hunches we have developed, to see whether we can test some of our beliefs and hypotheses about the dynamics of human interaction."

Safety In Driving Stressed In Recent High School Assembly

Safety was the theme for the Junior and Senior High School assembly Wednesday, May 23. Sergeant Ferguson of the Delaware State Police spoke briefly on safety and better driving by our teen-agers of today and tomorrow.

Sergeant Ferguson of the Delaware State Police spoke on safety and prevention of accidents. He told of several accidents during this time of the year. He also mentioned the recent accident in which the three teen-agers were killed after the Junior Prom at Bridgeville High School. Sergeant Ferguson pointed out that in summer time youths will be driving their cars more than they have before and asked that they be careful.

He introduced a film titled "Last Date" which showed the reckless driver who cares for his own life and not the other person or persons' lives which he might endanger.

The second film was on recreation for children and their safety; it was entitled "Place to Play." Recreation as we all know is a major and important problem all over America today. Today's children have no place to play. There are some playing in streets where traffic has to go through and usually one of the children will get struck by a car. There are "slum areas" in American cities where children are not healthy and have no place to play. The older boys who have no recreation like the smaller children hang out late at night, gamble, drink, and sooner or later some even become delinquents.

It's hard to say that the adults don't care for the future of children who roam the streets. There have been improvements for recreation grounds, and plans are being made to keep the children safe.

Newark is now putting forth a recreation drive for better play and safety for its children. So let's all help support it so that the children of Newark today will be the citizens of tomorrow.
