

BATTERY 'C' TO SEND 60 ON ANNUAL FIELD TRIP

Motor Convoy
To Leave Here
Tomorrow Nite
On Encampment

Men of Newark's Battery "C," Gun Battalion, will leave by truck at midnight, July 30, to join the National Guard units throughout the state in two-weeks of field training.

The detachment, equipped with three anti-aircraft guns, plus 50 caliber machine guns and small arms, will be under the command of Capt. Joseph Ballbach.

En route to Bethany, the unit will encamp for two nights at Fort Miles, Del., for extensive training with Thompson sub-machine gun and M-1 rifle.

At camp later, the first week's schedule will be devoted mainly to firing 50 caliber machine guns at balloons and aerial targets. The detachment will also get thorough training in the care and maintenance of the guns.

The second week will center on the operation of the big 90 mm. guns. This will be the first time the men of the unit will have an opportunity to work with the guns under field conditions.

Final plans for the field trip were made at a meeting Monday night, when Ballbach stressed the fact that all members of the battery must make the trip as well as have a 90 per cent attendance record for drill in order to obtain their draft exemption status.

Drill is held every Monday night from 8 to 10 p. m. at the local armory.

Further details were signed up at the armory night drill, according to Capt. Ballbach. He is Roland Harding, a student at the University of Delaware.

Proposed Ordinance Draws Ire

It is that the Town Council will have another thorny problem on its hands at its August meeting next week night, when the question of repealing the Main Street building line is up.

A draft of an ordinance, proposing to withdraw the line from 12 to 18 feet from the curb, is scheduled to come up for its third and final reading at the meeting, but Council, in all probability, will be faced with a formal veto from the Chamber of Commerce.

Passage of the measure. A veto, urging Council to drop the ordinance, is now being circulated, and a petition is expected to submit it to the voters next Monday.

As voted here two weeks ago, the ordinance received its first reading at Council's July 27 meeting. The bill is designed to prevent for a time when the increase in street traffic may necessitate widening the street. The ordinance, if passed, would not affect existing structures.

Even if it became law, many business, whose store fronts just now are the current 12 foot limit, feel they might be prevented from obtaining permits to modernize their fronts.

They agreed to comply with the ordinance, which would require slicing a considerable portion of their building overhangs, involve a major reconstruction job.

Communion Rites Held At St. Thomas

There will be a celebration of Holy Communion at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, at the 11 a. m. service this Sunday.

Rev. Dr. Charles W. Claib, of the Episcopal Church, Wilmington, will be in charge of the service.

CHECK NBS ACCOUNTS

The annual auditing of the accounts of the Newark Special School District is now underway.

Domenico "Buddy" Cataldi

LOCAL BOY SIGNED TO PLAY WITH PRO LEAGUE

D. Cataldi Now
Infielder For Eastern Loop
Utica Combine

The dream of most young Americans, the chance to be a big-league ball player, may become a reality for 20-year-old Domenico "Buddy" Cataldi, son of Mr. Angelo Cataldi, North Street.

The 20-year-old youth took his first step toward the big-time last week with the announcement that he has been signed to play with Utica in the Class A Eastern League, a Phillies farm club.

In order to accept the chance to play pro ball, "Buddy" turned down offers of full scholarships, which his athletic prowess had brought him both from the University of Delaware and Wake Forest.

His first break came early this June at the Phillies' tryouts in the Wilmington Ball Park, where he was one of the few asked to come back for further workouts with the Blue Rocks. Once the scouts got an eyeful of the fielding and hitting form of the lithe six-foot-one-inch youth, they signed him for Utica, where he will finish the season as a utility infielder. "Buddy," who weighs 190, bats left and throws right.

An all-around athlete and popular local youth as well, "Buddy" went to Newark High School for two years, when his education was interrupted by war service. He saw 21 months duty with the Navy.

After his discharge, he rounded out his schooling at Fork Union Military Academy, where he graduated June 2. Here, he earned the "Best Athlete of the Class" medal and was one of the few boys to receive three varsity letters.

This summer, until his big chance came, he kept in form by playing with the Newark club in the Susquehanna League and also with the Newark A. C. in the New Castle County League.

37 Newark High Farm Students Work On Extensive Summer Program

Summer isn't vacation time for the boys in the vocational agriculture classes at the Newark High School. They're more active than ever during the hot months learning how to be good farmers by the simple and direct method of farming on their own.

Under the supervision of their instructor, Frank Mercer, they are carrying out a number of projects including the raising of pure-bred animals and special crops. There is little classroom instruction during the summer. The boys do the work on their parent's farms, while Mr. Mercer makes periodic inspection tours to check on their progress and advise on latest farming methods.

A number of the student's animals and crop samples have been entered in the current Kent-Sussex Fair at Harrington, according to Mr. Mercer. The summer projects, he says, are actually an activity of the Newark Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, established at the local school.

Some idea of the surprising extent of the program can be gained from a few statistics listed by Mr. Mercer.

This summer the 37 boys taking part in the program are raising a total of 21 sows and litters and an additional 30 fattening pigs. They also have 11

16-YEAR-OLD VAUGHN FOX WINS MODEL AUTO AWARD

Takes First In
State In Fisher
Craftsman Guild
Junior Contest

Vaughn P. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Fox, of near Newark, has been named winner for Delaware in the junior division of the model car contest sponsored by the Fisher Body Craftsman Guild.

The judging of entries from throughout the eastern area took place Tuesday at the R. C. Macy Little Theatre in New York City.

The 16-year-old youth, who will be entering the junior class at the Newark High School this fall, worked on the wooden model for almost six months before submitting it late in June. Using a block of wood furnished by contest officials, Vaughn spent hours of painstaking, tedious work both in the high school tool shop and at home on the beautiful scaled model.

Vaughn's car was judged the best submitted from Delaware. The exact nature of his prize has not been disclosed as yet, but it is expected to be, partially at least, in cash.

The announcement of Vaughn's success was made Tuesday by Ford Frick, president of the National League and one of the contest judges.

Over $14,000 in awards is being distributed in the eastern area through the contest. Vaughn's entry was in the junior division of the contest open to youths 16 and under. A senior division for youths over 16 was also conducted.

In addition to the cash awards, 18 expense free trips to the National Guild Convention in Detroit August 24 to 27 are being offered.

ROTARIANS SEE FARM COOP FILM

A movie tour of the Eastern States Farmers Coop feed mill at Buffalo, New York, was provided the members of the Newark Rotary Club at their Monday night session here.

The documentary film was shown by H. Wilson Price, program chairman.

Jack Handloff, vice-president, presided in the absence of President Kenneth Steers.

Club secretary Gilbert Nickle gave a brief report for the executive committee, outlining a number of projects the club is planning to launch in the near future.

Interest of the members seems to be swinging mainly to sports these days. They are scheduled to play a softball game next Monday night with the New Castle Club. Date and time have not yet been announced.

Also, Frank Tolomeo, new club athletic director, is organizing a golf tourney, open to the members.

Improvements to room illumination is almost being carried out. The number of lights is being increased and placed more strategically in each room.

In addition, the gym and auditorium floors have been refinished and the cafeteria retouched with paint.

Only hold-ups now are in electrical and plumbing work.

The Aetna Company drew a $25 prize for the unit with the best appearance in the firemen's parade at Elkton on Tuesday night.

Forty-seven companies from this area took part in the event, which climaxed the annual Singery Fire Company's carnival.

The largest prize, a $75 cash award, went to the Smyrna Fire Company for entering the best band in the march. The parade drew a crowd of 5,000 spectators and about 1,500 participants.

Aetna's award was the second in a row for the local company. Last week the Newark volunteers also won a prize for the company with the best appearance.

Architect's View Of New Methodist Church Facade

An imposing new brick facade in colonial style, topped by a corniced wooden steeple, is now being added at the Newark Methodist Church.

The large-scale remodeling program also includes enlarging the capacity of the Sanctuary from its present 270 seats to 478. The work, cost of which has not been disclosed, will take about six months, according to Dr. A. J. Jackson, minister of the church.

The new front was originally planned for the church when it was remodelled sixteen years ago. The accompanying picture shows the architect's drawing of the outside construction as it will appear when completed.

The Sanctuary, built in 1862, no longer meets the needs of the congregation, Dr. Jackson said.

During the construction period, Worship Services will be held in the social hall, located on the second floor in the rear of the building and reached through the side entrance leading off the driveway.

The schedule of preachers for the Sunday Morning Services at 11 o'clock for the next six Sundays is as follows: Aug. 1—Dr. Leonard White, former pastor of Newark Methodist Church; Aug. 8—Rev. Harry H. Conner, pastor Rising Sun, Maryland; Aug. 15—Dr. Arthur J. Jackson will speak on "The Perfect Love That Casts Out Fear," which will be the fourth in the series of sermons on the Great Spiritual Problems of Our Times; Aug. 22—Rev. Albert M. B. Snapp, pastor at Perryville, Md.; Aug. 29—Mr. John Williams, Haddonfield, New Jersey, layman and well-known in Newark; Sept. 5—Dr. Arthur J. Jackson will speak on "The Gospel of Christ the Power of God," which will be the fifth in the series of sermons on the Great Spiritual Problems of Our Times.

Special soloists from among members of the choir will sing each Sunday. The Sunday evening service will be resumed in September. The Church School with classes for all ages will be in session each Sunday throughout the summer.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

TO LAUNCH FUND DRIVE ON MONDAY

To Ask Support
For Memorial To
Town's War Dead

A large corps of volunteers from a number of town civic clubs is set to launch a house-to-house drive here Monday, seeking funds to erect a stone memorial to Newark's dead of all wars.

The campaign is expected to be one of the most thorough ever seen here, with solicitors promising to apply at every home in town. Each club taking part has been assigned the responsibility of covering a particular section.

Drive solicitors will carry photographs of the three designs proposed for the monument, and each contributor will be asked to state his preference.

The sampling of town opinion thus obtained will guide the committee in its final selection.

Members of the Newark War Memorial, Inc., a combined town committee, are highly optimistic about the campaign and feel sure the response to this purely local project will put it over the top financially in record time.

MERCHANTS SET TO GO ALL-OUT IN 2-DAY SALE

'Calling Days'
Promise To Be
Shoppers' Boon
Next Week-End

Set to prove that Newark is the place to shop, local retailers will go all-out next week-end in their "Newark Calling" days, when they will lay before the public an array of values at special prices rarely seen in this area.

The dates are August 6 and 7, and for those two days the shopper, long harassed by high prices, can take a holiday.

Over fifty merchants are cooperating to slash prices on their summer stock for the big event.

A preview of what the local housewife can expect in savings will come through this newspaper next week in an 8-page supplement in which the merchants will list just a few of the bargains being offered from the smallest nick-nack to the largest items of household equipment.

The two-day event will also serve to introduce many shoppers to the convenience and shopping comforts offered by the Newark retail center. Plenty of free parking space, no shoving crowds, well-stocked modern stores, offering courteous, personalized attention.

In addition to the many special summer values being offered, the shopper will also have an opportunity to look over Newark's stores and gain an idea of how broad an array of nationally advertised products are offered here.

Part of this sales' aim is to convince shoppers in this area that for their pocketbook's sake, it's common sense to shop at home.

The first such campaign to be staged here in many years, the sale will tie-in with the current "Newark Calling" radio show, being aired daily over WTUX. Also sponsored by local retailers, the program is winning an enthusiastic following. Fans find it not only fun but profitable to listen to the telephone quiz offering valuable prizes each day.

STEWART RITES HELD ON MONDAY

Mrs. Robt. Stewart
Succumbs After Long Illness

Funeral services for Mrs. Robert Stewart were held from the R. T. Jones Funeral Home Monday afternoon, July 26, with the Rev. H. Everett Hallman, pastor of the Newark Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment was in the White Clay Creek Cemetery.

Mrs. Stewart passed away at her home, at 325 South College Avenue, on Friday afternoon after a protracted illness. She was the daughter of the late Henry and Matilda Benjamin, of North East, Md., and the wife of Robert Stewart, president of the Newark Country Club, who is associated with the Continental-Diamond Fibre Company here. She had been a resident of Newark since 1932, moving here from Norristown, Pa.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Stewart is survived by two children: Robert Stewart, Jr., who lives at home, and Mrs. Robert L. Davis, of Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia.

Also surviving are four brothers: George, Chester and William Benjamin, all of Chester, Pa., and Frank Benjamin, of West Chester; and three sisters: Mrs. Harry S. Miller, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. John Wolfe and Mrs. Clinton V. Jones, both of Chester, Pa., and four grandchildren.

School Staff Vacationing But Office Still Open

Wilmer E. Shue, superintendent of the Newark Special School District, is now on vacation at his parents' home at Mount Union, Pa.

Two others of the school office staff on duty through most of the summer are also currently on vacation. They are Mrs. Elizabeth Lawrence, who is touring New York State and parts of Canada, and Miss Alice Veit, now at Ocean City, N. J.

Meanwhile, the school offices remain open under high school principal Frederick B. Kutz.

STUDENTS IN LUNCH PLAN TOTAL 12,000

Report On State's Part In National Program Is Given

During the school year which ended last month about 12,000 Delaware school children ate nutritious noon meals as part of the National School Lunch Program. These figures were revealed in a preliminary review of school lunch operations in Delaware during the 1947-48 school year by J. J. Dittick, in charge of food distribution activities of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in the Northeast.

According to Mr. Dittick, 64 Delaware public schools participated in the National Program last year. In Delaware the program is administered by the State Board of Education under an agreement with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

In the last school year about $70,000 of Federal funds appropriated by Congress under the National School Lunch Act helped to bear part of the cost of the program in Delaware. The balance of the expenses was met by funds from State and local sources and by the nominal sums paid by participating children.

In addition to the Federal funds which were apportioned directly to Delaware to help administer the program, some of the money appropriated under the National School Lunch Act was used to buy various supplementary foods on a national basis. Among the foods distributed to Delaware schools in this manner were American cheese, canned tomatoes, canned tomato juice, and peanut butter.

The Production and Marketing Administration also made extensive free mandatory price support program for farm products. These commodities were also distributed to eligible welfare institutions and relief recipients. Twenty-five thousand pounds of potatoes, many of them produced on Delaware farms, were distributed in Delaware in this way last year, in addition to large quantities of sweetpotatoes, fresh apples, dried eggs, grapefruit juice, dried fruits, and nuts.

Mr. Dittick emphasized that those foods acquired by the department under price support are available to any school meeting the department's eligibility requirements, whether or not it participates in the National School Lunch Program.

PRODUCTION LAG IS SEEN

Plus High Demand Causes Inflation

The rise in consumers' demand while production has stood virtually still is the major cause behind the current inflationary trend, according to the U. S. Commerce Department. The likelihood of output rising to meet the demand in the near future is dim.

Basing its remarks on a new survey of current business, the department said most industries have been operating at "maximum levels consistent with available facilities and supplies of materials, particularly of steel."

It added: "In those areas where there is lag-way for further expansion, such as in cotton textiles, current requirements of business and consumers have generally served as the basis for steady operations in the recent period."

"One of the new exceptions is shoes, where output has moved downward. The department's views were aired as President Truman's close aides worked on the anti-inflation program Mr. Truman is to deliver to Congress personally Tuesday.

The President himself has hinted the program will try getting demand into closer balance with produced supplies of some goods by cutting down on buying through rationing, an accompaniment to price control.

The Commerce Department said demand pressures growing as "consumer income, already bolstered by lower withholdings taxes, has been further advanced by important wage awards that also exerted price pressure through their effects on costs."

It said wage settlements negotiated in June and July will give a further boost to personal income from the annual rate of $208,000,000,000 recorded in May, last month for which figures have been obtained.

Further strength of demand also is being projected in government spending on exports and defense steps, while business concerns expect to maintain a high rate of spending on equipments and plants.

Despite rising prices, consumer buying registered a pick-up in the April-June period that cut down stocks of goods that had been accumulating somewhat in the hands of retailers and wholesalers before then, the department said.

Helping to provide the money, it said, was the sharp increase in employment to a new record of over 61,000,000 in June.

STATE UNIT PLANS TESTS FOR POULTRY

Newcastle Disease To B Fought

A blood-testing service for Delaware poultry flocks to determine immunity to Newcastle disease is offered by the poultry department of the State Board of Agriculture. H. R. Baker, poultry pathologist for the State Board, states that any flock owner in the state whether a hatchery egg producer or commercial egg producer, may avail himself of this service.

Users of vaccine for the prevention of Newcastle disease are also advised by Mr. Baker that under the limited permits issued, distributors and buyers must file their names with the State Board of Agriculture. All containers are labeled that the vaccine is for trial and experimental use.

An exhibit on Newcastle disease and the method of vaccination is one of the educational exhibits of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service at the Kent-Sussex Fair.

BIAS SINGS AT CONCERT ON FRIDAY

Appreciative Audience Hears Local Resident

Mr. Thomas Bias, the young concert singer of Newark, performed with great success to a very appreciative audience on Friday at the Community Center, Cleveland Avenue.

The highlights of the program were: "The Man River" and "I've Got a Feeling About Me" by Gershwin from "Porgy and Bess."

Mr. Bias, the guest soloist from Philadelphia, sang down the curtain on the song "Because."

After the finale Mr. Bias took four calls which he shared with his wife, an artist.

The community is very grateful for the splendid cooperation of Mrs. Mary Bishop and Miss Minnie Ryder, piano accompanist.

Miss Evelyn Chambers, the playhouse director, wishes to thank the many merchants and their many friends for their liberal contributions.

It is regretted that none was able to attend the performance.

ACCIDENT CHECK-UP SURGED

Theme Of Farm Safety Week To End Saturday

Delaware homemakers are reminded of National Farm Safety Week, July 28, as a checking-up period for farm accidents.

Miss Louise Whitcomb, extension agent, reveals that a survey of farm accidents shows that a large number of accidents are caused by falls.

During this past April and May, 16 accidents were reported, 10 of them resulting in injuries.

The survey showed that electrical equipment injured 3 people, while 15 suffered burns, cuts and bruises.

Miss Whitcomb suggests the following check list for correcting some of the most frequent safety violations in the home:

1. Use safety matches and keep them out of children's reach.

2. Use safe cleaning fluids—never gasoline or benzene—and always outside.

3. Use oil, oily rags and cloths in metal pail.

4. Strictly forbid smoking in bed.

5. Keep stairways clear of objects, repair broken steps, use a handrail.

6. Never use a stool or chair in place of a ladder.

7. Replace rugs that may skid.

8. Avoid slippery, highly-polished floors.

9. Do not touch electrical equipment with your hands or wet.

10. Do not use gasoline or kerosene to clean up a fire.

Over 7 Million Tons Of Sugar Is U. S. Need In '48

The Agriculture Department said recently heavy consumer demands will require that 7,200,000 tons of sugar be provided for the U. S. in 1948 instead of the previously determined 7,000,000 tons.

To meet the increased goal of 200,000 tons, Cuba's import quota has been raised by 197,280 tons while the remaining 2,720 tons will be brought in from other foreign countries (other than the Philippines) in proportion to existing quotas.

FIELD DAY AUGUST 10 AT U. OF D.

4th Annual Event At Substation

The fourth Annual Field Day of the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station will be held August 10, at the University Substation near Georgetown, according to George M. Worrell, director of the Experiment Station and the Agricultural Extension Service.

The Field Day will begin at 1:30 p. m., when members of the Experiment Station staff will be present to discuss the research work being conducted at the Substation and to answer visitors' questions regarding agricultural problems.

Featured at the Field Day will be the research programs of the departments of plant pathology, horticulture and agronomy. Heads of these departments are Dr. John W. Heuberger, plant pathology; E. P. Brasher, horticulture and C. E. Phillips, agronomy.

A total of 25 research projects underway at the experimental site will be explained and discussed for the benefit of farmers and fieldmen associated with industries related to agriculture.

WINS SILCO SCHOLARSHIP

Wilm. Youth Gets Award

Byron Dale Babcock, of 711 River Road, Riverside Gardens, Wilmington, has won the 1948 award of the Silco Company Scholarship at the University of Delaware, according to Dr. J. Fenton Daugherty, chairman of the University's scholarship committee.

Babcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale F. Babcock, was selected after a competitive examination which was open to any graduate of Delaware public schools. He is a recent graduate of P. S. duPont High School, where he ranked among the foremost members of his class academically.

In high school, he participated in intramural sports, was a member of the National Honor Society, and a staff member for the yearbook and revision of the school handbook.

At the university, he will study chemical engineering.

The Silco Scholarship, awarded annually by the Silco Stores Company, carries a value of $300 for each of four college years. It has been awarded previously to Daniel Nathans of Wilmington in 1946 and Wilfred J. Smith, Jr., of Claymont last year. The scholarship is open to any graduate of a public school in the state.

87 RESERVE SHIPS READY

Authorized As Naval Support

Eighty-seven merchant marine vessels have been authorized to fly the Naval Reserve Flag, signifying that the ships are suitable for use as naval auxiliaries, and that their masters and at least 50 per cent of their officers are Naval Reservists.

Many of the vessels actively served with the Navy during World War II. The Merchant Marine component of the U. S. Naval Reserve is composed of approximately 15,000 of these well-trained and qualified seagoing officers. More than 5,000 were called to active duty during World War II, while the others served in logistic support of the Armed Forces in merchant ships.

The commercial status of a merchant ship is not changed in any way by the flying of the Naval Reserve Flag. Nor does the warrant create or signify any obligation on the part of the Navy Department to employ such a vessel in any capacity.

The warrant to fly the blue pennant of the Naval Reserve terminates if the ship ceases to be documented under the laws of the United States, or if the master and at least 50 per cent of the licensed officers serving on board are not members of the Navy, Naval Reserves, Coast Guard or Coast Guard Reserve.

INCOMES OF CORPS. RISE

U. S. manufacturing corporations earned a total income after taxes of $2,600,000 during the fourth quarter of 1947, according to a recent government report.

The total was about $130,000,000 above the third quarter, according to a joint report by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission. The report did not give comparisons for 1946 quarters.

Total sales of all manufacturing corporations were $41,200,000,000 in the final 1947 quarter, about $3,900,000,000 more than the preceding quarter, while costs and expenses were $37,000,000,000 a rise of about $3,900,000,000.

The report showed that small corporations sustained a sharp profit drop in the last quarter of 1947, while the larger companies increased profits.

The report said that an analysis of the decline in the profit margins of small size manufacturing corporations showed that a drop occurred in all of the industry groups except rubber and motor vehicles and parts, with the sharpest declines in the food, printing and publishing, and chemical industries.

Preliminary estimates for the first quarter of 1948 showed some increase in profit margins for the small companies compared with the fourth quarter of 1947.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN TO BE HONORED

Commemorative Stamp To Go On Sale Next Fall

The 3-cent commemorative stamp honoring American volunteer firemen will go on sale for the first time in Dover, Delaware, on October 4, according to an announcement this week from the office of Rep. J. Caleb Boggs. The date and place were suggested by Mr. Boggs, sponsor of the resolution which Congress adopted directing the department to issue the stamp.

With the stamp sale opening on the first day of National Fire Prevention Week, it is expected that the event will bring to Dover a large number of stamp collectors, representatives of underwriting firms and firemen's associations.

The Postoffice Department said that a design for the stamp has not yet been completed.

Because of the interest of the nation's stamp collectors, the first-day sale of a commemorative stamp takes on the aspects of a big business operation. It may be necessary for the Dover postoffice to employ as many as 75 to 100 part-time workers from among housewives, students, and others, during the week prior to the sale.

Thousands of orders for the first day covers are expected to pour into the postoffice. The money sent in must be counted and stamps affixed before the big sale day. Some stamp dealers, specializing in first-day covers, send personal representatives to the site to prepare 10,000 or more envelopes for the special cancellation.

In short, Dover citizens may find it an exciting community event. The climax of the day will come when a representative of the postmaster general affixes the first stamp to the first envelope to be mailed. Tributes will be paid to volunteer firemen by distinguished speakers and the ceremonies sometimes are broadcast on national networks. The day after the stamps are sold in Dover, they will be placed on sale in postoffices all over the nation.

Soil Minerals Running Out

Farmers over the country are beginning to realize that the minerals of our soils are running out. The rich heritage of minerals in the soil that make it possible to grow crops is being blown away, washed away and used up.

Not only are farmers beginning to realize this serious situation, but it has become a serious problem for feed dealers. Grain grown on ground which is deficient in essential minerals fail to get results in growth and production when fed to livestock and poultry.

Some dealers have become aware of these deficiencies and have fortified their feeds with the minerals by direct application. In 1945, over 70,000 tons of phosphoric acid were used in mixed feeds to offset a lack of phosphorus in the soil. Not all dealers and feed mixers did this, and it is not certain that the 70,000 tons took care of the deficiencies in the feed to which it was added.

Certain it is, though, that mineral deficiencies in the soil will and do show up in feed and food deficiencies. Conservation programs, such as the Agricultural Conservation Program which works with the individual farmers on their own farms, is helping to overcome some of the soil deficiencies by assisting farmers to restore some of the mineral losses which have resulted from heavy cropping and erosion.

GE Light Bulbs Jump In Price

General Electric Co. announced this week an increase of one penny on the retail price of electric light bulbs in the 15 to 60-watt sizes. Beginning Monday they will cost 12 cents each.

A number of other bulbs in the large, miniature and photolamp lines also will go up, the company said. Prices on the 75-watt and 100-watt types will remain the same.

The company blamed higher costs resulting from recent wage increases.

George Hill, Known Here, Killed By Train

Relatives and friends in this area of George Henry Hill have been notified of his death on Saturday, July 24.

Mr. Hill who was formerly of Wilmington has been living in Springfield, Illinois. He was killed by a train at Naperville, Illinois, but details of the accident and funeral arrangements have not been released.

SOIL LOSSES EASILY SEEN

Farm To Save Sod

It doesn't take a Hawshaw, Sherlock Holmes, or Philo Vance to see the signs of a farm that is getting away from you. This spring, for instance, many farmers over the country noticed little gullies where there hadn't been gullies before. These are definitely tracks of land that has "left home."

During the war and since, our land has been "taking a beating," as we've had to keep turning it over and over to grow the food, oil and fibre crops needed for the war and for the huge demands since the war. Prices have been relatively good and we've been trying to take all we could from our farms. The little gullies indicate we may have taken too much.

We've had some of our land in row crops longer than is safe if we want to hold our soil. The humus and decaying plant materials are being worked out of the soil; the soil structure is breaking down. It's like having the cement work out from between the bricks of a house. When there's nothing to hold the bricks together, it doesn't take much to push the wall over. The house crumbles.

When the soil loses its "stick-together-ness," wind and water easily tear it apart and wash or blow it away. The roots of plants such as alfalfa, clover and grasses have been worked out of the land through heavy cropping. The little gullies are just an indication that we've had the land too long out of a protective crop.

Shorter rotations, more crops that protect and hold the soil and more of the other practices that make up a conservation farming is what is needed. The Agricultural Conservation Program was set up to help farmers conserve their soil—not to keep it out of production but to keep it producing both now and in the future.

Steel Firms Show 9.54 Pct. Profit, Says FTC Report

The Federal Trade Commission said recently that leading U. S. steel companies last year made a 9.54 per cent return on their investments after taxes.

It issued a report on international steel cartels stating the companies had total sales of $5,629,290,460 in 1947, almost 98 per cent more than the previous high in 1940.

Claims Movie Attendance Hit By High Living Costs

High commodity prices and competing forms of entertainment aren't doing the film industry any good, says Eric Johnston, chief of the Motion Picture Association of America.

He told a news conference recently that both employment and production are away off and added:

"The movies are competing with dollar hamburger and dollar butter." Television, dog racing and night baseball are other factors militating against the business, he declared. And the situation abroad isn't helping any.

He criticized as a mistake the quota Britain has imposed on American films, and termed it an attempt "to legislate

EXAMS FOR CIVIL JOBS

Appliance Repairmen

Two examinations were announced Tuesday by the U. S. Civil Service Commission, for filling Medical Officer positions at salaries ranging from $4,149 to $5,905 a year, and Officer Appliance Repairman jobs at salaries ranging from $2,020 to $2,895 a year.

Office Appliance Repairman jobs are located in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity. To qualify, applicants must have had from 1 to 5 years of experience in the repair of office appliances. For the two highest salary grades, they must have had experience in making new parts for office appliances or similar work in operating machine-shop tools for the production of precision parts. For the highest grade, they must have had some experience in supervising, planning, and directing the work of a small group of repairmen. No written test is required for this examination. Age limits are from 18 to 82 years, and are waived for persons entitled to veterans preference.

Applications for Medical Officer positions will be accepted by the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., until further notice. Applications for the Office Appliance Repairman examination must be received in the Commission not later than August 17, 1948.

Information and application forms may be secured from the Commission's Local Secretary, Mr. W. W. Singles, located at Newark Post Office, from Civil Service regional offices, or from the Civil Service Commission in Washington, D. C.

New Food Preservative

A new chemical which keeps foods such as pastries and potato chips fresh up to 50 times as long as when no preservative is used has been developed at the University of Chicago.

The product, discovered by the American Meat Institute Foundation at the university, helps to preserve all products made with lard and other animal fats.

The foundation says the product is inexpensive, easy to add to lard and requires no special equipment.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Curried Rice Enhances Dried Beef Favorite

"Clever Cook Relies on One or Two Dishes When Entertaining" could be the title for a story about a home-maker with a reputation for good food. Usually these dishes can be varied to suit the occasion, and served with changing accompaniments to dress them up or down.

Such a dish is creamed dried beef in a curried rice ring, says Beba Staggs, well-known home economist, who knows whereof she speaks. It's made in a jiffy, it has a delightfully intriguing flavor, and (what's important to most folks) it would win a prize in any "less expensive" contest.

The creamed dried beef you make with your favorite recipe, adding only 2 cups peas and maybe a dash of curry powder—so it will mate well with the rice ring!

Mr. and Mrs. Roger P. Watkins visited with Mr. Watkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Watkins, of Chesapeake City, on Sunday.

Dickie Dayton, of Nottingham Road, has returned home from a visit of several weeks in Salisbury and has as his guest this week Buddy Evans, of Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Donoho, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mahanna and Mr. and Mrs. Gibby Young will also travel to New York this Friday to wish Mr. and Mrs. Charles Humphreys bon voyage when they sail on the Uruguay for Buenos Aires.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Kirchner will also sail from New York this Friday for Europe where they will spend the remainder of the summer. Dr. Kirchner who is of the History Department of the University of Delaware will do some research work in Geneva, Switzerland.

Newark Soroptomists At Toronto Conference

Four delegates from the Newark Soroptomist Club are attending the Conference of the American Federation of Soroptomist Clubs, which opened Sunday in Toronto, Canada, and closes tomorrow.

In the group are: Mrs. Anne Longenbach, Miss Edna Campbell, Mrs. Dorothy Patterson, and Miss Winifred Taylor.

Among other activities, the delegates will be guests at a tea given by Lt. Gov. the Honorable Ray Lawson and his wife.

FILLIN' IN

You frequently hear grown-ups discussing the "Juvenile Question" or read windy articles by noted authorities on "The Problem of Today's Youth," but you seldom find anyone actually doing something about it.

Especially is this true in medium sized communities, where the rural freedoms are lost and where the big-city youth organizations, athletic clubs, etc., with their elaborate equipment, are unknown. It's quite a problem being a kid in a not-so-small town, where everything (except, perhaps, the Saturday movie matinee) is operated for the benefit of grown-ups.

You can't exactly say this of Newark, though, at least not within the past year—and this is mostly because two young men decided to take an interest in the kids of their neighborhood.

The two are Don Butterworth and Phil Harrison, organizers and sponsors of two thriving boys' clubs each with a membership of around forty enthusiastic youngsters. The first, under Butterworth, calls itself the Cleveland Avenue Clippers Athletic Club, and the second, directed by Harrison, has dubbed itself the Southside Indians Boys' Club.

Formed on practically a shoestring, the clubs are now healthy organizations, despite the fact they still need funds badly. Each has two teams in the Hardball League, sponsored by the Newark Recreation Association, and both are planning on a full football schedule this fall.

The Clippers, the first to be organized last November, came about almost by accident, when the small fry in the Cleveland Avenue area decided they wanted a football team and asked Butterworth to coach them. The latter, a Newark High athlete, who graduated in 1946 and now is employed at Continental-Diamond, decided he might as well go whole hog and form a full-fledged club, something the kids in that section had always wanted. The Clippers are now a chartered organization, and new members, who must be 16 or under, are accepted only by vote.

Getting the club on a firm footing was an uphill fight, and its financial status still is none to secure. Even so, the Clippers' two league teams are currently sporting colorful new uniforms, purchased with money raised last spring.

The next big problem for the Clippers is getting football uniforms. The boys hoped to line up a schedule of teams in the 125 pound class from surrounding communities, such as Elkton, Stanton, Roselle, Palmery, etc., but much will depend on their new drive for funds. Butterworth says the kids are planning to chance off a radio. The aim is to raise $365 to equip a 17-man squad.

With the Southside Indians it's much the same story—lots of spirit and enthusiasm but low on the cash side. The Indians also are looking forward to the football season and wondering whether or not they can make it. Although they haven't completed plans yet, they, too, expect to put on some kind of drive.

The upshot of all this is easily told—if these clubs, which could be the forerunners of others in town, don't get support they may peter out and become just good ideas gone bust. If you're of a mind to help, send a check or a bit of cash to either Don Butterworth or Don Sharp of the Cleveland Avenue Clippers or to Phil Harrison or Joe Gregg of the Southside Indians.

We traveled last week to the Jersey shore, there to mingle for a few fleeting days with a strange race of mahogany colored Caucasians, who spend their days barbecuing on the sand.

We devoted some time to studying the manners and customs of this odd species whose members appear to make a career of acquiring suntan.

We noted first of all that, though the Atlantic shoreline extends for thousands of miles, the mahogany peoples prefer to pack themselves in a few acres of beach in order, apparently, to kick sand in each other's faces, step on one another's adenoids and set their children loose to main and trample.

The beach itself resembles a large, steaming griddle with humans strewn about frying contentedly in various stages from well-done to medium rare. Occasionally, they turn over and baste themselves with suntan oil. Clasp a bun around some of them, and they'd pass for jumbo frankfurters.

In the center of every beach, at a point near but never in the water, is a high dais, where sits an austere figure, who could pass either as a Sun God or an exceedingly well-broiled human. He gazes constantly out to sea, and sometimes blows smartly on a whistle. He is called a Life Guard.

We have yet to figure out what his function is except to blow whistles and look indifferent when over-cooked, heavily oiled females gather about in adorning groups. We watched carefully, but we never saw one of these gentlemen enter the water. Our theory is they probably knew how to swim once but have long since forgotten and think no one suspects. They didn't fool us!

If you notice a hint of bitterness in all this, it's probably because we only had a week there, and, besides, we don't tan too well.

RED MEN INCREASE LEAD IN SOFTBALL LOOP RACE AS PLAY-OFF TILTS NEAR

Extend Streak To 12 With One-Sided Win Over Indians Monday Nite; Title Matches Are Scheduled For August 12

The Red Men appeared the odds-on favorites to finish at the top of the community softball league, when they stretched their string to 12 wins against no defeats by downing the Indians, 13-3, on Monday night.

Meanwhile, league director Harry Rawstrom announced plans for the play-offs, which will get underway August 12. The top four teams in the league standings as of that date will enter the elimination fight for the circuit crown.

A schedule of postponed games, which must be played before the title contests, is listed below. If any of these should be rained out, the team managers are charged with arranging for a replay on their own before August 12. No further postponed games will be played after that date.

The leaders in the league race continued to hold their places the past week. The Red Men's victory gave them a decided edge over their nearest opponent the Newark Aces, who have won nine and lost one.

Though the Indians took an early two run lead Monday night, the Red Men were soon in the driving seat, breaking loose for seven runs in the third, and capping their advantage with a six run spurge in the sixth.

The victor's 13 hits were evenly scattered, six of their sluggers getting two apiece, with Schaen accounting for the lone bludge.

The Indians' bats weren't silent either, but they couldn't produce in the tight spots. They pounded out nine safeties. McCormick and B. Wallstrom leading the way with two each.

Schedule of Postponed Games
July 29—Blue Jays vs. Spiders, diamond 1. Braves vs. Red Men, diamond 2.

August 2—K. of P. vs. Newark A. C., diamond 1. Blue Jays vs. Braves, diamond 2.

August 4—K. of P. vs. Spiders, diamond 1. Braves vs. Indians, diamond 2.

August 5—Red Men vs. K. of P., diamond 1. Spiders vs. Newark A. C., diamond 2.

August 9—Bull Dogs vs. Braves, diamond 1. Newark A. C. vs. Blue Jays, diamond 2.

August 11—Red Men vs. Newark A. C., diamond 1. Blue Jays vs. Indians, diamond 2.

If any of the above games are rained out, team managers involved are advised to arrange for playing such games before August 12, when the league play-offs will start.

More Time On Calculating Withholding Taxes Granted
The Treasury recently gave employers more time to turn in withholding taxes they collect from their workers. Taxes withheld for January, February, April, May, June, July, August, October and November may now be deposited in banks to the government's credit within 15 days after the end of those months. Previously, the limit was 10 days.

The Treasury also said taxes withheld in March, June, September, and December may be deposited as late as the final day of the following month. These months have a different standing because each marks the end of a quarter year.

Install Ray Loose As State V. F. W. Head

Raymond M. Loose of Diamond State Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was installed as commander of the Department of Delaware, V. F. W., at a special ceremony on Saturday night.

Commander Loose, former senior vice-commander of the department, succeeds Col. Hamilton M. Hutton, elected commander in June, who resigned to go back into Army service.

Richard Rayne of Mason-Dixon Post, Selbyville, has assumed the duties of senior vice-commander. A special election will be held Aug. 16 to select a new junior vice-commander to succeed Payne.

TWO EVENTS OFFERED BY PLAY HEADS NEXT MONTH

Trip To See Phils Game; Ball School Are Planned

Plans for two special events open to local youths, a trip to see a Phillies-Giant game on August 14, and a Blue Rock baseball school here, August 2, were announced yesterday by Harry Rawstrom, Recreation program director.

The baseball school will be held on the Continental diamond. Youths 12 or over are invited to turn out for the event between 7:30 and 11:30 a. m.

Members of the Blue Rock team will be on hand to instruct the tyros in the fundamental techniques of baseball. Useful pointers on batting, fielding and pitching will be offered by the professionals. The school will provide an unusual opportunity for teen-age players to get inside dope on the tricks of the trade.

The school is being sponsored by the Newark Recreation Association with the cooperation of Recreation Promotions and Services, Inc., Wilmington.

The trip to see the Phillies-Giant game August 14 will be limited to 75 boys and girls, who must be 15 or under. Buses will leave the Newark High School at 11:30 a. m. Reservations may be made any day at the Recreation offices at the university women's gym. In view of the ticket quota, it'll be first come, first served, according to Mr. Rawstrom.

The game will be free, but the children will be asked to pay a small bus fare.

50 Per. Drop Seen In Jersey Tomato Crop

New Jersey's tomato crop this year will be about half the record 292,000 tons last year, says Lester C. Jones, president of the New Jersey-Pennsylvania Tomato Growers Cooperative Association.

He said a three to five-dollar cut per ton in the contract price offered by canners in the spring caused many farmers to plant other crops in normal tomato acreage.

Jones estimated this year's crop at $5,000,000, half that of last year. He said the yield would be some 150,000 tons.

A similar reduction in crop is anticipated in Pennsylvania, Jones said.

NEWARK NINE WITHDRAWS FROM SUSQUEHANNA LOOP OVER DECISION ON PROTEST

Manager Edmanson Refuses To Accept Decision By Officials On Two Protested Games Over Eligibility Of Pitcher Hoch

Newark has withdrawn from the Susquehanna League as a result of a decision by circuit officials over two protested games. Ralph Edmanson, manager of the local nine, announced this week.

The dispute, which arose some time ago, centered on the playing status of Bob Hoch, University of Delaware student, who pitched three games for Newark early in the season.

Hoch won two of the three, downing North East and Elkton. The third, also with Elkton, was protested by Newark, when the umpire took a part in returning the ball to play at a critical point in the game. Newark's protest was granted.

Incidentally, North East, who had an informal talk last week, decided to withdraw entirely from the league. The Elktonites, meanwhile, countered by protesting both games that Hoch pitched against them. The Cecil County team decided rather suddenly that they felt Hoch was a professional and, therefore, ineligible.

Actually, Manager Edmanson had made Hoch's position clear to league officials at the start of the season. Before coming to Delaware, Hoch played with the Fresno Cardinals, a pro club in Fresno, California. He was rated as on the temporary inactive list.

Edmanson explained this to the league governing board before Hoch played, and the latter was given official permission to pitch for Newark under league rules.

After Elkton protested two of Hoch's games, the league governing board, headed by President Paul Cronin, of Aberdeen, decided to compromise, giving one game to Elkton and the other to Newark.

Manager Edmanson refused to accept this decision, since, he claimed it did not make sense from any angle. The question, he felt, was clear-cut and could not be compromised. If the governing board wanted, rather belatedly, to find Hoch ineligible it should have given Elkton both games. If not, its only course was to deny the protest.

In view of this, the team members

LANGHORNE AUTO RACE ON AUG. 15

Based on consistency, the crown for the crown car racing would go unqualified to Eddie Samples, who speaks with a drawl and calls Charlotte, N. C., his home.

Samples in twelve races this year has won ten, and these ten races he won in a row, consecutively. In the seventh, his car broke down, and in the twelfth, at Langhorne the other week, he placed third after being crashed by another driver.

Langhorne will be back of Langhorne on the 15th of August when the big 200-mile championship is staged and seek to start another streak. He comes by way of a stock car very naturally, having been in the south where he lives and loves and earns his cakes and coffee as a steady thing. Samples is a fellow who runs a High Speed Shop, as he calls it.

Any youngster with a yen for speed, these quiet souls who today are referred to in the vernacular of the times as "hot rods" can go to Eddie and get some moving old jalopy converted into something resembling a streak of lightning.

There must be many of them, for Samples does a big business. His fame far and wide. They come from far towns and cities to pay a top dollar for Eddie to fix their motors.

Asked the secret of his success, Eddie just grins. "That would be giving away for nuthin," he says. "I jest sit in the hood and do this and do that. It's this and that which make the difference."

At any rate, so popular is the man that he will draw a delegation of rooters to Langhorne on the 15th all the way from North Carolina. For of all the cars he has made into hot rods the most of all is the one he drives.

Steel Price Hike To Be Felt By Public

Last week's sharp general increase in steel prices will cost consumers an amount running "into hundreds of millions of dollars," the magazine Steel said recently.

The new price schedules average $3 a ton, and in case of some specific products are as much as $17, the weekly reported. Coupled with the continued rise in wage and other costs which the metalworking industry is experiencing, Steel said the higher raw material costs mean "substantial price hikes can be expected" for any article made of ferrous metals.

State's Per-Capita Income Almost Double '39 Level

The per capita income of Delaware's population has nearly doubled since 1939, according to a report of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The study puts the per capita income here at $1,500 a year, compared with $775 in 1939. The increase amounts to 93.6 per cent.

Total income payments in the state are running about $450,000,000 a year, as compared with the pre-war gross income of slightly over $200,000,000. The state population is estimated at 286,000. The figures are presented in a report entitled "State, regional and local market indicators."

LIST TENNIS TITLE FINALS

Kirkland Tops G. A. Bradley

Robert Kirkland, Jr., has defeated George A. Bradley 1-4, in the final elimination to win the first term Summer Session tennis tournament at the University of Delaware. Sixteen students competed in the eliminations, held over a period of six weeks.

The tournament was part of a summer recreation program for Summer School students under the direction of Horvey Ewing. Another tournament is planned for the new term.

Kirkland, who for three years has been a letterman on the Delaware varsity tennis team, was captain of the 1948 squad. A business administration student from Wilmington, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kirkland, 2324 West Fourteenth Street, Wilmington.

Kirkland defeated James Russell, Arch Robison, Edward Clark, and, finally, Bradley to win the competition. All matches were played on the courts at the Newark campus.

Others who competed in the tournament were: John B. Rankin, Arthur M. Coddling, Ernest J. Henley, Donald F. Boorse, John Malik, John W. Beale, George E. Wetherhold, Willis F. Groome, Jack Walls, Harvey W. Ewing Jr., and Louis Tobia.

FARM AID OFFERED

Pond Building Program Begun

Aid in the construction of ponds on farms is being given by the Soil Conservation District of New Castle County.

One of such artificial watering places is nearing completion on the farm of Ralph Vannoy, near Newark. The job is being supervised there by technicians of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The pond development program is part of the larger scheme of the Soil Conservation Service. Besides being used for watering stock and irrigation, ponds can also be important as a reservoir in case of fire.

Other practices of the Conservation Service are diversion terraces contour strip cropping, reforestation, drainage, pasture management and wildlife area management.

Farmers in New Castle County interested in a farm pond should get in touch with the Soil Conservation District office in Newark or with one of the district members. These are E. Sherman Webb, Middletown; Charles Pryor, Clayton; Lewis Phipps, Centerville; Marvin Klair, Marshallton, and Edward Schabinger, Newark.

SURPLUS DECLINES

County Report

A total county surplus of $41,118.49, the smallest in several years, was reported this week in a statement prepared for the Levy Court by County Comptroller B. Irving Armstrong.

Cash on hand as of June 30, the statement shows, was $141,118.49, including a short-term loan of $100,000 from the Farmer's Bank which has since been repaid.

The county's total assets were figured at $2,847,118.49, including roads and bridges.

Fees from county offices amounted to $269,789.82 or $29,789.82 more than had been estimated for the fiscal year, 1947-48.

The fees originated by offices as follows: Register of Wills, $96,258.32; recorder of deeds, $95,248.50; building inspector, $19,003.75; prothonotary, $17,592.43; plumbing inspector, $15,316.75; clerk of the peace, $6,574.01; register in chancery, $5,439.81; Family Court, $4,771.92; sheriff, $4,383.25; Court of Common Pleas, $2,820.98; clerk of the Orphans Court, $2,380.09.

Miscellaneous receipts, which had been estimated at $68,000, resulted in receipts amounting to $16,754.67, an "unrealized balance" of $51,245.33.

The comptroller's statement is subject to audit.

'FRESH AIRS' ARRIVE HERE FOR 2 WEEKS

City Youngsters Are Invited By Local Residents

The first contingent of "Fresh Airs", young New York tenement children invited to spend a two weeks vacation in Newark homes, arrived last week, according to Mrs. A. P. Colburn, who heads the local committee of arrangements.

Among the Newark residents who have generously agreed to care for the children is Mrs. Wilma Foland, 20 Thompson Circle. Last week she welcomed 5-year-old Loretta Vaccarino, Loretta's brother, Frankie, has been staying with Mrs. Foland all summer. He first visited with her last year. Loretta may stay over the usual two weeks, if she doesn't become homesick, according to Mrs. Foland.

Other children brought here through the local committee are 7-year-old Royal Newbegin, who is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mackey, Newark, R. D., and 9-year-old Richard Huntton, who is with Mrs. Mason Turner, Westwood Manor.

More of the youngsters, who are selected by New York social agencies, are expected next week. Arrangements may still be made through Mrs. Colburn's committee to invite children here during the first two weeks in August.

Members of the committee are: Mrs. Walter Hüllihen, Mrs. M. L. Draper, Dr. A. J. Jackson, T. D. Smith, Michael Kubico and R. T. Ware.

ADVICE ON POLIO GIVEN

Symptoms Outlined

Advice and information of help to parents regarding the detection of polio was given last week by Dr. Robert L. Bennett, director of physical medicine at the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

Dr. Bennett says the symptoms can be divided into two stages. The first are those common to any childhood disease—fever, nausea, a cold and a headache.

These are not dangerous in themselves, Dr. Bennett says, and parents should not get excited.

Children should not be brought to hospitals or to doctors, especially in epidemic areas where existing polio treatment facilities are already overcrowded, unless headaches last over night or fevers persist for 48 hours or so.

Dr. Bennett says most medical men can tell almost right away whether a child has polio. The children infected with polio will be much more restless, nervous, tense and apprehensive than other sick children.

There are two types of polio—spinal and bulbar—and, of the two spinal is about ten times as common as bulbar. The spinal type affects the muscles and bulbar the nervous system. Dr. Bennett says deaths from polio almost always come out of bulbar cases.

Actually, he says, every polio patient is infected with both types but with one more than the other. It is in the second or danger stage of symptoms that the difference between the two types shows up.

In spinal polio, aching and painful muscles—maybe in an arm or maybe a leg—will follow usually a day or so after the first stage of common symptoms. Then comes stiffness and in a day or so the dreaded weakness.

Sometimes, Dr. Bennett says, the stiffness may come without the preliminary headache and fever. If parents notice the child favoring a certain group of muscles, they should find out if the muscles hurt or if they're just weak.

If the child complains of soreness, parents should find out if the child can explain how they got sore. If he can't or if he says they're just weak, he should be brought to medical attention immediately.

The more serious but less common bulbar cases affect breathing, circulation and heart action. The danger symptoms here are jerky breathing and pulse that are much out of proportion to the fever.

These are accompanied by difficulties in breathing, speaking and swallowing. Dr. Bennett says voice changes, such as to a hoarse or strident voice or one with a nasal twang, are danger signals and such persons should be brought to doctors without delay.

It is not necessary to isolate children that aren't infected just because polio has broken out in a community. Parents are advised to follow the dictates of local health officers who work with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at all times during polio outbreaks.

U. S. Gold Stocks Jump By $228,508,000

The Commerce Department said recently the monetary gold stock of the United States increased by $228,508,000 in June, to a total of $25,532,459,000 at the end of that month.

Meanwhile, it said, the amount of gold held at Federal Reserve banks for foreign owners decreased $81,670,644 to $3,801,544,092.

Shipments of gold into the United States during June were given as $222,322,631, of which $177,829,374 came from Britain alone.

EFFORTS TO CONSERVE FARM LANDS INCREASED

Farmers Show More Interest In Soil, Water Conservation

The Board of Supervisors of the Soil Conservation District of New Castle County in studying their bi-annual report announces that the interest on the part of farmers in New Castle County in adopting soil and water conservation practices, is on the increase.

For the Period January 1, 1948 to June 30, 1948 the district received 37 applications from farmers for complete soil and water conservation plans. These 37 applications comprise 5,675 acres. During this period there were 23 conservation plans prepared and approved by the supervisors. These plans comprise 4,266 acres. To date, the district has approved a total of 126 active conservation farm plans comprising 21,495 acres.

E. Sherman Webb, president of the Board of Supervisors, states that in making a conservation farm plan, the farmers and soil conservationists attached to the district, work together. The first thing they do is to look over the farm. They walk together from field to field studying each patch and parcel of land as they go and check it with a land use capability map. They see what each field is used for and what the map says it should be used for. They also examine the pastures and the woods. The farmer tells the technician what he grows and what kind of farming he wants to do, what livestock he has, what machinery, etc. The technician points out on every field, pasture and woodlot on the farm what needs to be done to stop erosion, improve the soil and keep the land productive.

Edward Schabinger, County Agent, as well as Secretary of the Soil Conservation District of New Castle County, advises all farmers to have a complete soil and water conservation plan for their farms.

The District Supervisors also report a very healthful rate of establishment for the various major soil and water conservation practices included in the farm conservation plans.

Messrs. Charles Pryor of Clayton, Earl T. Banks, of New Castle, Marvin Klair, of Limestone Road and Lewis Phipps of Centerville, are the other members of the Board of Supervisors. They urge all farmers who have any conservation problems such as drainage, reforestation, woodland improvement, erosion control, etc., to get in touch with them or call or drop a card to the Soil Conservation District Office at 66 East Main Street, Newark, Delaware—telephone Newark 537.
