Charter Commission Explains
Proposals For Tuesday VotingProposed New City Charter To Be Decided In Balloting
With April 13, Election; Chairman Sam Handloff Urges
Choice Of Alternatives After Yes Or No Charter Vote

The Newark Charter Commission has announced that voters will be given an opportunity to say yes or no to a new city charter at the municipal elections next Tuesday, and voters also will be asked to act on four questions where alternatives are proposed.

Citizens will be asked to decide if candidates for mayor must be property owners; if special elections shall be held to fill council vacancies; if the city secretary shall be appointed by council or by the city manager; and if the city treasurer shall be appointed by council or by the city manager.

Commission Chairman Samuel Handloff has emphasized that voters should not fail to make their choice between these alternatives even if they do not favor adoption of the new charter.

A sample ballot showing how these questions will appear on the voting machine, is published on Page Six in this edition of the Newark Post.

Copies of Newark's proposed charter are available at the city offices along with a cross reference sheet which compares the new document with Newark's present charter.

A study of this sheet shows the two instruments to be remarkably similar, Handloff states, and except for clarifying editorial revisions, "powers of the city" remain unchanged.

Principal changes are in the areas of city organization and procedure.

Under the new charter, the mayor will cease to be the chief executive officer of the city, and this function will be vested in the city manager.

Council, under the leadership of the mayor will retain all legislative powers and will be responsible for establishing policy on city activities.

The city manager will be responsible for the day-to-day administration of municipal government.

Council's right to investigate any phase of municipal activity is spelled out for the first time.

10-Year Reapportionment

The new charter requires that voting districts be reapportioned every 10 years.

It specifies that the city alderman shall be salaried rather than paid by a fee system, (Council adopted this procedure by ordinance several months ago).

The new charter calls for a city planning department; enlarges the planning commission from six to seven members, and requires that each voting district be represented on the commission.

Responsibilities of both city manager and council in preparing a comprehensive annual budget are spelled out, and the city is required to prepare and keep up to date a five-year capital improvement program.

The proposed new charter requires that all city employees be hired and promoted solely on the basis of merit and fitness, and that council adopt a suitable code of ethics for guidance of all employees and officers of the city.

Under the new charter, the city's borrowing limit for assessable improvements is increased from $250,000 to $500,000.

Except for capital improvements, deficit financing is expressly forbidden.

If approved by the voters on April 13, the new charter will be filed with appropriate state officers, and will become effective 30 days after being filed unless rejected or modified by the State Legislature.

Equalization Bill Funds For Newark Not Yet Received

Superintendent of Schools Wilmer E. Shue has replied to a question which has caused confusion in the Newark special school district—

"What happened to money from the Equalization Bill which the Delaware Legislature passed last year?"

Shue said that many people in the Newark district, and in particular the PTA's "worked diligently and labored many, many hours to insure the success of this bill so that all children in Newark might benefit."

"Despite the wishes of the public and the passage of the bill by the State Legislature, no moneys have been forthcoming," the superintendent said, noting that the equalization bill as proposed by Dr. Paul Mort, would "provide a great deal of relief for taxpayers of the Newark community."

"The bill is a good one. The law is a good one. But as long as the fruits of this bill are being delayed in Dover," Shue said, "Newark cannot reap any of the advantages which many citizens worked so hard to achieve."

Participants included Dr. J. W. Heuberger, chairman of the department of plant pathology; Crossan; Dr. H. W. Crittenden, associate professor of plant pathology; Dr. L. P. White Clay Creek Reservoir Faces Population Rise

White Clay Creek Reservoir will have to furnish more water than indicated in a consultants' preliminary report because of expanded population figures, a water official said last week.

Two townships in the southern part of Chester County have informed Robert G. Struble, executive director of the Chester County Water Resources Authority, that population estimates furnished to the engineers were too low.

The proposed reservoir is to be created by New Castle County behind a dam constructed near Newark.

Stevens Advises On Early Planting Of Trees, Shrubs

Although trees and shrubs that are sold balled and burlaped or planted in cans may be planted at any time of the year, early spring is the preferred time, according to Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware.

The soil is usually moist in early spring, and temperatures are cool. This enables the plant to grow new roots and become fairly well established before hot, dry weather starts.

Selecting location for trees and shrubs requires careful planning. Stevens says. The Cooperative Extension Service, as well as local nurserymen, can offer this help. In general it's best to plant shrubs at least 3-ft. away from a building. Small flowering trees may be planted as close as 8 to 10-ft. from the house, but large shade trees should never be planted closer than 25 or 30-ft.

When selecting a location for a shade tree, be sure to consider overhead lines, sidewalks, sewer pipes, curbs and driveways, reminds Stevens.

Soil preparation is very important when planting a tree or shrub, he points out. The hole should be a foot wider and 6-in. deeper than the ball of earth or the root system.

Subsoil should be discarded and the topsoil mixed with generous amounts of peat moss, compost, leaf-mold or similar material. Sand should also be used where the soil is heavy. Do not use any fertilizer in this mixture. Be sure to plant the tree or shrub at the same level as it was growing before—no deeper.

Balled and burlaped plants are put in the hole with the burlap, loosen the top of the burlap and leave it at the sides of the plant.

Then fill the hole with soil mixture, tamp carefully, and water thoroughly.

Trees should be supported with stakes or guy wires, and the trunk wrapped with burlap or tree-wrapping paper.

Stevens is author of two publications giving instructions for landscape plants.

"Hedges" and "Planting Trees and Shrubs" are available free of charge from the Department of Rural Communications, University of Delaware, Newark.

Tatnall Offers Suggestions On Landscaping With Rock

Although artistic and intelligent use of rock in the landscape is not easy, it is a most rewarding accomplishment, says Dave Tatnall, assistant agent in ornamental horticulture. There are three main types of rockwork.

The first and most common, involves use of rocks to provide an appropriate situation for such plants as alpine and succulents. This kind of garden may be rather difficult and expensive to construct, and may require considerable maintenance.

The second type is applicable where a naturalistic setting is desired. A suitable rock structure may exist, or may be created. The planting should consist of a limited number of wildflowers, ferns, or similar native plants.

In the third type, rocks are used for their natural sculptural effect, in which case characteristics of each rock are carefully considered in relation to landscape design.

Male Death Rate For Class Of 1930 Triples Coed Toll

The death rate has been three times as great among men than women in the University of Delaware Class of 1930.

C. C. Gerow Jr. of Wilmington and Mrs. Dorothy Hayes McDaniel of Dover made the finding in preparing plans for the 35th annual reunion to be held in the Newark Country Club on May 5.

In assembling biographies for a book about members of the class, they learned that 16 of the 96 male members of the class have died since 1930, and five of the 94 women members.

The booklet will include a picture of male members taken at the 25th reunion; an In Memoriam section for deceased members of the class; biographies of alumni who replied to questionnaires; and a list of names of those who did not answer.

Reservations for the reunion, which includes a luncheon, baseball game, dinner and dancing, may be made until May 10 with Alexander J. Taylor Jr. of Bellevue Manor, Wilmington.

Harris McDowell's Bill Offered To Retain Train

Congressman Harris B. McDowell, Jr. (D-Del.) reacting to imminent discontinuance of Pennsylvania Railroad trains 454 and 455 between Wilmington and Delmar, this week introduced a bill which would make the discontinuance more difficult.

The bill would amend the Interstate Commerce Act to require that discontinuance of a passenger train may be authorized only after full hearings, and upon findings that present or future public convenience and necessity require discontinuance or change of operation of such train, and continued operation of such train without discontinuance or change will constitute an undue burden upon the carrier.

Stevens Advises On Cover For Grass Problem Areas

Most home owners have a "problem area" on some part of their property where it is difficult or undesirable to grow grass, notes Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware.

Steep banks; small areas that are hard to get into with a lawn mower; shaded areas, and other sections may not be suitable for lawn grass. Stevens says ground cover plants are often the answer to this problem. Ground covers suitable for almost all locations are available from local nurserymen, florists and plant suppliers.

Following is her recipe for baked stuffed fish:

Clean, wash and dry a three or four-pound fish and salt lightly inside and out. Stuff loosely with bread, fasten the opening with skewers. Place in a greased baking pan; brush with four tablespoons melted butter and bake in a 350-degree oven for 40 to 60 minutes, or until fish flakes easily with a fork. Baste occasionally with drippings or melted butter. Remove skewers and serve immediately on a hot platter. Serves six.

Proven cream makes wrinkles diminish or vanish in 2 weeks

With a substance new to cosmetics, named Genava, aging skin can start looking younger and younger—no older and older.

After a two-week trial on a selected group of women, a noted dermatologist reports on the ingredients in Genava:

"Disappearance of small wrinkles was accomplished in two-week period; even the very deepest wrinkles showed very great improvement."

Dr. V. P. also comments, "The small superficial wrinkles responded dramatically." And he adds that the skin was "more translucent and smoother in appearance."

These results are nothing short of amazing. And it took a new cosmetic compound to do it.

Genava was developed by the trustworthy Nina Laboratory. Designed to be used twice daily—under makeup and overnight—it is absorbed instantly by the skin. Start using Genava today. In just two weeks your wrinkles will vanish or diminish greatly. Skin becomes more translucent, smoother. You will look gloriously younger! 1.65 oz. $3.50; 4 oz. $5.00, both plus tax.

You did—just now. It's called the Pontiac Tempest. How can a car that's so stingy with gas shoot the works on performance? A zippy six that thrives on regular gas is standard. Feel more tigerish and still want regular-gas economy? Pick the 250-hp V-8. The price? A trifle, as tigers go.

2ND DISTRICT CONTEST

In the contest between Grover Surratt and Fred Wakefield for election next Tuesday as councilman for the 2nd district of the City of Newark, we resent the published campaign conducted by the Newark Weekly and certain writers of letters to the editor against an individual seeking local public office.

The Newark Post has not campaigned against any person seeking to perform a community service by filing as a candidate for the thankless but very necessary job as city councilman or mayor—and with what we consider pretty good reasons.

Without harassment from the Press, it is difficult enough to have people volunteer for local elective office, and we believe that residents of the City of Newark are intelligent enough to make their own decisions.

The published campaign against Grover Surratt has subjected him to ridicule, and impugned his integrity with allegations of conflicting interests as a real estate businessman influencing his actions as an elected city official—implications that should be resented by every real estate agent in particular, and by every citizen of Newark with any sense of responsibility for perpetuating a so necessary spirit of fair play, of brotherhood, and of faith in his fellow man.

Fred Wakefield is a good, solid citizen of Newark. And so is Grover Surratt.

We appreciate the sacrifices and effort both men are making for election as councilman for the 2nd district.

They are the only two among hundreds of eligible residents of this district to file for the onerous office.

And this editor is going to cast his vote for Grover Surratt next Tuesday.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON REPORT

Peace Corps 1965

By Senator ROBERT F. KENNEDY (D-N.Y.)

Four years ago President John F. Kennedy signed the executive order calling for the establishment of a United States Peace Corps.

Since March 1, 1961, there have been over 14,000 Americans who have served as Peace Corps Volunteers. Currently, there are 9,814 Volunteers overseas or in training for programs in 46 countries. Today Peace Corps Volunteers serve in every area of the world. In Africa there are 3,138 Volunteers; in Latin America, 3,882 Volunteers; in North Africa, in the Near East and South Asia, 1,576 Volunteers; and in the Far East, 1,218 Volunteers.

The three countries with the largest contingents of Volunteers are: Colombia (679), Nigeria (674) and Brazil (655). In contrast, the tiny West Indian island of St. Lucia has a total of 14 Volunteers.

Over half of the Volunteers are working in the field of education. The majority are teaching in secondary schools, although some are teaching at the elementary and university level. Others are assigned to vocational schools.

Latin American programming continues to emphasize community development and agriculture. Health and education projects (especially university education) are being stressed. Volunteers in Colombia are working on an educational television project.

In Africa, the emphasis is on education. Most Volunteers are teaching at the secondary level. Rural community action projects have been developed, though the concept is still relatively new to this area. Preventive and clinical health programs that utilize liberal arts graduates have also been introduced.

Volunteers in the Far East and other parts of Asia are primarily engaged in teaching, public works and agriculture.

AGE OF VOLUNTEERS
The average age of Peace Corps Volunteers is 23.9 years, but there are at present 81 Volunteers between the ages of 50 and 60. Sixty-two are older than 60. The oldest Volunteer is a 79-year-old nurse working in Turkey.

More than 3600 Volunteers have completed their two-year period of service. More than half of them are continuing their own education in college or graduate school. I am pleased that 11 per cent have chosen service in the federal government. With their knowledge and experience I am sure these men and women will make a valuable contribution to our American government.

The Peace Corps is a lasting memorial to President Kennedy. Its spirit is a vital part of President Johnson's plan for the Great Society. The dedication and sacrifice of our Peace Corps Volunteers should be an inspiration to every citizen.

Diamond—April Birthstone

April is the month for diamonds—and what girl doesn't dream of getting one, particularly in engagement ring? Since your diamond will be a life-time purchase, it should be chosen with considerable care.

If you are thinking of buying, or even giving, a diamond, here are some important things about them you should know. Choose a reliable jeweler. Tell him approximately what you intend to spend and then be guided by the 4 C's—carat, cut, color and clarity.

CARAT is the unit weight used for diamonds. It is divided into 100 points, like cents in a dollar.

CUT refers to the shape of the stone and the placement of facets to catch the light and make the diamond sparkle. The popular shapes are round, emerald-cut, marquise, pear, heart shape and oval. One cut is not more expensive than another, but the quality of the workmanship affects brilliance and price.

COLOR. The traditional engagement diamond is clear and colorless, like a drop of water. The "whiter" the diamond, the more valuable it is.

CLARITY means absence of carbon spots, bubbles or other imperfections. A diamond that shows none of nature's blemishes to an experienced eye under a glass that magnifies ten times is called flawless and is priced accordingly.

Ask your jeweler to show you your diamond under magnification. He will be glad to explain how the 4 C's contribute to the beauty of your diamond. That beauty, and the sentiment behind it, will make you happy with your diamond forever.

Keep Baby Soft and Cuddly

Babies today are blessed with garments that are soft and downy, smooth and comfortable, easy for mother to put on and take off and easily laundered and cared for. Diapers to dainty dresses and booties to blankets, all can be softened into tiny, soft washables and eliminate static from the wide array of synthetics.

Add concentrated aqua blue fabric softener to the final rinse water to soften and fluff napped fabrics such as diapers and towels. It not only softens diapers but makes them more wrinkle free and helps prevent diaper "chafe." In the process of softening it makes the diapers easier to pin by lubricating the yarns. One capful of aqua blue fabric softener is sufficient for an average washer load. Use 1/4 capful or less when laundering delicate articles by hand.

Corduroy garments remain soft, smooth and wrinkle free. Ironing is speeded and in most cases eliminated. Even mistreated corduroy and chenille can be revived and a fluffy finish restored. Corduroys, blankets, chenilles and knit garments should be washed in the dryer while still slightly damp since over-drying adds wrinkles and may cause shrinking.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS AND PRETTY KITCHENS will surely be yours after you make a brilliant collection of cheerful pot-holder mitts. We're showing you the delightful smiling pumpkin of the Halloween mitt but the leaflet also gives you directions and diagrams for two more festive holiday designs.

AND... USE YOUR IMAGINATION!

Once you have the basic mitt cut and sewn you can do any number of designs by doing a little artistic drawing of your own or tracing designs from books or magazines. A lovely leafy green mitt strewn with pasted flowers would keep a bit of spring in your kitchen all year round... a black mitt with gold and silver metallic "BOIL-TEX" rick rack might be a charming touch for serving those very special candlelit dinners... and a mitt to match the kitchen of a friend could be a much appreciated hostess gift. Or, if you don't feel up to being original, use the other designs which we've already done for you: the red, white and blue Fourth of July mitt and the heart strewn Valentine potholder.

The Newark Housing Authority Answers Some Questions

WHY WAS THE AUTHORITY ESTABLISHED?

Newark City Council recognized the need for improving housing in the city and applied to the State Board of Housing to establish the Newark Housing Authority. The state board issued a certificate determining the need for public housing in September, 1960. It established the area of the authority as the corporate boundaries of the City of Newark, and the NHA was legally formed in April, 1961.

UNDER WHAT LAWS DOES THE AUTHORITY ACT?

State: Title 31, Chapter 43—This law establishes its duties, obligations, rights and powers. It enables it to contract with the federal government for financial and technical assistance.

Federal: The U. S. Housing Act of 1937 and amendments provides methods for financial assistance and sets standards to be followed in the program.

Local: State law make the Authority subject to city planning, zoning, and building.

HOW IS AUTHORITY FINANCED?

The planning and construction state of the Authority is financed through temporary loans in the form of short term notes sold to private investors. When construction is completed, 40-year bonds are sold also to private investors and the short term notes and interest are repaid. No city funds are used in financing the project. City money would be used only if the council should stop the project. In this case it would be the city's responsibility to pay back the money already spent.

COUNCIL APPROVALS

Council unanimously passed a resolution permitting the Authority to apply to the PHA for a preliminary planning loan. This action was taken after council had approved the proposed project for 125 dwelling units.

Council signed a cooperation agreement with the Authority agreeing among other things to waive its right to tax the project. NHA agreed to make a contribution to the city in place of taxes.

Council approved the selection of the Main Street site for the elderly. It reviewed all sites investigated for the non-elderly and approved the East Cleveland Avenue site. These two sites were approved by the planning commission.

HOW LARGE WILL PROJECT BE?

There will be 78 dwelling units. Independence Court at the rear of 213 East Main Street will contain 36 one-bedroom units for the elderly. These apartments will have special features for safety of occupants.

The second site at the corner of East Cleveland Avenue and McKean Lane will contain 42 dwelling units varying from one to four-bedrooms. These apartments are planned for non-elderly families. If more elderly families qualify than can be contained at the elderly site, one-bedroom units may be added to them.

Play space in tot-lots and large playgrounds will be provided.

A community building will be located toward the front of the Main Street site. It will contain administration and maintenance space, a community room, small kitchen, and a laundry for elderly families. This

Heuberger Advises On "Damping-Off" Garden Problems

"Damping-off," as many gardeners know it, refers to failure of some seed to germinate, and to collapse of seedling plants at the soil line due to attack by fungi in the soil. Dr. J. W. Heuberger, the University of Delaware, says there are many organisms that can cause damping-off. There are the pre-emergence types which attack the seedling before it emerges from the soil.

Second, are the post-emergence kinds, which attack the seedling after it emerges from the soil.

A third classification includes organisms carried under the seed coat, especially in tomato, cabbage and cauliflower seed. These organisms can permanently injure the stems. Many other pathogens also cause damping-off under certain conditions. In fact, nearly 40 different organisms have been identified as causing this situation, Heuberger says.

Several control measures can be used to stop the spread of fungus growth. Seed and soil treatment, along with sanitation and protection of the seedlings, will go far in keeping problems to a minimum, he explains.

The easiest and most effective control measure is to use treated seed or to treat the seed and spray the seedlings and soil surface at frequent intervals with a safe fungicide, such as Ferbam or Zineb or Captan, Heuberger advises.

The air and surface of the soil should be kept dry, too, because moisture favors damping-off organisms. Watering should be done in the morning and preferably on bright days, since many fungi do not grow well in bright light.

Sunlight raises temperature and evaporates moisture from soil surface, and plants will develop faster, outgrowing the stage when the disease is most destructive.

Friday Battle Of Bands, GNRA Bermuda Hop Stated

The Greater Newark Recreation Association will sponsor a combination Battle of the Bands and Bermuda Hop this Friday from 7:30 until 10 p.m. at the Central Junior High cafeteria.

All 7th thru 9th graders of the Newark area are welcome to attend. The Spectrums, the Rotations, and a third band to be chosen, will play. Students attending the dance will determine the winning band by ballot.

Children Offered Easter Egg Tests By GNRA, National

A community-wide Easter egg decorating contest will be conducted April 12-15, by the Greater Newark Recreation Association in cooperation with the National 5&10 on Main Street, for pre-schoolers through 6th grade.

Children may decorate eggs and bring them to the GNRA office by this Friday.

All eggs will be on display in the National 5&10 window Monday through Saturday.

Voting accommodations will be set up inside the store and winners will be decided by the most votes. All persons of the Newark area are entitled to vote.

Winners' names and prizes will be on display in the store window next Thursday, and winners may claim their prizes at the store on Easter Saturday.

Planners Approve Development Plat For Timber Creek

A plan for the Timber Creek development was approved last Monday night by the Newark Planning Commission and sent to City Council.

The commission had tentatively approved plan on March 15, stipulating that changes be made.

The plat includes 10 acres that could be used for a road through the area.

The subdivision plan drew objections from residents of the area near Nottingham and Casho Mill roads, who complained that lot sizes provided are too small.

City Planner John J. Griesbaum presented suggestions to meet objections to the new Fairfield Apartments.

Griesbaum's proposals would redefine "open space" and alter parking requirements.

Lewis Kelsey To Present Garden Club Program

The Newark Garden Club will meet next Monday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Kelsey, 105 Dallas Avenue, at 8 p.m., with Dr. Kelsey speaking on "A Versatile Fall Bloomer." He will demonstrate the best method of taking cuttings of mums and rooting them.

In answering the roll call, members will be asked to name seedling, bulb or cutting they would like to have from some other member with surplus of same.

The club is planning a plant sale for early May and will participate in the Delaware Flower Show in June, A. B. Eastman reports.

Russell Peterson To Speak For "Y" Management Club

The Industrial Management Club of Newark sponsored by the Western Branch YMCA, will have Russell W. Peterson as guest speaker at the monthly dinner meeting next Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in Howard Johnson's on South College Avenue.

Employed by DuPont, Peterson is a director of a research and development division.

He organized the Delaware Kiwanis Committee for Citizen Action; was vice-president of the Prisoners' Aid Society, and received the Society's William A. Vrooman Award for outstanding community service in 1964.

Stevens' Ralph Schiller To Lecture For Seminar

The ninth speaker at the University of Delaware's philosophy of science seminar next Tuesday night will be Dr. Ralph Schiller, professor of physics at Stevens Institute of Technology.

A member of the Stevens faculty since 1954, Schiller will discuss "Relations of Quantum to Classical Physics" at 8 p.m. in Room 101, Sharp Laboratory.

The current seminar—fourth in a series held by the university—is being coordinated by Dr. Mario Bunge, visiting professor from Buenos Aires.

Eating Habits For Overweight Children Key To Subsequent Adult Diet Problems

An overweight child will usually grow up to be an overweight adult, according to Janet Coblenz, extension nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware.

"Research shows that a child who is overweight at adolescence is probably going to stay that way," she points out. "The child needs to learn better eating habits when he is young so he can avoid the constant weight control battle."

"A healthy fat baby is not a cause for extreme concern, since most babies lose their fat after their first year when they become active. But if a child is still overweight by his 10th birthday, he'll probably stay fat as an adult," Miss Coblenz says.

She cautions parents against putting overweight children on a strict diet without guidance of a doctor. "But you can help by setting a good example for the child. If parents overeat and don't get enough exercise, you can expect the child to do the same."

Being overweight isn't always a question of the amount of food the child eats, she points out. Some fat children may eat less than thin children of the same age, but they get less physical exercise.

Some parents think showing love means forcing food into a baby. They teach the habit of overeating before the child is out of his crib. This is harmful not only physically, but psychologically as well, she says.

"You can help the child reduce by encouraging more exercise, eliminating high calorie, low nutrition foods; and serving only the amount of food the child needs," Miss Coblenz says.

To make a diet more appealing, try using a small plate for smaller portions so the food won't look so skimpy. Encourage the child to eat slowly and enjoy his food.

You need not cut out desserts completely, but serve smaller portions. Substitute fruits, juices and raw vegetables instead of rich desserts and snacks, Miss Coblenz suggests.

CHERRY BLOSSOM FETE

When the nation's capital traditionally marks the blossoming of its cherry trees with its Cherry Blossom Festival, April 5-11, the State of Delaware will be officially represented by one of its daughters—Jo Ann Lofland of Smyrna—as Delaware's 1965 Cherry Blossom Princess.

Miles L. Frederick To Shift Business To Rehoboth Beach

Miles L. Frederick, Wilmington public relations executive, has been named convention director for the City of Rehoboth Beach and executive director of that city's chamber of commerce.

Frederick has operated a public relations and advertising business in Wilmington since 1953. For more than five years his address has been 1010 Washington Street.

He will resign as public information officer to the mayor and Council of Wilmington and will move his business to the seashore resort where he will continue duties as public information officer for the Delaware River and Bay Authority.

A veteran of more than 40 years in the newspaper and advertising field, Frederick came to Wilmington from Philadelphia in 1942 to work with the Sunday Star. After two years' service in the U. S. Naval Reserves during World War II, he returned to the Star and later was with the advertising department of the News-Journal Co.

In 1948, he was appointed press aide to the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Washington, and became national chief press officer in 1950.

Frederick is a past state commander of the VFW; and a past president and director of the Fort Delaware Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick reside in Rehoboth Beach. They have three married children and 10 grandchildren.

Dave, Don Miller Win At One, Two Miles As Bill Horney Vikings Lose BHC Opener

Brothers Dave and Don Miller were the only first place winners for Coach Bill Horney's Vikings last Monday, as Christiana High School's varsity track and field squad lost 87-30 at DeLaWarr in the Blue Hen Conference opener.

Dave Miller won the mile in 5:25, and Don Miller won the two-mile run in 16:24.5.

Christiana's Jack Hopper took second in the pole vault won by DeLaWarr's Oberly at 9-6. Larry Markum took third for the Vikings in the 120-yard high hurdles, and Markum won second over the 180-yard low hurdle course.

Dave Snyder finished second to DeLaWarr's Barnes in the 100-yard dash, with Barnes stepping the distance in 10.5, and Snyder finished second in the 220.

Viking Bill Vannan was third in the 440, and Christiana's John Curtis took second in the 880.

BETWEEN CAPES

Few if any of the 283,433 passengers who boarded the Cape May-Lewes Ferry in its first six months of operation, thought very much about historic happenings at the mouth of Delaware Bay, but a grand panorama of shipping once lined these very same lanes. From Indian canoes to European corvettes—pirate ships and full rigged men-of-war—schooners and sloops of commerce—excursion side wheelers with lights and music, plied these waters between the capes.

The crucial lies are often told in silence. —Robert Louis Stevenson

Newark Notes
by Gibby Young
CHESAPEAKE SPARK
We lost an old friend and partner last week, when Spark—Chesapeake Bay member of the family—passed away. There have been more than a few Sparky's, but there was never one with more willingness and heart, and he did all that we asked him—and more.

A good seal may have outlasted Spark in the water, but not by much. And the ice, cold water, and mud of Delaware and Maryland never stopped this gallant dog who grew up in a warm house with the children. And we will always remember Sparky retrieving a big Canadian bonker from the tide and cutting ice of the Chester River near Crumpton.

"You're late!" Pleasant McCarty said with red distress as we checked in at Mack's Bait and Tackle Shop in Dewey Beach last Sunday afternoon around 1 o'clock.

"I weighed in an 11-pounder and a four-pound rock this morning," Mack said, "but they were taken on a rising tide, and it's ebbing now."

Well, mother and father with son Billy and another 16-year old with Billy Richards, who has been persuaded—and with little persuasion at that—to accompany us on many a dull fishing trip, had driven down from Newark to the Delaware Atlantic Coast to fish, tide whatever. And after a report of striped bass in the white water off the Diamond State beaches, last Sunday was our first opportunity to try for rock in the surf.

"Rock are completely unpredictable," Mr. McCarty said, confirming a belief we have long shared with Mr. Wilson, Lee Rice, and others too numerous to mention, "and you just might hit into 'em on a low ebb tide," Mack added with real encouragement.

"We've been catching rock south of the steel tower at Bethany," he advised—and that's where we went. A discouraged surferman trudged over the dunes to join his patient wife waiting in the comparative warmth of the car as we arrived at the public parking area at the Bethany Beach tower, and he informed us through numbed lips that he had fished without a strike.

For some three cold hours we fished with similar experience, and as the afternoon waned and the wind shifted from northwest to southeast, some dozen more surfermen appeared on the beach—with no fish either. The ocean was a cold and beautiful blue, and the breakers rolling in white, liquid thunder on an outer bar provided perpetual, potential panorama for surf-swimming strippers—and we fished on in hope.

Misty, a three-month-old Chesapeake Bay addition to the family, had all the best of it in her first trip to the ocean. No puppy ever put in a more enjoyably strenuous afternoon, with unlimited sea and sand. And Misty took to the water like an Arctic seal for some enthusiastic retrieving of driftwood tossed into a placid slough.

"You're leaving just when things are getting right," Mildred McCarty said as we checked in on our way home with the tide turning. But it was cold—we had a long drive ahead—and getting that key in the ignition switch proved quite a trick with a pair of half-frozen hands.

John Kinsler Sets Hen Jump Record In Relays At AU

John Kinsler set one of two school marks established by Coach Jimmy Flynn's Delaware track team Saturday in the American University Relays in Washington.

Kinsler finished third in the triple jump with a leap of 43-9-3/4 to top his own standard of 43-1.

Delaware was fourth in the four-mile relay, setting a school mark.

Running for Delaware were Jim Stafford, John O'Donnell, Mike Lyon and Phil Anderson.

Joe Donnell scored the lone Blue Hens' victory, winning the discus with a heave of 141-7.

In the distance medley relay, Delaware was fourth in 11:14.7, with a team of Doug Cox, Al Barringer, Joe Gaglia and Tom Sisson.

Delaware was fourth in the four-mile relay in 18:32 and took sixth in the sprint medley relay.

Who fired that last shot? Who sounded the knell to those happy days that are gone?

Who? And—was the bird legal? A Greenhead or Wiley Black? If one of these

It could have been a Can? Or a Redhead? Or even a Swan?

And that final salute happened to be fired by Bonnell, deButts, or Hanson

Or others we could name—There was no connotation, but jubilation

And thus defy all wardens And all courts of law Would seem highly appropriate!

Fond recollections: Sweet memories of Red Letter days When the limit was 20 And we often made it—

When marsh ducks were "trash" And Snap could "bait in the daytime" With impunity!

Who can say what was best? The hours in the blind with a brisk breeze

And Cans and Redheads piling in? The evening before: Gathered 'round the stove

Watching the barometer—Hearing the honking of geese passing over

And the gabble of ducks and swans in the cove! That precious five minutes after Walter announced dinner?

Those intervals in the wee sma' hours When "sensible" members were awakened by loud guffaws from below?

Or when Snap turned on the lights at 5 A.M. And announced a "Right good breeze?"

Was it the drawing? After the buckwheat cakes And Baldwin sausage And black coffee, And you were lucky—

And drew #7? Or those heated arguments as to the order of changing blinds? Clockwise? Or counter clockwise?

From #7 to #6 Or to Belts? What the hell! Or that watching interval

When the guide was "putting out" And you sat in the blind And watched endless strings of wildfowl

Silhouetted in the glow of the Eastern sky?

Or the milk punches before Sunday breakfast? Even those bluebird days When no birds moved

And the literature under the sofa was in demand; Even these had their charm!

I repeat: Who can say what was best? It was all good! All contributed to pleasant association

Good fellowship, lasting friendship and sweet memories Which no man can take away!

"Let fate do her worst There are moments of joy—Bright dreams of the past Which she cannot destroy

"That come in the night-time Of sorrow and woe And bring back the visage That joy used to know."

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day Bold Ruler Does

With only three crops of foals representing him through 1964 the young Whetley Stable stallion Bold Ruler established quite a reputation for himself. Of his 44 starters, 26 won, 10 won stakes races and five placed in stakes. Altogether they earned $1,457,164, an average of $33,117 in a year when, according to the Thoroughbred Record's Spindletop Farm Research center, the average earning expectation per horse was $3,349. Among his 15 two-year-olds of 1964 were the champion colt, Bold Lad and the champion filly, Queen Empress, both of whom ran for Wheatley Stable.

Earlier this year Bold Lad was being talked of in terms of the Triple Crown — the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes. If horses worried about such things, Bold Lad's sire, Bold Ruler, must have been as concerned as was his son's groom, Dave Sullivan, when Bold Lad reared up and conked him in the head with his hoof. On recovering consciousness Sullivan reportedly asked if Bold Lad's leg had been X-rayed.

Bold Lad later developed a splint which, while not considered serious, upset his winter training schedule. Meanwhile, at Santa Anita, another son of Bold Ruler was making a name for himself.

William Haggin, Perry's Jacinto, was a gentle girl named Joan O'Shea gallops him, may prove to be Bold Lad's major competition for the 3-year-old classic events.

Coach David M. Nelson expects 70 candidates for spring football practice next Monday on Fraser Field.

Delaware drills will be conducted six days a week through Saturday, May 8.

Quarterback Tom VanGroski, Tackle Herb Slattery, and Halfbacks Bruce Carlyle and Jack Hoopes will be missing in spring grid drills.

Van Groski and Carlyle are playing Delaware baseball; Slattery is a shot putter, and Hoopes is a sprinter with Coach Jim Flynn's Blue Hen track and field squad.

World Book Lore

Eggs are associated with Easter because they represent new life, but the custom of exchanging eggs began in ancient times. The Egyptians and Persians dyed eggs in spring colors and gave them to their friends. The Persians believed that the earth had hatched from a giant egg.

Coach Bob Hannah's Hens Wallop Stetson In First Two Games Of Florida Travel

Coach Bob Hannah's Fightin' Blue Hens walloped Stetson 11-0 on Monday, and Delaware defeated the Stetson Hatters 13-4 in Deland on Tuesday in Florida's Empire of the Sun. The Hens are scheduled for two games with Rollins in Winter Park; meet Florida Southern this Friday in Lakeland where Newark's Paul Brasher is a student, and on the way home, a stop-off in Washington for a game with Ed Richtelli's Georgetown scheduled for Saturday.

Hannah's Hens play at home on Fraser Field against Swarthmore next Monday at 4 p.m.; away next Wednesday afternoon at Ursinus; and face a home stand next Thursday with Western Maryland at 4 p.m.

Delaware parlayed eight hits, 10 walks and four Stetson errors into its 13 runs last Tuesday.

But it took the Blue Hens awhile to get rolling. Starting Pitcher Craig Gruber, a sophomore who came into the game with a 2.81 earned run average, held Delaware to two base hits and one run as Stetson built up a 4-1 lead through six innings.

Gruber tired in the seventh and Delaware scored a pair of runs to trail 4-3.

The eighth and ninth innings were all Delaware. The Blue Hens came up with five in the eighth, and five more in the ninth.

Gruber was lifted after loading the bases in the eighth, and Stetson's Frank Sanchez was called from the bullpen.

Denny O'Brien greeted Sanchez with a single through short, scoring two runs.

Mike Dill, a Delaware sophomore relief pitcher, sewed up his first win with a triple into right-center.

A walk to Santo Albano followed by a sacrifice fly by Capt. Mike Gregg gave Delaware its fifth run of the inning.

Sanchez didn't improve in the ninth. He walked the first two batters and Tom Van Groski drove in one of them with a single.

A ground ball by O'Brien scored the second run. Sanchez walked his third and fourth men of the inning and Gregg, who had four hits to account for four runs, smashed a double to left scoring the final two.

Al Heck started for Delaware, pitching on his 20th birthday in front of his parents who flew in from Syosset, N. Y.

Heck was touched for all four runs and eight of Stetson's hits in a four-inning stint.

But Dill provided a big lift for the Delaware mound staff. Over the five innings Heck left unfinished, Dill gave up only three hits, no runs, no walks and struck out four.

He also slammed a pair of hits for two runs.
