BAN ON NEW BIKE SALES ONLY

Juvenile And Used Adult's Still Sold

Restrictions on bicycle sales apply to new adult bicycles only, pending issuance of further orders by the Office of Price Administration. It was announced this week by Newark rationing board officials.

The statement was issued to clear up confusion surrounding the bicycle rationing program. They said there are no present restrictions on the sale and purchase of used adult bicycles or of new or used juvenile bicycles.

The OPA defines a new adult bicycle as one which has a frame measurement of more than 17 inches from the center of the crank to the top of the seat-post mast, and which has not been sold to or used by a consumer.

The New Adult Bicycle Rationing Regulations which went into effect on May 15, 1942, provide for acquisition of bicycles only by employers who require bicycles for the transportation of employees or supplies, and a majority of those orders of deliveries during April, 1942 had preference ratings of A-10 or higher.

It is anticipated that a more general rationing order will be issued by the Office of Price Administration early in July.

SERVICE STATIONS MOBILIZE FOR DRIVE

Will Receive Scrap Rubber;

Service station operators throughout this state are answering the call of President Roosevelt and are mobilizing in an all-out drive to collect scrap rubber, H. V. Daniel, Secretary of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Delaware, said today.

"Complete as the mobilization of service stations in the scrap rubber drive may be, the success of the campaign stands or falls on the response of the public in bringing in their mites of discarded rubber articles retrieved from attics, basements, garages and barns. Old tires, tubes, garden hose, hot water bottles, tennis shoes, rain coats, bathing caps, and similar discarded rubber articles are desired. The rubber in them will be reclaimed and used to meet military and essential civilian needs," said Mr. Daniel.

"Although no quota has been assigned for the scrap rubber drive in this state for the 16-day period, June 15 to June 30, because nobody knows how much scrap rubber there is laying about the homes in Delaware, it is up to the people to dig out every scrap of discarded rubber that can be found and take it to nearby service stations. There they can either donate it, with the proceeds going to worthy war service agencies, or they can receive payment for it at the current rate of one cent per pound. But the main thing is to get the scrap rubber out and into the hands of Uncle Sam. The service station operators are volunteering their time and services to this patriotic effort to bring out of hiding the nation's resources of reclaimable rubber.

"This drive for rubber, so sorely needed by Uncle Sam, offers an opportunity for everybody on the home front to help win the war. A few ounces of rubber in a hot water bottle, or a few pounds of rubber in a discarded hose may not seem very significant; but multiply those by millions and a great stockpile of rubber is created in the nation. I am sure that everybody in this state will respond quickly and promptly, and that Delaware will be able to report a substantial contribution to the nation's rubber stockpile when the roll call of the states is made after the drive closes on June 30."

RETAILERS MUST FILE PRICE LIST BY JULY 1

Should Be Sent To Regional OPA Office

Proprietors of retail establishments throughout Pennsylvania are being advised by the State Office of Price Administration in Philadelphia that lists of their ceiling prices for "cost-of-living" commodities as defined in the General Maximum Price Regulation should be filed with the State office of OPA not later than July 1.

"The regulation calls for the filing of such lists with the local War Price and Rationing Boards," said Dr. James F. Bogardus, State Price Executive of OPA for Pennsylvania. "We are asking retailers throughout the State, however, to file them instead with the Pennsylvania Office of Price Administration, Broad Street Suburban Station Building, Philadelphia.

"There are two reasons for this change. One is our desire to relieve the local boards of the physical task of handling these files until we are able to complete the program now being carried out to provide these boards with adequate space, personnel and equipment for their increasing responsibilities. The other is to permit officials in the State office to examine these returns before they are filed.

"All retailers are urged to prepare and file their lists at once if they have not already done so, since it has been announced nationally that there will be no further extension of the deadline for this action, originally called for on June 1."

OUR WAR JOB THIS MONTH

WITH THIS!

How often have you asked yourself, "What can I do to help win this War?" Some who have asked this question have answered by joining the armed forces . . . others went to work in war industries . . . others are still asking.

True, we can't all fight on the "front line", or work on the production line, but we can all put our money into the fight by buying U. S. War Bonds regularly with 10% of our pay check. 10% to safeguard 100% of what we now have . . . our homes, our family . . . our way of life. That is the best answer to, "What can I do?"

HOW HEALTHY ARE YOU?

A periodical health examination may add years to your life. Through the recognition of physical changes at the earliest possible moment the progress of menacing degeneration and infection may be stopped, and a suitable plan for living devised to maintain continuous health. That invaluable advice is given in a recent editorial in Hygeia.

Too many of us never go near the doctor unless we suffer definite illness. We'll go on feeling "poorly" for weeks and months and even years. During those weeks and months and years disease may progress to the point where even modern medical science can't check it.

Medical authorities recommend that complete physical examinations be taken every year, and twice each year after we pass middle age. Those examinations should cover the entire physical system—lungs, heart, blood, the intestinal tract, teeth, feet, etc. In addition to the physical tests, the doctor will inquire into habits of sleep, rest, outdoor exercise, diet, and so forth. When that is done, the doctor will be able to write a health prescription. That prescription may not involve the taking of medicines. It may, instead, deal exclusively with such matters as rest, work, social adjustments and recreation. In any event, it will probably lengthen life—and make it healthier, happier, fuller.

DISTRIBUTING THE LOAD

The American people are at last learning one inescapable fact—everyone must help pay for this war. The old slogan, "Soak the rich," no longer has any meaning.

The new tax bill goes down into income brackets never before reached. And, in the view of economists who deal with facts, not hopes, it will not be long before the people of small and moderate means will have to be hit harder still. The people in the middle and high income brackets are already paying just about all the traffic will bear without total confiscation of income. We can't substantially increase taxes on industry without depriving it of the money that is vital to its progress, expansion and solvency. Nothing is left save to turn to the lower-income groups—and those are the groups which, for the most part, are receiving the bulk of the vastly increased purchasing power resulting from war expenditures.

The annual income tax will not be adequate. Some system for collecting taxes, in part, on a monthly basis will be put into effect. Dire necessity is also likely to force the passage of a general sales tax.

This should have one good effect on the American people. It will give many of them, for the first time, a knowledge of their own stake in the government. It will prove to them that governmental spending comes out of their own pockets and is their own business. Every American, whether he earns ten or a thousand dollars a week, must join in demanding that government non-war spending be cut to the bone.

BONDS FIGHT THE AXIS

The American people will decide whether or not the nation will be forced to adopt and accept compulsory purchasing of War Bonds. According to Secretary Morgenthau, it will be necessary for us to buy $1,000,000,000 worth of these bonds each month. If we do that voluntarily there will be no need for compulsion. If we don't, compulsion will be inevitable.

Some may wonder why the government can't pay for the war simply by selling more bonds to banks. Secretary Morgenthau recently pointed out that excessively heavy bank purchases are inflationary, "because when commercial banks buy Government Bonds they do not pay for them with actual cash taken from their vaults, but by placing on their books newly created deposits to the credit of the government. When the government draws upon these deposits to pay for the goods and services it buys, the purchasing power of those to whom these payments are made is increased without any decrease in the purchasing power of those from whom the money is borrowed."

Increased purchasing power combined with a decreased supply of goods is the certain road to disastrous inflation. The government wants you to buy bonds with every nickel you can spare—and it wants you to deny yourselves luxuries so you can buy more. No man can make a better purchase than the securities which buy weapons to fight the Axis.

A FAVORED CLASS

Labor unions are among the biggest businesses in the United States. Their total income from initiation fees and monthly dues, reaches an astronomical figure.

These unions, however, are very different in certain vital respects from other enterprises. They are not subject to regulation. They do not have to register with the government or make periodic financial statements. Their take is not subject to taxation.

Spokesmen for labor have bitterly fought the mildest proposals for requiring the unions to register with government, and to publish public statements of their financial standing, as required of other business. The unions demand special privileges not accorded other business. They want to remain a favored class.

Irving S. Cobb, the noted humorist, declares he has retired from banquets and after-dinner speechmaking, for which he has been in great demand for many years. He claims the distinction of being the only white child born in Kentucky who grew to manhood and was never called "colonel."

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION BY W. W. REID

By W. W. Reid

At Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pa., there was celebrated recently the bicentenary of the arrival in Charleston, S. C., of Patriarch Henry Melchior Muhlenberg, a key figure in the establishment of the Lutheran Church in America. Vice-president Henry A. Wallace was chairman of the U. S. government-appointed commission celebrating the event. Other members included President Roosevelt, Gov. Prentice Cooper of Tennessee, Senators Shipstead, Barkley, Guffey, and Davis; Representatives Moser, Gerlach, Rayburn, Kinzer, and Walter; Dr. Frederick H. Knobel (Lutheran), Bishop Edwin H. Hughes (Methodist), and Dr. Daniel Poling (Baptist).

The Rev. Charles E. Winter, of Hingwa, China, reports that many Chinese Christians, unable to help support their churches with gifts of money because of the war situation, are giving gifts "in kind." The farmers, especially, are giving of their products and this is helping preachers and teachers tide over a period of skyrocketing prices. In the Hingwa Conference of the Methodist Church, he estimates, Christian farmers have contributed, 40,000 pounds of rice, sweet potatoes, wheat, peanuts, beans, and other vegetables during the past year.

A number of authorities on Africa are announced to take part in the "Conference on Africa Affairs" at Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio, June 19 to 25, under the auspices of the College and of the Africa Committee of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America. Among the speakers and leaders will be: Dr. George W. Carpenter, educational adviser of the Congo Protestant Council; Dr. Catherine Mabie, noted educator and physician in Africa; Dr. L. C. Anderson of the Cameroons; Dr. Edwin W. Smith, British author, missionary, and anthropologist; Dr. Thomas Jesse Jones of the Phelps-Stokes Foundation; Dr. John H. Reiser of the Agricultural Missions Foundation; Dr. Roger Guptil of Gammon Theological Seminary; Dr. Jackson Davis of the General Education Board; Walter F. Walker, Liberian consul-general; Lester A. Walton, American minister to Liberia; President Mordecai Johnson of Howard University; Bishop R. R. Wright of Wilberforce College; Dr. E. R. Kellersberger, veteran missionary to African Lepers; Dr. A. L. Warnhuys of the International Missionary Council.

"We are in one of the critical and fateful hours of human history," said Bishop Arthur J. Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., recently. "The furnace of life is hotter than ever before. It is not an overstatement to declare that the world of tomorrow will be determined by the ideals we cherish, the goals we seek, and the convictions we hold about man, about brotherhood, and about immortality. . . . The healing of the world's woes will not come through this or that social or political theory, nor through violent or ill-considered changes in government, but through the silent and sure process of the Christian gospel."

Reports from churches in Great Britain, coming through Dr. A. L. Warnhuys of the International Missionary Council, shows a continuance of their support of overseas missions despite the inroads of the war into national and private wealth. The London Missionary Society reports gifts to mission work during the past twelve months amounting to 130,091 pounds—an increase of 6,543 pounds over the previous similar period. The Baptist Missionary Society of England reported an increase of 9,200 pounds in its receipts for the year. This latter Society, founded 150 years ago by William Carey, is now engaged in raising 150,000 guineas, in addition to its regular income, for advance work overseas and for essential projects in England.

Professor Owen Lattimore, American adviser to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, declares that only the knowledge that they are on the way to self-government will rally the people of the Far East to the allied side in the present war. "We have thought of China as a country that some day may hope to get democracy," he says. "But if you are in the Far East and you ask today who is leader of the democratic cause in Asia, the people do not say America or Britain. They say China. We must realize that we are not bestowing democracy in Asia. The leadership of the democratic cause in Asia is with the Chinese, and if we are going to support it we must follow their lead."

WICKARD ON RADIO EACH WEEK

Rural Problems In Wartime Discussed In Radio Series

Farmers and homemakers have been invited to listen to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard in a series of Farm and Home talks on wartime farm problems being broadcast by the Blue Network each Friday at 12:30 p.m. E. W. T. K. W. Baker, associate director of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, announces.

The talks deal with the important issues and developments of the war as it concerns farm people and with the war's effects on their everyday affairs.

Secretary Wickard will welcome letters from listeners giving their views and raising questions on which he might base future Friday broadcasts. Mr. Baker says Delaware farmers with suggestions or questions are asked to address their letters to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

The Friday series of broadcasts was planned by Secretary Wickard literally to "talk things over" with farm people. In starting the series he said: "More than ever before, farm people need to know the full story of what's going on. 'I'm sure that everyone of us will do everything he can to help win the war if he knows what he can do, and why."

"We can't sit down together, or lean against the same fence. But I can report to you on how the situation looks from Washington, and you can write in and tell me what you think of the things I'm saying, and what problems you are facing. Fortunately, we have something this time we didn't have in the last war—the radio. It can help a lot in exchanging ideas and getting information out fast."

PULLORUM CONTROL MAKING PROGRESS

Disease Fatal To Young Chicks Eliminated From 77% of Del. Flocks

Real progress has been made in the control of pullorum disease in Delaware, according to H. L. Richardson, extension poultry specialist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Pullorum disease is a highly contagious and fatal disease of young chicks under three weeks of age, and in some cases mature birds. In the pullorum control program the State Board of Agriculture carries out the testing work and regulatory functions with flock owners and hatcherymen, while the Extension Service sponsors the educational features of the program.

An analysis of the control program in Delaware by Richardson indicates that during the past four years the number of poultry flocks tested in Delaware has increased from 442 to 701, and the number of birds tested from 131,000 to 357,000.

The most significant fact in the control program, however, says Richardson, is the number or percentage of flocks found free of the disease on the first test. On the first test, four years ago, 38.2% of all flocks tested were found free from pullorum disease. For the season just closed 77.6% of the flocks tested were found free.

The improvement in the control of this fowl disease, Richardson reports, is being recognized by broiler growers and hatcherymen throughout the State, and there is no longer the discrimination against Delaware-grown stock that there was a few years ago. Local producers of hatching eggs now receive premiums for their eggs that compare favorably with the prices paid New England hatching-egg producers.

DELEGATES TO BE ELECTED SATURDAY

An executive meeting of the Department of Delaware Auxiliary of the American Legion will be held on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul D. Lovett, Old Oak Road, Mrs. F. Allyn Cooch, department president, will preside. Delegates to the national convention of the American Legion in Kansas City, Mo., from Sept. 19 to 21, will be elected at the meeting.

The convention city has been changed to Kansas City from New Orleans, La., as originally planned, and the program will be streamlined this year. There will be no big parade, no contests of any kind, and no social functions. Attendance will be limited to the duly elected delegates from the 58 departments and even alternate delegates will be eliminated. This was the decision after careful consideration of all factors pertaining to the world situation and the curtailment of civilian use of the nation's transportation facilities.

Plans also will be made at the executive meeting for the Department of Delaware Auxiliary convention to be held in August.

Mrs. Park W. Huntington of Wilmington entertained members of the Past Presidents' Parley of the Department Auxiliary at their annual meeting Saturday afternoon. ALWAYS BELIEVING A FETLOCK to be a gadget produced by the Yale Corp., and regarding the Daily Double as some form of calisthenics, we've been finding it a trifle difficult to carry on a normal social life about town since the opening of Delaware Park.

A strange jargon of "place," "show," and "stakes" has divided the tongues of the local rabble, causing us to sink about needing only a turban, long robe, and a camel to be completely outcast.

In fact, we've become a suppressed minority of one, expecting to be purged at every turn.

It's wholly our own fault. Strangers, generously trying to get along with us, clap us on the back, exclaiming, "What did 'My Molly' do yesterday?"

AND THEN, SNIFFING INDIGNANTLY, we retort, "My good man, how did we know she was your Mollie. She was just another Mollie to us, they invariably display a note of stiffness, ex-cusing themselves hastily.

Gradually, however, we're beginning to feel our way around again, even acquiring some respect for horses and racing.

Betting, for instance, we learned is backed by amazingly high and noble motives. Everyone assures us they do not expect to make money. They are not, they explain, suckers. They know they'll lose, and no one is fooling them, ha, ha.

AS ONE PUT IT, "I'M SMART, SEE, I lose all the time. I expect to. Yes sir, nobody's playing me for a sucker. Besides I go to the races for the spectacle—the green oval, the Beauty and Grace of a thoroughbred in stride, you know. I just bet because I figure that's an entertaining way to pay taxes."

All horse betters, it seems, are of this lofty nature, artists, actually, who go to the track to wallow in Beauty and Grace. Betting with them is a sort of nasty chore, paid to spend an afternoon among more elevated things.

BUT THERE ARE A FEW MATTERS still confusing. For example, the sensitive soul above lost, we heard, a fifty dollar bet recently.

We were very happy for him. Good old Maxie, we thought, picturing him beaming and chuckling happily. Things had gone just as he had planned. How gaily he must have forked over the half C, congratulating himself on the hefty hunk of beauty he had absorbed.

BUT WHEN WE MET HIM LATER, he was not beaming. He did not leap to greet us with a glad cry. In fact, there was a suggestion of brine dribbling down the cheeks.

"Ran to da outside, see," he said in the quaint cultured tone these artists affect in moments of excitement, "ran to da outside in da stretch, completely out da coin."

"But, Maxie," we consoled, "did it do it gracefully?"

"Aw, you wouldn't understand. It ain't the money. Dats chicken feed, see. It's just—aw, you wouldn't understand."

ALL THESE ARTISTS, OF COURSE, are temperamental. Even so, we fear we lost a little faith in the poor chap after that.

Our confusion deepened the next week, when we learned he had won a $100 bet. We expected to find him quite downcast, and he was. But not as you'd expect, at the thought of so much burdensome and unwanted cash.

As he put it, "Gee, if I'da only put tree hunnert on da nag. Had a hunch it shoulda been more. It ain't the money exactly—it's just—"

We nodded, though out of sheer politeness. Art and the Higher Things, we always say, are too much for us.

FORMER NEWARK YOUTH IN SUB ATTACK

Aboard Ship Out of Panama Tells of Being Shelled by Nazis

A daring attack by a Nazi submarine on his ship, enroute from Panama to the U. S., was described by a former Newark youth and passenger, Reamer W. Argo, Jr., now visiting in Wilmington, after his return recently.

Son of Col. Reamer W. Argo, one-time commander of the Delaware University R.O.T.C. unit, young Argo, who formerly attended Newark High School, is visiting in Wilmington before entering the U. S. Military Academy, July 1, having received an appointment through U. S. Senator James M. Tun-nell, Sr.

In describing the attack, the youth, who has been living with his family in Panama since his father was stationed there at the outbreak of the war, related how, several days out of port, the ship was warned by radio of a lurking submarine. Hours later, the sub fired a shell, which went wide. Then the raider veered and disappeared. "We followed its course by its feathery wake," said Argo, "but it lost no time clearing away."

The ship's identity or the location of the attack were not given.

Young Argo was graduated from Cristobal High School in January. Until he enters West Point, he is staying with E. Ennals Berl in Wilmington.

Tribesmen On The Hunt For A Hitler

The chief of a bow and arrow tribe in Nigeria has offered to send three of his strongest sons to Germany to kill Adolf Hitler.

Sir Bernard Bourdillon, governor and commander in chief of the Nigeria forces who is visiting in England, quoted the chief as saying:

"I have many sons. I can easily spare three of them to put an end to the man causing so much trouble. They will stalk and kill him like any jungle beast."

FIBREMEN TIGHTEN GRIP ON LOOP LEAD

Triumph Over Ajax 5-2; Face P.&J. Here Tonite

Increasing its victory string to four straight, Continental-Diamond tightened its grip on the Semi-Pro League last night, when they took over Ajax, erstwhile loop leaders, 5-2.

The victory gave the Fibremen a full game lead over second place Pusey & Jones, who are slated to meet the Continental in a decisive test here, tonight.

Last week, the Fibremen won on home grounds, treating local fans to a 4-0 shut-out over DuPont.

Last Thursday, the fibremen gave their followers a few anxious moments, waiting until the final frame to notch the victory over Ajax. Tied 2-2 going in the seventh, Continental put on a three run rally to provide the winning margin.

The Fibremen scored single tallies in the third and fourth, but Ajax countered and sixth, forcing the localities into a twilight rally. Ford turned in a workmanlike mound job, holding the losers to four hits, while his teammates collected seven safeties. Brooks topped the slugging two with hits, while Thorpe, E. Lucas, Ford, Yerkes, and Weldin accounted for one apiece.

Last Thursday, Continental rang up a breezy 4-0 shut-out over duPont, Ford again giving a classy mound performance allowing the losers only three hits.

The Fibremen notched the victory margin in the first inning scoring three big runs, and adding another in the fourth.

The locals amassed 10 hits, R. Mullin topping the batsmen with three safeties. E. Lucas and Sheets collected two apiece, while Ford, Barrow, and Weldin pounded one each.

Delaware Not Listed In U. S. Education Act

Tentative amounts of federal assistance of states under legislation aimed at reducing inequalities of educational opportunities were disclosed this week by the Senate education and labor committee.

The committee has approved the bill, which would appropriate $300,000,000 a year to assist states and territories in meeting financial emergencies in education.

A table showing what each state entitled to aid would receive was compiled by the legislative commission of the National Education Association.

Delaware is not among the states listed.

Featuring the same cast as last year, and promising to be a duplicate in golf thrills, the finals of the Newark Country Club golf championship tournament will get underway Sunday, when R. Wollaston, last year's champ, meets an old rival in B. F. Richards, top-notch Wilmington linksman and last year's runner-up.

There repetition ceases, for Richards, three-time club champion, will be looking to avenge last year's defeat by Wollaston, who noosed him out of the event by a one-up score in one of the most thrill-packed golf exhibitions ever held on the local links.

Wollaston, striving for his second successive crown, has been showing classy form in his matches with Thoroughgood over H. B. McCadden, 4 and 4, in the opening rounds, he has over Gene Disabato in the second round, 2 and 1, going on to defeat Bob Thoroughgood in the semi-finals, 5 and 4.

In the latter match, Bob Thoroughgood was expected to offer sterner resistance, odds being only 5 to 3 in favor of Wollaston at the start, but a series of tough breaks for Thoroughgood coupled with flawless club wielding on the part of Wollaston accounted for the latter's easy win.

B. F. Richards won his final test with no great trouble. Drawing a bye in the opening round, he brushed aside J. F. Anderson in the second round, 6 and 5, reaching full stride in his semi-finals when he knocked off Bob McSpadden, 6 and 5.

In the second bracket, George Beck was named winner by default over Benny Crescenzi, winding up the match.

Complete picture of the Championship tourney follows:

First Round
R. Wollaston defeated H. B. McCadden, 5 and 4.
Gene Disabato won by Bye.
F. R. Thoroughgood won by Bye.
Don Tammany defeated W. C. Bower, 5 and 4.

Delaware Not Listed In U. S. Education Act

Tentative amounts of federal assistance of states under legislation aimed at reducing inequalities of educational opportunities were disclosed this week by the Senate education and labor committee.

The committee has approved the bill, which would appropriate $300,000,000 a year to assist states and territories in meeting financial emergencies in education.

A table showing what each state entitled to aid would receive was compiled by the legislative commission of the National Education Association.

Delaware is not among the states listed.

Featuring the same cast as last year, and promising to be a duplicate in golf thrills, the finals of the Newark Country Club golf championship tournament will get underway Sunday, when R. Wollaston, last year's champ, meets an old rival in B. F. Richards, top-notch Wilmington linksman and last year's runner-up.

There repetition ceases, for Richards, three-time club champion, will be looking to avenge last year's defeat by Wollaston, who noosed him out of the event by a one-up score in one of the most thrill-packed golf exhibitions ever held on the local links.

FOOD CHAIN AIDS WPB'S CAMPAIGN

Cooperating with the War Production Board's drive to salvage waste materials and grease from the nation's food chain, the A&P Tea Company announced today that beginning the first week in July such waste will be purchased from housewives at meat counters at its stores throughout the country.

Considered one of the most important salvage programs proposed by the WPB, the effort is aimed at increasing the nation's supply of glycerin, a fat derivative vital in the production of explosives for bombs and shells. Estimated that 2,000,000,000 pounds of cooking fats are wasted each year, WPB hopes to effect the salvage of one-quarter of this amount.

Housewives who will be kept informed of the program through company advertising, will be asked to place late in large-mouth metal containers in quantities of a pound or more the emulsion said. WPB has requested housewives to keep the fat in clean containers and in a cool place taken to the store where pre-arranged rates will be paid, the company reselling the fats to rendering plants under regulations laid down by the WPB.

The chain already is cooperating with the government in salvaging paper, old rubber and scrap metal resulting from store operations. A continuous program is maintained for salvaging cartons, boxes and other material that pile up in store basements to the normal course of business.

Chairman C. E. Ocheltree (left), of the Delaware U.S.D.A. War Board, is shown looking over the scrap rubber collected by Marvin Klair, a farmer near Marshallton. This heap of rubber was collected by Mr. Klair about his farm buildings and includes old tires and tubes, rubber boots, and discarded rubber attachments from the milking machine. Every farmer in the State is called upon to help in the Nation's rubber salvage campaign by turning in immediately all discarded rubber.

The Delaware U.S.D.A. War Board and the county war boards urge every farm family to make a thorough search about their farms for scrap rubber. C. E. Ocheltree, chairman of the State War Board, says that the scrap rubber if collected and turned in now, this week, will mean more rubber for defense. Delaware's share in the drive requires the full cooperation of every rural family.

The scrap rubber can be turned in at gasoline stations. A cent a pound will be paid for the rubber. Oil companies will bear the cost of collection and bulk transportation, and any profits will go to war relief agencies.

Speaking before the annual home-makers and 4-H Club Short Courses this past week, G. L. Schuster, director of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, told those present that it was the duty of every citizen to turn in all reclaimable rubber.

The drive ends June 30, and Director Schuster suggests that farm people, if they have not already done so, collect their scrap rubber today and turn it in to the filling stations the first time they go into town.

JUNE IS TIME FOR ORCHARD COVER CROP

Soybeans
Excellent As Summer Cover
Crop In Orchards

The month of June is the time to sow a summer cover crop in the orchards, according to Dr. E. W. Greve, of the horticultural department of the University of Delaware.

He says that all young orchards should be planted to a cover crop, unless they are already intercropped. An area four or five feet wide should be left on either side of the tree row and the remaining area seeded to the cover crop. Summer cover crops should also be sown in bearing apple orchards where the shade is not too dense to prevent satisfactory growth. In the case of a bearing peach orchard, he does not recommend seeding a cover crop as early as this month. Where peach trees are carrying a heavy crop of fruit there can be considerable competition between the trees and the cover crop for moisture.

Soybeans do well as a cover crop and should be seeded at the rate of about 90 pounds per acre with an application of 300 pounds of a 0-12-12 fertilizer at the time of planting.

If the orchardist does not plan to use a winter cover crop in his orchards, the soybeans can be left to stand over winter and then be worked down next spring. If this practice is followed the land will have some protection during the winter, the loss of nitrogen will be reduced and organic matter will be added to the soil.

This orchard conservation practice will not only help to conserve the supply of nitrogen, but will also make it possible to sustain increased production by protecting the fertility of Delaware orchards, Greve concludes.

Fire Causes Slight Damage To Wheat Field

Fire caused approximately $50.00 in damage yesterday afternoon when a corner of a wheat field on the Arthur P. Mayer farm, bordering Elkton road, became ignited.

Greater damage was avoided when fortunate winds blew the fire toward the road enabling firemen to get behind the flames and extinguish them with wet blankets.

The Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Company responded to the call, bringing the blaze under control in brief time.

Cars With Tags Dated '6-30' Slated For Test

Inspection and registration of cars with tags dated "6-30" must be completed before the end of this month, emphasized Motor Vehicle Commission officials again this week.

No state notice will be sent car owners, responsibility for attending to the registration resting with the motorist. The owner's registration card is marked with its expiration date, also the tags on each automobile hold little inserts bearing the date of expiration.

Early registration is advised to avoid long waits at the inspection lanes.

The inspection included a quiz of observers, check of records and equipment, and an examination of facilities for spotting visibility. Time required for messages to be completed to the Philadelphia center was also noted.

ANTIQUE DOLL FOUND

On Display At Betty's

An interesting antique rubber doll on display in the window of Betty's Flower shop, is attracting a great deal of attention due to the unknown origin and unique circumstances surrounding its finding.

The doll was unearthed in the sand at Lewes, two years ago, by a niece of Mrs. Jos. Beatty. It is thought that it may have been washed up on the beach from a shipwreck as its dress and cap indicate it is from a foreign country.

Partly decomposed and discolored from exposure, the doll has been kept by Mrs. Beatty until interest in its origin induced her to place it on display in Betty's window.

Attention is called to the style of its cap and dress and to the creases under the doll's arms and neck which enable the parts to be moved in natural gestures.
