

Chamber Of Commerce Elects Directors At Annual Banquet

Pettit, Rockwell, Stafford, Williams, Weber Elected To Board; Dean Worflow, Toastmaster Of Annual Event At NCC With American Viscose GM Pope, Guest Speaker

Five directors were elected unanimously at the annual dinner meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday night in the Newark Country Club, with George M. Worflow, dean of agriculture and vice-president for the University of Delaware, as toastmaster, and Jack M. Pope, executive vice-president of Food Machinery Corp., and general manager of FMC's American Viscose division, as the guest speaker.

Silas W. Pettit, Reginald B. Rockwell, Racine Stafford, and Harlan C. Williams were elected to serve three-year terms as directors of the chamber, and George B. Weber was elected to fill the unexpired term of year term of James G. Shepherd, resigned with his transfer from Newark.

As retiring president, Rockwell was presented with a plaque by Past-President William J. Gallagher, in recognition of his service to the Newark Chamber of Commerce for the past year.

"Good Business"

Newark Mayor Carl S. Rankin addressed the audience of some 130 persons, citing the growth of the City of Newark into a $2 million corporation with the need for good business. The mayor said that business cannot be successfully conducted without a business manager, and urged citizens of Newark to vote in the pending referendum concerning a new city charter providing more authority for the manager.

President of the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce, O. H. P. Baldwin said that the state group needed the support of each business person, and urged such backing for the enactment of good legislation.

Pope traced the progress of FMC from 1928 to a $915 million business in 1963, with a growth to $750 million expected in 1964.

American Viscose division operations include film with the manufacturing and sale of cellophane at $9 million, and fibers—rayon and acetate.

Local Avicel Plant
Considering the Avicel plant in Newark with 14 persons employed in the $75 million operation, Pope said it would add to the city's tax base, and would provide a new source of income for the city. He also pointed out that the plant would provide a new source of income for the city.

With his topic "A Challenge of Citizenship," Mike cited the need to realize that each person is an individual whose rights should be respected, and the need to work and live in harmony with others.

Copies of the annual report of the Newark Chamber of Commerce were distributed to all guests.

Chamber activities reported for the past year include Secretary Carol W. Mumford's operation of the office at 131 East Main Street with its reception of 408 visitors and processing 572 telephone calls and 1,134 pieces of mail; the continuing project with issuance of 2,200 courtesy tickets in lieu of a fine; revision and printing of 100 copies of an index of street names of the area for free distribution; free window displays offered to business firms in the chamber; and a campaign of a local man for the Joseph Marvel Cup Award for outstanding community service; regular publication of a monthly newsletter; and a project with model of a landscaped site for public parking south of E. Main Street between Chapel Street and the university campus.

A budget of $12,500 has been prepared for the Newark Chamber of Commerce for the fiscal year 1964, with expenses for the past year amounting to $12,750.88.

The regular meeting of Newark City Council was postponed Monday night because of the snow, and rescheduled for tonight at 8 o'clock, with a vote on the proposed city charter, and adoption of a budget for the fiscal year 1964 as agenda features.

Two Local Clinics Scheduled Sunday For Sabin Vaccine

"Yes" Is Answer To Query Of Those Missing Previous Clinics, To Attend Third

If I missed one or both of the two previous Sabin vaccine clinics, should I attend the last one this Sunday?

The answer given by the Medical Society of Delaware, is an emphatic "Yes!"

Dr. Henry H. Stroud, state chairman of the polio immunization campaign, pointed out that the vaccine given at 50 clinics throughout the state this Sunday will offer protection against one of the three types of paralytic polio virus—Type 2. The other two types of vaccine, which were given on Nov. 3, and Dec. 8, each offer separate protection against a different type of polio.

Dr. Stroud advised all Delawareans to attend the Sunday clinics and receive the Type 2 vaccine. The remaining two types can be obtained later, either from family physicians or from possible makeup clinics.

He did caution that Delawareans should allow a period of six weeks to elapse between doses of vaccine. No harmful effects will result from more frequent doses; however, the second dose is likely to be ineffective if taken too quickly after the first.

Dr. Stroud stressed that now is the time to obtain the vaccine, while the "polio season" is still a few months away. He warned that any large-scale failure by Delawareans to obtain doses of Sabin oral vaccine would raise the threat of an outbreak of polio in Delaware next summer.

Serious outbreaks of influenza and other viral diseases make it impossible for oral polio vaccine to be effective in mass immunization, adding to the urgency of taking the vaccine at this time, Dr. Stroud concluded.

Clinics will be open from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Sunday, and two clinics will be offered in the Newark area at Aetna Fire Station No. 2 on Ogletown Road, and at Ogletown Junior High School.

Increase In Taxes Sought With Vote Scheduled Feb. 15

Improved Teacher Salary Scale Cited Need To Meet Competition In Recruiting

Recruiting of top quality teachers in the Newark special school district is becoming a more difficult task, largely because of the numbers in which they are needed, the Board of Education reported this week.

This year, 88 new teachers were employed, and according to projected enrollments, 75 to 100 new teachers will be needed annually for at least the next five years.

As part of a program to help in recruiting teachers for Newark classrooms, the school board has scheduled a referendum for Saturday, Feb. 15, for the specific purpose of raising teachers' salaries with approval of a 20 cent increase in the current operating expense tax rate.

Approval of this proposal will permit increases of $100 for new teachers, to $400 for veteran teachers, on the local professional salary scale.

Recruitment of new teachers is only one portion of the three-part plan the Newark Board of Education has called its program of the "3 R's."

The board plans to use the money in a concerted effort to RECRUIT, RETAIN, and REWARD good teachers. Salary scales in surrounding areas, against which Newark must compete for these professional people, are on the upswing, according to President William P. Cooke, and in nearby Pennsylvania a $900 annual teacher salary raise has been approved.

"It is hoped that the salary increase proposed by the Newark Board of Education will attract more quality teachers to our community," a spokesman for the school board said yesterday.

Rankin Refutes Charges Of PSC On Water Ruling

But Mayor Carl S. Rankin, declared that while the city is in the process of preparing "substantially a new charter," the city "has no intent to circumvent the decision of the PSC or any court, and no intent to take over any part of the system of the Artesian Water Company."

Open Heart Surgery Patient's Bill Paid; "Operation Heart" Donors To Get Refund

Contributions to "Operation Heart," Newark Post Office Box 564—a fund established by lifelong friends and former classmates of James L. Eubanks to help him pay the $4,000 for open heart surgery performed in Philadelphia last Nov. 23, are to be returned to the donors, with real thanks.

Martin L. Mowery, executive director of the Delaware Heart Association, announced last week that the hospital bill has been paid with private funds available to surgeons at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital.

Jim Eubanks' heart stopped late one night, and at the Wilmington hospital where he was taken by Aetna Ambulance, open heart surgery was prescribed as necessary to save the life of the 23-year-old youth.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of J. Allison O'Daniel Post 475 in Newark, established a blood bank on Nov. 12, at the VFW post home, and with cooperation of the Delaware Heart Association, physicians, and nurses, sufficient blood was donated to meet demands of the pending operation.

A goal of $4,000 was sought with public donations to the fund established by Jimmy's ex-classmates and with cooperation of the Delaware Heart Association, physicians, and nurses, sufficient blood was donated to meet demands of the pending operation.

And the bill has been paid—donors are to get their money back—and Jim Eubanks is getting well.

Heavy Snowfall Halts School, City Labors To Clear Streets

High Winds, Sub-Freezing Temperatures With 6.6-In. Snowfall On Monday Causes Tuesday School Closings; City Employees Work Around Clock To Clear Streets

All Newark public and parochial schools were closed last Tuesday after 6.6-in. of snow fell on the area from early Monday morning until just after 10 o'clock that night. Winds up to 25 mph caused the snow to drift in sub-freezing temperatures, and local municipal crews worked around the clock to keep city streets plowed. Some secondary roads in the rural areas were blocked by snowdrifts, but arterial highways were kept open for traffic. Newark police report eight minor traffic accidents due to the snow, from Monday through Tuesday.

An elementary school boy was trapped in a snowdrift while attempting to carry a bag of groceries across a vacant lot west of Elkton Road to his home in College Park late Monday evening. His call for help brought two local high school boys to his rescue.

Deepest Since '61

The snowfall was the deepest in the area since Feb. 3-4, 1961, when the fall measured 8.9-in. With the 6.6-in. fall on Dec. 23, Monday's storm brought the total for this winter to 14.7-in.

The average winter snow fall in the Newark area is 21.6-in. Last winter's total was 19-in. with four in. the maximum for any single snowstorm.

The worst winter in recent years was 1960-61 with a snowfall of 40-in., including two storms of 10-in. each in addition to the 8.9-in. of Feb. 3-4.

The Chrysler assembly plant at Newark was closed Tuesday when 800 out of 2,700 employees failed to report for work because of the weather. By 7:15 a.m., a company spokesman said, it was believed there were not enough workers on hand to run the assembly line. The plant was operating again on Tuesday.

The storm did not quench the blizzard, according to weather authorities because winds were sustained at 22 mph or more, and visibility wasn't restricted to 1/4 mile.

White Clay Creek Reservoir Borings Planned This Year

Damsite Between Milford and Crosswicks, Newark, Due Preliminary Work In '64

First test borings were conducted in the White Clay Creek Reservoir, will not be made for at least two months, and possibly for another year, according to John A. Carvel, assistant chief resource manager in a statement following the signing of a bill last Saturday by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel which will permit a flood control and water supply system in the White Clay Creek valley.

Carvel said conferences, surveys and land availability studies will be conducted before the first test borings can be made at the site.

The project is among proposals proposed in a study of the Delaware River Basin by the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers in 1958, and now Army Corps officials estimate that the project will cover an area of about 1,200 acres in Delaware and nearby Pennsylvania.

The dam, providing storage for 10 billion gallons of water, will be constructed at a site to be determined between Newark and Milford Crosswicks. The estimated cost of the project is $9 million.

Most of the land used for the reservoir, roughly 12,000 acres, is being acquired by the Du Pont Company and will be made available for that purpose.

The only serious objection to the bill was raised by State Planner John A. Bivens Jr., who protested that while the bill does not preclude use of the watershed for recreation, it does not specify recreational uses or provide for public parks.

The bill was supported by Dr. George R. Worflow, dean of the school of agriculture at the University of Delaware.

Carvel was in Newark Saturday for a research foundation luncheon at the University of Delaware and used his visit for the dual purpose of touring the nearby watershed.

POLIO

This Sunday, the statewide polio immunization program will offer Type II Sabin oral vaccine.

These are some of the questions most frequently asked regarding the polio vaccine program.

Q—I have a long cold. Shall I take the Sabin vaccine?

A—If it is an intestinal problem and is accompanied by a fever, probably not. You should ask your doctor otherwise.

Q—I had three doses of Sabin oral vaccine last spring. Do I need a booster now?

A—No. Sabin vaccine is believed to give lifelong immunity to polio.

Q—I do not know whether I have had Type II vaccine before. What should I do?

A—Take it this Sunday if there is any question about whether you have had it or not. You will suffer no ill effects from having had it before.

Q—Will I have any reaction to the vaccine?

A—It is extremely unlikely, and even then, would not be serious.

Q—How can I find the location of the Sabin vaccine clinic nearest my home?

A—The list of clinics will be given in your local newspaper.

Polio may be caused by any one of three types of virus which can enter the alimentary tract through the mouth and pass on into the intestines to multiply.

The virus enters the bloodstream and reaches the cells of the central nervous system in the spinal cord and brain, then, for the first time, the characteristic symptoms appear: headache, stiff neck and painful muscles.

Salk vaccine is injected into the bloodstream and protects the individual by breaking the chain reaction by preventing the virus from reaching the central nervous system.

However, it does not affect the virus which remains in the alimentary canal, so an infected person can still be a carrier and may infect others.

Sabin oral vaccine promises to practically eliminate polio, since it kills the virus in the alimentary canal before it reaches the bloodstream and so, prevents an individual both from getting polio and from giving it to others.

In order to achieve this goal of completely wiping out polio, it is necessary for all of us to become immunized.

So, don't neglect to take your Type II Sabin oral vaccine this Sunday.

This column is a weekly service of your doctor through the Medical Society of Delaware.

Over the CLOVER

by Dean Belt
4-H Club Agent

With the rush of enrollment nearly over, we can begin to see another fine year ahead. We hope that everyone interested in the 4-H program has had the opportunity to join.

Still, I'm sure that some of you have said "I'll join a club tomorrow." If anyone is still interested, you will be welcome. So make that contact and join a club! Activities will soon start in full swing straight through until next fall.

Coming soon to the Delaware State 4-Hers are the Delaware State 4-Hers. All 4-Hers will be receiving an entry form soon. Boys and girls can take part in this. The deadline is Feb. 15, so don't wait too long on this. If you have any questions, give me a call.

After many changes of dates, we finally settled down with a few training programs. Record-keeping will be scheduled for Friday evening, Jan. 24, in Agricultural Hall at 7:30. All 4-Hers are invited to attend. Standard report form training will be held Friday, Jan. 31.

GREAT LADY

Three years ago next month, we went with Photographer George Conington to call on Mrs. Catherine Ritz who was to observe her 100th birthday on Feb. 19, 1961.
And at 100, Mrs. Ritz was alert, bright, cheerful, interested and interesting—and one of the most thoroughly delightful ladies we ever met.
Until Mrs. Ritz passed away on Wednesday of last week just prior to her 103rd birthday anniversary, Newark's No. 1 Senior Citizen retained her great zest for living—reading newspaper headlines daily, and as a friendly neighbor said, "doing all the family mending."

GOOD SAMARITANS

Today, 116 years later, its 200,000 members are in all parts of the world practicing some 37 medical specialties. Just over 18,000 of these physicians are in government or military service.

Heavyweight Steve Horn Scores Lone Pin For Kimek's Vikings In Loss To Dynahs

Heavyweight Steve Horn scored the lone pin for Coach Ken Kimek's Vikings last Friday night as the Christiansburg High School varsity wrestlers lost a 27-19 Blue Hen Conference contest to P. S. du Pont in the new Christiansburg gym. Horn pinned Les Bryant in 2:19 of the final event.

The Vikings lost the first three matches to the Dynahs as Ken Reed and Gary Hopper dropped 19-7 and 3-6 decisions in the 93 and 163-lb. classes, and Bill Producers was pinned in 3:45 in the 112-lb. event.

Christiansburg's Pete Banzel and Jack Hopper at 120 and 127 put the Vikings back in contention with Banzel winning a 4-1 decision over Al Jones, and Hopper winning by default from Paul Buzio.

The Dynahs surged ahead, however, winning decisions in the 133 and 188-lb. events as Viking George Balloch lost a 4-1 decision to Mike Missimer, and Alan Chappel was pinned in 2:17 by Bill Green of P. S.

Viking Co-Capt. Pete Heuberg won a 10-4 decision over Mort Shapiro in the 145-lb. class, and Christiansburg's Dick Baechtel dropped a 4-3 decision to Hag Stubblebine in the 154-lb. match.

Christiansburg Co-Capt. Al Stoddard won a 5-0 decision over Dave Buchanan in the 165-lb. event, and the Vikings' Jim Hackney was pinned in 5:30 by Tony Farrace in the 180-lb. class.

After a 30-18 opening win over Conrad, and with a 1-1 record, Kimek's Viking matmen are scheduled to meet Dickinson away at 2 p.m. this Saturday, and face Coach Andy Marcatonio's undefeated Yellowjackets in a Christiansburg home match next Monday afternoon at 3:30.

Harness Race Expert

Stan Bergstein

Executive secretary of the Harness Tracks of America and a director of the Harness Racing Institute, Stan Bergstein will be honored at the Wilmington Sports-Writers and Broadcasters Association annual banquet next Wednesday evening at the DuPont Hotel. Bergstein, a native Pennsylvanian, has been active in various phases of trotting and pacing for the past 18 years, and was introduced to the sport as a schoolboy by his father at county fairs in Pennsylvania.

As an official pointed out, "There is no greater authority on the harness sport than Stan Bergstein, and banquet-goers will find him to be an eloquent speaker with a complete and fascinating knowledge of one of America's fastest-growing sports — trotting and pacing."

Captain Chesmore Accepts "Timmy" For Nelson's Hens

At the annual banquet of the Washington (D.C.) Touchdown Club last week, Coach Dave Nelson's greatest gridiron squad received the Silver Timmy Award as America's No. 1 small-college team. Tackle and Capt. Paul Chesmore of Baltimore accepted the award on behalf of team members.

The United Press International Trophy will be presented Delaware as the nation's outstanding small-college team for 1963 by the UPI poll, an honor never before accorded an eastern team. Presentation of the UPI trophy will be a highlight of the annual dinner of the Wilmington Sports-Writers and Broadcasters Association next Wednesday night.

Bulldogs, Knights Stop NHS, Vikings In 2nd Cage Tests

Trading opponents last Friday night after opening losses in the Blue Hen Conference basketball season, Coach Francis Fulghum's Yellowjackets fell before Brandywine and a 68-45 count at the Newark High School gym, and Coach Ron Miller's Vikings lost at Mt. Pleasant by 83-40. The Knights stopped Newark 70-31 and the Bulldogs beat Christiansburg 69-39 in first round play on Tuesday last week.

Norris Saunders led the Newark scoring with 13 points against Brandywine, and the Yellowjackets were in contention on the short end of the 18-12 score at the end of the first quarter. But the Bulldogs romped to a 34-13 advantage by halftime, and a fourth period rally in which Fulghum's cagers matched Brandywine's 13 points, did nothing to close the 33-point gap.

Ken Eggleston led the Vikings with 18 points, but Christiansburg trailed 20-8 at the end of the first period, and were outscored throughout.

Last Tuesday's games were postponed until last night because of the snow.

Newark lost 82-50 at DeLaWarr, and Conrad beat the Vikings 71-38 at Christiansburg.

The Yellowjackets play at Dickinson tomorrow night at 6:30; play William Penn at home next Tuesday at 3:30; and the Vikings play away at P. S. du Pont tomorrow at 6:30, and entertain Dickinson at home next Tuesday at 4 p.m.

Capt. Dave Sysko Nears 1000-Points As Hen Cage Star

Delaware basketball captain Dave Sysko from Penns Grove, N. J., needs only 38 points to become the fifth member of the Blue Hen 1000-point club.

What's more, it appears that the 6-3 mechanical engineering student has a fine chance of amassing the highest career point total in Hen court history. To do it, Sysko would even ease up a bit from his torrid scoring pace in games to date.

Scoring at a career-high 22.0 per game rate, Sysko has tallied 242 points in the Hen's first 11 games. The sharpshooting forward scored 330 during his sophomore year, and 361 last season. In 1963-64 action, he has made 20 or more points eight times, and scored 22 against Johns Hopkins for his best single-game effort.

In order to become the all-time high scorer, Sysko will have to surpass the 1200-point total run up by Raymond (Skip) Crawford in the early 50's. Topping that figure will require a scoring average of slightly over 20 points per game in the remaining 12 contests.

Sysko has scored 242 points in the first 11 games and needs 244. The other members of the exclusive club, and their point totals, are: Nate Clark, 1167; Frank Wickes, 1089; and Jimmy Smith, 1053.

Delaware returns to action on Feb. 1 at Rutgers, then meets Temple in Philadelphia on Feb. 4, and Navy at Annapolis on Feb. 6.

The Hen won't return home until Feb. 8, a Saturday evening, when they face Glassboro (N. J.) State.

THE NEWARK POST

The Newark Post, Newark, Delaware, Thursday, January 16, 1964

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day Added Starter

In racing "through the field," or "steepchasing," it is not uncommon to count fewer horses crossing the finish line than left the starting point. The reverse was the case at Mowbray, England some years back when an extra horse finished. It developed that the wife of a horseman, watching the race astride her hunter in the infield, became so excited when her husband's horse, Phantom Queen, led the first time around, she joined the chase for the second lap, finished third and was fined 10 pounds for what Jockey Club steward Lord Lonsdale termed a "monstrous intrusion." It is not likely that anything of this sort will occur at the two days of United Hunts sponsored racing at Aqueduct this week, but fans of this thrilling phase of the sport will see the top steepchasingers in action. Highlight of the two days is the Temple Gwathmey Steeplechase Handicap, richest chase in the country with $50,000 added, which in the past two years has raffied the championship for the jumpers, Peal and Barnaby's Bluff.

Coach Paul Billy Loses Co-Captain, Ponders "Voodoo"

Paul Billy, in his first year as wrestling coach at the University of Delaware, might well wonder if someone, somewhere is sticking pins in a voodoo doll.

Billy went into the season without a 123-point wrestler.

Transfer student Dick Hamilton was counted on to take over at 123 pounds upon his fellow sophomore, who had been the team's top wrestler last year.

SNOW JOB
Congratulations to City Manager J. Francis Neide and the Newark municipal staff responsible for the excellent job of snow removal conducted with our White Christmas and again last Monday and Tuesday.

Snow removal is a hard, cold work, and our city employees worked hard, cold extra hours to keep Newark's streets open during the blizzard that snowed down upon us last Monday.

Newark's efficient municipal departments are among the many reasons why this community is a desirable place to live.

In the junior varsity engagement, Maxine Wirick was high scorer for Newark with five points, while Jo Ann Barbour and Becky McCann shared runner-up honors with three points each.

Delaware Defeats Rutgers By 91-67 For Seventh Win

"Just when we were clicking along comes a three-week layoff, which probably will play havoc with the team's timing and conditioning," Coach "Whiz" Wisniewski said last Saturday night after the Hens' 91-67 victory over Rutgers at Cammer Fieldhouse.

Led by Ron Smith, who "played his best game of the season," Wisniewski said, Delaware romped to its seventh win against four defeats this season, stretching its winning streak to three.

Employing a fast break, Delaware went to the front on Smith's field goal in the first 32 seconds and led 29-32 at halftime.

Delaware, with Capt. Dave Sysko, Pete Cloud and Smith controlling the boards, continued its aggressive play in the second half.

Contributing to the 41-point rout in the second half that put the Hens over the 50-point mark for the third time this season, was the sparkling backcourt play of Gerry Galluccio, Tommy Lyons and Ed Szeerba.

The Hens had their finest shooting average of the season, making 41 of 78 attempts from the field for a 52.6 mark.

Delaware's fresh bowed 60-59 to Rutgers in the preliminary game.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

The Washington College basketball team closed a nine-year old scoring mark last week in a 118-80 rout of visiting Salisbury State College as six Shermen hit double figures. The previous high for a single game was 113 during the 1943-44 season against the University of Baltimore.

"By the time a man can afford to lose a golf ball he can't hit it that far."

Marcantonio's NHS Wrestlers Set Record In Defeating Wilmington High By 59-0

Coach Andy Marcantonio's undefeated Yellowjackets set a Blue Hen Conference record last Saturday in sweeping all 12 events from the Wilmington High School wrestlers for a 59-0 rout at the Newark gym.

Marcantonio's junior varsity matmen had a tougher time of it with the varsity grapplers from Perryville (Md.) High School, but won 26-21 in their second test of an undefeated season.

In the Yellowjacket varsity whitewashing of Wilmington, David Cross won by forfeit at 95-lbs., and the next three Newark men scored pins over their opponents.

Vic Sadot at 103, pinned his man in the second period; Mike Walls, 112, scored a pin in the first period; and Co-Capt. Perry Boone at 120 won with a first period fall.

Newark's Chuck Shelton won a 5-0 decision in the 127-lb. event; and Co-Capt. Harvey Polk "may horse," as Coach Marcantonio fondly refers to his 145-lb. conference champion of last year — wrestled 6-0 above his weight and pinned his 120-lb. opponent in a quick 1:36.

Heavyweight Bob Rawstrom wound things up for the Marcantonio matmen by pinning his Red Devil opponent in 1:34.

In the Newark jayvees matches against the Perryville varsity, Bob Jackson and Mark Hill won 6-0 and 4-2 decisions for the Yellowjacket junior varsity in the 95 and 109-lb. classes, and Tom Foster won by forfeit in the 112-lb. event.

Craigton Boddow won a 7-1 decision at 120-lbs.; Carleton Strickhorn pinned his man in the third period of the 133-lb. match; and Billy Richards scored a 3-2 decision at 138-lbs.

Matt Zelsberg, 145, won a 5-0 decision over his Perryville opponent; Richard Kelly, 127, lost a 4-3 decision; and Dick Leader, 154, was defeated 4-1.

Allen Hart — volunteering for the tough task of wrestling a Perryville grappler 25-lbs. heavier — was pinned in the first period of the 165-lb. match.

Ken Lomax lost a 9-2 decision in the 180-lb. class, and with no heavyweight contender, the Newark jayvees lost this final event by forfeit.

The Yellowjackets face Conrad this Friday night at 7:30 in the Newark High School gym, with a jayvee meet tentatively slated for 8:30.

And Newark wrestles away at Christiansburg next Monday afternoon at 3:30 p.m.

Rawstrom's Mermen Win Over Owls For 3-3 Mark

Coach Harry Rawstrom's swimming Blue Hens balanced their record at 3-3 by defeating Temple at Philadelphia last Saturday, 54-40.

The Hens won seven of the 11 events.

Winners were Len Bird, Dick Stoudt, Johnny Schoff, Ed Johnson, Kelsey Brown and the 400 freestyle relay team of Aubrey Clemons, Stoudt, Johnson and Bird.
