TWO NEGROES ARE HELD FOR FORGERY

Local Business Firms Victims of Bad Checks Passed by Iron Hill Men

BOTH IN WORKHOUSE IN DEFAULT OF BAIL

Authorities Work Fast and Gather Complete Line of Evidence in Case

Eugene Lambert, aged 24 years, and Hollingsworth Green, aged 18, both negroes and residing in the Iron Hill district, were arrested by Constable Ellison Saturday last and locked up Monday in the Workhouse, charged with forgery. They were both held in the local jail over Sunday, pending a grilling by State detectives.

In the hands of local authorities are five checks bearing dates ranging from July 29th to August 11th. They were drawn to the order of fictitious persons by the names of Scott and Taylor respectively.

It is alleged that Lambert forged the name of John W. Taylor, another Iron Hill negro, who has an account in a local bank, to the checks. He in turn states that Green forced him to do so under penalty of bodily injury.

The first check was cashed at Cor-nog's store on East Main Street and was duly paid at the bank. Then followed, in quick succession, from August 4th to 11th, four more checks, which were accepted by the store and also by the American Stores Co. branch here.

When presented at the bank for payment, officials there found no funds to meet the amounts, and immediately those concerned sensed a tangle.

Calling Constable Ellison, they gave descriptions of the man who passed the checks, and on Saturday Ellison rounded up both prisoners and brought them to Newark.

Sent to Workhouse

It appears that Taylor did not know of the forgery of his name until notified by the authorities.

Samples of handwriting made in the office of Magistrate Thompson by Green showed a distinct similarity with his alleged check writing.

State detectives were called on the case and on Monday they gave both Green and Lambert a thorough grilling at the Workhouse. Some feeling had existed between the two prisoners it appeared, and the forgery was done through the instigation of Green.

The checks were drawn for sums ranging from $18.00 to $21.00. When the third and fourth checks were presented the merchants and bank officials both became suspicious of the affair.

The two negroes, in default of $2000 bail each, were committed to the prison until the September term of Court.

MERGER DEAL OFF

Officials of the Victory Sparkler Company today announced that the proposed merger with the Essex Manufacturing Company of Berkeley, N. J., was definitely cancelled. The news of the merger was given out to the press last week, but the deal was never consummated. The Elkton company will continue to operate under its original name.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. John Goldsborough announce the engagement of their daughter, Maude Belle, to Mr. Fred Baker, Jr.

Mr. Baker is a member of Battery E, 198th Artillery, Anti-Aircraft. Both young people are well known in the community.

MRS. THOS. S. MILLER INJURED

Mrs. Thomas B. Miller, of Cherry Hill, wife of the president of the National Bank of Elkton, was painfully injured recently when she was thrown from a buggy in which she was riding in Cherry Hill, Md., when her horse became frightened and bolted. She was badly cut and bruised, but no bones were broken, and she is reported at this writing to be greatly improved.

THE WEATHER

Moderate temperature. Generally fair, but with possibility of local showers over North Atlantic States.

CLIMBING BOY TOUCHES LIVE WIRE

Son of Harlan Herdman Suffers Painful Accident On Carnival Grounds

While climbing up the side of the moving picture enclosure at the Carnival grounds Monday morning last, Junior, young son of Harlan Herdman, of this place, grasped a galvanized wire holding the canvas and suffered a severe electric shock. The wire in the boy's hand had evidently become crossed with one of the light wires strung around the grounds.

His screams attracted the attention of many people living and working nearby, and they rushed to his rescue. Unable to let go of the wire, he was advised to drop his legs and fall. In this manner he released himself and was caught by bystanders before reaching the ground.

His hand was puffed and swollen from the effect of the current, and he was in a very nervous condition, but his injuries are not considered serious.

It is believed that only lack of heavy voltage in the wires saved the boy from instant death.

"GIVE A MAN A HORSE TO RIDE"

Horses are horses and automobiles are automobiles, but a combination horse and automobile is a trifle too much for the good of mankind, was the consensus of opinion of those Main Street strollers who happened to see an advertising car pass through town Monday morning.

Perched atop a noble wooden horse, its tail and mane flaring to an imaginary wind, sat a man. Beneath the horse was a flat platform, and the whole mounted on a fast moving auto. A steering wheel amazingly found its way through the neck of the proud animal. One stirrup was probably used as a brake.

Old horsemen gathered at the corners, rubbed their eyes and looked again as the apparition passed by. Then, to a man, they shook their heads in grave disapproval. It is indeed, brethren, a "fast moving age."

BATTERY E BOYS MAKE FINE RECORD

Arrived Home from Long Island Camp Saturday Afternoon

The members of Battery E, N. G. D., arrived home Saturday afternoon about three o'clock after a two week's training period at Camp Alexander Hamilton, Manorville, L. I.

The Newark contingent made an enviable record at the camp and brought a great deal of credit to the organization, according to statements made by Captain Davis and Lieutenant Mote. None of the boys suffered illness to incapacitate them and all were tanned by the sun and wind.

Battery E placed second in one of the marksmanship contests, Battery F of Dover being the winning company. A ball team composed of local boys won several victories.

Members of the battery were shocked to hear of the death of their comrade, Charles Davis. Captain Davis upon receipt of the message left camp Wednesday night for Newark. The other members arrived too late for the funeral Saturday.

ENTERTAIN AT HOUSE PARTY OVER WEEK-END

Mr. and Mrs. Denver B. Roberts entertained the following guests at a house party, at their home on Cleveland Avenue, over the past week-end.

Mrs. Anna Frampton, Philadelphia; Mrs. Addie Clark, Baltimore; Veneytta Adams, Baltimore; Pearl Clark, and Evelyn Marvel, Wyoming, Del.; Nellie Marvel, Dover; Irene Hedrick, Middletown, Pa.; Frances Roberts, Easton, Md.; Nola Slaughter, Trappe, Md.; Avery Draper, Wyoming; Blas Ortiz, New York; Clifton Hubbard, Dover; George Swede, Philadelphia; Paul George, Kirkwood, and M. Forde Allaband, Wilmington.

WELFARE PICNIC

In another column of the Post will be found the announcement of a picnic for mothers and children of Newark and vicinity to be held tomorrow afternoon in Green's Meadow, along Creek Road. Basket lunches are in order. Mrs. Rachel Wigglesworth, graduate nurse in charge of the local Welfare station, is making the picnic arrangements.

DROWNING VICTIM BURIED SATURDAY

Death of Charles Davis Mourned by Many in the Community Plucky Attempt at Rescue

NON-MILITARY FUNERAL

The funeral of Charles Davis, well known young Newark resident, who was the victim of a drowning tragedy at Charlestown, Md., last Wednesday, was held Saturday afternoon from the Methodist Episcopal Church here. Interment was made in the M. E. Cemetery, North Chapel Street.

Rev. Frank Herson, pastor of the local church, had charge of the services at the church. He was assisted by the Rev. William Harris, pastor of the Elkton Methodist Church, and by the Rev. George Bowers, of New Jersey.

It was originally planned to accord the deceased a full military funeral, with the local battery of the National Guard of Delaware, representatives of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars and other military organizations present. It was decided, however, at the last minute that the funeral be non-military, due to the absence of his comrades of the Battery, who could not possibly arrive in Newark in time for the funeral. The church was well filled with relatives and friends of the deceased. He was well known in Newark and Elkton and enjoyed a host of friends.

The pall-bearers were John Slack, Samuel Slack, Joseph Slack, and Charles Burnley, all of Newark; Alfred Davis, of Iron Hill, and Ellis Deibert, of Elkton.

The deceased was the son of Nathan Davis, an employee of the Continental Fibre Company, and is survived by his mother and father and by six brothers and sisters: Mrs. Lavinia Burns, Mrs. Dora Riley and Eva Davis and Messrs. John, Wilkins and Nathan, Jr.

Brave Rescue Attempt

Young Davis, who was 23 years of age, was swimming in about ten feet of water with Miss Elma Robinson, of Newark, a young High School girl and a good swimmer. It is believed that Davis was suddenly stricken with cramps in the stomach. He called for help and Miss Robinson immediately went to the rescue. She endeavored to hold her much heavier companion afloat, but was borne under the water twice by his frantic struggles. Almost exhausted and with part of her bathing suit torn away, she refused to give up the battle and dove repeatedly to the bottom in an effort to bring him to the surface. She was finally picked up by a boat load of friends who had gone to shore for help. Witnesses said it was the bravest attempt at a rescue they had ever seen. Miss Robinson was quickly recovered from the ordeal.

The body was recovered about three hours later by cottagers at the beach.

MOVED TO OHIO

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Webb, who formerly resided near the Pennsylvania Station on Depot Road, moved this week to Mt. Vernon, Ohio, where they will take up their residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Fulmer, of Wilmington, who have taken over the Webb home, took possession on Monday.

OWNERS PREPARING FOR STREET PAVING

Delaware Ave. Properties Being Connected to Sewer and Water Lines

With the prospect of an early start on the grading work, owners of property along East Delaware Avenue are having workmen make taps to town sewer and water mains.

S. J. Wright, Harry Bonham, and C. C. Hubert, who between them own most of the land along the proposed new street, have authorized about thirty taps to be made during the past two or three weeks.

Almost Finished

Delay of the arrival of several cars of crushed stone for top dressing New London Avenue has held up the work on that street for several days.

Contractor Lovett is pushing the job through and it is possible that the street will be open within ten days.

CARNIVAL WEEK IN FULL BLAST IN NEWARK

5000 PEOPLE HERE FOR OPENING NIGHT

REV. LOCKERBIE DIES AFTER OPERATION

Elkton's "Marrying Parson" Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon at Union Hospital

Failing to rally from an operation performed at Union Hospital Monday week, the Rev. Daniel Forbes Lockerbie, independent minister residing in Elkton, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He was 85 years of age. While being operated upon for gall-stones, it was found that a cancerous growth had developed and physicians gave little hope for his recovery. The deceased was twice married and is survived by his present wife, five children and five step-children. All are grown.

Carrying the title of "Marrying Parson" Rev. Lockerbie was a well-known figure in Elkton. While not in charge of a church, he was a regularly ordained minister and in the past confined his activities largely to tying nuptial knots for the lovers who come to Elkton, as those of the Far East "came to Mecca."

He came to Elkton several years ago from Philadelphia. His popularity as an instigator of married happiness is shown by the fact that he is said to have performed some 8000 ceremonies during his stay in the town.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPEN SEPT. 4th

Four More New Teachers Added to Staff of Lower Grades

Announcement was made yesterday morning that the Newark Public Schools will open for the regular term on Tuesday, September 4th. Several inquiries as to the exact date have been received by the School Superintendent, Mr. Owens, concerning this matter. All grades will open at the same date.

Four new teachers have been added to the staff of instructors during the past two weeks, with a possibility of one or two more before the term opens.

Miss Nan Jenkins, of Nesquehoning, Pa., has been appointed teacher in the second grade, succeeding Miss Linticum.

Miss Anna Keithley, of Brack-Ex, Del., will teach in the first grade, taking the place of Miss Pauline Rutledge, resigned.

Miss Erma Martin, of Profit, Va., has been engaged for the sixth grade, taking the position vacated by Miss Reynolds.

Miss Marion Anderson, of Leeds Point, Md., succeeds Miss Dora Wilcox as instructor of Science in the upper grades.

JIM HASTINGS WITH HOLSTEIN HARVEY

James Hastings of the Home Drug Company has been elected Assistant Sales Manager of the Holstein Harvey Sales Corporation. In this new position, he will continue his interest and management of the Home Drug Company.

His first duties will be a tour of inspection and get acquainted with the Grocery Division. In this there are 560 Grocery Store members. With these the Wholesale Department of the Holstein Harvey Sales Corporation did a million dollars worth of business last year with a record to date this year of doubling the amount. These members are scattered throughout the Delmarvia Peninsula.

Following this Mr. Hastings will give attention to the Farmers' Warehouse in Wilmington, the prospects of which are attracting considerable attention from the farmers.

WALTER POWELL MARRIED LAST THURSDAY

Walter R. Powell, well-known business man of Newark, and Bertha M. Surratt, also of Newark, were married last Thursday evening at 6:40 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal parsonage here. Rev. Frank Herson performed the ceremony. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, of Wilmington.

Workers Almost Swamped As Crowds Pile In On 13th Annual Affair Of Aetna Hose Co.

TWO SPLENDID WATCHES GIVEN AWAY AS PRIZES MONDAY NIGHT

Firemen Clear Upwards of $1500 At Booths On Saturday Night

There is certainly one week during the year when Newark plays host to nearly everybody within a radius of twenty miles from Main Street. The town in the throes of Carnival Week has taken on a new lease of life, after sweltering through the hot weeks of the passing summer. Merchant, business man, housewife, and youngster are all glad to see night come when the Aetna Hose Company unlooses its annual week of entertainment.

This year the Firemen's Carnival looks bigger and better in every way than ever before. Close to 5000 people from three States crowded the grounds and overflowed into nearby streets last Saturday evening, the opening night.

Cars were parked on both sides of Main Street from Newark Center to the Deer Park Hotel, and many more sought places along Delaware Avenue. The Carnival Committee had everything in readiness for the host of pleasure-seekers and while sometimes actually swamped with the crowds, managed to handle them to the satisfaction of every one concerned.

Not an accident of any kind marred the evening's great gaiety. Constable Ellison and James Keely directed one way traffic through Academy Street without a mishap.

Inspect Fire House

One of the chief attractions for the visitors was the new fire house. Chief Wilson was on hand as a reception committee, and with other members of the company took a great deal of pleasure in showing the guests about the splendid building. The furnishings throughout are in very good taste, particular admiration being expressed for the wicker furniture and appointments in the Lounging Room upstairs.

It was estimated by the members of the committee that the firemen cleared about $1500 Saturday evening. The net receipts on Monday night were given as $714.00.

J. P. Cann, boss of the ice cream "parlor," had a very busy night Saturday, as did Chairman Beales, the movie magnate. A real "hit the coon" booth attracted many and all had a good time, save the target. He was hit smack on the ear Saturday night by one of our leading citizens.

ARMER-STOCKHOLDERS INSPECT CANNERY

Morton Harvey Heads Delegation Of Visitors To Newark Plant Yesterday

GOING FULL BLAST

Yesterday was "inspection day" at the local plant of United Canneries, Inc., and upwards of two hundred people took advantage of the opportunity to see for themselves the newest methods used in packing tomatoes and sweet corn.

Headed by Morton Harvey, president of the company and other officials, the party drove into the cannery grounds shortly after three o'clock yesterday afternoon. After a brief survey of the arrangements of the buildings, the guests were conducted through the plant by Mr. Harvey. Armed with a megaphone, he explained as best he could above the noise of the machines, the process by which the vegetables are prepared and packed into cans.

Several new machines, increased storing space and more workmen featured the active start of operations Monday. The visitors were impressed particularly by the automatic cooker along the tomato "line."

The Holstein-Harvey party announced themselves in town when a string of five new sales cars, painted with the familiar black and blue stripes, drove into town followed by other cars containing the guests.

Nearly 400 people are being employed by the cannery this season. The "run" of tomatoes and corn has not as yet started, but as it is the workers find plenty to do.

Hold Gymkana Saturday

The office and sales force of the Holstein-Harvey Sales Corporation, an affiliated concern with the cannery corporation, will hold an outing along the Elk River next Saturday. A part of the announcement follows:

"At the Elk River House will be found all of the comforts and pleasures of this nature. Fishing, tennis, canoeing, yachting, bathing, dancing and spooning, or, at night cards or games in the social hall. Late in the afternoon a dinner of unsurpassed excellence will be served.

"Recreations and amusements provided include dancing contest, beauty judging, awards for the best and worst bathing suits (take this as you may), tugs-of-war, hose contest and other athletic events for which prizes have been donated.

NEWARK DISAPPOINTING IN SATURDAY'S GAME

Locals Gather 11 Hits, But Krebs Wins In Watkin's Wildness

Piling up a total of 11 hits to their opponents' five and playing a much better game afield, Newark was forced to accept defeat at the hands of Krebs Saturday afternoon on the latter's diamond, score 10-6.

Watkins, Newark's twirler, was completely off form. He walked 11 men and hit four with pitched balls during the nine innings, and was always in trouble. Fishback, his battery mate, had a lame arm and the Krebs runners ran wild on the bases. The catcher also had two passed balls which accounted for a like number of enemy runs.

Newark went into the lead in the very first inning, was immediately tied by Krebs, but again forged ahead in the second. Watkins allowed but five hits but in the latter part of the game his wildness and the general inertia of the Newark team turned the tide of battle.

The locals line up against Yorklyn next Saturday at Yorklyn. While there is little possibility of Newark winning the pennant, a victory over the opposition Saturday will greatly complicate the league race.

SCHOLARSHIPS

A second examination to fill the quotas for State Scholarships in the Teacher-Training Department of the University of Delaware will be given on Tuesday, August 28th, in the Capitol building, Hall of Representatives, at Dover, Delaware, at 10 a. m.

REV. P. L. DONAGHEY CALLED TO ST. THOMAS

Middletown Rector Offered Post Here At Recent Vestry Meeting

At a meeting of the vestry of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, held a week ago, it was decided to call the Rev. P. L. Donaghey, at present rector of St. Anne's P. E. Church in Middletown, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation over a month ago of the Rev. Edgar Jones. Up to the present time, Rev. Donaghey has not given his answer to the call.

Dr. Jones leaves Newark with his family next month for Cincinnati, Ohio, where he has accepted a call to the Cathedral in that city.

Down on The Farm

GRAY SILVER ADDRESSES NEW CASTLE COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Lauds Work Of Bureau As Providing A Means For Proper Legislation Aiding the Farmer
OTHER SPEAKERS PRESENT AT PICNIC

Several hundred farmers turned out at Augustine Beach Thursday, August 16th, for the annual picnic of the New Castle County Farm Bureau. The main feature of the program was an address by Gray Silver, who heads the Legislative Department of the American Farm Bureau Federation. In his address he stated that what the farmers needed was a voice in legislation and to meet this need they had found the American Farm Bureau. Some of the bills which have been passed by Congress are the Capper Volstead Bill, which legalizes the co-operative marketing of farm products, the Packer Bill which gave the live stock producers the right to look into the methods of marketing live stock. This bill alone has saved the live stock producers of the country over eighty times the cost of the American Farm Bureau Federation. It took two years and four months to get the Intermediate Credits and Warehouse Bill through Congress. This bill makes it possible for the cotton, tobacco and wheat growers to store their products in warehouses and to borrow money on their products by means of warehouse receipts with a reasonable rate of interest (5 1/2 per cent). Before this bill, the rate had ranged from 8 to 12 per cent, with the banker, merchant, fertilizer dealer or anyone who held their notes having the privilege of closing in on the farmer at any time and forcing his products upon the market.

In summing up his speech, Gray Silver stated that the farmers are the richest people in the world in valuation of property, totaling over eighty (80) billion dollars, the railroads are second with twenty (20) billion, but the farmers are far from the richest in income because they are not as thoroughly organized as other industries and do not follow their organizations nearly as well.

Dean McCue spoke of the conditions of the Delaware farmers as being better in a way because of the tractor, automobile and shorter hours on the farm. Mr. John D. Reynolds, of Middletown, gave a short talk on the benefits of the feed pool, and Mr. Roland C. Handy, of the Delaware Branch of the Eastern States Farmers' Exchange, outlined the pool plan and reported a total of 93,000 tons ordered through the Exchange and that Delaware showed a total of 5,000 tons. To move this feed to Delaware points it will require a train load of thirty (30) to forty (40) cars each month from September to February inclusive.

APPOINTED TO THE NATIONAL DAIRY CONGRESS

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the State Farm Bureau the following men were appointed as representatives to the National Dairy Congress at Washington, October 2nd, Philadelphia, October 4th, and Syracuse, N. Y., October 5th to 10th inclusive: Harry B. Clark, of Kenton, Ed. H. Donovan, of Brenford, J. D. Reynolds, of Middletown, H. C. Milliken, of Porter, and J. D. Thompson, of Lewes. A special train will be run from Philadelphia to Syracuse at a reduced rate of fare. All farmers wishing to take advantage of this rate are invited to do so.

BETTER FISHING CAN BE MADE POSSIBLE

Much to be Accomplished for Efficient Fish Protection

Opportunities of improving sport for anglers in the various states are almost unlimited.

State laws should exclude manufacturing plants of the kind which have evil reputations for pollution from uncontaminated watersheds, and the best of the other streams should be reclaimed by forcing the polluters to utilize their sludges in place of sluicing them into the streams. States plastered with trespass notices should acquire fishing waters at strategic places for the benefit of their citizens.

Most of the states are fairly well supplied with fish hatcheries, but in very few are the fry and fingerlings properly planted. Thousands of fish are hatched for every one which reaches maturity. Smaller plantings, carried out by men of experience, and the use of more mature fish would vastly increase the results. Feeder streams should also be permanently closed to fishing.

There is much yet to be accomplished in the line of efficient fish protection. States can be named at random which have magnificent trout and bass waters but no fish worth going after because of the custom of the people to use dynamite, spears and nets. Education by common-sense methods will do much to bring back good angling, but where this fails the law should be invoked.

Waters deficient in fish foods should be stocked just as carefully with food as with fish. It is very simple, for instance, to get various forms of crustaceans started. Once this is successfully accomplished, the size and quality of the fish will increase as if by magic.

All these things are simple enough, but few state game commissions have the money to make them effective. If your state has not got an anglers' license, boost for such a law. Also help your commission to get suitable appropriations from your state legislature.

FIREMEN RECEIVE GOLDEN TRUMPET

Carry Off Honors At Oxford Parade Thursday Night Last

The Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co. of Newark won the first prize for the best appearing company in line at the parade held in conjunction with the Firemen's Carnival in Oxford last Thursday evening.

Upwards of twenty members of the local fire company took part in the parade. They had their big fire truck in line. The prize, a beautiful gold-lined trumpet, was carried back in triumph to Newark that night.

The second prize, a gas mask and electric lantern, was awarded to the Rising Sun Fire Company, while the Kennett Square, Pa., Fire Company was awarded third prize, a Cooper hose jacket.

Having won special mention, the Havre de Grace Fire Company was awarded a gas mask.

The judges were Chief Engineer William J. Lutz of the Bureau of Fire, Wilmington; Albert C. Livergood of Norristown, Pa., and William T. Muldrew of Jenkintown, Pa.

Companies participating in the parade included the West Grove Fire Company, Elkton Fire Company, Kennett Square Fire Company, Rising Sun, Avondale, Port Deposit, Havre de Grace and Newark.

President Will Be Invited to Become Honorary President of Boy Scouts

The Federal Act of Incorporation of the Boy Scouts of America provides that each year a formal report shall be transmitted to Congress. The Constitution of the Boy Scouts of America provides that the President of the United States shall be the Honorable President of the Organization and all living ex-presidents of the United States shall be Honorary Vice Presidents, upon their acceptance.

Theodore Roosevelt received the title of Chief Scout Citizen because of his outstanding influence exerted for the advancement of the Movement. Presidents Taft and Wilson each served the Movement as Honorary Presidents and are now Honorary Vice Presidents. President Harding was the third Honorary President and always an active and influential friend of the Boy Scouts.

President Calvin Coolidge, whom it is hoped, will accept the invitation that will be given him to become the Honorary President of the Boy Scouts of America, addressing the Chief Scout Executive while Vice President, said: "We need to keep constantly in mind the old saying that the boy is father of the man, and that those qualities which we prize most in American character are dependent upon the training of our youth. Your organization serves to preserve and bring out those valuable traits, and I believe that the Boy Scouts of America have a great future before them and constitute a real force work for good citizenship."

OLD CHERRY HILL RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

John Burke, Civil War Veteran Buried in Leeds Cemetery Monday

John Burke, aged 82 years, a Civil War veteran, died at the home of his son, Wm. Burke, Elsmere, Del., on Saturday morning, of cerebral apoplexy. Funeral services were held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. F. Blake, Childs, Md., on Monday afternoon. Interment in Leeds Cemetery. Mr. Burke was born near here and lived here all his life. He enlisted when the Civil War first started and served in Company A, 5th Md. Infantry, and lost his left arm in the battle at Antietam. He was a good, true man, and will be missed very much by his many friends.

PROMINENT ST. GEORGES RESIDENT IS KILLED

Run Over By Truck On Which He Was Riding Friday Afternoon

A peculiar accident along the State Highway near Wrangle Hill Friday afternoon last, resulted in the instant death of Orlando B. Sutton, a life-long and prominent resident of St. Georges, Del.

He was returning from work along the road with three other men, all riding on a State Highway truck. Nearing Wrangle Hill, Sutton decided to slip around to the bed of the truck and ride there. In attempting to swing from the step to the body while the truck was in motion, his foot slipped and he fell under the truck. Before the frantic driver could apply the brakes, the rear wheel had passed over Sutton's head and neck.

Doctor Ellis, of Delaware City, was immediately summoned, but he pronounced the man dead.

A coroner's jury was summoned and by them the driver of the truck was exonerated of all blame of the accident.

"AND NOW WE KNOW" SAY ELKTON PEOPLE

'Reds' Carr Holds Undisputed Title of "Laziest Man In Town"; Gets Beautiful Penknife

HAS LIVE SUPPORTERS

After piling up a majority of votes which made several other candidates look like selling platters at a Long Island Horse Show, Albert "Reds" Carr, widely known young resident of Elkton, won under wraps the title of the "laziest man in town," in a straw vote taken there the other day. In fact, Reds himself admits that it was too easy and had he thought about it a little longer he wouldn't have worked so hard. Here's how it all happened:

A travelling musician blew into the county seat recently and conducted an open-air recital through which Wagner and Mozart wrestled with Paul Whiteman in a blazing outburst of sound. As soon as the crowd had gathered, the musician announced the voting contest. The poll tax was set at one cent per vote, with no reductions for large blocks.

Reds yawned and went to work right there. He had an able lieutenant and "ward leader" in Hizzoner Bob Gonce. Between Bob and Reds and one or two others, the election became a parade.

A grand total of 57 1/2 votes were rounded up for Reds in a few minutes, and he was declared to be the winner. He refused to make a speech. As a prize, in addition to his new title, Reds was called to the middle of things and blushing accepted a beautiful hand painted pen knife, which local jewelers and hardware men agreed to be worth nearly fifty cents.

The proud recipient is now showing his treasure to all his friends and flaunting it in the faces of those who "dast" oppose him for the above title.

The musicians slipped out of town quietly, singing a song and laughing, as perchance he has often laughed, at "these great American children who enjoy this life." And his Mozart will again clash with his Paul Whiteman at another place even as they clashed at Elkton one fine day.

Note:—We forgot to mention that someone offered a lead penny in casting a vote for Reds, so with the consent of the candidates and the minstrel man, he got one-half vote for his trouble.

The Peneader Presbyterian Church will begin the regular services Sunday, September 2nd. Divine worship beginning at 2.45 p. m. Sunday-school, 1.45 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Miss Jennie Gilmore, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Anna Laws, of near Wilmington, who is visiting Mrs. Emma Mahan, of this place, will return to their homes soon.

Miss Meriam Alrich visited Mrs. C. A. Leasure, Sunday.

Miss Helen Thompson, of North East, has been spending a few days with her sister here, Mrs. L. McElwee.

Misses Beulah and Lela Leasure and Mr. Olen Cleaver, of Christiana, spent the week-end at Berlin and Ocean City, Md., visiting the former's sister.

ELKTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ASKED TO ENDORSE THEATRE ENTERPRISE

Postpone Decision Pending Action Of Board Of Directors At Meeting Next Monday Night

PROMOTERS PLAN EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS

At the regular meeting of the Elkton Chamber of Commerce, held in their room in the Fire House last Monday night, John D. Taylor, a representative of the Pierce Amusement Company, appeared before that body and in a brief speech asked their endorsement of the proposed moving picture theatre, restaurant and hotel in course of construction on Main Street, opposite the Court House.

Mr. Taylor said that it was the purpose of the Company to re-capitalise the enterprise for $50,000, and in addition to the proposed movie theatre and restaurant to add about twenty-five rooms, each with bath, to accommodate travellers.

The funds are being raised by the sale of bonds and the speaker stated that he should like to have the endorsement of a representative group of business men, thus making his proposition a sound one.

On motion of W. Ray Baldwin, of Elk Mills, the matter was placed before the Board of Directors of the Chamber and a report by them will be given at another meeting of the organization, probably next Monday night.

There being no further business to be brought before the meeting, adjournment took place immediately.

Cherry Hill, Md.

Mr. Fred Booth, Jr., and family, of Philadelphia, are visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly.

Mr. W. C. Brogan spent the week-end with his son, Paul, at Glenolden, Pa.

Mr. N. B. Warrington and Miss Lillian Goodall and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harris spent part of last week motoring in Southern Maryland.

Mr. Ira Scott has moved in the house vacated by Mr. Carl McLane, who has moved to Wilmington.

Mr. W. C. Miller and family, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with his father, Mr. Daniel Miller.

Contractor Abbott has a large force of men at work grading Gobbler Hill, getting ready for the new concrete road which will come through this town. He expects to begin laying concrete this week.

The members of Leed's Church are busy preparing for the Supper and Carnival which will be held on the church grounds Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. This is an annual affair and is always largely attended.

Miss Viola Jackson and Miss Georgia Ross have returned home from a visit to Atlantic city.

Mrs. P. A. Straskiewicz and daughter, Florence, who have been visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. T. Abernathy, have returned home.

DRAWING THE LINE

An actress who had retired from the stage and bought a little house in the country, decided to start a chicken farm.

Accordingly, acting on the principle that all businesses have small beginnings, she bought a hen and a setting of thirteen eggs.

As she had no knowledge of poultry at all she wrote to a poultry journal asking how long the eggs would take to hatch out. The paper replied:

"Three weeks for chickens and four for ducks."

Some weeks later she again wrote to the paper:

"Many thanks for your advice. However, at the end of three weeks there were no chickens hatched out, and as I did not want any ducks I took the hen off!"—Poultry Journal.

Patent leather was first made in 1818, but only recently attained its present excellence.

STRICKERSVILLE

Mr. William Smith, of Marion, N. C., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Leon Garrett.

Mr. P. D. Folwell and children, Katrina and Nathan, of Avalon, N. J., were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. Frank Montgomery, Hill Top Farm.

Mrs. Frank Vansant is visiting relatives and friends in Lansdale, Lanerch and Philadelphia, Pa.

Miss Alice Michener and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Storey, of West Grove, are spending the week with Mrs. Albert Ottey.

Mr. Charlie Singles spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Singles.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carl, of Wilmington, and Mrs. G. M. Vansant were crabbing on the Bohemia River this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Beardsley, Miss Ruth Beardsley and Miss Marian Beardsley have returned to their home in Waterbury, Conn., after having spent a pleasant vacation at the home of Mr. A. T. Lee.

Miss Sincok, Mrs. Durstein and daughter Jane are visiting Mrs. J. C. Vansant.

Mrs. Mabel Wells, Miss Anne Wright, of Richmond, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. D. F. MacFarlane, of Bayonne, N. J., and Mr. W. F. Menke are guests at Garrett Grange.

Miss Tamor Aden is visiting her niece, Mrs. Alice Lockerman, Wilmington.

Mrs. Harry I. Garret will entertain the Flint Hill Literary Saturday evening, September 1st.

Mrs. Edwin Ball and Miss Belle M. Chambers called on friends in the village Tuesday.

SOMEBODY'S GETTING IT

A reward of $50.00 is being offered by Mrs. Dennis Mullin, of near Elkton, according to a despatch from that town, for the apprehension of the unregistered "cow milker" who has been helping himself on several occasions to the nourishing fluid from Mrs. Mullin's prize cow, "Madauca." Madauca, it seems, arrives at the bar in the evening completely devoid of milk.

Neighbors call it an outrage, Mrs. Mullin calls it criminal, however, and is on the warpath. Meanwhile Madauca is probably wondering what all the fuss is about.

REDUCTION IN PRICES BY WILLYS-OVERLAND

Notification of Cut in Willys-Overland Line Surprises Motor Industry

John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland Company, Toledo, Ohio, this week caused a furor in automobile circles by his announcement of immediate price reductions and great improvements in the 1923 Willys-Overland lines.

This action embracing a drop in price on the Willys-Knight touring car and roadster models from $1235 to $1175, f. o. b. factory, and on the Willys-Knight Coupe-Sedan from $1595 to $1550, came as a distinct surprise to the automobile industry and motoring public in view of the advance in price made by not a few manufacturers in announcing their 1924 models.

The new values in Willys-Knight and Overland cars are the direct result of the wonderful sales and production records made by the Willys-Overland Company this year, eclipsing any previous period in its history, which determined the officials of the company to share with the public the appreciable saving in costs made possible by an enormous increase in business.

Mr. Willys added that in every detail all the advantages of the Willys-Knight car have been retained, while improvements have been added, making this car, powered with the famous Willys-Knight sleeve-valve motor, a bigger value than ever before.

This announcement has great sig-

FATAL ACCIDENT AT CHESAPEAKE CITY

Young Girl Dies of Injuries Monday; Father and Mother Near Death

A number of Newark people enroute to points along the upper reaches of the Chesapeake Bay last Sunday saw the remains of a wrecked car at Cayoff's Corner.

Out of six people who were in the car, one is dead and two are hovering between life and death at Union Hospital, Elkton, the other three are seriously injured but will recover, it is said.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Truitt, of Van Buren street, Wilmington, are not expected to recover. Their daughter, Miss Dora Truitt, 8 years old, died yesterday morning from injuries. All three had fractured skulls and internal injuries.

According to one version of the tragedy, the car was speeding along the highway and Truitt glanced around to offer help to a stalled motorist; as he did so his car swerved and crashed into a culvert.

Other versions held that Truitt was calling to another car, offering assistance when he lost control and veered into the culvert.

A passing motorist rushed the injured to the hospital. The car was completely wrecked.

Significance because it marks a new valuation record for automotive products in the face of a generally rising market in raw materials.

A Political Creed

Do a day's work If it be to protect the rights of the weak, whoever objects, do it. If it be to help a powerful corporation better serve the people, whatever the opposition, do that. Expect to be called a stand-patter, but don't be a stand-patter. Expect to be called a demagogue, but don't be a demagogue. Don't hesitate to be as revolutionary as science. Don't hesitate to be as reactionary as the multiplication table. Don't expect to build up the weak by pulling down the strong. Don't hurry to legislate. Give administration a chance to catch up with legislation.

—President Coolidge.

Put Gladness In Life

"I thank you coming in again. You are all members of the personal staff of the Government. When you go out and use what I have given you, put a word of gladness and hope in it."

The above was spoken by President Coolidge to the Washington newspaper men a few days ago. Simple, unassuming, yet there is much of real America there. If our pulpit, our platform and our press could discuss the facts of life with just a little more gladness, a little more hope, we are wondering if many of our ills would not fade into Dreams of Tomorrow. There is a French Painting that we always loved—"Le Reve." It depicts the French Army sleeping. After a day of blood and slaughter, stern facts of battle and sacrifice, there they lay out under the open sky, dreaming of tomorrow and its victory. A tired drummer boy who should be playing around the doorstep is seen, smiling. Dull drab, sordid life, stern, cold and blood drenched facts yet there is a note of gladness and hope there.

The facts of the world today are dull and sad. The shadows of the War will not lift. Philosophies, Creeds, Theories, Thoughts of Men and Nations gropingly tramp among the Realities of Yesterday. What we need more than anything else is a word of gladness and hope, America can give that word. Let us follow our leader. Fortuned as we are, let's put a word of gladness and hope in the Facts of Life.

Democratic Gloom

It is an interesting coincidence that Magnus Johnson and Woodrow Wilson come out the same day with hints that perhaps we may have the same kind of revolution in the United States as that which occurred in Russia. The ex-President, in an "Atlantic Monthly" article, asserts that the Russian revolution was "the outstanding event of its kind in our age." That seems a safe enough statement, since it is the only event of its kind in our age. Mr. Wilson goes on to point out that Russian leaders directed their attack against capitalism, that the discontented classes everywhere are drawing an indictment against capitalism, that these are doubtful and anxious days where the road ahead seems darkened by the shadows which portend dangers. He thinks we ought to "assess the causes of distress."

Mr. Wilson, it will be observed, definitely aligns himself with Gloom. "Democracy," he asserts positively, "has not yet made the world safe against irrational revolution."

His conclusion is that "our civilization cannot survive materially unless it be redeemed spiritually." That same statement has been heard before, even from pulpits; but is it not a grotesque putting of the cart before the horse to hold up as the object of religion the preservation of a material civilization?

While Woodrow Wilson is seeing shadows which portend and calling upon people to fly to spiritual things, Magnus comes right out bluntly and says we might have a soviet revolution here "before you knew what was going on." What Magnus wants is not that people turn to spiritual things for the purpose of enabling our civilization to survive materially; he demands that the federal government tax large and successful corporations heavily in order to give a bonus to farmers.

As a farmer, he is a member of a capitalist class, and is devoted to its interests.

If Magnus only knew it, the soviet revolution which occurred in Russia, and which he thinks might occur here before we know it, was exactly the opposite of what he demands. In Russia they seized the farmers' crops in order to support industries.

A soviet revolution in the United States would have as its principal enemy and thorn in flesh exactly the class that resisted the soviet revolution in Russia—the farmers.

Needless to say, the other class whom the soviets have persistently persecuted in Russia is composed of the people who sought spiritual things and who were suspected of resisting "irrational revolution."

Revolution, for retired presidents and for senators-elect is a pleasant topic for talk. They sort of like to scare people with it; but they themselves would be its chief victims. — Brooklyn Standard-Union.

Just A Word of Appreciation

'Way back in '99 when D. C. Rose lived down near the Pennsylvania Railroad, his home grounds was one of the beauty spots around town. Fence, walks, lawn, trees, flowers—all showed the touch of Home and interest in the place where he lived.

Then, he built a residence on Wilkin's Terrace above the B. and O. Railroad and within a few months a new house and lot became a beautiful and well-kept home. The property now belongs to one of the Fraternities. Again, he built on Welsh Lane and the same thing occurred. In less than a year, this imposing property became a town attraction. This is now the home of J. K. Johnston. Still again, he built the interesting stone house opposite the Women's College Campus. With the same magic touch, he has made it a delight to every passer-by. A visitor recently described it as "The Dream Cottage." Unpretentious from the spectacular, the setting he has made attracts every eye. There is about it, strength, character and expression of a citizen interested in his town. Lincoln said, "I always like a man who loves the place he lives in."

So it has been with all the properties he has touched—whether he lived there or not. His real estate ventures have been many and successful and in every one, he has made Newark a better looking place. It matters not whether the grounds be large, imposing and expensive or just a small lot, a little interest and labor makes the world happier.

Thus, this little word of appreciation. You can trace the progress and success of D. C.

Rose by the properties he has owned. By running over these facts, a very good lesson could be learned.

Intellectual Bootlegging

The saddest and at the same time, the most damnable thing we know in life is an intellectual bootlegger.

"Who steals my purse steals trash;

But he that filches from me my good name

Robs me of that which not enriches him

And makes me poor indeed,"

is a comment from Shakespeare made probably after some card gambling gossip had tried to discredit him.

The man and faith the woman either who takes an idea before it is perfected and gives it to the world as theirs "make me poor indeed." To take our ideas, to which study and labor, love and midnight had been given—and just ere the picture was finished, the story completed, the work accomplished, the dream realized—to exhibit it to the public—it's just intellectual bootlegging. It's taking old wine in the backwoods still and extracting all that is Truth in an Idea and making mental hooch, thereby destroying intellectual honesty and integrity. A mental thief steals not only Ideas but takes away Incentive.

"Well I know who'll take the credit—

All the clever chaps that followed—

Came, a dozen men together—

never knew my desert-fears;

Tracked me by the camps I'd quitted, used the water-holes I'd hollowed.

They'll go back and do the talking.

They'll be called the Pioneers."

AN INQUIRY

To the Editor of THE POST, Newark, Delaware.

Dear Sir:

I read with real interest the item in THE POST of two weeks past stating that a branch of the Child Welfare Commission had opened in Newark.

Since that time I have spoken to several citizens of the town about the matter. In these conversations, some very pertinent facts were brought out, which, I confess, surprised me very much.

To make a long story short, I am taking the liberty to ask some questions concerning the local branch of the Commission, to which, as a citizen and taxpayer, I feel I have a right.

1. Why is it that the Child Welfare Commission pays the sum of $30.00 each month for a building in Newark which is open but one day each week?

2. Is it consistent with the policy of the State Welfare Commission of which this organization is a part to place two paid workers in the Newark branch, one of which holds the mythical office of "executive head"?

3. Would it not be a more worthwhile and practical method for the Commission to put the building now occupied into use during the days which it must necessarily stand idle?

4. Are the $30.00 rent bill and salaries for two specially trained workers in a healthy, non-congested town like Newark in line with the policy of "efficiency and economy" which prompted the consolidation of all welfare work into the present Commission, by act of the recent Legislature?

I am frank to state I cannot understand this latest move of the commission, so I am writing to ask if you can obtain an explanation and have it printed in THE POST. I know that several other Newark citizens would appreciate your assistance in this matter.

Very sincerely yours,
J. S. B.

A copy of THE POST with this letter marked therein has been sent to both local and State headquarters of the State Welfare Commission, accompanied by a request for an explanation, which, we hope, will answer the questions of Mr. J. S. B.—[Ed.]

OBSERVATIONS

Going! Climbing! Building! Creating!—that's fun; that's living; Arriving is THE END.

"Creation is a process, not a product."

"Wherefore Wild Oats are only of one gender."

Which is the coward among us?—He who sneers at the failings of Humanity.

I was reading Merchant of Venice the other evening. Did it ever occur to you that Shylock was the only character in the play that didn't lie.

After ploughing through the mud of "Main Street" pick up Les Miserables. It is still a great book and worth reading once a year at least.

Old John Ruskin had no patience with the inventions of noise and speed and detested a locomotive and railroad. Wonder what he would have said if some one had installed a telephone in his dining-room.

"The Creation is a drama, and no drama was ever put on the stage with only one actor. The Struggle for Life is the "Villain of the piece, no more; and like the "Villain" in the play, its chief function is to reach upon the other players for higher ends. There is, in point of fact, a second factor which we might venture to call the Struggle for the Life of Others which plays an equally prominent part."

"Human experience like the stern lights of a ship at sea illumine only the path we have gone over."

If a man knows where he's going, you can tell it by his walk.

Hold fast to your illusions; you need them to be happy.

In the "Evening Ledger" a few days ago there was a camera snap of Governor Denney and Senator Ball in an airplane inspecting the Delaware Troops in Camp. The smiles were so conspicuous that we could not detect whether they were social or campaign. And their positions were especially embarrassing—Was Denney leading Ball or was Ball backing Denney? It could well be named "The Lady and the Tiger in Politics."

Between heavy rains and politics, Sussex Crops this year are likely to fail.

Ask Sol Wilson what he thinks of Ford for President.

'Tis a child's longing, on the beach at play: 'Before I go' He begs the beckoning mother, 'Let me stay One shell to throw!'

'Tis coming night; the great sea climbs the shore,— 'Ah, let me toss one little pebble more, Before I go!'

THE OPPORTUNITY AND RESPONSIBILITY

"I would rather live in a country with newspapers and without government than in a country with a government but without newspapers." — Thomas Jefferson.

"Four hostile newspapers are more to be dreaded than a hundred thousand bayonets." — Napoleon Bonaparte.

"The newspaper is parent, school, college, pulpit, theatre, example, counselor, all in one. Every drop of our blood is colored by it. Let me make the newspaper and I care not who makes the religion or the laws." — Wendell Phillips.

Why The Windows Were Washed

"Why do you wash the windows? It isn't your work. You wouldn't get anyone in a city shop to do that. They would quit first."

The above was the comment made to one of the girls at Kells. Why she did it is interesting. No one asked her but everyone appreciated it. Her position is one of the most important in the plant. Her work in many instances is the final touch that distinguishes the craftsmanship. Her word in many cases is final. Her position is one of unusual responsibility. On this particular day, there was a little lull in her work and she seized the opportunity. "Fine, she said, let's wash the windows." It never occurred to her that it was a menial task or that her dignity was lowered or that it in any wise reflected on her position.

Then why did she do it. She might have taken a seat in a corner and waited until her work was ready. Why? It was the spirit of Kells. It was interest in the Institution. It was love for the beauty and dignity of labor. She couldn't explain it herself. "Just because I wanted to" was her interpretation. A simple story but fraught with meaning. She is a part of Kells. Its success is her subconscious desire; its work is her work. Of such is the Shop of Kells. A little different, a little odd but this spirit is making friends and doing work worth while. Interest in her job and Kells is why she washed the Windows.

THE WISDOM OF THE ARTISAN

How can he get wisdom that holdeth the plough, and that glorieth in the goad, that driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and whose talk is of bullocks? He giveth his mind to make furrows; and is diligent to give the kine fodder. So every carpenter and workmaster, that laboureth night and day; and they that cut and grave seals, and are diligent to make great variety, and give themselves to counterfeit imagery, and watch to finish a work. The smith also sitting by the anvil, and considering the iron work, the vapour of the fire wasteth his flesh, and he fighteth with the heat of the furnace; the noise of the hammer and the anvil is ever in his ears, and his eyes look still upon the pattern of the thing that he maketh; he setteth his mind to finish his work, and watcheth to polish it perfectly. So doth the potter sitting at his work, and turning the wheel about with his feet, who is always carefully set at his work, and maketh all his work by number; he fashioneth the clay with his arms, and boweth down his strength before his feet; he applieth himself to lead it over; and he is diligent to make clean the furnace. All these trust to their hands; and every one is wise in his work. Without these cannot a city be inhabited; and they shall not dwell where they will, nor go up and down. They shall not be sought for in public counsel, nor sit high in the congregation; they shall not sit on the judges' seat, nor understand the sentence of judgment; they cannot declare justice and judgment; and they shall not be found where parables are spoken. But they will maintain the state of the world, and [all] their desire is in the work of their craft.

A Man Of The People

The thing we liked best about President Harding was that he was our kind. He had come out of obscurity he had played in the town band and probably on the ball team. He had set type, made up forms, tinkered with a gasoline engine and had written hundreds of thousands of words of newspaper "copy" with a lead pencil. He could set up a kitchen stove, paint a woodshed, harness a horse, score a ball game and, in an emergency, cook his own breakfast. He knew the signs of the weather and whether it would be fair or falling, the names of the birds and beasts of the field, the difference between a pin oak and a sycamore, and had sat many summer nights on a front porch bathed in the moonlight. And he was the sort of neighbor who owned a stepladder and was always willing to loan it.

And these are the things which reflect the American type and bind Americans one to the other. President Harding was small-town man, and the small town is the heart and, to a considerable degree, the intelligence of the nation. It is the friendliest place and the most neighborly. It is friendlier than the rural regions contiguous to it for the reason that it is less suspicious, less firmly in the grasp of the provincial complex. Others will write of President Harding's attributes as a statesman in varying degrees of bias and enthusiasm. But no exposition of his personal qualities is needed. They are expressed in the fact that everybody in Marion called him "Warren." — Jay House, in Philadelphia Public Ledger.

OVER 89 MILLION DOLLARS IN RESOURCES OF STATE BANKS FOR PAST YEAR

Report Made Saturday Last From Dover Also Shows An Increase in Depositors of 9598 During the Year

CONDENSED STATEMENT FOR QUICK READING

The total amount of resources of Delaware State Banks, trust companies and other saving institutions at the close of business on June 30, was $89,310,613.85, according to a report made public on Saturday by Harold W. Horsey, State banking commissioner. This is an increase of $7,856,387.95 over the report for June 30, 1922, when the total resources were $81,454,225.90.

The report also shows that there was an increase of 9,598 depositors during the past year, the report for this year showing 143,348 as compared with 133,750 a year ago. The total amount of money on deposit this year is $69,782,417.42, which is an increase of $5,132,125.10 over the amount on deposit a year ago.

The various banking institutions have $41,135,816.97 on loan and have $35,937,564.78 in investments. The actual cash on hand in the banks was $1,020,931.72. The complete report of the bank commissioner follows:

PLENTY OF FUN FOR THE KIDDIES AT FAIR

Community Service Will Provide Amusement for Little Tots During Big Event

The biggest and funniest, most instructive and entertaining exhibit ever planned, will make the 25th anniversary of the Delaware State Fair which opens Monday, August 27, at Wilmington, the best in its history. Record breaking entries have been received and many new features have been added for this silver anniversary. In the amusement program the Fair will be not only the greatest but combines more thrills than any dozen years put together. William T. Taylor with 22 years experience at the Trenton Fair who was specially engaged this year has several thrilling and sensational acts and features billed, besides the regular 10-act vodvil program which will make the spectator gasp in astonishment at the daredevil attempts to startle Fair crowds. Mr. Taylor drawing from his long experience has booked the most spectacular and spine creeping performances. They will start on Monday afternoon and continue the remainder of the week.

The Community Service will provide entertainment for all the children who attend the Fair. Games, contests and dramatic work, done on playgrounds will be exemplified under the direction of competent supervisors. There will be seats for families who bring their lunch and other comforts for mothers. Any one who desires to take a flight in a single, three-passenger or five-passenger aeroplane will have the opportunity. On a field adjacent to the Fair several passenger planes will be set up and the same company will also take photographs of the Fair grounds, races, etc., during the week. For those who come in automobiles, special arrangements have been made to park the cars in sections. Those going north and east after the Fair, will be parked in one section and others going south and west will be parked in another plot so as to avoid confusion and congestion.

The champion saddle horse of America will be one of the features of the Horse Show. Daring knot-tying driving of a National Biscuit team of four horses will be another. The hogs, the sleepest, sleekest cattle, the brightest red-combed chickens, the most appetizing preserves and jellies, the cleverest needlework, the prettiest flowers, the biggest corn and watermelons, "loupes," grain and forage will be there. The most mystifying Midway, fastest horse races and nerviest automobile contests with daylight fireworks and vaudeville acts 100 feet in the air are other thrillers. Children under 16 years will be admitted free on Monday, August 27.

ALL WALKS OF LIFE IN PLATTSBURG CAMP

$20 a Day Bricklayers Among Those Giving Up Trades To Get the Benefits of Training

Doctor, lawyer, merchant chief—they're all represented in this month's C. M. T. Camp here. The list of occupations among the 2,024 students, who have reported for four weeks under canvas reads like a business directory.

With bricklayers commanding $20 a day in wages in the big cities there ART 17—8-20-23 HG are, nevertheless, four of them enrolled here to learn the rudiments of soldiering and citizenship. Uncle Sam pays them transportation to and from Plattsburg, clothes and feeds them here. Eighty-four different occupations are represented in camp. There is an architect, an actor, an artist. One man declares he is a pugilist. One says he is a blacksmith. There is one doctor, two lawyers, a "deputy commissioner," a jeweler, 25 moving picture operators, 17 printers, three reporters.

Another one says he is a staplejack, another is a waiter, three are barbers, 26 are chauffeurs and ten are listed as druggists. One man is a "professional boy scout."

Naturally in a camp restricted to young men between the ages of 17 and 24 the "students" predominate. There are 1,321 listed here. Clerical work is the next largest in numbers with 277.

Present military strength of France is 736,261.

Coldest weather observed in the world was 90° below.

CHESAPEAKE CITY GIRL A SUICIDE

Second Tragedy In Last Month Shocks Maryland Town

Disappointed, it is reported, because she could not go on an automobile ride with friends due to her work in her father's restaurant, fifteen-year-old Frances Secor went to her room in the Secor home in Chesapeake City, Md., late Friday night, obtained her father's revolver and committed suicide.

The girl was found dead, with a bullet in her heart, by her parents who were attracted to the room by the sound of the shot. An inquest was held Saturday by Coroner McGraw, at Elkton, Md. A verdict of suicide was given.

According to her friends, Frances complained of the work in the restaurant, expressing her desire for "fine clothes." On several occasions she had to refuse invitations to various affairs because of her work.

This is the second fifteen-year-old girl who has committed suicide during the last month near this place. About two weeks ago a girl shot herself because she couldn't dress like her girl friends. She was Mary Carter, daughter of Amos Carter, of Concord Pike and Brandywine Summit road.

Adequate radiation, correctly installed, means heat that properly takes care of any desired variation in room temperatures. The fact that there is a separate heating unit (the Radiator) in each room, permits the keeping of a healthful temperature throughout the house. The result is greater satisfaction, with less expense than with old-fashioned methods.

When properly designed and installed, in even the coldest weather, three or four firings in twenty-four hours, is all that is necessary with radiator heat.

Once you enjoy the comfortable, healthful warmth of "heat by radiators", installed by our force of skilled mechanics, you will be convinced that it is the most satisfactory method of heating.

CANNING SEASON IN FULL BLAST NOW

County Plants Are Busy Putting Up Big Crops of Corn and Tomatoes

While the United Canneries Corporation in Newark started real work on Monday of this week, many of the other canning plants throughout the lower section of the county began operations Friday last. The officials of the plants agree that a heavy pack in both corn and tomatoes will be made this year.

An odd incident in connection with the opening of the packing season this year is that nearly all the canneries began to pack both products on the same day, while in previous years the canners say that corn was being canned two weeks ahead of tomatoes and that the present time is the first one known in the history of the canning industry when both products were ready at the same time.

The farmers say this condition is due to the drought in July which made the corn two weeks late while the tomato crop did not suffer at all and is as early as usual.

OLD CUSTOM STILL EXTANT ON SHORE

"Pony-Penning" On Chincoteague Island Draws Large Throng Each Year

One day last week they held the annual "pony-penning," a time-honored and honorable custom on Chincoteague Island, at the tip of the Eastern Shore. The affair was attended by a large crowd of people from all over the shore. Chincoteague ponies are known all over the east, and it is the only place in the Eastern United States that animals actually run wild as they did years ago on the plains of the West.

The young ponies are raised in the forests of the island, and the owners never know how many they have until bands of horseback riders corral them in large pounds built expressly for the purpose. After impounding them they are branded by the owner and many of the mares turned loose and roam about until the next summer when they, with their young, are again rounded up.

Owners are able to ascertain the young ponies belonging to them because they will follow the mother, who has been branded by the owners.

There are hundreds of the ponies wandering the woodland of the island in a wild state, just as they do on the Shetland Islands or on Texas ranges. No one can tell how long the ponies have been roaming the island in a wild state. Some are of the opinion that at one time Chincoteague Island was a part of the mainland, and that they existed on the island even at that remote date. The belief is expressed that gradually the waters of the Atlantic ate their way into the land until the island was formed and the ponies were cut off by the bay, which is about seven miles wide. Some advance the opinion that possibly a century ago, when the bay was rather shallow, they swam across to the island.

Jennings Cooper Wise, in his "Early History of the Eastern Shore of Virginia," rejects the popular notion that the ponies were found upon the island by the earliest settlers, though horses may have reached Chincoteague before 1670; for the author himself notes that the first horse was brought to the Eastern Shore in 1642, and that horses turned loose to breed upon the salt meadows became such a nuisance that the settlers by agreement fenced them upon the "necks" so that they should not destroy crops. As the ponies are excellent swimmers, some may have escaped to Chincoteague from the outlying necks of land or settlers of the mainland may have placed horses on the island for breeding purposes.

RED POINT BEACH DRAWS LOCAL ATTENTION

Several Lots Sold to Residents of Newark; Big Development Said to Be Under Way

The attention of many Newark people has been drawn of late to the development of Red Point Beach, along the North East river, about eight miles from the town of North East.

According to information, the site is divided into five hundred or more lots, running back from a bluff overlooking the bay. At the edge of the bluff is a natural grove, which it is said will be kept free from buildings of any kind.

Lots have been selling rapidly and several Newark men, among them, Benjamin Whitman, C. B. Dean, John A. Clarke and others are contemplating building cottages there.

The beach faces the famed Susquehanna "Flats" where sportsmen from

STATE VETERINARIANS MEET IN REHOBOTH

Dr. C. C. Palmer of Newark Is Treasurer of Organization. Adopt New Constitution

Members of the Delaware Veterinary Medical Association and their wives held a one-day meeting at Rehoboth at the Belhaven Hotel on Wednesday of last week as the guests of Dr. F. P. Ruhl of Milford. The hotel management provided a special table for the Association members present. Dr. H. P. Eves of Wilmington was given the seat of honor at the dinner table on the occasion of his being the oldest graduate practitioner in the State. Following the dinner the ladies were entertained by Mrs. Ruhl, wife of Dr. Ruhl, while the members held a short business meeting at which the Association adopted a new Constitution and By-Laws.

Dr. Louis A. Klein, Dean of the School of Veterinary Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania, who was scheduled to address the Association, was unable to attend the meeting. Dr. Ruhl gave a very interesting address on "The History of Veterinary Medicine in Delaware," especially as it appertains to Sussex County.

The new Constitution and By-Laws adopted at this meeting state that the objects of the Association are to promote good fellowship among its members; to elevate the standards of veterinary medicine; to promote the scientific and material interest of the veterinary profession; to enlighten and direct public opinion with regard to the relation between the veterinary profession and the public welfare.

The Graduate Veterinarians of the State have felt for some time the necessity of adopting a new Constitution and By-Laws which limits the membership to Graduate Veterinarians only and which conforms to the Constitution and By-Laws of the American Veterinary Medical Association which is the national association of veterinarians.

The Association voted to hold its annual meeting in December at the University of Delaware in connection with the University Veterinary Conference.

Following the business meeting the members and their wives enjoyed a dip in the ocean. The Veterinarians and their wives who attended the meeting were: Dr. and Mrs. F. P. Ruhl, Milford; Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Eves, Wilmington; Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Houchin, Newark; Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Palmer, Newark; Dr. W. G. Middleton, Federal Veterinarian in charge of Tuberculosis Eradication in Delaware; Dr. Crendon, Federal Veterinarian, Delaware City; Dr. Porteus, Federal Veterinarian, Middletown; Dr. M. L. Zurkow, Federal Veterinarian in charge of Hog Cholera Eradication, Dover; Dr. R. C. Biltz, Deputy State Veterinarian, Georgetown.

Dr. Harry McDaniel of Dover is president of the Association, and Dr. C. C. Palmer of the University of Delaware, secretary and treasurer.

CAR RAMS TREE NEAR HERE

Several passing motorists were astounded Thursday night last along the Newark-Elkton Road to see a small touring car all tangled up in a tree alongside the road. The front of the car, windshield and top were badly crushed, but no one could be found to shed light on the mystery.

The accident occurred at exactly the same spot where Ralph Cameron of Elkton was killed some weeks ago. Another coincident was the fact that Misses Gladys Clarke, Lillie Willis and other members of the genial young "gang" of Newark were among the first to notice the wrecked car, just as they did in the case of the Cameron accident.

It was later learned that three people from Wilmington were in the machine when it swerved into the ditch. One member of the party suffered a broken leg and was taken immediately to a Wilmington hospital.

UMPIRE IN THE GRANDSTAND

A Northern man, spending the summer in the South, went to see the last game of a series between two local teams. For a time he could not observe any umpire, but at last he spied him sitting up in the grandstand among the spectators.

"Great guns, man!" the Northerner exclaimed to a native. "What's the umpire doing up in the grandstand?"

"Well," the native explained, "the spectators used to accuse him of bum work so much that he allowed that if the folks up in the grandstand could see every play so durned good, he'd better go up there to do his umpiring."—Everybody's Magazine.

all over the country come each fall to gun for wild ducks. It is understood that considerable interest has sprung up over the new beach and it bids fair to be one of the largest in the upper Bay district.

NEWARK TWENTY-THREE YEARS AGO PRESENTED AN INTERESTING BIT OF READING

Special Supplement of The Evening Journal Dated November 15, 1900, Was Devoted To Newark's First Public "Boost"

A BREATH OF OLD MEMORIES IN EACH LINE

Through the kindness of W. H. Evans, of this town, The Post has in its possession an interesting sketch of Newark, not the Newark of today, but Newark of twenty odd years ago.

On November 15, 1900, a special four-page supplement appeared in the Evening Journal of Wilmington, then a young paper, being but thirteen years old. In this supplement a thorough review of business, educational and industrial conditions of Newark was made, every line of which is of absorbing interest to those who live and thrive in the present.

At that time, though good roads, bus lines, golf clubs and anglers' associations were unheard of, little old Newark still managed to get along delightfully well; the business houses appeared prosperous, the hostleries well filled and the people contented.

In addition to the columns of reading matter the Journal carried that day several photographs of leading Newark firms, churches, schools and individuals. Some of the names will conjure up many memories among the older residents today. A few follow:

Joseph P. Hull, stoves and tinware. Thomas G. Baxter, school principal. National Bank of Newark, John Pilling, president.

Robert A. Comegys, dental surgeon. Newark Greenhouses, Shiver & Son, proprietors.

C. E. Lowber, undertaker. J. Frank Willis, contractor.

The Public Schools

As should be in every well-regulated town, the schools were called in this article, "Newark's Pride." After briefly tracing the history of the schools, the writer goes on to say: "The schools at present are incorporated under the title of Newark Public Schools, consolidated districts, Nos. 29, 30, 39 1/2, 41, 41 1/2."

In 1898 the public school building became inadequate to accommodate the large increase of pupils, so the school board, through the efforts of Hon. D. C. Rose, Jr., was successful in leasing a number of years. Newark Academy. The enrollment for the past years was 336. The amount paid teachers was $27,000.

The rate of tax was $1.25.

The schools at present are in a most flourishing condition. The following constitute the corps of teachers: Principal, Thomas George Baxter, N. B.; assistants, Misses Frances Medill, Annie P. Newman, Emma Choate, Ethel M. Cooper, Eleanor Forman and Blanche Ferguson.

Principal Baxter hails from Kent

County, Del. He has lived an active life, has taught school several years in his native country, enlisted as a private in the Spanish-American War, and was reading clerk in the Delaware State Senate two years ago, he graduated in the classical course of Delaware College last June. The present school board is: President, L. Irving Handy; secretary, D. C. Rise, Jr.; S. B. Hartman, E. Dawson, Charles E. Lowber.

Business Houses

Every business house of 'ze and importance in town at that time was listed in the edition and given a real boost by the writer. While some rather high flying statements were made, it must be understood that the Journal was honestly helping Newark to become recognized.

Here's Mr. P. M. Serwood's store, so well known to every resident of town:

Newark being the Athens of the State renders the dealing in school supplies an important one. In this, as other lines, Mr. Serwood keeps fully up to the times.

All the leading periodicals and the New York, Philadelphia and Wilmington dailies are kept on sale and delivered by carriers in Newark, and by rural delivery to customers within a radius of two to six miles of Newark. Mr. Serwood is agent for the Journal, and all who desire to have it served at their homes, can leave orders with him, and they will be served promptly.

Worshippers at the shrine of "My Lady Nicotine," can always find at Serwood's a line of superior cigars and tobacco, and all the accessories so dear to the smoker.

Shoes, for ladies, men, boys and everybody that wears footwear, can be found at Serwood's and always below the lowest in price.

In the Old Days

And last, but not least, we must remember that Old Man Prohibition had not as yet visited Newark twenty-three years ago. Here is a bit of comment on a store in Newark, the owner's name being withheld:

Wines and Liquors

There are few articles that enter into daily consumption so hard to obtain unadulterated as wines and liquors, and it is only by the exercise of knowledge and care in buying that quality and purity can be obtained.

He has acquired by experience the knowledge that is a prerequisite to good buying.

The assortment of wines includes

Mumm's champagnes, ports, sherris, clarets and California wines. In spirituous liquors, are the world renowned "Gibson" and "Royal Cabinet," and Scotch and Irish whiskeys, apple brandy and Mederswan gin. The Gibson whiskeys have a national reputation for purity and evenness of quality, and are adapted for medicinal uses. The Bohemia export and Budweiss beers, brewed by the Prospect Brewing Company, are unsurpassed and their increased sale among the citizens of Newark, is an evidence of their popularity among his trade.

A handsome delivery wagon, built especially for the house, is used in the delivery of goods, which are put down at the door of patrons in Newark and vicinity.

These are but a few of the many articles of general interest appearing in that issue of November 15, 1900. One entire page was taken up with the then Delaware College. The writer further pointed out the railroad facilities, situation, model homes, prosperous businesses and many other advantages among them:

"Fifty Passenger Trains Daily," "That Renowned Fane of Learning, Delaware College," "The Town of Happy Homes."

Quaint as it may seem, and old fashioned as it is, the sketch did Newark full measure of good, and not only showed the activity and ambition of the town, but the good will, support and help of the Journal.

The town in 1900 had reached a milestone in its growth. Twenty years from today, will she be still forging ahead, or will she be drifting backward?

At least 15 circuses are touring this country.

The hippopotamus of Africa is the easiest prey for hunters.

CHESAPEAKE AND DELAWARE CANAL UNDERGOING A MARVELOUS TRANSFORMATION

Twelve Million Dollar Project Will Add To Chain Of Inland Waterways From Boston To North Carolina; Giant Dredges Start Work

WILL PROVE GREAT NAVAL CONVENIENCE

Dirt is flying by the million cubic yards along the historic Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, linking the two largest bays on the Atlantic seaboard. Powerful steam shovels and dredges are cutting and scooping out a new channel big enough to accommodate the largest coastwise ships and, later, the North Atlantic battle fleet.

A narrow ditch, only 24 feet wide and 12 feet deep, is being transformed into a broad shipway, 90 feet wide at the bottom, 110 feet wide at the water's surface and 25 feet deep, eventually to be made 30, then 35 feet.

The United States Government is investing upwards of $12,000,000 in the enterprise, of which $8,000,000 now is being expended at the rate of approximately $2,000,000 a year.

Two contracts for excavating and dredging 6,600,000 cubic yards of materials already have been awarded. A third for dredging 6,000,000 more is expected to be awarded this month.

All told, it is estimated by the engineers in charge, that 14,000,000 cubic yards will be taken out before the job is completed.

Biggest Waterway Work on Coast

It is the biggest bit of Waterway work just now on the whole eastern coast. It spells a big advance in the century-long dream of an internal waterway for coastwise navigation from Boston to Beaufort, from Massachusetts to North Carolina. It means lower freight rates, particularly on coal and grain. In short, the canal visions increased prosperity for the North and South Atlantic States and their millions of inhabitants.

Again, the Chesapeake and Delaware waterway means one-third per cent greater naval protection to Wilmington, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

With the building of the projected New Jersey Ship Canal, it will be of strategic value to New York. Thus, if war again comes to the United States, the $12,000,000 expended may avert destruction to property worth $12,000,000,000—one-thousand times the investment.

Viewed from a trade standpoint the new Chesapeake and Delaware canal forms an essential link in a continuous series of protected waterways along the Atlantic seaboard whereby 131 miles of connecting canal already in part completed will provide uninterrupted navigation for about 1,800 miles, linking 148 rivers having a length of 5,365 miles studded with principal seaports, naval stations and coast defenses. By the canal system of New York State—500 miles in length—further connection will be afforded with the Great Lakes, 1,489 miles, Lake Champlain, 126 miles, and the St. Lawrence River and its tributaries of 1,000 miles.

The figures are from official estimates presented to Congress and therefore are authentic.

Two giant dredges have been at Chesapeake City for months awaiting the temporary widening of the canal at that point sufficient to admit them into the upper reaches of the "ditch." A complete basin had to be made, filled, and the dredges moved to a level with the canal. An opening made in the bank will admit them into the canal above the locks. They will move on through and assist with the work of removing the dirt from the bottom.

The locks at St. Georges, picturesque and old fashioned, will be entirely removed, and the canal greatly widened at that point. Near Summit Bridge, the greatest volume of earth will be removed, as the elevation there is higher than at any point along the stretch of water.

NEWARK HOME IS VISITED BY RED MEN

"Home Coming Day" Celebrated by Nearly 500 Guests From State At Large

Red Men from all over the State, including past and present high-ranking officials of the fraternal order, paid a visit to Newark last Saturday afternoon, the occasion being the annual Home Coming. It was estimated that close to 500 guests were present, most of them coming in autos, while the balance arrived in trains.

Following the inspection of the grounds and buildings of the home here, the large party were entertained with athletic events for both men and women. These were greatly enjoyed and provoked much amusement and laughter. Most of the visitors were from the upper part of the State, seventeen tribes from Wilmington and this county being present, together with four Councils of Poochontas, the women's auxiliary of the Order.

Fourteen orphans from Wilmington, Newark and Philadelphia were the guests of honor. They were in charge of James P. Semerteen, chairman of the Orphans' Board.

Among those prominently identified with the order who attended the homecoming were: Great Senior Sagamore James Faulkner, of Wilmington; Great Keeper of Records Edward McIntire, Great Keeper of Wampum J. Carl Barber, Great Junior Sagamore Charles Dybeck, of Hartly; Past Grand Great Sachems William Ferguson, Edward Fayers, Alexander C. Rogers, of Wilmington, and David C. Rose, of Newark.

Among the women of the organization present were Past Grand Poochontas, Mrs. Ferrier, Siffles, Semerteen and Barcus. The Minnehaha Band supplied the music.

During an inspection of the grounds of the home, it was stated that during the last few months about $2,000 were spent on improvements.

NEWARKER MEETS WITH AUTO ACCIDENT

James Bolton, of Newark, met with an accident Sunday, when the radius rod became loose, causing him to lose control of his machine and it crashed into another car, tearing off a wheel of the latter machine. The accident happened on the road leading from Glasgow to Summit Bridge.

Largest lump of coal believed ever mined was ten feet long and five feet high.

Greatest length of Switzerland from east to west is 208 miles, and the width 156 miles.

LOCAL CONTRACTOR BUSY

Charles W. Greer, a Newark builder and contractor, has a force of men working each day in Wilmington where he has the contract for new houses. He has been engaged in the job for the better part of the summer and expects to finish up in a few weeks.

1924 MODEL

THE STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX FIVE-PASSENGER TOURING CAR $995

130,000 Owners Know the Value of this Studebaker

Every unit in the new 1924 Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car has proved its dependability in public use.

There are refinements and improvements, of course, but the underlying principles of design and construction which have made enthusiasts of 130,000 purchasers of this model in three years' time, are not radically changed.

In our opinion, the 1924 Light-Six stands out as the greatest value and closest approach to mechanical perfection in moderate priced cars yet produced.

It is practically free from vibration. Studebaker accomplishes this largely by machining the crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces. This requires 61 precision operations. It is an exclusive Studebaker practice on cars at this price—and is found only on a few other cars—and they're priced above $2500. Absence of vibration prolongs car life, causes slower depreciation, reduces the cost of operation and adds to the enjoyment of driving.

The Light-Six motor embodies the most advanced design known to automobile construction. It represents an achievement in the manufacture of quality cars in big volume.

Aside from its mechanical excellence, the Light-Six is handsome in design, extremely comfortable, sturdy and economical to operate just as it is in initial cost. It is powerful, speedy, has a pick-up range that is seldom taxed and never exhausted, is easy to handle, and convenient to park.

Its enameled all-steel body, one-piece, rain-proof windshield, ten-inch cushions upholstered in genuine leather, and cowl lamps are among many features heretofore to be had only in higher priced cars.

For 71 years the name Studebaker has stood for unflinching integrity, quality and value.

New all-steel body of striking beauty. One-piece, rain-proof windshield with attractive cowl lights set in base. Quick-action cowl ventilator. Door curtains, bound on three sides by steel rods, open with doors. Removable upholstery in tonneau. Door pocket flaps with weights hold them in shape. Upholstered in genuine leather. Large rectangular window in rear curtain. Thief-proof transmission lock. Standard non-skid cord tires, front and rear.

THE SPORTING TICKER

A Column Devoted to Clean Athletics and Sportsmanship, written by one who loves the Game.

Character is shown in peace no less than war. No mental training nor bodily vigor will make a nation great if it lacks the fundamental principles of honesty and moral cleanliness.—Theodore Roosevelt.

A GOOD SPORT

Many there are who believe themselves eligible for this much-abused title. Strange to say, the popular notion of a Good Sport is far removed from its actual meaning. A Good Sport, as we conceive him, is one who plays the game hard but plays it fair; one who can smile at defeat, then bravely plunge into battle again. And above all, one who is wholeheartedly willing to help another in time of trouble.

A slim wisp of a girl who lives here in Newark tried to save the life of a friend the other day—tried and failed. But she was glorious in the attempt. Without an instant's hesitation, without a thought to her own safety, she fought with death for the life of another. And only when her muscles ached with exhaustion and her breath came in gasps and her friend had disappeared never to live again, did she give up the fight.

We could call the incident many flattering names; we could hold the young lady up to the glare of a mass of meaningless platitudes. But it all is empty, a shallow tribute.

Instead we want to quietly join with the community in congratulating Emma Robinson for almost succeeding in doing one of the finest things under heaven—saving a human life.

She is a Good Sport

Same Place, August 22, 1923.

Good Morning Mr. Ticker:

As you have seen by me prelude I am writing this in the morning. I have come to the conclusion that a man can't do his best work unless he concentrates on that which is placed before him which to do. And my goodness, Mr. Ticker, how is a fellow goin' to concentrate on what brings him his bread and butter, when he can't even get elected to an office in the Cooch's Bridge Society which is opposed to Hoss Racin, has been organizing the women hereabout just for spite. She nor none of the other women know what it's all about, but they just seem to gather in here every night and decide to take action an' resoloot on everything from Race Tracks to Bobbed Hair. So when they passes in I passes out. There ain't no other place to go save in the kitchen. I got to have the lamp so close that most of the bugs in the county come in to see what I'm writin' about. So I says, says I, "Sally, I'll be durned if I've got a bit of privacy in this house anymore. If I can't get in the sittin' room at nights, I'm not goin' to twiddle my thumbs in the kitchen. Here I am tryin' to make a livin' for us both, and you don't even seem interested. I've stood this long 'nough, and the fust thing you know, I'll be spending my evenings up in Newark at Jack Ewing's Hot Air Parlors, and then you'll be sorry, I bet you." With this oration, I tramps out of the house in a high state of indignation. Sally Ann, she just up and stares at me somethin' awful. Well, I did go up to Jack's place last night, and there was Sol Wilson, Old Man Casho, Frank Collins, with that Legislature cane, Dan Stoll and the rest.

After satisfying themselves as to what they would do if they was in Washington, and how infernally dumb these here Republicans are, they all went in side and had a bottle of pop. I thought maybe I would get some live stories for your paper on acct. of my visit, but they was talkin' about the same old things as they did ten years ago. So I up and leaves in disgust and goes down to Blockson's to get some ice cream. After all, Mr. Ticker, there ain't no place like home after all, so I goes back to Cooch's and makes up with Sally, and agrees to write my "stuff" (that's what them newspaper fellers call it you know) before breakfast.

Of course, I am not supposed to be findin' fault and makin' suggestions in my writing, but I wish you folks up there would get after Charlie Evans and get him to put in a new fence up there on his corner property near the Library. I stopped under a tree by the walk up there the other day to keep from gettin' wet, and when I leaned against the palin', she give way and I went right into a mess of brambles and wet weeds. If I'd a seen Charlie just then I would have given him a piece of my mind, you bet.

They had a little confusion and consternation down this way one night a week or two ago. I got the story all right, but I thought it might hurt somebody's feelin's awful bad, and when I tell you about it some day, I guess you'll agree with me. Tom Green said he'd take care of the whole matter, thus relievin' me of the burden of makin' it public. It involves somethin' what happened on Tom's place down the road.

Well I wonder how Mr. Coolidge likes being president by this time. I was thinkin' the other night that I might run down there to see him some day soon and assure him that Cooch's Bridge was right with him to a man, and maybe I could help him out a little with the farm problems. He's got so many fire-eatin' Senators who don't know a hoe from a manure set wantin' to tell him how to run the country, that I figure it would be a relief for him if I went and offered him a chew and told him about that sorrel mare of mine what has the spavin, but still can trot a 2.40 gait. The President is just like the rest of us folks, you know, 'only he's got more people watchin' him than we have. I'm goin' to tell Cal that when ole Magnus Hot-Stuff Johnson gets into town, to drench him well and set him out to pasture. Magnus reminds me of a bawlin' calf which won't go through a gate because he ain't got nobody there to twist his tail.

Hopin' you're the same and with respect.

Yours, etc.,

JOSEPH SPIVUS.

ELKTON ON THE RAMPAGE

Under the leadership of Ellis Deibert, Cleaver and Potts and a few others associates, the Elkton Baseball Club is making a strong bid for the pennant the second half struggle in the Susquehanna League just now.

Saturday's close battle with Perryville gives the county seat team a commanding lead, as they have run their string of wins up to ten straight. As are loudly predicting their favorites will come through the little World's series with Bel Air without much trouble, and to be frank, it looks very much as if Elkton will come up to the mark.

In Coyle, Patton, Rothwell and our own "Dutch" Robinson, the Marylanders have a smooth working dependable infield, capable of rising to great heights. In the outfield, Old Man Fin, who by the way, is hitting at a terrific clip just now, Chun and Peterson are doing great work on the attack.

Potts, the hardworking catcher is on his game with a vengeance this year. A tireless worker, and heady one too, a born leader, is Cleaver, and very fan is his friend.

Big Bill Shanner has pitched practically the entire schedule for his club year, and when Bill is right, there isn't much to worry his teammates, batters just can't see his shoots. He has a good club behind him, uses head every minute and is blessed with a wonderful physique—all of which makes him a real pitcher.

The loss of Rising Sun from the roster of teams has deprived Elkton of their greatest delight—a game between these two teams. Yes, it really looks like a win under wraps for Deibert's boys.

More power to them.

PROVIDENCE WINS ONE-SIDED GAME

Providence visited Liberty Grove Saturday and nose dout the Liberty Grove team in a hard hitting contest, by the score of 11-2. Peterson led the attack for the visitors with three hits, while Evans, pinch-hitting for Vansant in the sixth inning, drove two runners over with a sharp single to center. The score:

Five Points By Losing To Yorklyn Create Tie For First Place In Pennant Dash; New Castle Administers Terrific Beating To Marshallton

SEVEN-RUN RALLY IN NINTH BEATS POINTERS

Two very interesting games were played in the County League Saturday last. That is, they are interesting to the casual observer, but must have been heart-breaking to at last two teams. The outstanding features follow:

Yorklyn, after trailing for eight innings, ran wild at the expense of Vannort, visiting pitcher, and pushed seven runs across in the ninth inning, thus dropping Five Points into a tie with Krebs for the eagle lead.

Over in New Castle, the Fishtown boys walked over Marshallton and back again, scoring 20 runs and threatening to bring the fire engine on the scene in an effort to put them out. Marshallton did well to gather three markers.

White, center fielder for the Pointers, furnished the thrills of the day, when he snared seven drives in the outfield in the Yorklyn game, some of them being spectacular catches.

Miller, of New Castle, rammed out two homers for his contribution to Marshallton's downfall.

Ivory, playing second base for Marshallton, was struck by one of Salter's fast ones in the first inning and was forced to retire from the game. His injuries are not considered serious.

All in all it was a big day for the hitters among the various teams. The games were pretty one-sided and unusually long. The box scores follow:

McKELVIE, STAR TACKLE, OUT OF GAME DUE TO RECENT OPERATION

McDonald May Return To University To Complete His Course; Jackson, Akin, Price, and Captain Donaldson Ready

Coach William J. McAvoy announced Saturday last that the University of Delaware footballers will start their fall training at Augustine Beach, beginning September 13th and ending September 19th.

A committee, composed of Coach McAvoy, J. A. Cruthers, of Wilmington, a member of the Athletic Council, and John D. Williams, last year's Blue and Gold captain, chose the above-named place and fixed the dates for the training.

The candidates for the team will be quartered in the hotel at Augustine, and will be put through two stiff training periods each day. Special attention will be paid to the food and training rules will be enforced with the utmost strictness according to the coach.

Merwyn "Cherub" Akin, star guard of the Delaware outfit, will be again in uniform, this being his last year at the University. Akin has been driving a truck in Newark all summer and is in splendid condition. His power in the line will be needed if the operation recently performed upon McKelvie for hernia will prevent the latter from getting into togs this fall.

At all events, Coach McAvoy will have his team in the best possible shape for the opening game with St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia, on September 29th, about a week after the classes begin for the term.

One of the tangles which will have to be untied is that of the quarterback position. Jackson played some in that position last year but there is a possibility that Elliott, who is a much more experienced man at the game, will be shifted to the job of directing the team on the playing field.

Williams, who has played for two years in various positions in the backfield, will be seen again, probably at fullback and will assuredly have as much punch and fight as he has shown in the past.

Weggenmann, the four-letter man from the New Castle High School, who got away last year in the Washington game for a ninety-two yard run for a touchdown and winning score, as fast a man as there is on the team, has had a little seasoning in his one-year of college in the backfield and should be worth considerable in the backfield this year. Wegg's weakness is in the defensive game, but it is believed that McAvoy will fix that up before many moons have passed.

So the backfield looks good—as good as any which Delaware might be able to get together, it seems.

McKelvie Out of Game

An unfortunate setback just came, when it was learned that "Bill" McKelvie, stellar tackle for two years, will not be able to play this season because of an operation, from which he is now recuperating in the West Chester Hospital. McKelvie is one of the best linemen Delaware has ever had. He has plenty of fight and good football head, in addition to strength enough to throw a steer. His loss will be felt tremendously by Akin, his running partner on the line.

Akin, the steady-going little guard, will be on deck as soon as Mac wants him. He has been running one of the Continental Fibre Company trucks this summer, handling heavy boxes and other things which should make him strong enough to handle anything he will meet this fall.

Price, who stood out so spectacularly, last year in the Dickinson game, when he picked up a punt which had been blocked by a Dickinson man and carried it over for a touchdown, is ready to resume his duties at the end position. Price should be better than ever this year, as he was just about learning to play the game without worrying about details, at the end of last year.

Captain Donaldson Heavier

Captain Donaldson, who will play his last season with the Blue and Gold this year, and who for three years has been a fighter in the defensive center position, will continue to heave them through his legs this year. "Kid" has put on considerable weight and ought to make things hum for a few of the pivot men again this year.

Kramer, the lanky linesman who did so well in the Dickinson game, playing probably the best game of any of the players on the field, will no doubt land a Varsity berth as soon as he dons the moleskins. Kramer, it was expected, would play opposite to McKelvie but now that "Bill" is out of the running, "Lew" will likely fill his boots.

So things look pretty good, despite the unfortunate happening to McKelvie. Carvine, a Freshman, who has been attending Perkiomen Prep School, will make his appearance in a Delaware uniform this year, it is understood. Several other men will likely show up, as soon as college opens, who have football ability. Who they might be, it is impossible to say, but it is understood that the coach has his eye on several men who ought to do a few tricks before the season closes.

ELKTON NOSES OUT PERRYVILLE TEAM 1-0

Shanner and Alexander Engage in Real Hurling Duel; Rothwell Gets Only Run

ABERDEEN CRAWLS UP

In one of the fastest games of the season, and by far the greatest pitching duel, Elkton's fast moving ball team nosed out Perryville Saturday by the score of 1-0, and thereby retained her unsullied slate of ten straight victories for the second half race.

Hits were few and far between, six being the total gathered by both teams. Shanner and Alexander were both in fine form and there was little to choose between them.

The only run of the game came in the third frame when Rothwell, the home-bred second baseman who has been holding that position down with great success all season, cantered over the plate.

Both teams fought hard thereafter to hold their slender lead and the other to tie the score.

Gill was the outstanding star for Perryville, accepting six hard chances and getting one of the three hits made by his team. The Elkton infield worked like a charm and delighted the fans with some high class fielding.

The victory Saturday places Elkton in a strong position for the second half flag, and nothing short of a miracle will keep them from winning, according to the fans down there. The score:

ABERDEEN WINS EASILY

Havre de Grace proved no match for the Aberdeen club Saturday, eight errors on the part of the home team playing a fatal part in the defeat. Murray was easy for the Aberdeen hitters, and an avalanche of hits and errors gave them five runs in the fourth. The game thereafter became listless and devoid of excitement. The score by innings:

BEL AIR SHARES CELLAR

By defeating Darlington 6-4 Saturday, Bel Air climbed out of the last position and shared part of the cellar with Havre de Grace, which lost the same day. Score:

ENTIRE FAMILY INVOLVED IN AUTO CRASH; SON KILLED, FATHER NEAR DEATH'S DOOR

Distressing Tragedy On Sunday Overtakes Brandenberger Family Residing Near Landenberg. Operated Deer Park Farm, Owned By Marvel Family. Six Members Victims

OLD YORK ROAD SCENE OF TRAGEDY

Enroute to their home near Landenberg, Pa., after spending the day visiting friends, the William Lovett family of Overlook Farms, near Philadelphia, on Sunday night, the auto owned and driven by Andrew Brandenberger, aged 51, and containing six members of the family was crashed into by a trolley car on the Old York road near Moylan with fatal results.

The father who was driving the car it is feared is fatally injured, being hurt internally. Harold Brandenberger, aged 17, a twin son, was instantly killed. Mrs. Caroline Brandenberger, the mother, is suffering from shock and severe lacerations while Horace, the twin brother, is similarly hurt. Sarah, a sister, is cut and bruised, while Mrs. Brandenberger's mother, Mrs. Martha Crossan, aged 76, who accompanied the party is also badly hurt. The only member of the family not injured was Herman, aged three years.

The shock was so great that the auto was completely wrecked and traffic delayed nearly an hour. All the victims were removed to Abington hospital. The motorman driving the trolley car has been placed under arrest and claims that the accident was unavoidable as he had used every effort to stop the car when the auto loomed up directly ahead.

Local interest is much aroused by reason that the family are well known, notably in the western part of the county in Brandywine Hundred and about Hockessin. They have long been identified with the Marvel Brothers farming and dairying interests and at present are operating their Deer Park farm and dairy near Landenberg, this after being many years attached to the Kaolin farm near Hockessin. So complete was the wreck and tragedy that the big farm and more than 50-cow dairy were suddenly stricken helpless.

Much sympathy is expressed in the community where the family was well and favorably known, the younger members particularly possessing much promise.

ABOUT HYDRANGEAS

Carl R. Woodward, of the New Jersey Agricultural Station, mentions an interesting experiment with hydrangeas the station has been carrying on for some time. It has been found that acidity of the soil has a marked effect on the color of the blossoms.

For years many of the growers of hydrangeas have encountered difficulty in keeping a given variety true to its original color. The New Jersey scientists took the matter in hand, determined if possible, to get at the cause of this tendency of the flower to change its tint in varying locations. Their tests extending over a long period and of the utmost importance to horticulture show:

(1) That hydrangeas planted in extremely acid ground will produce blue flowers.

(2) When the same plants are grown in sweet soil the blossoms become pink.

(3) Varying degrees of soil acidity will give a variety of tints, so that one needs only to determine the degree of soil acidity in order to produce a desired color.

NOTHING TO IT

Rumors floating around town to the effect that James Hutchinson has purchased the old Curtis property opposite the Washington House, with a view towards running a street through to Cleveland Avenue at that point, could not be verified last night when Mr. Hutchinson was questioned. He stated that there was "nothing to the rumors."

CARNIVAL WEEK OPENS IN NEWARK

On Monday night two splendid new watches were given away as prizes by the Carnival Committee. One, a gentleman's gold watch, went to "Bunch" Major, and the other, a ladies' wrist watch, was won by Orpheus Leidle.

Many people from Elkton, West Grove, Oxford, Middletown, Wilmington, and New Castle were noted among the throng each night.

The Red Men's Band is furnishing good music each evening, and many members of the organization jump to work after the concert and help out at the various booths.

A display of fancy work, candies, and pastry, including a table of delicious cakes, is managed by a group of women headed by Mrs. Thomas Sprogle.

In the Armory, the younger generation is tripping the light fantastic each night to the persuading strains of "Doc" Steel's Orchestra, and Leslie Hill is having no trouble in advancing a small army onto the dance floor each night.

In fact, it is a great big Carnival, this year, and bids fair to climax the series of successful affairs which have been ably put over by the local firemen for eleven years.

On Saturday night the new Studebaker car is awarded as a prize, and another great jam of people, probably larger than the opening night, will be on hand to fittingly close the biggest week of the year for Newark.
