LOCAL COLLEGES TO OPEN WITH BANNER ENROLLMENTS

Wolf Hall, New Commons and Dormitory Will be Used For First Time; Many Additions Made to Faculties

Delaware College and the Women's College will open on Thursday of next week with possibly the largest entering classes in the history of the institutions. This is especially true of Delaware College. The prospects are, according to officials of Delaware College that the freshmen class will number considerably more than 100. Dean Robinson of the Women's College is expecting a class of at least 40 and probably 50 to 60.

Notwithstanding the war the colleges were never in better condition, better equipped or more eager to welcome new students than at this time. Because of the war, the realization that trained men and women in educational lines will be needed more than ever to fill important positions, has inspired officials of the colleges to make an extra effort to get new students and they have succeeded beyond all expectations.

In Delaware College the opening for numerous reasons will be a noted one in the history of the institution. It will mark the returning to the Commons idea which is expected to greatly increase the spirit of the student body. It will celebrate the opening of Wolf Hall, one of the new additions made possible by the generous gifts of Perrie S. duPont and also the opening of the new dormitory building where a large number of students will make their home.

From the standpoint of the students the new Commons is possibly the most important change in addition to the college life at Delaware. The old Dormitory building, where some years ago, all students lived, has been remodeled at a cost of more than $100,000 into a modern Commons. While the students will not sleep here every one who remains in Newark will take their meals in the Commons. This will be the first time for some years that all students have been together for meals and the change is expected to be beneficial in many ways. Miss Caldwell, who will have charge of the serving of the meals to the large number of students has about completed her plans.

Wolf Hall, the new building, will house all the agricultural and chemical activities of the college. The first to move into the new building was Professor C. O. Houghton, who took up his quarters there this week. Others will move in before college opens next week.

At the Women's College there will be several changes looking towards the betterment of the institution. In the Women's as well as Delaware College, several new courses will be inaugurated. Dean Robinson is much pleased with the prospects for the new college year. The new dormitory which is to be built with funds provided by the government, is now in course of erection and will be completed by next September. A number of typewriters have been installed in the Women's College. This purpose is not to give a course in typewriting and shorthand but to give every student an opportunity to become accustomed to the typewriter as it is felt it will be needed by them after leaving college on account of the increased use of such machines in homes and organizations that women are connected with.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week examinations will be held for both colleges. They will open on Thursday and the work for the fall will be organized completely during the remainder of the week. There will be many changes and additions in the faculty of both colleges and especially in the agricultural department of Delaware College.

COVERDALE RESTAURANT SOLD

Mrs. A. J. McGovern, Former Manager Of Deer Park, Purchaser

The Coverdale restaurant, with store property and residence adjoining, has been sold this week to Mrs. A. J. McGovern. Mrs. McGovern has, for several years been the manager of the Colbourn Inn, a popular tea house near Delaware City. As former proprietor of the Deer Park Hotel, she has many friends in Newark.

The Coverdale restaurant was opened in April, 1916, and since that time has grown beyond the expectations of the owners. It is especially popular with tourists, who pronounce it the most attractive stopping place outside of Wilmington, between Philadelphia and Baltimore. "The business during the past year has more than doubled itself," a representative of the present management said today, when discussing the sale, "and its future seems an assured success." Mrs. Brown will take possession within a week.

Pencader Services

Last Sunday

All day services held in the Glasgow Presbyterian Church on Sunday, September 9th, were well attended, many former members of the congregation being among the worshippers. The Rev. James Ramsay Swain, pastor of the Woodland Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, preached in the morning, and the Rev. Joseph Brown Turner, pastor of the Port Deposit Church in the evening. A special quartette from the choir of West Church, Wilmington, led the singing. There was also a solo by Mrs. J. Pearce Cann of Newark.

Purchase Home

In Wilmington

E. W. Cooch has recently purchased the residence at 2102 Bayard Avenue, Wilmington. With his family, he is planning to occupy the new home, located near the Park Drive, in the course of a few weeks. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cooch have been active in local affairs, and will be greatly missed in the community.

HATTIE WILMER

IMPROVING

Soon To Leave Wilmington Hospital

Hattie Wilmer, the 13-year-old girl who was mysteriously shot on August 31, continues to improve at the Delaware Hospital where she has been under treatment since the night of the shooting. It is expected that she will soon be able to leave the hospital. Ernest Emigh, aged 17 years, who was with Hattie when she was shot, is still in the Workhouse he having been held under $5,000 bail by Magistrate Lovett on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. While officers who have worked on the case claim they are still puzzled and not entirely satisfied with explanations that have been made both the girl and boy now contend that the shooting was done accidentally by her.

MILITARY WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

Groom Formerly Of Newark

A pretty military wedding was solemnized last Saturday evening, August 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gibbs in Solvay, N. Y., when their daughter Viola, was united in marriage to Edward M. Casey of the 30th U. S. Infantry. Rev. David Lamb of Pleasant Beach, officiated at the ceremony which was performed under a canopy of American flags. Miss Bertha Kurtz and Miss Elsie Byers were bridesmaids. John D. Holland of the Machine Gun Company, and George McGrath of the 38th Infantry, attended Mr. Casey. The young men were all in uniform.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served to the guests. The wedding cake was decorated with a five-inch American flag, surrounded by forty-eight smaller silk ones.

The bride and groom received many pretty and useful gifts in silver, cutglass, and linen.

Mr. Casey was, previous to his enlistment, an employee of the Continental Fibre Company, Newark. He enlisted in the regular army closely following the declaration of war by the United States. Since leaving Newark he has been first in Ohio, and later in Texas. He is now assigned to the 30th U. S. Infantry, encamped at Syracuse, N. Y. His brother, Alfred Casey, is a member of Company E, First Delaware Infantry.

Definite instructions will be announced in the local papers next week.

Firemen Hurt At Blaze

Fire of mysterious origin, damaged the new heavy leather department in the big moriceo plant of F. Blumenthal & Co. in Wilmington, to the extent of about $50,000 on Sunday afternoon of last week. The plant had been closed for the day, and only the watchmen were about the buildings when a man passing discovered the blaze. Five firemen were injured when a ladder gave way—Foster D. Hubbard, arm broken and head cut; William L. Point, leg broken; Frank E. Hyland, head cut; Windell Bromall, back injured; Joseph Nigro, minor injuries.

Law Grips Heartless Husband

Judge Church, on Saturday, after sternly censuring George L. Brittingham, aged 23 years, a railroad fireman, charged with non-support of his wife and two children, one 2 years and the other 7 months old, sentenced him to a year in the Workhouse, 50 cents daily of his earnings to go to his family's support. The wife stated that he left her in Berlin, Md; last December without cause. She showed letters in which he boasted to her of "having three different women since he came here."

Dr. Neale Dies Ill Short Time

For Many Years was Director Experiment Station

FURERAL WILL BE HELD ON THURSDAY

After an illness of only three weeks Dr. Arthur T. Neale died at his home, "Delview," near McClellandville about 7 o'clock Tuesday night. Although it was known that he was in poor health it was not until Sunday that his many friends learned that his condition was serious and his death came as a shock to many.

For about 20 years Dr. Neale was director of the Delaware College Experiment Station and had a host of friends throughout the State. He was succeeded by Dean Harry Hayward about 10 years ago.

Dr. Neale graduated from Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., after which he went to Germany where he taught for a short time. Returning to this country he went to Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N. J., as a chemist in the Experiment Station. He came to Delaware College as director of the Experiment Station shortly after the station was established in 1888. He severed his connection with the Station in about 1907 or 1908.

The deceased is survived by his wife who is a sister of Mrs. Alfred A. Curtis. She was a daughter of the late Samuel Lindsay, a prominent farmer. Since leaving the college Dr. Neale has managed the farm where he lived near McClellandville, and which was the Lindsay homestead farm.

Dr. Neale was a Republican and for some years had taken an active part in the affairs of his party although he never held or sought public office. He attended several Republican State Conventions as a delegate from White Clay Creek Hundred and also served as Registration and Election officer on several occasions. He also served as a member and secretary of the New Castle County Grand Jury several years ago.

Funeral services will be held from the late residence on Thursday, September 13, at two o'clock. Interment in White Clay Creek Cemetery.

Soldiers As Guests Of Mayor Have Good Time

Officers and men of Company E and the Machine Gun Company of the Delaware Regiment were royally entertained by Mayor Eben B. Frazer at his home, Belmont, last Wednesday night. The two companies marched from the Armory to Belmont shortly after 7 o'clock and were cordially welcomed by Mayor Frazer. Assisting him in receiving were his son, John Stanley Frazer, and wife, Dean Winifred J. Robinson and Dean Harry Hayward. Members of Town Council were also guests. A large number of other residents also called during the evening and assisted in making the evening a most pleasant one for the soldiers.

Short addresses were made by Dean Hayward, Dean Robinson, Mayor Frazer, and the Rev. Walter G. Haupt. In responding a few remarks were made by Captains McKee and Slater; Lieutenants Davis, O'Daniel, Turner, Hastings and Davidson, and Sergeants Shultz and Houghton.

During the evening there was music and refreshments and "smokes" were served to the soldiers. The affair was greatly appreciated by all the soldiers and Mayor Frazer voted a genial host.

Society Meetings Resumed

The Newark Auxiliary of the W. H. M. S. of the M. E. Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert Gallaher, Friday afternoon, September 14th, at 2.30. The topic of the day is, "The Year's Outlook." Every member of the society is urged to be present by Mrs. Mary T. Williams, Secretary.

Examine 226 - Army Draft

Of this Number 164 Pass and 64 are Rejected

MORE WILL GO TO CAMP NEXT WEEK

The Rural New Castle County Exemption Board concluded the work yesterday of examining the third levy of men called for the National Army. This is the first board in the state to call a third levy. The indications are that more than enough men to make up the district's quota, 214, can be secured from these three levies. The work of examining the prospective soldiers yesterday and Monday was done by Drs. Steel, Blake and Kollock of Newark, and Dr. Beals of Middletown. The physicians examined 224 men during the two days. Of this number 160 passed and 64 were rejected. The total number claiming exemption including enlisted men and aliens was 110. The total number not claiming exemption was 59.

The local board has its work in excellent shape and is now preparing to send away the second contingent to Camp Dix on Wednesday of next week. It is not known definitely what percentage will be called for at that time but it will probably be from 25 to 40 per cent of the quota.

NEWARK

IN WORD AND DEED, VICTOR HUGO was an Artist. Life to him was dramatic. "All the world's a stage and we are merely actors" expressed a reality. And a good play it was. His observations were keen. More so than any writer I have known. The insignificant never escaped him. In fact, he never admitted that any thing was insignificant.

Trained thought made the "Of-no-Consequence" important. The Trite under the magic of his intellect, became Great. And Great Events, by applying the microscope of his imagination, became only logical conclusions. He was an Artist. Single words under his capitalization and punctuation became masterpieces. A date, depicts an age; a word, describes a scene. A sentence gives the philosophy of an age. He dazzles attention, arouses imagination. What lover of books has not seen his Man Overboard, or walked the floor with Jean Valjean the day before the great trial. His "June 15th, 1812" is the greatest description of war in all Literature. But this is not all. He goes into the depths, on the heights. Down, down in the gloom of a convict's soul and out into the ray of Truth's sunshine. But why waste feeble words in attempting to describe? To out-victor Hugo is not for us.

AT KELLS, where Craftsmen study and work at the Art of Printing, there has been printed the story of the visit of the Good old Bishop to the Conventualist. The work has been done with care and in reverent keeping with the theme. Set by hand in good old Bookman type, an initial letter of Cathedral suggestion, printed on old Stratford paper, it touches the eye of the Book lover. Then in honor of the Bishop, it is bound in limp purple leather and stamped in Gold. One Hundred and One Copies, hand numbered, completes this first edition where truly the Head, Heart and Hand of our Imprint worked to full heart's joy and content. Aside from the story of the visit, a short description of the Bishop has been culled from the Master Creator, giving a glimpse of the Grand Good Man, at home, in his garden, at his desk, on the street, in all of which is found his philosophy of Life as he saw and lived. All of which, we have called Creed and Deed. The pleasure of doing something well—that is the reward of the Kids at Kells. It is now sent out to friends that they may share the delight of owning a beautiful book, made by honest and loving hands. As customary with the Craftsmen of olden days, we whisper, God Speed.

ing to these responsible positions only men who have had graduate study at some university leading to the Doctor of Philosophy degree. The entrance requirements of the College have been steadily raised so that the completion of a four-year high school course or its equivalent, is expected of every Freshman. At the same time the courses within the curriculum have been expanded in many departments and the standards of scholarship advanced. The result is that Delaware College now has a body of admirably trained teachers who have specialized in their respective fields of study.

Among the new men that come into the faculty this year are:

Dr. Fred E. Clark, who will establish the course in Business Administration. This course will cover such subjects as Accounting, Banking, Corporation Law, Marketing, Transportation, and Insurance. There has been a widespread demand on the part of young men for a college course which will combine culture with a practical insight into business and industrial conditions today.

Dr. Clark has been teaching these commercial subjects in the University of Michigan and comes, therefore, as an experienced man to found these courses in Delaware College. The applications for these courses for the coming session have been numerous and Dr. Clark will begin his work with bright prospects. The courses in Business Administration will form a part of the regular work leading to the Arts and Science degree. Dr. Clark will also have a class in the Women's College.

Dr. A. G. McGoughan comes from Yale to take up the work in Physics, which heretofore has been carried on ably by Dr. Harter, in connection with Mathematics. At Dr. Harter's request, Dr. McGoughan has been secured in the expectation that in a short while Physics will be made a separate department. Dr. McGoughan has had four years experience at Yale in teaching Physics.

Finley M. Foster has already taken up the work in the Department of English as a successor to succeeded H. V. Cory, resigned. Mr. Foster taught in the Summer School. He came to Delaware from Columbia University.

Dr. John Robert Moore is an addition to the English Department, made necessary by the increasing number of students in the two Colleges. Dr. Moore comes from Harvard University, highly recommended.

Colonel Edwin P. Pendleton, retired, succeeds Major William F. Hoey, Jr., as Military Instructor.

Possibly no department of Delaware College has seen so many changes in its personnel in the past six months as the Agricultural Department. The following is a list of those who have come and gone since the first of April:

Dr. E. M. R. Lamkey, from the University of Illinois, to take charge of the new department of Plant Physiology.

Prof. R. V. Mitchell is the professor of Poultry Husbandry. He succeeded H. V. Cory, resigned, who accepted a captaincy in the United States Army.

C. E. Neff, from the University of Missouri, as Assistant Agronomist in the Experiment Station.

W. J. Young, who is a graduate of the University of Syracuse with the advanced degree of M. S. from the University of Washington, is Assistant Horticulturist in the Experiment Station.

Frank Hayes, who has the degree of Ph.D. from the Iowa College, succeeded M. F. Grimes as Assistant Professor of Animal Husbandry.

R. W. Goss, from the University of Wisconsin, succeeds Dr. Elliott, resigned, who has accepted the chair of Plant Pathologist at the University of Arkansas.

H. T. King succeeded L. W. Tarr as Assistant Chemist in the Experiment Station.

Howard T. Ruhl is leader of Boys and Girls' Club work in the Extension Department.

Miss Gertrude M. Blodgett has been appointed State Leader of Home Demonstration Agents to succeed Miss Elizabeth Jefferson, whose resignation takes effect November 1st.

Miss Ethel M. Dole is county home demonstration agent for Kent County. At present Miss Dole is working under the provision of the Emergency Fund recently passed by the United States Congress.

Miss Clara M. Nixon is county home demonstration agent for Sussex County, working in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

M. O. Pence, well-known to Delawareans, has assumed the position as State Leader of County Agents and Jesse Stutzman, who has the degree of A. B. from Goshen College, Goshen, Ind., and B. S. from the Agricultural College of Michigan, has just been recommended to the trustees and to the extension service at Washington for the appointment of county agent of New Castle County under the provision of the Emergency Fund.

James Speirs, who has been herdsman and farm foreman for the past four years will resign on November 1st to take charge of his own farm in Prince Edward's Island, Canada. He will be succeeded as farm superintendent by Thomas Kinch of Nyack, N. Y.

Charles McPherson, who has been herdsman at the College Farm for the past year, will resign October 1st to accept a similar position with Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N. J., and George Atkinson has been promoted to succeed him.

Miss Florence Colbert of Newark, has accepted the position as stenographer for the Agronomy Department and Miss Alice Hoffecker is stenographer for the Horticultural Department. Miss Esther Foster, who has taken the four years' course in Secretarial studies at Simmons College, Boston, has accepted the position as librarian of the Experiment Station Library, and stenographer for the extension staff.

New members of the faculty at the Women's College include Dr. Qualita Drake, graduate of Harvard, who will teach Chemistry; Miss Mary D. Bigelow, graduate of Wellesley College, instructor in Athletics; and Miss Dorothy E. Ware, graduate of the University of Michigan, as instructor in Botany. Dr. Moore, Dr. McGoughan, Dr. Clarke and Mr. Foster, of Delaware College, will also teach at the Women's College.

PEOPLES' COLUMN

A WORD FROM BROOKLINE

To the Editor of The Post:

Sir: As a friend of both "Town" and "Gown" at Newark, I beg space for a word touching a mutually vexing question that has arisen between the two. If the College has laid a beautiful, durable, and suitable bit of pavement, as an architecturally consistent approach to one of its buildings, it seems a pity that the Town should insist that it be removed to make place for a kind of pavement less beautiful, and probably less durable. Town and Gown at Newark were always on good terms, and their sole rivalry should be to see that each is worthy of the other. The College has set a fine architectural example to the Town, and the Town has greatly awakened to a sense of civic neatness and sanitation. Town and Gown should grow in beauty together, for if either lags behind the other in the essentials that make for a fine modern community both must suffer. As the educational capital of Delaware, Newark, like Dover as the political capital, can live solely for itself, but must try to be worthy not only of the local community but of the whole State. I see no reason why Newark should not become the model village of the whole Peninsula. Local alien, homelick stranger, as I can not help feeling anywhere outside of Delaware, I recognize that the town of my present residence, Brookline, Massachusetts, is probably the most civilized community on this continent. Brookline furnishes an illustrative case in point apropos of the controversy between Town and Gown at Newark. We have here, granolithic, board, cinder, and other sidewalks, according to the local needs of our several civic areas. Not long since a neighboring family came into a few millions of dollars, and about transforming a comfortable, but modest house into a palace. The owners, in order that their surroundings might be self-consistent, obtained permission to lay in front of their premises, not the local granolithic pavement, but a beautiful flagged walk, and now I never lose the opportunity of using that bit of sidewalk, for I thus seem to feel that my neighbor's wealth gilds a little my squalid poverty.

E. N. VALLANDIGHAM.

DISTRICT BOARD ISSUES STATEMENT

On Supply Information To Those Concerned With Draft

When the District Board for the State of Delaware was organized, it was confronted with the problem of reviewing several thousand appeals from the decisions of the seven Local Boards within the State of Delaware, and in addition, it faced direct jurisdiction over at least 1,500 additional claims for occupational exemptions on Industrial or Farming Grounds.

The District Board was also charged by the President with the responsibility of unifying exemption practices throughout the State of Delaware, so that absolute equity, so far as humanly possible, under the rules and regulations laid down by the President would be extended to all those drafted. The District Board decided at the time of organizing that it would open offices at the most convenient centers to assist the people concerned with the draft in securing full information and every opportunity granted under the Selective Law and the rules laid down by the President.

The District Board also instructed that its offices should have sufficient clerks thoroughly instructed as rapidly as possible in the problems affecting the draft and exemption therefrom, so that every applicant should receive full and complete information and should further be assisted in preparing his case.

The instructions of the District Board also provided that every clerk should render such assistance freely and courteously, and if full information could not be accurately given on any point honestly questioned by the applicant, that such information should be sought by the clerk and advice forwarded as promptly as possible thereafter, by mail or otherwise, to the Inquirer.

The District Board wishes the public to understand its policy of helpfulness in this respect and if any Inquirer does not receive the full and courteous consideration needed by him in preparing his claims and affidavits, the circumstances should be immediately reported to some member of the Board or to E. H. Brennan, Jr., Manager.

DISTRICT BOARD FOR STATE OF DELAWARE.
By Charles Warner, Chairman.

POULTRY KEEPING IN WAR TIME

Characteristics Of Non-Laying Hens

During the past month the Poultry Department of Delaware College has conducted a number of demonstrations in the three counties of Delaware. In nearly every meeting Professor Mitchell who had charge of the work showed the poultry keepers how easy it is to select the birds in their flocks that had never laid, were not laying, and in all probability never would lay.

The importance of this kind of work is obvious to all who are familiar with the exceedingly high cost of poultry feed at the present time. Under existing conditions the poultrymen who carries birds who are not productive are suffering a heavy loss.

When the demonstrations were held Professor Mitchell asked the poultry keepers whose flocks were chilled according to his methods to report the number of eggs produced before and after the condemned birds were taken out of the flock. The results show that as high as 150 birds have been culled out of a flock of 400 without reducing the egg production. This work has been practiced in an experimental way or several years and it has been found that in checking up with trap nests the method used by professor Mitchell is accurate in a very marked degree. It is unnecessary for the flock owners of Delaware to feed birds that will not lay and that will command a good price for meat in the open market at this time.

Some of the characteristics of non-laying hens are yellow shanks and beaks and a yellow edge around the upper and lower eyelid. This pigment gradually disappears if the bird lays and in heavy producers will almost entirely disappear. It seems that the yellow color of the shank, beak, and eyelid is transferred to the yolk of the egg and in birds that are exceptionally good layers the transformation is almost complete.

Another indication of poor layers is early molting. When Lady Eglantine laid 314 eggs at the competition recently conducted at Delaware College it was very noticeable that she did not molt until after November 1. It is well known that a hen does not molt and lay at the same time and if a hen molts in mid-summer it is safe to assume that she is not a good producer.

Professor Mitchell is at liberty to visit poultry keepers in any part of the state to assist them in selecting their layers for the coming season, and anyone who would like to have his assistance for this purpose will do well to write him at an early date at the Poultry Department of Delaware College, Newark, Del.

Parker's Slayers Refused Mercy

The State Board of Pardons, by a majority vote on Thursday, at Dover, refused to grant a commutation of sentence to Webster Purnell, Adam Hargis and W. H. Prettyman convicted of the murder of Harry Parker at Lewes. They were to have been hanged on July 27 but were reprieved by Governor Townsend to permit of submitting newly discovered evidence. This evidence did not impress the majority of the Pardons Board, and the trio will be hanged at Greenbank on September 28, if no given another respite.

ECONOMIZE ON ELECTRIC CURRENT

It is perfectly possible to cut the domestic consumption of current used for light in half. The following points are fundamental:

(1) Remember to turn out every light not in actual use.

(2) Remember that a carbon lamp of candle-power equal to a tungsten costs more than twice as much to burn, therefore use tungstens exclusively.

(3) Do not use higher power lights than necessary. For all lights which burn for long periods such as porch, hall and bath-room lamps use 10 watt lamps. For general purpose lamps use 25 watt lamps. No lamp in a small home should be over 40 watts.

For a family of four, light under existing conditions should cost as a minimum $2.30 average per month or approximately $30.00 a year. Anything over this is clear waste in most cases. It is possible to cut down the existing minimum to an average of $1.80 per month which in a city of 100,000 inhabitants represents a saving of $12,500.00 a month or $150,000.00 a year on domestic light alone. If the same idea of economy were carried to the consumers of light for electric signs, etc. the gain would be enormous.

Don'ts For The Jelly Maker

Don't have soft jelly.—You will if you use more sugar than is required for the fruit juices or if you do not boil the juice long enough after the sugar has been added to drive off the excess of water.

Don't have tough jelly.—You will if you use too small an amount of sugar for the quantity of juice or if you boil your juice too long after the jelling point has been reached.

Don't have crystals in jelly.—These appear when there is an excess or deficiency of sugar. They are found sometimes when the juice has been boiled to too great a concentration before the addition of sugar or when the syrup spatters on the side of the pan, where it dries and is eventually carried into the finished product, seeding it with crystals. In grape jelly making crystals may be more certainly prevented by using a small portion of apple jelly juice, or, better, orange pectin solution, as suggested in Farmers' Bulletin No. 859, entitled "Home Uses for Muscadine Grapes."

Don't have cloudy jelly.—This may be due to having cooked the fruit too long before straining the juice or to not having used sufficient care in straining. Apple or crabapple jelly sometimes grows cloudy on standing, principally because partly green fruit has been used.

If you wish to know just how to make good, bright, clear jelly, send a card to the Division of Publications, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., asking for a copy of Farmers' Bulletin 853, "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables."

Returning from a visit to her parents at Appleton, Mrs. A. T. Stanford, of Camden, N. J., found her home stripped of furniture and her husband missing. A warrant was issued, it is stated, for his arrest.

The Second Liberty Loan

Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury has issued a statement that the campaign to sell the second issue of Liberty Loan Bonds will close on the first of November, 1917, and the active campaign will begin not later than a month before that date.

The Secretary explains that details of the second loan cannot be given out until final action has been taken by Congress upon the war bond bill now pending but announces that as soon as a new law has been passed the details will be given out.

The Secretary expresses a hope that all existing Liberty Loan committees will perfect that organizations and new organizations be effected in readiness for the next campaign. As in the first campaign the campaign in each Federal Reserve District will be under the supervision of the Federal Reserve Bank, which will act as the fiscal agent of the Government.

Jolt From Car Proves Fatal

John H. Griffith, aged about 23 years, of Brooklyn, New York, who with several other employees of a travelling carnival, bound from Darby, near Chester, to Highlandtown, a Baltimore suburb, was riding in a car of a train on the P. B. & W. R. R. on Sunday afternoon, was jolted or fell from it as it was about to round the curve above the jail crossing at Elkton. He landed on his head receiving a fatal blow. One foot was entirely and the other partially severed by car wheels. The train was stopped some distance below Elkton, and one of Griffith's comrades went back to look for him and found him dead. He stated that they were all dozing in the car and that Griffith was either jolted out or fell out of the car door. Coroner Litzenberg held an inquest in the evening, the jury rendering a verdict of death due to accident. Griffith had joined the company at Chester on Saturday night.

RUSSELL AS A STAR BOXER

In Shackles Of Truth At The Opera House

William Russell, the athletic star of a new Mutual-American feature production, "Shackles of Truth," gives a most thrilling exhibition of his boxing skill in the fight scene with Alfred Vosburgh, knocking his opponent out with a ripping uppercut that makes spectators gasp.

Mr. Russell's new play is one of the best in which he has ever appeared for the screen. It is a story of conflict between love and filial duty that affords the versatile young actor splendid opportunities for the display of his varied talents, all of which he accepts.

"Shackles of Truth," was written for Mr. Russell by Julius Grinnell Furthmann, one of the best known writers of motion picture drama. The play was directed by Edward Sloman, who has directed many of the Russell successes, among them "The Twinkler," "My Fighting Gentleman," and "The Frame-up."

"Shackles of Truth," reveals Mr. Russell in the role of a young lawyer with a treacherous partner who tries to rob him of his sweetheart and blast his political future by taking advantage of a family secret which he threatens to reveal. The great fight takes place in the library of Gerard Hale's home when Luther Snaith, the plotter, stands at last revealed.

That Russell-Vosburgh fight bids fair to become one of the classics of the screen for it is certainly a thriller.

The play is one of the most convincing examples of motion picture drama recently put forth and it contains every element for popularity.

The play will be shown at the Newark Opera House on Thursday, September 13th. —Adv.

BASEBALL SEASON NEAR END --FOOTBALL TO SOON START

CONTINENTAL HAS GOOD SEASON

Rain Prevents Iron Hill Game

Local baseball fans were keenly disappointed on Saturday when rain prevented the game scheduled with Iron Hill. There is much friendly rivalry between these two teams and the Continental boys are anxious to get a crack at their neighbors. A game between the two teams will be played, however, before the close of the season. Continental has Park A. C. scheduled for a game here next Saturday but there is talk of this game being cancelled to play Iron Hill. In case this is not done the Iron Hill game will be arranged for Saturday of next week and should attract a large crowd.

"Billy" Jackson, who played such fine ball for Newark for several seasons in the Tri-County League, is now manager of Continental and has the team playing a fine article of ball. In addition "Billy" is also covering third base in fine form.

Notwithstanding the fact of several of the players leaving the team in mid season Continental has had a good year. Up until this time the team has won 12 and lost 5 games. Four of the defeats were by the strong Yorklyn team of which "Billy" Marsey, a former popular Newark player, is manager. The other defeat was by Tremont but the locals later evened up matters by defeating Tremont one game. Continental has won from such teams as H and H Company boilermakers, Park A. C., Keystone A. C., Hagley, Chestertown, New Castle, Bancroft, Delaware Hard, and several other teams.

There have been numerous changes during the year but the team that has been playing consistent ball of late consists of: Tinsman, pitcher; W. Crowe, catcher; Ewing, first base; Grif Moore, second; Jackson, third; Rex Willis, stop; Fulton, left field; Roberts, centre, and Hopkins, right. Price and A. Crowe have pitched clever ball at times and Del Lovett also worked one or two games in the box. Marvel and Ritz have done some of the catching in addition to W. Crowe. Others who have played on the team during the season include, Jake Hogan, J. Fossett, P. Fossett, Robinson and Tarker.

The season will close September 29th. This Saturday the team will clash with Iron Hill on the Delaware Avenue field.

DELAWARE LOOK- ING FOR COACH

To Take Place Of Lieutenant McAvoy

With the opening of college but one week off Delaware is without a football coach to succeed William J. McAvoy, now a first lieutenant in the army and located at Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va. Realizing the importance and urgency of the situation however, the college officials are making efforts to secure a reliable coach to take charge of the squad as soon as college opens and there may be an important announcement in that line in a few days. Dean E. Laurence Smith who is also president of the Athletic Council is in New York today on business connected with the college and will make an effort to get a line on a coach at the same time.

Several weeks ago it was thought that the difficulty about a coach had been settled for at least this season in two young men who had been secured for other positions but who had also had experience in coaching and playing on football teams. Both of these men have since resigned to enter branches of the service. One was W. W. Woods, who was to come to Delaware as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. He played centre on Penn State for several years and was expected to help out in coaching the local team this season. Mr. Woods, however, it is understood has resigned to enter Y. M. C. A. work in connection with the war. The other man was C. G. Cook, who was to come to Delaware as an assistant in the Modern Language Department and who played on Ohio Wesleyan College team for several years. He has also resigned to enter the service.

While a number of last years varsity have either graduated, left college or entered various branches of the service the team has not been crippled as badly as was expected. At least seven of the varsity men will be back. They are captain Ernie Wilson, tackle; Carter and Lauritsen, guards; Clancy and Meyers, ends; and Marston and Loose, backfield men. It is in the backfield that the Blue and Gold is mostly crippled. Really the only regular varsity man who will be back is Loose. Marston, who played end and the half back in several games, will no doubt be used in the backfield and probably at quarter.

The loss of "Mike" Fidance, the sturdy little quarter back, will probably be felt more than any other one man. "Mike" played three seasons at quarter on the varsity and made one of the best quarters that Delaware ever had. He graduated in June. Weldin, who played full back, left college before the end of last year and Selby, one of the half backs, is a corporal in a New Jersey regiment.

It is understood that Stewart, who played centre, will not return to College. Ashenback, one of last year's tackles, also left before the close of the college year. There will be a centre and one tackle needed. Both Al O'Daniel, now second lieutenant in Company E, and McCorkindale, who is in the Naval Reserve Corps were substitute centre's last year. Another faithful scrub man, who will be missed, is Wilson O'Daniel, scrub quarter back for three seasons and who has a second lieutenant's commission in the regular army.

Some of the promising material on the 1916 scrubs will be back including Williams and Roach, so with the new material that should be available in the unusually large class that is expected there should not be great trouble in getting together a fairly strong team. Anthony Vita, from one of the Philadelphia high schools, and is said to be a good backfield player, has applied for entrance.

The schedule arranged by Manager Bowen is of the strongest that Delaware has had for years. The season will open on Saturday, October 6, when the Blue and Gold play Maryland State at College Park. The remainder of the schedule follows:

October 13—Haverford at Haverford

October 20—Western Maryland at Newark

October 27—Dickinson at Newark

November 3—Galladet at Newark

November 10—Stevens at Hoboken

November 17—Swarthmore at Newark

Thanksgiving Day—Mt. St. Mary's at Newark

This will make five games at home and three away.

About Some Players

"Pete" Ewing, who was given a trial in the Blue Ridge League and later pitched in the All-Wilmington League, is now employed at the Old Depot and is covering first base for Continental.

"Dick" Morris, the well-known local player who played part of the season in the All-Wilmington League, returned recently from a trip to Toronto, Detroit and other points. "Dick" says he saw many signs of the great war while in Canada and that in Toronto hundreds of returned wounded soldiers could be seen on the streets.

"Jake" Hogan, who played several games with the Continental team this season, recently resigned his position at the Curtis Paper Mills to accept one with the du Pont Powder Company. He is elevator conductor at the market street entrance of the duPont building.

W. Morris Pierson, of Wilmington, who caught such a clever game for Delaware College the past season will not likely return to college this fall, as it is understood, he will enter a medical college in Philadelphia.

"Doc" Doherty, who played on the Delaware College varsity for four years and captained the team two seasons, is in the engineering department of the Atlas Powder Company and was recently sent to a plant of the company in Tennessee. "Doc" graduated in 1916 and this season up until the time he left Wilmington, he managed the Brownsen team of the All-Wilmington League.

Vannort, who played such a crack game with Elkton in the Tri-County League two years ago and who has been playing in the All-Wilmington League, may enter Delaware this fall.

Harry J. S. Establishes Another World Record

Driven by Herman R. Tyson, the noted local driver and trainer, Harry J. S., the famous black stallion established another world's record on Friday of last week when he trotted an exhibition mile on the Wawaset track, Wilmington, during the State Fair in 2.07 1/2. This was the fastest mile ever trotted on a half mile track by a stallion. This clipped 1/4 second off the world's record already held by Harry J. S. and which he made at the Goshen, N. Y., track on August 14, of this year. At Red Bank, N. J., last week he also established a new record for that track when he trotted the mile in 2.11 1/4. Harry J. S. holds more records than any other stallion in the world. It is reported that this will be his last year on the track.

Drowned In Sight Of Crowd

Mrs. Frances Reagin, of 608 South Van Buren Street, Wilmington, was drowned on Sunday night of last week by a freight train and broken in two. The two younger boys were killed and the elder's head was gashed. The mother and the driver of the car, Alfred Raikes, escaped injury.
