NEWARK POST, NEWARK, DEL., AUGUST 19, 1914

NUMBER 30

MILITIA ON DUTY

Company E. received a summons from militia headquarters last evening about four o'clock, which at first sounded like a "call to the front."

A dispatch ordering the men to assemble in readiness to depart at a moment's notice for Wilmington to aid in dispersing the crowds which it was feared would gather in that city, owing to the recent threatened race riot, was received by Captain Jacobs at 4 p. m. The work of mobilizing the men was begun immediately and by six o'clock all who were in town were at the armory awaiting orders. Of the fifty in the company, thirty-three men and two officers reported for duty.

The men remained at the armory until midnight when word was received from Wilmington that everything was quiet and the trouble apparently at an end.

Captain Jacobs visited headquarters on Monday completing arrangements for three days' rifle practice at the State Range. The company will spend September 14, 15, and 16 at the range, qualifying in general marksmanship.

PRESIDENT'S WARNING

A Plea For Dispassionate Judgement

"The effect of the war upon the United States will depend upon what American citizens say and do. Every man who really loves America will act and speak in the true spirit of neutrality, which is the spirit of impartiality and fairness and friendliness to all concerned. The spirit of the nation in this critical matter will be determined largely by what individuals and society and those gathered in public meetings do and say, upon what newspapers and magazines contain, upon what ministers utter in their pulpits, and men proclaim as their opinions on the street.

"The people of the United States are drawn from many nations and chiefly from the nations now at war. It is natural and inevitable that there should be the utmost variety of sympathy and desire among them with regard to the issues and circumstances of the conflict. Some will wish one nation, others another to succeed in the momentous struggle.

"I venture, therefore, my fellow-countrymen, to speak a solemn word of warning to you against that deepest, most subtle, most essential breach of neutrality which may spring out of partisanship, out of passionately taking sides. The United States must be neutral in fact as well as in name during these days that are to try men's souls. We must be impartial in thought as well as in action, must put a curb upon our sentiments as well as upon every transaction that might be construed as a preference of one party to the struggle before another.

"My thought is of America. I am speaking, I feel sure, the earnest wish and purpose of every thoughtful American that this great country of ours, which is, of course, the first in our thoughts, and in our hearts, should show herself in this time of peculiar trial a nation far beyond others to exhibit the fine poise of undisturbed judgement, the dignity of self-control, the efficiency of dispassionate action, a nation that neither sits in judgement upon others nor is disturbed in her own counsels and which on every transaction that might be construed as a preference of one party to the struggle before another keeps herself fit and free to do what is honest and disinterested and truly serviceable for the peace of the world.

"Shall we not resolve to put upon ourselves the restraint which will bring to our people the happiness and the great and lasting influence for peace we covet for them?"

(Extracts from recent statement by President Wilson.)

Investigating Sunday Law

Child Falls From Car Window

Much excitement was created this morning on an immigrant train bound from Baltimore for southern Delaware, over the Pennsylvania road, when a child fell from the car-window to the platform at Elkton station. The youngster was leaning from the window when she lost her balance and fell. Although badly frightened, an examination by Doctor Kollock revealed that the child was in no way hurt. Her name could not be learned.

The convention will elect 12 members of the State Committee and pass on the amendment to the National Constitution's rules changing representation in that body which does not affect that of Delaware.

CROWDS ENJOY HARVEST HOME

All Former Records Broken

The popularity of the Harvest Home held in Whiteman's Grove last Thursday under the auspices of the Ebenezer M. E. Church, exceeded that of all previous years. Over two thousand persons visited the grove during the day and indulged in the various sports provided. Chorus singing led by Geo. L. Denny was a pleasing feature of the day. The Kemblesville band enlivened the woods with swinging tunes, and the speakers, chosen for their ability, gave their listeners some startling facts and food for future thought.

Politicians held out the glad hand to everyone and campaigned on all sides. The children found fun aplenty on the big sand pile provided for them, while the lovers of the national game rooted for their favorite team in the baseball match between the boys of Red Clay and Ebenezer, the latter trouncing the visitors to a lively tune.

About $375 has been cleared to date, with probably a few of the receipts not yet turned in to the treasurer. This is the largest sum ever realized from the day. Dinner was served by the ladies to about six hundred people and supper to probably half as many. Congratulations to the workers of Ebenezer for their splendid success.

Extension Course In Home Economics

Miss Winifred Robinson, dean of the new Women's College, announces that an extension course in Home Economics will be given during the coming year. This course is made possible by the recent passage by Congress of the Smith Lever bill, as a result of which Delaware will receive about $10,000 a year for extension work in agriculture and allied subjects. Although plans have not yet been perfected, Miss Robinson states that the work will be given under the general direction and supervision of Professor Myrtle Candell, head of the department of Home Economics in the Women's College, that it will consist chiefly of work in sewing and cooking, that it will be conducted by means of correspondence and classes at various centers throughout the State. In the selection of these centers, those in charge of the work will take into consideration the convenience of the greatest number of applicants.

Parents Seek Son

The parents of Hillary Russell, aged 19, only son of W. W. Russell, a farmer living near Bridgeville, who left his home on August 8, are seeking to learn his whereabouts. He is of medium height, stout build, with light hair and complexion and wore a suit of greenish shade, tan shoes, green stockings, a yellow working shirt and a brown crocheted tie.

FARMERS PLAN TO CO-OPERATE

Meeting In Pencader Hundred

The Pencader Hundred Farmers' Club held their second meeting at the Welsh Tract School House last evening. Twenty-eight farmers have enrolled and seem ready for business based on co-operation. After several points of the organization were discussed, the subject of seed and phosphate prices was considered. Quotations on timothy seed have been received. It is understood that other quotations will follow that will make it interesting to the farmer. The price is not only a matter of concern to the farmer but also a guaranteed article subject to test.

The success of this organization is assured—provided the farmers "stick" and there is every indication that they will.

It has been formed along simple lines and can be made broader as experience and demand warrant.

Republican Meeting Next Friday

A meeting of White Clay Republicans has been called for Friday evening for the purpose of naming candidates for the Hundred offices. Much interest is being manifested in this meeting and a big turnout is expected. Candidates for State Senator and Representative are being considered of special importance at this time.

Several names have been mentioned. For Senator Dr. A. Houchin; Representative, Harvey Hoffecker, Ex-Representative J. P. Armstrong, and George L. Brooks. Those being talked of for Representative are Palmer Dickey, Robert S. Gallaher and Charles Medill.

Not A Candidate

George L. Brooks who has been mentioned as candidate for Senator from this district, when questioned concerning his position, stated that he is not a candidate for any office. Friends of Mr. Brooks have urged him to permit the use of his name but he has consistently refused. Mr. Brooks is an active worker here and is well acquainted with conditions.

Special Council Meeting

A special meeting of Council for the purpose of making a final settlement with T. R. Claringbold, for work done on Main street, was held in Council Chamber Monday evening. No other business was transacted.

Middletown Creamery Fire

Fire, thought to have been caused by lightning, last Monday night burned a lot of boxes piled in the storage warehouses of the Middletown Farms Creamery, causing a loss of $400. The building was of concrete, as are the others of the plant, and was not damaged by the flames.

Alumnus Shows Interest In Delaware

Among the letters received by the publicity committee of the Faculty in regard to the booklet entitled "Views of Delaware College" which the committee recently prepared and distributed, was one of especial interest to every person connected in any way with the College. This letter was from Rev. Ephraim Whitaker, class of '47, probably the oldest living alumnus of Old Delaware. The letter is of noteworthy significance as showing the strong feeling of esteem and loyalty which the alumni, especially the older alumni, bear toward the institution of learning at which they received their life training.

After graduation from Delaware College in 1847, Mr. Whitaker did graduate work in the same institution, receiving the degree of A. B. in 1850. In 1867 Yale conferred upon him an honorary degree and in 1877 his Alma Mater conferred upon him the degree of D. D. In addition to holding many places of trust and honor in the Presbyterian Church, he has been Councillor of the Long Island Historical Society since 1863, honorary member of New Haven Colony Historical Society, and a member of several other historical societies. He is, moreover, the author of a number of books, including New Fruits from an Old Field, 1865; History of Southold, 1640-1740; Leaves of All Seasons—Hymns and Other Verses, 1894; History of the Presbyterian Church of Fairfield, N. J. New Haven Colony's Adventure on the Delaware Bay; Introduction to the Printed Town Records of Southold, Vol. I, 1882, Vol. II, 1884; Introduction to printed report of Celebration of 850th Anniversary of Southold; Early Presbyterianism on Long Island; The American Union of Church and State; The Growth of Suffolk County; The Last Fifty Years of Suffolk County; also many pamphlets.

The Reverend Mr. Whitaker is an alumnus who has made good, of whom Delaware College may well feel proud. Although in his 95th year he still takes a keen interest in the activities and the general welfare of his Alma Mater.

Pleasant Auto Trip

Messrs. Morris Ewing, Delbert Smith and Walter Pennock have returned home after a four hundred mile motor trip which included the Eastern Shore of Maryland. The trip was made in Mr. Emory Ewing's machine, and the distance was covered in one week. On their return the party stopped at Betterton, where they spent several days at the "Ferncliffe."

Real Estate Changes Hands

S. K. Chambers, real estate agent West Grove, Pa., has sold the Thomas Hindman farm of sixty-one acres in Franklin Township, belonging to the James Renick heirs, to F. A. M. Russell of Newark, for $4,000. Mr. Russell will move there on April 1st.

CANNING SEASON BEGINS

Work is being rushed on the installation of machinery by the Ritter Preserve Co., South Newark, preparatory to the opening of the season next week. The cannery is equipped with all modern and sanitary machinery which makes it rank with the best in the land. This is the fifth factory to be located throughout the country by the main company in Philadelphia.

During this, the first season, tomatoes only will be handled. The entire crop will be made into catsup. About seventy-five people will be employed and the management is making every effort to use only native labor.

Wilmington Men Entertained

Fifty business men of Wilmington were guests on Thursday of the North East, Cecil county, Board of Trade, and were taken on a trip on launches to Turkey Point and the Battery at Havre de Grace. Dinner was served at Red Point Fishery on the North East river.

Women's College Closed To Visitors

Owing to the fact that the contractors will begin shortly the work of oiling the floors and interior woodwork, it will be necessary to close the buildings of the new Women's College to visitors on Wednesday, August 19, for a period of about two or three weeks. The buildings are rapidly nearing completion, and will be ready for classes before the opening of the College on September 15.

New Superintendent Makes Suggestions

City Schools Superintendent Clifford J. Scott of Wilmington, recommends to the Board of Education reorganization of the High School's teaching corps. Six teachers, he says, are wasting time reviewing the studies of pupils in the lower grades. He thinks the High School with 1,000 pupils studying more than 50 subjects too stiff a proposition for one man, if he is to supervise all departments and adjust minor troubles of the pupils. He urges that heads of departments be held responsible for quality and quantity of work, done in the school, for irregularities in department and attendance; and for distribution and use of supplies in each department.

NEWARK CINCHES THE PENNANT

Scott Gregg made the hit off Smickel the West End pitcher, in the ninth inning of Saturday's game which gave Newark its first pennant in the Tri-County League. This hit which drove in the run winning the game 3 to 2, cinched the pennant for the local club. Even should Newark lose all the remaining scheduled games and Elkton the runner-up, win all their games, yet to be played, Newark would still have a lead of one game.

From the start of the season Newark has played fast consistent baseball and has easily outclassed all the other clubs in the league. While every member of the team has done his share towards winning the pennant yet much of the credit for the showing of the club is due Hogan who has pitched 15 of the 17 games played. The clever southpaw has been defeated but twice this season, once by Elk Mills and once by Rising Sun, while he has won 13 games counting the victory over Elk Mills that President Kay decided should be played over. Whitman pitched two games winning one and losing one. The team has been a well balanced one both in the field and at the bat and the infield is recognized as the fastest that any Tri-County club has ever got together.

The victory over the West End Club on Saturday was not near as easy as many fans had expected, and it proved one of the most interesting games of the year. West End tied the score in the ninth and Newark won out in their part of the ninth inning. While Hogan was hit freely he always tightened up with men on the bases. He fanned 14 and did not give a pass. Smickel pitched fine ball for West End and was well supported. The score follows:

It took Elkton twelve innings to defeat Oxford 3 to 1 on Saturday. Both Clay and Smith gave a classy exhibition of pitching but the former received the best support. The score by innings follows:

RISING SUN AGAIN DOWNS ELK MILLS

Rising Sun and Elk Mills had a batting matinee on Saturday, the former winning out by the score of 11 to 8. The latter team is apparently out of the running for second place unless the club takes a decided brace. The score by innings follows:

R. H. E.

Elk Mills 1 1 0 0 0 1 3 1 1 8 15 2

BOOSTS AND KNOCKS

Gregg's pretty drive to left brought the pennant to Newark.

A series between Newark and Bancroft winners of the All-Wilmington League pennant for the championship of the State would be a good proposition.

Poor old Elk Mills is sure going some backwards. If the schedule had a month more to run Elk Mills would probably strike bottom.

"Nim" Gray gives promise of making a good man for Newark next year.

The West End Club gave the locals a surprise and touched Hogan more freely than he has been hit for sometime.

West End will be here again next Saturday, the game having been transferred because of Elkton playing at home on that day.

Charlie Beatty had an off day in the field but was a nifty man with the stick.

Elkton continues to play fine ball and is defeating all comers with the exception of Newark.

Elk Mills and Rising Sun are the only clubs in that league that have won from Newark this season.

Winning thirteen out of fifteen games is pitching some, yet that is Hogan's record to date.

The fans do not seem to take strongly to the plan of Newark playing a series of five games with the club finishing second. The locals have demonstrated that they have everything else in this league outclassed and the faithful would prefer to see a series with some other strong club, Bancroft for instance.

The habit of some teams in the Penn-Mar League not appearing for scheduled games is not fair to the other clubs. North East forfeited two games to Appleton this way last Saturday.

After losing to Providence on Saturday the Newark Field Club only has a slim chance for the pennant. Appleton looks like 1914 champions.

There are rumors of trouble in baseball affairs at Elk Mills. Pitcher Switzer has been released. The twirler is said to have asked about money coming him for the last three games that he pitched and he had no ten day clause attached to his contract.

Captain Morris got three hits out of four times up last Saturday which jumped his average above .400 again. The batting averages follow:

NEWARK F. C. LOST TO PROVIDENCE

Providence gave the Newark Field Club of the Penn-Mar League their bumps at Providence Saturday by the score of 10 to 6, when practically put the club out of the running for the pennant. Notwithstanding the fact that Newark got the line lead of six runs in the first two innings, which is certainly enough runs to win most any old ball game, the team went to pieces and allowed last year's champions to score at will after the second. NORTH EAST FORFEITS TWO GAMES

The North East team failed to appear at Appleton on Saturday for a scheduled double header and consequently forfeited both games to the leaders. This made it pretty soft for Appleton as these games in the win column practically assures the club of the pennant. Mrs. Rittenhouse Wins Pig

New Castle Grange held its annual picnic at the State Road Chapel Monday afternoon, when about 400 persons were in attendance. Many farmers from the adjoining hundreds were in attendance. The sports were full of interest and ranged from a nail driving contest to catching a young pig. The way twenty women chased that eight-weeks-old pig was a wonder, and Mrs. Rittenhouse won the prize.

Other winners were:
Nail driving contest—Mrs. Hamman, first; Mrs. H. Batton, second.
Potato race—Mrs. F. Talbot, first; Mrs. Slack, second.

Nail driving contest—A. Davidson, first; Samuel Miller, second.
Shoe race—Evan Miller, first; William Tidwell, second.

Boys' race—Eugene Barris, first; John Smith, second.

Rooster chase—B. Moore, winner.
Girls' race—Mary Richards, first; Frances Moore, second.

Bowling contest—Women, Mrs. Rittenhouse; men, John T. Hayes.

High shoe race—A. F. Davidson, first; Clarence Reed, second.

Bean guessing contest—M. A. Pyle. There were 2,000 beans in the jar, and he guessed 2113.

Apron and tie contest—James Gam and Mrs. Cranston, first; B. H. Moore and Mrs. L. White, second.

This was a contest where the man had to tie the apron on his partner and she tie a bow knot on him and then race to a given point. It was "some contest."

In the whistling contest of two stanzas of Yankee Doodle, Mrs. Bullen and Mrs. Cranston tied. There were eight contestants, and each one drew forth considerable applause.

Following the sports, ice cream and cake were served.

The judges were Sewell D. Scott, William Price and James F. Melvor.

Extension Work Of Delaware College

The college extension work offered by the faculty of Delaware College to the people of the State, which was started last spring by the extension committee consisting of Dr. E. V. Vaughn and Professors Short and Reed, will be enlarged and extended during the coming year. Several new lectures and courses have already been announced. Among these are two courses offered by the English department. These two courses should be of especial interest to teachers. A two-hour course in English composition, equivalent to the regular course for Freshmen, will be given on Saturday mornings throughout the year. Special attention will be given to the needs of teachers of English in the schools. Both grammar school and high school teachers will gain from this course excellent preparation for their work in all English branches. Those who wish information about this course should write to Professor W. O. Sypher, Newark, Del.

The second extension course will be a course in the classics of English and American literature. Students from all parts of the State will be able to take this course. The work will be carried on mainly through correspondence. Once a month the instructor will meet students from the three counties in towns easily accessible to the residents of each county. This course is recommended especially to teachers in all grades and to students preparing for entrance to college. For information as to all requirements, prospective students in this course are asked to write to Professor George E. Dutton, Newark, Delaware.

CHOOSE STRONG MEN

To win the next election in Hundred, County, and State, Republicans have only to use an ordinary amount of commonsense in the selection of candidates. More than ever before is the personnel of the candidates going to figure in the returns. The General Assembly will this next session be a business proposition. Partisan politics will not play so important a role. It becomes necessary, then that the Republicans see to it, very definitely, that men are put up who can meet the issues brought before them in a sane, business way. More business foresight and less political strategy is the requirement for office this year. The men chosen for candidates for the General Assembly should be men of standing in the community. They should be men of sufficient experience and recognized success as to demand the confidence of the voter. With such men, the contest will be an easy one. But any attempt at party rewards or compromises made to insure continued leadership, will be met with more independent votes than is calculated. The rank and file voter should see to it that no selfish ambition of a party worker be allowed to name the candidates. Politics is becoming to be an every man's duty rather than a game of the few.

The same is true of the county officers. The voter, today more than ever before, looks upon the Levy Court and other county offices as a business proposition. These men are directors of the county's finances. Candidates for re-election may expect a careful scrutiny of their work. A man who has failed to make good as a county financier, can not make party the basis of his claim.

To us, the ordinary voter, comes this task, unpleasant as it may be, to use common sense in the selection of our party's candidates. Let us have our candidates, those who have our confidence as men of some business sense and ability. The party presenting such to the questioning of an ever increasing independent vote, can well expect to win. Let the voters as well as the Hundred Committees take a voice in naming their candidates for office.

AT THE SERVICE OF THE FARMER

The success of the county agents appointed by the College Trustees under the Lever Extension bill, depends in large measure, upon the farmers themselves.

Delaware, under this bill, receives $10,000 from the United States Government. There is no question how this money is to be spent. The law is clearly defined and these county agents just appointed conform with the provisions of the Act.

These men, known as County Farm Agents, are actually at the direct service of the farmers. The County Agent is not a scientific man working in his laboratory who fails by very nature of his work, to speak in terms known to the farmer. The County Agent is first of all a practical man—an out-of-the-farm investigator. He knows the language of the laboratory man but uses this knowledge only so far as is practical in actual operation in the field. He is an experimenter but not to the disadvantage of the farm sales and net returns. He realizes that it is impossible at times to try an experiment, even though he is convinced it would pay. The farmer's first consideration is his crop. To find and suggest means for increasing that crop is an important work of the Agent.

Another important work of the Agent is to devise means for the buying and selling. This business side of farming has never received its due attention. Organization and Co-operation are the big words in the successful business world and only recently has the farmer realized his neglect. Our County Agent will keep in touch with all the successes and failures and give the farmer the benefit. By devoting his whole time to this, he should be able to outline a policy that would mean much to the farmers.

In our local county, Levi H. Cooch, well-known here, is already at work. Mr. Cooch is a farmer—he knows the stern practical side of farming. He knows that what is the right planting date this year, may be can't be done next year. Aside from that, his work as editor of farm journals here and in the West, has given him a vast amount of information that will probably help this community. He could not help but pick up ideas from the different sections, some of which no doubt, can be applied with success to local conditions.

Best of all, he knows us, our whims and prejudices. He has set to work with a determination that bespeaks success. He asks our co-operation. He does not ask to dictate the work but asks to assist.

Let every farmer get in the game and give this extension idea a tryout. It is a success elsewhere. Why not here? Let us work with Mr. Cooch and see if we can't make those old hills and valleys produce as never before. Better farms, better homes, has been ever the result of co-operation. It's a plain business proposition. If we do not agree with our County Agent, let us argue the question out with him and see who is right—but work with him always.

His duty is to serve—and so is ours.

SQUIBS

Were half the power that fills the world with terror,
Were half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts,
Given to redeem the human mind from error,
There were no need of arsenals and forts.

The warrior's name would be a name abhorred
And every nation that should lift again
Its hand against a brother, on its forehead
Would wear forevermore the curse of Cain.

This strict censorship on the war news reminds one of the New Century Club. The Post not having received any official reports will not print any war news this week.

Acting Mayor White, upon the advice of the Wilmington City Council instructed the Chief of Police to close all saloons at 6 o'clock during the riot. Is it possible that any thing gotten from a saloon incites the riot spirit? It always seemed a strange proceeding to close the saloon on election day and then go up to the polls and vote for the thing.

Strange, now, isn't it?

Mr. Hare, Director of the Anti-Saloon League of Maryland spent an hour inspecting the College Farm on Saturday morning of last week. Mr. F. V. L. Turner, representative of the North American in the International Egg Laying Competition, visited the College last Wednesday and expressed himself as very much pleased with the site for the Egg Laying Competition.

Ruth O'D, a Guernsey heifer in the College herd, is making quite an unusual butter record for a cow of her age. In the three months of May, June and July, she has produced 153 pounds of butter fat, which is the equivalent of 178 pounds of butter.

Dr. Reed spent most of last week in expert consultation with a number of large breeders of dairy cattle in West Virginia. Dr. Reed has rendered efficient service in Pennsylvania, Delaware, and West Virginia, in helping to overcome some of the most serious difficulties that occur in every breeding herd.

Dr. Manns, who was a member of the party of Plant Pathologists which have been studying the diseases of seed potatoes in northern Maine, Vermont, northern New York and Michigan, returned to Newark on Monday of this week. He reports a very pleasant and profitable trip.

OUT DOOR LIFE FOR GIRLS

Developing Wholesome Ideals

We have heard much in recent years of the Boy Scout movement, but probably comparatively few of us are acquainted with the splendid scheme for developing the best in girlhood, planned by Miss Lina Beard of Flushing, Long Island. The enthusiasm with which the idea, similar to that of the Scout organization, is being received over the country, may be best illustrated by the repetition of an instance which occurred a short time ago.

At a mountain house in the heart of the Poconos Miss Beard kindly volunteered to give some information concerning the work so near her heart. She informally addressed the crowd of guests gathered in the drawing room of the inn, telling simply and enthusiastically of the new organization, The Girl Pioneers of America. Following the talk the children were invited to come to ask questions if interested. Girls big and little flocked around her, and it was evident to an onlooker there was no trouble in prospect over the founding of a band. The object and ideals of the movement as set forth by Miss Beard follow:

The "Girl Pioneers of America" is an incorporated national movement to give to girls a joy in outdoor life, a code of honor, courage, physical development; to make the most of all the possibilities for good which lie dormant in girlhood. We have entered upon an era of conservation, Miss Beard declared. We are planning to save our forests from devastation; to keep our waterways pure, unchanged, deep. We have learned if we would have strong, noble, honorable principles in the coming generation, the best in our boys must be conserved; we must conserve in girls the principles of true womanliness.

The name "Pioneer" which has been given the girls' organization suggests the sterling qualities by which the early settlers founded America. It recalls the energetic, courageous woman, at the side of her mate, gallantly and faithfully bearing her share in the building of a great nation, the personification of qualities worthy of emulation by the girl of today. The organization stands for peace in the home, in the school, on the playground, and nourishes ideals of national and international peace.

The organization is divided into groups of from six to ten members, and bands consisting of two or three groups. At the head of every band is a director who must be at least twenty-one years of age. Girls under twelve are organized as juniors, and comply with simpler rulings than the full-fledged pioneers. The girls may qualify for first, second and third classes, each degree meaning a badge of honor.

In the activities of "Pioneer" life, great emphasis is placed upon home-making and home-life. A merit badge is given the girl who shows evidence of resourcefulness when faced by difficulties, or in making something to substitute for an article she cannot purchase. Home duties include the care of children and of the sick, and the preparation of wholesome food. The outdoor activities include the building, guarding, and extinguishing of camp fires, the sports of outdoors and the making of a camp. The girls make friends with the stars, the flowers, the shadows, and the innumerable phases of nature, which gave them a keen delight in life that no misfortune can take away. At a recent test four girl pioneers pitched a tent large enough to contain two cots, in two and a half minutes.

The girls are encouraged in all kinds of handicraft. The band in Flushing recently exhibited bay berry candles, not adulterated with tallow or wax. They have made a beautiful collection of basketry woven by themselves, and one hundred and fifty specimens of pressed flowers. In a twig-gathering contest the lowest number identified was eleven and the largest number one hundred seventy-five.

The organization insists upon the cultivation of the five senses. The girls play observation games out of doors and indoors, as a means of increasing the joy of living and safeguarding human life.

The uniform is a skirt made of khaki cloth, and possessing that most useful adornment, a pocket; bloomers, with two pockets; a mid-die with two pockets; a red necktie and a red-banded hat. The skirt which allows of taking long steps is discarded when in camp and on horseback.

The pioneer characteristic of resourcefulness is seen in the uniform for the skirt is made so that it can be quickly converted into a stretcher; the necktie may be used for a sling, or the skirt-stretcher may become a bed. The Pioneer colors are red, white, and blue which stand for the virtues of courage, purity, and truth. Their pledge is to speak the truth at all times and be honest in all things. The great object of the movement is to make the girls trustworthy, helpful, kind; to teach them to converse on happy, cheerful, wholesome topics; to become physically well and strong; to be self-respecting and keep their thoughts clean. It seeks to make the pioneer avoid speaking ill; to value others for their real worth rather than what they may happen to have; to develop the inner life. The organization is made up of avenues by which a girl may develop into a strong, splendid woman. Such is the tendency of all their songs, cheers, signs. The watchword "I can" bars the words "I can't" from the vocabulary. Their salute is "Brave heart; honest hand; happy mind." By the following of such ideals few can fail to develop the habit of looking for good in everyone, or be satisfied with anything but the true and good. The organization is growing rapidly and would seem destined, in the dawning appreciation of life in the open, for a wonderful future.

Prices Soaring, Speculators Blamed

Prices of food stuffs are soaring. Meat, flour and sugar have made decided advances with no prospects say the retailers of relief. The effect of the wholesale advance is already noticed in Newark. The following from last night's Evening Journal gives us a tip on local markets.

Sirloin, 33 cents per pound.
Round, 30 cents per pound.
Plitch, 18 cents per pound.
Stew meat, 16 to 20 cents per pound.
Rib roast, 25 cents per pound.
Lamb chops, 33 to 40 cents per pound.
Pork chops, 25 cents per pound.
Ham, 22 cents per pound, in pieces.
Ham, sliced, 40 cents per pound.
Bacon, 25 cents per pound, in pieces.
Bacon, sliced, 30 cents per pound.
Butter, 35c, 40c, 42c per pound, according to grade.
"Oleo", 25c per pound.
Frankfurters, 16 cents per pound.
Flour, family grade, $7.50 per barrel.
Family grade, in sacks, 50 cents and $1.
Lard, 5-pound cans, 85 cents.
Eggs, 28 to 30 cents dozen.
Sugar, white, granulated, 8 to 10 cents pound.

Dealers declare they see no chance for re-action and that it is probable further advances will follow. Aside from the failure of green stuffs and canned goods to go up there is no reassuring feature in the market and the pocketbooks of consumers will be hard hit all along the line.

Meat prices are up another $1 and straight beef is wholesaling at $15 and $16 a hundred. The market for pork is unusually strong. Quotations have gone $2 higher. Even corn beef in cans has felt the tendency toward higher prices and wholesale prices are 30 cents per dozen higher. Laundry starch prices have increased 25 cents a hundred, while imported cheese may be eaten only by millionaires. Sugar prices took another jump yesterday. This commodity is now wholesaling at $6.30 a barrel. This is an advance of 50 cents a hundred pounds. Another half cent has been tacked on the price of lard which is costing retail stores 12 1/2 cents a pound, or $12.50 a hundred only $2.50 less a hundred than beef.

Quotations on butter are 31 and 32 cents a pound wholesale, while eggs have taken another jump of 2 cents a dozen over last week's prices and are costing grocers 27 cents. This means that the retailer will be forced to get 28-30 cents or quit handling them.

Flour prices have gone ballooning, patent being quoted at $6.80 wholesale. Cheaper grades are wholesaling at from $5 to $5.75 a barrel. This product has gone up $1.10 a barrel, patent, during the past two weeks. The lower qualities have increased in price from 50 to 75 cents a barrel. Flour is retailing at $7.50 a barrel today. Consumers who buy in sacks pay 50 cents and $1.

Wilmington retailers are thoroughly angry as a result of the increases. They declare that the producers are speculating and purposely pushing up prices. Grocers and meat men deny that the war in Europe has anything to do with price elevating, as stated in some quarters, and assert the advances are doing them serious injury. In support of their contention that increased prices have come as a result of speculation, they point to beef and eggs. The assertion is made that cold storage beef is the best the Wilmington public is getting from the West, and that the declarations of war, which have been issued in Europe, could not have upset American hens to such a point that they are refusing to lay.

Some dealers point out that the plan on foot to provide vessels for export trade will work a serious hardship on Wilmington consumers. They say that prices are already high enough, and that they will be prohibitive in the event grain, meats, etc., are shipped to Europe and England. Efforts to provide for exportation and the repeated increases in flour, sugar, meat and egg prices cause retailers and consumers to take a gloomy view of the future.

Mr. Kolb of the extensive Kolb Bakeries of Philadelphia expresses himself in no uncertain terms and places the blame on speculators.

Mr. Kolb says that this country is better prepared to export wheat than ever before, with the wheat crop just harvested being larger by more than 100,000,000 bushels than that of last year.

Before the war scare came flour was selling at a lower figure than for years. The July prices for this year were 30 cents below the price one year ago. Now the price has gone to $1.50 a barrel and wheat jumped three cents a bushel yesterday.

"It is nothing short of a crime," said Mr. Kolb, "to raise the price of flour to $1.50 a barrel at a time such as this. We have more wheat on our hands today than we know what to do with; but the prices are steadily rising when, according to conditions, they should be decreasing. Our elevators are filled with grain and the chances are that they will remain filled until the close of the war, when the grain will be sold to European countries at exorbitant prices. In the meantime the people of the United States will suffer."

"The only cause I can see for a rise in the price of wheat is speculation by brokers. A man who seeks to raise the price on any kind of food stuffs at a time like this should be dealt with by the public. There should be some law to control such speculation."

As The War Seems To Some Of Us

Says the Literary Digest: "The despair of an indignant and helpless world is found expressed in lines by Clinton Scollard that the New York Sun used at the head of its editorial page on Sunday, August 2:

THE RECKONING

What do they reckon who sit aloof on thrones,
Or in the chambered chancelleries apart,
Playing the game of state with subtle art,

If so be they win, what wretched groans
Rise from red fields, what unrecorded bones
Bleach within shallow graves, what bitter smart

Pierces the widowed or the orphaned heart—
The unhooded horror for which naught atones?

A word, a pen-stroke, and this might not be!
But vengeance, power-lust, festering jealousy
Triumph, and grim carnage stalks abroad.

Hark! Hear the ominous bugle on the wind!
And they who might have stayed it, shall they find

No reckoning within the courts of God?"

"In war time the agitation for woman suffrage goes into a natural state of coma. Then the women are apt to assume an equal position without argument, and the question of their place in the state needs no discussion."

HYMN BEFORE ACTION

By Rudyard Kipling

The earth is full of anger,
The seas are dark with wrath,
The Nations in their harness
Go up against our path;
Ere yet we loose the legions—
Ere yet we draw the blade,
Jehovah of the Thunders,
Lord God of Battles, aid!

High lust and froward bearing,
Proud heart, rebellious brow—
Deaf ear and soul uncaring,
We seek Thy mercy now!
The sinner that forsook Thee,
The fool that passed Thee by,
Our times are known before Thee—
Lord, grant us strength to die!

From panic, pride and terror,
Revenge that knows no rein,
Light haste and lawless error,
Protect us yet again.
Cloak Thou our undeserving,

Make firm the shuddering breath,
In silence and unswerving
To taste Thy lesser death

E'en now their vanguard gathers,
E'en now we face the fray—
As Thou didst help our fathers,
Help Thou our host today!
Fulfilled of signs and wonders,
In life, in death made clear—
Jehovah of the Thunders,
Lord God of Battles, hear!

Advertising By Movies

As a means of advertising Wilmington, Delaware, the Sunday Star has conceived the plan of displaying the city's many attractions by means of moving pictures, to the Delamaria peninsula. The campaign, as outlined, is a thoro one, and will carry to practically every town on the Peninsula, as well as those of Chester Co., Pa., and Salem Co., N. J., an excellent idea of the possibilities of the metropolis, and will indicate what the people of the Peninsula owe to Wilmington, its merchants, manufacturers and various industries.

The common carriers of the telephone wire

Who gives a thought to the miles of pipe, or conduit, the forests of poles—the common carriers within which or upon which the telephone nerves of the nation are spread throughout the length and breadth of the land?

And yet, if anything were needed to prove the universal scope of the Bell System, which is at the service of every American, the figures giving the miles of underground conduit and the number of poles would surely do it.

There has been buried underground sufficient terra cotta and creosoted wood pipe or duct to go five times through the earth from pole to pole—225,778,000 feet in all. There are sufficient poles bearing their burdens of glistening copper wire to build a stockade around California—12,480,000 of them.

It takes progressiveness and continuous development to furnish Bell Service—the most efficient telephone service in the world.

When you telephone, smile!

Handling Milk In Summer Time
 The Dairy Division of the Department of Agriculture has just completed a series of tests on the change in temperature of milk in cans during transportation from the farm to the consumer. These tests established the importance of jacketing cans of milk with some appropriate insulating material.

It has been found that milk that has to be sent only short distances or preserved for only a few hours should maintain a temperature of less than 50 degrees. Even at these temperatures, some bacteria will multiply and cause the souring of the milk, but the increase is slow and during a few hours no serious results will occur. A temperature well below 50 degrees Fahrenheit, however, materially decreases the rate of bacterial growth.

On the other hand, where milk is to be shipped long distances, the initial temperature must be lower, assuming that no provision is made for maintaining the original temperature during transportation. Where milk is in transit for several hours, it is necessary to cool it down to near the freezing point. So soon as the milk can, however, is exposed to air temperature, and especially to the sun, the temperature of the milk begins to rise very rapidly and every precaution should be taken to keep it from being raised by the outside heat.

A series of experiments was recently made in shipping milk cooled to 50 degrees. In these cases the cans were set in an open truck, with no covering to shield them from the direct rays of the sun. The milk was hauled a distance of 13 miles and the average air temperature during the trip was 82.60 degrees. The experiment showed that the cans that were hair-quilt jacketed showed a raise of only 5 1-2 degrees in three hours in the temperature of the milk. The cans that were wrapped with wet burlap showed a milk temperature of 58 1-2 degrees in the same period, or a rise of 8 1-2 degrees. The milk in the unjacketed cans rose in three hours to 78 1-2 degrees, or a rise of 28 1-2 degrees.

It is obvious from these figures that it pays to jacket the cans, in order to maintain a low temperature during transportation.

Handling Milk In Summer Time
 The Dairy Division of the Department of Agriculture has just completed a series of tests on the change in temperature of milk in cans during transportation from the farm to the consumer. These tests established the importance of jacketing cans of milk with some appropriate insulating material.

It has been found that milk that has to be sent only short distances or preserved for only a few hours should maintain a temperature of less than 50 degrees. Even at these temperatures, some bacteria will multiply and cause the souring of the milk, but the increase is slow and during a few hours no serious results will occur. A temperature well below 50 degrees Fahrenheit, however, materially decreases the rate of bacterial growth.

On the other hand, where milk is to be shipped long distances, the initial temperature must be lower, assuming that no provision is made for maintaining the original temperature during transportation. Where milk is in transit for several hours, it is necessary to cool it down to near the freezing point. So soon as the milk can, however, is exposed to air temperature, and especially to the sun, the temperature of the milk begins to rise very rapidly and every precaution should be taken to keep it from being raised by the outside heat.

A series of experiments was recently made in shipping milk cooled to 50 degrees. In these cases the cans were set in an open truck, with no covering to shield them from the direct rays of the sun. The milk was hauled a distance of 13 miles and the average air temperature during the trip was 82.60 degrees. The experiment showed that the cans that were hair-quilt jacketed showed a raise of only 5 1-2 degrees in three hours in the temperature of the milk. The cans that were wrapped with wet burlap showed a milk temperature of 58 1-2 degrees in the same period, or a rise of 8 1-2 degrees. The milk in the unjacketed cans rose in three hours to 78 1-2 degrees, or a rise of 28 1-2 degrees.

It is obvious from these figures that it pays to jacket the cans, in order to maintain a low temperature during transportation.

Record Breaking Crops Reported
 The country's record-breaking crop of winter wheat amounts to 675,000,000 bushels, the Department of Agriculture announced in dicated, while oats decreased 44,000,000 bushels.

 Potato prospects increased 9,000,000 bushels, and a 370,000,000-bushel harvest is indicated.
 Weather conditions for the great grain crops were not especially favorable during July.

OPTOMETRY—The science of prescribing and fitting glasses to correct defective vision without the use of drugs.

OPTOMETRIST—One skilled in optometry, an expert in measuring eye defects. A physical Eye Specialist.

Concerning Your Eyes

Good eyesight is essential to health and comfort. Eye strain uncorrected leads to nervous disorders and is a factor in causing many reflex disturbances.

Tired, aching eyes, frequent pain over the eyes or heads aches are some of the indications of eye strain. At other times the eyes give no indication themselves of strain, but endeavor to keep up the demand upon them, by using the reserve accommodative power until they give out.

GLASSES RELIEVE EYE STRAIN

Success in relieving eye strain depends entirely upon the skill of the practitioner who prescribes the glasses. Our Optometrists are experienced and capable.

Killed From Sting Of Bees

Bees attacked two horses and two mules with which B. S. Garber was hauling stone, near Lancaster last week. He drove the mules away safely, but found the horses badly stung, and they died a few hours later.

Missionary Meeting

A regular meeting of the W. H. M. S. of the Methodist church was held at the home of Mrs. H. B. Wright. After a business meeting a talk on "Life in the Philippines—Native Dress and Customs," by Mrs. Mannis, and special music by Miss Elizabeth McNeal, made a most enjoyable evening.

Wheeler Bros. Circus Coming To Newark

The representatives of the Wheeler Bros. Greater Shows have completed all arrangements for the appearance of that world-famous enterprise in Newark on September 4th.

For more than a decade the Wheeler Bros. Circus have maintained a prominent place in the front rank of American shows because of its unusual characteristics as a circus, its essential quality of "different from other shows," its fine menagerie and its great display of the finest horses in the world. The Famous Stampede Wild West Shows, which have a world-wide reputation and which were enjoyed by many people of this country at two of the World's Fairs, are conceded to be without equal in their special line. What then may be expected when it is announced that we are to be treated to such an exhibition as the combination of these two shows? Surely the patrons of tented amusements will be justified in expecting an unusually meritorious performance, and they will see surprising exhibitions of trained animals and skillful performers such as they have never before witnessed.

Among the many features are "Tango," earth's largest living animal, a troupe of genuine Cossack Whirlwind Riders, Paris Hippodrome, Races and special engagement of the celebrated Mendoza Company of Mexican Bull Fighters in a realistic reproduction of a Genuine Mexican Bull Fight. A thrilling exhibition of nerve and agility.

Wheeler Bros. Shows will exhibit in Newark on September 4th, giving a grand spectacular street parade in the morning and performances in the afternoon and evening.
