TRAFFIC TIE-UPS

DelDOT hopes to tame
Newark's traffic tempers with completion of long-awaited 273, 896 projects

Coming down the stretch in Ogletown

COMMUTERS WHO HAVE WATCHED the puzzle-like construction along Route 273/Ogletown Road for the past year will be glad to know that the pieces may soon come together.

According to Harry Cooper and Bob Muir, DelDOT engineers for the $20.8 million project, ramps and two eastbound lanes over the bridge at Route 4 could be open as early as November.

"The project is on schedule," said Muir. "Even though we had severe weather last winter, and a month of wet weather this summer, time built into the original schedule has let us keep moving."

The overall project, due for completion by the end of 1997, carries traffic on a new roadway being built to the north of existing 273/Ogletown Road between Route 4 and the Amtrak line. Four

Widening Rt. 896 slowly but surely

THE TWO NORTHBOUND LANES on the ever-widening Route 896 could be ready for traffic by the end of the year, according to project engineer Joe Serbu.

"We'll have those lanes ready and striped for north and south traffic first," explained Serbu. "Then we'll shift traffic onto that while we finish the road where the existing 896 is now."

Workers also hope to restore the original configuration for Old Baltimore Pike and Route 896, with new turning lanes, in the next two months. "We've been pushing them to finish that," said Serbu.

Completion date for the $15.9 million project was May 1997, and Serbu said they will probably be done in early summer. "Right now we're 90 percent done," said Serbu recently. "The northbound side took most of the time because we had to relocate the wetlands and construct embankments which will not be necessary on the other side."

Is it or isn't it the designated 301 corridor?

HIGH ON THE LIST of complaints from residents affected by the widening of Route 896 is the designation of the road as the possible Route 301 corridor. Residents claim adding 301 is part of the construction work underway even though no formal plan has been announced.

"We want this designation to be lifted immediately," said Tom Chidester, president of the Stonestrow civic association. "We understand that secretary of transportation Anne Canby has publicly stated 301 will not be built at all, so why do we have the designation?"

Bud Freel, director of external affairs for DelDOT, explained that the state was reviewing the designation and would make a decision whether to remove it from 896 by May 1997.

"We'll have a public workshop before that in December where people can air their opinions," said Freel. "Meanwhile, it would affect many more homes and leave a cloud over a much bigger area if we remove it from (896)."

Freel explained that only homes DelDOT has to buy are considered affected by the designation in any event. "The state would have to buy 20 to 25 houses if 301 was built here, which is fewer than in other areas under considera-

More concerts in the future?

By DOUG RAINEY

SPECIAL TO THE NEWARK POST

More concerts may be on the way for the Bob Carpenter Center and other spots on the University of Delaware campus.

The University of Delaware is signing an agreement with Music Fair Group Inc., Devon, Pa. The organization presents concerts at the Valley Forge Music Fair near Philadelphia.

Barbara Kreppel, assistant vice president for administrative services at UD, said Music Forum will represent the Carpenter Center in booking bands, musical acts and other events.

Kreppel said that under the agreement, Music Forum aims to increase the number of concerts and other events from the current figure of eight to 10 each year to 20.

An emphasis will be placed on increasing the number of concerts that would appeal to students, Kreppel said.

The Music Fair is known regionally for booking acts that appeal to older audiences.

However, Kreppel added that doubling the number of events should also result in a wider range of entertainment that would appeal to all segments of the community. One possible event that might end up on the UD campus would be a children's fair, she said.

Kreppel said that while many of the events would be held at the Carpenter Center, the agency would also be able to bring entertainment to Mitchell Hall and other auditoriums on the UD campus.

Kreppel said university athletic events, such as men's and women's basketball, convocations and other events will still have precedence over concerts.

The Pennsylvania-based company will work around those events in booking acts. Kreppel said that many open dates exist, particularly during the summer months.

City initiates parking changes

CHANGING THE PUBLIC IMAGE of parking in Newark is said to be on track as local officials respond to the technical report received from parking expert John Edwards.

Edwards spent two days here in July. (See Newark Post issue of Aug. 2, 1996).

City manager Carl Luft issued a memo with suggestions for dividing the responsibility to move forward in the project. "I don't know if you would consider these things that they have to do," said Luft, "but the city is going to do its part."

Although Luft did not agree with a suggestion in Edwards' report to establish a single agency to coordinate all parking activities in Newark, he thought the city should take a central role in organizing the response. "It was unclear to me what would happen when this report was received by the business association," said Luft. "The city just wanted to document the recommendations."

A turnover survey for on-street parking is already in the works at the Newark Police Department, according to Chief William Hogan. "We are only a part of this, though," said Hogan. "We'll enforce whatever the city decides to do."

Lt. Alex Von Koch said the police would be discussing the survey as well as whether to increase parking meter rates at the city's Oct. 15 traffic committee meeting. "We're doing the survey on turnover at parking meters now," said Von Koch. "We really have to do something if people are staying in parking spaces longer than the two hours on the meter."

Hank Ross, director of the Newark Parking Authority, said the parking board discussed the recommendations from the city manager at their last meeting.

"Our staff is preparing a plan to redesign existing lots to get more spaces," said Ross. "Then we'll ask the city about the availability of funds to do it."

A survey of occupancy in NPA lots is already generated on a daily basis, said Ross, but they intend to expand it to determine when the lots are busiest. "Maybe we could find ways to move traffic from lot one, for instance, to lot three or four," said Ross.

The authority is also looking at ways to reduce monthly rentals in NPA lots, especially in lot one behind the Galleria; and has approached Commonwealth Management about managing the parking lot of the development proposed at the old Roy Rogers site.

"But that development is being held up right now," said Ross, "so we can't really do anything."

A plan to enlarge the existing parking signs was discussed but the board decided to wait until their next meeting to make any decisions, according to Ross. Luft suggested that "more aggressive signs" be used on routes into downtown and near NPA lot entrances.

Luft asked the Newark Business Association to take charge of a survey on parking needs for business owners and their employees, especially in the area of parking meter use. In addition, the business association and the NPA were asked to form a Promotion Task Force to help promote and market downtown parking.

Deirdre Peake, economic development director for the business association, said the two organizations had not yet met. "We'll probably be setting up the task force soon," said Peake. "We are working on the employee parking survey."

Luft said the Mayor had not as yet acted on a recommendation to change the criteria and number of NPA board members. "As far as I know that will be done," said Luft. "We haven't talked about it yet."

Parks dedications to honor Thomas, Redd, former officials

By MARY E. PETZAK

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

THIS MONTH the city of Newark will formally dedicate two new parks, adding to almost 300 acres of open space and recreation already enjoyed by city residents.

The Olan R. Thomas Park on Cleveland Avenue, named in honor of the former city councilman who gave more than 30 years of service to the city, will be dedicated on Oct. 9 at 11 a.m. Raindate is Oct. 10 at the same time.

Thomas, first elected to Newark's council in April, 1964, subsequently served a record 13 terms for district six before retiring in 1994.

Thomas was a member of council's main policy committee, small cities steering committee, and the community and economic development committee of the National League of Cities.

He also served terms as vice-president and president of the Delaware League of Local Governments, for which he also chaired the executive committee, and served on the Council on Police Training and the Criminal Justice Committee.

According to a resolution issued by city council, Thomas' achievements in Newark included: fighting successfully to have municipal street aid increased; advocated updating the city's water system through a new water treatment plant; sought replacement of sidewalks and curbs throughout Newark; supported the institution of a business license system; backed legislation to control noise and alcohol problems in the downtown area; and was a member of the Newark Memorial Day Committee for several years, during which he also served as chairman.

During his tenure as a city councilman, Thomas also worked at Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company.

The 4.3-acre park named in his honor has a botanical area, benches and lights creating a small, graceful area for relaxation and sitting, according to a parks department employee.

A 69-acre park named for former Mayor William M. Redd Jr. will be dedicated on Oct. 30 at 1 p.m. Raindate is Oct. 31 at 11 a.m., an earlier time than on the previous day.

According to the parks department, this "passive park" on Paper Mill Road has natural areas but no recreational facilities.

Redd, elected to city council in April 1970 from the fifth district, was subsequently elected and served five terms as Mayor before retiring in 1989.

In addition to his 19 years as a city official, Redd served as president of the Delaware League of Local Governments, chairman of the University Communities Caucus of the National League of Cities, and served as a member of the American Public Power Association, the Water Resources Agency for New Castle County, the Wilmington Area Planning Council, the Delaware Council on Police Training, and the transportation and communications steering committee of the National League of Cities.

Among Redd's accomplishments during 19 years of city service were: helping establish the Unicity Bus service; fighting for the Christina Parkway; and introducing a comprehensive city noise ordinance.

A native of Baltimore, Redd was a graduate of the University of Maryland and worked for DuPont Company for most of his career in Delaware.

Chrysler wins quality award

Chrysler Newark Assembly Plant's Product Quality Improvement Recycling program was awarded the National Recycling Coalition's Fred Schmitt Award for Outstanding Corporate Leadership.

PQI is a joint program between Chrysler management and the United Auto Workers' union represented employees.

Its purpose is to empower the hourly workers, use the expertise they have gained from years on their jobs and give them a voice in the everyday process of building cars. From their efforts, less waste goes to landfills, resulting in a better environmental future and a stronger bottom line, a company spokesman said.

Because of this commitment to excellence, the plant now recycles approximately 95% of waste plastic and cardboard, 85% of office paper, 100% of scrap metal and 20% of wood pallets. "Chrysler people are talented, creative, and inspired to be leaders in all areas of manufacturing," said James A. Wolfe, Newark Assembly Plant Manager. "It's great to be recognized nationally for something that not only benefits Chrysler, but our environment and community as well."

new or reconfigured intersections and ramps will allow vehicles to enter and exit the stretch of limited access highway.

Scheduled for opening this year is an exit ramp to Route 4 at MBNA for traffic on Route 273 coming from I-95.

In addition, an entrance ramp and the two eastbound lanes on 273 for traffic going toward I-95 will be opened this year at the new Salem Church Road spur on the west side of Route 4.

Another ramp to enter eastbound 273 will open this year on the opposite side of Route 4 east of Salem Church Road. The current right hand turn just past the overpass will be closed.

Sometime between summer and fall of 1997, all lanes in both directions will be opened on the new roadway. Ramps for traffic to enter westbound 273 and exit from the eastbound lanes will open on the Salem Church Road spur. An additional exit ramp from westbound 273 will carry traffic over a bridge near MBNA to the west side of Route 4.

An intersection and connector road will link Bala Road in Chestnut Hill Estates with 273. An extension of Ruthar Drive will allow access to Red Mill Road after the new 273 crosses the railroad lines.

Red Mill Road, which will no longer intersect with Route 4, will dead end just past Prides Crossing Road near MBNA.

Avon and Westvaco companies will have their own access ramps just before the road narrows again to become one lane in each direction up to Marrows Road.

"Plans are in the works to widen that portion to four lanes as well," said Cooper. According to Christine Gillan, spokesperson for DelDOT, construction for this last link in the western portion of 273 is planned for the winter of 1997-98.

By the end of the 1997, ramps at Red Mill Road south of Diminish Drive will allow access with 273 and the Bala Road connector road.

Present Ogletown Road will run alongside the new 273 west of the railroad lines to provide access to businesses near Newark and also to allow eastbound traffic to still travel through the Avon underpass which will become one way.

On the east side of the underpass, a turn around will allow traffic to travel in both directions on Ogletown Road to that point. "We were going to close the underpass entirely but concerns of businesses and residents, especially for emergency vehicles, made us reconsider," said Muir.

Ogletown Road will be closed near Route 4, and the new Bala Avenue connector road will provide access to homes and businesses along that part of Ogletown Road to the Avon underpass.

"We've really gone to a lot of trouble to make this work," said Cooper. "I know DelDOT projects disrupt people's lives, but I wish just once in a while we'd get some credit when we do a good job."

Many broken promises?

AT THEIR MOST RECENT meeting in the community clubhouse, angry residents from Stonestrow, the Commons at Stonestrow, and Cannonsire went over their off-repeated litany of Route 896 complaints with representatives of the governor and the state department of transportation.

Drainage and road maintenance, as well as the future of a row of townhomes were highlighted by The Commons representative, John Manfield. "We want the row of townhomes closest to 896 torn down," said Manfield. "Who in their right mind would purchase a home — at the price we paid — to look at a wall?"

Manfield also said that basements in the Commons flooded after storms since the road was widened and water runoff and mud tracked in during the work had destroyed carpets. "Who's going to pay for that? We should have a guarantee our community at least will be put back the way it was," said Manfield. "if not better!"

See PROMISES, 7 ►

896 intersections will have signals

► RT. 896, from 1

Seasons Parkway, Glasgow High School, and Old Baltimore Pike also required more time.

Serbu added that all four of the rebuilt intersections, providing the only access to this stretch of Route 896, would be signalized.

Serbu said severe weather last winter and rain this summer delayed some of the work. "We plan to work through the winter, though," said Serbu. "Even with the heavy snow, we kept working last winter."

In the event the project gets further off track, Serbu said DelDOT would consider extended hours for work. "But that's a last option."

The area around the ramp at Interstate 95 will be among the last to be completed because additional lanes will require traffic to be moved several times before it's done.

"When you consider that this road should have a lifespan of 50 years," said Serbu. "you have to realize that it is going to be difficult and time-consuming to lay (the roadway)."

The completed road will have two lanes in each direction with a 20-foot wide grass median in the center.

Frontage roads with limited access for homes along existing 896 will run in front of Elwyn Manor to Godwin Drive, and south of Four Seasons for the homes there. "There will also be a bike path along parts of each side of the completed highway," said Bud Freil, director of external affairs for DelDOT.

Freil and Serbu said the completed road will be much safer than the existing 896. "For one thing there will no longer be all those driveways," said Serbu. "And on-coming traffic will be separated by the median."

Is it or isn't it?

Freil added that the designation had to be on some area so developers would be aware of it for planning purposes. He had no answer when asked what would happen if 301 were eventually built elsewhere. "Why not designate and warn those areas, too?" asked one resident. "They'll be surprised otherwise."

Darren O'Neill, a DelDOT project engineer for corridor management, admitted that part of the widening of 896 includes "the space and putting drainage in place to allow six through lanes there if it is ever necessary."

State representative Stephanie Ulbrich (R-Newark South) said that she was told that additional work was only in the event 896 had to be widened again. "But that could be misleading if you cannot assure me it is not for 301," said Ulbrich.

Residents pointed out that the designation was currently "affecting" their homes in ways which had nothing to do with possible purchase by the state. "People worry about selling their homes on the open market when a highway wider than I-95 might come through here more than they do about the state buying their home," remarked one man.

Edward Cooch, owner of historic land fronting on Old Baltimore Pike and Route 896, said plans for a 301 connector had been delayed for more than 35 years. "It was supposed to go north of Summit Bridge and exit near the I-95 service plaza, but (because of development) it probably can't be done now."

Cooch said building 301 along 896 would cause "irreparable harm to historic sites" in the area. "Adding additional lanes for 301 would create a monster of a highway to place in this area and would require a massive interchange at I-95."

Freil said DelDOT does not compensate homeowners just because they feel their properties are devalued due to the designation.

But state senator Stephen Amick concluded, "I don't think DelDOT can keep this designation here and refuse to deal with what the designation's caused — you can't have it both ways."

Top: The 273 bridge at Ogletown, near MBNA, is still under construction and will help alleviate congestion beginning next year. Right: Work on 896 will double the width of the highway, but there are problems between the residents of Stonestrow and DelDOT.

CANNONSHIRE RESIDENTS CLAIM

Still waiting for answers

► PROMISES, from 6

Resident Kathy Jones said the Commons did not have water in their homes in the prior 20 years of its existence. "Check the records," said Jones. "This was not the worst year for rain in 20 years."

Residents of Cannonshire reported that they are still waiting for an answer about the concrete berm they were promised that DelDOT now wants to downgrade to wood - if at all.

"We met with representatives of DelDOT several times between October 1995 and May of 1996 regarding barriers," said resident Bob Haupt. "They told us - more than once - that we could have what we wanted. We considered this a verbal contract with the state."

Bud Freel, director of external affairs for DelDOT, said there would be a problem if DelDOT got into the business of providing walls on demand along highways. "That's where a lot of dollars would go and other things would be neglected."

But state senator Steven Amick (R-Newark West) said he and other legislators, including state representative William Oberle (R-Beecher's Lot), passed a bond bill with funds for this particular project. "This is settled as a matter of law," said Amick. "The bill says DelDOT must give the community what they want."

Challenged about the funding, Amick repeated, "Oh, no. I'm absolutely certain that we allocated specific monies for this, and we told Anne Canby (DelDOT transportation secretary) that allocation was made for it."

Tom Chidester of the Stonestrow civic association said the road encircling the two developments is deteriorating because significantly more cars go over it since the main entrance to the communities was closed. "We want this road dedicated to the state since they caused the problems," said Chidester.

Freel said normally the state does not dedicate roads when only a few people are affected, but Jones pointed out that DelDOT altered traffic on the west side of 896 and dedicated Godwin Drive in Elwin Manor. "Only 11 homes are being affected there," said Jones. "If you can do it for 11 residents on Godwin, why can't you do it for 300 in these communities?"

Chidester also said residents of Cooches Bridge Farms were waiting for repaving work already appropriated in a bill by state representative Stephanie Ulbrich (R-Newark South), and and the community of Waters Edge was promised a traffic light.

Both residents and legislators concluded that there was something wrong when so many people were misinformed about DelDOT's construction plans.

"Five different communities along here met with people from DelDOT on separate issues affecting only them," said Jones. "When (is DelDOT) going to realize that five different communities could not all misunderstand what they were told?"

Ulbrich echoed Jones statement. "Before this started, we all met with DelDOT and thought we understood how this would work, but it has not happened that way."

Freel said he was "baffled to a certain extent" himself but said he would consult with Anne Canby. "I realize you feel promises were made that were not kept," said Freel.

NEW
COMING

WHEN WETLANDS are in the way of construction, the only option may be to create a replacement site nearby. However, mitigating for the loss of wetlands is a bigger issue than just the wetland itself.

"We compensate at the rate of 1.5 acres of new wetland for every acre lost," said Ogletown project engineer Harry Cooper.

In realigning Route 273, a total of 13.2 acres in wetlands had to be moved or reconstructed. "We created four new sites with over 20 acres, including one at the intersection of Salem Church Road and Old Baltimore Pike that is over 16 acres by itself," said Bob Muir, the other engineer on the 273 project.

Engineer Joe Serbu said workers had to build five detention basins and relocate 11 acres of wetlands to a site near Lums Pond for the widening of Route 896 from Interstate 95 to the Muddy Run south of the Pencader Corporate Center.

The manager's initiative

Every Newarker has his or her own opinion about our downtown's parking "problem."

In an effort to clear the air surrounding what we have termed "the parking myth," this summer the Newark Business Association invited a nationally known parking expert. John Edwards spent two days in Newark, researching, assessing and even testing Newark's parking dilemma; Edwards received two parking tickets while he was here. This was good, he said, noting that strict parking enforcement is essential to efficient use of downtown parking resources.

As a story in this issue details, Edwards made a variety of recommendations in his final report.

One fear he sounded during his wrap-up session at the end of his visit to Newark was the lack of a person or agency to assure the solutions he recommends come to fruition. Edwards believes there's a critical need to tie the independent efforts of the business association, the city government, the Newark Parking Authority, the University of Delaware and other players of the parking game together.

While the final resolution of Edwards' concern remains to be seen, Newark's city manager already has gotten the issue off dead center.

Assuming a subtle leadership role, in a simple memorandum, he listed Edwards action items and assigned them. Had Carl Luft not taken this important initiative, each involved agency probably would still be circling in a holding pattern, wondering what the other players are doing and not acting. Instead, the city, the police department, the NBA and even the slow-moving parking authority are attacking their assignments.

Reports like Edwards' are worthless unless they spark action. We applaud Luft for taking this first important step.

The one & only dogcat

By MARY E. PETZAK
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

OUR CAT, GREEN EYES, thinks he is part dog, or at least, he likes to fetch and carry. We are uncertain if he was born with this attribute, because we've only known him since he was about three years old.

Green Eyes came to stay with us when we lived in Pittsburgh where he was just an unwanted animal that people in our neighborhood sometimes fed but no one would adopt.

The young girl next door to us loved him and called him "Stray" but her parents would not let her keep him. When the nights began to get colder, my husband let him sleep in our garage, although we did not want the responsibility of a pet.

Winter settled in and the cat returned to our house night after night. Finally we had to admit we were "it" and took him to the veterinarian for shots and a physical. He was in pretty good shape for a cat on the road, said the vet, but he had ear mites and was in danger of getting diseases if he roamed indefinitely.

So Stray became a house cat named Green Eyes. My oldest grandson, then four, named him after a split second of consideration.

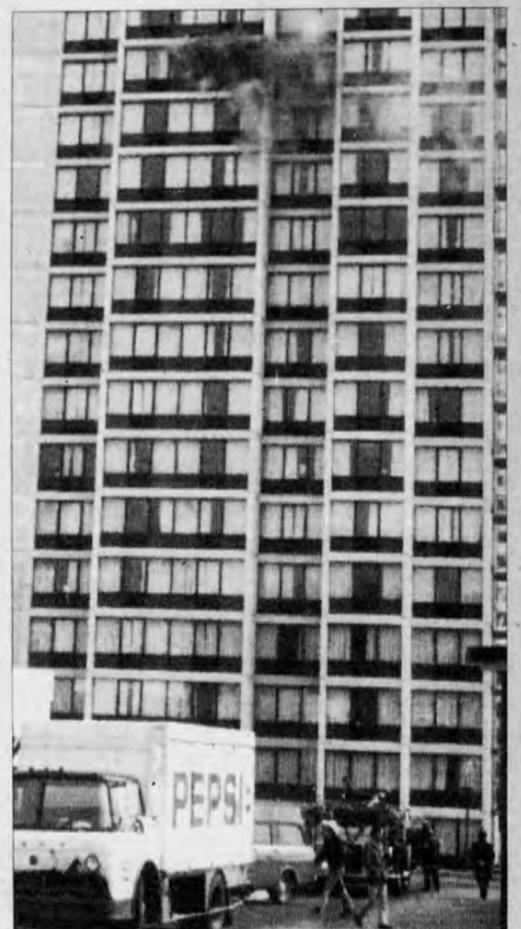

Green Eyes liked the perks of home life and became extremely attached to lap-sitting - anyone's lap - but for a long while he continued to try to roam. More than once he escaped and disappeared for days before finally straggling home when he got hungry.

After almost four years, Green Eyes probably thinks he has seen it all. We've moved twice since we acquired him, locked him up in strange basements and garages during the week-long transfer from Pittsburgh to

Cleveland Heights resi-

It all began when 40 residents attended an August meeting with the housing authority and police, according to Newark Housing Authority executive director Beth Budd.

Vo-Tech officials address spending issues

To: The editor
From: John J. Lynch, Jr., Bd. Pres.
Dennis L. Loftus, Supt.
New Castle Vo-Tech School District

OVER RECENT WEEKS, the News Journal newspaper has published articles and editorials criticizing the way the New Castle County Vocational Technical School District has spent discretionary funds for summer training conferences and meals for school board members and others.

While we have attempted to cooperate with reporters, and have provided factual information in a timely fashion, the impression generated by this coverage has been incomplete and in some cases inaccurate. These sensationalized reports have done a disservice to everyone associated with our district. In the absence of a balanced perspective, we choose to set the record straight. Specifically,

- Attendance at workshop sessions during summer staff training conferences is not optional, as the newspaper reported, but is mandatory for conference participants.

- The school district does not pay for alcoholic beverages at such conferences.

- When meetings are held at school facilities, the school district does - in compliance with state regulations provide some meals to school board members and business/community representatives who serve on advisory committees. When school is in session, Culinary Arts students are often given opportunities to prepare and serve these meals as part of their hands-on training. Instructors plan menus that reinforce what students are learning in their instructional program. Occasionally light take-out meals are ordered from local vendors.

Recent Success

In recent years, our school district has made notable improvement in student learning. Our graduates are better prepared to compete in the workplace. Four years ago, the district identified specific areas for improvement, and those areas are continuously measured and reported to the school board. For example,

- Progress achieved by district students on the state assessment in math and writing is among the best in the state

- Student Grade Point Averages have improved

- The school district was the first in the state to increase graduation requirements, with an emphasis on higher level math and science instruction

- 94% of parents surveyed in 1996 said the school district met or exceeded their expectations

- Surveys show a significant increase in satisfaction ratings from students, parents and graduates

- Student attendance has increased from 90.8% to 93.2% in the past six years (an improvement of 4 in-school days per child per year)

- The number of outside suspensions has decreased by more than 50%, and the drop-out rate has declined.

The district has become a recognized leader in educational technology, instructional integration, business partnerships for school-to-work transition, performance reporting and customer satisfaction research. We have been featured in such publications as The New York Times, the Chicago Tribune and USA Today.

Staff Training Component

Designing and implementing strategies to improve the way we deliver educational services has required intensive staff training. Summer training conferences and business advisory committee meetings have provided a successful framework through which many of our initiatives have been developed. More than 75% of our teachers have participated in local and/or national workshops.

The district currently spends less than 1 percent of its budget on staff development and training (half of what the Governor's Education Improvement Commission recommends that local districts spend). Some industry leaders spend as much as 15 percent. We believe we have approached our staff development effort in a cost-effective manner.

For concentrated staff training and team building, the district prefers not to take time away from classroom instruction. Instead, we hold faculty conferences during the summer, inviting teachers to participate in several days of structured workshops. Teachers are not paid to attend these conferences, but the school district does pay for meals and lodging when Delaware, and left him alone for hours at a time when we have to work.

Confined to quarters, he passed his time on the watch for fieldmice behind our house in Pittsburgh. When we moved to Delaware, he switched to birds and squirrels. But, let's face it, such a well-traveled cat likes a more paws-on approach.

As window-watching palled, we succumbed to the need for "toys" to keep boredom at bay. At first Green Eyes was amused knocking little furry mice hither and yon in our house, or even attacking brown paper shopping bags left on the kitchen floor.

We discovered his "fetch" capabilities when he kept pushing the mice in our direction. In an effort to get a moment's peace, I threw one in the next room, hoping he would play with it there.

Green Eyes charged after it and was back a minute later with the mouse which he dropped at my feet. He was willing to play this game indefinitely.

When we grew tired, he "buried" the mouse under the sofa and then meowed and nosed around the edges until we brought a yardstick to push it out again. After four years, we just periodically move the sofa and pull out the half-dozen mice and other toys to begin the process again.

Apparently we don't do this often enough to suit Green Eyes. Left to his own devices when all the mice are out of reach under the couch, he has created variations on this activity all by himself.

For several months I would find a pencil or pen on the doormat when I came home and assumed it had rolled off the table or dropped unnoticed. Then one day my husband asked me if I had put a pen in his shoe which was left on the sunporch. Of course I had not although my husband said it had happened twice.

We looked at each other and then at Green Eyes. It was obvious that he was taking the pens deliberately and putting them first on the floor, and then when we didn't "get it," in the shoes.

Since then he has varied this routine with Fisher-Price "little people" and small parts from pretend toolsets kept at our house for grandchildren, as well as his newest love, plastic pill bottles. My husband now shakes out his shoes before he puts them on.

Those "little people" hurt when you step down on them.

Maybe other cats do this; we prefer to think we have the only dogcat. But as long as he doesn't start to bark when he chases mice, we'll still feed him catfood.

NEWARK OUTLOOK

Fleas & fall

By JO MERCER

NEWARK POST CONTRIBUTING WRITER

YEAR'S OF GENEROUS rainfall favor the development of healthy populations of insects. Both beneficials and pests thrive under conditions of mild temperatures and even moisture. Fleas will likely be a big problem for pet owners this fall. Once they've hitched a ride indoors on Spot or Princess, fleas make themselves at home in human's furnishings to hide and breed. There are several steps pet owners must undertake with single-minded intensity to eradicate and prevent flea infestations throughout the year.

1. Vacuum daily. Since fleas spend only 20% of their time on the pet itself, vacuuming picks up the eggs, larvae and resting adult fleas that are lounging about in the carpets, rugs, upholstery and pet bedding.

Jo Mercer

2. Keep pets indoors or outdoors. Giving a dog or cat unlimited access to the yard and to the home only gives fleas express service from the outdoors to the indoors. After a short feeding period, fleas drop off the host animal to conduct other activities of their life cycle—namely, growing, mating, and laying eggs. It's an uphill battle to give fleas repeated entry into your home. If the dog has to go out, put him on a leash and walk him briskly up and down the sidewalk for exercise and latrine duty, then get him back in the house right away. Cats and litter boxes make the indoor/outdoor issue less of a problem.

3. Treat the pets in the home. Bathing the dog every week actually drowns fleas that are on its body at the time. Daily grooming with a fine-toothed flea comb will remove others from a dog or cat the rest of the week. Ask your vet or groomer how to use a flea comb effectively. Also check with your vet for recommendations of flea control insecticides you may use on your pets.

4. Treat the home. Find and use flea control insecticides labeled for indoor use that also contain an insect growth regulator (IGR). IGR's are a relatively new and extremely effective way to attack the immature life stages of fleas. Until IGR's introduction to the market, flea bombs and sprays only killed the adult flea, leaving other stages free to continue develop-

Local nursing home residents receive gift of handiwork from Colorado

Ira Lingelbach has sewn more than 2,200 lap blankets that she has sent all over the world. Tanya Castaneda, a former Newark Post writer recommended Lingelbach send some blankets to the Newark Manor Nursing Home.

EAST MET WEST in Newark recently when the residents of the Newark Manor Nursing Home on West Main Street received lap robes made by an 88-year-old woman in Brighton, Colo.

"These were sent to us by Tonja Castaneda who used to write for the Newark Post," said Newark Manor nurse Doris Kennedy. "Tonja and her husband, Ken, were very special to our residents because they worked here as volunteers when they lived in Delaware."

Castaneda, now editor of the bi-weekly Brighton Standard-Blade newspaper, did a feature story on the woman in her town who makes the blankets.

According to Castaneda, Ira Lingelbach has sewn more than 2,200 lap robes and sent them to people across the country and the world. Items handmade by Lingelbach have reached people as far away as Japan, England and South America.

"These blankets are also donated as receiving blankets for babies of unwed mothers and sold at Brighton Senior Center fundraisers," said Castaneda.

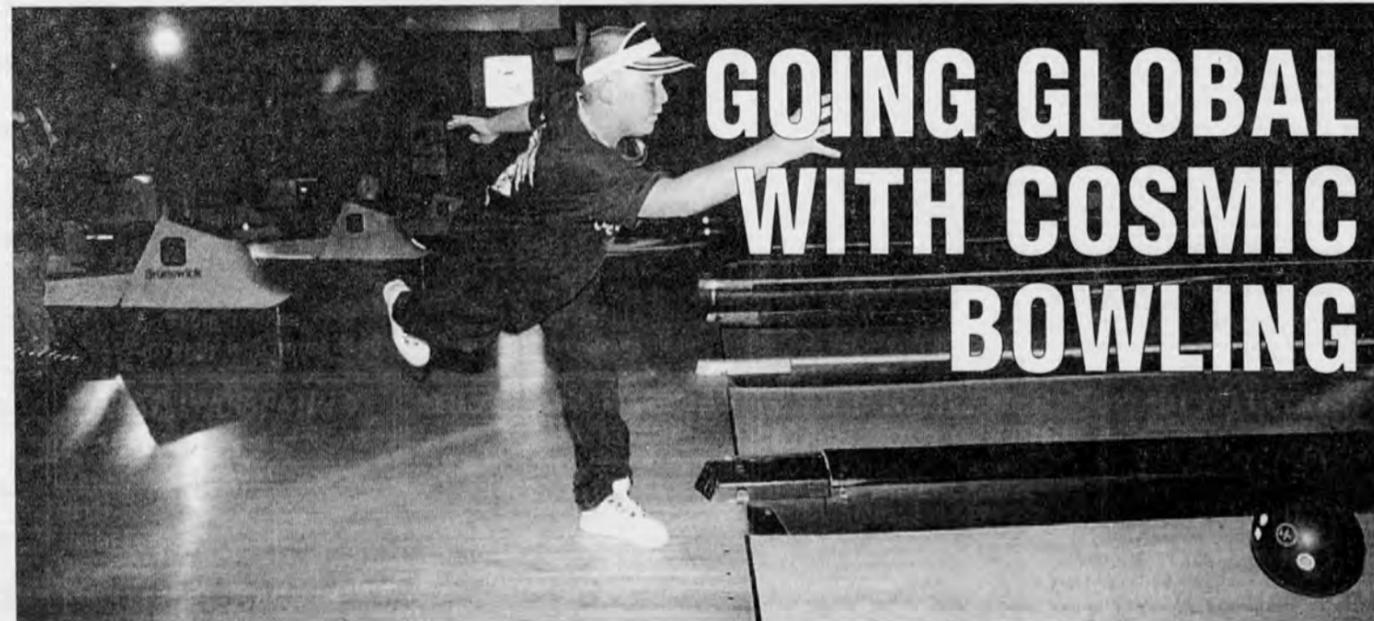

Lingelbach pieces material scraps together on a sewing machine and then handsews the edging on the 38 x 48-inch robes. The only payment Lingelbach asks is a return postcard so she will know her work has gone where it is needed. "I receive the material at no cost and sometimes the thread is donated," Lingelbach said. "My time is all I give."

Lingelbach can rest assured that residents 3,000 miles away have made good use of her efforts.

Cosmic Bowling is a concert, an arcade, a light show, a dance party and bowling rolled into one. Here, Josh Hammond tries out a lane as the lights go down for a 'cosmic preview.'

By MARY E. PETZAK

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

CIRCLES OF COLOR wheel across the walls, shifting patterns of multi-hued light race over glowing lanes, and a state-of-the-art sound system pulses with music ranging from hard rock to contemporary Christian to big bands. It's not a new age religion or an out-of-body experience. It's Cosmic Bowling.

Developed by Brunswick Corporation for its bowling centers worldwide, the show features music, laser lights and fog machines to give the average bowler a whole new frame of reference for the game.

"It's a game, a concert, an arcade, a light show, a dance party and regular bowling all rolled into one," said Julie Keppel, sales director of Brunswick Blue Hen Lanes in the Newark Shopping Center.

Debating here tomorrow and presently being installed throughout the United States and Canada by Brunswick, Cosmic Bowling was described in a segment of CNN Future Watch, as a "new recreation phenomenon where everyone's having a ball."

Keppel said Newark's show includes a live DJ, and glow-in-the-dark pins. Bowling lane shirt designs and other accessories and equipment available at the center.

Regular bowling leagues at the center were treated to short previews this week. "I think I'll like it," said Terry Kolbe, giving a thumbs-up after bowling a strike. "It works for me."

Gene Mentzer was not so sure. "It's fascinating, but I had a hard time trying to line up my mark," Mentzer said, indicating the changing colors on the lane in front of him.

"Maybe I'll get used to it."

Flu season just around the corner

THE FLU SEASON is just around the corner and local organizations are kicking off their campaigns to provide low-cost vaccines to local seniors.

The staff at the Newark Senior Center are offering flu shots for seniors at the center on White Chapel Drive on three dates.

Scheduled are: Oct. 7, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.; Oct. 17, 2:30 to 6:30 p.m.; and Nov. 4, 9 a.m. to noon.

Sandy Drummond, social services director at the center said further dates would be scheduled when pneumonia vaccines became available.

From Oct. 1 to Nov. 14 the Visiting Nurse Association (VNA) is offering flu shots to seniors at local retail stores for a donation of $10 or are covered free under Medicare Part B. Older adults on Medicare managed care should check their insurance plan to see if they are covered.

Locations and dates include:

- Oct. 3. Acme, Suburban Plaza, Newark, noon-2 p.m. and 4-7 p.m.
- Oct. 5. Shop-Rite, Chestnut Hill Plaza, Newark, 10 a.m.-noon.
- Oct. 8. Acme, Fox Run Shopping Center, Bear, 11 a.m.-2 p.m.
- Oct. 10. Acme, Lantana Square, Hockessin, 4-7 p.m.
Acme, University Plaza, Ogetown, 10 a.m.-2 p.m.
- Oct. 11. Acme, Fox Run Shopping Center, 4-6 p.m.
Shop-Rite, Chestnut Hill Plaza, Newark, 10 a.m.-noon.
- Oct. 15. Acme, Lantana Square, Hockessin, 11 a.m.-2 p.m.
- Oct. 17. Super G, Eden Square, Bear, 5-7 p.m.

According to Polly Margal, community health educator and vaccination program manager for the VNA, said an important fact for older adults is the fact that over 10,000 people die from the flu each year. "This is something that is totally preventable," said Margal.

ment and maturation into more adult fleas. IGR-containing products often have a phrase on the label to the effect of "kills adult and sub-adult fleas."

5. Trap fleas. If your household cannot use insecticides for any reason, try constructing or using commercially-built flea traps along with the other steps of this total flea control program I'm outlining. The trap is some version of a lure consisting of a small light bulb suspended over the trap—a pan of soapy water or a sticky card. Fleas hop toward the heat and light of the bulb, then drown or become stuck on the trap.

6. Be diligent and patient. Once fleas have gotten out of control, be prepared to work at getting the upper hand for a month before you get noticeable results. Above all, continue this flea control program throughout the year to prevent reinfestation of your home.

Consumers with questions about health care in Delaware can hear a panel of experts, including a Nobel Prize winner, address the issue on Oct. 17 at the Newark Senior Center.

Gov. Thomas Carper will welcome speakers to speak about managed care, how health care coverage works, and the ways other industrial countries provide health care.

Among the panel members are: Victor W. Sidel, M.D., recipient of the 1985 Nobel Peace Prize and distinguished professor of social medicine for Mintefiore Medical Center at Albert Einstein Hospital College of Medicine, New York City; Gordon Schiff, M.D., director of clinical quality research at Cook County Hospital, Chicago; Robert Tremain, president and CEO of Mid-Atlantic Health Systems, Wilmington; Donna Lee Williams, Delaware's insurance commissioner; and Paula Roy, executive director of the Delaware Health Care Commission.

Organizers said the program, sponsored by the Newark Citizens for Health Care,

One subdivision and holding?

By MARY E. PETZAK

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

PLANS FOR development of the so-called Hermitage property at the intersection of routes 40 and 896 near Glasgow may have been put on indefinite hold, according to county councilperson Karen Venezky.

"There was tremendous activity initially," Venezky said, "but it has now stopped."

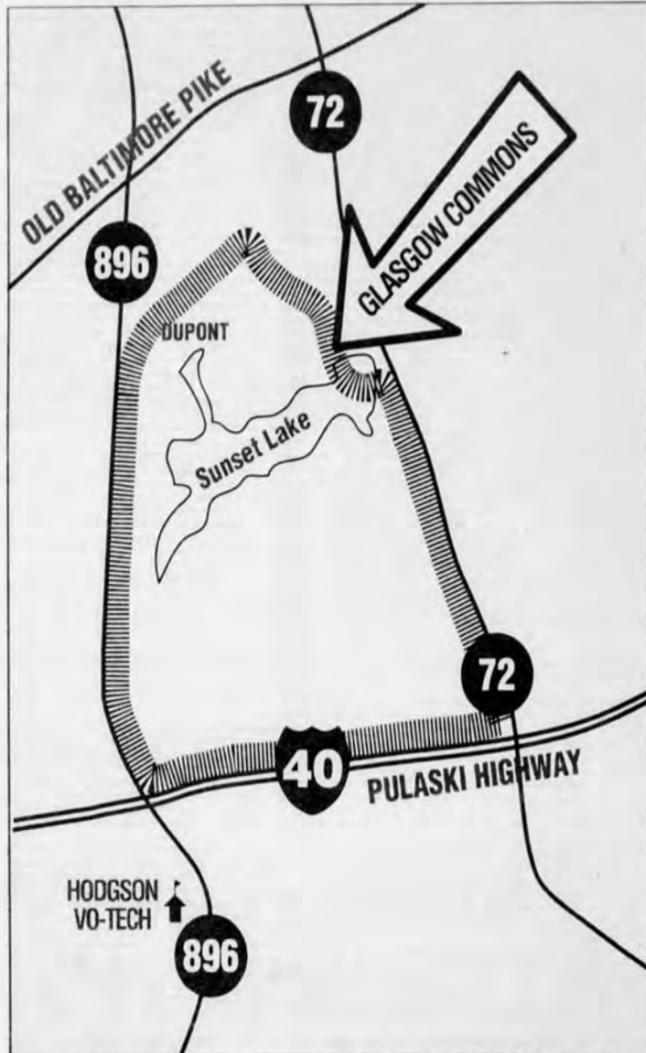

Venezky said she believed that the "heightened scrutiny" by New Castle County officials and residents as well as the "difficulty of getting permission to develop in the present climate" had led to the slowdown in progress at the site presently called Glasgow Commons.

Nevertheless, developers Glasgow Farms led by builder Mario Capano filed a minor subdivision plan in August to divide part of the 653.7-acre site into three industrial parcels of "developable land."

The lots comprise almost 90 acres of land already zoned for manufacturing at the corner of the property adjacent to routes 896 and 40.

The property has been touted as a likely spot for a town center or planned, mixed-use community. "We hoped for a cohesive plan for the entire property before any development," said Venezky. "Obviously, anything done there is going to have a tremendous impact on the whole area."

Venezky said she tried to dissuade the developers from filing the subdivision plan when they came in with it. "We believed there were many possibilities to consider for developing this land," said Venezky. "A community center, homes, a school, and a town center for shopping were all mentioned. It could be a dream of a place."

According to Venezky, the developers "felt it wasn't the time to do all that and they indicated it would be counterproductive to their interests at this time."

Norman Spector, chairman of the planning and zoning committee of the Bear/Glasgow Council of Civic Associations, reported that Capano had shown conceptual plans for the site to the committee early in the year but now said he wanted to hold off all further discussions with the community until after the November elections.

"We didn't have any choice," said Spector. "It will be interesting to see how anything they plan there might tie-in with the new county comprehensive plan."

The property, formerly part of the Dupont's Glasgow site, is currently zoned for single-family homes and offices as well as manufacturing. The developers have applied to rezone for apartments and commercial use but that petition is on hold at present.

"The rezoning is still pending," said county planning director Bryan Shuler. "I assume filing the subdivision plan means they are exploring the feasibility of developing all or part of the property for industrial use."

However, Shuler said merely filing the plan would not allow development of any kind at the site. "They still have to file a major land development plan for approval by county council before anything could be built there," said Shuler.

For almost two years, the developers and civic leaders have sparred over the future of the property. Following a hearing before the New Castle County Historic Review Board in November, 1995, Capano agreed to put planned demolition of "historic" buildings at the site on hold until his rezoning request was denied or withdrawn.

A request by the BGCCO for an "historic zone overlay" for the property to protect it indefinitely was denied at that time.

The recent subdivision plan includes six existing buildings marked for demolition but Spector said they are not "historic."

"Capano has the permits and although he has said he will not use them, we probably wouldn't object," said Spector. "Those particular buildings are probably an eyesore and a safety hazard."

Three other buildings in an area presently zoned residential and outside the subdivided parcels are marked to remain at present.

Julianne Hammond, attorney for Mario Capano and Glasgow Farms, refused to comment without Capano's approval and did not call back before deadline.

Blue Hen plans to offer Cosmic Bowling every Friday and Saturday night starting at midnight, College Cosmic for students with college ID on Thursday nights from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m., and Big Band Cosmic for Seniors once a month.

It will also be available for private parties sponsored by companies, organizations, schools, churches and synagogues, and youth groups.

"Cosmic Bowling has been very popular with church and athletic groups for fundraisers," said Keppel. "Some church groups like to bring their own Christian contemporary rock music to use during the show."

Vo-Tech conferences beneficial

▶ LETTER, from 17

appropriate. A more costly alternative is to pay teachers the state-set in-service hourly rate with no meals or lodging. We believe our method is more cost effective. For the past few years, a nearby site in Maryland has been chosen for its low rates, proximity and conference facilities.

Recent newspaper articles insinuated that teachers attending these conferences could participate in the work sessions or instead choose to golf, swim, or party at taxpayers' expense. This is not true. While choosing to attend the conference itself is optional - we cannot require teachers to work during the summer - those in attendance are required to participate in every workshop session. At the end of each day's workshops, faculty could - at their own expense - play golf or purchase beverages at the conference facility.

In short, these conferences have been extremely beneficial, as evidenced by progress made towards our district's instructional objectives.

We are encouraged by our progress and will continue to hold ourselves accountable. We believe that our expenditure of resources may be different from more traditional high school systems, but we also believe we are obligated to spend funds in the most productive and cost-effective manner possible. In that spirit, the New Castle County Vocational Technical School District Board of Education and administration reviewed, modified, reaffirmed and adopted formal policies at a special meeting Friday, September 13, 1996, governing expenditures in the areas of conferences, travel and meals.

In addition, the board has named a community-based task force to review the district's strategic planning process and outcomes. Among other duties, the task force will offer input on spending practices related to specific activities and determine if the district's use of resources provides the most value for students, parents, and taxpayers. We anticipate a report from this group in January. Our expectation is that the District's Board of Education will review and implement any recommendations which can further improve the way we deliver services to students.

We thank you for your support and involvement, and look forward to a continuing productive school year. As always, we strongly encourage you to contact us with any concerns or suggestions on how we can improve the educational services we provide to our students and our community.

Former Jamesway store opens as Burlington outlet

By ERIC FINE

NEWARK POST CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The Burlington Coat Factory has finally found its way to the First State, by way of Christiana's University Plaza. Delaware became home to the company's 42nd state since it went national in the early 1980s.

The company — which discounts name-brand clothing by up to 60 percent of what department and specialty stores charge — has opened an 80,000-square-foot "superstore" in the shopping center at the intersection of Del. 273 and Salem Church. "We've been looking for a store in Delaware for a long time," regional manager Evanne Ehrhart said. "This will be the first of, hopefully, many. We just want to tell the customers that we're giving first-quality designer merchandise at discount prices."

How large is an 80,000-square-foot store? Consider "the Factory" has a staff of 130 people, and as many as 70 to 80 are working during a single shift. The store also has a dozen check-out aisles and 34 fitting rooms.

"The grand opening's been great," said Terrie Mischke, who spent the first weekend listening to her name being paged over the store's public-address system. "The turnout and the customer feedback have been fantastic. They're ecstatic they don't have to drive (out of state) anymore."

clothing that borders on exhausting. For women, the store stocks designer dresses, suits, sportswear and accessories. It also has an ample selection of men's suits and sportswear.

Of course, the Burlington Coat Factory lives up to its name, with a year-round selection of between 10,000-20,000 coats. The Christiana store also features a linens department with bedding, crystal, china, shower curtains and towels and a baby "depot" with infant and toddler apparel, cribs, strollers, car seats and furniture.

Customer reaction has been predictably positive. "I was waiting for one of them (the company's stores) to get here," said Angelique Stevens, 25, who lives in Wilton, a New Castle development just outside of Bear. "I always said they need to get more stores like this around here."

"I like what I've seen so far," added Lyn Smith of Bear. "I like the variety of merchandise and the quality."

The Burlington Coat Factory in Christiana's University Plaza shopping center is open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Sunday hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Caravel stops Hodgson short

Bucs rally; then hold Eagles on last play

By ERIC FINE

NEWARK POST SPORTS WRITER

GLASGOW — Caravel's 28-22 win over Hodgson came down to a judgment: Was the Silver Eagles' Jason Anker in the end zone with no time remaining on the clock?

The officials said no last Saturday.

So the afternoon belonged to Bucs quarterback Alex Faircloth, who scored three second-half touchdowns to rally his team from a 22-7 halftime deficit. And to Caravel's defense, which shutout Hodgson in the second half.

"All they could do was run outside," said senior Bill Cain, the Bucs massive 270-pound two-way lineman. "The middle of our defense was awesome."

The game pitted two Glasgow schools with identical 3-0 records. Two programs that have come a long way in a short time. A year ago, the Silver Eagles (3-1) posted their first winning season in many an autumn behind Coach Larry Cyle, the same guy who directed Caravel to consecutive Div. II state titles in '89 and '90.

Caravel (4-0) also appears on the verge of a winning record after registering victories in only three of its last 20 games before the start of this season.

"The biggest win in four years for me," Cain said. "We actually believe we can win now."

The Bucs, who face Harford Tech Saturday at home, struck first on a 23-yard run by halfback David Restucci. But their 7-0 lead was short-lived after Hodgson scored three unanswered touchdowns.

The turning point in the second half? Probably the kicking games.

Caravel kicker Matt Rice kept booming his kickoffs into the end zone. Meanwhile, the Bucs defense got hip to the Silver Eagles' running game, and Hodgson suddenly found it difficult to get off a punt.

Caravel Coach David Needs bolstered his defensive line by shifting his outside linebackers behind the tackles.

The strategy coupled with Hodgson's mistakes gave Caravel excellent field position throughout the second half. And Faircloth demonstrated his mastery of a short field, rushing for 114 yards off a variety of fakes and bootlegs behind the right side of his line. "Alex is just an athlete," Cain said. "He can pretty much do it all."

Faircloth, a junior whose family recently moved to Elkton from Newark, said the win came down to his team increasing its intensity. "Everybody just stepped it up, played with a little heart. We didn't have that in the first half," he said.

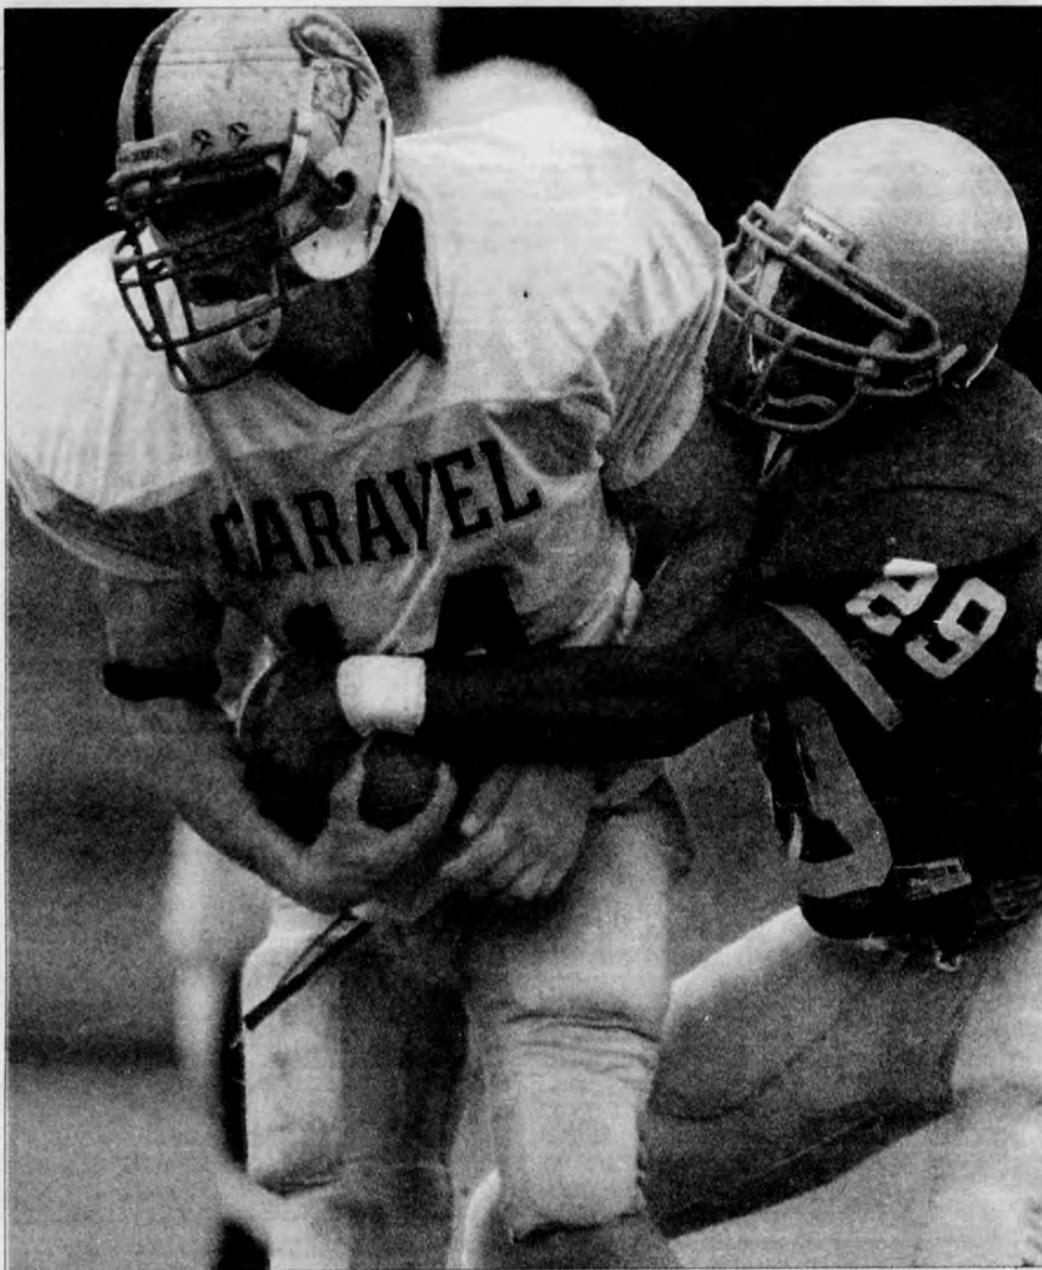

Cyle expressed disappointment about the linesman's call on the game's last play, claiming the official was well out of position.

"The only evidence they had was the kid's [Anker's] feet and arms were in," the Hodgson coach said. "And it's all on film. It's not speculation. The kid's standing in the end zone. How can that not be a touchdown?"

"When you drive 65 yards in 1:30, it's really hard to accept that it's [the touchdown] taken away because no one was in position to make the call," he added. "We didn't get the benefit of responsible officiating. When we needed to perform, we did."

"Quite honestly, he [the lines-

CHS volleyball topples Newark

By ERIC FINE

NEWARK POST SPORTS WRITER

CHRISTIANA — Christiana High's volleyball team appears to have risen from the valley of doom and gloom after winning three straight matches in the Blue Hen Conference Flight A.

Last Friday's 15-3, 15-12 sweep of Newark should convince any observer the defending conference champions are back on track.

"I certainly hope so," Christiana Coach Kim Huggins said after watching her team rally from a 12-1 deficit in the match's second game. "If this team keeps showing up, it's going to be a good rest-of-the-year."

Christiana middle hitter Sharna Gray served the Vikings to 12 straight points and a 13-12 lead. Her streak included four aces.

"We didn't have anything to lose," Huggins said. "We weren't the ones who were undefeated in the conference."

The Vikings, who still trail Newark in the conference standings, dropped consecutive matches against Glasgow and William Penn. But back-to-back wins against A.J. DuPont and Mount Pleasant gave the team a shot of momentum.

"We're starting to click," the coach said. "We're starting to find lineups that work."

Leading scorer Deanna Pruitt graduated, but the team returned second-team All-State setter Erin Pfozter and lots of size: Gray, Amber Hickman and Tawanda Thomas, who are all around six feet tall.

Now the nucleus is getting some help, most notably from outside hitters Ashley Moe and Stacey Lumb.

"We knew we had something to gain coming out," said Lumb, a junior who had three blocks. "We just gained our pride back. [The win] built up our confidence."

"It brought us up to the level we need to play at."

"We need to stay there," Lumb added.

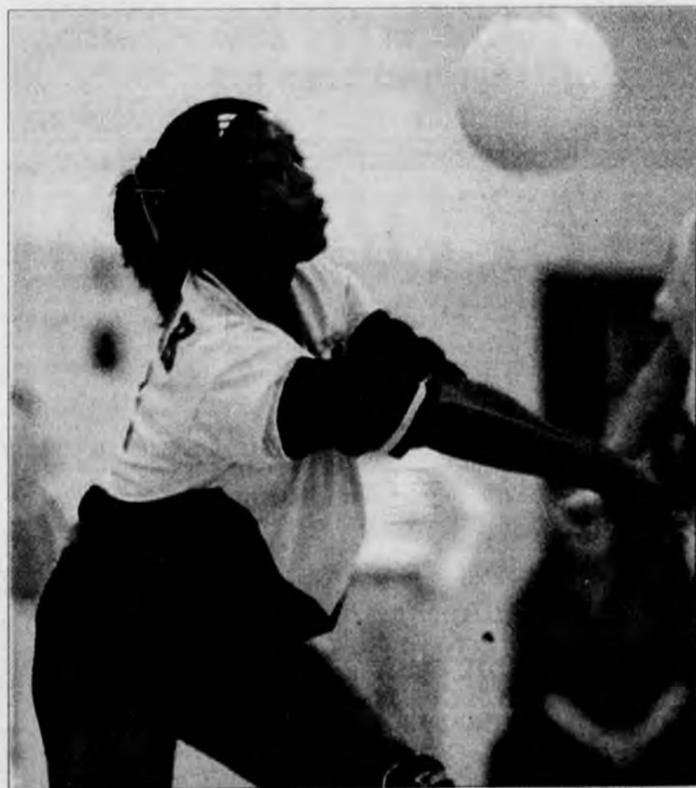

Their improved play and renewed confidence makes mega-comebacks like last Friday's possible.

"We didn't get down on ourselves," said Pfozter, a senior who had six blocks, four kills and four assists. "We all kept our heads up in the games even when we were down. ...We're a team, not just on the court."

Wallace leads Newark to victory

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST SPORTS WRITER

WILMINGTON — Corey Wallace led the Newark High football team's offense and Corey Wallace led the Newark High defense as the Yellowjackets beat St. Mark's 28-16 Friday night at Baynard Stadium.

Wallace ran for a three-yard touchdown, caught a 10-yard pass for a touchdown, ran for a 10-yard touchdown and returned an interception 40 yards for a touchdown. He also had a host of tackles and bone-crunching blocks. Wallace's performance, plus a strong effort by the entire Jackets' defense, helped Newark to its third straight victory to start the season. The loss dropped the Spartans' record to 2-2.

"I don't know how Corey Wallace can play much better," said Newark Coach Butch Simpson. "He's just a very solid high school football player."

The Yellowjackets limited Spartan halfback Mike Watkins, who had collected 333 yards rushing a week before against Delcastle, to just 52 yards on 22 carries.

"The defense played great," Simpson said. "We changed our personnel around and tried to get our people in the right places to combat their running attack. We felt strongly we had to stop [Watkins]."

Newark's defensive effort forced St. Mark's to a passing game that it appeared uncomfortable playing.

"When you take our run away, we're hurting," said St. Mark's Coach Vinnie Scott. "I knew [Newark] was good defensively. They took away what we did best and had a very nice plan."

The Jackets scored first on Wallace's three-yard touchdown run. The scoring play capped a 60-yard drive that saw quarterback

Barry Zehnder make a big 45-yard run.

The Spartans' Chris Birch answered with a 44-yard field goal to cut the lead to 8-3 with 9:04 remaining in the second quarter.

Following the field goal, Newark's Richie Parson broke off a 62-yard run that moved the ball from the Jackets' 15-yard line to the Spartans' 23. Three plays later Zehnder rolled out to his right and threw a perfect pass to Wallace in the front corner of the end zone. Julie Marx's second extra-point improved Newark's lead to 14-3 with 7:43 to play in the first half.

Early in the fourth quarter, St. Mark's recovered a fumble at Newark's 13-yard line and four plays later Watkins bulled into the end zone. The score cut the lead to 14-9 with over nine minutes still to play in the game.

Like it did against Caesar Rodney, however, Newark answered when a game got close. The Yellowjackets took the ensuing kick off and, with the help of two St. Mark's personal fouls, drove 52 yards for a score. Wallace's 10-yard run and Marx's extra point stretched the lead to 21-9.

"That's two weeks in a row now that we've answered a score with a touchdown," Simpson said. "We need to be consistently good but we have been able to come up with a big score when we have to."

Wallace finished his big night with a 40-yard interception return for his fourth touchdown to give Newark a 28-9 lead with just 1:39 to play in the game.

St. Mark's added a touchdown on a yard Ryan Zarzycki pass to Billy Cooper with 57 seconds left in the game.

Newark will face Christiana Saturday at 1 p.m. while St. Mark's will visit Dover Friday night.

Christiana football team rallies to beat Seaford

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST SPORTS WRITER

Seaford High running back Elax Woods breaks loose and rumbles 80 yards for a Blue Jays' touchdown on the first play of the game. On the ensuing kickoff the Christiana return man has the ball ripped from his hands. Two plays later Seaford strikes for a touchdown with a 15-yard scoring pass.

Christiana High has not run an offensive play, yet already trails 14-0.

Add in three dropped passes, an interception and two penalties over the next two minutes and it was pretty clear it was not going to be the Vikings' day.

CHRISTIANA — Walking to the locker room at halftime, Bill Muehleisen said to a bystander, "That was the greatest display of courage on this field, ever."

Despite a start that would have buried most teams, Muehleisen's Christiana football team fought back with three first half scores on its way to a rousing 28-14 come-from-behind victory over Seaford Saturday afternoon at Coder Field. The win improved the Vikings' record to 2-1 and set up a big Flight A battle with neighborhood rival and top-ranked Newark this Saturday.

Against the Blue Jays, the Vikings' uphill battle began with a 52-yard scoring drive that Calvin Carr capped with a 5-yard touchdown run with 2:51 left in the first quarter. Andrew Allen's extra-point kick cut the deficit to 14-7.

The rally continued in the second quarter as Christiana drove 96 yards on 14 plays — nine of them passes — with Carr again running the ball into the end zone from five yards out. Allen's extra-point tied the game with 6:13 remaining before halftime.

The amazing turnabout was completed with just 36 seconds left in the second quarter as quarterback Joey Rineer threw a 20-yard touchdown pass to Shannon Lawson. The score, plus Allen's kick, gave Christiana a 21-14 lead at the half.

"I can't say it enough," Muehleisen said after the game. "That first half was the greatest display of courage I've ever seen. We could've quit. Our defense was bad; our offense was bad. But we kept battling. I really meant what I said. It didn't matter what happened in the second half. I was very proud of our kids for what they did."

Christiana tacked on another touchdown in the fourth quarter as Angel Morales blocked a Seaford punt in the end zone and fell on the ball for the score.

"This was a good win for us," Muehleisen said. "It was a real good win. I think we've improved since our first game. But we still have a long way to go. But this was a good step."

Carr was a workhouse for the Vikings, running the ball 31 times for 156 yards.

"It's too bad Calvin Carr isn't 6-foot-1, 190 pounds," Muehleisen said. "He works very hard and runs very hard. There's not many players his size that can do what he can."

Defensively, Christiana shut out the Blue Jays after the initial onslaught. Seaford was also hampered by 13 penalties, which the coaching staff was very upset about following the game.

The Vikings now turn their attention to Newark which it will host Saturday.

"They're all big games," said Muehleisen of the meeting with the Yellowjackets. "They're a good team and looked very good in beating St. Mark's."

Glasgow slips by Newark in Flight A soccer

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

Glasgow High's soccer team remained unbeaten in Flight A with a 2-0 victory over cross-town rival Newark Tuesday night at Newark's Hoffman Stadium. The win, however, was anything but easy.

The Dragons (6-1 overall, 3-0 Flight A) were outplayed much of the game but the Yellowjackets (3-2-3, 0-1-2) were unable to produce a goal. The inability of the Newark offense to finish left the door open for Glasgow's David Hudson, who scored the game's first goal in the 55th minute when he turned from just outside the 18-yard line and fired a low shot that found its way into the left side of the net.

"When David turns and attacks, we become a more dangerous team," said Glasgow Coach Bob Bussiere, who directed the Dragons to the state title last season.

Ryan Bordas added a late goal for Glasgow to provide the final margin of victory.

Despite the victory, Bussiere was concerned about his team's play.

"We came out flat and [Newark] clearly outplayed us in the first half," said Bussiere. "We were just standing around and watching things happen. It was just terrible."

"The second half was much more even. Up until that first half I really thought we'd been improving in every game. We beat an undefeated Caesar Rodney team and an undefeated Middletown team prior to this game and I thought we had really started to play well."

For Newark, it was a scenario that Coach Hugh Mitchell has seen all too often this season.

"That's been the season for us," he said. "The first half we really played well. We had the better of the play and several quality scoring opportunities."

"But, you've gotta score to win. We just don't have the experience scorers that we've had in the past. I'm disappointed in the loss, but not in the effort. I'm very pleased with the way our young players are playing. We just can't get the goals."

Besides the two goal scorers, the Dragons also got a strong game from freshman goalkeeper David Scruggs, who recorded his third straight shutout.

"He's been terrific," Bussiere said of Scruggs. "He doesn't play like a freshman. He's just done a super job in the games he's played for us."

Under-13 Hawks win

The Delaware United FC Hawks fell 3-2 to the Queen Anne's Blaze in an under-13 boys soccer game Sunday.

Mike Zawislak and Zak Golloday both scored to give the Hawks a 2-0 first half lead.

The Blaze, though, scored three times in the second half to earn the victory.

Caravel field hockey falls to Chichester

The Caravel field hockey team fell 1-0 to host Chichester Monday afternoon.

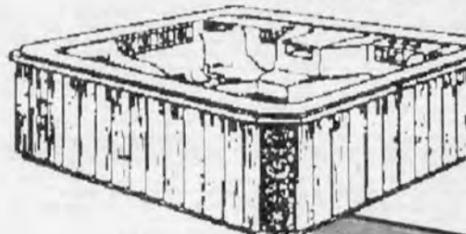

Chichester had 10 shots on goal with four penalty corners while the Bucs had 18 shots and 15 penalty corners.

The loss dropped the Bucs' record to 2-3-1.

Hens prep for Boston University

By MARTY VALANIA

NEWARK POST SPORTS WRITER

IF A 3-1 FOOTBALL team can be ailing, then it can certainly expect to get well on an 0-4 team.

That's the scenario facing the University of Delaware football team this weekend. The Blue Hens, who many feel have struggled to their still respectable 3-1 record, will face winless Boston University Saturday afternoon at Delaware Stadium. The Terriers have been hammered three straight weeks and Delaware, after a loss and two rallying wins, is in need of a convincing victory to restore some lost confidence.

"I am very much concerned about where we are and where we are going," said Delaware Coach Tubby Raymond, whose team earned a 27-17 come-from-behind victory over Maine last Saturday. "I'm hoping what's happening will be good for us in the end."

As bad as things have been for Delaware, they've been far worse for Boston University. In losing their first four games, the Terriers are off to their worst start since 1992. They have been outscored 120-22 in their last three games - losses to Richmond, James Madison and Maine.

"The biggest factor is that we don't have any healthy players," said Boston University's first-year coach Tom Masella. "We're just trying to hang on until we can get some people back."

The Terriers are missing nine starters including quarterback Kevin Foley, who may be out again this week.

Masella also realizes that his team will have a tough time turning its season around against the Hens.

"They have the best quarterback we'll see," Masella said of Delaware. "Hamlett has great skill. They have a tremendous offensive line to go with great skill people."

"We're going to have to fight, scratch and claw just to stay in the game."

History shows that will be difficult for BU. Delaware, ranked 11 in the country this week, leads the all-time series 13-4 and is 7-1 against the Terriers since both teams joined the Yankee Conference. Boston U. has also lost 11 straight games versus Yankee Conference opponents while Delaware has won 13 of its past 14 league games.

More foreboding numbers for the Terriers include a five-game road losing streak against conference opponents and the Hens' six-game winning streak against New England Division (of the Yankee Conference) teams.

As far as the conference standings go, Delaware is fourth in the Mid-Atlantic Division with a 1-1 record. James Madison, Villanova and William & Mary all are 1-0. Richmond is also 1-1 while Northeastern is 1-2.

In the New England Division, New Hampshire and Massachusetts are both 2-0 while Maine is 2-2; Connecticut 1-1 and Rhode Island and BU are 0-3.

As far as Yankee Conference teams in the national rankings, the league has six. Delaware is 11, Villanova 15, UConn 16, William & Mary 19, James Madison 20 and New Hampshire 25. Something will give this weekend, though, as Villanova will face UConn and New Hampshire will play William & Mary.

Vikings get field hockey win

By ERIC FINE

NEWARK POST SPORTS WRITER

CHRISTIANA - It was another case of good news and bad news for Christiana's field hockey team.

The good news: The Vikings won their first game of the season 3-0 against district-rival Newark last Friday. Angelina Vaccarino scored two goals and Amy Rude scored one in the Blue Hen Conference Flight A match.

The bad news: Christiana's record dropped to 1-6 after a 2-1 overtime loss to Dickinson Wednesday. The Vikings took a brief 1-0 lead on sophomore Jennifer Carey's second-half goal with 16:05 left to play. But the Rams' Nicole Schwartz tied the match at 13:32, sending the match into overtime.

Dickinson's Kristen Pedrosa scored the winning goal with 7:44 remaining in the extra period.

"We just couldn't convert," Christiana Coach Denise Rosaio Graham said. "We were definitely in position to get the go-ahead goal 2-3 times, but the passing was just a little off and the sticks weren't down."

"Maybe they were too anxious. But they definitely stepped up the power, the energy and the level of aggressiveness," the coach added.

The Viking players said playing against Newark made last Friday's match an easy one to get up for.

"We were all pumped up the whole game," senior Melissa Horwitz said. "Even though we had three goals, we just kept wanting to put them in, put them in, put them in."

The win was also sorely needed. "It boosted our spirits," said Rude, a senior. "And it brought us closer together because we now know what we can do as a team."

Vaccarino, a junior, agreed. "I just think we're playing more as a team now, more together. Now we know we can win, and we want it more."

Spartans get league win

St. Mark's knocked off St. Elizabeth 3-0 Monday in a Catholic Conference field hockey match. The Spartans (4-1-2) led the Vikings 2-0 at halftime behind goals by Leigh-ann Hlywak and Rachel Smedley. Maura Hazzard added a second-half goal.

The Spartan face Archmere Tuesday after playing Padua Thursday in two conference matches.

St. Mark's also played Wilmington Friends to a 0-0 tie on Sept. 27 and beat McKean 6-0 on Sept. 25. Hazzard scored two goals and Hlywak, Deena Toukan, Tracy Berryman and Jen Lachance scored one each.

POST PICKS OF THE WEEK

The big games just keep coming in this wide open high school football season.

We split the four games last week to bring the season record to 11-5 - a .688 winning percentage.

GLASGOW (1-2) VS. WILLIAM PENN (2-1) - Friday night at Glasgow, 7. This is the Flight A opener for both teams and a game both teams desperately want to win. If the Dragons want to keep any hopes of qualifying for the state tournament, the thought here is that they will have to win this week. The Colonials, too, need a win to keep on track toward the post season. The Pick: William Penn 16, Glasgow 14.

NEWARK (3-0) VS. CHRISTIANA (2-1) - Saturday afternoon at Coder Field, 1. This has all the makings of an outstanding high school football game between two cross-town rivals and two good football teams. Both are coming off very impressive victories last week. The Yellowjackets beat St. Mark's 28-16 in a spirited contest while the Vikings - after falling behind 14-0 before even running an offensive play - rallied for a 28-14 win over Seaford. Newark shut down the Spartans' powerful running game. Christiana shut down the Blue Jays after the initial barrage.

Offensively, the Jackets have feasted on big plays. The St. Mark's win was no exception. Newark has some big play people who have come up big all year.

Christiana, on the other hand, ran and passed the ball effectively against Seaford.

Both teams, obviously, want to win this game. The Vikings, though, already have a loss and need to win this game more. It should be a great one. The Pick (in a mild upset): Christiana 24, Newark 22.

HODGSON (3-1) VS. WILMINGTON (0-3) - Saturday afternoon at Hodgson, 1:30. The Silver Eagles are still stinging from last week's heartbreaking loss to neighborhood rival Caravel. Hodgson couldn't hang on to a big lead and then saw its potential game-winning drive fall one-yard short. The Eagles will most likely take out all their frustration on the Red Devils. The Pick: Hodgson 28, Wilmington 6.

CARAVEL (3-0) VS. HARFORD TECH (0-3) - Saturday afternoon at Caravel's Bob Peoples Stadium, 2. The Bucs are coming off a very satisfying come-from-behind win over Hodgson. Caravel showed a lot of grit in the rally and get rewarded with a Homecoming date with Harford (Md.) Tech. That should continue this week. The Pick: Caravel 34, Harford Tech 7.

ST. MARK'S (2-2) VS. CONCORD (2-1) - Saturday night at Baynard Stadium, 7:30. This is a very interesting contest. The Spartans are probably the best 2-2 team in the state with losses coming to a strong Brandywine team and a strong Newark team. The Raiders are coming off an upset win over their archrival Brandywine. It seems like every time these two teams get together they play a wild high school football game. This too should be a good one. The Pick: St. Mark's 20, Concord 14.

Christiana's Kevin Murphy (13) scored the game's lone goal in the Vikings win over Delcastle Tuesday afternoon at Christiana High.

Christiana booters shutout Delcastle

By ERIC FINE
NEWARK POSTSPORTS WRITER

CHRISTIANA — Christiana High's soccer team has dropped only one of its first eight games, but the coach and players still see room for improvement.

The Vikings (5-1-2) threw a 1-0 shutout at Delcastle in a Blue Hen Conference Flight A match on Tuesday on an early goal by midfielder Kevin Murphy.

Though the match was marred by the ejection of Delcastle's star goalkeeper, Bryheem Hancock with only a few minutes remaining, it demonstrated that Christiana could be in the same league with the top teams in Delaware.

"We played decent," Murphy said. "[But] we need to work better as a unit... all over the field — defense, offense, midfield. Last year we were a group; this year we're a couple groups."

Last season, the Vikings showed their mettle by registering the lone regular season defeat against Glasgow, the eventual state champion. Right now, they're a solid team with a strong offense.

Christiana Coach John Kendall believes the defense must improve before the team can take a step forward. The Vikings played Newark Thursday, and Kendall expressed concern that his team's ability to defend could spell the difference between winning and losing.

"That's what hurt us against Middletown [a 3-3 tie on Sept. 27]," Kendall said. "Instead of containing, [the backs] are coming up and trying to take the ball away. And when they get beat, we get scored on."

Both Murphy and forward Marlon Jones credited Hancock with keeping Tuesday's match close, especially on some tough shots Christiana delivered inside the box late in the match.

Hancock was ejected after he bumped Christiana players on two different plays.

"We probably could have taken advantage of a couple more [scoring opportunities]," Murphy said.

However, Jones said Hancock's reputation wasn't a factor in the Cougars' defensive stand. Rather, it was his ability.

"People talk about it, but when they get out on the field they don't worry about it," he said. The team, he added, needs to "open up a little bit and stop playing down to their [opponents'] level."

man] made up the call. He made an arbitrary call."

But Cyle also put some of the blame for the loss squarely on his players.

"No question about it," he said. "We had opportunities to seal up the game. All we had to do was get off successful punts, and we didn't do it."

The Silver Eagles fumbled the snap on one punting play, botched another attempt and were called for a face-mask penalty on a critical fourth-down play. The mistakes gave the Bucs the ball in Hodgson territory at the 15, 30 and 25. And Caravel scored each time.

"But it's over," said Cyle, whose team opens its Blue Hen Conference Flight B schedule Saturday at home against Wilmington. "We need to move on from this."

CITY OF NEWARK DELAWARE BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE
OCTOBER 17, 1996 - 7:30 PM

Pursuant to Chapter 32, Article XIX of the Code of the City of Newark, Delaware, notice is hereby given of a public hearing at a regular meeting of the Board of Adjustment on Thursday, October 17, 1996 at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chamber, Newark Municipal Building, 220 Elkton Road, Newark, Delaware, to hear the following appeals:

1. The appeal of Exxon Corporation for the property located at 820 South College Avenue, for an extension to a time-limited variance that was granted on March 21, 1996. A variance to Chapter 32, Section 32-51(A) for the construction of the relocation of the pump islands to begin within six months expired on September 21, 1996.
ZONING CLASSIFICATION: BN

2. The appeal of David Mullen and Melinda Harding, 5 Sue Lane, for a variance to Chapter 32, Section 32-56.2(d)(4) which requires a 20-foot setback from the street line to the line of the building. Existing garage protrudes eight (8) inches into the 20-foot setback line.
ZONING CLASSIFICATION: RD

3. The appeal of Sodor Stanley and Svetla Kravlevska, 711 Swarthmore Drive, for a variance to Chapter 32, Section 32-56.2(d)(4), which specifies that subdivision setback requirements must be met even when they exceed standard zoning regulations. Proposed addition would intrude five (5) feet into the 30-foot setback line.
ZONING CLASSIFICATION: RS

4. The appeal of Terry Foreman, agent for Newark Arts Alliance, for the property located at 132 East Delaware Avenue, for a variance to Chapter 32, Section 32-45, which requires eight (8) parking spaces. Application indicates three (3) paved parking spaces.
ZONING CLASSIFICATION: BL

Any questions regarding the above appeals may be directed to the City Secretary's Office at 366-7070 prior to the meeting.
