

Mayor Calls For Cooperation In Burglary Prevention Week

Chief Arthur S. Haussler Cites 134 City Burglaries Last Year, Offers Incentives To Assist Homeowners In Taking Preventive Measures During Vacation Period

With Mayor Norma B. Handloff's proclamation of the period June 18-24 as Burglary Prevention Week in Newark, Police Chief Arthur S. Haussler cited the need for public cooperation with local police to reduce the summer surge of burglaries that result when families leave home for vacation trips and weekend outings. During this week, the Newark Police Department is providing information to help you protect your home from burglars, Haussler advised.

"Failure to know and practice fundamental techniques of home protection, was largely responsible for the 134 burglaries committed in our city last year," Chief Haussler said.

"Although most people didn't intentionally invite intruders to ransack their homes, they might as well have hung up a sign saying 'No one's home — burglars welcome!'" Haussler added.

Check For Yourself!
"A stroll around your neighborhood will tell you at a glance who's away. Their porches may be cluttered with circulars; there may be an accumulation of milk bottles or an unkempt lawn—an empty garage with the door open or a building mailbox. "All of these are tip-offs that 'no one's home,' to anyone canvassing the neighborhood," Haussler added.

In the evening, most empty homes can be spotted—just look for the dark houses.

Light is one of the best deterrents to crime, yet homeowners go out for an evening and leave their homes completely dark.

Or they'll go off for a weekend or vacation and leave the same light burning day and night.

No light at all, or a light burning continuously is a good giveaway that no one is home, Newark's chief of police warns.

Lights On
A simple but effective means of having light in your home every evening is by connecting an automatic timing device to one or two lamps, Haussler advised.

Such a timer will turn a lamp on early in the evening, then turn it off several hours later. With lights turning on and off during evening hours, it will give the appearance that someone is home and may avert a burglary, the chief said.

Haussler explained that most burglars pick the easiest targets they can find. They want to get in, get the loot—and get away as quickly as possible.

Therefore, if you put several obstacles in his way, the burglar is less likely to try to break into your home, but will seek "easy pickings" elsewhere, the chief continued.

"By observing these few simple precautionary steps, you can reduce the possibility of a burglar selecting your dwelling as his target next time you are away," Haussler said, listing the following measures:

Safety Precautions
1. Close and lock all doors, including porch, basement and garage.
2. Connect a lamp to an automatic timer to turn lights on and off each evening.

3. Protect all doors and windows with an inexpensive, portable burglary alarm.

4. Illuminate your porch and yard with outdoor lights.

5. Be sure all screens are fastened from the inside.

6. Never leave valuables lying around—keep them in a safe deposit box.

Police Help
7. Notify your police department when you'll be leaving and how long you expect to be away.

8. Cancel all deliveries.

9. Have a neighbor or your post office hold all mail until your return.

10. Arrange to have the lawn mowed and sidewalk swept, with pick-up of any circulars.

11. Leave your shades and blinds as you normally do. Closed blinds keep the sun out, but also make an effective screen for the burglar.

12. Never advertise your departure with an item in the local paper. Give the story about your vacation to the newspaper after your return.

Marine Robert F. Ischia Assigned To Vietnam Duty
Marine Private First Class Robert F. Ischia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Renzo Ischia of 105 Edji Drive, Newark, is in Da Nang, Vietnam, with Service Company, Headquarters Battalion, 1st Marine Division.

As a member of the motor transport platoon, his duties involve lifting transportation requests for division headquarters, and maintaining the fleet of vehicles used by the platoon.

Dr. Symington Addresses Veterinarian Conference
Dr. Ernest L. Symington of 112 Manns Avenue, Newark, was one of three speakers at the recent Regulatory Veterinary Conference at the University of Pennsylvania's New Bolton Center.

He is state veterinarian with the Delaware Department of Agriculture in Dover.

Otis Jefferson, Jr. Selected As Dean For New Colleges

Community And Technical College Program Offered September At Georgetown

Otis P. Jefferson Jr. has been chosen by the University of Delaware as dean of the college transfer program at the Delaware Community and Technical College, conducted by the university under contract with the state's new two-year college system.

The first branch of the new colleges will open in September at Georgetown.

Jefferson, now administrative assistant to the dean of education and acting director of the university summer session, will assume his new duties July 1.

The transfer program will offer college level courses equivalent to those in the freshman and sophomore years at the university in Newark.

Students will receive University of Delaware transcripts; he taught by university faculty; and have the same standards for admission and retention as on the Newark campus. They will also have the privilege of completing their junior and senior years at the university, or of transferring to another four-year degree institution.

Jefferson said that only freshman-level courses will be taught during the first year. In the next year, he said, the faculty will be expanded as enrollment and number of courses increase.

Courses will be offered leading to degrees in art and science, education, and economics and business administration.

Two-year associate degrees will be granted to terminal students, although the university expects most students in the program to continue their work to the bachelor's degree.

Only Delaware residents will be accepted at present.

Jefferson joined the Delaware faculty in 1962 as assistant director of the division of university extension. He had taught in the Laurel and Millsboro school districts; served as principal of Millsboro High School, and two years as principal of John M. Clayton High School.

He holds a bachelor's degree from Juniata College, and a master's degree from Delaware.

Smith School Principal
The Newark Board of Education has named Donald F. Schneek as principal of the John E. Smith Elementary School, replacing Henry M. Brader who is being transferred in September to become principal of West Park Place Elementary School.

Schneek came to the Newark district three years ago, and for two years was a teacher in the Robert S. Gallagher Elementary School.

Last fall he was named administrative intern to Asst. Supt. George V. Kirk.

A native of Johnston, Pa., and a veteran of the U.S. Army during the Korean War, the new principal was awarded his bachelor's degree from the University of Pennsylvania and is completing his master's program at the University of Delaware.

Mr. and Mrs. Schneek and son reside at 2300 Sherman Road in Wilmington.

Schneek will assume his new duties Aug. 1.

Edward M. Knight Heads Delaware's American Legion
Edward M. Knight was elected commander of the American Legion's Department of Delaware at the 49th annual convention last weekend at Rehoboth.

Knight, of 3009 Ogletown Road, Chestnut Hill Estate, is a member of Newark's Allison O'Daniel Post. Elected as department president of the auxiliary is Mrs. Alice Webster, a member of the First State unit.

A Navy veteran of World War II, Knight joined the American Legion in 1946 in Nanticoke, Pa.

He is a past grand knight of St. Michael's Council 4548, Knights of Columbus, and is active in church and civic organizations.

He is married, has two daughters, and is employed at the U.S. Post Office in Newark.

Harry McCavanas Host Cynthia E. Fraser As Winner Of 4-Yr. Chrysler Scholarship

Last week, Cynthia E. Fraser graduated with honors from Christiana High School, and this week she was the guest of honor at a dinner party at the Newark Country Club given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCavanas.

Miss Fraser, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald V. Fraser of Todd Estates, is the only Delaware winner this year of a four-year college scholarship awarded by the Chrysler Corporation Fund.

Chrysler Corporation Fund National Merit Scholarships were awarded this year to 86 students in 19 states. Each winner is the son or daughter of a Chrysler employee.

The dinner at the Newark Country Club last Tuesday night was attended by Miss Fraser, her parents and officials of Chrysler's Newark Parts Depot, of which McCavanas is manager.

The scholarship winner's father has been employed by Chrysler since 1936, and now works in the export department of the Newark Parts Depot.

Miss Fraser plans to attend Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

Core Vice-President
The legislators also announced plans to seek a special federal grant to provide grade separations (under or overpasses) at these locations.

House Majority Leader Everett Hale and Rep. William F. Hart, both Republicans, met with PRR officials headed by D. E. Porgin, superintendent of the Chesapeake region. The meeting stemmed from Hart's letter to the railroad, asking that tests be held off until gates are installed.

Hart said there are three grade crossings in the Newark area—at Harmony, Red Mill and Iron Hill roads—that now have only flashing lights.

"While we are pleased that the railroad will not run these tests before installing automatic gates at these locations," Hale and Hart said, "we feel that additional safeguards are necessary."

"Therefore, we intend to seek a grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation, working through our congressional delegation."

While there are 22 existing grade crossings on the New York to Washington run, GOP members said, the ones at Newark are the first from New York south along the line.

Most are in Maryland.

Other Pennsy officials at the meeting were Charles Meecham, assistant engineer; William Spennell, chief counsel; and Howard J. Braun, special representative.

David W. Gore Graduates From Colorado College
Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gore of Newark, David W. Gore received his bachelor's degree at the recent commencement for Colorado College, Colorado Springs.

David is one of 319 seniors receiving bachelor's degrees, with 100 of the graduates from Colorado.

Mary Jane Hilton Receives Harvard Master's Degree
Mary Jane Hilton of 11 Fox Lane, Newark, received a master's degree from Harvard at the university's 316th commencement last Thursday.

Miss Hilton, one of 2,900 receiving advanced degrees, was awarded a master of arts in teaching.

Poet Laureate Honored
James Jay Simon of 56 Spring Lake Drive, Brookhaven, was pronounced dead at the scene.

Richard (Ricky) Washburn, 13, of 706 Ellsworth Drive, Harmony Hills, with multiple head, face and body injuries, remains in critical condition in Wilmington General Division.

State police said the two boys and three others were playing on an empty train used for passenger service to Delaware Park.

At about 3:15 p.m., the two alighted from the parked train and stepped into the path of an approaching 110-car freight train on the high-speed line.

The other three got off on the side facing Delaware Park. They are Robin J. Thomas, 14, of 46 Spring Lake Drive, Brookhaven; John Campbell, 16, of 105 Durso Drive, Harmony Hills, and Jack Washburn, 16, brother of Richard.

The dead boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Simon, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Washburn are parents of the critically injured boy.

The passenger train was stopped on a siding inside the westbound track waiting to pick up passengers when the train crossed the day at Delaware Park. This section is enclosed with a 6-ft. cyclone fence on both sides of the track.

The two hit by the train got off by way of a right front door of the coach, police said. The three-diesel freight was traveling at about 45 mph.

Young Washburn was rushed to the hospital in his Delaware Park ambulance.

Mrs. Boden Grant Offers Seminars With Historians
Mrs. Harry Clark Boden of Newark has provided a grant to establish seminars to bring outstanding historians to the Washington College campus at Chestertown, Md.

The Hyland-Price Seminars, named after Mrs. Boden's ancestors, will bring lecturers in American history for a day to a week, or more.

Another gift from Mrs. Boden provides a fund for books, research materials and travel, and a grant for scholarships for outstanding students whose special interest is American development.

The travel fund will make possible student and faculty trips to other institutions where Washington College scholars can study original documents, private papers, and rare books.

Harley S. Hastings is photographed after accepting an engraved clock as a farewell present from his students in the Newark High School Band.

Hastings is leaving Newark High to assume responsibility for the music program in the Newark school district, and to carry on an experimental program with stringed instruments at the elementary school level.

He will continue as conductor of the Newark Symphony Orchestra.

Hale, Hart Receive Promise Of PRR For Better Safety

Local Legislators Stress Need For Safety Measures At Three Grade Crossings

Two Newark legislators at Dover pressed progress in their efforts to improve safety at grade crossings when high-speed train tests begin this fall.

The pair received a promise from the Pennsylvania Railroad that no tests will be made until automatic gates are installed at existing grade crossings.

The legislators also announced plans to seek a special federal grant to provide grade separations (under or overpasses) at these locations.

House Majority Leader Everett Hale and Rep. William F. Hart, both Republicans, met with PRR officials headed by D. E. Porgin, superintendent of the Chesapeake region. The meeting stemmed from Hart's letter to the railroad, asking that tests be held off until gates are installed.

Newark Schools To Be Named For Mrs. Maclary, Miss Wilson

Board Of Education Honors Mrs. R. Elisabeth Maclary, Etta J. Wilson by Naming Two New Elementary School Buildings For Veteran Teachers In Newark District

The Newark Board of Education honored two residents of the Newark district last Tuesday night by naming the elementary school under construction in the Chapel Hill area for Mrs. R. Elisabeth Maclary, and approved the naming of the next local elementary school for Etta J. Wilson.

The 24-room elementary school under construction in Chapel Hill was named for Mrs. Maclary who started her teaching career in a one-room building near construction site of the new Wilmer E. Shue School.

Mrs. Maclary taught in that one-room school from 1914 to 1916, with grades one to eight. From 1916 to 1921 she taught in the Richardson Park school — for two years in grades three and four; one year in grades five and six, and two years in grades five through eight.

After the death of her husband Mrs. Maclary returned to teaching. From 1931 to 1933 she taught in Marshall, arriving in Newark in 1934.

Local Ladies Honored
In the letters suggesting that the new school be given Mrs. Maclary's name, former students and co-workers had praised for this "master teacher." Mrs. Maclary retired in 1964.

When Mrs. Maclary was informed that she was to be honored at the June 20, board meeting, tears filled her eyes.

"My goodness!" she said, "thirty-eight years ago to the very day the Lord called my husband home."

After five years of teaching, Miss Wilson, a native of Newark, was persuaded by the editor of The Newark Post to report on commencement speakers, and so began her long career in the career of education and reporting.

State Leader
Miss Wilson began interpreting education for the public in 1917 when she was a member of the commission appointed by the Delaware General Assembly to evaluate the public education system launched in 1921.

From this commission, Miss Wilson took a short step to the newly formed Service Citizens of Delaware. Her mission was to convince residents to become personally involved in education for their children.

Miss Wilson helped institute a teacher-training program, taking groups of Delaware teachers all over the country to observe superior educational systems.

In order to understand the needs for education in Delaware, Miss Wilson helped canvas the state to find out the exact needs of the public. She then fought for grants to establish education for the native as well as foreign-born.

The exact location of the school to be named for Etta J. Wilson has not been announced by the board of education because it is involved in a site-acquisition program.

A. B. Root Family To Provide Home For AFS Visitor
Newark High School has been selected to host an American Field Service international scholar from abroad for next year's school term.

Ana Lorena Montero Corredora from San Jose, Costa Rica, will spend the coming school year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Root, 258 Beverly Road.

Ana, who is scheduled to arrive Aug. 26, will not come to Newark a complete stranger to Americans and their ways. Her family has opened its home to American exchange students three times in the past six years. She has command of English, having studied it for 10 years in school, and hopes to be an interpreter.

She enjoys volleyball, swimming, dancing, cooking, and reading, and hopes to learn to play tennis in the United States.

Ana will leave two brothers at home in Costa Rica, but should not be too homesick while living with the Roots. She will gain four American "brothers"—Barney, Larry, Bob, and David—and "sister" Debbie.

She and Debbie will be seniors at Newark High.

Ensign Charles R. Brown Returns From Vietnam
Navy Ensign Charles R. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Brown of 398 Country Club Drive, Newark, has returned to Davisville, N.J., after an eight-month tour of duty in Vietnam as a member of the U.S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 58.

The mission of the battalion in Vietnam was to defend their camp and subject sites from the enemy, and to provide construction support to U.S. and allied military forces in the area.

In addition, the battalion undertook civic action programs assisting the Vietnamese.

One of the most important projects was rebuilding of 32 duplex, prefabricated homes for Vietnamese survivors of a plane crash which occurred last December near the Da Nang Airfield.

Norma B. Handloff

Council Approves Merit Increase For Newark Police

At a special meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night, salary increases were approved for nine members of the Newark Police Department with City Manager Edward R. Stiff's report that such pay raises based on merit, tenure, and promotion, had been too long delayed.

A minimum quota was present at the council table on Monday night with Mayor Norma B. Handloff, William E. Francis, Arthur E. Mayer, and Frank J. Osborne, Jr. in attendance.

"We are not as competitive as other industries—local and state-wide," Stiff said of the city's salary scales.

"If we come up with a qualified person, we would like to know if we can make a higher offer," Stiff said, requesting permission to "go above the midpoint" of the local pay range in employing needed personnel.

And council approved Stiff's request.

Charles M. Eisner, of 11 Choate Street, told the council "It's unfair to everybody when you degrade property" by cutting the assessment.

The new assessment for Eisner's home was $3,800 instead of the previous $4,600. Eisner wanted it increased to $6,000.

But the city couldn't increase his rates, it was explained, because Eisner's house is attached to his neighbor's, and both assessments would have to be raised.

Seven appeals to cut assessments were denied, and an eighth, from David Gallo on behalf of Park 'n' Shop, Inc., was delayed until June 26.

Gallo said that his assessment included land that didn't belong to him—part of two city street sites and a tract he had given the city—and some land that was residential instead of commercial.

3 Local Boys Win Service Academy Bids Of Williams
Three local high school graduates in this June's senior classes are among 19 Delaware students admitted to the five United States service academies as freshmen next fall.

All three were nominated by U.S. Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del.

James H. Cox, Jr., has been accepted at West Point.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Cox of 733 Bent Lane, he is a graduate of Newark High School.

Michael E. Horney, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Horney of 4 Edgell Drive, has been accepted at the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

He is an athlete and graduate of Christiana High School.

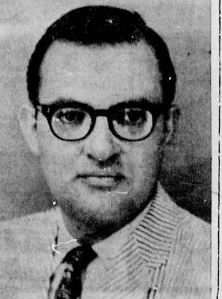

Andrew T. Geyer, III, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geyer of 319 North Dilwyn Road, has been accepted at the Merchant Marine Academy.

He is a graduate of Newark High School.

Three Receive Doctorates, One, Master's At Temple
Three Newark residents received doctorates, and one received a master's degree last Thursday at Temple University's 81st commencement in Convention Hall, Philadelphia.

Charles E. Robinson, 607 Lehigh Road, received a doctor of philosophy degree; and Robert Wesley Mayer, 238 Cheltenham Road, and Robert Thomas Calhoun, 604 North County Drive, degrees as doctors of education.

Travis L. Bowen, 722 Art Lane, received his master's in education.

Donald F. Schneek

The Newark Board of Education has named Donald F. Schneek as principal of the John E. Smith Elementary School, replacing Henry M. Brader who is being transferred in September to become principal of West Park Place Elementary School.

Schneek came to the Newark district three years ago, and for two years was a teacher in the Robert S. Gallagher Elementary School.

170 Girl Scouts, Parents Attend Banquet Of Cadette Awards At St. Thomas Church

With 170 parents and Girl Scouts, the first annual Cadette awards banquet was held June 2, at St. Thomas Episcopal Church.

Troop 309 led by Mrs. Kenneth Lewis and Mrs. F. X. Cunningham; Troop 429 led by Mrs. Samuel Johnson and Mrs. William Heilbron; and Troop 103 led by Mrs. Herman Thurman and Mrs. David Foster took this occasion to honor the Girl Scouts, and thank those who helped make this year of Cadette Scouting a memorable one, and to present badges and awards the girls earned throughout the year.

Mrs. Charles Dunham presented First Class pins to Laurie Johnson and the mothers of Betsy Gaddis and Mary Wimberley, explaining that these two girls could not be present because they were competing with other girls of the Chesapeake Bay Council for chance to represent this area at the international event.

She pointed out that these girls were the first from the Newark area to receive this honor since the program was initiated in 1963. It is the highest honor a Cadette troop can award to a member, and is equal to an Eagle badge in Boy Scouting, she added.

Mrs. David St. Clair welcomed the parents and girls to the banquet and introduced the Rev. David Sheehan of St. Nicholas Mission, who gave the invocation.

Mrs. Gordon Gaddis introduced the troop entertainment, and Troop 103 with Dana Ketter as announcer, presented a fashion show, modeling clothes the girls had sewn themselves while working on the dressmaker badge.

A scroll was presented to Mrs. Phyllis Dunham by Helen Lewis in recognition of her work with the Girl Scouts as leader, trainer, and as camp director during Unit 16.

Major Jack Tebo Among Graduates At Maxwell AFB

Major Jack Tebo graduated from the U.S. Air Force Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell AFB, Ala., on June 9.

Graduation ceremonies for Major Tebo and fellow officers marked the end of more than nine months of professional military education.

He is being assigned to the Pentagon as an intelligence officer.

The major was commissioned in 1953 upon completion of Officer Candidate School.

The Dover High School graduate received his BA degree in psychology in 1952 from the University of Delaware, and his MS in guidance in 1966 from Radford (Va.) College.

His wife Annette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Welmer of 222 South College Avenue, Newark.

Joanne Cooke Wins Honor In College Poetry Test

Joanne Cooke of Newark has received special mention in Fanny Fay Wood Memorial poetry competition at Randolph-Macon Woman's College where she is a junior.

The Fanny Fay Wood Memorial Poetry Prize was made possible by a gift from Charles W. Wood of New York to the Academy of American Poets.

The presentation was made recently during a special assembly program by Dr. William F. Quillian, Jr., president of the college.

Miss Cooke is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. R. Jervis Cooke, 100 Tanglewood Lane, Newark.

James R. Gervan Selected For New York Institute

James R. Gervan of Newark, supervisor of art education for the State Department of Public Instruction, has been selected one of 30 fine arts educators across the country to attend the National Arts and Humanities Institute for advanced study in fine arts in New York City, July 17-31.

Selection of candidates for the institute was made on the basis of their qualifications, interest in the program, and support of sponsoring institutions.

The aim of the sessions will be to train selected fine arts administrators in decision-making through the use of case studies.

Service Academy Bids Due With Roth June 30

Congressman William V. Roth, Jr., announced this week that June 30, is the deadline for applying through his office for appointments in 1968 to the U.S. Military, Naval and Air Force academies.

Roth said that to qualify for appointment, young men must be between 17 and 22 at the time of entrance, pass strict physical examinations and have good academic records.

Young men interested in attending any of the academies should write to Congressman William V. Roth, Room 304 Federal Building, Wilmington 19899.

Summit Aviation Plans New Storage, Activities

Even though a new high of 110 planes are based at Summit Aviation's two facilities, new aircraft storage space is still being requested and increased flight activity has resulted in new taxiway construction.

Forty-seven aircraft are hangared or tied down at New Castle, according to John McC. Morgan, general manager.

Operations Manager George A. Houchin reports 33 planes are in T-hangers, 15 tied down and 15 in the main hangar at the Summit Airpark near Middletown.

Planting Time, Seed Type Provide Soybean Control

Weather, weeds, disease, insects, seed quality and planting time can all limit soybean production. Picking the best planting time, and planting only seed you know will do well, are two factors over which a farmer has complete control.

Wait until the ground warms up before planting soybeans, recommends Dr. William Mitchell, extension agronomist at the University of Delaware. "But don't wait too long—as soon as the corn is in, go ahead and plant."

Before you buy seed, check the tags. Prices vary and the lowest priced seed may not be the best buy after all, Mitchell states.

Lt. Paul E. Simpson Wins Commission With Army

Paul E. Simpson, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Simpson, Egypt Road, Newark, was commissioned an Army second lieutenant after graduating from the Infantry Officer Candidate School at Ft. Benning, Ga., May 18.

He was trained in leadership; tactics of small infantry units; and use of infantry weapons.

Simpson also received instructions in map and aerial photograph reading, guerrilla warfare, and counter-insurgency operations.

"What Can I Do?" Summer Complaints Provide Challenge

It may take almost three weeks of vacation before the plaintive pleas "What can I do now?" begin.

Make that plea a challenge instead of an annoyance, suggests Mrs. Betty Keller, home economics extension agent for New Castle county.

Summer can be a time for learning—the kind of learning that is fun at the same time.

If your child is ready to learn to ride a bicycle, encourage him.

If he's athletic, encourage him to take part in summer sports, organized or backyard variety.

If he enjoys collecting, encourage him to start a new collection, perhaps one that takes him outdoors.

Planned activities—a definite time set aside each day for a particular activity—are a boon to busy mothers. Surprisingly enough, they're often happily received by the youngster.

If your youngster is interested in music, now is the time to encourage him to learn to play a new instrument. Most music stores offer instruments for rent and some schools offer free lessons. Of course, any music requires a regular practice time, preferably one set up at the outset.

According to Mrs. Keller, early morning practice really pays—wait till the neighbors are up, though.

Summer is also a good time to learn the homemaking skills that will always be important. Perhaps your child would like to learn to cook, sew or knit.

Many boys are eager to work with tools. With dad supervising their use, your son can begin with simple projects that help him gain a valuable skill.

Cook and Save 13¢ ... or 1 1/2 Hours

Do you ever wonder how much convenience costs? Just how much do you pay for preparing a meal with convenience foods versus the do-it-yourself way?

Thirteen cents! That may be the answer.

A cost study made on food items during January this year showed that this is the average food cost increase per meal of 7 meals prepared with convenience foods over meals prepared completely by you, Mrs. Homemaker.

The seven convenience meals averaged out at a cost of $2.33 for a family of four versus $2.20 for home preparation. A difference of 13¢! The time required was 32 minutes for the average convenience meal contrasting to 1 hour 59 minutes for average home-prepared. Thus, you can conclude that an extra hour of work for a meal may save only about 9¢ in food cost.

This work was an updating of a study by the College of Home Economics, Drexel Institute of Technology—first done in 1963. Comparison was made of the food cost and the preparation time for the meals.

One finding was that "raw ingredient foods" have gone up more than convenience foods during the 4-year period. Increased cost was due primarily to substantially higher prices for fresh vegetables, meats, and dairy products, according to Mrs. Corinne Robinson, head of Drexel's Department of Nutrition and Food, who supervised the study.

The 31 foods studied included many considered to be leading convenience foods by homemakers. Among them: canned fruits, canned gravy, condensed soups, frozen chicken pie, frozen vegetables, prepared salad dressing, and packaged pudding mix.

These items were combined with others into 7 menus suitable for typical family lunches or dinners. Each food was checked to see if the convenience item and the home-prepared were nutritionally equivalent.

Preparation time values were based on actual work involving the homemaker, including cutting and peeling, reading directions, mixing, picking up range or oven, and clean up.

Of the 31 convenience foods studied, 25 required only 5 minutes or less to prepare. Of the home items, only 2 were ready to eat within 5 minutes; 14 took 20 minutes or longer.

One sample menu cost the same in both forms—$1.75—and required 22 minutes with convenience foods; 1 hour 20 minutes with home-prepared. The menu included vegetable soup, cheese sandwiches, relishes, sponge cake shells, strawberries, and milk.

Creative Writing Offered In Course By Robeson Bailey

A course in creative writing will be one of 20 courses in English offered during daytime sessions at the University of Delaware on the Newark campus this summer.

Scheduled for the first time in three summers, creative writing will be taught by Robeson Bailey, English department lecturer, during the June 19-July 26 first session, daily from 9:35 to 11 a.m., and is open to graduate students and qualified undergraduates.

There will be no textbook, and students will be encouraged to pursue the kind of writing they most enjoy.

Bailey has taught creative writing for 37 years in colleges and universities, including Harvard, Radcliffe, Smith, Middlebury, Tufts, Massachusetts, and Oregon.

Since 1954, he has been a member of the University of Delaware faculty.

He has been affiliated with the annual Bread Loaf Writers' conference at Middlebury (Vt.) College since 1936 and is personally acquainted with many of the outstanding authors and editors in this country.

He was associate editor and book critic for Field and Stream for three years; is a regular contributor of stories and articles to magazines and journals; is the author of six books, including three textbooks on writing; and assists in the preparation of university promotional publications.

He has been a member of the American Society of Editors, the National Association of Writers, and the National Book Critics Circle.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

SUMMER FUN IN THE SUN means beach parties, picnics, boating excursions and weekend trips to the country or seashore. Being able to pile the family, pets and luggage into the station wagon takes some quick figuring from "poor dad", who usually has the least amount of space.

THE LITTLE ITEMS

When packing for a journey, big items usually present few problems. It's the small items that need to be close at hand when an emergency arises and not tucked away in the trunk. If you are planning a day at the beach or a trip to the country, take along this small and handy carry-all. Easily converted into a beach bag for that day in the sun or as a tote for those little items on your trip to the country. Made with "Knit-Cro-Seen", in a color of your own choosing, several pieces of colored felt, plastic, cardboard and sequins.

VARIETY OF COLORS

Such colors as parakeet, watermelon, canary yellow and tango are perfect for summer and the sea shore design adds a touch of charm to your beach bag or carry-all. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet NC1669.

Camp Wassaqu To Open Monday In 2-Wk. Sessions

The Western Branch YMCA opens its Day Camp Wassaqu next Monday with four 2-week sessions.

According to Director Steve O'Neill, the camp offers boys and girls 5½ to 12, special opportunity for growth as they work and play in small groups in an outdoor setting at Brandevine Springs State Park, with daily swimming instruction at Canby Pool.

Assisting O'Neill are Program Director Barb Rowe; Aquatics Director John Ludlow; and camp director Gus Highfield, and a staff of 15 experienced counselors.

The camp staff feels that for 5½-year-olds, day camping serves as an introduction to first grade, especially for the youngsters who never went to kindergarten.

Registrations for Camp Wassaqu are being accepted for any of the four sessions at the Western Branch YMCA, 2600 Kirkwood Highway.

Courses At YMCA Offered To Serve Family Members

The Western Branch YMCA will launch this week and next, course offerings for its full-privilege family members.

A new series of lessons in the cleaning, painting and firing of ceramics began Tuesday under the direction of Mrs. Bill Burgess.

Beginning today, children between seven and 12 can have fun and learn to cook as Mrs. Emory Ford instructs them in basic cooking skills, table-setting, and clean-up.

Girls 10 to 12 can learn how to knit in six lessons beginning next Wednesday under the instruction of Mrs. Ned Elliott and Mrs. William Thompson.

All sign-makers over 13 can improve their skills in a poster-making class beginning Monday.

Members should register for courses at the YMCA office.

Theatre '67

The professional Theatre '67 company, which opened its 12-week season in air-conditioned Mitchell Hall on Tuesday last week with the comedy "My Three Angels," tempered the comic mood with last Tuesday's opening night for "The Visit," by Friedrich Durrenmatt.

Winner of the New York Critics Circle Best Foreign Play Award, it is generally called a "dramatic comedy."

The play moves of its own astonishing power," the New York Herald Tribune reported.

LIFE-SAVING BLOOD

Twenty years ago, as anniversary articles recall, a French ship exploded causing America's greatest peacetime fire disaster at Texas City. Hospitals and community blood banks in many states rushed blood and plasma to the 3,000 injured. As an example of how good can sometimes result from ill, the institutions involved later organized the American Association of Blood Banks with a view toward being better prepared for any future disasters. The Association, which now has 4,025 members in the 50 states and 25 foreign countries, maintains in Chicago a central file of rare blood donors. This file has saved the lives of many Americans and ill patients in other countries by finding rare matching blood when needed.

It has a system of regional laboratories for identifying rare blood types. It has established standards for blood banks and a voluntary inspection and accreditation system. Most important, it has organized a national clearinghouse system for the exchange of blood and blood credits in which the Red Cross cooperates. This permits blood given locally to be credited to a patient in a distant city and enables thousands to save on medical expenses.

But, before blood can be used or rushed somewhere, somebody must give it. If you are between 18 and 59 and in good health, you can give a pint of blood regularly at your blood bank or collection center. Your donation of blood may help save a life—possibly your own.

Bill Walton Directs Veteran Star Cast With Opening Of New Theatre '67 Plays

Mitchell Hall at the University of Delaware has come to life as members of the new Theatre '67 professional resident company arrived from north and south.

Spirits were high as the cast gathered in their new air-conditioned home for the first rehearsal of Sam and Bella Spewack's comedy "My Three Angels," which opened the summer season June 13.

Managing Director Bill Walton, who selected his cast says that in his 13 years of professional experience, the Theatre '67 company is the most impressive gathering of veterans he has directed.

J. S. Johnson is a veteran of seven summer stock seasons in five states and has performed with stars Jack Palance, Kathy Crosby, and Jack Kelly.

Off-Broadway has seen Jack in "Threepenny Opera," "The Merchant of Venice," "Arms and the Man," "Orpheus Descending," "Evening With Chekhov," and "Country Scandal."

Don Sobolik's roles have ranged from God in "Gideon" to Rose Bennett in "The Marriage-Go-Round." A veteran of both Hayloft and Tanglewood, he appeared recently Off-Broadway in "Triptych," "Five Days," and "The Island of Symmetrical People."

Gina Petruska gained her first theatre experience in her native Germany, where she spent four years with the Kulturbund Theatre of Berlin. From there she went to Switzerland to work for six years. In the United States, Gina has appeared on Broadway in "Compulsion" and "The Deputy," and in such Off-Broadway productions as "The Night of the Iguana" and "The Glass Menagerie." Ronald Dawson, who is Maynard on "The Edge of Night," made his stage debut in a London production of "Peter Pan" at the age of nine. Since then he has played every country in the British Commonwealth and coast to coast in the U.S. as well as all major radio networks.

His lead and supporting roles on Broadway, the circuits, television series, plays, and spectacles, and in the movies range into the hundreds with "Witness for the Prosecution," "Look Homeward Angel," "A Man For All Seasons," Studio One, "Hallelujah, I'm a Bum," and the Clark Gable-Charles Laughton "Mutiny on the Bounty."

Eric Crawley has appeared in New York both on and Off-Broadway in such plays as "The Lesson," "The Tavern," "Daisy Miller Oedipus," and "The Glass Menagerie." New York appearances of Lorraine Kirby include roles for the Equity Library Theatre, the 4th Street Playhouse, and for Theatre Marquis.

She has television experience on "The Nurses, The Defenders, The Patty Duke Show, Westinghouse Summer Theatre The Kraft Theatre and Naked City."

Bill Wiley has played roles ranging from Earthquake McGoon in "Lil Abner" to Antonio in "Twelfth Night" in theatres from New York's Equity and Gramercy Arts to the outdoor amphitheatre in Winston-Salem.

Robert Sonderskov was in the New York City Repertory Theatre and the Goodspeed Opera House companies, and has sung buffo roles in such operas as "The Magic Flute" and Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley."

Rusti Moon, who as Elizabeth in the New York production of "The Crucible," has played leading roles in the Crystal Palace Theatre in St. Louis, the Virginia Barter Theatre, the Gallery Circle in New Orleans, and the Connecticut Canton Theatre.

Barry Bartle has just completed work in Paramount's "The Untouchables" and returns to the stage to work with Theatre '67. On television he was featured on "The Catholic Hour," "The Three Musketeers" and "Sword of the Sun."

With the opening of Theatre '67 Managing-Director Bill Walton initiates his fourth resident summer theatre. As a student at the University of Nebraska, Bill organized and operated the professional Hayloft Summer Theatre. He helped to organize North Carolina's Tanglewood Barn Theatre and served as its managing-director for seven years. Last year he was managing-director for the first season of the Harlequin Stock Theatre in Winston-Salem.

Six Of UD Faculty Receive Promotion To Professorships

Board of Trustees Names 10 Associate, Nine Assistant Professors; OK New PhD

University of Delaware trustees elected Henry P. Cannon, II, of Bridgeville as a board member; promoted six of the university staff to full professorships; named 10 associate and nine assistant professors; and established an 11th doctoral program—in art history—at the June 10, meeting on the Newark campus.

Cannon, the new trustee, was elected to a six-year term as a trustee from Sussex County.

He succeeds G. Franklin Waples of Milford, a trustee since 1948 who asked not to be nominated for reelection.

Promoted to full professors are: Dr. Willard E. Baxter, mathematics; Karl W. B. B. physics; Elizabeth E. Bohning, languages and literature; Donald F. Crossan, plant pathology; John R. Ferron, chemical engineering; and William E. Markell, business and economics.

Baxter joined the university faculty in 1958 after teaching at the University of Pennsylvania and Ohio University.

Boer has been an associate professor of physics since joining the faculty in 1962.

Mrs. Bohning has been a Delaware faculty member for 25 years.

Crossan, also serving as assistant dean of the college of agriculture, took his undergraduate work at Delaware and has been on the faculty since 1954.

Ferron, who was a DuPont engineer before coming to the university, has been a faculty member since 1958.

Markell, a certified public accountant, also joined the Delaware faculty in 1958.

Promoted to associate professors are: Robert Bailey, English; Milford P. Beatty, engineering; Richard H. Cole, agronomy and agricultural engineering; Richard D. Ewing, physics; Richard J. Libera, mathematics; Stephen Lukashewich, history; Richard A. Nystrom, biological sciences; T. W. Frazier Russell, chemical engineering; Edward E. Schweizer, chemistry; and Jerome Siegel, psychology.

Named assistant professors are: Kenneth J. Ackerman, sociology and anthropology; Virginia L. Franklin, nursing; Lillian A. Jura, nursing; Paul A. Newlin, English; David L. Norton, philosophy; Henry Robinson, English; Charles E. Robinson, English; David L. Stixrud, languages and literature; and Raymond E. Walters, history.

The new doctoral program in art history will start in September.

Dr. William L. Homer, chairman, will have a departmental faculty of five full-time members and one visiting professor.

Robert Sonderskov was in the New York City Repertory Theatre and the Goodspeed Opera House companies, and has sung buffo roles in such operas as "The Magic Flute" and Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley."

Rusti Moon, who as Elizabeth in the New York production of "The Crucible," has played leading roles in the Crystal Palace Theatre in St. Louis, the Virginia Barter Theatre, the Gallery Circle in New Orleans, and the Connecticut Canton Theatre.

Barry Bartle has just completed work in Paramount's "The Untouchables" and returns to the stage to work with Theatre '67. On television he was featured on "The Catholic Hour," "The Three Musketeers" and "Sword of the Sun."

With the opening of Theatre '67 Managing-Director Bill Walton initiates his fourth resident summer theatre. As a student at the University of Nebraska, Bill organized and operated the professional Hayloft Summer Theatre. He helped to organize North Carolina's Tanglewood Barn Theatre and served as its managing-director for seven years. Last year he was managing-director for the first season of the Harlequin Stock Theatre in Winston-Salem.

Mrs. Carter Cites New Membership With Library Day

Mrs. Robert C. Carter, president of the Friends of the Newark Free Library, reports that Library Day on June 2, was very well supported by Newark residents.

The Friends signed up more than 100 new members during the day at the three tables in the Newark and Brookside shopping centers and at the library.

More than 125 pre-school children and parents attended the two puppet shows presented at the library by Mrs. Vernon G. Vernier and Mrs. William E. Craven.

Mrs. Carter said that Friends of the Newark Free Library welcome new members at any time.

Mrs. Ray E. Keesev, 208 Sunset Road, Newark, is in charge of memberships.

Summer Training In Therapy Won By Laura Adams

Laura Adams, 14 Meadow Lane, Newark, has been accepted as participant in the newly instituted summer experience work program in speech pathology and audiology.

A student at Christiana High School, she joins 17 other pupils in the project conducted by the American Occupational Therapy Association, New York, and the Coordinating Council for the Handicapped Child of Delaware, Inc., under terms of a grant from the Vocational Rehabilitation Administration, Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

As an apprentice staff member, Miss Adams will work at the Wilmington Medical Center Delaware Division of Speech under the direction of L. L. Horne.

The six-week program will run from June 26, and is designed so that students interested in health careers may experience in a professional setting, personal and vocational demands for a career in occupational, speech, and physical therapy, and social service.

Guest Director Tom Neumiller comes from Boston, where he is director of theatre at Wheelock College.

Tom Behrens, designer-technical director for Theatre '67, also holds that position at the North Carolina School of the Arts. Tom is a veteran of both Tanglewood and the Harlequin as well as the Erie, Penn. and Peninsula playhouses.

13-Year-Old Boy Injured As Bicycle-Auto Collide

Thomas Monroe, 12, of 7 Calgary Road, Newark, was injured Wednesday last when his bicycle and an automobile collided on Possum Run Road near the Pennsylvania State Line.

He was taken to Wilmington General Division with fractured ribs and right shoulder injuries.

Delaware State Police said the bicycle collided with a car driven by William Lawrence, 21, of 4643 Griffin Road, around 5 p.m.

Summer Library Story Hour Added To Local Program

The summer library program in the Newark school district which began last Monday, includes the addition of a story hour for younger children.

According to Dr. George V. Kirk, assistant superintendent, story hours will be held daily from 1 to 1:30 p.m. in all elementary school libraries.

In this first week of operation, the topic of the story hour is "Animals."

During the second week "Stories in Verse" will be the story-hour subject, followed by "Adventure Tales," "Story Characters," "Fairy Tales," "Stories in Music," "Far Away Places," and during the eighth and final week, story and topic will be left up to the children taking part in the program.

All 10 of the Newark district elementary schools are taking part in the summer library program from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., with the following schedule:

Mondays—Brookside and Central schools; Tuesdays—Deerfoot and McVey schools; Wednesdays—Gallagher and Medill; Thursdays—Jennie E. Smith and West Park Place; and

Delaware 4-H'ers To Visit Newark For State Meeting

16th Annual Conference Scheduled June 26-29 On University Campus

Some 150 Delaware 4-H'ers will attend the 16th annual Delaware 4-H Conference, June 26-29, on the University of Delaware campus, according to James O. Baker, state 4-H leader.

Keynote speaker Dorotha Dillon, Hedgeville, W. Va., will describe her experiences as International Farm Youth Exchange delegate to Colombia, South America.

Developing the overall conference theme, "Personal Values," Mrs. Harlan P. Carter, Wheeling, W. Va., will discuss "Does It Pay To Be A Square?"

Director of student activities for the Ohio Valley General Hospital school of nursing, she is a former 4-H'er who represented her state as Mrs. West Virginia in a Mrs. America contest seven years ago.

The Rev. Paul McCoy of Seaford, district superintendent of the Methodist Conference, and former pastor of the Newark Methodist Church, will discuss "The Right to Differ."

Program highlights of this annual meeting of older 4-H members will include the state public speaking contest and the state style show competition.

The 4-H'ers will take a tour of Longwood Gardens and attend the Theater '67 production of "Mr. Roberts" and a special delegates' banquet and dance.

The State Links, an honorary 4-H organization, will induct new members into the group.

According to Baker, the conference is designed to help delegates develop individual talents and to define their values and standards in everyday living.

"The Conference challenges every delegate to gain a broader appreciation and acceptance of individual citizenship responsibilities and opportunities," Baker concluded.

LEHIGH HONOR GRAD

Edwin Hughes Nutter, Jr., son of Mrs. E. Hughes Nutter of Ritten Lane, Newark, and the late Dr. Nutter, received a bachelor of arts degree in English with honors from Lehigh University at Bethlehem, Pa., on June 12.

Fraturdays—Christiana-Salem and Eden schools.

The summer library program is operated under monies approved in 1965 referendum for the benefit of all children residing within the Newark district, regardless of where they attend school.

When a little boy came home from school dragging his books, his mother asked him what kind of a day he had. The boy sighed "I had another hard day at the principal's office."—Catholic Digest.

Cancer Society To Sponsor Premiere Of "Hawaii"

The Delaware division of the American Cancer Society will sponsor the Delaware premiere of the movie "Hawaii" next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Towne Theatre, Wilmington.

Based on James A. Michener's novel of the same name, the movie stars Julie Andrews, Max von Sydow, and Richard Harris.

Four Local Scouts Face Adventures At Philmont Ranch

Four Scouts from Newark will leave June 26 for an 18-day trip to the 137,000-acre Philmont Scout Ranch at Cimarron in New Mexico.

Ronald Keen, William R. Lister, Richard J. Ramey and Robin J. Whitlock will join other Scouts from the Delmarva Peninsula, departing from Wilmington by train to Denver where they will board a bus for the trip through the Rocky Mountains to Cimarron.

While at Philmont, Scouts will take part in such varied activities as horseback riding, fishing for trout, gold-panning, archeology, field biology, astronomy, geology, gold mining, forestry, and survival living.

The Delmarva contingent will be led by Benjamin Ramey, Jr., of Newark; Richard Mattern, Dover; Robert Bugel, Wilmington; and Jean Perusse of Cambridge, Md.

Eight Local Cadets Slated To Attend At ROTC Camp

Eight cadets from Newark will attend Army Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp at Indian-town Gap Military Reservation, Pa.

During the encampment to begin July 1, they will receive six weeks of training in leadership, rifle marksmanship, physical conditioning and other military subjects.

Local cadets are Erte S. Geissinger, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Geissinger, attending from Gettysburg College. He is a 1964 graduate of Christiana High School.

Cadets attending from the University of Delaware are Michael L. Veen, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Veen, a 1964 graduate of Christiana High School.

James R. Brunner, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Brunner, is a 1964 graduate of Newark High.

Burton F. Pyle, II, 20, son of Mrs. Sara B. Pyle, Sunset Lake Road, is a 1964 graduate of Christiana.

Robert S. Cronin, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cronin, and John G. Connell, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Connell, are 1964 graduates of Newark High School.

Maurice B. Jones, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice W. Jones, is a 1964 graduate of Christiana High.

Robert H. Gibson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey R. Gibson, is a 1964 graduate of Newark High School.

Pony harness racing is conducted every Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Charles B. Moore's farm behind Eden Elementary School at the junction of Routes 40 and 7.

Karen Appleby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Appleby of Red Lion, won the senior home economics award of the Delaware City Fire Co. Ladies Auxiliary, as a member of the Gunning Bedford School graduating class.

The Bear Home Economics Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Pierce Fox.

Mrs. Ellen Snyder entertained Mrs. Florence Moore, Mrs. Joan Webb, Mrs. Gladys Loose, and Mrs. Eve DeMuth—Eden School cafeteria staff members—at a Friday luncheon in her home. A gift was presented to Mrs. Moore in honor of her birthday.

State Police Detective James L. Ford, Jr., of Troop 2-A, graduated with the 37th class of the Southern Police Institute on June 11, at the University of Louisville, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Moore entertained 100 guests at dinner in honor of their daughter Judith Ann's graduation from Christiana High School, on Saturday evening at Rockland Farm, Bear.

Judith received three awards at the June 12 commencement program for Christians—the Leif Erikson and Norsemen Learning, Home Economics, and Kronika Service awards.

She expects to enter Salem Technical Institute, Penns Grove, N.J., to study food and nutrition next September.

Communion services will be conducted at Pender Presbyterian Church on Sunday, July 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burge and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Ford spent Sunday with Mrs. Frances Hohmann of Chestertown, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCoy of Clair Estates spent Sunday with Mrs. Anna Harrington.

Pender Presbyterian Church Bible School began Monday morning and will continue for the week with Myrna McElwee in charge.

Pender Aid Society will have a covered dish supper next Wednesday in the church.

Last Friday, 66 sixth grade pupils left Eden School to enter Christiana Junior High next September.

On June 13, a special "schonon" was given the sixth graders, who put on a minstrel show. The scholars voted to call themselves the Eden Bears.

McAllister Offers Advice
On Summertime Jobs

Income tax and Social Security for part-time and summer employees raise many questions for Delaware teen-agers taking their first jobs.

Some teen-agers will be working for their parents on the farm, while others will work for outside employers.

Social Security coverage differs if teen-agers are working for their parents, but income tax requirements are similar no matter who the employer is, according to W. T. McAllister, extension farm manager and specialist at the University of Delaware.

It's a good idea for parents to make payment by check at the time the work is done when they're paying children for doing farm work. The check serves as proof that payment was made, and parents can use it as a legitimate farm expense for tax purposes, McAllister points out.

Spring Cleaning Machine
Advised As Sewing Aid

Sewing for summer? For an easier job, give your machine a spring cleaning first. The satisfaction and service you get from your sewing machine will often depend on the care you give it, points out Janet Reed, clothing and textile extension specialist at the University of Delaware.

However, before you start cleaning, read the instruction book that came with your machine. And follow the directions.

Some machines require only a tune oiling, but most need one after eight hours use.

Your Aging House

—with Due Care

A Woman's Prerogative

Next to watching a hen try to hatch a billiard ball, there's nothing funnier than watching a woman trying to rearrange furniture. They pick up a chair they've laid for years, move it across the room, then stare at it in total bafflement, as if they'd never seen it before.

Joe Campbell tells us that his missus nearly drove him to strong spirits by all the time rearranging the furniture so that it wouldn't look so cluttered. Seems like they had accumulated so much stuff during their thirty years of marriage that there was furniture tucked in every nook and cranny of the house, not to mention the garage and basement and attic.

Joe's Bright Idea

Happily, Joe hit upon a solution. He called up Tom Perry, the remodeling contractor, and had a great big family room attached to the rear of the house. His missus entered right into the spirit of things. She recovered an old couch in the basement and put it in the new room. That antique rocker she got 3 years ago, looked just right by the fireplace. Always had cluttered up the living room even if it was a family heirloom.

Saving down the legs of a table he found in the attic, Joe made a handsome coffee table. And some lamps that had been gathering dust in a closet came in mighty handy. There's even a desk in the new room, one that Joe used to keep paints, nails and tools in. About the only thing they had to buy was an inexpensive rug.

Of course, when they put the rug down, Mrs. Campbell decided the couch might look better on the other side of the room, which meant the desk would have to be relocated and so on.

Clutter or no clutter, a woman's nesting instinct can drive a man plumb daffy!

Motorcycle Victim

Leslie A. Baptiste
Requiem Offered

Requiem mass for Leslie A. Baptiste, 26, of 97 Madison Drive, Newark, was offered Wednesday morning at Holy Angels Catholic Church, with interment in All Saints Cemetery.

Friends called at the Warwick Funeral Home Tuesday night where the Rosary was recited at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Baptiste, a spot welder at Chrysler's Newark assembly plant, died Friday night of injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident on June 10.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Theresa Baptiste; two sons, John M., four, and Michael F., two; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Baptiste of Butler, Pa.; three brothers, Maurice E., Toronto, Ont., James B., in the Navy; Richard, and two sisters, Susan and Regina Baptiste, of Butler.

Delmarva's chickens, once a backyard business, now bring the Peninsula $4-million a week—much well worth half again that may be by 1975.

Six Of Hoffman's Yellowjacket Champs To Play With Gold All-Stars On Aug. 26

Coach Bob Hoffman's Blue Hen Conference Champion Yellowjackets lead the Blue and Gold squads announced today with six members of New York's 1966 champions named for the Gold All-Star team in the 12th annual Delaware All-Star High School Football game to be played Aug. 26, in Delaware Stadium for the benefit of the Delaware Foundation for Retarded Children.

Six is the maximum number of players permitted from one school, and the Yellowjackets lead the list, with Salesianum and Wilmington each placing five players on the Blue roster.

The Yellowjacket six includes three All-Stars—End Larry Tucker, Halfback Dick Kelley, and Quarterback Lou Stengari—with End Orville Wright, Tackle Conway Hayman, and Fullback Jim McDonough. Eight of the Gold All-Stars led by the 235-lb. Hayman, are 200 pounds or better.

Kelley was New York's leading rusher and scorer. The Delaware-bound athlete tallied 14 touchdowns. Tucker, a talented receiver, pulled in eight passes for TDs, while Stengari scored 69 points.

The Blues have won seven of the previous 11 games, with one ending in a tie.

Both squads will train at the University of Delaware for 10 days, beginning Aug. 15.

The Blues will be coached by Wilmington High's Dean Travis, and the Golds by Smyrna's Dale Farmer. Each of the two squads will have four first-team All-State selections in uniform from the 1966 season, and each squad is represented by 13 different schools.

The southern city limits of Wilmington is the boundary line, with the Gold territory south of that boundary, and the Blues north of it. Salesianum's talent includes two All-Stars—Tackle Mike Chadick and Guard Stu Harrison. Others are Guard Mike Noonan and Halfbacks Mike Casey and Bob Pearce.

Wilmington will be represented by All-State Fullback Dino Medori who scored 10 touchdowns last season; End John Crisden; Tackle Ron Rubini; Guard Don Siney, and Quarterback Pete Grandell. The fourth All-Stater on the Blue team is Jon Miller of Friends School.

Newark Notes
by GIBBY YOUNG
LOU NIELWOCKI
Congratulations of Lou Nielwocki for winning the Delaware State Amateur Golf Championship last week with a 73-76-72-74-296 — for a two stroke lead over the runner-up, Pete Keogh.
Ed Richtelli, it was but six strokes off the championship pace as the six-time winner of the Newark Country Club title fired three 75's and a 77 over the 72-hole route.
And we're proud of the son from home who turned in a 313 to top his father by four strokes over the championship test.

Sporting a short beard — not a beatnik brush but the brief bristles of an outdoorsman free in the springtime after a long winter's work in the city — Ted Maxwell greeted last Friday afternoon at his Red Point cottage overlooking the North East River, with the decidedly discouraging declaration that the shad run was finished.

"I troled for six hours the other evening," Mr. Maxwell mused, "and never had a strike—from a shad. Caught a half-dozen little rock-an-that was it."

"But I may have just hit a blank in the shad run," Ted said, brightening a bit along with his audience. "We'll give 'em a try."

Still an avid hunter and fisherman, Ted Maxwell's fervor for the chase has tempered over the years since we first met when he was a high school boy with a gleam in his eye reminiscent of a courting goshawk. Bird houses hung from the pines at his cottage at Red Point, and a variety of birdlife from wrens to robins tamely fed their young broods as we sat close by in the back yard shade.

"Deer come right up to the house," Ted said matter-of-factly, and with no more emotion than in reporting a visit from a neighborhood cat. Some 20 years ago, the report of a deer within miles would have transformed the young man into a veritable two-legged cougar.

Driving down a narrow, red clay and gravel road between close-bordering green brush dusted in red, he pointed out a dozen well-defined deer crossings—myriad openings in the scrub with hoof-marked trails leading down the banks and across the roadway.

The Elk Neck State Park peninsula between the Elk and North East rivers is alive with deer. At Cara Cove, Ted cranked up a big 50-hp outboard and we roared across the North East River to troll southwest of Carpenter's Point toward the Susquehanna River—and encountered immediate difficulty with grass drifting in the water.

But there were adequate intervals between fouled-up shad darts to permit the fish to strike—and they didn't.

Trolling over some of the most beautiful grass beds on the East or any coast, we prevailed upon our guide to tarry in his quest for shad in favor of some surface plugging for the large-mouthed black bass and pickerel that abound in the area.

But cast after cast over the marine jungle waving just beneath the tidal surface, failed to raise a fish.

"I can't understand it!" Carroll W. Mumford frowned along with his two companions.

"Let's try the Mountain," Ted Maxwell suggested, indicating the high headland at Camp Rodney to the east.

"There's less drifting grass over there, and that's where I caught the rock the other evening — and it's good shad fishing, too—when the shad run is on," he added.

So we went banging back across the river to the shore of embarkation—and Mr. Mumford had a wet passage on a starboard stern seat with the sheets of spray from a stiff northeast chop on the river.

Anxious For Brandywine Return

Cardigan Bay and Trainer-Driver Stanley Dancer are anxious for a Brandywine Raceway free-for-all race to preview the $25,000 General "Mad" Anthony Invitational. Cardy, hailed by Dancer as the greatest pacer he has driven, ranks with the all-time great free-for-allers, and his historic duel with the retired Bret Hanover at Brandywine will be remembered as one of the Delaware Valley's greatest races. The 11-year-old Anzac import has been in the money in eight of nine starts this year.

Blue Hen Stakes For 2-Year-Old Fillies To Be Delaware Park Saturday Feature

The next-to-last of Delaware Park's stakes for two-year-olds—this one restricted to fillies—comes up for its 10th running this Saturday with some of the smartest steppers of that division among likely prospects.

The Blue Hen, named for the State of Delaware's official bird, is a speed whirl of five and a half furlongs. It is a half-furlong longer than the Stanton track's other fixture for juniors—the Polly Drummond Stakes on Memorial Day, with 14 fillies battling it out.

Although the Blue Hen is a comparatively new stake on the Delaware agenda, it has already listed some of racing's finest distaffers among its winners.

Red Cross Learn To Swim Program Begins Monday

Classes in the Delaware chapter, American Red Cross Learn to Swim program will begin next Monday in the Canby Park Pool at Oak and Clayton streets, Wilmington.

Classes are free and open to the public, and the program will continue daily for four weeks, Monday through Friday.

No advance registration is required. Instruction for beginners, six or older, will be held daily from noon to 2 p.m.

Trolling in the lee of the Turkey Point peninsula, just off the deserted diving platform at Camp Rodney—the Scouts must have all been chowing down—we picked up four small white perch with a combination of shad darts and spoons, while Carroll Mumford hooked a couple of big muskies—a feat that required more doing than the taking of fish.

But we didn't want any muskies. "I'll give you a chance to catch a bass in Cara Cove," Ted said at last, with the sun round and red and low in the river's purple haze.

And had a 19-in. length of green-gold chain pickerel thrashing in the mesh of the landing net.

The remaining quarter-hour of fishing was anti-climax. With that pickerel, we had it made.

Ted paddled us along the Cara Cove shoreline for some beautiful plugging shots at grassy shallows, dark weedbeds, and likely-looking logs, but the bass and other pickerel left us to the mosquitoes.

"A good place for a fly rod," Carroll W. Mumford said wistfully, looking back over the twilight calm of Cara Cove, with the eager eye of a newly converted fly fisherman.

But the fly casting tackle had been left in the trunk of the car to conserve boat space in spin-trolling for shad, and time had run out—along with the shad run.

That pickerel looked mighty good—and baked whole and fresh, tasted the same way—good.

Another Purzycki, Baby Brother Joe Seen As Hen Star

Delaware football opponents who have spent the last three years trying to stop record-setting Blue Hen End Mike Purzycki can prepare themselves for three more years of Purzyckitis.

Joe Purzycki, Mike's younger brother, was one of the standouts in the Blue Hens' spring football drills.

"Joe has been a very pleasant surprise this spring," Coach Tubby Raymond said. "He has developed very quickly and has done well both offensively and defensively."

Mike, who established game, season and career receiving records last year in helping the Hens to the Middle Atlantic Conference championship, was strictly an offensive performer.

Joe, at 5-11 and 185 pounds, is two inches shorter and 15 pounds lighter than his brother, and has played as a spread receiver offensively, and in the defensive backfield.

"He is a very fine receiver, blocks well and is a sure tackler," End Coach Irv Wisniewski said of his new Purzycki.

"He is further advanced than Mike was at the same stage of his career and Joe may very well be the best all-around receiver we have."

Possibly the only thing that will prevent Purzycki from breaking into the Blue Hens' regular offensive lineup is his ability as a defensive halfback.

"Joe has fine potential as a defensive back," Raymond notes. "He has a lot to learn, but I have been pleased with his progress and attitude."

The younger Purzycki was all-county and all-state at Our Lady of the Valley High School in Newark, N.J., and won all-prep honors at Bordentown Military Institute.

He played both offensive end and defensive halfback for Coach Paul Billy's Delaware freshman team last year.

The deep-sea diver had scarcely reached bottom when a frantic message came from the surface which left him in something of a dilemma. "Come up quick!" he was told. "The ship is sinking!"—Catholic Digest.

Ed Richtelli Heads NCC Field Of Five As 4th Place Finisher In State Amateur

Ed Richtelli won fourth place with a 302 to head the Newark Country Club contingent of five golfers qualifying for the Delaware State Amateur Golf Tournament last week.

Richtelli, six-time champion for the Newark Country Club and defending title-holder, carded a 75-75-77-75 in his four 18-hole bids for the state amateur crown.

Lou Nielwocki of the DuPont Country Club won the title with a 296, followed by Pete Keogh of Cavaliers with 298; Bob Kaufeld of DuPont, 299, and Richtelli's 302.

George Anderson, Gibby Young, Jr., H. G. Young, and Sam Keim are the other four Newark Country Club golfers playing the 72-hole route in the state amateur.

Anderson fired a 303 with a 79-75-77-77; Gibby Young, Jr., topped his father by four strokes with an 81-71-83-78—313, while the senior Gibby shot an 81-77-81-78—317; and Keim scored a 332.

Mrs. Robert Westcott Wins In Ladies Day Golf

Mrs. Robert H. Westcott won the Ladies Day "two clubs and a putter" golf event last Tuesday at the Newark Country Club.

Mrs. William Jones took second place honors, and Mrs. Charles E. Smith won third place.

Mrs. Martin Van Hook was Ladies Day golf champion.
