BUSY TIMES ON THE DUPONT ROAD

DESCRIPTION BY SUSSEX RESIDENT

In last week's Milford Chronicle the Georgetown correspondent writes interestingly of the Dupont road. That the work is an actual fact is clearly shown and some idea of its magnitude can be found in his comments.

The letter follows:

"If there is a person in the Commonwealth of Delaware that has conceived the idea that the boulevard which General T. Coleman duPont has now started to construct from the southern extremity of Sussex county to the northern boundary of the State, not only as a monument to himself but which, when completed, will be given to the State, is a farce and a land grab game on the part of the donor, let that one pay a visit to old Sussex and see what is being done. No sooner will the one having such an idea, after looking at the construction work now being carried on a short distance from this town, change their mind and say that this is the most gigantic undertaking and the most philanthropic move that has ever been made by any one man for the best interests of the masses of any State in this country. Only those who are directly concerned and in touch with the thousands of details can grasp and realize what a tremendous undertaking it is to construct such a highway as it is the purpose of this great benefactor to give to the State of Delaware at a cost which will in all likelihood exceed the two million dollar mark. The ordinary layman has not the mental capacity to picture the undertaking, and to those who have not been here and viewed the workings but have merely read about it the movement, in a figurative sense, almost assumes the proportions of a myth. About the headquarters every one is on the move, and while to a casual observer many things are done which appear useless, nevertheless all go to help solve the many details which have to be worked out before the construction work from one end of the State to the other can be started. With the minor details out of the way, actual work is going on, and is being pushed with energy. While as rapid progress is not being made as no doubt could be, it is only due to the fact that labor in this county, which it is the desire of Mr. duPont to employ first in preference to foreign labor, is very scarce. Notwithstanding his unwillingness to bring foreign laborers here Mr. duPont has found it necessary to do so or almost be compelled to abandon the work for the time being. Now that the farmers are about through harvesting their crops, it is argued that more help will be available and that greater advances will be made on the construction, providing that the weather does not become too severe.

"Thousands of men are at work grading from here to Selbyville and it is understood that this work will be completed and operations of paving the stone commenced. "From the Laurel-Seaford road at a point just out of the corporate limits of this town, for a distance of two miles south in the direction of Selbyville, as far as the Sussex county almshouse, the road has been graded and nearly the entire distance has been placed in condition for the layers of building material. For about three-fourths of a mile from what is known as the Jintown road, which lies a few paces at the south of the Laurel-Seaford road, the work of placing stone on the highway has been started and the entire distance, with the exception of a few yards has received the first coating, composed of a mixture of stone about the size of a hen egg and cement. The road proper is 14 feet wide and is in the center of the two hundred foot survey. It is understood that on either side the roads for teams will be constructed, and that being built now is speedway. It is said that this fourteen foot road will be constructed first. The spread of stone now being placed is four or five inches thick, and it is said the depth will range from six inches to one foot. This will depend on the kind of soil. For instance, if a piece of land is encountered where there does not seem to be a solid bed, the material will be placed about a foot thick so that heavy loads will not break through. In some places the abutments are twenty-eight feet, while in others, where the right of way has not been secured, they are only about twenty. Near the almshouse the road has been graded twenty feet wide. Within a distance of about two miles four culverts have been placed under the roadbed so as to drain the road. On both sides ditches have been cut which lead to ditches of the county. All along the stretch from the Laurel-Seaford road to the almshouse, small gutters have been cut from the roadbed through the abutments so that the water can be run into the ditches adjacent, thereby making the fourteen feet where the stone is being placed dry.

"To haul the stone and other building materials, strings of teams are kept busy, while two large and powerful engines, similar to threshing engines, are kept constantly running between this town, carrying two and three large cars probably holding twenty tons of stone. This week there has been about one hundred men to work on the construction part, while there are probably this many more hauling the materials. The county roads along the two-mile stretch, which make into the highway are being repaired at Mr. duPont's expense in order that better time can be made in hauling the road-building materials from here, to where the gangs are at work. On the main road from here to Millsboro, a short distance from the almshouse, the United Gas Construction Company of Philadelphia have placed some of their road-building material on a sandy plot as a test piece. The material is said to be refuse from gas plants and resembles tar, and is given the name of 'Ugite.' It is understood that the company placed the building material on this sandy stretch without making any foundation just to test it out for the purpose of ascertaining how long it will wear. All along the line from here to Selbyville work is progressing nicely, and it is learned here that the bridge that is to span the pond at Millsboro will be completed within a few weeks if the weather continues to be favorable. So far as can be learned no stone has been placed on the road south of here."

REMARKABLE WINNINGS

The Delaware Duckery, under the direction of Mrs. Jane Murray, added laurels to the reputation already established, at the recent Wisconsin Poultry Show, held at Frankford, Pa. The fowls from Mrs. Murray's farm, near Newark won nine silver cups, each representing a first or second prize. One of these was awarded for the best display of ducks; one for the best exhibited by a lady; and a beautiful breast pin was presented to her as the lady exhibitor winning the most points. In addition to these, Mrs. Murray returned with ten ribbons.

She will exhibit next week at the Grand Central Palace, New York City, and the following week at Coatesville, Pa.

ATTEND DIVINE SERVICES

An unusually interesting service was held in the Presbyterian Church last Sunday morning. The Junior Order of American Mechanics attended in a body and the pastor addressed them in a strong sermon from the 22nd chapter of 1st Chronicles, 13th verse.

The order stands first of all for patriotism. As the history of the ages teaches that nations have continued great only so long as they have followed and honored the commandments of God, so all men, to be good patriots, must be religious. There is a close bond between all patriotic organizations and the Christian church.

The singing of "Calvary" by Mr. Steel was especially appreciated by the congregation.

COLLEGE SPIRIT

Delaware fought her last gridiron battle last Saturday afternoon on the home field amid a host of friends and the consequent enthusiasm. The entire student body, dressed in uniform, was on hand and did its duty nobly by way of encouraging cheers, while the college band added much spirit to the occasion.

The game was one of the best ever seen in Newark in spite of the fact that the visitors greatly outweighed the home team. Delaware played the game well, both of Dickinson's touchdowns being made on fakes.

The spectacular feature of the game occurred near the close of the first period when Delaware gave the greatest exhibition of holding ever seen on the field. Dickinson had been gradually carrying the ball, mostly by trick plays, closer and closer to Delaware's goal. On a play at the ten-yard line Goldstein took the ball and when he was downed the pigskin was within a foot of Delaware's line. Although three attempts were made, Dickinson could not gain the few inches needed for a touchdown and lost the ball on downs, after which Taylor kicked off of danger.

Quarterback Huston sustained a compound fracture of the nose during the game. He was tackled while attempting to run back a punt by three of Dickinson's players. The bridge of his nose was broken and the cartilage was fractured in two places.

The mishap occurred in the first quarter and he pluckily continued playing throughout the game.

MOVEMENT TOWARD AFFILIATED COLLEGE

The Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs, through their educational committee, is working for the establishment of an affiliated college for Delaware women. By way of their recently published resolutions they "appeal to all citizens of the State of Delaware, interested in the intellectual development of the State and in the higher education of its womanhood," to join with them in the movement to secure greater advantages for Delaware women.

The resolutions are signed by the following: Mrs. John C. Robinson, president Delaware State Federation Women's Clubs; Committee on Education, Mrs. A. D. Warner, chairman, Wilmington; Mrs. Benjamin Nields, Wilmington; Mrs. W. H. Evans, Newark; Mrs. Martin Burris, Middletown; Mrs. W. T. P. Jacobs, Smyrna; Mrs. W. H. Boyce, Dover; Mrs. J. R. Jackson, Wyoming; Dr. Edith Phelps, Milford; Miss Etta Gray, Bridgeville; Miss Clara Vaughan, Milton; Mrs. S. H. Williams, Laurel; Miss Maggie S. Wilson, Seaford; Mrs. R. G. Houston, Georgetown; Mrs. George Hering, Felton; Mrs. John Masten, Harrington; Miss Sallie Marshall, Lewes; Miss Mary L. Powers, Rehoboth Beach.

Committee of Fifty College Women, Miss Mary H. A. Mather, chairman; Mrs. Caleb E. Burchenal, Miss Mary R. de Von, Miss Mary Watson Green, Miss Rachael Robinson, Miss Grace B. Townsend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilkins Cooch have returned from their trip to New Orleans, where Mr. Cooch attended the Annual Convention of the American Bankers' Association. Many stops were made en route to see the Luray Caverns, Natural Bridge, Chattanooga, Asheville, and other places of interest.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

President Harter and Director Hayward represented Delaware College at the meeting of the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, held at Columbus, Ohio, November 15-17. Owing to the fact that a number of other Agricultural organizations met at the same time, the attendance was unusually large. Among the associations of Agricultural College workers that met at this time were: the Association of American Agronomists, the Association of Agricultural Nutrition, the American Farm Management Association, and the Association for the Advancement of Agricultural Science. The National Grange also held its annual session at the same time.

Prof. Hayward was among the speakers at a joint meeting of the Farm Management Association, the Society for the Advancement of Agricultural Science, and the American Society of Animal Nutrition.

The general sessions of the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations were unusually interesting. One of the most important topics discussed was, "Shall We Ask For Further Legislation in the Interests of Agriculture? If so, What?" This question was opened by Dean Davenport, of Illinois, President Stone, of Indiana, and Dean Hunt, of Pennsylvania. The remarks of the speakers were based largely upon the three bills now pending in Congress looking towards additional Federal appropriations for Agricultural Education. It was the consensus of opinion that additional appropriations were sure to come, and it was the hope of the association that it could have some influence in directing the course these appropriations would eventually take. It was felt that one of the greatest needs for more appropriations was for the purpose of preparing teachers to teach agriculture in the Secondary and Public Schools, and it is quite probable that the next session of Congress will make some provision for this purpose. It is estimated in case these bills pass the next Congress, that Delaware will receive about $30,000, which probably will be used almost entirely for preparing teachers to teach Agriculture and Home Economics in the public schools.

Among the problems discussed in the college section was one entitled, "Means of Discouraging Extravagant Expenditures and Snobbery Among University and College Students." Another was, "The Means of Promoting Healthful Social Activities in the Student Body."

In the Experiment Station section a whole afternoon was given to the discussion of ethics of Experiment Station work, the speakers being: President H. J. Waters, of Kansas; Director Thatcher, of Washington, and Dr. Marshall, of Michigan.

In the Agricultural Extension section, among the subjects discussed were, "Women's Work, Its Importance and Place in the Extension Department," "The Boys' and Girls' Club Work," "The Art of Extension Teaching," and other subjects of a similar nature.

A number of those who attended this meeting expressed themselves as being greatly benefited and the Cereal Growers' Association.

Mr. and Mrs. William Murray planned a pleasant surprise for their son last Monday evening in honor of his twenty-first birthday. Mr. Todd, in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Murray, played the part of host at the Sigma Nu farm house where twenty-one college chums assembled to celebrate the occasion. A log fire, college songs and good cheer marked the evening. Refreshments were served.

At the White Clay Creek Church next Sabbath Morning, December 3rd, will occur the Annual Autumnal Service. The decorations will be appropriate to the harvest season, the address will be delivered by Dr. Hayward of Delaware College. The choir will render special music, to be held in Baltimore next week, and will act as judges at the respective exhibitions.

Director Hayward and Prof. McCue represented the College on The Good Farming Train that spent last week in the southern part of the Delaware-Chesapeake Peninsula. As a rule, seven stops were made each day of one hour each. At each stop three speakers made addresses occupying 20 minutes each. During the week about 2,500 people were reached in this way. Much interest was manifested by the discussions, as well as by meeting so many men engaged in their own line of work.

Professors McCue and Grantham will attend a meeting of the Maryland Horticultural Association on the part of those attending, some cases schools being dismissed and the pupils coming in a body to the train, where they were given a special car and the speakers adapted their talks to the school children. The results obtained were such as to convert the most skeptical to the value of this form of extension teaching.

The work has already begun on the second floor of the West Wing for Dr. Reed's new laboratory. It is hoped to have it completed by the time he reaches here at the beginning of the next semester.

Dr. Cook who, has resigned to accept a similar position at the New Jersey Experiment Station, expects to leave Delaware December 4. He goes with the good wishes of his co-workers, and all trust that he will have the same degree of success in his new field that he has had in Delaware.

The new dairy building at the College Farm is now well under way, and it is hoped to have the roof on before winter sets in.

The College Farm has sold a very fine Guernsey bull calf to Hon. Oliver A. Newton, President of the State Board of Agriculture.

Prof. Hayward delivered two addresses at the New Castle County Teachers' Institute on Monday, of this week. His subjects were: "How May Agriculture be Successfully Taught in the Public School," and "How Shall the Teacher Prepare Himself to Teach Agriculture in the Public Schools?"

Prof. Thompson and Mr. Whittier attended the meeting of the Official Chemists at Washington this week. They also spent some time at Johns Hopkins in consultation with the expert chemists of the university.

Mr. R. G. Hill of the Senior class, has just completed the details of his experiment on "Subsoiling With Dynamite," which he has conducted on the College Farm during the past season. He found that the land subsoiled with dynamite produced 25 per cent. increase in the crop over that obtained on land not dynamited.

Prof. Hayward will speak at the Harvest Home services to be held at White Clay Creek Church next Sunday.

The College bulletin, announcing the Short Courses in Agriculture, have just been issued, and are now being distributed.

The exercises will begin at 11 o'clock promptly, with fifteen minutes song service, when the new hymnals just purchased for the Sabbath School will be used.

The offering at this time will be for the Sustentation Fund of the Presbytery of New Castle and it is earnestly desired that all who attend will avail themselves of the opportunity to contribute to this most worthy object.

The ladies of the New-Century Club will have salted nuts and home-made candy for sale at the entertainment to be given in the Opera House on December 5. Don't fail to hear Miss MacLaren's presentation of "Maggie Pepper."

PERMANENT CERTIFICATES AT LAST IN SIGHT

Superintendent of Wilmington Schools, George W. Twitmyer, a member of the State Board of Education, was present at the New Castle County Institute on Monday, and outlined to the teachers the new method, adopted by the board, of conducting the examinations for teachers' certificates throughout the State. A copy of the new rules and regulations for examinations has been given each teacher. Hereafter the examinations, for all three counties will be uniform and held on the same days, the first and fourth Saturdays in April. The examinations will be held simultaneously in Wilmington, Dover and Georgetown. The examinations, prepared by the State Board, will be conducted by the County Superintendents.

Provision is made for the granting of permanent certificates to those passing the satisfactory tests, on condition that they pursue a course of reading in pedagogical subjects outlined by the board. The teachers are submitted a number of books from which to select the required number. A certificate issued in any county will be honored in all three.

NEW CENTURY CLUB

The regular meeting of the New-Century Club of Newark was held on Monday at the Hose House with the usual large attendance. The club has given the order for a new coat of paint on the street sprinkler. Afterwards will be put away for the winter. Mrs. William H. Evans gave a report of the meeting of the State Committee on education, recently held in Dover, at which she represented the Newark Club. Mrs. C. B. Evans, Mrs. Barnard and Miss Hurd, who had charge of the afternoon's program, gave interesting reviews of current events. The club members are invited to meet at the home of Mrs. John Pilling, next Monday, December 4.

SECOND LECTURE IN SERIES

On Wednesday afternoon, December 6th, at 3 o'clock, Judge Henry C. Conrad, of Georgetown, will deliver the second lecture in the series of lectures in History and Economics. The subject of the lecture will be the "Three Signers of the Declaration from Delaware." Every one is cordially invited.

The lecture will be in the College Oratory.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES

The Thanksgiving Service at St. Thomas' Church will be Holy Communion and sermon at 11 o'clock instead of 10.30. The offering on that day will be for the benefit of St. Michael's Hospital and Day Nursery for Babies. Contributions of fruit and vegetables will be acceptable and it is requested that these be left at the church by 3 o'clock on Wednesday.

Union Thanksgiving Services will be held in the Newark M. E. Church on Thursday at 10 a. m. Rev. Adrian Van Overen, pastor of the Head of Christiana Church, will deliver the sermon.

OBITUARY

JAMES P. SMITH

The McClellandsville section was greatly shocked on Tuesday morning by news of the death of a life long resident of that locality—James P. Smith, in his 75th year.

Mr. Smith was apparently in his usual health as late as Monday evening. During the night he became seriously ill, dying before the doctor reached the bedside. The malady was pronounced neuralgia of the heart.

A wife, Mrs. Emma H. Smith and six children, William Smith, of North Carolina, Mrs. Leon Garrett, Strickersville, Miss Martha A. Smith, Adra, James P. and Gustavus H. Smith, of McClellandsville survive.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. Mrs. Geoghegan, Pastor of Wesley Church, will be held at the late residence Friday at 10 A. M. Interment in Bethel Cemetery.

Middle-class Boys the Best.

"What kind of children are the best students—children of the rich, the poor or the middle class?"

"The Bible says, 'It is the spirit that quickeneth.' If the son of a rich man believes he has all that he wants, that the purpose of life is to obtain houses, lands, bonds and stocks, he will not make a good student. If his parents show him that property is not life, that service is of far more importance —service as an employer of labor, or in science, or in literature, or in law—he, having a 'spirit that quickeneth,' will make a good student. The boy, you see, wants that which he does not possess. Studiousness, among all classes, begins right there—the want of things."

"The desires and deficiencies of poverty are many and visible. A digger of ditches is ambitious that his son be something else. When the son thinks as his father, there is hope for the boy. It is possible for him to become a great man.
"The middle-class boy is between riches and poverty. His position is the best of all, provided he has the spirit. And his record proves it. The country today is ruled, in business, politics and the professions, by men who, as boys, were neither dangerously rich nor distressingly poor."

"Are American children as well trained at home as they used to be?"
"I do not know; I am inclined to think, however, that they are not. And there is a reason, if I am right. The American home in cities is being broken up. A flat,

THE SPIRIT OF THE TIMES

MASONIC HOME A REALITY

The Grand Lodge of Delaware, A. F. and A. M., will take possession of the lately purchased home on December first. This is provided for indigent and worthy Masons, their wives and widows of worthy members of the order. In time the home will take care of the orphans as well.

The property, on the Lancaster turnpike about two miles from Wilmington, is known as Highfield. It includes about 10½ acres, three of which comprise the lawn surrounding the big stone dwelling. There are also two apple orchards and the remainder of the ground is used for truck and farm purposes, ample enough to provide for the occupants of the home, and to give some outdoor recreation to those living at the home.

The mansion contains sixteen large rooms, and porches extend around two sides of the dwelling. It is heated by hot air furnaces and has baths and a laundry fitted with hot and cold water attachments. There are a number of outbuildings in fine condition and the purchase price of $10,500 is considered by the Masons and many others, to be a big bargain.

The building will be ready for occupancy as soon as a superintendent and matron are secured. At present there are five aged members of the order awaiting an opportunity to enter the home. The Masonic fraternity has a neat sum on hand at present and the balance of the purchase price is being raised by voluntary subscriptions among the members.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS

The annual meeting of the Delaware Red Cross Society was held last Thursday in Smyrna, and the following officers were elected: General Charles Bird, Wilmington, president; Henry M. Canby, Wilmington, Treasurer; Miss Emily P. Bissel, Wilmington, secretary.

Speaking of the work accomplished during the past year in our own State, Miss Bissel mentioned the society's share in the passage of two laws providing increased aid from towns, county authorities, and the State to the tuberculosis commission. They also made an effort in behalf of the Women's Labor Bill.

The chapter appropriated last year all its proceeds from the Christmas seal toward maintaining a shed at Hope Farm. As the fund so far only amounts to $280, it must wait for this year's proceeds which it is hoped will be record-breaking in this worthy cause.

NEWS NOTES FOR THE FARMER

In European countries are many schools of horticulture for women, and in Amherst, Pa., there has been one opened following the same idea. On a farm of 71 acres, 20 acres of which consist of cold frames, greenhouses and vegetable gardens, students are also instructed in the planting and caring for apples, grapes, small fruits, asparagus, etc. The course provides for two 12 month years of practical work and theoretical instruction.

The above brings to mind the statement made recently by a lecturer on farm economics. She said that her experience among farm women had led her to believe that a woman could run a farm and keep house, too; but if a man were asked to milk the cow and care for the baby, he was overcome. Then why not educate our farm girls as well as our farm boys?

In France, the government has taken up the matter of the cost of living in a most practical way, and will assist the farmer in eliminating the much-abused middleman. The plan is to allow the towns and cities to loan money to establish co-operative butcher's and baker's stores and for the sale of farm produce. It is maintained that the high prices paid to workmen in the cities increases their demand for food. The farmer suffers the most from this condition, because the high wages force his laborers from him.

Then comes the business city housekeeper who conceives the idea of forming a co-operative marketing club. Such a club has been made a success by a number of Brooklyn women. Their plan is to appoint one of the number as purchasing agent. All share in the satisfaction of buying directly from the producer, and of saving

MERRY XMAS FOR EVERYONE

The Evening Journal has a plan to carry Christmas cheer to the less fortunate children of the city, who although endowed with a small amount of worldly goods, possess all the longings and desires of the average child.

The public has been invited to help make the idea a success by aiding the "St. Nicholas Girl" in gathering together toys for the occasion.

There are toys in so many homes which the present owners have outgrown! If you wish to help, send your contribution to No. 1 West Fifth street, Wilmington, any time between now and December 20, where they will be properly acknowledged, repaired if necessary, and laid aside for the final work of distribution.

Children of the city who are uncertain as to Santa's visit are invited to send a letter to him in care of The Evening Journal.

MOTHERS ADVOCATE BOYS PATROL

The Delaware State Board of the Mothers' Congress held a very enthusiastic and interesting meeting at the home of the State President, Mrs. G. W. Marshall of Milford, last Wednesday. The organization asked for the co-operation of all the Parent-Teachers Associations in the State.

The subject of the Boy Patrol was considered and the workings of this movement, which has been so successful in other States, thoroughly discussed. These boys are formed in squads of eight, have uniforms and are drilled by a member of the National Guard. Each squad has a certain road or street to patrol (after school) and keep in order. They are paid by the county or town council and do away with much expense aside from giving the boy something to do and teaching him many lessons in public service and increasing his interest in improving our country roads.

Mrs. Jones, of Milford, urged the necessity of the care of milk used by the family and Mrs. Virden, of Lewes, plead for the teaching of sewing and cooking in our public schools.

Mrs. Robert E. Lewis, of Dover, suggested for towns where a Parent-Teachers Association does not seem to meet the needs, the forming of a circle of the parents of the children in each room, with their own officers as in a large circle.

The organization recommends the Child Welfare Magazine to the interested public as an inspiration to every mother in the land.

the amount that results from buying in quantities.

It is saying a great deal to say "there is no more ideal section for agriculture on the North American continent than the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia Peninsula."

Yet this strong statement and a great many more are found in a fine booklet entitled "Farming Possibilities of the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia Peninsula," issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad. There are a great many truths in this little book that all of us do not realize all the time. Let us have a few here:

"The population of the peninsula is one of the oldest and most typically American which can be found in any section of the country."

"Within 500 miles of this garden spot are 35,000,000 people, one-third of the total population of North America."

"The peninsula is the home of nearly all of the products of the temperate zone."

THANKSGIVING

As the annual day of Thanksgiving, set aside by men and nation, approaches, we follow naturally our thoughts as they lead us in a spirit of reverent appreciation for the gracious blessings received during the past year. Health, happiness and material prosperity receive due and proper recognition. We lay aside the sordid complexities of the hour and spend the day in thoughts and acts corresponding to our training and our nature. The man, associated with the creeds of church, attends service and bows in grateful reverence to his God for all His goodness; the man of nature, walks out from the stress of office duties, to the wood and field, and dreaming perhaps of boyhood days, offers up thanks to his God. Chords and voices of Cathedral choir, strains and breezes from autumn wood join us all in this spirit of Thanksgiving.

Father's blessing at Thanksgiving dinner, mother's expression of peace and plenty—all show, in some part and degree, the Spirit of the Times.

But thankful as we should be and are, of all our blessings, do we not sometimes forget that greatest of all—the health, ability and opportunity to work?

Ah, you say, this is implied. True, but let us give it more concrete expression of the all, work is the greatest. Both, from the power to do something for somebody, and for ourselves.

"Blessed is the man who has found his work." He is the happy man. Material prosperity is well, kind words and appreciation from friends are good, but work, the thing, itself, is the real blessing.

Your plans may fail, your friends forsake, but work will hold attention still. Financial stress, petty criticisms, and social enemies cannot snuff the honor of the man who toils. Grief for a time may subside, sadness may dishearten, disappointment may weaken, but neither nor all can conquer the man who loves and dignifies world's greatest blessing—work. And best of all, the peace and honor comes not from the works, but the working; the blessing, not from the deed, but the doing.

In our Thanksgiving let us give recognition to the peace and prosperity of our State and nation, the ever increasing realization of our Ideals into Ideals—and then, let us render thanks for the privilege and dignity of manly, honest work. "Blessed is the man who has found his work." Let him give thanks.

TRAIN SERVICE

In our People's Column this week will be found some independent talking. The criticisms here expressed are, in the main, well founded. We are always glad to give space to these writings. They show an interest and greatly assist in keeping needed improvements before the people. Oftentimes, however, in the failure to sign the name of the author, the strength of the argument is lost.

In this week's issue, our first letter is regarding Train Service. We have been talking better train service for Newark for over a year and yet the people do not seem to pay any attention to the claim, that Newark is not getting the recognition from the railroads that she deserves. During the last ten years Newark has surpassed any town in the State, both in point of population and business activity and yet, instead of increasing the number of trains stopping here the railroads have consistently ignored the needs and desires of the town.

Individual complaints have from time to time been ignored. The announcement now comes that the 7:20 B. & O. has been cancelled. As our correspondent says, this is one of the most important trains in the B. & O. service. Something should be done and done at once.

The fault is not all in the railroads. The railroads today show in almost every instance a spirit of co-operation and desire to meet the needs and wishes of the people.

Never before have the railroads been so imbued with the spirit of service, as today.

With a presentation of the need for better train service, as expression of the idea of the representative citizens and business men of the town, we believe that the desired result would be forthcoming. This can be done only by some organization representative of the town—a Board of Trade or similar organization. If the railroads persist in refusing this service, an appeal can be made to Town Council. This Council can make the demand and, if necessary, by coercive methods, force favorable consideration. But until reasonable methods are tried, this is, to our mind, entirely out of the province of Council procedure. The Board of Trade can do it and it comes well in their province. Men of wealth and influence in the town, who by a little effort, could do so much, sit idly by, and see Newark grow (in spite of itself) without one effort in its behalf. Is it thoughtlessness, indifference, or selfish interests that causes this apathy toward the common good?

THE TOWN LIGHTS

The letter on the electric light service is sarcastic but has a smack of truth in it that no one can deny. That the light service in this town is not a success can be stated without fear of contradiction. Our opinion (take it at your valuation) has always been that the public utilities of this town of its size can be operated successfully, only by a Light and Water Commission. The most striking and successful example of this method has been for years in successful operation at Milford.

The plant there, is run on a business basis, the same as a privately conducted enterprise. Until this or some similar method is put in practice here, the service will never be a complete success nor run on a paying basis. Try as honestly and sincerely as they may, no Council influenced as they are, by town prejudices and politics, can operate these departments successfully. The chairman of these different departments are hampered by other members of Council who are not acquainted with the details of management.

The members of the committee on Electric Lights should have full authority to hire whomsoever they deem best fitted to do the work. And until they have this authority and the support of their colleagues, their efforts can be only partly successful. If they are compelled to hire incompetent help as political favor to some other member, all the time, energy and attention to details are of no avail. This we wager, is one of the causes of trouble here today. It is the failure of every Council. A Light and Water Commission of five members elected for (or appointed until revision of charter) a term of five years with full power, responsible for a business administration, is to us a remedy for our service. In a term of five years, a new member elected every year, we would have a board that knew the business and how best to handle it. As it is, a committee appointed for two years, when almost always, the term expires, no one could expect nor manage it to its greatest efficiency. Aside from this, as we said before, each new committee has some friend to put in position or Council fails to support competent men, and the utilities are run either at a loss or with unsatisfactory service.

This commission idea is no fangled notion of the Post, but a tried and proven experiment. Other towns have had the same trouble that we are experiencing today and the commission idea put into effect has remedied the defects, decreased the expense, and improved the service. Some day Newark will try it.

THE TYPHOID CONDITION

The typhoid fever and sewer question. Everybody knows where we stand on that question. At first, we frankly admit, with shame, however, we did our part in keeping the disgrace from the public. We think the Board of Health last year was grossly negligent of duty in not pushing sewer legislation. The same applies to the Sewer Commission. We think the Board and Council are not doing their full duty in permitting pig pens in town limits when there is an ordinance against it.

We do not approve of the ordering wells of the poor closed and permitting cess pools of the rich to overflow, which those in authority, say is the cause of this contamination. To smile at the defeat of the sewer for petty and absurd differences, which with any decent idea of compromise and idea for public welfare could have been adjusted, is not in keeping with our idea of good citizenship.

The writer's comment on the State Board Laboratory, however, shows lack of information of the working of that department. According to our understanding, the sanitary conditions of Newark are no more under the jurisdiction of nor are those in charge to be held responsible, than any town in the State. The laboratory is for the use of the physicians and several local boards of the State. If our local board needs the advice or assistance of the laboratory officials, they are at their command, according, of course, to certain rules. But it is entirely out of their province to take charge of the work.

It is, however, a matter of record that the laboratory officials, both Dr. Robin, when he was here, and Dr. Watson, who is now in charge, have repeatedly warned the local Board of Health and the citizens at large of the conditions existing and have suggested remedies. Dr. Brown, of Johns Hopkins, while stationed here made prediction of our present existing evils.

You, the author of this letter, can do much toward the solution of this problem. Come out over your signature—nothing to be ashamed of and criticism is healthy—make this fight for a better Newark. And our hats off to you.

PEOPLES COLUMN

Editor of the Post: Is it not high time that some emphatic and organized protest is made against the curtailment of Newark's train service on the B. & O.? The new time card in effect last Sunday takes from us the 7:20 p. m. express for Wilmington and Philadelphia which now stops only to let off passengers from beyond Washington. This train, it is true, might be spared on week-days because there is an express leaving at 6:53, but on Sundays there is no train and the 7:20 was therefore the most popular train on that day for week-end visitors wishing to return to Wilmington or Philadelphia. Frequently in the evenings in the summer and fall from thirty to fifty passengers would board the train at this point. Now they must go either at 3:09 or at 8:17, the latter being a miserable accommodation train—ill lighted and ill smelling, and generally behind time at that. Few who have ridden to Philadelphia on that would care to repeat the ordeal. Having been a steady patron of the B. & O. for twenty years or more, I know what I am talking about when I say that every change of schedule the road has made in the last ten years has resulted in some impairment of the service here. One by one the number of express trains stopping here has been decreased until now on week days we can use only three out of ten southbound; and this notwithstanding the fact that Newark has for years been one of the three best paying stations on the line.

Where is our Board of Trade at such a time as this? Or why can not City Council take up this question and intimate to the company that if it persists in ignoring the right of Newark to a good train service it may become the policy of Council to retaliate by passing an ordinance compelling trains to reduce their running time to 15 or 20 miles an hour through the town limits, and to maintain a watchman at night at the North College Avenue crossing?

If this were in Pennsylvania or New Jersey or New York, no doubt the matter would be taken before the public service commission which would compel the road to restore the train.

Editor Post: What's the matter with our electric lights?

If the service(?) we have been getting for the last few months is the best that can be given under municipal management, we had better return to the brief, but satisfactory regime of the terrible Newark Water and Electric Co.

Would the pious martyrs to municipal management rather sit in darkness than let a competent lessee run the plant and give us light?

Our streets a few months ago were well lighted with arc lights, as the streets of a busy and growing town should be. Now the Main street is dark and forbidding and one must tread his way carefully from one lightning bug to the next.

The Light Committee is wrongly named. It should be the Dark Committee.

The Water Committee is well named—see the water spouting from the middle of every street?

Do any of our oldest citizens remember many years ago an en-took a census in Minneapolis. He found that 75 per cent. of the children in the region where he made his investigation did not eat breakfast with their parents; 70 per cent. did not eat luncheon and only 43 per cent. ate dinner with both parents present. On the one side we have the factory pulling children from the home; on the other side we have the club pulling the parents from the home."

When All Educated Men Talked.

"Do not high schools keep large numbers of boys out of useful mechanical trades?"

"No. As now conducted, high schools are helping boys into trades. We are getting away from the classical method of education and are establishing manual training schools, and in some places schools of agriculture. We are following Pestalozzi, the Swiss founder of a new school, whose purpose was to train the whole man. A half century ago men worked either with their hands or brains. Lawyers, preachers, physicians, editors, book writers and statesmen educated their sons. They all talked for a living in one way or another. Doctors had to talk with the rest, because medicine then was so unscientific that conversation was thought to be efficacious in the sick room.

"Today talk is subordinated to action. Lawyers have become less fluent. Sermons have been cut from an hour to 20 minutes. Editors print more news and less editorial. The soiled shirt is a symbol of service. The spirit of the age is revolutionizing our high schools. Mechanics are not being spoiled any more to make bookkeepers and real estate agents, and the wives of next year are learning to cook, bake and keep house."

"Should more male teachers be employed in the public schools?"

"I answer yes, with conviction. By and by there will be a man and a woman in every room of our graded schools. Young children need the sympathy, teachfulness, culture and attention of women. All children need the strength, judgment and initiative of men. Women are good disciples, but they cannot originate."

The Teachers of Germany.

"Can teaching ever become an attractive profession so long as salaries range from $40 to $100 a month?"

"Surely not. Teaching abroad is a desirable occupation. In Germany, teachers are officials of the State. They have a standing among men, are honored by everybody, and there is work and wages for them so long as they live. It is true, however, that teachers abroad are better prepared than are the teachers in this country. They must have the equivalent of a high school education and must spend three years at a normal school, nor are they expected to use their positions as a help into some other profession."

"Why are country boys leaving their homes to be clerks and wage-earners in towns and cities?"

"That is a big story. There are causes. Man is inherently sociable. He goes to a city and there, under a plan of co-operation, he walks on paved streets, instead of muddy roads, and in lightness, instead of darkness. He finds many other conveniences and things which he thinks he wants—water out of a faucet, books, newspapers, companionship and entertainments. Moreover, every time a farm machine is invented with which one man does the work of four, three men are released to do something else.

"It is a great question. Ultimately it will be settled, I think, by a system of village life, the farmers living together in communities, going to their land in the morning and returning home at night."

A YAWN CURE.

There is usually a time after dinner when Thanksgiving Day draws a bit, and we yawn and wonder what we can do next. When you begin to feel those yawns coming on try a game of "Blind Turkey."

Everyone is given paper and pencil. At a given signal eyes are shut tight and everybody draws a picture of the Thanksgiving turkey. The results are usually very funny, and a vote should be taken as to which picture is best, the winner to receive the "wish-bone"—or a real prize, if desired. This is guaranteed to cure even had cases of yawns.

PLEASANT EVENING

Miss Reba Passmore Swayne, of Fairville, Pa., made her second appearance in Newark last Thursday night in the St. Thomas parish house, delighting her audience as on the former occasion. Her portrayals of characters and circumstances, both humorous and pathetic, called forth repeated encores.

NATIONAL CONVENTION

The National Convention of the Anti-Saloon League will be held in Washington, D. C., on Tuesday, December 11, and continue in session ten days. The first half of the period will be devoted to a conference of the superintendents and workers in the nature of a school of methods. Then follows the biennial convention of the league, closing with a grand national conference to "consider the growing evils of the interstate liquor traffic." The call for this conference was signed by nearly 200 prominent men, prominent in the public, business and professional life of the country. The necessity for federal legislation will be discussed. Governor Pennell has appointed ten men to represent Delaware at this conference.

COZY CORNER—Molly's Work

"Well, my friend, your visits of observation are almost at an end," was Molly's greeting today. "I have two simple little gifts to make and then I shall be through! A bureau drawer stocked with the result of these pleasant hours and the time to enjoy the fun of leisurely shopping for the few trifles I need, has fully repaid me for this little bit of planning beforehand."

"I have yet to make this little music roll which is useful when friends assemble around the piano and join in the beautiful old songs. I am going to use this piece of dainty silk for a covering for the inner muslin roll which is to be filled with sand, or something equally heavy."

"Oh, the silk for the outside. I am going to mark with India ink the end, and bars, with the notes and words of a line of 'The Sweetest Story Ever Told.' At each end which I shall have previously fringed, I shall gather and insert a piece of narrow ribbon in a loop. You know what a nuisance these have your book refuse to stay open and how annoying to make a dive at the end of each bar to get it back in place! Just place this little roll in front of the page on the music rack and one can play in comfort."

"And now the last! I am going back to cretonne this time! I always do think it is so provoking to get one's beautifully laundered doilies matted, and find one of these cretonne rolls very useful. I have made several by covering a pasteboard roll, such as those in which large calendars come, and leaving a strip of cretonne about three-quarters of a yard in length extending from the entire width of the roll. I bind this with tape to match the color in the design. The doilies are placed carefully on this piece of cloth and the form rolled until the end is reached when the piece of tape on the end is tied loosely, and the contents are held smoothly and firmly in place."

DELAWARE

The Index, of Dover, in the issue of November 24, devotes two entire pages to the possibilities of the Diamond State. The facts presented make us thrill with enthusiasm for our little commonwealth, aside from providing reference and information worth while.

Only a few of the advantages which we enjoy as quoted from the supplement are given below:

A great variety of soils, all easily tilled and immensely productive.

Long warm seasons making Delaware the home of nearly every fruit and vegetable that can be found in the temperate zone.

Within 500 miles, 35,000,000 people, a third of the total population of all North America.

An abundant and unfailing supply of pure, cool, refreshing water.

On both sides of the State, rivers and navigable streams. Railroads run to all points so that there is scarcely a spot in the State that is ten miles from a railway station or a steamboat landing.

A TONIC FOR THE SOUL

"We can scarcely expect the annual Thanksgiving Day to make thanksgiving a matter of second nature with us. As well might we hope to get into the habit of bathing by taking a plunge regularly day that is yearly set apart for the giving of thanks to God is the best day of all the year for initiating the habit of daily thanksgiving through the whole year."

Hath Opportunity been thine?
Thank Opportunity divine.
Hast thou from thy full store bestowed

With heart that leaped and cheek that glowed?
Since a glad giver thou couldst be,
Therein is room enough for thee:
As, be thou grateful unto each
As well, and owned, thy bounteous touch.

I do believe that One on high Regards His world with fond eye.

And giving bounty everywhere,
Knows a God's joy beyond compare.

Can we receive light, life and power?
He gives these daily—hour by hour.

Who knoweth how our grateful need
The great All-Giver's joy may feed?

—Edith M. Thomas.

BOOKS BY HOWARD PYLE

Arthur L. Bailey, librarian of the Wilmington Institute Free Library, has had compiled a list of books written and illustrated by Howard Pyle. In addition to this Mr. Bailey has had posted on the bulletin board in the library building copies of famous paintings made by Mr. Pyle. The prints are attracting considerable attention. The list of books, all of which are obtainable at the library, is as follows:

SUPPER IN CHRISTIANA

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Christiana Presbyterian Church will serve the annual supper at the church on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, December 6 and 7. The committee chairmen comprise Mrs. Wilkinson E. Cranston, Mrs. Harry Hance, Mrs. George Appleby and Mrs. Irvin Dayett.

Around Hockessin

Afternoon from last week.
Mrs. John Mitchell and Miss Edith Mitchell attended the recent "Festivals" Conference at Mt. Holly, N. J., as representatives of the Hockessin meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denison, of near Marmad, have welcomed a baby daughter to their home.

Mrs. Israel Marshall is visiting her mother, Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, who is much improved from the effects of the fall she suffered some time ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Charles McBride and daughter Evelyn, of Tacony, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Walker last week.

Miss Mildred York, of New York State, is visiting Mrs. William Peach.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pierson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Pusey Pennock, of near Middletown.

The Harmony Grange meeting of Monday evening was a successful one. The question discussed was which should receive the first consideration—a comfortable house or a convenient barn?

THE FIRST PRESIDENTIAL THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Whereas, It is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the Providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His Benefits, and humbly to implore His Protection and Favour; And, Whereas, Both houses of Congress have, by their joint committee, requested me "to recommend the people of the United States, a Day of Public Thanksgiving and Prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many Signal Favours of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a Form of Government for their Safety and Happiness."

Now, Therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the Twenty-sixth Day of November, next, to be devoted by the People of these United States, to the Service of that great and glorious Being, who is the beneficent Author, of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; That we may all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this Country previous to their becoming a nation; For the signal and manifold mercies, and the favorable interpositions of His Providence in the course and conclusion of the late War; for the great Degree of Tranquillity, Union and Plenty, which we have since enjoyed; for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish Constitutions of Government for our Safety and Happiness, and particularly the national one now lately instituted; for the civil and religious Liberty with which we are blessed, and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and in general, for all the great and various Favours which He hath been pleased to confer upon us.

And, Also, that we may then unite in most humbly offering our Prayers and Supplications to the Great Lord and Ruler of Nations, and beseech Him to pardon our National and other Transgressions; to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative Duties properly and punctually; to render our National Government a Blessing to all the people, by constantly being a government of wise, just and Constitutional Laws, directly and faithfully obeyed; to protect and guide all Sovereigns and nations, (especially such as have shown kindness unto us) and to bless them with good Government, Peace and Concord; to promote the Knowledge and Practice of true Religion and Virtue, and the increase of Science among them and us; and generally to grant unto all mankind such a Degree of temporal Prosperity as He alone knows to be best.

Given under my hand at the City of New York, the third day of October, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Eighty-nine.

G. Washington.

terprise which was popularly known as "Elk River." It is said this concern made electricity in vast quantities, so vast indeed, that it would, if necessary, make our entire town one blaze of light and glory—and then have enough left to light Glasgow and Philadelphia.

Where is it now? Oh, where? If it still existed as in the merry days of yore, the Dark Committee would only have to press a button and the happy and unhappy alike would be dazzled while the tireless tinkers tinkered tirelessly over that dear municipal plant until it wouldn't go at all.

Only a few short months ago every "municipal" partisan went about carrying fifty-nine pounds of data to prove that the town was getting so rich from running its own light work, that another bank would have to be started to hold the money—these parties were active in spreading the glad tidings of the town's great wealth—a fact not till then even suspected—and finally having shown the populace and the latter believing, elected a number of the ones of greatest ability (for carrying data) to command the Gold Mine—and run the town (individually). What now is the reason for advancing the price of electricity? Were the fifty-nine pounds of data wrong?

Explain, if you can why, if so much money was being made from our Light Plant before the lease—we cannot make as much now, and look who's running it.

With due appreciation of the Post's recent Board of Trade agitation, we think it would be better to secure the ordinary comforts and necessities of civilization, viz: light, sufficient water and a sewerage system; before we try to do something we can't do without these essentials. Are Light.

To the Editor of the Newark Post: The recent typhoid fever scare has subsided, and I understand that there are few cases in Newark at present, but would not this be a good time for those in authority to look into the situation and to take some measures to prevent the increase and spread of this deadly disease? During the past few years Newark has suffered from a serious and costly epidemic of typhoid fever; and the saddest part of it all is that we have observed no marked decrease in the number of cases. It seems to me something ought to be done to get at the root of the trouble, and some little effort made to eliminate these cases of typhoid fever. A real live and active board of health, with an up-to-date bacteriological laboratory, ought to wake up to the situation and at least make some inquiry as to the cause of these cases, and to institute some measures to stamp out the dreaded disease. The State Board of Health and the laboratory of the Board seem to be imbued with the idea that the chief function of a board of health laboratory is to make a post mortem of some cases in order to determine the cause of death, or to make some trivial examination for some physician. I am under the impression that this Board of Health, like all similar institutions, was organized for the purpose of preventing disease. May I ask what this Board of Health laboratory has done to justify its existence, if we are to judge from the interest it has taken in the prevention and spread of typhoid fever? I wonder if it might just as well not exist as far as the health of the community and health of the State are concerned? I wonder if it has ever occurred to the laboratory authorities to enquire into the possible sources of typhoid fever, such as typhoid carriers, flies, drinking water, raw foods and the milk supplies? Of course when we come to consider one or all of these sources as a possible cause of fever here in Newark, this work must of necessity be carried out by the local Board of Health, together with the laboratory. So far we have no evidence in any way to indicate that the Board of Health has made any effort to prevent the spread of typhoid fever. If we assume that the Board of Health and the Board of Health laboratory are awake to the fact that typhoid has existed here for several years, doesn't it seem that they have demonstrated their inability to check the spread of this disease? The examination of a specimen of water, milk, or any other article of food, I am told, is of value, still it seems to me the most important work of all is to find out the cause and then devise methods to prevent the spread of disease. We have to deal in Newark not alone with a local condition but one of great interest to the State as well. Since almost every section of the State has some student representative here in Delaware College, every part of the State is deeply interested in our health conditions. If this State Board of Health and Board of Health laboratory are of any value to the State their results certainly ought to be noticeable here in Newark. If they make no effort to improve the health conditions in their own town, how can the citizens living outside of Newark expect to be benefitted by such an institution? Unless it can be shown to be some value to the State and general public, why keep on making appropriations for its maintenance?

At New Orleans Gen. Butler heard much talk about ante-bellum things, but was not prepared for this from an old negro woman when he casually remarked:

"What a wonderful moon you have down here, aunty."
"Ah, bless yo' heart, honey," said she with a sigh, "yo ought to have seen dat moon befo' de wah."
