School Bond Sale Ordered; Priorities Sought On Material

Board Delays Decision On Use Of Main Street Building

The immediate sale of $275,000 in Newark school bonds, authorized two weeks ago in a referendum here, was ordered by the Newark Board of Education at its September meeting on Friday night. Deadline on the opening of bids for the entire block was set for Oct. 25.

In a further move to expedite the school building program approved by the referendum, the board took steps to secure a priority from the federal government for materials to carry out the proposed large-scale extension to the high school gymnasium.

The $275,000 bond issue will provide the district's share in an approximately $700,000 building program. The gym extension, which will double the physical education facilities at the high school, is expected to cost around $200,000.

Another $475,000 is earmarked for a 12-classroom elementary building in the Capitol Trail area outside the city limits. The board, which has tentatively selected a site for the new school, agreed Friday night on a top offer for the ground. If this should prove unacceptable to the owner, condemnation proceedings will be instituted, it was indicated.

A meeting of the local school building commission, also scheduled for Friday night, was called off. This body, composed of members of the Newark and state boards of education, must meet to select an architect for the new school and to carry out basic planning for the building program. Since the Newark board is anxious to get the construction underway as soon as possible, a meeting of the commission is expected in the near future.

The board again postponed a decision on using the old Main Street building for elementary classes to relieve the overcrowding in the district. The members agreed to wait until current repairs to the structure are completed, when the building will be given a final inspection before approval for its use is granted.

First Tank Assembly Machine Is Installed At Chrysler Plant

Production Unit Goes In 5 Months After Start Of Construction

Only four and a half months after the first piece of structural steel was erected for the multi-million dollar Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant here, the first production machine was installed in the partially-completed plant.

On an inspection tour of the Chrysler Tank Plant when the first piece of machinery arrived, were several ranking officials of the Army Ordnance Department.

The inspecting group consisted of Colonel J. E. Engler, chief of the Tank-Automotive Section in Washington; Colonel W. K. Gormley, deputy chief of the Philadelphia Ordnance District; Lieutenant-Colonel R. Mayo Silvey, material control officer of the Ordnance Department; H. R. Lowers, deputy chief of the Tank-Automotive Section in Washington; Charles Egoff, chief of production for the Philadelphia Ordnance District; Lieutenant-Colonel Walter English, officer-in-charge at the Delaware Tank Plant; and Dorsey Thompson, contracting officer's representative, Philadelphia Ordnance District.

The first production machine delivered at the Chrysler Tank Plant was a 54" vertical boring mill which weighs about 65 tons and occupies approximately 100 square feet of floor space.

While this machine was being unloaded for installation, three other large machines arrived at the tank plant site. Two of them are 120" vertical boring mills weighing approximately 900 tons each and requiring about 300 square feet of floor space apiece. The other machine is a horizontal precision boring mill weighing about 30 tons.

Although construction of the Chrysler Tank Plant is only about 50% completed, machinery will continue to be moved in and installed so that tank production can begin at the earliest possible date.

At the Newark plant, Chrysler will produce heavy and medium tanks under a contract with Army Ordnance.

In the absence of R. T. Keller, general manager of the Chrysler Tank Plant, who was in Detroit on business pertaining to the Newark arsenal, the inspection party was taken on a tour of the entire 240 site by Joseph P. Kerigan, works manager, and several other members of the tank plant staff.

Curtis Paper Plant President Named To OPS Advisory Group

One Of 18 Delaware Business Men On Price Committees

Allen F. Horton, president of Curtis Paper Company, Newark, is one of 18 Delaware businessmen now serving on industry advisory committees for the national Office of Price Stabilization, according to Henry McC. Winchester, district OPS director. Mr. Horton is on the domestic wood-pulp consumers committee.

Mr. Winchester said that Delaware can be proud of this recognition of its leadership in many fields of business and industry and of its contribution to the price control program. He also pointed out that such cooperation between business and OPS is a natural one since both share the conviction that inflation is ruinous to a free economy.

"These men work long hours, travel to and from meetings in Washington at their own expense, and render invaluable assistance in the preparation of orders and regulations," the Delaware OPS official said. He also explained that industry advisory committees—of which there are over 500—are set up by OPS as required by the Defense Production Act. Meetings of the committees bring together business and government experts who pool their ideas and experience to work out effective pricing action against inflation—their function being advisory rather than actual drafting of regulations, however.

Mr. Winchester also explained that in naming committee members, OPS includes both large and small business, all sections of the country where the industry is found, and members as well as non-members of trade associations.

In addition to Delaware's domestic woodpulp industry, other fields recognized by committee representation are fishing, feed, floor coverings, chemicals, liquor, poultry, steel, cotton finishing, wood products, coal and leather.

YELLOWJACKET HIGHLIGHTS

By the Journalism Class And The Junior Journalists Club At Newark High School

Students of Mrs. Hilda Marshall's grade 6 have decided to write and illustrate a newspaper in their home-rooms this year. The paper to be published under the title MIDGET PRESS will be prepared at intervals throughout the school year.

Rose Ann McMullen was named editor by the group with Barney Fields acting as associate editor, Joe Hitchcock sports editor, Lois Ann Hyre, art editor, and Danny Lanning, news editor.

To become better acquainted with the business of preparing a newspaper, the entire class visited the Newark Post today.

Vernon Baker.

A Welcome Back Dance was sponsored by the Newark Cheerleaders in the school gymnasium last Friday night. Proceeds went for new jumpers and jackets for the girls.

A second purpose for the affair was to offer new and old students a chance to become acquainted outside of the classroom. Music for the evening was provided by records. The new amplification system installed this summer makes it possible to send the music by amplifiers to the gymnasium, cafeteria and playcourt. This new system, used for the first time at the "Get Acquainted" is a gift of the Student Council.

Tom Burke.

Mr. Eugene Smith, a teacher of commercial subjects at the Newark School, underwent a serious kidney operation at the Veterans' Hospital in Elmsford on September 5.

Entering the hospital about six weeks ago for observation, Mr. Smith was able to be home on passes during week-ends until the emergency operation early in September. It is expected that he will be able to return to his classes in about three weeks.

LITTLE THINGS about the Stars

By GEORGE LILLEY

"ALEXANDER HAWTHORNE BOBBIN" is a young man who lives with two sympathetic maiden aunts—"Aunt Clara" and "Aunt Bertie." Just getting started in the business world, he got his first job and bungled it promptly. But always "Alexander" has visions of glory—at least in his day dreams.

Jane Seymour

Jackie Kelk

Nydia Westman

One of the season's first bright new television shows, "Young Mr. Bobbin" is seen and heard Sunday nights, NBC-TV. The star is a familiar fellow who, although only 28, has been broadcasting 16 years—Brooklyn-born Jackie Kelk. Jackie was a child star on the air for Best Laid Plans, Burns and Allen, Eddie Cantor, Jack Benny, Fred Allen and Ethel Merman. He was the original "Terry" of "Terry and the Pirates" and, for the last decade, "Gomer" of "The Aldrich Family." Canadian-born (Hamilton, Ont.) Jane Seymour, who wanted to be a school teacher, plays "Aunt Clara"; Nydia Westman, a veteran of many Broadway and TV shows, is "Aunt Bertie." Norman Toller and Ed Jurist write the program.

BERT IS BACK

Back on television after an eight-week summer lay-off is "The Bert Parks Show," Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons on NBC-TV. With Parks is the same cast that appeared on the program last season. Sprightly Betty Ann Grove, who has been voted in a number of polls "TV's favorite songstress," is Bert's top aide, after a summer gadding about as guest on other TV airers.

Bert Parks

SPIES' NEMESIS

"David Harding" is one of those famous sleuths of the radio who seems to go on and on. A creation of Phillips H. Lord, one of the first and still among the most productive of the big-moneyed radio producers, "Harding" is the hero of the Thursday night NBC show "Counter-Spy." This came into being as an informative show in 1942; today is serving again to advise Americans in dramatic aims and activities of U.S. counter-spy agents here and abroad. Veteran air actor Don MacLaughlin currently plays the lead role; Mandel Kramer is "Peters." Marx Loeb writes the show.

NEWARK TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

From issue of September 22, 1926

Leading Citizen Dies

Samuel J. Wright, aged 74 years, president of the Continental Fibre Company, and one of Newark's leading citizens, died late Saturday night at his home on East Main Street. He had been in declining health the past two years.

Mr. Wright had lived in Newark all his life. His success was closely connected with the growth of the community. Every civic improvement in Newark during the last 50 years has been linked with the name of Mr. Wright.

He received his education at the old Newark Academy. As a young man he went into the lumber business with his father, S. B. Wright, on the site of what is now the E. L. Richards lumber yard.

Mr. Wright went into the fibre business in 1895, joining the local plant of the American Hard Fibre Company. He later became vice president of the American Vulcanized Fibre Company, which had bought out the American Hard Fibre plant.

In 1905 Mr. Wright severed his relations with the latter firm and took a hand in organizing the Continental Fibre Company, now one of the most modern plants in the state.

New Firm Opens

This week a branch of the Wilmington Auto Company opens at 162 East Main Street. The outlet will be under the direction of George H. Lloyd.

In Florida

Eugene Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thomas, near Newark, went to Miami two weeks ago to engage in electrical work.

Miss Bess F. Davis arrived at Miami

Additional Home Loans Offered War Veterans

About 2,000,000 World War II veterans who previously used all or part of their GI home, farm and business loans, are entitled to additional home loans under the new Defense Housing Act, the Veterans Administration said this week.

"Comparing the new schedule for GI loans with the one in effect previously, the minimum down payment on a $7,000 transaction is $280, instead of $500," VA said.

"At $10,000, it is $600 instead of $1,300, and at $12,000, it is $900 instead of $1,900."

The new law grants to most veterans who used all or part of their guaranty right the difference between what they used and $7,500 for home loans only. However, if the veteran obtained a home loan after April 20, 1950, no additional guaranty is provided.

TALLEYVILLE GROUP GUESTS OF 3-IN-1 CLUB

The Three-In-One Homemakers Club resumed the fall activities with a meeting at the Ebenezer Methodist Church on Thursday, September 13, at 1:30 p.m. at which time twenty-three members of the Talleyville Homemakers Club were its guests.

Friday, September 14, being the National Anthem Day, to commemorate the 137th anniversary of the composition of our national anthem by Francis Scott Key, Mrs. Floyd Jackson led the group in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" stressing the use of all three verses with its deep meaning for our times.

A special musical program followed: an organ and piano duet, "Ave Maria," by Fran Schubert, played by Mrs. Norman Hitchens, organist, and Mrs. Jackson, pianist. A vocal duet, "Whispering Hope," by Mrs. Ralph Whiteman and Mrs. Jackson. This program closed with a second organ and piano duet, "The Swan," by Saint-Saens.

Mrs. John B. Lynch, president, conducted a brief business session. A most interesting and informative letter by Helen Samendinger, international farm youth exchange student from Delaware, now in Germany, was read. Miss Samendinger gave a splendid account of the excellent job of rebuilding that is being done by the German people.

Mrs. Daniel Cecil, community chairman, again stressed the urgent need for members to bring whenever possible any wearable and usable clothing for Governor Bacon Health Center. A letter was read from Dr. Harumian in which he expressed his deep appreciation for the fans for the older people, gifts of clothing and the sponsoring of two boys, Mrs. Carl Nelson, chairman of Needlework Guild, asked for the donations from the club members to be brought in at the October meeting. Mrs. Lynch proposed an apron project.

Miss Jones announced County Council Day, for September 20, at which time plans for the annual achievement day of November 8 will be made. Miss Jones also gave an interesting program on the "Homemaker and Her Community." Miss Jones stressed that the home not only offered growth mentally, physically and spiritually but also offered rest, relaxation and security enumerating the ways in which the homemaker helps indirectly and directly in the community as in her home.

Tea and sandwiches were served following the program with the hostesses Mrs. Raymond Lyman and Mrs. Martin Gauger serving, assisted by Mrs. Roy Walton, Jr. Mrs. Edward Duffy, president of the visiting club, and Mrs. John Lynch, president of the host club, poured.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Barbara D'Angelo, Capital Trail, Oct. 11, when Miss Jones will discuss the art of upholstering.

NHS Faculty Aids DSEA Conclave Here

The faculty of the Newark schools played a major part in the success of the Delaware State Education Association's annual leadership training conference last Saturday at the University of Delaware.

The principal speaker at the parley was Robert L. Durkee, the DSEA executive secretary, who charged the 118th General Assembly had generally ignored the educational interests of Delaware's children.

"School children are being short-changed by being required to attend school in make-shift rooms, in classes numbering well above the accepted size, in half-day sessions, with overworked teachers, some few of whom are unqualified to teach," Mr. Durkee said.

Continued rising enrollments and a decline in the available teachers will worsen the situation in the years immediately ahead, he claimed.

"That is, it will grow worse until the people realize that we may lose the battle for democracy in our schools," Mr. Durkee said.

Hunting Laws For Upland Game Season Listed By Chief Warden

Open Dates, Bag Limits Listed For Quail, Rabbits, Pheasants, Squirrels, Waterfowl; Hunters Advised On Safety Measures, License Rules

Hunting regulations for the state's upland game season were outlined this week by Chief Game Warden Thomas N. Stayton.

The open season for quail, rabbit and pheasants will be from Nov. 15 to Dec. 31 inclusive. The daily bag limit for quail is 12; rabbit, six; and pheasants, two (cocks only). The possession limits of quail, rabbit or pheasant after the first day of the season may be twice the bag limit for one day.

The squirrel seasons are: New Castle County, north of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, Oct. 1 to Nov. 15; and south of the canal and Kent and Sussex Counties, Sept. 15 to Nov. 1. Daily bag limit is six.

Frogs may be taken from May 1 to Dec. 31, inclusive; red fox, to chase only, Oct. 1 to April 30, inclusive; raccoons and opossum, Nov. 1 to Jan. 31, inclusive.

Mr. Stayton said the law passed by a recent session of Legislature provides that it is lawful for any person to trap or take raccoon from the lands in New Castle or Kent Counties, from the south boundary of Wilmington and east of the center line of U. S. Route 13, then down to the junction of Route 13 and Route 113, and along the center line of 113 dividing Kent County and Sussex County, any time of the year except on Sundays.

The season for muskrat is Dec. 1 to March 10, inclusive. The closing date on embanked meadows of New Castle County is March 20. Muskrats in Kent and Sussex Counties may be taken between Dec. 15 and March 10.

Resident hunting licenses cost $2.25 this year; non-resident hunting licenses, $15.50, and dog licenses $1. Dogs are not permitted to run at large from March 1 to Oct. 1.

For safety Mr. Stayton recommended to hunters that they be sure their guns are empty when crossing ditches, walking where the footing is treacherous, or when the gun is placed in an automobile.

He advised hunters never to point a gun at anything they did not intend to shoot and carry the gun uncocked and pointed upward when walking. Hunters were asked to treat farmers as friends.

The open season for wild ducks and geese, set by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service are Nov. 9 to Dec. 23 and brant, Nov. 9 to Nov. 18; rails, gallinules, sora and others. Sept. 1 to Oct. 30; woodcock, Nov. 15 to Dec. 14; mourning or turtle doves, Oct. 1 to 30.

Shooting hours for ducks, geese, brant, rails, gallinules, and sora are from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset except for the opening day, when shooting starts at noon.

Woodcock may be shot from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset and mourning doves from noon until sunset only, each day of the season.

Nutritionist Urges Families To Check Breakfast Problems

Good Breakfasts Add To Efficiency Of Grownups, Children

September is Better Breakfast month. And it is the logical time for homemakers to check on breakfast habits in the family, advises Miss M. Gertrude Holloway, nutrition specialist with the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Breakfast is especially important for children in school. Lack of time, and lack of appetite, are the reasons given most often for skipping breakfast. Lack of appetite may be caused by lack of variety served for breakfast. It might be a habit developed by going without breakfast, or by eating snacks just before going to bed. Whatever the cause, something can be done about it, if homemakers really give their attention to it, says Miss Holloway.

Studies show clearly that children do better work in school, and that grown-ups are more efficient on the job if they eat a good breakfast. People are more alert and less irritable.

An adequate breakfast would include fruit, milk, whole grain cereal, meat or an egg, and bread and butter.

With fresh fruits in season now, Delaware families may enjoy peaches, melons, applesauce or baked apples, tomato juice, pears, or grapes as breakfast fruit, Miss Holloway suggests. Other foods can be chosen according to family likes and dislikes. The important thing is that each member of your family eats a breakfast that follows good nutrition recommendations.

Delaware Youths To Join In Maryland Farm Parley

About ten young men and women from Delaware will represent the Diamond State at a weekend Rural Youth Leadership Conference, Sept. 21-23, George M. Worrlow, director of the Agricultural Extension Service, told about the conference. The affair is sponsored by the Maryland Agricultural Extension Service, Farm Bureau, and Grange. Virginia and Delaware were invited to send delegates. Maurice Field, New Castle county 4-H agent, is in charge of some of the recreation and discussion groups.

The three days will be devoted to discussion groups on rural youth problems, discussion methods, recreation ideas and methods, and program planning. The purpose is to inspire and train rural young men and women for community leadership.

Any out-of-school rural young people, interested in going, can contact their county 4-H Club agent for the details. There is still room for more delegates from Delaware, said Director Worrlow.

The conference will be at the Harford 4-H Club Camp, at the Rocks, near Bel-Air, Md.

Intelligence Corps Seeking Volunteers

Army Recruiter Now At Postoffice

Direct enlistment for duty with the Army counter intelligence corps is now possible, according to an announcement made today by Sgt. Joseph F. Haas, Newark's recruiting aide for this area located at the postoffice building, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

In order to qualify, an applicant must, in addition to meeting the general enlistment directives, be not less than 22 nor more than 38 years of age, be physically qualified for full field duty, be a citizen of the United States, possess a high school diploma and be successfully interviewed by a CIC representative. Sgt. Haas pointed out, however, that the interview is held prior to any commitment by the applicant.

All applicants will have their character, discretion, integrity and loyalty to the United States established by investigation.

The sergeant said that veterans who are approved for this enlistment would be sent direct to the CIC school, Fort Holabird, Baltimore, Md., after completion of the necessary processing at the reception center, Fort George G. Meade, Md. Those enlisting who have had no prior service would have to complete their basic training before they would be sent to the CIC school.

Additional details may be secured from Sgt. Haas at the postoffice.

Soil Conservation Field Day, Sept. 27

Delaware's Soil Conservation Field Day, Sept. 27, will feature the seeding of a six acre field by airplane on the Charles McMahon Farm, west of Dover. The public is invited.

Barley will be sown at the rate of a bushel and a half per acre, from a height of twenty feet. Howard Boggs, Kent county district conservationist, says that Donald Clark, Dover, will do the seeding from a specially constructed training plane. He will take lift from an adjoining field and seed a strip of thirty feet, at each pass over the field.

Clark says that seeding cover crops from a plane is practical, especially when seeding rye as a cover crop in standing corn, at the last cultivation.

The farm will be completely drained with Soil Conservation District equipment, according to plans developed by the SCS.

Fifteen implement dealers are co-sponsoring the demonstration. They are: Ford, Bolan Motors, of Dover, and Bayard N. Wharton of Milford; Allis Chalmers, Farmers Supply Co., of Smyrna and Milford Tractor Co., of Milford; Oliver, Warrington Service Center, Harrington and Clements Supply Co., of Clayton; Case, Frear Machine Co., of Dover; International Harvester, B. Carroll & Son of Dover, R. H. Stafford & Son of Burrisville, Md.; White Bros. Supply Co., of Middletown; John Deere, Taylor's Hardware, Harrington, Price Farm Equipment Co. of Smyrna and Walter Spence, Jr., of Wyoming.

K-P Farm Supplies, Smyrna, will represent Ferguson. The Caterpillar dealer is Alban Tractor Co., Inc., of Salisbury, Md.; and Massey Harris, M. & H. Sales and Service, Sudlersville, Md.; and Ralph G. Faries, Townsend, Hayman Concrete Pipe Co., Dover, will furnish concrete pipe for culverts. Southern States Coop will supply pasture mixture. Roger A. Davis, Hartly, will provide ground limestone. Fertilizer will come from the Warner Price Co., Laurel.

Roofing for the dairy shed will come from M. A. Harnett, Dover, and Nuttle Lumber and Coal, Denton, Md., will furnish roofing for the new poultry house. The Newton Chemical Co., Bridgeville, will furnish chemicals for the fence post treatment. Clarence Mast will cut lumber from the farm woodlot for the new sheds. Edward M. Marvel, contractor, will supervise the building operations. Clarence Jones, Maryland, will whitewash both buildings.

Drainage ditch banks will be seeded by the Delaware Game and Fish Commission, while the Delaware State Forestry Department will demonstrate woodlot management. The Delaware Agricultural Extension Service is helping to prepare the farm plan.

Governor Elbert N. Carvel, Congressman J. Caleb Boggs, and chairman of the Delaware Soil Conservation Commission, George L. Schuster, will speak following lunch. The lunch will be served on the farm by the Pomona Grange.

Howard Boggs and the McMahon family wish to repeat the invitation to come out to the McMahon farm, Sept. 27. The Field Day's purpose is to see a farm drainage project from beginning to end, complete in every detail.

Jacket Gridders Meet Elkton Here Tomorrow In 1951 Debut

Newark's Probable Starting Lineup For Night Clash Listed By Sposato; Includes Seven Veterans Of Last Year's Unbeaten Club; Kickoff At 8:15 P.M.

The Newark High School Yellowjackets will place an 11-game undefeated streak on the scales tomorrow night when they open their 1951 football season against Elkton High under the lights on the athletic field here. The kickoff is set for 8:15 p.m.

Leading Newark's attack will be seven veterans who helped manufacture the Jackets' unbeaten record. They are listed on the probable starting lineup announced today by Coach Fred Sposato.

The Jackets polished off their offensive in light drills yesterday and today, after a heavy scrimmage Tuesday with Mt. Pleasant and another stiff workout last Saturday morning against members of the Newark alumni.

The latter provided the team with "some excellent experience," according to Sposato, and brought to light the fact that the Jackets appear "especially weak in blocking." This week's practice drills were concentrated on the defect.

The Jackets are in prime physical shape for the encounter, Sposato says. Despite four weeks of intensive practice, the squad has been spared serious injuries. Arthur Boulden, defensive guard, sprained his ankle slightly, Sposato disclosed, but the youth is expected to be ready for action tomorrow.

The seven lettermen among the starters are: Bramble, Sparks, Leahy, Boutin, George, Blaney and Palmer.

Also likely to see action are Dave Hurn, Frank Stewart and Edward Sobolewski, defensive ends; Don Sharpe and Arthur Boulden, guards; Neal Kline, center; Ferris Lee, Roger Kaufman, tackles.

In addition to his chores as defensive guard, Stewart will be assigned most of the punting, according to Sposato.

Farming Economist Now On U. of D. Staff

Missouri Native Joins Extension

Raymond C. Smith, Missouri farm economist, has joined the staff of the University of Delaware, according to Dr. R. O. Bausman, head of the Dept. of Agricultural Economics. Smith was appointed on September 15 as assistant professor, and will do research and teaching in the marketing of farm products.

Smith was born and reared on a farm near Eaglesville, Missouri, and attended the University of Missouri. He received his M. S. degree at the University of Illinois, and is a candidate for the Ph. D. degree at that institution.

The author of several papers on farm marketing, Smith served as graduate research assistant at the University of Illinois for two years. He was a member of the enlisted reserve corps for three years.

Lehigh Boasting 10 Game Streak, Primed For Tilt With Hens

Lehigh University's football forces will be after their tenth straight victory when they open the 1951 campaign at 8:15 o'clock Saturday night against the University of Delaware at Wilmington, Del. In addition to extending an undefeated record against the Blue Hens, the Engineers are aiming to maintain an unbeaten record against the Hens in four previous meetings. The Brown and White has been victorious.

Less experienced than last year's team, the present Lehigh squad will be built around five returning first stringers. The backfield offers a complicated job of selection for Coach Bill Leckonby because of graduation of star performers of the past three seasons.

Only first-string veterans returning to the backfield are Herb Weiss, quarterback, Johnstown, Pa.; and Bob Borofski, fullback, Natick, Mass. Returning line first-stringers from last year's undefeated and untied eleven are Co-captain John Bergman, end, McKeesport; Bill Henderson, tackle, Lancaster; and Richard Pradetto, center, North Bessemer.

Leckonby still has an open mind on the varsity offensive spots as the Engineers move into their final stage of conditioning this week. Starting today, the squad will hold but one practice a day since registration for all classes by all students is under way. For the past three weeks, the Brown and White has been out every morning and afternoon.

Turkeys on March

Farmers are raising a record crop of 32,774,000 turkeys this year, BAE reports. This is 16% more than last year, with all States except 5 showing increases ranging from 4% in Kansas to 124% in Maine. Sale of 21,875 lbs. dried whole eggs for export was announced for week ending August 17. Cumulative total to date of export sales is 8,579,284 lbs.

Delaware Opens Grid Campaign Saturday Night Against Lehigh

Hens To Seek First Win Over Engineers In Series; History; Lehigh Laden With Talent; Delaware Stressed Defense

Only a real, old-fashioned voodoo fortune-teller can predict what the University of Delaware gridgers will do Saturday night when the Blue Hens of Dave "Whip" Nelson light the pigskin fuse for a showdown with Lehigh's wealth of topnotch manpower.

Delaware has never defeated the Engineers. Last year the Newark team was shut out by Lehigh, 0 to 21.

Winning became a habit with the Engineers after their meeting with D.U., and Coach Bill Leckonby's students finished the campaign undefeated and untied. The Nelsonmen believe the proud Brown and White troops should now be taught the losing side of grid warfare. After all, losing can be educational too, as any Blue Hen veteran can testify.

For the past ten days, the coaching staff has turned the spotlight on defensive measures to check the glittering Lehigh attack. "Whip" Nelson knows that stopping the enemy will not produce victories in itself, but it's the first logical step towards a knockout blow. The Blue Hens have their straight "T" package offense all wrapped up for the present time.

The linemen, who rarely trod the glory path, are the "blood, sweat" and sometimes, "tears" of a good checking system. Not that the defensive backs play any minor role, but the linemen have first shot at the target. Mike Ludo, the Blue and Gold farewell professor, admits that the Lions lack depth at some spots, especially at the guard slots. Only two lettermen answer roll call for guard duty, Milt Keene, a 180 pound senior from Yeadon, Pa., and John Meccariello, 190 pounds, a junior from Camden, N.J. After that it's anybody's guess with the Stevens twins, Frank and Bob, along with ex-tackle lettermen Seymour Kaplowitz and Al Bredhag bidding for assignments.

"Kapple" Kaplowitz is a smashing type player noted for his ability to block punts and passes.

Youth takes over at the tackle and end positions. Coach Nelson says his team will be trademarked by youth and inexperience. "We don't expect to be a world beater this year or next," Nelson said, "but we'll win our share with a full supply of speed and luck." Young men like John Borsione, 18, Lyndhurst, N.J.; Jim Eberle, 18, Philadelphia; Brynjulf Larsen, 20, Brooklyn; Jim O'Mary, 18, Wayne, Pa.; along with old vets "Milt" Moore, Adams and Francis Heilig. At ends it's the story where lettermen Larry Dabbs, 20, Media, Pa.; Joe Lank, 21, Millersburg, Pa.; Marvin Williams, 20, Blades; and Ray Wright, 26, Freeport, I.I., take over the flanks.

At center the Fluhlin' Blue Hens have the little all-American candidate, Billy "The Kid" Craver. Craver is a 200 pound die-hard from Forty Four, Pa., who will be playing his last year of college competition. Charles Sullivan, a home town Newark kid and John Miceli, Fairview, N.J., are each running for pivot action.

The backfield situation is an open affair except at fullback where the captain, Johnny DeGasperis is in for one last fling. Up and coming placements for the leader include Hagerty, Prospect Park, Pa.; Jim Bonnette, Rutherford, N.J.; and Bill Butler, Wilmington. Earl Walter, Haver, Pa., is also a fullback candidate. He still numbered among the injured. Signal callers are led by little Tommy Fannon, Chester, Pa.; Jerry Kohn, Norristown, and Don Miller, a son from Prospect Park, Pa.

MORE POWER...

Planned with you in mind!

to assure you an adequate, dependable and economical supply of electric power

Farmer, manufacturer, merchant, and housewife are using more and more electricity . . . because, it makes work easier—more pleasant—more profitable. Having this electric power ready for you when you need it, requires research and planning . . . careful charting of community growth in order to anticipate future requirements. An example of this "planning ahead" is our new Edge Moor Power Station, which assures an adequate, dependable supply to meet the Peninsula's ever-increasing demand for electricity. You can be sure that there will be all the power you need . . . now and in the future.

School Warns On Loose Running Dogs

Dogs have been running loose on the Newark school playground in such numbers lately that school authorities this week warned pupils to keep their pets at home.

Wilmer E. Shue, district superintendent, ordered members of his staff to call the game warden when unclaimed dogs appear. "We do not want any child to lose his pet," Mr. Shue said, "but we also do not want dogs endangering the lives of school pupils."

Council Meeting

order the owner to install a sidewalk. Council took the step after Mr. Hill explained that he had observed several near accidents there, involving children who were forced to walk out in the street along the Academy Street side of the property.

A $1,000 bid on installing heating equipment for the Council Offices in the Academy building was awarded to A. M. Hadley, the low bidder. The work is scheduled to be completed in 30 days after the signing of the contract.

Steps were also taken to extend the municipal sewage system to Lumbrook and the new Gallagher development. Council ordered its engineers, Whitman Reardon, Baltimore, to lay out a design for lines in both areas.

Several Councilmen entered complaints on vacant areas overgrown with weeds in the city limits. Especially mentioned was the John Dennison property on the north east corner of the Haines Street-Delaware Avenue intersection. It was pointed out that such conditions are a violation of a city ordinance, and Council agreed to issue a public notice to all property owners concerned, requesting their compliance with the law.

A request by Manlove McMullen for a change in his electric power rate at his meat market on Main Street from "domestic" to the lower "commercial" levy was approved by Council. Mr. McMullen pointed out that most of his electrical power is consumed by refrigerators and other machinery.

Chief Petty Officer E. T. Hampson, who since early August has been living on Capitol Trail, entered a complaint about the lack of a city garbage collection there. He said a private contractor, who makes regular pick-ups along Capitol Trail, has refused to add him as a customer "at any price."

Claiming the situation had him "over a barrel—filled with garbage," the Navy man asked when he could expect relief. Council explained it currently is negotiating with private contractors for city wide collection but has been unable as yet to secure a satisfactory bid. Councilman Donald Hill said he might be able to work out a temporary solution and advised Hampson to call him in a few days.

AAUW Workshop

The Dover branch will be named later. J. Dorman Walsh, manager of WDEL and WDEL-TV, will discuss television possibilities for education and AAUW in a question and answer session at 1 p.m.

Small discussion groups on human relations in three fields: education, community and international, will be held in the morning session from 11 until 12:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Herbert E. Dobbs, of the Wilmington branch, will act as leader of the education group. Mrs. James Young, state vice-president of the Parent Teachers Association, and Dr. John Wilhall, of the School of Education at the university, will also take part in the study.

Mrs. Samuel Handloff, president of the Newark branch, will conduct the group studying human relations in the community. The need for standards for nursery schools and kindergartens, and the library as an integrating force will be considered.

Miss Jeannette Thoroughgood, who has recently returned to Newark following a summer spent in studying educational methods in England, will lead the international group. The AAUW fellowship program will be discussed with the whole problem of educating students to think internationally.

Some of the workshop program will be built around the article "AAUW Fellows and Their Survival" which appeared in the summer issue of the AAUW Journal.

The workshop will conclude at 3 p.m. following a report from the study groups and a summary of the day and discussion of the work of other state workshops by Mrs. W. Clayton Lytle, regional director.

A box lunch will be served from 12:30 to 1 o'clock. Registration fee will be 15c, cost of the lunch will be $1.35. Newark members who plan to attend should call Mrs. Anthony Loudis (2-0331). Last date for lunch reservation will be Sept. 26.

Churchwomen

Better Tomorrow" At 7:30 p.m., Dr. Paul Andrew Kirsch, secretary of the Board of American Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America, will speak on "Surrounded by Churches—but No Church Home! The Howard High School Chorus, under the direction of Harry C. Andrews, will provide the music.

Tuesday at one p.m., Dr. Edward H. Ehart, Jr., associate rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, will preside at the box luncheon. The guest speaker is Mrs. William H. Marmion, wife of the rector of St. Andrew's, who will present an interpretation of Elizabeth Lee's book, "He Wears Orchids."

The dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. at the Wilmington YMCA on Tuesday, will close the conference. The Rt. Rev. Arthur R. McKinstry, Episcopal Bishop of Delaware, will preside. The speaker is the Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop, rector of St. Philip's Episcopal Church in New York City, widely known for its community work in the crowded Harlem area. He will speak on "A Parish Goes Slumming."

The public is cordially invited to all meetings of the conference. Tickets for the Monday luncheon and for the Tuesday evening dinner may be obtained from the office of the Wilmington Council of Churches, 1015 Tatnall Street, Wilmington.

Fall is a good time to have your soil tested, and the Delaware State Soil Laboratory, Agronomy Dept., Wolf Hall, Newark, will do it for Delaware residents free of charge.
