

Arrests Total Meter Violations For First Month

Motorists Fined For Speeding;
17 Investigations Carried Out By Police

Local troublemakers made things hot for the police during July. Chief William Cunningham listed 77 arrests in his monthly report, 18 over June.

As usual, accounted for the bulk of the offenses, with 33 being for violation of the 25-mile limit. Nine cases of disorderly conduct and six of assault and battery were reported. The force also carried out 17 investigations.

A sign that police are keeping close watch on the new parking places was the fact that 92 parking fines were levied, which is by far the highest in recent months. Chief Cunningham said all the fines were against motorists who overtook and passed in the parking meter zone, which were installed here just a month ago.

The breakdown for the remainder of the arrests follows: resisting arrest, three; drunk, three; no operator's license, two; using car without owner's consent, one; passing red light, nine; driving, three; passing on left, one; failing to observe stop sign, one; knowingly permitting, one; drunk and disorderly, two; petty larceny, one; vagrancy, one.

The investigations included four accidents, two cases of malicious mischief, three stolen bicycles, two of which were recovered; one car recovered by Maryland State Police; three cases of larceny, one report of a missing person; report of a neglected child; reports of prowlers and one of overheated hot water heater.

Six persons were sent to the workhouse. Three cases were dismissed; two were appealed to the Court of General Sessions; two were held for the County Court and one for the Court of Sessions.

A total of 315 telephone calls was made. The police car travelled 3563 miles and the motorcycle 493 miles. Lodging was provided three times.

Missing Child Found Vacant Building

Object Of All-Night Search
By Parents, Police

Nine-year-old David Fuller started for the legion carnival around 4 p.m. Monday afternoon and wasn't seen by his parents again until the following day after he was found by police in a abandoned house near the Pennsylvania Railroad on South Chapel Street.

The youth was the object of a frantic eight long search by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller, 738 Wollaston Avenue, as well as local and state police.

Another, Franklin, 13, saw the wanderer at around 9 p.m. at the carnival and was the last heard of him until Newark police were notified Tuesday by residents of the South Chapel Street area that a strange youth had been seen around a vacant building.

Chief William Cunningham and Sgt. William Hill went immediately to the building and found the boy apparently asleep inside the building. He had spent the night there.

The reason for the youngster's sudden change with the wanderlust was

In-Service Training Program Set At NHS

Teaching Of Reading To Be Stressed

Improved techniques for the teaching of reading will be stressed during the in-service training program for the teachers of the Newark High School this week, Principal Frederick B. Kutz announced yesterday.

Through the in-service program, teachers will use their after-school hours to improve their professional training and gain a view to keeping abreast of developments in their field and in the educational world generally.

The low stress on the teaching of reading at the high school level is regarded as highly important, according to Mr. Kutz, since reading ability is a basic education skill, vital for success in his school career and in later life.

A speaker at one of the fall workshops for local teachers will be Dr. Russell Stauffer, former reading supervisor at Temple University, who is expected to join the faculty at the University of Delaware this fall. He will discuss "Better Citizens Through Reading."

At other sessions, the teachers will discuss the problems faced by high school pupils in reading, learn methods for diagnosing special difficulties, and discuss themselves with the latest reading techniques.

8-Year-Old Miraculously Escapes Serious Injury Under Wheel Of Tractor

Eight-year-old Jimmie Sanborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sanborn, near New London, miraculously escaped serious injury recently when he was run over by a tractor on his parents' farm.

The only result of the accident was an impromptu and totally irrelevant appendicitis operation.

Jimmie, who was riding a tractor being towed across a field, fell off and the huge rear wheel of the machine passed directly over his stomach.

The driver told the boy to lie still while he ran for a truck. When he returned, he found Jimmie sitting up, rubbing his stomach, and explaining to some neighborhood children that it "hurt something awful."

The child was taken to the West Grove Hospital and from there to a Wilmington hospital. An examination failed to disclose any broken bones, but it was thought advisable to check for internal injuries. An abdominal operation was performed, but the only damage uncovered by the surgeon were some flattened intestines and a slightly bruised pancreatic region.

Just to make sure Jimmie hadn't been put to a lot of inconvenience for nothing, the doctor took out his appendix before sewing him up.

School Registration Set For Aug. 21-25

Final Sign-Up Period Is Scheduled

Final registration for the September term at the Newark school will open August 21 and continue through August 25. Incoming first graders, not yet enrolled, will be registered on August 22 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. in the elementary building.

Transfer pupils will be handled on the remaining days of the registration period. Students in grades one to six should sign up in the elementary building and those in grades seven through 12 at the main office.

School officials stressed this week that the registration will be the final one before the opening of schools. No new pupils will be signed up on opening day in order to facilitate the organization of classes. Latecomers will have to wait a day or two before they will be registered and assigned to a section.

Battery 'C' Alerted For Duty, August 29

Newark Guardsmen Called Into Service

Some 57 men of Newark Battery 'C', Delaware National Guard, were among the four batteries of the 736th AAA Gun Battalion alerted for active duty with the regular army last week.

The 736th will be mustered into service on August 29. No announcement as to their first assignment has been made as yet. The men are currently undergoing two weeks of field training at Bethany Beach. Main phase of the maneuvers is the firing of the big 90 MM anti-aircraft guns at targets towed by B-28 of the 142nd Fighter Squadron, Delaware Air National Guard.

The Newark guardsmen will return from camp in another week.

Services Held Sunday For George N. Potts

Final services were held Sunday for George Newton Potts, 75, who died last Thursday night at his home, 106 East Cleveland Avenue. Mr. Potts, who had been ill since the preceding Sunday, passed away just two months after the death of his wife, who died May 27.

Mr. Potts retired eight years ago from the Curtis Paper Company, where he had been employed for half a century. Born in Delaware County, Pennsylvania, he came to Newark in 1880.

Mr. Potts was the oldest member of the Men's Bible Class at the First Presbyterian Church here. He also belonged to the Improved Order of Red Men, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Daughters of Rebeccah.

Surviving are two nieces, Miss Sarah E. Potts of Newark and Mrs. Mary Miller of Marlborough, near Kennett Square, and two nephews, Robert Curtis Potts of Baltimore and Leon A. Potts of Newark.

The funeral took place from the Shellenbender Funeral Home. The Rev. H. Everett Hallman, pastor of the Newark Presbyterian Church, officiated. Interment was in the Methodist Cemetery at Newark.

Enlist In Air Force

Harold Crouse, son of Mrs. Mary Crouse, enlisted recently in the Air Forces and has been assigned for training at the San Antonio Air Base, Texas. Crouse, who is 19, attended Newark and Wilmington high schools and was employed by the Agronomy Department at the University of Delaware before joining up with Uncle Sam.

Newark Youth Wins $1200 Silco Grant For U. Of D. Studies

NHS Grad, Richard Gifford, 18,
Tops Eight Competitors
To Earn Award

The Committee on Economic Services at the University of Delaware has announced the presentation of the $1200 Silco Company Scholarship to 18-year-old Richard O. Gifford of Newark. The Silco Scholarship was made available this spring for use by a 1950 graduate of a Delaware high school entering college in the fall and is valued at $300 per year for four years, provided the recipient maintains a satisfactory academic record.

Competition for the scholarship, now in its fifth year, was open to either a boy or girl graduate of a public or private Delaware high school, said E. Wakefield Smith, head of the committee and member of the department of economics and business administration at the university. Young Gifford was one of eight—six boys and two girls—to apply for the award. A graduate of Newark High School he held fifth place in his class scholastically, and was active throughout his high school career in the F.F.A. and Mixed Chorus.

The son of Mrs. Mary S. Gifford, of near Newark, Richard is a native Delawarean. He reserves his basic interest in a vocation for study in various aspects of farming and plans to use the scholarship he has won to study Agricultural Engineering, working toward a Bachelor of Science degree in Agronomy.

Richard's membership throughout high school in the Future Farmers of America, a vocational agriculture club for boys enrolled in the agriculture curriculum, was paralleled by his simultaneous activity as a young farmer himself. Since 1945, he and his brother have tilled their 150-acre farm on Harmony Road near Newark, and the receipt of the Silco award now affords him an opportunity to capitalize on this experience at the University's School of Agriculture.

Curriculum Changes Are Planned At NHS

New Course In Consumer
Chemistry Set

A number of curriculum changes are planned at the Newark High School next year, according to Principal Frederick B. Kutz.

Leading innovation will be a course in consumer chemistry for juniors and seniors not planning to attend college. The course, which will replace the general chemistry course heretofore offered all students regardless of their plans for future education, will cover the practical aspects of chemistry in everyday life, such as nutrition, pure food laws, and food buying.

Another new offering will be an intensified course in reading and phonetic spelling for the seventh graders. The specialized training will be aimed at weeding out pupil difficulties in these basic educational skills.

The general science course now given on the seventh grade level will be switched to the eighth. The seventh graders will receive instead a course in health and hygiene.

History Repeating In Korean War, Dorn Tells Rotary Club

New Aggression Same As Those In Spain, Finland Before
Last War

Dr. Herbert Dorn, a member of the faculty of the University of Delaware and of the Newark Rotary Club, spoke to the club Monday evening. His topic was "The Korean Situation," which, he said, "is a case of history repeating itself." He pointed to the aggressions in Spain, Finland and of Germany as incidents of the same class.

The speaker called the struggle one of freedom against dictatorship. He stated that the question of whether we would have total war would depend upon the success of the United Nations.

Dr. Ward I. Miller, Superintendent of Schools of Wilmington, and a member of the Rotary Club of Wilmington, was a guest at the meeting. He spoke to the organization on his recent trip to Europe during which he visited the capitals of all the countries of Europe. During his trip he had an opportunity to discuss with many persons the attitude of European countries toward what we are trying to do.

Dr. Miller said that the governments in power are favorable to the Marshall Plan but the Communists were opposed to it.

Although some countries in Europe are still having difficulty, most of them have reached production levels as high or higher than pre-war levels.

Announcement was made that the Rotary Club Golf Tournament will take place on August 13. Members who desire to participate are asked to call Frank Tolomeo.

James Dillon, of the City Planning Commission of Philadelphia, was a guest as were the following Rotarians: D. O. Hanes, of Elkton; Warren Buckingham, of Middletown; and Lawrence W. Johnson and C. W. Whitmoyer, of Myerstown, Pennsylvania.

James Counahan Starts Study For Priesthood

James Counahan, Jr., a former resident here, graduated recently from Catholic University in Washington, D.C., and has entered on studies for the priesthood in the seminary of the Dominican Order at Dover, Mass.

A graduate of the Newark High School, Mr. Counahan spent a year at the University of Delaware. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Counahan, now of Mount Lebanon, Pa.

Businessman Takes U. Of D. Atom War Defense Course

Leon A. Potts, local electrical dealer, is one of a group of Delawareans taking a course in nuclear radiation physics at the University of Delaware.

The course, first of its kind to be offered in the state, covers the basic principles and measurements of radio activity and the hazards involved in handling radio active materials. The class opened July 24 and will close August 21.

Mr. Potts spent two years in radar and six months in the atomic bomb Manhattan project during World War II. His television experimental station is located on Polly Drummond Hill Road.

Police Action Against Young Rowdies Ordered By Council

New Zoning Amendment Gets Two Readings At August
Meet; Assessment Changes Cause Dispute;
Closed Session Precedes Meet

Stepped up police action in response to a complaint that young rowdies are trailing University of Delaware women students to their dormitories at night and annoying them with "lewd and foul" remarks was ordered by the Town Council at its August session on Tuesday night.

The lawmakers also gave the first and second readings to a new amendment to the zoning ordinance, hedged on the appointment of a new police officer, and entered into a lengthy dispute over readjusting belated assessment complaints.

In an unprecedented move, the Council also held a 10-minute closed session preceding its regular meeting. Only word on what took place came from Mayor Wallace Johnson, who said the lawmakers heard a "detailed report from one of our consultants."

No action was taken on the appointment of a successor to Councilman Robert Levis, who resigned several months ago due to ill health.

The report on the annoyance of women students came in a letter from Ira S. Cushman, a university student, living at 16 Kent Way. The letter, carried in full elsewhere in this issue, described one incident in which a woman student was trailed by her dormitory by a "trio of young hoodlums." After she had managed to get safely inside, the group set up a chorus of "obscene, lewd and foul remarks" directed at every woman in the dormitory.

The letter also implied that other incidents of the same type had taken place and further pointed out that Newark's only movie house, the State Theatre, was frequented by young rowdies who annoy women during the shows.

Mayor Johnson assured the Council that the local police were making every effort to track down the offenders. He said Police Chief Cunningham this week held a conference of university officials who had agreed to increasing policing of the campus. The lawmakers also directed that a letter be sent to Herman Handloff, State Theatre manager, requesting him to alert his staff against such disturbances and make every effort to apprehend offenders.

The dispute over the town's policy on readjusting 1949 assessment complaints followed on a request by two representatives of the Southern States Cooperative for a more equitable valuation of their plant here. They pointed out that the town had assessed the property at $42,000 as against $12,400 by the county. One of co-op spokesmen reminded Council that at its June meeting it had readjusted the assessment on the new bungalow of John Slack from $7,500 to $4,000, after admitting the former valuation was far too high. He suggested the Southern States be granted a similar consideration.

The lawmakers pointed out that the Southern States' assessment had been on the books since 1947 without a complaint, adding that the Slack property had only just been constructed. They said they had agreed to readjust the Slack figure to correct a gross error that had no intention of setting a precedent. The Council indicated that nothing would be done to the Southern States' request.

After discussion, Councilman William Coverdale introduced a motion calling on Council to rescind its decision in the Slack case in order to avoid setting a troublesome precedent. He contended that the readjustment of Mr. Slack's assessment was a violation of Section 31 of the Town Charter, which says that all assessment figures are final and conclusive after Appeal Day in June. Mr. Coverdale contended that Council's action tended to establish a policy which not only gives property owners the right to "make every Council meeting a continuation of Appeal Day" but implies that non-property owners may request their names to be put on the assessment rolls for voting purpose at any time during the year.

Town Solicitor John P. Sinclair, who had approved Council's action in the Slack case, again explained his stand to the effect that, although Mr. Slack had no legal right to an assessment readjustment, nevertheless, Council could, if so inclined, correct what it felt to be a grave injustice.

Mr. Coverdale's motion was tabled without a second.

Town Assessor John McLean also entered the dispute with a statement, taking issue with Council's action. He contended that such inequities in valuation as occurred in the Slack case were unavoidable so long as the assessor is given only six weeks to survey the town. He recommended that the way to "adjust this complaint for one and all and not just for Mr. Slack" would be to change the provisions of the Town Charter covering the assessment program, thus eliminating an obsolete and objectionable law. His lengthy statement will be published next week.

The zoning law amendment given its first and second readings is aimed at correcting the troublesome situation in Read Village where irregular lots make strict conformance to the provisions of the zoning law impossible. Under the new amendment, all requests

Eddie Van Sant ushered at his cousin Donald Kennedy's marriage to Miss Betty Jane Johnson the evening of July 21 at the old Doe Run Presbyterian Church near West Chester. Donald is the son of the former Elva Van Sant of this vicinity, now Mrs. Jacob Kennedy. The young couple will live at the home of the bride's parents for the time being. Mrs. LaRue Van Sant and Patricia Van Sant also attended the wedding.

Around 6 o'clock the evening of July 20, a very tragic scene was enacted on the corner at Kemblesville. At this time a large tractor-trailer was being driven through Kemblesville, and nearby residents saw a car overtake and stop the trailer. Subsequent information was that the car contained friends of the trailer's driver. They had followed him from Laurel, Maryland to tell him that his son, aged six, (who frequently accompanied his father on these trips, but had been turned down for various reasons this particular trip), had shortly after the father left, ridden his bicycle into the side of a passing car, and been seriously injured.

At this point, up drove a second car, containing the boy's mother, and she told her husband that their son had died almost instantly. Down to the pavement went the man like one stricken with a giant hammer, and the nup he sprang and hysterically ran down the road toward Kemblesville Church. His friends finally calmed him enough to get him in the car, and drove off with him.

Dick Taylor is leaving Sunday for two weeks at Bethany Beach with his unit of the Delaware National Guard.

We are sorry to note the death of Frank Oikowski, aged 52, husband of Stella Oikowski, who lives on a farm in these parts, between Strickersville and Kerner Ketch. Mr. Oikowski leaves several children. His very untimely death occurred when a severe storm prompted him to move a bull which was tethered to a tree not suitable, considering the storm, and the bull killed him in the process, before the eyes of his wife and two sons. This death occurred July 7.

The gap in our recent reporting should be remedied by mentioning the fine daughter born to the Joseph Hendricks of Landenberg, on July 3.

Goodness, this is a rough month. Lon Thomas cut off the end of his middle left finger a couple of weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Durburrow from Altoona visited the John Kalbs the weekend of July 15.

Danny Vannoy had a bit of hard luck recently, when his pony reared up, and struck him with its hoof as it did so, accidentally knocking him to the ground. When it came down, the hoof-struck him in the back, cracking his clavicle. Danny is currently tangled up with a tension bandage, and a strict regime of being quiet. Danny is seven. Need more be said? Louise Vannoy claims she never half appreciated television until this happened. It is really a help in keeping

Danny content.

Elsie Coleman Francois left July 15 with her son Robert, aged 4, for Middletown, where she will make her home with her parents, following the sad death of Robert Francois, Sr., aged 25, in a Wilmington Hospital on July 3. An autopsy revealed the cause of death to be Encephalitis, in a secondary stage. The first attack was experienced by Mr. Francois in southern Italy, two years ago.

A pleasant social evening was spent July 14 at the George Kalb home when the John Kalbs, the Ralph Durburrows, the Dick Taylors, Bill Nichols, and the Morris Sanborns completed the guest list.

The current subject under discussion by the Landenberg Men's Club is a fire department for the Landenberg area. Any ideas we really could use better fire protection out here, that's a fact. Every mile between the fire and the source of help makes a difference in the outcome.

Speaking of fires, the Anson Garretts had a "hot time on the old farm last week." A fire set by Mr. Garrett got out of bounds when the wind became suddenly stronger. The fire skipped a lane and went to a field from which the hay had been gathered, and it went like wild fire on the stubble, toward the barn. The lines were busy and the operator had a time getting a

Mrs. Miller D. Darrell has been spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Carney's Point. Also, during July, her granddaughter, Carol Lee Noonan, spent two weeks with her at her home in Capitol Trail. Mrs. Darrell plans to leave today for a visit to Wildwood, New Jersey.

Mrs. Alice Clarke of Capitol Trail, accompanied by Mrs. Miller Darrell, spent a recent Sunday in New York City. They were particularly impressed by the contrasts presented by the big city, such as Chinatown on one side and the many beautiful sights up the Hudson River.

Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Darrell are planning a trip up the Hudson River for the latter part of August.

Mrs. Jane Chambers and Mrs. Della Johnson of Harmony Road are entertaining their sister, Mrs. Mary Beates of Wilmington.

Mrs. Ellen Gallagher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gallagher, Capitol Trail, spent the week of July 16th at Dewey Beach.

Mrs. and Mrs. Willard Johnston, Possum Park Road, have been spending part of their vacation at Bethany Beach and Ocean City, Md. They were accompanied by their son, Martin. Later in the summer, they are planning to go to Ocean City, N. J.

Family Reunion

There were 93 descendants of Levi and Mary Amanda Spicher who gathered for a family reunion on the farm of Clarence M. Wickersham, Harmony Road, on Sunday, July 23. Eight brothers and sisters of the original family were living, the oldest being Joseph Spicher, 80 years old. The youngest was Carol Spicher of Wilmington, 11 weeks old. Representatives of the family came from as far as DuBois and Pottstown, Pa., Easton and Denton, Md., also from Wilmington, Newark and Bridgeville, Del. The committee responsible for planning the reunion consisted of Almina Hummel, Mrs. Harry Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hummel and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Wickersham.

White Clay Creek Church News

Last Sunday morning, the congregation enjoyed a youth service with the following young people participating: Richard Gifford, responsive reading; Gracie Miller and Bertha Bishop, scripture reading; Helen Bishop, prayer; Marion Gallaher, Ellen Gallaher and Anita Long, offering. An anthem was sung by the Junior Choir under the direction of Miss Hazel Johnston.

That evening members and friends enjoyed a vesper service held at 7:30 p.m. on the lawn of the church.

On Monday an open meeting was held at the church to hear a presentation on stained glass windows given by George L. Payne, Jr. of the Payne Studios of Patterson, N. J. Previous to this the session had approved the project of securing stained glass windows, inasmuch as the present windows are badly in need of replacement.

It has been announced by Rev. James H. Bishop, pastor, that Thomas R. Clarendon, Capitol Trail, has asked for the privilege of presenting the first memorial window, in memory of his wife. This will be installed as soon as the studio can deliver it.

Mrs. Louisa Walker, now of The Flower Hospital, Newark, has indicated that she desires to be the donor of the second memorial window in memory of her husband.

Additional windows harmonizing in design and beauty will be added as rapidly as donors make it possible.

It was announced that the Improvement Fund is still growing. The Adult Class taught by Rev. Bishop has turned in $27.16 toward a goal of $50. The Young Adult Class taught by Mrs. Bishop has turned in $25 toward a goal of $75. Also, the amount ordinarily used to provide a supply preacher for August will be turned over to the fund by Rev. Bishop.

The Senior Choir will rehearse on Monday, July 31, at 7:30 p.m.

The Young Adult Fellowship will hold a picnic supper at Riverview Park, on Saturday, August 5. Picnic baskets and packages left at Stewart's Garage by 4:30 p.m. will be taken on the ferry by truck. Those who wish to go over together will try to meet at the ferry at 5:00 p.m. John Murray is chairman of the picnic committee.

Church service will be held on Sunday, Aug. 6 at 11 a.m. with a message

by the pastor on "Watchtowers of the Soul."

On Wednesday, August 3, at 6:30 p.m. the elders and trustees are planning a picnic for their families on the lawn of the church.

City Mayor's Apology Draws Women's Ire

"A woman telephoned me," Mayor Eddie Farmer of Spencer, W. Va., reported recently, "and she states: 'I am a constant heckler.'"

"I consoled her, I told her she needn't feel bad about it, as I am used to complaints."

The mayor had some apologizing to do then. What the woman really said was:

"I am Constance Heckert."

Queries On Social Security Answered

Address All Queries To Social Security Administration, Customs House, 6th & King Sts., Wilmington, Delaware

Questions relating to Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance will be answered in this paper or by mail. Address all queries to Social Security Administration, Customs House, 6th & King Sts., Wilmington, Delaware.

Q. Is there any settlement due the estate of a worker who died before collecting Old-Age retirement benefits?

A. Benefits are paid in the case of a wage earner who dies to the surviving widow, child under age 18, or parent who may be entitled to payments. If there is no person eligible in these classes, a lump-sum death payment is made to the person or persons who paid the worker's burial expenses.

Q. I am 21, now. Must I work until 65 in order to get my social security?

A. No. A worker is fully insured for life if he has received $50 in wages in each of 40 calendar quarters since 1937. Permanently fully insured workers are entitled to all retirement benefits and survivors protection even though they never work after getting their 40 quarters of coverage.

Q. If a person who is receiving social security benefits dies, what becomes of his social security payments. Does his wife who survives him collect said payments in addition to her half?

A. In the situation above, the widow would not collect the deceased's payments in addition to her half. Her benefit would increase from one-half of the amount the deceased was receiving to three-quarters of that amount.

Q. I have been separated from my husband for seven years. Recently I heard that he had died. Can I receive social security benefits? I do not have children nor am I yet 65 years of age.

A. If your husband was not contributing towards your support, or if there was no court order in effect directing him to support you, social security benefits will be paid to the person or persons paying your husband's burial expenses.

Q. Can a woman over 65, who retires from employment receive Old-Age Insurance benefits for her dependent mother over 65 as well as for herself?

A. The Social Security Act does not provide for old-age insurance payments to dependent parents of living wage earners. Payments can be made only to a wage earner age 65, his wife age 65 or over and his unmarried children under 18. However, in case of death of the wage earner, it is possible under certain circumstances, to pay monthly benefits to the dependent parents over 65 of the deceased wage earner.

Q. Is it necessary for a housewife who has never been employed and never expects to be, to have a social security number?

A. No.

Q. If I retire at 65 or later, does the Government automatically start paying social security benefits?

A. No. When you reach 65 and stop working, visit a Social Security field office immediately and file a claim to avoid loss of benefits. If you still continue to work after age 65, it is advisable to ask about your benefit rights as it may be to your advantage to file a claim immediately.

Q. Is there a charge obtaining help in filing an application for Social Security benefits?

A. Your local Social Security field office will help you in making out claim papers so as to get everything the law allows. There is no charge for this service.

Q. I work for my son in his hardware store. He is the sole proprietor of this business and it is not incorporated. Should social security deductions be made from my pay?

A. Under the Social Security law, employment by a father for his son is not covered. The services you are rendering are not covered by the law and social security deductions should not be made from your pay.

Home Vacuum Cleaner Packs Frozen Chicken

Frozen chickens and turkeys, wrapped in their protective coating of skin-tight plastic, often owe their streamlined appearance to the versatile household vacuum cleaner. Packers have discovered that the strong suction of the appliance is perfect for drawing the plastic bag tightly around the poultry, thus excluding damaging air.

Playgrounds Close Tomorrow; Model Plane Demonstration Set

Recreation Program Enters Final Stages; Beauty Contest Held At Read Village Playground; Swimming Meet Results Given

The six-week summer recreation program moved into its final stages this week, with the closing event scheduled for tomorrow night, when a demonstration of gas engine model airplanes will be held on the high school athletic field, starting at 7 p.m.

The miniature planes will be flown by the Modelers, a group of Wilmington model aircraft enthusiasts.

The three playgrounds, which have proved a highly popular phase of the summer program, will hold their last sessions tomorrow. Junior Legion Nine Blanks Durney Post; Now Third In Loop

O'Daniel Boys Triumph, 10-0, As Blaney Yields Only One Hit

The O'Daniel Junior Legion nine inched nearer the leaders in the county junior league race last Saturday by blanking Durney Post, 10-0. The victory put the third place Newark club within two and a half games of the leading Delaware Post.

The O'Daniel Junior Legion nine moved into a 3-way tie for the lead in the county league by defeating the once loop-leading Delaware Post 3-1 on Monday night.

The Newark Club is now bunched with Delaware Post and Five Points at the top of the circuit.

The O'Daniel boys play Five Points this evening at Richardson Park. The winner will meet Delaware Post in a 9-inning game Saturday.

Blaney went the distance for the O'Daniel boys, holding the opposition to a single hit, while his teammates collected seven from the offerings of Hall. Gregg led the O'Daniel attack with two safeties.

The Newarkers piled up a 5-0 lead in the first two innings, added singletons in the fifth and sixth and closed things up with a 3-run spurge in the seventh and final frame.

Kenmore Downs Newark A 6-4, In Pen Mar League Contest

Rain Calls Game At Top Of Eighth; Newark's Lead County League Threatened By GM In Contest Here Tonight

The Newark AA slipped a notch in the Pen-Mar League last Saturday, 6-4, at the hands of Kenmore.

The elements joined with Kenmore in the victory. The game was in the first half of the eighth due to rain, and the score reverted to the previous inning when the victor's had staged a 3-run outburst to move into lead.

Ewing performed the mound chores for Newark, giving up 11 hits, Newark connected for nine. Sparks had a perfect day at the plate, four for four. Underwood, S. Steel and Wollard spearheaded the Kenmore attack with two safeties each.

4-H Foods Handbook Published At U. Of D.

New Bulletin Is Entitled 'Main Meal Of Day'

A new bulletin called, "The Main Meal of the Day," has just been published by the University of Delaware Agricultural Extension Service. The publication is a handbook written especially for use with 4-H Club groups by Miss M. Gertrude Holloway, State Home Demonstration Leader.

Beginning with a guide to good eating, and plans for the main meal of the day, the booklet gives recipes and pointers on meal preparation of interest to all who cook. It deals with meats, fish, vegetables, salads and desserts. A special section of the bulletin discusses serving the main meal, and table setting. Illustrations show the proper arrangement of serving dishes, as well as seating order.

The advanced 4-H Foods Unit, for which the booklet was written, can be taken by club members who are at least twelve years old, and who have completed Units No. 1 and No. 2.

"August," the last month of the old summer. This is a period of time for both young and old. Outings, picnics, peach festivals, and parties are all pastime activities. The month comes to an end, one's turn to the preparation for the next year's vacation time is over.

In each group there are prizes. In the Kent-Sussex group, showing at each group there is a large number of prize winners. The boys carried off the laurels with their accredited cattle and the girls with their sewing and culinary contests. Mary Lou Derickson of the Oak Club, also won prizes in the group improvement contest. She has a fine old cane seated chair and a new stand on display.

Clay Creek Presbyterian Church
The church organized in 1722, is being enlarged and restored to its original design. The space for the church and choir loft was built in 1761 and stood inside the cemetery which was surrounded by a stone wall. In 1853, the second church was built on the present site and it is this sanctuary that is being restored.

This was his only charge. The floors are to be refinished with only carpet runners in the aisles. Red Clay Creek is the second oldest Presbyterian Church in the hundred. It is a white plastered edifice and is named for the Red Clay Creek which flows nearby. The first building was erected in 1761 and stood inside the cemetery which was surrounded by a stone wall. HOW TO BE AN "ANGEL"

on Party-Line Telephones

It's easy! Simply give your party-line neighbors the consideration you'd like them to give you . . . and you'll almost always find the courtesy returned. This means good telephone service for everyone on the line!

Suppose you start to make a call and find the line in use. It's courteous to hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call before you try again. And suppose, while talking, you realize that your neighbor wants to make a call. It's courteous to hang up in a few minutes and free the line.

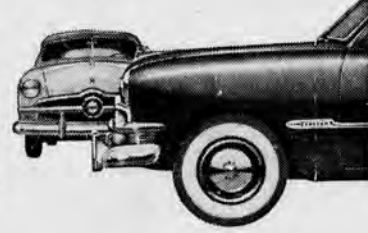

See? It doesn't take much to win your "party-line halo" . . . and thus to help make service better for all.

Boy Scouts Guests At Lions Club Meet

A number of Newark boy scouts who attended the National Jamboree at Valley Forge were guests at a recent dinner meeting of the Lions Club. Each gave a talk on his experiences at the mammoth youth gathering.

Those present were: Richard Hardy, Jim McCann, Richard McCann, John Smith, Don Miller, Bill Thompson, and Bill McLain.

Speaker of the evening was Lindsay Greenplate of the Delaware Trust Company, Wilmington, who gave an interesting talk on what a community expects from a civic organization. He was introduced by Paul D. Lovett.

Members of the Lions' program and bulletin committee met last week under Jack Hershelman to discuss plans for the committee club year.

The Lions' new president, William O. White, and his wife entertained chairmen of all committees and their wives at a lawn party recently.

Council Meeting

for building permits from the Village will be granted even though they conflict with the zoning ordinance provided adjacent property owners do not object. In the latter case, the issue will go before the Board of Adjustments. This will relieve the village of the restrictions of the zoning ordinance while retaining the essential protection of appeal to the Board of Adjustments.

The Village Civic Association, in a letter to the Post this week, implied it is against rescinding the ordinance as far as the village was concerned. The group asked merely that unnecessary red tape be cut out. Mr. Sinclair, who drew up the new amendment, contends this is essentially the purpose of his ruling.

Another phase of the new amendment cuts out the practice of sending notices to adjacent property owners when a building permit is about to be granted. This procedure, carried over from pre-zoning days, is regarded as unnecessary by the lawmakers since the zoning ordinance itself gives property owners sufficient protection.

Two applications for appointment to the town police force were reported, one from S. Aldan Murray (co-partner in Martin and Murray's Sinclair Station, and the other from Wayne Wassmer, operator of the Wayne Detective Agency here and former member of the force. Mr. Murray was proposed for the post in a motion at one time, but the lawmakers seemed reluctant to vote on the question and, after a backroom caucus, the motion was withdrawn and the issue tabled.

The lawmakers touched briefly on the new parking meters and appeared highly pleased with their effect on Main Street parking conditions. Councilman Frank Durnall said he believed "seventy-five percent of the businessmen now favor the meters." Mayor Johnson added that he had received many favorable reports on improved parking conditions from motorist-shoppers, including out-of-towners. Solicitor Sinclair was advised to draw up an automatic repealer for the parking meter ordinance, rescinding all previous legislation that conflicts with the provisions of the new act.

Council gave final authorization for the purchase of liability insurance from the Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company. The policy, costing $561, will protect the town up to $50,000 against suits brought by persons injured on town property or as a result of town installations.

Mayor Johnson was granted expenses to attend the November convention of the National Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D. C. The parley will deal with "urban problems."

In response to a request from homeowners, Council agreed to set up a no parking area on the west side of South Chapel Street between Main and Delaware Avenue.

Councilman Coverdale brought to the attention of the lawmakers an old law requiring a $5 license for all Sunday shows and exhibits not of a "literary or scientific" nature. The Council seemed of the opinion that some sort of legislation should be drawn up governing the type of movies shown here on Sunday.

An application for the post of Town Alderman was received from J. M. Murphy, 11 Caldwell Place. In the past, the positions of alderman and magistrate have been filled by a single individual here, but the present magistrate, Clarence Foster, refuses to handle town business, and no one has been sworn in as alderman. The Council took the application under advisement.
