

NHS PUPILS TO PRESENT RADIO SHOW ON FEB. 25

Activity Program At School Will Be Outlined

Pupils of the Newark High School will give a radio program over WDEL, explaining and interpreting the school's Activity Program, on February 25, from 1:15 to 1:30 p. m.

The presentation will be sponsored by the State Department of Public Instruction as one in a series entitled "Delaware Schools in Action," aimed at acquainting the public with little-known aspects of the state's public schools. A number of schools have been selected to offer individual programs dealing with some particular phase of school life.

Newark High School has earned a prominent spot in the series because its Activity Program is recognized as one of the most outstanding in the state.

Some 31 special activities, including such projects as the Posture Program, Projectionist Club, Traffic Squad and Western Dance Group, are being conducted at the school. The comprehensive program assures virtually every pupil in the high school the opportunity to join a group concerned with his special interests.

Students who will take part in the radio program are already busy drawing up the script and preparing for rehearsals. Due to space limitations at the WDEL studio, not more than 20 pupils will take part in the program.

NHS Football Squad Feted By Lions Club

Members of the Newark High School football squad, along with the coaching staff, cheer leaders, drum major and twirlers, were guests of the Newark Lions Club at dinner Tuesday evening in the Country Club.

An entertaining program was staged by Neal Suddard student at Duke University, for the benefit of the members and guests. Program chairman was Lee Lewis.

A directors meeting is scheduled for next Tuesday evening. Also on that date will be the Regional Meeting of the New Castle County Lions Clubs to be held in Conrad High School at 7 p. m. Professional entertainment will be offered, along with the opportunity for local members to meet fellow Lions throughout the county.

REMODELED 5 AND 10 MAY OPEN DOORS FEBRUARY 6

Date Still Tentative; Store Area Is Doubled

Latest local firm to join the remodeling boom, which is rapidly transforming the Newark business district into one of the most modern and best equipped shopping centers in the state, is the National Five and Ten, soon to throw open its doors on a spacious new store.

Tentative opening date is Friday, February 6, Manager Alvin Handloff said yesterday.

With more than double its former floor space, the completely renovated establishment will boast a number of new departments as well as expanded old ones.

Aim of the management, Handloff said, is to offer a line of five and ten merchandise the equal in variety and price to that carried by the larger chain stores of the nation.

Feature of the new store will be a modern luncheonette and soda counter, which promises to be one of the longest in Newark. Another innovation will be a shoe department to be established in the rear of the store.

Decorated in caramel tinter the new Five and Ten will have the latest, tastefully styled store fixtures, illuminated by thin-line overhead lighting.

To staff the greatly expanded departments, as well as the new concessions, additions in personnel are planned, Manager Handloff said. Assisting him in directing the store will be Raymond Guiles.

JR. COUNCIL IS FORMED AT SCHOOL

New Student Unit Organized By Grades 3-6

A Junior Student Council has been formed at the Newark Public Schools for grades three, four, five and six.

For this purpose two representatives from each elementary home meet once weekly. Officers assisting Miss Hopkins are: Ben Day, vice-president; Janet Barnett, secretary and Jerry Taylor, assistant secretary.

A number of sub-committees have been formed to supervise special phases of elementary school activities. The cafeteria committee, directed by Edward Wilson with a number of able leaders as assistants, looks after the general tidiness of the lunch room and cautions pupils against littering the floor with waste and paper.

Ushers for elementary school assemblies form another committee under Jerry Taylor. Their duties include greeting guests, directing visitors to seats and caring for the appearance of the auditorium.

The playground committee is split into north and south sections, under George Barzewski and Richard Beldk respectively. Aim of this group is to see that the grounds are kept neat and clean.

The Junior Student Council, faculty advisor for which is Mrs. Hilda Marshall, hopes to be of service to elementary pupils and the entire school.

ROTARIANS HEAR EVANS DISCUSS T. B.

Facts On Fight Against Dread Disease Given

Although medical science has cut the tuberculosis death rate approximately 75 per cent in the past forty years a warning that the fight against this dread disease is by no means won was given by G. Taggart Evans, executive secretary of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society, in a talk before the Newark Rotary Club on Monday night.

Program chairman for the session was Jerome C. Weinberg. President William S. Hamilton presided.

The success in the fight against tuberculosis is considered one of the outstanding achievements in the public health field, Evans said, but reminded his listeners that the disease is still a decided threat to national health.

Tuberculosis has been cut from the leading cause of death in the U. S. in 1904 to about the sixth or seventh cause today, a reduction which has added approximately two years to the life of each individual.

Remarkable as this is, the disease even today is fatal to more persons between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other malady. About fifty thousand T. B. deaths were recorded in the United States last year. The death rate in the colored population is about four times higher than in the white, Evans said.

Mass X-ray surveys indicate that from one to one and a half per cent of the general population show significant tuberculosis in some form. Delaware had an increase in its T. B. death rate in 1946 and 1947.

Before concluding his informative talk, Evans outlined the Christmas Seal services of the anti-tuberculosis society.

David L. Arm

Dean David L. Arm of the University of Delaware's School of Engineering will be the speaker at the annual Mid-Winter Banquet of the University's Alumni Association, on Saturday, Feb. 14.

In announcing the selection of Dean Arm, John E. H. Lafferty, chairman of the association's reunion committee, said the dean's talk would encompass aspects of all phases of the university. He added that the alumni felt it desirable to be kept up-to-date in this way in many developments concerning the program at Delaware.

Dean Arm will speak following a dinner to be served in Old College on the campus at Newark, at 6:15 p. m. Following the dinner meeting, alumni will attend the Delaware-Usious basketball game in the Fieldhouse. Announcements now are being sent to all alumni.

MISSIONARY FROM HOLY LAND WILL TALK HERE

Dr. Lambie To Address Bible Presbyterian Group Sunday

The Rev. Thomas A. Lambie, M. D., medical missionary to Palestine under the Independent Board for Presbyterian Foreign Missions, will speak this Sunday at the Bible Presbyterian Church of Newark. He will bring both morning and evening messages.

A veteran physician and missionary who has seen many years of service in Egypt and Ethiopia under the United Presbyterian Mission Board, Dr. Lambie joined the Independent Board in 1945 and has dedicated the remaining years of his life to the task of establishing an effective mission station in the heart of Palestine.

Today every eye is focused on the Holy Land, a desolate country of sand and burning sun and now the storm center of the world. All men wonder what the final outcome will be.

Dr. Lambie has just returned from this turbulent area. He comes with a plan and an appeal to Christians to reach these needy people with the gospel.

The public is cordially invited to hear him.

DIME FUND MOVES INTO FINAL WEEK

Campaign Is Nearing $1,000 Goal

The Newark March of Dimes went into its final week with every promise of most satisfying results.

Twenty-four Scouts and eleven men under the direction of Michael Kubico and J. S. Steiner completed a house-to-house canvass last Saturday morning.

The leaders have requested that any person who may have been missed in this canvass send his contribution directly to Silas Pettit, treasurer of the Newark committee, at the Newark Trust Company.

The final figures on the Newark campaign will be announced in the near future. Final collections at the State Theatre and at the collection boxes from the business district will be made this week-end. It is anticipated that Newark will reach its goal of $1,000.

DELAWARE LEGISLATIVE PROCEDURE IS OUTLINED

Mrs. W. C. Lytle Talks On State Law-Making At Century Meeting

Mrs. W. Clayton Lytle, representative from the Sixth District in the last session of the General Assembly, discussed legislative processes in a talk at the Newark New Century Club on Monday afternoon. She was introduced by Mrs. W. H. Adams, senior legislative chairman.

Mrs. Lytle gave a detailed account of how a bill may pass through the State's legislative body.

She stressed two points which should be of major importance to all voters and those interested in practical politics. First, she urged the election of trustworthy representatives to the State body, since most business is transacted in sessions or caucuses closed to the press and public. Second, she advised anyone interested in a particular bill to intrust its introduction and backing to a member of the legislature who is equally interested in seeing it made law.

In the business session preceding the talk, Mrs. R. O. Bausman, club president, appointed Mrs. George Hancy chairman of a fund raising committee for a recently ordered piano. The first project will be the raffling of an Elizabeth Arden bag. Mrs. Bausman also announced that Mrs. Paul Hodgson had transferred her club membership from Dover to Newark.

The art corner, arranged by Mrs. Alex D. Cobb, featured some silk kimonos, jewelry and tea sets conveners of Japan, sent by Mrs. Cobb's son, Richard L. Cobb, and Harvey L. Cobb.

Mrs. Leon Ryan, speaking last night, was assisted by Mrs. Harvey Hirst, Mrs. Walter Hullihen, Mrs. Raymond Heim and Mrs. John Hildreth with Mrs. Thomas F. Manns, a former president, presiding at the tea table.

Mrs. Kenneth Steers, drama chairman, held try-outs for plays to be given at the February 25 meeting.

CONCERT PIANIST TO PLAY HERE

Noted Artist To Be Presented By Music Society

Orazio Frugoni, well-known Italian pianist will be presented by the Newark Music Society in its first concert of the current season next Thursday at 8:15 p. m.

His first U. S. appearance was in New York City last October, where critics acclaimed his excellent artistry.

In his Newark concert, Mr. Frugoni will include the Bach-Busoni Chaconne, Beethoven's Appassionato Sonata and Schuman's Symphonie Etudes. Compositions by Chopin and Scarlatti will also be played.

Mr. Frugoni's appearance in Newark on this date represents a change from the Music Society's originally announced plans which listed Mr. Renardy, violinist, as the first artist on the series. Mr. Renardy will appear in the Society's second concert, scheduled for March 11.

Ten C. S. SH GIRLS AT U. OF D. TO GET AWARDS

3 Scholarships Valued At $300

Three scholarships, each valued at $300, will be offered to women members of the 1948-49 freshman class at the University of Delaware, it was announced recently by Miss Lura Shorb, chairman of the Alumnae Scholarship Committee.

The Winifred J. Robinson Scholarship will be awarded to the best qualified applicant from the State of Delaware; the Everett C. Johnson award will go to the highest qualified applicant from out-of-state; while the Emalea P. Warner Scholarship will go to the candidate, either from Delaware or out-of-state, who presents the next highest record.

No formal application blanks are necessary, according to the Scholarship Committee. Each applicant instead is requested to write a letter in longhand to Miss Shorb, in care of the Alumnae Office at the university. This letter, which must be postmarked no later than March 15, should contain information regarding the applicant's interests and accomplishments, her school service record, her plans for college and afterwards. Names and addresses of three references in addition to the principal of the applicant's school should be included.

On the basis of this letter, reference blanks, a transcript of high school grades, and a personal interview, applicants shall be judged by the four-fold, criterion of scholarship, character, personality, and financial need.

Details concerning the scholarships have been sent to the principals of all the Delaware high schools and to a number of school officials in neighboring states. In addition, interested women may address inquiries as well as applications to Miss Shorb at the Alumnae Office.

Approval to revise the alumni scholarships from four at $200 each to three at $300 was recently granted by the University's Board of Trustees at the request of the Scholarship Committee, whose members felt rising costs had cut deeply into the values of the $200 award.

Services Held Tuesday For Fred V. Crossan

Fred V. Crossan, 50, well-known farmer in Delaware and in Chester County, Pa., who toured this area for many years with his threshing rig, died at his home on the Yorklyn Road, near Hockessin, on Saturday, Jan. 24.

A farmer who made a hobby of buying, remodeling and rebuilding old homes, Mr. Crossan had for the past few years been working on a property between Yorklyn and Hockessin which he had completed recently.

He moved to the area in June, 1944, purchasing the Fred Weir property and the property occupied by the Consolidated Feldspar Corporation to begin his development. Directing the work himself he completely remodeled or rebuilt homes for 10 families, including his own.

Mr. Crossan was a resident of Kaelin, Pa., for 30 years and each season traveled to farms in Pennsylvania and Delaware to thresh wheat. For seven years he served as road master of Kennett Township. He engaged in many private philanthropies during his lifetime.

His first wife, Mrs. Florence William, son Crossan, died some years ago, while his second wife, Mrs. Mary Agnes Dillon Crossan, survives. Also surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Clifford Lamborn and Mrs. Joseph Kelly, of Hockessin, and Miss Evelyn and Miss Alfreda Crossan, at home; four grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Buck of Hockessin and Mrs. Samuel Eastburn of Christiana; and two brothers, Herbert Crossan of North Star, near Hockessin, and Clarence Crossan of Strickersville, Pa.

Funeral services took place at the home Tuesday, January 27 at 2:30 with interment in the Friends Burying Ground at Hockessin.

His passing is mourned by hundreds of relatives and friends who showed their respect by calling at his home Monday evening and Tuesday.

Decline In Liquor Revenue Reported

The Delaware Liquor Commission reports a decrease of $67,000.31 in collections for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1947, over the previous period.

For the past year the collections totaled $1,111,152.68 compared with the 1946 figure of $1,178,752.99.

Since the creation of the commission the net collections have been $11,862,696.89.

The report shows 181,881.89 barrels of beer consumed last year, compared with 169,855.26 in the previous year; 642,315.57 gallons of spirits, compared with 706,629.08 in 1946, and 232,834 gallons of wine compared with 227,323.77 for the preceding year.

The annual per capita consumption of beer last year was 19.477 gallons; wine was .805 of a gallon, and spirits, 2.222 gallons. There were 524 retail licensed establishments in Delaware last year, compared with 484 in the previous year and included 23 taprooms, 130 package stores, 74 clubs, 11 hotels and 52 restaurants. Two licenses were cancelled and four revoked during the year.

There were 323 licensed establishments in Wilmington; 84 in rural New Castle County; 50 in Kent and 67 in Sussex County. Licenses were issued to 2,403 persons for purchase and transportation of alcoholic liquors for personal use, and 92 permits issued to individuals who wished to manufacture and keep wine for consumption in their homes, the report shows.

Bill Proposes Hiking U. S. Minimum Wage Law

A bill to raise the minimum wage from 40 to 75 cent an hour under the wage-hour law was offered in the Senate this week by Senator D. Elbert Thomas (D-Utah).

Thomas, who told the Senate the wage-hour law is now completely "meaningless," proposed also:

1. Extending coverage of the minimum wage and overtime provisions to workers engaged in any activity affecting interstate or foreign commerce.
2. Abolition of what he termed the "exploitation" of children in industry and industrialized agriculture, that is farms with more than eight employees.
3. Extending benefits of the act to workers in industrialized agriculture.

Paying Patients Factor In Supporting Farnhurst

Dr. M. A. Tarumianz, superintendent of the Delaware State Hospital at Farnhurst, said recently that the institution could never operate on its present standards on state appropriations alone, adding that paying patients assume "a substantial proportion of the hospital's cost of operation."

Dr. Tarumianz outlined the operation of the hospital before the luncheon meeting of the Wholesale Section of the Chamber of Commerce in the Hotel DuPont, Wilmington.

Dr. Tarumianz said the institution is proud of the fact that "people of means" come voluntarily to the hospital, for treatment. He added that the hospital was second in the country to recognize mental ailments as curable, and first to establish a state-wide mental hygiene clinic.

Last November's Figures Show House Costs Doubled

The selling price of the "average new house" reached $9,000 last November—more than double the price of $4,440 in 1939, a Commerce Department report said recently.

The department earlier had predicted that construction costs will be at least "moderately" higher this year.

While the selling price of the average house rose 104 per cent between 1939 and November, 1947, costs of lumber increased 183 per cent, said the report.

Lumber prices "are substantially out of line with other commodities," the report said, adding, however, that "sustained (upward) pressures on prices will tend to prevail" throughout this year because "domestic consumption will continue to press production."

Philco Ready To Sell Television Set At $199

The Philco Corporation has announced that it is ready to market a new television set with seven-inch picture tube selling for $199.50.

A course in advanced tailoring, designed to bring Home Economics teachers up-to-date on newer methods of construction, shortcuts in tailoring and buying and use of new fabrics, will be offered in the Academic Extension division of the University of Delaware, during the new term which starts early in February.

Miss Elizabeth G. Kelly of the University's School of Home Economics will teach the course in Wilmington High School from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. on Wednesday evening, beginning Feb. 4. During the course, as illustrative material a tailored garment will be made by each person, with the garment chosen to meet individual needs.

Thieves Loot Elkton Pin Ball Machines

Two business establishments in Elkton were broken into early last Thursday morning but only the Community Bowling Alley was robbed. MacMillans Sporting Goods store, within two doors of the bowling alley, was damaged when a milk bottle was thrown through the large plate glass window in the front of the store. The bowling alley was entered from a window. The pin ball machines were broken into and the money removed, but the cash register was left untouched.

What's quicker than a wink?

WHY, the way electricity comes when you flip a switch!

How quick is a wink? Well, scientists have clocked it at 1/300th of a second. But electricity arrives 1/10,000,000th of a second after you make that contact. That's speed! That's service!

And it's not only quick service, it's dependable service, too. Day and night, summer and winter, around the clock and calendar, electricity is ready and waiting. Keeping it that way takes plenty of practical planning, plenty of skilled and experienced people. Yes, and it takes plenty of keeping up with the latest technical developments!

That's why today, when you flick a switch, electricity arrives in 1/10,000,000th of a second—ready to serve you.

POWER CO. AUTHORIZES PROGRAM OF EXPANSION

Proposed New Construction Would Total $16,991,93

Authorization for a new construction program totaling $16,991,493 for the Delaware Power & Light Company and system companies has been announced by Stuart Cooper, President of the Delaware Power & Light Company. This huge construction program is in continuation of the company's policy to improve, extend and expand its facilities to keep pace with the growth and prosperity of the Delmarva Peninsula.

In announcing the system's construction plans, Mr. Cooper said "This money will be used to increase our generating capacity, for the extension and maintenance of distribution lines and mains to our customers, to rebuild and extend transmission lines and substations.

"Delmarva Peninsula is growing rapidly day-by-day and we are fully cognizant of the extent to which any area relies upon electric power to aid it in its growth. Our expansion plan is a continuance of our policy to make available, as rapidly as possible, everywhere throughout the Peninsula, an adequate and dependable supply of electricity to meet the needs of our industries, stores, farms and homes, maintaining efficient service to present customers while extending service to new customers.

"The largest single item in this new construction program," Mr. Cooper stated, "is the provision of $5,450,000 for the extension of the system's generating plant at Vienna, Maryland, and the installation of a 30,000 KW generating unit with boiler and auxiliary facilities. This unit will be in addition to a 15,000 KW unit now being completed and a second 15,000 KW unit now under construction, which it is estimated will be ready for service early in 1949.

IN REVIEW

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Presbyterians Building

There will be no further services in the Presbyterian Church, until various repairs that are being made to the church are completed. The work will cost about $6000. This money will cover the repairs is being raised through a special campaign, and it is thought that the pledges now being made will pay for the work underway.

The lighting system will be improved. There will be hot-water heat installed. The church walls are also being redecorated.

New Fire House

The foundation and the laying of the ground floor and basement of the new firehouse of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company have been completed.

Connection Made

Automobilists of Newark will be glad to learn that the connection of Main street and the new highway has been completed. This makes the road a lot better than for several months past.

School District Fixed

Newark's Board of Education is at the present time tracing the boundary for the special school district in which this town is located. This work must be accomplished before the board can go ahead and issue the $165,000 worth of bonds as authorized by the special referendum vote taken in June.

The boundary of the district must be known so that the proper taxation can be made. There will be a slight increase in the tax rate.

The intention of the board is to have the work on the new school started just as soon as possible and although it is thought it is too late now to have the new building completed before the start of next term, the board will probably move classes into the new school just as soon as it is completed after the school work has gotten underway.

Co. E At Camp

About fifty members of Newark's Coast Artillery, Co. E, left early Monday morning for Camp George W. Sparks, where they will be encamped for the next two weeks. The local company is a unit of the 19th Artillery, C. A. C. Delaware National Guard.

Firemen's Carnival

There will be no bill board posters advertising it as the "Biggest Show on Earth," but it will be bigger and better than ever, this is the way E. G. Wilson terms the carnival that will be held by Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company this year.

The site will be next to the new firehouse. It was hoped that the carnival could be held in connection with the official opening of the new home, but this will be impossible.

Leave for Camp

Floyd Hubert, Robert Hayes, Jr., and Penrose Wilson, Newark's contingent to the Civilian Camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., left here early Monday morning. A train of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad made a special stop here to pick up the boys.

3 Unions Block Labor Peace—Refuse Wage Boost Already Accepted by 19 Other Railroad Unions!

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, representing 125,000 railroad employees, have refused to accept the offer of the Railroads of a wage increase of 15 1/2 cents an hour.

This is the same increase awarded 1,000,000 non-operating employees by an arbitration board in September, 1947.

This is the same increase accepted by 175,000 conductors, trainmen and switchmen by agreement on November 14, 1947.

Agreements have been made with 1,175,000 employees, represented by nineteen unions. But these three unions, representing only 125,000 men, are trying to get more. They are demanding also many new working rules not embraced in the settlement with the conductors and trainmen.

Incidentally, the Switchmen's Union of North America represents only about 7% of all railroad switchmen, the other 93% being represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and covered by the settlement with that union.

Strike Threat

The leaders of these three unions spread a strike ballot while negotiations were still in progress. This is not a secret vote but is taken by union leaders and votes are signed by the employees in the presence of union representatives.

When direct negotiations failed, the leaders of these three unions refused to join the railroads in asking the National Mediation Board to attempt to settle the dispute, but the Board took jurisdiction at the request of the carriers and has been earnestly attempting since November 24, 1947, to bring about a settlement. The Board on January 15, 1948, announced its inability to reach a mediation settlement. The leaders of the unions rejected the request of the Mediation Board to arbitrate. The railroads accepted.

What Now?

The Unions having refused to arbitrate, the Railway Labor Act provides for the appointment of a fact-finding board by the President.

The railroads feel it is due shippers, passengers, employees, stockholders, and the general public to know that throughout these negotiations and in mediation, they have not only exerted every effort to reach a fair and reasonable settlement, but they have also met every requirement of the Railway Labor Act respecting the negotiation, mediation, and arbitration of labor disputes.

It seems unthinkable that these three unions, representing less than 10 per cent of railroad employees, and those among the highest paid, can successfully maintain the threat of a paralyzing strike against the interest of the entire country—and against 90 per cent of their fellow employees.

The threat of a strike cannot justify granting more favorable conditions to 125,000 employees than have already been put in effect for 1,175,000, nor will it alter the position of the railroads to unwarranted wage increases or to changes in working rules which are not justified.

A glance at the box shows what employees represented by the Engineers and Firemen make. They are among the highest paid in the ranks of labor in the United States, if not the highest.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

"Lazy Chickens" May Profitably Be Eliminated

"Lazy Chickens" that are not paying their board bills, might well be turned into the bill of fare for Sunday dinner, says Miss M. Gertrude Holloway, extension nutrition specialist for the University of Delaware.

The term "lazy" refers to those hens in the poultry flock that are not laying but are using up valuable grain during a period of grain scarcity and high feed costs. A hen eats from six to eight pounds of feed a month, more than half of this grain can be diverted to human use. When farmers cull out those fowls that are not producing eggs, an appreciable amount of grain is saved.

Hens that are one year old or over are termed "fowl" and usually weigh five to eight pounds. They are excellent for baking, stewing or fricussing. They should be cooked slowly with moist heat to bring out the delicate flavor.

For the small family, a chicken of this size will probably mean left-overs. However, Miss Holloway lists several appetizing suggestions: Chicken à la King, which is made by adding a white sauce, pimientos and maybe mushrooms and served on waffles or in patty shells; chicken timbales using stale bread crumbs, eggs, butter and milk and baked in individual casseroles; chicken pie; croquettes and salad.

From an economy standpoint, these fowl are good buys right now, are plentiful in the market, and offer many ways of preparation to suit different tastes.

Nearly 4½ million farm men, women, and youth throughout the nation got help during 1946 from the Cooperative Agricultural Extension Service in raising their standard of living, producing and marketing food and fibre, managing the home, and meeting a wide range of problems affecting rural people, according to the annual report of M. L. Wilson, Director of Extension Work for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In addition, the report points out, 2,100,000 non-farm people, mostly in rural areas, got advice and information from extension on a variety of problems, including food production and canning and other homemaking activities.

of livestock, grew 538,000 acres of gardens and crops, raised nearly 9 million hens and other poultry, canned nearly 20 million quarts of food products, and took part in many other activities associated with the "Head, Heart, Hands and Health" of the 4-H movement.

The economy of pasture is due in large part to the fact that labor is saved, the animals gathering their own feed and spreading the manure as they graze.

Conservation of forage crops takes on new importance at a time when feed grains are in short supply and high in price. This year, every farmer will do his best to save his hay crop and get it into storage in high quality condition. It is not too early, due to shortages of equipment, to turn attention to the hay handling system and replace needed parts so as to be prepared when the crop is ready.

Ware Abouts

We must say that if all local fraternal and/or social orders were as active in their one hundred percent cooperation with worthy projects as is the local VFW post, the raising of funds would be a much more cheerful task.

Proof of their usual concentrated effort was simply given last night when THE MELODY TRIO donated their services for a dance given to raise funds to contribute to the March of Dimes. Outside of the active house-to-house canvass made by the Boy Scouts, we know of no other group that has contributed so liberally of their time—effort—and dough.

Those boys down at the VFW simply have something on the ball, and were all for them. When you need "em—they're there with the goods and not a lot of evasive excuses—and that's one of the things we like about the VFW.

Long-planned trips to sunny Florida being cancelled as weather reports indicate that the southern clime is also taking a beating from Old Man Winter. Personally, we'd rather be in the land of sunshine whanging away at a golf ball than up here in several inches of snow banging away at a typewriter, right at the moment, but for the long haul—you can have our share of Florida.

Mary Sharp, Fithian's Corner Cupboard, located in the rear of Peggy Cronin's fashion shop, at the end of the driveway more fashionably called Wagon Wheel Lane, moves this week into the vacant store next door to the State Theatre, formerly occupied by Pauline Bradford. . . . guess the proposed liquor store isn't going to materialize.

Another new venture to make its appearance here in the very near future will be a home laundry service to be opened in the basement of the Williams residence, at the corner of Main and Center Street, under the direction of the Williams' eldest son, Robert.

The Toggery, Inc., Gold-Out-of-Business-Sale ran into a change of ownership finale, we understand, rather than closing its doors. Which may be a good thing for there should be a field here for a strictly men's store offering better grade merchandise.

The slowly disintegrating Chamber of Commerce to receive another transfusion next month when its members will eat their annual dinner, passively elect three directors then sit back for another year's lack of accomplishment.

Having been a dues-paying member of this time honored organization for quite a number of years, we're sorry to see it lapse into total inactivity when there could be revived such things as an annual Merchants & Manufacturers Exposition, cooperative sales events, concerted closing hours for stores, the Christmas street lighting project, etc., if given the right impetus. Lots and lots of mail received two weeks from Saturday will be anonymous and ask one simple, straightforward, three-word question: "Know what it is?" "Be My Valentine."

Hear by the underground that Newark Country Club President Bob Stewart (Sr.) has appointed Harvey Hirst as chairman of the house committee; Eric P. Newton as chairman of the social committee and Alvin Dellins as chairman of the golf committee.

All of which are undoubtedly excellent appointments and we're confident that each man named will receive the full, unstinted support and help of every individual member.

Ain't it the truth department Ed Sullivan, our favorite columnist, reported last week that theatrical veteran Mark Hyman says, "The trouble with the world is that when we judge people we use their faults, rather than their virtues, as the yardstick."

"There's more truth than poetry in that observation. When a person's name comes up in a discussion, too often we dwell on his shortcomings, too seldom on the qualities and characteristics that should be praised."

Be there one among you who can plead "not guilty" to this charge?

Seems that Lee and Pearl Best took exception to our statement last week that an Elkton paper carried an advertisement of an Attorney's Sale of their Charm House and, on Saturday, we received a copy of a handbill reading: "The Charm House . . . has operated continuously and will remain open

Could be that the Attorney's Sale advertisement was wrong. If so, we apologize for their mistake and our apology.

The Gainesville (Fla.) Sun tells this one on one of its "customers".

An inebriate staggered out of a night club and stumbled into a parked Florida Highway Patrol car. Upon discovering who's car he was in, he began to make excuses to the burly officer behind the wheel.

When asked his occupation, he tipsily said "I work for the Gainesville Sun."

"What's your position on the paper," the officer queried.

"I'm a subscriber," he replied.

The moral is that if you're ever picked-up for being "under the influence," tell the officer you are a reader of The Newark Post—that's excuse enough to drive anybody to drink.

CRAWFORD-RANDLE WEDDING YESTERDAY

Miss Gwendolyn Stager Crawford, who resigned this month as dean of women at the University of Delaware, was married at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the Wilson College chapel, Chambersburg, Pa., to Mr. A. Randle Elliott, son of Mrs. Thomas B. Elliott and the late Mr. Elliott of St. Louis. Miss Crawford daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde Crawford of Chambersburg, was given in marriage by her father.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. George A. McAllister, of the First Presbyterian Church, Salem, N. J., and the bride's uncle, the Rev. George L. Kress, of the First Presbyterian Church, Belle Vernon Pa. More than 300 friends and relatives attended the wedding. Mrs. Harry Peters gave an organ recital before the ceremony, and Mr. Gordon Curtis, choirmaster of the First Independent Presbyterian Church of Wilmington, sang. The bride and bridegroom read responsively a scriptural selection from the Song of Solomon following a double ring ceremony.

Miss Crawford's gown was white satin with a full pleated skirt ending in a courtly train and her fitted bodice was of Chantilly lace over satin, embroidered with tiny twinkling crystal beads. She wore an imported Belgian lace cap and her veil was Chantilly lace to match her gown. The bride carried a white satin-covered Bible trimmed with dutch lace from her mother's wedding gown, on which was attached her bridal bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. James E. Shepherd, of Hempstead, Long Island, sister of Mr. Elliott, was matron of honor, and Miss Betty Latham, of Alexandria, Va., was maid of honor. The bridesmaids included Mrs. James Murphy, Chambersburg; Mrs. Edwin Kaufman, Chestertown, Md.; Miss Ardeth Swoyer, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Charles N. Lanier, Jr., of Newark.

The best man was Mr. Samuel E. Neel, of Washington. Ushers were Dr. James E. Shepherd, of Hempstead; Mr. Francis Crosby, Washington; Col. Hugh O. Davis, of Washington; Dr. Howard Whidden, of New York, and Mr. George E. Hall, of New York.

Mrs. Crawford, mother of the bride, wore a deep violet beaded crepe gown with gold accessories. Her corsage was a gold orchid. Mrs. Elliott, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in light grey crepe, and wore a lavender orchid.

The bride, a graduate of Wilson College and subsequently a faculty member there, took her doctorate at the University of Virginia, and for the past two and one-half years has been dean of women and assistant professor of economics at the University of Delaware. Mr. Elliott, a graduate of Westminster College, and Harvard University, served successively as assistant in the Departments of Government at Harvard and Radcliffe College; as research associate at the Foreign Policy Association and as administrator in the Washington bureau of the Institute of International Education. During the war he went overseas as bombing research analyst for the War Department, and remained in Germany after the war as reports officer for the U. S. Military Government in Berlin. At present he is London correspondent for Business Week magazine.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the ballroom of the Hotel Washington in Chambersburg. After a brief wedding trip, the couple will sail for Europe.

M.

For all of three days last week the University of Delaware dribblers were in a tie with Pennsylvania Military College for fifth place in the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic States Basketball Conference.

But by Saturday night Brunansky's band of basketballers was back in the sixth place cellar as the result of P. M. C.'s decisive defeat of Drexel Tech.

The Delaware courtmen in our opinion are much better than their conference record of three losses against a single win indicates. Their three league losses were suffered by the margin of a total of eight points. We're hoping that the Blue Hens will click better and get some much deserved breaks when they return to hardwood action on February 7.

While perusing a column of collegiate basketball scores a couple of weeks ago we got to thinking how the size of these scores (per game) has continued to increase throughout the past couple of decades. So, in order to check on this situation, we dug into our commodious but nevertheless always over-crowded desk and came up with the results of 16 college basketball games played in 1928—exactly 20 years ago.

A bit of addition provides us with the information that the average total number of points tabbed collectively by both teams in those 16 cage contests was 65. Then we noted that the highest score noted by any one of the teams in the 16 games was 50.

We returned to our 1948 newspaper and, in order to make some comparisons, marked off the scores of the first 16 games recorded there. A further appellation of the word "R" showed that an average total of 112 points had been tallied in each of these games. Then we found that whereas only one of our 1928 teams had gotten as many as 50 points, 12 of the present day winners in our group of 16 had scored 50 points or more—and nine of the losers had topped the half-century mark in points.

Incidentally, we interrupt this profound discourse to call your attention to the fact that North Carolina State scored 110 points in a single encounter last week. The opponents racked up 50 points. And what do you think was the name of the college which suffered such a set-back? Give up? Well, it was High Point!

(And if you think the collegians are pouring the inflated leather sphere through the hoop at a terrific pace, just take a quick glance at the professional basketball scores—bearing in mind, however, that since the pros play 12 minute quarters they have 20% more playing time. In particular let's consider one specific game this month between the Washington Caps and the Philadelphia Warriors. At the end of the regulation time the score was knotted at 86-86. But at the end of a five-minute overtime the Caps had won out 106-89. Yep the two teams had actually registered 33 points in only five minutes for a record shattering 205 markers in a single game.)

But to get back to our original theme, to what, it may be asked, can this scoring increase of nearly 75% be attributed. Well, we're not sure that we know but we submit these factors for your consideration and correction. Perhaps the most important is the elimination of the time-consuming center jump after each score. Playing facilities and lighting have been much improved. More emphasis on the court game has produced more specialists, both in coaching and playing quarters—and has also resulted in the development and adaptation of closely adhered to offensive tactics. In connection with the latter point, it is our opinion that much greater attention is devoted to attack than to methods of defense—more acceptance generally of the far from new thought that the best defense is a good offense.

Nevertheless, and in spite of all the foregoing, many coaches and no small number of spectators are adamant in claiming that over-officiating is slowing killing the court game. Be that as it may, basketball devotees are more than ever jamming the sports arenas. It may even be that the game is here to stay!

However, the reason for bringing all this mental rumination to your attention is that we apparently are not alone in wondering where all this scoring will lead to and in puzzling about what will ultimately happen to basketball as we older ones knew it. The other day for example, Matty Begovich, one of the court game's top officials, pleaded that steps be taken to "slow down this rat race game of basketball." One of the zebra-striped official's suggestions was that the rules be changed to provide for a delayed whistle such as is used in ice hockey wherein the referee is permitted to withhold his decision on fouls until after completion of a play.

Also concerned about what is still quaintly called the cage game is Whitney Martin, prominent AP sports columnist. Concluding that most basketball fouls are purely unintentional, Martin also looks toward ice hockey for a possible rules change which would keep star players from being bounced out early on personal fouls. The AP sports writer suggests a pen-

Hens Still Languish In Cellar Of Mid-State Loop; P. M. C. Win Before Mid-Year Shut-Down Earns Tie With Cadets In League Race

Still haggard from their bout with mid-year exams, the Delaware cagers resume their court campaign on Saturday, February 7, in a meeting with Haverford College on the latter's floor.

Before their mid-year lay-off, the Hens showed signs of groping their way out of the dungeons of the Middle Atlantic Conference where they currently languish in the bottom cell.

A 58-55 victory over P. M. C. in the fieldhouse here on Jan. 21 earned them a tie with that club and brought them their first victory in loop competition against three defeats.

NHS GIRLS NIP ELKTON

Court Team Triumphs, 27-19

Newark High girls carried a 27-19 decisive court victory over Elkton girls yesterday Wednesday on the latter's floor.

Alcoholism In Army Below Civilian Rate

The Army reported recently that it has far fewer alcoholics in its ranks than there are in civilian life.

Maj.-Gen. F. L. Parks, Army information chief, said the Army's alcoholism rate dropped from 4.61 per 1,000 men in 1936 to 1.66 in 1945, and that it is still decreasing. He said reliable statistics show that the civilian rate in 1945 was 8.37 per 1,000.

He sent the figure to Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, who had charged that "service in the armed forces is making alcoholics of American youths." She also opposed universal military training on grounds that it would encourage alcoholism.

Other changes suggested by Martin are raising the basket a couple of feet and using 20-inch extensions instead of the present 6-inch ones. Got any ideas on the subject.

Last week we wrote about the seven collegiate quintets which had managed to stave off defeat. Then, adding that the list was "subject to very sudden change and correction," we named them. Now we find that in the intervening week at least three of the seven have departed from the select circle. This came about as the result of victories by Holy Cross over Rhode Island State, V. P. I. over Roanoke, and Temple over its highly-rated Philadelphia rival, LaSalle.

WILDLIFE IS PERILED BY STORMS

Severe Winter Endangers U. S. Birds, Animals

Record low temperatures and the accompanying storms buffeting much of the nation today as a threat to U. S. wildlife, authorities in Washington said this week.

Virtually the only area for which no particular alarm is felt in Alaska, Lance Hendrickson, Interior Department biologist, told a reporter that Alaska wildlife has benefited to date by an "unusually soft" winter.

Most concern is felt for elk and deer, particularly the latter in certain areas of Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Michigan, Utah and other states. Clarence Cottam, assistant director of the Fish and Wildlife Service said.

Artificial feeding is highly unsatisfactory, particularly for deer, Cottam said he was inclined to agree with Colorado experts who informed him it was a waste of funds to try to feed deer and they might as well be killed.

Many varieties seem unable to adapt themselves to a hay diet, Cottam said. Frequent cause of death is foxtail weed, a component of most hays. Foxtail spines stick into the animal's gums, infecting them so badly the deer are unable to eat.

Cottam said more and more states are passing legislation to give state game commissions discretionary authority to shoot female deer when the population exceeds the carrying capacity of the game area.

"We are gradually getting away from the idea that it is immoral to shoot a female deer," Cottam said.

No starvation is anticipated among migratory water fowl because of their mobility. However, lead poisoning has become an increasingly great menace to ducks and geese, the most serious outbreak this winter having been reported at St. Helens, Ore.

Cottam said the birds are poisoned by lead pellets from shotgun discharges, which they pick up while feeding in marshes.

The science of changing chemicals into electricity has resulted in the development of a new Eveready general purpose flashlight battery with twice its former capacity.

1947 Cigarette Output Estimated 368 Billion

Cigarette production in 1947 totaled 368 billion, a gain of 18.2 billion cigarettes over 1946 and 35.3 billion above 1945, Harry M. Wooten, consultant on tobacco estimated recently.

Writing in the Jan. 23 issue of Printers Ink, a trade magazine, Wooten said:

"During the past five years cigarette consumption has increased 43 per cent, and per capita consumption has increased 34 per cent, which is to say that more people are smoking and that people individually are smoking more."

Game With Wilm. Friends Postponed Until February 17; Jackets Back In Winning Stride With Victory Over Archmere Following Brown Defeat

Inactive since their 37-33 victory over Archmere Academy last Friday, the Newark 15th quintet takes to the boards again tomorrow night to face Salesianum here at 7:30 p. m.

The game with Wilmington Friends scheduled for Tuesday afternoon here was postponed until February 17. Next Tuesday, Newark meets P. S. duPont on the latter's floor.

The Jackets' lopsided win over Coach Larry Cicero's Archmere five on the Archie's floor put Newark back in the win column after their earlier 52-33 defeat by Brown Vocational. It was the third victory of the current campaign for the Black and Orange.

NHS GIRL IS CITED

Betty Davis Wins Talent Mention

Betty Davis, 17, daughter of Mrs. Laura Joyce, R. D. 3, near Oglethorpe, was the only high school student in Delaware to win honorable mention in the Seventh Annual Science Talent Search conducted by the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. It was authentically stated here yesterday.

A senior at Newark High School, Miss Davis' paper on "A Study of the Chemical and Physical Properties of Dry Cells," earned for her the Westinghouse Educational Foundation's recommendation to college for scholarly consideration. She plans to attend the University of Delaware upon graduation this June.

Miss Davis was one of 55 girls and 205 boy high school seniors possessing "an unusually high potential for achievement in science, such that any institution would be justified in considering their abilities carefully," the judges reported.

APA GROUP WORKS HERE UNDER BECK

Philosophic Association Backs Plan

A national committee whose work includes promoting the establishment of new departments of philosophy in some colleges, has its focal point at the University of Delaware, where the committee's chairman, Dr. Lewis W. Beck, is associate professor of philosophy.

Established by the American Philosophical Association, the organization is known as the Committee on Information Service; Vacancies and Available Personnel. In addition to the long-range task of fostering new courses in philosophy at technical colleges and smaller schools where no such department existed before, its duties include recommending to those colleges the well-qualified men and women who would be willing to undertake the work.

The committee acts as an employment agency, making up a list of qualified teachers and research workers in the field of philosophy so that nominations can be made to appointing officers in universities, government bureaus and foundations which require persons trained in the field of philosophy. It also informs these philosophers of possible openings in their field so that they may apply for the positions. In 1947, the committee placed 16 teachers of philosophy during its first year of existence. This year, Dr. Beck stated, it seems likely the committee can place many more teachers of philosophy, since its work is better known, with the result that increased numbers of colleges are recognizing the importance of adding courses in philosophy to their curricula. Dr. Beck cited in this connection a recent study by the American Philosophical Association in which was emphasized the importance of philosophical instruction in providing a well-rounded educational program. Previously, however, many schools have not had courses in philosophy.

The committee now is spreading out into the international field, since many foreign countries are interested in having guest professors from American universities.

CITE SOIL FERTILITY CONDITIONS

Crop Yields Per Acre Not Increased

Delaware crop yields per acre have not materially increased during the past half-century in spite of improved varieties, use of chemical fertilizers and improved cropping practices. Claude E. Phillips, extension agronomist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, told farmers attending the University of Delaware Farmers' Week that this indicates soil fertility in Delaware is slowly declining.

Phillips cautioned growers that if farming in Delaware is to be on a more profitable basis this downward trend in soil fertility must be reversed.

Research has shown, said Phillips, that crops, fertilizer and management practices have entirely different effects upon soil fertility. To indicate these effects Phillips has constructed a device which shows not only the effect the crop has on soil fertility but also the effects of cropping practices and rotations. This device which Phillips has named a "Soil Fertility Balance" was a part of the Farmers' Week exhibits and was used in his talk in the soils session on balancing soil fertility on the dairy farm, on the vegetable farm, and on the grain farm.

With weighted symbols representing crops grown in Delaware attached to one side of his "soil fertility balance," Phillips has only to add weighted symbols representing plant food sources such as manures and fertilizers to other arm of the balance to show the individual farmer in a moment whether his soil is losing or gaining in fertility.

BOY SCOUT WEEK OPENS FEBRUARY 6

38th Annual Observance To End On Feb. 12

Newark troops will join with more than 2,120,000 members of the Boy Scouts of America throughout the nation in observing the 38th anniversary of the organization during Boy Scout Week which opens Friday, Feb. 6, and continues through Thursday, Feb. 12.

The anniversary will be celebrated in every city and town and most villages and hamlets throughout the nation and its possessions. It is young America's largest birthday celebration.

The theme of Boy Scout Week this year is, "The Scout Citizen at Work in his home, in his community, in his nation, in his world." Scout activities for the year beginning with the birthday celebration will be related to this theme.

The nation's Boy Scouts are engaged in the program of saving and producing food to alleviate the world's food shortage. As part of their service program this year each Boy Scout is expected to "save a bushel, grow a bushel, share a bushel" of food.

Each Cub Pack, Boy Scout Troop, Senior Scout Unit, will share in a "Report to the Nation" that will tell of their community services last year and their program for this year. The report will be made to the President of the United States, to Congress and to the United Nations.

In addition to conserving food and natural resources, the Boy Scouts will emphasize safety and fire prevention, home repairs and personal health. Through their World Friendship Fund of voluntary gifts the Scouts have sent more than 3,000 tons of supplies to help Scout organizations overseas in rebuild. This aid is to be continued throughout 1948.
