PROFIT FROM SERVICES

At a special meeting of the Council of Newark, held last Thursday night, it was voted to make reductions in rates for water and both electric power and light, and to institute a new power rate for domestic users of electricity. Councilman E. C. Wilson, for the past 18 years chairman of the light and water committee, thoroughly explained both the water and power situations and then put the motions calling for the reductions.

The change in the water rates was effected by raising the quarterly minimum from 8,000 gallons to 10,000. The $1.00 minimum for the first ten hours was retained on light rates, but at flat rate of 8 1/2 cents was made on all K. W. H. over that. The old rate called for 9 1/2 cent rate for the remainder. This will mean quite a comparative saving to both small and large users of lighting current.

A flat power rate of 5 cents was put into effect with a minimum of $1.00 per horsepower. This will mean a considerable saving to power users, as the old rates were 8 cents for the first 50 hours, 7 cents for the next hundred, 6 cents for the next hundred and 5 cents for the remainder.

A new domestic power rate was instituted for users of power for operation of electric refrigerators, ice cream cabinets, oil burners, and electric stoves. These are now operated on light meters at lighting rates. The new rate will carry a $3.00 minimum and will be 5 cents per K. W. H. An additional meter will be installed by the town and at the expense of the consumer will have to have the wiring laid to the meter. The estimated cost of this wiring will be from $10 to $15, depending on the distance of the machine from the meter.

With these new rates it is said that Newark will have as cheap power, light and water as any town in the state and cheaper than many towns near here. It was said that the Elkton light rate is 10 cents for the first 40 hours, and that the light rate in Middletown is 13 cents and the power rate 10 cents. The lighting rate here is now the same as in Wilmington.

During the discussion of the rates, Councilman Wilson gave figures to show what a profitable and growing business the water and electric power service was, and what a mistake it would be for the town to ever give up these services to private corporations.

Apologetic Correction

Last week we knowingly allowed a bit of badinage to extend itself into our personal columns, and later learned, to our regret, that it caused the victim certain inconvenience and mental distress. For this we are truly sorry because we had no idea that our jibe would cause our good friend any hurt.

Because Professor R. W. Heim jokingly would not disclose the title of an address he made before the Dover Rotary Club, we gave the address a facetious one. The correct title of Professor Heim's address to the Dover Rotarians was "Vocational Service," which is something different than we reported.

TWO SUICIDES IN SAME HOUR AND MANNER

Harvey Peterson and Dr. H. M. Armitage Cut Throats
With Razors, Yesterday
BOTH DESPONDENT

Two men, yesterday, committed suicide in identically the same way at about the same hour. Shortly after noon, Harvey Peterson, 45 years old, was found dead in the barn of the farm from which he was moving, at Cowtown, Md., his throat cut with a razor; and at the same hour Dr. Harry Marshall Armitage, of Chester, Pa., was found dead from the same action, in the home of Walter Arrants of Elk Neck, Md. Both suicides were investigated by Coroner Howard Green, of Elkton.

Despondency over having to move from the farm where he lived is said to be the reason for Peterson's act. The farm had been sold, and yesterday the family were moving from it. A load of household effects had been taken away, and Mr. Peterson had stayed at the farm by himself. When the rest of the family returned they missed him, and looking in the barn, found him dead. He leaves a wife and three grown sons. He was the son of George Peterson, of Fair Hill.

Dr. Armitage had been in ill health and was staying at Mr. Arrant's home in an effort to recuperate. He committed suicide on a staircase, so that when the door to the staircase was opened, his body fell out. It is thought that he despaired of ever recovering his health.

CURTIS CONCERT IN WOLF HALL MONDAY AT 8

Responding to the invitation of the Newark Music Society, the Curtis Institute of Music has generously supplied the talent for a concert at Wolf Hall on Monday evening next, February 18, at 8:00 o'clock. The artists will be Miss Helen Jepson, soprano and Tibor de Machula, violinist. Mr. Sylvan Levin will be Miss Jepson's accompanist and Mr. Earl Fox will accompany Mr. de Machula. The Institute will send its own piano, a Steinway Grand, with a tuner to insure its perfect condition for the concert.

The program includes four numbers—two groups of songs by Miss Jepson and a concerto and a group of four lighter selections by Mr. de Machula.

Music lovers will appreciate the opportunity to hear the works of composers, some of whom, at least, are still unfamiliar. The program covers a wide range of selections and will afford an evening of unusual pleasure.

50 POULTRYMEN AT 2 MEETINGS

Ed Willim Talks On Growing
Healthy Chicks

About 50 poultrymen attended the two "Grow Healthy Chicks" meetings held at State Road and Townsend on Monday and Tuesday of this week. These meetings were conducted by Mr. Ed Willim, Jr., County Agent, due to the illness of Mr. H. S. Palmer, who was scheduled to address them.

The State Road meeting was held in the community building at that place with 30 in attendance. The meeting at the home of John Derrickson, near Ginn's Corner, Townsend, was attended by 21 poultry raisers. Both men and women were present at both meetings.

Mr. Willim reports that every person attending the meetings was enthusiastic concerning the "Grow Healthy Chicks" Campaign to be conducted again this year by the Extension Service of the University of Delaware. Last year 149 poultry raisers in the state were enrolled and it is hoped that many more than this number will sign the pledge cards to follow the 6 "Clean Points" advocated in the program.

"A death loss of only 3.5 per cent the first month was sustained by the poultry raisers who followed all of the program points last year," said the County Agent during the discussion, "while," he continued, "those who followed only 4 or less of the 8 points mentioned last year suffered a mortality of 18.2 per cent. This difference shows that the matter of losses can be controlled to a considerable extent by those who want to do so by regular and specific measures of sanitation and sanitary procedure."

This year we are asking the interested poultry growers to consider 16 sanitary measures as against the 8 of last year. Not every person can follow all 16 maybe, but he can at least check and follow at least a majority of them according to his conditions.

B. & O. OFFERS ANNUAL CLUB SCHOLARSHIP

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad announces that it will award again this year a one-hundred dollar scholarship in this state to the boy or girl who most efficiently completes his or her project in agricultural club work during 1929.

STATE SOLONS HERE ON VISIT

Members Of General Assembly
Here Inspecting University; Were Entertained At Women's College Luncheon
At 12:30

This morning at 10:30 the members of the General Assembly now in session paid a visit of inspection to the University of Delaware. They were greeted by a welcoming body, headed by Dr. Walter Hüllihen, president of the University, the four Deans, A. G. Wilkinson, business administrator of the University, and a committee of faculty.

The legislators inspected the buildings at Old College and were particularly interested in the new addition to the gymnasium housing a swimming pool, which was built last year by funds raised by a student committee. After visiting Harter Hall, Wolf Hall and the old shacks used by the engineering department the law makers were shown the new engineering building, now in course of construction. Two years ago the Legislature appropriated money to construct this building, but cut the amount asked for by $100,000, so that only the first floor of the building could be completed. The University is now asking $110,000 to complete this much needed building.

The visitors were shown the site for the auditorium, the gift of Rodney Sharp and which will be named Mitchell Hall, in honor of Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell, a former president of the University.

After going through the Memorial Library, the grounds and buildings of the Women's College were inspected, particular attention being paid to the present inadequate gymnasium in the basement of Science Hall. The sites for the proposed new gymnasium and new building for classrooms and laboratories were shown. Bills are now in the Legislature asking for appropriations for these buildings.

At 12:30 a luncheon was served the guests in the Women's College dining room. Dr. Hüllihen and William H. Heald, chairman of the finance committee of the Board of Trustees of the University, presided at the luncheon.

This afternoon the legislators are being shown the equipment and work at the College Farm.

NEWARK SCOUTS WILL HOLD PARENTS' MEETING

The Newark troop of Boy Scouts is observing the nineteenth National Anniversary Week of the Boys' Scouts of America. Last Sunday, the troop attended services at the Presbyterian Church as a unit. Tomorrow night will be parents' night, and the troop will entertain parents of members at a meeting to be held at 7:30 in the High School auditorium. After allowing the parents to see how a Scout meeting is conducted, the boys will give an exhibition of Scout work.

On January 31 the Newark troop took part in a first aid exhibition sponsored by the Wilmington Scout Council, and held in the Wilmington Armory. Twenty-two troops from Delaware and Maryland took part, and counting ties, Newark stood fourth in the competition. A banner has been awarded the Newark troop for proficiency in this exhibition. To win this merit award, a troop had to attain an average of 90 or better.

The Newark troop during the past year has grown in membership from 17 to 32. A number of boys are on the list waiting for their twelfth birthday so they may join the troop.

Dog Mounts Guard On Dead Master's Chest And Refuses To Allow Body To Be Moved

A touching example of the faithfulness and affection of a dog, enacted this week, when a small mongrel dog mounted on his dead master's chest and refused to allow even the dead man's sister to touch the body, fearing that his master would be hurt while he was helpless.

Word reached Robert Jones, late Sunday, that Isaac McCoons, aged negro, had died in his cabin on Iron Hill. Mr. Jones sent Harold Grant and Morris Ewing to fetch the body to Jones' Funeral Home, so that it could be prepared for burial. When the two men reached the cabin it was dark, and lighting their way into the kitchen with a lantern, they saw the body lying on the floor with the dead man's dog sitting on his chest. They tried to get the dog to leave the body, but whenever they approached the dog snarled viciously and snapped at them. Caroline McCoons, who had lived alone with her brother since the

LEGION DINNER SPEAKERS TALK ON AUXILIARY

State Notables Of American Legion And Auxiliary Urge
Newark Post To Form Aux-

coln's Birthday Dinner

LITTLE RECEIVES PIN

The Lieutenant J. Allison O'Daniel Post, American Legion, celebrated Lincoln's Birthday by holding a banquet and dance in Old College. About 100 were present, including Legion members, their wives and guests. Among the guests were state notables both in the American Legion and the American Legion Women's Auxiliary. Post Chaplain Paul Lovett opened the turkey dinner with a blessing, and after the dinner Commander Fred Strickland turned the meeting over to Toastmaster Ira S. Brinser, state and post historian. The tenor of all the speeches was on the Women's Auxiliary, and the Newark Post was urged to form an Auxiliary organization.

Professor Brinser, who was roundly applauded for the grace with which he conducted the meeting, and his ability to arise extemporaneously to occasions during the speaking, first harked back to the days of 1917 and 1918 and then spoke of Lieutenant J. Allison O'Daniel, in whose memory the Newark Post was named. The first speaker to be introduced was William E. Matthews, state commander of the Legion.

Commander Matthews spoke of the Newark Post as the baby post in the Delaware Department, but said it was the healthiest baby he had ever seen. He lauded past Commander Orville Little for his work during the first year of the revived post. He said that the day was fitting for a Legion affair, inasmuch as it was the birthday of America's first statesman, Abraham Lincoln. He said he characterized Lincoln as such because his scope of thought was greater and his vision broader than that of any other American statesman. He said that the United States had grown to be the greatest nation in the world on the principals which had been laid down by Lincoln, and that the Legion had played its part in this growth by

FAMILY AT BANQUET WHILE HOUSE BURNS

The farmhouse of George Davis, near Milford Cross Roads, was practically demolished by fire, Tuesday night, while Mr. and Mrs. Davis were away. The fire had gained a good start before it was noticed by neighbors and an alarm sent in. The Aetna Company responded, but by the time the firemen arrived, the fire was beyond control. However, the barn and outbuildings were protected from the flames.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis were attending the American Legion Banquet in Old College, when they were notified that their house was burning. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss includes the house and all its contents which, it is said, is covered by insurance.

AS TOLD BY OUR CORRESPONDENTS

Elkton and Neighboring Towns

Boy Scout Week came to a close Sunday night when the troupe in Elkton had charge of services in the Methodist Episcopal Church, which displayed the training given the boys by the Scout Master in Elkton.

The contract for the elimination of the dangerous grade crossing at Red Mill crossing, Elkton, has been awarded and construction will begin within the next 10 days.

A dance will be given in the Elkton Armory Friday evening when music will be furnished by Mal Hallett's Orchestra.

The newly elected officers of the Chamber of Commerce, of Elkton, entered upon their duties Monday evening at an annual dinner meeting of the Chamber held at the Howard Hotel, with Standley Evans, president, presiding. The principal speaker was F. A. Alexander, general manager of the Philadelphia Electric Company, who gave a talk on electric rates.

Judge Lewin W. Wickes, of Chester-town, while in Elkton on business Monday, drew the jurors for the March term of Circuit Court for Cecil County, which convenes in Elkton on Monday, March 11. The following were selected from Elkton District: Jacob Clay, Charles Warrington, Fred H. Leffer, John K. Burkley, George Kirk, John S. Lee and Thomas R. Keithley.

FIRE SCARE ROUTS HOTEL OCCUPANTS

About 100 guests at the Howard Hotel, Elkton, were given a scare when aroused from their slumbers at 2 a. m. Saturday as a precaution when the large storage building, formerly the livery stable of the late Edward W. Taylor, located in the center of the business section of Elkton, and only a few feet in the rear of the hotel and the Elkton Banking and Trust Company building and across the street from the Cecil County Court House, was badly damaged by fire.

The fire, which was a stubborn one, started in the left of the building, owned by J. Alfred Taylor and used for the storage of automobiles. The blaze was discovered in time to remove the automobiles from the building. Damage to the structure is estimated at $2,000.

It is believed the fire was the work of a fire bug as no sooner was this fire extinguished when another alarm was sent in that the stable of Edward Shively, on Mackall street, and only a short distance from the Elkton High School, was on fire. By the time the firemen arrived there, the flames had gained such headway that the building was totally destroyed. Loss is estimated at $1,600. One horse was burned in this fire.

The alarms of both fires were said to have been sent in by an Elkton youth who was said to be drinking. This has aroused the suspicions of the police who are checking up on his movements during the evening.

SEEK MARRIAGE LICENSE BUREAU

An effort is being made to create a special marriage license bureau. A bill with this provision, said to be sponsored by members of the jitney combine in Elkton was taken to Annapolis last week and handed to Delegate John W. Bouche, who introduced it in the House.

The bill, which is said to be a move to get back at S. Ralph Andrews, clerk of the court, would also create a special bureau for the distribution of gunning and fishing licenses in Cecil county.

The Elkton office is conducted on the "fee" plan and it is said prior to the time Elkton succeeded Wilmington as a Greta Green, almost every clerk's term of office ended in a deficit to the office holder.

Of late years the increasing revenue received in the issuing of marriage licenses, has not only taken care of the clerk's yearly salary of $3,000, a deputy at $2,000, and five clerks, with several thousand dollars turned into the State treasury. The salary named in the bill is placed at $2,500.

The jitney crowd, who are on the outs with Clerk Andrews, due to his unfriendliness to their "marrying parson" endeavored some months ago to restrain him from giving information when desired by a wedding couple of the ministers who are assigned churches in the town. Testimony was taken in the case and referred to the court, which gave a decision in favor of Mr. Andrews.

AUTO THIEVES CAPTURED

A woman residing in the vicinity of Belle Hill, about a mile north of Elkton, seeing two boys throw an automobile tire into a nearby field, and a little later abandon their machine and hurrying away from it, telephoned to the sheriff's office and caused their capture.

One of the deputies in the office went to the scene near the Delaware State line and caught up with the boys. They gave their names as John Carroll and David Gallagher, each 16 years old, both of Darby, Pa.

Failing to answer satisfactorily questions asked them, they were taken to the jail in Elkton. The Chief of Police of Philadelphia was notified and a little later it was learned that the Chevrolet car had been stolen in that city. Officers came to Elkton Saturday morning and took the boys back to Philadelphia.

HISTORIC PAPERS

William Selby, executor of the will of the late Postmaster General, Andrew A. J. Croswell, of Elkton, while going over a mass of old papers at "Creswell Hall," which he now owns and occupies, found what was probably the last order of Abraham Lincoln.

It was dated April 14, 1865, the same day he was shot in Ford's Theatre, Washington, by John Wilkes Booth, the actor.

Mr. Croswell was at that time a member of the House of Representatives. He requested in a note that the President discharge a witness.

The reply order was: "Let the witness be discharged at once upon the usual terms," signed, A. Lincoln.

THE new Nash "400" not only gives you all the important 1929 refinements listed above, but gives them to you without one single cent of extra cost. All motor cars have two prices—the factory (f. o. b.) price, and the delivered price. If the delivered price includes the extras, charged for at retail prices, you'll find your car costing a lot more than you anticipate. Some dealers (not Nash dealers) charge as much as $50 or $60 for bumpers alone. On the new Nash "400" you'll find every necessary accessory... hydraulic shock absorbers... bumpers, front and rear... even tire locks... installed at the factory... included in the factory price... at no extra cost. That means a very much lower price, delivered, fully equipped. The Nash "400" leads the world in motor car value!

FEBRUARY 14, 1929

Abraham Lincoln

He grows no further from us with the years;
Rather, time draws him closer; and our tears
Well free as though 'twere yesterday he died,
Spreading a cureless sorrow nation wide.

All of the things that can be have been said:
"Fathomless eyes," "kind lips and craggy head,"
"Quaint humor," "awkward figure monstrous tall" . . .
Yet that remains which none may say at all.

The mystic in him . . . who may lend it name?
The charm of him that gave him more than fame?
Scarce human seems the person that might doubt him;
And none may read, dry eyed, ten lines about him.

—Strickland Gillilan.

The Rate Reductions

The Council of Newark has put into effect a new schedule of rates for water and electric current, which gives these essential commodities to the town at a cost as low as obtains anywhere in this section. The water rate was reduced by raising the quarterly minimum, and the rates for electricity reduced by lowering the charges per kilowatt hour.

In the discussion which led to the rate reduction, the value of these two services to the town was brought out. The town by controlling the light, power and water franchises, not only has these services at a most reasonable cost, but in addition receives a fine profit on the business. This past year the profit on water was about $7,000, and the profit on light and power, about $35,000.

To bring this double advantage to the people of Newark has meant much work and effort on the part of the Council, and particularly on the part of Councilman E. C. Wilson, who for the past eighteen years has been actively connected with this phase of the Council work. For most of this time Mr. Wilson has been chairman of the light and water committee, and has made great personal sacrifices to build these two departments to their present profitable condition.

A Musical Opportunity

The concert to be given on Monday evening next reflects a unique institution. The Curtis Institute of Music is by no means a School of Music as usually understood. The members of the Faculty are artists of international reputation. To be accepted as a pupil, one must possess marked talent and have reached an advanced stage of artistic development.

The Institute, being liberally endowed, occasionally shares its wealth of talent with communities that evidence appreciation. Newark may consider itself favored, having arranged for this concert through the Newark Music Society represented by Dr. Ryden, its President.

The Curtis Institute not only lends its artists,—it even sends its own piano and furnishes the programs. It is the privilege of all in Newark who enjoy the best music to share in the opportunity afford. Whether or not we shall have another opportunity rests solely with us. If we display appreciation by our attendance, we are promised future evenings of music. Otherwise, and most properly, the Curtis Institute will confine itself to communities that care to profit by its efforts.

Women's College Notes

At a meeting of the French Club held last week, Kathryn Hubert was elected president to finish out the unexpired term of Mildred Phillips, who resigned that position when she transferred to Radcliffe after the mid-year examinations. Sibyl Young was elected secretary after that office was made vacant by Miss Hubert's election to the presidency.

A rare and valuable collection of Japanese prints was exhibited in the gallery of the Library last week. The collection was sent by the American Federation of Art and included pieces from the most famous of Japanese artists. The classes in Art Appreciation availed themselves of the opportunity to study these prints under the supervision of their instructors.

At a Freshman Class meeting held on Thursday, Phoebe Steel was elected president. The former president, Louisa Smoot, has left college. A meeting will be held soon to elect some one to the vice-presidency, which office was formerly held by Miss Steel.

Several members of the student body attended the mid-winter conference of the Y. W. C. A. held at Western Maryland College last week. Ethel Merritt was chairman of the conference. The delegation from W. C. D., made up of cabinet members, members at large from the association, and from the student body, included the following: Edith Passmore, Carrie Atkinson, Jeanette Rust, Kathryn Poinsett, Katherine Kesseling, Marian Hayman, Mildred Horrocks, and Adeline Downes.

Adeline Downes entertained at a bridge party one evening last week.

Her guests included: Eleanor Edge, Ethel Merritt, Anne Nutter, Charlotte Rambo, Agatha Hagen, Anne Walker, Margaret Middleton, Katherine Ralph, Carrie Atkinson, Pat Thornley, and Ann Barclay.

Estelle Wheelless entertained at bridge at her home on Saturday afternoon. Those present were: Eleanor Edge, Marian Reese, Marian Morris, Elizabeth Beatty, Molly Ellis, and Dorothy Sharpless.

On Thursday of last week, Dr. Lonne, of the American Association of University Women, was a visitor on campus.

The annual banquet of the Women's College Alumnae Association will be held on February 23.

The Glee Club has started meeting twice a week. Beginning this week, all rehearsals, up until the time of the concert, March 8, are being held in Wolf Hall.

On Monday, the Home Economics students went to Wilmington on a shopping tour. A bus left college at 8:00 a. m. and brought the students back in time for their classes at 11:00.

Ann Walker, Lucie Hickman, and Jean Fullerton saw the production of "White Lilacs" at the Shubert Playhouse on Saturday.

Anne Nutter was at her home in Philadelphia over the week-end.

Miss Beatrice Hartshorn, director of physical education, has started a new dancing class. Those who have joined are: Mildred Forman, Marian McCabe, Eunice Lowe, Cecilia Maliszewski, Roslyn Cohen, Elizabeth McGovern, Sarah Goldstein, and Charlotte Hanby.

At a recent meeting of the Faculty Board, the request of the Sophomore Class to be permitted eight over-nights per semester, was granted. The Sophomores have, up to the present time, been allowed only six over-nights each semester, the same number allotted to the freshmen. For the past four years, the sophomore class has petitioned for the additional two over-nights, but until now has been unsuccessful in attaining them.

The beginning of the new semester also means the beginning of practice teaching for many of the Seniors. Each girl is required to observe for several weeks either in High School or Junior High School before she does any actual practice work. Those enrolled in the course for this semester are: Hedwig Bukowski, Alice Carey, Sarah Crossan, Elizabeth Erickson, Kathryn Hubert, Hazel Kimble, Caroline Lewis, Evelyn Long, Pearl Lynch, Jeanette Mackie, Alice Rawson, Rebecca Hobson, Marian Reese, Alice Sparks, Helen Stayton, and Estelle Wheelless.

Miss Elsie Beebe, of William and Mary College, was the guest of Helen Stayton over the week-end. She attended the Delaware College Junior Prom on Friday night.

Edith Nunn was recently elected editor-in-chief of "Pambo." At a joint meeting of the sophomores and juniors, Theresa Tehan was elected editor of the "Blue and Gold," Ann Barclay was elected assistant editor, and Martha Stone, business manager, with Helen Swain as her assistant.

The annual Valentine Dance of Women's College will be held in the Commons on Saturday evening. Shorter's Orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

its part in preserving democracy. He spoke of the Legion as rising out of the clouds of war like the coming of the sun on a cloudy morning. He continued that the Legion would rise to full noon-time strength and vigor and then finally descend and disappear into the west. He said that the strength of the Legion lay in the individual Legionnaire, that each had a talent for constructive work, and that it was up to every member of the Legion to make the American Legion the brightest sun which shone on the soil of the United States. Commander Matthews concluded by saying that the Women's Auxiliary could do work which was beyond the talents of men, and urged that an organization be formed in Newark.

In introducing the next speaker, Mrs. C. M. Dillon, past state president of the Auxiliary, Professor Brinser said that every humanitarian impulse in history had been started by a woman.

Mrs. Dillon, in a very able address, told how the first American Legion Convention was confronted with problems which it could not solve, and how an investigating committee reported that it would be necessary to call in the wives, mothers and sisters of the Legionnaires to work these problems out. She said that since then the Auxiliary has worked on a 50-50 helpmate basis with the Legion, doing work where a woman's hand was more effective than a man's.

Mrs. Dillon said that while there were evil influences at work in America, she had no fear of any isms while the Americanism of the Legion and the Auxiliary was in effect. In citing woman's part in the war, Mrs. Dillon stated that 4,000 women were hospitalized at present because of the war. She spoke of the international scope of the American Legion Auxiliary through its affiliation with the Fidae Auxiliary, the international veteran's organization, and then cited cases with which the Delaware Auxiliary posts have to deal. Mrs. Dillon said she hoped that there would be an Auxiliary formed in Newark.

Mrs. H. C. McSherry, state president of the Delaware Auxiliary, then outlined the work of the Auxiliary, and said that its greatest work was in the care of disabled veterans, of which there are now 25,000 in government hospitals. She said the Auxiliary annually spent $500,000 in this work. She spoke particularly of the hospital at Perry's Point, Maryland, and urged that those present visit one of the Sunday entertainments there.

Mrs. McSherry also stressed the work done by the Auxiliary in providing for the children and wives of dead or disabled service men. She said that the Legion was now sponsoring a bill in the State Legislature whereby the higher education of children of dead veterans would be taken care of. Mrs. McSherry stated that along with work directly connected with the Legion, Auxiliary units also did much in the way of community improvement. She concluded by stating that all that was required to start an Auxiliary to a post was ten members, and that she was anxious to see one organized in Newark.

Mrs. William N. Cann, state Auxiliary organizer offered help in organizing a Newark Auxiliary.

Captain C. M. Dillon, of Wilmington, said that when the Legion goes out, no other organization can take its place, and that while the Legion is here its various units should stick together. He said, that in his estimation, 80 per cent of the success of the work of the Legion was due to the efforts of the Auxiliary.

Major I. S. B. Dunan, chairman of the state membership committee, was introduced as the man directly responsible for the reviving of the Newark Post. Major Dunan spoke quite feelingly of Lieutenant O'Daniel, and said that he was one of the last to shake hands with Lieutenant O'Daniel when he left a southern camp for the flying service.

Major Dunan said that he had been active in the Delaware Legion since 1919 and had been through its ups and downs. He stated that any post commander felt a relief when an Auxiliary was formed in his post and that the success of the post depended largely on the activities of the Auxiliary. He said that he recalled hearing the National Commander talk of the rich heritage of the Legion, and that the Auxiliary had a heritage just as rich. He said that the hardships and privations of the soldiers were less hard to bear than the worry and heartache an loneliness of the women who were left over here. He proposed to the eligible women of Newark that they form an Auxiliary, and said that five members of his family were in the New Castle Post Auxiliary.

Professor Brinser then, on behalf of the Newark Legion Post, presented Past Commander Little with a past commander's pin as a token of esteem and of appreciation of his work at the head of the post during its first year. Mr. Little made a graceful speech of acceptance.

Before the guests left the banquet room, Miss Nell Wilson, the aunt of Lieutenant O'Daniel, was presented. After the dinner there was dancing and cards. Chalmers' Revelers provided music during the dinner and for the dancing.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. William E. Matthews, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carey, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McSherry, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Cann, Major and Mrs. I. S. B. Dunan and Captain and Mrs. Clarence Dillon.

MILFORD CROSS ROADS SCHOOL

Next Wednesday evening, February 20, will be another red letter date on the Milford Crossroads School calendar, for on that night, at 8 o'clock, the regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held.

Mrs. E. Edwin Guthrie and Mrs. Ambrose Cameron are arranging a play. From past experience, we know that these ladies will present something most worth while.

Then there will come the strum-strum of a ukelele and singing. For Mrs. Thomas A. Ross, of Newark, and her brother, John Wooleyhan, will give a surprise song skit.

The pupils of the school will present songs, recitations, a play, "Choosing a Teacher," besides a debate given by the fifth and sixth grade children. The children have selected for friendly argument the following question: "Resolved, that the Tractor Will Replace the Horse."

Now, mark down the date on your calendar, February 20, and be sure to be at Milford Crossroads School P. T. A. when the roll is called.

Student Participation in Government.—The school has just begun to have actual student participation in government. The children have selected their president, Esther Greer, of the sixth grade. She, in turn, has appointed her cabinet, one from each division: Charles Greer, Edwin Guthrie, Hazel Johnston, Delaware Reed, Mildred Reed and Phoebe Gray. The pupils have not stopped with appointments, but are actually helping with the administration of the school. They are most happy in their work as student helpers.

Health Crusade.—Thirty-one of the children have completed the full twelve week course of the Health Crusade. The following children will receive the squire's badge: Ethel Gray, Charles Nelson, Norman Reed, Kathleen Starkey, Carolyn Guthrie, William Kwiatkowski, Betty Hollingsworth, Paul Nelson, James Kennedy, Raymond Gray, Agnes Kwiatkowski.

READ JOHNSON'S LINCOLN ADDRESS TO STUDENTS

On Tuesday the Newark Schools held commemorative exercises in observance of Abraham Lincoln's birthday. One of the features of the assembly was reading of Everett C. Johnson's famous appreciation of Lincoln, which was first delivered before the General Assembly of Delaware on February 12, 1911. Mr. Meloy of the faculty read the address with a great deal of feeling. Superintendent Brinser spoke on Lincoln and Johnson, telling how Mr. Johnson's appreciation of Lincoln had shown in his work in the State and in the community. James Stoll gave a talk on "The Life of Lincoln," and Donald Harris spoke on "Lincoln's Place in the World's History."

This morning through the courtesy of Dr. E. B. Crooks, of the University of Delaware, Lofton S. Wesley, executive secretary of the Inter-collegiate Prohibition Association, of Washington, D. C., addressed the students in the senior and junior classes on "International Prohibition." The main point of Mr. Wesley's talk was that alcohol would not co-ordinate properly with the modern highly complex social order.

CARD PARTY

Orpah Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold a card party, 500 and bridge, Tuesday, February 19, at 8:30 p. m., in the Odd Fellows' Hall.

There are many reasons for the ease of steering the new Ford

The new Ford is exceptionally easy to steer because of the well-proportioned weight of the car, the steel-spoke wheels, the co-ordinated design of springs and shock absorbers, the size and design of the steering wheel, and the simple mechanical construction of the steering gear.

The Ford steering gear is of the worm and sector type used on high-priced cars and is three-quarter irreversible.

In simple, non-technical language, this means that the car responds easily and quickly to the steering wheel, yet there is no danger of the wheel being jerked from the hands of the driver by ruts or bumps in the road. A light touch guides the car, yet you always have that necessary feel-of-the-road so essential to good driving.

Strength of materials and careful workmanship give unusual stability to the Ford steering gear and housing.

The steering worm, for instance, is splined to the steering worm shaft and is stronger, of course, than if a single key were used to hold the shaft and worm together. The steering worm sector is forged and machined in the same piece with its shaft.

The housing of the steering gear mechanism is made of three steel forgings, electrically welded together. This housing is then electrically welded to the steering column. Such a one-piece steel unit is naturally much sturdier than if several parts were used and bolted or riveted together.

Throughout, the new Ford steering mechanism is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires practically no attention.

The only thing for you to do is to have the front steering spindles, spindle connecting rods, and drag link lubricated every 500 miles and the steering gear lubricated every 2000 miles.

For this work, you will find it best to consult the Ford dealer. He has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use from your car over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

DELAWARE BEATS SWARTHMORE

Revamped Blue And Gold Five; Downs Little Quaker, 19-16, In Extra Period Game

Coach Rothrock, of the University of Delaware, put a revamped basketball team on the floor Saturday night, which not only came from behind to tie the score with Swarthmore at the end of the second half of the game, but put over a hard push in an extra five minute period to win by the comfortable margin of 19 to 16.

Due to an academic casualty, Barton, regular guard was not in the line-up and his place was taken by Orth, a freshman. In the middle of the first half "Ace" Taylor made his first appearance on the basketball court for Delaware this season, going in for Roger Holt. Both Orth and Taylor played fine games.

At the end of the half Swarthmore led 11 to 5, but in the second half, Delaware clearly outplayed the Little Quakers and at the final whistle the score stood 15 to 15. In the extra period both Hill and Roman scored on field goals, while all Swarthmore could do was get one free throw.

The feature of the game was the close guarding of both teams, which kept the scores down. The strength of the Delaware defense is shown in the fact that the Swarthmore forwards only accounted for one field goal. Hill, of Delaware, and Burr, of Swarthmore, were the sharpshooting stars of the game, each making 10 points. Delaware's foul average was bad, 3 out of 15 tries.

In a preliminary game the Swarthmore junior varsity beat the Delaware jay vees, 21 to 17. Score:

Slump In First Half Gives Chester Team Big Lead

The University of Delaware basketball team was off form Tuesday night, and took rather a bad beating from the Pennsylvania Military College five, in a game played in Chester. The final score was 41 to 27.

The Blue and Gold had trouble getting started and the first half ended 24 to 5 in P. M. C.'s favor. Delaware rallied in the second half, but not enough to offset the handicap of the first period. Brennan, P. M. C. center, was the star of the game with 17 tallies, while LeCarpentier, of Delaware, stood second in the list with 9 points.

Friday the University five will meet Susquehanna, here. On Saturday afternoon, the Delaware swimming team will reach the hardest point in its schedule when it takes on Lafayette, here. The Delaware fencing team will cross foils with Lehigh, here, Saturday afternoon. Score:

Delaware had only one entry in the fancy diving, Sortman, but he won the event.

NEWARK MUFFS TITLE CHANCE

Loses Deciding D. I. A. A. Games To New Castle; Boys' Game Lost By One Point; Girls Lose, 35 To 10

Newark lost its last hope for a D. I. A. A. basketball title this year, when it lost to New Castle, last Friday night, here. New Castle won both the boys' and girls' games and clinched the Northern D. I. A. A. titles. Had Newark won the teams would have been tied for first place.

The New Castle girls took their game with little trouble, winning 35 to 10, but the boys' game was the fastest exhibition played in the Newark Armory this season, with the final score, 18 to 17.

The Newark boys had an edge on New Castle in the first half and closed it with a two point lead, 11 to 9. New Castle rallied in the second period and tied the score at 16. As the game drew to a close it appeared that it would finish all even until Lyman scooped up a Newark fumble in the middle of the court and flung it in the basket, for what made the winning score. A minute later "Winnie" Mayer caged a foul for Newark, and the whistle blew, giving New Castle the game by one point. Holloway, Newark forward, with 9 points, was the scoring star of the game.

The Newark boys were slow in starting and at the end of the first half the score stood 13 to 9 in favor of Tome. However, in the second half the Newark offense began to find the basket and ran up 13 points. Tome made only 7 points in the second half. Holloway led in the scoring with 12 tallies. CHRYSLER MODELS CUSTOM BUILT

CHRYSLER DISPLAYS 53 BODY STYLES

Chrysler comes into 1929 with a line of passenger and commercial cars that have achieved the most imposing success of any product it has ever built. Their phenomenal records in sales, performance and reception by the public have surpassed all previous marks, states Mr. Harry Matchner of the Cranston Heights Garage, local representative.

Chrysler production, ever since its new car announcements which started last July, has been the greatest in its history. Its officials say that more public interest has been manifest in the authoritative beauty, design, performance and other features of this year's Chrysler-built cars than at any time heretofore.

It is universally predicted throughout the industry that Chrysler, during 1929, will enjoy by far the greatest public demand in its phenomenal career. From 600,000 to 700,000 cars will need to be built, Walter P. Chrysler believes, to fulfill requirements.

To meet this demand, Chrysler's 1929 line of cars includes "a type and price to fit every motoring need." Fifty-three body styles, including eleven custom-built creations for its new Imperial and "75" are offered on seven different passenger car chassis, covering the entire motor car market, in addition to two lines of Fargo and 42 different chassis types of Dodge commercial cars.

Body styles of each line of this vast array of Chrysler-built cars are on display at the Automobile Show. They are the cars, plus the additions made in 1928, that have brought Chrysler in successive sensational advances in the last five years to the enviable position the public has bestowed upon it.

"The inbuilt value found in each of these body styles and chassis types reflects at first glance the vast advantages that have accrued both to Chrysler and to Dodge Brothers through their union into one company," J. E. Fields, vice-president in charge of all Chrysler Corporation sales, said yesterday.

"The combined engineering, designing, manufacturing, purchasing and marketing ability of the two organizations has already given the public greater value in all Chrysler-built products. The success that all cars in every line enjoyed in the latter months of 1928, and will enjoy in even greater measure in 1929, is evidence that the public already appreciates these greater values."

TO PRINT AND MAIL 100,000 CIRCULARS

Contract for 100,000 folders, twelve by eighteen inches, was closed last week between Cann Brothers and Kindig, printers of Twelfth and Washington streets, Wilmington, and a local concern. The job, a two-color process, is scheduled to be completed in two weeks. The circulars, which will be thrice folded, will also be mailed from Wilmington to all parts of the country.

In addition to this order, this firm has received the job for printing 25,000 letterheads in two colors for a Philadelphia concern. Besides, the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce

BRANDYWINE SPAN NEAR COMPLETION

The new Market street bridge over the Brandywine river, one of the most important improvements made to Wilmington's streets during the year, is rapidly nearing completion. Saturday the last girder will be placed in position.

The steel workers of the Phoenix Bridge Works Company will be entirely finished with all steel work by the end of the week. As soon as the steel work is completed the forms for the concrete will be placed.

It will take at least a month to finish the bridge. When it is done there will be two trolley tracks in the center, ample space for two lines of traffic on each side of the bridge, exclusive of the trolley tracks, wide walks, and on the south side to the west of the approach provisions are being made for the installation of a public rest room.

As the bridge is placed traffic from the bridge, traveling south, can either go down Market street or King street.

Similarly traffic going north can go the bridge easily by either King or Market street.

The bridge is being constructed under the direction of the City and County Engineer, Charles Grubb. It is supposed to be completed by February 28, according to the tension of time recently granted. The bridge is being built by the Erick Snare Corporation in lieu of a penalty of $100 a day. The bridge cost about $400,000.

has awarded it the contract to mimeograph 500 thirty-page books, profusely illustrated with half-tones showing various sections of the city. The plant is operating at capacity with both day and night shifts working. Because of the latter system, prompt service is available at no extra cost.

OCTOGENARIAN BUYS PERFECTION CHICKS

H. L. Watson, president of the Perfection Incubator Company, at the foot of Orange street, Wilmington, received an interesting letter from R. J. Place, aged 87 years, of near Syracuse, N. Y., ordering 600 chicks, a ventilator and brooder. Mr. Place, who is a world traveler, and widely known, was an interested spectator at the local concern's exhibition at the New York Poultry Show. He was so fascinated by the cleverly-built brooder, that he made a special trip to Wilmington to learn more about it.

Mr. Place arrived in Wilmington the week before last and was shown through the Perfection's plant by Mr. Watson. He spent the greater part of the day in Wilmington, and before leaving ordered some chicks. The letter brought in a subsequent order.
