INCENDIARY CHARGED

NEWARK INN MANAGEMENT CAUSES ARREST

SQUIRE LOVETT HEARS CASE OF FIRE BUG

On a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Mary E. McGovern, proprietor of the Newark Inn, Sam Clark was arrested and given a trial before Squire Lovett on the charge of being responsible for the recent fires at the Inn. Mrs. McGovern made the charge after she had heard the confession of Zelma Wright, a negro who was employed by her at the time the fires occurred. Following the preliminary hearing before the local magistrate, the negro was confined to the lockup, and has since been transferred to the New Castle workhouse.

It appears from the evidence that Mrs. McGovern questioned the Wright girl last Friday morning and succeeded in getting the confession that she had set fire to the kindling placed in the cellar under the eaves at the urging of Clark, who promised to give her two dollars for setting the match. The girl's account leads to the belief that Clark used her in more than one of the fires, and touched the match to the others himself. On August 2 Clark is alleged to have had the negro between Richard's store and Kilman's restaurant, and to have asked her to "light the fire if I get it all ready." At first she refused to do so, according to her own testimony. But after the man had pleaded with her she consented.

Afterwards, on August 4th, the first fire occurred in the local restaurant. Clark who had previously had access to the house, is believed to have entered during the absence of the guests and proprietors and built the kindling, inasmuch as Zelma Wright testified that he asked her of the whereabouts of the occupants of the building before he acted. He asked the girl if Mrs. McGovern was away, and then, it is believed, since he was acquainted with the habits of the guests to leave the house for a short time in the evening, he entered at that time.

It is understood that the negro had a supposed grievance against the proprietors of the local inn, and had several times proved an annoying nuisance around the place. Mysterious circumstances lead to the belief that other crimes may be traced to the man.

It is also believed that the threatening letter received by Mrs. McGovern directly preceding the outbreak of the fire menace, was sent by Clark. In fact his connection with each fire is being traced now through the confession of the girl.

It is alleged that in addition to setting the building on fire, or causing them to be set off, a forced entry was necessary in one case, the fire which broke out in the room occupied by Mr. Bert Emerson on August 24th.

When Squire Lovett asked the witness if "this man asked you to set the place on fire," the girl gave the magistrate the same story which she had previously related to Mrs. McGovern.

In the absence of counsel, Attorney Cann was appointed to defend the negro. In the meantime, the insurance company has had the case in hand, and as Mrs. McGovern has given every assistance possible, it is believed a successful conclusion will be reached.

Hamilton Named Workhouse Trustee

Joseph S. Hamilton was appointed Resident Judge Herbert L. Rice Friday as a member of the trustees of the New Castle County Workhouse to succeed William Coyne, resigned. Mr. Hamilton is a well known contractor of Wilmington.

Mr. Coyne resigned some time ago because of the pressure of his duties with the duPont Company, of which he is a vice-president.

Contractor Lovett Busy

Forrest W. Lovett has just been awarded the contract for resurfacing Elton Road, Delaware Avenue and Academy Street for Newark.

The town of Smyrna, where Lovett made a hit in road construction, has given him another contract for road extension. He is also doing work on Maryland roads in Cecil county.

ADMIT TEN FOR GRADUATE WORK

UNIVERSITY FACULTY MAKE SELECTIONS

University of Delaware faculty at a meeting Monday admitted ten to the University for graduate work to study for their masters' degree. This is the largest number ever admitted in any one year for graduate work. All ten of those admitted are either graduates of the University or members of the faculty who desire to continue their studies in some particular subject. Those admitted and the subjects in which they will specialize are as follows:

J. Harold Clark graduate of Purdue University, 1921, horticulture; Joseph S. Wilson, graduate of the University of Delaware, 1921, animal husbandry; F. Allyn Cooch, University of Delaware, 1921, animal husbandry; Raymond M. Upton, Massachusetts Agricultural College, 1915, education; Claude E. Phillips, University of Delaware, 1921, plant pathology; Charles R. Runk, Ohio State University, 1919, agronomy; Arthur E. Tomhave, Pennsylvania State College, 1921, animal husbandry; Roy Milton Koon, Pennsylvania State College, 1914, plant pathology; John Francis McWhorter, University of Delaware, 1921, chemistry; James Harold Kohlerman, University of Delaware, 1921, chemistry.

PLAN PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION CAMPAIGN

Etta Wilson of Newark Heads Drive

Program committees of the various parent-teacher associations throughout the State have received the first pamphlets issued this year. These urge the importance of school libraries and make various suggestions for interesting parents and friends of the schools in providing a collection of books for every school house.

Miss Etta J. Wilson, executive secretary of the state organization, states in a Wilmington press report that a drive for additional parent-teacher associations will take place in November. On October 25, pamphlets containing plans for such a drive will be mailed to the secretaries of all branches for general distribution among the members who attend the meetings.

BIG HOLLOWE'EN PARADE PLANNED AT ELKTON

Largest Celebration Elkton and Vicinity Has Ever Witnessed

Newark Invited to Take Part

An enthusiastic meeting of the young men of Elkton and vicinity was held last evening in Elkton to form plans for a Hollowe'en parade to be held on Saturday evening, October 29, at 7.30. Spurred on by the support that was rendered by the merchants and citizens, they formed a committee to plan the largest parade ever witnessed in Elkton.

Prizes will be awarded to the entrants in the different divisions, including comic, fancy, juvenile, automobile, floats, and other divisions. It is the aim of the committee to offer larger and better prizes than last year.

The committees follow: Chairman, Wm. Feeley; Treasurer, Herman Messick; Secretary, Sidney Lipman. Finances, John McCool, chairman. Prizes, Henry Mitchell. Publicity, Harry H. Cleaves, John F. Sparklin. Arrangements, H. W. Lewis. Music, Serg. Roy Perkins, S. Dumbur, V. Davis. Registration, Sidney Lipman. Lights, Walter DuBotse, Calvin Fox, Howard Truman. Fireworks, J. B. Decker, C. R. Creswell, H. Palmer, John Berkley.

After the parade a mask ball will be held at the Armory, at a special price of $1 a couple. Tickets for the dance will be put on sale in a few days.

Newark is invited to participate in the celebration and we are sure the younger Newarkers will greet this news with pleasure, judging from the crowds attending from here last year.

"HOME" FOR NEWARK

LOCAL CAPITAL ORGANIZES COMPANY

INTERESTING STORE TO OPEN NEXT WEDNESDAY

Home is a big word. Many there are that give it first position. "Back Home," "Down Home" or just Home—no artist has ever depicted it nor author described it. Home can't be described—it just is to feel and know. A big word, yet Home is the slogan of the new drug store to be opened in the Opera House building on Main Street next Wednesday.

As announced a few weeks ago, Newark is to have a new business that promises to be one of the show places of the town. And not merely a show place but a Public Service Station, patterned on Home, the best service station in the world.

The Home Drug Company, Incorporated, is the name, registered under the Delaware Law. James C. Hastings has been made president, N. N. Wright vice-president, and N. L. Hastings secretary and treasurer. These men are all known and their very names assures service and success.

James Hastings, better known as "Jim," was a college man a few years ago but it never affected his genial good nature. He is a cheer leader, hustler, singer and gentleman at large. No more popular boy ever walked under the Lindens. Newark knows him and welcomes him. Glad he is going to settle here and in the long years to come will bury him—but that's another story. His long experience in the drug business—then in the Army he was Staff Officer and while at Camp Dix had charge of the Government Canteen which did a land office business of $2000 a day for months—all fit him for this business.

A Post representative visited the store yesterday and found a real "Home" store being made. There are some interesting features that will attract.

First and foremost, the public will be interested in the drug department. Not from choice but necessity, perhaps, the Prescription is a very careful consideration. This department will have as manager Mr. J. C.

DELAWARE SOLDIER AT FUNERAL OF UNKNOWN

Governor Denney to Appoint Representative as Official Mourner

Delaware will be represented at the burial of America's unknown soldier in Arlington Cemetery on Armistice Day by a delegation including one official representative for the 10,000 men and women of the state who participated in the World War and representatives of each of the veterans associations.

Plans announced by the War Department class these representatives as official mourners. The Governor of each state has been asked to select one representative for each 10,000 service men and women in his respective state. Governor Denney will make the selection for Delaware.

A representative from the American Legion and one member of each of the other permanent war veterans' societies have been invited. Each patriotic society is asked to choose a representative, with the suggestion that such representatives should have served in the armed forces at some time.

Ditched Cars on Elkton Road

The third car in a few weeks was ditched Monday night on Elkton road near Murray's farm due to a road condition that could be remedied in a few minutes. This time it was a big Pierce Arrow from Pennsylvania.

Win Scholarships

Two scholarships were awarded Monday by the Faculty at the University of Delaware.

Herbert Lank of Seaford, a freshman, was awarded the Harvard-Princeton-Yale scholarship, worth $100 for this year.

The scholarship of the Sons of Delaware Society of Philadelphia, worth $300 was awarded to C. Norman Wade, a junior of Wilmington.

BALL NAMES WALKER TO FEDERAL JOB

ASSUMES DUTIES AT ONCE

Shock of Collision Kills Woman

State Senator John M. Walker, of Hockessin, has been named a member of a commission to appraise the value of Center Market, Washington, D. C., on recommendation of Senator L. Heisler Ball. The appraisal was provided for in a bill passed by Congress some time ago. The federal government is to take over the property. There are to be three commissioners.

A Coroner's jury decided that Mrs. Annie E. Adair, 70 years, of No. 2403 West Second Street, Wilmington, died from heart trouble resulting from the excitement of an automobile collision.

Mrs. Adair was riding on the North East-Turkey Point road in a truck driven by her son, Alfred, when it hit a car driven by Mrs. Elizabeth T. Megill, of Glenolden, Pa., on a steep hill. Neither car was badly damaged but Mrs. Adair became very much excited and swooned. She was hurried to North East, and Dr. Collins attended her but she died in a few minutes. On Sunday evening, a stranger was arrested for the offense. Great excitement prevailed for some time but from lack of sufficient evidence he was released.

STATE UNIVERSITY ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Dean E. Laurence Smith and Prof. G. E. Dutton Re-elected Members

Dean E. Laurence Smith and Prof. George E. Dutton were re-elected faculty members of the Athletic Council of the University of Delaware at a meeting of the faculty Monday afternoon. Dean Smith has been a member of the council since it was first organized some years ago and has been president most of the time. Professor Dutton has represented the faculty on the council for several years. Both of these men have taken a keen interest in athletic activities at the University for years and both are graduates of the University. They were re-elected without opposition.

J. Pearce Cann of Newark and Alexander P. Crothers of Wilmington are the alumni members of the council. It is composed of seven members, the other three being students representing the senior, junior and sophomore classes. The council has complete control over all athletic activities of the University.

ROAD TO NEWARK OPEN TO TRAFFIC

"To Be Finished When It's Done" is Forecast

The Lincoln highway loop from Wilmington to Newark was opened to traffic on Saturday, and it is not necessary now to detour by way of Orletown. The highway is not finished between the Little farm and Newark, however, and will not be until some time early next year. Already the twelve-mile highway between Wilmington and Newark has been under construction five years and is far from finished. This sets the record for road construction. War delays, material delays, laws delays, lawyers' delays, stubborn delays, political delays make this the most "cussed" road in Delaware. Those responsible—some are to be pitied and some damned. The County Engineer has our sympathy. He has the patience of a Job and the endurance of a real Road Engineer.

L. Irving Handy Better

Newark will be glad to learn of the recovery of L. Irving Handy, a former resident here. He was a Wilmington visitor on Monday where he was greeted by friends. He has been ill for some time and last week his condition was reported as serious—but like Mark Twain said, when reported dead, the story was greatly exaggerated.

TAX COMMISSION APPOINTED

COL. SPARKS OF WILMINGTON NAMED CHIEF

ASSUME DUTIES NOVEMBER 1st

On Thursday last, Governor Denney in compliance with the law passed by the recent General Assembly, appointed Colonel George W. Sparks as State Tax Commissioner. On the following day Colonel Sparks announced his staff as follows:

Charles Sherburne Rice, Wilmington, assistant tax commissioner. Dr. William R. Messick, Lewes, deputy collector of income tax. Harry I. Gillis, Wilmington, deputy collector of corporation tax. John T. Magee, Wilmington, field clerk for New Castle county. A. A. Watson, Dover, field clerk for Kent and Sussex counties.

Commissioner Sparks stated that he had not named any clerks nor would he for some time. The new board will open office within a few days at No. 2 East Ninth Street in Wilmington Savings Fund Building, Colonel Sparks announced. The new law becomes effective November 1.

Mr. Rice, who is named as assistant tax commissioner, resides at 411 West Twenty-second Street, Wilmington, and is a brother of Resident Judge Herbert L. Rice. He served several years as clerk of the Wilmington Municipal Court and served two terms as collector of taxes for the Northern District of Wilmington. He is an expert auditor.

Dr. Messick, who will have charge of the income tax department, served as State cannery inspector, and is a Federal appraiser of drugs and chemicals at the collector of port's office in Philadelphia.

Harry I. Gillis, deputy in charge of the corporation tax department, is at present deputy county treasurer and was for twelve years a magistrate. He resides at 219 West Eighteenth Street.

Mr. Magee who has been named field agent for New Castle county lives at 508 South Heald Street, and has been associated with State Treasurer Fisher in collecting the State income tax for the past year.

A. A. Watson, of Dover, was deputy State Auditor under State Auditor Theodore Townsend, and has served the Legislature in a clerical capacity.

Dr. Messick and Mr. Gillis, the two deputies, will receive a salary of not more than $3000 yearly. The salaries of all appointees of the Tax Commissioner shall be fixed by the Tax Board which consists of the Secretary of State, the State Auditor and the State Tax Commissioner. The section of the law relating to the fixing of salaries by this board reads as follows:

"The Tax Board shall fix the salaries of all appointees of the Tax Commissioner, provided, however, that the salary of the personal income tax Deputy shall not exceed $3000 per annum, the salary of the corporation tax deputy shall not exceed $3000 per annum, and provided that the salary of no other appointee shall exceed $3000 per annum, and that the total of all salaries shall in no case exceed the amounts appropriated therefor by the Legislature. The quorum for the transaction of business of the Tax Board shall be any two members including the Tax Commissioner."

Killed by Train

Mrs. Elmer Thompson is in Oxford where she was hurriedly called to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law, Frank Lyons who was accidentally killed by a train on Monday.

OBITUARY

William H. Brannan

William H. Brannan, husband of the late Frances Brannan, age 71 years, died at the home of his son-in-law, Harvey F. Lee, in Strickersville, on Saturday, October 1st.

Funeral services were held at his late residence today at one o'clock, and interment made in Lower Brandywine Cemetery, near Centerville, Delaware.

Mr. Brannan is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Harvey F. Lee. (Continued on Page Four.)

NATIONAL EVENTS

Observations and Comments written for The Post

Only Four Delegates Will Represent this Country At the Arms Conference

Although it is understood that other countries invited to the Conference on Limitation of Armaments will probably name six or more delegates, President Harding has decided that four men will adequately handle all the work demanded of representatives of the United States. The four members of the Conference to represent us will be Secretary of State Hughes, Senators Lodge and Underwood, and Elihu Root.

Our representatives have already been conferring on some of the problems they expect to deal with at the conference, but have had no formal meetings. Mr. Root's presence in Washington this week will make possible immediate meetings of the American delegation.

Japan has officially appointed her delegates. Great Britain, France, Italy, and China are still to be heard from as to the personnel of their delegations.

American Army on the Rhine Has Cost $260,000,000

The high cost of maintaining the army of occupation in Germany has become a problem for the Allies. At a financial conference soon to be held in Brussels it is understood that the United States will be represented when measures for reducing the total cost of all armies in German occupied territory are discussed.

Germany is not inclined to meet the cost of maintenance above her first indemnity payment, which she claims covered her full responsibility. The United States is still unpaid for the $260,000,000 which the American army in Germany has cost to date, and how she is to be paid is another vital question to be discussed at Brussels. The United States will be represented at Brussels by General Henry T. Allen, Commander of the American Army in Germany, and Roland W. Bayden, American representative with the Reparations Commission.

The Sales Tax Grows in Favor

As was expected from the intention expressed while the Senate Finance Committee was wrestling with the tax bill, Senator Smoot of Utah has introduced a separate bill calling for a sales tax on manufactured articles. The bill would repeal all special war taxes, retain the 10 per cent income tax on corporations and the present individual income tax rates, and tobacco, liquor and inheritance taxes.

The manufacturer's sales tax on articles as finally finished for consumption or use is the one feature of his bill which seems to be gaining popular interest and support free from any partisan bias in regard to the various tax bills. Senator Smoot explains the simplicity of this method of raising revenue:

"There will be but one tax. If a commodity is sold for consumption or use in a further process of manufacture no tax will be imposed.

"In order to avoid administrative difficulties with small sales the bill provides for an exemption of all sales of less than $5,000 during one year. This will exclude about 1 per cent of the manufactured goods in the country, according to the census of manufacturers. It will practically exempt all the agricultural products, since the average value of products of farms for this year has been estimated by the Department of Agriculture as between $1,000 and $2,000, but as most agricultural products would find their way into manufactured products, they would be exempt any way under the definition of the tax.

"Provision is made for a like tax upon similar imported commodities, so that there can be no discrimination against American products.

Estimates Yield at Billion

"The yield of this tax has been carefully estimated and approved by one of the foremost economists in the country, Professor Charles J. Bullock, of Harvard, to produce during the calendar year 1922, $759,756,000. Conservatism has been exercised throughout this estimate. The yield will undoubtedly be close to $1,000,000,000, but the figure given is more than ample to provide the revenue which will be lost by the repeals which I propose."

Making Jobs for Millions of Men

Even in times of normal prosperity there are many people unemployed. Some of these do not want work, but there are plenty of others who through no fault of their own are temporarily unable to find work they can do. Substitution of machines for hand labor, change in the character of industries in a community, fire and flood disasters, and physical limitations of the workers are causes which throw men out of work at all times, and often mean long hardship and wide search before satisfactory re-employment can be found. It used to be popular to disregard all of these conditions and treat every man out of work as more or less worthless. The uninformed but comfortable philosophy that anybody who was any good could find work if he wanted it, has prevented the working out, long ago, of adequate methods for the distribution and adjustment to conditions of all available and desirable labor.

The war forced attention to employment problems as both a national and a local issue. It was necessary that every man should work or fight, and the co-operation of federal and local governmental and private agencies for the patriotic purpose of winning the war, led to a better understanding than ever before of the general employment situation. It was only the few who had to be forced to work. The greatest part of the war task was bringing the man and the job together with economic benefit to both.

The peace time task before the government at Washington and the country at large, today, is the same problem, plus the necessity of making jobs. To overcome the results of industrial depression and provide work for 4,000,000 men, the same program is being followed as was followed for the war emergency. A National Conference on Unemployment has been called by the President. The Conference met at Washington on September 26th for the construction of a preliminary program, and reconvenes today for the discussion and adoption of permanent measures to relieve the present widespread need for work.

Representatives of labor, industry, and the government agree that the problem and its remedies must be threshed out nationally as to scope, policies, and general plans, but that the practical attack upon unemployment to be made immediately lies chiefly with the community and the individual citizen and employer. Each community must provide work. For the rescue of the country from unemployment and the return of prosperity, we must do what we did during the war, accept our individual responsibility for doing our bit. Our bit in this case, is sharing our own job by being willing to work on part time that others may have part time, by getting done now and during the winter all the repairs and odd jobs over which we have control, and urging the construction now of such public works as are needed or are bound to be needed within the next few years. All employers are urged to make repairs and clean up their plants; manufacturers and retailers are called upon to reduce their prices to normal; cities and states are urged to build schools, roads, streets, and public buildings; the Federal Government will give immediate attention to reclamation, conservation, and construction projects which are within its present powers. It was based on this program and the expectation of full co-operation in every community that President Harding could confidently say that America would handle the unemployment emergency.

National Flag Law

in Pennsylvania

Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania signed an act of the 1921 Legislature requiring that the American flag be displayed at all public entertainments in halls, auditoriums, tents, rooms, or other places of amusement. Violation of the law is punishable by a maximum fine of $100. Churches and all places used for public worship are exempted from the law. If the object of this law was to stimulate and intensify the significance of the flag as an emblem and symbol of liberty and democracy, we doubt if the Pennsylvania legislators will accomplish their object. The very exemption of the churches suggests a divorce of God and Country which is repellant to the true patriot. Let legislators exemplify in their lawmaking for the public welfare, the true spirit of American democracy and the people's hearts will enshrine the Stars and Stripes deeply and spontaneously.

Land Values RiseOn State Highway

There has been a marked advance in the price of farm land lying alongside and adjacent to the State highway system. Recently four tracts lying alongside and adjacent to the Seaford-Laurel State Highway were sold. The most striking instance was in the sale of the Urias Lankford tract of 35 acres, which belonged to James E. Lloyd, who sold it to Raymond Gordy for $3500. This farm was sold several years ago for $275. Since then the only improvement that has been made to the farm is the erection of a small dwelling house. Mr. Lloyd also disposed of another tract of 70 acres, lying adjacent to the State highway to Virgil Workman. Mr. Lloyd received for this farm $3800. A few years ago it sold for $1000.

Charles W. Messick has sold to Andrew and Frank Hastings, brothers, two acres of land each, lying alongside the Seaford-Laurel State highway, for $1000, or $250 an acre. He has been offered $1000 for three more acres adjoining the four acres sold. R. B. S. Lloyd, brother of J. E. Lloyd, has sold to Wesley Morgan a farm of 40 acres, near the State highway, for $4000. James E. Lloyd in discussing the prospects of that locality, said that he believed the entire stretch of farm land lying alongside and adjacent to the Seaford-Laurel Highway between Seaford and Laurel would be laid off in three and five acre truck farms.

Bargains in Russia

The Americans now in Russia write interesting descriptions of conditions in that famine stricken and disorganized country. They have been surprised that luxuries even in food are still to be bought. For extremely high prices rich and dainty food can be bought at some of the restaurants. The patron of such eating places is struck by the incongruous relations between the cost of the food and the cost of the furniture and silver and linen which go with the service. A correspondent of the New York Times writes that fine linen sheets and tablecloths are unbelievably cheap. Furniture is such a drug on the market that the owner of a restaurant bought for less than $100 the whole carved oak dining suite used at the banquet given by Napoleon to his victorious marshals in Moscow. Silver saucepans are often cheaper than the more useful iron ones. What Russia needs most for everyday plain living comes high in price or is not to be had at any price. Her treasures of normal times, things of beauty, and objects not immediately useful or convenient to smuggle out of the country are turned over for what cash they will bring.

Greeks Must Go Back:
Quota Exceeded, 378 Immigrants Will be Deported

When the Greek liner Negali Hellas arrived at New York last Saturday from Piraeus with 378 Greeks in her steerage the agents were informed by the Immigration authorities that as the quota for Greece had been exceeded during the months of July, August and September the arrivals on the liner would not be permitted to land. The ruling followed advice from Washington, the officials said, and the Greeks will be taken to Ellis Island and held there to await deportation.

When the Megali Hellas docked at her pier in Brooklyn she had 715 passengers, of whom all but 150 were aliens. Two hundred of them were young women who had come here from Greece to be married, but the immigration officials refused to permit any one but American citizens to land, except those who had diplomatic passports.

There are now about 300 aliens at Ellis Island whose cases are awaiting decision from Washington, including 100 Armenians and 60 Mennonites from Southern Russia.

Belgium's Heroism
Founded in Her Schools

From Brussels, where she has been studying the schools, and the educational ideals of the people, Miss Margaret T. Maguire, Principal of a Philadelphia school, writes to the Public Ledger of her belief that the supreme test of a nation's education is manhood and womanhood and that Belgium met that test during the war. Miss Maguire says:

"American teachers recognize that a system of education is not on trial for its immediate effect upon the children while they are yet in school. Its testing comes with the effect produced upon the minds and morals of these children grown into manhood and womanhood. It has been interesting and enlightening to study the far-reaching results of the training of the schools as they expressed themselves in the national reactions in those grave days of the war. When a nation lives up to a splendid standard of national morality her schools have had a great and vital share in the strength she has shown. Belgium has, therefore, some fine constructive lessons to teach those interested in the deeper springs that feed the educational ideals."

Miss Maguire talked with the Belgian Minister of Education, with the Mayor of Brussels, with the Manager of the National City Bank of Brussels and others connected with child welfare and educational work. When the banker was asked what he felt the schools of Belgium were doing now that seemed better than pre-war teaching, he said:

"We are getting our children out of the classrooms and showing them the world about them. I do not mean once in a while, but I mean as a regular part of the weekly program. The children visit places of historic interest and are given deeper inspiration from the history of their country. The growing tendency is to show our children how to observe and at the same time to understand the deeper meaning of life."

The Mayor of Brussels was receiving members of the International Child Welfare Conference, meeting in that city. The Minister of Education, also, had made a wise statesman's contribution to the child welfare work of Belgium, and because of the care and training which Belgian children receive, he smilingly indicated the absurdity of the question as to whether bolshevism might get a hold on the country. Miss Maguire continues:

"At the close of a day spent with these thoughtful citizens of Brussels trying to penetrate the cause for their bravery and valor, I felt convinced part of the strength to endure is to be found in the character of their education. They make appeal to the emotional side of the child's nature, and reach to his spirit through beauty. In this American education has yet much to learn."

Playhouse and Drama League

Something is radically wrong when a city the size and type of Wilmington is to lose the enjoyment offered by the best of drama. According to yesterday's reports, the Playhouse is to close next week. This leaves Wilmington with the movies and vaudeville. For these, we have nothing but praise but Wilmington deserves more and will support more than motion pictures.

Here is an opportunity for the Drama League. If the Ginn interests who practically control the city's theatres, are unable to make a success, some other provision should be made for operating The Playhouse. We know nothing of the costs of theatre operation but considering that Wilmington is on the direct route from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, it seems inconceivable that the only real theatre should be forced to close its doors.

A Strong Navy

Simple though the proposition is, few people realize that there is no such thing as a strong navy; the phrase merely means stronger than some one else's; that is all. A strong navy is like a long stick or a big stone; it is only so by comparison. The strongest is weak when a bigger one is put beside it. It is not possible for any nation to have a strong navy unless it can persuade the other nations to have weak ones, or unless it can so exceed the other nations in men and money and material that it can outbuild their utmost effort. But if there are two or three nations more or less evenly matched, then the competitive building has no end; each new effort forces another; a naval budget of 50,000,000 pounds sterling calls forth a corresponding amount of American dollars or of Japanese yen. However great the effort, there is nothing in it that can be ultimate; it must be overpassed next time; the taxpayer with his burden on his back struggles vainly forward always in pursuit of the will-o'-the-wisp of security that dances out of reach over the marsh in which he sinks.

Deserved Tribute to Hughes

This editorial tribute is paid to Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes by The Independent and The Weekly Review in the first issue of that serious and influential periodical which has been created by a merger of those two publications.

"Few if any Secretaries of State have won such commanding leadership in foreign affairs; fewer still have won such great confidence, as Charles Evans Hughes. None, it is safe to say, has achieved such a result in the first six months of his official life."

That tribute is well deserved. Incidentally, it also applies to President Harding because of his selection of such an able and admirable man to be the head of the State Department.

FACULTY CLUB MEETS

Europe Talks and Eats Feature Meeting

At the third annual meeting of the Faculty Club held on Monday evening, October 3rd, the following officers were elected: President, Prof. G. E. Dutton; vice-president, Dr. E. M. R. Lamke, secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. G. Wilkinson; executive committee, Dr. T. F. Manns, Prof. W. A. Wilkinson; social committee, Major L. B. Row, Dr. F. M. K. Foster and Prof. R. W. Kirkbride.

The name of the Club was changed from the Faculty Club of Delaware College to the Faculty Club of the University of Delaware. A social evening, to which ladies will be invited, is being planned for Monday evening, October 24th. After the election of officers and discussion of the year's plans, Dr. W. Owen Sypherd, who spent some weeks in England and France during the summer, and Dr. W. L. Bevan, who spent most of the summer in Italy, gave short talks on their trips after which refreshments were served. Later there will be more formal talks by members of the faculty who were in Europe during the summer.

New Century Club Holds First Meeting

The Newark New Century Club held the first meeting of this season in their club house yesterday afternoon at 2.30. Fifty-two members were present. Mrs. John Pilling, chairman of the Membership Committee, reported the names of twelve new members.

Interesting vacation experiences were told by Dean W. J. Robinson, Mrs. C. O. Houghton and Mrs. Frank Cooch. Dean Robinson told of her visit to Boston and attending the Pilgrim Pageant at Plymouth. Mrs. C. O. Houghton told of the motor trip from Newark to the northern part of New York State, and Mrs. Frank Cooch of her trip through the Lehigh Valley to Niagara Falls and other points of interest. Mrs. E. C. Van-Kueran sang an aria from "Samson and Delilah," accompanied by Miss Gladys Pratt.

Mrs. John Pilling, Club Hostess, served tea and cake and a social hour followed.

News by Wireless to Come More Cheaply. World Association of Radio Interest Is Being Formed

Preliminary organization of an international wireless company is about completed. Representatives of the four nations leading the movement for co-ordination and development of the world's radio facilities, are still in Paris. The United States, Great Britain, France and Germany are associated in the agreement to put wireless on a sound commercial basis and to so pool their interests that each country will control wireless in its own territory, but that there will be no duplication of equipment or service. This will free a great deal of money which is to be invested in development. One immediate improvement sought is to make wireless a dependable and relatively cheap service for the daily transmission of world news. With this purpose the governments of the four countries are heartily in accord and it is understood that the new world radio association will have the governmental backing of the four countries represented in the new undertaking.

Philadelphia Quartet to Sing in Newark

Newark will be interested to learn that the Artist Series will be given again at the University this year. The first entertainment will be held on Saturday evening, October 22, in Wolf Hall with a concert by the Philadelphia Male Quartet. Detailed information will be given later.

The series last year included artists and lecturers of national reputation and Newark appreciated the courtesy by the University.

Big Plum Crop in Delaware

Not for years in Delaware has the Political Plum Drop equalled that now being enjoyed. Political atmosphere enjoyed and endured during the last few months has caused a seasonal ripening. October is the month of the Harvest Moon and indeed the prospects are glorious. While there has been considerable "pickings" for some time, not until the last few days has the real harvest begun.

It began with Sparks as Tax Commissioner; then Gills, Rice, Magee, Watson, Messick, with a good quota of clerks yet to come. Then came the opportunity to fill the vacancy on the Industrial Accident Board created by Sparks' resignation, and to make another appointment to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of Harry Mayer's term for Kent County. The Title Department for automobiles gives a fine gathering.

Senator Ball seeing the Governor's crop shows he is some political orchardist himself. There are Walker and Tinsman with appointments in Washington. Tom Miller has quite a crop too, for the elect. Senators du Pont and Ball and Congressman Layton have a co-operative crop of postmasters, revenue collectors, etc.

This recital is just suggestive—there are other trees showing signs of bearing earlier than usual. It's a great year for politics—but dull, cold, gray compared to the year to come.

Tinsman Follows Taft in Department of Justice

"Justice" is "Bill" Tinsman's middle name—ask anyone in his territory who has seen or heard him in action as Constable or Special Automobile Detective. He is the "Billy Sunday" of Senator Ball's District. He speaks out in meeting. Sometimes he has called the meeting in order to speak. U. S. Senator Ball in delicate recognition of Tinsman has had him made Special Agent of the Department of Justice of the United States of America. Richardson Park is now represented in the highest Court of this world—with prospects.

A Wilmington paper in announcing the appointment gave Tinsman an awful slight by saying he was known in Christiana Hundred. He's known in Delaware wherever Justice calls, and now he's a National figure. If "Bill" holds the Scales of Justice, Crime beware.

Rehabilitation Men Hear Banking Discussed

J. E. Dougherty, treasurer of the Farmers Trust Company, addressed the men of the Rehabilitation unit this morning. After a very informing talk on the questions of building loans, bank loans, deposits, negotiable paper, he answered a number of questions asked by the men, which revealed an awakened interest in these vital subjects. Mr. Dougherty, who is a former service man, has been in the banking business for sixteen years.

PLAYHOUSE TO CLOSE

Management Says Costly Help and Railroad Fare Are Reasons

No Plans For the Future

According to reports in the Wilmington press, The Playhouse will close at the end of next week.

This fact was reluctantly admitted yesterday by James N. Ginn, the managing director, representing the lessees. Pressed for the reason for closing, though the season has barely started, he tersely replied: "High cost of back stage and music are the chief factors."

Explaining this statement, he said the musicians and stage hands are receiving war-time pay which, he declares, the house cannot stand. The pay of each member of the orchestra, he said, is $45 a week, while that of the leader is $75. "This is the situation that has confronted us in the moving picture theatres also," he said, and it has been decided to eliminate the orchestras at the movie houses, using pianos and organs.

Reverting to The Playhouse situation, he said the stage help was so highly paid, like the musicians, that it was beyond the reach of a Wilmington theatre. Railroad fares, he also said, contributed to the general expense, as they must be added to the cost of traveling companies. All of these make a situation that The Playhouse cannot meet, he declared. For that reason it has been decided to shut down after next week.

"Will you run pictures there?" Mr. Ginn was asked.

"We have not future plans for The Playhouse," was his reply. "We simply can't keep it going under present conditions." He could make no prediction as to resumption there, except to say that there will be no resumption until conditions change.

The Garrick Theatre, which the Topkis-Ginn syndicate has taken this year, is going along all right, according to Mr. Ginn, who gives its management his personal attention.

Across Continent to Wed; D. C. and W. C. D. to Live on Ranch

Miss Winifred Hanchett, of Dover, until recently one of the brightest and most popular students at the Women's College of the University of Delaware, but who for several months has been studying dramatic art in New York City, will be married in Perwyn, Calif., on October 7 to Frank P. McCordle, better known to his former college friends at the University of Delaware, as "Gudgie."

Miss Hanchett left Dover on Monday for California. The young couple met while Miss Hanchett was taking an arts and science course at the Women's College and Mr. McCordle was taking an agricultural course at the Men's College.

He was second lieutenant of infantry in the World War. After his graduation from Delaware, he obtained a position on a large ranch in California and he and his bride will reside there. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. McCordle, 827 Washington Street, Wilmington.

Miss Hanchett's mother resides in Dover, and her uncle, Bradford Murphy, was for many years one of the chief operating officials of the Delaware railroad, he being a member of the staff of Superintendent I. N. Mills. While she was at the college, Miss Hanchett took an exceedingly prominent part in its dramatic affairs.

Appleton Women's Club to Meet

The Appleton Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Robinson on Wednesday evening, October 12th, at 8 o'clock; if stormy, the next evening. All members are urged to be present as this is to be a very important meeting. An instructive program, with the help of the new Home Demonstration Agent, will be presented.

Variety Shower for Bride-elect

The girls of the Continental Fibre Company office gave a variety shower to Miss May Duhamell at the home of Miss Anna Miller on Monday evening. Miss Duhamell's marriage to Mr. James Morgan, of this town, will take place on Saturday evening. The bride-to-be was given a number of beautiful and useful gifts consisting of linens, pyrex, and aluminum ware. Music helped to make the evening an enjoyable one, and refreshments were served.

Among those present were: Misses May Duhamell, Florence Steele, Anna Gertrude Hill, Helen Leak, Mary Clancy, Alice Blackson, Ethel Lovett, Levia By, Ethel Campbell, Dorothy Hoffecker, Mrs. Leila Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. McKinzie.

ENGAGEMENT OF FORMER NEWARK GIRL ANNOUNCED

Miss Mitchell to Marry Western Man

Newark will read with interest of the announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Mitchell of Richmond, Virginia. Miss Mitchell is the daughter of Dr. Mitchell of the University of Richmond, formerly president of Delaware College. Locally, Miss Mitchell has a host of friends both in college circles and in the town. The following is taken from the Richmond Times-Dispatch:

"Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Mitchell, of the University of Richmond, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Adams, to George O. Clifford, of Evansville, Ind., son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Clifford. The announcement was made Saturday afternoon at a charming tea given at the home of Miss Mitchell's parents in the university grounds. The house was decorated everywhere in slender vases of pink roses and a bowl of the same flowers was used on the tea table. The announcement of the engagement was written on pink rose petals and concealed in rosebuds distributed among the guests as favors."

"Miss Mitchell belongs to a widely-known and prominent Virginia family and the announcement of her engagement is of much interest to society here and throughout the State."

"The guests at the tea given Saturday afternoon included: Misses Evelyn Boatwright, Elizabeth Gaines, Mary Lightfoot, Gladys Booth, Narcissa Riddick, Anna Riddick, Narcissa Daniel, Elizabeth Harden, Margaret Turpester, Valeria Arrington, Hannah Coker, Louise Fristoe, Mary Skinner, Katherine Spicer, Elizabeth Butler, Katherine Hill, Miriam Norman, Rosabelle Brady, Louise Powers, Anne Powers, Janie Kellogg, Mildred Bates."

Rally Day at the Presbyterian Sunday School

The annual Rally Day will be observed in the Presbyterian Sunday School next Sunday, October 9th, at 9.45. An interesting program has been arranged. Every member is asked to be present and to bring as many old or new members as possible. The collection taken that day is for the Immigrants on our country.

Birthday Party

Little Elizabeth Dean was the hostess to a number of her new acquaintances on Monday afternoon, when she entertained in honor of her eighth birthday anniversary at her home on East Main Street.

They played games, had music and danced and enjoyed the afternoon as most children do at such a party. Refreshments were served in the dining-room just before the departure of the guests.

Among those present were: Misses Ida and Laberta Leak, Edith and Dorothea Rose, Katherine Hoffecker, Almeta McCulley, Harriette Ferguson, Dot Dailey, Doris Mullen, Duane Jester, Harry Dailey and Elizabeth Dean.

RETURN FROM WEDDING TRIP

Newark Couple Make Home in New Jersey

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Crockett are now occupying their new home in Harrington Park, New Jersey, after a honeymoon spent in Canada and the Adirondack Mountains.

Both are well known here. Mrs. Crockett was formerly Miss Alice R. Singles. Mr. Crockett is a graduate of the University of Delaware and a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. He was one of the best athletes of the University and holds the hurdle records of that institution.

Their wedding took place on September fourteenth at old St. James' Church near Stanton, where the bride's parents were married twenty-five years ago. Because of the recent death of the bride's father, no invitations were issued.

Wedding Couple Returns

Frank Balling, Kells' latest benedict, with his bride, returned Monday from a wedding trip to New England resorts. The couple will make their home in Newark and will occupy one of the residences being built by William Lovett on South Academy Street.

Pleasant Valley Community Elects Officers

An interesting meeting of the Pleasant Valley Community Club was held in the school house on Thursday evening, September 29. A program of dialogues, songs and recitations was given by the pupils of the school, after which a report of the work done by the Club during last term was read by the secretary. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Charles F. Walton, president; Willard F. Wood, vice president; Harry McCormick, treasurer; Emille P. Carpenter, secretary. A Social Committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. Gray Lomax, Mrs. A. Peel and Mrs. W. F. Wood.

It was announced that the play, "Always in Trouble" given by members of the Club last May would be presented again on October 19 at Ott's Chapel with music by McGinley's orchestra of Wilmington.

Building Boom in Newark

Whatever conditions may be elsewhere, Newark has a Building Boom. It shows good judgment, too.

Building materials are certainly down to low ebb now. It is almost certain that spring will bring an advance. Then labor is plentiful now.

It's just the time to build.

Fall weather is usually good--there is yet time to get in your own home before winter.

GREER, The Contractor

TO TEST BAN ON BIBLE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Churches Unite to Carry Washington State Decrees to Supreme Court

A decision is to be sought in the Supreme Court of the United States to determine whether or not the Bible can legally be excluded from the public schools. Joint action by various church denominations is being prepared to this end by members of the Presbyterian Church.

The action had its inception in the Synod of Washington State by official call of that body. R. L. Edmiston of Spokane, a Presbyterian layman, is at the head of the movement. He is being assisted by W. A. Funk of Sunnyside, the Rev. Eugene A. Walker of Spokane, and the Rev. T. D. Acheson of Chehalis, Wash.

It is because in the State of Washington the Bible is officially excluded from the public schools that the state is made the center of the movement.

The attack for the restoration of the Bible to the public schools throughout the United States will be based on the Declaration of Independence. The Synod of Washington holds that the Declaration of Independence is a covenant between God and the American nation, and that the study of the Bible by American children is essential to an understanding of that covenant and to the full knowledge of God.

In Washington State the Attorney General and later the State Supreme Court ruled in opinions that the Bible was a "sectarian" book, and that it was unconstitutional to teach or read the Bible in the schools of the State.

BORROWED A FIRE ENGINE

Stranger Put Out Flames and Returned Apparatus, With Whole Force Hunting It

At Sayville, New York, early one morning last week a fire alarm was turned in and all the volunteers turned out in record time and rushed to the fire house. They were astonished to find the door open, and the apparatus missing. A searching party was formed and scoured the country, while the telephone wires were kept hot notifying surrounding towns to be on the watch for the boldest gang of bandits to appear on the island.

As morning came on the search parties returned without a clue, and started for the firehouse to decide on a campaign. As they neared the house, some one noticed that the door was closed. Inside, the engine stood in its place, the hose neatly rolled. An unidentified man had been driving a truck near West Sayville, when it caught fire. He ran the two miles to the firehouse, but no one was about. He found the door unlocked, appropriated the apparatus, drove to his truck and extinguished the flames. He then took the engine home and shut the door, after which he went his way. The firemen are satisfied with the explanation, but would like to know that man's name.

Opera House Offerings

PROVES THAT MEN ARE ONLY GROWN-UP BOYS

It has been said that men are only little boys grown-up, and it might be added that motion picture actors are even more so than most men. Tom Moore, for instance, while making "Made in Heaven," his latest Goldwyn comedy, resorted to a little boy trick, so that he could "do it again," when going through a scene he particularly liked. Moore plays a fireman in this refreshing comedy photoplay, which comes to the Newark Opera House on Wednesday, October 12th, and like all firemen he slides down an iron rod, instead of walking down a stairway, when traveling from one floor to another in the engine house. Moore had a wonderful time sliding down that pole. So wonderful in fact that he fooled Victor Schertzinger, his director, into taking the scene several times by forgetting some bit of his action necessary to the story.

BEAUTY AND TALENT WIN GREAT SUCCESS

Within the span of five years, Grace Darmond, the beautiful girl who enacts the leading role in "The Beautiful Gambler," the Universal special attraction which is the feature offering at the Newark Opera House Thursday, October 6th, has risen from meagre parts in a middle west stock company to stellar heights in the films.

One short week after her graduation from high school in Indiana, Miss Darmond was given a small role with a stock company then playing an engagement in Indianapolis. Her success was immediate, and it was not many months until she was leading woman with another company and well on her way to stardom on the stage.

It was at this time, however, that her beauty and talent were recognized by several motion picture producers, and she was made many attractive offers. She finally yielded to one of these, only to rise as rapidly in the newer medium of expression as she had in the old.

Miss Darmond is of a beautiful blonde type, her features being particularly adapted for screen work. In "The Beautiful Gambler" Miss Darmond has her first leading role under the Universal banner, and she has done well with it. Her supporting cast includes Jack Mower, Her- shall Mayall, Charles Brinley and others.

FLORIDA BECOMES A SOUTH SEA ISLAND

George Fitzmaurice Transforms Sections of Beach for
"Idols of Clay"

George Fitzmaurice transferred a bit of the South Sea islands to the coast of Florida for his latest Paramount production, "Idols of Clay" which local screen admirers will have the pleasure of viewing at the Newark Opera House on Monday, October 10th.

Mr. Fitzmaurice and his company, which included Mae Murray and David Powell as the feature players, made their headquarters at Fort Lauderdale, some thirty miles north of Miami, where they used a wide stretch of beach. Here they erected a number of huts in the true fashion of South Sea Islanders. The fisheries, coconut groves, and tropical vegetation needed for the general atmosphere were all ideally located.

"Idols of Clay" casts Mae Murray as the unsophisticated daughter of a South Sea recluse and pearl smuggler, who in time reaches the heights of London society and in the end is rescued just in time from a horrible existence in a Chinese den in the Limehouse slums. David Powell has the role of a young English sculptor who has lost all faith in women and his art, but regains both through the devotion of the girl from the South Seas.

U. S. Population in 1920

Revised census figures place the population of the country as of January 1, 1920, at 105,710,620, comprising 94,820,915 whites, 10,463,131 negroes, 244,437 Indians, 110,010 Japanese and 61,639 Chinese.

The rate of white increase for the decade was 16 per cent, against 22.3 per cent for the decade 1900-1910, the decline being explained by reduction of immigration during the war. The rate of negro increase, which is unaffected by immigration or emigration, is far the lowest of record, due to decreasing birth rate. Of the total numerical increase of 635,368, nearly three-fourths took place in the North and West, only one-fourth of the increase having been reported from the South, which still has 85 per cent of the total negro population.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Sedan, with electric starting and lighting system, demountable rims with 3½-inch tires all around, is the ideal family car because of its general utility and refined and comfortable equipment. Finely upholstered. Plate glass windows. An open car in the spring, summer, and early fall. A closed car in inclement weather and winter. Rain-proof, dust-proof. In the city or the country, a family car. The low cost of operation and maintenance is not the least of its charms. Won't you come in and look it over?

Governor Issues Fire Proclamation

The increasing and needless destruction of our country's resources by fire constitutes a serious menace. The United States suffers through such destruction an annual loss of life estimated at 15,000 human beings, most of them women and children, and property losses of $500,000,000.

The prevention of this sinful waste is unquestionably one of the high duties of citizenship. It affects the welfare of each one of us and the future greatness of America.

In order to bring to the attention of our citizens the necessity for concerted action in preventing the serious loss caused every year by fires, of which by far the greater part is preventable, Monday, October 10th, the fiftieth anniversary of the Chicago fire, has been set apart as Fire Prevention Day.

I therefore urge every citizen of this State to take an active part in making this day and period of practical value to that end, and trust that the proper public departments, in co-operation with chambers of commerce and other organizations may plan such instructive and educational exercises as shall impress the public mind with the purpose of this day's observances. I ask that our churches, through their pulpits and Sunday Schools, shall help to spread this doctrine of carefulness, and urge the promotion in our schools of systematic instruction in fire prevention, constant observance of the ordinary precautions that safeguard us from fire, and orderliness in home and community.

WM. D. DENNEY,
Governor.
Dover, Delaware, September 29, 1921.

Bulletin of Education

Under the direction of the French Restoration Fund, which numbers on its committee many of the most prominent representatives of France and America, it has been proposed to present Marshal Foch, on his coming visit to this country, with a large and beautiful medal, and with a fund collected by the school children of this country to be used in building two superb High Schools in the devastated region of France, to be known as the "Washington-Lafayette" and the "Foch-Pershing" High Schools. Duplicates of the medal are also to be presented to President Harding and to General Pershing.

This project commends itself at once as a worth while manner of showing our friendly sentiments toward our noble ally in the war. It must prove an inspiration and a blessing to the war-torn section in which 6000 schools were ruthlessly demolished. Governor Cooper, of South Carolina, says in this connection, "I do not know of a greater loss that can come to a people than to be deprived of schools, and conversely, no greater contribution can be made to people than the gift of schools."

In order that we of Delaware may not be behind our sister states in this good work, I am asking that October 17th be set aside as a day for special observance of this work, with a review of relations between France and America. This date is particularly fitting, as it commemorates the surrender of Cornwallis' troops to Washington, aided by French troops under Lafayette, and the French fleet under Comte de Grasse, and bringing to a successful conclusion the struggle for liberty, which without the timely assistance of France, must have been a dismal failure. It is suggested that a collection for this purpose be made on October 17th, after proper preparation during the previous week.

The responsibility for the conduct of any exercises considered appropriate, and the collection should be given over to the pupils to just as great an extent as they are willing to accept it. Possibly some money may be made on an appropriate public entertainment and contributed to the cause.

In any case, preparation for the occasion may be made a very useful group project for classes in Community Civics, English and History. The wide-awake administrator will grasp a chance to motivate class work, and the more that is made out of that possibility, the better contribution his school will be able to make.

Checks covering the school total, and drawn to the order of W. D. Denney, should be mailed to me not later than October 20th. A quota of from $6000 to $10,000 has been suggested for each State.

H. V. HOLLOWAY,
State Superintendent of Public Instruction.
Approved: W. D. Denney,
Governor of Delaware.

President Appeals to States; Work Must be Provided

An appeal to Governors and Mayors to give immediate aid in carrying out the recommendations made by the National Conference on Unemployment was made Monday afternoon by President Harding.

It was announced that a clearing house for information which would be of aid in making the program effective would be established by the unemployment conference at the Department of Commerce in Washington.

The President's statement reads:

"The conference which I recently summoned to Washington to advise as to the unemployment situation has demonstrated that an unusual volume of unemployment exists and that, pending the recuperation of trade, the situation cannot be met, in due regard to our obligations and necessities without a much more than usual organization throughout those States and municipalities where unemployment has reached considerable proportions.

"The conference has recommended a plan of organization which has had the support of commercial, manufacturing, professional and labor representatives of the country. It is highly necessary that more accurate knowledge should be had, through such organization, of the volume and necessities of the unemployed. It is essential that the co-operation of all sections of each community should be brought into action behind such organization to provide work and assistance that we may pass through the coming winter without great suffering and distress. It is of national importance that every community should at once undertake such organization in order that the nation may be protected as a whole. Moreover, the thorough commitment to such a task is sure to start a thousand activities which will add to our common welfare.

"I therefore, appeal to the Governors and Mayors of the nation that they should take the steps recommended by the conference.

"In order that there may be unity of action by all the forces which may be brought to bear, whether governmental or private, the unemployment conference is establishing an agency in Washington through which appropriate co-ordination can be promoted, and through which reports on progress and suggestions may be given general circulation and co-operation. I trust this agency will be supported in this endeavor.

"Warren G. Harding."

Secretary of Commerce Hoover received yesterday messages from the Mayors of several cities stating that the work of forming organizations representative of all elements of the communities, as requested by the conference, already had been undertaken.

In loving memory of dear husband and father, Walter Lynch, who departed this life October 6, 1920:

Father, dear, oh how we miss you,
In our sad and lonely homes,
So sad, so sudden was the call,
Our father's death surprised us all.

No one knows how we miss him,
No one knows the tears we shed,
But in heaven we hope to meet him,
Where there, no parting words are said.

As we sit here thinking of you,
To our heavenly Lord we pray
That He will let us join you,
In His Heavenly home some day.

We listen in vain for the hurrying step,
And the sound of his voice we miss,
We long for the touch of a vanished hand,
And his smile full of cheer and bliss.

We long for his rippling laugh and jest,
For his song that was bright and gay,
We long and we grieve and we can't believe,
Our dear father has passed away.

They miss you most that loved you best.
Sadly missed by

BLUE HEN FEATHERS PULLED AGAIN

Muhlenberg Defeats Delaware

The football team of the University of Delaware met defeat at the hands of the Muhlenberg College eleven by the score of 21 to 0, on Frazer Field Saturday afternoon. The game was a cheerless one for the 1500 spectators who witnessed the entry of the 1921 gridiron season, and especially for the many who made up the followers of the local collegians. Void of any thrills, free from any display of brilliancy, and extremely mediocre in its details, the game ended listlessly and was so accepted by the crowd.

The Delaware team had difficulty in getting started while the Muhlenberg squad jumped off with a rush and had soon sent the first touchdown across the goal line, by a series of low, fast forward passes. Delaware was unable to stop this advance. Demolishing the visitors' left halfback, dealt in a variety of passes which barely cleared the heads of the Delaware eleven, but with two exceptions, went true into the arms of a Muhlenberg receiver. This form of attack, coupled with Delaware's inability to tackle, lead to the local team's defeat. The collapse of Delaware's interference, on the offensive, prevented her from scoring. In fact, both defensively and offensively, the Blue and Gold failed to show form. Delaware's ends were also weak, as the Pennsylvanians seemed able to skirt them at will for long gains. Megaw, on the left flank, spilled the opposing interference admirably, but the secondary defense failed consistently to drop the runner until substantial gains had been made. There is room for great improvement on the right end of the local's line. A wide end run from a criss-cross, gave Muhlenberg a touchdown, score 7-0.

While the opposing linesmen outweighed the light Delawareans on an average of 16 pounds per man, the Blue defense in this respect was more consistent than that of the backs.

The second score came in the second quarter of play as a result of the same tactics. Muhlenberg had found her game and drove away with an aerial attack which found little opposition from the Delaware backfield. Schafer, Betzmer, and Rothrock had replaced Magee, Manning, and Ivory. The substitution looked like a wise one on the part of Coach Derby. During this quarter exchanges of punts lost ground for Delaware, inasmuch as Demolish's kicks averaged 15 yards more than McDonald's. With Derby's men baffled by the opposing attack at every angle, Muhlenberg pushed her way to the three-yard line, where a "Delaware stand," such as was famous in the old days, was staged for two downs. The Blue line held, and not until the third attempt did Gebhart pound through little Aiken for the second score of the game.

The second half was a repetition of the first half, insofar as tactics was concerned. A slight brace was noted in the locals after the rest in the gym, and the third quarter went scoreless. In the last quarter, Jackson brought the desperate band of Delaware rooters to their feet with a thirty-five yard run. This freshman made a good showing throughout his stay in the game. Aiken, Schafer and Megaw played the best game for Delaware. For Muhlenberg, Crum, Demolish and Gebhart can be credited with good playing, although the entire team displayed more fighting qualities than the Blue and Gold eleven. A contrast in team work would result in no glory to Delaware's eleven. The line-up:

Muhlenberg	Delaware

High School Team Plays Well

Followers of Newark High School's football team were not disappointed in the showing made by Newark against the heavier Wilmington team on last Saturday. A bad pass and a fumble in the first two minutes of play gave Wilmington High their first touchdown. After this the game was very well played considering the advantage of weight and experience in favor of the Wilmington team. The local boys showed up much better in defensive play than in offensive play.

By consistent practice and training Newark should develop a team which will be a worthy contender for the state championship. The material is new but they have the advantage of weight over any other contestant for the state championship.

The State Athletic Association will award a banner in football this season as last. It will not, however, take the responsibility of affording transportation for inter-county games. The traveling expenses of each contestant for the state championship must be borne by that school without help from the State Athletic Association.

Newark's next game is with Smyrna on Frazer Field, Friday, October 7th, at 3.30 p. m. Smyrna's last appearance on the local athletic field was when it won the State championship in baseball from Newark.

Following is Newark's schedule for the remainder of the season:

October 7, Smyrna, at Newark.
October 14, Salesianum, at Wilmington.
October 21, Elkton, at Elkton.
October 28, New Castle, at New Castle.

"DINDIGALS" HOLD REUNION

Mrs. Cooch Receives Gift of Appreciation

Mrs. J. Wilkins Cooch, originator and leader of the "Dindigals," a missionary band of boys and girls of the Presbyterian Church, held a reunion at her home last Friday evening. This society has been disbanded for about four years, due to the fact that Mrs. Cooch's health would not permit her to spend the time necessary to keep these busy workers going and there seemed to be no one else willing to devote the time to them.

The word "Dindigal" means smooth stone. It was the name of the town in India in which Mrs. Cooch spent her childhood days. Near the village there was a large smooth stone and thereby it received its name. Mrs. Cooch well knew that no other missionary band would ever have this title and she chose it not only because it was her home town but because it was with a "smooth stone" that David slew the Giant. She therefore likened each member to a smooth stone and expected them to help kill the Giants of today.

All the members of this band were invited to attend the reunion and those present were:

Misses Helen and Katherine Barnard, Anna and Agnes Frazer, Jane Miller, Sara Steele, and Hattie E. G. Lewis; Wilkins Cooch, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Springer, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooch, Mrs. Pierce K. Crompton and Francis Lindell.

A meeting was held as in former days, opened by singing the Doxology. Mrs. Cooch read the 17th chapter of 1st Samuel, the story of David and the Giant, followed by a prayer by Francis Lindell. Some time ago Mrs. Cooch had requested a friend of hers now living in India, to take a photograph of the "Dindigal" stone and from this she had made a reprint for each member of the band and presented them with it at this time. After singing "America" the meeting closed with the Christian benediction.

A social hour followed during which time many relics of India and other points of interest were viewed and interesting stories told about each. While refreshments were being served they talked about the success they had made while active.

The members present gave Mrs.

Cooch a basket of fruit in appreciation for the things she had done for them.

A noble book! all men's book!
—Carlyle.

The Bible is common-sense inspired.—Howells.

Out from the heart of Nature rolled the burdens of the Bible old.—Emerson.

The Bible stands alone in human literature in its elevated conception of manhood, in character and conduct.—Beecher.

Intense study of the Bible will keep any man from being vulgar in point of style.—Coleridge.

The English Bible—a book which, if everything else in our language should perish, would alone suffice to show the whole extent of its beauty and power.—Macaulay.

If there be any thing in my style of thought to be commended, the credit is due to my kind parents in instilling into my mind an early love of the Scriptures.—Webster.

Do you wish to see that which is really sublime. Read the Bible.—Napoleon.
