

Objection To Large Apartment Unit Voiced At Council Meet

Residents Near Wilson Tract Seek Hold-up on Project; Elton Road Development Also Balked; Power Line Draws Criticism

The 400-unit apartment house proposed for the Wilson tract southeast of Elton road into rough going at the first July meeting of the Town Council Tuesday night.

A hold-up on the project was sought by David Buxton, Middletown attorney, representing property owners of Tyre Avenue and Read Village adjacent to the Wilson tract.

As a result the Council passed a resolution requiring that all plans for future large scale housing developments here be submitted directly to Council for approval of a building permit.

It was disclosed by John P. Sinclair, town solicitor, that a building permit for the Wilson tract apartment has not yet been formally granted because the developers, reported to be the Collins Realty Company, have not yet requested one.

Authority to erect multiple dwellings on the tract has been granted by the Board of Adjustments, but it now appears that the developers will have to submit their plans to Council before they can get a permit.

Previously, the town secretary, Charles Lane, has issued permits for houses conforming to the zoning ordinance.

Another home project, the 450-row development proposed by Cassell, Inc., of Philadelphia, for the former Pemberton property on Elton road has also run into difficulty.

Town Supervisor Neide said that he received an unfavorable report on the project from the town's planning commission, a subsidiary of Whitman Edwards, the town's consulting engineers. He also said he has heard that the Regional Housing Authority has turned thumbs down on the development.

Mr. Neide added that the preliminary plan survey, ordered some weeks ago by the town at a cost of $5,000, will be ready soon. The survey, which will recommend zoning, traffic regulations and street extensions for the expanding community, is being carried out by Whitman Edwards.

The Council also approved a resolution whereby the Delaware Power and Light Company to hold up its plan for erecting a high tension power line along North Street.

The action was taken following complaints from homeowners of the neighborhood headed by Mr. and Mrs. William Sullivan. The latter claimed that the proposed line, which she said would carry 50,000 volts, would pass five feet from her bedroom window.

Council already has granted the power company permission in letter form to extend the line along North Street, but it was brought out that through an administrative oversight the Council had never formally voted on the question as it is required to do on its own initiative.

The Council agreed to study the matter and vote on it at a later meeting. The line in question is a portion of a new power artery being installed by the company from its Newark substation through the northern part of town to New London Avenue where it will Chosen from candidates from all over the world for a scholarship in the Graduate School of Julliard, Miss Lehnerts in a short time proved she was star material.

At Chautauque, her great vocal gift as well as her fine sense of dramatic acting made her numerous appearances there memorable occasions. At Carnegie Hall under the conductorship of eminent musicians like Nadia Boulanger and Walter Damrosch, she has scored outstanding triumphs.

A signal honor was conferred on Miss Lehnerts after a highly successful summer of singing at the World's Fair. She was selected as soloist for two concerts held in honor of the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden. A visit with Jan Sibyllus in the renowned composer's home in Finland was another memorable event.

Miss Lehnerts displays her diverse talents in such fields as oratorio, opera, and recital. Vast radio as well as public audience have thrilled to her interpretations of operatic arias, the music of Bach, the poetry of Lieber, and innumerable beloved ballads of all time. She has received the acclaim of critics and audience alike for her interpretations.

Tense Moment At Playground

Johnny Hickman takes a casual view of the excitement at Read Village last Wednesday as his sister, Helen, anxiously watches the outcome of the doll show judging. She won a prize for the biggest doll, not the one she's holding. The two are sitting on the edge of the playground wading pool.

Oops! Pardon The Strip Tease, Please

A girl has to watch her modesty even if it is hard on one's doll. Ruthie Mayer adjusts her sun suit straps while her doll dangles dizzily.

Rivalry Is Keen At Read Village Doll Show Wednesday

There were a lot of cute dolls at the Read Village playground last Wednesday, and you could hardly tell the painted ones from the sunburnt ones.

The competition was pretty tense for a time as you might expect when 24 proud young mothers show off their savdout youngsters. Not all the contestants saw eye to eye with the judges, but the tension was eased when it was decided to give everybody some sort of prize. The winners received candy cigarettes.

The results, at least as far as the judge were concerned, are: two to five age group—Patsey L. Robinson, most original doll; Karen McCambridge, prettiest; Marie Elches, best dressed; Brinda Joyce Davis, prettiest hat; Helen Hickman, biggest; Ruthie Mayer, smallest.

Six to nine age group—Sandra Overby, most original; Dorothy McCambridge, prettiest; Frances Lons, best dressed; Sandra Diefenderfer, prettiest hat; Betty Jean Crow, biggest; Janet Riley, smallest.

The area is near Cooch's Bridge and was occupied by British troops following a Revolutionary battle there in 1777.

The carnival spirit reigned here Tuesday night as Newarkers deserted their homes and converged on Main Street to witness the annual firemen's parade.

The crowd, one of the largest in the history of the town, was swelled by hundreds of visitors from surrounding communities. Many of the volunteer companies in the march brought along their own roofing sections.

Headed by the smartly playing Aetna Band, the colorful columns, including 17 companies, five bands and many auxiliaries, took over an hour to pass a given point. After the parade the spectators moved on to the Aetna carnival which did a record business.

North East, Md., Volunteer Fire Company took the $50 prize as the best band in line and the $10 prize for the best appearing drum major.

The Singery Company of Elton took the $35 prize for the best ladies auxiliary, and a $25 prize for the second best appearance of a unit with 15 or more men.

Railroad Gets Warning Ticket For Overparking; Blocked Traffic 23 Min.

The engineer of the B. & O. diesel No. 81 will soon get a warning ticket for overparking in Newark.

An 83-car freight train blocked traffic at two B. & O. intersections here for 23 minutes on June 25 and the Town Council got a flurry of complaints.

Councilman William Coverdale dug up a 1911 ordinance forbidding trains to hold up traffic for an unreasonable length of time. Council directed its solicitor, John P. Sinclair, to send a letter warning the railroad that another violation will mean a fine of $10 to $20.

The action was taken at the first July meeting of the Council on Tuesday night.

Proposed New Charter To Go Before Voters Next Tuesday

Only About 200 In Outlying Areas Register For Referendum Despite Boundary Issue; Some 4,000 In-Town Voters On Lists; Majorities In Both Groups Needed

Only 200 residents of the areas scheduled for annexation by the town registered last Thursday to vote in the forthcoming referendum on Newark's proposed new charter.

This is less than half of the residents in the territory that will be made a part of the town if the new charter is adopted, according to town authorities.

The charter referendum is slated for Tuesday, July 10 from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Academy Building. One of the most important provisions of the charter calls for expanding the town boundaries nearly a mile in all directions.

Only about 25 in-town residents registered to vote in the referendum, but the town's official list already contained the names of some 4,000 voters. The 200 who signed up from the outlying areas, however, will determine the fate not only of the plan to extend the town's boundaries but of the entire charter.

According to the provisions of the referendum, a majority of those voting in the areas to be annexed is necessary for the adoption of the charter.

A majority of in-town voters will also be required. The counts will be separate, and either group's vote can be decisive.

If approved, the new charter will give the town a completely revamped and modernized government and bring a new efficiency to town operations, long hampered by the present charter adopted in 1887.

The new charter already has a long and stormy history. It was first drafted about four years ago by a town committee working in cooperation with the State and Federal Governments, University of Pennsylvania.

That draft was approved by Council and submitted to the 1947 session of the General Assembly but was abruptly withdrawn when a number of local civic organizations protested several of the provisions, especially those dealing with voting qualifications.

In February of the following year then Mayor C. C. Hubert appointed a 13-man town committee which spent many months redrafting the proposal. This was submitted to the 1949 session of the legislature but was allowed to die in committee when it again gave rise to factional disputes here at home.

Early in 1951 the charter was revived and under direction of Councilman Carl S. Rankin the opposing factions were brought together and an acceptable version of the charter was written. This was approved by the last General Assembly, which added an amendment calling for the referendum here before the measure can become effective.

School Board Will Decide Future Of Main St. Building

Needed For Classrooms, Shue Says, or Half-days Necessary

If the old Main Street school building is not converted for use by elementary classes next year, a number of grades at the Newark schools will have to go on permanent half-day sessions, Supt. Wilmer E. Shue disclosed this week.

Grade school facilities were crowded to capacity last term, and another record enrollment is expected this fall, he said.

A final decision on whether to use the Main Street building for elementary classes next September will be made at the July 16 meeting of the Board of Education at 7:30 p.m. in the high school.

The old building, which for some years has housed the shop and agriculture classes of the high school, is now undergoing repairs for possible classroom use.

The high school shop and farm students will move next fall into the new laboratory being constructed on the high school grounds.

A date for a referendum seeking authority to issue bonds to cover the district's share in financing the proposed new elementary school on Capitol Trail and the long delayed extension to the high school gymnasium may also be fixed at the July meeting.

A $1,817,000 building fund was approved for the Newark district at the last session of the General Assembly with $681,000 of the total to come through local bond issues and the remainder from state appropriations.

The Newark board is now awaiting clarification from the state authorities on whether the forthcoming referendum here should cover the entire $681,000 needed in local funds or simply the amount required to finance the proposed new school and gym extension.

The work on the gymnasium is expected to cost around $300,000 and will double the high school's physical education facilities. The proposed new school may cost $450,000, Mr. Shue said.

The district's share in the $650,000 cost for both projects would come to approximately $250,000, he added.

Plans for the proposed school have not reached the paper stage, but, according to Mr. Shue, local authorities are thinking in terms of a 12-classroom building, plus a cafeteria and accessory rooms. The Newark board is still looking for a building site in the Capitol Trail area.

How many "Independence Days" have we left?

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal;
that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.

That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed . . ."

Immortal words from the Declaration of Independence, adopted on the first 4th of July, just 175 years ago.

THESE WORDS are the stones upon which man built history's greatest work—the United States of America. Remember them well!

" . . . all men are created equal . . ." That means you are as important in the eyes of God as any man ever brought into this world. You are made in His image and likeness. There is no "superior" man anywhere.

" . . . they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights . . ." Here is your birthright—the freedom to live, work, worship and vote as you choose. These are rights no government on earth may take from you.

" . . . That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men . . ." Here is the reason for and the purpose of government. Government is but a servant—not a master—not a giver of anything.

" . . . deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed . . ." In America, the government may assume only the powers you allow it to have. It may assume no others.

From Concord to Korea, your kinsmen have fought and died for the principles of America's Declaration of Independence: belief in God . . . belief in the God-given rights of man . . . belief that man is more important than government . . . belief in the vital need for morality in all man does.

But on this Independence Day, as never before, these beliefs are in deadly peril. There are people in America who would deny your God-given rights, who prefer expediency to morality, and who would make government the master—not the servant—of man. These people are the advocates of an all-powerful, all-providing socialistic government to control your destiny from cradle to grave.

The time has come to answer them with your own "Declaration of Independence" . . .

Declare that government is responsible TO you—rather than FOR you.

Declare that freedom is more important to you than "security" or "survival."

Declare again that the rights God gave you may not be taken away by any government on any pretext.

Our founding fathers accepted the truths of America's Declaration on faith alone. Today, our nation is proof—absolute and irrevocable—that these truths work. They are the last great hope for the protection of human civilization.

FREEDOM NEEDS YOU

On this 175th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, help give the day the spiritual, religious meaning it had to the founding fathers.

Renew your faith and allegiance to the immortal truths stated in the Declaration. Make them an active part of your thinking, your acting, your voting.

Pray for help in maintaining man's closeness to God, in preserving man's God-given rights and responsibilities against those who would make you dependent upon a socialistic, all-powerful government.

" . . . we need only to recall that the substance of (America's) formula is continuous, strict and closely guarded limitations upon the power of government. Neither the peril of war nor the promise of welfare must ever serve to relax any item of this formula . . ."

From "The Key to Peace" by Dean Clarence Manion, College of Law, Notre Dame University, published by The Heritage Foundation.

Newark's Growth Described By Prize Winning Student Essay

(Following is the last in a series of articles on the general theme, "The Growth of Newark" by ninth grade students at the Newark schools. The essays were read by their authors at the recent junior high school promotion exercises.)

Growth of Newark—Public Utilities

by Stephanie Klahr

Growth in industrial and educational facilities results in an increase of population. This necessitates reorganization of the town government and improvement of public utilities.

The population of Newark has increased from 4500 to 6701 with the possibility of reaching the ten thousand mark in the next two years. With the passing of the town charter, the town limits will be expanded, thus enabling more people to avail themselves of the town facilities.

Transportation has improved since the old days when the Pennsylvania Railroad was established in 1837 and the B. & O. in 1880. A bus service was started in 1925, and is now operated on a much larger scale by the Delaware Coach Company. Highways have been improved, and at the present time there is a greater need for more main thoroughfares to relieve the congestion of traffic within the town itself.

Adequate public utilities such as gas, electricity, water, and a sanitation system pose an ever increasing problem for Newark's Town Council. A local power station furnishing electricity was opened in 1890, whereas gas was not available until after 1918. At present, both are furnished to the community by the Delaware Power and Light Company. Natural gas to be used for heat, power, and light is the latest innovation of the company.

Until 1812, Newark had only private wells to supply water. By 1912, artesian wells were dug and the pumping station now has the capacity to pump 1400 gallons of water every minute with a storage capacity of 1,000 gallons. Surprisingly, this will be far from adequate in the near future and a survey is now under way to tap additional subterranean supplies.

The Aetna Fire Company, although made up of volunteers, has since 1888 performed invaluable service for the safety of Newark and its surrounding areas.

In 1867 Newark's police force consisted of one member whereas, today, there are nine.

If Newark keeps planning ahead for the future, this community will be a better place in which to work and play, and Newark will be a town that we will be proud to claim as our own.

There is no reason, because we are perplexed, ever to despair.—Thomas Guthrie.

NEWARK TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

From Issue of July 7, 1926

Pump Quarry for Body
Pumping over 800 gallons in an hour, the big Aetna fire engine joined Monday in an unsuccessful effort to drain a quarry hole near Hockessin which has held the body of Alexander Andzjewski, young Polish youth, who was drowned while bathing Sunday morning.

Along with four other companies, the Newark engine went to the scene in response to requests for assistance. After an hour's high speed pumping, in which over 3500 gallons were drawn from the quarry, the water had only lowered an inch and one-half. The attempt was abandoned.

Brain Abscess Fatal
Taylor Campbell, 39-year old Newark man, residing just off West Main Street, died in the county hospital at Farnhurst Saturday morning after an illness of about two weeks. Death was caused, it is reported by an abscess at the base of the brain.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lynam are well known locally. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Young and sister of Dr. T. S. Young.

Worrlow, director of the University of Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, representing the groups which jointly employ Talbert.

He will work with the agricultural Extension Service on an educational program in connection with cooperative drainage efforts. He'll also help tax districts begin operations, and assist with their maintenance.

June Employment Set At 61,803,000

The Census Bureau estimated recently that 61,803,000 Americans were gainfully employed in June.

The total employment figure was up 600,000 from May.

Unemployment also rose from 1,609,000 in June, the bureau said.

It explained that both employment and unemployment showed increases because more people were looking for work—mainly high school and college students seeking summer jobs at the end of the school term.

The story of a faith that paid off

YOU KNOW IT'S TRUE BECAUSE IT'S HAPPENED TO YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS

PROBABLY YOU'VE never thought of yourself as a maker of history. But you are. And here is how you, as a citizen of the United States, are creating the greatest success in all history.

Remember back in 1941 when the Defense Bonds you were buying suddenly had to become War Bonds? How you and your neighbors pitched in to buy them in ever-increasing numbers, to back our fighting men and to help achieve the victory of World War II? After V-J Day, when those bonds became Savings Bonds, you continued to buy them because you had learned how regular saving could build security and contentment for yourself and those you love.

The face of the land has undergone some dramatic changes in those years since V-J Day. Now the landscape is dotted with new homes that Savings Bonds built. Thousands upon thousands of new automobiles travel the highways—Savings Bonds cars, bought with the product of individual thrift. On the farms, Bond-purchased equipment has helped produce bumper crops and prosperous years. Everywhere in America, man's urge to get into business for himself has become a bright reality. So has the ambition of loving parents to send their children through college. Time and time again, Savings Bonds have made those dreams and many others come true.

You KNOW they've come true, because it's happened to you or to some of your own friends.

And this is only the beginning of the story. Even after accomplishing so much, millions of American families still enjoy the financial security of owning more than fifty billion dollars—fifty thousand million dollars in Savings Bonds. More than at the peak of war-time Bond holdings!

How much money is that? It's enough to build a new $10,000 mortgage-free home for every family in San Francisco—and Sacramento—and Salt Lake City—and Denver—and Kansas City—and St. Louis—and Indianapolis—and Cincinnati—and Pittsburgh—and New York City—and the whole state of Texas!

And every week, everywhere in America, new millions of dollars are added to the total—as crisp new Savings Bonds are typed up with your name on them.

Kind of a king-size success story, isn't it? Your success story because you and the millions of your neighbors are living it right now. Your own faith in America—your own desire for the warmth of family security and independence—have made the story of United States Savings Bonds the thrift miracle of all time.

For your security, and your country's too, save now through regular purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds 18,000 deaths and 1.5 million disabling injuries caused by accidents. During the past decade manpower on farms has decreased over a million, but tractors, trucks, electric power, and mechanization generally have increased enormously.

While these changes have enabled us to increase agricultural production substantially, they have also increased the dangers of farm operation. Farm accidents recognize the hazards and either eliminate or get into the habit of avoiding them.

I'd have lost $612...if I had MY way!
(Based on an actual Hartford claim)
That was the admission of a Hartford policyholder who had thought Auto Collision Insurance a needless expense. Luckily his Hartford agent convinced him otherwise for just two hours after buying coverage he had a smash-up. His Hartford policy paid $612 for repairs!

It's easy to run up a big auto repair bill these days. And it's good sense to protect yourself against accident costs with Hartford Collision Insurance. Let us explain this coverage to you and quote its cost for your car.

Apple Sky-Drop Set July 10; Pie Baking Contest On July 12

To Promote Use Of Early Delaware Cooking Apples

A shower of apples and an apple pie baking contest will remind Delawareans that in a few days, early Delaware cooking apples will come to the markets in volume.

The best use for these early apples is the American favorite—apple pie. To point up that fact, the Delaware State Apple Commission is sponsoring an apple pie baking contest, Thursday, July 12.

On Tuesday, July 10, there will be a mysterious shower of apples in Wilmington. Residents there will find free boys of apples attached to parachutes. Besides the apples, there will be entry blanks for the Apple Pie Baking Contest, and apple pie recipes in the bags. In some, there will be certificates entitling the bearer to free apples from several Wilmington grocery stores.

The rules and regulations for the pie contest are simple. Use your favorite recipe, says the commission, but the pie must be made primarily from apples, and the flavor must be primarily apple. You may emphasize that delicious apple flavor by using other fruits or spices. Baked pies must be brought to the WDEL-AM-FM studios, 10th and King Streets, Wilmington, between 7 a.m. and 1 p.m., July 12. The top three winners will receive gold trophies from the Apple Commission, and the first place pie-maker will appear on the "Elderly Show," WDEL-TV, at 2 p.m., July 17. Each entrant will receive five pounds of apples.

Home economist, nutritionists, and foods editors will judge the pies. Entry blanks may be had by writing to WDEL, Wilmington, Del., or to the Agricultural Extension Service, Editorial Office, Wolf Hall, Newark, Del.

The six highest scoring individuals who are dairy project members will represent the county in the State 4-H Dairy Judging Contest held on Friday, July 27, at the Kent and Sussex Fair.

95 Pct. of Calves React Negatively To Bang's Test

Over 95 percent of the calves vaccinated for brucellosis (Bang's disease) control within recommended age limits (6 to 8 months) give a negative reaction by the time they are two years old, reports Edward H. Schabinger, New Castle County Agricultural Agent.

Some animals vaccinated as calves will show slightly or highly suspicious to the blood test after they are two years old. At the present time, authorities don't regard these calves as positive, infected animals.

The U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry suggests these animals be separated from the rest, and retested one or two months later. This guards against the possibility that these calves might have picked up some infection that the regular Strain 19 vaccine will not stop.

Mr. Schabinger points out that calf vaccination is a good tool for farmers to use against Bang's disease. But it is a fairly new device that must be used properly. Cattle owners have to learn how to handle suspicious animals until a new test is developed for vaccinated animals. Research on this problem is now in progress.

Fix Revised Apple Grade Standards

New U.S. standards for grades of apples will go into effect soon, according to the Delaware PMA. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says this first major revision of apple standards in 20 years has been worked out with cooperation of state horticultural societies, and the apple industry.

Northeast apple growers will note these changes when the new standards are effective, Monday, July 23.

A "U. S. Extra Fancy" grade has been added. The "U. S. Fancy" and "U. S. Number One" grade requirements remain the same—but color and blemish requirements are stricter. The "U. S. Fancy" grade designation of "U. S. Commercial" has been changed to "U. S. Number One Cookers." And the "U. S. Utility Early" grade has been deleted.

July, the seventh month of the year, slipped in quietly on Sunday. May it find better weather with less rain than the past month. This is vacation time for many people but the farmer has much to accomplish in the harvesting of the grain crops and hay. Youth of July was a happy and noisy day for the children.

Songs were sung by the different groups during each scene. Four girls dressed in costumes representing China, Japan, India, and America, were absent. Forty-five attendance awards were given as well as Bible school certificates. An exhibit of handwork and craft was on display in the social hall.

Bolt Of Lightning Kills Man At Tank Plant; 3 More Hurt

Work Shack Struck At Height Of Thunder Storm On Friday

A bolt of lightning killed one man and injured three others when it struck a work shack on the construction site of the Chrysler Tank Plant here at the height of a thunder storm shortly before noon last Friday.

The dead man is Athanasios Tsakounis, 31, a paint foreman for the Metro-Decorating Company of New York City, and said to be the father of four children, was pronounced dead at the Delaware Hospital, where he was rushed in the Aetna ambulance.

The injured, all of whom sustained minor shock, are Nicholas Angelou, Charles Licamelli and Spry Cummings, all of New York City. The latter two did not require hospital treatment. The condition of the first was later pronounced good by Delaware Hospital authorities.

The four men, who took shelter in the shack when the storm came up, were among those painting the steel framework of the tank plant. The shack, a wooden structure with a tar paper roof, was only slightly damaged. When the bolt struck, Tsakounis and Angelou were talking near the doorway, and the two others were inside.

J. J. Groot, U. of D. Staffer, Appointed Geologist For State

To Direct Geological Survey Ordered By Assembly

J. J. Groot, instructor in the Department of Geography and Geology at the University of Delaware, was appointed today as Delaware's first state geologist.

Mr. Groot will direct the new Delaware Geological Survey created by an act of the recent general assembly. Delaware is the last of the 48 states to acquire such a survey. The principle aim is to create an organization which will, through geological studies, promote the state's economic growth.

The law requires that the university administer the survey under the general direction of a Geological Commission to be named by the Governor. Appointment of the state geologist by the university's president, Dr. John A. Perkins, also was provided by the law. The commission has not yet been selected.

Creation of the geological survey grew out of a study of the state's ground water resources, made in the last two years by Mr. Groot in collaboration with the U. S. Geological Survey. Those ground water studies will be continued by the Delaware Geological Survey and the U. S. Geological Survey, to satisfy their long range demands on Delaware's ground waters and to combat contamination of these waters by salt water in the coastal areas. While locating the state's main water-bearing strata and determining their thickness, extent and hydrological properties, the survey will also study other earth resources such as road materials, greensands and gravels.

Results of the survey's investigations will become open-file data, and eventually will be published in a series of bulletins and maps, available to all people of the state.

Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us, or we find it not.—Emerson.

Calvary Baptists Attend Kennett Square Service

Members of the Calvary Baptist Church here drove to Kennett Square, Pa., on Sunday to attend the first baptismal service conducted by Mr. Jack Shoemaker, who recently was called as assistant to the Calvary congregation.

The service was held in the First Baptist Church of Kennett, Mr. Shoemaker's home church. He is a student at Crozer Theological Seminary.

Members of the Calvary congregation were reminded this week that this Sunday will be monthly Building Fund Sunday, when a special offering is taken.

The women's society of the church has voted to hold its meetings on Tuesdays hereafter in response to a request from the Newark area. United Council of Church Women. The Council is supporting a plan to hold all meetings of women's church groups on Tuesdays to avoid conflicts.

The Calvary Baptist Church holds Sunday services in the Masonic Temple, East Delaware Avenue. The church school meets at 10 a.m. and the morning worship is held at 11 a.m.

2 School Janitors Go Back To School

Two members of the Janitorial staff at the Newark schools went back to classes recently and got some training in big-time housecleaning.

They attended a school for janitors sponsored by the State Department of Public Instruction at the Conrad High School, where methods of cleaning and caring for school buildings were demonstrated.

The two were Roy Nutter and John Boyle.

Similar schools were held in Kent and Sussex counties.

Janitorial help is still scarce at the schools, according to Supt. Wilmer E. Shue. The staff of nine has shrunk to four full-time employees and 1 part time worker since January.

Mrs. Agnes Johnson, who served on the staff since 1926, was recently retired on a pension.

Rev. James Grevin, pastor, announces Sunday services are as follows: Sunday School at 10 a.m., regular morning worship at 11 a.m. and the special evening services at 7:30 p.m.

Council Meeting

tie-in with a line feeding the Chrysler tank plant.

A vote on the rezoning of the Earl Lynch property at 359 East Main Street from RD to commercial was postponed. More than 20 percent of the adjacent property owners registered objections to the plan at a public hearing which opened the Council meeting. This means a three-fourths vote of Council now will be required to approve the rezoning. The vote was postponed because only four Councilmen were present at the session.

The lawmakers also approved a proposal that the town tie-in with a proposed county interceptor sewer line to be extended to three industrial plants north of town—Curtis Paper, the National Vulcanized Fibre and the proposed DuPont office building. The new line, still only in the planning stage, will offer the town an opportunity to solve its sewer problems for many years to come, according to Councilman Frank Durnall who urged the Council to take advantage of the offer. The cost to the Council, he said, would be about $16,000, but the town, he claimed, will save much more than this through the tie-in, since it would eliminate the necessity for a costly expansion to the municipal sewage disposal plant that will be necessary if expected town growth materializes. The present disposal plant is already being taxed to near the capacity point, it was brought out.

The Councilman also agreed to study a proposal requiring all town employees to take loyalty oaths. Mayor Wallace Johnson indicated that a mass oath could be administered if it seemed advisable. The question arose when it was pointed out that a recent Delaware law requires such oaths of state employees.

The lawmakers gave the first and second reading to a smoke prevention ordinance, setting a $25 fine for violations but providing for a 3-month grace period to correct faulty equipment. The proposed law also calls for the appointment of a municipal smoke inspector to follow up complaints. In determining violations, the density and shade of smoke will be gauged by the Ringelman Chart.

Details of an agreement under which the State Highway Department will take over the maintenance of five through streets here were outlined at the session. The Council decided to give the agreement further study before signing it.

Under the proposal, the state would, at a sizable saving to the town, maintain from curb to curb the following streets: East and West Main, Elkton Road, South College Avenue, New London Avenue and North Chapel Street.

'Papa Is All,' Opens On Monday At Arden

Robin Hood Players In New Show

"Papa Is All," a warm and tender comedy about the Pennsylvania Dutch, will open Monday night, July 9, at the Robin Hood Theatre in Arden.

It will succeed the current production of the delightful English show, "Miranda," which has James Nolan, film and TV star; Paramount starlet Barbara Rush, and Cynthia Rogers, a Robin Hood favorite, in major roles.

James Maloney who has been playing in the Broadway and film versions of "Detective Story," returns to the Arden stage to appear in the title role of "Papa Is All." He will play the ill-tempered tyrant whose religious scruples against machinery, movies, and merriment are rather stiff barriers for his fun-loving family. One evening, daughter Emma sneaks out for a date, and Papa, who sanctions not even a slight breach of his discipline, sets out with a shotgun to dispose of Emma's cause of temptation. When he entangles with a train and disappears, his family goes on what for them is a lark of major proportions.

Laura McClure will be completing her three-week engagement with her portrayal of Mama in the charming next week attraction. Son Jake will be played by John Drew Devereaux; daughter Emma by Barbara Rush, and Mrs. Yoder, a chatterbox neighbor, by Cynthia Rogers.

Under the direction of Windsor Lewis, "Miranda" will play through Saturday. Curtain time at the Robin Hood is at 8:30 nightly except Sunday.
