

GNRA Gives Rittenhouse Park To City As 40-Acre Donation

John Mueller, Mrs. David M. Nelson Of GNRA Present City With Deed To Parkland Cited At Value In Excess Of $200,000, As "Donation From Citizens Of Newark"

The City of Newark was given 40-acres of parkland at last Monday night's council meeting when John S. Mueller and Mrs. David M. Nelson of the Greater Newark Recreation Association presented the city with the deed to Rittenhouse Park.

"We are getting in excess of $200,000 in parkland," Mayor Norma B. Handoff said, citing the gift as the "fruits of some 20 years of devoted work" by members of the Greater Newark Recreation Association.

Mueller, in signing the deed for presentation of the Rittenhouse Park tract to the city, said that the parkland was a "donation from the citizens of Newark, who raised the money for the purchase of land and donated it to us."

The GNRA will "go out of business on Dec. 31, 1969," Mueller added, "in phase-out with the city recreation program."

The plan for the Newark Corporation subdivision of a 9.3-acre tract on East Cleveland Avenue adjacent to the drive-in theatre site, was approved unanimously last Monday night after tabling at the previous council meeting pending report on traffic in the area.

City Manager Edward R. Stiff recommended approval of the plat with public access roads to be maintained and controlled by the city, and the proposal was approved with provision that the owners provide any necessary, extra police control.

Sewer Survey

A survey of the municipal sewer system as recommended by Public Works Director Benjamin J. Campagna, at a cost of $41,955 was approved, with savings of $15,000 in having the house-to-house survey for infiltration conducted by a four man city crew. The firm of John J. Harte Associates, Inc. is to be engaged at a cost of $17,475 to conduct the engineering survey, and an estimated $15,000 for Harte's house-to-house inspection for infiltration is expected to be saved by employing municipal labor for this phase of the program.

To Councilman William M. Coverdale's query as to whether "this will correct back-up of sewers into cellars," Campagna replied that "trouble areas are to be first inspected."

Philip M. Sowa, assistant to the city manager, reported 190 signs in violation of the city ordinance, and that of 407 signs, 280 were registered. Sowa advised raising the sign inspection fee from $3 to $5. The city staff is to submit recommendations for adequate sign regulations.

Surtax Opposed

In a 5-2 vote opposed by Mayor Handoff and Councilman Frank J. Osborne, Jr., council registered opposition to a proposed surtax for municipal aid.

Coverdale cited Newark's fiscal position with a $300,000 year-end surplus, and asked why the city should "raise its tax rate to support other municipalities in the county?" I am unalterably opposed to it," he concluded.

"I can conceive of a bill very favorable to Newark," the mayor replied, and Osborne objected to opposition of legislation not yet drafted.

Contracts were awarded to Graybar Electric for city purchase of electrical distribution equipment at a bid of $9,829.39, and to Sylvan Pools for two portable swimming pools with metal covers at a cost of $16,676. To be installed in the College Park and New London Avenue areas.

Councilman Arthur P. Mayer and Osborne opposed pool purchase, with Osborne recommending council consideration of an all-weather permanent pool to be constructed on Newark High School property.

Coverdale requested the city solicitor's opinion on deletion of items such as swimming pools, from the list approved with last April's bond issue.

Turnpike Toll

A resolution presented by Councilman Mayer at the request of State Sen. William F. Hart, urging the State Highway Commission to eliminate toll charges at Newark on the John F. Kennedy Turnpike, was approved unanimously.

Councilman John H. Fassnacht pointed out that the state commission "has no control over it," and that responsibility for tolls rests with the turnpike bondholders, but the resolution as recommended by the local state senator was approved.

Newark Police Officials, City Manager Plan Improved Public Relations Program

The Newark Police Department, with City Manager Edward R. Stiff, held a press conference yesterday afternoon in the council office of the Academy Building, with a discussion of a program for improved public relations for the police.

Chief Arthur S. Hausler, Capt. J. Earl Lynch; Lieutenants William Brierley and Robert Tweed, and Sgt. Marvin Fitzgerald represented the Newark Police Department. Chief Hausler said that the police department was not interested in individual glory, but in satisfactory performance by the department as a whole.

Guidelines were established for news media coverage, with third copies of complaint slips to be the source for news stories at the police station.

Additional details may be obtained from the chief, Capt. Lynch, or from Brierley in charge of the criminal division; Tweed, as head of platoon sergeants; and from Fitzgerald in charge of community juvenile relations.

Woods To Conduct Symphonic Band Program At NHS

The 110-member Newark High School Symphonic Band and Band Front will present a music program next Tuesday, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium, under the direction of Jon R. Woods, instructor in instrumental music.

This year's musical presentation is unique in that it includes not only the symphonic and stage bands but also incorporates use of the band front—the color guard, majorettes and flag twirlers.

A variety of selections, from classical repertoire to contemporary compositions for band, will be presented.

The band will feature two soloists—James Murphy, tuba, playing "Beelzebub," and James Von Stetten, trombone, playing "Blue Bells of Scotland."

The school dance band, the Multi-phonics, will play a special arrangement of "Love is Blue," and Ruth Stegner will be a featured saxophonist in "Take Five."

The majorettes and flag twirlers will perform a special routine to a Dixieland arrangement of "Bill Bailey's Combo."

The program will conclude with Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Tickets, with special rates for children 12 and younger, will be available at the door.

Spraying Of Elms Slated Wednesday On U.D. Campus

One-Hour Spray Operation By Helicopter Scheduled To Begin At 6 In Morning

Some 200 American elm trees on the University of Delaware campus will receive their annual spraying by helicopter next Wednesday.

Victor Rabin, superintendent of grounds, announced that the spraying will begin around 6 a.m., and be completed in about an hour. Adverse weather conditions could result in postponement of the spraying operation.

Safe for use around animals and humans, a mixture of dormant oil and methoxychlor will be applied to control Dutch elm disease. The spray is fatal to the elm bark beetle, carrier of the Dutch elm fungus spore which infects the tree. Motorists are advised to park their cars away from groups of campus trees during the spraying.

Route of the helicopter will include Old College, Main Street up to Belmont Hall on West Main; the mall down across Delaware Avenue; College Avenue, East Park Place, Academy Street, Orchard Road, Kent Way, and Amstel Avenue.

Ag Rotors of Gettysburg, Pa., has been responsible for this service since 1963.

School Secretaries Attend Workshop On Communication

While Newark teachers were engaged in New Castle County Education Association meetings on Wednesday last week, Newark secretaries were busy at a district workshop in the Christiana Junior High School auditorium.

The workshop "District Concern for Communication," stressed that in many cases, the secretary is the first person to greet the public, and the first person new residents meet as they come to register their children in Newark schools.

The program included a talk by Dr. Ernestine Moore, for 14 years, vice-president in charge of personnel at Wilmington Trust, and currently president of Alma Moore College. Dr. Moore's topic was "Secretaries—Did I Say That?"

Glenn Coleman, supervisor of stenographic services for the Department of Engineering, and Mrs. Frances S. Andrews, New Castle County information officer and author of the book "This Is New Castle County, Delaware" discussed their roles in communications.

The workshop was under the direction of Dr. Ronald M. Finch, assistant director of personnel for Newark schools.

Mrs. Iris Blake, Mrs. Lucille Dow, and Mrs. Mildred Murphy were responsible for the social portion of the meeting.

Mrs. Nellie Miller is president of the Newark Schools Secretaries Association.

Charter member of J. Allison O'Daniel Post 10 in Newark, which celebrated its 50th anniversary along with the national legion, at a banquet in Newark last Sunday night, W. Floyd Jackson was honored as the June 30-year member of Newark's American Legion post.

Jackson, who resides at 410 Parker Mill Road in Newark, was Delaware Department commander of the American Legion in 1949-54.

Aetna Fund Drive Attains Goal Of $34,500 with Public Support

Chairman Olan Thomas Reports Success Of Campaign For Public Contributions To Maintain, Operate Nine Pieces Of Equipment With Volunteer Aetna Service

The annual fund drive for Newark's volunteer firemen, to maintain and operate nine pieces of fire-fighting apparatus reached its goal last week, Chairman Olan R. Thomas reports.

Officers and members of the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Co., thank all who contributed to the successful 1969 drive for funds.

Aetna Fund Chairman

"These contributions are needed in order to continue the very best fire protection service for the Aetna fire district," Thomas said.

All funds received are used for operation of the company. Aetna's manpower is all volunteer, with no paid members.

Aetna income for 1969 includes fund drive, $34,500; City of Newark, $15,000; insurance appropriation, $15,000; Ladies Auxiliary, $6,000; State of Delaware Fire & Rescue, $4,000; New Castle County Fire and Rescue, $3,000. Dues from members, $1,100; Hall No. 2 rentals, $5,000, with a total of $86,000.

Budget For The Year

The 1969 budget includes maintenance-repairs for apparatus $3,500; hose, coats, boots, etc. $13,000; maintenance of buildings, $8,000; heat and utilities, $6,000; cleaning and sanitary supplies, $2,500; standby generators, maintenance, $500; postage, Station No. 2, $1,000; building and loan for No. 3 Station, $3,000; gas oil and lubrication for apparatus, $3,500; insurance, buildings, apparatus, firemen $4,500; new and replacement apparatus and equipment, $17,000; administration supplies and postage, $3,000; training volunteer members, $2,000; fire prevention programs, $1,000; alarm and alerting radio systems, $2,500; replacement fund, hall and kitchen equipment, $2,000, for a total of $86,000.

Plans are being considered to purchase a 100-ft. aerial ladder truck. The present truck has a 75-ft. aerial ladder and will be 20 years old in two years.

Delivery of equipment is approximately a year and a half after order is placed.

The present 75-ft. truck cost $30,000 in 1951, and a new one will cost about $75,000.

A pumper in 1954 cost $17,000, and a similar pumper now costs about $30,000.

"From these examples, you can see the cost of fire protection, like everything else, has really increased," Thomas added.

The average life of front line fire apparatus is 20 years.

The U.S. Department of the Interior has approved a $225,000 grant to help buy 72.54-acres of land for the White Clay Creek State Park project, two miles north of Newark.

Delaware congressional offices were informed that the tract will form part of a 500-acre park area surrounding the site of the proposed White Clay Creek Reservoir.

When completed, the park will provide facilities for camping, picnicking, hiking, fishing, hunting and swimming.

The grant will be matched dollar for dollar from the Delaware capital improvement fund.

The federal share is provided from the land and water conservation fund, which is financed from national park entrance fees, a portion of royalties from off-shore oil and gas wells, and related revenues.

William Markell Author Of Article In Spring Journal

Dr. William Markell, writing in the spring issue of the International Journal of Accounting Education and Research, points out that trained management personnel are more important to long-term growth of newer nations than availability of natural resources.

Professor of business administration at the University of Delaware, Markell wrote his article after a summer of research in Israel.

While education at the college level for all aspects of business, including accounting, is a key factor in preparation of trained personnel, Markell states it appears that universities in new nations are not accepting this responsibility easily.

In reference to his article Markell said, "Although a country may have lots of oil, rubber or some other natural resource, it must have trained local people to exploit these natural resources to the best interests of the country."

300,000 Chryslers Built At Newark Assembly Plant

The 300,000th Chrysler automobile built at the Newark assembly plant was driven off the final assembly line during the second shift last Monday.

According to C. E. Fowble, Jr., plant manager, it was a four-door Chrysler New Yorker hardtop with aquamarine body and black vinyl roof, being shipped to a Chrysler-Plymouth dealer in Key West, Fla.

Fowble said that the 300,000th Newark-built Chrysler was also the 1,727,504th car off the Newark assembly line since automobile production began here in 1937.

He pointed out, however, that the Newark plant did not build its first Chrysler nameplate car until Aug. 30, 1964, at the beginning of the 1965 model run.

In addition to 300,000 Chrysler cars, the Newark plant by Monday afternoon had built a total of 474,152 Dodge passenger cars and 953,352 Plymouths.

During the 1969 model year, the local plant is building the Plymouth Fury and the Chrysler New Yorker and Newport, with a normal daily production rate of 832 cars.

Stauffer Research Compiled In Book On Reading Study

Dr. Russell G. Stauffer, H. Rodney Sharp professor of education, and director of the Reading Study Center at the University of Delaware, has completed a text based on his years of studying the language-experience approach to reading instruction in lower Delaware schools.

Stauffer's research began with classroom testing in Rehoboth in 1952, and developed into the Seaford three-year longitudinal study of 1965-67.

He completed the book last year while on sabbatical leave in Lewes. Purpose of the text is to provide teachers with a detailed account of reading practices and procedures tried and effective.

One chapter presents theoretical justification for the approach, but the majority of the book deals with methodology by grade level and special uses such as classes for slow learners and adult illiterates.

Published by Harper & Row, the book is scheduled for release in December.

Work-At-Home Pitfalls

Cited By Coral Morris
Work-at-home schemes are tempting for the homemaker who needs money but can't take an outside job.

But all too often, the only one who makes any money is the promoter, warns Coral K. Morris, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

You should be suspicious if large profits are promised with no experience or training necessary.

The catch? You often have to buy kits, materials, instructions or equipment at a very high price.

The club opposed the House Bill allowing 19-year-olds to purchase alcoholic beverages and permitting places to remain open until 2 a.m. Mrs. Robert Walker discussed these issues.

Mrs. Henry Mitchell announced the program on "Know Your Delaware" over WDEL each morning at 9 o'clock and advised members to listen.

The annual family night will be held next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. with a covered dish supper served in Hockessin Friends Meeting House. There will be a speaker from the Better Business Bureau.

The supper committee includes Mrs. Lawrence Ford, Mrs. Lomax, and Mrs. John Goome.

The club will hold a luncheon and card party on April 15, in Harmony Grange Hall to raise funds for the community service projects.

GREETERS
Newcomer-Welcoming Service

Y's Owl 4-H Club will hold its April Session next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Donald Archer on Lancaster Pike. This will be demonstration night. Members will note the change from Thursday to Wednesday.

Harmony Grange had a St. Patrick's Day program last Monday at its meeting.

Mrs. Edward Holler, lecturer, told why St. Patrick's Day is celebrated and gave the history of his birth. March 17, was the date of his death in 461 rather than date of birth. The men sang, directed by Edward Holler.

Mrs. Eleanor Lovell told of a boat trip through the Erie Canal after Mrs. Holler told of Dewitt Clinton, Governor of New York who had the canal built.

Mrs. Elma Marshall reported on the recent county Pomona meeting at Glasgow.

The hospitality committee named for April, May, and June consists of Mrs. J. W. Pennington, Mrs. Wilson Pierson, and Mrs. Charles Woodward.

The state youth ritualistic team will come to Harmony on May 5. Mrs. Howard Crossan reminded members of sewing, needlework, quilts, pot holder, jig saw puzzle, and doll dressing contests this season.

Members were urged to obtain their tickets for the annual state scholarship dinner this Saturday at Capital Grange Hall in Dover.

Grangers sang birthday greetings to their master Rodney L. Dempsey, who was celebrating his birthday last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Cooper of Limestone Acres returned last week from a three months' stay at Avon Park, Fla.

Enroute, they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cooper at their home in Nashville, Tenn.

Hockessin Friendship met last Saturday for a supper meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hannum.

A film on "National Aeronautics Space Administration" was shown. Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, Dilworth Pierson, and Mrs. George Wright are Hockessin Friends delegates to Philadelphia annual sessions opening tomorrow at Fourth and Arch Street meeting house, and closing April 5.

Limestone Presbyterian Church Theodore Dubois' Easter cantata "The Seven Last Words" will be sung by the senior choir this Sunday at 7:30 p.m. under the direction of Mrs. Vernon Fisher.

Maundy Thursday at 7:30 p.m. holy communion will be celebrated with the reception of new members. A coffee hour will follow.

There will be an orientation session for new members this Sunday at 4 p.m.

One Great Hour of Sharing envelopes will be received this Sunday at 9 and 11 a.m. services.

The Women's Association met this morning at the church with a program headed by Mrs. Ned Beard.

Junior High Fellowship had a film on "Exploring the Mystic of Prejudices" at its meeting last Sunday.

Limestone women discussion leaders for five circles met yesterday afternoon to continue their study of the book "The Covenants in Faith and History."

Good Friday services will be held from noon until 3 p.m. At 7:30 p.m., a service of tenebrae will be held and the choir directed by Charles Lee will sing "The Seven Last Words."

An all-day sewing for the Hockessin branch of the needlework guild will be held next Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Harmony Grange Hall.

YOUR NEWARK NEWSPAPER SINCE 1910

I didn't join the Peace Corps for the greatest reasons. Not what you'd call altruism.

If you want to know, I joined because I had this idea of doing something I wasn't supposed to do. I mean, go far away. See things. Expand my mind. That stuff.

What I was supposed to do was marry a split-level house. I never exactly intended to teach.

Maybe what I really am is, different. And maybe I wouldn't ever have married a split-level house. Maybe.

But I couldn't give up after college. I wasn't ready, if you could say that. I joined the Peace Corps and I went to Sinoe, Liberia.

It was so wild and new and, you know, definitely scary. A small plane with no landing field. People packing my gear on their heads, like a safari.

But then the Hollywood part of it comes to an end. It ends, I think, when you can't wash your hands, when you want to. Or go to a nice john.

Or you feel tired when you go to bed. A nice tired. I never worked before. Really worked.

And then something different starts. I taught kids. I taught teachers. Me. I went home with them.

I'd sit and we'd all worry about something. A pickup truck with a busted fuel pump. Could I get some American lipstick. Maybe mention that a woman wouldn't have to have a million kids if she didn't want to. Malaria.

Then the next day I'd think I was just a teacher. Except there'd be fried plantain for breakfast.

And you get a magazine. And you think about America. Martin Luther King. And you don't know. I never seriously thought I would change the world. Does anyone believe it any more?

Then I came back. And I'm a teacher. And I've been seeing this guy, Ronnie. He's a teacher. We teach at P.S. 201. It's in Harlem.

TRANSPLANTING

Here a dibble is used as a tool to guide a tiny seedling into a compressed peat pot.

When the seedlings in your seed starter have reached the 4-leaf stage (2 seed leaves and 2 true leaves) it's time to move them to separate pots.

Which type of pot to use depends, of course, on your individual taste. There are clay pots, peat pots and plastic ones. There also are compressed peat pellets that expand when in water to reach 2-inch-pot size.

Naturally these should be soaked before the seedlings are set in them. The seedlings are tiny and must be handled carefully so as not to break their delicate roots.

A dibble or a pointed wooden plant label or even a demitasse spoon are all tools that will help do the job properly. Fingers are usually too clumsy.

First lift a group of seedlings from the seed starter. Separate one individual from the group, using the tip of your tool.

Handle this little seedling by one of its true leaves as these are larger than the seed leaves. Make a hole with the tip of your tool in the center of the previously filled pot (in the case of compressed peat pots the growing mixture is already there) and insert the roots.

The seedling should be set at the same depth as it was in the seed starter. Firm the growing medium to the roots, once more using the tip of the dibble, label or spoon. And that's that.

The question of whether to use soil or another medium to grow seedlings to maturity is an open one. Soil has to be sterilized while such materials as vermiculite and perlite do not. But even sterilized soil contains nutrients, while these must be provided to plants growing in anything else.

This is usually done by watering the seedlings regularly once a week with a dilution of a liquid or solution of a crystal fertilizer.

This, too, is unnecessary at first when compressed peat pots are used as some fertilizer already has been added.

Paul Giammatteo Bank Of Delaware Manager Of Sales

Paul M. Giammatteo, sales representative for Bank of Delaware's automated customer services division, has been named sales manager of the division, effective April 1. Giammatteo joined the bank in 1959, but left the following year to enter the U.S. Air Force, where he remained until 1963.

Reemployed by the bank in 1966, he was assigned to his present duties in 1968.

Before entering the sales field, he had spent more than 17 years in work connected with the field of automation, from "board wiring" to programming third generation computers.

Giammatteo, a native of Wilmington, is a graduate of Wilmington High School and holds the pre-standard certificate of the American Institute of Banking.

Mr. and Mrs. Giammatteo with their daughter reside at 210 El-dertield Road.

Green Thumb Tips

If you are searching for a fine-leaved foliage plant to edge a border, why not consider Irish Lace. This is a variety of marigold grown for its leaves.

To be sure, it has tiny white flowers in early fall, but the rest of the season the plants display delicate, fern-like foliage that acts as a foil for the brightly colored flowers in the border.

Irish Lace grows only six inches high.

You can grow peanuts even if you live in the North. Look over your garden for a place facing south where soil is sandy.

Plant peanuts there after all frost danger is past, covering them 1½ inches deep.

Children love to grow peanuts but must be restrained from planting those that have been roasted as they won't grow.

Certainly you remember when flowering tobacco opened its blossoms in late afternoon and perfumed the evening air?

Do you know that there now is a variety with flowers that stay open all day?

Appropriately, it's called Day-light.

If you like the French soup named Vichyssoise, why not grow the leeks which flavor it?

Hard to find in the market, they're easy to grow.

Seeds may be started indoors or sown directly in the garden. Leeks are blanched like celery, by drawing up earth around the plants but, unlike celery, leeks are not a fussy crop.

LINDA DORAN ENGAGED TO DONALD A. GRANT

Mr. and Mrs. Milton D. Doran of Newark announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Linda Sue Doran, to Donald Allen Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Grant of Newark.

The groom-to-be is serving with the Air Force in Lowry, Colo., and graduated from Christiana High School.

Miss Doran is a senior at Christiana.

McKENNAN DAR PLANS
ANNIVERSARY SUPPER

The Capt. William McKennan chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will celebrate its 21st anniversary with a covered dish luncheon on May 12, at the home of the regent, Mrs. Joseph Wolf, in North star.

Members are to bring their contributions for the DAR at this time. Laprobes — knitted, crocheted, or patchwork — are requested for the Veterans Hospital, also paperback books. Mrs. Leslie McCormick may be contacted for size of laprobes.

Mrs. Robert Miller, national defense chairman, had articles on the nonproliferation treaty, anti-biotic missiles warfare in inner space and "let's keep the electoral college."

Further history about the town of Newport was given by Mrs. Miller who stated it was a commercial town and almost became the city rather than Wilmington. Mrs. Miller obtained her information from the book written by Miss Ella Johnson.

Mrs. Sara Evans gave items from the Mill Creek Hundred road commissioner's secretary book belonging to her great uncle Matthew Lockard in 1832. All meetings of the commissioner were held in the Mermaid Tavern.

Return of the Lord's Prayer in public school was discussed and approved.

Mrs. Marguerite Dunlop was named acting honor roll chairman. Her daughter, Mrs. Ronald Savidge, was accepted as a member.

Mrs. Wolf and Mrs. W. H. Narvel are chapter delegate and alternate to the 78th Continental Congress in Washington, April 14-18. The President General's message for March was read by Mrs. Wolf.

BEVERLY ROSE LOYD, BRIDE

Mrs. Robert Barry Smith

Miss Beverly Rose Loyd and Robert Barry Smith were married Saturday, March 22, at 2 p.m. in Calvary Baptist Church, Newark, by the Rev. Edgar L. Patton. A reception at the church followed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Loyd of Newark; graduated from Christiana High School, and attended Kent State University in Ohio.

Her husband, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gafen Smith of Kent, served with the U. S. Army in Vietnam, and is employed in Kent where the couple will live.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white moire satin Empire gown with a fingertip length veil of silk illusion, which she made herself, and carried a cascade of carnations and roses.

Miss Ellen Crowe was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. David Muhs and Mrs. Wilmer Stevens, sisters of the bride.

Ronald Shaffer of Kent was best man, and ushers were Wilmer Stevens of Newark, and Richard and Edward Williams of Johnstown, Pa., and Donald Siebenthal, Aurora, Ohio.

Princeton Professor Stone To Visit Local Campus
Lawrence Stone, Dodge professor of history at Princeton, and one of the leading social historians of 16th and 17th Century England, will visit the University of Delaware April 8-9, as a guest of the history department.

Prof. Stone will discuss "Modernization of the English Family, 1450-1750" at 4 p.m., April 8, in Room 112, Memorial Hall.
On Wednesday morning he will meet with interested students for discussion of English social history in the 16th and 17th centuries in Room 132, Memorial Hall.

HEALTH & SAFETY

Mainly for Mothers
by Carol Hart

Heeding Better Than Speeding for Label Reading

Have you joined America's popular new educational trend... speed reading?

Whether or not you decide to increase your ability to read fast, keep in mind there are times when reading accurately is more important than reading speedily.

One such time is when you read the label on a medicine container, says the Council on Family Health. Taking or giving medicine is so important to the health and safety of you and your family that you should understand the directions you are reading, and then double check yourself.

If you want to measure how well you understand what you read, test yourself by reading a medicine label in your home, says the Council, a non-profit organization sponsored as a public service by leading members of the drug industry.

Did you note the amount of medicine to be taken? Does the dosage vary for adults and children? How often should the medicine be taken?

If a liquid, should you shake the container well before pouring? Is it for external or internal use?

Does the label state the purpose of the medicine?

Are there instructions for proper storage... such as "Keep in a cool place." Should you take the medicine before or after eating?

Are there cautions as to certain activities that should be curtailed or discontinued while taking the medicine?

Not all medicine labels contain all of the information listed above, but all information on each label is important.

Heeding rather than speeding in the watchword when reading directions for the use of medicine, says the Council on Family Health.

Crisp and Simple

Crisp, sweet wedges of iceberg lettuce with Western Garden Dressing can be served in two contrasting meal situations. Serve the cool green lettuce, sprinkled with orange and red dressing, to introduce a hearty entree for a semi-formal dinner. When a spur-of-the-moment barbecue meal is suggested, simply cut the heads of lettuce and arrange them on a tray surrounding a pitcher of dressing.

Sweet, flavored western lettuce is selected when the head gives with a gentle squeeze.

Western Garden Dressing
1 medium carrot, grated ½ cup Italian dressing
3 radishes, thinly sliced Iceberg lettuce
1 green onion, minced

Stir the ingredients together; chill. Makes ¾ cup.
Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in lettuce crispier or plastic bag. Cut head into quarters or 6ths. Spoon dressing over the top when ready to serve.

40 Cadette Scouts
Visit Washington
On School Holiday

Forty Cadette Girl Scouts took advantage of a day off from school on Wednesday last week to visit Washington. The girls and their leaders left St. Thomas church at 7 a.m. and in Washington toured the White House and the Library of Congress.

They met with Congressman William V. Roth before going into the House of Representatives where they heard Congressman McCormick speak about raising the national debt limit.

After lunching in the Senate Cafeteria they toured the National Cathedral, joining in the evening song service.

This trip was part of the program of Cadette Scouts to learn more about government at local, state and national levels.

Previously, they visited a Newark City Council meeting, and they plan a trip to Dover State Legislature.

The trip was planned and coordinated by Mrs. Samuel Johnson and Mrs. Kenneth Lewis.

CANDYTUFT

Giant Hyacinth-flowered candytuft is a representative of the upright, rocket type.

The flower we know as Candytuft is named for the place of its origin, the Island of Candy, now the Greek island called Crete.

The last syllable of the name describes the tufted flowers.

There are two species of annual candytuft grown in gardens: one known as rocket, the other as globe candytuft.

The rocket type, which you will find in catalogs and seed displays under variety names of Giant Hyacinth-flowered, Iceberg, Empress, White Pinnacle, has only white flowers but they are delicately scented. The varieties mentioned grow from 18 inches to two feet tall.

Globe candytufts, called for their globe or dome-shaped plants, have no fragrance but have colored flowers.

These may be pink, rose, carmine, crimson, lavender or white.

These plants are lower-growing than those of the rocket candytufts and can be used in large masses for an overall colorful effect.

Magic Carpet and Fairy are mixtures of all the bloom colors named.

Both types of candytuft share a liking for cool weather and both exhaust themselves by producing too many flowers.

For this reason it is advisable to sow seeds at 3-week intervals and thus keep new crops of blossoms coming along.

TAKE SAFETY HOME!

News Note:
Industrial workers are safer on than off the job. Let's be safe everywhere.

CARE ENOUGH TO BE CAREFUL

Question: What's the best way to do your spring cleaning?

Answer: Do it very carefully!

There is a message for all of us in one of industry's vital and continuing programs: Safety Off the Job.

Since World War II, accidents in industry have been reduced by half. That is a remarkable record which is the result of the emphasis which companies always give to safety at work. Now industry is also increasing its efforts to promote better safety habits outside the home. This is because, according to a pamphlet published by the National Association of Manufacturers, deaths and injuries to employees outside of working hours represented an economic loss of a startling $8 billion in 1966, not to mention the grief and anguish involved. Traffic accounts for the largest percentage of non-work accidents. Falls, many of them around the home, are the second greatest cause.

Company programs boil down to two essentials: safe equipment and encouraging a positive attitude towards safety on the part of the workers. Safe Equipment and Positive Attitude — two points we all should remember

Solo, Ensemble Music Festival Slated Saturday

Some 300 young musicians are expected at the 11th annual Solo and Ensemble Music Festival this Saturday at the University of Delaware.

Sponsored by the university's department of music, the festival gives students an opportunity to compete and receive constructive criticism from a panel of judges.

Judges for this year's festival are: piano — Miriam S. Gottlieb, Ernesta Rasogni, Benjamin Whitten and Elizabeth Winn Keller; woodwind and brass — Richard A. Boerlin; chorus — Joseph Hustis; string — Walter Cogswell.

The festival will begin at 8:30 a.m. with piano competition at the Student Center and Old College, and brass, woodwind, string and vocal competition at Old College.

To enter the festival, participants must be students of Delaware music teachers (public or private) and in either elementary, junior or senior high school.

According to co-chairman David Blackinton, instructor of instrumental music at the university, the musicians are not judged against each other, but on how well they play.

Co-chairman Mildred Gaddis, assistant professor of music at the university, has announced the day's activities are open to the public.

Hastings To Direct Choir In Cantata At St. Paul's

The Senior Choir of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will sing the Easter cantata "Seven Last Words" by the French composer Theodore Dubois next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the church.

Harley S. Hastings is choir director and organist.

Soloists include Mrs. Ruth Oatman, soprano; Donald Rittenhouse, tenor; and Eryl Byasson, baritone.

Science Learning Festival Slated At Sterek School

Mrs. Margaret Wyles, librarian at the Margaret S. Sterek School for the Hearing Impaired, has announced that an educational science service learning festival will be held at the school April 1-3, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Learning materials such as magnifiers and viewers, magnets and motors, spelling games, educational crafts, nature collections, number games, and printing equipment will be displayed.

Parents and students throughout the Newark school district are invited to the Sterek Library for the festival. There is no admission charge.

City Council

City Manager Stiff said that estimated repairs to the New London School building, including plumbing and roof, would exceed $55,000, with $50,000 authorized for such renovation.

Fassnacht requested a report with recommendations from the city manager's staff on renovation of the building, at the next meeting.

"Either we go or we don't," Fassnacht concluded concerning use of the building as a recreation center. David Gallo in the audience pointed out that "over six pages of specifications" had been included in the latest advertisement for building repair bids, and Mayer urged consideration of new, simple, concrete building at a cost of some $30,000.

Stop signs at the traffic lights on West Park Place at South College Avenue and at Elkton Road are to be removed, and a stop sign is to be installed on West Park at the right turn lane onto South College, with passage of an ordinance at a final reading Monday night.

Mayer objected to "high level conferences between state, county and Wilmington" officials "that leave local governments in the dark," and warned of "the trend exhibited in New Castle County toward metropolitan government."

He urged that Newark be represented at such meetings. Councilman Mayer proposed that the Farmers Bank close the drive-in window on Academy Street to eliminate traffic congestion, and as an alternative, Osborne suggested that traffic movement be mandatory when space at the drive-in facility is not available. The problem is to be discussed with the bank.

Councilman William E. Frame, Jr., proposed that parking be restricted on West Delaware Avenue, and that night parking be permitted on East Delaware Avenue.

Monday's meeting was extended from the 10:30 deadline to 10:45 to complete the agenda, with Councilman Olan R. Thomas opposing the overtime session.

John Penn Heads Tennis Program For Boys, Girls

Tennis instruction will be offered by the City of Newark Parks and Recreation Department.

This program for boys and girls, 5th through 8th grades, will begin April 8 and continue until May 24, at the Newark High School courts.

Beginners and intermediate tennis instruction will be under the direction of John Penn. All participants should be registered and attend the first class at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, April 5.

A native of Roanoke, Va., Penn is a graduate of Arkansas A&M and has worked toward his master's degree in general science under the National Science Foundation Institute for Secondary School Teachers.

He is a general science teacher at Burnett Middle School, Wilmington.

Mr. Penn received an athletic scholarship in tennis at Arkansas, was conference champion in singles and doubles for three years, and in Delaware is ranked 6th in doubles.

He attended the University of Delaware for certification in the state, and taught racquet sports at the university.

Hannah's Hens Hard Hit, Hampered, Hurt By Injuries With California Trip Ahead

Delaware's baseball team has been severely hampered by a series of injuries to key players.

"I've never seen anything like it," says Blue Hen Coach Bob Hannah. "We have this many injuries over the course of a season — but we have never lost so many players in so short a time."

Hannah's Hens, who have games at Philadelphia Textile on Friday and with Brown here on Saturday at 2 p.m. before leaving for their California trip, have had five players slowed by injuries in the last 10 days.

Regular Leftfielder Bruce Fad, who hit .288 as a sophomore last year, has been sidelined with a sprained ankle.

Sophomore Bob Buckley, Fad's probable replacement, has been unable to play because of a dislocated finger on his throwing hand.

A third outfielder, Dave Klinger, has been playing despite a painful ankle sprain that has slowed him to about "90 per cent running speed," in Hannah's estimate.

Pitcher Larry Walker, the apparent ace of the staff after a 2-1 record and 1.29 earned run average last year as a sophomore, has yet to make an appearance because of a sore shoulder. Hannah hopes that Walker will be able to pitch this weekend in preparation for the California trip.

The latest addition to the injury list, Catcher Bob Masin, may prove the most costly to Hannah and the Hens. Masin, a junior, was being counted on to replace graduated Capt. Chuck Pese until he chipped a bone in his throwing hand in the Hens' opening game loss to Villanova.

"We don't know when Bob will be able to play again," Hannah says. "We intend to take him to California with us, but it is doubtful that he will be able to play out there."

The loss of Masin leaves the catching chores to Dave Willard, a junior with very limited experience. "Everyone is going to have to bear down to make up for the players we are missing," Hannah says. "The next 10 days will be very difficult for us."

That's an understatement. In addition to the two games this weekend, the Hens will play seven games in six days in the Riverside (Calif.) National Baseball Tournament next week.

Brigham Young, Illinois, Indiana, Mississippi, defending national champion Southern California, UCLA and host University of California at Riverside will provide the opposition for the Blue Hens on their West Coast trip.

Wife: "In most marriage ceremonies they don't use the word 'obey' now."

Husband: "Too bad, isn't it? It used to lend a little humor to the occasion."

Hen Golfers Led By Charlie Pinto In LaSalle Opener

Coach Scotty Duncan's Blue Hens golfers have 17 matches on their schedule, which starts with a match against LaSalle at the Philmont Country Club today.

"We really won't have a very good line on our players until after the southern trip," says Duncan, who has a 52-24 record in five years as Delaware golf coach.

"We will take 10 men on that trip and we will have a better opportunity to judge their ability."

The Hens will leave Monday on their southern trip, playing American University and Temple that afternoon in Washington.

The following day, Delaware will play Old Dominion at Virginia Beach, and Duncan has scheduled practice rounds at Cavaliers Country Club in Virginia Beach for April 2-3.

The team will play an intrasquad match at Tides Inn Country Club in Irvington, Va., on April 4 and return home the same day.

Duncan's team has its sights set on a goal no other Delaware golf team has ever achieved — winning the MAC championship.

Capt. Charlie Pinto, a senior from Newark, figures to be the No. 1 man for the Blue Hens. Pinto was 13-2 last year and has a two-year varsity record of 35-5.

Duncan can call on three other returning lettermen — Seniors Tom Cionette and Jim Powell and Junior John Stinson. Cionette and Powell were both 11-4 last year, while Stinson was 12-1.

Brook and brown trout are being stocked this week in designated Delaware trout streams.

The trout season opens April 4, and runs through Nov. 8.

Fishing hours are one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset.

Creek limit is six and there is no size limit.

White Clay and Mill creeks, and the Brandywine between Market Street Bridge and the Pennsylvania state line are designated trout streams.

Quite a few trophy-sized trout (all over 12-inches) will furnish excellent sport.

Persons required to have a fishing license must also have affixed to the license a signed trout stamp costing $2.10. However, a trout stamp will not be required on any portion of the Brandywine after May 4.

Dr. Donald J. Zinn of Kingston, R.I., has been re-elected for a third term as president of the National Wildlife Federation.

First elected president in 1967, he served on the Federation's board of directors for seven years and is a former president of the Rhode Island Wildlife Federation.

A native of Manhattan, he is professor of zoology at the University of Rhode Island and a research associate of the Narragansett Marine Laboratory.

Prior to joining the faculty at the university, Zinn served as a naturalist with the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole, Mass.

"Talked" Through His Hat

Race tracks belonging to the Thoroughbred Racing Association (TRA) operate under a self-imposed Code of Standards, but the news still leaked. The one section of which rules against direct or indirect dissemination of race results to other than legitimate news media. Illegal bookmaking operations go to great lengths to smuggle news of results out of the track, and the files of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau contain cases ranging from simple wig-wag operations to use of walkie-talkie radios. None, however, are as colorful as a case which occurred at Brooklyn's Gravesend Race Track in 1981.

Attempts to smuggle out the news by the Poolseller's Association, a syndicate of Manhattan bookmakers, included carrier pigeons, hollow balls which were tossed over the fence, and the building of towers outside the grounds. All were thwarted by the Brooklyn Jockey Club, but the news still leaked. The leak was finally traced to a gay party which arrived every afternoon in a handsome horse-drawn coach. The coachman always remained in his seat atop the coach. His high silk hat had a hole at the top and inside was a battery powered light. The coachman was in fact a telegrapher and the light in his hat was connected to a telegraph key on the floor of his box. Results were flashed in Morse code to an agent outside who relayed the news by Western Union. It developed that the Syndicate had been paying the jolly party $1,000 a day for the information.

and directed the Bass Biological Laboratory at Englewood, Fla.

Dr. Howard Tanner, father of Michigan's coho salmon explosion, was named "National Conservationist of the Year 1969" at the March 1, National Conservation Achievement Awards program highlighting the National Wildlife Federation's 33rd annual meeting in Washington.

Tanner was named director of Michigan State University's division of natural resources in 1966, but prior to that, was among the chief initiators of the spectacular introduction of Pacific coho salmon into the Great Lakes.

Born and raised in Michigan's Antrim County, Tanner received his doctorate from Michigan State in 1952. He went to Colorado for 11 years as an assistant professor and fishery research chief for the Colorado Game, Fish and Parks Department.

He returned to his native Michigan in 1962 to accept the post of chief of fisheries for the Michigan Department of Conservation. While in this post, he and his colleagues struck upon the imaginative plan to introduce coho salmon into Lake Michigan to feed upon the exploding population of alewives and fill the void created by depleted lake trout populations.

After extensive research and consultation with fisheries experts in the Pacific Northwest, the department introduced a modest number of young coho into the Great Lakes and precipitated the most revolutionary fish management success in recent history.

Winning Swim Coach

Harry Rawstrom
Jack McDermott
Elected Captain
For Hen Mermen

Jack McDermott, a sophomore from Glassboro, N.J., has been elected captain of the Delaware swimming team for next year.

McDermott, the Blue Hens' top freestyle sprinter this year, succeeds Dave Bent of Wilmington as Hen captain.

"Jack will be a very fine captain," Coach Harry Rawstrom predicts. "He is one of our most consistent performers; has the ability to inspire other members of the team, and he is a winner. He has all of the attributes of a great captain."

McDermott competed in the 50-yard and 100-yard freestyle events and swam the anchor leg on the 400-yard freestyle relay for the Hens this season.

Bent was one of three seniors on this year's 5-6 team. The former Mt. Pleasant athlete established a school record for the 400-yard individual medley with a 5:13.2 time — one of six marks set during the season.

Rawstrom, who has a 23-year record of 133-96-4 at Delaware, is already looking forward to next year.

"I think we are going to be improved next season," the Hen coach says.

Hen Heavyweight Joe Shetzler In Utah For National Collegiate Wrestling Title

Delaware Heavyweight Joe Shetzler left yesterday for the National Collegiate Athletic Association Wrestling Championships at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah.

Shetzler, a William Penn High School product who won the Middle Atlantic Conference championship this year as a sophomore, will compete today through Saturday against the best collegiate wrestlers in the nation.

"I think Joe will represent us very well out there," says Delaware Coach Paul Billy, who accompanied Shetzler on the trip.

"He is in a very tough weight class with four of last year's top five men returning, but we feel he can do very well if he gets a break in the pairings."

Shetzler compiled a 14-1 record

Spartans Defeated
By Syndicate Hi-Y
In Title Playoffs

The Syndicate Hi-Y (9-2) of McKean High School won the 1969 Western Branch YMCA Hi-Y basketball title by defeating the Newark Spartans Hi-Y 43-29 in the championship playoffs.

Ben Ellegood topped the new champions with 14 points.

Outstanding for the losing Spartans was Greg Homan with nine points.

The Syndicate champions trailed 19-18 at the half.

Vic Chalmers and Charlie Pinto of Newark were the officials.

Doug Dual and Joe Resende with 13 and nine points paced the Hi-Y Barons to a 31-28 win over the Saxons in the consolation game for third place in the Western YMCA Hi-Y playoffs.

Steve LaGrone paced the losers with 18 points.

A high school teacher received a note from a parent which read "Please excuse my son from his Spanish class, his throat is so sore he can hardly speak English."

"It's like a track coach having two four-minute milers and not being able to run them both in the same race," the Hen coach says. "If a man is as good as Weikart he should have the opportunity to compete in a tournament such as the conference championship."

A Delightful Decision.

1969 Buick LeSabre.
What makes it such a Delightful Decision? Just price one and see.

You heard us right. It's Delightful Decision time, an event at your Buick dealer's designed to make buying a Buick right now a very delightful decision. Even this beautiful 1969 Buick LeSabre 2-door hardtop is easy to own. And look what you get in addition to an impressive list of standard equipment that begins with a 350-cubic inch V-8.

You get AccuDrive, Buick's new suspension that makes steering over bumpy, winding roads so easy your wife may never let you have the car.

You get Buick's new upper level ventilating system. It does away with the need for vent windows as well as wind noise and uncomfortable drafts.

You get Buick's new ignition, steering and transmission control lock that lets you lock your ignition, steering column and transmission controls when you turn off the key.

And that's just a quick look at the new Buick LeSabre. Why don't you take a long look at your Buick dealer's soon.
