Vocational Training Aids
Former, New TB Patients
In Return To Normal Life

A total of 54 former tuberculous patients were returned to gainful employment, and 90 new patients were given a start toward returning to normal community life in the program of vocational rehabilitation for tuberculous persons of Delaware last year.

The program for rehabilitation of persons with tuberculosis is sponsored jointly by the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society and the rehabilitation division, Board of Vocational Education.

Since vocational rehabilitation services were begun for victims of tuberculosis in Delaware in 1942, 504 persons have been returned to the community with the training necessary to make a significant contribution. All have been given either personal adjustment or vocational training so that they could return to their former jobs or new vocations which would not jeopardize their physical condition.

Many of the Delawareans who were rehabilitated last year were ready to return to work immediately upon their release from the hospital. Others began jobs after a very brief delay.

During the 12-month period ending March 31, a total of 109 persons received rehabilitation services. The rehabilitation program at the Emily P. Bissell Hospital and appropriate follow-up on former patients cost a total of $11,894 for the last fiscal year. This expense included tuition, supplies, maintenance, transportation, medical and psychological examinations, appliances and treatment, and training shop equipment.

Congressman McDowell Scores Rules Committee

According to Congressman Harris B. McDowell, Jr. (D-Del.) "Every major bill of this Congress has been delayed by the rules committee, which has held up the entire legislative process."

The Delaware Democrat is active in the Democratic study group, a bloc of 130 House Democrats who have come together because of a mutual desire to advance legislation they have sponsored.

Officers of Central Grange last week at Port Penn.

Next Tuesday evening entertainment for 50 male patients at the Emily P. Bissell Hospital will be provided by the Bailey-Brennan-Chandler Post VFW Auxiliary.

Margaret Burns, hospital chairman, will have charge, assisted by Mrs. Clara Burns, Mrs. Elizabeth Fulton, Mrs. Madelon Weiss, Mrs. Myrtle Cota, Mrs. Sarah Healy, Mrs. Mae Loney, Mrs. Marion Gelorno, and John Burns.

Leonard Gebhart and Frank Chambers, co-chairmen of the building committee of the Charles Gormley Memorial Hall owned by the VFW post, will report this evening at the post's regular meeting relative to plans for closing in the open-raftered ceiling in the hall.

The hall is used for the dances sponsored by the post and was named for Charles J. Gormley, first post commander.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Malin are residing in their new home on Derickson Drive near Mermaid.

Mrs. Malin is a teacher at Conrad High School.

Swimming classes for Hockessin youth close next Monday when certificates will be awarded to those learning to swim 40-ft., and to intermediates, swimming up to 200-yds. and to the advanced group exceeding 200-yds. These classes at the Yorklyn pool are given free by the local Lions Club. Yorklyn classes begin next Tuesday for 10 days.

Mill Creek Fire Company which serves the southeastern section of this hundred, will continue its drive for funds until July 30. It is still $5,000 short of its campaign goal of $15,000. The committee reports visiting 9,000 homes in their place Saturday afternoon at St. James Episcopal Church in Stanton when Joanne Armstrong, C. Boon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Groves of Wilmington and the groom is the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Groves of Marshall.

WALTER R. POWELL

Newark has lost a solid citizen—one of its anchor men with the passing of Walter Powell.

The big man with the twinkle in his eyes; keen sense of humor; his sound, cracker barrel philosophy—business judgment, leadership, and counsel—was a vital, vigorous, vibrant member of the community, and he built well, indeed, for the work of today.

One of the pioneers in establishing Sunset Lake, its home, and its fishing, he leaves a bit of silvered, sylvan water there as an outdoor memorial.

Walter Powell's pioneering effort for community improvement began in a day when Newark's Main Street was a shaded, plain dirt road, hard-packed by the muffled hooves of the horses he loved.

And the veteran horseman, stricken after the harness race he had attended last Saturday night with his wife, died again to the sound of drumming hoofbeats at last.

RECORD MAKER

This country's electric industry has long had a habit of setting new record after new record. And 1957 was no exception.

All the barometers of progress moved upward—general increase in electricity, sales and annual use per residential customer. Significantly, the taxes paid by the investor-owned companies also showed a substantial increase, and total of $1,825,000 which works out to 22.7 per cent increase.

Progress is not confined to the production of power from fossil fuels. The new field of nuclear power was an active one. Two experimental plants in which electricity companies are participating went into operation. The first large-scale plant constructed primarily for production of electricity was completed during the year. It is now undergoing testing—full scale operation is expected in the early part of 1958. And, as 1957 ended, over 100 nuclear power plants were under construction in various parts of the world.

In the past seven years—less than one-tenth of the industry's history—generating capability and production have increased by over 90 per cent, while sales have doubled. This year the industry plans the largest construction program it has ever undertaken. The industry means to see that it is given all the power we can conceivably use—from all practical sources, the atom included.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

GOD TAKES CARE OF HIS OWN

God takes care of His own. This we can be sure, for the Bible is full of examples of how God has brought deliverance to His people in all kinds of need. Just as it is true of Biblical times, so it is true today. God is still with us, and if we call upon Him and trust Him completely, He will be through any trial.

A modern-day example of how God looks after His own is the recent experience of a family living in the West.

The father and mother, with their four small children, began their vacation on a vacation home. They found themselves suddenly in the burning desert. Their automobile was disabled in a deep canyon. It was one of those places where the sun beats down relentlessly, the temperature often rising to 120 degrees.

Realizing at once their serious predicament, with no food or water in the car, the parents called for divine guidance. But devout Christians, both of them, they knew how to pray.

"Dear God," prayed the father, "for reasons known only to you, we have been brought here. Unless you provide the means for our deliverance, we will perish from heat and lack of water."

"Give me guidance, O God, how to survive, and send me before it's too late."

Later relating their experience, the father said: "Almost immediately after prayer we seemed to be seized with a new urgency. Our minds became alert and clear to the dangers we all faced. We seemed to have an uncanny knowledge... without a moment's hesitation... on what to do to survive. God surely looked after us."

"We had found a large overhanging rock, which shielded the family from the intense sun. I realized that the water in the radiator would provide our needs for awhile if it was carefully rationed."

"During the heat of mid-afternoon, when the sun was not shaded by the overhanging rock, I dug holes in the sand and buried the children up to their necks, so they could escape the deadly heat."

This is the condition in which rescuers found the family three days later—each buried up to his neck in sand.

"Of course, we became discouraged," the father related after the ordeal. "But my wife and I both felt the Lord was telling us what to do. We knew we would be saved."

Those familiar with the desolate region marveled at the family's being found alive. Not one of them required hospital treatment.

Yes, God looks after His own. He loves us and has the power to rescue us from any harmful situation.

Ninth Grade Music Makers — "The Saints"

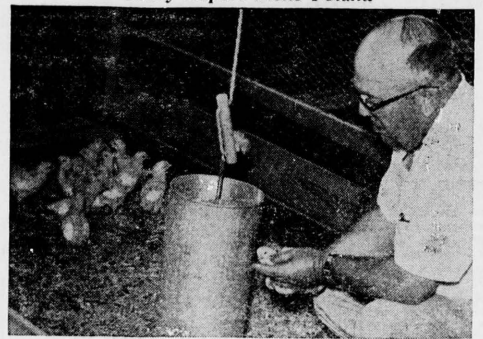

A group of Newark Central Junior High School ninth graders—high school sophomores come next September—have pooled their musical and business talents in organizing "The Saints"—a five-piece musical combo.

The Saints played most recently on June 18 for a private party at the Louviers Building.

Poultry Expert Visits Poland

University of Delaware poultry specialist J. Frank Gordy, Georgetown, is in Poznan, Poland, in a five-week study of U. S. poultry exports to European countries.

His study is being made under the joint auspices of the foreign agricultural service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Institute of American Poultry Industries of Chicago.

Dean George M. Worrell, University of Delaware school of agriculture said "A large share of present U. S. poultry exports to Europe represent broiler-fryer chickens grown on the Delmarva Peninsula. We're particularly proud that a member of the university staff has been chosen for this study."

Equine Millionaires

Seventy-odd years ago the racing world was agog over the prowess of Miss Woodford, the first $100,000 winner in America, and Iroquois, American-bred Epsom Derby winner, which had earned a like amount in England. Today we are similarly impressed by Round Table, Nashua and Citation, each of which has earned over $1,000,000.

It remains to be seen whether in 50 years or so the golden records of this trio of millionaires will, like those of Miss Woodford and Iroquois, have turned to yellowing pages in the record book.

Recreation Ass'n 1st Outdoor Dance Scheduled Tuesday

Summer Dances Shifted To Main Street School Building Parking Area

The first outdoor dance of the summer will be held next Tuesday from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. by the Newark Recreation Association at the School Administration Building parking lot off Delaware Avenue, a new location this year.

Previously held at the Newark Shopping Center parking lot, the dance was moved to the smaller lot to provide better crowd control and eliminate traffic problems. The new area will be completely fenced on evenings of the outdoor dances, with entrance from Academy Street, next to the Newark Police Station. Parking in the lot will be provided from 7 to 11 p.m. on dance nights.

The latest record music will be provided by Blue Light Monitor under auspices of Carl Wieland, reviewing agent for record companies. Blue Light Monitor serves a five-state area with Delaware as its base, conducting record dances for young adult and service club-sponsored teen-age groups. In addition to current hits, additional copies often received the day of the dance, will be available, and the dancers will have the opportunity to preview future hits prior to their release to the public.

Additional strings of blue lights will be installed for atmosphere at the dance site.

Blue jeans and short shorts are not to be worn at any time. Bermuda shorts, slacks, "clam diggers," skirts and blouses are proper for girls, and boys may wear Bermudas, or slacks, with polo or T-shirts.

The weekly dances will continue through Sept. 6, and will be restricted to Newark area teen-agers and young adults at a nominal admission charge.

Church Dedicated At Chestnut Hills For Our Redeemer

The new Our Redeemer Lutheran Church building at Johnson Road and Augusta Drive in Chestnut Hill Estates was dedicated Sunday, with 250 persons attending the 4 o'clock service.

The Rev. William K. Kohn, member of the board of directors of the Missouri Synod, was the dedication speaker, and the Rev. Duane P. Mehl, local pastor, was the liturgist. Eleanor Anderson and Herbert Oates were organists, while the senior and junior choirs of Our Redeemer sang under the direction of Mr. Oates.

Participating in the dedication procession were 10 clergymen from neighboring Lutheran churches. Acolytes for the special service were Jack Quinlan and Larry Wingard.

The new building replaces a house-chapel in Chestnut Hill Estates, which the congregation had been using as a sanctuary since 1957. The chapel will become the parsonage.

Leo Laskaris, Newark artist, created three mosaic panels for the altar, depicting the birth, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Fire Chiefs In Maryland Plan Tolchester Reunion

The Maryland Fire Chiefs' Association will hold its 11th annual firemen's reunion at Tolchester Beach on Sunday, July 24, with a mammoth parade at 2 p.m. and music for dancing will be furnished aboard the S/S Bay Belle.

All fire companies with or without equipment are cordially invited to join the activities.

Charles Eastman Attends Leader Training School

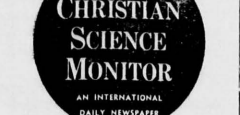

Charles Eastman, 17 East Park Place, Newark, is attending the leadership training school sponsored by the United Presbyterian Synods of Pennsylvania and Baltimore on the Wilson College campus at Chambersburg, Pa.

The local Boy Scout and church leader is among 500 persons participating in the first session of the school, with the Rev. Paul Wells of Philadelphia as director.

Neide and Fire Marshal William M. Donahue are to present reports on the condition of this building.

Wilson reported the arrest of 10 juveniles served in a "liquor joint" in his neighborhood on a recent Saturday, commending Newark Policeman William Brierley and Paul Morrison for their conduct in the case, and requesting Solicitor Sinclair to investigate Family Court dismissal of the 20 cases—10 counts against the youngsters, and 10 charges against the proprietor.

"The judge was on vacation and a social worker heard the cases," Wilson said, observing that "laws are made by one group of people to be imposed on another group."

Sinclair is to investigate and report on Family Court action.

Truck Routes
Speaking for the street committee, Councilman LeRoy Hill announced that proposed truck routes through the city had increased "to 15 instead of three" and at his request the problem was tabled until the next meeting.

To Hill's query concerning the status of College Avenue repairs, Neide replied that the State Highway Department will "get in here as soon as they can."

In reply to Mrs. McClendon's proposal that the planning commission be granted the power to rule on zoning decisions without resort to council, Sinclair stated that "this may require revision of state law," and Hill countered with "why not have council accept the decisions of the planning commission?" Both proposals are to be considered.

Draftsman
Neide announced the employment of a full-time draftsman in the city public works department, and said that a detailed report on bond expenditures would be presented "very shortly."

The contract for city purchase of transformers and electric wiring was awarded to the Westinghouse Electric Supply Company for the low bid of $18,659.

A request from the Optimist Club for a circus permit for the south-west lot at Barksdale and Elkton Roads was approved subject to the fire marshal's approval; and council approved Newark Recreation Association requests for special police officer status for Asst. Director Edward Birch; for city installation of lights on the school administration building parking lot for teen-age dances; and for an Aug. 2 parade.

Mrs. Ella Garritt Funeral Services Conducted Today

Funeral services were held this afternoon in the R. T. Jones Funeral Home, for Mrs. Ella M. Garritt, 50, of 27 Choate Street, Newark. Mrs. Garritt died Sunday in the Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

Interment was in Newark Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, it was requested that contributions be made to the Delaware Cancer Society, 1925 Lovering Avenue.

Mrs. Garritt is survived by a son, Eugene, of Newark; a brother, William Wideman also of Newark; a niece and a nephew.

Keeping Records Profits Dairymen Hesseltine Warns

With dairy cows, as with most things, it's quality rather than quantity that counts.

If you have a herd of cows producing 5,000 pounds of milk per year you need 333 of them to make $3,000 in labor return.

The average cow in the U.S. last year made a net profit of $28 for her owner. The average cow in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) made a net profit of $78-$80 more.

What made the difference? The dairymen with records know how to cull better; how to feed according to production; and how to select best for herd replacement. He doesn't have to guess when he makes a management decision.

According to W. R. Hesseltine, University of Delaware extension dairymen, many dairymen feel that record-keeping is just a waste of time. They fail to realize that not keeping records helps put them in the "average" group, at $50 per cow less income than the cowmen who keep records.

It isn't important which record keeping system you use, just use one, Hesseltine said.

Records can help you get your production per cow up to 10,000 pounds, Hesseltine said. It's a lot easier to milk 22 cows than it is to milk 333 for the same income!

District Camporee Slated For Scouts At Hercules Farm

Initial plans for the Boy Scouts' big three-day Golden Jubilee Year Camporee in the Old Mill district were announced today by Thomas M. Lamborn, district camporee chairman.

The local camporee, to be staged at the Hercules Farm the weekend of July 22-24, is an activity for area Scouts who are not attending the National Jamboree being held simultaneously near Colorado Springs, Colo.

The camporee will permit local Boy, Cub, and Explorer Scouts to participate in the 50th anniversary Scout celebration, and also to display their scouting skills for the benefit of relatives, friends, neighbors and interested residents in the Old Mill District.

Lamborn noted that 27 Scouts from this area would be attending the National Jamboree and that five local troops would be at Camp Rodney on Chesapeake Bay during the period.

Scouts will begin setting up their camp on Friday, July 22, and it will be manned continuously through Sunday, July 24. Demonstrations will be held at regular intervals throughout daylight hours on all three days.

The campsite is located at the intersection of the Lancaster Pike and Centerville Road. Ample parking will be available for visitors.

Townley, Jackie Jones, Paul Stoddard, Paul Sweetman, and Guy Walker.

The monthly fire report of the Christiana Fire Company, released by Bill Stevens, fire recorder, indicates that 10 fires were fought for a total of 8½ hours during June.

The apparatus traveled 105 miles on official business, and $200 fire loss was reported. Besides assisting at a large barn fire near Delaware City, local volunteers responded to calls for a house fire, a trailer, three cars, a truck, and a wheatfield.

Mrs. Doris Marcone, World Service chairman of the local Presbyterian Women, has announced that blankets and clothing are being collected for Chilean earthquake victims, and should be brought to the Hall Memorial Building this week.

Contributions will be accepted toward a woolen fund for scarves for leprosy colonies. Those wishing to donate extra wool may contact Mrs. Marcone.

The Christiana Methodist Social will hold a picnic at Sunset Lake on Wednesday evening.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton

U. of D. Agricultural Extension Service

Colorful fresh fruits and vegetables are in much bigger supply now as weather conditions are more ideal for good growth. This plentiful supply will make food shopping a pleasure this weekend.

Leading choices in the fresh vegetable line include snap beans, new potatoes, yellow and green squash, spinach, kale, collards and mustard greens.

The salad bowl again profits from a plentiful supply. Check these items when you shop: radishes, green onions, some tomatoes (there are more vine ripened tomatoes on the market now as near-by areas begin to ship this vegetable). Cabbage has dropped a penny or so, making it more reasonable than it has been.

Corn and cucumbers from New Jersey, Maryland and Virginia are on the market and prices are much lower because of increased supply. Other vegetables in fairly good supply are broccoli, eggplant, peppers and endive.

Lettuce has definitely improved, however, quality still needs to be watched.

There are a number of good buys at the fish counter. Supplies are quite adequate on butterfish, bluefish, whiting, porgies, mackerel and cod.

Watermelon, blueberries and peaches lead the list of summer fruit in good supply.

Peaches are being harvested as near-by as Virginia and it will not be long before closer areas will be picking. This increase in supply will bring prices down even further this week and in weeks to come. Quality for the most part is very good this year and flavor is excellent.

Watermelon supplies are heavier this year and prices are declining, both because of the season and heavy supplies.

Blueberries from New Jersey are in excellent supply and prices are averaging between 25 to 29 cents a pint box. Quality is good to excellent. This fruit is very simple to freeze and is one which freezes well.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Prompt notice of a change in address should be given when a claimant for monthly social security benefits moves. Myron Milbourn, manager of the Wilmington social security office, said today. If notice of the new address is not sent promptly, one or more checks may go to the old address because they are prepared almost two weeks in advance of payment date.

Other fruits to check this week are limes, California oranges, plums, cantaloupes and Thompson seedless grapes.

You will find some markets that will have some raspberries, blueberries and gooseberries.

Among the shellfish, check on lobster, shrimp and crabmeat. Prices are not low, but they are more reasonable than they have been.

Chicken continues to be one of the outstanding buys at the meat counter.
