Cooch's Bridge and Glasgow

Mildred Ludwig, Correspondent
Phone: Newark 8-8496

Mrs. Wm. A. Root of old Glasgow Road has returned home from the Wilmington General Hospital following a sudden illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mays of Oglethorpe have concluded a trip of several weeks visiting relatives in southern Virginia.

Thomas Eldridge of Chestnut Hill is home following a lengthy stay in the Wilmington General Hospital.

Miss Lynette Steinouer of Cooch's Bridge was married to Mr. Francis Pierce of Rumford, R.I. at St. Hedwig's R.C. Church in Wilmington last Saturday. The bride was entertained with two recent surprise showers, given by her aunt, Mrs. Cathryn Klair of Capitol Trail, and by her Delaware Hospital nursing classmates, Mary Jo McKibbin, Lucille Wright, and Alice Cook—all of Wilmington.

David Crockett, of near Cooch's Bridge, will complete his boot training soon at the Bainbridge Naval Center. He expects to graduate May 15. Following a leave, David will take diesel engine training, probably in California.

The Salem 4-H club will meet next Thursday to elect new officers for the year. Also next Thursday, the Pleasant Valley home demonstration club meets at 1:30 p.m. at the Glasgow home of Mrs. Joseph Laws.

The Salem Home Demonstration Club met last Thursday evening at the Ag Hall with Mrs. Sarah Pyle, presiding. Mrs. Wm. Pawley and Mrs. Jack Correll were welcomed as new members and Mrs. Mabel Lloyd of Newark was a guest.

For Health

Mrs. Wm. Perry urged members to attend the health meeting sponsored by the Rosedale Club this week and Mrs. Ezekiel Cooper, safety chairman, stressed the importance of checking safety hazards.

Mrs. Laurence Lee read a letter of the current family survey, and reports were also heard from Civil Defense chairman Mrs. Eric Bollman and international relations chairman Mrs. Tilo Suppe.

Community relations chairman Mrs. Clarence Lee announced that curtains for the Gov. Bacon Health Center would soon be made at a sewing bee at Mrs. Bollman's home. The club will have their National Week display in Neighbor's store window.

Club members interested in joining the local branch of the Needlework Guild may hear details, according to Mrs. Thomas Nowell, at a meeting next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Pyle at 7:30 p.m.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, County Agent Miss M. K. Jones gave tips on calories and weight control. The next meeting will be May 27, with Mrs. Ernest Irwin and Mrs. William Carey as co-hostesses.

Pastor Moves In

Pastor Paul Cook of Calvary Baptist Church is moving from Chester, Pa., to Silverbrook. Rev. Cook graduates May 11 from the Crozier Theological Seminary in Chester. For nearly a year he has been home missionary for the church for this field.

The great strides made in the local congregation this year were noted last night at the annual meeting, where the financial aid granted to the church from the "Churches For New Frontiers" organization was supplemented this past fiscal year by a pledge of $500 by the Women's Missionary Society. The society has fulfilled this pledge, all but a mere $20 or so.

The recent bake sale netted $37, the rummage sale profits were $36.70, and another rummage sale is planned for Friday, May 7, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at 72 East Cleveland Ave.

Family Day will be celebrated at the church May 9, with a red rose for the oldest mother, a red rose for the largest family, and for the youngest mother. The church gained 41 new members this past year.

Lane Phillips of Chestnut Hill, a high school senior, plans to enter the ministry. He delivered his first sermon last Sunday at Calvary Church.

Donations for the bake sale sponsored by the WSCS of Christians Methodist Church tomorrow may be left at the parsonage.

The Sunnyside R.D. club has suspended their meetings until next fall. Mrs. Clarence Brown, president, announced at Monday evening's meeting.

School Board Head Discusses Finance For Brookside PTA

Joseph M. McVey, President of the Brookside School Board, discussed the problems of school financing to the Brookside Parent-Teacher Association last week.

Additional salary money for teachers, clerks, and custodians is a major factor in the supplementary local funds that the district has to raise every year, he said. This year the Newark district has budgeted $50,000 to maintain these salaries about 8 per cent above the state level, he said, compared with $42,000 last year. The difference is due to a new plan for merit pay raises.

He also cited the difficulty in planning for buildings when the population is growing rapidly and unpredictably while the General Assembly meets only once every two years.

James Snowden, president of the Delaware Congress of Parents and Teachers, installed newly elected officers William P. Cooke, president; William McGuire, vice president; Mrs. William Barr, secretary; and Miss Joan McCain of the faculty, treasurer. All officers are parents or teachers of first and second grade pupils being in Chester, president, McGuire, vice president, McGuire, secretary, McGuire, and Miss Joan McCain of the faculty, treasurer.

Refreshments were served by third and fourth grade mothers. The next meeting will be a dance in the Newark Armory on May 21 with the Rhythm Doctors playing.

Keep Children Out Of Street, Safety Council Cautions

Annual Statistics List 23,000 Casualties From Youngsters In Roadways

"Have you ever seen a car jump the curb, run up into somebody's back yard and knock down a child who was playing there?"

Francis J. Jamison, assistant manager of the Delaware Safety Council, asked this strange question today and then quickly supplied the answer.

"You probably haven't," he said, "and the chances are you never will. But every day many people see automobiles kill youngsters who are playing in the street."

Mr. Jamison used this illustration to stress the importance of keeping children out of the street, a point that is being emphasized in the current Child Pedestrian and Bicycle Safety program of the Delaware Safety Council and the National Safety Council.

"When we allow our children to play in the street, we're throwing them right into danger's path," he told parents. "Twenty-three thousand children under 15 years old were injured or killed while playing on the roadway in 1952."

Youngsters themselves don't realize the danger, he said. They must be warned repeatedly until staying out of the street has become a habit. Even then, he reminded, in the excitement of play they sometimes forget.

Play Hazards

According to Mr. Jamison, crossing the street in midblock, darting out from behind parked cars, and crossing at intersections against signals are other practices that cost many youngsters their lives.

Pointing out that children are more likely to learn by example than by precept, he appealed to parents to teach traffic safety to their youngsters by their own safe behavior in traffic. He listed the following as rules that parents might well adopt.

1. Walking or driving always set a good example for children by obeying all traffic signs and signals and observing safety rules.

2. Cooperate with schools and traffic officials in teaching children safe traffic attitudes and habits.

3. See that children play only in approved play areas.

4. Teach children safe use of bicycles and outdoor toys.

MAN ON THE GO!
By Alex Dreier
(Noted war correspondent, award-winning newscaster)
The power we give evil is the only power evil has.
Conscience, like a pencil, must be sharpened before it is useful.
There are mighty few people who think what they think they think.
Definition of Heaven: 1954 wages, 1926 dividends, 1932 prices, 1910 taxes.
The trouble with a diet is that you get fed up without being fed.
When the time comes for the book to inherit the earth, the taxes will probably be so high they won't want it.
(Heard on "Man on the Go," NBC radio network, five times a week.)

Brookside Reflections

Members of new Boy Scout Troop 252 received their Tenderfoot badges and their certificates of registration last Thursday evening.

Scoutmaster Preble was in charge of the meeting and presented troop members with their certificates of registration and Assistant Scoutmaster Howard Slaney presented Tenderfoot badges and spoke about scouting.

In the Fox patrol, Ken Weibling was elected patrol leader; Jim Moorhead, asst. patrol leader and John Shurgard, scribe.

In the Coyote patrol, Roger Mintz was elected patrol leader; Glen Miller, scribe, and from this patrol, Jack Moore was elected troop scribe.

In the Eagle patrol, Glen Jewell was elected patrol leader; Bucky Eller, asst. patrol leader, and John Messing, scribe. Roy Peters, scribe of the Eagle patrol was elected troop quartermaster and Tobey Haley was elected troop librarian.

Officers of each patrol were sworn in by Asst. Scoutmaster Williams and the badges of office were presented by Asst. Scoutmaster Grabowski.

Saturday, the troop enjoyed their first hike to Rittenhouse Park under the leadership of Scoutmaster Preble and Asst. Scoutmasters Slaney and Williams. Outdoorsman Puder joined the troop in the afternoon. From the reports and comments the hike was thoroughly enjoyed. The boys built fires and cooked their dinners. This was followed by tracking a course and playing games.

Members of Cub Scout Pack 252 are going to the Philadelphia Franklin Institute on Saturday, May 1. This trip is in connection with their April study of oil. After a picnic lunch in Fairmont Park the boys will inspect the locomotive followed by the conducted tour of the oil display of the Sun Oil Company; and a lecture and display in the planetarium. Transportation is being supplied by the parents.

Save the evening of May 21 for the PTA dance. The time and place will be announced at a later date. This affair, in lieu of the May PTA meeting, will be a lot of fun and the first social affair since the Hal-loween party.

Get your baby-sitter ahead of time so you won't miss out on a lot of fun. Don't forget—join the crowd on May 21st!

On the sick list this week are Dave Case recuperating from the mumps and Tommy Barr recovering from the same thing.

Here's Good News For All Homemakers!

Government home economists have just revealed that it takes only one-fourth the time to arrange a meal by using prepared frozen foods. This is because frozen foods are ready to cook; you can prepare complete meals in minutes instead of hours.

You, too, will be pleased with the convenience and economy of having a locker filled with delicious frozen foods... ready to cook and serve. And you can rent a zero locker holding over 200 pounds of meats, poultry, fish, fruits, and vegetables for the cost of a daily paper.

About 28 men from College Park pitched in to help get the playground ready on Sunday afternoon.

There is still more to be done on the playground in the future. Many of you, especially those with children of pre-school age, will be interested in the open house of the Newark Kindergarten Association.

Mr. and Mrs. John Conrad of Holly Oak were visitors Sunday with the Richard Irwins.

Congratulations to John Abletto, who resides at 73 Madison Drive, on being selected principal of the West Park Place Elementary School. This past year Mr. Abletto has been principal of the Brookside School. He will be principal of both schools next year.

He enjoys much who is thankful for little; a grateful mind is both a great and a happy mind.—Thomas Secker.

THE AMERICAN WAY

An Informed Public
Is An Impregnable Defense

LIFELINE

Rear Admiral Homer N. Wallin in a talk to a group of shipbuilders said, "Too bad, isn't it, that for some strange and unusual reason shipbuilding in our country is treated like a fire department, except that it isn't maintained well between fire alarms."

Our experience amply bears that out. It has been our habit to enter a war with a totally inadequate merchant fleet. Then, from sheer necessity, we must construct shipyards and build ships in a frenzy, regardless of the cost. The money waste to the taxpayers is enormous. And, in the case of another war, that might be the least of it. For, in these fast-moving days, it's hardly likely that we'd have the needed time.

To say that we can depend on foreign merchant ships is the height of foolhardiness—both theoretically and practically. No major maritime power could afford so great a risk. During the Korean war the government withdrew 697 ships from its reserves of World War II vessels and chartered them to American steamship companies, which blanketed them into their fleets. Our merchant ships carried 80 per cent of the supplies sent to the Far East! No one else could do it for us. But these war-built ships are largely obsolescent and should be gradually replaced through an orderly, long-term building program.

A strong merchant fleet is literally a lifeline.

Teaching Principal Appointed For Two Elementary Units

John Auletto Named Full Time Principal For West Park, Brookside Schools

John Auletto, teaching principal of the eight-room Brookside Elementary School, has been appointed a full-time principal for next year to serve both that school and the 13-room West Park Place School which will open in September.

Mr. Auletto has a bachelor's and master's degree from the Teachers' College of Temple University and is completing a thesis for his doctorate there. He is married, has one child, and lives in College Park here.

He was in the Army as an ordnance specialist in World War II and taught in Winslow, N.J., Elementary School from 1947 to 1952. He taught in the Newark school and was transferred to Brookside as principal and fifth grade teacher when the temporary school opened there last December.

The Board of Education of Newark Special School District approved his appointment on the unanimous recommendation of a seven-teacher committee.

It was a faculty committee that chose Mr. Auletto for his present position one year ago, at the same time when Elwood C. Rittenbender was chosen to head the new Medill School.

This month a new committee was given a chance to screen more candidates for principal at West Park Place, but it asked that Mr. Auletto be given the appointment without further competition. The committee was made up of teachers who will serve under him next year.

Blind Jazz Master To Appear With Famed Quintet, May 7th

The George Shearing Quintet, one of the foremost modern jazz ensembles in America, will appear in Mitchell Hall on the University of Delaware campus in two concerts at 7 and 9 p.m., Friday, May 7. The programs will be sponsored by the Student Government Association and the Cultural Activities Committee.

The story of George Shearing is one of tremendous talent and courage. Born totally blind in the Baltimore suburb of London in 1920, he has never considered his blindness a handicap to achieving happiness and success in life. George began studying piano at the age of five, and showed an immediate talent and interest in music. Educated at a school for the blind in London, he was a brilliant student and a favorite on the campus. He devoted much of his time to the study of music through the Braille method, and while still in his early teens his knowledge of classical compositions and his technique at the piano keys were far beyond his years.

American jazz recordings captured his interest when he was sixteen, and he began experimenting in the new idiom, fascinated by the freshness and freedom of modern music. With typical determination, George turned to the new music and studied it with great diligence and enthusiasm ever, though it meant beginning all over again.

Recognition first came during a jazz session in London. Performing on both piano and accordion, he was a tremendous hit. Jazz critic Leonard Feather, who conducted the session, brought George to the attention of the British Decca Company, which signed him to a long-term contract. For seven successive years George won England's top annual jazz poll and was the nation's first ranking jazz artist.

Coming to the United States in 1947, Shearing overcame many obstacles before he advanced to the forefront of American jazz. Working as an international pianist on 52nd Street, he spent months in comparative obscurity before his distinctive style and remarkable ability received widespread attention from the public. The critics were overwhelmingly enthusiastic and suddenly Shearing was again the most praised and provocative instrumentalist in jazz.

With his future in America assured, he brought his lovely wife and six-year-old daughter, Wendy, over from England. Wendy already shows promise on the piano, and her father is her proud teacher.

Red Mill

After John's death, brother Joseph bought the land, rebuilt the mill, and built Red Mill House. He also donated the land where the second White Clay Creek church was built. Red Mill House is of finest colonial design and construction. Pent eaves across the front of the house are repeated across the gable ends and the brickwork table, large Flemish bond bricks and traces of the old Dutch ovens are quite typical of early Delaware colonial architecture.

Inside, there are many interesting details such as the corner mantle cupboard, battered doors, forged hinges, fireplaces, and the old kitchen restored with the original utensils. All indicates the taste and affluence of the miller of colonial times when the Delmarva peninsula supported the greatest concentration of the milling industry.

Miss R. W. Holm is chairman of hostesses, with Miss Anna Frazer in charge of refreshments; Mrs. Warren C. Lamborn, in charge of exhibits, and Mrs. G. S. Skinner, directing publicity.

A free will offering will be received at the gate for the current chapter activities among which is a fund for the George Head stone to be placed in a memorial bell tower at Valley Forge.

School Tax

Funds raised by the tax will cover interest and principal payments on five bond issues, the school health program, local supplements to teachers' salaries, repair and maintenance of buildings, and the annual $2,000 contribution to the city library, authorized in a referendum many years ago.

The budget includes the first year's debt service on the $24,000 bond issue authorized in a referendum last October. These bonds, matched with $1,236,000 in state funds, will build a permanent brick elementary school and part of a new senior high school.

The other four bond issues are dated in 1942, 1948, 1951, and 1953. The latter issue is financing elementary schools on West Park Place and Capitol Trail.

Chrysler Plant

"It was known months ago that Chrysler had its contract for the production of tanks, and it was stated at that time that some reduction in force would have to be expected during the following months. It was also stated, however, that a stretch-out program of tank production had been approved, which will enable the plant to remain in operation throughout the entire year of 1954 with some reduction in force being necessary.

"Those statements were followed by knowledge that the plant, in addition to production of vehicles, was to carry on a tank modification program.

"Actually, the reduction in force has been very slight, and since the announcement of the loss of the contract, has not exceeded an average of 1 per cent of total personnel at peak employment during the intervening months."

New Highway

Accordingly, starting at the Chestnut Hill Road, the first 2,800 feet of the new improved highway, which extends to the edge of Brookside Homes, will be 40-ft. in width and paved from curb to curb with a cement base and hot mix asphalt surface.

The necessary drainage facilities for this area will also be provided in this project.

That section of the highway extending from the end of Brookside to the Oglethorpe-Newark highway, will be paved with concrete cement, 24-ft. in width with ample provision made for any addition to this highway that may be required in the future.

This proposed new highway will replace the present narrow black top road that goes through the area except for the improved portion through Brookside Homes.

The paving from the Chestnut Hill road to the Brookside Homes will match the paving now existing through the Brookside Homes development.

Aetna Firemen Instructed At New Castle Air Base

The regular weekly instruction for the Aetna Fire School was held Monday night at the New Castle County Air Base where Chief John Cunningham and 47 members of the local fire company were schooled in the proper method of using the newly acquired American-LaFrance engine received last month.

Chief Heck, of the New Castle Air Base, demonstrated use of the special, new foam-type equipment which is most effective on gasoline, oil, or paint fires.
