Bierlin Appointed Executive Secy. Of Liquor Board

Iron Hill Resident Named
To Serve on State Board
In Law Enforcement Drive

George T. Bierlin of near Newark, who has served as clerk of the House at the past two sessions of the General Assembly, was appointed executive secretary of the Delaware Liquor Commission by Brig. Gen. George J. Schulz, the commissioner, on Tuesday.

Bierlin, who has also served as a state representative from the Eleventh Representative District of New Castle County, succeeds Smiley King, who resigned in May. Bierlin is 48 years old.

Born in Philadelphia on July 3, 1905, Mr. Bierlin is the son of George A. Bierlin and Anna E. Bierlin. He lives with his mother at Iron Hill in Pender County, N.C.

Mr. Bierlin was educated in Pennsylvania Public Schools, and is a graduate of the Taylor Business College, Philadelphia. Later he attended night classes at Temple University, majoring in commercial law, real estate, and conveyancing.

He was elected representative from the Eleventh District in 1952. For several years he was in the banking business in Philadelphia and then operated four gasoline service stations in Delaware. He sold his interests in the stations to accept a position in the office of New Castle County Recorder of Deeds, Burt S. Siegel.

Mr. Bierlin is a member of Hiram Lodge A.F. & A.M., Newark, Delaware Consistory; past chancellor of Osceola Lodge No. 5, Knights of Pythias, Newark; a member of Pender Grange, and of the Pender Hundred Republican Committee.

Meanwhile, General Schulz announced that all inspectors of the commission are making a special drive against selling liquor to minors in the ocean and bay resort areas of the state.

The inspectors have been visiting the areas on the last three weeks and have checked all the resorts in east Sussex County.

A close check is also being made of any after-hour sales at the resorts. General Schulz added, there have been a number of offenses discovered, and the necessary action to halt such violations of the liquor control act will be taken, he declared.

Local Speaker Discusses Survey For Local Hospital

Dr. Perkins Outlines
Hospital Statistics
From Personal Studies

Speaking before the Newark Rotary Club Monday night, Joseph R. Perkins discussed his findings from a survey conducted of existing hospitals in relation to a possible new hospital in Newark.

The number of hospitals in the nation, he said, has increased but little since 1940, although the number of hospital beds has increased.

The Delaware average of 202 hospital beds is the same as the average for the nation, he disclosed, and includes 16 beds in which are general hospitals.

A national survey made in 1945, he said, revealed an average of 100 hospital beds available per 1,000 population, whereas current figures show an average of from 100 to 150 beds per 1,000 persons.

Perkins estimated, would require a bed with annual turnover of 1,000.

Dr. Perkins, vice-president of the Delaware Medical Association, is the president of the Delaware Hospital Association and Dr. Carl H. Watson, Newark, and Dr. Wm. T. H. Watson, Boulder City, Nev., were present at the meeting.

Air Raid Siren Performs Satisfactorily in Test

During the county-wide CD air raid conducted last Friday evening, the air raid siren atop the tower at the Acton Firehouse was reported satisfactorily audible within a three-mile radius.

The siren is activated by a gasoline motor, manually controlled, and if you object to the eerie wail of the thing, be grateful for the fact that you don't have to climb that high ladder to the platform where the siren is located.

It looks a long way up, from the ground, and about 100 feet as far, from the platform down.

What Goes On During Vacation At the Newark Public Schools?

There is more to this business of being a summertime school employee than meets the eye. Summer, for some members of the Newark Public Schools faculty, is not simply a three month vacation period marked only by the struggle for economic survival until receipt of September's check, but involves a great deal of work in the absence of the carefree, scattered students.

Three offices in the Newark Public Schools are open daily, from 8-12, and from 1-3, Monday through Friday, including the offices of the school superintendent, the high school, and the elementary school offices.

Newark High School principal Fred Kutz was working on a schedule allocating 664 junior and senior high school pupils to 30 homeroom and to seven different class periods daily, and the high school building was constructed for a capacity 800. That was one problem.

Other summertime chores consist of new pupil registrations, the study of all teachers' annual reports of class activities, with suggestions, the preparation of the school's Annual Report, the ordering of books and supplies; the transfer of furniture; and the follow-up of the building and repair programs.

The biggest jobs for the summer workers are the preparation of the classroom-pupil schedule, which was producing perspiration on the part of the summer workers, and the compilation of pupil transcript records as requested by colleges and employers.

"The good ol' summertime" may be a questionable phrase to some faculty members.

State Director Lee Decries Drastic Civil Defense Slash Of $34,000 Appropriation

Col. Donald L. Dutton, retired Army officer, who resides on South College Avenue, Newark, has been released as deputy state director of Civil Defense, in accordance with a drastic reduction in the Civil Defense budget by action of the General Assembly.

In an announcement made this week to supervisors of the Ground Observer Corps, Lt. Col. D. Preston Lee, state director of Civil Defense, said: "The personnel of this Department have been limited in number that we have been unable to be of assistance to the extent we would like. In our budget request for the biennium starting July 1, 1953, we asked for funds to have a public information officer so that he, in addition to publicizing the rest of the Civil Defense program, could tell the people of Delaware what you are doing and what your problems are."

"But instead of increasing our Administrative budget, we were slashed unmercifully. The budget request submitted by this Department, which had the approval of the Governor's Civil Defense Advisory Council, and of the Governor himself, for $82,200.00, was reduced to $38,500.00 which includes salaries of full time employees. In the salary account we requested a reduction of over $37,000.00 which made it necessary to reduce our staff by two people, one of which was Col. Dutton who has been working on the Ground Observer Corps program."

"With sixteen divisions to supervise, and each one requiring as much and in some cases more man hours of administrative time than the Ground Observer Corps, you can see where two people can be spread awfully thin."

"I am telling you these problems in hopes that you will understand that our efforts are not being neglected by those of us who are responsible for the administration of Civil Defense, but that we will be more limited in our activities than we have been in the past."

"Most people realize that we are living under a threat of war but are unwilling to do anything about it. You are doing something about it, and in spite of the handicaps I hope that you will continue to carry on and encourage others to join you."

Agricultural Work Tops Accident List Statistics Reveal

Worriworn Warns Farmers Of Occupational Risks; Farm Safety Wk. Observed

"Farm to live and live to farm." This is what President Dwight D. Eisenhower said in his National Farm Safety Week proclamation.

"I hope all those who farm to live will adopt safe practices, now," says George M. Worriworn, vice president of the Delaware Safety Council, and director of the Agricultural Extension Service. Mr. Worriworn, along with other farm leaders, calls for an all out drive to cut the accident toll among farm residents.

In the 10 years National Farm Safety Week has been observed, accidents have been reduced 20 percent. This year Delaware has taken an important step to further cut that toll. Each county has formed a safety committee. One of their main jobs is to conduct a survey of all farm and home accidents in rural areas for a one year period. One hundred and fifty community reporters are helping.

During the first four months of the survey, 433 accidents were reported. These were serious enough to involve doctor's care or hospitalization. Falls were the leading cause, carelessness with machinery second, and fires third.

National Farm Safety Week's objective is to make rural residents so conscious of accident hazards that through their own efforts, agriculture can be made as safe as other industries.

Right now, agriculture is the most dangerous industry in the nation—according to accident figures.

FIGURES DON'T LIE

CHICAGO — While the cost of practically everything has increased during the past six years, television sets, paradoxically, have decreased steadily in price while growing in screen size. Lee Wilson graphically illustrates this welcome exception to the inflationary trend by showing how the cost of Admiral TV sets has dropped from $7.29 per square inch of screen in 1947 to only 91 cents at present. The first television set offered by the largest television manufacturer in the world—a 10-inch—cost $350 or 870 per cent more on a square inch basis than the company's latest 21-inch set listing at $199.95.

Compare your own shots of children with this Graflex prize-winner. It was taken by a photographer specializing in dogs and cats, Walter Chandra, with a 4 x 5 Super D Graflex.

IMPROVE YOUR PHOTOGRAPHS OF CHILDREN

How many times have you taken a batch of shots of the kids and found they didn't turn out the way you had hoped they would? Too often they seem to lack imagination, are stiff and posed, give no clue as to the character of the child and are of poor quality, technically speaking. Once you have learned to recognize these mistakes, you are well on your way to making better pictures.

One good way to learn what to look for, is to note the half dozen or so most appealing pictures of children in the top magazines. Compare these with the six best recent snapshots you have taken. The chances are you will find there's a difference.

A picture and the camera is just the tool he uses. The professional photographer pays attention to the details that many amateurs overlook—the backgrounds of his pictures, the lighting, natural as well as artificial, razor-sharp focusing, correct exposure and so on. In the matter of enlarging, the professional crops his picture by enlarging only the best parts of each negative. The final cue that you can take from the professional, is to realize that once he has a clear idea of the picture he wants, he will shoot three or four rolls of film to get the one, two, or half a dozen shots that he knows will be commercially acceptable. The man who is paid for his pictures, in other words, is critical of his own work. All of these are tricks of the trade that you as an amateur photographer and proud parent can easily learn and profit from.

WELCOME HOME!

Robert E. Winther, an Army captain and security officer in Korea . . . and a Signal Corps veteran of World War II . . . is now back home in Wilmington.

He's "back home" in his old job, too, as Chief Switchman with the Telephone Company, and, if we do say so, he got a wonderful "Welcome Home" from his buddies in the Telephone Company when he came back.

Actually, in one sense, he has never been away. His new paychecks include the increases he would have received if he had been on his old job all the time.

Practically all telephone people return to telephone work when they are mustered out of the service. That benefits the entire community, because their experience and skill contribute so much to good, dependable telephone service.

Altogether, since the Korean War started, 77 men and women from our Company have left to serve their country, and 39 have already returned. We're proud of them when they go; we remember them while they're away; and we're delighted to see them come back!

THE HUMAN TOUCH

The newly-elected president of the American Medical Association has said, "although medical science has produced many drugs of near-miraculous effectiveness in the last decade, I find that among the most potent of all medicines is still the human touch."

Here is one of the strongest of all the many arguments against a socialized medicine or its variant, government dominated and directed medicine. Wherever these forms of medicine have been tried—and England is the best example for us Americans—the human touch has been largely destroyed. Neither doctor nor patient is any longer a free agent. The doctor must practice "by the book"—and the book is written and its rulings enforced by bureaucrats and politicians. The patient must also follow the book, and take whatever kind and quality of medical care the politicians in power decide he is to have, or do without. Doctors are overworked, under some sort of a panel system, and the result is assembly line medicine. There is little time for providing that all-important human touch—even as there is little time for research and study. The loss in both human values and scientific values is beyond measurement.

The goal of American medicine is to keep the human touch, to continue to give us the best medical care on the face of the earth and to gradually solve the economic problems of illness. That is what is being done here under the free system.

FROM MARCUS HOOK

The following brief editorial appeared in the Herald and Clipper, Marcus Hook, Pennsylvania: "The Government Accounting Office recently reported that the purchase of two baffle plates for $2.97 by the New York Post Office was listed and documented by nine papers, bearing 24 signatures or initials, and 20 datings, and that the documentation took four months to process."

"This is but one of the typical examples of bureaucracy, which closely resembles what old soldiers refer to as Army red tape. . . . The only thing we can do is to point out this one example in the hope that it will disgust the right people as much as it disgusts us."

Letter To Editor

July 17, 1953

Dear Sir:

Having just served as co-chairman of the Development Committee for Camp Minquill, we have enjoyed the pleasure of seeing first-hand what real cooperation CAN bring forth. The shelter, brick fireplace, latrine, and picnic facilities were all erected through the concerted efforts of many interested persons whose children benefited from the camp, as well as many civic-minded persons who donated materials and services for the camp's development.

Once again we would like to express our deep appreciation to the other members of our committee without whom our task could not have been completed: Herbert Smith, Gustave Stielmeier, and Mrs. Merle Roemer. We are also very grateful to the 35 fathers of Browne Scouts, who helped us in the construction of the camp.

The following donations of material and services were invaluable in helping us accomplish our goal: six prefabricated roof sections, Ivan Parsons and Harold Cawthorne; lumber for the uprights of the shelter, and Merle Roemers; sawing and milling of that lumber, Iron Hill Lumber Co.; aid in securing the camp site and gravel for the floor of the shelter, Hugh Gallagher, Jr.; building the brick fireplace, N. C. Sparks and William Sparks.

Signs for the camp, William Peoples; flag pole for the camp, Kenneth Crouse; picnic tables made for the Newark Recreation Association; advice and help with sanitation problems of the camp, W. P. Gainer; and aid given in purchasing equipment from National 5 & 10 Store, Jackson's Hardware, Newark Farm and Home Supply, Newark Pharmacy and Newark Lumber Co.

Last but by no means least, the Browne and Scout troops of Newark helped through money raising projects. A total of $415.50 was raised and given to the development committee for purchasing initial equipment, etc. Congratulations and thanks to them all.

The camp site is ready for community use after July 24th. The Newark Girl Scout District Committee hopes that the public will use and enjoy it, and help keep the area in good condition for everyone. The recreation facilities of Newark are greatly increased by the development of Camp Minquill. We are proud to have had a part in its being.

Sincerely yours,
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Darsie

Delaware Program Expected to Draw Record Attendance

State Development Dept. Lists Feature Attractions Planned For Next 30 Days

A series of events in Delaware during the next 30 days are expected to attract a record number of tourists and visitors to the Delaware State Development Department.

The attractions run from an art exhibit to a beauty contest and the only county fair held annually in the state. Other events scheduled for August include the annual Pushmobile Derby in Wilmington and the International Swim Meet at Rehoboth Beach.

Today and tomorrow, July 23 and 24, the Rehoboth Art League will stage its annual Cottage Tour of Art. Sixteen cottages will display the works of such contemporaries as Margaret Presser Allen, of the University of Delaware faculty; and Mrs. Thelma Herrick, Middleboro, Va., and Boston. Tours are set for Friday afternoon from 2 to 6 p.m. Rehoboth Beach will be the mecca for hundreds this coming weekend, and visitors will be able to see the First State's beauties on parade when the annual Miss Delaware Beauty Pageant is held in the patio of the Henlopen Hotel.

On July 27 the 34th Annual Kent and Sussex Fair opens at Harrington, Del., located on Route 13 south. This is the only county fair in Delaware—and takes on the proportions of a state fair, with Thursday, July 30, as Governor's Day. Gov. J. Caleb Boggs has invited Delaware's five living ex-governors to share the day's honors.

There will be 196 exhibits of farm produce, cattle, swine, farm machinery and 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America displays, according to fair officials. Harness racing will be the major attraction Tuesday through Thursday, while bigtime auto races will bring the week's events to a close on Saturday, August 1.

The Delaware Association of Police announces that its seventh annual Pushmobile Derby on Saturday, August 16, has attracted 60 entrants. This show is a counterpart of the big Akron soap box derby, staged independently by Delaware's police officials in the interest of combating juvenile delinquency.

Finally, on Saturday and Sunday, August 29 and 30, the ninth annual International Swimming Races will be held at Rehoboth Beach under Recreation Club. Swim stars from 11 states participated last year, and it is hoped that several international competitors from last year's Olympic squad will participate in the one and two mile ocean swim events.

School Consultant Addresses Group On Construction

Dr. Cocking Discusses "Excellence in School Design" at Conference

School board members, educators, architects, building engineers, and other interested citizens attended a special conference on the theme, "Modern School Construction," held in Warner Hall on the University of Delaware campus, yesterday evening.

President John A. Perkins introduced the principal speaker, Dr. Walter D. Cocking, one of America's leading educational consultants on school plant planning, who spoke on "Excellence in School Design." Latest film-strips depicting several outstanding school construction projects, were shown, followed by a discussion period of special questions in which the audience participated.

Dr. Cocking is a leading national authority on school building construction. He is a member of the National Council of School Houses, the American School and University Annual—a national publication devoted to the school and college plant. He has served for many years as a member of America's leading architectural firms.

Building authorities and school administrators from several nearby states attended with a large number of Delaware officials.

Farmers Get Less Yet Food Costs Up; Marketing Blamed

Farmers are wondering why they don't get more money from their crops, and city people wonder why they have to pay so much for food. Few can realize where the dollar goes and why it is spent as it is.

Willard T. McAllister, extension marketing specialist at the University of Delaware, points out that farmers are receiving less today than they did eight years ago. Why is there a change?

This year farmers have received only 46 cents out of each dollar spent for food. The other 54 cents went to the middleman. The opposite was true eight years ago. Fifty-four cents went to the farmer and 46 cents went to middleman. Does this mean that the middleman today is making a much bigger profit than he did eight years ago? No, he isn't. Instead, the cost of marketing has gone up higher and stayed up while farm prices have declined.

McAllister makes the two following points:

1. Cost of food to consumer is affected more by marketing costs than by production costs.
2. Some farmers individually or as a group may be able to do the marketing job cheaper or better than a distant middleman.

"There are especially good opportunities in Delaware to sell eggs, chickens, turkeys, honey, vegetables, and fruits individually, to eliminate the expense of the middleman."

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

Have mercy upon us, O Lord, have mercy upon us; for we are exceedingly filled with contempt. (Psalm CXXIII, 3.)

When we ourselves walk in the ways of the Lord but fail to try to help those who do not, we are departing from the teachings of God's Word. It is right that we have contempt for evil as such, but no man should be held in our contempt but rather in our Christian charity, that we may endeavor all ways to help those who need help.

State Homemakers Avoid KP Overtime With Can Openers spending a lot less time in the kitchen, thanks to more than 5,000,000 hours of work saved them each year by the canning industry.

What they do with those five million hours saved, is an interesting question.

Delaware's homemakers are L. M. Goodwin, Delaware representative of American Can Company, container manufacturers, pointed out that an average family of four annually consumes 300 lbs. of canned fruit, fruit juices and vegetables. If a homemaker would spend 70 hours in the kitchen cleaning, preparing and packing this quantity of food, he said.

"The time saved," Mr. Goodwin observed, "equals three hours in the kitchen every work day for a month. At last count, there were 89,971 married women in Delaware. By using canned fruits and vegetables, they save an estimated 5,688,000 hours of work a year."

Additional hours are saved, he added, when foods such as canned soup, fish, meats, poultry and specialty items are used in the home.

"The canning industry," said Mr. Goodwin, "is one of the great mass producers of time-saving products so important to the nation's homemakers. By saving time that used to be spent in the kitchen, American women have more leisure to devote to their family and community needs."

"It's hard for a mother and father to lose a beautiful daughter in marriage, but it's harder to lose the homely ones."

—Dan Bennett.

In the semi-finals in the Senior Tournament, Sunday, Frank Anderson defeated George Grant on the 19th hole, and George Grant turned back Wayne Brewer, 3 and 2.

Week-end sweepstakes prize winners were 11, Macdonald, with an 87-36-61; Dollins with 87-4-83; and Fred Giesert with a 76 for a net 63.

The Vets, Blue Jays and the Post Office swept a pair of games apiece from their competitors in the Adult Softball League, and the race for first place is just as hot as the recent weather, and as unpredictable.

The Vets held a one game, first place advantage over the Jays, while the Post Office softballers are but one game off the second place pace.

Monday evening of this week, VFW trounced the A&P nine, 11-4, while the Postal players were having a near thing with Continental, 7-4.

Last Thursday, the Blue Jays pulled a game away from the Post Office by handing P.O. a 5-3 defeat in the lone contest of the evening.

While on Wednesday, the Vets defeated Local 404, by a score of 7-4, as A&P unlimbered the lumber on the hapless hurlers of Stine Lab for a 28-6 debacle.

Tuesday of last week, Post Office defeated Avon, 8-4, and the Blue Jays won a slugfest from Continental, 12-8.

No Traffic Problem Here

Looking west on W. Main Street, from the First Presbyterian Church, this picture post card of Newark in 1903 is one of peaceful tranquility. On the right is the present home of Mrs. Wm. S. Gregg, and beyond that is the residence of Daniel Thompson. The Gregg house was originally occupied by the Jacob Thomas family. Mrs. Ethel Hill, retired Newark Public School teacher, and Newark Post columnist, provided the postal.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat
The RIGHT MAN for the RIGHT JOB

WHEN A NATION STRUGGLING TO BE BORN NEEDED A NAVY—THERE WAS JOHN PAUL JONES.
WHEN IT NEEDED A SOUND FINANCIAL POLICY—THERE WAS ALEXANDER HAMILTON.
AT THE CRITICAL PERIODS OF OUR NATION'S HISTORY AND THE TRANSITIONAL PERIODS OF OUR DEVELOPMENT, AMERICA HAS ALWAYS FOUND THE MEN IT NEEDED.

THE FREEDOMS WHICH REINFORCE OUR DEMOCRACY ENABLE AMERICA TO DEVELOP THE RIGHT MAN FOR THE RIGHT JOB.

Artist's Sketch of Proposed Brookside Shopping Center

To be located at the intersection of Chestnut Hill and Morrow Roads, construction of a $2,500,000 Brookside shopping center is expected to begin this fall. Brookside Park Associates, developers of the new community, today announced plans for the multi-million dollar project which will include parking space for 1500 automobiles, and a total floor space of more than 170,000 sq. ft.

Calvary Baptists Plan to Construct New Local Church

Rev. Paul Cook Named Full-Time Minister At State Convention

The Calvary Baptist Church of Newark, established only a few years ago and currently meeting in the Masonic Temple on Delaware Avenue, is engaged in an effort to erect a permanent place of worship. The group, after consultation with denominational leaders in both state and nation, has drawn first plans for construction of a brick, two-story building of colonial design, on Delaware Avenue next to the Masonic Temple, on ground which has already been purchased. As planned, the building—the first unit of a long-range program—will include space for Sunday School classrooms and a chapel. The building will be the first stage of a two-part program which will eventually include a second section to form an L-shaped structure. Action to secure assistance for financing the building was begun last year through the Delaware State Baptist Convention, and at the annual meeting at Holloway Terrace, a loan of $5,000 was approved by the other Baptist churches of the state, acting in unison. Following the approval of the state group, representatives of the national denomination were contacted and at the recent American Baptist convention in Denver an added $20,000 loan was approved. Approval by the national organization was given through the American Home Mission Society as a part of its program for church extension in industrial areas. At the time convention approval was given, it was decided that the Rev. Paul E. Cook, pastor, a student at Crozer Theological Seminary in Chester, who has been serving as a part-time pastor for the local church, should be authorized to serve as a full-time minister. Mr. Cook, now at work in Newark on plans for the building as well as in the affairs of the church, plans to make his home in Newark with his wife and daughter when housing is available. With $15,000 still needed to underwrite a construction loan the Calvary Baptists are attempting to raise the remaining amount in Newark, both from their own members through pledges and gifts, and from friends of the church in the city at large. A. M. Hadley, plumbing contractor and trustee in the church, is serving as chairman of the building committee and will receive contributions to the building fund at his home at 33 Thompson Circle, George Road Village.

Muscle—a kind of inarticulate, unfathomable speech, which leads us to the edge of the infinite, and lets us for moments gaze into that!
