Mitchell Hall Scene Of Xmas Program Of Music, Drama

Puppets Club Presents "The Story of the Nativity"; Audience Sings

Mitchell Hall was filled to capacity last night when the University of Delaware presented its annual Christmas program of music and drama. Those who participated, more than one hundred persons, were members of the University A-Capella Choir, the Women's College Glee Club, and the Puppets Club, Women's College dramatic organization.

Following selections by a brass quartet, a procession was led by the A-Capella Choir and the Glee Club of Women's College. The brass quartet consisted of Robert Laird, Gilbert Wiltbank, James Joseph, and James Hopper.

The Puppets Club, under the direction of Miss Phyllis Wood and Miss Mina Press, staged a Christmas play, "The Story of the Nativity", in three scenes: the Annunciation, the Shepherds in the Field, and the Nativity.

The following students from Delaware College and from Women's College were in the play cast: Jane Stevens, Lloyd Jones, Sara Baldwin, Norman Bunin, Robert Sanford, Harry Hillyard, Jane Hastings, Josephine Emerson, Gwynnett Jones, and Mina Press. During the play music was sung by the Women's College Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Phyllis Wood.

Students Plan Varied Holiday According To Poll

If all the plans of Delaware students for the holiday season materialize, the school will have to grant an additional two week vacation in order to rest the weary revellers. Or, more likely, the revellers and the professors will have a tacit understanding as to the desirability of a none-too-strenuous study schedule while on the home stretch before midyears. Or, still more likely, they won't have any understanding at all.

At any rate, a recent REVIEW poll showed the following ponderous prognostications from interviews selected to represent a cross-section of the student body:

92.3% of the students will be at home or with relatives on Christmas day, 4.7% will be at "a friend's", and the rest will be in Florida and Brooklyn.

17.8% of the students have jobs waiting for them for the vacation, 13.6% are still in hope of finding gainful employment, 62.0% are going to avoid such things, while the other 8.4% could not make up their mind.

78.0% of the students say that they are going to study for finals, at least a little of the time. It is estimated that 2% of this group will fulfil their plans, 10.9% sneered looked phlegmatically out the west windows of the library, or asked the interviewer if he thought it were Christmas when they were asked what their plans for study were. The other 11.1% were violently blasphemous, 4.3% of them attempting

AND A VERY HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Dr. Kase To Attend Theater Convention Dec. 30 to Jan. 2

Dr. C. R. Kase, director of dramatics at the University of Delaware, is planning to attend the convention of the American Educational Theatre Association in Washington December 30 to January 2. Dr. Kase will participate in the meeting on the "Organization and Management of Drama Contests and Festivals". He will read a paper entitled "Preliminary Preparations for the Tournament."

Mr. George Henry, Dover High School, chairman of the Festival Committee, is making plans for the annual state-wide Delaware Play Festival, to be held at the University of Delaware on April 18-19. The Festival is sponsored by the Delaware Dramatic Association.

Already, ten public and private schools and five community theatres have indicated a desire to enter the non-professional play tournament which was inaugurated last year.

Aggie Club

The next meeting of the Aggie Club will be on January 14. It will be a joint meeting with the Home Economics Club of the Women's College. President John Doordan has asked the club to give the Home Economics Club full cooperation in sponsoring the meeting.

College Hour

Mr. Clarence Fulmer, principal of the Wilmington High School, will speak at College Hour on Tuesday, January 7. His talk will concern the relationship between college students and the national defense program in the light of current world conditions.

The program will supplement the regular required College Hours and is sponsored jointly by the College Hour Committee and the University Faculty Committee on National Defense, of which Dr. Ezra B. Crooks is chairman.

Conrad Sadowski Leads Blue Hens To 53-29 Victory

Delaware's basketball team broke into the victory column last night at Taylor Gym by turning back Philadelphia Textile School by the score of 53 to 29.

The opening minutes of the battle were fought on even terms with the invaders holding a slim lead after successive field goals by Bob Pickens and Bill Bertolet. But the Blue Hens forged ahead when Conrad Sadowski and Capt. Bill Gerow found the range to lead 7-5.

After 10 minutes of play the Blue and Gold passers held a 9-5 advantage, and boasted a 19-10 lead at the end of the first half.

Sadowski continued to storm the

Bulletin Published By Economics Club

Late this week, an Economic Club bulletin will be distributed to all members of the Economics Club and to all students enrolled in economics courses. This bulletin, a project sponsored jointly by the Club and the Economics Department, is, it is hoped, the first step in a process of evolution—the bulletin will eventually grow into a small economics newspaper. When and if it grows as anticipated, it may be possible to exchange copies with other schools having similar publications.

The first issue will include an editorial on the purpose and ultimate objectives of the paper. Other features will include brief biographies of the club officers and faculty in the economics department, a summary of the talk given at the last dinner meeting, and an article describing a recent trip made to the Pennsylvania coal mines by several economics classes.

The staff editing the paper is as follows: features, Dave Anderson, Ned Cooch, Martin Tannen; news, Bill Richardson, Bob Hanley; current topics, Bernard Ichla, Fred Mitchell, Helen Pierson, and Emil Kellbass; art, Bob Bishop and Russ Willard.

Competitive Plays To Replace College Playbill March 20

The Women's College Competitive Plays, originally scheduled for this month, will replace the University of Delaware Playbill on March 20, it was announced this week. Plans for the remaining Playbill on the dramatic program are under way. Altering the customary Playbill arrangement, the February 21st Playbill will present a one-act play under the joint-direction of the Puppets Club and the Footlights Club and performances by two guest dramatic organizations to be announced later.

A number of full-length and one-act plays are under consideration for production by the Play Selection Committee of the E-52 Players. Revivals in the list of proposed works are: THE TAMING OF THE SHREW, MACBETH, THE DEVIL'S DISCIPLE, THE WOMAN KILLED WITH KINDNESS, PYGMALION, THE RIVALS, SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL, MARY ROSE, THE WHITEHEADED BOY, and THE PLAYBOY OF THE WESTERN WORLD.

Modern: AMPHITRYON 38, ANNA CHRISTIE, THE GENTLE PEOPLE, THE MAKE ANIMAL, THE TAVERN, and WINGLESS

ROTC Military Ball Features Malecot's Band on January 11

Dinner Dance to be held at duPont Country Club from 7 to 12

Andre Malecot and his Orchestra will be featured at the annual Military Ball to be held this year at the duPont Country Club on January 11, from 7:00 to 12:00.

David Buckson, chairman of the committee which is in charge of running the ball, announced today that the Officers Club has decided to have a dinner-dance. "I believe," he said, "this will be the first dinner-dance ever given at the University of Delaware." Dinner will last from 7:00 till 9:00, and dancing will follow till 12:00. All Delaware students who are taking advanced military are members of the Officers Club, and as such are invited to attend.

Andre Malecot and his Orchestra have played at many Delaware dances in the past, and each time, have been more enthusiastically received. In accord with Delaware's taste in dance music, Andre will feature the slow sweet part of his library.

The band, which now has the best rating of all non-union bands in Delaware, has made three additions to its musicians. These are: Artie Krause filling the piano spot, Rosario Coletta well known Wilmington

Dr. Hullihen Asks State To Donate Gymnasium Money

As the W.P.A. has not replied to the University's request it is feared that it will not approve the recent application of the University of Delaware for funds for a combination Gymnasium, Drill Hall, and Field House, and the Board of Trustees has authorized the University to apply at another source for funds to finance the proposed building. The Board at its semi-annual meeting last Saturday, approved a resolution submitted by the Committees on Grounds and Buildings, and Finance. The resolution authorizes the University, to petition the General Assembly for a state appropriation or bond issue to make provision for the urgently needed building.

Many other State institutions are asking the General Assembly to provide funds for new buildings and it may be that the State will consider floating a bond issue to cover all of these requests. If there is such a bond issue, part of its income will probably be given to the University for the gymnasium.

In his report to the Board, President Walter Hullihen cited the imperative need of a building on the campus which would provide adequate facilities for indoor exercise, drill, and physical education classes as well as intercollegiate athletic contests. Dr. Hullihen also mentioned the fact that friends of the University are going to contribute a very considerable sum over a five year period to be used to strengthen the teaching staff in the Department of Athletics and Physical Education. "It is only right," he stated that the colleges should provide adequate equipment and facilities to make more effective this assistance to our athletic and physical education.

...Peace And Goodwill...

"At Christmas play and make good cheer, for Christmas comes but once a year."

So goes an old rhyme about the coming holiday season, and from all indications on the campus, the student body plans to make the most of the holidays. Outlines of Christmas fun and joy have been in the process of formulation for the past month.

Tomorrow at twelve-thirty the Christmas vacation begins. Thereafter, it will be but a matter of hours before the playing and making of good cheer commence.

Yet, with the rapid approach of a long awaited holiday season, there comes to our mind a serious note. Besides the parties which the women are anticipating and the sleep which the men seem to want so much, there seems to be something missing.

There is another phrase often quoted at this time of year—GLORIA IN EXCELSIS DEI ET IN TERRA PAX HOMINIBUS BONAE VOLUNTATIS.

It is the latter part of this bit of Holy Writ which is bringing a serious note to Christmas the world over. Peace on earth to men of goodwill. Peace on a bomb-scarred earth. Goodwill this Christmas seems to have been replaced by hatred on most continents. Even here at the University our thoughts of Christmas are interrupted by cries for more guns and munitions.

Yes, peace and goodwill. These necessary factors for the happiness of mankind are absent from the minds of men, and their absence sadly detracts from Christmas everywhere.

And yet despite this tinge of seriousness, we are certain that this Christmas will be a happy holiday. Though the Yuletide tree will appear duller when we gaze at it after just having read of recent bombing raids, there will still be a glittery Christmas tree.

"RAT" TRAP

Jottings From W.C.D.

By JEANNE HARKINS

Vacation at last! Five days until Christmas. Isn't it wonderful! Don't you feel good inside thinking about it? Everybody down here has been thinking in terms of "when-vacation-comes" for the past month.

This week has been just crammed full of things to do. If all the weeks of our lives were boxes into which we could put the things we do, this December box would be just filled to overflowing.

A Pajama Parade, in which the Home Ec students in Elementary Clothing displayed the results of their work for this semester, started the week off with an accent on style and fashion, which is pretty important down here. That was Monday afternoon. Then, Monday evening there was a party over at Practice House for all the Home Ec Students. They first had a short business meeting of their club and made plans to send baskets to needy families and to sew for the Red Cross after vacation. After that, a social program was in order. It consisted of singing Christmas carols, the reading of the Christmas story from the Bible, games, and refreshments.

It seems as if there were parties right and left this week. The Commuters had a party on Tuesday morning during the fifth hour. They had a lovely Christmas tree in their lounge, and all the makings of a real party.

Not being a commentator on international affairs, I won't mention the situation abroad, but I would like to tell you of the amicable relations of the German and French clubs down here. They combined their efforts and presented a charming program Tuesday afternoon in the Hilarium. Antonie Velleman, Kathleen Bader, Winifred Taylor, Jean Burns, Majorie Nock, Helen Osborne, Anna Franczkowska, Jane Hastings, Marcella Short, Louise Zurkow, Patricia Henderson, Mary Pearce, and M. C. Stericker were soloists, chorus, and figures in the pantomimes of the Nativity and sang Christmas carols. Hanna Maier read the Christmas story from the Bible in German and Louise Zurkow read the same selection in French. Mary Babcock was the accompanist, and Miriam Levinson and Ruth Kray arranged the costumes.

I should like to express now our appreciation of the Christmas greetings that were sent from several of the fraternities to our dormitories. Everyone enjoyed them.

Wednesday evening we had parties in the Dorms, and were they fun! There were Christmas decorations galore, gifts, good things to eat.—Oh, just everything. And we all had a good time.

As you know, we had our Christmas banquet Thursday evening. The dining hall looked lovely, and the turkey—well, you know what turkey and all the fixings are like. And afterwards the Christmas program in Mitchell Hall. It was tops! Let's give a hand to all those who had anything to do with it.

Early this morning, four delegates from our Forum club, accompanied by Dr. Ryden, left for the I.R.C. conference in Washington. Some of the topics for discussion are: Democracy, Europe After the War, Pan-Americanism. Tonight there is a banquet and an informal dance, and the conference is over tomorrow noon. The delegates are Helen Adams, Janet Vernon, Margaret Seitz, and eJanne Harkins.

While we are having a good time during vacation, let's give a thought to our less fortunate friends abroad. Let's be properly thankful that we're Americans.

Happy holidays.

"Christmas Spirit"

Have you seen the Memorial Library's new Christmas decoration? The star, put in its present position last Wednesday, was designed, constructed, and installed by two enterprising Sophomores from Delaware College. Barney Chadwick and Jack Culver were the two industrious carpenters.

The eight foot star was made in the workshop below the stage in Mitchell Hall. It is illuminated by four spotlights, also products of Mitchell Hall.

Even without snow it is easy to see that Christmas has hit the Campus. The star on the Library, the tree in front of the Sig Ep House, and the lights on the Sigma Nu House all help to give our Campus an atmosphere of Christmas Cheer.

Take It Or Leave It

If you should design to seek my opinion
Concerning the subject of Love,
I should protest: it's not my dominion—
The state of which I know naught of.

However, I shall (since you strongly insist)
Endeavor to propagandize

An axiom or two (could a poet resist?)
About Love—heartburn in disguise.

The poets of o'd, when caught by the muse,
Had to fall in tribute to their knees.

And thus, from their pens, flowed pearls of refuse—
Mere palpitant pleas—if you please!

Ours is an age of speed and precision,
When not only cars are stream-lined;
And "affaires de la coeur", it is my firm decision,
Are no longer classes as dream-lined.

Love is no more than a matter of science,
Of chemistry, math, and psychology.
Ethereal views I oppose with defiance
As I blandly brand Love—Jitterology.

X plus Y equals Boy meets Girl.
The result is acceleration.
They kiss and their vertebrae slowly uncurl—
Then they both need resuscitation.

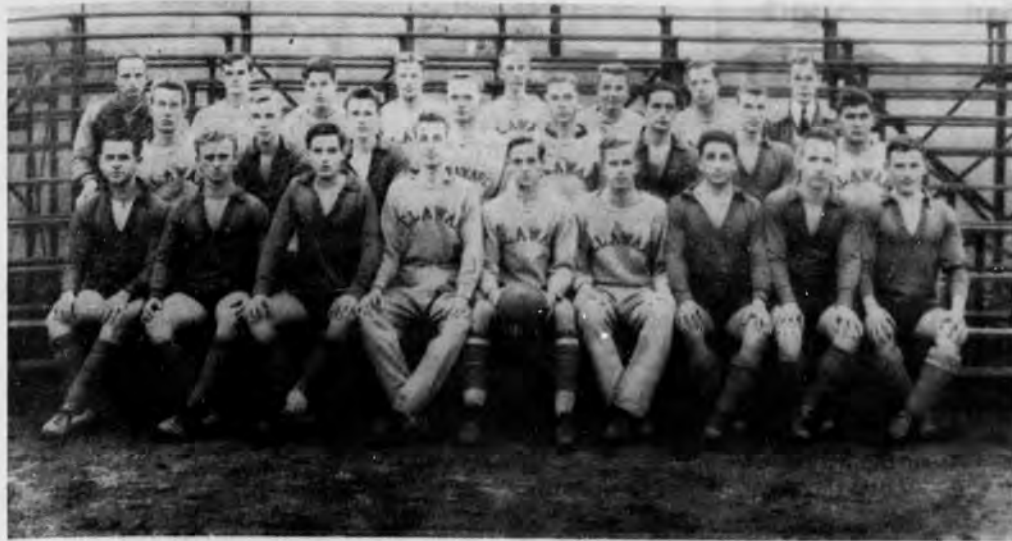

Forget all the songs of moonlight and roses:
They're older than grandmother's bustle.
The up-to-the-minute songsmith composes
Dittys that make your blood pressure hustle.

It's not a "faery thrust of cupid's lance":
It's a chemical change in blood plasma.
And when you gasp for breath at her glance,
That isn't love—it's asthma.

Perhaps these notes appear cynical,
If not slightly sadistic.
But our method of approach must be clinical
If we're going to be realistic.

So, when you pursue the Art, don't ponder,
"What would a medieval courtier say?"
The object of your passion will ever grow fonder
If you say it in a Nineteen Fortier way.

BETTER LATE THAN NOT AT ALL!

Pictured above is the 1940 Delaware soccer team which finished its season just after Thanksgiving vacation. The booters won their final game to finish up with an even .500 record—five victories and an equal number of defeats. At the completion of the season, Ames Betts was elected captain of the 1941 team, succeeding Trux Boyce.

MERMEN START WITH TRIUMPH

Coach Ed Bardo's charges successfully opened the 1940 swimming season last Saturday night with an impressive 48 to 27 win over West Chester Teachers College in the home pool.

The Blue Hens won first place in six of the nine events, and in two they finished one-two. The Medley relay team of Funk, Weldin and Houchin set a new Delaware pool record when they swam the 330 yards in 3 minutes and 20 seconds. This time was two tenths of a second better than the record set in 1938 in a meet with Lafayette by a team composed of Stearns, Kenworthy, and Schwartz.

Delaware was deprived of one first place when they were disqualified in the 400 yard relay because of leaving the mark too soon.

The Summaries:

400 yard relay—Won by West Chester (White, Starchester, Gottschall, Farley) Delaware disqualified. Time 5:17.

Diving—Won by Paxton, West Chester; Schoolmaster, Delaware, second; Murphy, West Chester, third. Winning points, 108.8

50 yard freestyle—Won by Hecht, Delaware; Gottschall, West Chester, second; Walton, Delaware, third. Time 27 seconds.

150 yard backstroke—Won by Funk, Delaware; Huxford, Delaware, second; Bruninger, West Chester, third. Time 1:51.2

220 yard freestyle—Won by Klaes, West Chester; Marshall, Delaware, second; Neese, Delaware, third. Time 2:13.7

220 yard breast stroke—Won by Weldin, Delaware; Dickey, Delaware, second; Jamison, West Chester, third. Time 2:50

100 yard free style—Won by Marshall, Delaware; Houchin, Delaware, second; Gottschall, West Chester, third.

440 yard freestyle—Won by Neese, Delaware; Klaes, West Chester, second; Kent, Delaware, third. Time 5:55.5

330 yard medley relay—Won by Delaware (Funk, Weldin, Houchin); West Chester, second. Time 3:20 (New University of Delaware record.)

to maltreat the inquisitor. Thus, it may be seen that the student body intends to spend its Christmas vacation. This is the primary conclusion that may be drawn from the poll. The secondary conclusions are many and unimpressive, but they all seem to indicate that the student body is vaguely aware of a looming future.

Loyola Five Takes Hens Over, 48-34

Delaware Team Beaten But Mitchell Stars

Basketball under the regime of Coach Flucie Stewart had its inception in Taylor Gym last Tuesday evening, but the Blue and Gold cagers spoiled the debut by going down to defeat before a polished five from Loyola University (Baltimore variety) by a score of 48-34.

Loyola brought a team that presented one of the finest passing attacks seen in Newark for many a day and had the added advantage of having previously played six games, while for the Hens it was the first collegiate opposition of the season after a pair of warm-up battles the week before against Carney's Point Y.M.C.A. and the Wilmington Boy's Club, both easy victims and hardly a test.

The visitors started slowly and, after caging a foul, went behind after five minutes when Carty Douglass, elongated pivot, gave the home forces their one and only lead of the game with a stab from under the basket. From here the Greyhounds started to roll like their namesake and built up a half-time lead of 28-12.

The Blue Hens put up a much better battle during the second half, and after the score mounted to 40-20 against them held their opponents scoreless for over 15 minutes, meanwhile crawling up to a deficit of 40-28. The Baltimore aggregation then rang up three baskets in less than a minute after which they relaxed into their shells once more, while the Hens tried vainly to overcome the insurmountable lead.

Even in defeat the work of Fred Mitchell was the outstanding individual performance of the evening, for he had just five shots all night and made all good, three of the sensational variety, to take scoring honors for the Delaware five with a total of 11 counters. Al Barczak of the visitors took game honors with 17 points.

Bardo Begins New Swimming Wrinkle

Men Possessing Varsity Possibilities Engage In Handicap Races

Coach Ed Bardo, continuing to follow his plan of introducing new wrinkles into Delaware swimming, has instituted a series of events at varying distances between men not on the varsity but who, with a little experience, might well be lettermen. The first of these was held last Saturday night between events of the meet with West Chester Teachers, and the results were gratifying. The object of holding the trials during a regularly-scheduled meet is to get the new aspirants used to the crowds they may someday have to face. Points are given on the basis of the order of finish, and the man at the end of the season possessing the highest total will receive a gratuity of some sort. The races are run under a handicap system, varying with the ability of the swimmers.

Results of the first series:

200-yard handicap: won by Frank Annand (Backstroke); tie for second between Bob Coleman and Ralph Newman (freestyle); tie for fourth between Jack Cole and Bob Walton (freestyle).

100-yard handicap: won by Annand (backstroke); tie for second between Cole and Coleman (freestyle).

Point standing:

Annand 8 Newman 2 1/2
Stearns 5 Cole 1/2
Coleman 3 Walton 1/4

basket with long-range field goals and as a result the Delaware lead swelled to 33-22 at the end of the third period.

The Philadelphia quintet rallied soon after the start of the second half and shaved the Delaware lead to five points at 21-16.

Sadowski was the outstanding performer for the Blue Hens. He tabbed eight goals from scrimmage and added a point at the foul mark for a 17-point total.

He was followed by Carty Douglas, Delaware center, who accounted for 13 points on six field tosses and a foul.

Whitey Karp was best for the invaders with nine points.

Delaware outscored its opponent 24-12 from the field, while both teams counted five times at the penalty stripe.

In the preliminary game, Delaware Jay Vees were handed a 34 to 33 setback by Bancroft.

"The importance of our work as a Senior Reserve Officers Training institution in preparing young men for commissions in the United States Army would seem to justify the demand for a proper drill hall for use in inclement weather and for adequate and safe storage facilities for arms, ammunition, and other valuable material now inadequately housed. Add to this the complete inadequacy of the tiny Gymnasium (built 36 years ago for a student body of one hundred) for the extensive intra-mural athletic program now being carried on in addition to the various forms of inter-collegiate activities for a student body of over six hundred—which is further emphasized by a comparison with the provision made by the State for the Women's College where there are only half as many students and a much less extensive program by reason of the absence of intercollegiate competitions.

"When it is recalled that during the last thirty odd years the Engineering Building is the only building erected on the Delaware College campus by State appropriation; and that during that time private gifts have added to the State's property, on that campus, buildings and land valued at more than four million dollars, it does not seem unreasonable that we petition the General Assembly, either by appropriation or bond issue, to make provision for the very urgent need hastily described above."

Many other R.O.T.C. colleges throughout the country have made application to the War Department for funds from one of the Defense Appropriations for the construction of similar buildings. While none of these applications have been refused, neither have any been accepted, and it is believed that it will be the policy of the War Department to refuse all applications of this nature.

The Board of Trustees has not as yet reached a decision as to the position of the new Gymnasium on the Campus. Three locations are being considered and the final choice will probably depend upon the amount of money available. The locations are all near or on Fraser Field, one at the site of Mechanical Hall, another between the two athletic fields, and the third at the far northern part of the campus, adjoining the railroad tracks.

What The Engineers Are Doing . .

By DICK McNETT

Well, a lot of them are doing more than studying; they're pretty active in campus activities too. Now that football and soccer are over and basketball and swimming have begun, I think it's a good time to say something about the Engineers who are in fall and winter sports this year.

There were eight Engineers bucking around on Frazier Field this fall. "Big John" Grundy heads the list; he's exposing himself to Mechanical Engineering. Three of the eight are Sophomores: Walt Paul, Hugh Bogovitch, and Al Newcomb. The rest are Freshmen, namely, Mart Pierson, Sam Julian, Charlie Walton, and Alan McLaren.

The Hard Workers were well represented on the soccer field this year. Leon Chambers, the "scoring fullback" (one goal), takes M. E. So does Warren Grier, the roving forward. Two Freshmen, Jim Gotshall and Gee Fernandez, booted the pill around too.

Seven Engineers are playing Basketball this year. Ed Samuel, Bob Kee, Ed Travis, Jack Phillips, and Baynard Roe are all doing a good job with the J. V. s. Benny Cresenzi and "Broadway" Barlow are two of Flucie's best on the Varsity; they're both Mechanics.

The biggest showing of Engineers is in the pool. The list of swimmers is so long I can't count them all. Ray Hecht is a Test Tube Technician. T. D. Weldin is a Chemical, too. Then, let's see: Walt Paul, Jack Cole, Ralph Newman, Dave Funk, Matt Judge, George Grier, Harry Huxford, Al Millman, Charlie Walton, and . . . well, that's all I can think of now. There are a few record breakers among them; watch them go.

Engineers have to study hard or they flunk out. These boys ought to get a lot of credit for studying and supporting the school in sports at the same time. Whether they're outstanding in sports or not doesn't matter. At least they are out for the teams.

Merry Christmas, everybody.

I.M.A. Christmas Formal Big Success, Music For Affair Furnished By Mayo

More than thirty couples attended the Christmas Dance of the Independent Men's Association, held last Saturday evening in the Lounge of Old College.

The Lounge took on a gay Christmas air with a large tree in the center of the room and two smaller trees decorated with red and green lights. Between the two smaller trees, which were placed at the south end of the Lounge, was a red-lighted Christmas wreath. The lights in the Lounge were trimmed in red and green.

Patrons and Patronesses for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lanier, and Dr. H. Newman and Miss Kathryn Ort.

Those who aided in making arrangements and trimming for the dance included Malloy Vaughn, William Richardson, Charles Schneider, William Craig, and Eugene Herbener.

The Delaware Poultry Judging team returned from Rutgers University at New Brunswick, New Jersey on December the 7th with smiles of satisfaction at having placed sixth in the 23rd Eastern Intercollegiate Poultry Judging Contest. The order of the top teams was W. Va., Virginia, N. Carolina, Penn. State, Rutgers, Delaware, Cornell, Connecticut and Massachusetts. The teams judged all afternoon on the nine classes. There were Rhode Island Reds, New Hampshire, Plymouth Rocks and Leghorns. The afternoon of judging was preceded by the examinations on the Standards of Perfection and a luncheon given by the Rutgers Poultry Club. All three of the team members received prize money for their individual ratings which were announced at the banquet which concluded the contest and which was sponsored by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. Professor Skogland feels confident that in another year Delaware will place even higher; this is the first time the University has been represented at the contest.

Four Ag. Ed. majors, Markowitz, Mercer, Gordy and Brown, attended the Saturday morning meeting of the Delaware State Agricultural Teachers in Dover. The most of the morning was devoted to an instructive demonstration of Dairy problems and how these may be taught to the Vocational Agricultural Students throughout the state. This demonstration was arranged by Mr. Paul Hodgson, Acting State Supervisor, in co-operation with Mr. Jamison and Mr. Ely of the Interstate Milk Producers' Co-operative. Marketing problems were discussed at length as well as many production problems. At the conclusion of the meeting the group went to the Duval Inn for luncheon as the guests of the Co-operative and were pleased to see the State Supervisor, Captain Mowlds, who was on short leave from his Army duties, and who dropped in when he learned the meeting was being held.

Many of the faculty and staff of Wolf Hall have been in Dover during the past week in attendance at the Peninsula Horticulture Meeting. Wednesday afternoon and evening found many students from Wolf Hall there as well. The entire Senior Class attended the afternoon program in the Armory with Professor Watkins and Professor Heim. In the evening they were the guests of Professor Heim at the Delaware Future Farmers of America. Fourth Annual Banquet. The main address of the evening was given by "Andy" Sundstrom, Past National F. F. A. President and Associate Editor of the FARM JOURNAL. Toastmaster, Penn Jsaacs, who is president of the State F. F. A. Association kept the program rolling with strict punctuality. Entertainment was provided by several of the State Chapters, a movie was shown of one of the group projects underway and many introductions were made during the course of the evening.

Material is being assembled and prepared for the second issue of the AGGIE NEWS which will appear about a week after the holidays. Articles of interest will include that of Frank Thomas, who before coming to Delaware was a Page Boy in the Nation's Capitol and another on the many changes and innovations made and underway at the College Farm.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology disbursed $217,448 in loans and scholarships in the 1939-40 school year.

Rollin' Round The Turntables

DICK AYDELOTTE

Well here we are back again with ye old record review. This week we have a nice batch of recordings to recommend for your collections.

The Swing and Sway of Sammy Kaye is out this week on Victor. Tommy Ryan sings in his suave manner, "A Nightingale Sang in Berkely Square," while on the reverse side, "Dream Valley," holds forth with a style all its own.

Oh, by the way—have you heard "Down Argentine Way," who hasn't? Especially in the Deluxe. (I wish I had five cents for every nickle that has gone into the jackpot to play that one piece.) About the best arrangement yours truly has heard is that sweet little Bluebird artist, Dinah Shore. For a Vocadance record this is tops. On the turnover Dinah sings "Yes My Darling Daughter."

I strongly recommend Tommy Dorsey's new thriller on Victor record No. 26770. The Pled Pipers sing "You've Got Me This Way," on the B side. Frankie Sinatra warbles on the A waxing "I'd Know You Anywhere."

For you stoogents who can't afford to buy records or recording apparatus, WDEL offers MUSIC YOU WANT—a three-quarter hour program of the best in popular music.

The newest in small groups features Artie Shaw and his clarinet and harsichord. It's called the Gramercy 5—"Special Delivery Stamp" and "Keepin' Myself For You" are the two sides and they're plenty o.k.

See you next week, and we will do some more ramblin' with our favorite pastime records.

Christmas Program

tion of Miss Margaret Dennis. Frances Jennings, organist, accompanied carol singing by the audience and Christmas music by the A-Capella Choir, under the direction of Anthony J. Loudis. Included in the selections by the choir were Christmas Bells, by Longfellow-Osgood; Praise to the Lord, by Christiansen; Wassall Song, by Williams; Glory to God in the Highest, by Pergolesi.

Miss Phyllis Wood and Miss Mina Press, besides directing the play, also designed the sets. Robert Roberts was in the charge of scene construction. Other members of the production staff were Virginia Cooch, properties; Helen Adams, make-up; Margaret Felton, costumes; Jane Hastings, publicity; Anne O'Daniel, lighting.

Sigma Nu Receives Official Praise

By WARREN GRIER

Mr. Lawrence D. Reedy, editor of "The Delta", visited the Sigma Nu house Monday and Tuesday of this week. "The Delta" is the official publication of sigma Nu Fraternities and is issued regularly four times a year.

Mr. Reedy is a past inspector of Sigma Nu, and informed Delta Kappa (Delaware) Chapter that national Headquarters was well pleased with the present status, especially after such a successful rush week. Mr. Reedy said, "Delta Kappa" is the first chapter in the first division. The first division embraces Washington and Lee, Maryland, George Washington, University of Virginia, and Delaware. Delaware has the best Sigma Nu chapter of any of these schools."

Campus Color To Leave Air Waves Until After Xmas

Tonight the usual broadcast sponsored by the University of Delaware REVIEW will not be presented. The weekly program of Campus Color has been suspended due to the press of business and affairs concomitant to the hustling Christmas season. It was felt that at this particular time the student body had neither the time nor the interest to bestow upon this activity and that its temporary suspension was justified by these circumstances.

To Be Renewed

Co-directors Dave Snellenburg and Frank Annand announced, however, that they hope to renew the broadcasting of their weekly program soon after the close of the Christmas Holidays and the resumption of classes. They promise to return to the air waves with innovations in script and technique and other fresh ideas to sustain the interest manifested by the student body in the initial broadcasts of the new series which The REVIEW recently instituted in lieu of a former series that failed to arouse sufficient interest to justify its continuance.

The new broadcasts have been well-received by the students and it is hoped that future programs will maintain the same standards of entertainment. However, the directors point out that support in ideas and talent must be forthcoming if the program is to continue holding its appeal. Such an activity is obviously and definitely not a business to be conducted by a small group. It must thrive, if at all, on fresh ideas and angles on presentation.

In the near future certain prominent students will be interviewed on their particular activities and phases of extra-curricular work. Also Coach Flucie Stewart has promised to appear some evening for an interview on basketball, the Delaware Team and its prospects for the season.
